Commissioners to discuss budget Aug. 11

County Treasurer Willie Faye Tidrow reported a total refund of $2751.00 from the Tax Department of Counties this year, during the regular meeting of the Haskell County Commissioners Court July 22.

The Court decided not to add any more County fees to vehicle registration costs.

Judge David Davis brought forward the new reduction in people available to pick up used oil from the Precincts. Safety Kleen has bought out the service the County previously used. Safety Kleen charges .20 per gallon to remove used oil.

Commissioner Pct. 3 Kenny Thompson asked the Court to get the County's CPA to come to the next Commissioner's Court meeting. He and other commissioners want to explore the legal ramifications between flat mileage payments and logging mileage.

Commissioner Thompson had some questions about the personnel salaries and the possibility of leveling salaries this year, and in the later budgets giving increases for seniority. This will be addressed in August.

Re-election of Precinct Judges left an opening in Box 1 Precinct 1. All other judges were re-elected.

The Court decided not to help provide health insurance to employees.

Also, it was decided to exempt taxes on the following locations: City of Rule, Foster and Jones Addition, Blk 8, S. 150' of Blks. 9 and 10. This will get these lots back on the tax roll.

The next Commissioners Court, to be held Aug. 11 at 10 a.m. will include discussion of the budget.

State Capital

HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams & Ed Sterling
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Early voting for the Aug. 9 constitutional amendment election began July 21 and runs through Aug. 5.

A low turnout at the polls is expected but Gov. George W. Bush and Secretary of State Tony Garza are touring the state, doing their best to urge Texas' 11 million registered voters to get out and vote.

It's a challenge to interest the electorate in a ballot that has no candidates on it.

"Constitutional elections are uphill battles in terms of getting people out to vote," said Garza, the state's top elections official.

On the ballot is a single yes or no question for voters to answer: whether homestead property tax exemptions should be increased from a minimum of $5,000 to a minimum of $15,000.

Ann McGeehan, elections director for Garza, estimated that the turnout would be about 10 to 15 percent of the state's registered voters.

Should the tax exemption amendment pass, the state will lose about $1 billion in revenue.

In the long run, however, the exemptions may cause school districts to lose more and more money as property tax rates and appraised values continue to increase.

Meanwhile, lawmakers will have to find ways to compensate for the lost revenue in the state budget over the next two years.

Gingrich Episode Piques Pauken

Texas Republican Party Chairman Tom Pauken said the recent, failed attempt to oust U.S. House Speaker Newt Gingrich hurt the GOP image.

Pauken, who stepped down from his post last week to seek his party's nomination for the office of the state attorney general said, "The timing was terrible."

"I think there's a frustration on the part of a lot of Republicans at the grassroots level...a feeling we were so close to winning a majority and now we're slipping backwards."

He called for an end to the party's "internal bickering" and concentrate on the 1998 election cycle.

During Pauken's tenure as state GOP chairman, Republicans won a majority of seats in the state Senate, swept all statewide offices on the 1996 ballot and won majorities on the Texas Supreme Court, Court of Criminal Appeals, State Board of Education and the Texas Railroad Commission.

Raymond Seeks Land Office

State Rep. Richard Raymond, D-Benavides, last week became the only Democrat to formally enter the race for land commissioner.

Incumbent Gary Mauro, who is considering a race for governor, hasn't announced his plans. Three Republicans already are in the race: Secretary of State Tony Garza, Sen. Jerry Patterson of Pasadena and Tim Turner of Houston.

Raymond, 36, a former special assistant to U.S. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Texas and U.S. Sen. Paul Simon, D-Ill. is serving his third term in the Texas House.

He spent 30 months as Mauro's executive assistant and in 1990 managed Bob Krueger's successful campaign for Texas Railroad Commissioner.

Raymond outlined a four-point plan for the General Land Office:

- Expanding college opportunities for Texas veterans at no additional cost to the state.

- Developing partnerships with communities to make the most efficient use of underutilized state land.

- Ensuring that Texas public beaches remain public by passing a constitutional amendment banning private ownership of beaches.

- Continuing to preserve and protect Texas public lands.

Holzheuser Is RRC Candidate

State Rep. Steve Holzheuser last week told The Victoria Advocate he will seek the Republican nomination to succeed Barry Williamson on the Texas Railroad Commission.

Holzheuser, who has represented House District 30 since 1985, said last month he would seek the commission post only if Williamson did not seek reelection. Williamson has announced for attorney general.

State Settles With Testing Firm

Texas Attorney General Dan Morales and lawyers for a now-defunct emissions testing firm settled a 1995 lawsuit last week.

Taxpayers will have to pay the $140 million settlement. The money will come from the state's general fund beginning Aug. 31 with a $70 million payment.

Tejas Testing Technologies, which spent millions of dollars setting up inspection stations in designated urban areas, filed the lawsuit after the state curtailed the firm's seven-year auto emissions testing program.

Federal officials had ordered the program, but state lawmakers killed Tejas' contract after drivers complained about the cost. The state then established another testing program.

Life Sentences for Drug Makers

People who manufacture methamphetamine, also known as speed, could be sentenced to prison for life under a proposal by U.S. Rep. Pete Sessions, R-Dallas.

The freshman congressman said he will introduce legislation within the next few weeks that would impose a mandatory life sentence for anyone found guilty of manufacturing the drug. Currently the minimum sentence is five years in prison.

Legal Matters

By Attorney General Dan Morales

In 1995, the Office of the Attorney General joined with prosecutors and law enforcement in proposing many revisions to the laws in the Texas Family Code that govern the way we handle juvenile crime.

The 74th Legislature adopted a tough new attitude toward young criminals, and enacted broad reforms.

While we have no firm data yet to evaluate the impact of the recent reforms on juvenile crime rates, I expect to see improvement in the future. Punishment is a limited deterrent, however. We owe our children more.

Intervention and prevention

I am absolutely convinced that intervention and prevention play a vital role in our efforts to reduce juvenile crime. There are many excellent local programs across the state. Some provide supervised after school recreation, others are designed to keep children away from gangs, and still others teach nonviolent conflict resolution.

My Juvenile Crime Intervention Division is working with the Texas Association of Counties and the Texas Municipal League to catalog these productive programs. We will make this information available to local law enforcement and community organizations by the Internet and in print. Visit our web site at <http://www.oag.state.tx.us> for more information on criminal justice issues.

Resources for youth

We support public-private partnerships such as TYC Industries and Project Reintegration of Offenders (RIO). These programs help juvenile offenders develop job skills and make the transition back into society. Among other uses, the juveniles' earnings help pay restitution to crime victims and child support payments, if any are owed.

Last winter, our Juvenile Crime Intervention division organized a Youth Resources Fair at the Texas Youth Commission's residential facility in Giddings. Our purpose was to make incarcerated youth aware of the many state and local programs designed to help them keep their lives on track after release, including dealing with drug problems, acquiring job skills, and continuing their education.

We believe that many young offenders are willing to turn their lives around but lack practical information about how to overcome obstacles like addiction or inadequate education. So we provide them with information about how to attain a General Equivalency Diploma (GED) or learn a skill through a trade school.

Innovative solutions

The best prevention is the earliest prevention. Our Child Support Program has two award-winning programs, Volunteers in Paternity (VIP) and Paternity and Parenthood (PAPA), that benefit

From The Inside Out

By Mary Kaigler

On the Island of Brevity, the natives hated people who talked too much. They spoke in as few words as possible and expected everyone else to do the same.

One year, famine struck the neighboring island of Ontoolong, and the people sent a representative to Brevity to ask for help. The envoy arrived and launched into a description of the havoc brought by the famine, the suffering of the Ontoolong people, and the implications that the disaster had for all area islanders. He spoke for two hours, and many in the Brevity delegation fell asleep. When the envoy finally finished his plea, the leader of Brevity said he couldn't remember the beginning of the envoy's speech and was hazy about the details that followed. The envoy was sent back empty-handed with a request that someone else be sent to explain the situation.

Ontoolong immediately sent another envoy, urging him to be as brief as possible in his plea for aid. The new envoy appeared before the Brevity delegation, holding empty rice bags in his hand. He spoke only three sentences: "My people are starving. These bags are empty. Please fill them." Then he sat down.

The head of the Brevity delegation immediately ordered the bags filled. Then he took the envoy aside and said: "There was no need to point out that the bags were empty. We could see that. And it wasn't necessary to ask us to fill them. We would have done it anyway. If you come again, remember, don't talk so much."

So, hopefully having learned from the above anecdote, (adapted from a Leadership monthly bulletin), about the importance of getting to the critical point in any presentation, I will only add that "from the inside out", I am pleased indeed to be back here with my column in my new work as staff writer for the Haskell Free Press.

Texas children from birth. The goal of these programs is to ensure that every child has the support of two parents. Every child needs the security and sense of identity that comes from having a legal father. And no child should unnecessarily experience the sting of poverty.

Under Texas law, a child born out of wedlock has no legal father until paternity is established. Through VIP, we have formed partnerships with birthing facilities across the state, to encourage unwed fathers to sign Acknowledgment of Paternity forms at the hospital when their babies are born. The forms are sent to us, and we use them to support paternity establishment proceedings.

The PAPA program's primary goal is to teach students the legal and financial obligations that come with parenthood. The program explains that the law requires both parents to support their children, regardless of how young the parents are and regardless of the relationship between the child's parents. We've developed a standard PAPA curriculum which we have made available to all junior high and high schools in Texas. The PAPA Curriculum can be found on our Web site, at <http://www.oag.state.tx.us>.

Together, we can do it! We face an unacceptable situation, but not an overwhelming one. We don't have to have more gangs, drive-by shootings, guns in schools or throwaway children. Because of our tough new laws, the days when a juvenile could break the law and receive a slap on the wrist are over. Yet we also have to give young people a chance to become productive citizens. commend local law enforcement on their many creative and successful community programs. I applaud violence prevention programs. We must keep working together. Together, we can send juvenile crime rates into a downturn.

Sagerton News

By Dorothy M. Clark

Another month is gone and we are going into the last months of the year...how time flies when you're having fun!! We old folks are looking forward to, hopefully, cooler weather from now on. Crops are flourishing and the farmers are beginning to get the weed situation under control after long hours of hard work.

Neighbors were awakened early Sunday morning by a fire at the old Higginbotham Lumber Yard. A fire of undetermined origin destroyed the southeast portion of the building which had been the office, electrical, bolt bin, pipe fittings, paint, and all hardware supplies. Since its closing many years ago, the building had been used by local farmers for storage.

The building is one of the last remaining businesses to have existed in the once bustling town of Sagerton, all of them having been destroyed by fire over the years. The late Ben Hess was a longtime manager of the lumber yard and the late Zenor Summers was the last manager before its closing.

Joe and Dorothy Clark received word that their grandson, Christopher Adler of Houston was chosen to be a member of the Glassmen, a drum and bugle corp from Toledo, Ohio and will be touring the United States and Canada in competition, with finals to be held in Orlando, Florida on August 13, 14, 15. The group is made up of 128 members from 16 to 22 years of age. They travel in a caravan of three chartered buses and two 18 wheelers that carry a full kitchen, instruments, and other equipment.

They will be performing in Tulsa, Okla.; Alton, Ill.; White Water, Wisc.; Ft. Wayne, Ind.; Ft. Huron, Mich.; Montreal and Quebec, Canada; Rome, N.Y.; Allentown and Westchester, Pa.; Huntington, Va.; Fevierville, Tenn.; Charlotte, N.C. and then Orlando in the Citrus Bowl.

Christopher is the son of David and Peggy Adler and will be a Senior at The Woodlands High School this coming school term.

Everyone is reminded of the Community Supper to be held at the community center on Tuesday, August 5 at 6:30 p.m. Sandwiches and watermelons will be furnished and Charles and Dorothy Clark and Bill and Margie Hertel will host the affair. Mark your calendars!!

Ladies of the Hobby Club met at the community center Monday afternoon to work on their quilt. Those present were Leona Letz, Wilma Teichelman, Jo Brown, Ev Ulmer, Christine Stremmel and Peggy Tabor.

Jeremy and Anna Willis of Wharton visited in the home of Joe and Dorothy Clark Thursday night and Friday. They were on their way home from their honeymoon in New Mexico, Colorado and Wyoming. Joining them for supper Thursday night was Anna's great-grandmother, Emma Raphael of Stamford and Ray and Nancy Clark. From here, the Willis' were going to Mesquite, where he will be participating in a rodeo during the weekend. The young couple enjoyed the cool weather in the mountains and showed videos of them playing in the snow.

We'd like a little snow here to cool things off some, but since it won't happen, we will just come to the community center next Tuesday night and enjoy ice cold watermelon. See you there!!!

Library Notes

By Joan Strickland

The Haskell County Library would like to thank everyone who helped to make our Summer Reading Program a success this year. Our young people are our future leaders and when you help them by showing your support of their interest you are helping our community as a whole.

Our program this year was The Incredible Dream Machine. With this program, we tried to emphasize that reading on a regular basis and using their imagination, a child can go anywhere, do anything and be anybody. Also with a regular reading time set aside each day (before a nap or a bedtime story) a child will be ahead and not behind when school begins next year.

We had prized donated by Video Mania, Haskell National Bank, First American Bank, First National Bank, Dr. and Mrs. Bill McSmith and Cadenhead Rural Health Clinic, Channel 12/KTXS, KVRP, Bill Markunas, Oleta Cornelius and Ernestine Herren.

Much thanks also goes to Opal Letterman and Tammy Parham for the refreshments they helped provide for the thirty odd children, cousins, mothers, sister, brothers, daddys and yours truly. A special thank you goes to our readers for the storytimes on Wednesday mornings: Kim Bassett, Tom Bassett, Jerry Bowers and Monty Montgomery.

Our storytime and reading program grows larger every year. We had the summer school students plus the forty-two children that signed up early.

I'm sure I speak for all of the organizations that ask our merchants for donations with each special project that comes around each year—thank you. Without the help and donations of our merchants many of the projects just couldn't get off the ground. We appreciate your generous donations and kind words of encouragement more than we could ever tell you. It does indeed, in this day and time, "take a village" or town as the case may be, to raise a child. This year every child received a prize at our Summer Reading Party along with a certificate. Some prizes were big and some small, but everyone received something. This means a lot to little children. I ask the people of Haskell to support your local merchants—they certainly are more than happy to support your children!

Memorials: Charles McCauley, Louise Isbell and Sam Herren. Book donated in memory of Charley McCauley, "Just As I Am"—biography of Billy Graham. And books in memory of Sam Herren for our Summer Reading Program.

Our goal is to provide a gentle and caring atmosphere for the special needs of women.

Around Town

By Joyce Hawkins

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Campbell, Karen, Kendall and Allison Mitchell and Lona Mae Phelps visited in Odessa over the weekend with Kenneth's sisters and brothers. Friday they visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Campbell and visited Carl in the hospital. They stayed in the home of his sister, Mildred Rawls, where they saw two brothers, John C. and Jerry Campbell and a sister, Faye Cruger. They also visited two nephews there, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Lacy and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Lacy. Lona Mae Phelps and Allison went to church with Mildred on Sunday.

Visitors this week with Velma Jetton were her sister and husband with two of their grandchildren, L.D. and Rena George, Alan and Kristen Van Fleet, all from Blythe Calif. Then on Sunday, Wendell and Shelah Dickerson, their girls, Krysta, Kelsey and Kaitlin, from Breckenridge came. Also another granddaughter, Sharla Jetton. They all went out to eat lunch on Sun. at noon. In the afternoon, Nelda Decker visited. While the Georges were here, they took Velma to church, to Wal-Mart, had lunch at the steak house in Stamford and to Abilene. One afternoon they drove around the Centerpoint community, where Rena went to school, north of town to the Pleasant Valley community, where Velma and Rena lived and attended school as girls. They also went to the Curry Chapel community, where they went to church and where Velma lived after she married. Things have changed so much in the last 65 plus years, it was hard to find some of the places.

Darlene Conn with children, Daniel and Julie are spending some time with their son, Mr. and Mrs. David Conn while Darlene is in the process of being transferred from H.E.B. in Austin to H.E.B. in Abilene, where she is scheduled to start work Aug. 4. They are also visiting Joyce Hawkins and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Cockerell came to mother's, Joyce Hawkins to pick up son Jimmy, who has been visiting with family for the past ten days.

July 20 was Greater Independent Baptist Church's homecoming. The theme Sun. morning was "Redeemed". Rev. W. Marshall of Step of Faith Center, Dallas, brought the message: The Ugly Man Inside And Outside.

After noon, Rev. Don Burton, of Triumphant Life, Vernon, brought the message. O.T. Johnson, Arlington, gave the welcome and Mary Johnson did the response. Special singers were directed by Rev. Don Burton. Other home-comers were the families of the late Mr. and Mrs. McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. Brown, Breckenridge, Rosa Moore, Breckenridge, the family of the late Bessie Hamser, Verda Ree Calloway, Lizzie and Earlene, all of Abilene. The family of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Reece, Huntsville; Mrs. Leatus Harris, Knox City; the family of Mr. and Mrs. Isias Plott, Ruby Johnson, Wichita Falls; Alton and Sonny Plott, Phoenix, Ariz.

This Week's Devotional Message: SUMMER PROVIDES A CLOSER VIEW OF GOD'S CREATION

When summer brings the longest days, The brilliant sun with warming rays Proclaims the segment of the year When recreation time is here; The season for escape from chores And also getting out of doors

For that vacation you have planned, To study nature close at hand. Your Church will show you what it means To see, in summer's deepest greens, The teeming life on earth abound: The love of God is all around.

St. George Catholic Church CYO would like to thank Nora Casiano, former owner of Cake Garden, for her cake donations over the last two years that helped with youth rally trips. Winners of the 1996 trip was Paula Stegemoeller, 1997 winner was Jo Ann Thane. Just want you to know we're going to miss you!
CYO Members

To our families, friends, neighbors, our churches, Sunday School classes, prayer groups and everyone who has so steadily supported and encouraged us since Bill's accident and through the whole ordeal. So many kind things were done, we just can't comprehend it all. It seemed every time we most needed it, another strong shoulder was there to lean on. Thank you one and all for seeing us through.
Our hearts are so heavy without Bill, but we thank God for all of you and may He bless you forever for all your help.
