Experienced older workers sought in Haskell

OLDER WORKERS HONORED—Lona Mae Phelps, Senior Community Service Employment Program employee at the Haskell County Extension Office and Bobbie Hendricks, employee at Experienced

Sept. 19-25 is National Employ the Older Worker Week, and it's a perfect time for seniors who are in need of extra income to consider getting the training they need to get a job.

In Texas, Experience Works, the country's largest provider of mature-worker training and employment, is currently recruiting individuals age 55 and older, with limited income, who want to learn new skills, gain job experience, and ultimately work full or part-time in their local communities. Through the Senior Community Service Employment Program (SCSEP), Experience Works collaborates with nonprofit organizations and communities to provide paid work experience, training and job-placement services to seniors in local communities.

Locally, under the program, Bobbie Hendricks is employed at the Experienced Citizens Center, and Lona Mae Phelps is on the SCSEP program, working in the Haskell County Extension Office. They were recently recognized and honored for their service.

Haskell County is needing more such workers, and new applicants are being actively sought for Haskell County, said Janice Boase, field operations assistant for Experience Works. For more information about the program and its services, she may be contacted at 940-549-6363.

Rule minister to be honored for 40 years of service

Next year when the Rule Church of Christ celebrates its 100th anniversary, John Greeson will have been its minister for 41 of the 100 years.

This year on Sun., Oct. 9, in appreciation and recognition of his contribution to the church and to the community during the last 40 years, he will be honored with a special day and reception by Rule Church of Christ. That evening, the Greesons will host an open house to say thanks to the people of Rule.

John and Orheana Greeson came to Rule Oct. 8, 1965 from Ropesville, where he had been preaching. Finding Rule to be a good, friendly place to them, they raised three children there, and as well as ministering to his church, he and Orheana became involved contributors in all aspects of the community.

Their daughter, Vicki Hoffman, and husband, operate Amera Travel Agency in Midland. Son Leon and wife Darla live in Odessa, where he is the offensive coordinator at Permian High School. Daughter Leigh Ann is a teacher at Stamford. All of them went through the Rule school system, and say they are very proud of what it has meant to them.

Amassing a full 40-year calendar of community involvement, John Greeson drove a Rule school bus route for 23 years, kept the basketball clock for 36 years, became involved with the Little League, filmed football games and refereed jr. high games. Two years ago he began going to the Regional Jail and Detention Center in Haskell on Sunday afternoons, speaking to about 30 inmates.

For 30 years the minister has worked in youth camps in Oklahoma, and for the last 10 years he has helped with a camp for older people at Madill, Okla. Through the years he has provided help for people in crisis, even to letting them sleep in the church building if needed.

Orheana Greeson, who serves as secretary of the Rule Chamber of Commerce, has been a long time teacher of young people and served as a substitute teacher at school. She was a member and served as president of the Philadelphia Club before it was disbanded.

"We are grateful to the people of Rule," the minister said. "They have been good to us. From the very start we were welcomed here."

Of his unusual number of years in serving with one congregation, John Greeson says two things were involved. "First, we loved the people. Second, they loved us," he said.

Full Moon Names

Q: You hear the term 'harvest moon' and 'hunter's moon.' What exactly do they mean?

A: Naming full moons goes back to early American days when the Indians—mainly the Algonquin tribes of New England—tried to describe the full moons of their day, says Brent McRoberts of Texas A&M University.

"Many of these names were either weather related or tied in with seasonal conditions of the time," he explains. "For example, a 'harvest moon' is the full moon that usually occurs in September, when the moon is so bright that that farmers could work late into the night. A 'hunter's moon' was usually in October, when the deer were their fattest, leaves were turning color and the temperatures were getting quite chilly."

Q: What were the names of other moons?

A: When the snows were deep in January, wolf packs would often howl near Indian villages, prompting the 'full wolf moon,' the first full moon in January, McRoberts adds.

"Also, February is usually the heaviest snowfall month, and the first full moon then was called the 'full snow moon,' he says. "And Indians loved strawberries, so the first full moon in June was known as the 'full strawberry moon.' May was when flowers were in full bloom, so the first full moon was known as the 'full flower moon.' In all, there were almost 30 names for full moons in early American days."

September sales tax receipts show little change for county

Texas Comptroller Carole Keeton Strayhorn has announced that the state collected $1.49 billion in sales in August, up 4.4 percent compared to a year ago. And when the state's 2005 fiscal year ended August 31, sales tax collections were 5.8 percent higher than in FY 04, contributing to a $1.2 billion revenue surplus for fiscal 2005.

Sept. 2, after closing the books on the biennium, Strayhorn asked the governor to convene a three day special session of the Legislature to appropriate the necessary funds to assist Texas education, security, health care and human service providers who are helping Hurricane Katrina evacuees.

"While we can not count on the federal government to do what it can in Texas, the feds are not going to pay for us to hire more police, and they are not going to pay for us to bring in more teachers to educate the thousands of new children enrolling in our already stretched local schools.

"The need is here. The resources are here. We need to act now to provide relief to our Texas communities," Strayhorn said.

Strayhorn delivered $358 million in September sales tax payments to local governments, a 9.3 percent increase compared to September 2004. So far this calendar year, local sales tax allocations are up 7.5 percent compared to the same period in 2004. September's sales tax allocations include local sales taxes collected in July and reported to the Comptroller in August.

Strayhorn sent September sales tax allocations of $244.6 million to Texas cities, up 10 percent compared to September 2004. Calendar year-to-date, city sales tax rebates are running 7.8 percent higher than last year. Texas counties received September sales tax allocations of $20.6 million, up 6.4 percent compared to a year ago. Calendar year-to-date, county sales tax allocations are 8.6 percent higher than last year.

Another $10 million went to 99 special purpose taxing districts around the state, an increase of 10.5 percent compared to a year ago. So far this calendar year, sales tax allocations to special purpose districts are up 12.1 percent compared to 2004. Ten Texas transit systems received $82.7 million in September sales tax payments, up 8.2 percent compared to a year ago. Year-to-date, transit sales tax revenues are up 5.9 percent.

Haskell County had a 2.56 percent decrease for September, 2005 of $29,357.76 in comparison to $30,130.66 for September, 2004. 2005 payments to date of $296,033.43 reflect a 9.62 percent increase over 2004 payments to date of $270,049.37.

The City of Haskell had a 3.81 percent decrease for September, 2005 of $27,185.74 in comparison to $28,264.63 for September, 2004. 2005 payments to date of $274,852.69 reflect a 9.93 percent increase over 2004 payments to date of $250,013.59.

The City of O'Brien had a 10.70 percent decrease for September, 2005 of $21.44 in comparison to $24.01 for September, 2004. 2005 payments to date of $453.94 reflect a 40.85 percent decrease over 2004 payments to date of $767.56.

The City of Rochester had a 23.86 percent increase for September, 2005 of $626.73 in comparison to $505.97 for September, 2004. 2005 payments to date of $5,894.83 reflect a .23 percent increase over 2004 payments to date of $5,881.12.

Orange peel has new use

by Jane Rowan
CEA/FCS, Haskell County

When oranges are processed into juice, the peels are simply thrown away. But USDA researchers have discovered a new, valuable use for orange-peel waste.

Flavonoids found to decrease levels of low-density lipoprotein, or LDLs, are highly-concentrated in the residue of orange peels. By decreasing LDLs, the carriers of cholesterol in the blood, "orange oil" residue can help prevent clogged arteries, atherosclerosis, heart attacks, and strokes.

Category 3 Hurricane Rita slams Texas-Louisiana border

AUSTIN—Up to 3 million people fled from coastal areas as Hurricane Rita lumbered steadily through the Gulf of Mexico toward the Lone Star State, Sept. 19-23.

Rita struck Saturday morning, Sept. 24, making landfall at Sabine Pass near the Louisiana border. The storm's 100-mph winds and torrential rains ripped buildings, downed powerlines and flooded homes and other property.

Some storm damage estimates reached $20 billion. Hardest hit were Jefferson, Orange, Jasper and Newton counties, but damage assessments are still in progress.

In advance of the storm, Gov. Rick Perry recalled the Texas National Guard and other state emergency teams deployed out of state in response to Hurricane Katrina, which struck Aug. 29.

Coastal county dwellers and Galveston Islanders in particular packed up and headed inland after Perry called for voluntary evacuation on Sept. 21.

On Sept. 22, President George W. Bush declared a state of emergency for all of Texas, and mandatory evacuation orders were issued.

Evacuees joined snail-like highway processions toward the interior of Texas and beyond.

Relief agencies converted school gymnasiums into shelters. Officials canceled, postponed or rescheduled high school football games and community activities.

Stores sold out of bottled water; hotels and motels filled up; and inland kin and friends took in their coastal kin and friends.

Attorney General Greg Abbott said his attorneys and investigators stood ready to lower the boom on unscrupulous businesses, con artists and bogus charity workers who exploit victims and others.

Lawmakers to leave or shuffle

Certain members of the Texas Legislature have signified their intent not to run for re-election in 2006.

Those include Reps. Peggy Hamric, R-Houston, Suzanna Hupp, R-Lampasas, Bob Griggs, R-North Richland Hills, Terry Keel, R-Austin, Joe Nixon, R-Houston, Richard Raymond, D-Laredo, and Jim Solis, D-Harlingen.

Three members of the Texas Senate also will not return after their present terms expire. Those include Sens. Todd Staples, R-Palestine, Gonzalo Barrientos, D-Austin, and John Lindsay, R-Houston.

Raymond has announced that he will challenge Henry Cuellar, an incumbent Democrat, for U.S. Congressional District 28.

Hamric and Nixon expect to compete in the GOP primary for Lindsay's Senate seat; Keel plans to run for a seat on the state's 3rd Court of Appeals; and Staples is running for commissioner of agriculture.

Sharp to head tax reform panel

Gov. Perry announced his intention to appoint a bipartisan panel to pick apart the state's tax system and find areas that could benefit from reform.

Perry, a Republican, asked former state comptroller John Sharp, a Democrat, to chair the panel. Sharp accepted. The panel will travel around the state to collect input from a broad spectrum of Texans.

School funding ruling anticipated

The Texas Supreme Court had not ruled as of Sept. 23 on the state's appeal of a lawsuit by more than 300 school districts that claim the state's way of funding public education is unconstitutional.

A year ago, a lower court ruling found in favor of the plaintiffs. When the state Legislature failed to solve school funding and the related issue of property tax reform, the state appealed. Oral arguments were heard July 6.

Anti-violence grants awarded

Gov. Perry announced $6.8 million in grants to combat violent crimes against women and to render services to victims.

The grants will go to 100 programs across Texas under the STOP Violence Against Women Act and will be distributed by the governor's criminal justice division.

Big Tex expects big draw at Fair

The 2005 State Fair of Texas will open Sept. 30 at historic Fair Park in Dallas.

More than 3 million people are expected to attend the extravaganza that will continue through Oct. 23. Exhibit hours are 10 a.m. until 10 p.m. daily.

Kickoff for the Texas-OU football game is scheduled for noon on Oct. 8.

Beware of Mortgage Payoff Scammers

You can save money by paying off your mortgage early—and you do not have to pay anyone to help you do this. Don't lose money to a scammer.

Check with your mortgage company to see how best to pay your loan off faster and save money. You may be able to pay every two weeks instead of every month or to pay more than your monthly payment each month. Some mortgage companies will charge a fee for this service, but many will allow you to prepay at no extra charge.

If someone other than your mortgage company tries to get you to pay them money or make your mortgage payments to them instead of to your mortgage company—don't do it. It will cost you extra money—and if they don't make the payments as they promised, you could lose your home.

Lemon Law helps Texas consumers

Consumers purchasing or leasing new vehicles verified as defective received $5.7 million in relief through the Texas Lemon Law in 2004.

The 2004 Lemon Law report, released by the Texas Department of Transportation's Motor Vehicle Division, lists number of complaints filed, defects reported and complaint disposition.

Of complaints closed last year, 63.4 percent of consumers received some form of relief for defective vehicles—30.3 percent had vehicles repurchased, replaced or traded by the manufacturer and an additional 31.3 percent received repairs, extended service contracts or other remedies.

"The numbers indicate the Lemon Law continues to do what it is intended to do—help consumers with defective vehicles get relief," said Brett Bray, director of TxDOT's Motor Vehicle Division.

To determine whether a particular model has received more or less than its expected share of complaints, the report calculates an index based on number of complaints filed and the model's market share.

According to the report, five of the most popular selling vehicles with the highest complaint index ratings include (from highest to lowest): Dodge Durango, Chrysler Town and Country Van, Volkswagen Jetta, GMC Envoy and Ford Expedition.

The report also lists the most popular selling vehicles with the fewest number of complaints including (from lowest to highest): Chevrolet Impala, Toyota Tundra Pickup, Pontiac Grand Am, Toyota 4Runner and Nissan Frontier.

Consumers complained most frequently about engine performance and emissions, or the electrical system. Other defects (highest to lowest) included body and trim, automatic transmission, engine mechanical, air conditioning and heating, suspension and steering, brakes, driveline/vibrations, water leaks, safety devices, other, standard transmission and paint.

Under the Lemon Law, TxDOT's Motor Vehicle Division can order a vehicle replaced, repurchased or repaired by the manufacturer. Some manufacturers choose to settle complaints rather than contesting them at a formal hearing. The report shows Daimler Chrysler Motors Corporation and General Motors Corporation continued their trend of resolving more complaints prior to hearing. In addition, Cadillac, Forest River, Mitsubishi and Toyota improved their settlement rates significantly.

The Texas Lemon Law covers new or leased vehicles, including cars, trucks, vans, motorcycles, mopeds, all-terrain vehicles, motor homes, towable recreational vehicles and neighborhood electric vehicles. The Lemon Law Rules require that a manufacturer, distributor, or convertor re-title a reacquired vehicle. The re-titling requirement facilitates enforcement of disclosure requirements and hinders what is known as "lemon laundering" or "title washing."

State law also requires manufacturers to issue a disclosure statement and affix a disclosure label to the front window or rear view mirror of vehicles ordered repurchased, replaced or reacquired to settle a Lemon Law complaint. The disclosure requirements are also mandatory for vehicles reacquired under another state's Lemon Law and transferred to Texas for resale.

More than $78 million in relief for consumers has been generated since program inception in 1983.

To obtain a copy of the 2004 Lemon Law Report or a consumer handbook on the Texas Lemon Law contact TxDOT's Motor Vehicle Division at (512) 416-4800, 1-800-622-8682 or <http://www.state.tx.us/insdotdot/orgchart/mvd/lemon/lemonlaw.htm>.

It is with a heavy heart that I must tender my resignation as Haskell CISD Board President and Board member due to personal health issues. Nutrition and the Elderly

Good nutrition is important at any age. For people over the age of 65, it is essential for maintaining health, an active lifestyle and when recovering from illness.

Each day we need nutrients such as protein, carbohydrates, fats, vitamins and minerals. When a person is eating a well balanced diet, the food they eat provides these nutrients. Elderly and/or ill people often don't get these vitamins, minerals, etc. for several reasons:

- They don't feel hungry
 - They live alone and don't want to cook for 'just one person'
 - They can't afford foods high in nutrients due to a limited income
 - They are unable to chew or have some difficulty with it
 - They are on medications that alter their sense of taste or appetite
- Malnutrition is prolonged, inadequate nutrition. It contributes to medical problems and can decrease a person's ability to fight off or recover from an illness.

To help patients improve the way they eat, we can offer several suggestions:

- Eat several (5-6) small meals a day instead of three big ones
- Eat when you feel hungry or have a 'craving' (such as wanting breakfast foods at night or a big meat-and-potatoes meal in the morning)
- Choose foods that are easy to prepare.

Bingham helps with Katrina restoration

Scott Bingham of Haskell, employee of AEP, was among the company crews from the Abilene District that left Aug. 29 to do hurricane restoration work, returning home on Sept. 12.

The Abilene District crews worked about 30 miles southwest of Laurel, tackling restoration in Hattiesburg, Mississippi. They restored a hospital feeder and worked on a circuit that served a Wal-Mart and other businesses. They continued to do work prioritized by Mississippi Power, and according to a supervisor of distribution systems, continued to be in good spirits and work safely, showering in a show barn and sleeping in their trucks.

A Mississippi Power spokesman said, "We were able to restore service to small pockets along the coast and around Hattiesburg, which were among the hardest hit areas."

This Week's Devotional Message:

THE LESSONS WE LEARN IN FAITH MUST BE PUT INTO PRACTICE

You are to be commended if you go to your house of worship every Sabbath day and listen carefully to the sermons. However, it is equally important for you to take those messages home with you and act on them the other six days of the week. There are many ways of doing this; for example, from those lessons you should have developed a kind and loving attitude which you manage to display even to strangers and which should help you overcome all the minor irritations of everyday life. In addition, to the best of your ability you should do something to help those less fortunate than you. In fact, it is quite likely that your house of worship offers opportunities for service to others. The best way to show your appreciation of God's love is by passing it along; so do not leave the lessons of your faith behind, but carry them with you and make use of them every day of your life.

Munday Chamber to present Albany production Oct. 1

The Munday Chamber of Commerce & Agriculture will host the popular Albany Mainstreet Playhouse production of Always...Patsy Cline, Oct. 1 at 7:00 p.m. at the Munday High School Auditorium.

its two week engagement in Albany, using local talent, which includes Lorna Ayers as Patsy Cline, and the comedic rendition of Pam Davis as Louise.

Ayers has been a part of Albany Mainstreet Playhouse since its inception in 1999, working mainly as a director. Davis began her acting career with the group six years ago, and says she loves this role, and can never wait to share it.

The Albany Mainstreet Players founder and Executive Producer, Robert Echols said, "The great western-swing band that has been put together is alone worth the price of the ticket. The soulful sound of Lorna Ayers as Patsy is enthralling, and the sensitive renditions of Davis are priceless."

Tickets for the production are $10.00. Proceeds will benefit the Munday Chamber of Commerce & Agriculture, and the Aztec Theater in Albany.

For information and tickets, contact the Munday Chamber of Commerce at 940-422-4540.

Rule Jubilee set Saturday

The Rule Jubilee will start with the Jubilee Parade at 2:00 p.m. Sat., Oct. 1.

A journey through the park for those attending will include games food and entertainment. Also featured will be a cakewalk, dunking booth, homemade ice cream, horseshoe and washer pitching and other activities.

Prizes donated by merchants will be given during the afternoon.

Those interested in participating in the parade may contact Lonnie at 864-8910 or Kathy at 996-6054. For booth information, contact Kenny Tanner at 864-2647.
