By J. M. FORBES

SEEN AND HEARD

Margaret Collins, the hungry man's friend: "You had a good paper this week. I read all 16 pages from the back page to the front page every word of it."

Herb Covin: The editor is insulted. Why emphasis on THIS week? He has a good paper EVERY week.

Well, it's the best paper printed in Muleshoe or Bailey County, to which sentiment you no doubt will agree to.

John Fried: "Stop all ads we have running in your paper. I don't want no more ads no time. Those ads we ran about our feed brought so many customers we worked a man plumb out of the notion of working and he abdicated, quit, and now we need help."

Now, ain't that the very deuce? *

WORDS OF A GREAT TEXAN: The Journal likes these words clipped from the speech of Lt. General Ernest O. Thompson at the mid-term convocation of TCU:

We must not grow weary quickly over the slowness of our success in bringing peace to the world. For two thousand years the teachings of Christ have spread until the Bible has become the greatest book in circulation. We are taught in the words of our Savior to be patient and long-suffering.

We must be strong in defense of what is right. We must work and pray for peace, but we must also be willing to fight against all aggression that points to world conquest.

We must protect the weak, and there should be no forbidden frontier to the light of freedom anywhere in this world. Vigilance and preparedness should ever be our watchword. A citizen should inform himself fully before he criticizes our government. This would greatly reduce criticism. With all our citizens giving their informed best to our common cause, righteousness shall prevail! There can be no real preparedness without an informed citizenhip. "The educated mind is the guardian genius of Democracy."

Haven't heard what the Texas Senate did to the Sewell bill, passed by the House last week. The bill would place an additional one cent tax per 1,000 cubic feet on the gathering of natural gas, and money so raised would be divided four ways, and distributed as follows: One-half to the Rural Road Program, one-fourth to the Available School Fund, one-fourth to Texas municipalities for street improvement. These are all laudable objectives and we are sure all could use additional funds. For the cities, street improvement and maintenance is an ever increasing burden, at least to the newer, smaller towns. We all know we need more and more good rural roads and we all know the school fund never has too much money.

Such a tax undoubtedly would be as near painless to you and me as any that could be thought up, that is, if the gas companies will absorb the additional cost and will not pass it on to us consumers.

Senders issued the call for a meeting because the Post has no commander at this time, Dr. B. Z. Beatty having resigned as commander several days ago.

I was told that if you draw a line around the Coastal Plains of Texas 100 miles out, this line would include 80 per cent of the cattle in Texas. Cattle growers with permanent pastures down there are going to town. Herds of naturalized Brahmas, Angus, and Herefords graze wherever the eye roams and it is a rich looking pastoral scene. But we can do more of it here, we can have permanent pastures galore, and we can raise more and more livestock here on these Plains, especially where irrigation water is available. Livestock growing is on the move around the Gulf Coast but it is only one factor that makes this section one of the fastest developing areas of the U. S. They also have shipping facilities, oil, fishing and industries of all kinds to stimulate that growth.

I have always thought that West Texas excelled in a certain particular—the rattlesnake population. They tell the wildest tales down on the Gulf Coast about 7-foot swamp rattlers who hang out in droves around the edges of the bays. They may have been pulling my leg, but at least all the windjammers told the same story. And copperheads are so numerous the fishermen rarely take time to kill them, since their extermination seems hopeless. Some time back (they told me) a derelict ship was blasted with dynamite and snakes are still falling into the water from that explosion.

Legion Men and Vets To Consider Questions On Our Foreign Policy

Homer Sanders, Jr., adjutant of Ben Richardson Post No. 403, Muleshoe, has called a mass meeting of Legionnaires and all veterans to be held in the Legion home here at 8 o'clock Friday evening, April 20.

He took this action after receiving a communication from Bill Elkins, Austin, State Department Commander, asking that such a meeting be held to "discuss the foreign situation thoroughly."

A news story from state headquarters said: "Mass meetings in 800 Texas communities to discuss the firing of General MacArthur by President Truman have been ordered by State Commander Elkins of the American Legion who also called in the department executive committee, the department foreign relations committee and the department defense committee for a meeting in Austin Sunday, April 22."

Some of the Legionnaires defended MacArthur and others were equally vocal in defense of President Truman as commander in chief.

"Legionnaires are all veterans. We are not dodging or pussy-footing. I believe any half-baked, half-cocked action by me, as commander, would not represent the 100,000 Texas Legionnaires. In a few days we can all look at the matter in a proper perspective."

The commander said that among the questions that should be considered at the called meeting Friday night are:

Should the United States continue a delaying war confined to Korea only?

Should we blockade the China coast with our Navy?

Should we furnish equipment to Chiang Kai-shek for an invasion of the mainland of China?

Should we bomb Manchurian bases?

Do we believe in the foreign policy as outlined by General MacArthur or do we believe in the foreign policy as outlined by President Truman in his radio broadcast April 11?

The commander requested that opinion of the Post on these questions be submitted to Department Headquarters prior to April 1. He said that observations and comments made by this Post will be submitted to the Executive Committee. He said that the American Legion, being a cross section of the American public, should be the barometer of public opinion in the United States.

Senders issued the call for a meeting because the Post has no commander at this time, Dr. B. Z. Beatty having resigned as commander several days ago.

Mayor Of Sasaka Is Lions Speaker

FRANK STREETMAN

Lions and their ladies will hear Frank Streetman, "Mayor of Sasakwa, Okla.," at their Ladies Night Banquet to be held the evening of April 23 in the American Legion Home here.

Prof. F. L. Shelby, who was put in charge of the program by Lions Boss Blondy Ray, got in touch with the widely known humorist speaker and the mayor accepted the invitation to appear here.

Mr. Streetman's humor is said to remind his listeners of Will Rogers. He is well known throughout Oklahoma and North Central Texas, as an entertaining speaker.

He appeared recently at the Chamber of Commerce Banquet in Hereford and has a return engagement there April 30 for the district Lions Club convention. He has an engagement at Houston among other appointments of the next few weeks.

Mr. Shelby says he has heard Mr. Streetman times without number and that he never fails to surprise and amuse him. Streetman operates a grocery store in the little town of Sasakwa, which is steeped in the lore of Indian history. At one time the town was the capital of the Seminole Indian nation after the Seminoles had migrated to Oklahoma from Florida.

The Lions banquet is the occasion for the inauguration of new officers and directors of the club.

Trustees of the Muleshoe Independent School District have decided to call an election in the district to decide whether the district shall issue bonds in the sum of $75,000.

They would be spent as follows:

1. $50,000 for building and equipping: three class rooms as an addition to the grade school and to remodel the junior high school building.

2. $25,000 bonds for retirement of debt on the high school furniture and the school buses.

The two issues will be voted upon separately.

The grade school addition would be in the shape of an L, extending out west from the north wing of the building. Plans call for a hall along the south side to permit entrance to all rooms from the older parts of the building, and for the installation of heating equipment to accommodate the added space.

This part of the trustees' plans seems urgent, since at least one grade's pupils will have to go back into barracks next school term unless additional class room space is provided. A crowded condition in the grades has been prevalent all year.

Old Building Needs Work

The grade school was remodeled and two wings added a couple of years ago and now the junior high school is badly in need of some work. Floors and walls are in a bad state. Among other things, the wiring has to be replaced, because when it was installed it was designed for use with a Delco lighting system.

This is work which members of the board long have wanted to do, and tentatively had on their schedule last summer. The building has been standing many a year, and local ever has no remodeling work ever has been attempted. Every room in the building needs redecorating, too, trustees pointed out.

Trustees said it would not have been necessary to get more money to service the furniture and bus indebtedness had it not been for the State's assessing the district $9,000 this year instead of the $7,000 expected. The district will be out $23,000, which will use up the surplus that could have been applied to the debt.

Further information as to the date, etc., for this election will be carried in a later issue of The Journal.

Jimmy enlisted Feb. 6 of this year through the Marine recruiting station at Lubbock. He attended the West Texas High School at Canyon, Texas, where he was an active participant in football.

He has one brother, Pfc. Jack Wilterding, who is in the Air Force. Jimmy started his leave on April 15.

Two Lazbuddie Judging Teams To Tech Contest

Lazbuddie school will be represented by two boys judging teams in the F. F. A. judging contest to be held April 28 at Texas Tech college in Lubbock. About 90 schools are expected to participate.

The crops judging team is composed of Lonnie Dee Merriott, Jerry Gleason, and Lowell Braun. Members of the poultry judging team are Kenneth Hall, Frank Spittler, and Leonard Smith.

Lenderson Heads Trustee Board

Jack Lenderson was elected president of the board of the Muleshoe Independent School District when members met for reorganization following the recent trustee election.

Ernest Locker was chosen vice-president and Bill Collins was re-elected secretary.

The public is cordially invited to attend these services. There will be services twice daily, at 10 a. m. and 8 p. m.

Lazbuddie Will Begin Revival Meeting Friday

Rev. Jerrel Gaddy, pastor of the Kinney Avenue Baptist Church of Austin, will lead in a revival meeting at the Lazbuddie Baptist Church April 20 through April 25.

Rev. G. E. Swaim, pastor, will lead the song services and Mrs. John Thomas will be at the piano.

The public is cordially invited to attend these services. There will be services twice daily, at 10 a. m. and 8 p. m.

COTTON MEETING CALLED

Oklahoma Lane school will be the meeting place for a big tri-county cotton production meeting Tuesday night, April 24, at 8 p. m. Bailey, Farmer and Castro farmers interested in efficient production of cotton are urged to attend.

The Extension Service is sponsoring the meeting. F. C. Elliott, cotton work specialist; A. C. Gunter, entomologist; F. E. Lichte, cotton gin specialist; E. H. Bush, county agricultural agent at Jargo; and Harry Harvey, entomologist for the High Plains, will be on the program and they are all specialists for the Extension Service.

Oklahoma Lane school was selected as the meeting place for the convenience of both new and experienced growers of cotton. It is the goal of the USDA to reach a total production of 16,000,000 bales of cotton in 1951 in the United States.

assist the United States in producing enough cotton to assure that margin of safety for a nation that appears to be edging close to the brink of all out war.

Every cotton farmer north of the sand hills should profit by a trip to Oklahoma Lane Tuesday night at 8 o'clock. Those who live in other parts of the county likely will find it more convenient to attend meetings scheduled elsewhere, but are welcome to attend this meeting.

Babson Discusses

THE BOND MARKET

NEW YORK CITY, April 13.—New issues of corporate bonds bearing the highest interest rates since the late 1930's have just made the financial headlines. Business is paying more for its money, as well as for its wages and materials.

Government Bond Market

The Bellwether
 Just as the old bell led the rest of the flock, so does the government bond market point the way for corporate bond prices. About a month ago it was announced that the feud between the U. S. Treasury and the Federal Reserve had been ended. Both parties to the long disagreement had "reached full accord." Now, the thing upon which they had agreed was that a new issue of long-term government bonds should bear 2 1/2 per cent interest instead of the 2 per cent figure that had been the going rate for similar issues.

Immediately a tremor ran thru the financial world. As it became clear that the Federal Reserve had really "won the argument" over raising interest rates, government bond prices softened. At the same time, corporation bonds began a price decline that is still in progress. Commercial bankers became frightened and have since been casting an increasingly wary eye at all applications for loans. Even the stock market has lost its pep. A glance at the course of the popular stock "averages" will show you that, since early March, stocks have been reactionary. That is why I say: Watch government bond prices; they are the bellwether for finance in general and for the bond market in particular.

Possible Effects on Stocks
 Going back through the years, you will find that a persistent and drawn-out decline in bond prices is frequently followed by a good-sized slump in stocks. Studies show that the time lag between the fall in bonds and the later descent in stock prices varies widely. Sometimes stocks follow bonds down only a few weeks later. At other times, close to two years have passed before stocks have taken a tumble. The reasons for this are not hard to find. As bond prices fall, the yield therefrom rises and narrows the gap between the return on bonds and the income from stocks. If the old relationship between the two is to be re-established, stock prices must decline. Only during periods of feverish speculative activity are buyers willing to overlook the need for getting a considerably bigger income from stocks, as compared to bonds, to "pay them back" for the greater risk that stocks carry.

"Different This Time"
 However, some of my friends tell me that it is going to be "different this time!" They point out that the spread between stock and bond yields, even after the recent rise in the latter, is much greater than usually exists. Therefore, they say the return on bonds could rise quite a bit higher without greatly disturbing stock prices. They also cite the fact that very few stocks are being carried on borrowed money and that higher interest rates will not cause any amount of selling on that score.

These objects may, of course, be right. But, I should like to leave this thought with you: When storm signals are flying, wise skipper heed them. Likewise, when old-time financial warnings appear, wise investors will diversify their funds carefully among sound well-selected common stocks, and hold a sizable reserve in cash and high-grade short-term bonds against an "unexpected" shift in the trend.

Advice on Bonds
 My father told me years ago, "Never send a boy on a man's errand." This advice fits today's bond buyer. Whatever you do, don't build an investment reserve of all long-maturity bonds, no matter how high the quality. A one-per-cent rise in interest rates can wipe out a number of years' income in the shape of a price fall in your long-term bonds. That is a risk you should avoid at all costs. In bond buying, stick to short-term governments, good convertible corporation bonds, and tax-exempted that you can hold to maturity.

Directory Texas Manufacturers Is Available Now

AUSTIN, April 18.—The 1950 edition of the Directory of Texas Manufacturers, just off the press, includes descriptions of 9,800 manufacturing companies in the state. The 306-page book lists all these businesses, first by location, second by the products they make.

To safeguard the accuracy of Directory listings, the book was compiled by use of a new system, direct from electric-tabulation cards. This method of publication will also allow for more frequent revisions and more supplements to the directory. The local Chamber of Commerce and other chambers throughout the state gave invaluable help in collecting data for the directory.

Each firm in the directory is listed by its exact name and address, followed by the names of officers in the company, type of organization, date of establishment, products made, distribution area, number of employees, and home office location if it is a branch plant.

The directory will be useful to all businesses, especially to advertisers compiling mailing lists and to manufacturers, wholesalers, and retailers who want information on resources, transportation, the labor market, population trends, and competing companies as well as those whose products may serve them.

The Directory of Texas Manufacturers is now available at a price of $2.50 from the Bureau of Business Research, University of Texas, Austin.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

That Jesus' Atonement furnished an example whereby mankind in every age can work out their salvation, is the theme of the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Doctrine of Atonement" to be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, April 22.

The Golden Text is from I Timothy, and reads, "There is one God, and one mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus; who gave himself a ransom for all, to be testified in due time." Jesus said of his followers, "My sheep hear my voice, and I know them, and they follow me" (John 10:27). Mary Baker Eddy says of Jesus' mission in the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," "Jesus of Nazareth taught and demonstrated man's oneness with the Father, and for this we owe him endless homage. His mission was both individual and collective. He did life's work aright not only in justice to himself, but in mercy to mortals—to show them how to do theirs, but not to do it for them nor to relieve them of a single responsibility."

Sand Hills Philosopher Says Passing Suggestions Instead Of Laws In Washington Suits Him

Editor's Note: The Sand Hills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm has another wild notion this week, his letter reveals.

Dear editor:
 I read in a paper this morning which turned up out here while I was debating over whether to plow or rest, some people refer to the U. S. Senate as the greatest deliberative body on earth but year in and year out I put in about as much time deliberating on my farm out here as anybody they've got in Washington, that the U. S. Senate after 3 months of debate has finally voted on whether or not the President can send troops to Europe. As I understand the verdict, the President can, provided he doesn't send over four divisions. On the other hand, if he wants to send more than four, he can also, as the Senate decision doesn't have the force of law, it's just a decision.

"J. A."
 Now that's the kind of legislation I've personally been waiting for, and I'd like to see you use your Washington influence if you haven't misplaced it to get more Congressional action of that type.

For instance, this would be a lot happier country if the tax laws were in that category. Say Congress or the State Legislature which ain't no slouch at deliberating either passes a new tax bill, and the tax collector in turn sends me a dun. Under this new system I could consider it only a suggestion, to be paid if I wanted to or ignored. Now this ain't to say I haven't already treated a few tax notices in that fashion, but under the new system I would be a lot more comfortable about it and the tax collector could save a lot of stamps.

Of course three months seems like a long time for the Senate to take to pass a suggestion, but I'm here to tell you passing suggestions can be a lot easier on the country than passing laws, and as far as I'm concerned Washington can revise the whole law book and put a lot of bills on the optional basis. I can think of dozens of taxes I'd just as soon have the choice of passing up as payin'.

Yours faithfully,
 "J. A."

INSECTS AND ALFALFA

Gerald Allison says work of cutworms and greenbugs may serve to delay the harvest of the first crop of alfalfa this year. Especially the green bugs, Mr. Allison thinks, are doing a lot of damage right now, since they suck the juice from the leaves and stunt the growth of the plant. Onard Upton, manager of the local alfalfa mill, said he had found heavy infestations of both insects in some fields near Muleshoe.

 BELIEVE THAT all who mourn because of sin, or who ever have a divine inclination, are the children of God, and cannot go to an everlasting hell, because Jesus Christ bought them and paid for them with His own blood.
 THAT the preaching of the Gospel is to prove that glorious fact, so that the individual may choose between living to the glory and honor of God or a vain life of unhappiness and dishonor.
 THAT the church is the most exclusive order on Earth, and that no disorderly conduct should be allowed to walk in her ranks.

83% Texas Farm Land Is Owned
 By Individuals

COLLEGE STATION, April 18.—
 Who owns the farm lands in the Southwest?
 This question was the basis of a recent study conducted by John H.
 Southern, agricultural economist with the USDA Bureau of Agricultural Economics, stationed at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. The study covered five states
 —Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi and Oklahoma.
 Southern found that most of the farm land is owned by individuals.
 They owned four farms out of five
 —83 per cent of all farm lands.
 Corporations, primarily land and cattle companies, held nearly 11 per cent of the land in 1946. Almost 16 per cent of the farm land in Texas is held in corporate ownership.
 Only 3.6 per cent of the farm land was publicly owned, and this was confined almost entirely to Texas and Oklahoma.
 Of the individual land owners,
 the farm owner operators account for nearly 50 per cent of all the owners in the Southwest. However, they owned only 23 per cent of the farm land, with an average of 192 acres each—valued at $7,647.
 Twenty-five per cent of the owners in Texas held less than two per cent of the land; on the other hand, 20 per cent of the owners held 80 per cent of the land.
 This study is reported in SWRB
 No. 3, which was published by the Arkansas Agricultural Experiment Station for the Southwestern Land Tenure Research Committee. Copies of this bulletin are available from the Publications Office, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, College Station, Texas.

April Is Cancer
 Month In Texas

April is designated as the month in which the American public is urged to become aware of cancer, its causes, and some of the ways of preventing it. Mrs. Eloise T.
 Johnson, family life specialist with the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service, lists some of the causes as outlined by scientific research: over-exposure to sunlight;
 action of certain chemicals; constant irritation of warts, moles, or sore places; and prolonged exposure to heat.
 She says people who work in the sun are particularly susceptible to skin cancer on hands, face, and neck. Statistics show that in Texas, which gets 60 to 80 per cent of total possible sunlight, 140 out of every possible one hundred thousand develop skin cancers; in Michigan, which gets half as much sunlight, the rate is 24 per hundred thousand.
 Not every person who works in the sun gets skin cancer. Mrs.
 Johnson says farm people who work in the sun can be aware of the possibility and follow up any indications of the development of cancer of the skin.
 One ray of hope, the specialist adds, is that science refuses to give up in finding a cure for this disease. Mrs. Johnson points out, also, that 95 per cent of all cases of skin cancer are curable if taken early enough.
 Periodical physical checkups by the family doctor are recommended.

Mrs. Bristow And Pupils Entertain
 Rotary Members

Rotarians Tuesday had the pleasure of hearing recitations by pupils of Mrs. Clinton Bristow, the Kindergarten teacher, and from her son, Dudley, and Mrs. Bristow herself.
 The program was arranged by M.
 W. Pool, Jr.
 First, Corky Green, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Green brought down the house with his piece,
 "Too Young To Know." Then the Rotarians laughed uproariously at Dudley's giving of "Sleeping at the Foot of the Bed." The group thought Dudley might have another humorous speech to give so they encored him but Dudley was not ready for another round. Mrs.
 Bristow, who is a capable teacher of expression and of the Kindergarten which she operates at her home, next gave a delightful recitation.
 But Randy Beaty, son of Dr. and Mrs. B. Z. Beaty, after starting bravely took stage fright and decided against his scheduled public appearance. The club will give him a rain check and will expect to hear from him later.
 Bud Holton, secretary, presided in the absence of President Keeling and Vice-President Morris. Horace Blackburn, food store proprietor, was elected to membership in the club.

Dr. Bennett Is Continued In Soil Service

Retention of Dr. Hugh H. Bennett, chief of the Soil Conservation Service, past his retirement date was announced today by Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan.

Dr. Bennett has been with the U. S. Department of Agriculture since 1903, as soil chemist and soil surveyor, and as chief of the Soil Conservation Service since its establishment in 1935. He was on loan to the Department of Interior from September 1933 until March 1935, where he organized and headed the Soil Erosion Service before its transfer to the Department of Agriculture as the renamed Soil Conservation Service.

The veteran of nearly 46 years' service in the Department will be 70 years old on April 15.

In announcing Dr. Bennett's extension, Secretary Brannan said: "Particularly today, when agricultural production is so important in the mobilization program, Dr. Bennett's long experience is invaluable. His continued services will contribute greatly to the further advancement of soil and water conservation, which is so important in the mobilization of our agricultural resources."

In Work Since 1903

Dr. Bennett has been soil conservation advocate and leader since shortly after he graduated from the University of North Carolina in 1903 and entered the old Bureau of Chemistry and Soil as a soil chemist. He turned a temporary assignment to field duty into permanent field work. It took him eventually into most of the agricultural counties in the United States and on special assignment to Cuba, Alaska and Central and South American countries.

His specific interest in soil conservation dates back to 1904, when he concluded, during a soil survey of Appomattox County, Virginia, that accelerated, or man-made, soil erosion had been an important farm problem since the days before the Civil War. He built up a supporting background of information through subsequent surveys and observations over the country, which he presented at every opportunity in publications, before Congressional committees and otherwise.

Largely on the basis of Dr. Bennett's recommendations, Congress in 1929 authorized setting up 10 erosion control experiment stations in cooperation with the States in representative agricultural areas. They carried on studies of the causes and effects of water and wind erosion, and methods for its control. When the Soil Erosion Service was created in 1933 to demonstrate soil and water conservation methods on actual farms and watersheds in erosion control projects, Bennett was named to head the program.

He continued as chief of the renamed Soil Conservation Service when it was transferred to the Department of Agriculture, where it became a permanent agency under the Soil Conservation Act of April 27, 1935.

Dr. Bennett has traveled into various parts of the work since that time, to consult and advise on soil conservation problems. He is the author of various books and other publications on the subject of his life-long work, and holds many awards for distinguished service in the conservation and related fields.

FURNITURE FASHIONS by Frances Ainsworth

GRAND RAPIDS, MICHIGAN:—The handsome contemporary card or dining table, illustrated, is an ideal choice for the living-dining room or small dinette. Made by The Hekman Furniture Company, it is a distinctive game table with a double top which flips over to provide a dining table for six. There is a handy storage compartment under one-half of the top. Made of mahogany, the piece is available in a bleached finish or the antique mahogany shown. Chairs are all mahogany with the special "fingertip" top rail, so they may be moved without soiling the fabric coverings.

FORMER TEXAS EXTENSION DIRECTOR RETIRES

COLLEGE STATION, April 18.—H. H. Williamson, assistant director of the Extension Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture, retired March 31. He will live in Bryan and manage his farm in Grimes County.

Williamson's career of public service spans more than 39 years, most of it with the Agricultural Extension Service. He was graduated from Texas A&M College in 1911 and in 1912 was named State Boys' 4-H Club Agent for Texas. He later served as state agent, assistant director and state agent, vice director, and from 1935 to 1943 as director of extension in Texas. From November 1943 until January 1945, he was agricultural relations adviser to the office of Price Administration and since January 1945 has served in the position he held at the time of retirement.

In commenting on Williamson's work since he has been in the Federal Extension office, Director

M. L. Wilson said, "In his quiet, modest, and friendly way he has made a model, so to speak, of the integration of subject matter, policy and administration." Wilson was referring here to the work that Williamson has done in developing the present cotton program. Wilson adds, "the program that has been developed is one of the best examples of coordinated program between the Federal Government and the States that exists today and is being so recognized."

Williamson was honored at a farewell party by his fellow employees in the Federal office and was presented a hat, shirt and tie, all Texas models.

A "MUST" IN THE FOOD DIET

College Station, April 18.—One whole grain cereal each day is a "must" in the diet, according to Frances Reasonover, foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas A&M College Extension Service. Cereals help build strong bodies, she explains, but a more popular point in their favor is their economy.

Miss Reasonover adds, however, that cereals are economical only if the homemaker buys wisely. Read the labels, she cautions. All labels must have the brand, name of the product and ingredients, name of manufacturer, and the net contents. Additional information sometimes includes the amount of niacin, riboflavin, calcium, and other nutrients included. If the cereal has been enriched, this is usually indicated on the label.

Check yourself, says Miss Reasonover, for the quality and nutritive value of the whole grain cereal as well as the price. The weight of packaged cereals should be noted. The specialist points out that cereals that need to be cooked are usually lower priced than prepared cereals, and if they are bought in large size containers even more savings can be realized.

Why not give your Pride a Break?

Let's see what it means to own a ROADMASTER. It means, first of all, that you're a shrewd judge of fine manufacture. Nowhere will you find a mechanism more skillfully fitted part to part with scrupulous precision—engineered to stricter standards of fine-car quality—than the deep-framed and durable ROADMASTER chassis.

It means, also, that you possess keen appreciation of everything that makes for unsurpassed performance.

For there's more to this dazzling beauty than its thrilling take-off. There's the surplus of power that you need to make you the master of busy traffic or open road—plus the velvet magic of Dynaflo Drive (at no extra cost, mind you).

There's the level-going luxury of ample roadweight buoyantly balanced on coil springs on every wheel—and the security of brakes specifically engineered for firm control of this great-powered beauty.

Tune in HENRY J. TAYLOR, ABC Network, every Monday evening.

When better automobiles are built Buick will build them

But there's still another distinction to being a ROADMASTER owner.

It marks you as one who buys wisely and well. Size for size, pound for pound, feature for feature, few cars can even approach what your dollars will buy in this finest of Buicks.

There's much more to be discovered by a visit to any Buick dealer's showroom.

There's the sumptuous softness of cushions, the custom excellence of fabrics and interior trim, the grace and charm of every line and contour.

So if you've dreamed of sometime owning a car superbly fine, there's no time like the present—and no car like ROADMASTER for making dreams come true.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice.

Self Employed Pay SS Only At End Of the Year

If you work for yourself and are planning to include your name on the quarterly Social Security tax return you will file for your employees in April, don't. So says John G. Hutton, manager of the Lubbock Social Security office.

Hutton says that many business men who come under Social Security as self-employed are under the impression that they should report their net income quarterly in the same manner that their employees are reported. This assumption is incorrect. A self-employed individual comes under Social Security only if the net income from his business is $400 or more per year.

In most cases, it is not possible to determine the amount of net income from a business until the end of the year, since profits in earlier months may be offset by losses occurring later. For that reason, the self-employed are required to report only once each year. This report will be made at the same time the annual income tax return is filed. A form for this purpose will be furnished by the Collector of Internal Revenue along with the income tax forms.

Hutton reminds housewives and farm operators that April is the month to send their first reports to the Collector of Internal Revenue if they have employees who are covered under the amended law.

Mr. Hutton will be in Muleshoe at the postoffice on Wednesday, April 25, at 9:30 a. m. and will be glad to assist anyone in matters pertaining to social security.

Butane Dealers Plan Advertising Drive In Texas

AUSTIN, April 18.—The story of "the magic that lives in the tank" will be told the public of Texas in a state-wide advertising program now being prepared by the Texas Butane Dealers Association. The story is a fabulous one, for it deals with what for many years was considered a waste product of the refining industry which has become an important factor in the lives of thousands of rural and semi-urban families, for these liquid petroleum gases bring city comfort and convenience to homes "off the gas mains." The activity is headed by U. C. Roney of Corsicana as chairman of the Industry Advertising Committee. The program will be placed in Texas newspapers and magazines, on billboards and the air waves.

C. D. Ribble of Paris, president of the Texas Butane Dealers Association, in announcing plans for the advertising program, pointed out that one of the primary objectives will be to familiarize the public with the benefits butane and propane provide for residents of areas beyond the facilities of cities. The campaign will stress the availability of butane and propane to any home regardless of the location, and the fact that residents of rural or semi-urban areas no longer need face periods of waiting to obtain service.

"Butane and propane can be had almost immediately any place in Texas that is reachable by a road," Mr. Ribble said. "The supply of butane and propane is entirely adequate to the present and future needs of the people and the fact that users of these gases are not faced with the likelihood of service stoppages because of weather conditions will be brought strongly to the attention of the public. The effort which has long been contemplated by the association will reach into every section of the state and will stress the fact that no one need be without the benefits of this modern fuel for domestic, agricultural and industrial uses."

COTTON FIGHTS IN TROPICS OR ARCTIC

Wherever the U. S. fighting man goes, cotton accompanies him. In Arctic cold or tropic heat, the soldier wears cotton uniforms, carries cotton equipment, and shoots ammunition made from cotton linter cellulose. Here, soldiers outfitted in cotton parkas lift an injured buddy onto a cotton canvas stretcher to be lowered down a cliff by tow rope for medical treatment.

COTTON CHIC

Checked gingham gets an "ooh-la-la" at the hands of Paris designer Jean Desses, who styles trousers with detachable front and back flying panels. The puffed sleeve blouse in color-matched cotton is wrapped at the waist for a nipped-in look. It was designed in Galey & Lord cottons; the National Cotton Council reports.

Mahon Favors A Bill Permitting Children To Work

To Agricultural Agencies, Farm Organizations, Farmers: Dear Friends:

We all know that if we make a big cotton crop this year one of the major problems will be labor for the cotton harvest.

You will recall the difficulties which arose during the cotton harvest last year by reason of the Senate Amendment to a labor bill which prohibited children under 16 years of age from assisting in the crop harvest during school hours. This Amendment tended to disrupt the schools and interfere with the cotton harvest. Also, it denied the Mexican families an opportunity to earn the money which would tend to give them more economic security and more educational opportunity. I think most Texans definitely share my view that the question of school attendance is a problem for the states and local communities and not for the federal government—and that the states and communities can do a better job in solving this problem.

The present law provides no restrictions as to the employment of children in agriculture outside school hours. The prohibition relates to the hours when school is in session.

I have introduced a bill in Congress which provides that children under 16 may be employed during school hours for the harvesting of basic crops such as cotton. Other members of Congress have introduced bills of somewhat similar nature. Our object is to secure approval of some suitable change in the present law. It is impossible to foresee what Congress may do with my bill or with the other pending bills, but I wanted to make this report in regard to developments, at least continue to seek to be of all possible service in this important matter.

The government is calling upon us to produce a 16-million-bale crop. If we produce a good crop, it will be absolutely necessary that we have additional labor both from South Texas and also from the Republic of Mexico. We do not want to exploit children, but we do want to leave the solution of this problem to the states and local communities and work out a system which will be reasonably satisfactory from the standpoint of all concerned.

Please don't hesitate to call upon me whenever I can be of service.

Yours very cordially,
 GEORGE MAHON.

Irrigation Day North of Farwell Is Announced For Thursday, April 26

Irrigation day on the farm of N. L. Tharp, who is a cooperator of the Soil Conservation District, is scheduled for April 26, County Agent Joe Jones of Parmer County, announced.

The program, beginning at 1 o'clock in the afternoon, is sponsored by Parmer County Soil Conservation District and the Extension Service.

The underground concrete pipe which Tharp installed last spring will be shown. The farmer is now using the pipe to water his farm. The cost, use and engineering of concrete pipe will then be explained by Miles Kelly, irrigation specialist with the soil conservation service at Dimmitt. Kelly was featured on the special irrigation program held at Parmer County courthouse at the first of the year. Methods of water application and water in filtration will be demonstrated by Bob Thurmond, irrigation specialist with the extension service out of Lubbock.

Thurmond will demonstrate the use of gated pipe, filler glass and canvas pipe, also other pipes pertaining to irrigation.

John McFarland, who is with a fertilizer company out of Muleshoe, will bring a tractor equipped for putting down anhydrous ammonia, will demonstrate the application of the fertilizer and will present a short discussion.

The border machine, which was built by Tharp through the aid of plans from Soil Conservation district, will be shown. The machine borders and levels the land at the same time.

A grass seeder, identical to the two the Soil Conservation district owns in Parmer County, will be on display. The seeders are rented to farmers. A land level owned by the SCS will be displayed also.

The Tharp farm is located five miles north of Farwell on the State Line road.

Jones invites all farmers to be on hand for the irrigation day.

TODAY'S meditation

CHILDREN IN OUR MIDST

"Train up a child in the way he should go; and when he is old, he will not depart from it." (Proverbs 22:6.) Read II Timothy 1:1-7.

It is said that when a visitor asked the Roman matron, Cornelia, to see her collection of jewels, she pointed to her children and said, "These are my jewels!" Of her 12 children only three reached adulthood. Two of them, Tiberius and Caius, known as the Gracchi, became popular leaders in the Roman Republic. After Cornelia's death, a statue was erected to her memory, bearing the inscription, "Cornelia, Mother of the Gracchi."

Parents can have no greater happiness than to behold success in the lives of their children who have responded to discipline which at times seems a little difficult to both.

Some parents realize too late that they spoil their children by yielding always to their whims. Rather than pamper them, those parents are wise who are patient but firm in reasoning with their children about what may well be considered unwise actions and decisions. Only occasionally will it be necessary for sensible parents to use sterner measures.

Prayer
O God, our heavenly Parent, help us ever to remember that Thou art our Father. Help us to deal with our children with justice and mercy as Thou with love dealst with Thy children. We pray in the name of Thy Son, our elder Brother, Amen.

Thought For the Day

AREA AMATEUR RADIO OPERATORS TO MEET

Amateur Radio Operators of the Southwest are to convene in Lubbock on April 21-22 for the annual Hamfest. Members of the South Plains Radio Club of Lubbock are to be hosts at the Naval Reserve Training Center in Lubbock on these dates.

May Draft Call For 3,112 Men

AUSTIN, April 18—May draft call for 3,112 men and May pre-induction physical examination call for 6,807 men were ordered cancelled today by Brigadier General Paul L. Wakefield, state director of Selective Service.

General Wakefield took this action following receipt of the following telegram from Major General Lewis B. Hershey, national Selective Service director:

"Delay issuance of calls on local boards for May inductions pending further instructions. Instruct local boards to issue no further orders to report for induction under any calls already made on them for May. April inductions under Call No. 12 will continue as presently ordered."

The state director said that the April induction call for 2,075 men will be filled as previously called for. The April call originally was for 4,150 men, but this was cut in half in late March, after authority was received from national Selective Service headquarters.

General Wakefield said he could not say whether a call for June induction would be received or not. He said that monthly calls for induction normally are received about 60 days in advance.

The local club has planned the Hamfest to coincide with the Texas Technological College annual Engineering Show in order that "Hams" may attend both occasions.

JayCees Attend State Conclave

Seven members of the Muleshoe Junior Chamber of Commerce attended the state convention held at the Shamrock Hotel in Houston last Thursday, Friday and Saturday. More than 1,500 JayCees from 83 clubs attended.

Dr. B. R. Putman, local candidate for vice president of Region II, was defeated by Skipper Smith of Littlefield. The election of officers was held at a general assembly Saturday afternoon.

The Muleshoe JayCees scrap book on public relations was judged third best in the state. The traveling trophy had not been decided by the end of the convention and Muleshoe will have a good chance to win this award. It will be awarded to the club having the largest percentage of members at the convention and traveling the farthest distance.

Those attending the convention from Muleshoe were Dr. and Mrs. B. R. Putman, Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Blackman, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Howell, Mr. and Mrs. Travis Barnett and Roy Howard, June Waggon and Gerald Priboth.

TIMELY TIPS FROM YOUR H. D. AGENT

By Miss Dian McClurkin

KITCHEN-WISE TOOLS

In choosing kitchen tools, those essentials on the kitchen production line, double-use tools are usually a better investment than those for a special purpose.

A can opener, for instance, that opens several types of lids is more useful than one that does a single job. A pancake turner with holes not only turns cakes but lifts edges out of fat, draining off the drippings. And in cutting a medium-sized butcher knife is valuable for more different jobs than a special hand slicer or boning knife.

How much use tools and utensils will get is an important guide in buying. When choosing metal items, use may determine the materials—steel or heavy aluminum for hard use, light tin plate or lightweight aluminum for more occasional use.

SEAM CLUES

Look on the seamy side before buying new spring dresses or suits. Both the stitching and finish of seams is an important clue to a good buy.

Look for straight, smooth, even seams with stitches not too long to hold securely. Avoid any garment with puckered or wandering stitching or loose, unfastened threads dangling.

Make sure seams are wide enough for possible alterations. Wide seam allowances—from 1/2 to 3/4 inch on plain seams—are less likely to fray than those which are cut too close.

Note how seam edges are finished. French seams, in which all raw edges are turned under and stitched and about 1/4 inch wide when finished are recommended for sheer cottons or rayons which fray easily. Firm, medium weight fabric like gingham or percale will hold securely with double-stitched seams about 3-8 inch when finished. On heavy material, however, such finishes may be too thick for best appearance and difficult to press flat. On firmly woven heavy fabric, edges can simply be "pinked" with the shears provided for this purpose. Fabric that is inclined to ravel, however, should have raw edges bound with tape, held with over-casting stitches, or turned in and machine-stitched.

How seams hold depends also on how the garment fits. Comfortable-fitting clothes put less strain on seams. Those that are too tight may pull out any seam, however good the finish.

Use Green Tags Selling Cotton

COLLEGE STATION, April 18.—Texas cotton farmers are urged to market their 1951 cotton crop by the green tag method. According to John L. McCollum, manager, PMA's southwest area cotton branch, USDA, Dallas, the green tag signifies that the bale has been classed by USDA cotton classers and the tag carries the grade and staple length for the bale.

Demand promises to be strong for this year's crop, says McCollum, and the grade and staple information will enable the farmer to get the best price for his cotton. Last year 107,819 Texas farmers took advantage of the USDA's Smith-Doxey cotton classing program and marketed 1,389,150 bales under the green tag system. Farmers can get the same service again this year without cost by making application for it, says McCollum.

Requirements include membership in a group which has been organized to promote the improvement of cotton, adopting a variety, filing an application, arranging for sampling and meeting other requirements. In addition to the official classification, farmers will also receive free the market news service, which shows current prices at nearby markets. By checking the grade and staple length on the green tag against the price for the same kind of cotton listed on the market news sheet, the approximate price of each bale can be determined, points out McCollum.

Information may be obtained from your local county agricultural agent on the Smith-Doxey classification service. Mr. and Mrs. Rex Steinbock last Sunday afternoon. Mr. Ray obtained a job on the Finis Jennings farm for the coming year. Mr. and Mrs. Ed and Rhinny Steinbock spent the week end in Artesia, visiting Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Fritz. While gone they plan to go fishing.

New Son Is Born

Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Wm. F. Steinbock. Mrs. Lane arrived Friday to help care for the newcomer. Miss Barbara Lane accompanied her mother.

RATHER STAY SINGLE

The young man thought he could. "Can you polish all the silver, wash the dishes and keep the house and grounds neat and tidy?" was the next question. "Look, Reverend," protested the young man. "I came here to see about getting married, but if it's going to be anything like that, you can count me out right now." —Santa Fe Magazine.

Wednesday, April 11, Epsilon Chi held a Model Meeting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Osborn with Mrs. G. W. Mayben as hostess. It was decided to have a come-asyou-are breakfast to aid in financing the chapter's project, which is to purchase a pair of glasses for a needy child "A Forty Niner Buffet Supper was announced as the second Rush Party for the Rushees, Misses Jo Ann Holdman, Wilma Sowder, Jeanette Kirk, Mesdames Harold Allison, Oscar Allison, Jim Grizzle, Leland Bouldin and Jim Bickle.

Virus Germ, Second Cousin Of Other Bacteria, Invisible But There

Prepared by the State Medical Association of Texas

"Mary, Mary, quite contrary, how does your garden grow?" might be applied in medical rhyme as "Virus, virus, undesirable, how does your poison grow?"

The Virus germ, which is a sort of second cousin, once removed, from other bacteria, cannot always be seen, even with a microscope. It's there, but you know it's there only by action, not by sight.

Some viruses can be spotted but as a class they are distinguished by their invisibility, which makes the control of virus diseases more difficult than the other classifications of infectious diseases.

Chickenpox is one of the virus diseases, as are most of the childhood "schooltime" ailments. Chickenpox germs are believed to travel in the air from an infected person to a well one; they are breathed in and start to work from the breathing apparatus known as the respiratory tract. It takes about 10 or 20 days for the germ to get to the skin surface in the form of those red spots on the body; and about four days for the spots to fill with that fluid, break, and form a scab.

The spots keep breaking out usually for about four days, so in all the usual chickenpox case runs about eight days, sometimes more. And the spots itch. It is the itchiness which creates the danger of chickenpox, since the disease itself in a normal, healthy youngster seems seldom to lead to complications. Scratching the blisters or scabs and getting them infected is the danger, so lotions which will keep the pockets from itching are usually advisable, plus a curtailment of the youngster's activities, of course.

Most virus diseases should be treated with bedrest. And the one for which rest in bed is the most important is the common cold. Instead of being used as a last resort, as it usually is, going to bed with a cold should be your first action. You don't feel good, you're cranky, all out of sorts, anyway, and you're not likely to do your work properly when you have a cold; so if you would go to bed for 24 hours, drink lots of fluids and eat light, nourishing foods you would be treating yourself by the possible medical method. If that you need your doctor's advice as to the next step. But many colds can be thrown off by just that simple routine, and it also has the advantage of keeping it from spreading to others.

The argument against that method is that you don't always know when you have a cold. That's quite true; but the rest and diet isn't going to hurt anything that you do have.

You don't always know when you have pinkeye, either. Colds, runny noses, pink and watery eyelids, and many other signs of disease are frequently caused by hayfever or allergies of one sort or another. But the differences between them is that allergies aren't contagious, whereas colds and pinkeye are.

Contagious catarrhal conjunctivitis is the formal title of pinkeye, one of the most contagious of the virus diseases; it is an inflammation of the wet lining that forms the rims and underpart of the eyelid. It may come alone or with other diseases; the flu is usually associated with red rimmed eyes. Gonorrhea also is frequently marked with an eyelid inflammation.

Since pinkeye can be mistaken for other much more serious diseases, it is always advisable to have it checked. Granulated eyelids, known as trachoma, is one of the more serious of the eyelid afflictions caused by a virus, and it, too, is contagious. Trachoma can even lead to blindness.

Instead of just a redness of the eyelids, trachoma is a roughness, the lids looking like grains of salt or sand dotted upon them. The inside of the eyelid is also dotted with those hard little bumps and they rub up and down against the cornea of the eye, that film in front of the eyeball. As they scrape against that film, those bumps damage it, which in time can lead to partial or complete blindness.

Trachoma can also lead to disfiguring as an untreated case may pull the eyelid up unevenly, creating a deformity of the lid.

Lt. Thomas At Reese Air Base

Second Lieut. Clarence I. Thomas, Muleshoe, has been assigned to the 3500th Pilot Training Wing, Reese Air Force Base, Lubbock. He was formerly employed by the Southwestern Public Service Company at Muleshoe. A graduate of Muleshoe High School, Lt. Thomas was active in the Masonic Lodge, American Legion and the Junior Chamber of Commerce prior to his recall.

Three brothers are also in the Air Force: M-Sgt. Roger I. Thomas is in Newfoundland, Sgt. James L. Thomas is serving in Alaska, and Sgt. E. J. Thomas is now in Germany.

ARMED FORCES DAY

"Unification" is a word that has contained a day-by-day significance for this nation's armed services in the past few years, and has been a transition interesting to those not in uniform who observe the military scene.

That same unification—in the past 10 months demonstrated in battle to be a success for the military—is being joined on an ever-increasing frequency these days by various civilian elements.

The first "parade of preparedness by the unified forces of our land, sea and air defense" was performed in 1950, reaching a peak on the third Saturday in May, which was proclaimed the first "Armed Forces Day." The single, unified day observance replaced for the individual service branches a major "day" celebration which had been held in the past.

Thus, Armed Forces Day was instituted fundamentally to promote a spirit of cooperation and a pride in common purpose among the armed services.

The initial success was possible through civilian participation in both planning and execution at the community level, working hand-in-hand with the local military representatives.

As Armed Forces Day again approaches—it will be Saturday, May 19—the battle-proven unification of our military forces deserves greater and more serious public attention and support. "Defenders of Freedom" is the theme of Armed Forces Day, 1951, and in hundreds of communities, that day and the week preceding it will be filled with opportunity for the individual civilian and serviceman alike to consider its significance.

Your individual cause for reflection will be a two-fold tribute to the armed forces under mobilization in time of actual overseas conflict, and a renewal of faith in the great nation's heritage.

Detroit's 250th Birthday Festival To Be In July

Detroit's 250th Birthday Festival, a year-long celebration of the city's founding by Antoine de la Cadillac, is well on the way to its climax during the week of July 22-29. Throughout the year, Detroit is the site of a great civic demonstration in which all residents and visitors will have an opportunity to participate.

Events of national and international importance will take place in Detroit and will be of interest to people from all parts of the country. Four nations—France, Britain, Canada and the United States—will take part in the ceremonies, marking the friendship that has long existed between these countries.

Because of Detroit's position as the largest border city in the world, and the cooperative spirit existing between Detroit and Windsor, this is an excellent opportunity to display to the world the amity that can develop between two peoples. One of the most active groups in the Festival planning is the Canadian Participation Committee which is bringing participating organizations to Detroit from all parts of Canada.

Two huge International Folk Festivals will be presented July 23 and 25. They will feature the music, dances, costumes, and songs of the nationality groups that have migrated to Detroit during the 250 years of its existence. It will provide living proof of way in peoples of diverse creeds and national or racial backgrounds can live together peacefully. The Festivals will also show the cultural wealth the immigrants have brought to this country

Other events of national importance to take place in Detroit during 1951 are varied to say the least. For example, the sports program in Detroit will be the largest ever presented in one American city. Among the events scheduled are the annual major league all-star game in Briggs Stadium, the USGA National open golf tournament at Plum Hollow, the national finals of the American Legion Junior baseball tournament in Briggs Stadium, and the American Softball association championships.

From July 13 to 23, the University of Detroit will present in the University Stadium, a tremendous extravaganza enlisting more than 1,000 participants. Written by Father Daniel C. Lord it is titled "City of Freedom" and will tell the story in song and dance of Detroit's contributions to world-wide freedom and security.

Finally, there will be a tremendous Cavalcade Parade on July 28.

"YOUR NEW '50,000 MILES—NO WEAR' OIL is the best we have ever used," says George M. James, Manager, Metro Motors, Ford Distributors, Murray, Utah. "We use Conoco Super in all our demonstrators and recommend it highly to new car buyers."

"I'VE USED MANY DIFFERENT BRANDS of oil, but was never satisfied until I heard the story of '50,000 Miles—No Wear' and changed to new Conoco Super," writes Ben F. Taylor, Traveling Salesman, Fort Worth, Texas. "Now I get greater savings in oil consumption and more gasoline miles to the gallon."

"50,000 MILES—NO WEAR!"—PROVED HERE:

After a punishing 50,000-mile road test, with proper crankcase drains and regular care, engines lubricated with new Conoco Super Motor Oil showed no wear of any consequence... in fact, an average of less than one one-thousandth inch on cylinders and crankshafts. AND gasoline mileage for the last 5,000 miles was actually 99.77% as good as for the first 5,000! This test proved that new Conoco Super, with OIL-PLATING, can make your car last longer, perform better, use less gasoline and oil.

Weldon McCarty Wins A&M Honor

Weldon McCarty, a Muleshoe boy now studying in A. & M. College of Texas, has made a name for himself in livestock showmanship. In a recent intramural contest on the campus he fitted and showed his pig to the reserve championship of his class.

Boys draw an animal, grow it and fit it for the show. Weldon, who is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Delma McCarty of Muleshoe, drew the pig and his fitting and showing of the animal won him the honor. The boy who was awarded championship of Weldon's class went on to win the grand championship of the show, which included cattle, sheep and horses.

County Agent J. K. Adams, relating this accomplishment, remembering that Weldon won the 4-H district championship one year while showing a pig belonging to his brother, Fuston, who is also a student at A. & M. Weldon took part in 4-H Club work and also was a Muleshoe FFA boy.
