W. O. Elmore
"Employee of the Year"

Elmore chosen for employee award

W. O. Elmore has been chosen as the Category III "Outstanding Employee of the Year" in Region 02 of the Texas Department of Human Services (DHS). The region covers 30 counties in West Central Texas.

Elmore is a supervisor in Aged and Disabled Services in the DHS office in Haskell.

DHS developed the employee recognition system to recognize exemplary employees. Outstanding employees for the region are chosen in three categories each quarter with selection of an "Employee of the Year" at the end of the fiscal year.

These employees are then reviewed, along with others from across the state, for selection of a statewide employee of the year for the department.

Selection is based on the following criteria:

- Contributes above and beyond regular job duties,
- Maintains good relationships with staff, clients and public,
- Takes initiative, is dependable and is flexible,
- Projects a positive image for DHS, and
- Displays other outstanding attributes.

Free tax service offered for seniors

Income tax counseling and preparation of returns will be available again this year at the Experienced Citizens Center in Haskell, beginning Wednesday, Feb. 9, and then continuing every other Wednesday through April 13.

Initially, the hours will be from 10 a.m. through 2 p.m., but will be expanded if necessary.

On alternate Wednesdays, the service will be offered at the Stamford VIP Senior Citizens Center.

The assistance is available to persons 60 years old or older with low or moderate income.

Local residents, as well as those from surrounding towns and communities, are welcome to use the service.

Those using the service are asked to bring a copy of last year's tax return, Social Security benefit from SSA-1099, W-2 forms and other income records, plus records of expenses such as interest paid on a home mortgage, property taxes paid, medical expenses, contributions to church and charity, and any other expense that might be deductible.

The service is offered under the AARP's Tax-Aide program. The volunteer serving Stamford and Haskell is R. C. (Cliff) Cobb of Stamford. Special arrangements can be made to assist shut-ins if needed. Interested persons may call the Haskell Center at 817-864-3875, or the Stamford Center at 915-773-2337, for an appointment.

Animals begin arriving for Livestock Show

Animals for the annual Haskell County Junior Livestock Show begin arriving at the Fairgrounds today (Thursday).

Beginning at 4 p.m. today, barrows and lambs will be weighed and steers will be measured.

At 9 a.m. Friday, judging of lambs, poultry and rabbits will get underway. Lambs will be judged by Marvin Enser of Seminole and poultry and rabbits by David Fenley, county agent of Wichita County.

The barrow show will follow at approximately 11 a.m. Drury Menzies of Fredericksburg will judge the barrows.

The steer show begins at 10 a.m. Saturday. Heifers will be shown immediately after the steer show. Richard Spencer, Fisher County agent from Roby, will judge the steers and heifers.

The annual premium sale will begin at 1:30 p.m. Saturday. Doyle High will be the auctioneer.

All area merchants and individuals interested in contributing to a very worthwhile youth project are encouraged to participate in the sale.

Approximately 90 of the top animals will be in the sale, which will include fryer rabbits, broilers, steers, lambs and barrows.

All FFA and 4-H members in Haskell County are eligible to compete in the livestock show.

Grilled hamburgers will be sold during the show by the sponsoring Haskell County Junior Livestock Association. County extension clubs will operate a concession stand.

Joel Bevel is president of the Haskell County Junior Livestock Association. Steve Barbour is vice president.

Show superintendents are James Bevel, poultry and rabbits; Bill Parks and Johnny Scoggins, lambs; Rod Townsend, barrows; and Dale Bullinger, steers and heifers.

The sale committee is composed of Joey Kimbrough, Randy Hise, James Crawford and Bill Thomas.

Procedures given for livestock sale

Everyone is invited to attend the Haskell County Junior Livestock Show premium sale Saturday afternoon, beginning at 1:30.

In order to save time, bid cards will be given out Saturday morning to buyers wanting to add on to certain exhibitors.

Sale orders (except for steers) will be posted Saturday morning. Therefore, if you know who you want to bid on, we can have this information processed before the sale begins and the auctioneer will read the bid when the exhibitor enters the ring. This method is optional and cutoff for this bidding will be 12 noon.

Sales clerks will be on hand in the morning to assist you with bidding. We will be using the buyer name/buyer number combination again this year so all bidders will need to know their assigned buyer numbers in order to bid during the sale.

Show officials appreciate everyone's cooperation with the sale.

Six band students named to district

Four Haskell eighth-graders, a freshman and a junior were chosen Saturday for the Region 2 South Zone District Band.

They were eighth-graders: •Chris McSmith, third chair, alto saxophone,

•Amy Burson, second chair clarinet,

•Anna Rieger, first chair mallet percussion, and

•Philip Huff, seventh chair trombone and second chair mallet percussion.

They were joined by freshman Jacy Cypert, 18th chair clarinet, and Katy Martin, fourth chair french horn.

They were among 28 seventh- and eighth-graders and 11 high schoolers representing Haskell in the contests. In all, there were 862 entries.

"Considering the number of entries, the Haskell Band members did an outstanding job," said Michael Copeland, band director.

Those chosen will be performing in a band concert this Saturday at Hardin-Simmons University's Behrens Chapel, beginning at 7 p.m.

The Haskell Garden Club met Jan. 13 in the Haskell Bank community room.

Mona Gibson, presided over a short business meeting.

The nominating committee, consisting of Gladys O'Neal, Mary Bischofhausen and Juanita Rhea, presented the following for officers for 1994-95:

President, Mona Gibson; first vice president, Martha Whittemore; second vice president, Juanita Rhea; third vice president, Margie Dorner; recording secretary, Lorene Dewey; treasurer, Wanda Ham; parliamentarian, Marion Carlisle; and reporter, Gladys O'Neal.

Wanda Ham made the motion to accept the nominating committee's report by acclamation.

As new business was discussed, student selection for scholarship was also discussed. March 30, date of the convention at Snyder, was discussed. Also Feb. 2, the meeting at Rule was mentioned and several said they will attend. The roll call was answered with telling of "a special tree in my life."

"Our Treasured Trees" was the program topic for the meeting. Marion Carlisle discussed "Think Before You Plant." She said for hot weather, plant irises, day lilies, begonias, periwinkles. Sometimes it is wise not to plant too many fruit trees. They are messy, short-life, and should be sprayed. She said enjoy your yard, plant in pots, so you can move them easily to decorate and improve different spots in your yard.

Linda King talked on Environment. She said change it if you don't like it. Cover some new pillows for your yard furniture and do some dried arrangements, repaint some and don't forget to use what nature has provided. When doing environmental shopping, you buy sharper or better. Try to buy in bulk if you can handle it.

Juanita Rhea discussed her arrangements which were dried and very beautiful.

This meeting was very good, very informative. Members would like to see more women who enjoy flowers and gardening join the Garden Club.

Helen Cox and Ernestine Dickson were hostesses. The following were present:

Lorene Dewey, Linda King, Juanita Rhea, Wanda Ham, Mona Gibson, Ozelle Frierson, Martha Burns, Florence Peden, Marion Carlisle, Neat Bevel, Margie Dorner, Gladys O'Neal and hostesses.

PHARMACY NEWS

By Elbert Johnson, Registered Pharmacist

Vitamin Deficiency and Pain: Investigators from The Johns Hopkins Medical School found a potential link between unexplained pain and vitamin D deficiency. They reported on five patients who were in hospitals or nursing homes for extended stays and who had excruciating pain in their legs that was not helped with the usual analgesics. All patients had lowered vitamin D levels in their blood, and the pain resolved after they were treated with ergocalciferol (vitamin D supplement).

Traffic

Traffic Problems In Haskell

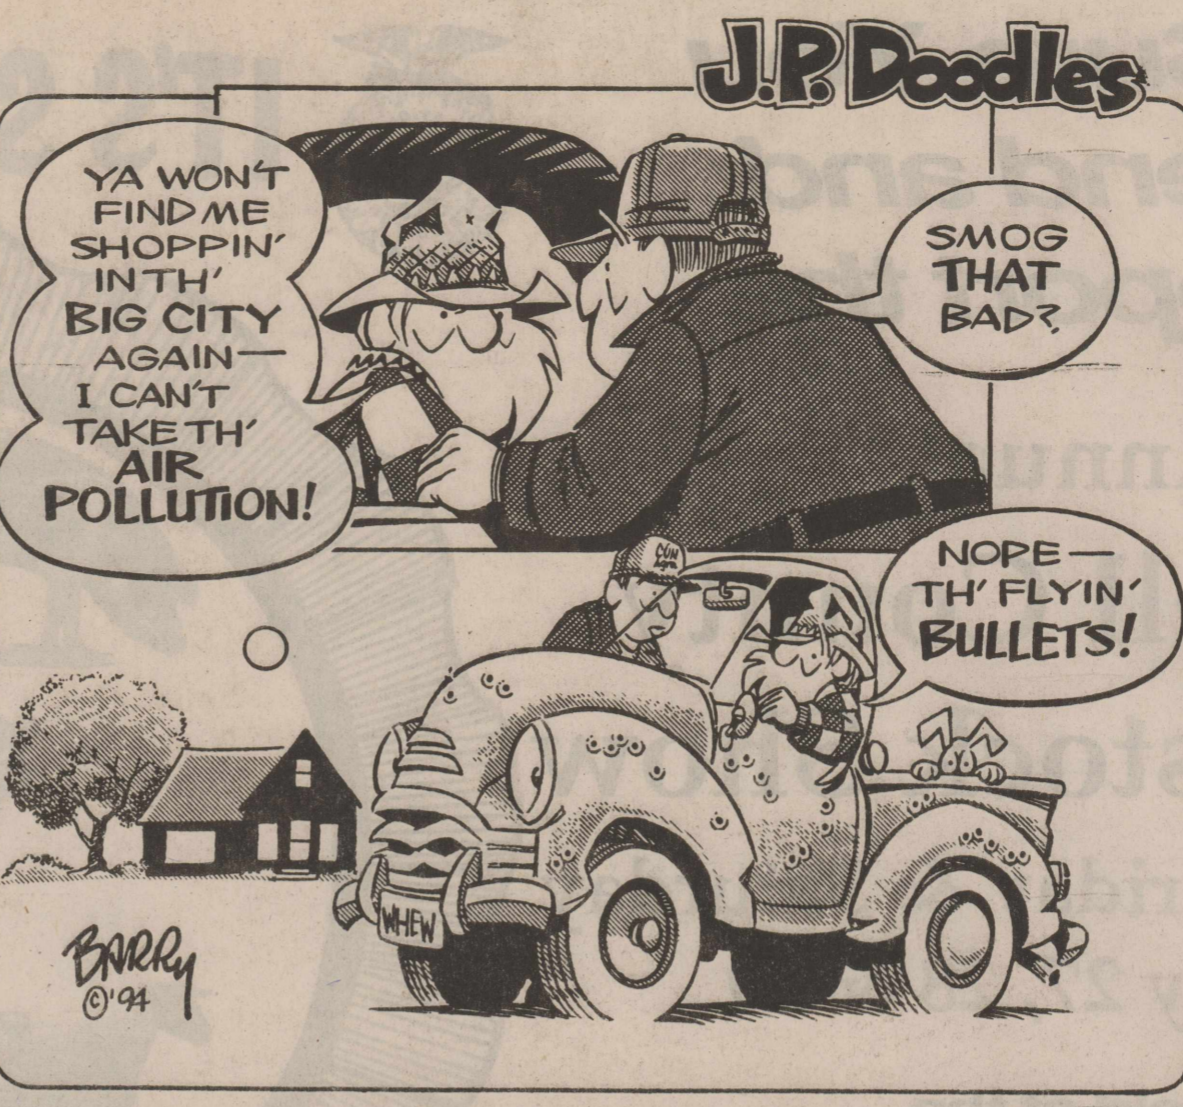

By "T" Jackson

There's a dangerous corner
Just west of the square
And in my opinion
A light should be there.
It's a quite busy corner,
I'm sure you could say,
With a bank and Kay's Cleaners,
And Sam's Chevrolet.
Now, the street that I live on
Is kept clean and neat.
"Though it's Avenue 'F',
It is known as 'Brick Street.'
Well, I leave from my home,
If the street is not slick,
Then I drive to the corner
Of North First and Brick.
But there's always a dread;
Just the thought makes me sick.
I could have a collision
On North First and Brick.
Now, all three light signals
I know very well,
It's really quite simple,
So easy to tell.
When it's green, you may go,
When it's red, you must stop,
When it's yellow, proceed
If you don't see a cop!
But what can one do
When there's no traffic light?
Just be doubly sure
To do everything right.
Once, I looked all directions,
Then started again,
When a speeder whizzed by
In a dark yellow van.
Well, he missed me by inches,
But locked straight ahead.
I'm so thankful I'm living,
For I might have been dead!
I then told a friend
Of the way that I feel.
He said, "T, just relax,
For it's just no big deal.
Whenever you think
That the going is rough
Just watch what you're doing,
You'll be safe enough."
I said, "Friend, you are young,
You don't understand yet,
That when people get older
They sometimes forget."
So, please hear me, good people,
So none will be sick;
Let's avoid a collision
On North First and Brick

plain talk

BY WENDELL FAUGHT

Maybe it will inspire a few New Year's resolutions by legal writers to get back to the "simpler" things (or language) of life. Then again...

The 1993 State Bar of Texas Legaldegoon Awards have been announced, and they're just as bad as they've ever been. The third annual celebration of the baddest of the bad honors a dozen or so examples of tongue-twisting verbiage gleaned from a variety of statutes and court filings across the nation.

The "Here! Here! Award, For a Sentence That Knows Where It's At: "The Court may take judicial notice of such pleadings which are on file herein and such pleadings are incorporated herein by reference and made a part hereof as if copied here in full."

Well, that ought to settle that. If not, consider the "Here, There and Everywhere" Award, which honors the phrase, "It all fully appears from the affidavit of the publisher thereof heretofore herein filed," for its "impressive succession of locatives."

The Bar's Legaldegoon Awards were launched in 1991 as a pet project of the State Bar of Texas Plain Language Committee.

"We wanted to come up with a good-natured way of pointing out the obtuse and needless language found in many legal writings," said Bryan Garner, a Dallas attorney who chairs the committee.

An interesting concept in chronology found in Internal Revenue Code 3302: For purposes of such sentence, Jan. 1, 1978, shall be deemed to be the first Jan. 1 occurring after Jan. 1, 1974," was appropriately awarded the "Time Out of Mind Award."

Oh well, the government giveth, and the government taketh away.

"We exempted the Internal Revenue Code last year, but couldn't bring ourselves to do it this year," said Garner. "It's too fertile a document to ignore."

Evidently so--the code received two awards in the 1993 list of crippled clauses and garbled grammar. Folks who tracked the federal health-care legislation might agree that the 1,300-page proposal deserves the "Splitting Headache" Award--given for an impossible-to-interpret paragraph deemed the "Legal Drafting Most Likely to Induce Migraines."

And a portion of the Texas Penal Code earned the Plastic Surgeon's Lobby Award for the hard-to-comply-with mandate, "A person commits an offense if he intentionally or knowingly possesses knuckles."

Back again is the ever-popular Serpentine Sentence Award--this year's winner, found in a contract, exceeds 300 words.

Garner said the committee hopes, by injecting humor into its otherwise serious task (of simplifying legal language) that lawmakers, judges and attorneys will think about their hapless readers.

"It's no wonder the general public is afraid of courtrooms and other legal arenas," said Garner. "For the average person, it's like entering another country, where a foreign language is spoken."

Sarah SoRelle member of champion volleyball team

Sarah SoRelle

The road to the 1993-94 TAPPS (Texas Association of Private and Parochial Schools) State Volleyball Tournament was a long, and at times, bumpy one.

With the assistance of two-a-day practices early in the year, the Lady Lions of Trinity Christian Schools of Lubbock cruised past most of their regular season opponents on their way to a 19-4 record and the district championship.

Former Haskell resident Sarah SoRelle was a freshman member of the varsity Lady Lions team. Sarah is the daughter of Frank and Beverly SoRelle of Lubbock and the granddaughter of Jimmy and Helen Owens of Haskell.

The Lady Lions, representing Trinity Christian Schools, took on Lakehill Prep School at Abilene Christian University for the bi-district championship. TCS easily defeated Lakehill in the first match but was beaten in a close game in the second match. The Lions regained their composure and defeated Lakehill the third match to win the game.

The Lady Lions traveled on to Fort Worth to play perennial powerhouse Granberry Happy Hill Prep School in for the regional title. Happy Hill lost to the Lions in two matches: 15-2 and 15-7. "See you in Austin" was the celebratory chant as the team prepared for the state tournament.

During state competition, the Lady Lions took on Shiner St. Paul form Austin in the semifinal game. Despite their talent and endurance, the Lions couldn't overcome the superb defensive strategy of St. Paul. Trinity Christian's incredible season came to a close at the hands of St. Paul.

Although the state title was not achieved, just getting to Austin was an incredible accomplishment. All-state recognition was given to the two senior leaders of the team.

The Lady Lions volleyball team was coached by Beth Bender, former coaching staff member of Oral Roberts University, and Pattie Wilkerson, a present member of the West Texas State University coaching staff.

Focus on 'Big 3' to improve health

Concentrating on the "Big 3" can significantly improve your health and your prospects for a long and productive life.

Three conditions--heart disease, cancer and stroke--account for almost 65 percent of the deaths in the United States each year.

Controlling just two risk factors, smoking and diet, can reduce a person's risk of developing all three conditions.

The family of Jesse Dean wishes to thank their friends and neighbors for all the love and concern shown us during the loss of our loved one. The many acts of kindness including gifts of food, flowers, memorials and sympathy cards has helped to bear our loss.

Public hearing to deal with seniors' needs

A public hearing to deal with needs of older citizens is scheduled for Thursday, Feb. 3.

The hearing begins at 1:30 p.m. in the West Central Texas Council of Governments building at 1025 East North 10th Street in Abilene.

The hearing, to which the public is invited, will solicit consumer/advocate input on problems, issues and needs of older Texans that should be addressed in state and local strategic planning for fiscal year 1995.

Local input from the 19-county region will be utilized at both State and Area Agency on Aging levels to plan functions performed by the Aging Network in FY 1995.

The Area Agency on Aging is mandated by the Older Americans Act of 1965 to provide, through a comprehensive and coordinated system, for supportive services and nutrition services within the planning and service area of West Central Texas, including determining the extent of need for supportive services and nutrition services as funding permits.

Opportunities for oral statements and written comments will be provided.

Hard work, Long hours and lots of Love!

These three ingredients are what the Haskell County Junior Livestock Show, all its participants and sponsors are made of.

We applaud your outstanding accomplishments and urge everyone to support this year's show and sale.

Happenings...

by Lots Redwine

The following item is an exact copy of news I received. Thanks to sender. Jennabeth Kimbrough officially joined the ranks of "Senior Citizens" Friday night. After being depressed all day, Joe suggested they go to Harlow's in Abilene to eat. After much urging, she finally went. She wasn't smiling much until all her children and their friends walked in with balloons and cake, totally surprising her. Those attending were Shane Buchanan and Gerome Alder, Lubbock, Jennifer Davis and Dr. Lisa Franklin, San Angelo and from Haskell, Douglas Davis, Tammy, Joey and Meagan Kimbrough. After a steak dinner, cake and gifts, Jennabeth decided being "Big 50" wasn't so bad after all. Jennifer and Lisa returned to San Angelo that night, the boys stayed in Haskell until Monday. On Monday, Joe and Jennabeth left for Lubbock with all of Doug's worldly goods loaded on a trailer, bound for his new home and new job in Lubbock. Congratulations Doug. This family is very proud of you and thank goodness you're off our payroll! Just kidding.

Mr. and Mrs. James Payne of Ft. Worth and Mrs. Grace Stoddard of Oregon spent the weekend in the home of Alvis and Frances Bird. Mrs. Stoddard will spend two Spending the weekend with Jimmy and Helen Owens were their daughter, Beverly SoRelle and granddaughters, Emily and Sarah of Lubbock.

On the weekend of Jan. 14, Gladys O'Neal had as visitors her sisters, Frances Lee of Wichita Falls and Eddy Davis of Dallas. Also visiting were Mrs. Davis' daughter, Dorice Rutledge and her two small daughters, Rachel and Rebecca of Dallas. On Jan. 20, Mona Kate Carrioe of Denton spent the night with Mrs. O'Neal. She was enroute to Alamogordo, N.M.

A number of Weinert residents were in Graham on Monday to attend the funeral service for the brother of Roy Boling. The Bolings have recently moved to Weinert and she is the sister of Ida Farrell.

Mr. and Mrs. John Mayfield of Weinert spent the weekend in DeSoto with their daughter and son-in-law, Alexia and Duane Rimmer, Adrienne, Elsy and Meredith. They attended Adrienne's baptismal service at the Hampton

Road Baptist Church. Evelyn Mayfield of Dallas visited with her parents in the Rimmer home.

Sometimes God is so touched by what He sees. He gives us what we need, and not simply for which we ask.
The response of family, friends and loved ones at the recent retirement reception held in my honor will forever be a lasting memory.
This land, these friends and families and my work with the Soil Conservation Service has surely been the needs God had intended. May God bless each and everyone of you.

S. L. Griffith

Sammie Lee (S. L.) Griffith died Friday at the Haskell Memorial Hospital. He was 84 years old.

Funeral services were Sunday afternoon at the Paint Creek Baptist Church with the Revs. Jimmy Griffith and Jason Martin officiating. Burial, directed by Holden-McCauley Funeral Home, was in the Howard Cemetery with Dr. Bill Goff officiating.

Pallbearers were grandsons, Danny Griffith, Gary Goff, Andy Griffith, Reid Poyer, Sam Goff and Casey Thompson.

Mr. Griffith was born March 9, 1909, in the Brushy community in Haskell County. He had lived in Paint Creek since February 1945. He married Emma Dell Daniel on July 25, 1936. They celebrated 55 years of marriage. She preceded him in death on Sept. 1, 1991.

Mr. Griffith was a member of the Paint Creek Baptist Church where he was chairman of the deacons and taught Sunday school for 40 years. He also served on the Paint Creek School Board and the Haskell County Farm Bureau board. He farmed in Haskell County for 45 years.
