Trooper Hart stated that driving while fatigued is one of the leading causes of collisions. Before driving this weekend, get ample rest and allow time for frequent breaks. One of our best defenses against an unsafe driver is the proper use of safety belts, but it's only effective when all occupants are buckled up.

The Dept. of Public Safety will increase patrols beginning at 6 through midnight, Monday, Sept. 4. The troopers are there to help you, the motorist, by offering any assistance needed. They are also there for enforcement of traffic laws and removing unsafe drivers from the roadways. Troopers will be looking hard for intoxicated drivers and others who are out to ruin your Labor Day celebrations.

Trooper Hart went on to say that recreational areas will be extremely

With reduced visibility and an increase in large recreational vehicles, our best defense is to stay alert and slow down, allowing more time to react if a hazardous situation should

Sheriff briefs Court on new TDC procedures

At the last County Commissioner's Court meeting, the Court approved the motion to advertise for bid for a new sheriff department vehicle, as recommended by Sheriff Johnny Mills. The bids which will be advertised for two weeks, will be opened at the first meeting in Sept.

Mills also briefed the court on new procedures that have been put into effect for admission of prisoners to TDC, effective September 1. Mills said that in the past, TDC was notified one week and the move was made the following week on a month to month basis. He said that now,

City approves tax increase

The Haskell City Council conducted the first of two public hearings on the proposed budget for the coming year. The council approved a three percent tax increase in the city property tax, moving the tax rate from .2598 to .2681.

In other business, Sam Toliver was appointed to serve on the EDC Advisory Committee to fill a vacancy in that position.

Early deadlines

The Haskell Free Press will be closed Monday, Sept. 4, in observance of Labor Day. Because of the holiday, we will have early deadlines for both news copy and advertising. All news copy will need to be in the office by 5 p.m. Friday, Sept. 1, and all display advertising copy will need to be in the office by noon that same day. The classified ads deadline will be Tuesday, Sept. 5, by noon.

was budgeted by TDC to pay for prisoners being held in the county jails until their transfer to TDC. In other business, upon recommendation of Joan Strickland, County Librarian, the Court approved the employment of Marie

Scott Memorial Park Dredging out a new boat channel, near the Anchor Marina

Changes going on at

Lodge located at Scott Memorial Park (the county park), is just one of the many changes that have being going on at the park this past year. The county has decided to take advantage of the lake being low and dredge out the new boat channel and build a concrete ramp and boat dock.

Ray Perry, County Commissioner of Precinct No. 4, said, "This will really improve the park. I've never heard as many favorable comments as about this. There is real good fishing through here. The Commissioner's Court has been talking about this project for a good while, and decided it was the time to do it when the lake was low."

Perry also praised the changes that have been made at the park and the Anchor Lodge by Bobby Morris and his wife Ginger, since they took over the managership a year ago on Aug. 23.

Morris, who is originally from Vernon, has lived in the park the past seven years and ran the boat shop for four of those seven years. Morris said, "The first three months after we took over management was spent in clean-up and repair, a general face lift for the park. When we started, we cleaned up and hauled off junk, painted and repaired picnic tables and remodeled six cabins."

"The county has built new restroom facilities in the park for men and women with hot and cold showers and dressing areas. We hear lots of compliments on the restroom and the other changes all of the time. Word of mouth has really helped tremendously."

Morris said that the park offers 70 camp hookups for campers and RVs with water and electricity and access to the sewage dump at a cost of $9 per night. There is also a camping area for tents at a cost of $7 per night. All campers have access to the rest rooms and showers. RV leases are available on a yearly basis and on a permanent

Morris also noted that the park has a public swimming area, public boat ramp and public dock, which is baited out for crappy and catfish. There is no cost to unload boats, fish off the dock or for swimming.

Lone Star card to be in Haskell by Oct.

State Comptroller John Sharp announced recently that paper food stamp coupons will soon be a thing of the past in Haskell.

Sharp demonstrated the state's innovative new Lone Star card and reminded Haskell County retailers who haven't yet signed on to the new system to do so quickly or risk losing their customers to other businesses.

"Haskell County is an important part of the latest expansion of the Lone Star card throughout Texas," Sharp said. "With this roll-out, the Texas attack on bureaucratic bloat and welfare fraud moves into fourth

"In just four weeks, food stamps will virtually disappear from another 79 Texas counties, including the Abilene, Brownsville, Corpus Christi, Harlingen, Laredo, McAllen, Midland-Odessa, San Angelo and Wichita Falls areas," Sharp said. "And retailers who prepare early will be ready to accept the new card without a hitch."

OPINION

By Lyndell Williams & Ed Sterling TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN - Lt. Gov. Bob Bullock is banging the drum for stronger measures to protect Texans from the hazards of sharing the roads with drunks.

Last week, he instructed the Senate Criminal Justice Committee to reconsider three bills that would: ■ Lower the intoxication standard for drivers from a blood-alcohol level of 0.10 to 0.08: ■ Ban open alcoholic beverage containers in cars; and

■ Allow law enforcement officers to conduct sobriety checks on roads and highways.

All three measures were introduced, but failed to gain Senate approval, during the last legislative session.

"I want to make sure that in Texas we do everything possible to protect people from drunken drivers and drunken drivers from themselves," Bullock told the Houston Chronicle.

Bullock's words were lauded by Mothers Against Drunk Driving, but elicited words of caution from a lawyer group.

"I think anything Bullock does is significant. I couldn't be happier about it," MADD spokesman Bill Lewis told the Chronicle.

Texas Criminal Defense Lawyers Association executive director John Boston said his group considers sobriety checkpoints an unconstitutional invasion of privacy.

Boston said his group would oppose lowering of the blood-alcohol standard without allowing defendants to challenge the accuracy of breath-testing devices.

Sobriety checkpoints were struck down in 1994 by the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals because Texas had no statewide rules governing

Justice Gammage to Quit

Texas Supreme Court Justice Bob Gammage has submitted his letter of resignation to Gov. George W. Bush, saying it was time to "focus on family, our personal financial security and to pursue long-neglected personal goals and challenges."

Gammage was elected in 1990 to a six-year term. In announcing his Sept. 1 departure, Gammage joins fellow Democrat, Justice Jack Hightower, who said in June he would leave the court at the end of the year.

Gammage said his dissenting opinions in recent years reflect his belief that the court is becoming less objective.

Gov. Bush now has the opportunity to fill their seats with Republicans. Presently, the state's highest court includes five Republicans and four Democrats.

Bush's press secretary Karen Hughes said the governor has begun looking for a replacement to fill Gammage's unexpired term. Coastal Plan Takes Hit

U.S. Department of Commerce officials sent a letter to Gov. Bush last week, informing him that a coastal management plan proposed by Railroad Commission Chairman Barry Williamson will not meet federal approval.

The letter was good news to Texas Land Commissioner Garry Mauro, who has been at odds with Williamson over the plan.

Mauro said Williamson's plan, although approved by the state Legislature, strips his agency of some of its oversight duties and can't satisfy regulations in the federal Coastal Zone Management Plan, which already is in place.

Bush Appointments Tallied If appointments are used as a scale, Gov. Bush is earning - or as some say — is maintaining a reputation as a moderate Republican.

· In the first seven months of his term, Bush made 237 appointments to agencies and boards and 21 judicial appointments while allowing the confirmation of 521 of former Gov. Ann Richards' appointees.

The Associated Press reported that under Bush, however, there had been a 15 percent drop in the number of minority appointments. Still, Democratic Reps. Hugo Berlanga of Corpus Christi and Sylvester Turner of Houston expressed favor in Bush's record of appointing minorities.

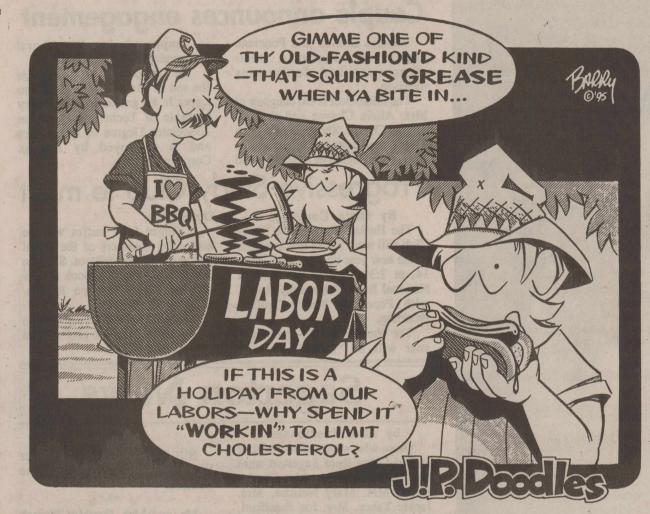

About 60 percent of Bush's appointees are white males; their average age is 50; and 25 percent of them gave money to his election campaign.

Texas Republican Party Chairenthusiastic about the number of Richards appointees that are continuing in office. "I'd like to see most, if not all the posts, go to qualified Republicans and independent conservatives," he said. Other Highlights

State Sen. Peggy Rosson, D-El Paso, announced last week she will not run for re-election in 1996. Rosson, 60, first elected in 1990, said she wants to devote more time to her husband, Joe Rosson, after spending 20 years in public service roles. She was appointed to the Public Utility Commission in 1983 and was elected commission chairwoman in 1985.

■ The late John B. Connally will be honored by the University of Texas at Austin with the naming of an addition to the School of Law. An $11 million advocacy and dispute resolution center will be named the John B. The editor had to "pump" a few facts out of this well-thought of, respected civic and church worker of Haskell. William, J. Social Security

Part-time jobs boost future benefits

You must work a full-time job for many years before you can collect Social Security benefits. Right? Wrong! Part-time work can qualify you for Social Security, Millions of people work parttime jobs. Some people work only a few hours a week just to have extra money for themselves or their families. Others work part-time to fill what would otherwise be lonely hours. More and more people today feel the need to work a part-time job in addition to their full-time job to help them make ends meet.

Regardless of the reason, if you're working a part-time job, you're boosting the amount of the monthly benefit you'll receive when you retire. If your part-time work is your only job - as is often true for homemakers - you're also making sure you have Social Security protection that could pay monthly benefits to you, your spouse, and any dependent children if you became disabled or die before you're eligible to retire.

In many families, the part-time worker is the mother who holds a job for a few hours during the day while the children are at school. Her job may not seem that important to her and her family if it's a two-parent household. But what if she became disabled and could not work? That's where Social Security comes in. The mother and her family could be eligible for Social Security benefits based on the earnings from her parttime job. Or if the mother died, her survivors could be eligible for benefits. the benefits derived from the mother's part-time work would provide full-time benefits in helping the family survive the hardship.

But Social Security protection won't be there for you if your earnings aren't reported to Social Security and the taxes paid on them. We recommend that you check your earnings record at least every three years. It's easy to do. Call Social Security's toll-free number, 1-800-772-1213, anytime (including weekends and holidays) and ask for a Form 7004 (Req for Personal Earnings and Benefit Estimate Statement). You should receive your statement within four to six weeks after Social Security receives your completed form.

Five times to contact Social Security

Because Social Security taxes are automatically deducted from most paychecks, many people may take Social Security for granted. They feel they don't have to do anything to insure their protection or collect their benefits. This could be a mistake.

Unfortunately, with Social Security, what you don't know can hurt you. For one thing, Social Security is not just for retirement. So you need to know when you can apply for benefits, how much you can expect, and how to make sure your benefits are there for you.

Just remember there are at least five times you should contact Social Security.

•To change your name when you

•To get an application for a Social Security number

•To get a request for Earnings and Benefit Estimate Statement

•If you notice an error on your earnings record

•If you need to apply or inquire about benefits because someone in your family:

> -becomes disabled -reaches 62 -develops permanent kidney failure

-reaches 65 (to apply for Medicare even if he or she is not retiring) All of the services Social Security provides are FREE from issuing Social Security number cards to processing disability, survivor and retirement claims.

Social Security also produces a variety of publications that explain the various Social Security programs, including benefits available to children. You can reach Social Security using the toll-free number, 1-800-772-1213, to speak to a representative between 7 a.m. and 7 p.m. each business day. When you call, have your Social Security number handy.

This session, Finnell purposely limited his legislation to seven initiatives in order to focus concentration on the proposed reforms in juvenile justice, welfare, lawsuits and education.

"I feel the responsibility to be there and representing my constituents at all times," Finnell stated. "These vital reform issues and other important legislation addressed during the 74th session certainly deserved the full attention of all members of the legislature, and indeed, all Texans as well."

The only time Finnell missed a legislative vote was in April, 1979, when the massive tornado in Wilbarger, Wichita and Clay counties killed 49 people and caused millions of dollars in property damage. He and then-Gov. Bill Clements flew from Austin to the disaster area immediately to assess damage and to facilitate relief to the storm's many victims.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

I am writing about an experience this last Saturday, when I went to the cemetery to put birthday flowers on my husband's and son's graves. The monument has weeds and grass grown up on it; there were only six inches of the monument showing. I could not put flowers on it.

It was too hot to work at that time. So Sunday morning, I took my tools and went back and I worked one hour and forty-five minutes getting the grass around the monument and outside past the curb, the grass was 14 inches in the

When we purchased the three lots, we were supposed to get perpetual care. My family has been there for over ten years. This is the first time I have caught it that grown up.

While I was there, a lady was working on her lot. Then a lady and her husband came and had a weed eater and cleaned a grave. Why can't we have the Haskell Cemetery as neat as the cemetery in Rule. I feel a neat cemetery is a good reputation of the town where we live.

Help kids get along when they are home alone

Conflicts and arguments with friends and family are normal parts of children's development. It helps them become aware of the rights and needs of others.

This type of conflict is common during childhood, it occurs more frequently when children are siblings of the same sex and near the same age.

While such behavior always concerns parents, conflict is especially worrisome when children are in self care or latchkey

Learning to get along and deal with this kind of conflict takes time, since children don't really have all the mental and verbal skills to do it independently until they reach early adolescence. Although part of learning to get along comes as the child grows, parents and families also play an important role.

If your children are left at home, you can help by establishing clear rules of accepted behavior. When household procedures are not clear, arguments are likely to arise. A parent should write down the family rules, and post them in a place that can be seen daily. Define who is in charge, what that person's responsibilities are and what is to be done if a conflict is not easily resolved. In addition, children should be encouraged to develop good communication skills. Encourage them to express their feelings and views in acceptable ways. Teach them to listen carefully to others and ask questions if they don't understand. When this type of communication goes on all the time, it's easier for children to express themselves and listen to others' views. Children should be allowed to solve problems on their own. Parents often impose their solutions when children have a problem. While this takes care of the immediate conflict, it does little to give them practice in handling future problems. Often, when children resolve their own conflicts, the solution seems unfair by more adult standards, but the process solving is much more valuable in their development than an equitable

Some basic steps children can follow in solving problems,

•Find out if there is a problem. •Talk about what makes you angry. Listen to the other side.

•Think of ways both people can be happy. Keep thinking up ideas until one works.

•If you can't agree, take a time

These steps can be posted in your home as a reminder of how the process works.

Practice with your children by pretending, too often parents try to teach children acceptable methods to handle a conflict during the heat of an argument. Children will learn better if they are presented a completes recent merger

The Stamford-based Rolling Plains Production Credit Association (PCA) recently merged with Canadian PCA making it the largest agricultural lending cooperative in the Rolling Plains and High Plains regions.

The merger was approved overwhelmingly by Association stockholders earlier this year and received final approval from the Farm Credit Administration July 31.

"The objective of the merger is to develop a stronger, more diversified Association that will continue to provide our members with excellent service and competitive interest rates," said Rolling Plains PCA President John Rike. "As a direct result of the merger we have lowered our interest rates effective Aug. 1.'

The merged Association, which is known as Rolling Plains PCA, provides short and intermediate term agricultural financing to farmers and ranchers in 25 counties of the High Plains and Rolling Plains regions. With approximately $80 million in loans outstanding to more than 950 member-borrowers, it has been rated a Tier I PCA by the district regulator for the past seven consecutive years.

Stamford will remain the Association's headquarters. Member-borrowers will continue to be served from branch offices located in Abilene, Childress, Matador, Munday, Spur and Stamford as well as Canadian, Pampa, Perryton and Wheeler. No changes in staffing are anticipated as a result of the merger.

Garon Tidwell of Munday continues as Board Chairman and Dan Henard Jr. of Wellington remains Vice Chairman. Other members of the Board of Directors are Keith Corzine, Sagerton; Grover Crum, Darrouzett; Thomas Helton, Wheeler; Lance Morris, Crosbyton; J.D. Paris, Miami; Jack Reese, Abilene; Garner Schoenhals, Canadian; and Dean Turner, Matador.

Breeding and Managing Cattle for Profitability will headline this year's conference. Meeting organizers have designed the program for cow-calf and stocker producers in western Texas and Oklahoma, and eastern New Mexico. Speakers will discuss strategies for producers to increase production efficiency and show how their animals impact all all segments of the U.S. beef industry.

Beef producers will hear Dr. Chuck Lambert of the National Cattlemen's Association discuss ways to prepare for value-based marketing. Legislation impacting production and the beef industry will be the topic for Mark Ellison of Texas Department of Agriculture. Bill Pratt with Micro Chemical, Inc., Amarillo will address electronic cattle identification and sorting issues.

Other topics include genetic influences and management practices affecting beef quality, calf management and marketing alternatives, evaluation of herd production efficiency, utilization of different genetic resources and various supplementation considerations. Each session concludes with a panel discussion involving cattle producers who will describe their individual operations and challenges.

Registration packets will be available Sept. 14 at 9:15 a.m. at the Livestock Arena on the Texas Tech campus. The conference officially begins at 10 a.m., Thursday and concludes at 3 p.m., Friday. A pre-registration fee of $55 will be valid through Aug. 31.

This fee also includes the cost of lunch on both days and dinner on Thursday evening at the Ranching Heritage Museum. A printed proceedings is included with registration. After Aug. 31, a fee of $80 will be required.

"This year's program was developed for beef producers of the southwestern U.S. and largely based on comments and suggestions from last year's participants," says Dr. Andy Herring of Texas Tech University, who is the conference coordinator. "The conference provides a special, annual opportunity for beef producers and university personnel in three states to share information about different aspects of the U.S. beef industry," he said.

The Beef Forum is being organized by Texas Tech University, Texas A&M University, New Mexico State University and Oklahoma State University, in cooperation with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the Cooperative Extension Services of Oklahoma and New Mexico.

To register for this year's conference, contact Dr. Andy D. Herring by telephone at 806-742-2825, or by mail at the Dept. of Animal Science and Food Technology, Texas Tech University, Lubbock, TX 79409.

WE SELDOM THINK ABOUT WHAT THIS NEWSPAPER DOES FOR US

If you're reading this, you're holding a newspaper in your hands, or else it's spread out on the table before you. Most of us will read or flip through a newspaper without thinking of all the things it does for us. It informs us of what's going on in the world, the nation, or at least in our home community; depending on its scope. It entertains us, with comics, amusing feature articles, and challenging crossword and perhaps other kinds of puzzles. It advises us on matters of health, finances, and many other areas of our lives. We can read the opinions of everyone from syndicated columnists to our own neighbors. We learn the schedules of each House of Worship through the directory. All of these things, including this newspaper itself, symbolize the freedom we enjoy in our great land.

Rev. Eric Clark, Vanessa Clark, Nella Clark and Jason Clark

New pastor at Church of God

Rev. Eric Clark began his new pastoral duties at the Church of God in Haskell on May 14. He and his wife, Nella and their two children, Jason, who is in the eighth grade at Haskell Jr. High and Vanessa, who is in the third grade at Haskell Elementary, moved to Haskell from Laneville, a small community near Henderson. Rev. Clark is a native of Snyder and Nella is a native of Dallas.

Rev. Clark said that he began preaching eight years ago, when he knew that he had the calling to preach. Rev. Clark said. "My overseers with the Church of God told me that the pastor's postion at Haskell was open, so I came. I felt it was where the Lord wanted me to be. The church is growing and we invite everyone to be a part of it. Nella said, "It is a great area and we love it here."

Church has first lady pastor

The Greater Independent Baptist Church of Haskell is celebrating their 63rd anniversary this year and recently acquired a new pastor, Rev. Camellia A. Wade, their first lady minister. The church recently lost their last charter member, Bessie Hanson.

Rev. Wade is a graduate of Fredrick Douglas High School in Kingsville, a graduate of Del Mar College in Corpus Christi and a graduate of Texas A&M at Harlingen.

She is the granddaughter of Rev. W.J. Wilson, the founder of Friendship Baptist Church in Kingsville and the daughter of Perry L. Griffin and the late Rev. T.L. Griffin Sr. of Kingsville. Rev. Griffin was the Moderator of the Rio Grand Valley District Association. Her brother, Rev. T.L. Griffin Jr. is the pastor of St. John Baptist Church in Abilene.

She is married to Sammy Wade. who is employed at the Abilene State School. They have two sons, Sammy L. Wade, a senior and honor roll student at Abilene High School; and Don F. Dailey, who is a long-distance owner/operator leased to Andy Anderson Van Lines. Their daughter, Sherry A. Davis is an LVN. They also have three grandchildren, LaMica Ann

REV. CAMELIA A. WADE

Williams, Jetquetta Dailey and Jakenzie Dailey.

Wade moved to Abilene in 1989 and joined St. John Baptist Church in 1990, where she was a faithful member until God called her to the ministry. She was licensed to preach the Gospel on July 14, 1991 and was ordained Jan. 17, 1993. She was a member of Weeping Mary Baptist Church for the past two years until she was called to pastor the Greater Independent Baptist Church.

Wade said, "I thank God, who opened the doors for me to pastor this spirit filled church. What man said was impossible, through Christ Jesus it is possible. I give all praises to my God. - Joel 2:28, And it shall come to pass afterward, that I will pour out my spirit upon all flesh; and your sons, and daughters shall prophesy."
