Indians down Anson in overtime, 21-14

"It's not over until it's over" really held true for the Haskell Indians Fri. night in their game against Anson. Using a solid ground ball control attack and two overtime periods, the Indians defeated the Tigers 21-14 for their first victory of the '98 campaign.

With two minutes to go in the first quarter, Anson's quarterback John Caffey scored on a one yard run and Andrew Jimenez kicked the extra point to put the Tigers on the scoreboard, 7-0. That seven points held up for the Tigers during the first half of play.

At the start of the third quarter, Haskell came out strong using just over eight minutes to move into the end zone with a ten yard run by fullback Jason Hobgood. Joe Phemister carried it over for the two point conversion, giving the Indians an eight to seven lead. Anson was limited by the Indians to only one series of downs during the 3rd quarter.

Carrying the one point lead into the 4th quarter, Haskell again used their ball-control ground game to grind out a 4th quarter touchdown. With only 1:07 on the clock, the Indians crossed the goal line only to have the ball fumbled into the end zone. Recovering the loose ball, Haskell's Micah New saved the TD for the Indians. Despite the missed try for the extra point, the Indians had a 14-7 lead with 1:07 left in the game.

Anson's Manuel Fuller returned the ensuing kickoff 94 yards. Andrew Jimenez kicked the extra point to tie the regular game at 14-14 as time ran out, setting up the overtime.

Both teams were unable to move into the end zone during the first overtime. In the second overtime period, Indian quarterback Jason Trammell, scored with a six yard TD run, and Kevin McSmith kicked the extra point. With one more opportunity to win or tie, the Tigers were held by Haskell, with linebacker Dusty Yates intercepting Anson's final play.

Fullback Jason Hobgood had one TD, with 130 yards on 27 carries. Quarterback Jason Trammell had one TD, with 151 yards on 14 carries. Strong safety Joe Phemister had two pass interceptions and also a strong rushing game on offense. The Indians are now 1-1 for the season and will play the Stamford Bulldogs in Stamford, Fri. at 8:00 p.m.

Other stats in the game were:

	Haskell	Anson
First Downs	18	8
Net Yds Rushing	389	132

Net Yds Passing	24	53
Total Yds Gained	413	185
Passes Attempted	9	17
Passes Completed	2	4
Passes Intercepted By	3	1
Number of Punts	4	4
Punt Average	40	41
Opp. Fumbles Recov.	3	0
No. of Penalties	10	9
Yards Penalized	80	70

Of the upcoming game with Stamford, Coach Don Flippin said the Bulldogs have played two higher class (3-A ) teams and played very well against them even though they lost both games. "They are extremely quick on defense. In order to win over them we have to be able to eliminate the penalties and mistakes that have plagued us in the last two games."

****
The Haskell 7th and 8th grade teams will play Stamford there at 5:00 p.m. Thurs., Sept. 17. The 9th grade and JV teams will play the Stamford Bulldogs at 5:00 p.m. Thurs., at Indian Field in Haskell.

Commissioners tackle busy agenda

During the Sept. 14 meeting of Haskell County Commissioner's Court, it was decided that the County Library will have work done by the County to repair the leak in the Library water well.

Pct. 1 reported that the fence around the Courthouse elevator in the basement is completed.

A public forum on Mental Health and Mental Retardation was announced for Sept. 29 at the MHMR Clubhouse, at 6:30 to 7:30 p.m.

County Clerk Rhonda Moeller reported that the total cost to restore and preserve older records will be $11,800.00.

Fritz Buerger was appointed to start work Oct. 1 in Pct. 1.

In requesting the Court to help with police protection funds or personnel, Bob Easterlin of Rochester said that help with the police car allowance would be appreciated. Rod Townsend said that Rochester needed a policeman who can respond in a timely manner. Rochester pays $750.00 monthly plus a $100.00 gas allowance to Greg Hearn for part-time police and night watchman services. Hearn goes out of city limits for many emergency calls, Townsend said. The matter was put on the next meeting's agenda, to give time for the Court to decide on taking any possible action.

The Interlocal Agreement with MHMR was approved.

With no Republicans available to serve as election judges, Alternate Election Judges named were: Box 1, Charles Swenson; Box 4, Peggy Middlebrook; Box 8, Linda Adams.

Feb. 19 was proclaimed by the Court as State of Texas Anniversary Remembrance Day.

Juvenile contracts with Garza and Taylor Counties were signed by the Court.

Jobs posted

The Texas Dept. of Human Services Texas Works Staff posts available jobs for employers and job openings for employees. Those who are looking for a job or those who need employees may call 864-2694 in Haskell or drop by the office at 420 N. First for more information.

Pirates lose to Trent in double overtime

When regulation play of the Paint Creek vs Trent game, Fri. ended in a 20-20 tie, it took two overtimes to determine a winner in the close Paint Creek loss to Trent.

The Paint Creek Pirates rallied to tie the Trent Gorillas at the end of regulation play Fri. night before falling 26-28 in the double overtime.

Trent's Albert Booker scored twice on runs of 40 yards and five yards to place the Gorillas ahead at 14-0 in the first quarter.

Pirates scoring in the second quarter on a three yard run by Hegan Lamb brought the score to 8-14 at halftime.

Booker scored again for Trent in the 3rd quarter, bringing them to 20 to 8. The Pirates rallied late in the 4th quarter to tie the game with time running out. One TD went to Eric Hearn on a 30 yard pass reception, and the other TD was scored by Hegan Lamb on a three yard dive.

Both teams scored in the second overtime; Trent on a 10 yard run by Rusty Brown, and Paint Creek on a one yard run by Jodie Reel.

The Gorilla point after touchdown was good, and the Pirates point after TD was blocked, ending the game, Trent 28, Paint Creek, 26.

Study Club hears Mesquite District officers speak

The first meeting of the new year, "Focusing on Club Membership" for the Progressive Study Club was called to order by President Frances Lane, Sept. 10 at the Haskell National Bank Community Building.

Lane welcomed members and visitors and introduced the new program them, "Accepting the Challenge - Focusing on Results." She explained that the club would be focusing on membership, youth, education, music, art, history and the future. She extended a special welcome to Lorea Kays and Brenda Butler from Moran.

Nancy Toliver introduced Lorea Kays, Mesquite District President. Kays and her husband have returned to Moran upon retirement, after working in the El Paso area for 35 years. Toliver said that she had brought back with her the skill of office management, having been the office manager in medical records for an orthopedic surgeon. Kays writes the Mesquite District Newsletter and is active in community and church work.

Kays expressed her appreciation to the club and shared some insights on Federation, which is actually volunteerism. She stated that the General Federation of Women's Club is the largest volunteer organization in the world today, with approximately two hundred fifty thousand members, teen to retired, in more than twenty countries.

Kays reported that the GFWC is responsible for establishing 75% of American libraries. GFWC had the first endorsement supporting equal rights and responsibilities for women in 1944. The Federation also supported the 8 hour work day and the passage of the child labor laws; put flags, hot lunches and sanitary rest rooms in public schools; backed traffic safety legislature and drivers education; and promoted women's health in cancer and osteoporosis.

Kays predicts exciting times for the General and Texas Federation as we enter the new millennium and look for new ways to solve old problems and old ways to solve new problems. We will be focusing on youth, women's health, the 3R program and the continuing Library 2000 projects.

Kays then introduced Brenda Butler, Mesquite District second vice president.

Butler stressed the TFWC need for new memberships and a need for additional women and junior clubs. She said members learn from projects, speakers and helping others. She assured members and guests that club work is not a waste of time, but is meaningful and that everyone should be proud to display a federation membership card. She announced there would be a Mesquite District Board Meeting in Rochester on Oct. 10 and urged everyone to attend.

Second vice president, Dorothy Hartsfield, reminded everyone of work duties and tickets to sell for the Spaghetti Supper to be held on Oct. 16.

Lane presented each lady a bookmark with the quote, "Nothing left loose ever does anything creative—No life ever grows until it is—focused, dedicated, disciplined."

After refreshments were served to thirty-one members and nine guests, the meeting was called back into session. The motion was made and carried to vote on the prospective members. Billie

McKeever, Christye Gannaway, Shirley Reed, Julia Harrell, Linda Lane Bloise, Eunice Koehler and

Deborah Ottoway were accepted for membership.

Garden Club learns secrets of growing cacti

The Haskell Garden Club met Sept. 8 at the Haskell Bank Community Room.

The president, Marion Carlile, conducted a short business meeting. The new yearbooks were passed out and admired by all.

Many good programs have been planned for the year.

The guest for the program was Samuel Kirkman, manager for Lowes garden dept. in Abilene. He discussed the planting, growing and care for the cacti.

The cacti was grown and admired as the newest thing in England, Africa and South America several years ago.

Ladies, if you are interested in gardening and want to know how to grow beautiful flowers, come and join our club. We also arrange flowers in their proper way to be admired.

For our next meeting a guest artist from Stamford will demonstrate wreath making and also using dried flowers in arrangements.

Guests are always welcome. Please come and enjoy the meetings with us.

Our next meeting will be Oct. 28 at 2 o'clock at the bank building.

Simmons reunion held

On Sun., Sept. 6 the descendants of J. J. and Alice Simmons held their annual family reunion in the Haskell National Bank Community Room.

Family members attending were: Roy Simmons of Houston; Milton Simmons of Knox City; Delma Howell and Lela May Pack of Knox City; Wallace Aycock, Janice Smith, Brandon Isbell, Timmy Wilson, James and Johny Wilson all of Haskell; Ray Howell of Abilene; Dickie, Larry and Alice Aycock of San Antonio; Wayne, Sissy and Jessica Jackson of Breckenridge; Corky and Cody Murdoch of Gainesville; Ima Jean Aycock, Debbie and Candace Brister and B. J. Opshal all of Haskell; Stella Story of Breckenridge; Delton, Janice, Clay and Mary Francis of Perrin; Suzy, Emily Ann and Katie Pack of Odessa and Linda Burks of Lancaster.

Everyone enjoyed the food, games and visiting. Another reunion is planned for Sept. of 1999.

Cindy Guess presents Weinert FCE Club program

The Weinert FCE Club met Sept. 1. President Alice Yates called the meeting to order in the Extension Office Kitchen.

Myrtle Therwhanger, hostess, gave a reading titled "Forward Thinking."

Roll call was answered by members telling the last time they visited in a friend's home.

The Council report was given by Alice Yates who stated that Information Day would be Sept. 20. The State Convention is Sept. 15-17 in Corpus Christi. Kathryn Schonertedt is a delegate from the Weinert Club.

Cindy Guess, RN and administrator for The Health Center, presented an excellent and informative program. Guess stated patients who receive care at home recover faster and live longer. A typical home health visit costs one-tenth of what an average day in the hospital cost. Services are covered by Medicare, Medicaid, private insurance and personal financing may be required for some services. There is no age limit on home health care. The patient must have medical needs that can be managed outside of a hospital setting and be under the care of a physician.

Attending were Cindy Guess, guest, Cordie Cunningham, Erma Liles, Estalynn Liles, Myrtle Therwhanger, Henrietta Rueffer, Kathryn Schonertedt and Alice Yates.

Daughters of the Republic of Texas present program

The Haskell Co. Historical and Genealogical Society met Sept. 7 with sixteen members present.

Mrs. Mary Lambert and Mrs. Lynn Little presented a program about the activities of the Daughters of the Republic of Texas.

The DRT manages the Alamo, museum and gift shop and the former French Embassy, all in San Antonio; and The Cradle in Galveston.

The DRT presents programs about Texas History to schools.

After the program, a short business meeting was held.

Doc Letz celebrates birthday

Walter and Marie Kretschmer hosted a 94th birthday lunch on Thurs., Sept. 3 for Alfred "Doc" Letz, Marie's dad.

Dining with them were Doc's brother and sister-in-law, Adolph and Ethyl Letz and Doc's grandson and his wife, Don and Julie Kretschmer. Also dropping in for a visit were Lisbon and Farris Letz, Doc's son and daughter-in-law.

Doc is a resident of Aspermont, having formerly lived in Old Glory and Sagerton.

Art Club discusses activities for new year

The Brazos West Art Association met Sept. 7 at the Haskell National Bank community room. There was not a guest artist for the evening. Members were asked to bring a dish of food or snacks and a delicious dinner was enjoyed by all.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Martha Spitzer. The mural was discussed and also artists for the coming year who will be guests at our meetings. The new year books were passed out.

Each member had been asked to bring vacation photographs or scenes of artistic interests that they would enjoy painting. Everyone enjoyed looking at the scenes.

Hostesses were Martha Spitzer and Betty Berry.

Those present were: Clara Gholson, Jeanie Lyckman, Dorothy Brown, Betty Berry, Martha Spitzer, Ruth Ann Klose, Doris Reeves Jordan and Fern Livengood.

Anyone interested in art is welcome to come to the community room and enjoy the meeting and paint along with us. We have a great selection of artists coming for the programs.

Food for thought

Let the word of Christ richly dwell within you, with all wisdom, teaching and admonishing one another with psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing with thankfulness in your hearts to God (Colossians 3:16).

Music is second only to television in influencing and shaping the values of children. How can you help your kids recognize the subtle seduction to evil in some contemporary music and encourage them to make wise choices about what they listen to? Here are some practical suggestions.

Avoid the "do as I say, not as I do" syndrome. Before you can help your child evaluate his music, you'd better evaluate your own.

How can you say to your brother, "Let me take the speck out of your eye," when all the time there is a plank in your own eye? You hypocrite, first take the plank out of your own eye and then you will see clearly to remove the speck from your brother's eye (Matthew 7:4-5).

The lyrics of some soft rock, easy listening and country-western tunes are as suggestive and immoral as those performed by heavy metal groups. One of the best ways to teach your child to avoid harmful lyrics is by modeling the same behavior.

Be willing to find middle ground. Your personal taste in music should not be the determining factor for what you allow your children to listen to. Nor should your child's taste determine what you listen to. Try to find some middle ground with your child when it comes to the kinds of music you will allow in your home. The key is to teach your child to be moderate and discerning, just as you are.

Stay informed and involved. When was the last time you looked through your child's music collection or sat down with him to listen to and discuss the lyrics of his favorite songs? You won't be able to understand the impact of the music in his life unless you are aware of it and what he thinks about it.

Take time to listen to your children's emotional struggles and notice how the music they listen to influences their behavior. Be as encouraging about their good choices of music as you are corrective of the bad choices. Someday they will thank you for the harmony you helped bring to their lives.

Guide me, Father, as I train my children to choose music and entertainment that is positive and uplifting.

HIGHLIGHTS

By Ed Sterling
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

State Capital

AUSTIN — "Increasingly minority" and "increasingly poor" are adjectives the Texas Education Agency used in its report released last week describing Texas' public school population.

Minority and poor students also are increasingly moving out of urban, inner-city schools and into predominantly white suburban school districts, the report showed.

"That really caught our eye," agency spokeswoman Debbie Graves Ratcliffe told the Austin American-Statesman.

"I think it may be that more minorities are entering the middle class and following the middle class to the suburbs."

During the 1997-98 school year, the number of minority (African American, Hispanic and Asian) students made up 55 percent of the 3.9 million Texas public school students, the eighth consecutive year minorities comprised 50 percent or more of all public school students.

The number of minority school students also is growing at a rate eight times faster than that for white students, the report said.

But the growth rate that stands out the most in Texas is that of economically disadvantaged students, which at 65 percent is the most of any population group tracked in the report.

Economically disadvantaged students now account for 48 percent of all Texas public school students, compared to 35 percent in 1987-88.

Students are classified as economically disadvantaged if they are eligible for U.S. Department of Agriculture meal programs offered at schools, through which children from low-income families receive free or low-cost breakfasts and lunches.

Bomer OKs Code Changes

Texas Insurance Commissioner Elton Bomer has adopted, on an emergency basis, a citizen advisory committee's recommended changes in the state's new coastal building code for windstorm resistant construction.

Without Bomer's emergency action, changes in the code likely would take 60 to 90 days because of public notice and public hearing requirements.

Bomer said he planned to follow those requirements and consider permanent adoption of code changes that would:

■ Increase eave-to-eave roof span of one and two-story buildings from 36 to 48 feet.

■ Allow builders to connect building components, such as wall studs, top plates and sole plates with plywood sheathing, appropriately nailed to assure resistance to uplift from hurricane-force winds.

■ Add new provisions giving builders guidance on the design of recessed front entryways.

New homes built to the new code will qualify for Texas Windstorm Insurance Association wind and hail insurance premium discounts to be set by Bomer.

Agencies Issue Lens Alert

Four state agencies last week issued a joint warning about possible health risks associated with medically unsupervised use of cosmetic contact lenses.

After receiving about a dozen reports of eye infections and injuries, the Texas Department of Health, Texas State Board of Medical Examiners, Texas Optometry Board and Texas attorney general said risks of using unprescribed lenses include bacterial infection, allergic reaction to the lens coating, insufficient oxygen to the cornea, abrasions and corneal ulcers.

The colored and patterned non-corrective fashion lenses, frequently sold by businesses unlicensed to distribute them or through classified advertising in school newspapers and free community publications, often are targeted to junior high and high school students.

Also, the Texas Department of Health said, the sharing or trading of contact lenses can cause serious viral or bacterial infections.

Other Capital Highlights

■ With the voluntary assistance of Texas newspaper publishers, Texas Secretary of State Alberto Gonzales is conducting an essay contest in which school children will write on the topic, "Why My Parents Should Vote." Winning entries will be published in newspapers and displayed at the state Capitol. On Sept. 8, Gonzales certified the ballot for the Nov. 3 general election.

■ The Texas Department of Insurance reports that the state's 20 biggest automobile insurers are charging just 2.7 percent more than insurance department benchmarks established to keep rates reasonable. State law permits insurance companies to charge rates 30 percent higher or lower than a benchmark the state considers reasonable.

■ Over a 78-hour Labor Day weekend reporting period, traffic accidents on Texas roads claimed the lives of 29 people, the Department of Public Safety reported.

From The Inside Out

By Mary Kaigler

There can be no doubt in any West Texan's mind that football is and has been one of the most important traditions of our times. During the season nothing else occupies so much community-wide attention and interest as does this game. No other aspect of our schools' academic or sports activity is afforded so much enthusiasm and emphasis by young and old alike.

Schoolboy football. It is tradition at its best, and Texans love it. On any given Friday night, the blaze of stadium lights dots the dark skies all the way from the top of the panhandle down, and strings of headlights of loyal fans returning home line the late night highways. And this is not a new phenomena.

Ty Cashion, a history professor at Texas A&M-Commerce, author of a book recently released by the Texas Historical Association, said, "I think that when people look back at the twentieth century, they'll realize that high school football really was one of the identifying institutions of our times." And because the game was so important, so were its coaches; men who had a tremendous influence on several generations of Texans who played the game.

In Pigskin Pulpit: A Social History of Texas High School Football Coaches, Cashion traces the development of the coaching profession alongside the game itself, explaining how high school football has woven itself so tightly into the fabric of Texas Culture.

Based on extensive interviews, mostly with old-time coaches whose careers began between the 1930s and 1950s, the book takes a largely positive look at a unique breed of men whose own values were nurtured in the common experience of traditions of Texas culture, economic depression, and time of war. Of interest to those who can remember such coaches as Paul Tyson, who built a powerhouse at Waco in the 1920's, or Joe Golding, whose Wichita Falls Coyotes were the scourge of West Texas in the 1950s, or Jack Whitley, who played with the Masonic Home "Mighty Mites" and returned to Masonic Home as a coach, the book also goes all the way back to the days of leather helmets, when schoolboys sometimes played in cow pastures and rodeo arenas.

Among those interviewed in the book were former Haskell coaches Ray Overton and Carlos Berry.

Berry was coach for a short time here before going on to other schools in 1963.

A Haskell County native, Ray Overton's 45 year coaching career included one year at Paint Creek, 15 years at Haskell, 19 years at Abilene Cooper and a long time at Irving MacArthur.

David Middleton, a Haskell coach who not only remembers the experience and pleasure of playing football here under Coach Overton, but also of later coaching here with Overton, can also remember some of the glory years and growth pains of high school football, both here and at other places. With great respect for Overton's ability, character and influence as a model for young athletes, Middleton said that Overton was always a fine, Christian man who lived his belief. "He even taught our Methodist youth Sunday School class," he said.

When coach Middleton went to Abilene High School as a coach in 1966, Overton, the coach at Cooper

High School by then, was his cross-town rival.

Historian/writer Ty Cashion commented on why he tackled such a project as writing Pigskin Pulpit. "It just seemed like anytime you read something good about football or coaches, it's always about the big games and the great players. You get any deeper, and it's always to reveal the dark side."

Bum Phillips, former Houston Oilers coach, who started out at Nederland High School in Southeast Texas, echoed that thought in the foreword which he wrote for the book. "Only in the high school ranks did I truly feel pressure from the community to juggle the demands of winning with the responsibility of keeping sight of the kids who played the game," he said. "From high school to the pros, the men I have known and admired have balanced those demands. But it's the high school coach who is in the toughest spot. He's got to win, but he also has to keep the kid number one. It's a tricky job and one that most coaches do very well."

Anyone observing the way a community's passion for winning and pride are wrapped up in and identified with the game, realizes that it is indeed a "tricky job" and juggling act for any coach, working as they must with players, parents and patrons of the game. But most coaches wouldn't change jobs with anyone.

For them and for the rest of us, football is an integral part of our Texas culture, and it's here to stay. As Vince Lombardi said in a 1962 interview, "Winning isn't everything, but wanting to win is." Most of us seem to agree with that point of view.

Sagerton News

By Dorothy M. Clark

Many local farm families are singing the old Hee Haw song, "Gloom, Despair and Agony on Me" as their fields of cotton are shredded and plowed under due to the prolonged drought and infestation of bugs and worms. Then, as usual, for farmers, they look forward to "next year" when crops might be better. It is indeed sad when you work hard plowing, planting and working the land and then fail to harvest an abundant yield. We thought Sunday morning that the rain was coming in, but by afternoon it seemed to have passed us by again.

On the brighter side of news for our community, we are reminded of the "big day" at Faith Lutheran next Sunday, Sept. 20. During the worship service at 10:30 a.m. Thomas Zell will be baptized and after the worship the Zells are having an open house at the parsonage with food and drinks provided. The open house will be from 11:30 to 2:00 p.m. Everyone is invited to both events.

Family members of the late Bruno and Hilda Kupatt met recently for a reunion held at the Clarion Motel in Abilene. Leslie Kupatt of Sagerton was in charge of arrangements. Family members present included Marie and Dale Curry of San Antonio, Frances and Cleo Atha and Donna and John Norris of Austin, Pat and B. H. Spaw, Shelia and Eldon Schoolcraft, Cooper and Nicole, Deanne, Russel and Todd Edwards and Shara Spaw all of Midland, Karla Kupatt and Lacy Williams of Stamford, Kris Kupatt and Jaydee Kaye MacGregor of Hamlin and Sagertonites, J. D. and Meta Kupatt, Johnny and Jacob Manske, Billie Kupatt, Leslie, Kraig, Kortney and Kymbre Kupatt. They all visited Fred Kupatt who is a patient in Abilene Regional Hospital.

Weekend visitors in the home of Mary Neinast for Labor Day and dove hunting were Kenneth and Betsy Neinast of Emory, Roy, Judy and Dustin McEwen of Anson and Gary and Doris Muegge of Ft. Worth. James Gellner joined them for lunch on Sunday.

The ladies monthly breakfast hosted by Frances Clark, Joyce LeFevre and Odene Dudensing was held at the community center last Wednesday morning with the following ladies present: Anita Dozier, Berniece White, Hazel Letz, Berniece Rhoads and Beunice Vahlenkamp of Old Glory, Clara Gholson of Rochester, Florene Williams from California, Mary Neinast, Helen Lehrmann, Dorothy Clark, Wilma, Leona Letz, Peggy Tabor and Yvonne Swofford. Mrs. Williams is a cousin of Leona Letz and has been visiting in the Letz home for two weeks.

The Hobby Club met at the community center last Thursday for their regular meeting and worked on their quilt for the Fall Bazaar that will be held November 7. Hostess for the day was Peggy Tabor. Members attending were Dorothy Toney, Joyce LeFevre, Jo Brown, Margaret Wendeborn, Christine Stremmel, Ev Ulmer, Wilma Teichelman, Yvonne Swofford, Mary Neinast and Margie Hertel.

Joe and Dorothy Clark, Delbert and Joyce LeFevre and Charles and Dorothy Clark attended the customer appreciation dinner at Rule Saturday night hosted by Helen Allison and Santos Baiza of Allison Farm Supply. Following the sumptuous meal, there was musical entertainment and drawings for door prizes.

Marie Kupatt Curry of San Antonio was honored with a surprise birthday party at the recent Kupatt family reunion held in Abilene. Festive decorations, gifts and cards made for a very special day for "Aunt Marie."

Frances Clark had lunch Sunday with Lottie Bell Parks in Paducah.

This Week's Devotional Message:

FAITH TEACHES US TO TRUST GOD INSTEAD OF MAN

Many of us have had the unpleasant experience of depending too heavily on someone for help, with the result that the person whom we had trusted failed us at the crucial moment. Although the vast majority of people will accept a responsibility with the best intentions, they often become the victims of faulty memory, an overcrowded schedule, illness, financial or other difficulties of their own, or any number of unforeseen circumstances that prevent them from giving us the help we had counted on. In Church, you will learn to place an ever-increasing reliance on God rather than man for every kind of help, including the guidance you need in order to find your own solutions to many problems. You can depend on that.

PLANNING

Written By
James E. Rodgers, CPA

HIRING YOUR KIDS CALLS FOR PLANNING

Many entrepreneurs dream of bringing their children into the family business. They picture themselves guiding their children's growth and passing along their knowledge and experience, until one day, they are ready to transfer the reins. But all too often the dream turns bad. The reality can be family turmoil, shattered employee morale, and a damaged company.

Does this description sound extreme? Professionals who work with business owners hear variations of this story all the time, usually after the damage has been done. One child might have interest in the family business. Another might have the interest but lack the discipline or ability. Here are some ways to avoid the most common pitfalls:

- Before hiring your children, discuss your work with them often. If their eyes glaze over whenever you raise the subject, perhaps they should be allowed to pursue other interests.
- Encourage your children to finish their education first, and allow them to work outside the company for at least a couple of years. When you finally do hire them, they'll come with experience, discipline, and realistic expectations.
- Don't try to supervise family members yourself. Instead, have them work under capable non-family managers.
- Ensure that your children are supervised, evaluated, and compensated as though they were unrelated employees in comparable jobs. Demanding more or paying them less than their position calls for is likely to discourage them and incur their resentment. Demanding less or paying them too much will incur the resentment of other employees.

Remember, your objective is not only to keep the business in the family but to ensure that your company continues to thrive. Call if you would like help reaching these goals. We can work with you to find a solution tailored to your business and family situation.

First Baptist revival to be held Sept. 20-23

"Celebrate Jesus" is the theme of a Fall Revival planned by the First Baptist Church of Haskell, Sept. 20-23.

The Evangelist will be John Karl Davis of the Glenview Baptist Church-Fellowship of Praise of Fort Worth. Working in full evangelism for seventeen years, Davis is a graduate of Oklahoma Baptist University. He attended Southwestern Baptist Seminary for three years and is presently working on a Master of Divinity in Pastoral Counseling at Trinity Seminary.

Ford Cole of Haskell will be the revival singer.

Sunday services will be at the regular times, morning and evening (6:00 p.m.). Services Mon. through Wed., will be at 12:00 noon and 7:00 p.m.

Special services planned are: Youth night Pizza, Sun. 5:00 p.m. Children Pizza, Mon. 6:00 p.m. (grades 1-6).

"Celebrate Jesus" night, Tues., 7:00 p.m. (John Karl Davis will sing).

"Giving Hope to the Family" night, Wed., 7:00 p.m.

Griffith named Rehab Round-up Chairman

Dan Griffith has been named the Chairman for West Texas Rehabilitation Center's 1998 Cattlemen's Round-Up from Haskell county. Cattlemen's Round-Up is a program through which folks donate cattle, sheep, goats, horses, cash, or handmade items to be sold at special auctions during September and October. (Even an occasional pen of ducks, chickens, or geese makes its way into the auction ring.) Abilene Livestock Auction will host a sale on Sept. 29, beginning at 1:00 p.m.

Proceeds from these sales help West Texas Rehabilitation Center provide outpatient services to more than 17,000 disabled children and adults each year. Last year 23 persons from Haskell County were served at the Rehab Center and 58 were seen in the first seven months of this year.

The first Round-Up event is in San Angelo on Sept. 17, followed by sales at Coleman on Oct. 7; Stephenville, Oct. 14; Eastland, Oct. 20; and Junction on Oct. 26.

Federal Land Bank Association and Texas Production Credit and Rolling Plains Production Credit Associations are $10,000 underwriters for the Round-Up and Wrangler has added a $5,000 contribution to the effort.

Approximately 150 Cattlemen's Round-Up volunteers, including Big Country Chairman Mike Alexander of Abilene, Concho Valley Chairman Carter Behrens of San Angelo and Honorary National Chairman Rex Allen, join volunteers from Haskell County. They are assisting this 39th annual Round-Up by promoting sales and asking their neighbors to join them in donating to this year's drive.

Although the focus is in Sept. and Oct., Cattlemen's Round-Up is a year-round program. Most auction barns are willing to cut a check to the Rehab Center any time an animal is sold.

Persons wanting to donate livestock or those needing to arrange for hauling of animals may contact the Rehab Center, (915) 793-3509 or 793-3512. Dan Griffith at (915) 773-3863 would love to hear from you.

Water testing available

The Seymour Aquifer Project office will be sponsoring free water tests for bacteria on Sept. 29 and 30. Project employees will come to your home to take the sample or you can pick up a water sample container at 900 South Ave. E in Haskell before Sept. 29.

Water samples from the area tested for bacteria in March 1997 and in May 1998 showed about 20 percent of the wells had some bacteria present.

If you are interested in having your well tested for bacterial contamination please call the Seymour Aquifer Project office at (940) 864-3334 or 864-3583.

All deadlines are 5 p.m. on Monday.

City Council approves joining coalition

At the regular meeting of the City Council, Mon., Florence Peden of the Experienced Citizen's Center made an appeal to the City for financial assistance for the Center. The request was tabled for two weeks, pending further budget study by the City.

Also tabled was the approval of appointments to the zoning board.

Monty Montgomery, executive director of the EDC presented a report on the request being made to the Texas Department of Criminal Justice to obtain an Intermediate Sanction Facility for Haskell. The Council gave the City's approval for the Public Hearing on the matter scheduled to be held Oct. 6.

Approval was given by the City to raise the travel rate from .275 to .325, bringing it up to the state rate.

Following the report of city administrator, Sam Watson, the Council members adjourned to an executive session. No further business was considered after returning to open session.

In an update of reporting on the agenda of the City Council meeting of Aug. 24, an approval has been given by the City to join a coalition of cities served by West Texas Utilities in intervening in the Public Utilities Commission, PUC Docket 19265.

Central and South West Corporation, parent company of WTU, has proposed to merge with America Electric Power and has requested approval of such merger and various rate making items from the Public Utility Commission of Texas.
