50th anniversary

A 50th anniversary reunion of the Haskell High School graduating class of 1944 was held May 27-29 in Abilene. Posing for this photo at the Embassy Suites were Royce Adkins, Olein Elmore, Lonnie Roy Davis, Janet Owens, Joe Bob King, Marigene Milch, Raymon Mobley, Raymond Schwartz, Nance Perrin, V. A. Brown, Janice O'Neal, Herman McCurry, Cecil Gholson and Bob Dulaney. Also attending were Dorothy Harris, Dorothy Sanderson and Pat Speer.

New community network wants to be seen, heard and felt

Small-town Texas is about to hit the big time.

More jobs, tourism revenue and political influence are on the line with the birth of a new regional leadership coalition.

The Texas Midwest Community Network, announced last week by community leaders from 13 area towns, is designed to bring big-city clout to rural Texas.

At a press conference last Tuesday morning at the T&P Depot in Abilene, TMCN steering committee chairman Rick Rhodes of Sweetwater introduced members of the non-profit organization, and explained the regional strategy involved.

"TMCN's mission is to identify, develop, and encourage leadership and participation from all communities in the region," he said. "By enhancing communications and sharing information from all members, TMCN will develop regional marketing strategies for tourism and economic development."

The organization, almost a full year in development and planning, has received support from an impressive list of legislators, organizations and businesses.

State Sen. Steve Carriker, whose

Texas Senate district includes many of the communities involved, sees great potential for the organization.

"Representing a widespread rural constituency as I do, it's clear that indifference or petty rivalries have no function in this day and age," Carriker said. "Rural and small-town Texans need to stand up and be seen, heard and felt as a strong, unified political force in the state. It's a matter of staking our claim and claiming our share."

Leland Beatty, executive director of Texas Rural Communities of Austin, one of the backers of the network, believes it comes down to solving problems instead of just talking about them.

"What is TMCN about? It is about rural communities getting involved in everything from rural tourism to leadership development to simply communicating on state issues. TMCN is about addressing the rural problems of Texas and finding solutions for those problems. It's about education and growth."

Each town pays 5 cents per capita to join the network and has one vote. Three communities brought their membership dues to the press conference last week. Baird, Albany and Haskell officially joined the network as representatives presented checks. The network has received about $3,000 in dues.

TMCN advisors include Patty Tenorio of Texas Rural Communities, Dennis Gloyna of Southwestern Bell, Mike Schweikhard of Lone Star Gas, David Scott of West Texas Utilities and Rick Womble of West Central Texas Council of Governments.

Cub Scouts plan pizza party

The first summertime pack activity for Cub Scout Pack 136 will be Tuesday (June 28) at the City Park, beginning at 7 p.m.

All Cub Scouts and their families are invited to attend the pizza party.

The pack participates in the Boy Scouts of America Summertime Pack Activity program. Those who attend all three summertime pack meetings will be awarded the Summertime Pack Activity pin.

"Dates for the other summertime pack meetings are July 25 and Aug. 30," said Doyle Mitchell, cubmaster.

Cancer coalition targets local area

By Darlene Walton

Many of you may not know, but a local group has been involved in the war on cancer in Haskell, Kent, Stonewall, Knox and Throckmorton counties.

The group is part of a larger organization of volunteers known as the Big Country Cancer Coalition. The coalition is sponsored by the Texas Cancer Council (a state agency) and is coordinated by the West Central Texas Council of Governments (WCTCOG) in Abilene.

About two years ago, the Council of Governments received a grant from the Texas Cancer Council to identify the needs of the residents in our region as they relate to cancer and the issues surrounding it. WCTCOG surveyed the residents of the 19 counties it serves and found some interesting results.

The overall cancer incidence rate for the 19-county area was 12.9 percent. That's about average when you compare it to the numbers across the state. However, two of the counties in our area have figures higher than that: Haskell County has 16.5 percent and Stonewall County 29.4 percent.

Does this mean there is some menacing force in our communities the needs of cancer patients, their families, and the general public. This plan, as it exists now, will

Jana Loomis

Healthcare center names administrator

Jana Loomis of San Marcos has been named administrator of Haskell Healthcare Center.

She arrived in Haskell last week to work with Rita Mooney, whom she will replace July 1. Mrs. Mooney, administrator for the past year, said she will work in Seymour, where she lives.

Mrs. Loomis graduated in December from Southwest Texas State University with a BS degree in Health Professions.

A native of Elk City, Okla., she grew up in Edmond, Okla., before moving to Fredericksburg where she graduated from high school.

"People have been real friendly and I know I am going to like it here," said Mrs. Loomis. "It's dry and flat, but the people make up for that."

She said she was particularly impressed with the "Christian values" of Haskell people. "Everyone wants to know what church I belong to," she said.

Mrs. Loomis' husband, Jeffrey, also is a recent graduate of Southwest Texas State University. He is a computer programmer and is exploring employment opportunities in the area.

Help wanted

The help of volunteers to make the cancer coalition work in Haskell County is badly needed.

If you would like to be a part of the planning process, or can help in any way, please call Darlene Walton at (817) 864-2920.

that is driving our cancer incidence rate higher than those across the state? Not likely. That does not change the fact that cancer has touched all of our lives in one way or another. We all know someone, a friend or relative, who has had this dreaded disease.

So what can be done about it? Plenty.

The Big Country Cancer Coalition has been charged with the responsibility of developing an action plan for our region to address of Abilene, 1978 King Cobra; 2. Sam Jones of Abilene, 1994 Harley Davidson.

Entries for the show came from Coleman, Breckenridge, Graham, Abilene, Cisco, Stamford, Haskell, Munday and Knox City. The Big Country was well represented in Haskell Saturday.

The cartoon artist was Jerry Green from Hamlin. He will try to be back on our July promotion which will be July 9, featuring the cowboy gunfighters. Try to make plans to be here for that day to keep "Haskell Alive."

The Business Association would like to thank our members and fine merchants who donated door prizes and promotion items:

Smitty's Auto Supply, Bailey Toliver Chevrolet & Olds, Lanco Insurance, KVRP Radio, The Carousel and Hartsfield Agency, Johnson Pharmacy, The Drug Store, Fieldan Inn, Haskell National Bank, Barbara's, Boggs & Johnson Furniture.

Haskell Butane Co., Bill Wilson Motor Co., First National Bank, Brian Burgess State Farm Insurance, Richardson Case IH/True Value, Heads or Tails Western Wear, The Slipper Shoppe, Carpet Express, Conner's Nursery & Floral.

Country Daizie, F&D Electronics, Frazier's Appliance & Furniture, Haskell Tire and Appliance, Hassen's, Heidenheimer's, Holden-McCauley Funeral Home, Lane-Felker, M-System Super Market, Modern Way IGA.

McGee's Lumber Yard, Nanny Plumbing, Sport-About, Hatahoe, G&G Carpets, Cecil's Country Meat Market and West Texas Utilities Co.

Winners of gift certificates were Florence Peden of Old Glory

(Richardson's True Value) and Jenny Lewis of Waco (Heads or Tails Western Wear).

The USA Tae Kwon Do Centers which performed Saturday are raising money for a tournament held in Chicago. If you would like to make a donation to them, send it to Dale Higginbotham, P.O. Box 5155, Abilene 79608. They performed outstandingly.

A special thanks also goes to West Texas Utilities and Fred Hernandez for bringing the WTU work truck to the car show.

Thanks again to everyone. See you downtown on July 9.

Cancer...

focus primarily on education and prevention. The reasoning behind this is that while we don't know all the causes of cancer, we do know some of the behaviors that put people at high risk. Also, the survey done a year ago showed that roughly 75 percent of us don't know the "seven warning signs" of cancer.

While some efforts have been made in developing this plan to the point that it can be easily implemented in our communities, due to waning support it has been extremely difficult to make the kind of progress we need to ensure that our plans make a difference in our community.

Remember, the Texas Cancer Council is a state agency which means that state tax dollars have been set aside to be used in our community efforts to address our own needs. Wouldn't it be a shame if those funds were used elsewhere because we thought cancer would never touch our lives? The study done in our region showed that we have roughly a 1 in 10 chance at developing cancer in our lifetimes (slightly higher if you're a male).

We can change that, but only if we all do our part. That doesn't mean we want each of you to send in a donation or knock doors in your neighborhood. Each of us has something to offer our communities in this effort. It may be that we would be willing to speak to a local civic group about breast cancer, or maybe we would talk to a high school class about the dangers of overexposure to the sun. The point is for any community-based action plan we need community involvement.

Please don't let this opportunity to impact our community for the better go by without asking yourself how you can help. We need the support of many more of our residents in order to make any plan for action work for our communities.

If you can help in any way or would like to be a part of the planning process, please call Darlene Walton at (817) 864-2920.

Class of 1950 meets in Abilene

The HHS class of 1950 held a reunion June 17-18 at the Embassy Suites in Abilene.

The weekend was enjoyed by class members and their spouses as they played table games, showed pictures, and attended the chuck wagon supper at Ball Ranch.

The group was reminded that their generation experienced a good basic education with abilities at the high school level sufficient for job success and a happy family structure. This generation of "believers" was the last to be raised without TV or the negativism of mass media. Entertainment generally involved some individual effort and usually other people were involved.

They believed in the American way of life, the institutions of society, God and the flag. The earlier year experiences of recovery from a depression and the necessity to win World War II brought this generation together.

Jim Wright, senior columnist of the Dallas Morning News, calls this generation, of which he is a member, the "Silent Generation," as compared to the Depression Kids, the Baby Boomers or War Babies. The "Silents" had the good fortune to anchor in what was a time of hope, happiness and expanding horizons.

Attending the reunion were Dorothy (Fouts) Presswood and Clarence, Mary Beth (Payne) Beaver and Dick, Flora (Sego) Pace, Milla Deen (Williams) Lowery and Victor, Mary E. (Glass) Carroll and James, Jane (Weaver) Smith, Sue (Busby) Mahood and Bob, Betty Jo (Fagan) Sieren and John, Anita (Robison) Hosea and Robert, Ella (Kimbrough) Stewart and A. J., Nancy (Burton) Toliver and Bailey, Wanda (Smith) Hagle and Ted, and Jim Bledsoe.

Waking Up Cranky: Not all babies wake up in the morning in a good mood for several reasons. It may be inherent temperament, which is established in childhood and continues into adulthood. If the baby is an evening type, he or she may naturally wake up cranky and not blossom until late afternoon or evening. Oftentimes babies awaken directly from the deepest sleep cycle, which leaves them confused and irritated. Finally, some babies simply may not be getting enough sleep because parents keep them up to spend more time with them.

Parents need to know when to be involved

Youth sports take a commitment from both child and parent, but knowing when to sit back and cheer may be a parent's hardest job.

The more emphasis that is placed on fair play, having fun and challenging oneself, the better for the child, says Dr. Fran Pirozzolo, a psychologist for the Houston Astros and a neuropsychologist at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston.

Parents may work on the fundamentals of a sport with a child, but once the child joins a team, the instruction should be turned over to the coaches.

"At practice and games, the parent's role is to cheerlead," Pirozzolo said. "Differing sets of instructions from parents and coaches can really put a child in conflict."

He does urge parents to watch for coaches who promote rule breaking and winning at all costs.

"Never underestimate the impact your support can have on a child," he said. "Don't pass up the opportunity to praise your child for doing his or her best, especially on bad days."

38 give blood

By Brian Burgess
County Chairman
Red Cross Blood Services

We're not quite there, but I think we are on our way. Our Haskell County Red Cross blood donor goal is 43 units (pints).

Blood saves lives. We can't mix it up in a laboratory. Only God can make it, and only people can give it.

Thirty-eight wonderful donors came to last Tuesday's Bloodmobile. It was really exciting to see 13 people give blood for the first time (some have given in other towns). The first time is always the scariest.

These brave heroes are Mary Ann Allred, James Bevel, Tonya Cypert, Silveria Gonzalez, R. Hernandez, Dale Huff, Judo Johnson, Carl Milburn, Maxine Roberson, Alma Solomon, Kathy Thompson, Sam Watson and Judy Wolsch.

Olen King at 99 pints (12-plus gallons) has given more blood than anyone on our records. Billy Swinney was the only donor in our six-gallon club with 52 pints. Travis Solomon was the lone donor in the five-gallon club with 44 pints. Brian Burgess, 38 pints, and Cathy Bartley, 33 pints, were our four-gallon club donors.

Three-gallon club donors were Mike New (30 pints), Robbie Peiser (29), Kay Smith (27), Donna Cole (26), Lois Howard (26) and Jean Kemp (26).

Two-gallon club donors were Gene Long (23 pints), Kim Crawford (21), Linda King (21), Albert Thane (19), Jill Druessedow (18), and Verda Calloway (17).

Wanda Thompson (15 pints), and Martha Toliver (9) were one-gallon donors. Jo Iva Long (7), Ruben Diaz (6), Billie McKeever (6), Penny Peden (5), Todd Barnes (2) and Darlene Swinney (2) were repeat donors.

In addition to the folks above, we want to thank Kim Crawford, Amanda Crawford, Selina Salinas, Amy Barbour, Martha Toliver, Frances Fischer and Ophelia Newsom, ladies from Haskell County Home Extension Clubs who sign in donors, give each his numbered collection bag and serve the refreshments. They have fulfilled an important role for several years and it is most appreciated. Thanks again to First Baptist Church for the free use of its fine accessible Family Activity Center facilities.

Good news: Haskell's Progressive Study Club has agreed to form a calling committee for future blood drives, to remind and encourage our regular donors to give again.

Father's Day party Friday, June 17. A very cute clown visited all the men, tapping along the halls. She was very artistic with balloons and even made puppy dogs out of them for each father. Banana splits were served to the men and the ladies to celebrate the occasion.

Thank you, Jenny Collins, for making a special day for all.

We have a new administrator, Jana Loomis, and would like to welcome her to Haskell and to our facility. We will miss Rita Mooney, but she promised to visit us occasionally.

The Most Important Job He'll Ever Have Just Fell Right In His Lap.

A child's squeal of delight can't be made in a factory. Or bottled in a jar. Or imported from a foreign market.

It is a by-product of the most important business in the world — raising children.

Kids need the kind of fatherly love and attention that elicits such delight. When men make family life a top priority, children are tickled pink.

Being A Dad Is Important Business

Cowboy Reunion set for July 1-4

Stamford will come alive as the tradition and excitement of the 64th annual Texas Cowboy Reunion will get underway Friday, July 1, and span through the holiday weekend ending Monday, July 4.

With a variety of events planned, everyone who attends the TCR will find something to their interest and enjoyment.

It all kicks off at 4 p.m. on Friday, July 1, with the grand parade. The theme for this year's parade is "Poetic Expressions of the American Cowboy."

There will be nightly chuck wagon dinners catered by Joe Allen's Barbecue of Abilene.

Friday, Saturday, Sunday and Monday night performances of the world's largest amateur rodeo will begin at 8. Featuring rodeo's most exciting events and a few surprises along the way, the rodeo expects to turnout some of today's finest in the sport.

Rodeo fans can then head up to the TCR covered slab and dance under the stars to the western sounds of Jody Nix and the Texas Cowboys.

Throughout the four days of TCR activities, visitors are urged to see the Western Art Show in the John Selmon Memorial Pavilion and the second year version of the TCR Trade Show featuring crafts and handiworks, upstairs in the pavilion.

On Saturday, ranches will compete in the chuck wagon cook-off and the area's best "barbecue kings" will compete in the brisket and chili cookoff.

The Bit Spur and Western Collectible Show will be in progress Saturday through Monday in the Tri-Area Barn.

The place to be on Sunday is under the slab for plenty of humorous cowboy entertainment during the Cowboy Poetry Exhibition, which begins at 3 p.m.

On the fourth (Monday) the TCR will light up with an array of events, including the Oldtimers' Fiddlers' Contest at 9:30 a.m. and a dance at the Roundup Hall at 2 p.m. At 1 p.m., cowboys from 16 area ranches will demonstrate their ranching skills in the first-ever TCR Ranch Horse Show.

Fiddler's contest set for July 4

A fiddler's contest will be held Monday, July 4, at 9 a.m. in the Roundup Hall at Stamford.

Prizes of $75 for first place, $50 for second place, and $35 for third place will be awarded.

All fiddlers 45 years old or older are eligible and are invited to enter.

Registration will begin at 9 a.m. on the day of the contest.

Mrs. Charles Davis Chapman

Jennifer Thomas weds Davis Chapman

Miss Jennifer Anne Thomas and Mr. Charles Davis Chapman were united in marriage Saturday, June 18, at Saint Stephen Presbyterian Church in Fort Worth.

The Rev. Martin Jacobson officiated the double-ring ceremony.

A reception followed at Ridgela Country Club. The groom's father hosted the rehearsal dinner at the balcony of Ridgela in Fort Worth on the eve of the wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Powell Thomas II of Lufkin are parents of the bride. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Powell Thomas of Azle, and Mr. George Henchcliffe and the late Mrs. Janet Henchcliffe of Arlington.

The groom is the son of Honorable Charles Lewis Chapman and the late Peggy Jones Chapman of Haskell. He is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Charlie Chapman of Haskell.

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a candlelight Thai silk gown with a sweetheart neckline and basque waist. Hand-beaded pearls and iridescent and re-embroidered French lace accented the bodice. The custom designed veil cascaded to the end of the chapel length train.

The bride's attendants wore floral formal length dresses with sweetheart necklines, short puff sleeves, and basque waists.

Something old was a wedding ring used by the groom's parents and by the groom's great-great-grandparents. Something new was a strand of pearls given to the bride by the groom, something borrowed was a handkerchief from Mrs. Robert W. Webb, a friend of the groom's family, and something blue was a handmade lace garter. The bride also wore a six-pence in her shoe that her mother had worn in her own wedding.

Serving as maid of honor was Leslie Vardeman of Portales, N.M. Bridesmaids were Miss Lisa Needham and Miss Shanna Simmons of Lufkin, Mrs. Elena Rodriguez Rangel of Coppell, Mrs. Rhonda Weyand Jones of Denton and Miss Carla Young of Dallas.

Flower girls were Miss Katie Capps, cousin of the bride, from Arlington and Miss Katie Jones, cousin of the groom, from Bosque Farms, N.M.

Best man was Mr. Kyle Darden of Haskell. Groomsmen were Mr. David Box of Sugarland, Mr. Jamey Secrest of Temple, Mr. David Cearley of Fort Worth, Mr. John Nix of Lamesa, Mr. Nole Hadaway of Haskell and Mr. Craig Martin of Hurst.

Ushers were Mr. Brian Ingram of San Antonio, Mr. Todd Spake of Hurst, Mr. Eric Merriman of Argyle and Mr. Derek Hewett of Littleton, Colo. The ringbearer was Master Justin Jones, cousin of the groom, from Bosque Farms, N.M.

The bride attended Lufkin High School and is a 1994 graduate of Texas Christian University in Fort Worth. She is a member of Alpha Delta Pi Sorority. She received her BS in Fashion Merchandising and is currently employed as an assistant buyer for Stripling and Cox Department Stores.

The groom attended Haskell High School and is a May cum laude graduate of Texas Christian University where he received a BBA in Finance. He is a member of Phi Gamma Delta Fraternity.
