DeHoyos vs. Marley -

New Election Ordered In Precinct 1 Contest

A slow moving contested election trial came to a rather abrupt end here Thursday afternoon when presiding judge George M. Thurmond ordered the results of the run-off election for Commissioner of Precinct 1, Crockett County, held January 7, thrown out and ordered a new election for June 3.

Sostenes DeHoyos filed the suit against Jess Marley after he was defeated by 32 votes in the January 7 run-off election. The June 3 election will mark 5 times the two have run against each other for the post, each time with the same results.

Attorneys for Marley expressed dissatisfaction with the court's ruling and stressed the court had found no error or wrongdoing on the part of the defendant, Marley. One said "the will of the majority of voters in Precinct 1 in Crockett County has been denied once again."

District Judge George Thurmond of the 63rd District Court in Del Rio, was on the bench here for the two weeks, hearing the case because District Judge Troy Williams was disqualified to hold the trial. The ruling came about due to voting irregularities on the part of election officials. After hearing the testimony of County and District Clerk Leta Powell at the hospital Wednesday afternoon, the court reconvened at the courthouse and went into absentee balloting procedure.

At 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon the Stockman received a report the court had been adjourned until Tuesday, April 18. However, after attorneys, the judge and the two principals in the case conferred they apparently decided to continue through Thursday, as court was convened Thursday morning and shortly after opening the absentee ballot box Thursday afternoon Judge Thurmond made the ruling and ordered the new election.

The judge made his ruling strictly because of failure to adhere to "mandatory provisions of the election code," and found this the basis for the voting irregularities and that it was "through no fault of the voters" that they occurred. The judge stressed that he found no voter cast an illegal ballot with the exception of seven convicted felons and those eight or so voters who had been in Precinct 1 and were moved by precinct line changes or moved by the 90-day-rule.

Judge Thurmond, in an interview with the Del Rio News-Herald, said the Crockett County case could well be termed a "landmark" case since it has been the first election contest to be tried since signed stubs were removed from Texas ballots. According to the paper, "he indicated it would have been a super human and almost impossible task to have traced many of the voters involved."

At least 50 voters were questioned and excused. Since the judge did not rule any voter illegal except those mentioned, apparently these votes are entirely legal and these voters are entitled to vote in the June 3, called election. Most of those subpoenaed by DeHoyos were persons having dual residency, a home at the ranch and a home in town and the election code does not define or set out where these persons must claim residency, so this issue was in no way resolved.

As a result of the ruling, the incumbent Commissioner Jess Marley, who is serving now and will continue in that capacity and face the challenge of DeHoyos once more June 3. The date falls on the date of the Democratic run-off and almost certainly some arrangements must be made.

Judge Thurmond said fortunately the litigants were "big enough" to realize the near impossible situation and mutually agreed to stand for another election between them.

Although the order has not been received at the courthouse as of this date, the Stockman has been informed that two special deputy clerks will be hired to conduct the absentee balloting and will attend a school on election procedure in Austin before opening absentee voting.

A special school will be held here for election officials Friday night at 7:30. It will be conducted by a representative from the Secretary of State's office in Austin.

It must be stressed that nothing "illegal" was found in the court's ruling on the part of the candidates or any of the officials, only irregularities. Many believe the state and federal election codes or laws are in direct conflict and this certainly would create confusion for election officials.

Vandalism Reward Is Posted

Vandalism at the local cemeteries has prompted former Ozonan Embree Hunt to post a $500 reward for any information leading to the perpetrators of distinction or theft in Lima or Cedar Hill Cemeteries. Any person having knowledge of such things may contact the District Attorney's office.

Mr. Hunt personally paid for lighting, installation and fixtures, for both cemeteries. Some time ago the lights were shot out at Cedar Hill Cemetery and last week a light was shot out at Lima Cemetery. Thefts include copper liners from vases, water hoses from the lots and permanent arrangements from some of the lots.

Conspiracy Trial Starts Here

Trial got underway here Monday in 112th District Court in the case of a Kermit dentist who is charged with attempting to hire assassins to kill two well-known trial lawyers, also from Kermit.

District Judge Troy Williams is presiding in the case which was moved here on a change of venue. The trial was actually transferred here about a year ago, but due to the illness of the Kermit District Attorney, Glenn Williamson, it was postponed.

Dr. Gerald Johnson is charged with soliciting Roger Bryant of Kermit to hire someone to kill Kermit attorneys John Lee and George Finley in 1976. Tape recordings were made of alleged telephone conversations between the doctor and Department of Public Safety intelligence officers.

The court spent Monday on the usual pre-trial motions. Jack Luscomb of El Paso and Charles Sherrill of Sonora are representing Dr. Johnson, and Williamson is prosecuting for the state.

Jury selection was completed Tuesday morning and evidence was presented throughout the afternoon. Trial resumed this morning, Wednesday. Both sides expect to wind up testimony in this afternoon's session.

CAR WRECK FATAL TO OZONA MAN - Wm. M. Smith was killed Sunday afternoon in this one-vehicle wreck. Smith was thrown 90 feet from the demolished vehicle above during one of the three times it overturned. Smith was alone in the vehicle and there were no witnesses as to what caused the crash. After careening back and forth across the highway, the car crashed through a fence overturning three times before coming to rest. (Steve Kenley Photo)

Gilmore Services Saturday

Funeral services for George Meilton Gilmore, 74, were held at 10 a.m. Saturday at graveside in Cedar Hill Cemetery under the direction of Sheppard Funeral Home.

Mr. Gilmore died at 6:15 Friday morning in the Veterans Administration Hospital in Big Spring following an illness.

He was born Feb. 3, 1904 in Concessville, Pa.

Mr. Gilmore had resided in Ozona for many years. He was better known as Centennial George and was a cowboy on local ranches up until only the past few years. There are no immediate survivors.

Car Wreck Fatal To Ozona Man

A one-vehicle roll-over was fatal to William M. Smith of Ozona Sunday afternoon and at least two other Ozonans were injured in other accidents over the weekend.

Services for Smith, 57, were pending Monday at Sheppard Funeral Home. Smith was east bound on Hwy 190 (formerly 29) in a 1970 Oldsmobile Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock when he apparently lost control. The car left the road on the south side, skidded back across to the north, crashed through a fence and overturned at least three times, throwing Smith some 90 feet beyond where the vehicle came to rest. Apparently he was killed instantly.

Services Today For Mr. Bryant

Funeral services for Leonard Lewis Bryant, 79, were held this morning, Wed., April 5, at 10:30 in Ozona United Methodist Church with burial in Cedar Hill Cemetery under the direction of Sheppard Funeral Home.

Mr. Bryant died at 11:30 a.m. Monday at Shannon Hospital in San Angelo, where he had been rushed by ambulance earlier in the morning.

He was born Aug. 21, 1898 in Pilot Point. He was married to Evelyn Bratcher March 19, 1922. He was a Mason and a member of Ozona United Methodist Church.

Survivors include his wife, Evelyn, one daughter, Mrs. Beecher Montgomery of Ozona; one sister, Mrs. E.Y. Waller of Fort Worth; one brother, Johnson Bryant of Dallas; and two grandchildren, Vicky Lynn Kearney of Fort Worth and Bryan Montgomery of Los Angeles, Calif.

OZONA'S HOPE FOR THE OLYMPICS - Kaye Thompson, Ozona High School freshman, is an outstanding track star already. She has won every race she has entered and gets faster all the time. The mile-run is her specialty. This picture of Kay was snapped on the newly completed track at the field.

Incumbents Win School Election

Both incumbents were returned to new terms on the Crockett County School Board of Trustees Saturday, April 1, in a light turnout which saw a total of only 368 voters going to the polls.

George Bunger, Jr. and C.R. Fuantoz easily won reelection with Bunger polling 240 votes and Fuantoz leading the ticket with 283. The other candidate, Cecil Buckner, received 146 votes.

Incumbents running unopposed for county school trustees were Bob Bissett in Precinct 2, 203 votes; Ted Lewis in Precinct 3, 206 votes and Marshall Montgomery, Precinct 4, 201 votes.

Voter Interest High In Beer Election Sat.

Absentee voting for the local option beer sales election Saturday has been brisk, indicating a great deal of voter interest. At 3:45 p.m. Tuesday, 156 voters had cast absentee ballots.

The central voting place will be the Civic Center. There will also be boxes at Powell Field and the WTU Power Plant. Polls will open at 7 a.m. and close at 7 p.m.

Forces for both sides have been busy this week trying to get the vote out. The ballot is a scratch ballot and the voter must mark out the statement he/she is against.

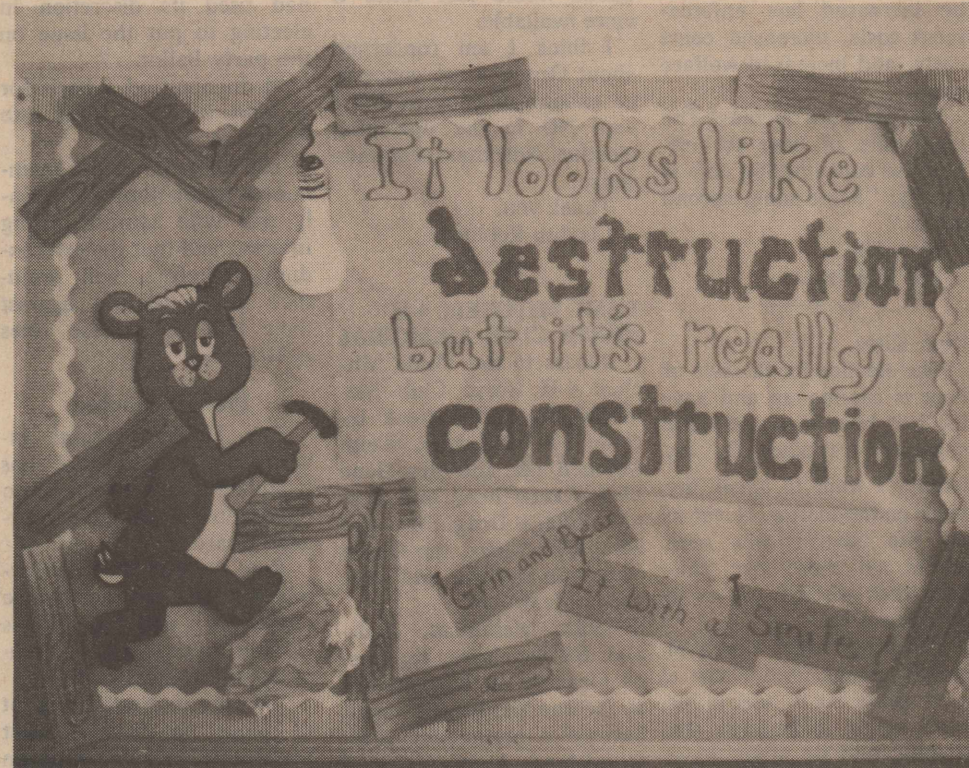

A liquor election differs from most other elections and no ballots will be counted until the polls are closed, so results will come in later than usual. The election is for beer only for off-premises consumption, in Crockett County Justice Precinct 1. Justice Precinct 1 differs from commissioners precincts and takes in all but the very southernmost part of the county and the northeast corner of the county.

The forces to keep Ozona "dry" contend that beer sales is the forerunner of open bars, joints, etc. and a bad influence on the youth of the town, plus more beer cans littering the streets.

The "wets" claim beer sales will be good for business, the economy of the town and will create more jobs.

This will be the second election for alcohol sales this year. The first, held January 10, was for the sale of all alcoholic beverages for off-premises consumption. It failed by the narrow margin of 664 to 553.

SCHOOL CONSTRUCTION CAN BE mighty annoying, especially when it's going on during classes. Apparently that is what prompted this poster, made by Sheri Wilson, which hangs in the hall at Ozona Intermediate School.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Kitty,

When I read in the Stockman that an election had been called for the legal sale of beer for off-premise consumption only, my immediate reaction was: "Same song, second verse."

In January the citizens of Crockett County rejected a proposition which called for the legal sale of all alcoholic beverages for off-premise consumption only. Now the same citizens are asked if they will accept the legal sale of beer for off-premise consumption only. Nothing, except the name of the proposition, has changed. The basic facts are still the same.

Fact: If the majority of the voters on Saturday, April 8, approve the proposition, any retailer who pays the yearly state license fee of ten dollars would be able to sell beer. There is nothing in the state law that limits the place where beer can be sold if a community approves the legalization of sales. Any retailer-hamburger stands, gas stations, drug and grocery stores-could sell beer if this proposition is approved.

Fact: The legal sale of beer for off-premise consumption only will not stop any bootlegging which may be done in Crockett County. The source of bootlegging is legal alcohol! The Internal Revenue Service estimates that seventy-five percent of the bootlegging in the United States is done in "wet" communities.

Fact: The legal sale of beer for off-premise consumption only will provide very little tax money for Crockett County. Since Ozona is not incorporated, there is no city sales tax; therefore, the only tax money that the county would receive is half of the ten dollar yearly state license fee for retailers. So, if a hundred retailers in Ozona secured a license to sell beer, the County would receive $500.00 in tax revenue each year. The only monetary benefit that would come from the legal sale of beer in Crockett County would go to the distributors and the retailers who sell it. The "benefits" for the county would be increased law enforcement costs, increased court costs, and increased welfare costs.

The facts are obvious! The legal sale of beer for off-premise consumption only is simply: "Same song, second verse."

Sincerely,
Bill Morrison

Dear Kitty,

The election for the sale of beer is coming up and having had beer to cause three separate tragedies in my family, I want to speak my piece on the matter. Never in my life have I ever seen adults act more like children than when it comes to drinking beer.

The other night I was in Lajitas, Texas, and I saw a man with a can of beer in his hand trying to impress the women, and he might have been, but several minutes later I saw the same man out behind the bathroom throwing up his insides. I don't think that would impress anyone.

If the people in our town don't want beer in Ozona, the best way to keep it out is to vote no.

If they don't vote, here is what they can expect the beer in Ozona to do for them. It will rent a building, give employment to a bartender, barmaid, or liquor store clerk, pay a gas, electricity bill, and water bill, and best of all it will net this town a grand total of $5.00 per year, per business in taxes. One of the big issues of the last election was that we were losing taxes from the sale of alcohol in other counties. The only taxes we get is the one mentioned above. Now, let's explore what it can do to us.

It will clutter the landscape with cans and bottles we (not the seller) pay to have picked up. It will clutter the cemetery with bodies we (not the seller) pay the hearse to scrape up, the undertaker to box up, and the gravedigger to cover up. It will clutter the hospital with crippled and suffering citizens we (not the seller) pay the ambulance to pick up. (I can introduce you to one of these individuals). It will pollute the human mind in such a way that a fellow who loves his family and kids will "go into a corner" with a bottle or a glass and neglect his family and his work and lose his self-respect and turn into an object of pity. This leaves the sort of human wreckage that the package store clerk and bartender (whose wages continue uninterrupted) despise and the rest of us are left to feed and support.

The people who are paying for this election care nothing about human sufferings, if they did, they would not support such an issue. They don't support rapists, murders, or thieves, so why support alcohol, which ultimately causes it all to happen. Another issue was that we would get rid of the bootleggers. I heard a report on radio this morning that had done a survey on such a thing and it said the biggest bootleggers were those 18 years of age. So getting it into Ozona would just make it more available.

I think I am concerned about Ozona. I am concerned enough to be sure that I vote NO in the upcoming election. Now that is common sense.

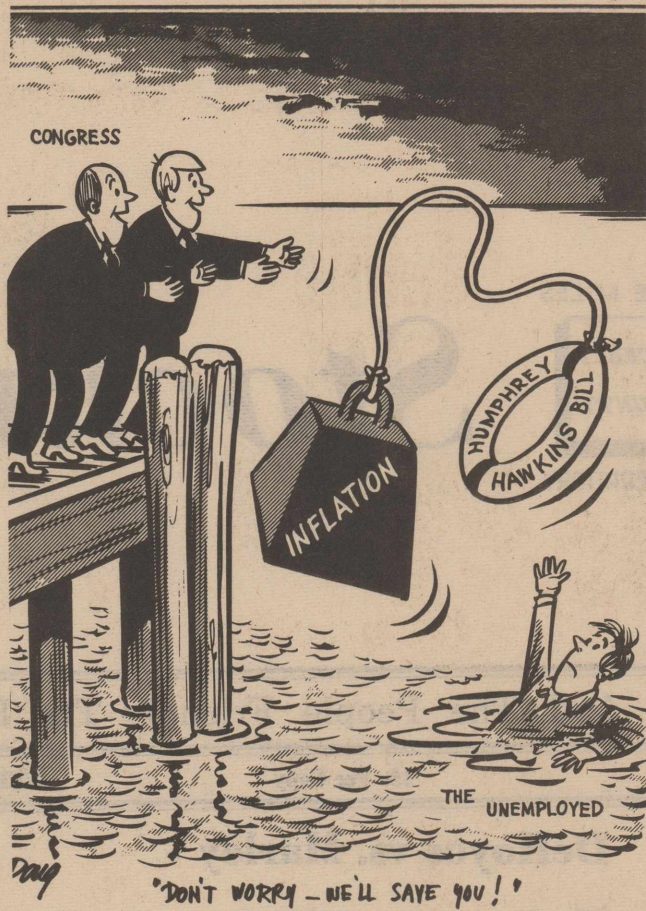

Thank you,
Clayton Robinson

NOT MUCH HELP

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

AUSTIN—Texas Public Utility Commission will begin hearings May 22 on Southwestern Bell Telephone Company's request for a $214.3 million rate increase.

PUC, at a pre-trial hearing, directed staff members to submit their conclusions on Bell's financial needs by May 15.

Attorney General John Hill and the Texas Municipal League were given authority to participate in the case as opponents of the proposed rate hike.

Meanwhile, George Cowden, PUC chairman, told Bell to provide information desired by the opposition. Bell last month filed its new rate request. In September 1976, the company asked for a $298.3 million increase, but PUC went along with only $57.8 million, and courts consistently upheld the finding.

The increase would mean a 75 cents to $1.20 advance in residential rates, varying by size of the city served. It also would add on gross receipts tax levies ranging from two to four percent in most cities. Business phone rates would go up from $1.60 a month to $3.80, and installation charges would advance substantially.

Bell claims it cannot cope with demands for expanded service and make a fair rate of profit on its investment without substantial rate relief.

Foes Give Up

An Austin district judge refused to issue an injunction to block a May 6 Democratic primary referendum vote on whether the 1979 legislature should approve increases in interest rates for loans under $5,000.

Attorneys for loan companies which attempted to block the referendum indicated they would throw in the towel after the ruling and not appeal as they originally planned.

District Judge Herman Jones said the State Democratic Executive Committee had used its discretion in electing to put the issue on the party ballot.

"I do not find a basis for a court injecting itself into it," Jones stated.

The loan companies maintained voters almost certainly will vote against raising interest, and that the referendum, therefore, will prejudice the legislature against their bill to increase rates next year.

Probe Launched

The House General Investigating Committee has launched a new inquiry into operations of the State Insurance Board.

Rep. DeWitt Hale of Corpus Christi, the committee chairman, said a Travis County grand jury recommended the investigation. "We are interested in a lot of things, not criminal—but perhaps poor administration of a state agency," said Hale.

The Travis County grand jury indicted former Insurance Commissioner Joe Hawkins last June for lying about rides on an insurance company airplane. Hawkins in February pleaded no-contest to a lesser misdemeanor charge that he accepted the plane ride illegally, and got a one-year probated sentence and $2,000 fine.

The House committee went into closed session to hear complaints by former insurance agents from Houston. Hale also invited two members of the grand jury that began the insurance probe to brief the committee.

Courts Speak

The U.S. Supreme Court asked for new arguments in a case involving diversion of natural gas now produced and sold in Texas to the interstate market.

The state seeks to overturn a Federal Power Commission ruling holding California should keep getting gas from a Gulf Oil lease in Crane and Ector counties of West Texas, though leases expired in 1975.

When the leases expired, the company holding mineral rights to the property attempted to sell the gas to a Houston industrial supplier, but FPC blocked the sale.

Audit Scores

The troubled Governor's Office of Migrant Affairs was rapped by State Auditor George McNeil for its handling of federal manpower training funds.

McNeil also found the agency to be understaffed. Gov. Briscoe said many of the shortcomings pointed up by the audit have been corrected.

McNeil said there may be a need to strengthen technical assistance, monitoring and evaluation to prevent future irregularities in spending and performances at subcontractor levels of training programs.

Approval Delayed

Gov. Briscoe and two other high officials delayed approval of purchase of an $8 million, 6,741-acre tract of land in the Rio Grande Valley for a new state prison.

Briscoe, Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong and James Windham, chairman of the Texas Department of Corrections, pointed to differences between appraisals of the land value and purchase price and raised legal questions.

The Department of Corrections wants to buy the land from Big Five Farms, a five-man partnership, with an option to purchase twice as much next year for $6 million more. Briscoe noted State Land Office and Texas A&M appraisals of the property at about $6.8 million.

The governor also pointed out the legislature appropriated money for a "West Texas" prison site, and suggested an attorney general's opinion on legality of the purchase.

Q: My husband and I bought a house 10 years ago and we recently received letters saying we have to buy some kind of insurance. The notices said our house payments would be increased to include the policy payments. Can they do that even though I don't want the policy?

A: State and federal laws state that mortgage companies must protect their interest by requiring the homeowner to provide fire and extended coverage insurance for the property on which the loan is made. The mortgage holder can require insurance coverage in the amount no greater than the balance of the loan. The law permits the mortgage company to increase the homeowner's monthly payments sufficiently to cover the cost of this insurance.

Q: My neighbor's yard has a huge oak tree which hangs several feet onto my property. The neighbors allowed me to cut off a branch resting on my roof. But, they do not want any more branches removed from their tree, which drops leaves directly into my swimming pool. What is my recourse?

A: Common law property rights give the owner of land the ownership of the land beneath the property and the space above. A neighbor's tree limbs extending onto your property may be cut at the point where the limb crosses the property line. However, your neighbor has a legal right to require that his permission be given before you can trespass on his property in removing tree limbs.

Q: My husband and I are separated, and our five children live with me. A friend told me that she saw several hundred dollars in checks made out to my husband's girlfriend recorded in his checkbook. Isn't he legally responsible for financially supporting his family first and foremost?

A: This is the kind of thing for which you need some personal help. We can't solve it for you. You need to contact a lawyer who will institute court proceedings for temporary alimony and child support. Your lawyer will also help you obtain an order for an inventory and accounting. If you don't know a lawyer, call the Texas Lawyer Referral Service at 1-800-252-9690.

Q: My divorce decree granted in 1966 states that I pay child support until each of my children reaches "his majority". Does the 18 year old voting rights act mean that I will pay until the kids reach 18 or 21 or what?

A: Generally, the law says you must provide child support until he is 18. But, if the court finds that the child requires continuous care and personal supervision because of a mental or physical handicap and is unable to support himself, the court may order child support after the age of 18 for an indefinite period.

Tips For Gardeners

From the Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

Growing herbs is increasingly popular today among home gardeners. And if you have noticed all spices are going up in price each time you shop, so you may want to try growing some of the favorite and easy to grow herbs in your garden. Too, they make very satisfactory patio or indoor plants. You can buy small plants at most any nursery or plant seed. For growing, northup King Co. offers 18 varieties of seeds and suggests these for indoor growing—sweet marjoram, English thyme, summer savory and caraway. A combination of caraway, sweet basil and rosemary provided variety and decorative, delicate blossoms.

Herbs are also very welcome to improve the flavor of food. Summer savory for snap beans, sweet fennels for soups, anise for fruit salad, sage for dressings and brewing tea.

Like most houseplants, a group of herb plants will do better than individual plants scattered in different locations. Indoors or outdoors, the soil should be well drained, and plants should receive adequate sun exposure. Plantings should be well spaced and picked and cut back often to grow and produce longer. Should you be fortunate to have several discarded wagon wheels, they would be perfect for an attractive planting of different herbs. If spaces are too small, knock out some of the spokes. Two addresses for catalogs for herbs are Herbs With Old-Timey Uses $1.00, Yankee Peddler Herb Farm, Dept. N, Highway 36 N., Brenham, Texas 77833.

Another is: Herb Seeds, a free seed catalogue. The address is Helix, Box 1808-N Boulder, Colorado 80306. United States Dept. of Agriculture experiments have shown that certain kinds of flower seeds germinate better when exposed to light. This means that the seeds should not be covered by soil, whether started indoors under lights or in a garden row. Make shallow furrows by pressing the edge of a thin board into moist soil or planting mixture. Sow the seeds thinly down the furrows. Don't cover with soil. Water with a very fine mist so as not to wash away the seeds or bury them under soil. Light-requiring kinds include: Ageratum, Begonia, Browallia, Calceolaria, Coleus, Cineraria, Gloxinia, Impatiens, Nicotiana, Petunia, Primula, Salvia (red only), Snapdragon.

FIVE FOOT RATTLER—Steve Pagan shows off his snake harvest taken at Devil's River last weekend. The reptile was approximately five feet in length and as big around as Steve's wrist.

Final plans will be made for the flower show and the program will be on preparing the horticulture specimens for show by Mrs. James Montgomery. Each member should bring an arrangement to place in a class in schedule.

Roy Coates is in the Veterans Administration hospital in San Antonio, recuperating from pneumonia.

Voters To Be Tested

Crockett County voters are again being tested on their perseverance and stamina in resisting the efforts of those who would foist the legal sale of beer upon the community. A new effort, this time eliminating all but beer from the proposal, will be decided at the polls next Saturday and unless those who oppose such sales take the trail to the voting booths, it will succeed. The fairly close vote at the last election encouraged backers to try again.

Sale of beer in retail stores for off-premises consumption may sound innocent enough to some. But there are legitimate objections on the part of those who would preserve the wholesome atmosphere of this community that has endured for more than fifty years without beer sales in the county. Its youth may be able to get beer but certainly not as handily as it would be if sold in the corner grocery. And certainly the beer can litter and the roadside beer busts are abominations now hard enough to endure.

Like the camel poking his nose into the tent, the approval of off-premises consumption beer sales is only the beginning. Liquor elections come easy—they only cost the county. The next logical step would be another election, this time to legalize on-premises consumption sales—the beer joint. "Why take the serpent to your breast," as former Stockman columnist, Rev. Troy Hickman, once put it.

The only way to stop this threat is a resounding "No" vote in Saturday's election. Evert White

by Debra Price

Take a look around your class or office some morning about 10:30 a.m. and you'll almost know who ate a good breakfast and who "got by" with a cup of coffee on the way out the door. Chances are, the brightest eyes and most pleasant personalities belong to those who ate. Why? Because they took the time to "break the fast" since their last meal the night before.

Here are some pointers you will want to keep in mind as you begin:

Be sure to include at least one serving of food from each of the Basic Four Food Groups.

Set no limits based on tradition (for example, if you feel like having Chili Con Carne for breakfast, have it! Don't stop just because you've never had it before).

Keep in mind how much time you'll have to prepare breakfast. Most schedules cut this time quite short in the morning, so plan what could be done the night before—or even at the beginning of the week to prevent last minute panic.

Caramel-Nut Muffins

1/4 cup brown sugar
2 tablespoon softened butter
36 pecan halves
1 cup sifted flour
1/4 cup sugar
1 cup milk
1 tablespoon baking powder

1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup shortening
1 cup oats
1 egg, beaten

Blend brown sugar and butter. Pat evenly into 12 greased muffin cups. Arrange three nut halves in each. Set aside. Sift together dry ingredients. Cut in shortening until mixture is like coarse cornmeal. Blend in oats. Lightly stir in egg and milk, stirring only to moisten ingredients. Carefully spoon into muffin cups, filling each 2/3 full. Bake at 425 degrees for 20 minutes. Remove from pans by immediately tipping the pans upside down so the caramel runs down the sides of the muffins.

LOVE LOOKS UP

For Karl and Karen this month marks their second wedding anniversary. It brings bright memories that glow as the candles glowed that Saturday evening they were married.

But "looking back" is not the character of love. Love looks up! It finds its soul in the presence of God. It finds its body in the devotion of a man and a woman to each other, devotion enriched by faith and expressed in unselfish affection.

Love looks forward, too! It faces confidently the years ahead, expressing its spiritual vitality in hope and purpose and concern for others.

For Karl and Karen, as for other Christian couples, the smile in looking forward is born in looking up.

Crockett County Care Center News

by Joan Nicholas

Activities Program Director

We welcome Gertrude Daniels to the Care Center and hope she will be happy with us. She has made an excellent start having joined in all activities.

We had eleven in crafts, Monday morning; we painted the glaze on some very attractive planters and Carol Carlisle, our instructor, will fire them for us.

On Wednesday morning I put the new tape recorder to work, and Hank Poeller sang a couple of solos "Let Me Call You Sweetheart" and "In the Good Old Summer-time". Then Paul Cavin and Mary Seelye each sang a number. We then proceeded to go to the Day Room for Bible study. We are well into the book of Luke and we discussed the message that Jesus gave us through Luke's writings.

After reading about the Texas Heritage Center in Lubbock, Thursday, we continued with a couple of articles from the Readers Digest. Then the tape recorder came into use once more as I taped everyone's answers to a few questions. "What do you remember about your first sweetheart" was one of them; both Mike Pena and Paul Cavin said they had so many it was difficult to remember any particular one! Swede Lundgren recalled that they were not allowed to have girl friends until they were twenty-one (this was in a Swedish community in Kansas) and then "he added, "No one had any money!" Then he went on with a priceless little piece of philosophy, "Women are like street cars, if you don't get one, another one will come along directly!"

Verna Talley told us how one of her sisters died. It was when they were living at home and she and her sister were sitting on the bed and Verna was holding a little brother on her lap. There was a thunderstorm in progress and lightning hit the house, and it is thought traveled down the telephone line, and struck her sister killing her instantly. Their mother was standing at the foot of the bed with a sheet trying to make up the bed--no one else was hurt. Paul told of a brother getting stuck in the well but fortunately he was rescued. Everyone was so busy chatting that we nearly forgot that it was supper time!

I want to thank Winnie Harvey for lending us some interesting magazines which will be put to good use in our reading group. She also brought out a couple of pillows. Thanks also to the Delbert Stewarts who let us share a model he had built which brought back memories to several of our group...none other than the good old backhouse with a cowboy waiting on the steps holding on to his mount, duly saddled. The yard has two paths leading to and from the structure. The second going by the wood pile where chickens are pecking around and some hogs. It is really quite cute and caused much merriment.

As I was writing this column, my telephone rang, and I was told the sad news that "Sug" Bryant had passed away. He was taken ill this morning. Everyone will miss him so much--he was sweet and kind and I never heard him say a bad word against anyone. Our sympathy is extended to Evelyn and his family.

Received a visit from Mike Pena's daughter, Angie Daniels, during the weekend; she brought a poem that she thought we would enjoy.

Had a call from Charles Huffmann this morning telling me that Faith Lutheran Church was sponsoring a performance of a ballet entitled "In the Beginning", which centers around the first three chapters of Genesis. The performers are from San Antonio. This is to benefit the Care Center and will be held at 2 p.m. on Sunday, April 9. Admission for adults is $2.50 and $1.50 students; Care Center residents who are able to go will be honored guests. A lovely surprise indeed.

LEGAL NOTICE

General Telephone Company of the Southwest has filed tariffs with the Public Utility Commission of Texas to implement the Federal Communications Commission's telephone equipment registration program (FCC Docket 19528). The tariffs have an effective date of April 15, 1978. The proposed changes will reduce rates for extension telephones and 25 foot long cords; will restructure one-time charges for service connection, moves and changes, increasing some and reducing others; and will offer reduced monthly rates for one-party business and residence customers who provide their own primary telephone instrument. The proposed changes in rates, with some increasing and others decreasing, will reduce General's gross revenues from its Texas operations by $2,565.00.

Why Some People Live Longer Than Others

Four factors probably affect why some people live longer than others--genetic, physical exercise, diet and nutrition, and psychological and cultural.

Whereas today's elderly are less likely to die in a plague, natural disaster, tuberculosis, smallpox or yellow fever, they are more likely to die of heart disease, cancer, stroke or degenerative illness, says Mrs. Vivian Blair, a family life education specialist.

Medical science has created the growing population of elderly by their enormously successful attack on the diseases of childhood.

In some remote and isolated areas of the world, people enjoy extremely long life. Exactly why they live longer than Americans--without the benefits of modern science--is not yet agreed.

UIL Dist. Literary Meet Sat.

Ozona will be well represented in the District UIL Literary Meet in Midland, Saturday, April 8, at Midland College. Twenty-nine high school students will participate in the meet.

There will be two debate teams entered. Gregg Perry and Gary Smith, and Janna Chaney and Teresa Carlisle will represent O.H.S.

Persuasive Speaking entries will be James Hearne, Joel Sanchez and Mabel Delgado.

In Poetry Interpretation Jeannine Perry, Connie Tijerina, Tilly Kramer and an alternate, Johnny Sessom will be entered.

Gigi McKinney, Jennifer Marley, Kaye Thompson and an alternate, Scott Hensley, are entered in Prose Reading.

Kim Sinclair will be Ozona's entry in Ready Writing.

In the Spelling events Jeannine Perry, Alice Martinez and Teresa Brown will be participating.

Science entries will include Bill Dudley, John Martinez and Clair McDaniels. Bill Dudley, John Martinez and Clair McDaniels will be competing in Slide Rule. Typewriting will have Rebecca Everett, Janice Janes, Teresa Martinez and an alternate, LaDawn Adcock, competing for O.H.S.

However, certain factors apparently contribute to this longevity of life.

Genetic influence relates to long life.

For instance: Offspring of long lived parents live longer than those whose parents die young. The first offspring of a union will tend to live longer than those born later. Children of parents who contract heart disease and some forms of cancer are more likely to contract these diseases themselves.

Another factor, physical activity, has produced a high level of physical fitness.

Exercise brings a lower heart rate, greater pumping capacity of the heart, lower blood pressure, greater lung capacity, more efficient fat metabolism, lower cholesterol levels and improvement in blood sugar levels.

Another factor in the search for long life is diet and nutrition.

"Among those very long lives people in remote areas, it was found that they consume between two-fifths and two-thirds of the average daily American caloric intake.

"Their diet consists of foods rich in protein and low in fats.

"The fat-rich American diet is associated with both obesity and heart disease.

"In contrast, low-fat diets are associated with a high level of fitness and low incidence of heart disease," Mrs. Blair states.

Psychological and cultural influences are difficult to measure, but they are considered another factor in long life.

Elderly people in these remote areas are productive contributors to the agricultural economy.

Plus, old age is honored--social status increases with age.

These groups of people are also relatively placid, unaggressive and firmly rooted in the family and the soil.

WHERE I STAND

Small business, including family-owned farms and ranches, is one of the most important segments of our U.S. economy. Making up for 97 percent of all American enterprises, small business provides 59 percent of all employment. In other words, more than half the working people in our nation are employed by small businesses.

Accounting for 48 percent of all business output, small business comprises 43 percent of our gross national product. When compared to some of the giant conglomerates and businesses we have in America today, I find the fact that our "mom and pop" operations produce nearly half of everything produced in this great nation a staggering fact.

Small business, then, is the backbone of our communities and the lifeblood of our economy. In school our children learn about the free enterprise system. Often they learn to work and therefore learn the free enterprise system first hand while being employed in a small family-owned business.

Why is it, however, that mindless bureaucrats in Washington have set up an inheritance tax system that makes it impossible to pass on a farm, ranch or business to our children without financially crippling them? I believe the fact that everything covered under the inheritance tax has already been paid for at least once with either income tax or property tax creates DOUBLE TAXATION.

When the voters of Texas' 21st District send me to Congress I am going to work to raise the exemption on inheritance taxes to at least $300,000 or eliminate them all together.

The alternative, moreover, is the disappearance of individually-owned businesses and the ultimate takeover of these businesses by massive conglomerates. In other words, all small businesses will become a part of "big business".

I hope you will join me in this fight for the preservation of our economic freedom.

Too Much Nitrogen Covers Lawn Problems

Homeowners who use too much nitrogen fertilizer on their lawns may be covering up some serious lawn problems.

Grass invaded by weeds, weakened by insect or disease attacks, or showing the effects of thatch accumulation may be boosted temporarily by nitrogen fertilizer. However, unless the primary problem is diagnosed and solved, applying nitrogen only adds to the problem.

Excess nitrogen stimulates growth which adds to thatch accumulation. Also, excessive use of nitrogen produces succulent growth that is more susceptible to chinch bugs and diseases such as brownpatch and leaf spot.

Water requirements also increase when too much nitrogen is applied.

Apply nitrogen fertilizer conservatively and only when the grass shows symptoms of nitrogen deficiency—pale color, slow growth and abundant seedheads, advises the Texas A&M University System specialist, Dr. Richard Doble.

Use of slow-release nitrogen sources will reduce the spring burst of growth that follows the application of soluble nitrogen sources. Also, the effect of nitrogen will last much longer where slow-release sources are used. Slow-release sources can be recognized by the W.I.N. (water insoluble nitrogen) label on the fertilizer bag.

On St. Augustine grass lawns, the specialist recommends spring and fall applications of nitrogen. Apply nitrogen at a rate of one pound per 1,000 square feet (12 pounds of 8-8-8 fertilizer or 8 pounds of 12-6-6 fertilizer) in the spring and two pounds per 1,000 square feet in the fall. In most areas of Texas, applications of iron (iron sulfate or iron chelate) will be required to give St. Augustine a dark green color.

If grass clippings are routinely removed from the lawn at least one additional application of nitrogen will be required during the growing season.

"St. Augustine grass growing in moderately shaded areas requires less nitrogen than that growing in full sunlight," notes Doble. "A single fall fertilization is recommended for moderately shaded lawns."

Bermudagrass lawns need more nitrogen than St. Augustine lawns to maintain color and growth. However, application rates should not exceed one pound of nitrogen per 1,000 square feet at any one application, cautions the specialist.

Consumer Food News For Week

Grocery features include processed fruits and vegetables, spices, tuna, and pasta and dairy products at Texas markets this week.

Also, several fresh vegetable items, poultry and frozen fish may offer economy prices, according to Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, a consumer marketing information specialist.

Price and quality trends are as follows: Features in dairy goods features milk, cheese, yogurt and butter, along with half-and-half, sour cream and whipping cream.

Best buys in vegetables are carrots, and reasonable prices appear on Texas cabbage and peppers from Mexico and Florida. Asparagus prices are a bit lower, but onion prices are higher due to field losses and transportation problems.

Pricewise, also consider broccoli, collards, mustard greens, turnips, rutabagas and potatoes.

Some fryer-chicken features appear on whole birds and parts. Many markets offer turkey parts at bargain prices, and eggs have attractive prices.

Several promotions are underway on frozen fish, but compare prices according to style, type and package size.

Grapefruit has high quality and economical prices. Strawberry supplies are limited, but expect them to increase. Some cantaloupe has moderate price levels, and pineapple has lower prices.

Prices continue to trend upward.

Chuck cuts are the most-often featured items. For real economy, but the less expensive chuck cuts and grind them at home. Other features include boneless roasts, round and sirloin steak and beef liver.

Prices are higher, but features include bacon, some end and loin chops, rib and loin-end roasts, Boston butt roasts, roll sausage and liver. Consumer Watchwords Nonfat dry milk helps trim the food budget.

Girl Scout Fund Drive Underway

The 1978 Ozona Girl Scout Fund Drive is underway, according to Cathy Carson, this year's chairman. She will be calling on private citizens, parents of Girl Scouts, and service clubs to donate money toward Ozona's goal of $1,710. The Fund Drive started April 1 and runs through April 17.

Pat Wester, Dub Carlisle, Jim Adams, Bill Carson, Jr. and Dr. Steve Sessom will be calling on local business and professional people to make their income tax deductible contributions. Donations, payable to the El Camino Girl Scout Council-Ozona Fund, may be sent directly to Mrs. Carson at Box 1162, Ozona.

Mrs. Carson added, "The Council budget is well over $100,000 for 1978. Ozona's fair share is very small in comparison. Please help our children to be prepared for the future and learn to be citizens with high moral values and ideals by contributing to Girl Scouting today."

Weight Chart--Good Daily Diet Reminder

As a daily reminder to stay on that diet, make a weight chart, suggests Frances Reasonover, foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Use graph paper to make the daily weight chart, she explains.

Along the left-hand column, write present weight two spaces below the top to give a maximum upward fluctuation of two pounds. Then, write down one pound weight differences on each line below present weight.

Next, across the bottom of the chart, put today's date under the first line, followed by tomorrow's date, until the chart is filled with day of the month.

Put a circle on the point that intersects present weight and today's date.

Weight daily at the same time and record the weight on the chart in the same way each day.

Connect the circles daily. This will give a weight loss--or gain--chart.

The preferred time to weigh is in the morning before getting dressed for breakfast.

Hang the chart in a prominent place near the scale--such as on the bathroom door--as a daily reminder to weigh.

Leave it up until it's filled.

To help make the chart a success, practice improved eating habits.

If prone to eating too fast, practice eating slowly and enjoying the food. Chew and savor each bite.

After finishing one-third to one-half of the portion, stop and take a break before finishing the rest.

It takes 20 minutes for the "satisfied" signal to reach the brain from the stomach. The longer it takes to eat, the less food it will take to feel full, she says.

To help slow down eating, lay down the fork between bites. Cut another bite only after the previous bite is completely chewed and swallowed.

If this is difficult to remember, place a small sign in front of the plate as a reminder.

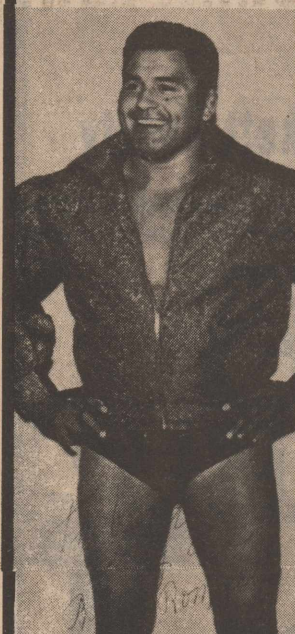

If anger, boredom or frustration bring about eating binges, have a list of alternative activities and select one to do instead of eating.

These activities may either be enjoyable--such as hobby, reading, sports, movies or music--or necessary--such as paying bills, doing the laundry, running an errand or cleaning a closet.

Eliminate any "junk" or high-calorie foods from the house. Snack on lettuce, celery or cucumbers that do no harm, calorie wise.

Remember, real hunger pangs usually last only 10 minutes.

4-H Horse Club Gets Organized In County

The Ozona 4-H Horse Club Leader Meeting was held Tuesday night, April 3, in the High School Library. Mr. Billy Reager, county agent, presided.

Mrs. Lorelei McMullan reported to the members that the Tissie Mitchell Memorial 4-H award fund has been established and that, if enough funds are raised, a buckle will be presented each year to a deserving 4-H Horse Club member. She also mentioned that anyone wishing to donate to this fund may do so at the Ozona National Bank.

The annual 4-H Horse Camp will be held this year during the week beginning June 6 at Camp Musquiz located in the Fort David Mountains. The camp fee will be $60.00 per week and it was noted that each camper would bring their own horse and attend to same.

The 4-H Roping School will be held this year beginning June 25 and lasting through June 29. All interested participants must be 14 years of age or older and may contact Mr. Reager's office for further information.

The following Play Days were scheduled: April 13, Loyd Comer in charge; April 27, Pam and Earl Acton in charge; May 4, Paula Bailey in charge; May 18, Lorelei McMullan in charge (Trail Ride).

Each of these play days are designed to help the young horseman or woman in various aspects of showing, grooming, or handling their horse. Unless other wise stated, each play day will be held in the 4-H arena on the designated day at 7:00 in the evening.

The annual Ozona 4-H Horse Show was scheduled for June 17 so that the members that keep their horses in town will have more time to prepare for this event. The District Horse Show will be held on July 8 in Fort Stockton.

There being no further business, the meeting was adjourned.

The following members were in attendance: Carol Carlisle, Alice and Joe Couch, R.J. Everett, Loyd Comer, Tite Bishop, Eddie and Nancy Hale, George Ann Aycock, Lorelei McMullan and Billy Reager.

Change In Wage & Tax Reporting

Franklin H. Upp, manager, San Angelo Social Security Office, stated today that several changes in wage and tax reporting beginning in 1978 should be brought to the attention of employers. Employers who have in past years filed Form 941 should note that beginning January 1, 1978, the Schedule A of the Form 941 will no longer be required.

Form 941 will still be sent quarterly to the Internal Revenue Service. However, Schedule A, or continuation sheet, will no longer be used to report the social security wages for an employee. Instead, the W-2 form, submitted at the end of 1978, will be used by both the Social Security Administration to credit the employee's social security wages, and by the Internal Revenue Service for income tax purposes. Beginning with 1978, all W-2 forms should be mailed to the Social Security Administration. These changes are explained in the 1977 Circular E Supplement, Employer's Tax Guide, issued by the Internal Revenue Service.

For further information concerning these changes, you may contact the San Angelo, Texas, Social Security Office at 2214 Sherwood Way by phoning 949-4608.

Taxpayers Can Extend Deadline

Taxpayers can receive an automatic 2-month extension of their tax return filing deadline by filing a Form 4868, the Internal Revenue Service said.

Form 4868, "Application for Automatic Extension of Time to File U.S. Individual Income Tax Return," is available at local IRS offices or can be obtained by filling out the handy order blank for free forms and publications found in the tax package.

When requesting an extension, the taxpayer must make two copies of the Form 4868, filing the original with the IRS on or before the due date of the tax return. On this original, the taxpayer must estimate his or her tax bill for the year and enclose full payment for the tax liability.

When the taxpayer later files the actual tax return, the duplicate of Form 4868 must be attached and the amount of tax previously paid entered on the appropriate line of Form 1040. Taxpayers receiving an extension cannot use the short Form 1040A or have the IRS compute their tax bill.

If a taxpayer underestimated the tax bill on Form 4868, he or she must pay interest on the unpaid amount. In addition, if the unpaid amount is over 10 percent of the total tax bill, the IRS will levy additional penalties on the taxpayer.

U.S. citizens outside the U.S. or Puerto Rico on the date of their tax deadline can receive an automatic 2-month extension of the filing deadline without filing Form 4868, the IRS said. This provision applies to both taxpayers whose deadline is April 15 and taxpayers who file returns on a fiscal year basis. Taxpayers who qualify for this extension must attach a statement to their tax return when they file stating that they were outside the U.S. or Puerto Rico on the date of their filing deadline.

Deadline extensions past the 2-month extension date are granted only under unusual circumstances, according to the IRS. Taxpayers can apply for a further extension by letter or by filling out Form 2688, "Application for Extension of Time to File U.S. Individual Income Tax Return." The applicant must include the reasons why the additional extension is necessary.

Requests for an additional extension should be filed early so that the taxpayer will be able to file the return on time should the request for extension be rejected.

Estimated Tax Pmts. Due Soon

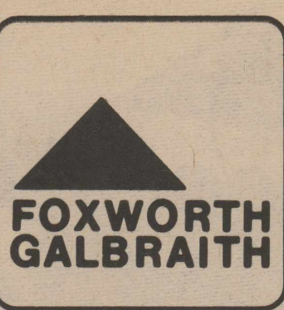

Corporations operating on a calendar year tax basis with an expected tax liability of at least $40 for 1978 are required to pay estimated taxes by Monday, April 17.

When the payments are deposited in authorized commercial banks or Federal Reserve Banks, they must be accompanied by Form 503, the Internal Revenue Service said.

The amount deposited by April 17 should cover one quarter of the 1978 estimated tax. The estimated tax and the amount of each installment can be computed on Form 1120-W (Worksheet), "1977 Corporation Estimated Tax," which is not filed with the IRS but retained in the corporation's records, according to the IRS.

Supplies of Form 1120-W and a helpful pamphlet, IRS Publication 542, "Corporations and the Federal Income Tax," are available free from local IRS offices.

TS&GR Puzzled Over Policies At USDA

The Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association is a little puzzled, perhaps even dismayed, about some of the things going on these days at the USDA.

Now that's a broad statement if there ever was one. Seems there's always something disconcerting going on with any government outfit. To be more specific, it looks like USDA is diving headlong into the wildlife business—possibly at the expense of the agricultural community.

In an era when the federal bureaucracy is supposed to be working overtime to eliminate duplication of functions, it is a little hard to understand USDA's rush to steal Interior's business.

But what's happening, judging from some of the statements made recently by USDA Assistant Secretary M. Rupert Cutler. Dr. Cutler told a wildlife and natural resources conference in Phoenix Mar. 20 that his department is putting increasing emphasis on wildlife.

Sounds reasonable, even admirable on the surface—aside from the duplication aspect. There's always more to these things than meets the ear, however, Cutler's remarks, given a little interpretation, seem to suggest that USDA may allow wildlife concerns to overshadow Agriculture's needs. That could be because he was talking to people who would be pleased to hear such suggestions—but producers, particularly livestock producers, can't afford to dismiss the idea so lightly.

Along with such predictably unintelligible bureaucratic jargon as "impacting the ecosystem" and "holistic planning", Cutler threw in a few sleeping bombshells that producers should approach warily. One, the idea of making wildlife a "full partner" in decisionmaking, bodes potential trouble. Federal agencies in recent years have gone so completely overboard in making "full partners" of often conflicting interests that reality usually ends up taking a backseat to advocacy. Productivity dies an agonizing death by starvation as extremist interest groups battle endlessly over who's partnership should be the fullest.

New Mexico sheep producers on federal grazing leases are right now dealing with a proposed regulation requiring them to desecrate their own fences so that antelope won't be inconvenienced in their meanderings.

The rule would lower the tops and raise the bottoms of fences so that little would remain but posts and a dab of decoration in the middle. The fact that sheep and predators could pass under such fences at a high lope is of no concern at all to the regulators—as long as there's even a slight chance that such a move would make the antelope feel more at home. So much for "full partnerships."

There are many more between-the-lines questions raised by Cutler's speech, but one of the most obvious is—how much money will this wildlife focus siphon away from the productive end of USDA's responsibilities, that of agriculture? Only time will tell a truism, but true!

Track Team Sixth At Mason Meet

The Ozona Lion track team faced the toughest competition of the season at Mason Friday, but managed a sixth place finish in a field of 12. However, consistent Lion leaders managed to place and perform well.

Steve Pagan won second in the 120 high hurdles with a time of 15.48 and third in the 330 intermediate hurdles with 40.62.

Blake Moody came in second in pole vault with 13' and fifth in the long jump with a leap of 20'3/4".

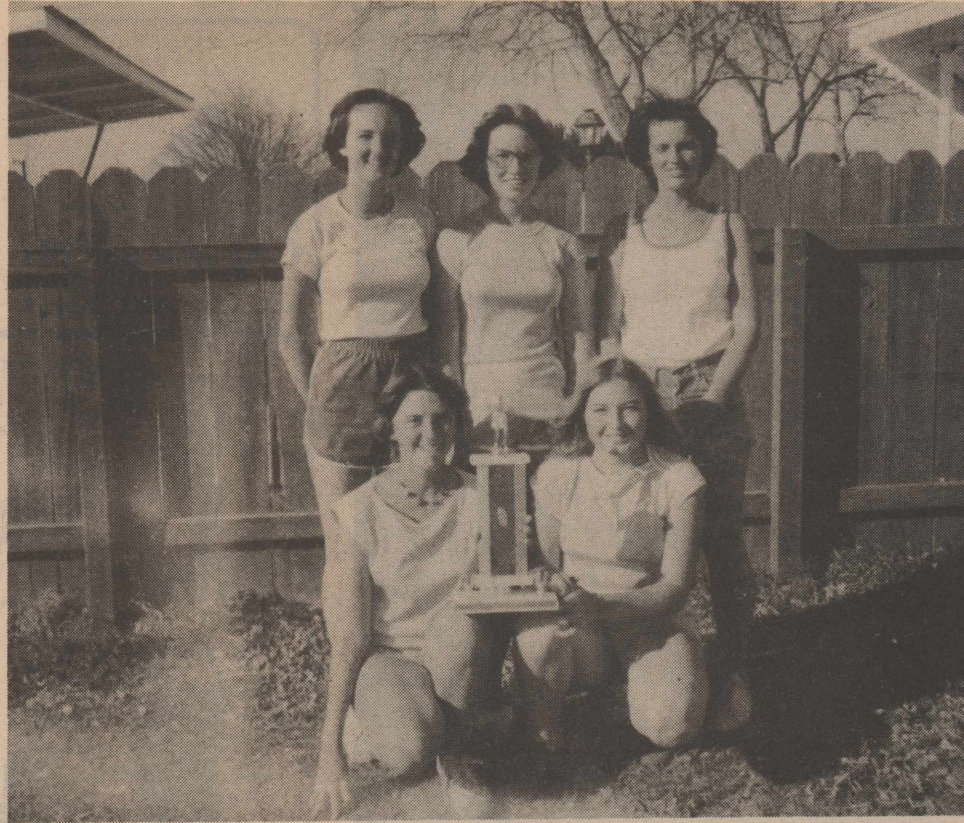

Dan Sewell placed third in pole vault with 12'6".

Jesse Garza was fourth in the mile run with a time of 4:45, which set a new school record.

Fred Garza came in fifth in the 120 high hurdles and sixth in the intermediate hurdles to add points.

The 37 points scored by the Lions were a season low for the team and with only two weeks remaining prior to the district meet, the Lions are regrouping for the big one. Friday they will participate in the Alpine meet, the final competition before the district meet at Kermit, April 15.

OHS GIRL GOLFERS win their first trophy. It was a third place win at the Big Lake tournament last weekend, but they'll never be happier when they collect a first place. Holding the trophy are Sheri Webster and Karla Koerth. In back are Debbie Wallace, Leanne Arledge and Teresa Brown.

Girls Golf Team Wins Trophy

Ozona High School girl golfers placed third and brought home a trophy Friday in the Big Lake tournament out of a field of seven high school teams. Rankin won the meet with a team total of 348, followed by Big Lake with 382 and Ozona with 410.

Carla Koerth shot the lowest score for Ozona, carding a 96 for the 18 holes. Sheri Webster shot a 99, Teresa Brown, 100; Debbie Wallace, 115, and Leanne Arledge, 142.

Arts & Crafts Show Slated For April 18

Boys Golf Team Fails To Place

Ozona High School's golf team failed to place in the first district meet Friday in Sonora. Kermit won the meet with a team total of 310.

Wade Beasley had the best score for Ozona with an 86. Other individual scores were Richard Wallace, 89; Jeffrey Young and Gary Yeager, 90; Gary Adcock, 113; David Lott, 118, and Bobby Jack Maness, 123.

Update Property Insurance

Property insurance needs an update to keep pace with inflation.

Most people have some form of insurance on their property, but few understand what their policies do and do not cover. Linda McCormack with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service explains.

Since a family's largest and most important investment is usually the home, they need to insure it against the most common risks.

The amount of property insurance depends on the value of the home and household goods. Some policies require that the dwelling be insured for at least 80 percent of the home's replacement value.

To determine the home's replacement cost, contact an insurance company and ask for a dwelling evaluation worksheet. In most instances, the homeowner can make the analysis and have a satisfactory estimate.

However, if the home was constructed before 1930, a professional appraisal may be needed.

If the insurance does not cover the replacement cost, the policy limits may need to be raised, or else, the homeowner must pay some of the replacement cost in event of a partial loss.

To keep pace with inflation, ask about the Inflation Guard Endorsement, which increases policy limits by a fixed percent—usually one or two percent quarterly—to assist in keeping coverage current with construction costs, the specialist continues.

Also, personal possessions in the home may not be adequately covered. As a general rule, most household possessions are automatically insured for 40 to 50 percent of the coverage on the home.

As an extra safeguard, insure valuable possessions separately. These might include furs, special collections, paintings, silver, fine jewelry and certain musical instruments.

The event is sponsored by Faith Lutheran Church, Missouri Synod.

Members of the cast have impressive backgrounds, and include Sherron Beth Huffman, President of Fine Arts Center, director, actress and dancer, Carrol Lutrell, accompanist and composer, and Cynthia Nevels, principal dancer of the Festival Ballet and Pacific Northwest company.

Clean Up Week Starts

Ozonans are urged to take advantage of Spring Clean Up Week next week and clean up and tidy up around their homes and places of business.

Trucks will be cruising the town throughout next week. Pick up of trash and rubbish is free, but residents are asked to stack items so they will be accessible and in full view of pick up trucks. There is no need to call for a truck.

COMPARE OZONA WITH NEARBY TOWNS.

Not all of us are against individuals drinking alcoholic beverages, this is up to the individual.

However, we are against the sale of beer in our town. Off premises sale of beer is only the first step.

Next comes open bars, lounges and beer joints, along with the litter and brawls that go with it.

Our town is clean, let's keep it that way.

Protect our young people from the influence of open sales of alcoholic beverages.

We are going to the polls Saturday, April 8, and vote:
