NOAH SWEETHEARTS—These sweethearts have been instrumental in making and contributing blankets for the Noah Project. This is the first year for the ladies to make the blankets and Noah Project appreciates their time and contribution to the worthy project. An estimate of 70-75 blankets has been made since October and the group hopes to see the project grow and asks anyone who would be interested in helping to join the effort by contacting any of these women or the Noah Project office at 864-2551. The blankets are very easy to construct and yields the recipients lots of enjoyment and comfort. Helping to double the amount of blankets received by Noah in one year are, front row, Thula Perry; center row, l-r, Pam Norton, Janice Browning and Jerri Burke; back row, Dorothea Monroe, Oleta Cornelius, Linda Lane-Bloise, Sue McGee and Coleta Whitfield.

Burn ban issued

A burn ban is in effect for Haskell County. The use of combustible materials in an outdoor environment by any person is prohibited. Combustible materials specifically include, but are not limited to, fireworks, camp fires, welding and any other pyrotechnic material, which in the manner or means of its use could result in a wildfire. The ban will continue until conditions warrant otherwise, stated Haskell County Judge David C. Davis. A person who knowingly or intentionally violates this order commits a Class C misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of up to $500.

Vaccine available to protect against cervical cancer

While the cause and origin of many cancers remains at least partially unknown, there's a clear cause-and-effect relationship between the human papilloma virus, or HPV, and cervical cancer. "Now that we know the cause of this kind of cancer, it may be possible to prevent it entirely," says Dr. John Schorge, a gynecological oncologist at UT Southwestern Medical Center. Practicing safe sex can help reduce exposure to the virus, and an annual Pap smear can detect cellular changes in the cervix that may indicate cancer. Researchers have developed a vaccine that protects against four HPV types, which together cause 70 percent of cervical cancers. Adult women should talk to a doctor about whether they should get the vaccine, Dr. Schorge says.

healthy people ages 2 through 49 years who are not pregnant may receive the spray form. DSHS health officials offer the following additional precautions: •Wash your hands frequently with either soap and water or an alcohol-based hand sanitizer; •Cover your coughs and sneezes; •Stay home if you're sick. The Texas flu season typically runs October through March. The flu vaccine, which takes about two weeks to become fully effective, can be given at any time during this period. People wanting the flu vaccine should call their health care provider, local public health department, 2-1-1 or check online at www.211.texas.org about availability. Flu is not a reportable condition in Texas, but DSHS relies on reports from a surveillance network to classify flu activity in the state. The widespread classification applies when there are increases in flu-like illnesses and recent laboratory-confirmed flu cases in at least half of the state's regions.

Flu vaccine, personal precautions offer protection

With flu classified as widespread in the state for the last two weeks, Texas Department of State Health Services (DSHS) officials are reminding people to take precautions to reduce the risk of getting and spreading the viral illness. According to health officials, getting a flu vaccination is one of the best ways to prevent getting and spreading the illness. Vaccination is recommended for people ages 6 months and older. Flu vaccines are available in shot and nasal spray forms. Only

EEA Club gets start on busy year

The EEA club ended the 2007 year in December with a fun Christmas fellowship and dinner, but started the 2008 year with a full schedule of work.

The EEA club met at the Haskell County Extension office Jan. 3 with ten members present. Chairman, Joetta Burnett called the meeting to order. Sue McGee read the opening exercise, entitled "My Wish for You in 2008." Members then answered roll call with "a safety tip to use around the house."

Pat Jenkins, club treasurer, gave the treasurer's report. Alice Ballard, secretary read thank you notes from members of the community that had received donations from the club. In other communications Mary Jennings invited everyone to attend the 50th anniversary reception for she and Ted on Jan. 19.

Jane Rowan, Haskell County Extension Agent, reported on 4-H activities. Rowan announced the 4-H District Gold Star Banquet catered by Haskell County 4-H'ers was a successful fund-raiser for Haskell County 4-H. Haskell County had two teams participate in the District Nutrition Quiz Bowl and eight of the eleven participants from Haskell County had placed at the District Food Show. Club members are always proud of the 4-H program in Haskell County and support their many activities.

Rowan reported that as of Jan. 1, the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and Texas Cooperative Extension would have new names and a renewed vision for serving the state of Texas and beyond. Building upon the foundation that "Agriculture is Life!", the names of Texas AgriLIFE RESEARCH, Improving Life Through Science and Technology would replace the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station; and the Texas AgriLIFE EXTENSION, Improving Lives, Improving Texas would replace Texas Cooperative Extension respectively. These changes will enable us to better communicate the life sustaining and life-changing impacts that our agencies deliver to citizens across the state, stated Rowan.

Club members discussed the final arrangements for the Haskell County Junior Livestock Show concession stand. A show schedule was passed out and members signed up to work. The yearly county stock show is one of the club's two major fund-raisers. Club president, Burnett also reminded members that it was time to submit the names of members that had been in club for 50, 60 or 70 years for state recognition. Club volunteer hours are due to be turned into the State TEEA Office.

The program given by Lena Tidwell was entitled "Cultivating Your Landscape with Kindness." This program was attended by Tidwell at the state convention and is required to be one of the programs presented to the local club during the year. It was very interesting and contained timely lawn, garden and flower bed information. The new grass stressed for our area was Turffalo. This grass has the toughness of buffalo grass and the beauty of other grasses. It is a low maintenance and water conserving grass. Turffalo should be planted in February. It was stressed bulbs should be planted in September and October. After bulbs bloom one should wait six weeks after flowing and then cut back, not before. This will allow the bulb to multiply so it can be separated in late summer. Roses that were discussed were of the tea rose variety.

Refreshments were furnished by Geraldine Baker and Sue McGee. The next meeting will be held Feb. 14, 2008, at 2 p.m.

Senate committees question TxDOT over finances
AUSTIN—Higher-ups at the Texas Department of Transportation sat in front of two state Senate committees for about three hours and tried to answer questions about how the agency got to where it is, in a financial sinkhole.

At a Feb. 4 meeting, lawmakers in a joint meeting of the Senate Finance and Transportation Committees questioned TxDOT Executive Director Amadeo Saenz Jr., interim chair of the Texas Transportation Commission Esperanza "Hope" Andrade and others.

The officials said TxDOT committed a $1.1 billion bookkeeping error and scheduled more road projects than the agency could afford to fund. This resulted in road project freezes and cutbacks.

Lawmakers expressed disdain over how that could happen. They asked if this was a political stunt to push the state closer to public-private roadbuilding projects or just a case of incompetent management.

Sen. Tommy Williams, R-The Woodlands, called for an independent audit of TxDOT's financial records.

Sen. Kirk Watson, D-Austin, serves as vice chair of the Senate Committee on Transportation and Homeland Security.

"Fortunately, legislators from both parties, every region and all backgrounds, are equally fed up with TxDOT," Watson said.

"Not only will there be some major reforms on tap for the next legislative session, but the Sunset Commission is reviewing the agency from top to bottom."

Texas emerges as key in primaries
 Super Tuesday primary elections or caucuses in 24 states on Feb. 5 made U.S. Sen. John McCain of Arizona the prohibitive favorite as the Republican Party candidate for president.

Former Massachusetts Gov. Mitt Romney ended his quest for the nomination after spending more than $35 million of his own money on the campaign. Former Arkansas Gov. Mike Huckabee stayed in, having won five states himself on a shoestring budget.

With less than a month to go until its March 4 primaries, Texas is primed for a duel between McCain, the defense-minded war veteran, and Huckabee, the ordained Baptist minister with populist appeal. At this point, neither McCain nor Huckabee has the financial means to saturate

Texas media markets with advertising.

Another candidate still in the GOP race is U.S. Rep. Ron Paul of Lake Jackson, Texas, a wild card with his Libertarian leanings and pro-life stance. His following, especially among college students and younger Texans, could draw double digits and tighten the race between McCain and Huckabee.

The Democratic presidential candidates, U.S. Sens. Barack Obama, D-Ill., and Hillary Clinton, D-N.Y., had nearly matching delegate counts after Super Tuesday and other state primaries held Feb. 6-10. As of Feb. 11, Obama had captured 19 states and Clinton, 12. Both candidates are expected to spend time and advertising dollars in the delegate-rich Lone Star State as March 4 approaches.

Group studies gaps in education
 Texas schools serving mostly poor and minority students often have less of everything that matters in education—especially strong teachers.

That finding was published in January by The Education Trust, a Washington, D.C.-based nonprofit that promotes "high academic achievement for all students, pre-kindergarten through college."

The Education Trust found that "instead of providing these students with the kind of teachers they need to catch up to other students, low-income, Hispanic and African-American students in Texas are:

- Less likely to be assigned to fully certified teachers;
 - Less likely to be in classrooms with experienced teachers; and
 - Less likely to attend a school with a stable teaching force."
- Conservator running for top post
 Richard Nedelkoff, current state-appointed conservator of the troubled Texas Youth Commission, is a candidate for appointment as the agency's executive director.
- Acting Director Dimitria Pope said at an interim meeting of the House Appropriations Subcommittee on Criminal Justice that she is not being considered for the job.
- Nedelkoff, TYC's third conservator since allegations arose last year regarding abuse of youth in the facility, has resigned as chief operations officer with Florida-based Eckerd Youth Alternatives Inc., a post that he had held until recently while serving as TYC conservator.

Cotton Market Weekly

By Plains Cotton Cooperative Association

February 8, 2008

All week, cotton observers waited impatiently for Friday's release of two reports. Early that morning, traders found that this month's 2007-08 supply/demand estimates by USDA included higher world production, lower world consumption, and an increase in ending stocks in both the U.S. and world numbers. Meanwhile, the National Cotton Council's (NCC) acreage report was not scheduled for release until after the market closed.

USDA left U.S. production and domestic mill use unchanged while exports were reduced 300,000 bales due mainly to the slow pace of export shipments and a reduced import forecast for China. Accordingly, U.S. ending stocks were raised to 8.2 million bales.

World ending stocks were raised almost five percent from the previous month, and world production was increased one million bales as increases for China, Pakistan and Brazil were partially offset by decreases in India and others. World consumption was reduced 1.3 percent from last month as slowing world economic growth was reflected in lower mill use for China, India, Thailand and Turkey.

China's consumption was reduced one million bales as sketchy reports of credit problems and rising yarn inventories were confirmed by slower growth seen in China's December textile exports. However, China's consumption still is forecast to rise eight percent from 2006-07. A lower forecast for world consumption resulted in lower world imports including a 500,000-bale reduction in the import forecast for China. With lower demand, exports were reduced in several countries including Australia, Brazil, India and the United States. China accounted for more than half of the 2.6-million-bale increase in world cotton stocks.

"World cotton consumption, as expected, was cut and probably will see further reductions in the coming USDA monthly supply/demand reports," an analyst said. "I think the bigger thing today for most cotton traders is NCC's prospective plantings report."

Market participants will be keenly watching the National Cotton Council (NCC) data on 2008 potential U.S. cotton plantings which are expected to fall to a 25-year low. Over the past year, steep rallies in grain prices have prompted many American farmers to switch their acres out of cotton.

"I expect farmers have been making decisions to reduce cotton acreage as we go along week by week," an observer said. "We'll get NCC's acreage estimate today, but there's still a little time for growers to change their minds before actually putting seed in the ground."

Meanwhile, USDA's weekly export report showed one of the larger sales figures recorded this season at 239,280 bales. However, the figure was 18 percent lower than the previous week, and one percent less than the four-week average. Primary buyers were China, Turkey, South Korea and Mexico.

Export shipments of 177,200 bales were down five percent from the previous week but up six percent from the four-week average. Featured destinations were China, Mexico, Turkey and Thailand.

"Increasingly, we are hearing that it is not a lack of desire, or need, to ship bales overseas that is responsible for this lagging number, but rather, it is a shortage of containers," one analyst explained. "The non-perishable nature of cotton, along with its low value-to-volume ratio, has resulted in shippers becoming the residual receivers of containers within which to send cotton overseas. Almost anything else headed east from California has a greater risk of spoilage sitting on the docks, or is worth more per cubic foot than cotton," he concluded.

On the spot cotton scene, online trading by producers in Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas totaled 37,040 bales in the week ended Feb. 7 compared to 9,212 bales the previous week. Average prices received by producers ranged from 58.80 to 62.26 cents per pound versus 39.82 to 61.30 cents per pound one week earlier.

AG Consumer Alert

By Greg Abbott

Landlords, Roommates Can Fall Prey to Counterfeit Checks

Texans who plan to get a roommate or rent out their house or apartment in the new year should beware of a new version of an old counterfeit check scam.

The U.S. Postal Inspector recently warned that some property owners are being duped by con artists using counterfeit checks. Managers of large apartment complexes and owners of a single rental property are targeted by the scam. A landlord should not trust a prospective tenant who responds from overseas to an online advertisement, pays a deposit with a cashier's check (possibly even offering to pay several months' rent in advance), and then asks the landlord to wire back part of the money. The checks often turn out to be clever counterfeits.

People who advertise seeking roommates should be careful of this scam as well. Roommates abroad who send large deposit checks and then ask to have some funds returned to them because of a "family emergency" or similar reason are simply trying to profit from the prospective roommate's trust.

To provide further reassurances, the scammer might even telephone the person who places the advertisement. But the result is invariably the same: They want to separate consumers from their money.

Many consumers mistakenly believe it is possible to get back their money, but the con artists behind these ploys are almost always in other countries. Even with the assistance of international law enforcement authorities, these thieves are nearly impossible to catch because they are constantly on the move.

Landlords and roommate seekers who are contacted with one of these offers should simply say "no."

CEA-Ag/NR, Haskell Co.
The San Antonio Stock Show & Rodeo in association with the San Antonio Kiwanis Club honored forty outstanding young people during the 53rd annual Rural Youth Banquet Fri., Jan. 25.

The 4-H and FFA members were chosen by their organizations for their continuing contributions to agriculture and agricultural related fields, and for their involvement in leadership and community service activities through their respective organization.

Molly Dudensing, daughter of Lynn and Renee Dudensing of Sagerton, was one of the outstanding youth who also received a Youth Leadership Award.

The Rural Youth Award is a prestigious honor and each recipient receives a $1,000 academic award. The San Antonio Kiwanis Club and the Stock Show are avid supporters of higher education and believe that this investment in the leaders of tomorrow is a sound one.

The San Antonio Stock Show & Rodeo, is a volunteer, nonprofit organization whose mission is to promote agricultural awareness and its advancement through education. In 1984 they began their re-investment in young people with their first academic awards being presented to 4-H and FFA youth. Since that time, over $79 million has been awarded to over 3,000 Texas youth to assist them in pursuing degrees in agriculture so that they could give back to the industry.

USDA accepts loss applications

The U.S. Department of Agriculture announced that eligible farmers and ranchers who suffered livestock, livestock feed and crop losses that occurred before Dec. 31, 2007, can now apply to receive disaster payments.

On Dec. 26, 2007, President Bush signed the Consolidated Appropriations Act, 2008 (2008 Act). The 2008 Act amends certain sections of the U.S. Troop Readiness, Veterans' Care, Katrina Recovery, and Iraq Accountability Appropriations Act, 2007, which allows agricultural producers who suffered losses for crops planted before Feb. 28, 2007, or eligible livestock or livestock feed losses between Jan. 1, 2005, and Feb. 28, 2007, to apply for disaster payments under the Crop Disaster Program (CDP), Livestock Compensation Program (LCP) and Livestock Indemnity Program (LIP). The 2008 Act extends CDP, LCP and LIP payments to eligible farmers and ranchers who suffered 2007 crop, livestock and livestock feed losses throughout the 2007 crop year before Dec. 31, 2007.

The Farm Service Agency (FSA) is now accepting applications and making payments for quantity losses before Dec. 31, 2007, under CDP. FSA is currently issuing LCP and LIP payments for losses up to Feb. 28, 2007, and will soon issue payments for losses incurred during the remainder of 2007. FSA will conduct sign-up and begin making payments for quality losses under CDP this spring. More information about CDP, LCP and LIP is available online at: <http://disaster.fsa.usda.gov>.

The Dairy Disaster Assistance Payment (DDAP-III) Program, which provides benefits to eligible dairy producers for production losses suffered as a result of natural disasters since Jan. 1, 2005, has also been extended by the 2008 Act to cover, in addition, any 2007 disaster occurring before Dec. 31, 2007. As a result, DDAP-III sign-up, which began Dec. 3, 2007, was temporarily suspended until automation, policy, procedure and other administrative items could be updated accordingly. DDAP-III program sign-up will resume Feb. 4, 2008.

The 2008 Act also extends FSA's authority to administer the Conservation Reserve Program and marketing loan benefits for wool and mohair through March 15, 2008. It also allows the Milk Price Support Program to continue operating at current price support levels through March 15, 2008. Under the 2002 Farm Bill, USDA's authority to administer these three programs expired on Dec. 31, 2007.

Additionally, the 2008 Act provides $3.3 billion in direct and guaranteed loan funds for FSA's Farm Loan Programs.

CCP payments announced

U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Ed Schafer has announced that USDA will soon begin issuing about $315 million in partial 2007-crop-year counter-cyclical payments (CCPs) for producers with upland cotton and/or peanuts base acres enrolled in USDA's Direct and Counter-cyclical Program (DCP). The 2002 Farm Bill authorizes preliminary partial payments for the 2007 crop to be made six months after the start of the marketing year, which began on Aug. 1, 2007, for these commodities. Preliminary payments must be refunded if full-year price calculations result in a lower payment rate.

USDA estimates producers with enrolled upland cotton and peanuts base acres will receive $300 million and $15 million, respectively, in partial CCPs. The 2007-crop year projected partial payment rates, equal to 40 percent of the projected amount, are $0.0309 per pound for upland cotton and $7.60 per short ton for peanuts.

Producers enrolled in DCP may receive CCPs when "effective" prices for eligible commodities are less than their respective "target" prices specified in the 2002 Farm Bill. USDA calculates CCPs based on the calculated rate and on historical base acreage and payment yields, not current production. For the 2007 crop, if CCPs are required to be paid, USDA issues CCPs in two installments. The first payment may not exceed 40 percent of the projected payment and is made after the first six months of the marketing year. USDA makes the final calculation after the end of the marketing year and an additional payment or refund demand is made accordingly. USDA calculated CCP rates using the February World Agricultural Supply and Demand Estimates, released on Feb. 8.

USDA announced on Dec. 3, that producers who are enrolled in DCP and have wheat, barley or oats base acres would not receive partial CCP payments because average market price projections for those commodities exceeded levels that trigger these payments. USDA will announce any partial payments for producers with corn, grain sorghum and soybeans base acres on or after March 1. Producers with rice base acres will not receive partial payments because their average market price projections far exceed levels that would trigger these payments.

The 2002 Farm Bill requires that any overpayments to producers must be repaid. More information on DCP is available at local FSA offices and on FSA's Web site at: <http://www.fsa.usda.gov>.

Elementary students learn proper hand washing techniques

SPECIAL POWDER—Stacie Everett, right, sprinkles glitterbug powder onto the hands of Pryce Stewart and Hannah Foster, left, to show where the students have missed germs after washing their hands.

Haskell Elementary fourth graders recently designed a health unit on proper hand washing techniques to use during flu season and all year long to help prevent the spread of germs.

Their teacher, Stacie Everett, purchased black lights, glitter bug powder, and magic potion to include in the learning kits that fourth graders passed out to all elementary students. Students explained the dangers of spreading germs and how to prevent it.

The health kits are to be used by homeroom teachers in their classes. The black light shines on the glitter bug powder (which represents germs).

Signs are being posted on campus as reminders to "WASH HANDS." This lesson was taught to the elementary students on Martin Luther King, Jr. Day and funded by Learn & Serve America.

King promoted service in communities. Service learning projects such as these help promote citizenship in our schools that can be carried out into the community. The school is educating tomorrow's leaders. Program project coordinator was Debbie Miller.

DILIGENT WASHING—Fourth grade students Garret Tatum, front, and Travon Dessevia are washing their hands a second time after learning how to wash their hands correctly.

This Week's Devotional Message:

TRUE LOVE IS MUCH MORE THAN CARDS ON VALENTINE'S DAY

Just for a few hours now
Today marks a special day
For which we all have made a vow
To send what will portray
How much we love someone we know,
In words that will combine
With lacy hearts and cupid's bow
In red and white design.

But love extends beyond a card
For someone else to read;
It's meant to show our deep regard
For helping those in need.
Our Bible lessons underscore
Their messages divine:
That love is infinitely more
Than just a Valentine.

INVITATION FOR BIDS
The Rolling Plains Health Care System Corp. of Haskell, Texas (hereinafter called the "Owner") will receive sealed bids for a single construction contract for the New Construction of La Vista Place, a 20-Unit Assisted Living Facility. Bids are to include site work, plumbing, electrical and mechanical, and all work specified and/or shown on the drawings until:
March 11, 2008 at 2:00 p.m., at the Haskell City Hall, 301 South 1st Street, Haskell, Texas 79521.

Immediately thereafter all bids will be publicly opened and read aloud.

Proposed forms of contract documents, including plans and specifications are on file and available for inspection at the office of Cameron Alread, Architect Inc., 209 W. 8th St., Fort Worth, Texas 76102, 817-332-6231 and other locations.

Copies of the documents may be obtained by depositing $100.00 each with the Architect. Such deposits will be refunded on return of the plans, specifications and other documents in good condition within 15 days after bid opening. Plans and specifications that have been taken apart are not considered in good condition.

NOTICE
The deadline for Classified Advertising is 5 p.m. on Mondays.
Haskell Free Press

Public Notices

A Pre-Bid Conference will be held Tuesday, February 26, 2008 at 2:00 p.m. at Haskell City Hall.

A certified check or bank draft, payable to the Owner, U.S. Government Bonds, or a satisfactory bid bond executed by the bidder and acceptable surety (the Bid Bond shall be from a Company which is on the U.S. Treasury Department List, as an approved Surety Company) in an amount equal to five (5%) percent of the bid shall be submitted with each bid.

The successful bidder will be required to furnish and pay for satisfactory performance and payment bond or bonds, workers compensation and automobile liability. The bonds shall be from a Company which is on the U.S. Treasury Department List.

Bidders shall provide a completed AIA Document A305, Contractor's Qualification Statement on or before the bid date. Copies of the form are available upon request. This information will be used in conjunction with the bid for the Owner to determine best value and lowest qualified bidder.

Attention is called to the provisions for Equal Employment Opportunity as set forth in these documents. A rate not less than the minimum salaries and wages as set forth in the specifications must be paid on this project.

The Owner reserves the right to reject any or all bids and to waive any informalities in the bidding. No bid shall be withdrawn for a period of sixty (60) days subsequent to the opening of bids without consent of the Owner.

The Hard Way.

Sure, you can stand in the street in the middle of a major intersection every day for a week with an item you want to sell, put a couple of huge signs on it, and hope someone takes you up on the offer. It might just get the job done. Or you might just end up looking foolish.

The Easy Way.

Or, you can place a Classified Ad with us and have people from all over the area clamoring to take your unwanted items off your hands for a handsome profit. Quickly and easily. And for a very small investment. So what are you waiting for? Call now!
