New system set up at hospital

Dr. R. M. Owensby, Chief of Staff of the Crockett County Hospital, announced a new call system for residents needing a doctor during the evening and night hours in the future.

In making his announcement, Dr. Owensby said, "it is a real pleasure to welcome Dr. Fredric Taylor to the staff of the hospital." Dr. Taylor moved here from Canada, and opened his practice in the emergency room at the hospital Monday. When his furniture and equipment arrive, he will have an office in the clinic building next to Dr. Owensby's office.

With the arrival of Dr. Taylor and the return of Dr. Don Carlisle to his practice, the hospital now has three physicians on staff, which enables the call system to be put to use. The three doctors will take turns being on call from 7 p.m. until 7 a.m. The doctor on call will see all patients for all doctors, and may admit patients for the other two doctors. The patient's doctor of choice will see them the next morning.

"This is only fair in giving the doctors reasonable hours," Dr. Owensby said. In most other towns, if a person needs medical care at night, he goes to the emergency room doctor and is transferred to his regular doctor the next morning. The system should work well here with three doctors to cover it. All three have asked for their patients' cooperation in following this system and expressed appreciation for those who do.

Each doctor will be on call for his own patients during the day, including Saturday mornings.

WTU rates go up for wholesalers

West Texas Utilities Company filed Monday for a change in wholesale rates for total requirements electric service it supplies to 14 rural electric cooperatives, one municipality and one investor-owned distribution company, and for partial requirements electric service it supplies to two municipally owned electric systems.

In its filing with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, WTU proposed rates which will produce about $2.1 million in additional revenue for the Company during the 1983 calendar year. This amounts to an increase of approximately three per cent from these wholesale customers.

WTU requested that the new rates become effective January 1, 1983. Present total requirements rates have been in effect since February, 1982, and the partial requirements rates have been in effect since 1977.

WTU officials said the rate change is needed to bring the company's revenues from wholesale customers to a level equal to the cost of providing service.

The wholesale customer affected in this area is South-west Texas Electric Cooperative, Inc.

Grand jury takes up Lara case

The 112th District Grand Jury met Monday morning, August 2, and spent the day taking testimony from eleven witnesses in the Lara murder case.

Gregorio Lara was dead on arrival at Crockett County Hospital early July 4, following an altercation at the rodeo arena park. An autopsy indicated death was due to strangulation and Ernest Vargas was charged with murder by complaint.

The grand jury adjourned late Monday and will reconvene Friday or Monday to hear more witnesses in the case. Meanwhile some additional investigation is being conducted.

The jury may make an indictment in the case, no bill, or pass, depending on what the investigation turns up.

Immunization clinic set for tomorrow

An Immunization Clinic will be held Thursday, August 5, at the Civic Center. Public health nurses will conduct the clinic from 10:00 a.m.-12 noon and 1:00 to 3:00 p.m. Families can check their children's shot records at the clinic.

Annual Youth Rodeo gets underway here Friday

Flags are flying and the rodeo banner is rippling in the wind in anticipation of the 26th Annual Ozona Youth Rodeo which gets underway Friday afternoon. At noon Monday, 110 entries had been received. Monday midnight was the deadline for entries, but as long as they were postmarked before that time, they could be accepted, according to Beth Boyd, Chamber Manager.

The parade will kick off the two day affair at 5:00 Friday afternoon. All parade participants need to gather at the vacant lot near South Texas Lumber Co. in the south part of town. The parade will head north, wind around the park, continue through the shopping center and disperse near the Red Apple on Hwy. 163.

Contestants may enter no more than three events. Girls may enter boys' events, and vice versa. All eligible youngsters may enter older classes but may not enter the same class in different age groups.

Drawing for places and go-arounds took place Tuesday evening. Contestants may pick up numbers at the Chamber office anytime.

The girls events in both age groups include goat tying, barrel race, pole bending and flag race. The boys' events in the two age groups are steer roping, bull riding, calf tie-down, hair pulling for younger boys and ribbon roping for the older fellows.

There are four lovely girls vying for rodeo queen. The contest will be under the supervision of Paula Bailey and the reigning queen, Miss Kim Bishop. One of the four contestants will be selected for the honor by a panel of judges and the highlight of the second night will be the crowning of the 1983 Rodeo Queen.

Bobbie Acton, sixteen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Acton, is one of the queen contestants. Bobbie, a junior in high school, is a member of the varsity golf team and the Ozona High School Band. She participates in high school rodeos during the fall and winter months and AJRA and pro rodeos during the spring and summer months. Being a member of the 4-H horse program, Bobbie has been very active in horse judging. This year she was the 10th high overall individual in the state of Texas in horse judging competition. She also had the Grand Champion Lamb at the Houston Livestock Show this year.

Another contestant is seventeen-year-old Michelle Couch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Couch, a senior in Ozona High School. She is a member of the Ozona High School band and is president of the organization this year. She competed in the regional U.I.L. Literary Contest placing 6th in typing. Michelle participates in the 4-H program, competing in the horse program and cooking competition. She was selected as the Gold Star Girl for Crockett County, which is one of the highest honors given in 4-H.

Karen Keilers, eighteen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Keilers, another queen contestant, is a graduate of Ozona High School. She has enrolled at Sul Ross, pursuing a major in Animal Health and minoring in Horse Science. Karen has given riding lessons and enjoys teaching young beginners. She has been active in 4-H for six years in horse and sheep projects and has participated in horse judging for three years. Karen was a member of the senior horse judging team for two years winning district both years. She is active in rodeo and horse shows and has helped with playdays.

Sophomore contestant Christy Parks, fifteen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Parks, has been involved in the 4-H horse program for the past 5 years. She has been on the horse judging team which competed at state level at College Station in June. Christy is also a veteran at grass judging having competed for the past six years in this event. Among her other 4-H activities she lists sewing and cooking. She is also a member of the Ozona High School Band and will lead the marching band being in the front line flag corps.

The girls will be guests of the Lion's Club at their noon luncheon Thursday and following will put the rodeo programs together. Friday is judged competition for the girls with a luncheon at 11:30 where girls will be judged on personality and appearance. Horsemanship will be judged at 3:00 at the rodeo arena, which is open to the public. Silver buckles will be given average winners in all events. TAIWAN AID SUPPORTED

By Edwin Feulner

Despite somber warnings from parts of the Washington establishment that Red China will be offended, President Reagan has passed the word that he has no intention of ending U.S. arms sales to Taiwan.

The assurances, made public by Senator Barry Goldwater just days ago, puts a halt, temporarily at least, to rumors of a State Department draft communique announcing a "time certain" for ending arms sales. Rumors of the working document had been circulating for weeks.

According to Senator Goldwater, the president claims to have no knowledge of any such communique, and promised in a June 18 meeting that he "wouldn't sign" such a statement regardless. For the time being, a major political crisis has been averted.

Still, it is common knowledge in Washington that State Department regulars consider Taiwan a nuisance, and would like to jettison the Taiwan Relations Act, promising continued arms sales to the Republic of China (ROC), just as the Carter administration jettisoned the U.S.-Republic of China Mutual Defense Treaty and cut official ties to the ROC government.

It's a good bet, then, that with or without White House approval, the rumored communique was more fact than fiction. Conflict between State Department schemers and White House politicians is nothing new. And more than once in recent years the Republic of China on Taiwan has been the focus of such conflict.

To make Taiwan go begging to meet its defense needs would be a blunder of the worst kind, and would likely cause the Reagan administration the kind of trouble only the liberal State Department would wish upon it.

First, such a move would destroy American credibility abroad. In the international arena, governments live by the strength of their words. On more than one occasion the U.S. has accused the Soviets of renegeing on their treaty commitments. When Jimmy Carter sold out the Taiwanese — a grievous act duly attacked by Ronald Reagan at the time — Americans could claim this to be an isolated act by an erratic bunch of amateurs. A repeat performance by the Republican team would certainly serve notice to friend and foe alike that the United States can't be trusted.

Denying Taiwan needed arms also would have serious destabilizing effects. The Taiwanese have reason to be uptight. First, one must not forget that the Communist Chinese possess "the bomb." They also have the largest standing army in the world. How big? Larger than the combined populations of Cleveland, Denver, Nashville, New Orleans, Omaha, St. Louis, Seattle and San Francisco. The 100 miles of water separating Taiwan and the Mainland are both Taiwan's first and last line of defense. And Communist China has an estimated 5,000 combat aircraft, many of them Mig 21s with a 350-mile combat radius and a top speed of twice the speed of sound.

The point is that if the Taiwan government is not neurotic about its security, it should be. And like the Israeli government of Menachem Begin, the Taiwan government of Chiang Ching-kuo considers its primary mission one of survival — of its people and way of life, as much as its national identity. Not only might the Taiwanese be driven to take measures we might all regret, they also could be driven into the ready arms of the Soviet Union, whose disagreement with Peking has long since moved from lover's quarrel to divorce. After all, it should be remembered that President Chiang Ching-kuo spent his youth in the Soviet Union, and though he is a staunch anti-Communist today, he is also a pragmatist.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

AUSTIN — A strong Department of Energy and decontrol of all fuel prices are the cornerstones of Gov. Bill Clements' national energy policy, unveiled last week at the Southern Governor's Conference in Hilton Head Island, S.C.

Clements took it upon himself to draft the proposal stating that he was tired of waiting for six Republican and Democratic presidential administrations to come up with one.

Despite the fact that President Reagan has proposed to dismantle the DOE, Clements says a strong energy department is essential to "ensure priority attention" to making the nation energy independent.

The key to that independence is deregulation of energy prices, the Republican governor says, adding that "maximum reliance" should be placed on the private sector and free market system to develop energy reserves, set prices and distribute that energy.

Some Capitol observers, however, saw Clements proposal as a complete reversal of his previous belief that DOE should be abolished.

That reversal could be attributed to the fact—as pointed out by Railroad Commissioner Jim Nugent—

you and the LAW
PRESENTED BY THE STATE BAR OF TEXAS

Q: When a person sells some land, does she also sell the mineral rights to it? I sold some land many years ago and now they have discovered gas in the land. Who has the rights to this production?

A: Land can be sold without the mineral rights, but to retain them, you would have specifically reserved the mineral interest in your deed. Read the Deed you gave to see whether it included mineral reservation, and if so, consult your lawyer to begin negotiations with the company drilling for gas.

Q: I am taking care of a child whose parents died some time ago. Is there any way I can have some of the money from her trust fund or even the interest to use for her? She needs the money now.

A: Read the trust if you have it, or hire an attorney to obtain it and read it with you. The agreement will specify how much of the money can be used for her benefit or even perhaps to compensate you. There are also cases in which an ambiguous trust can be construed to carry out the trustor's intentions; this may be a case in which the money is needed and the Court could order or supervise distribution to the child.

Q: My ex-wife has custody of our two children. She... the children to live with her parents. Do I still have to send her child support?

A: Yes, you must pay child support until a court enters new orders. You may, however, apply to the Court to modify the original order. You will need to show a change in circumstances of the children or of their parents that affects the prior order, and you might be allowed to lower the support or to send it directly to the grandparents. Please remember, however, that both parents have a duty to support their children: you cannot interrupt payments just because someone else is caring for your children.

Q: Can anything be done to stop continual rent increases? My rent has been increasing annually and it doesn't seem right. What can I do?

A: The owner of real property can raise the rent on his property with thirty days notice if no lease exists. The only way to prevent rent increases is to execute a long term lease with your landlord. Under that lease, the owner cannot raise the rent during the lease unless there is a specific provision for the increase.

Send your questions to "You and the Law," State Bar of Texas, P.O. Box 12487, Austin, 78711. Answers may appear in columns in hypothetical terms; personal answers not possible.

Letters to the Editor

August 2, 1982

Dear Kitty
Crockett County citizens who are interested in historical preservation have cause to rejoice over the room which is being renovated in our courthouse. As the layers of paint have been carefully stripped away the beautiful wood has been revealed and is being utilized in its natural condition. The old room is rapidly coming alive and once again we are reminded of the fine quality in our older buildings. The forefathers built well and included many artistic features.

Why can't the whole building be as carefully restored and made practical for continued use as our county courthouse? Should additional space be needed an architecturally compatible annex could be built in the dead-end street on the south adjoining the present building. Perhaps it would also be possible to modernize the present annex (Old Methodist Church building) if even additional office space is needed.

Such a project would eliminate the need to acquire additional land; the downtown area would be maintained in fine condition and the little Oasis in the center of it all which we call "Our Park" would be preserved. Has it ever looked prettier? Let's keep our town spacious and lovely.

We should thank the county officials for the renovated room and for their fair consideration of all possibilities for the future quality of our public buildings. Several more buildings are worthy of preservation as part of our rightful heritage—let us keep them also in perspective.

Let those who represent all citizens know your thoughts and they will be better able to do what is wise and best for all concerned.

Education—Our Money's Worth?

In my travels over Texas, it has become clear that Texans rate crime, the economy, and the education of their children among their principal concerns.

This week I would like to discuss education. As the father of six children, this has long been one of my principal concerns also.

We currently spend over half our tax revenue on education, and many people raise the question to me: "Are we getting our money's worth?" The questions put to me indicate some think we are spending too much; others, not enough.

I too am concerned about the amount of money we spend on education, but I am more concerned about the quality of that education. I believe the quality of education our children receive can be improved by making some fundamental changes in the way we pay and treat our teachers.

I believe in merit pay for teachers. Frankly, I think good

The Extension Homemakers Clubs are making plans for next year's club programs. There are three clubs that are active in Crockett County. The programs are on homemaking topics and there is no dues or fees to attend the meetings. Call the office 2-2721 for specifics on programs and meeting dates.

We are very proud of our three 4-Hers attending the District 6, 4-H Style Show last Thursday in Fort Stockton. Candace Williams, Jennifer Parks, and Kim Baker represented our county. Jennifer was named first alternate in her category. The competition was stiff and these girls did a fine job.

We have received numerous calls on stain removal throughout the summer. With school just around the corner, you may want to rework your closets to get organized for fall.

Most common spots and stains can be removed by prompt washing practices. Know as much about the stain and fabric as possible. Heat sets in stains. Do not press a stained fabric or dry in the dryer. Stains should be treated as quickly as possible. Stain removers should be tested on an underside seam or facing to determine if harmful. Watch for any change in color, appearance, or texture. Do not mix stain removers (especially ammonia and chlorine bleach). If more than one remover is needed, rinse thoroughly between the use of each.

If a fabric is washable and you can't identify the stain follow this procedure:

Soak in cold water for 30 minutes.

Work detergent into the stain and allow to remain 30 minutes and rinse.

Tips For Gardeners

From The Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

With vacation time almost over, and the August doldrums upon us, you may be tempted to lessen gardening activities. But with very little rain coming our way this summer this is a critical period for shrubs, trees and other plants. This lack of soil moisture now will weaken these plants, making them less resistant to winter, only a few months away.

For late fall and winter geranium blooms indoors, start cuttings now. Take 4 to 5 inch cuttings, and remove any flowers and all but the three top leaves. Let air-dry for 24 hours. Dip the cut end of each in water, then about an inch deep into rooting hormone; tap gently to remove excess. Insert the cuttings 1 1/2 inches deep in moistened sharp sand. Water lightly every 2 to 3 days, and keep out of direct sunlight. In about 3 weeks, the cuttings will be ready for potting into containers of potting soil. Place in bright sunlight, and water only when the soil feels dry about an inch below the surface.

Late November is the time to plant tulips and other bulbs so you need to order the bulbs in plenty of time to allow 60 days of chilling tulips prior to planting.

Pinch chrysanthemums early this month for the last time so not to delay flowering. You also need to fertilize your plants this month to supply extra energy for flowering. Using 5-10-10, apply 1/2 cup per square yard.

Induce heavy stems and abundant fall flowers by doing some corrective pruning on your roses this month. First remove weak, spindly, or dead twigs and branches. Cut back large plants (5 to 7 ft.) tall to about 36 inches above ground level; prune smaller plants less severely. Also continue to regularly spray your roses with a fungicide, such as Funginex, to control blackspot, powdery mildew, and rust.

For a colorful bed or border this winter, try flowering cabbage or ornamental kale. Both are tight heads of ruffled leaves tinged with pink, red, or purple at the center and fading to bright green around the edges.

To encourage continued flowering, snip off blossoms of annuals so they fade. Also make sure to water plants frequently and thoroughly during dry periods. If spider mites and thrips are problems now or later, control this infestation with Orthene according to label directions.

If you have azaleas or camellias, be sure to keep them well watered during our hot, dry periods. These shrubs are shallow rooted, making them particularly susceptible to drought stress. Place a small stationary sprinkler or soaker under the plants to ensure that the water is distributed throughout the root area.

I have been reminded that blue bonnets are coming up now, so if you have them near enough to water, do so for blooms next spring.

HOW TO CREATE A PRACTICAL STUDY AT YOUR HOME

By the right kind of decorating, you can carve out a study in your home--which could be used not only for work but also as a nice place for intimate snacks, quiet conversation and even as a guest room.

None of these activities requires much space, so you could create your study in a corner of your living room, in a hallway nook, alcove, or in a small bedroom or spare room.

Unlike a family room, a study doesn't have to accommodate a lot of people. It can be designed for only one or two persons.

To create a study, which could also be adapted for the other uses mentioned above, you might want to consider some of the following things: a beautiful desk that's right for the place involved and for the decor; a desk lamp that gives you both function and beauty; perhaps bookshelves; a chair that can not only be used at the desk but also as a distinctive seating piece of its own when moved out into a living room or bedroom; an easy chair; a table for snacks; and where there's room a sofa bed that can give you extra seating plus an extra bed for overnight guests.

For furnishings for this part of your home, or any part, we invite you to stop in, browse around, and talk over your furnishing needs and placement with us at Brown Furniture.

Heat is hazard for outside workers

Many Texas residents work under hot, humid conditions. Summer heat is a particular hazard to agricultural producers and others who must work long hours under the sun.

High temperatures and high humidity not only cause discomfort but could be potentially dangerous to the health and safety of individuals, says a safety engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Humans must maintain a fairly constant internal body temperature regardless of external conditions," says Dr. Gary Nelson. "A human body is like a furnace which burns fuel (food) that manufacturers heat. To safely limit internal temperatures, the body must shed excess heat. It does so by varying the amount of blood circulating near the skin surface and the evaporation of moisture through the skin and sweat glands."

Nelson explains that as the brain senses an increase in blood temperature, the heart beats faster, expanding blood vessels and sending more blood to small capillaries near the skin's outer layers. This blood, circulating close to the skin surface, can then transfer excess heat to the surrounding cooler atmosphere.

If this is not enough to cool the body, then the brain senses continued overheating and signals the sweat glands to shed large quantities of fluid to the skin surface. Sweat cools the body as it evaporates from the skin.

"However, as outside temperatures approach normal skin temperatures (high 90s), body cooling becomes increasingly difficult," says Nelson. "If air temperatures are as warm or warmer than the skin, blood brought to the surface cannot shed its heat. Under these conditions, the heart continues to pump blood to the surface, but perspiring becomes the only effective means of maintaining a constant body temperature."

The body also has difficulty giving off excess heat when humidity is high. Sweating does not cool the body unless the moisture evaporates, and high humidity slows evaporation, explains the engineer. Since humid air contains a high percentage of moisture, it cannot easily absorb more. Wiping sweat from the skin also prevents cooling from evaporation.

In high heat, hard work becomes harder. The heart pumps a torrent of blood through enlarged circulatory vessels, sweat glands pour liquids and essential dissolved chemical compounds such as salt onto the skin, and below the skin's surface, the production of metabolic heat continues. Since so much blood goes to the skin, less goes to active muscles. As a result, strength declines and fatigue comes sooner.

"Working in a hot environment may also have psychological effects," notes Nelson. "Workers who must perform delicate or detailed work or operate complex machinery may find their accuracy or performance suffering. Those who must think and process information may have lower comprehension and retention."

Certain safety problems are common in hot environments. These include slippery, sweaty hands, dizziness, and fogging glasses. Hot objects and surfaces also present possible burns from accidental contact.

Accidents are more frequent in the heat due to lower physical performance and mental alertness, says

Nelson. Increased body temperature and physical discomfort promote irritability, anger and other emotional states which could cause workers to act rashly or carelessly or distract them from hazardous tasks.

Couch completes ROTC

Michael J. Couch, son of Joe B. and Alice Couch of 604 Circle Drive, Ozona, Tx, has completed the Army ROTC Ranger Camp at Fort Benning, Ga.

During the nine-week course, the cadets learned and practiced the specialized skills of the Ranger including navigation, patrolling and mountaineering. Training concluded with counter-guerrilla operations in the coastal swamps of Florida.

Upon graduation, the cadets were awarded the distinctive yellow and black shoulder tap of the Rangers.

Couch is a student at New Mexico Military Institute in Roswell.

He is a 1982 graduate of Ozona High School.

Crockett County Care Center News

BY ANN McCARTNEY
DIRECTOR OF ACTIVITIES & SOCIAL CARE

The last week of the month is always one of planning and contacting volunteers for the next month. We are quite fortunate in Ozona to be able to have so many people to say "yes" to our monthly requests.

Once a year we have a special recognition for all our volunteers who so generously give of their time and money throughout the year. This year's recognition will be on Thursday night, Aug. 19, and thanks to yet another special group of volunteers, our Ozona V.F.W., we will be having a barbecue as well as the certificates which will, once again, be given by Barbara Eisler our state volunteer coordinator from Abilene. Invitations are in the mail. If you received one, please let us know that you are coming by Tuesday, Aug. 10. If you didn't receive one and should have, let us know that also. We'll blame it on the mail, of course!

Fourth Sunday services were conducted by the Church of Christ. Monday dominoes were played by Paul Cavin, Ola Mills, Nila Turnell, and Maude Pettit. By Wednesday Ola Mills was in the hospital so Frances Borrego and Maude Pettit were the only ones who came down for ceramics.

Nineteen residents played bingo on Tuesday and fifteen played on Friday. Paul Cavin won the El Chato dinner for two. Moraima Perez won the first place gift donated by Perry Brothers and Tomasa Ramos won our second place gift of Avon donated by Anna Bell Patrick. Volunteers include Patrick, Alice Ross, Dorothy Doll, Albino Ortiz, and Lupe Badillo. Wed. afternoon Sunshine hour honors the last two weeks include Donuts Etc. and Jane Black and Velma Marley.

Thursday morning beauty shop workers the last two weeks include Madye Jo Humphreys, Sue Lithicum, Bonnie Warth, and Vickie Stokes.

This last Thursday afternoon the Rev. Clinton Eastman of the Calvary Baptist Church brought our Bible Study. He also brought and played his auto-harp.

We have been pleased to have Maria Vitela back the last two weeks on Thursday afternoon with a nice group of church ladies. They bring a program of worship and song in Spanish.

Residents were treated to a nice program Friday morning when 27 children and 4 adults from the Church of Christ Vacation Bible School brought a program of song and shared a candy tree they had made with the residents. We really appreciate being remembered by this group.

This was the week for us to go to Clayton's Village Drug for our milkshake. Residents attending include Earle Chandler, Minnie Karr, Virginia Russell, Maude Pettit, Nila Turnell, Nina Mayfield, Maggie Crawford, Tomasa Ramos, Frances Borrego, Paul Cavin, and Carol Reed. Thanks to Albina Ortiz and Dorothy Doll for help with transportation. Thanks to Clayton for this treat which includes a vanilla malt for all those who are left behind also.

Special thanks goes to Madye Jo Humphreys for the vases donated for crafts class and to Elma's Roadside Grocery for the magazines.

Also a special thanks to Jan Henderson for bringing our discussion and reading on Friday afternoon.

Keep visiting! Keep volunteering!

Recycling aluminum cans is more than profitable, it's energy saving & patriotic! At current prices, every can you turn in to the recycling center can bring you about 1 cent clear profit. And with the Texas Kan Krusher you can take 5 times as many cans with you. With one efficient pad - reduce noise and later cans flat!
In fact, so flat that you can pack five times as many cans into the same space after crushing them. Moments on any vertical surface, and it's made of steel, so it's virtually indestructible. Keep one at home, another one on the boat.

Some say that the phrase "rule of thumb" comes from a practice that was once common among brewers. The chief brewer used to test the temperature of a batch of brew by dipping in his thumb.

A 19th century etiquette book advises, "The perfect hostess will see to it that the works of male and female authors be properly separated on her book shelves. Their proximity, unless the authors happen to be married, should not be tolerated."

4-H girls compete in Dist. show

Gandace Williams, Jennifer Parks, and Kim Baker participated in the District 6, 4-H Fashion Show in Fort Stockton, July 29.

Gandace modeled a red print prairie skirt in the 9-11 year old group. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Williams.

Jennifer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Parks, modeled a blue walking shorts and a checked sailor top in the 12-13 year old group.

Jennifer was named first alternate in her group. She was awarded $10 prize money.

Kim, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Baker, modeled a navy print dress in the senior division.

The contestants were judged on overall appearance and construction of their garments. The 4-H members competed with contestants from seventeen West Texas counties.

Adults accompanying the girls to the contest were: Mr. and Mrs. Bill Williams, Lou Deaton, Judy Baker and Debra Price.

Methodist VBS is scheduled

The Ozona United Methodist Church will hold its annual Vacation Church School beginning Monday, August 9, and running through Friday, August 13, from 7 to 9 each evening. There will be classes for ages 3 through adult, and a nursery will be provided.

Everyone is welcome to attend, regardless of church affiliation. Each evening will begin at 7 p.m. with a brief meeting in the church sanctuary, and then everyone will disperse to the Education Building for classes. A brief worship in the sanctuary will conclude the evening's activities.

Sheep program tomorrow

A Sheep Selection Program will be held Thursday, August 5, beginning at 7:00 p.m. in the 4-H Show Barn.

Ram and ewe selection with emphasis placed on importance of skeletal structure, size, and fleece will be the main topic. There will be several groups of ewes and rams for discussion and demonstrations (grouping of ewes to mate with rams to achieve results in offspring) according to Billy Reagor, County Extension Agent. The program will be very informal and hopefully a practical one.

OZONANS KNEW IT WAS HOT and did not need any reminder, but in case someone came through in an air-conditioned auto, the bank sign carried this message last week and through the weekend, every afternoon around 4 or 5 o'clock.

A target date for the opening of the bank has not been established at this time.

Producers due vote on wool referendum

The Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service will conduct a referendum Aug. 16-27 for wool and lamb producers to vote on a new agreement between the U.S. Department of Agriculture and the American Sheep Producers Council, Inc.

Charles Shannon, County Executive Director said the agreement authorizes USDA to withhold part of any wool incentive payment that might be made to producers on 1982 marketings to finance the ASPC's activities. "Deductions would be used by the Council to finance advertising and sales promotion programs for wool and lamb, and programs to develop and disseminate information on product quality, production management, and marketing improvement for wool and sheep."

He said if producers approve the agreement, up to 4 cents per pound on shorn wool marketings, and 20 cents per hundredweight on unshorn lambs, would be deducted. Copies of the agreement and ballots will be distributed to Crockett County wool producers beginning August 13. Ballots may be returned by mail or in person to the Crockett County ASCS Office.

According to Mr. Shannon, the new agreement is similar to the one approved in 1978.

Ozona firemen attend school

Nine Ozona firemen attended the Municipal Firemen's School at Texas A&M University in College Station last week.

John L. Henderson, Vance Worthington, Al Galindo and Felix Trujillo attended classes in fire suppression. This course consisted of hydraulics and pumper operation, fire tactics, and control and extinguishment of flammable liquids and LPG fires.

David Cooke took an advanced course in the recognition and control of emergencies involving hazardous chemicals. The local department knows of 40 trucks belonging to two different companies which transport hazardous substances through the county each week, going from refineries along the coast to California.

Dub O'Bryant attended the rescue course. Steve Kenley, Bob Falkner, and Dee Keilers were instructors at the school. Keilers teaches in the pump maintenance section of the fire school. Bob Falkner is an instructor in the communications course for fire department dispatchers. Kenley is an instructor in the fire prevention section of the school and gives classes on fire investigation.

During the time period between July 14 and August 2, the Ozona Fire Department answered 12 alarms. Many were grass fires due to the hot weather the last several weeks. Sunday, August 1, a travel trailer was destroyed by fire at the Double T Trailer Park. The owner was not at home at the time of the fire and the trailer was well involved when neighbors discovered the fire.

Two false alarms were also received during the period. Man hours required were 225 along with 10,000 gallons of water. The largest grass fire occurred on Saturday, July 31, on the Texas A&M Experiment Station north of Ozona. In addition to the three local fire units, units from Barnhart and Big Lake were called in.

Sports Fans

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

By Jerry Lay
Here's a surprising fact. Although many football experts believe you have to have a veteran, experienced team to win the Super Bowl, the San Francisco 49ers amazingly won the Super Bowl last season with the youngest team of all the teams in the National Football League. The 49ers won the Super Bowl with a squad that included 13 rookies and 7 second-year players. The average age of the squad was under 25--making them the youngest team in the NFL.

There's a courageous comeback story in sports this year. Many fans aren't aware of the obstacles overcome by the man who was appointed the new manager of the Milwaukee Brewers earlier this year--Harvey Kuenn. Kuenn had his right leg amputated in 1980. He also had stomach surgery and a heart bypass operation in recent years. But he kept fighting back and is now a big league baseball manager.

Who's the oldest man ever to play in the National Football League? The record is held by quarterback and place-kicker George Blanda who was 48 years old when he played for Oakland in 1975.
