Golf tourney to benefit MDA

A one-day golf tournament to benefit the Muscular Dystrophy Association will be held Saturday, Aug. 27, at Haskell Country Club.

Entry fee for the two-person scramble is $25 per person.

The tournament will feature a hole-in-one contest and closest-to-pin contest.

Signup will be 8 a.m. on the day of the tournament and tee time will be 10 a.m., shotgun style.

Prizes will be designated the morning of the tournament.

To sign up early or to volunteer time or prizes, call Phil or Judy Standifer at 864-8113 after 5 p.m. or 864-3530 during the day. The local MDA also needs volunteers for its annual door-to-door campaign.

Haskell Country Club is donating the use of the course to MDA for the tournament.

New sales tax starts Oct. 1

Haskell businesses will begin collecting the new half-cent sales tax Oct. 1, city administrator said this week.

The new tax was passed by voters in last spring's city election. Proceeds will be earmarked for economic development.

When the new tax goes into effect, the total local sales tax rate will increase to 8.25 percent.

Annual luau set for Saturday

The fifth annual Texas Hawaiian Luau is scheduled Saturday night in the backyard of Abe and Ruby Turner, beginning at 8.

The luau, held each August since 1990, is the primary fund-raiser for the Haskell County unit of the American Cancer Society. In the past, the event has raised about $2,000 for the fight against cancer.

Again this year, the luau will feature roasted pig, along with bountiful offerings of other food.

Football tickets on sale Monday

Reserve seat tickets for the 1994 football season will be on sale Aug. 22-26 for those holding tickets from last year.

Those tickets not picked up by the afternoon of Aug. 26 will go on sale to the public Aug. 29-Sept. 2, along with all remaining tickets.

Reception to honor teachers

Haskell National Bank will host a reception Sunday to recognize new teachers and to honor all teachers of the Haskell Consolidated Independent School District.

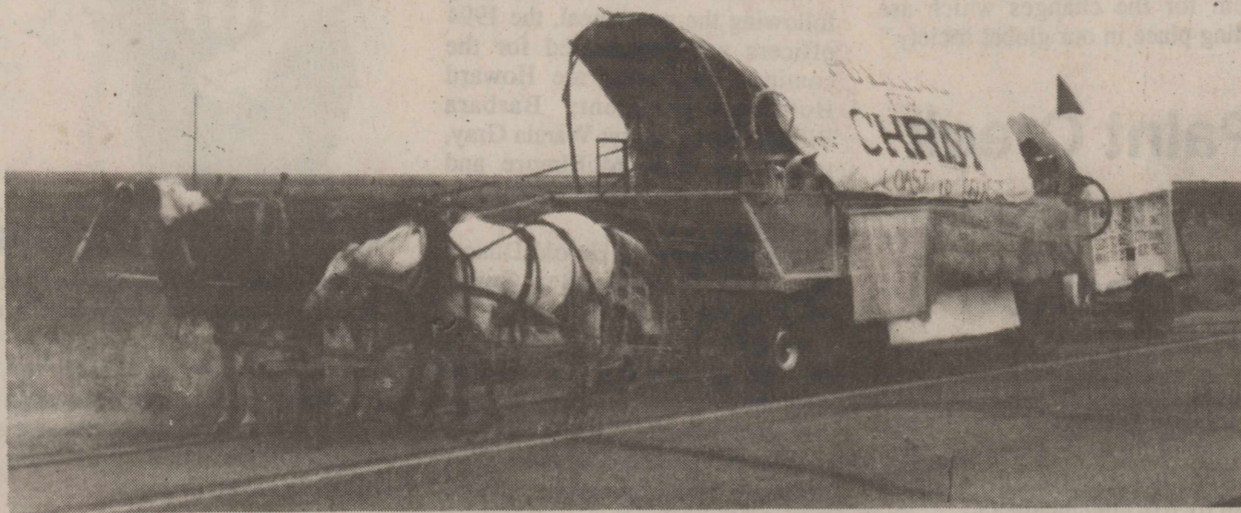

The reception will be in the Haskell National Bank community room, from 2 to 3:30 p.m.

The public is invited to attend.

Rochester grad coach at Ropes

A Rochester High School graduate has been named head football coach at Ropes High School.

Larry Reid, a 1987 graduate at Rochester, will also coach track and teach history.

Finisia Medrano's "Pulling for Christ" wagon came through Haskell Monday.

Coast-bound covered wagon on 'Pulling for Christ' mission

By Wendell Faught

She says she's "pulling for Christ" in an unusual way.

She is Finisia Medrano of Couer D' Alene, Idaho, and she came through Haskell Monday riding in a covered wagon pulled by three mares. She hopes to reach California in December or January.

Printed across the side of the wagon is "Pulling for Christ."

Riding up front with her were three dogs, and in a trailer behind the wagon was a colt born along the way.

Medrano began her trip in Idaho in March 1993 and went to Florida before heading west to California.

She is quick to explain that her mission is strictly personal. "I'm not a minister, and I represent no one but myself," she said. "Frankly, I'm not very religious; I just like people."

People along the way give her Bibles and religious tracts which she says she distributes for them.

She spent Sunday night along US 380 about 15 miles east of Haskell. She will continue along 380 into New Mexico. She's not sure just what route she will take or just where she will wind up in California. A normal day's journey is about 20 miles, she said, and usually begins about daybreak.

When her funds get low, Medrano said she will tack a "Work Wanted" sign on her wagon and can usually find a job for a day or two. "Someone always has a chicken house to clean out or something," she laughed.

She said she eats mostly canned goods. "I have a little stove and sometimes I will cook something, but mainly I eat from cans," she said. The horses graze along the roadway and she buys hay and grain for supplements.

Now and then Medrano said she will accept someone's invitation for a restaurant meal, but she doesn't like to leave her rig for an extended period.

Back in Utah, in the early days of her journey, she said some pranksters bred one of her mares as a joke. She thought this was a dirty trick.

After she left Florida, she stopped in Seminole, Alabama, and waited two weeks for the mare to foal and another two weeks for the colt to be strong enough to come along.

There, she met some wagon enthusiasts who she said asked her all kinds of questions about wagons. "They asked me what would be the ideal kind of wagon for my journey, and I gave them a good mental picture," she said.

When she was ready to continue her journey, the group presented her with a brand new wagon built exactly to the specifications she had outlined. "I cried," she said. "Those were great people. I hope I can go back there some time."

Originally, Medrano was a nurse. She said she graduated from Pierce College in California. She's also shooed horses.

"When you get to the end of this story, tell your readers to read book of Matthew, and then do it," she said.

Re-opening of landfill likely

Prospects are good that the city landfill will be re-opened in the near future.

City administrator Sam Watson told the City Council last Tuesday that the application for an arid exemption had been filed with the state. He has been notified that the application is being returned for more paper work, but he expects no problems.

Watson said if the request is approved, the city will be able to handle 20 tons of garbage per day. The city currently generates about eight tons per day which is now being hauled to Abilene.

Watson said he expects that some neighboring cities which used the Haskell landfill before it was closed in April will be interested in resuming this arrangement.

However, not all will be able to do so. Watson said the Haskell landfill was handling 36 to 39 tons a day before it was closed, meaning its capacity will now be about half what it was before the shutdown.

The landfill was the main topic discussed at last Tuesday's council meeting.

The council also changed the regular meeting time of council meetings to the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month. Recently, the council has been meeting on Mondays.

A public hearing on the 1994-95 fiscal year budget is scheduled in conjunction with next Tuesday's meeting.

Weinert homecoming plans being made

Ex-students, faculty, patrons and friends of the Weinert School and community are making plans for the homecoming to be held Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 1-2.

A Saturday morning parade will be held, followed by an afternoon program recognizing each class. Lots of visiting will precede a catered supper meal and a talent contest featuring exes and local talent.

A beautiful quilt, lovingly hand-pieced and quilted by the women of the Weinert community, will be given away in a drawing for those making donations.

The Rev. Max Copeland, a Weinert ex and pastor of the First Baptist Church in Marble Falls, will preach during the homecoming community worship service on Sunday morning. Everyone is invited and urged to attend for a great time of fellowship and worship.

Anyone interested in participating in the parade and/or the talent show is urged to contact one of the following homecoming officers: Charles (Cotton) Therwanger of Haskell, president;

Alice Cypert Yates of Weinert, vice president; or Amy Castillo Walker of Weinert, secretary-treasurer.

Classes planning parties may contact Mary Yates Murphy of Weinert to get their plans announced in upcoming publicity notices.

Flashback

Haskell Free Press
June 29, 1904

Two women of salacious character from some town "down east" who were seeking adventure and recreation, spent last Sunday at the booze dive in the southern part of the country with a lot of men in a general carousel.

They, along with two men, were arrested by the town marshal of Stamford Monday. They were brought before Squire Knowles at this place who fined them.

Haskell's sales tax rebate still declining

Haskell's 1.5-percent sales tax produced $25,659.52 for the city treasury this month, based on sales reported by monthly filers in the month of June and quarterly filers for the second quarter.

The rebate represented a 3.12-percent decrease in taxes collected in June of 1993, as this year's rebate continued to run behind that of a year ago.

For the year, Haskell has received $146,600.75. This is an 8.25-percent decline from the $159,799.95 received during the first eight months of last year.

Haskell County's other four cities, each of which has a 1-percent city sales tax rate, also received rebate checks this month from the state comptroller.

Rule got $2,711.88 and Rochester received $1,588.07. Weinert's rebate was $405.38 and O'Brien's was $401.43.

Rule, which has received $14,191.71 for the year to date, is running 4.53 percent behind last year. Rochester, which has received $5,605.07 is 2.71 percent below 1993.

As a group, the five cities of Haskell County have received $169,352.23 in 1994 rebates, compared to $185,625.38 last year, a decrease of 8.76 percent.

In neighboring Jones County, Stamford's 2-percent sales tax brought the city $52,614.21 this month, a 28.04-percent increase over September 1993 when the rate was 1.5 percent.

For the year, Stamford has received $327,974.56 so far this year, compared to $248,233.82 for the same period last year.

Anson and Hamlin, each with a 1.5-percent rate, showed 3.54-percent and 4.30-percent increases respectively this month. But for the year to date, rebates in those cities are down by 8.95 percent and 7.05 percent respectively.

Boosters to serve ice cream Tuesday

Indian Booster Club members finalized plans for a "Meet the Indians Night" when they met Monday.

The special program will begin at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Aug. 23.

Homemade ice cream will be served and all fans are invited to attend. First National Bank will provide spoons and Haskell National Bank will furnish the cups. The price of admission will be a bar of soap for the athletic department.

The club voted to change the time of future meetings to 7 p.m. instead of 7:30.

Members also voted to buy spirit signs for cheerleaders to hold at games. Cost is $60.

It was announced that Betty McDermott will be chairman for the Trading Post on Friday nights and Rhonda Lisle will be chairman on Thursday nights.

Because of the special program on Tuesday, there will be no Booster Club meeting next Monday.

School starts today

It's all over.

Summer vacation for Haskell school students comes to an end Thursday morning when the 1994-95 school term begins.

The first bell rings at 8 a.m. for tutorials at the secondary school. Classes begin at 8:30 and school will dismiss at 3:30 p.m.

At Haskell Elementary School, students will report to classes at 8:20 a.m. and the tardy bell rings at 8:30.

Fourth-, fifth- and sixth-graders will be dismissed at 3:30 p.m. First-, second and third-grade classes will dismiss at 2:30. Kindergarten classes will dismiss at 1 p.m. during the first three weeks of school; thereafter at 2:30.

School officials have predicted an enrollment of 793, including 344 in the secondary school (grades 7-12) and 449 in elementary, kindergarten and pre-kindergarten.

Included in the secondary school projection are 277 in high school (grades 9-12). This figure includes 82 freshmen, 51 sophomores, 50 juniors and 44 seniors.

The fourth grade, with a predicted enrollment of 76, will be the largest elementary class. The fifth grade is expected to have 70, while 53 are expected for the first grade, 52 for the second, 50 in the third and 55 in the sixth.

There will be 55 kindergarten students and 31 in pre-kindergarten. Another seven are expected for early childhood classes.

Indians scrimmage

There was plenty of leather popping last Thursday when the Indian football team held an intra-squad scrimmage. The Indians will scrimmage Roscoe here at 6 p.m. today (Thursday). They will scrimmage Jim Ned there next Thursday before opening the 1994 season at home against Munday on Sept. 2.

Teacher attends Dallas conference

Wanda Thompson, vocational home economics teacher in Haskell, joined 2,500 teachers at the 1994 State Professional Development Conference for Home Economics Teachers planned and coordinated by the Home Economics Education Office of the Texas Education Agency, Aug. 1-4 in Dallas.

The theme of the conference, "Home Economics Education: Moving Forward," provided the framework for the four-day event. Attendees were offered training to enhance their teaching methodology skills and refine their program priorities. Concurrent sessions dealt with issues related to managing responsibilities without burning out, using technology in home economics, capitalizing on cultural diversity, and family and child health and wellness.

Of special importance were the presentations and work sessions relating to the newly recommended graduation requirements, site-based management, applying academic skills in teaching home economics and alternative scheduling. The conference provided initial information enabling home economics teachers to make the appropriate modifications in program focus and practice to meet the new priorities.

Judith Heatherly, Texas

Education Agency's state director for Home Economics Education, addressed the foundations for the future. She said, "The School-to-Work movement is one of the most exciting initiatives that has come our way in a long time. All young people will be better prepared for both work and further learning. Businesses will get what they need to be more competitive and communities will be more supportive of public education."

David Okerlund opened the conference with the first general session on Monday with his motivational and inspirational speech, "Outlining Altitude through Attitude." He explored the secrets of a "contented heart" and explained how to find the joy in sorrow, the laughter in tears, the pleasure in the midst of pain, and the victory within defeat.

Bowen White, MD, gave a humorous speech and dynamic presentation titled "The Juggling Act: Managing Multiple Priorities," which demonstrated how people can develop the resources within themselves to make them happy and whole human beings. He told participants to recognize change as a challenge rather than an obstacle to be overcome.

Dr. Patricia Moody, department chairperson of Office Administration at the University of South Carolina, spoke about professionalism in the teaching field in her speech titled "Fly Like an Eagle."

Patti Rambo, 1994-95 VHETAT president, said, "In 1994-95, the home economics teachers in Texas will move forward to implement the School-to-Work and Goals 2000 initiatives. They constantly strive to improve their teaching methods by attending professional development seminars and by updating their curriculum to meet the needs of the students and prepare them for the changes which are taking place in our global society."

Paint Creek club meets in Haskell

The Paint Creek FCE Club had a delicious lunch at a Haskell restaurant for its August meeting.

The club creed and prayer were read by five club members.

The roll call of "How have I contributed to my club" was answered by all members.

The council report was given by Frances Fischer. Club dues are due in August or September. The TAFCE State Convention will be Sept. 13-15 in Lubbock.

The minutes and treasurer's reports were given by the secretary, Dolores Medford.

Plans were made to elect officers in September. The club discussed what its program would be in September. An education trip to Abilene is planned.

New Hope reunion is history

Residents, former residents, former teachers and friends of the New Hope community joined together Aug. 7 for the 31st homecoming at the Lions Club building in Stamford.

At the business meeting following the noon meal, the 1994 officers were re-elected for the coming year. They are Howard Hopkins, president; Barbara Billington, secretary; Wanda Gray, treasurer; Doris McElmore and Pearl Ivy, planning committee members.

Luther Bolding, Harold Dunne, W. T. "Bill" Goree, Rex Guinn, Molly Key Dotson, Lillian Lindsay, Bunk Lusk, Arnold McElmore, Lowell Smith and Leta Woodard were eulogized at a memorial service.

The meeting concluded with a drawing for door prizes donated by Stamford merchants.

Guests registered from Abilene, Anson, Benbrook, Hamlin, Haskell, Knox City, Lubbock, Merkel, Midland and Stamford.

Complete seminar

Duane Gilly, Haskell High School ag science teacher, and Lou Gilly, county extension agent-home economics, received certificates of completion for an Agricultural Financial Management in Agriculture Seminar from Wayne A. Hayenga, professor and extension specialist of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The seminar was conducted July 18-20 at Seven Oaks Resort in Wimberley for extension agents and other educators to prepare them to better teach farmers and ranchers about financial matters.

Representing Haskell County at the Cultural Arts Retreat at Lake Brownwood Aug. 10-11 were, from left, Alice Yates, Lou Gilly and Estalynn Liles.

Local group attends Brownwood retreat

Three Haskell County club members and one from Knox County participated in the Family and Community Education (FCE) Cultural Arts Retreat Aug. 10-11 at the Texas 4-H Center at Lake Brownwood. They were among 64 members from District 3 who attended the retreat.

"Moo-ving Ahead" was the theme for the two-day training session.

The overnight retreat included several educational programs. Kathryn Carnes, Archer County agent, delivered an informative speech from the American Milk Producers Institute. She stressed ample calcium in women's diets is important in developing strong bones and teeth and can help prevent osteoporosis.

Wichita County sponsored a workshop on the "Ideal Silhouette," where each member was measured from head to toe. A computer printout was given them which analyzed their personal measurements and identified their most flattering clothing styles.

Ruth Ann Malm, Abilene modeling agent, introduced by Frances Cook of Knox County, gave an outstanding speech reviewing proper walking, sitting and standing posture, as well as introductions and table etiquette.

The women chose between two workshops. Shirley Long, Kent County agent, offered "Wearable Art." Holly Stone, Palo Pinto agent, demonstrated to her group how to make "Paper Sack Angels." Club members could bring cultural arts items to be displayed and judged. There were 35 cultural arts exhibits. Bonnie Stone and Ann Shirley were judges for this event.

Award record books were also displayed to be entered for competition judging at the state convention in Lubbock Sept. 13-15.

The women were entertained Wednesday evening with a "Farm Fashion Show" narrated by Rhonda Welch, District 3 director from Kent County. Members modeled their farm animal costumes. The audience judged this contest. Molly Brewer was the first place winner with her "Udderly Awesome" Holstein cow costume. First place prize was a golden cow paddy.

The members had fun participating in the square and line dancing Wednesday evening. Jack Wilson, WTU retiree, taught the square dancing and had the ladies do-si-do-ing, promenading, performing right and left grand in a short 30 minutes. Line dancing was presented by Jymann Hakanson, Stephens County agent.

Door prizes were awarded and Lou Gilly, Haskell County agent, and Alice Yates, Weinert FCE club, took home prizes.

Representing Haskell County were Estalynn Liles of the Weinert FCE Club and Haskell County chairman, Alice Yates of the Weinert club and Frances Cook, of Knox County. They were accompanied by Lou Gilly, Haskell County agent.

More than 400 Texans drowned in 1992

More than 400 drownings were reported in Texas in 1992, the latest year for which statistics are final.

The number of injuries from near-drownings may be five times that many, said David Zane of the Texas Health Department.

"In years past, we have only been able to estimate the number of injuries, some of which include brain damage and other permanent disabilities, caused by near-drownings," Zane said. This year, though, state law requires that injuries attributed to near-drownings be reported to TDH so that we can recommend ways to reduce the numbers of these tragedies."

Drownings are the second leading killer of children younger than 5.

The TDH Bureau of Emergency Management recommends 10 rules to prevent drownings:

- Use---and check for defects---extra pool barriers or fences, safety covers, alarms and other devices to discourage trespassing or falling into a pool.
- Never leave a child alone, for any reason, near a pool or other water.

--Regardless of whether they know how to swim, require all children younger than 5 to wear Coast Guard-approved life vests while on or in water.

--Avoid young children's use of "floaties" and other devices which can be easily removed.

--See that children learn to swim, taught by a qualified instructor, but never consider a child "water safe."

--Teach youngsters about water safety at home; remove ladders, lawn furniture or other means of climbing over pool fences. Keep a clear view of the pool area.

--Learn CPR and insist that other family members, babysitters and others caring for children also learn it. Especially during social events, designate an adult to supervise children near water.

--Keep emergency and 911 numbers on all phones.

--Equip your pool for lifesaving, with a shepherd's hook or lightweight pole, and a ring buoy or other float with an attached line.

--Ban alcoholic drinks from the pool area.

Lake Texoma site of Carroll reunion

The 10th annual reunion of descendants of the late Woodie and Nancy Palmer Carroll was held Aug. 5-7.

A multi-purpose building on Lake Texoma at Kingston, Okla., was the site for great visiting and fun for 64 descendants attending from Oklahoma, Texas and Colorado. A descendant was present from all five of Woodie and Nancy's children.

The three living children present were Leonard Carroll of Haskell, Norene Donner of Oklahoma City and Stella Donner of Shawnee, Okla. Leonard Carroll was the oldest present, and his great-granddaughter, Nicole of Abilene was the youngest.

Much fun was enjoyed with indoor and outdoor games. An auction of hand-made items defrays the reunion costs and was enjoyed by all.

Those present from Weinert of the late Delbert Carroll family were Dale and Doris Carroll. All of their children and grandchildren were present from Weinert, Haskell and Mineral Wells.

Leonard Carroll of Haskell had daughter, Doris and her husband Layne Wells of Trent and their grandson of Lubbock, James Carroll, son, and his wife Mary, their son, Steve and family, all of Abilene were present.

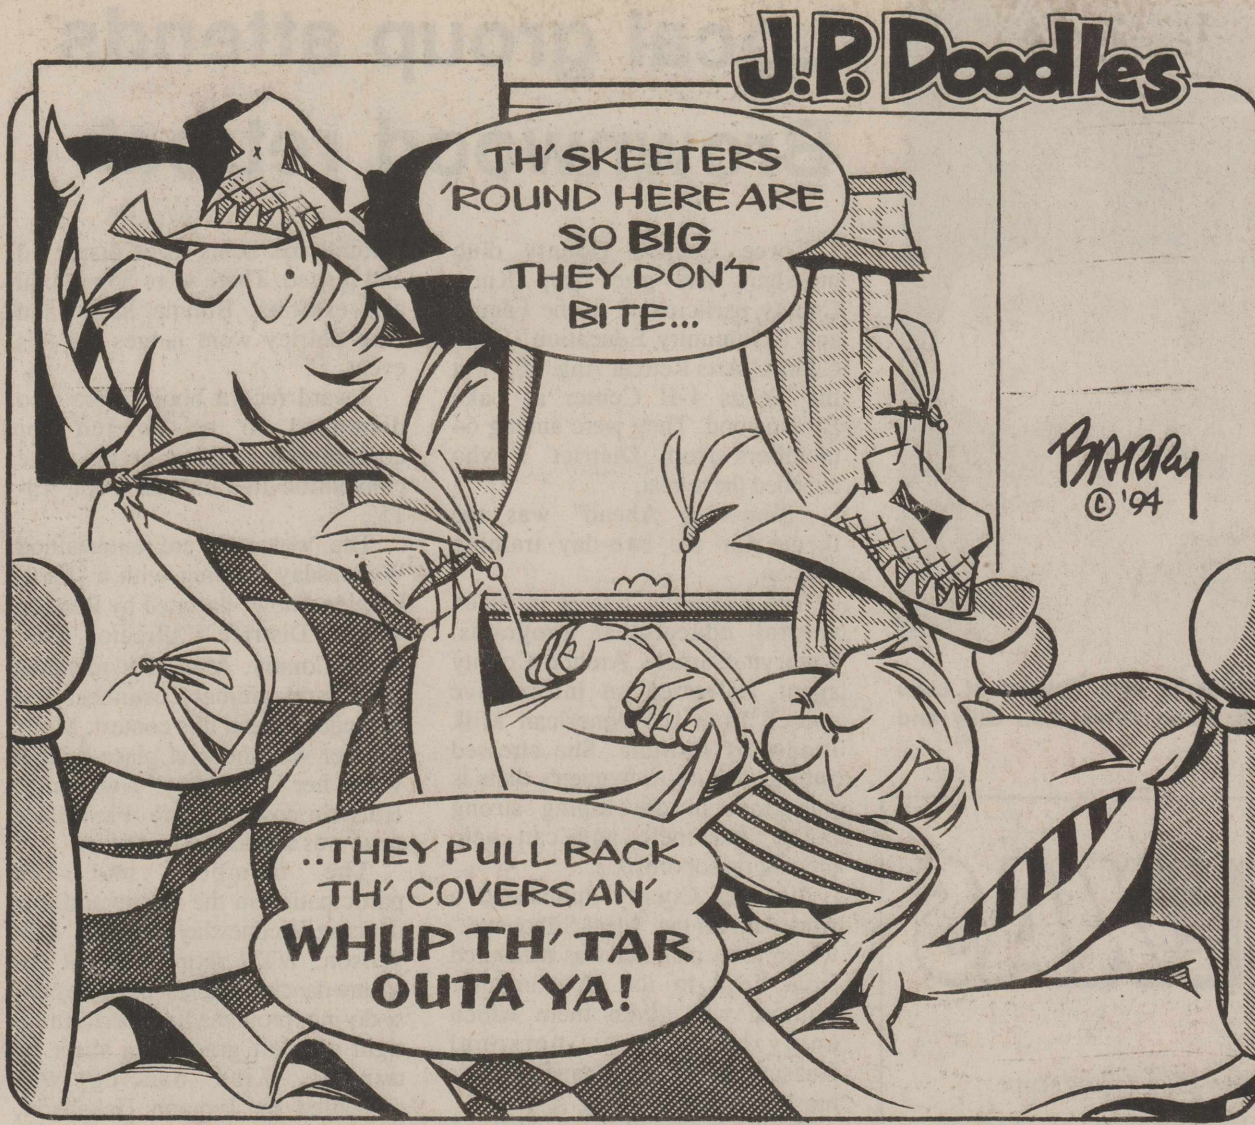

Norene, Stella and the late Anna Buzbee had their families represented from Oklahoma, Texas and Colorado.

Opera House program set for Saturday

This month's third Saturday Musical at the Opera House in Anson will begin at 6:30 p.m. Saturday with plenty of country-western tunes to entertain the audience.

There is no charge for admission. The concession stand will have cold drinks, coffee, sandwiches and hot dogs, chips and other snacks. All donations go toward utilities and maintenance of the building.

Also at the Opera House, the Hawley Methodist Church continues with the gospel music program on the fourth Saturday of each month.

The Haskell Chamber of Commerce has set a budget for the coming year at $13,500, which more than doubled the old budget.

Randy Wiseman, Eddie Hester and Wayne and Jeff Cadenhead gave first-hand reports on the National Scout Jamboree to the Lions Club.

More than 200 persons were present last Thursday night at the dedication of the new Masonic Temple of Haskell Lodge No. 682.

Sam Adams, head coach and principal at Weinert High School for the past five years, has resigned to take a similar post at Flower Grove.

Carl T. Anderson of Haskell will receive his bachelor's degree at summer commencement exercises tonight at North Texas State University.

Mrs. Alfred Turnbow and grandson, Jimmy Aycoch, visited recently in Stanton with Mrs. Turnbow's daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Therwanger.

60 Years Ago Aug. 23, 1934

Cattle buying by the government from Haskell County stockraisers was started Monday under an allotment of 150 head per day. Animals unfit for shipping or canning are destroyed.

Less than $75 remains to be secured by local fans in order for lights to be installed on the football field, according to George W. Wimbish, high school principal.

Mayor A. F. Thurman has announced that the summer water rate will be in effect until Sept. 20. The special rate allows 7,000 gallons per month for the minimum charge of $1.50.

Alton C. Brown of Rochester received his bachelor's degree in graduation exercises at West Texas State Teachers College in Canyon this week.

Mrs. John Oates has gone to Hobart, Okla., where she will join her husband who is manager of a drug store there.

Coach Bill Richey will have 14 lettermen returning this year when football practice begins next week. Returning this year are Woodrow Roberts, Jack and John Kimbrough, Crockett English, Covell Adkins, Martie Pippin, W. H. Starr, Carl Maples, Bill Shelley, Lewis Hamilton, Alvin Sherman, S. A. Moser. Other promising squadmen include J. D. Tidwell, Leon Highnote, John E. Fouts, Ernest McMillan and Frank Kirkpatrick.

70 Years Ago Aug. 22, 1924

Miss Hassie Davis has returned home after spending the summer in Houston, Galveston, Palacios, Waco and Calvert. She will leave Sunday for Ozona where she will teach music in the public schools.

Mr. and Mrs. Abodon Holt and Miss Georgia Smith have returned from a trip to Colorado Springs, Denver and other points in Colorado.

Mrs. H. S. Wilson left Monday morning for Kentucky where she will visit her mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Hardy Grissom have returned from a combination business and vacation trip to New York and other points.

Miss Mary Sherrill has returned home from Fort Worth where she has been visiting the past two months with her sister, Mrs. J. S. Williams.

90 Years Ago Aug. 24, 1904

Mrs. J. S. Keister entertained the Full Moon Club Tuesday night in her home.

A. G. Lambert, who is farming on Capt. J. S. Williams' place about a mile northeast of town, brought the season's first bale of cotton Wednesday. Because the Haskell gin was not ready to operate, Mr. Lambert sold the load of seed cotton to S. L. Robertson on the basis of 10.30 lint cotton. A premium of $22 was made up for Mr. Lambert.

Mrs. W. T. Jones returned Wednesday from a visit with her parents in Tennessee.

Ira Ellis has accepted a position with the Stamford Ice Co. and went down to his new job Monday.

My older sister used to babysit for Milford and his little sister. I loved to go with her on her assignment. Milford had all kinds of things to play with. When he got a little older, he had a movie projector and a bunch of cartoon films--Popeye, Three Little Pigs, etc. Visiting his home was a 1930s version of fantasy land.

Last time I saw Milford was when we were freshmen at OU. I visited him once in his dorm. After the first semester, he transferred to another school and I never saw him again.

I don't know what ever happened to Milford. His parents moved away after we graduated and as far as I know he never returned to the old hometown.

I do wonder if he has maintained his life style.

Labor Day is the last long weekend of the summer. For 40 people on Texas highways last year, it was the last weekend of their lives.

Trooper Bobby Hart of the Texas Department of Public Safety urges every motorist to be especially watchful during the coming holiday period. "We want everyone to have a good time and enjoy the holiday, but above all we want it to be an accident-free weekend," Hart said.

To make travel more enjoyable, Hart suggest relieving a little stress by planning ahead, leaving ample time for any unforeseeable problems, taking frequent breaks on long trips and by driving friendly.

"Stay alert, buckle up and slow down," Hart said.

Hart also reminded that "boozin' and cruzin'" is not a safe mix. "If you are going to drink, don't drive," he warns.

Seniors invited to Octoberfest

Haskell County folks 55 and over may experience fall and nature at its best this year "Deep in the Heart of Texas."

Lou Gilly, county extension agent-home economics, said that's what hundreds will be doing during the annual Octoberfest at the Texas 4-H Center on Lake Brownwood.

Sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, four weeks are offered from which men and women alike may choose:

Octoberfest I: Oct. 4-7,
Octoberfest II: Oct. 11-14,
Octoberfest III: Oct. 18-21,
Octoberfest IV: Oct. 25-28.

Opportunities include "Hands-on" learning centers where one can learn leather working, oil painting, woodworking, stained glass and other exciting projects. Educational programs on topics such as horticulture, photography, nutrition, finances and other current interests are a popular highlight.

Boat rides and fishing on Lake Brownwood add popularity to the event. Lighted tennis courts, horseshoes, billiards, volleyball, shuffleboard, dominoes and card and table games offer popular activities.

A special "Kick Your Heels Up" theme will provide a festive atmosphere. Thursday's theme party will feature some exciting activities and entertainment.

To find out more, call the extension office at 864-2546.

There is still time to get your soil tested free in Haskell and Knox counties.

The Seymour Aquifer Project will continue free soil testing through Sept. 1.

The soil sample should be taken from a uniform area of the field and represent from 10 to 40 acres. Take 10 to 15 samples from the field and mix in a clean plastic bucket, take out about one pint for a composite sample. Be sure to fill out an information sheet to send in along with the sample. The information sheet asks about the type of crop to be grown and the yield goal of the crop.

Soil sample bags and information sheets can be picked up at:

Allison Farm Supply in Rule, Farmers Gin or Lone Star Peanut Co. in Rochester, O'Brien Co-op Gin, Charlie Myers Grain Co. in Haskell and at various locations in Knox County. They also are available at ASCS, SCS and county extension offices in Haskell and Knox counties.

The free soil testing program is being sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the Soil Conservation Service.

For more information about the soil testing program, call the Seymour Aquifer Project's Haskell office at 864-3334.

plain talk

BY WENDELL FAUGHT

Crayolas, always prominent in ads this time of the year, remind me of the kid-down the street when we started to school in 1935.

It wasn't easy being a neighbor of Milford Jones. His dad owned a cotton gin and a grain elevator. He bought a new car every year and the family took vacations to places like Pike's Peak and San Francisco.

And when we started to school, Milford had one of those 16-count boxes of Crayolas. He also had one of those yellow, nickel pencils and a Big Chief tablet like the big kids had. The rest of us had eight crayons in our boxes, penny pencils and two-for-a-nickle tablets with a baby's picture on the cover.

When Will Rogers died in a plane crash in 1935, all the school kids in Oklahoma were asked to bring money to school to buy flowers for his funeral. Our teacher placed an empty Folgers coffee can in our room for us to drop our coins in. Most kids didn't bring anything. Some brought pennies. Milford brought a quarter.

Milford wasn't one of my closest friends, except when the weather was bad. On cold days I would always try to leave the building with him at the end of the school day. Either his dad or his mother would be waiting to drive him home and they would ask me to ride too. It probably was my first lesson in politics.

My older sister used to babysit for Milford and his little sister. I loved to go with her on her assignment. Milford had all kinds of things to play with. When he got a little older, he had a movie projector and a bunch of cartoon films--Popeye, Three Little Pigs, etc. Visiting his home was a 1930s version of fantasy land.

Last time I saw Milford was when we were freshmen at OU. I visited him once in his dorm. After the first semester, he transferred to another school and I never saw him again.

I don't know what ever happened to Milford. His parents moved away after we graduated and as far as I know he never returned to the old hometown.

I do wonder if he has maintained his life style.

Happenings...

By Lots Redwine

Visiting last week with Gladys O'Neal was a long time friend, Lily Peek of Eden. Mrs. Peek was enroute to Burkburnett to visit her sister, Helen Havens. Mrs. Peek and Mrs. Havens are the daughters of the late Bro. and Mrs. W. H. Albertson. He was pastor of the First Baptist Church from 1925 to 1930.

Correction: Last week, I had Kenneth and Terry Hilliard living in Odessa. Wrong, they live in Waco. Sorry.

Judy Berry of Abilene spent Friday night with her mother, Henrietta Sego.

Visiting with Frieda Nehring in Rice Springs Care Home were Elva Mae Thigpen, Aspermont, Louis and Adeline Spitzer and Hazel Letz, Old Glory and Lena Petrich, Haskell. The Spitzers also visited with Lena Rueffer in the care home.

Peggy Callicoate of Midland visited with her mother, Adeline Letz in Rice Springs Care Home. Mrs. Callicoate was raised in Old Glory and is a childhood friend of Dimpel Nehring.

Frank and Bonnie Jircik, Carol Hickman and Tommy were joined at the Radison near Six Flags by Jennifer, Ray, Raegan, Dallas, Dr. Frank Paul, Jr., Sherie, Courtney and Justin and twenty two other Jircik kin last weekend for a fun filled Jircik reunion. Several of Frank's nieces and nephews were brave enough to take all the small children to Wet N' Wild on Saturday. Plans were made for another get together next year, probably in San Antonio.

Elmer and Bernice Hilliard were at the Wagon Wheel Saturday night for the Abilene Country Cousins monthly dance. Square dance caller was Leon Ivey, country line dance caller was Maxine Ivey. Square dance lessons will start at the Wagon Wheel tonight, Aug. 18.

Spending Sunday with Jimmy and Helen Owens were their daughter, son-in-law and granddaughters, Beverly, Frankie, Emily and Sarah SoRelle of Lubbock. They celebrated Emily's 20th birthday. They also attended the funeral services for Margie Counts.

Christene Greene has returned home after undergoing successful knee surgery in Hendrick Medical Center, Abilene.

Melissa Gray of Zapata spent last week with her grandparents, George and Faye Gray. Her parents, Lee and Barbara Gray came Friday night. On Sat., they all went to Abilene to spend the night with the George Grays daughter and family, the Chuck Hicks.

On July 22, the Willie Farrells of Weinert picked up son, Cleve of Porter, at the Abilene Airport. They then went to Sayre, Ok. to attend the 3rd reunion of Willie's half brothers and sisters and their descendants. About 50 attended and most of them were strangers to Willie.

During the first week in August, Ford and Donna Cole, Karen Lehrmann, Ellen Rieger, Melodee Christian and Sarah Hodgins of the First Baptist Church and Mike Anderson, Anson were in Waco at Baylor University for the Musicconference. This was a celebration of 50 years of church music. The Texas All State Youth Choir was a featured attraction at the Musicconference. Singing with the choir was Angela Jordan of Stamford. Ford and Mike are music directors of their respective churches.

Last week, Ford and Donna Cole, Kerre and Loren were in Red River, N.M. enjoying the cool weather, fishing and horse back riding.

Visiting with Carl J. and Lillian Myers were their grandchildren, Mitch and Carla Baker, Jamie, Sarah and Brandon from Lubbock. They were treated to a cook out Saturday night in the home of Flint and Lisa Nanny. Also attending were the Carl W. Myers and the Danny Myers family.

Darlene Cummings of Abilene spent the weekend with her mother, Neat Bevel. Darlene teaches Special Ed in Merkel High School.

Frank Jordan, Jr. spent the weekend in Ft. Worth.

Birdie Goudeau and children, Leon, Brittany and Jenny, Mae Lou Yeldell and Frank Jordan, Jr. were in Abilene last Thursday to attend the funeral services for their aunt, Josephine Mosley.

Members of the Greater Independent Baptist Church were in Anson Sunday evening at the Weeping Mary Baptist Church Annual.

Mary Catherine Whitaker is in Marlin visiting her sick mother.

Frank Jordan, Jr. is in Lubbock for entrance exams for Vocational School.

If you like hot air balloons, you won't want to miss the Permian Basin Balloon Festival to be held in Midland on the grounds of the Permian Basin Petroleum Museum Oct. 29-30. While there, visit the Petroleum Museum and the Conference Air Force Museum at the Midland International Airport. For more information on the Festival call 1-800-624-6435.

Thanks to all who call or bring me your news. My number is 864-2295.

--Obituaries--

Margie Counts

Margie Lee Counts died Thursday (Aug. 11) at Hendrick Medical Center in Abilene. She was 54.

Funeral services were Sunday afternoon at the Church of Christ with Dale Huff, minister, officiating. Burial was in Willow Cemetery, directed by Holden-McCauley Funeral Home.

Pallbearers were Mickie Counts, Billy Wayne McMeans, Jimmy Counts, Tim Counts, Jerry Stocks and Wes Counts.

Ms. Counts was born Jan. 20, 1940, in Rotan the daughter of Duard Counts and Sophia Ann Walker. She had lived in Haskell for 18 years. She was a member of the Church of Christ and was employed at the Training Center in Haskell.

She is survived by her parents, Sophia and Coyt Hix of Haskell; a sister and brother-in-law, Sherry and Dale Wilhelm of San Antonio; three step-sisters, Louise Thompson of Snyder, Letha Newton of Haskell and Dorothea Hix of Odessa; a niece, Nina Hanes; and a nephew, Dale Worth Wilhelm.

She was preceded in death by her father, Duard Counts, on Feb. 2, 1976.

Memorials may be made to the donor's favorite charity.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING ON TAX INCREASE

The City of Haskell will hold a public hearing on a proposal to increase total tax revenues from properties on the tax roll in 1993 by 13.50 percent. Your individual taxes may increase at a greater or lesser rate, or even decrease, depending on the change in the taxable value of your property in relation to change in taxable value of all other property.

The public hearing will be held on August 23, 1994 at 6:00 p.m. at Haskell City Hall.

FOR the proposal: Kenny Watson, Tony Burson, Iva Lee Gipson & David Davis

AGAINST the proposal: 0
PRESENT and not voting: 0
ABSENT: Ruby Turner

The statement above shows the percentage increase the proposed rate represents over the effective tax rate that the unit published on August 4, 1994. The following table compares taxes on an average home in this taxing unit last year to taxes proposed on the average home this year. Again, your individual taxes may be higher or lower, depending on the taxable value of your property.

	Last Year	This Year
Average home value	$22,440	$22,493
General exemptions available (amount available on the average home, not including senior citizen's or disabled person's exemptions)	$ 0	$ 0
Average taxable value	$22,440	$22,493
Tax rate	0.2301/$100	0.2598/$100 (Proposed)
Tax	$ 51.63	$ 58.44 (Proposed)

Under this proposal taxes on the average home would increase by $6.81 or 13.19 percent compared with last year's taxes. Comparing tax rates without adjusting for changes in property value, the tax rate would increase by 0.0297 per $100 of taxable value or 12.90 percent compared to last year's tax rate. These tax rate figures are not adjusted for changes in the taxable value of property.

--Rice Springs Care Home--

We have been enjoying watermelon and cantaloupe, along with black-eyed peas... add a little cornbread and onion and isn't summer gardening delicious?

We are enjoying our visitor rosters which are placed on each resident's door. It is a neat way for us to share with other visitors, just who has come to see us. Please be sure and sign our roster when you come to visit. Each of us has our own, thanks to a good member of the Hospital Auxiliary, Oleta Cornelius.

We had the fortune to view a traveling covered wagon this week, which was going across America for Christ. Last news we had just enjoyed a group of young men doing work for disadvantaged. Doesn't it warm your heart, that there are still those out there doing good, instead of being involved in violence. We always did have to choose which side we would be on, and youth of today must make their choice. We pray that more of them will make the correct choice.

We enjoyed having Ernestine Herren in our home for a recovery. She has now gone home, and we wish her well. She had so many visitors and telephone calls, and was well remembered while in the care home. She is a friend indeed.

Betty Davis will soon be going home and we will miss her, but we enjoy her visits with her mother every day. We want to wish Betty good health in the future as she continues to improve.

We are so glad to have Randolph and Nan Wilson back on Wednesday nights. We had someone to fill in, but it was not like having the Wilsons out, and Betty Berry to play the songs on the piano for some sing-along. Welcome back!

Last time we had a contest going, and the logo that won was: "Home Away From Home." You will be seeing us use this in our advertisements in the future. Look for it soon.

We want to pass on some praise to Harvey Dudensing, who reads the Bible and other books to residents who no longer can do their own reading. Harvey says that he really enjoys doing this for the others, and they really are glad that he takes the time to do so.

At this time we have only one resident in the hospital, and we are missing her and wish her a speedy recovery. This is Adeline Letz, who has lived with us a long while and it just isn't the same without her each day.

We had some good response to our plea for large and small coffee cans to use in activities, and we want to thank everyone who provided us with these. It is so nice that Haskell supports their nursing homes and hospital needs. Volunteers are very important to us and we cannot thank you enough.

Lena Rueffer had visitors of Jeffrey and Susie Monroe, Dennis and Melanie Rueffer, Louis Spitzer and Bobby and Barbara Druessedow.

Wilma Bartley enjoyed visits from Lena Petrich, Dell Anderson, Richard and Judy Bartley, Katherine Bartley, Minnie Faye Dean, Vicci King, Christina Makeinac, Neat Bevel, Maggie Threet, Ernestine Dickins, Gladys Fraley, Claudia Allison, Doy and Patty Bartley, Tamoa and W. A. Cooper.

Viola Mercer was visited by Neat Bevel, Glenn and Maggie Merchant and Viola Tidwell.

Peggy Burnett visited Erma Marsh, and Henry and Wanda Townsend and Margaret Tanner visited Mildred Townsend. Frieda Nehring was warmed by visits from Hazel Letz, Dimpel Nehring, Lena Petrich, Dewie Escue, Marie Kretschmer, Elva Mae Thigpen, Adeline and Louis Spitzer.

Adeline Letz enjoyed the company of Hazel Letz, Lacey Letz, Tom, Donna and Bryan Letz, Peggy Callicoatte, and Roger and Betty Letz.

Charles and Cindy Harvey continue to visit with Mable Witt, and Charles is just about here daily to brighten Mable's world.

Helen Lehrmann, Pearl Schwartz, Verdena and Carl Opitz have come to visit Lillie Lehrmann, while Betty Bruce has had visits from Emmie and Irvin Overton, Coyt Hix (regularly), Carl Opitz, Opal Dunnam, Betty Berry, Sophia Hix and Sherry Wilhelm.

Gussie Ford has enjoyed visits from her daughters and families, Velma Melton and Benny and Thelma and Olen King and Jaylene.

Kathryn Matsiak visited with her mother, Mrs. Cole, along with James and Charlotte Patterson, Victor Salinas and Maxine Ivey.

Mrs. Gann enjoyed Bertha Wilson, Cleo Gann, Delma Kuntz and Geraldine Hill.

A. D. and Tomi May and Jim visited with Lucy Hunt, Danielle and Canon Turner, Kelsee Cloe (all of Midland), Helen Fouts and Sammie and Jim Turner visited with Velma Turner.

Oleta Bailey had visits from Christine Bruton, Betty Bruton, Cuddles, Wayne Wells, Clark, Linda and Jonathan McDaniel. Don Perry, Ray and Amelia Perry and Neat Bevel visited with Mrs. Atkinson. The Perry families are regulars with us and we look forward to their many visits.

Victor Lowery, Gladys Fraley of Lubbock, Claudia Allison of Lubbock, Jack and Leta B. Sellers, Fay and Ted Jetton, Woodie and Mae Woodard and Bobby Simpson visited Stanley McMillan.

Slover Bledsoe had visits from James and Charlotte Patterson, Phil, Grenetta and Tammy Bledsoe, while Joe Teague enjoyed a visit from Frances Dillard from Rogers, Ark., and Hap Hendrix had a visit from Todd Barnes.

Harvie Medford was visited by Joan Medford, J. B. Kirby, Bobby and Barbara Druessedow, Sybil Henry, Norman and LaRae Thane, Jay and Lois Davis and Charles and Thelma Hansen. Harvie Dudensing, who is fortunate to have activities outside of the home also, was visited by J. B. Kirby and Bobby and Barbara Druessedow.

Elizabeth Donaldson, who really enjoys company, was visited by Roy and Fran, Pam Darr Mongrain, Angela Donaldson Agraz, Ashli and Cody Agraz, Erin Mongrain and of course, daily and twice daily visits from her dedicated daughter, Doris Butler.

Gladys Carruth (who really enjoys company) was visited by Paula, Andrew and Christine Sammons, Cortney Vaughn and Kelly, Betty Jo, JoAnn, Callie Moore and daughter Sue. Sue and Roy and Ocie are regulars and sometimes do not sign the register, but they are welcome guests always.

Nell Rogers continues to have daily and more visits from her son Floyd Rogers, Darlia and Lora Wright and Deneice, Randel Linton, Thelma Dunlap, Betty Long, Natalin Lony, Viola Tidwell, Maggie Threet, Neat Bevel, Bob Rogers, Neta Dunlap from Iceland and a regular, Lona Linton.

Alma Mangen and Gladys Dyches were visited by Lois Carroll and Sonja Scruggs and Ray Webb, and many visits by the Weldon Normans to Katie Doyle, along with Hugh Miller's daily visits to wife, Bea Miller, and Vennie Lytle enjoyed visits from Beatrice Curd, Leta B. Seller and Jerry and Pat Mowell.

Ocie Garrett enjoys lots of visits from her sisters who are very attentive to her. Among her visitors were Ida Farrel, Willie Farrel, Cleve Farrel, Hodston, Fela Jo, Charles, and Margaret Williamson of California; Wayne Stout, Jack and Leta B. Sellers, Beatrice Curd and Tricia Garrett.

Joe Marie Barnes enjoyed visits from Frances Bird, Judy Patton and Glenda Gentry. Across the hall, Lena Kreger was visited by Sara Darden of Abilene, Rose Whitt of Marble Falls, Ruby Teichelman, Howard Scheets and Donald Kreger.

Lois Rogers and Tillie Wendeborn had visits from Wendy Carlton, little John Wendeborn and Ruby Carpenter. Lois Rogers also enjoyed visits from Jessica, Amanda, F. X. and Nadine Crump, Jamie Weaver and Frances Crump.

Birdie Culberth continues to enjoy visits from her daughter Maxine, and along with her she also had Lindsay, Ethan and Becky Ivey and of course her son-in-law, Slim.

Ruby McCafferty enjoyed a visit from Ruby Carpenter and many more guests who failed to sign.

We have tried to report to you, the community, all of the visits we have enjoyed. The out-of-town visits are the ones the newspapers want us to report, so if your name was not on the list, we apologize, but we do appreciate your visits and please come again.

You can see by the many visitors that cross our threshold, that much action takes place here. Our doors are open to each and every one of you, and since our residents are no longer very mobile, a visit from you is a treasure. Many residents comment that they enjoy visits from people here at the home that they would not benefit from if they were still living at home, so this is truly... "home away from home."

Hospital Auxiliary

The Haskell County Hospital Auxiliary will meet Monday evening in the hospital board room.

"Several items are on our agenda, so let's all be there for a good time and congratulate ourselves on what we have done since we began," said Jenny Collins, president.

WTU files petition to lower rates

West Texas Utilities announced last week it will file a petition with the Public Utility Commission of Texas (PUCT) to start a process to review WTU's revenues, rule on proposed rate changes and implement lower interim electric charges to customers by 3.25 percent.

The petition, to be filed around Aug. 25, will request that a review of WTU's revenues be conducted by the PUCT to determine if WTU's should be adjusted. The petition proposes interim rates until the PUCT can complete the review.

Until a final PUCT order is implemented, interim charges to customers will be reduced by 3.25 percent, effective Oct. 1.

"The action to initiate this review process by WTU is quite remarkable since some other electric utilities have recently increased rates," said Glenn Files, WTU president and chief executive officer.

Files pointed out that WTU's customers have not experienced a rate increase since 1987, even though the average overall cost of living has increased nearly 30 percent over that same period.

"WTU has effectively managed the business and, as a result, we have remained financially strong," said Files. "Our strong financial position has allowed us to be a key player with the communities we serve in economic development activities."

Diversified Agrisurance Co.

Multi-Risk/Replacement Cost Protection for Farm & Irrigation Equipment

Take a minute to think about the tremendous investment you have in Farm Equipment: Tractors, Cultivators, Combines, Planters, and more. Then consider what it would cost to replace any one of your units at today's prices.

You want the broadest coverage available on your most expensive equipment -- but most policies don't offer you this protection.

The perils of Fire, Lightning, Wind, Tornado, Collision, Upset, Overturn, Vandalism, Theft, and Flood are available -- again, most policies don't protect your equipment for all of the above perils.

If insured on a Farm Blanket, aged equipment suffers a deduction for depreciation -- unless you are protected with a Replacement Cost Provision.

Replacement cost coverage (up to the amount insured) with no depreciation

To find out more about this Multi-Risk/Replacement Cost policy, either call or write to:

Japanese student visits Rule

Stewart and Keri Farrell of Rule have the privilege of having in their home for her summer vacation a student from Nishinomiya, Japan. She has chosen the English name of Jennifer to go by while visiting in the states.

Jennifer is preparing to take the TOILE exam, an English proficiency test, in October while in Texas. She is perfecting her English in preparation for the exam. She has not decided whether to attend college in the United States or Canada. If she attends school in Canada, passing the TOILE is required.

While visiting with the Farrells, Jennifer has had the opportunity to sightsee in Colorado where she visited the Royal Gorge in Canon City, the Garden of the Gods, the U.S. Air Force Academy and "Focus on the Family" headquarters.

While in Texas she has gone to Six Flags with the youth from First Baptist Church, and to see, "The Promise," similar to the passion play, in Glen Rose.

In Japan, Jennifer is a senior at an all-girls' school. There are 1,000 girls attending this private high school where studies are extensive and only one month is given for summer vacation.

Jennifer's father, Takeshi, owns a Chinese restaurant and is involved in real estate. Her mother stays home with Jennifer and her two younger sisters, Yuri, 16, and Kumi, 11. They have a Golden Retriever named Ron.

While at home, Jennifer enjoys watching videos, listening to music and playing badminton.

Rule Baptist Church

The First Baptist Church of Rule had its vacation Bible school Aug. 1-5.

Pre-school children met at the church during the week with Lanelle Trussell, Tammy Sorrells and Jennifer Allison teaching the 3- and 4-year-olds. An average of six children a day had a wonderful time learning about God's creation.

Keri Farrell, Sharon Simpson, Cheryl Griffin, Jennifer Lehmann and Jennifer Yanase were the teachers for the pre-kindergarten group. An average of 16 children came to learn about the first family, new babies and showing love to each other.

Well, the first week in August sure turned out to be a doozy, with day camps that week things were sure busy. A College group of five members from Midland were to teach the Bible school. They planned and organized the week. During that week, there were approximately 72 children between the first and sixth grade present. The day camp was from 9 a.m. to 12 at the Slim Sorrells City Park. Small groups were led by 12 youths from the community.

Each day consisted of a morning assembly where pledges to the U.S. Flag, the Christian Flag and the Bible were made.

There was a song time followed by joke time where the kids told their favorite jokes. Then the leaders led their groups on a nature walk where they discussed objects in nature and related them to Christ.

After this, there was recreation time where many games were played, followed by everyone's favorite, sno-cone time where Bro. Williams graciously donated his time. To end each day, there was a Bible study. By the end of the week there were 17 commitments made to Christ.

Each night during the week, the youth met at the First Baptist Church and played games and had a devotional. The average attendance at night was 25. Praise the Lord!

Travel inquires top 1 million

More than 1 million inquiries for Texas travel information were distributed during the first 11 months of fiscal year 1994, setting a new record.

The pace is 11 percent ahead of the previous fiscal year's total, according to information compiled and analyzed by the Texas Department of Commerce Tourism Division and the Texas Department of Transportation Travel and Information Division.

As of the end of July, 1,052,762 requests for travel information were distributed.

More than 200 "universal languages" have been devised. Esperanto is the most widely used.

TAX PLANNING

Written By Richard Rodgers, CPA

Should Your Business Remain An S Corporation?

Subchapter S of the Internal Revenue Code grants significant tax benefits to some corporate shareholders. Under the rules governing "S Corporations," qualified small businesses may elect special treatment for income tax reporting purposes.

While complex, the law permits an electing corporation to pay taxes as if it were a partnership. The corporation's income or loss is passed to its shareholders, whether it distributes cash to them or retains it in the business. The shareholders then pay tax on the corporation's earnings on their individual returns. The benefit occurs because the government taxes the corporation's income only once. With regular, nonelecting corporations, owners pay taxes twice, once on the corporation's return and again when shareholders receive dividends.

Under prior law, the top corporate tax rate was higher than the top individual tax rate. Taxpayers could benefit by electing S Corporation status and paying taxes at the individual rates—even for income retained in the corporation. However, the Revenue Reconciliation Act of 1993 raised rates for many individuals, often surpassing the corporate rates.

Because of the rate change, many owners should rethink S Corporation elections. Shareholders of growing S Corporations—ones that need income to finance expansion—could pay more in taxes, not less. Since the highest individual rate is now 39.6%, allocated corporate income could cost shareholders more than the corporation would pay at the 34% rate. Further, shareholders must pay the tax even if they receive no dividends.

S Corporations are popular, and rightly so. However, like other tax decisions, owners must not underestimate the importance or complexity of the election. Besides potential costs due to the rate changes, the law restricts stock ownership and benefits for owners. Review your election now. Call if we can be of assistance.

DID YOU KNOW?

WELL BABIES NEED CHECKUPS TO STAY HEALTHY

Well child care stresses preventive health care for babies, children, and young adults. Whether children are delivered by private physicians and nurse practitioners or by public clinics, health experts advise that they should receive twenty-one checkups by the age of twenty-one, half of them between birth and the child's second birthday. The goal of such a schedule is to uncover otherwise-hidden problems and treat them early. The hope is that children will then grow up healthy and have fewer problems than previous generations.

Dr. Susan Penfield directs the screening program for Medicaid recipients for the state of Texas. The state-recommended schedule is a good guideline for parents to use in seeking checkups for their children. It includes a checkup at birth, then at the ages of two weeks, two months, four months, six months, nine months, twelve months, fifteen months, eighteen months, twenty-four months, three years, four years, five years, six years, ten years, twelve years, fourteen years, sixteen years, eighteen years, and twenty years.

The schedule for immunizations fits nicely into this checkup schedule and should not require an additional trip to the health care practitioner. Governor Ann Richards has added her support to the "Shots Across Texas" campaign to help publicize the state's low immunization rate and the importance of having all children immunized against preventable childhood illnesses before the age of two. These diseases, far from being harmless, can cause death, retardation, blindness, and brain damage and are effectively prevented by proper immunizations.
