Just about this time last year the whole town was in an uproar over a story in the Standard which was unfair and unflattering to Ozona. The story created such a stir, indeed, that a town meeting was called and there was standing room only for the meeting which was held in the district courtroom. Testimonials were given by politicians, businessmen and individuals. Subscriptions to the morning daily were cancelled and a boycott of San Angelo merchants was suggested in order to put pressure on the newspaper.

Although we deplored the story and made our displeasure known to several executives at the newspaper, we did not cancel our subscription. We could not afford this action, as we depend on the morning daily for area news. We didn't pay a lot of attention to the boycott, because we don't trade with San Angelo merchants anyway, unless, of course, it happens to be something we cannot buy in Ozona.

You can imagine our amazement and amusement when a few months after the meeting a local businessman pointed out an advertisement in the daily paper, placed by one of the most vocal and irate of those at the meeting, and this went on all year in the various special editions. However, most of the old

Burial was in Cedar Hill Cemetery under the direction of Sizemore Funeral Home. Bishop and Mrs. Eugene Slater of Dallas attended and Bishop Slater pronounced benediction and prayer at graveside.

Mrs. Cox died in Crockett County Hospital at 8:35 a.m., Thursday, Jan. 28, after an illness of several months duration.

Mrs. Cox was born August 29, 1900, in Eldorado, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Bailey. She moved to Ozona with her parents as a child and attended Ozona schools. She was a graduate of Ozona High School, Class of 1918. She attended the College of Industrial Arts in Denton, and earned a degree in public school music.

She was married to Lemuel Bascomb Cox, Jr. Oct. 29, 1920, in a high noon ceremony in the home of her parents in Ozona.

She was a lifelong member of the Ozona Methodist Church where she was active as a teacher in church school, choir, and women's organizations. She was instrumental in establishing the Ozona Community Center. She was a member of Ozona Garden Club, the Ozona Woman's Club, Ozona Music Club, Crockett County Historical Society and the D.A.R.

CROCKETT COUNTY ABSTRACT CO. staff enjoys new location, in newly remodeled quarters at 1108 Ave. E. The abstract company, along with Meinecke Insurance Agency, began moving from the courthouse where it has been housed since the turn of the century to its new quarters

Crockett Co. Abstract Co. moves to new home

History was made this week when the Crockett County Abstract Company moved from the courthouse, where it had been located since its establishment in the early 1900's, to newly remodeled quarters in the old Ozona Butane building at 1108 Ave. E.

John Jones asks for re-election

John R. Jones has authorized the Stockman to announce his candidacy for re-election to the post of Crockett County Judge. Judge Jones was appointed to the post by the Crockett County Commissioners Court when Troy Williams, who held the office at that time, was appointed 112th District Judge.

Judge Jones served out Williams' unexpired term and then ran unopposed four years ago. He is now asking for a second elected term.

Judge Jones attended Ozona schools and is a graduate of Ozona High School. After serving a stint in the U.S. Army, he attended Texas Tech and graduated in 1964. He has ranching interests in Crockett County and is a real estate agent. Active in civic affairs, Judge Jones served on the Crockett County Hospital Board prior to his appointment to the judgeship. He is a past director of the Ozona Chamber of Commerce and a member of the Ozona Lions Club.

His wife, Patti, owns and operates Maxine's Flowers. They have two children, Amy Lea and Todd.

Jones has filed for a place on the ballot in the Democratic Primary, May 1. Jones follows his father and then his mother, Mr. and Mrs. Brock Jones, in serving as county judge. He feels the experience he has gained during his years on the bench has become an asset to the court and solicits the vote and support of Crockett County voters in the primary.

Castro files for re-election here

Jesus (Chuy) Castro this week authorized The Stockman to announce his candidacy for re-election to a third term as Crockett County Commissioner from Precinct 4, the southwest section of the county. A Democrat, Castro's candidacy will be subject to action of the Democratic Primary in May and if nominated by that party will campaign for re-election to his post in the general election in November.

Declaring it his intention to continue to serve the best interests of the people of his precinct and of the county at large, Chuy pledges his best efforts toward an economical and efficient administration of county affairs.

"I feel that I have gained a great deal of valuable experience in the seven years I have been a member of the commissioners court of this county and I hope to repay my supporters by giving them the advantage of that experience in the coming years," Castro said. "I feel that I can better serve the people by reason of that experience and I pledge my continued effort to promote harmony and efficiency in the county administration. I will deeply appreciate the continued support of the people of Precinct 4 and pledge to them and the people of the other precincts of the county my continued best effort toward good government in Crockett County."

Castro is a native of Ozona and is married. He and his wife, Blanche, are the parents of three children.

Sharing the new quarters is Meinecke Insurance Agency which also had its beginning in the courthouse in 1954.

The present owners, John Childress, Byron Williams and Charles Williams, spared no expense in the remodeling of the building, which is carpeted, paneled, freshly painted, and features indirect lighting from suspended ceiling tiles. Three spacious offices, a storage room and two restrooms have completely transformed the interior of the building. The new glass front, renovation of the awning, and fresh paint have greatly improved the outside as well.

Mrs. James (Dilly) Dockery is the present manager of the abstract company. She is assisted by her brother Bud Meinecke, who also runs the insurance agency. Innovations have affected the abstract business as well as other professions. It is now done with electronic IBM memory typewriters and sophisticated copying machines. Coming a long way from handwritten copy in the early part of the century, it has become a modern operation, combined with speed and efficiency.

Pat Willmon has recently been hired as receptionist and assistant.

The abstract company was established by Tom Nolan, early-day Crockett County Clerk, around 1903. It was known as Nolan Land and Abstract Co., with Judge C. E. Davidson, Houston Smith and N. W. Graham as stock holders.

The nurses will have immunization records on each family that has attended a clinic before. The clinic is free to all children and students.

At 18th Annual Chamber Banquet—

Citizen of year award to Cooper

Bill Cooper was awarded the "Best Citizen" award at the 18th Annual Chamber of Commerce banquet held here Thursday evening. Cooper was selected by the board of directors for "Outstanding Service to the Community." He was presented with an engraved plaque and received a standing ovation.

After decades of dependability, Bill Cooper was honored by Ozona and Crockett County, when he was recognized as Citizen of the Year. Bill not only has performed his civic duties in an outstanding manner, he has been helpful to individuals in need in almost every kind of situation. His good deeds are too numerous to mention, but to say he has been of assistance at one time or another, to almost everyone in town is hardly an understatement.

Cooper first came to Crockett County in 1939 as an employee of West Texas Utilities Co. and worked at the company's switching station some 40 miles north of Ozona. He moved to town four years later when he took over as manager of the Crockett County Water Control District. The water district operates and supplies the municipal water needs for Ozona, as well as Crockett Heights, a community six miles to the east.

When Cooper took over as water district manager, he worked alongside two other employees building up the operation. In the 39 years since then, the water system has grown from about 500 customers to more than 2,000 with 20 employees. In addition to his managerial duties, he has also served as water consultant to Crockett County for the past six years.

Cooper has also been an active member of the Ozona Volunteer Fire Department for more than 30 years and continues to run on almost every fire call. In addition to being an active member of the First United Methodist Church and the Ozona Rotary Club, Cooper can be found helping out in virtually all community affairs and civic clubs. He is chairman of the American Red Cross for Crockett County and oversees the installation of Christmas decorations annually.

Dr. Steve Sessom was installed as president of the Ozona Chamber. Other top Christmas decorations annually.

Gutierrez files for county post

Matias (Matt) Gutierrez, Jr., authorized the Stockman this week to announce his candidacy for Crockett County Commissioner, Precinct 4. Gutierrez has filed for a place on the ballot and will run in the Democratic Primary, May 1.

Matt is a lifelong resident of Ozona and a graduate of Ozona High School. He is married to Felice Machado, an Ozona native. The couple has three children, Matias III, 14, Donald and Daniel, 12. The three boys attend Ozona schools.

After graduation from high school, Matt served with the 24th Infantry Division, stationed in Germany. He has been an employee of Jim's Foodway for 15 years and has been market manager for the past 13 years.

In making his announcement Matt said, "I am concerned about Crockett County and the people in the county. I believe the people should have a choice of more than one candidate in any election. If elected, I will work for the betterment of the county and improved efficiency on the court. I look forward to working with the other members of the court and feel that by working together we can accomplish much for Crockett County.

Matt has served two terms on the Crockett County Hospital Board and is aware of the problems which come up in county-related businesses. He feels this experience and his business experience in market managing will be an asset to the court.

"I earnestly solicit the vote and support of the people in my precinct and pledge to make every effort toward better government in Crockett County if elected."

Stuart bids for another term

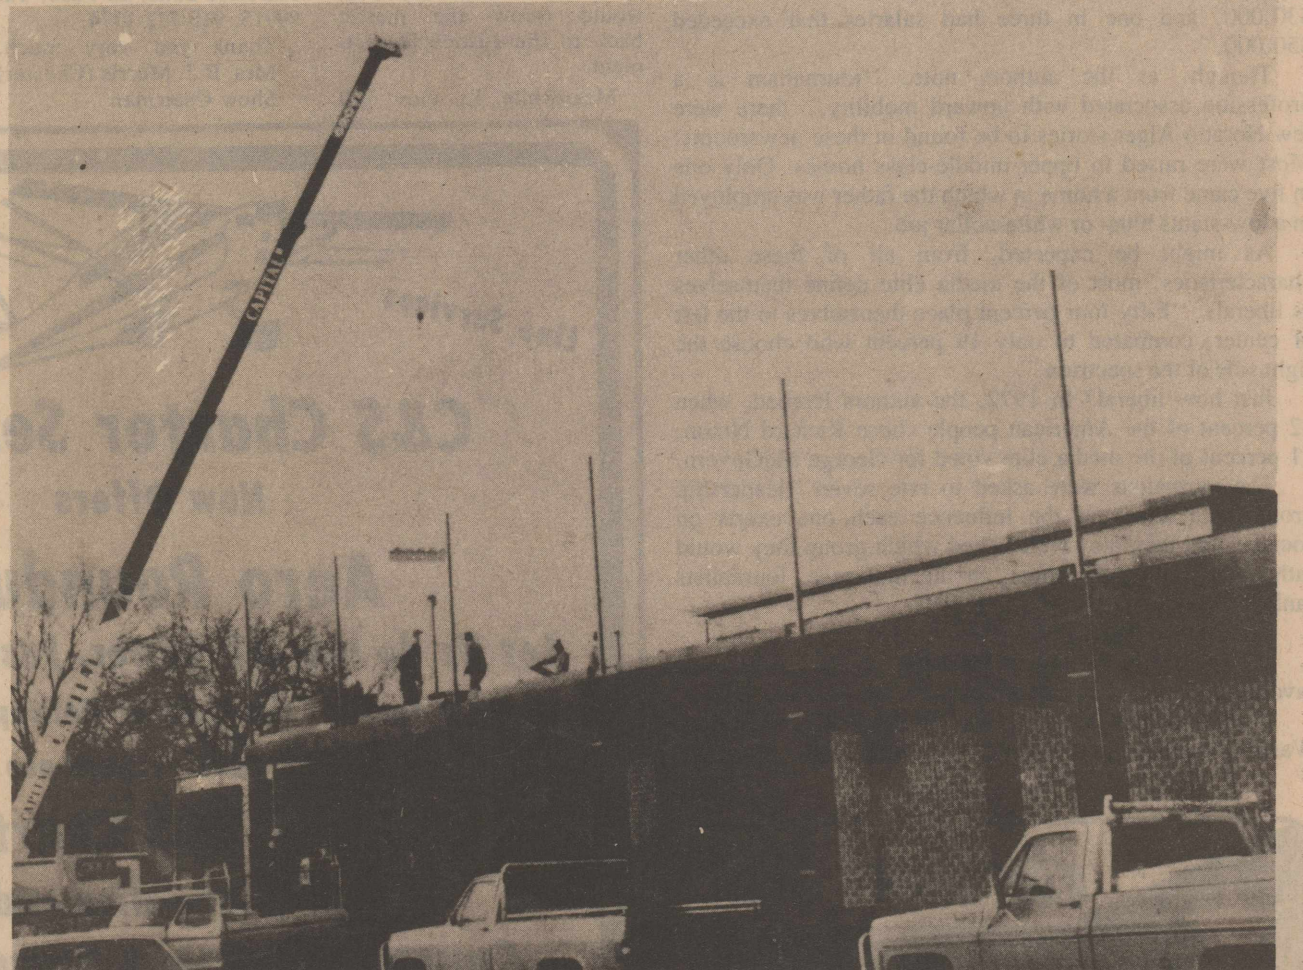

Byron W. Stuart has authorized the Stockman to announce his candidacy for re-election to the post of Commissioner, Precinct 2, subject to action of the Democratic Primary, May 1.

Stuart has served one elected term as Commissioner of Precinct 2. In asking for re-election, Stuart said he had several projects going in the Commissioners Court he wanted to see through and pointed out some of his accomplishments during his past term. Most important of these he feels is the improvement and building of ball parks in the county. He noted that 550 individuals are using and enjoying the various baseball diamonds and practice fields in the county. He also mentioned the improvement in the dump ground, which he was instrumental in bringing about. He also mentioned his pride in completing paving projects in his precinct.

Stuart lives in his precinct with his wife, the former Wanda Dunlap. They have four grown children and several grandchildren, all but one of these are at home in Ozona.

In making his announcement, Stuart asked for the vote and support of those in his precinct on May 1, in order he might finish several projects still in the mill of the court.

CONSTRUCTION CONTINUES at Ozona National Bank. Workmen began the second story work this week and by Tuesday were well underway. The giant crane at right acts as a handy elevator, removing parts of the old bank top and hoisting new materials up to workmen to begin the second story. The new second story roof is due up by the end of this week, according to a bank official.

THE MEDIA ELITE

By Edwin Feulner

In a recent speech in Washington, an annual lecture at which the powerful and beautiful from the Washington journalism establishment listen to a brother journalist pat them on the back, LOS ANGELES TIMES publisher Tom Johnson — a bright and affable young man — departed from the usual script for a few minutes and suggested that some of the public's mistrust and criticism of the Fourth Estate is well-deserved.

He admitted that the media are sometimes inaccurate, biased and occasionally even caught in a lie. But overall, he concluded, they do a good job. Moreover, he said, many of the people (Big Business, for example) who are most critical of the press rank lower in public esteem than America's journalists. So overall, all is well.

I have no special criticism of what Mr. Johnson had to say. What bothers me is what he and most other media critics fail to acknowledge: that your typical national reporter, working in Washington or New York for a major news organization, is a snob and an elitist — highly paid, flamboyantly "with it" and deeply steeped in and dedicated to liberal ideology.

That's the conclusion Robert Lichter, assistant professor of political science at George Washington University, and Stanley Rothman, professor of government at Smith College, reached after they conducted hour-long interviews with more than 240 "media elite" during 1979 and 1980. They report their results in clinical detail in a recent issue of PUBLIC OPINION magazine.

All of the reporters, editors and broadcasters interviewed worked for those news organizations which are generally considered the most influential: THE NEW YORK TIMES, THE WASHINGTON POST, THE WALL STREET JOURNAL, TIME, U.S. NEWS & WORLD REPORT, and NEWSWEEK magazines, CBS, NBC, ABC, Public Broadcasting Service and major PBS stations.

"In some respects," the authors write, "the journalists we interviewed appear typical of leadership groups throughout society . . . composed mainly of white males in their thirties and forties . . . 93 percent have college degrees . . . a majority (55 percent) attended graduate school . . . (and) despite journalism's reputation as a low paying profession . . . in 1978, 78 percent earned at least $30,000, and one in three had salaries that exceeded $50,000."

Though, as the authors note, "journalism is a profession associated with upward mobility," there were few Horatio Alger stories to be found in these newsrooms. Most were raised in upper-middle-class homes. Only one in five came from a home in which the father was employed in a low-status blue- or white-collar job.

As might be expected, from all of these other characteristics, most of the media elite define themselves as liberals. "Fifty-four percent place themselves to the left of center, compared to only 19 percent who choose the right side of the spectrum."

Just how liberal? In 1972, the authors learned, when 62 percent of the American people chose Richard Nixon, 81 percent of the media elite voted for George McGovern.

The journalists were asked to rate seven "leadership groups" in terms of the influence each one exerts on society, and then they were asked which group they would rather see calling the shots. In the first case, journalists ranked second.

In the second instance? "Emerging at the top of the heap, as the group most favored to direct American society, are the media." (Feulner is president of The Heritage Foundation, a Washington-based public policy research institute.)

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Observers of the Texas political scene got a surprise this week when House Speaker Bill Clayton announced that he would not be a candidate for state-wide office in 1982.

Clayton's announcement was all the more surprising because the Springlake Democrat already had told supporters at a December fundraiser that he definitely would enter the race for land commissioner. The four-term speaker already had collected some $300,000 in contributions to make that race.

Clayton, a 20-year veteran of the Texas House, said he decided to bow out of the race to take advantage of a "unique business opportunity" involving his West Texas farming operations. Clayton acknowledged that his legal troubles in the Brilab case had "some negative factor," but he denied that Brilab influenced his decision not to run.

But don't count Clayton out of the political scene altogether. Clayton said he's going to hang on to the $300,000, and some observers already are speculating that Clayton might put the money to use in a 1984 congressional race or a bid for governor in 1986.

Redistricting Plan

The U.S. Justice Department's decision to throw out the Texas House and Senate redistricting plans on grounds they violate the federal Voting Rights Act brought immediate response from the state's Democratic and Republican leaders, with both sides claiming partisanship in the motives of the others.

GOP Gov. Clements was quick to call on Attorney General Mark White to give up his defense of the plan and to let a three-judge federal court panel draw the new district lines.

Clements charged that White had a "clear cut conflict of interest" in the matter because he was on the panel of five Democratic officeholders that adopted the plans.

White has asked the three-judge panel currently hearing lawsuits against the plans to uphold the district lines, but Clements says that would throw the matter back to the Justice Department.

Meanwhile, Lt. Gov. Bill

Hobby and other Democrats charged that the Justice Department's decision was based on political considerations and aimed at increasing GOP ranks in the Legislature.

The Feb. 1 filing deadline for those legislative races may have to be postponed because of the ruling. The filing deadline for 16 congressional district races already has been pushed back.

Election Study

A report commissioned by Secretary of State David Dean has determined that November's election on constitutional amendments cost $3 million to conduct, but only 12.2 percent of the state's 6.6 million registered voters went to the polls.

The report, conducted under the supervision of University of Texas marketing professor Robert Peterson, also concluded that voting patterns on Proposition 4, the water fund amendment, followed regional lines.

Those in West Texas, who perceived the amendment as benefiting them, voted heavily for it. East Texas residents, who felt the bill favored West Texas, opposed it.

Despite the defeat of that amendment, the Texas Water Development Board is proceeding with drafting rules to use $40 million appropriated in the proposition's enabling legislation.

That money will be used to fund water treatment, conservation, flood control and other projects on a hardship or emergency basis.

Oilfield Thefts

Oil industry officials announced this week that theft of oilfield equipment has gotten so bad that they are forming a special panel to combat the problem.

Officials of the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association called a news conference to announce the creation of the Petroleum Industry Security Council.

Oil and gas producers have estimated losses from oilfield thefts amounts to some $100 million annually.

TIPRO President L. Frank Pitts said the new council's first efforts will include establishment of a statewide hotline to receive tips on thefts, conducting seminars on how to reduce "in-house" thefts and creating a standard system of marking oilfield equipment.

The new organization is a cooperative effort between TIPRO and several other oil and gas industry groups.

The oilfield theft problem was an issue during the 1981 legislative session, and a bill was passed increasing the penalties for such thefts.

Pine Trees

Gov. Clements took time out from running the state to join St. Regis Paper Co. and Texas Reforestation Foundation officials in planting eight East Texas pine trees on the Capitol lawn.

The Progressive Extension Club will meet Wednesday, February 10 at 12:00 noon at the Civic Center. The program will be on "Closet Clutter versus Cleve Clean-up." Joyce Young and Mary Leigh Kirby serve as chairmen for the group. The club meets once a month for a short program and lunch. You will need to bring a salad for lunch.

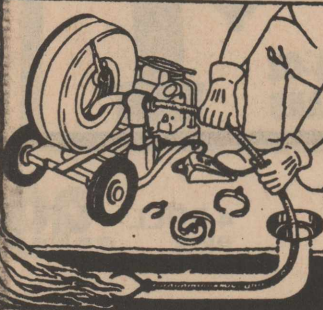

Many families pack their lunches during the work week. The brown bag lunch is an inflation fighter and time-saver for family members.

When packing your lunch try to include foods from the meat, milk, fruit and vegetable and bread group. To make meals more enjoyable, adapt them to suit the weather.

Safety is important in packing lunches. Keep hot foods hot and cold foods cold. To avoid the morning rush, pack lunch containers the night before and refrigerate. Add hot or frozen items the next morning.

Home economists give League program Tues.

The Ozona Womans League met Tuesday, January 26, in the Ozona Civic Center. Debra Price, local county agent, and Darolyn Downing, Electric Living Consultant with West Texas Utilities, presented the program entitled "Let's Go Into The Kitchen." Mrs. Downing demonstrated a new microwave-convection combination oven by baking a banana-nut bread loaf and a meat-loaf wellington. Mrs. Price discussed several "rules and how-to's" concerning cooking with plain microwave. The best part of the program was the actual tasting of the scrumptious props.

Hostesses for the meeting were Paula Bailey and Carol Hunnicutt.

Sandra Childress, president, conducted the business meeting following the program. Becky Childress, chairman of the nominating committee, presented the following slate of officers for the years 1982-83:

Sherry Scott, president; Carmen Sutton, first vice-president; Cathy Carson, second vice-president; Nancy Vannoy, recording secretary; George Ann Aycock, treasurer; Jan Kenley, corresponding secretary; Judy Probst, public relations; Sandra Childress, parliamentarian.

The slate was unanimously approved.

Other members attending were: Virginia Baggett, Janie Chandler, Karen Childress, club hostess

Ms. Childress is bridge club hostess

Mrs. Hugh Childress was hostess for bridge at the Ozona Country Club Thursday.

Forum to sponsor art show

The Ozona Womans Forum will sponsor the annual arts and crafts show at the Civic Center, February 16, from 4 until 5:30 p.m.

Ozona artists and craftsmen are invited to bring paintings, needlework, ceramics, woodwork, quilts, rugs and other handmade items for exhibit. Items should be brought to the Civic Center the day of the exhibit between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m.

The show will be open to the public from 4 until 5:30. Exhibitors are asked to please pick up their articles immediately after the show.

Tips for energy efficiency

Check for air leaks. Windows and doors are the obvious place to begin, but obscure places such as wall outlets, switch plates and attic doors also can admit unwanted cold air.

Check heating equipment. Arrange for a maintenance check of home heating equipment by a heating and cooling contractor/repair service. In the case of a gas-burning furnace, the service person will check the equipment and light your pilot for a fee.

Change filters. Once your furnace is operating, change the filters once a month to ensure the most efficient operation.

Provide proper attic ventilation. Proper attic ventilation allows for moisture control in the attic where it is important to keep insulation dry. Blocking or closing off turbine ventilators with plastic bags or other devices is not a good practice since it hinders attic ventilation and moisture control.

Lower thermostat settings. Thermostat settings should be lowered to at least 68 degrees during the day and further lowered at night before going to bed for substantially lower heating bills.

Tips For Gardeners

From The Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

Usually in February wide variations in temperature are expected. Also, a barrel of wet weather is in the forecast for us, so we can look forward to having moisture real soon.

Many gardeners think only of the lawn when watering is mentioned, and that is a mistake. Trees and shrubs need supplemental watering too, especially during periods of no rain and after planting. As a general rule, you should water established plants when the top inch of soil is dry. The length of time between waterings will depend on the temperature, humidity, rainfall, and soil type is our area. But if you do not water deeply and thoroughly, the soil will dry out quicker.

If you want to bring springtime into your home early you can enjoy a display with an arrangement of flowering branches from your garden, such as border forsythia, flowering quince, pussy willow, plum and other fruits, red bud and others you may have. They can be forced into bloom in about three weeks. Select branches with an abundance of swollen flowerbuds, cutting only those that will not effect the overall appearance of your plant. Cut the branches just above a leafbud (small, pointed light-green buds). Crush the stem ends of the branches, and immerse in at least 8 inches of warm water. Keep in a well-lighted, cool room. As the buds begin to open, recut the stems and arrange as desired.

Springtime is the time to fertilize all trees and shrubs, so be planning and check with our county agent for recommended fertilizers based on a soil test.

Newly planted trees and shrubs—1/2 cup 5-10-10 or similar analysis applied 3 times per year (March, May, July).

Established or mature shrubs: 1 cup 5-10-10 applied twice per year (March & July)

Established trees: 1 cup 5-10-10-6-12-12 per inch of trunk diameter applied each spring.

To fertilize shrubs, broadcast the fertilizer evenly beneath the plant, water well to wash fertilizer into the soil. Don't let the fertilizer be in direct contact with the plant.

Fertilize small trees just as you would shrubs. The best way to fertilize large trees in most areas is by the punch bag method. This involves punching deep holes into the ground in the area of the tree roots and filling them with fertilizer.

Difference in knit and woven fabric

What's knitted? What's woven?

To tell the difference, inspect fabric closely, says Becky Saunders, a clothing specialist on the home economics staff of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Knits are looped-together yarns with built-in stretch, while wovens generally are more stable fabrics made by lacing yarns together at right angles.

Some people push their sofa against a wall, and let it go at that but there are alternatives you might want to think about to enhance the beauty of your living room.

Don't overlook the possibility of putting a piece of furniture BEHIND your sofa. This could produce a nice effect. What we are talking about here is, for one example, a console table that could hold books and other accessories. You can picture the beauty and convenience that this idea could add to your sofa.

The same is also true of what you might want to put on the other three sides of your sofa—each end as well as the front.

The selection of tables for these three places is important both for the job you want them to perform and the decorating qualities they have.

Be sure you consider different sizes and shapes of tables for these key spots. And, of course, your two end tables on either side of your sofa don't have to match, so you can decorate with specific, distinctive tables.

We have a nice selection, and we invite you to come in to Brown Furniture Today!

Where Someone Trudged Before

How deep is the snow? How rough is the terrain that lies beneath it? You can never be sure until there are footprints to follow. It is easier to make one's way through the snow where someone has trudged before.

At the heart of the Christian religion is the belief that God gave his own Son, to be our Savior... and also to be our example. The study of his life is, therefore, an important part of Christian education. Though we cannot aspire to be like Him — we can learn to meet life's challenges and crises with the same resolute courage and commitment.

Why plunge aimlessly on? Someone has shown the Way!

A Tribute

In this vale of tears through which we are passing, there are too few real values to which we cling in memory. There are characters in the passing parade that are just that—part of the passing parade. Then there are a few that stand tall in accomplishments, in service, in love or in exemplary conduct. And there are some who walk in a halo of light which they spread on the world around them.

This week Ozona mourns the passing of one whose halo shone round about her, focusing the light of Christian love and concern for all humanity on all who came within her orbit. Hers was a life of kindly deeds, of love for family and friends, of tireless effort for the betterment of all around her.

May God take to his fold and give eternal peace to Louise Cox.

standbys were gone and it was obvious they had lost the support of the majority of Ozona businesses.

As time went on, a lot of people forgot and many slipped back into the habit of running to San Angelo to pick up this or that, which is really "no skin off our nose" as the old saying goes.

But, we were really non-plussed when we discovered the Chamber of Commerce had its banquet tickets and programs printed in San Angelo this year. Especially so, because the town meeting was called under the sponsorship of that organization.

We do not particularly care about losing the printing job, as job printing is not the primary source of our revenue here. However, as we have printed the tickets and programs annually since its inception, and were charter members of the organization, we have to admit our nose is a little out of joint.

Anyway, to go back to the beginning, ain't it amazing how short memories are?

We want to congratulate Bill Cooper on receiving the Citizen of the Year award at the banquet. We feel the honor was well-deserved, and an excellent choice was made. We tried to get Bill in for a picture with his engraved plaque, but he said everyone knew what he looked like and he knew 100 persons in town who did a lot more for the community than he. We disagree with that last statement, but felt he might have a point when he said "Roe deserves an award much more than I, for putting up with me all these years." Roe, of course, is Roberta, Bill's wife of many years.

MR. PERFECT

It is 8:00 a.m. at Ozona High. Students are sleepily shuffling down the hall. In bounces Mr. Scott. "Hi!" says one of the students; he replies, "perfect, thank you just perfect!"

Mr. Scott has a very happy outlook on life. He can really cheer someone up by just his friendly smile.

Mr. Scott was born in San Antonio, Texas. Schertz-Sibelo was where he attended high school. When I asked him where it was, he said, "Why shirts is right above pants!" Mr. Scott has attended several colleges, the first was South West Texas in Uvalde, then he attended Texas A&I. Sul Ross, was where he received both his bachelors degrees and his masters. His wife's name is Sherry and they have one daughter, Susan.

Mr. Scott's favorite color is blue. His favorite food is honey and he loves spring-time the best.

Mr. Scott has been a band director for 13 years and this is his third year to teach industrial arts in Ozona.

Mr. Scott's hobbies are archery, electronics, bee keeping, dune buggies, fishing and hunting. He has even gone to several state tournaments in archery and we all know how good his honey is.

Community involvements play a very important role in Mr. Scott's life. He has been president of the Lions Club, he is on the Board of the Chamber of Commerce and he is on the Board of the Methodist Church. He is well liked in school and is a Freshmen sponsor this year.

Solar Energy and building computers are only a few of his many interests. He has built one computer and is working on another. He has also built a synthesizer. He loves to travel and enjoys music of all kinds.

When asked what else he had to say, this very talented man replied, "I guess thats about all, but I love people better than anything."

PBPA energy report

Interior Secretary James Watt says the U.S. Government will collect between 200 and 450 million more dollars in royalty payments as the result of changes he's making in the collection process. Watt created Minerals Management Service and has added inspectors and auditors to oversee all federal on shore and offshore leases. Other changes recommended by a commission include imposing fines up to $10,000 a day and maybe criminal penalties against companies found cheating, forcing the oil industry to implement tougher security arrangements at well sites, drafting a bill to give states and Indian Tribes more power to police fraud in lease activities and the possibility of reviewing the top 25 royalty payers for possible past royalty infractions. And, Secretary Watt will decide by April first if he will raise the royalty percentage on new onshore leases from 12.5 percent to 16.6 percent.

In other news, the cost of the Alaska Gas Pipeline has gone from 8.63 billion dollars to 10.8 billion in three months. Original cost projections of forty billion dollars could double according to some estimates.

And, next month, the Ford Motor Company will start building cars to run on propane gas. These cars, to be sold to fleet customers only, will save about fifty cents a gallon over gasoline or diesel prices according to Ford.

In the Permian Basin our rig count for last week was 478. One year ago it was 378.

Crockett County Care Center News

BY ANN McCARTNEY
DIRECTOR OF ACTIVITIES & SOCIAL CARE

A time of song and fellowship by the Church of Christ got our fourth week off to a good start at our Care Center. Singing is an activity repeated and enjoyed several times each week.

On Monday morning dominoes were played by Paul Cavin, Louise McWilliams, Bertha Miller, and Ola Mills. Ceramics in the afternoon were enjoyed by Gertrude Daniels, Ola Mills, Maude Pettit, and Tomasa Ramos. Volunteer Gracie Dorsey was on hand to assist.

Tuesday and Friday bingo was won by Virginia Russell with a gift certificate from our fifth Friday sponsor, Perry Brothers. Second place was won by Hilario Cortez. Our end of the month prize from Bakers Jewelers was won by Cora Webb.

We had a fine council meeting on Tuesday afternoon at which time the residents themselves made some decisions on what activities they would enjoy during the coming months.

We were happy to have Dorothy Doll back this week for our Wednesday reading session. We always miss her when she is sick. While she was gone Francis Borrego fed the fish and we really appreciate her taking care of this daily job. (Frances also keeps the record of Church members and residents in attendance at the Sunday afternoon Church services for the state reports). Beginning this week Ola Mills is taking her turn feeding the fish. Thanks goes to Ola too.

Wednesday afternoon the staff had a surprise going away party for our director of nurses, Vangie Richarte. We will miss you, Vangie!

Thursday morning was "beauty shop day." Volunteers Maria Vitela, Doris Hoffman, and Ruth Dorris made all our ladies look their very best.

Thursday afternoon we had Bible study and Thursday night Maria Vitela led our Spanish Hour.

Friday afternoon we enjoyed a movie "Grand Canyon" obtained by Mary Helen Parks through the schools and shown by Ann Mayo. (Ann is everyone's "right hand man" at the Center.)

And so ended the month of January. February calendars will be posted this week and the second month of 1982 will be well on its way toward making history.

Smile, make the world wonder what you have been up to!

Projects slated for county fields

Monsanto Co., Midland, will drill the No. 1 Shannon 49, a 9,850-foot wildcat in Crockett County, 1 1/4 miles south-southwest of the Maggie Neal (Grayburg oil) field, 1 7/8 miles south and slightly east of a 10,000-foot failure, 2 1/8 miles east of the shallow World field and 26 miles northwest of Ozona.

Location is 990 feet from the north and east lines of 49-BB-TCRR. The World field formerly produced also from the Strawn and Ellenburger. The failure, Standard of Texas (now Chevron USA) No. 1-4 Neal, abandoned Jan. 17, 1964, picked the following tops on ground elevation of 2,729 feet: Strawn, 8,940 feet; Devonian, 9,025 feet; and Fusselman, 9,287 feet.

Wilson Energy Inc., Midland, will drill eight 1 5/8-mile east outposts to oil production in the Crockett portion of the Farmer (San Andres oil and gas) field, 15 miles southeast of Big Lake.

All of the projects, in 15-47-University Lands, are scheduled to 2,750 feet.

The No. 8 University 15-47 is 2,309 feet from the south and 444 feet from the east lines.

The No. 1 University 15-47 is 1,650 feet from the north and east lines.

The No. 2 University 15-47 is 1,650 feet from the north and east lines.

The No. 3 University 15-47 is 990 feet from the north and east lines.

The No. 5 University 15-47 is 330 feet from the south and 2,423 feet from the east lines.

The No. 6 University 15-47 is 990 feet from the south and 1,763 feet from the east lines.

The No. 7 University 15-47 is 1,650 feet from the south and 1,103 feet from the east lines.

The Block 46, East (Grayburg) field of Crockett County gained its current fifth producer and a 1 7/8-mile south extension with completion of Warren American Oil Co., Midland, No. 1 University of Texas-214.22 miles northwest of Ozona, for 50 barrels of 32 gravity oil, plus one barrel of water, with gas-oil ratio of 200-1.

Production was through a 16-64-inch choke and perforations at 1,571-635 feet, which had been fractured with 20,000 gallons and 58,000 pounds of sand.

Drilled as a wildcat to 2,659 feet, with 4 1/2-inch casing set at 2,519 feet, it was plugged-back to 1,730 feet.

Location is 990 feet from the south and west lines of 19-46-University Lands.

Vinson Exploration, Midland, will drill two outposts to Queen gas production in the Ingham multipay gas field of Crockett County, 22 miles west of Ozona.

Both projects are scheduled to 1,650 feet.

The No. 1 University "33-B", one mile east, is 467 feet from the north and 2,173 feet from the east lines of 7-33-University Lands.

The No. 1 University "29-B", 1 3/8 miles east, is 2,173 feet from the north and 2,011 feet from the east lines of 36-19-University Lands.

Sales tax rep. to visit Ozona

State Comptroller Bob Bullock will have a representative from his San Angelo office in Ozona on February 11, 1982 to assist local taxpayers and answer questions about state taxes.

Bullock said Enforcement Officer Dru Beck will meet with local taxpayers in the Law Library at the Crockett County Courthouse from 10:00 a.m. to 11:00 a.m.

"If Ozona area merchants, or anyone else for that matter, have any questions about state taxes or need help in preparing state tax forms, Ms. Beck will be there to assist them," Bullock said. "We're trying to cut the red tape in this office, and we believe these face to face sessions with taxpayers help do just that," Bullock added.

The San Angelo office serves San Angelo and surrounding counties.

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

By Jerry Lay

Which was the first college in America to have a basketball team? Basketball was invented in 1892, but it was played at the beginning by only YMCA teams. The first college to play basketball was the University of Chicago, in 1894.

With all the points scored in basketball, it's surprising to find that nearly 1 out of every 3 games in the National Basketball Association are decided by 5 points or less. NBA statistics covering all seasons from 1946 through last season show that an amazing 32% of all games have been close--with the winner scoring no more than 5 points more than the loser.

Here's one hard to believe, but it's true. Although the New York Yankees have had many great baseball teams in the last 35 years, winning 19 pennants, only ONCE in all this time have they had a player who led the league in batting at the end of any season. The only time a Yankee player won the league batting championship in the last 35 years was when Mickey Mantle did it in 1956.
