Kitten's Away Mice Gonna Play!

By-Evart White

This is not Kitty's Korner. Well, it is Kitty's corner but the Kitty is away, prowling around in Europe on a well-deserved vacation and this has-been editor is trying to fill in for her while she's away. Not to try to be her, mind you, but just to fill in as a helper to the two efficient staff members and Big T for the next two weeks.

This column was born sixteen years ago when a young lady, married to an Ozona boy, strolled in at the right time and the journalistic find of the century became this editor's good fortune. From a background experience of commercial television, Kitty decided to try her hand at print journalism and was an instant and resounding success. Six years later she bought the paper and I hope will be living happily ever after.

I wouldn't presume for a minute to occupy this column and pose as a substitute for its regular writer. I just couldn't measure up, but while the kit's away I would like to play around a little with a few random observations.

In the ten years I have been out of the news business, Ozona has grown tremendously. But it also grew 'tremendously' in the ten years before that--and the ten years before that, etc. Time was when I knew practically everybody in town, but not any more. But the truth is that though I might not know a name, I do know a lot of faces and I like them all. Many of these folks drive around with bumper stickers reading 'I'm oilfield trash and proud of it.' So are we--and if they're oilfield trash we hope the trash wagons make daily trips and unload piles of them. If they will forgive me and allow me just one more 'home-town boast'--the fact that they have become Ozonans makes them even more special. Now then, please no bricks while we struggle with this now unfamiliar job which was my breath of life for 46 years in Ozona.

Another great change for the better is the large number of letters to the editor now coming to The Stockman. Time was that such letters were scarce, but that was perhaps attributable to the slower pace of events of yesteryear and a preoccupation with hacking out a living from a less technical age. More people, more issues, a more alert populace--all contribute to the greater participation in community affairs. Anyway, it's all to the good and makes for a better community.

And while I'm on this soap box and speaking of newcomers, or new citizens, I would like to lecture them just a leetle bit on what they have here and caution them about being misled into trying to change it. I refer to Ozona's unincorporated status. Having an incorporated city, with a mayor, city council, police chief, etc., may sound appealing. It may even have a snob appeal for some. And we don't undertake to low-rate others for having their cities and city governments--it best serves

FIRE POSTER WINNERS--Second grade pupils at Ozona Primary School were judges for their artistic ability as well as their knowledge of fire prevention methods as a feature of Fire Prevention Week here. Ozona Volunteer Firemen judged the posters, awarding first, second and third places in each of the six second grade rooms. The winners, pictured above, are: First place, Dean Fierro, Misty Mathis, Stacy Grendahl, Tim Wheeler, Keith Sessoms and Cassie Henry. Second place, Selma Galindo, Cynthia Diego, Melanie Tomlinson, Justin Southern, Tess Worthington and Jason Yeager. Third place, Mike Vitela, Darlene Tinsley, Paul Vargas, Bryan Trujillo, Jeanie Cooper and Jessica Deaton.

Commissioners to pay for drug investigation

Crockett County Commissioners Court, meeting Monday, approved a motion to reimburse the district and county attorneys' offices $10,800 total expenses so far incurred in pursuing the drug trafficking investigation in this and adjoining counties and to approve continued payment of $1,500 per month and expenses for Special Investigator Don Hazelwood to wind up the work started five months ago which resulted in forty indictments against 23 persons charging drug violation.

It was estimated the work could be concluded in another month or two.

Undefeated Lions zapped by Cats

By-Ross A. Alexander
The Ozona Lions saw their unbeaten string snapped as underdog Ballinger, on the strength of a super effort by running back, Matt Allen, upset the hosts 28-13, Friday night in Lion's Stadium.

Essentially it was a game of contrasts and confused broken-pattern play that Ballinger used to emerge victorious. The Lions defensive unit effectively stopped the vaunted Ballinger QB Aaron Keesee, but were unable to cope with the wild, improvisational play that developed around Allen all evening.

"He took us to victory with his heads-up play tonight," Randy Allen explained. The Ballinger head coach confided that his game plan was to pass against Ozona and to sparingly utilize the run, since scouting reports and game films indicated that the Ozona defense would be rather tough to run against. "It was a pleasant surprise to discover that we could run tonight as effectively as we did, so we just decided to stay with it."

How crucial a decision that was! Ballinger's total time of possession was a whopping 35:46 while Ozona was limited to less than 14½ minutes total possession during the contest...by far the low-

District Judge Troy Williams appeared before the court to remind members of the need for restroom repair in the courthouse. The Judge reminded the court that his court will be in session beginning October 25, with a jury being summoned.

The court received bids on new roofs for the Crockett County Care Center and Hospital but took no action in the matter. Kyser Roofing Co. submitted bids on the hospital and care center roof jobs of $45,315 for the care center and $7,056 for the hospital. Probst Roofing submitted a bid of $29,800 to repair the care center roof, but did not bid on the

High School Honor Roll

Honor roll for the first six weeks period of the 1982-83 school year was announced Monday by High School Principal Jim Payne.

The roll contains the names of 19 Seniors, 20 Juniors, 13 Sophomores and 10 Freshmen. Mr. Payne explained that a student must have a 90 or better academic average to qualify for the honor roll, and must not have a grade below a B- on his report card. Band and P.E. grades do not count toward the six weeks average.

The first six-weeks honor roll for this year is as follows:
Senior honor students are Karise Aycock, David Badillo, Gayla Bell, Michelle Couch, Henry Delgado, Allen Dews, Sarah Falkner, Velma Fierro, Lydia Hayes, Harvey Huereca, Darla Lovell, Jacinda Marley, Will Mason, Rod Miller, Leonor Pena, Arnold Rios, Kelly Sinclair, Cynthia Trujillo and Robbie Turnley.

Junior students on the honor roll include Bobbie Acton, Bo Aycock, Sherri Buckner, Katrina Burger, Matilda Castellanos, Ninfa Cervantez, Capp Couch, Robert Flores, Israel Gonzales, Kent Hokit, Rowdy Holmsley, Jennifer Justiss, Sylena Sessom, Mark Vallejo, Joe Vandiver, Arnold hospital. The bids were contained in the hospital report submitted by Administration James Conaway. Mr. Conaway asked the court to name a successor to Charles Huffman, resigned, as member of the hospital board. The court took no action.

The hospital board advised the court that there is need for the county to attempt to break a 3-year contract with a respiratory therapy concern and the court requested county attorney Tom Cameron to look into the matter.

The court approved an appropriation of $8,000 to help the Crockett County Water Control and Improvement District in the purchase of a new trash truck. The court was advised that a new diesel truck will cost from $25,000 to $28,000. The district now has two Packmore trucks, one a 1966 model and the other 1974. The 1966 model recently blew a rod, the court was told.

Henry Elledge, road department supervisor, reported work being done on the dump ground road and that plans are in the making for paving 7 miles of Johnson Draw road. The road supervisor advised the court of the need for a new winch truck. Twenty-five men now constitute the road department's work force.

A resolution was addressed to the State Highway Department asking that agency to designate as a scenic loop the section of Highway 290 from Interstate 10 to Sheffield, past Fort Lancaster, a state historical monument. The route covers scenic Fort Lancaster hill road, and colorful roadside park at the top of the hill.

Jeffery Sutton was named as judge of the absentee balloting in the coming general election.

The Commissioners approved a total of $4300 to repair the old pumper truck in service with the fire department. Labor charges were estimated at $2,500 and parts at $1,800.

40 indictments charge 23 with drug violations

Six of twenty-three persons so far arrested after being named in sealed indictments returned last Friday morning by a special Crockett County grand jury for 112th district court, remained in jail Tuesday morning while seventeen were free on bond.

Grand jury action came as a result of five months of investigation by a team of special undercover agents working under the direction of District Attorney Bill Mason and County Attorney Tom Cameron. Twenty-three persons, at least half of them Ozonans, were charged in forty indictments ranging from delivery of a controlled substance to bank robbery.

Special investigators Don Hazelwood and Bill Freeman, who drew elaborate praise from the two prosecutors, were employed to carry out the drug investigation in the 112th judicial district with particular interest centered in Crockett and Reagan counties (Big Lake.) Their task covered a five month period in which they worked in the shadowy world of the narcotic dealer and trafficker.

Names of those indicted, with the exception of five who have not yet been arrested, were released by Mr. Mason and Mr. Cameron early this week. Hints that further indictments may be in the offing were flung out by the officials. Citing the lack of fund with which to continue the undercover work as reason for halting the investigation, Mason said that some drug dealers have so far avoided arrest but added, "We know who they are and what they are doing. They're next in line."

Services for Mrs. Deaton Wednesday

Mrs. Jessie T. Deaton, 91, died Tuesday morning in Crockett County Care Center after a short illness.

Graveside services will be held at 10 a.m. Wednesday in Cedar Hill Cemetery under direction of Sizemore Funeral Home. Services will be conducted by the Rev. Ray Boyce, pastor of Ozona United Methodist Church.

Mrs. Deaton, another of Crockett County pioneer mothers, was born April 27, 1891, in San Saba, Texas, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Taylor. When she was about five years old her parents moved from Mullin, Texas, to settle on a ranch near Beaver Lake, northeast of Juno, in Val Verde County.

She married Fred M. Deaton in 1911 at the Beaver Lake home of her parents. The Deatons built a home on Avenue E, in Ozona where they made their home until his death in 1973. Mr. Deaton operated the ranch near Juno until his death and the ranch is now operated by his son, Taylor Deaton.

Survivors include the son, Taylor Deaton, two sisters, Mrs. Vera Baker and Mrs. Modena Coose, both of Ozona, three grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

Indicted by the grand jury and arrested by law enforcement officers include the following, with the charges named:

Rick Arthur, delivery of a controlled substance.
Saul Torres, delivery of marijuana.

Juan Guadarama, delivery of marijuana.
Richard Gonzales, delivery of marijuana, 3 counts.

John Hollingsworth, delivery of marijuana.
Arturo Torres, delivery of marijuana.

Deanna Mills, delivery of methamphetamine.
Wynn Ward, delivery of methamphetamine.

Luke DeFelice, delivery of marijuana, 2 counts.
David Pierce, delivery of marijuana, 3 counts.

John David Hohertz, delivery of marijuana.
David Quinlan, delivery of a controlled substance and terroristic threats.

Bonnie Gentry, delivery of marijuana.
Sherry Pascarella, delivery of a controlled substance.

(reported by Mr. Mason an escapee from Illinois under $50,000 bond on drug charges.)
John A. Stone, Jr., delivery of marijuana.
Debra West, delivery of a controlled substance.

Jim West, delivery of marijuana, 3 counts.
James Kent Muse, delivery of marijuana.

The 'delivery' charges in all cases specified "without remuneration" (not a sale).
One of the persons indicted will be charged with bank robbery, Mason said. He is said to have confessed robbing a bank in Texas and escaping with a large amount of money. Name of the bank could not be released, the official said, because the FBI is still investigating the incident.

Assisting in the investigation and subsequent arrests were the Crockett County sheriff's department, the San Angelo police department and other law enforcement agencies in the area.

"An immense amount of intelligence pertaining to drug trafficking and drug abusers has been gleaned from the extensive investigation," Mr. Cameron said. "We feel that we have a better finger on the area situation as a result of this sweep."

District Attorney Mason has been in contact with Governor Bill Clements, he reported, and the governor has promised aid in establishment of an organized crime control unit in the 112th judicial district.

HEADING INVESTIGATIONS leading to the recent roundup of alleged narcotic offenders were County Attorney Tom Cameron and 112th District Attorney Bill Mason, both of Ozona.

Drug education program slated

A drug abuse education program, designed to acquaint adults and children alike with the dangers and effects of the use of drugs will be held in the high school auditorium Monday evening, October 18, starting at 7 o'clock, Mrs. Billy Carson, publicity chairman of the Ozona Woman's League, announced this week.

Bill Freeman, special investigator for the District Attorney's office, and one of the principal operatives in the recent drug bust in Ozona, will be the principal speaker at the Monday night session. Mr. Freeman, who is knowledgeable in the dangers of drug use and abuse and of the effects of drugs on the human body, will discuss at length the dangers involved and will show a series of revealing slides on the subject. The slides, to be described by Mr. Freeman, graphically portray some of the deterioration of the human brain and other body parts as a result of excessive drug use.

"It will be an educational presentation and parents of children above the third grade are urged to bring the children for the possible beneficial effects of the revelations," Mrs. Carson said. "The problem of drug abuse affects all of us and the more we can learn of the effects, symptoms, and methods of acquisition and use the better able we will be to control

DEFENSIVE DRIVING COURSE
A Defensive Driving Course will be taught in Sonora, October 19, 20 and 21. The course will run from 7:00 p.m. to 10:00 p.m. each night.

Anyone desiring to take the course should call Ms. Ferrell in Sonora at 387-3835.

the situation in our own homes. Everybody is invited and urged to attend. It is an opportunity for concerted community action to bring under control a serious menace that confronts every community in this nation."

A question and answer period will follow the lecture and film presentation.

Cooperating in bringing this educational feature to Ozona are the officers, directors and membership of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, the Crockett County Extension Service, the Ozona Lions Club, the Ozona Woman's League and with the full cooperation of the Ozona school system.

Winter comes a-blowin' in Winter, 1982-83 announced its approach this week as a cold front dropped temperatures in Ozona from an erstwhile 90 degree reading to a low of 50 Saturday night and a drop to a new low of 46 Tuesday morning. The temperature has ranged from 65 to 68 degree highs since Saturday's cold front blew in.

Meanwhile, drought conditions continue to prevail in this area, emphasizing the disappointment of Ozonans that the front brought only cold until a .7 of an inch Tuesday morning for slight relief. Rainfall records at the Crockett County Water Control office show a pitiful four-month record from July. July's rainfall amount stood at .59 inch; August brought the most abundant rain of the late part of the year, a total of 2.24 inches. September was totally dry and October so far has produced 1.63 inches.

WORKFARE INSTEAD OF WELFARE

By Edwin Feulner

Welfare expenditures have been rising at an alarming rate over the last two decades.

In 1960 the federal government spent about $37 billion on Social Security, unemployment compensation, and general welfare programs — primarily Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) and Supplemental Security Income. In 1980 these same programs were costing $153.5 billion, about five times more. Likewise, in 1960 about $2.4 billion was being spent on medical care, infants' and children's programs, housing, food stamps and other non-cash welfare programs. By 1980 these programs were costing $75.2 billion.

According to social scientist Charles Murray, the explosion in welfare expenditures can be directly traced to the welfare "reforms" which took place during Lyndon Johnson's Great Society binge — reforms which eliminated the stigma of taking handouts, and created a generation — and now a second generation — with little real incentive to work. While the social engineers of the 1960s didn't intend it that way, says Murray, dependence begot more dependence, instead of paving the way for a higher standard of living.

The Reagan administration, like previous administrations, is trying to do something about the problem. (Jimmy Carter's ill-fated welfare reform program, you will recall, would have nearly doubled welfare costs. Congress deep-sixed the proposal when it got wind of the price tag.) Under the Reagan formula, welfare would give way to "workfare," which would require able-bodied recipients of public assistance to perform some public service in return for their welfare benefits. Its objective is two-fold: first, to promote financial independence by giving people greater incentives to seek out unsubsidized employment; second, to get needed work done that the community otherwise can't afford. Such a work requirement, many believe, is crucial for successful welfare reform because it is the most effective way to offset the work disincentives created by the present system.

The workfare alternative widely known as Community Work Experience Programs (CWEP) would be for AFDC beneficiaries. The administration estimates that the AFDC caseload would be reduced by more than 150,000 through a mandatory national job search program.

Just what are the advantages of the workfare concept? As economist Peter Germanis notes, the community would receive something in exchange for its assistance. All communities have work that needs doing but has been ignored because of budgetary constraints. Some of the workfare jobs could be maintenance, custodial, day care and library services and assistance to police and emergency medical personnel. Existing workers would not be displaced since workfare projects would not otherwise have been performed.

Secondly, participants in the program may find that their attractiveness to potential employers is enhanced through their exposure to a working environment. While the jobs may provide little in the way of training, they would at least familiarize people with the discipline of work. This has been a tremendous problem, particularly with inner city youths who obtain jobs but can't hold onto them because they don't realize that basics like showing up on time are important. Thirdly, establishing a work requirement would give employable recipients an incentive to seek other, more attractive means of support when they realize that their benefits are no longer free.

Critics say the proposal is unrealistic because most AFDC recipients are mothers with small children who are unable to work. Yet, Germanis notes, the 1980 Census Report indicates that over one half of American mothers already are at work. Because of the flexibility that states are given in setting up their workfare programs, many potential problems could be solved by employing AFDC mothers as day-care aides — where they could watch their own children as well as those of the other workfare mothers.

Workfare has been tried in several states with good results. Perhaps our "compassionate" legislators would do more for the morale of our nation's needy by stopping the rhetoric about cutbacks in welfare and lining up behind the workfare alternative.

...GENTLEMEN, START YOUR ENGINES.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Mudslinging on the campaign trail appears to be becoming contagious this year.

First it was Gov. Bill Clements dredging up an old 1963 drunk driving charge against Attorney General Mark White, his Democratic gubernatorial opponent.

Now, Eulesen Sen. Bill Meier, the Republican candidate for attorney general, has decided to use similar tactics against his opponent, Democratic Congressman Jim Mattox of Dallas.

Meier held a press conference last week to inform reporters that Mattox had been charged with obstruction of justice in Dallas in 1971.

The incident apparently involved mass arrests made at a Dallas park and Mattox, who says he went to the scene in his capacity as an attorney, got caught up in the arrests.

White has called Clements' tactics "garbage," "scurrilous" and a few other colorful adjectives, and Mattox says Meier's adoption of the smear tactics shows that the Republican's campaign is in trouble.

In fact, Mattox predicted a day before Meier's press conference that the mudslinging would soon begin.

Mattox is so confident of victory in the attorney general's race that he says the Nov. 2 vote will amount to no more than a formality.

But Mattox better not get too cocky. That same overconfidence is what many political observers feel cost then Attorney General John Hill the governorship.

Campaign Funds

And while Mattox and Meier were slugging it out in alternating news conferences, Clements was filing the latest in a series of campaign financial reports that show he has raised a record war chest for his battle with White.

Clements has topped his 1978 record by raising some $9.3 million to finance his re-election campaign.

Not only has he amassed the most ever in a Texas campaign, but he also has received the largest number of contributions ever — 45,468 separate contributions.

Of the $9.3 million taken in, $8.2 million already has been spent, leaving Clements slightly more than $1 million — and whatever he can take in this month — for the rest of the campaign.

White, on the other hand, has collected $4.9 million, of which $1.6 million has been borrowed.

The large Clements war chest has prompted White campaign officials to charge that Clements is trying to buy the election.

The Clements people say, however, that the large number of donations just confirms "the broad, grass roots support" the governor enjoys.

Greenhill Resigns

Texas lost its top jurist last week when Chief Justice Joe Greenhill resigned from the Texas Supreme Court.

Greenhill, who has served as a judge for a quarter of a century, will leave the high court Oct. 20 to open a new Austin office for the prestigious Houston law firm of Baker & Botts.

Greenhill, a Democrat, says there was no politics involved in his decision and that the decision was based only on financial considerations.

However, Texas Democratic Party Chairman Bob Slagle was quick to criticize the timing of the move as denying Texas voters the opportunity to choose their own chief justice.

Other Democrats have charged that the Republicans have bought themselves an opening on the Supreme Court because Clements will now be able to appoint Greenhill's replacement.

There are two years remaining on Greenhill's term.

The incident has prompted some politicians to re-urge efforts to institute a non-partisan basis to select judges, and even White has offered Clements some advice on selecting Greenhill's successor.

Clements should give the "highest priority" to consideration of a minority for the

Collins disputes Bentsen

According to the National Association of Realtors, if Lloyd Bentsen's voting record had prevailed every time in 1980, 13,590 fewer homes would have been sold in Texas, U.S. Senate candidate Jim Collins told a Dallas Metroplex homebuilders group Wednesday.

The realtors group made a study of the voting records of each member of the U.S. Congress and Senate, and how they affected home sales in their state.

The study showed that if Jim Collins' voting stands had prevailed 101,000 additional homes would have been sold in Texas in 1980.

"Bentsen is a consistent big spender. Out of 145 spending bills, he only voted 'no' two times. He believes in higher government spending. Big government spending caused the high interest rates that hurt our housing industry."

"Bentsen, around election time, talks like Herbert Hoover but his voting record is George McGovern. He even voted more times to increase the national debt than Ted Kennedy," Collins said.

Ruiz Case

And while the state's top judge was announcing his resignation, one of the state's best known ex-convicts was winning his final victory in attempts to stay out of prison.

A Texas parole board officer ruled that there was not sufficient evidence to revoke the parole of prison reform activist David Ruiz.

Ruiz recently was acquitted of the November 1981 armed robbery of an Austin bar and a 15-year-old murder charge against him in Ohio was dropped.

Ruiz, who gained national prominence as the initiator of the lawsuit that resulted in sweeping reforms of the Texas prison system, was released from jail shortly after the parole board ruling.

Ruiz, who has spent nearly 11 months in jail awaiting the outcome of the robbery trial and parole hearing, contends the charges against him were trumped up in retaliation for his reform activities.

Water Plan

Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby has released a five-point plan that would greatly expand the state's ability to finance construction of reservoirs and protect water quality.

Hobby's proposal calls for the state to insure water-related debt of local governments in a manner similar to the aborted water trust fund plan of House Speaker Bill Clayton, expand the Water Development Fund program to finance water quality projects, restructure the state's program for acquiring storage capacity in new reservoirs to help finance construction, help farmers purchase machinery necessary for more efficient water use and initiation of strong conservation and management programs.

Hobby's recommendations were based on recommendations made by special task forces, the Texas Department of Water Resources, the Texas Energy and Natural Resources Advisory Council and other groups.

VA suggestions to expedite services

The Veterans Administration Regional office is making a number of suggestions to help expedite services to those in need of its assistance.

Have the involved veteran's VA file number or Social Security number handy.

When submitting an original application for benefits, also bring the original certificate of release of discharge (DD Form 214); a copy of the marriage certificate, if married, a copy of the divorce decree, if divorced, and, if remarried, a copy of the new marriage certificate; a copy of the divorce decree (spouse's also, if previously married and divorced), and copies of the children's birth certificates, if either spouse had children from the previous marriage.

When filing claims for compensation or pension benefits, if treatment was received from a private physician, furnish a copy of the findings and any other medical records available; if the veteran or spouse is in a nursing home, furnish a statement from that home to that effect and specify whether the veteran or spouse is a patient and the type and amount of care being provided; furnish information concerning income received from all sources, including but not limited to retirement, Social Security, Supplemental Security Income (SSI), Workmen's Compensation, rental properties, stocks, bonds and inheritance benefits, and furnish any medical bills paid during the current year.

For further information call or visit the nearest VA Regional Office.

ROADS OF THE FUTURE MAY BE LITTER-PAVED

Motorists may shudder at the thought of driving on broken glass, tin cans, rusty appliances and other trash, but with asphalt costs rising, highways may soon be paved with our trash.

Littercrete-so named because it is an asphalt paving mixture that uses a city's incinerated solid waste as aggregate-has proven successful in testing by Texas A&M University engineers.

The drawback is we may not have enough trash, says Dr. William B. Ledbetter. The civil engineering professor has worked in the Texas Transportation Institute littercrete project since a test section of roadway proved successful on a Houston city street.

Field observations and laboratory tests on field core samples "show that the littercrete is performing essentially the same as the conventional control section constructed of a conventional asphalt concrete base," Ledbetter said.

UNITED SUPERS

Debra Says

By Debra Price

The 4-H Awards Program and Hamburger Supper will be Saturday, October 16, 7:00 p.m. at the Civic Center. Make plans to attend the annual achievement program and supper. All families are welcome.

October is Texas Seafood month. Texans can be proud of the seafood industry which ranks high among other states.

When time is a factor in filleting a large number of fish, use your electric knife. Save the backbone (rack) and head from filleted fish. Boil in seasoned water and reserve stock for use in soups and stews.

Breeze oysters in ice tray, one or two to a compartment. Fill each to the top with water and freeze. Then place cubes in a plastic bag for freezer storage.

STUFFED FILLETS WITH SHRIMP SAUCE

- 2 Pounds skinless fish fillets
- 4 cups fresh bread crumbs
- 1/2 cup melted margarine
- 1/2 cup milk
- 1/4 cup finely chopped onion
- 2 teaspoons dill weed
- 2 teaspoons chopped fresh parsley
- 1 teaspoon thyme
- 2 beaten eggs
- 2 teaspoon salt
- Dash pepper
- 2 tablespoons melted margarine

Shrimp sauce
Sprinkle fillets with salt and pepper. Place half the fillets in a well-greased baking dish. In large mixing bowl, combine bread crumbs, 1/2 cup margarine, milk, dill weed, parsley, thyme, eggs, salt and pepper. Spread stuffing on top of fillets in baking dish. Place remaining fillets on top of stuffing. Baste with 2 T margarine and bake at 350 F for 30 minutes. Fish is done when it is opaque and flakes. Cover fish with sauce. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

SHRIMP SAUCE

In a small saucepan over low heat, melt 1/4 cup margarine and blend in 1/4 cup flour. Add 1 teaspoon dry mustard, 1 teaspoon salt and dash of pepper. Slowly add 2 cups half and half cream and stir until thick. Fold in 1 cup cooked, chopped shrimp and 2 T chopped, fresh parsley. Pour over fillets and stuffing.

SHRIMP SAUCE
2 Pounds skinless fish fillets
4 cups fresh bread crumbs
1/2 cup melted margarine
1/2 cup milk
1/4 cup finely chopped onion
2 teaspoons dill weed
2 teaspoons chopped fresh parsley
1 teaspoon thyme
2 beaten eggs
2 teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
2 tablespoons melted margarine

COUPLES GOLF PLAY

Country Club couples golf play winning team last week was Barbara and Bob Wallace and Carol and Larry Hensley with a record 9 under for 9 holes, lowest score posted for the couples play day. Other golfers were Billie Gene Baggett, Ella Clegg and Katy Jones.

Tips For Gardeners

From The Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

In this bright blue October weather I hope you are enjoying outdoor exercise to get fall chores done before severe cold. It won't be long before those leaves come fluttering down, so plan now to start a compost heap to use for mulch next year. You will find this mulch very helpful to retain moisture during the summer months.

Why do leaves flame in the Autumn? This and next month a colorful foliage pageant unfolds. Why are the leaves yellow and sometimes red? Longtime residents often insist that the frost kills the leaves, turning them brown and leaving some more brightly colored. However, experts in the U.S. Forest Service find that frost has nothing to do with producing colors in leaves. They say that change in coloring is the result of chemical processes which take place in the tree during preparation for winter. In the fall when the cool weather causes a slowing down of the vital process, the work of the green chlorophyll is broken up into various substances of which it is composed, and whatever food there is on hand is sent to the body of the tree to be stored for use in the Spring. All that remains in the cell cavities of the leaf is a watery substance in which a few oil globules and crystals and a small number of yellow, strongly refractive bodies can be seen. These give the leaves the yellow coloring so familiar in the autumn foliage. It often happens that there is more sugar in the leaf than can be transferred back to the tree. When this is the case, the chemical combination with other substances produces many color shades, varying from the brilliant red of the dogwood to the more astute red-brown of the oaks. Here in Ozona, the maples will be beginning to turn and we may soon watch for the red oaks, tallow, chinaberry, pecans, spanish oaks, sumac and others.

Many homes in Ozona have had spectacular displays of caladiums all summer, even through our severe hot, dry weather and are still beautiful, but beginning to fade. As the leaves begin to dry, taper off watering before digging or removing from pots. Store them in a warm, dry, well-ventilated place for two weeks. After drying, clean the tubers and dust with a combination of captan and seven or sulphur for protection against insects and diseases. Pack the tubers in dry peat or vermiculite and store in a dry place at about 60 degrees.

Don't forget, White Elephant Sale. Ozona Garden Club, Saturday, October 16, 9:00 a.m. till 7. Located at 602 Ave. E.

Mr. and Mrs. Evart White were in Odessa to attend the Saturday night wedding of their granddaughter, Judy Ann Ogilvy, to Mike Alan Withrow of Austin. The couple left for a honeymoon in Florida where the bridegroom is to attend a baseball training camp sponsored by the Chicago White Sox. Withrow is a pitcher in a triple A White Sox farm club, and a former University of Texas hurler.

Calling All Homemakers

Brought to you by Brown Furniture

One of the most frequent complaints of people who shop for furniture is how hard it is to make a decision between two or more items.

This applies to color, style, price-in fact, all the many considerations you're faced with in buying any home furnishings.

And, the problem becomes even bigger because buying furniture is a serious purchase one that you live with every day.

However, the problem can be solved because there are people like us who have had experience in helping ease this difficulty.

If you have a tough time deciding on colors, for example, we can assist in your color choices by taking your basic color preferences and showing you various ways to get the color schemes you want. And we can help you stay within your budget and still get furniture and accessories you like because we often overcome this very problem helping people select their furnishings to fit a specific budget.

More than that, we can give you help on styles, fabrics, textures, finishes and arrangements, so you can have the beautiful home you want and have your shopping be easier and more pleasurable at the same time. We dedicate ourselves to helping this way and we invite you to take advantage of the assistance we can give. So stop in at Brown Furniture today!

No heartache surpasses that of earnest parents trying to mold the character of their child... and seeing daily the ominous signs of failure. But all the urging, pleading, coaxing and punishing we can muster is unlikely to change the course of a life that lacks spiritual backbone.

Who can drive a crooked nail?

The sooner religious training begins, the earlier its results become evident in a child's attitude and behavior. Your child's readiness to respond to parental encouragement and discipline is merely the reflection of those deeper qualities of personal integrity which spiritual growth will foster.

Let your place of worship help you raise your family. God never meant you to try it alone!

Kitten's Away-

But we only have to count our blessings, so to speak, in Ozona to realize the advantages we enjoy unincorporated. We seriously doubt we could have provided the many miles of paved and curbed streets we have, the efficient water department, the equally efficient sewer system, lighted streets and alleys, traffic signal lights, efficient trash hauling service, mechanical street sweepers, attractive public parks, adequate law enforcement, fine, fine schools and all the other good things you see around here. We doubt that taxpayers living within the city's limits could finance such finely developed improvements. As it is, property throughout the wide expanses of Crockett County combine to pay for the county administration, which includes Ozona, unincorporated. And the oil companies, bless 'em, pay most of the taxes.

PBPA energy report

The cost of natural gas to the consumer will increase between ten and thirty percent this winter...depending on where you live. The Department of Energy says the average will be 19 percent while the Citizen/Labor Energy Coalition says 20 to 30 percent.

The reasons for the price hike are the higher prices allowed by the Natural Gas Policy Act and increases passed on by the pipeline companies. The pipelines are having to replace older, much cheaper gas with new contracts and some of the pipelines are locked into contracts they signed in the 70's for high priced gas. The Citizen/Labor Energy Coalition says with the surplus of gas, the price increases are ludicrous. A spokesman for Energas said the average increase for an MCF or a thousand cubic feet of gas this winter is 26 percent. Texas Congressman Phil Gramm says he will introduce a gas decontrol bill after the elections. He said he does not think a windfall tax on gas is assured.

In other news, the House of Representatives in Washington has passed a bill aimed at stopping thefts of Federal oil and oil royalties that cost the government an estimated one million dollars a day.

In the Permian Basin our rig count for this week was 291. One year ago it was 492.

When making a leather garment for the first time, select a vest or tunic pattern that is simple to sew. Leather and leather-like fabrics are in fashion this fall, yet both types of fabrics currently available have different weight and color than those used previously, generally making them easier to sew and care for correctly.

Beef program changes 4-H youth projects

The Independent Cattle-men's Association of Texas has established a new 4-H beef production and recognition program with the Texas 4-H Foundation in behalf of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the parent organization of 4-H.

This new program, known as the 4-H Beef Producer Awards Program, will be phased in over a two-year period, said H.T. Davison, Extension 4-H and youth specialist and executive director of the Texas 4-H Foundation.

Dr. John Pelham, state 4-H and youth leader, said the 4-H Beef Producer Awards Program will emphasize production.

"To qualify, a 4-H member must keep records on 10 or more head of beef cattle," Pelham said. "The 4-H project may be breeding beef cattle, yearlings, stocker cattle, heifer production or any type of beef production activity which will emphasize breeding, feeding and nutrition, management and marketing."

Emphasis will also be placed on demonstrations, public speaking, judging events, tours, exhibits, leadership and citizenship activities, said Pelham. The program will emphasize and recognize those 4-H members who have intensive, well-rounded beef projects.

Cliff Boucher, a ICA spokesman, said that the state winner will be selected by the Extension Service and will be honored at their annual convention. The 1982-83 winner will receive a special plaque and a $6,000 scholarship.

Boucher said that in 1984 the awards will be expanded and a winner will be named in each of the 14 Extension Service districts. Each of these district winners will receive a trip to the Independent Cattlemen's Association Convention and a plaque. Three state winners will be selected and will receive scholarships of $6,000, $4,000 and $2,000, respectively.

"We are highly pleased with the program initiated by the Independent Cattlemen's Association," Davison said. "It will greatly strengthen the current 4-H beef program and will recognize 4-H members for their accomplishments in beef production." 4-H members interested in beef production will enroll in the beef project through their 4-H clubs, Pelham said. Under the guidance of a volunteer beef leader, they will develop their individual production goals which may include buying and managing livestock.

With the assistance of the beef leader and working in small groups, 4-H members will study all facets of beef production, including production record keeping. At the end of the 4-H year their records can be submitted for consideration and competition in this new beef awards program.

Roy Wheeler, ICA president, told the recent 1982 ICA Convention assembly when the program was approved: "Cattle producers of today must encourage and lead young people interested in agriculture to ensure that we have competent cattle producers of tomorrow. Awarding scholarships and employing these young people and including them in our county and statewide activities are a few ways that we can educate them to preserve our industry."

Management workshop to assist ranchers

Make reservations now to attend "Planning for Profit- Key to Survival in the 80's," a business management workshop designed specifically for farmers and ranchers. The purpose of these workshops is to aid in developing the decision-making skills which are going to be required to survive in the economic climate of the 80's. These workshops will require a registration fee and a 2 1/2 day commitment of time, but it will go far beyond the usual Extension program in terms of providing the tools required for successful farm management, in bad times as well as good.

This workshop, will begin at noon on the first day and conclude at noon on the third day. The instructors will be available during the evenings, and assignments for each evening will be based on your own individual farm or ranch.

The agenda includes: The Role and Functions of Management; Marginal Analysis and Economic Principles; Cost Concepts in Economics; Enterprise and Partial Budgeting, Whole Farm Planning and Budgeting, Cash Flow Budgeting. The emphasis is on economic principles that are relevant to short-run and long-run farm management decisions. These topics will also provide the necessary background and foundation for a future series of workshops, which are planned on farm accounting, marketing, risk management, income tax management, microcomputer applications, and financial planning.

There is an $85 enrollment fee to cover cost of meeting rooms, reference materials, textbooks, and other direct expenses.

Instructors will be: Lowell B. Catlett, New Mexico State University; Gary Condra, Texas A&M University; and James Libbin, New Mexico State University.

The dates and locations of the workshops are: Fort Stockton, September 29, 30 and October 1.

Good mental health

A few simple steps can help one achieve and maintain good mental health. A cooperative and outgoing attitude will stimulate the same reaction in others, says Dr. Mary Ann Shirer, health education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Here are some general guidelines for consideration, she says.

The "easy does it" approach may be best. This approach gets the job done without overreacting to a challenge or problem. A level-headed approach to problems will encourage cooperation from others.

Learn to recognize and express your feelings. Pent-up feelings often result in depression and anger. Talking to a sensible friend may help you think more clearly and avoid irrational bursts of anger.

Don't brood. A simple change of pace may help solve problems which seem to have no solutions. Changing your approach is a positive way to deal with problems.

Proceed one step at a time. Large problems become smaller ones if they are dealt with one step at a time. Setting a reachable goal develops self-confidence and relieves frustration and tension, Shirer adds.

Make it yourself with Wool contest set

The District 4 Make It Yourself With Wool Contest will be held in Fredericksburg, Nov. 20, at the Sunday House Restaurant. Rules and entry blanks are available from Mrs. Claude Kellery, Route 3, Box 300, Fredericksburg, Texas 78624.

The contest is designed to focus attention on the beauty and versatility of wool and mohair. Age categories are Pre-teen, Junior, Senior,

Adult. Garments must be made by the contestants of fabric containing at least 60% wool. Contestants may enter any one of the seven district contests to be held at different locations in Texas during November 1982.

Texas contest is sponsored by the American Sheep Producers Council, Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association and Auxiliary and sheep and goat producers and associated firms. Prizes include a sewing machine for the senior state winner, scholarships, sewing supplies, fabrics and trips.

State Director is Mrs. Joe Jackson of Ranger, Texas. She will be in charge of the state finals in Denton at Texas Womens University on Dec. 3 and 4. One senior winner and one junior winner will advance to the national competition in Oklahoma in January, 1983.

Acupuncture in Texas must be done by M.D.

Texas law included acupuncture under the definition of the practice of medicine. This means only a licensed physician or a trained acupuncturist under the physician's supervision can legally perform this ancient Chinese therapeutic technique.

The non-physician acupuncturist must obtain permission to practice from the Texas State Board of Medical Examiners, the agency that primarily regulates physicians. The board's guidelines stipulate that an acupuncturist must have at least two years of acupuncture training from a board-approved institute.

A physician also must seek board approval to be a specific acupuncturist's supervising doctor. If approved, he can allow the acupuncturist to perform certain tasks so long as the physician retains supervision and control over the acupuncturist. The physician also retains responsibility for the care and treatment of acupuncturate patients.

Dating back to before 2500 B.C., acupuncture involves piercing certain parts of the body with thin needles ranging from about one to nine inches in length. Although the technique is used to treat diseases, Texas newspaper ads for acupuncture clinics generally emphasize it as a means of losing weight and quitting smoking and drinking.

How acupuncture works revolves around Chinese medical theory: "Chi," the basic energy of living things, is a pressurized air stream that flows through 12 primary channels of the body. Six are called "yin," and the other six "yang." When yin and yang are out of balance, the theory contends, the body is susceptible to illness and pain. Inserting and manipulating needles at the proper locations restores the balance, acupuncturists say.

COMPUTER SCIENCE OFFERS NEW DIMENSION AT OHS

By-Robbie Turnley
Mr. Lane Scott, formerly OHS band director, is teaching computer science, a new subject offered at the high school.

Also a teacher of Shop and Welding/Electricity, Mr. Scott is excited about the new computer science class, a class in "all aspects of computing," which is being enjoyed by about two dozen OHS students.

Mr. Scott said computers are capable of doing so much and they do not make errors. He added they can do the same operation many, many times.

Students in the computer science class are learning to program and manipulate equipment. They are also learning math skills and skills that they will use the rest of their lives, according to Mr. Scott. They have to learn computer jargon and business skills as well.

STUDENTS IN COMPUTER CLASS LEARNING TO PROGRAM AND MANIPULATE EQUIPMENT

Students can benefit from this class because they are going to learn word processing, business skills, how to purchase equipment, how to know the equipment, and how to help parents buy equipment. Later in the year, they will learn about job opportunities available in the computer field.

LOCKER FAVORS BOOST SPIRIT

By-Gayla Bell
Locker favors are a proclamation of involvement, school spirit, and pride. Students whose lockers are covered with these glittered papers experience these feelings because they know they have given of themselves to their school and are therefore an integral part of their school.

Most locker favors are made of paper with designs, the person's name, and glitter on them. Most of these locker favors are made by the cheerleaders to increase spirit and to honor the students who participate in extracurricular activities.

Some people complain because they do not have a favor on their locker, but they are not involved in anything to get a favor. If they want a locker favor, they should get involved in activities at school. Some lockers are covered with these glittered papers, which shows that a particular student is involved in many activities.

On the other hand, there are those students who do not like the locker favors. They feel they litter the halls and clutter up the lockers. However, our staff believes that the locker favors increase school spirit and show pride in our school.

MECHANICAL DRAWING TEACHES SKILLS

By-Noemi Gonzales
A course that is designed to meet several needs is mechanical drawing, an elective for Seniors.

Mechanical drawing is "two courses in one," according to Mr. Wallace. In the first semester Mr. Wallace teaches basic drafting, and in the second semester architectural drafting.

Drawing of everything from machine parts to shut metal pattern development, to threads, to internal structure is what basic drawing consists of, according to Mr. Wallace.

Also during this phase, there are four or five different methods of drawing covered in mechanical drawing.

Architectural drafting is taught during the second semester, according to Mr. Wallace. "In this course the students learn how to develop a complete set of house plans," added Mr. Wallace.

Besides learning about basic and architectural drafting, the students are taught how to solve their problems. First, they "learn some methods of attacking the problem," according to Mr. Wallace. They also learn to have pride in what they accomplish.

When asked if Mechanical Drawing would be helpful to his students after graduation, he replied, "yes, it will help them in any area they plan to work."

STUDENT OF THE WEEK

By-Cyndi Trujillo
The Student of the week is Bobbie Acton. Bobbie is a junior this year.

She loves rodeoing, riding horses, playing golf, and being with her friends. Some of Bobbie's interests are working on computers and working with kids.

During her three years at Ozona High School, Bobbie has participated in band and golf. She has also served as a Library Assistant.

Bobbie lives with her parents and twin brother Marty. Bobbie has one outstanding accomplishment, known throughout the state of Texas. This accomplishment is having the 4-H championship lamb which sold for $63,000 last year.

ASU ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS CHANGE FACE

High School seniors interested in attending Angelo State University upon graduation should be aware of ASU's new admission requirements.

Applicants to ASU must meet one of the following requirements:

- (1) Graduate in the upper half of the graduating class.
- (2) Score a composite of 18 or above on ACT or 800 or above on verbal and math SAT.
- (3) Meet a "C" average capability as computed by ACT or SAT scores.
- (4) Enroll for six hours of summer school and pass all work therein.

Students may obtain more information by visiting with Mr. Jim Williams, OHS counselor.

H.E. OFFERS FUN, LEARNING

By-Irma Ybarra
What is Home Economics? According to Mrs. Jan North, H.E. teacher at OHS, it is a survival class, because skills learned in the class will help the students in their everyday lives.

This week, the classes are working on cooking. Mr. North said each class is different. For example, while one class is baking cookies, another class bakes cakes. The classes have just finished a unit on nutrition, in which their project was to print a class newspaper on nutrients, You are what you eat.

The purpose of this project was to help students plan and cook a more nutritious and easy meal, plus be creative in cooking and make it fun.

This year there are five H.E. classes: two classes of HE I, one of HE II, one of HE III, and one of HE IV. "I have great classes," said Mrs. North, "and we are having a fun time."

The highlight of the HE year is the award given to the outstanding HE student of the year. It is the Minnie Wylie Henderson award, based on student scholastic ability, HE skills, attitude and citizenship. This award is usually given to a senior student, but can be given to any outstanding student in HE, added Mrs. North.

HE students will soon begin their sewing projects, according to Mrs. North.

WALL DEFEATS OZONA

By-Gayla Bell
In a tough and well-fought battle between the Wall Hawks J.V. and Ozona Lions J.V., the Lions were defeated with a score of sixteen to twelve, Thursday night.

On the Lion's first possession, Al Ramirez threw an interception which gave Wall a first down on their own 47, early in the first quarter.

With a strong defense, the Lions held Wall and got the ball. On their second possession, the Lions were forced to punt, putting Wall deep inside their own ten yard line. After a series of plays, the Lions threw another interception on their third possession of the ball with 4:09 left in the first quarter. This caused a thirty yard pass to be thrown, setting Wall back to the Lion's 35 yard line.

During the start of the second quarter, Wall set Ozona inside the 15, and gave Ozona first possession in the quarter. Wall's tough defense forced the Lions to punt, giving possession to Wall at the Lions 47 yard line. Following a long drive, the Hawks were down to the Ozona eleven with 4:49 left to play. Wall lost the ball on a fumble which Ozona recovered. With 1:54 left on the clock, Al Ramirez threw the ball, which Wall intercepted, giving the Hawks good field position before the half. Wall lost the ball on the 4th down and Ozona took over with 49 seconds left in the half. With one second left to play in the half, Mark Vallejo ran for a twenty-two yard touchdown on a sweep around to the right side.

Score at halftime was Ozona-6, Wall-0.

As play resumed after the half, Wall received the ball on their 40 yard line. On the 4th down, 66, George Guerra, sacked the quarterback, which forced Wall to punt which Vallejo returned for 30 yards. After a ten yard penalty, the Lions were forced to punt, giving Wall possession on their own 20 yard line.

The Lions fumbled the ball on their 47 yard line with 3:26 on the clock. Following a strong drive, the Lions held the Hawks on the 4th down with four to go regaining possession on their own 30 with 39 seconds left in the quarter.

When the 4th quarter began, Lions were at the Hawks 42. Oscar Vargas then ran 20 yards which put the Lions on the Hawks 22 yard line.

After being slapped with a 15 yard penalty, the Lions bounced back with a big play executed by Manuel Perez, which put the Lions on the Hawk five yard line. Vallejo took the ball on in from the Hawk three yard line for a touchdown with 7:17 left to play. The two point conversion failed.

Following this, Wall took over from their own 35. On the next play, Wall came up with a 65 yard pass good for the score. After their two point conversion, the score was Ozona-12, Wall-8, with 7:01 left to go.

After Wall's recovery of the ball on an inside kick, they took over at midfield. Aycock, backed by a strong defense, forced Wall to fumble and give Ozona possession.

After being stopped on a 4th and 3 attempt, Wall took over at the Lion 45 with 1:03 left in the quarter. On the next play, Wall scored on a 45 pass. When the two point conversion was completed, Wall led 16 to 12.

Ozona then took over at their own 35 with 49 seconds left on the clock.

With time running out the Lions went down in defeat with a score of 16-12.

The leading rusher in the first half was Mark Vallejo who rushed 54 yards with six carries. In the second half, Oscar Vargas was the leading rusher with 35 yards with 6 carries. Al Ramirez, quarterback, threw 13 passes of which six were completed and three intercepted. The total yardage of these was 117 yards.

BEARCATS DEFEAT LIONS

By-Cyndi Trujillo
The Ballinger Bearcats defeated the Ozona Lions Friday in Lion Stadium with a score of 13-28.

Friday nights game was a touch battle. In the first quarter the Lions intercepted the ball on the thirteen yard line.

The Lions were then forced to punt and Ballinger took over on the 42 yard line.

The score in the first was 0-7 after Ballinger scored a touchdown on a 62 yard run. The PAT was good.

Early in the second quarter Harvey Huerecca scored a touchdown on a 25 yard run. The PAT was good.

Ballinger scored again when they faked out Ozona in a 65 yd. run. The PAT was good.

The score at the end of the second quarter was 7-14.

Seconds after the clock started running the Lions lost the ball on a fumble to Ballinger who recovered on the 40 yard line.

Later on in the quarter Ballinger lost a fumble and the Lions recovered on the 35 yd. line.

With 25 seconds left on the clock, Ballinger almost scored but were held back by a penalty.

Early in the fourth quarter

Ballinger scored a touchdown and the PAT failed. The score was 7-21.

Ballinger tried successfully for a two point conversion.

Well along in the fourth quarter, David Badillo connected with Carlos Borrego for a 50 yard touchdown. The PAT was good. This was the final score of the night.

The Lions lost to Ballinger 13-28 but not without giving their opponents some tough competition.

Friday the Lions will travel to Colorado City. CUBS SWEEP WALL

By-Robbie Turnley
Oscar Payne ran for three touchdowns and Darrell Vargas ran for two touchdowns as the seventh grade Cubs downed Wall 32-0.

Oscar's runs were 24, 32, and 21 yards while Darrell's were 16 and 8 yards. Payne's last touchdown came on the buzzer at the end of the game.

Coach Payne commented, "The Cubs have a lot of talent and the offense is finally beginning to click."

The eighth grade Cubs also defeated Wall 25-8.

In the first half, James Sanchez scored on a trap play from 28 yards out but the extra point was missed. Also, with four seconds left in the half, Johnny Lombrano scored from two yards out to give Ozona a 12-0 halftime lead. Wall scored in the third quarter and the try for two was good. OJHS still led 12-8.

In the fourth quarter, the Cubs wrapped it up with a 34 yard pass from Sam Hightower to Valdo Galindo and the extra point by David Gonzales was good. George Wall recovered a fumble which resulted in another touchdown as Sam ran in from one yard out.

Coach Payne said "The defense played well and the key to the game was three interceptions by the Cubs' David Gonzales, Roger Flores and Andy Trevino.

FFA SELECTS OFFICERS AND PROJECTS

By-Cyndi Trujillo
Vocational Agriculture at O.H.S. is one of the many electives students have. Many local students are involved in FFA, which features lamb raising as one of their projects. This project was started last week. The students project has one criteria which is to meet the meat packers needs. The students will try to make money in a commercial situation which includes weight gain and feed conversion.

Raising lambs helps give the students a sense of responsibility in caring for the animals, plus a money making incentive, stated Mr. Hicks, who is the Vocational Ag. teacher.

The students will enter their projects in the district meet which will be held December 2, in Wall. They will be competing with 10 other schools.

The FFA officers for this year are: President, Allen Dews; Vice-President, Dan Bean; Secretary, Rowdy Holmsley; Treasurer, Capp Couch; reporter, J. R. Garcia; and Sentinel, John Moran.

The FFA Sweetheart is Darla Lovell. She will be the representative at the district FFA Banquet, which will be held in Sterling City on December 9.

The Parliamentary Procedure team consists of Capp Couch, Cindy Reavis, John Moran, Ira Childress, Joe Vandiver, Jack Moody, and Andel Wagoner.

FFA is a national organization of students enrolled in vocational agriculture, which tries to give instructions to students in personal leadership growth and development.

Members in FFA learn by participation and conducting a meeting, speaking in public, participating in contests, earning awards and recognition, and becoming involved in cooperative efforts and community improvement.

FFA helps develop leadership in farm and ranch related industries such as the judging teams. One of the requirements is having a supervised occupational project.

Other projects done by the class include overhauling small gas engines, welding shop projects, such as barbecue pits and calf trim tables, and preparing and wiring a goose neck trailer, and painting the victory bell.

Collins at Baylor forum

U.S. Senate candidate Jim Collins Monday addressed 2500 students at the Baylor Forum in Waco telling them that "conservatives believe in jobs, and liberals believe in welfare."

Collins, a conservative, is challenging incumbent Lloyd Bentsen for the U.S. Senate.

"Liberals believe in big government spending. From 1971 through 1980 my opponent, Lloyd Bentsen, voted 'no' only two times out of 145 spending appropriations bills," Collins said.

Collins, during the same period of time, only voted for 31% of the appropriations bills. Collins supported 35 out of the 36 defense or military construction bills that came up for a vote during those ten years.

"Bentsen's support of big federal spending helped bring about the huge national deficit we face today. In fact, Bentsen voted 11 times to raise the national debt-even more than Ted Kennedy," Collins said.

Volunteers would help if they were asked

More than 65 million Americans said in a recent survey that they would volunteer to assist with projects they considered to be "worthwhile" if they were asked to do so.

"These willing workers should be made aware of the need for their help and the satisfaction which follows as a by-product of volunteerism," says June Cline, organization specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Cline notes that "enthusiasm is the all-essential human jet propeller which elevates workers and creates endless energy, the source of accomplishment." It can help motivate volunteers and also carry over into their orientation to do their jobs to the best of their abilities and skills, she says.

"Pressure volunteerism" is still the most used method for recruiting volunteers. Instead of using that method, Cline suggests that people seeking help from volunteers might want to try the "Ten Commandments of Human Relations" for motivational purposes.

Put simply, the 10 principles include; speaking to people, calling people by name, smiling at people, being friendly, being cordial, being interested in people, being thoughtful of the feelings of others, being generous with praise, being thoughtful of opinions of others, and being alert to give service.

"Some of the most capable and successful supervisors of volunteers keep charts to show increased knowledge and skills and to challenge performance and influence attitudes. Make the job an interesting one, and the volunteer will like it and derive satisfaction. In this instance, satisfaction is the pay check," Cline reminds.

She suggests that supervisors of volunteers should help build a sense of security. This can be achieved by radiating confidence; being honest and sincere; being fair, impartial and generous; showing sympathy and understanding; and explaining carefully the volunteer job.

Former Ozonan injured

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Corder of Midland were injured in an automobile accident on a Midland street last Thursday night.

Mrs. Corder, the former Jo Nell Coose of Ozona, daughter of Mrs. Medina Coose of Ozona and sister of Mrs. Charles Applewhite of the city, is in Odessa Medical Center Hospital where she is reported in serious condition. She suffered extensive head injuries and was still unconscious at last reports from her bedside. Mr. Corder was less seriously injured and has been released from the hospital.

Oil show scheduled in Ector County

The grounds of the Ector County Coliseum complex are coming to life as the Permian Basin Oil Show is only days away in Odessa. The oil show will open its gates at 10 a.m. Wednesday, Oct. 20, and continue for the next four days as the oldest oil show in the nation and the largest inland oil show.

The oil show office and staff moved to the coliseum grounds on Monday, Oct. 4, to "set up shop" for the early arrivals. Freeman Decorators of San Antonio also opened offices on the coliseum grounds to begin receiving freight from the oil show's 542 exhibitors.

The electrical contractor and crews from Southwestern Bell are also on the grounds stringing electrical and telephone lines to the 912 booths.

Lufkin Industries will be one of the first exhibitors to set up their exhibit of giant pumpjacks immediately in front of the entrance to the oil show grounds. Because of the size of the equipment, it must be moved in before other booths can be set up.

The oil show's board of directors held their final meeting prior to the opening of the show on Wednesday night, Sept. 29, to hear final committee reports.

E. G. (Eddie) Durrett, president of D&R Drilling in Odessa and president of the oil show, set the tone for the meeting and for the oil show itself.

"I predict this year's Permian Basin Oil Show will break all attendance records because we have a record number of exhibitors and more exhibit space than any previous show," Durrett said. "Our office staff has checked motel and hotel accommodations in the entire area and they have found reservations have been made as far away as Lubbock, Snyder, and San Angelo."

Durrett said the oil show was able to increase its outside space this year by leasing the area surrounding the National Guard Armory on the northeast corner of the Coliseum grounds.

This year's Permian Basin Oil Show will feature 740 inside spaces and 172 outside spaces for a total of 912 exhibit spaces. The 542 exhibitors will come from 53 states in Texas and from another dozen states. No foreign countries are represented at the Odessa exposition although the show does play host to a number of foreign visitors.

This year's show officially opens at 10 a.m. Wednesday, Oct. 20, and continues through Saturday, Oct. 23, at the Ector County Coliseum complex in Odessa.

The Permian Basin Oil Show has always been known as "The Working Man's Oil Show" because it is a show where the roustabout and the man in the field rubs elbows with top company officials, and it is the men in the field who make about 80 percent of the purchases for their companies.

At the request of the show's exhibitors, Wednesday and Thursday, the first two days of the oil show will be closed to everyone except those involved in some phase of the oil industry.

Successful family traits

Handling the ups and downs of everyday living seems to be easier for some families than others, says Dorothy Taylor, family life education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

What makes one family more capable or successful than others?

Taylor says that research studies in the past 10 years have identified several common traits among many successful families.

"Members are united; they are all working toward the same goals. They value their family ties and spend time working and playing together, getting to know each other better," Taylor says.

Additionally, she says, within strong and successful families, there is a respect for individual differences, autonomy, separateness and independence.

"Individuals are encouraged to develop personal competencies and skills through independent pursuits, rather than the family doing everything together and stifling creativity. In united families, there is a feeling of both togetherness and separateness," Taylor says.

Successful families also have definite, clear values that are known to their children. "These values become part of the family's way of life as they are examined, discussed, practiced and altered when necessary. A basic set of common values provides directions for day-to-day decisions confronting family members," Taylor says.

In successful families, parents assume the role of teacher and model and take responsibilities seriously.

Most of these parents have high self-esteem and tend to build self-respect and self-confidence in their children.

These parents also trust their children and expect to be as important to their children as their children are to them, she adds.

Durrett stressed that under no circumstances would any children be allowed on the oil show grounds Wednesday or Thursday. "Anyone not having a registration badge will be escorted off the grounds the first two days," Durrett said. "This is being done to give the exhibitors a better chance to meet the people they hope to do business with."

There is no admission charge for entrance to the Permian Basin Oil Show.

Facing problems realistically and openly is another trait of successful families. They exhibit optimism and are flexible in looking for and trying solutions to problems, the specialist says. They seem to be the most capable of adapting to crisis situations.

Taylor adds that families who rely on the power of one individual—rather than the family unit—can become strapped with decisions that may not be in the best interest of the total family.

"Strong, successful families also tend to have a commitment to the community and share their strengths with others. And most of all, successful families have fun and laugh together. In one study, united families would create and nurture family jokes and patterns of play—and laughter and teasing were used as transitions at difficult moments," she says.

The specialist cautions that successful family life does not come easy. "Strong families have been found to work constantly to strengthen their family ties. Their formula for success seems to be to work hard and play hard—together," Taylor says.

Kiser completes course

Aviation Machinist Mate Louie E. Kiser, U.S.N., has recently completed several courses of instruction in ground support equipment and avionics corrosion control. He graduated in the top of his class and is currently awaiting attached to patrol squadron 21 at Naval Air Station, Moffett Field, Calif. He is the son of Louis E. Kiser and Billy Ruth Kiser of Ozona.

Hemlines vary in fashion's eye

In today's fashion picture, there are no "right" or "correct" hem lengths. It is up to each woman to wear what looks best, says Becky Saunders, clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

How does one determine the best length? "A good way is to look at your current wardrobe. Try on your clothes. Check each outfit to see if it could be improved by raising or lowering the hemline. Often an inch can make all the difference—so be sure you find the right hem location," Saunders says.

Most women—especially those over 25 years old—look best in a skirt length just below the knee, she adds.

"If you are short, you may find an inch below the knee is best. If you are tall, two inches or more may be necessary. Another guide is the calf of the leg—a smart hem often hits just where the curve starts," Saunders suggests.

Be careful, however, not to fall into the "hemline rule" in dressing.

"Do not assume that every hemline has to be 'so many inches' below the knee, such as about 'an inch.' If that length looks good in a A-line skirt, a straight skirt may need a slightly longer hem to look best. A dirndl may need even more to keep you from looking too youthful," she says.

Jeep demolished at intersection

A jeep being towed behind a pickup truck was smashed by an 18-wheeler truck at the intersection of Highways 163 and 290 in downtown Ozona early Tuesday morning.

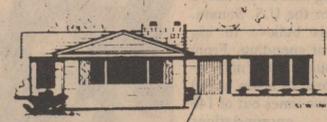

The driver of the pickup was John Cox of Bandera. Cox crowded the red light at the intersection and failed to make it in front of the big Pool Co. truck driven by Manuel Longoria of Ozona.

The accident was investigated by DPS patrolman Tommy Matthews.

Think Steak! Affordable Steak!

A simple chuck steak brushed with oil and lemon juice and broiled as-you-like-it. Serve with broiled tomatoes, crusty bread and red wine.

Ask anyone what his favorite meal is; the answer is likely to be steak. Good restaurants feature it and it is most often served at home when there's something to celebrate.

Celebrating or not, think steak, affordable steak! Chuck and round steaks can be just as delicious as the expensive kind when you know how to cook them. Broil or pan-broil until nicely browned on each side, but still rare inside. This is important—long cooking at this point can toughen the meat. Then, carve in thin diagonal slices.

Beef is a bargain nutritionally, too. Along with high quality protein (all the essential amino acids), it provides B complex vitamins like riboflavin and niacin and the essential minerals iron, copper and phosphorous in the cheapest as well as the costliest cuts of beef. A hidden plus of the lean round steaks is the small amount of fat.

During the special Beef Round Up try this IGA® Tablerite® recipe for Chuck Steak, Italian Style. It's simple enough for family; delicious enough for company.

STEAK, ITALIAN-STYLE

2 lb chuck steak, 1 1/4-in thick
Lemon juice
Olive or salad oil
Salt, cracked black pepper
Chopped parsley

Place steak on rack in broiler pan. Mix 1/4 cup lemon juice and 1/4 cup olive oil. Brush top of steak with some of mixture. Sprinkle lightly with salt and a few turns of the pepper mill.

Broil 3 to 4 inches from heat 15 minutes. Turn steak; brush with olive oil mixture; sprinkle with salt and pepper. Broil 12 to 15 minutes for rare.

Place on hot platter; spoon on any leftover oil mixture, sprinkle with chopped parsley. Slice thinly on the diagonal with sharp carving knife. Serves 6.

For well done steak: sprinkle each side with unseasoned instant meat tenderizer following package directions; broil as above.

Crockett County Care Center News

BY ANN McCARTNEY
DIRECTOR OF ACTIVITIES & SOCIAL CARE

A recent addition of the Sunshine magazine had this to say about aging: As rapidly I move through life, behind me years and years are strung; no matter, though, how old I get, I never finish feeling young.

We all need to remember that everyone can still feel young and in the same light everyone enjoys seeing young people. This is surely true of our Care Center residents.

An opportunity for our residents to see and enjoy young people was presented on Sunday when the first through fifth grade students of the United Methodist Church was brought by their teachers, Lou Haire and yours truly. The students gave a skit and then sang two songs. Students participating included: Jennifer Colin, Tami Reagor, Terel Seahorn, Kelly Williams, Cullen Curry, Leesa Haire, and Carri Jane Chandler. Church services, complete with songs, were given by the pastor Rev. Wayne Boyce and members of the congregation.

Monday morning dominoes were played by Ola Mills and Johnny Henderson. Monday afternoon a group of ladies went on a field trip to our local museum. Those making the trip included: Carol Reed, Ola Mills, Frances Borrego, and Nila Turnell. Thanks goes to Mary Clayton for showing us around.

Tuesday morning bingo winner of the El Chato dinner for two was Jesus Hernandez. Tuesday afternoon Jerri Lee came and gave our residents a nice program of music on the piano. Music is always a big hit with our residents.

And, speaking of piano players, we're glad to have Leona Harris play for us from time to time.

We have had a nice donation sent to us recently by an ex-employee, Essie Alexander who now lives in Lampasas. Thanks also goes to Julie Watson for puzzles, Anna Bell Patrick for popcorn, Lupe Martinez for three pints of shampoo, and Martha Taylor for bringing yellow crocheted roses in a vase.

Another nice surprise donation was the discovery of a Halloween basket centerpiece that had been placed on the T.V. by Maxine Henderson.

Wednesday morning Ruth Hester directed ceramics once again. Wednesday afternoon we had our monthly birthday party. This month we have only one birthday, that of Verna Talley, and it was served by her daughter, Alma Wilson. Polly Eppler donated the cake and Verna's corsage was donated by Maxine's Flowers. Leona Harris furnished piano music for the occasion.

Following the birthday party residents were taken to the front porch for yet another treat. Ozona High School twirlers Jana Lilly, Teresa Lee, Jacinda Marley and Susan Scott gave our residents a demonstration of their twirling routines. This was a new event and was really enjoyed by our residents. Thanks, girls.

Thursday morning beauty shop was manned by Madye Jo Humphreys, Arlene Clayton, and Bonnie Warth. Our Lutheran Church was here, as usual, on Thursday afternoon. Cookies for our residents was sent by Debbie Bachman. Thanks Debbie--they were delicious! We were also delighted to have Ruby Olson back with us. Bible study conducted by this group was followed by Spanish hour conducted by the Catholic ladies.

Everyone who reads this weekly knows by now that we play bingo twice a week and the Friday bingo winner is one who has won the great-

Producers alerted to livestock virus

A non-fatal virus disease affecting cattle, horses and swine has been reported in New Mexico and three other states, and Texas' livestock producers should be on the alert for possible outbreaks, according to Dr. James Armstrong, veterinarian for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

The disease--Vesicular Stomatitis--have not yet been reported in Texas, but it could occur, Armstrong said. Symptoms include increased temperature and blisters in the mouth and soles of feet. Animals become dehydrated and lose weight, he said.

"Human infection can occur in areas where the disease is prevalent," Armstrong said. "A veterinarian should be contacted immediately if the disease is suspected."

A laboratory diagnosis is required to accurately identify the disease. The symptoms are similar to foot and mouth disease, Armstrong said.

Vesicular Stomatitis was first reported to federal officials in June. The majority of infected animals are in Colorado, but Arizona and Utah have also reported the disease.

"Reports from New Mexico indicate thousands of horses and hundreds of cattle have been affected," Armstrong said. "Canada has requested the U.S. Department of Agriculture not to certify cattle, horses, sheep, goats or pigs from states with the reported disease."

Driver's Ed. not perfect solution

High school driver education courses are useful in teaching youngsters the basics of safe driving, but it is unrealistic to expect the programs to turn out perfect drivers, says a Texas A&M University safety education professor.

"That's where driver education has gotten into trouble--by saying it can guarantee students won't have any accidents," said Dr. Maurice Dennis, director of the safety education program in the university's Department of Industrial Education.

Driver education courses give the young driver experience behind the wheel and that is important, Dennis said.

County gains producer

The Hoover field of Crockett County gained its current fifth producer and a one-mile west-northwest extension with completion of Sunbelt Oil & Gas Inc., Houston, No. 4 SB&TG 04, 27 miles northwest of Ozona, to pump nine barrels of 31.4 gravity oil, no water.

Production was through perforations at 1,566-670 feet and 1,596-600 feet, which had been washed with 500 gallons of mud acid and fractured with 15,000 gallons.

Location is 330 feet from the south and east lines of 2-1-GC&SF.

The Dudley, East (Devonian gas) field was extended a 1/2-mile east with completion of International Oil & Gas Corp., Midland, No. 3 L.B. Cox "B", 23 miles west of Ozona, for a calculated, absolute open flow of 14,750,000 cubic feet of gas daily.

Production was through perforations at 8,992-9,204 feet, which had been acidized with 174 barrels and fractured with 5,568 barrels and 76,000 pounds of sand.

Location is 1,980 feet from the south and 1,725 feet from the west lines of 24-2-1&GN.

Major Petroleum Corp. (A) Midland, will drill the No. 1 University Texas Union as a 1 5/8-mile west and slightly north outpost to the Weger (San Andres) field, 3/8-mile east and northwest of the Weger, West (Grayburg) field and five miles south of Big Lake.

Location is 1,980 feet from the north and 660 feet from the west line of 24-12-University Lands. Contract depth is 2,700 feet.

C.F. Lawrence & Associates Inc., Midland, will drill the No. 3 Shannon "G" as a 2 1/4-mile northwest outpost to the Todd (San Andres) field, but one mile north of the Todd, West (San Andres oil and gas) field, 18 miles east of Iraan.

Location is 1,650 feet from the north and east lines of 1-BB-EL&RR. Contract depth is 2,400 feet.

est number of games played both Tuesday and Friday. First place winner this week was Nina Mayfield. She won a gift certificate from the Teacher Store. The second place gift was won by Tomasa Ramos. The monthly Baker Jewelers award was won by Juana Hernandez. Volunteers this week included Alice Ross, Louise Johnigan, Juanita Delgado, and Anna Bell Patrick.

Friday afternoon we had our monthly residents council meeting. Both old and new programs were discussed, including some plans for Thanksgiving and Christmas.

Saturday residents were delighted to have Joan Nicholas come and conduct a "Guess That Tune" program on the piano.

And so ended another full week for our residents. The intent of our program is to give a variety of activities in hopes that everyone will find something interesting to do during the week. This is made possible only because of the volunteers like those that came this week. We appreciate you all!

Managers should reward performance

Bosses who get upset over employees coming to work late or socializing on the job often care more about them putting in the time than putting the time to use, says a Texas A&M University management professor.

"Managers who focus on time usually concentrate on the wrong things," says Dr. David Van Fleet, an expert in time management and organizational behavior.

"They're saying being on the job is the important thing, but what's really important is doing the work."

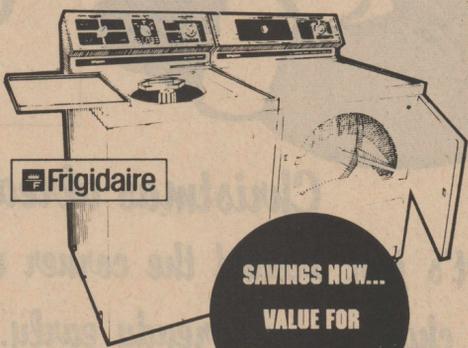

The professor pointed out that some people with lenient working hours who are regularly tardy, normally leave a little early to lunch and get back a little late may do more than others who are on time.

"Workers do what they perceive as necessary to get rewards," Van Fleet said. "Managers should concentrate on rewarding performance, rather than worrying about time."

Ballinger's 14-7 margin held up until the half expired. After third quarter action began, the Lions moved from their own 17 with Flores, Huerreca, and Diego running with authority, but a fumble some six plays into the thrust upfield halted the drive. The Ballinger unit was then forced into a fumble which Ed Borrego covered for the Lions at the 9:34 mark. David Badillo, whose rushing was sorely missed Friday night, managed to move his team from his own 27 with 9 minutes showing to a first and goal at the Bearcat 8 with 5:55 remaining in the period. This drive, the Lion's longest of the evening, stalled and four attempts to score proved futile and the offense failed to put points on the board.

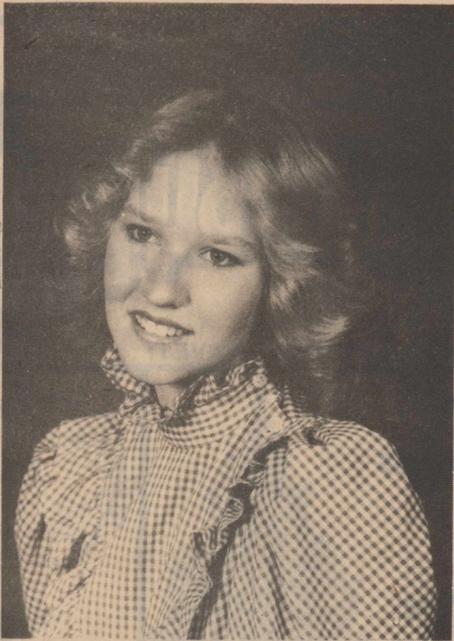

At that point, a jubilant Bearcat team moved the pigskin downfield in a drive which consumed over 8 minutes and scored on another halfback option from the remarkable Matt Allen who rushed for over 140 yards on the night and passed for two touchdowns and generally plagued the Lions all evening. The point after failed, but the Bearcats enjoyed a 20-7 margin with 9:49 remaining in the contest.

The usually sure-handed speedster Diego Leal fumbled the ensuing kickoff and 8 plays later, Allen again reached paydirt. The conversion run was good and Ballinger moved out to a commanding 28-7 advantage with just 5:49 remaining in the game.

Allen Dews, a bright reserve quarterback with a good arm and an ache to contribute more to the Lions' offense, replaced a tired and dejected Badillo with 5:43 showing and immediately connected on a 57 yard pass from his own 32. However, he was intercepted deep in Bearcat territory at the 5:19 mark. After Ballinger was forced to punt, Dews, on a brilliant route run by Carlos Borrego, fired a 50 yard TD strike, but the PAT failed rounding out the scoring for the night, 28-13.

The team will travel to Colorado City this week for an encounter with another district rival. It could be the most crucial game of the season for a Lion squad, seemingly groping for consistency and desire.

Nominations asked for ASC committee

Ranchers are asked to nominate candidates of their choice to be on the ASC County committee ballot, says Charles Shannon, County Executive Director.

The ASC County committee election will be conducted from Nov. 26 to Dec. 6 by mail ballot.

ASC committees are responsible for managing government farm programs on the local level. To meet the needs of individual producers, ASC committee members must be concerned and responsible individuals, Mr. Shannon said. Three hundred thirty-three county operators have the opportunity to nominate persons they feel would best serve the farm community. Farmers and ranchers have received petition forms by mail and are now submitting them to the county ASCS office.

A few basic considerations should be kept in mind when circulating petitions, Mr. Shannon said. In order to be valid, petitions must be limited to one nominee each, must include written certification that the nominee is willing to serve if elected, must be signed by at least three eligible farm voters in the ASC community, and must be received in the county ASCS office no later than November 1, 1982.

Farmers may circulate or sign nominating petitions for as many candidates as they choose. Anyone wishing to nominate a farmer for the ASC committee election may contact the county ASCS office for full details, including eligibility requirements for office holders.

Ozonan seeks tennis win

By-Ross A. Alexander

Ozona's 13-year-old tennis sensation, Chris Dunn, will represent the Crockett County Tennis Association in the upcoming West Texas Open Tennis Tournament in San Angelo this weekend.

Dunn, who recently lost to James Fierro in a close match on the local courts in the challenge match series, will be looking to establish himself a high ranking statewide, and since he has recently been accepted for membership in the United States Tennis Association, Dunn will be looking to improve his ranking in the USTA computer.

Scout Leaders Meet

Girl Scout leaders in a meeting last Wednesday made plans for the Girl Scout Halloween carnival, learned some new games to pass on to Scouts and made plans for the board meeting in San Angelo next January.

The meeting was held in the home of Connie Nelson at 7:30 p.m. A display of Girl Scout uniforms and other equipment was shown by Kathy Hassell.

Board members attending were Nikki Easterwood, Leticia Tambunga, Mary Skains, Kathy Hassell, Jane Spalding, Suzanne Vasquez, Robin Renn, Connie Nelson and Peggy Phillips.

Members were advised that the local board will be allowed four delegates to the board meeting in San Angelo, January 18, 1982.

4-H Awards Program slated

The Annual 4-H Awards Program and hamburger supper will be Saturday, October 16, at the Civic Center. Hamburgers will be served at 7:00 p.m.

4-H members will receive awards for projects that were completed last year. 4-H members must complete a record book or 4-H application form to be eligible to receive an award. A judging committee made up of 4-H leaders judge the record books and applications. This year's program will feature Crockett County 4-Hers competing at the Houston Livestock show.

The Gold Star Awards and Mother Davidson Award are the top awards 4-H members receive at the county level. Medals will be presented to 4-Hers completing projects in sheep, sewing, food, baby sitting, horse and horse judging, range and grass judging, flower arranging, shooting, citizenship, leadership and record books.

All 4-H families, leaders, and friends of 4-H are welcome to attend the supper and awards program.

Teen suicide claims adolescents to death

Suicide is second only to accidents as the leading cause of death in 15 to 24-year-olds, says Cindy B. Wilson, family life education specialist with Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

The Suicide Prevention Center in Los Angeles, Calif., estimates 50 percent of teen suicides are disguised as accidents. Adolescent females make 15 to 20 percent of all suicide attempts. Since there are many more attempts to commit suicide by adolescents than by adults, experts see this as a cry for help," Wilson says.

Many suicides can be prevented if parents, families, peers, teachers, school counselors and children themselves take some preventive measures, she adds.

Research indicates the following factors are involved in the teen suicide problem:

- (1) A home environment in which the teen feels unloved, unwanted, and a burden on parents and the family.
- (2) Parent/child difficulties which result in a loss of love and parental approval.
- (3) Some research reports that a confusion of role identity caused by the current blurring or blending of roles by males and females and divorce of parents plus the blending of several families to form stepfamilies are influences on potential teen suicide.

- (4) Loss of someone--especially a parent--through death, divorce, separation, or the break up of an adolescent romantic relationship precipitates suicide.
- (5) Stress of school competition and actual or anticipated failure contributes to suicide.
- (6) Depression and problems in dealing with sexual identity.
- (7) The normal process of growing and developing through the adolescent life stage can sometimes be so stressful that teens will try to commit suicide. However, most suicides are due to multiple factors, not just being an adolescent.

Prevention of teenage suicide should begin early in the child's life, Wilson says.

Some things families can do are:

- (1) Provide opportunities for gradual acceptance of responsibilities and experience in making decisions and solving problems so teens are not overwhelmed with suddenly learning to do these things while going through one of the most stressful life stages.

- (2) Establish positive lines of communication, encouraging the child or teen to talk with you about anything, especially their feelings, values, and problems.
- (3) Provide healthy opportunities to deal with death so the death of a parent will not be quite as stressful.
- (4) Encourage children to do well in their school work, but refrain from stressing the competitive aspects. Let children and teens know you accept them and not just their grades.
- (5) If there is a divorce, assist the child in having as stable a home life as possible. Provide the child with experience in having an opposite gender parental figure. This may be accomplished through a relative, volunteer organization, church or remarriage.
- (6) Understand your child/teen well enough so that you become aware of any noticeable changes in behavior, moods, grades, emotional and peer relationships, eating, sleeping, and personal hygiene habits. A combination of these changes can indicate depression, a prime factor in suicide.

"Teen suicide is probably one of the most difficult crises a family can experience. Prevention is a key and the family is the most important factor in providing an environment in which a teen can develop in ways which will lead toward their desiring life, not an escape from it through death," Wilson says.

Notes from the locker room

By-Ross A. Alexander

Greg Fierro: "I think they ran just about everything that they had, and when they realized that we were going to let them do it, they kept it up."

Robert Massey: "Two plays did us in tonight... the fake punt and the halfback pass. When we went to our wishbone, they started stunting and we just never seemed to adjust sufficiently to get the job done...that fumbled kickoff really hurt the team...because up until that time, we thought that we could win. Nothing worked for us well tonight, but we will have to go on and put this one behind us and go undefeated the rest of the way."

Ed Borrego: "We really didn't play too well tonight...didn't get the kind of defensive performance that we needed to have to beat this particular team...I really don't think that the Bearcats are better than us, we just let them score too many times, and didn't score ourselves often enough...we just aren't communicating too well...not a lot of team spirit."

Zeke Martinez: "Tonight we weren't hustling like we should...now that we have lost, we might pull it together and gain from the experience...we've got to get our collective heads on right."

Javier Sanchez: "We just played terrible, and that's all that can be said. The only bright spots that I saw tonight was the play of Allen Dews and the "Iron Man" because they really gave it all they had to win this game... Zeke did a good job also."

Willie Payne: "I really don't see what I have to do to get to contribute to this team more often...I don't loaf in practice and I just feel that if the opportunity to carry the ball a few more times would come my way, we might be able to sustain a few drives once in a while. I'm not criticizing the coach, just expressing my frustration at not being called on to do the things that I know I can do well. Huereca did a great job and Badillo also. I hope that against Colorado City, the chance for me to contribute will happen."

Coach Abbott: "We were just not the good ball club that we think we are, we just simply were beaten by a couple of key, almost fluke plays. We will have to regroup and possibly re-assess whether we will want to continue with the starting lineup that we've been going with. Ballinger has a good team and they simply played well enough to win this one tonight."

STILL BUILDING 'EM- R. J. [Bob] Cooke, pioneer meat market operator in Ozona, patented in 1925 a novel barbecue cook house that became famous throughout West Texas and even farther away. Recently a second and third generation Cooke built another Cooke barbecue house, this time in the rear of Cleophus Cooke's grocery and market. Shown are Bob Cooke's great grandson, Wade Beasley, grandson David Cooke, and son Cleophus.

Buying clothes can be an investment

"Investment dressing" is a term found in most fashion magazines and dress-for-success articles, explains Becky Saunders, clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

A clothing shopping trip often convinces the potential buyer that purchasing a new wardrobe can be a major investment. Therefore, clothing items selected need to have good performance, versatility and durability, Saunders emphasizes.

"Instead of completely disregarding a garment such as a wool blend which may be higher priced initially, consider the cost of each wearing as an investment. Buying a better quality garment that will be comfortable, resist wrinkling, be durable, attractive and versatile may be a much wiser purchase," she says.

Consider how long you think the garment will be fashionable or wearable, and the total cost of upkeep. Multiply this by how many times you might wear the garment. Then divide this figure into the total price of the garment.

"It may well be that a more expensive garment will be the best purchase, when compared in this manner," Saunders says.

High quality clothing that lasts for more than one year can easily be updated seasonally with new accessories, she adds. Accessories are usually less expensive than a replacement garment.

Hilario Cortez services held

Funeral services were held Sunday, Oct. 10, at 2:00 p.m. in Our Lady of Perpetual Help Catholic Church, for Hilario Cortez, 90, who died Saturday, Oct. 9, in Crockett County Hospital. Services were under the direction of Sizemore Funeral Home.

Surviving Mr. Cortez, a retired sheep shearer, are three daughters, Sophia Tijerina, Ofelia Enriquez and Idelina Flores, all of Ozona; 26 grandchildren, 64 great grandchildren, and 12 great-great grandchildren.

Mr. Cortez was born Feb. 14, 1892, in Juno, Texas. He was a lifetime member of the Catholic Church.

Hartnett reward swells

Additional contributions have swelled the reward fund to $650.00 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons who lay in wait and attacked Mrs. Manuel Hartnett in her home here the morning of Sept. 28.

Mrs. Hartnett had returned after taking her children to school and found two Mexican-American males in her home. The men attacked and beat Mrs. Hartnett so severely that she needed hospital treatment.

Local officers are still investigating the incident and have announced that some valuable leads have been developed. Any information supplied by individuals will be held confidential by officers and may lead to award of the reward money. Further contribution to the reward fund may be left at The Stockman office, or the Ozona National Bank.

Tambunga winner

Johnny D. Tambunga beat out three opponents in the Stockman's weekly pick 'em football jackpot contest. Johnny won via the tie-breaker pick, choosing Michigan over Michigan State 21-14. Four entrants picked the winners for a four-way tie but Tambunga's tie-breaker pick won the $20 pot.

Since nothing to the contrary has been heard, it must be presumed that 'all has gone well' so far with the editor of this newspaper, Kitty Montgomery and her three traveling companions, Betty Perry, Bernice Jones and Leota Cox who left Sunday for a two-weeks European tour. Kitty considered as "all going well" if the plane gets off the ground, doesn't drop in the ocean and if she didn't panic and refuse to get on the plane.

We are in Ozona to serve you.
