City, school elections scheduled for Saturday

City of Haskell voters will elect a mayor and two City Council members and Haskell Consolidated School District voters will name three members to the Board of Trustees in city and school elections Saturday.

In addition, city voters will vote for or against a half-cent sales tax to be earmarked for promotion of economic development.

Balloting in the city election will be at City Hall. School voters will cast their ballots at the Haskell National Bank community room. Polls at both places will open at 7 a.m. and close at 7 p.m.

Ken Lane is unopposed in his candidacy for mayor to succeed incumbent mayor Pat Henry who is not seeking re-election to the post he won two years ago.

Incumbent Ruty Turner is a candidate for re-election to the City Council. Other candidates are David C. Davis and Nick Jimenez. The two receiving the most votes will be elected.

Two incumbent School Board members face opposition. Tom Hairgrove is opposed by Belia Abila for Place 4, and Tiffen Mayfield is opposed by David Middleton for Place 5. Randy McLelland is the lone candidate for Place 3. Although candidates run for specific places on the board, they are elected at-large.

Perhaps most interest in the city election centers on the sales tax proposition. This will be the fourth time in the past four years, the proposal has been presented to voters. It failed to pass, 131-116 in 1991, 486-408 in 1992 and 428-279 in 1993.

For the first time, however, there is organized support for the passage of the measure. Lane, the mayor-to-be, is actively supporting the tax. On the other hand, the incumbent mayor, Henry, has publicly called for its defeat.

If passed, the half-cent increase would boost the local sales tax rate from 1.5 cents to 2 cents. Coupled with the state sales tax rate of 6.25 cents, the overall sales tax rate in Haskell would go from 7.75 cents to 8.25 cents.

Haskell voters approved a half-cent increase in the sales tax in 1991 with the stipulation that receipts from the increase would be used to decrease ad valorem taxes.

Sales tax needed

If you buy a pair of shoes at the Mall of Abilene, you are charged a tax to help finance industrial development in Abilene.

If you buy an item at Wal Mart in Stamford, you are contributing to the industrial development of Stamford.

But if you, or someone from Abilene or Stamford or Rule or Rochester or Timbucktoo spends a dollar or a thousand dollars in Haskell, not one cent goes toward industrial development in Haskell.

In other words, Haskell residents give little or no thought to helping other communities attract industry, but when it comes to helping their own, they have refused.

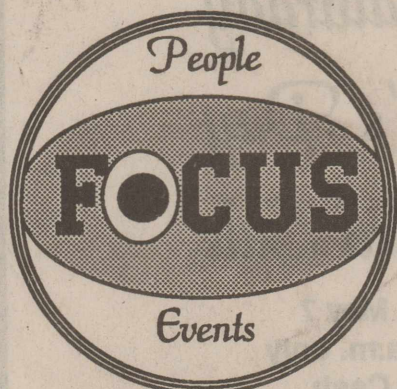

Three times the voters of Haskell have said "NO" to a proposal to increase the local sales by one-half of one percent, a miniscule amount which would add a penny to the cost of a hamburger, a half-buck to a $100 purchase.

The Free Press has remained silent in past elections. But now, on the fourth attempt to pass the tax for industrial development, The Free Press calls upon the electorate to pass the proposed tax and add some muscle to the town's efforts to obtain an industry which is required to reverse the community's downward spiral.

A half-cent sales tax would generate about $70,000 a year for industrial development. Most of it would be paid by out-of-town shoppers. Without this money, Haskell is at a critical disadvantage in competing with other towns in attracting new payrolls. There are no funds to present our pitch to companies wishing to re-locate or set up new plants. Other cities have these funds. Haskell doesn't.

People are always saying, "Why doesn't Haskell do something?"

The opportunity to do so comes Saturday.

Lightning KOs Free Press phones

Lightning knocked out the telephones of the Haskell Free Press Monday afternoon.

Callers to the newspaper this week may have thought the Free Press was closed, or that no one was answering phones.

The Free Press is still open for business. Those having ads, news stories or other business with the newspaper must bring them to the newspaper office until the phones are repaired.

The Free Press apologizes for this inconvenience. The phones will be repaired as soon as possible.

Phil Boone visits tonight

A reception for Phil Boone will be held at 7 p.m. today (Thursday) in the First National Bank community room.

Boone, a Republican candidate for the U.S. House of Representatives, is opposing Charles Stenholm for the 17th congressional seat now held by Democrat Charles Stenholm.

LULAC meeting to be Tuesday

A meeting of LULAC will be held Tuesday, May 10, at the Haskell National Bank community room. It begins at 7:30 p.m.

Band honors

Indian Band gets good score

The Haskell High School Band received all "2's" April 21 in the UIL contests in Hamlin. The contests were for the south zone of region 2.

The showing represented the highest rating for concert and sight reading contests for the Haskell band in 10 years.

Manuel Ibarra, senior base clarinet player, expressed the sentiments of other band members when he said, "I thought the band did real well this year. We earned more respect. And I've heard students say that the band should be even better next year."

Jessica Hale, sophomore percussionist, said the showing in the contests was a morale booster for the band. "Now we know we can compete with the best," she said. "We should be even better next year."

Michael Copeland, who is competing his first year as band director, said he is well pleased with this year's band. "Because the kids are working real hard and want to see the change happen, they are making it happen," he said.

Copeland said everyone is invited to the spring concert, to be presented at 7 p.m. next Thursday (May 12) at the First Baptist Church.

He is calling the concert the first annual "Extravandza." All bands will perform, the sixth grade band, the seventh grade, eighth grade and high school.

Auxiliary seeking new members

Believing that the hospital and rest homes have a real need for services of volunteers, the newly formed Haskell County Hospital Auxiliary has issued a call for more members.

Membership is open to anyone in Haskell County, both men and women.

Officers of the auxiliary are Jenny Collins, president; Mozell Fletcher, vice president; Abigale Salinas, secretary; Ruby Martin, treasurer; and Doris Butler, historian.

The executive committee is composed of Bill Nemir, hospital administrator; Ruth Ann Klose, administrator of Rice Springs Care Home; and Rita Mooney, administrator of Haskell Healthcare Center.

The committee of Director of Volunteers is composed of Melba Pharr, RN, and the activity directors of both local nursing homes.

A membership fee of $2 is required for state dues. "If you want to do something great in your life, call 864-2271," said a spokesperson.

It was pointed out that volunteers need no medical training.

Volunteers abide by the following code of ethics:

1. Never discuss anything you see or hear at the hospital regarding a patient.
2. Never seek medical service while working as a volunteer.
3. Never read a patient's chart, discuss their illness with them, or make suggestions or recommendations.
4. Never perform a patient's request regarding elevating beds, giving foods and liquids, without instructions from the nurse in charge.

Sunday in Park set for May 15

"Sunday in the Park" is scheduled for Sunday, May 15, from 1 to 5 p.m.

The sixth annual event is sponsored by the Haskell Chamber of Commerce.

Clubs, organizations and church groups are invited to set up concession stands, games and arts and crafts booths. Service clubs are especially urged to take advantage of the opportunity to raise funds by sponsoring a food booth and/or activity.

Booths will be on a first-come, first-served basis. Organizations should confirm their participation no later than May 10.

Legion schedules fish fry Tuesday

Haskell American Legion will have a fish fry next Tuesday, May 10, for members and their families.

The event will be at the American Legion building and will begin at 7 p.m.

Support tax

This group gathered last week to announce their support for the half-cent sales tax for economic development. The group includes Pat Grand, Elisa Abila, Bella Abila, Louetta Davis, Dale Hugely, Bo Tatum, Lisa Shaw, Cliff Morris, Bobby Hobgood, Nelda Lane, Gene Long, Nathan Patterson, Leon Jones, David Davis, Ruthie Watson, Nene Comedy, Andy Gannaway, Ken Lane, Ben McGee, Rex Pittman, Joey Kimbrough, Tom Long, David Middleton, Joe Cortez, Fred Hernandez and Dan Byerly.

City opens center for recycling

The City of Haskell has set up a recycling center in the lot just east of the Pony League field.

The city's recycling bins have been re-located to that site.

Citizens are requested to bring all of their recyclable materials to the new location.

Also, citizens are requested to bring their grass clippings, limbs and other yard waste to the recycling center. It will be open Monday, Thursday and Saturday from 8 a.m. to noon and from 1 to 5 p.m.

Sam Watson, city administrator, especially urges homeowners to deposit their lawn clippings at the center and not put them in their dumpsters. Grass clippings quickly fill the dumpsters, greatly increase the bulk of the material which is transferred to the landfill in Abilene, and increase the cost of transporting garbage to the landfill.

Yard waste brought to the center will be chipped. The chippings will be available free of charge to any citizen wanting to pick them up.

Also being accepted at the center are non-recyclable materials, such as furniture and appliances, which cannot be disposed of in dumpsters. These are the type of materials that homeowners were able to take to the city landfill before it closed last month. The city is not yet prepared to accept such items as oil and oil filters.

There is no charge to city residents for using the new facility.

Town meeting scheduled tonight

Growth and expansion of Haskell's economy will be the topic of discussion at a town meeting tonight (Thursday).

The meeting will be in the Haskell National Bank community room, and will begin at 7 p.m.

All citizens are invited to attend and offer their input.

A panel of men from neighboring cities which collect the half-cent sales tax to support economic development, will be present to explain the workings and the laws which govern the tax.

Tom Isbell of Anson, Kent Sharp of Stamford and David Scott of Abilene also will answer questions from the audience. There may be other out-of-town representatives.

WTU announces new manager here

Fred Hernandez has been named Haskell area manager for West Texas Utilities Company.

Hernandez and his wife, Dayna, come to Haskell from San Angelo where he was WTU operations manager. He has been with the company for the past nine years. Before being assigned to San Angelo four years ago, he was with WTU in Abilene for five years.

Hernandez, originally from Abilene, is a 1985 graduate of Abilene Christian University with a degree in business.

Hernandez' duties will focus on customer service and operations in the Haskell and Rule area.

Beta Chi members hear from authors

The Beta Chi chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma Society International met April 10 in the homemaking room at the Rule school. Vida White opened the meeting in the absence of the president, June Biffle, and Betty Sanders gave the invocation.

Jackie Leonard introduced the speakers, Dr. Lawrence and Sonja Clayton. Dr. Clayton is dean of Arts and Sciences at Hardin-Simmons University, and Sonja is a consultant of Region XIV Service Center in Abilene. They spoke of books they have published.

Dr. Clayton told how he got into writing, and how his interest in writing about cowboys developed. He explained how he has used family, local and Texas history and folklore in his writing. Dr. Clayton researches and writes the texts for their books and articles, while Sonja does the photography. This was the case in their first book, Clear Fork Cowboys.

Sonja talked about photography and the excitement of photographing the ranches, rodeos, cowboys and other interesting individuals they have encountered. Many of the cowboy photos taken by Sonja were on display, as well as John Erickson's latest book, Catch Rope: The Long Arm of the Cowboy, which contains four of Sonja's photographs.

Dr. Clayton showed and told about the books he has written himself, or worked on with other authors. Especially notable are three of his own books: Ranch Rodeos in West Texas; Watkins Reynolds Matthews and Historic Ranches of Texas, which the Claytons said was their most exciting adventure.

The Claytons agreed that the most rewarding part of their literary projects is getting to know the special people they work with, write about and photograph.

Vida White presented a gift of appreciation to the Claytons from Beta Chi.

A brief business meeting followed. Margaret Chafin, treasurer, gave the financial report. Vida White announced that she and Margaret will be attending the state convention in Amarillo in June. The Red Rose Salute was then presented by Elizabeth Acree to Betsy McManamon, recording secretary.

The meeting was adjourned by Mrs. White, and members sang the "Delta Kappa Gamma" song.

--Letters to the Editor--

Be informed

Editor: In a letter to the editor last week it was indicated that the voters would lose control of the money set aside for economic development.

Nothing could be farther from the truth. The management of this money is governed by a complex set of state laws. Mismanagement can result in strong penalties.

To be informed on these matters one must make a few trips to educational seminars, most of which are held out of town. Sometimes the city pays the travel expenses of a person willing to attend, as encouragement to become better informed. It is the right thing to do. It costs to be dumb.

Ken Lane

Still waiting

Editor: Over a year ago we were told that the half-cent sales tax was not the answer. We waited for the answer . . . and we waited . . . and we waited.

The same old song is being sung . . . raising taxes is not the way to do it. . . (get industry to Haskell). Still, no alternative solution offered. If there's a better way, tell us about it, please.

If the proposition passes, the collected tax will be administered by a board directly responsible to the mayor and City Council who appoint them and the mayor and City Council are responsible directly to the people. Yes, out of pocket expense should be paid by the populace they represent. As long as it is accounted for in a business manner, I have no problem with that.

Now "increasing taxes does not create a better climate" may make good political noise but a faltering economy is not exactly ringing the cash registers either.

The half-cent sales tax doesn't seem to be bothering Abilene right now; of course they used theirs to get a prison system.

The half-cent sales tax doesn't seem to be bothering the Brownwood citizens, but they used theirs to get a drug treatment center located there.

The half-cent sales tax doesn't seem to be bothering Stamford, but then they have a recycled tire plant in the works.

If something comes up for Haskell, we need to have some incentive to offer. There's no other reason for this sales tax, than to help Haskell.

Please help Haskell by voting "Yes" on the half-cent sales tax.

Thank you for listening.

Gene Long

Haskell needs tax

Editor: Here I come writing again. Some folks don't want anything in Haskell, like big mouth.

He don't know but it takes money to get things done. I want all the good people that will vote for the sales tax. If we don't get the sales tax to show we are trying to grow, Haskell will never be any good.

I would like to see Haskell grow. We could have had Texas Tech but people like him didn't want it. We could have had a cowboy rodeo like Stamford but no one wanted it. We could have had the Stamford Lake but they didn't want it.

I wish they would quit fighting and try to get along.

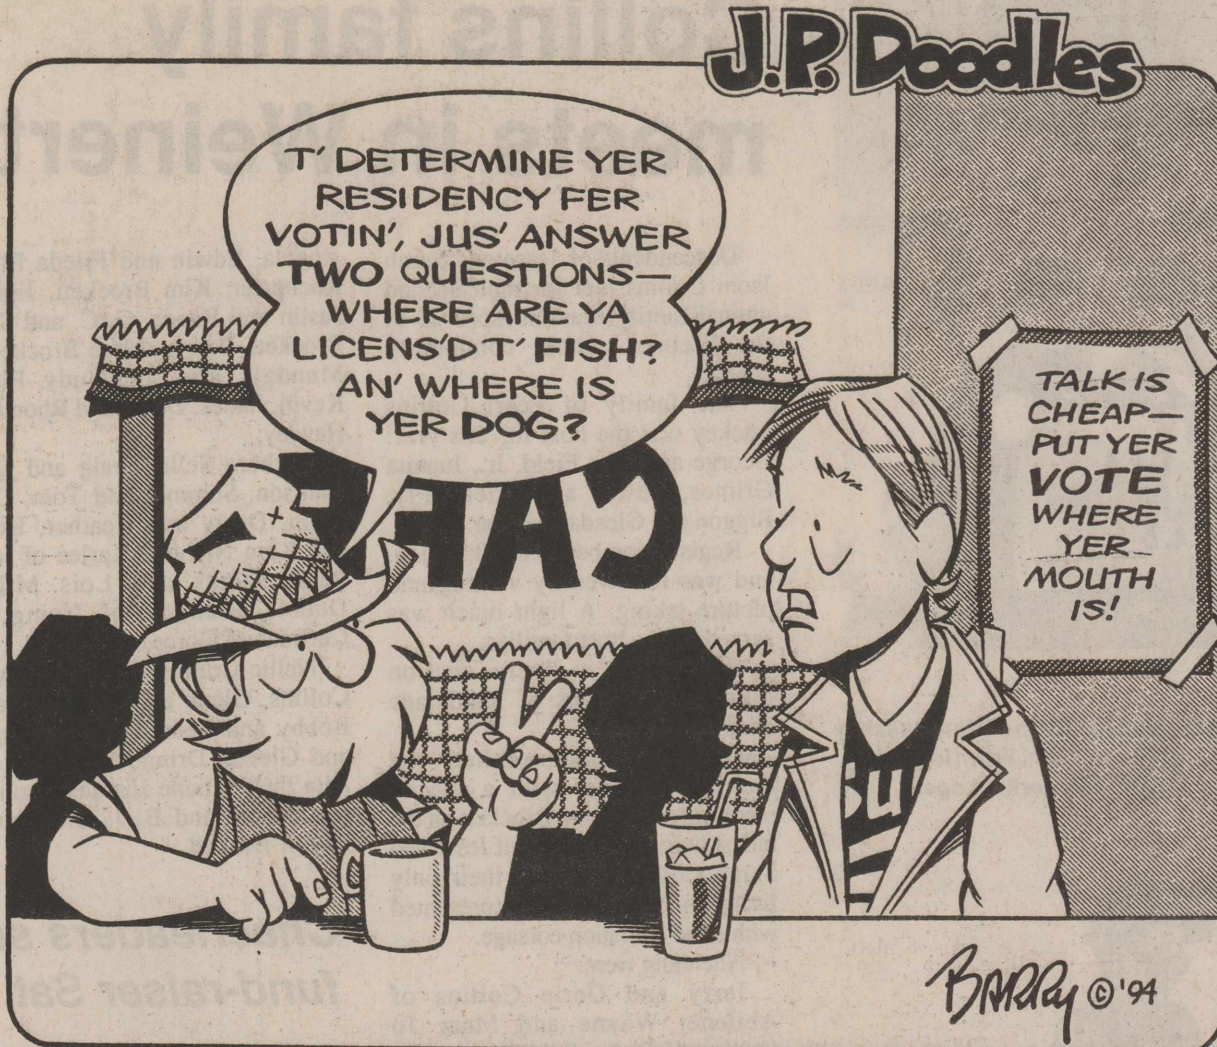

Happy Hendrix

BY WENDELL FAUGHT

A contributor to an Ann Landers column says she would like to go back to Depression Days.

"Money was scarce, and times were hard, but when things got tough, we did without and cut back on our lifestyle," she wrote.

"Churches administered help to those in need, and the homeless were taken care of by relatives. If you couldn't afford medical treatment, there were county hospitals."

I don't know where the writer spent the Depression, but I sure as hell know where she didn't.

We are now living in the country's second most populous state.

The U.S. Census Bureau announced recently that Texas has surpassed New York in population. The score: Texas 18,291,000; New York 18,159,000.

By the year 2020, the Census Bureau predicts the Texas population will rise to 25.6 million, while New York will climb to just 19.1 million.

But we won't be passing No. 1 California any time soon. That state's present population of 30.1 million will increase to 47.9 million by 2020, the Census Bureau thinks.

Flags at the post office, City Hall and the courthouse will remain at half mast until May 23.

A federal mandate calls for flags to be flown at half mast for 30 days after the death of a president or past president, said postmaster Sid Winn.

Editor: Thanks to all who made the Haskell Elementary Book Fair such a great success again this year.

We would not be able to have the book fair without the interest of the students, teachers and parents who come and look and buy.

Thanks especially to the wonderful ladies of this community who volunteer their time and energy to help at the book fair, and also to the Haskell Elementary office staff who put in a lot of time and effort on this project.

We appreciate the support of everyone who had a part in this year's book fair.

TAX PLANNING
Written By
James E. Rodgers, CPA

Check Your Withholding

Taxpayers who received refunds after filing their 1993 income tax returns may feel they've come out ahead. But such taxpayers are just now putting into their pockets money which they might have had last year to pay off high-interest credit card bills or to invest. And they've earned not a penny of interest on that money!

If you find yourself in this situation, now is a good time to adjust your withholding for 1994. Ask your employer for a new Form W-4, and take the time to complete it carefully. If your only source of income is from a single job and you take the standard deduction, you can complete the form in a few moments. Use the worksheets if you have nonwage income, more than one job, adjustments to income, itemized deductions, and/or a working spouse.

If you can accurately project your tax liability, you can use a more straight-forward approach to figuring withholding. Determine your approximate 1994 tax, then subtract the tax withheld during the year to date. Divide the difference by the number of pay periods remaining in the year to determine how much should be withheld each period. Consult the withholding tables (found in IRS Circular E, available from your company's payroll clerk) and find how many claimed allowances will result in the correct withholding. Enter that number on Form W-4.

Don't use overwithholding as a method of forced saving. Instead, arrange for a monthly transfer from your checking account into a mutual fund or other savings vehicle.

You may, of course, find that you have too little tax withheld. You should also adjust your withholding to avoid penalties for underpayment. Make quarterly payments of estimated tax, if necessary.

Indian golfers fall short

The Haskell boys' golf team shot a season-best 328 to tie for second at the region 1-2A meet in Abilene.

The shortened tournament disappointed the Indians who were in position to make a bid for the state tournament. Mother Nature only allowed enough time for a playoff to break the tie of a third-place medal. It was won by Cisco.

Indian golfers had an outstanding season and represented themselves well. Individual scores were Mart Guess 79, Brian Brzozowski 81, Matt Perry 83, Mik Everett 85, and Patrick Middleton 96.

Team scores were Memphis 313, Albany 321, Cisco 328, Haskell 328, Spearman 328, McCamey 330, Hamlin 332, Ozona 334, Panhandle 340, Stratford 340, Morton 342, Marfa 351, Seagraves 359, Olton 360, Tahoka 375, Van Horn 436.

The Alaskan brown bear--about nine feet long and weighing over 1,500 pounds--is the largest meat-eating animal that lives on land.

Genealogical Society plans reception day

The Haskell County Historical and Genealogical Society held its monthly general membership meeting Monday night at the First National Bank in Haskell.

Several society members shared some of their personal experiences in doing family history research. Reports were given by committee chairmen on the progress being made with documenting cemetery records, family researches that are currently being conducted and donations of books, equipment and documents that have been made to the genealogy section at the Haskell County Library.

Plans were discussed for a genealogy information reception day to be held July 17 from 2 to 4 p.m. at the Haskell National Bank community room. The reception will be open to the public and will provide information about the society and its function in Haskell and surrounding counties.

There also will be displays and information about historical and genealogical research methods and materials that are available to aid society members and others in their family research endeavors. The Haskell County Historical and Genealogical Society was formed last November for the study and investigation of historical and genealogical records of Haskell and neighboring counties and for the purpose of receiving and collecting records and depositing and preserving them in libraries and archives.

There is a section in the Haskell County Library that has been designated for the society's use and members are receiving equipment and information to be used by the public.

Anyone interested in the society may contact a member or inquire at the library.

Mrs. Mary Neinast and Mrs. Franklin Mrazek went to Abilene Friday to do some shopping.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Bredthauer went to the VIP Friday to eat lunch and play some games.

Thanks to all who came out to paint the cemetery fence last Monday morning. Those who painted were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Delbert LeFevre, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. LeFevre, Mrs. Reece Clark, Clancey Lehrmann, Fred Kupatt and Bill Hertel. Thanks go to all.

Cade Brown of Wylie spent several days with his grandparents Delbert and Joyce LeFevre, while his mother Jill was in Lubbock at the 5A regional track meet.

Dates to remember for our community are:

May 11: Ladies breakfast at Community Center. 7 a.m. Mrs.

Joe Clark chairman.
May 12: Friendship lunch at Faith Lutheran Church. Noon.
Sagerton Hobby Club meets at Margie Hertel at 2 p.m.

Our deepest sympathy goes to the family of Mrs. Aline Summers who passed away Thursday in the hospital in Abilene. The funeral was held in the First United Methodist Church with Rev. Carol Crumpton officiating. Burial was in Old Glory Cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Teichelman and Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Bredthauer went to Abilene Thursday to bowl with the senior citizens that bowl every Thursday.
