Paul Cox wraps up 'sweet' job in Russia

By Mary Kaigler
"The family joke is that Mom always threatened to send me to Siberia. She finally got her chance."

In less than a month after their daughter Emily left to live and study a year in Australia, Jo and Wallace Cox bid "bon voyage" on March 9 to their youngest son, Paul, as he prepared to fly to Moscow to work in Russia.

In a move many are calling the voyage into the final frontier, Mrs. Inc., the world's largest candy manufacturer, is now selling candy in the former Soviet Union. Working on what sounds like a mighty "sweet job" to any chocolate lover who loves to travel, Paul Cox, Haskell native, has been on that voyage, spearheading the "Snickeringization" of Russia.

Paul works as a vice president of Amherst Human Resource Group, a Chicago-based consulting firm specializing in the recruitment and placement of sales professionals. Each year Amherst conducts hundreds of searches for M&M/Mars and is the exclusive human resource firm in the United States coordinating the candy company's massive 1994 project in Russia.

Several years ago M&M/Mars, the three-billion-dollar business unit of Mars, Inc., began opening doors in the Eastern Bloc, and last year introduced Russia to the "melt in your mouth, not in your hand" campaign. However, no melting

New Council begins duties Friday night

New mayor Ken Lane was sworn in by out-going mayor Pat Henry during a meeting of the City Council Friday night.

In his first official act, the new mayor then swore in Ruby Turner and David Davis to the City Council.

The Council elected Mrs. Turner mayor pro-tem, and Tony Burson as alternate.

Upon the recommendation of administrator Sam Watson, the Council chose Jacob and Martin of Abilene for engineering services for the sewer project. Randolph and Gilbreath of Abilene was chosen to oversee the work.

A proposal to hire a city attorney was tabled until the May 24 meeting.

Indian nine meets Cisco in bi-district

They're in!
The playoffs, that is.

The Haskell Indian baseball team will meet Cisco in a bi-district playoff in Abilene Friday night.

The game will begin at 6 o'clock at Hardin Simmons University's Hunter Field.

Haskell completed the second half of the district 5-2A season in second place (behind Jim Ned) with a 6-1 record. The Indians had tied for first in the first part of the district round robin, along with Jim Ned and Rotan, as all three teams went 6-1.

The Indians draw a tough assignment in state-ranked Cisco, champion of district 6-2A. Cisco was a regional finalist last year.

Indian coach Johnny Kinzy said his team will face Cisco's outstanding pitcher, Ferguson, in the bi-district tilt. The Indians will counter with their ace, Shannon Meeks, who posted a 9-2 won-lost record in district play.

The winner of the Haskell-Cisco game will advance to an area playoff game, to be played Saturday, May 28, at a site to be determined.

District 5-2A champion Jim Ned will meet DeLeon Friday in Brownwood.

It took a couple of days, but the Haskell Indians finally got in their final 5-2A baseball game, and took an 8-0 win over Hamlin.

The two teams got in the first inning of their game last Tuesday in Hamlin before the rains came. Chuckie Castillo led off the game with a homerun.

Castillo was a bat with runners on second and third when the game was halted in the top of the first.

The rest of the game was rescheduled for Thursday, but wet grounds made it impossible. It was finally played out Saturday, picking up where it had left off Tuesday.

The Indians scored 2 runs in the second and added 3 in the fourth and 1 in the fifth.

Castillo went 2 for 4, including his homer. Jason Torres also was 2 for 4.

Shannon Meeks went the distance to pick up the pitching victory. He allowed 6 hits and struck out 7.

With the victory, the Indians closed the second half of district play with a 6-1 record, and in second place behind Jim Ned (7-0). They also had a 6-1 record in the first half, a mark which tied them for first place with Jim Ned and Rotan.

Cypert leads offense

Cody Cypert led the Haskell Indians in four important offensive categories in the just-completed district 5-2A basketball season.

The junior thirdbaseman batted a cool .500 (21 of 42) to lead the team in that category. He also led the team in doubles with 7, in slugging percentage with .810, and in on-base percentage of .617.

Chuckie Castillo, who was second in hitting at .480, led the team in runs-batted in with 24.

Sharing the team homerun leadership were Castillo, Casey Larned and Shannon Meeks with 3 each. Jonathan Tatum led the team in stolen bases with 8.

Jason Torres was the team's third leading batter with a .413 average. Batting an even .400 was Chris Silvas.

Other batting averages were Tatum, .375; Stacy Walker, .354; Cory Breckel, .333; Larned, .277; and Campbell, .212.

As a team, the Indians batted a robust .363 with 150 hits in 414 plate appearances. They scored 148 runs.

Included among the hits were 28 doubles, 3 triples and 15 homeruns.

Meeks was the Indians' leading pitcher, getting 9 victories and losing 2. In 72 innings, he struck out 80 and walked 41. His earned run average was 2.43.

Second-grader has book published

A book, written and illustrated by a Haskell second-grader, has been published.

Ross Hairgrove's "The First Easter Basket," was published by Chimeric, Inc., of Denver, Colo.

Last week, Ross presented an autographed copy of his book to the Haskell Elementary Library.

Ross is the son of Dr. Tom and Peggy Hairgrove. His second-grade teacher is Earlene Griffith.

was prepared from the start to pull out of the operation immediately, if needed.

In spite of the tight security measures that were made necessary by the possibility and fear of heavy-handed extortion demands being made there by Russian "mafia" on foreign based companies, the recruitment went well and Paul was able to complete his work sooner than first expected.

Recently returning to his Chicago office, he said in a phone interview, "The Russian people still have so much to learn about democracy and free enterprise, yet they all know and ask about Michael Jordan. Whenever I mentioned that I'm from Chicago, they immediately associated it with Al Capone and the Mafia. These are the images many of them have of America."

Asked what prepared him for this particular type of work, Paul said that after graduating from Texas A&M he spent two years traveling as a recruiter for his fraternity, not knowing what he really wanted to do as a career. But it was a good experience, he says, for him to grow personally and professionally. "It helped me to recognize and isolate an aptitude for communicating well with others. I found that I share some of my sister Sarah Snailum's innate, intuitive ability to sum up and summarize situations and people." Capitalizing on that ability as a human resource consultant, he now fits together people and jobs.

While living in Chicago, working for Amherst, Paul has enjoyed taking advantage of the many opportunities there in the cultural arts. Especially enjoying music, he also composes, having written eight songs while there.

Speaking in a voice remarkably similar to that of his dad, during a phone conversation the day before he left to fly to Russia, Paul's appreciation and love for all his family was obvious. When asked if he has any expectations of ever settling back in Texas, he said, "Oh yes. There are some opportunities I'm considering; possibly in Houston. It's great for a small town country kid to get to go half way around the world for a while, but my family is important to me. My parents are young, but none of us are getting any younger. Our family is growing and the little ones are growing up. I'll be back there to enjoy them." He added jokingly, "Mom says it's okay for us (children) to live in Texas as long as it is at least a hundred miles away."

Equally obvious was Wallace's appreciation and love as he spoke of this dedicated Christian son who has been "an absolute delight and joy to know and to raise"; one to whom neither parents remembers every having to raise their voice.

When this native son of Haskell finished his work in Russia, no doubt many people there were left with a sweeter taste in their mouths for Americans, in more ways than one; not only because of the Snickers they will soon be savoring, but also for Paul Cox having been there with his special gift for communicating well with others.

The whole world could use a whole lot more of that.

Mayan Indians made rubber shoes by dipping their feet in latex and letting it dry.

Garden club installs officers for 1994-95

The Haskell Garden Club held its final meeting of the season May 12 when 13 members and two guests assembled at the Haskell National Bank community room.

Roll call was answered with each member naming her favorite program of the past season. During that time the year book committee, consisting of Marsha Whittemore, Juanita Rhea, Gladys O'Neal and Mona Gibson, was complimented for their choice of interesting and informative programs.

Under old business, Lorene Dewey reported on the Arbor Day project. With the help of the Boy Scouts, a crepe myrtle and two forsythia were planted at the Haskell Public Library.

Headquarters for the Texas Garden Clubs has asked all of its members to record their indoor and outdoor planting done this spring and summer. These records will be submitted in September at the first meeting of the new season.

Sid Winn, Haskell postmaster, had asked if the Garden Club would be interested in planting the flower beds at the post office. Members voted to undertake the project and Marion Carlisle was named to head the planting committee. This will be done in conjunction with National Garden Week, which is June 5-11.

National Garden Club awards were presented to Mary Bischoffhausen, Lorene Dewey and Juanita Rhea for their contributions to the local club.

Following the business meeting,

Donna Cole installed the officers for the 1994-95 year:

Mona Gibson, president; Marsha Whittemore, first vice president; Juanita Rhea, second vice president; Margie Dörner, third vice president; Lorene Dewey, secretary; Wanda Ham, treasurer; Gladys O'Neal, reporter; and Marion Carlisle, parliamentarian. Donna compared the duties of the officers with those of a flight crew and presented each with a toy plane.

Juanita Rhea brought a beautiful pink amaryllis from her garden. She also brought two dried arrangements which she had entered in the Stamford Garden Club show.

Angel food cake, topped with strawberries, along with coffee and iced tea, were prepared and served by Mona Gibson.

Wilmajohn Pruitt, one of the guests, joined the club during the meeting. The club is always glad to have new members and encourages those interested in all phases of gardening to attend the meetings, held on the second Thursday of each month from September through May.

Knox study club sets installation

The Knox City Study Club will have an installation tea for installation of 1994-95 officers today (Thursday). It begins at 2:30 p.m. in the Knox City Community Center.

Members of other study clubs in the area are invited to attend.

Haskell didn't have any representatives in last week's state track meet, but the school didn't go unnoticed.

Gracing the cover of the official program was former Indian track star Johnnie Billington as he won the 200-meter championship in 1991. He also won the 100 meters that year.

Participants were those who had completed a series of lessons in clothing and textiles, have sewn or bought a garment, and competed and won first place at the county fashion show level. The top individuals in the senior division of each category will represent the district at the State Fashion Show in College Station on June 8-9.

The district show was sponsored by West Texas Utilities Company and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Free brochure on diabetes

A new brochure developed at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston suggests ways that diabetics can reduce the risk of medical complications.

The most important way to minimize the devastating effects of diabetes is taking control of blood-sugar levels.

Risk factors include obesity, a family history of diabetes, age, tobacco use, a sedentary lifestyle and a diet high in fat, salt or alcohol.

For a free copy of the brochure, send a stamped, self-addressed business-size (No. 10) envelope to: Diabetes: Office of Public Affairs, Baylor College of Medicine, Houston, TX 77030.

--Library Notes--

By Joan Strickland

The summer reading program is scheduled for June 22-July 27.

This year's program is entitled: "Familiar Faces and Far-away Places."

This program is sponsored by the Texas State Library and is recommended by teachers to help children keep up their reading skills throughout the summer.

Students, pre-K-6th grade, are urged to sign up for the program. All that is needed is to come by the library and fill out a new library card and pick up a reading log to help keep track of the books they read over the summer. I would like to have the logs turned in before the last day, July 27.

We have a story time each Wednesday morning during the 6-week program. We meet from 10:30 to 11 a.m. and children pre-K-4th grade are urged to attend story time. On Wednesday, July 27, the kids will receive their reading certificates and all will have refreshments.

Kerri Ferrell of Rule will be our reader again this year. Kerri is full of ideas and energy and the children love to hear her read.

When a child signs up for the reading program, they are automatically registered for a drawing at the end of the program. We would love for everyone to win but since we usually have 45-60 children that is not possible.

We have three drawings. Channel 12 (KTXS) donates two tickets to one family for a trip to Fiesta Texas in San Antonio. Haskell National Bank donates a $50 series EE savings bond and First National Bank donates a $50 series EE savings bond.

Make plans to participate in the summer reading program and attend story time at the library on Wednesday mornings, beginning June 22 at 10:30 a.m.

I had the privilege of speaking to the Progressive Study Club and I would like to thank them for asking me to speak. I love to talk about our library and always enjoy letting others know what all we have to offer our patrons.

Recent donations to the library: book in memory of Karla Page, book in memory of Ida and J. E. Walling; donations by Progressive Study Club, Philadelphian Club of Rule, Joe B. Cloud.

Memorials: Winnie Heibert, Eunice Mann, Walter Fischer, Kathryn Hix, Felix Mullino, Peggye Chapman, Georgia Fouts, Bessie Fouts, Kyle Wilfong, Marvin Pheemister, Robbie Pittman, Gene Huckaby, Leon Biffle.

National Honor Roll and was included in Who's Who Among American High School Students.

She participated in SWIM four years and won many academic awards. She was a freshman honor student. She participated in the Oklahoma Baptist University's Academy.

TAX PLANNING

Written By
Richard E. Rodgers, CPA

Should You Consider Annual Gifts?

The old saying, "It is better to give than to receive," applies perfectly to gifts for estate planning purposes. You can give $10,000 annually to any number of recipients without paying federal gift tax. Married couples can double this amount by gift-splitting; a gift of $20,000 from one spouse is treated as if it came half from each.

Gifts do more than help out children who need the money. They also reduce your estate so your heirs will pay less estate tax on your death. Apart from annual gift giving, you can transfer (during your lifetime or through your estate) a total of $600,000 with no estate or gift tax liability. On amounts above this threshold, you or your heirs will be faced with taxes on the excess at rates of 37% to 55%. So a consistent program of annual gift giving can create substantial tax savings.

Note that gifts to individuals do not entitle you to an income tax deduction. A gift isn't a charitable contribution. Conversely, a gift doesn't constitute taxable income to the recipient. Gifts of income-producing property may, however, reduce your taxable income. Once you've given the property away, the recipient, not you, receives the income it produces and pays any income tax due on it.

One advantage to annual gift giving is that it is relatively simple to do, especially if you're giving away cash. Another advantage is flexibility. You're not locked into anything; you can see how much you can afford to give away each year. You can give away anything—cash, stock, art, real estate. Valuation is the fair market value on the date of the gift. Subsequent appreciation, if any, belongs to the donee's estate, not yours.

Before you give away assets, be sure you will not need them yourself to provide income in later years. Consider the impact inflation will have on your resources.

Proper planning is essential in this area; get professional assistance before you do any gift giving. Contact our office if we can help.

Case reduces prices on parts

Carl J. Milburn, parts manager of Richardson's Case IH/True Value in Haskell has announced that J I Case has reduced prices on more than 4,000 high-volume parts.

He said Case has recently tested prices reductions on power train parts. Customers responded by increasing parts purchases, and the company is responding to them by lowering prices on even more genuine OEM quality-assured parts.

Milburn noted that company surveys indicated customers look for product support with three criteria in mind: parts availability, repairs completed correctly the first time, and price.

"We've always had an edge in terms of service and parts availability," Milburn said. "Now the new reduced prices enable us to meet all of our customers' buying requirements."

Headquartered in Racine, Wis., J I Case is a worldwide manufacturer and marketer of Case International agricultural and Case construction equipment.

Bermuda consists of more than 300 islands, only 20 of which are inhabited.

Rolling Plains PCA gets bank award

A local agricultural lending cooperative was one of 11 cited for outstanding performance by the Farm Credit Bank of Texas (FCBT).

Receiving Farm Credit Achievement awards were Agricultural Production Credit Association (PCA) based in Tyler; Amarillo PCA, Coastal Plains

PCA in Robstown, Heart of Texas PCA in Waco, Lubbock PCA, PCA of Southern New Mexican in Las Cruces, Rolling Plains PCA in Stamford; Stephenville PCA, Wichita Falls PCA, PCA of South Texas in Harlingen and Plainview PCA.

Presented during the bank's annual meeting for PCAs in Austin on April 29, the award recognizes the PCAs for maintaining financially strong organizations and high-quality loan portfolios, and is the bank's highest possible rating.

"These PCAs have upheld a solid reputation for having top quality directors and staff, which is evidenced by their healthy financial condition and overall performance in 1993," said Arnold Henson, the bank's chief executive officer.

To receive the award, an association must exceed a rigid set of financial performance standards for quality, capital, earnings and liquidity.

With $3.6 billion in loans outstanding to more than 52,000 farmers and ranchers in Alabama, Louisiana, Mississippi, New Mexico and Texas, the Farm Credit Bank of Texas and is affiliated associations comprise the largest agricultural lending network in the five-state region.

Property Tax Protest and Appeal Procedures

The law gives property owners the right to protest actions concerning their property tax appraisals. You may follow these procedures if you have a concern about:

- the value placed on your property
- any exemptions that may apply to you
- the cancellation of an agricultural appraisal
- the taxable status of your property
- the local governments which should be taxing your property
- any action taken by the appraisal district that adversely affected you.

Informal Review: Taxpayers are encouraged to make an appointment with an appraiser to discuss their property value. This may be done by calling (817) 864-3805. They should bring information to substantiate why they feel that their property value is incorrect. The appraiser will discuss their property and may recommend an adjustment to the Appraisal Review Board. If the taxpayer is satisfied with the adjustment, he does not have to appear before the ARB.

Review by the Appraisal Review Board: If you can't resolve your problem informally with the appraisal district staff, you may have your case heard by the appraisal review board (ARB).

The ARB is an independent board of citizens that reviews problems with appraisals or other concerns listed above. It has the power to order the appraisal district to make the necessary changes to solve problems. If you file a written request for an ARB hearing (called a notice of protest) before the deadline, the ARB will set your case for a hearing. You'll receive written notice of the time, date, and place of the hearing. The hearing will be informal. You and the appraisal district representative will be asked to present evidence about your case. The ARB will make its decision based on the evidence presented. You can get a copy of a protest form from the appraisal district office at 604 North First, Haskell, Texas.

Note: You shouldn't try to contact ARB members outside of the hearing. The law requires ARB members to sign an affidavit saying that they haven't talked about your case before the ARB hears it.

Review by the District Court: After it decides your case, the ARB must send you a copy of its order by certified mail. If you're not satisfied with the decision, you have the right to appeal to district court. If you choose to go to court, you must start the process by filing a petition within 45 days of the date you receive the ARB's order. If the appraisal district has appraised your property at $1,000,000 or more, you must file a notice of appeal with the chief appraiser within 15 days of the date you receive the ARB's order.

More information: You can get more information by contacting your appraisal district at

Haskell County Appraisal District
604 North First • P.O. Box 467
Haskell, Texas 79521
(817) 864-3805

You can also get a pamphlet describing how to prepare a protest from the appraisal district or from the State Comptroller's Property Tax Division at P.O. Box 13528, Austin, Texas 78711-3528.

Deadline for Filing Protest with the ARB*

Usual deadline: On or before May 31 (or 30 days after a notice of appraised value was mailed to you, whichever is later).

Late protests are allowed if you miss the usual deadline for good cause. Good cause is some reason beyond your control, like a medical emergency. The ARB decides whether you have good cause.

Late protests are due the day before the appraisal review board approves the records for the year. Contact your appraisal district for more information.

Special deadlines:

For change of use (the appraisal district informed you that you are losing agricultural appraisal because you changed the use of your land), the deadline is before the 30th day after the notice of the determination was mailed to you.

For ARB changes (the ARB has informed you of a change that increases your tax liability and the change didn't result from a protest you filed), the deadline is before the 30th day after the notice of the determination was mailed to you.

If you believe the appraisal district or ARB should have sent you a notice and did not, you may file a protest until the day before taxes become delinquent (usually February 1). The ARB decides whether it will hear your case based on evidence about whether a required notice was mailed to you.

*The deadline is postponed to the next business day if it falls on a weekend or holiday
