Expert to inspect old house

Mr. Stan Klein, Restoration Consultant with the Texas Historical Commission, Austin, will come to Ozona on Thursday, November 6, to consult with the Crockett County Historical Commission regarding the best procedures to be followed in restoring the recently purchased early Emerald house.

Such projects are an important part of statewide restoration and preservation sponsored by the Texas Historical Commission in cooperation with local commissions. Fort Lancaster was preserved and saved some years ago as a part of such local effort and is now one of Crockett County's outstanding tourist and local attractions.

Crockett County Commission members feel that preservation and restoration of the Emerald House can become equally attractive.

GETTING OUT THE VOTE was easy in Crockett County Tuesday, as a record number of voters turned out to cast ballots. Voting was steady in all precincts throughout the day and heavy between 5 o'clock and 7:00 when the polls closed. This was the scene in Precinct 3, where ballots were cast at the Civic Center.

Permits to be issued

Texas Parks and Wildlife Department will issue Antlerless Deer Permits for Crockett County Monday, Nov. 10, from 8:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon and from 1:00 till 5:00 p.m. in the Crockett County Courthouse.

A map with the antlerless deer permit issuance compartments and issuance rates will be posted in the Crockett County Courthouse prior to the issuance date. To qualify for at least one permit, a landowner must own or control acreage at least equal to one-half of the permit issuance rate of the compartment where the tract is located.

South of Interstate 10, one antlerless deer permit will be issued for every 75 acres. North of I-10, one permit will be issued for every 200 acres.

Deer numbers are down this year, according to game warden Raymond Davee. There was a big die-off from the drought, Davee said, but the deer that survived are good ones.

Crockett County voters joined the rest of the nation in giving Governor Reagan a victory in the presidential race Tuesday in the general election.

With Precinct 1, Precinct 3, Precinct 4, and West Texas Utilities Power Plant complete at 9:00 p.m. Tuesday, it was obvious the Republican presidential ticket had won in the county. Also, incumbent Tom Loeffler held a healthy lead over his Democratic challenger Joe Sullivan, for U.S. Representative, 21st District.

With Precinct 2 and the Absentee box yet to be counted, at 9:15 p.m., the Crockett County vote went like this:

For Reagan-Bush, 497; for Carter-Mondale 464; for Libertarian Clark, 4; and for John B. Anderson, 6.

Loeffler had 569 votes with absentee and Precinct 2 still out. Sullivan garnered 369, while Wm. Rice, the Libertarian, got 3 votes.

For Railroad Commissioner, Buddy Temple, the Democrat had 502 votes to Henry Grover's 350. Jim Nugent led for Railroad Commission, unexpired term, with 173 votes, while Doc Blanchard, the Republican had 45.

Hoover services here Mon.

Graveside services for L.B. (Hop) Hoover, 66, were held Monday at 2:30 p.m. in Cedar Hill Cemetery under the direction of Sizemore Funeral Home.

Mr. Hoover died at 7:10 a.m. Saturday in Crockett County Hospital.

He was born Dec. 12, 1913 in San Angelo. He married Johnnie West July 20, 1942, in San Antonio. He was a rancher, a veteran of World War II and a member of the Methodist Church.

Survivors include his wife of Ozona; two sons, James Brock Hoover of Brossard, La., and John Hoover of Lubbock, and two grandchildren.

Local voters might have had an inkling of how the election would go, had they known the results of a mock election held at Ozona High School Monday. A total of 277 students out of 292 cast ballots in the election, which was complete with election judges, ballots, and other election paraphernalia.

Ozona voters went "for" five proposals on the amendments and "against" four, unofficially. Proposal one passed here 446 to 249 with the two absent boxes. That went "for" Number 4 by a margin of 512 to 293. Also, Proposal 6 passed 551 to 251 and number 7, 579 to 227. Voters went 499 to 271 "for" Proposal number nine. The vote went "against" the other four proposals by a slight margin. With a complete count this might change.

The absentee box and Precinct 2 traditionally go Republican, so the complete count will no doubt give the top runners an even bigger margin of victory.

We will give a complete count in all precincts next week.

In the high school election Gov. Reagan received 147 votes or 53.63 percent of the total vote. President Carter garnered 120 votes or 43.8 percent of the total. John Anderson, running on the Independent ticket got 4 votes and Libertarian Ed Clark got 3 votes.

Incumbent Republican Congressman, 21st District, won easily over Democratic challenger Joe Sullivan, in the mock election, garnering 53 percent of the vote while Sullivan got 34 percent.

All amendments passed except Proposal number 3 and number 5.

Marker to be dedicated Sun.

An official Texas Historical Marker will be dedicated here Sunday at 4 p.m. commemorating the local newspaper and its service to the community. The marker, entitled "The Ozona Stockman," will be attached to the building where the present newspaper is located, the corner of Ave. E and 10th Street. The 27-inch by 42-inch marker tells a brief story of the newspaper business from 1892 to 1972 in Ozona.

Judge Johnny Jones will officially dedicate the marker. It will be attached to the building facing toward 10th Street, where a natural frame was made with the enclosure of a plate glass window when the building was remodeled earlier this year.

The public is invited to attend the ceremony which will be presented by the Crockett County Historical Society and Survey Committee. Under the leadership of Mrs. R.A. Harrell, Crockett County is one of the most active counties in Texas for the marking of historical sites. The Ozona Stockman marker does not mark a historical site, but commemorates the many years service to the community by the newspaper.

The newspaper plant, which had been housed in the old Davidson building next to the bank as long as anyone can remember, moved to its new quarters at 1000 Ave. E earlier this year. The marker will be installed so that it can be moved in the highly unlikely event that the newspaper plant is moved again.

The inscription on the marker reads as follows:

"In 1892 Claude B. Hudspeth (1877-1941) began publication of a weekly newspaper called the "Ozona Kicker." Following his three-year ownership, Hudspeth entered politics, serving first in the Texas Legislature and later as Representative from the Sixteenth Texas District to the United States Congress.

The newspaper was published by later owners as the "Enterprise," "Courier," and "Optimist." When County Judge Charles E. Davidson purchased the operation in 1913, he changed the name to "Ozona Stockman" to reflect the important role of cattlemen and the ranching industry in the development of Crockett County and the surrounding area.

W. Ewart White took over as publisher and editor in 1926. A native of Tom Green County, he had served on newspaper staffs in Austin, San Angelo, San Antonio, and Cuero before purchasing the "Stockman". Under his leadership the content and format of the paper were changed to match the style of leading daily publications. In 1941 White directed the work on an 88-page special edition. Printed in honor of Crockett County's 50th Anniversary, it was considered a major achievement for the staff of a weekly paper. White retired in 1972 after 46 years with the "Stockman".

The event Sunday will also honor Mr. White, who brought the newspaper from the dark ages of hot lead and stone to the computerized modern operation it is today. Mr. White retired in July 1972, when he sold the newspaper to Kitty Montgomery, but he remains actively interested and may be found proof reading or troubleshooting almost any day of the week in the Stockman office. If the operation were incorporated, he would be an active Chairman of the Board.

Annual pecan show scheduled

The Fifth Annual Crockett County Pecan Show will be held on December 8 at the Civic Center. The event is sponsored annually by the Crockett County Program Building Committee.

The show continues to grow and stimulate more interest each year among local residents. Even though the pecan crop is below average this year, a large number of entries are expected in the pecan division as well as the food division. Nut quality should be good this year because of the smaller crop. When a large crop of nuts is produced, often there is not sufficient nutrients for them to fill out and mature properly. This lowers the quality. However, this is not a problem this year.

In the Pecan Division, a $50 cash prize and a plaque furnished by the Pecan Growers Association will be presented for the Grand Champion Pecan. Reserve Champion will receive a $25.00 cash award, and a $10.00 cash award will be presented to the person with the most pecan varieties entered. The first place winners in each category will be submitted to the Regional Pecan Show.

Food categories which may be entered are cake, pie, cookies, candy, bread, and miscellaneous. Food entries must be brought to the Civic Center from 7:30 to 10:30 a.m. Pecans must be used in all entries and recipes must be turned in with food. There is no limit on the number of entries, and entries may be picked up at 7:00 p.m. following the show.

A $10.00 cash award will go to the champion in each food category, $5.00 will go to runner-up in each category and a $10.00 cash award will go to the person with the most food entries.

This year's show will have a new division in addition to the pecan and food divisions. Arts and crafts will be the new division. Items entered in this division must use pecans in it. Ribbons and cash awards will also be given—$10.00 for first place and $5.00 for second place.

Both adults and youngsters are welcome to enter.

League sets gift bazaar

The annual Ozona Woman's League Gift Bazaar will be held Tuesday, November 25, at the Civic Center from 4:00 until 6:00 p.m.

All kinds of gift items and foods will be available. Everything offered is made by League members. There will be a food booth, a children's booth, a Christmas booth and a miscellaneous booth.

Mrs. Dwight Childress and Mrs. Douglas Moore are co-chairmen for this year's event. Mrs. Billy Carson and Mrs. Buster Deaton are in charge of food orders. They will be taking orders for baked goods through November 21, to be delivered at the Bazaar.

Refreshments will be served throughout the two hours the bazaar is open.

Tickets will be sold at the door for a raffle to benefit little Sammy Rivera, four-year-old cancer victim. The raffle prize will be a Geod, donated to the League by Archie Scott of the Wagon Trails Gallery in Pecos.

Mr. Colwick buried in Stephenville

Funeral services for Carl Davis Colwick, 80, of Stephenville, will be held Friday at 2:00 p.m. in First Christian Church in Stephenville. Mr. Colwick died at 6:20 p.m. Wednesday in his home.

He was born Feb. 10, 1900, in Bosque County. He married Grace Chandler March 8, 1925 in Stephenville. He was a retired rancher, and had ranched in Crockett County from 1937 to 1947. He had lived in Stephenville the past 34 years.

SPOOKY SPOOKS-You would never know it, but this gruesome trio is really three of Ozona's most attractive young ladies. Without children of their own, they visited friends with young ones. The trick backfired when some of the children were scared out of their wits.

you and the LAW

PRESENTED BY THE STATE BAR OF TEXAS

Q: How long must a person keep child support receipts? If my ex-wife tried to sue me for non-payment, how many receipts would I have to produce to prove that I've been making these payments?

A: There is no legally required number of years for retaining child support receipts. The facts of each case would determine the requirements for proof of child support payment, but the general rule is that receipts should be kept for at least four years. If you pay child support through the registry of the divorce court, a permanent record should be available from that source.

Q: I lived with a sailor and we had a joint checking account in both of our names. He bought me a wedding ring set but he moved out before we held our marriage ceremony. I drew the money out of the joint bank account and kept the wedding rings. Can he make me give the money back? Can he take the rings back?

A: If your living together did not constitute a common law marriage, then the use of the bank account would be determined by the intent of the man and the woman. If the intent was to share the bank account funds equally, the person withdrawing all of the funds may be liable for half of the amount withdrawn. If the wedding rings were a gift, the woman would be free to keep them unless the gift was conditional on the performance of the marriage ceremony.

Q: Before my husband and I recently separated, he asked me to sign a blank income tax return. I refused. I told him I would sign the completed form but the deadline has passed and I haven't received it. Could he have filed the return without my signature?

A: The Internal Revenue Service cannot process a joint tax return with only one signature. You should contact IRS to learn whether a joint return has been filed in your name. If it has been filed, IRS will explain how to correct the situation. If no return has been filed, you should file a return to avoid penalties for failure to file.

Q: A tenant in my rent house signed a one-year lease, but she moved after five months when she decided she could no longer afford the rent. I spent more than twice the amount of her security deposit on repairs. Am I obligated to return her deposit or provide her with an itemized accounting of my cost?

A: State law requires you to return your tenant's security deposit after subtracting for unpaid rent, repairs or other deductions allowed under the lease within 30 days. However, if your tenant owed rent when she moved, an itemized accounting of deductions is not required. The tenant also remains liable for the rent due for the remainder of the lease. This liability is reduced by the amount of any rent collected if the property is leased again.

Q: My husband received an inheritance before we married. Did this property become community property after we married? He invested part of his inheritance in other property and savings accounts. Are these new investments community property belonging to both of us? Also, would the law be the same for my inheritance?

A: A spouse's separate property is defined as property owned before marriage or property received by gift or inheritance after marriage. The owner of separate property, whether husband or wife, is free to manage and own it independent of the other spouse. Income from separate property such as interest on a savings account is community property and is owned jointly by the husband and wife.

Is Inflation a Derivative Problem?

by George Hagedorn

In the August 28 announcement of his "Economic Renewal Program," President Carter explained the underlying sources of inflation in the following passage: "We will put Americans to work fighting the major long-term causes of inflation itself—our declining productivity and our dependence on foreign oil."

Note that in this list of the major causes, the president did not include the long sequence of large federal budget deficits in the 1970s—a sequence that seems destined to remain unbroken, at least in years now foreseeable. Also, he did not include as a major inflationary cause the rapid increase in the money supply during the 1970s, as engineered by the Federal Reserve System.

Strange Omission

These omissions seem strange, since many experts have regarded fiscal and monetary mismanagement as the root causes of inflation. In fact, as recently as mid-March 1980, the president himself placed budget balance and curbing the expansion of money and credit at the center of his program for controlling inflation.

Of course, one must make allowances for political rhetoric in the brief statement cited above from President Carter's "Economic Renewal" announcement. But, when all allowances are made, it is apparent from this and other current political statements that the old-fashioned direct attack on inflation through its fiscal and monetary causes is taking a back seat. Politicians, across a wide spectrum of ideological views, seem to prefer regarding inflation as a derivative problem—derived from such other problems as slow productivity growth and dependency on foreign-source energy.

Treating inflation as a derivative problem, rather than a problem in itself, is politically attractive since it relieves office-seekers of the distressing necessity of proposing programs for the drastic curbing of federal expenditures—or for maintaining a tax system that will provide sufficient revenues to pay for them. Instead, politicians can turn their attention to proposing elaborate new activist economic programs for curbing inflation by attacking the other economic problems from which inflation is allegedly derived.

Is inflation, in fact, a secondary effect of such other problems as the productivity slowdown and foreign actions affecting the price of energy? This space won't permit an exhaustive analysis, but it seems to me that the opposite point of view is much closer to the truth—these other problems are to a large degree derived from the inflation problem, rather than the inflation problem from them.

An inflationary economy is inherently an inefficient economy—hence the slowdown in productivity growth. The wild gyrations of prices in the 1970s made rational preparations for business expansion much more difficult. The effective allocation of resources—the key to overall economic efficiency—is disturbed by frequent large and unpredictable price changes. Our financial institutions, which play a critical economic role, were not designed for, and do not work well in, an environment of severe inflation.

As for the price actions of foreign oil producers, it is inconceivable that these would have occurred in the way they did in the 1970s if it had not been for the inflationary background created by our own fiscal and monetary misdeeds. Perhaps the worst domestic economic effects of the rise in the world price of energy materials came from U.S. government attempts to minimize their effects on prices by direct controls—controls that have obviously been futile and counterproductive.

Inflation is the name of the disease that is sapping the nation's economic vigor. Its source is government's failure to carry out the prime economic function of government—providing the nation with a stable medium of exchange. Instead of insisting that government do a better job of what is undoubtedly its responsibility, political spokesmen seem to want government to move into new fields of economic activism.

As Inflation Goes . . .

I firmly believe that, if and when we solve the inflation problem, we will be agreeably surprised to observe how many other problems vanish along with it. If, on the other hand, we do not solve the inflation problem, it will not help much to have brilliant schemes for solving the other economic problems that now seem to be crowding inflation off the stage of political concern.

We will get nowhere in dealing with inflation unless and until we treat it as a problem in its own right. It is discouraging to see our political leaders evading this principle to seek public favor by talking of other things.

Mr. Hagedorn is vice president and chief economist of the National Association of Manufacturers.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—House Speaker Bill Clayton, cleared last week of Brilab charges of influence peddling, has indicated he will run again for Speaker.

Clayton said he will make a formal announcement of his candidacy sometime this week. Already the first person to serve an unprecedented three terms as Speaker, Clayton seeks a fourth term against State Rep. John Bryant, D-Dallas.

A third candidate, Gib Lewis, D-Fort Worth, is a top member of Clayton's conservative team in the Legislature. Lewis held the faction together throughout Clayton's legal woes, and has said he will step down if Clayton runs. Observers are waiting now for Lewis to announce otherwise or withdraw from Clayton.

"I am running. In fact, I have already recontacted enough House members. We already have the election assured," Clayton said last week.

The Lewis Factor

While Clayton struggled with Brilab, his legislative supporters rallied around the candidacy of Lewis, who did a superb job of preventing a splintering into lesser factions. Lewis reportedly maintained some 90-plus votes (76 votes needed to win), and stood stronger than other announced candidates who eventually pledged to him or Bryant.

A fourth candidate, Craig Washington, D-Houston, was named speaker pro tem by Clayton last week. Washington, a black who is generally graded among the ablest lawmakers, is a lawyer who aided Clayton's Brilab defense.

Should Clayton win when the Legislature convenes in January, he will owe much to the pair, particularly Lewis. Lewis will no doubt receive a committee plum for his stewardship, unless he challenges Clayton. The conservative lobby reportedly wanted Lewis to continue his bid, but may now have decided Clayton is not as tainted by Brilab as was expected.

The Bryant Factor

Bryant is generally credited with a solid backing of about 35 votes. An outspoken and gutsy legislator, his hopes may be diminishing. After all, how could he defeat his nemesis Clayton if he could not overcome the surrogate Lewis?

For the first time, serious consideration of a replacement Speaker candidate for Bryant is being heard on the liberal side. If Bryant's strength has peaked, his cause may be better served if the leadership role is given to a more moderate candidate, such as Ron Coleman, D-El Paso, or Lynn Nabors, D-Brownwood.

And, too, many members are tired of the age-old feud between Clayton and Bryant which has bloodied the House on more than one occasion. Although Clayton and Bryant are the most skillful of legislators, fresh faces might be welcome in either camp. Clayton is touted now as a shoo-in, but anything can happen in the next two-and-a-half months.

More Medicaid Fk

Board members of the Texas Department of Human Resources last week hired a private consulting firm to review bids submitted by two insurance companies for a $2 billion state Medicaid contract.

The $100,000 consulting agreement with Touche-Ross Co. will apply to bids by Bradford National Corp., which was originally awarded the Medicaid program, and National Heritage Co., owned by Dallas multi-millionaire H. Ross Perot.

Perot has filed suit to prevent a final contract signing for Bradford in an attempt to keep the contract, now administered by National.

Special Election

Governor Bill Clements called for a special election Nov. 22 to fill the seat of State Rep. Mike Ezzell of Snyder, who resigned last month to serve on a health services state agency.

The special election has ired taxpayers in that district, since the winner will serve only until Jan. 12, when the Legislature convenes. At that time Representative-elect Larry Don Shaw will take his seat in the House, and the special election winner will go home.

Clements' move is seen as a ploy to give some Republican a chance to build name identification for a future race against Democrats. Some locals feel it's a big waste of tax money.

NATION'S SUPPLY OF ENGINEERS IS FALLING SHORT

The dean of the nation's largest college of engineering warned recently the nation's supply of engineers falls far short of industry demand and there is no sign of relief.

Shortages have developed for petroleum, chemical, electrical, mechanical, aerospace, civil and safety engineers, said Dr. Robert H. Page of Texas A&M University.

Although Texas A&M graduated a record 881 engineers in 1979, including 80 women, recruiters from industry and business still demand more.

HURRICANE ALLEN PROVES GOOD TEST OF PREPAREDNESS

One bonus provided by Hurricane Allen, which caused hundreds of millions of dollars in damage on the lower Texas coast, was to prepare Texans along the upper coast for major evacuation.

"Hurricane Allen was unique. It provided an excellent trial for evacuation of both vessels and coastal residents," said Dr. Wallace Klussman, state leader of the Marine Advisory Service of Texas A&M University's Sea Grant College Program.

Tips For Gardeners

From the Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

After a very early frost like we had last week there will be many gardening activities slowed down, but this will be a good time to get garden tools in top shape for spring.

See that the lawn mower blades are sharpened, rust is removed from pruners and hoses repaired or replaced.

There is still fall cleaning that should be completed this month. Clean gutters and drains of fallen leaves that prevent their normal function. Also this is clean-up month for our city, so do your part to help with the needed project.

To protect old peony plants, cut the browned or dead tops off to near the ground level. Place a cup of bone meal around the plant and mound dirt up several inches for winter months. You may want to consider landscape improvement now, prior to the dormant planting season. Some plants may need to be removed or replaced if they no longer fulfill their usefulness.

When considering the kind of trees to plant, you may be rewarded by selecting one that is long lived. Superior trees such as the live-oak and the Southern Magnolia should not be passed up because they are considered slow growers. When given proper care, these trees need not take so long to reach desirable size. First consider soil conditions. If infertile, soil can be replaced or modified to better suit the tree's requirements.

Consider the place where to plant the tree. Most trees make the maximum growth when planted in full sun. Place mulch around the tree to hold moisture and reduce soil temperature. Keep grass away from a newly planted tree so the root growth will not have to compete for available water and nutrients.

Proper care of shrubs this fall will assure their survival this winter and their being in a healthy condition ready for growth next spring. First of all, be sure plants get a good supply of water before predicted cold hits our area.

This is especially important if it is unusually dry. Evergreens and new plantings are especially susceptible to cold injury. Water is as important in winter as in the summer, for plants lose water constantly. Sunburn and windburn are primarily caused by less loss of water. A mulch around shrubs will help to conserve the moisture. Naturally shrubs and trees need not be watered as often in the winter as in the summer, but should not be neglected and let them become too dry. Many shrubs in our city show that neglect from last winter.

If you plant amaryllis bulbs early this month, you'll have plants in bloom for the holidays.

Sorority has "Couples Rush" party

The Alpha Alpha Mu Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met Thursday in the home of Chris Weant for the "Couples Rush Party." Karen Morris and Belinda Wilkins served as assisting hostesses. A taco supper and a movie were enjoyed by 50 persons.

The chapter members met again Monday in the home of Nancy Vannoy for the Model Meeting. Hostesses besides Mrs. Vannoy were Dena Porter, Jill Crawford and Evelyn Hall.

A skit was presented by the Executive Board based on the television show, Sesame Street, entitled "Sorority Street."

Refreshments were served following the skit, and members looked over the old scrapbooks before the meeting ended.

People can expect to live longer than ever before. Medical advances have pushed the average age span to almost 73 years of age. Since 1950, more than 4 1/2 years have been added to the average life expectancy. TMA

The House of Kings

What stories could be told by the White House on Pennsylvania Avenue. It has seen men plucked from the ranks and lifted to the heights of power almost overnight; it has housed large and small families, fed them, entertained them, challenged them and watched them eventually depart to make way for newcomers.

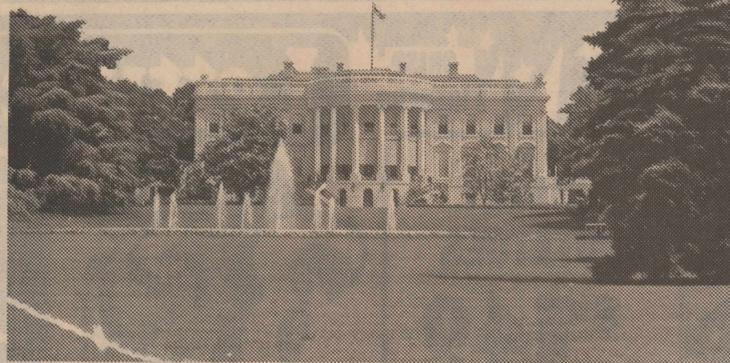

Think of the secrets this House has heard — the hopes and plans for a nation's future. No doubt about it . . . the White House could fill many books with the stories it has witnessed.

Each president has been given a great privilege, as well as a grave responsibility. The opportunity to lead your nation as commander-in-chief is a rare one indeed.

There is another king who has led and inspired the lives of countless millions over the ages. He needs no White House. He is everywhere. His power is infinite, and His oval office is in the hearts of people everywhere. Let His love and guidance sustain you. Worship this week in the House of your choice.

Crockett County Care Center News

by Joan Nicholas-Director of Activities & Social Care

Quite a bit has been happening during the past seven days. We have had two parties and a band.

On Wednesday, the 29th, the ladies of the W.M.U. of the First Baptist Church brought over two large sacks of beauty shop supplies and other items, and gave a Halloween party serving cookies and entertaining with a good old sing-song. We used the songs for which I had typed up the words and we have them in individual song books with lots of the old favorites. The Big Lake folks have melodious voices and our residents joined in.

On Tuesday night the Wiliford Family Band came over from Sheffield and gave a good program. Made a discovery—Virginia Russell is quite the dancer! Mentioned it to her daughter, Sue Linthicum, and she agreed that her mother used to love to go out dancing.

Winner of the "losers of the month" bingo gift certificate from Baker Jewelers was Tomasa Ramos after a play-off with Cora Webb. We also had a play-off for the weekly certificate between Lydia Patrick, Evelyn Bryant, and Seferino Garcia. Lydia was the winner. The runners up all received prizes.

In reading and discussion group we discussed the election issues and I read answers to several questions given to the two major candidates. We also discussed other news, the hostage situation and the war between Iraq and Iran. On the lighter side we had jokes, an article about Nancy Reagan and more of "Yesteryear". We were happy to have Clara Mayes and Lydia Patrick with us.

In Bible class Cora Webb was able to be with us, and Clara Mayes also came to be with us. We hope they will come every time. I read two small sermons as they appear in "Grit" one entitled "Message of Hope" and the other was "Dealing with Anger," the text for the latter being "Be ye angry and sin not; let not the sun go down upon your wrath" Eph. 4:26. After discussion on both of these and how they could help in our daily lives we turned once more to our study on the 23rd Psalm where we had reached "Yea though I walk through the Valley...for thou art with me." We have found this paper back very inspirational; it is entitled "Psalm Twenty-Three" by Haddon W. Robinson.

Friday night we had some delightful children visiting us in costume; some rather horrendous, and others came as a fairy, a queen, and a gypsy and one imposing looking little fellow (Gordon Smith's grandson) who must have been the ring master for a circus in his top hat and very black moustache. We thank those responsible for bringing them by and making our residents feel a real part of the community on Halloween.

Last week we also saw an excellent film entitled "Williamsburg-Story of a Patriot."

Vera Miller came back from the hospital just in time to be here for when her niece and nephew arrived from Wisconsin. She was 90 years old on Sunday and Presbyterians from Big Lake had asked me some weeks earlier if their minister from San Angelo, the Rev. J.T. Morrow, might be permitted to have the Sunday afternoon service. Our Methodists kindly gave up their Sunday so that this group could come over. They also brought a lovely birthday cake for Vera and punch was served and everyone had a big time before settling down to a very nice service.

Vera had been a Sunday School teacher with a high school group in Big Lake; she gained her degree at the University of Chicago and taught in Waco, Texas for many years before moving to Big Lake with her late husband. We are so happy that she has recovered from her recent fall and illness.

I have a long list of "thank-yous" but we are running out of space. Next week they will appear, for sure!

Deer hunters to abandon football for hunting

Football may soon have serious competition.

In a few weeks, deer hunters all across the state will relinquish their roles as armchair quarterbacks to renew their annual quest for freshly stocked freezers and handsome wall mounts. Many, however, will be on their first big game hunt and may be somewhat confused over the inordinate amount of hunting paraphernalia to choose from.

So, before taking to the countryside, it's a good idea for all hunters to make sure they have acquired adequate equipment and found it to be in good working order, says Dr. Dwight Guynn, a wildlife specialist based in Uvalde with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

First and foremost is the selection of firearms assuming, of course, that leases and licenses have been secured.

Guynn suggests choosing a rifle with sufficient caliber (firepower) for a quick, humane kill. He says it's important to match caliber with one's physical size and shooting experience. Hence, large, heavier men can probably handle larger caliber rifles more accurately than small, petite women.

The most popular deer rifles used today are .243, .270, .20/06 and .30/30 calibers. Selection, of course, varies according to hunting preference, but inexperienced or beginning hunters can choose between these widely used models in good confidence.

Selecting the type rifle "action" depends on the kind of hunting one expects to do. In heavy brush for shots at close range (100 yards or less), a fast handling rifle with pump, lever action or semi-automatic may be appropriate. Guynn says a bolt action rifle is most often considered for open country requiring long accurate shots.

Scope selection, often a critical factor in the successful hunt, is influenced significantly by the terrain. For open country with long distance shooting, Guynn suggests a six-to-eight-power scope. Under heavy cover with close shots, an open sight or two-power scope is usually all that's needed. A four-power scope is popular because of all-around versatility. Variable power scopes as the 2x-7x and 3x-9x are also versatile.

Binoculars are a highly underrated item that many hunters often neglect to include in their gear. It allows the hunter to identify parts of deer in heavy brush surroundings and distinguish bucks from does in dim light situations. Guynn says the 7x35 binoculars (7 power with 35mm objective lens) are the most common type used.

With so many knives on the market today, selecting the proper hunting knife can be confusing. Guynn says a five-inch blade is plenty large for dressing and skinning deer. Many hunters, in fact, use a small "pocket" knife for field dressing purposes. For skinning only, a curved blade is well suited. Top quality steel knives are usually more expensive than economy models but hold their sharp edge and are more durable.

Boots, too, are integral parts of the hunter's regalia. Guynn recommends comfortable boots that are well broken in. Vibram or crepe soles, he says, are good choices for providing good footing. Slick leather soles are fine for dancing to the "Cotton Eyed Joe" or "Faded Love" after the hunt but are inappropriate and dangerous while in the deer stand. Also, choose boots large enough to allow for heavy wool socks in cold weather, the specialist says.

Clothes may well "make the man" (or woman) in the business world but not on a deer hunt. Guynn prefers the "layered approach" with sweater, vest and light jacket which can be easily removed or added as temperatures change during the day. Bright colors that can be easily detected by deer are to be avoided. Even though deer are color blind, they easily spot differences in color intensity such as white or bright yellow. Instead, wear muted colors such as greens, browns, camouflage, dull reds or red and black check which blend with brush cover. Guynn says blaze orange may be worn as a safety precaution where heavy hunting pressure exists.

Soft-textured clothing permits quiet movement for stalking prey. Brush scraping against stiff canvas pant legs can alarm deer as can the "swish-swish" sound of pant legs rubbing together as the hunter walks.

Lawn mowers cause about 10,000 amputated fingers and toes yearly as well as 62,800 cuts and broken bones. Mowers, which have blades that whirl about 230 mph, mainly injure hands, feet and legs, according to U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission statistics. TMA.

The Scientists Tell Me...

Buy Affordable House Now, Trade for Dream House Later

By Robert L. Haney
TAES Science Writer

First-time house buyers should buy a house they can afford now and trade it for their "dream house" later, according to Dr. D.A. Klinefelter, economist at Texas A&M University.

"The price of housing has tended to increase slightly faster than inflation and the longer a buyer waits, the harder it is going to be to buy," Klinefelter says.

Once buyers own property, they can ride up with property values and start building equity to use toward eventually buying the type of house they want.

The advantage from ownership results from a principle known as financial leverage. Although buyers will typically have initial equity (their own money) of approximately 20 percent in a house, they receive the benefit of appreciation on the entire value of the property which acts to multiply the rate of return on their equity.

"It's clear that waiting isn't going to make it any easier to enter the market," Klinefelter, a Texas Agricultural Experiment Station economist, says. "Even during the current recession, housing prices have continued to appreciate in most areas.

"The National Association of Home Builders forecasts that the rate of annual appreciation will run between 10 percent and 15 percent during the 1980's. This is one reason why most economists recommend home ownership as the primary vehicle for the ordinary working person to hedge against inflation.

"As a vivid example, the median-priced home in the United States is currently about $66,000. If real estate values appreciate at an annual rate of 12 percent, in 30 years this same house will sell for $2,000,000.

Recently, a national financial magazine quoted a statistic which pretty much sums up the current situation: during the past year there were 50 percent fewer first timers among home buyers than as recently as 1977.

Many people who want to own homes are being forced out of the market by the combination of high prices and interest rates, both of which are nearly one-third higher than 3 years ago. "Be cautious about buying if you plan to be located in an area for less than a couple of years," Klinefelter says.

"Although a home may still be a good investment even for a short period, the buyer runs the risk that a temporary slump in a local housing market could reduce equity at the time of sale or a loss of equity could also result if sufficient appreciation had not occurred to cover selling costs," Klinefelter concluded.

League to sponsor drug abuse program

The Ozona Woman's League met Tuesday, October 28, at the Ozona Civic Center for its regular bi-monthly meeting. Mrs. David Bean and Mrs. R.N. Aycock were hostesses.

Mrs. Pleas Childress III, president, conducted the business meeting which included a report from Mrs. Jeffrey Sutton and Mrs. Gary Buck Mitchell on the upcoming drug and alcohol abuse program to be presented to the high school students and interested adults. The discussion will be headed by the Palmer Drug Abuse Program based in San Angelo, Texas, and will be held on November 19, at 10:00 a.m. in the Ozona High School Auditorium. There will also be a group meeting of interested or concerned parents later that same day. The public is invited and urged to attend these discussions. Mrs. Gary Vannoy invited the members to attend the series of seven films featuring Dr. James Dobson which began Wednesday night, October 29, and be each Wednesday through December 10. These films concern family problems and Mrs. Vannoy urged everyone trying to raise a child in today's world to try and attend at least one of these films.

Mrs. Randy Upham, local co-chairman for the Cancer Society, announced that an account has been opened at the Ozona National Bank on behalf of Sammy Rivera and his family. This fund will be used to cover the necessary traveling expenses incurred by the Rivera family when they take the necessary monthly trip to Dallas for treatment. A motion was made and seconded that the League raffle a beautiful geode at the Bazaar and donate the proceeds to the Sammy Rivera Fund. It was also moved that a part of the money designated in the budget for miscellaneous be given to the fund. It was seconded and approved.

Mrs. Wesley West and Mrs. Rick Hunnicutt, Co-Chairmen for this year's annual Bazaar conducted the program which consisted of four different bazaar projects to be completed by the group. The members were allowed to choose between making a divine smelling Pomander Orange ball, to fill a "Runaway Bag" with all sorts of goodies, braid yarn to use as a colorful border on a clever bulletin board, or indulge in childhood fantasy by making finger puppets. All of these projects will be sold at the bazaar to be held on November 25, at the Ozona Civic Center. All proceeds will be used for different community projects.

Members in attendance were Mmes. Jack Baggett, Larry Braden, Tom Cameron, Billy Carson, Erby Chandler, Duane Childress, Dennis Clark, Randy Crawford, Buster Deaton, Deene Holden, H.O. Hoover, John R. Hunnicutt, Fred Jones, Steve Kenley, Jerry Lay, Pancho McMullan, Douglas Moore, Joe Pierce IV, Jack Probst, Lane Scott, Gregory Stuart, Rick Webster, and Bill Mason.

Leanne Arledge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Arledge, was crowned Abilene Christian High School's Homecoming Queen, October 24, during halftime ceremonies in Elmer Grey Stadium in Abilene. The ACHS senior is the Panther mascot and Senior class treasurer. She was escorted by her father.

Our County Pecan Show is set for Monday, December 8 at the Civic Center. I hope you plan to enter your pecans and a food entry. To enter pecans, bring 45 pecans to the Extension Office or Civic Center. To enter the food division, your recipe needs to have pecans in it. The categories are cakes, pies, cookies, candy, bread, and miscellaneous. Cash prizes are awarded to both top pecan and food entries.

Texas pecans give a fancy touch to every sort of holiday taste treat. This year, say "Make Mine 'Texas' Pecans."

Then fancy-up the holiday season with these quick-n-easy ideas:

Serve sour cream with pecans on meat or baked potatoes.

For waffles, biscuits or muffins, stir pecans into blended dry ingredients before adding the liquid.

Add pecans to meat, poultry or seafood salads.

Try slivered or sliced pecans in tossed vegetable salads.

Roll ice cream balls in chopped pecans. Freeze balls separately until set.

Use toasted, chopped pecans as a quick topping for cream pie or ice cream pie.

Sprinkle cupcakes with pecans before baking, and skip the frosting if you like.

For a spread on crackers or celery, add finely chopped pecans to cream cheese that has been blended with a little milk.

Perk up your next vegetable souffle by adding finely chopped pecans along with the vegetable.

You may want to select one of these pecan recipes for this year's show.

JALAPENO CHEESE LOGS

1 pound shredded Monterey jack cheese
1 8-ounce package cream cheese
1/2 cup finely chopped jalapeno peppers
Dash garlic salt
1 cup finely chopped pecans

Soften cheeses
Add jalapeno and garlic salt and mix until smooth.

Chill mixture in refrigerator until firm enough to shape into two 2-inch diameter logs.

Roll logs in chopped pecans and chill until serving time.

Wrap in plastic wrap to maintain freshness and prevent drying.

"Pecan Cheese Diamonds" will be another entertaining hit.

Bake them ahead and reheat them in a warm oven.

Store them in a container with a tightly fitting lid to keep them fresh and crisp.

PECAN CHEESE DIAMONDS

1/2 cup pecans
1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder

Producer for county gas field

An undesignated Strawn gas field of Crockett County gained its second producer and a 1/2-mile west extension with completion of Harrison Interests Ltd., Houston, No. 3 John L. Henderson Jr., 12 miles southeast of Ozona, for a calculated, absolute open flow of 5 million cubic feet of gas daily.

Production was through perforations at 8,891-976 feet, which had been acidized with 7,500 gallons.

Location is 660 feet from the south and 1,520 feet from the east lines of I-F-GC&SF.

The discovery, the firm's No. 2 John L. Henderson Jr., was finalized Oct. 31 for a calculated, absolute open flow of 6,250,000 cubic feet of gas daily, through perforations at 8,852-925 feet.

4-H horse team enjoys outing here

The Crockett County 4-H Horse Judging Team, the coaches and their families welcomed fall with hamburgers, hot chocolate, and coffee Tuesday afternoon at the home of Pancho and Lorelei McMullan.

John Parks served as cook. Enjoying the outing were Billy and Judy Reagor with Julie, Vicki and Tammy; Pam and Earl Acton with Marty and Bobbie; Mary Jo and Bill Mason and Will; Nancy and Eddie Hale and Les; Christy and Jennifer Parks, Jena Allen, Karen Keilers; Jill and Pon Seahorn with Will; Paula and Jim Bob Bailey, Tres and Sunny Jon; John Rae Powell, Margo Smith and Jill Crawford.

Wayne Smith is football contest winner

Winner of the Ozona Stockman football contest this week was Wayne Smith. The youngest winner all season, young Smith only missed one game. Several entries out of a field of 46 only missed two games this week.

Entries may be found on page 6 of this week's paper. The top game is, of course, the Lions' game with Menard. The Lions are 3-1 in District play and will be endeavoring to make it 4-1 with a victory over the Yellowjackets. A win over the Jackets and the Big Lake Owls next week would assure them of at least a second place in the district.

CARD OF THANKS

Our sincere and warmest thanks to the people who are listed below for the flowers, phone calls and concern that was shown during the time of our sorrow: Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Garza, Mr. and Mrs. Jose Martinez, Mr. and Mrs. Desi Tijerina, Mr. and Mrs. Reyes Cisneros, Mr. and Mrs. Alfonso Ramirez, Mr. and Mrs. Cateano Ethridge, Mrs. Socorro Martinez, Mrs. Socorro Varela, Mrs. Seilia Galan and Mr. and Mrs. Napoleon Vitela, Mr. and Mrs. Coy Tambunga, Mr. and Mrs. Catarino Cervantez, Jr. Please excuse us if we missed some.
