Kitty's Korner

After two interesting weeks in Europe, we got into San Antonio Saturday night about midnight. We were tired after being on the go for 24 hours, but it was a good tired and we were looking forward to a night's rest before starting home Sunday. As we were walking into the airport, I saw a man who looked like Tom and when Willa and Jan approached me, I realized it was Tom. They had come to meet me and tell me about the terrible tragedy which took the life of our talented little staff member, Kyla. The shock on top of the jet lag almost put me out of commission. I can't seem to roll with the punches very well anymore.

Willa and I flew to Lovington to attend the services and offer whatever comfort we could to David and her parents, John and Mavis Nance, and to share in their heartbreak. Kyla had been here almost two years and we had all grown to love her and looked forward each day to her bright smile and sunny disposition. She was even-tempered even on Tuesday afternoons. When we came to work this morning there seemed to be a pall over the place and we all knew in our hearts something very precious had gone from our lives forever.

We realize, of course, that life must go on in spite of everything and that some day we will be able to appreciate how fortunate we were to have known Kyla and shared a small part of her young life. We watched her grow from an inexperienced youngster into a competent newspaper woman and never ceased to be amazed at the strides she made in her work as well as the pride she took in creating something which must just be torn up and done again the next week. It gets to be old hat to some of us, but her enthusiasm was contagious and we found it rekindled some of our lost spirit which had dwindled over the years.

We have lots of wonderful and fun things to tell about Europe, but we trust you will bear with us until we recover, surely by next week we will be able to put things in perspective and get on with it.

Kyla had so many friends, and one, Lisa Clayton Bullard, composed a poem in her memory. We'd like to share it with you.

In Loving Memory-Kyla, a friend
Beautiful hair of golden flame,

With warmest eyes of green.

A most unusual, but catchy name,
A frame so petite and lean.

A personality that wouldn't measure, to anyone I know.

Her smile, I'll always treasure,
Her memory, in my heart,
will go.

She could make me laugh,
when I was sad,
For a frown she never wore.

At times when things
would seem so bad,
She would laugh all the more.

Her freckled face, her smiling eyes,
Was something of true delight!

In loving memory of my best friend,
I knew our friendship was right.

OIL GOES UP, WATER COMES DOWN in Johnson Draw. Final drainage of flood waters through Ozona, Johnson draw figured in the Soil Conservation Service's Ozona flood control plan after the 1954 flood and now furnishes the right of way for an oil pipeline carrying oil or gas from a town well on the draw banks in south Ozona. The SCS voiced concern over the new use for the channel and cautioned county officials to continue to be mindful of the draw's function to carry off flood waters if needed.

Lions knock Crane out of undefeated column

The Ozona Lions, playing with a rugged team intensity, and displaying a championship caliber defense, plucked the Golden Cranes 17-8 in Lions Stadium Friday night.

Ozonan charged in drug case

Ozonan Robert Bruce Mayfield and Del Rioan Charles Pete Meacham are both free on $50,000 bonds each set by Peace Justice A.O. Fields, following their arrest by narcotic agents on charges of financing the purchase of marijuana to promote the unlawful delivery of the drug.

Meacham was arrested after he reportedly paid an undercover agent $10,000 in cash for about 100 pounds of marijuana in a meeting at the Ozona Airport. District Attorney Bill Mason said Mayfield was arrested later at his home. The $10,000 and a 1980 Cadillac were seized in

Johnson draw serves as route for pipeline

Johnson Draw, or Johnson's run as the Soil Conservation Service designates it, was the final drainage channel to carry off flood waters in the control project developed following the 1954 flood in Ozona, but is being put to a new use, today. The draw or flood control channel was selected as the route for a natural gas-oil pipeline from a well along the draw bank in south Ozona drilled by Lankford Oil Co.

Concern was expressed by Clitis Sinclair, Soil Conservationist with the Ozona office of the U.S. SCS, that commercial interests might be making too free use of the drainage channel, which might in time lead to undue obstruction of the channel to impede its effectiveness in the flood control program.

The United States government spent some two million dollars through the Soil Conservation Service in the years following the disastrous flood which took 16 lives and created multiplied millions of dollars worth of property damage in Ozona and downstream ranchlands. The flood control plan for Ozona resulted in construction of six flood control retardation dams upstream of the Johnson draw drainage area. The retarded flood waters, if they came, were channeled through the regular draw channel through the town. The channel was widened, cleaned and smoothed and, in order to promote local interest and participation, the SCS designated the county administration as the authority responsible for maintenance of the flood control dams and channels.

Easements from landowners along the draw were secured by the company for the pipeline right-of-way and a permit from the county was granted. A request, however, for permission to erect a temporary platform for raising a drilling derrick on the draw bank preparatory to drilling another well was denied by the county on advice from the Soil Conservation Service. The structure was to have remained only about 30 days but fear of permanent damage resulted in denial of the permit.

day night. Employing a balanced attack, the Lion offense amassed 163 yards rushing and 162 yards passing as the beleaguered Crane defensive unit found the going rough all evening in attempting to contain the potent Ozona offense. The larger and heavier Crane squad was pushed around and generally handled all evening by the talented and aggressive Lion eleven, who took a huge stride towards the post-season playoff picture with this impressive victory. "We certainly weren't intimidated by this Crane team...not at all" explained Robert Massey after the game. "Not to take anything away from the guys from Crane, but we woke them up to reality tonight. This team has too much talent and superior coaching to roll over just because we are playing somebody who hadn't been defeated yet"...the premier receiver said smiling. Massey had a typically sparkling performance with several key receptions including a truly spectacular TD catch late in the 1st quarter.

After the opening kickoff, QB David Badillo, taking charge at his own 38, engineered a fine drive some 48 yards downfield powered by the explosive rushing of Harvey Huerreca. However, on a first and 10 at the Crane 16, Diego Leal lost the handle and Crane recovered the loose football at the 19, ending the first Lion scoring threat. Unable to sustain a drive, Crane was forced to punt and Massey returned it to the Crane 48. Badillo immediately turned to hard-running Huerreca who moved the ball to the Crane 35. Badillo, under a safety blitz, spotted Massey at the Crane 10 yard line and connected, setting up a first and goal with just under three minutes remaining in the quarter. At this point an illegal procedure infraction set the ball back to the Crane 15. Huerreca and Willie Payne advanced the ball, but with a third and 12, Badillo rolled to his right and scampered to the two yard line where he was met by a host of indignant Crane defenders! The Lion leader sustained rib injuries on the play severe enough to cause him to miss the remainder of the action for the night.

Leal, who had a productive night, kicked a chip shot field goal at the 2:35 mark as the Lions, who never trailed, jumped on top 3-0.

The Crane unit fumbled the ensuing kickoff and the alert special team Lion unit recovered at the Crane 39. Allen Dews, the underrated backup QB with the rifle dangling from his shoulder, immediately fired a TD toss to Massey who made a circus catch. Leal's PAT extended Ozona's lead to 10-0, 2:14 remaining.

The Crane offense, which unlike the Ozona unit, has not been an especially high scoring outfit, were held to a first half total time of possession of a mere 7:07 by the Lions' persistent defensive surge and containment. This type of pressure began to exact an early toll even prior to the game.

For the second week in a row, the tie-breaker score decided the winner in the Stockman's weekly pick'em sheet contest.

By picking Washington to trim Texas Tech by a score of 28 to 13 Copie Davis took the week's prize.

Four other entrants tied with Davis in picking the regular line up of winners. Johnny D. Tambunga, who had won the last two weeks in a row, came closest in the tie-breaker score guess, 3 for Texas Tech and 10 for Washington. Other tie contestants were David Marrs, H.O. Hoover, and Kelly Reeves.

Investigators who worked on the drug investigation here were Bill Freeman, special investigator for the district attorney's office, and Don Hazelwood, undercover agent.

Kyla Marrs killed in auto accident

Funeral services for Kyla DeAnn Marrs, 21, were held Monday afternoon at 3:30 in First United Methodist Church in Lovington, N.M., with burial following in Resthaven Cemetery.

Mrs. Marrs' death was the result of an automobile-horse accident late Friday night. She and her husband, David, were on their way to visit her brother in Pampa when the accident occurred. David was driving and Kyla was asleep on the passenger side of the car when the black horse appeared out of the dark and the car struck it.

The impact threw Kyla through the windshield. She was taken to the Memphis hospital, then transferred to Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo where she died at 4:25 Saturday morning.

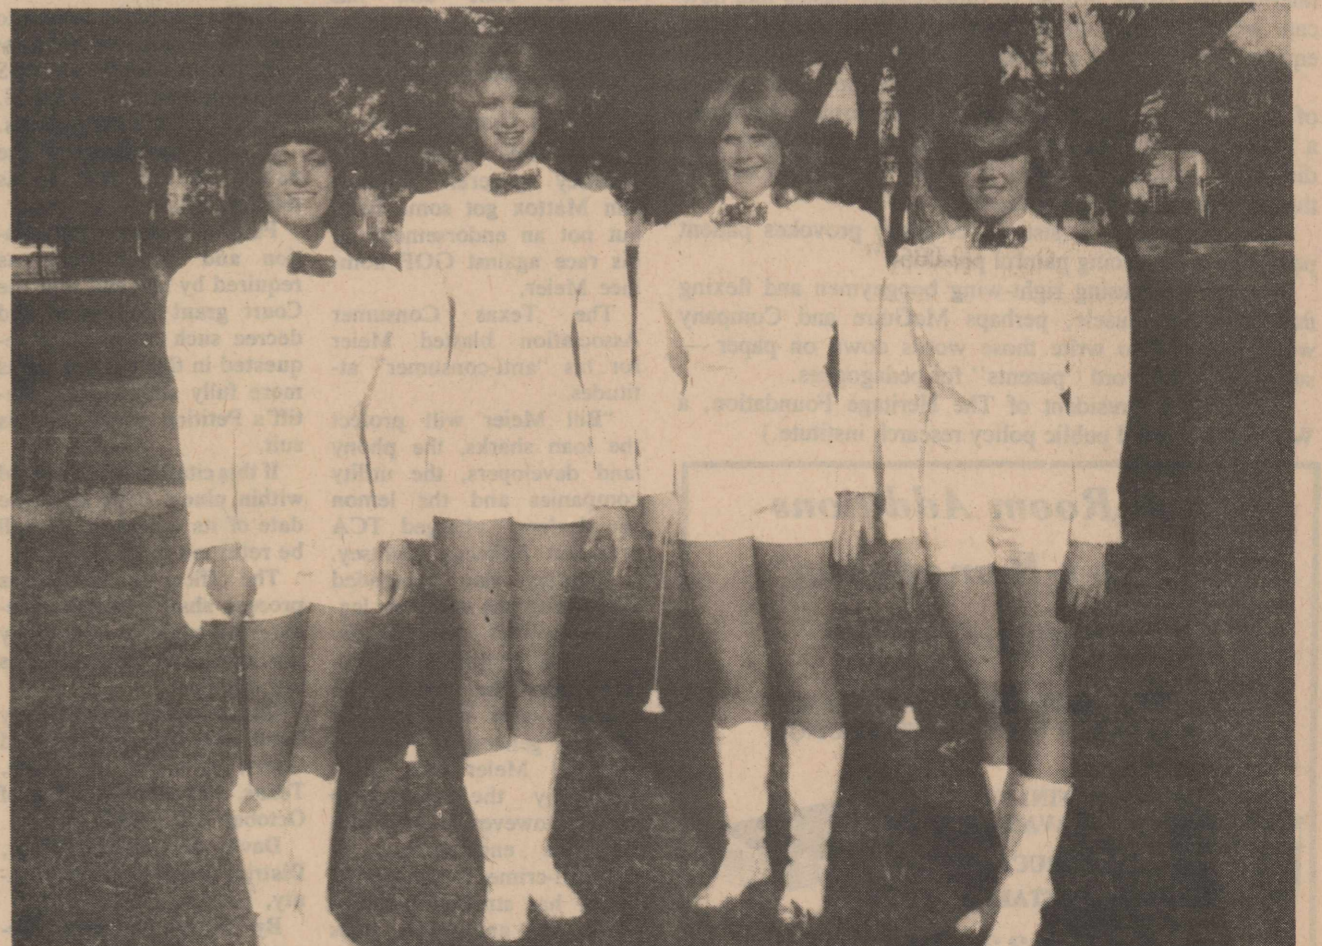

David was hospitalized with cuts and abrasions which required stitches. He was treated and released at the hospital.

The accident occurred 1.4 miles west of Lesley, in Hall County.

Kyla was born August 15, 1961 in Lovington. She was educated in Lovington Public Schools and was a graduate of Lovington High School, class of 1979. She and her husband had lived in Ozona three years, where she was a member of the Ozona Stockman staff and of the Texas Press Association.

TEACHERS STRIKE OUT

By Edwin Feulner

While fewer teachers ushered in the new school year last month by illegally walking off their jobs, it was not due to any change in policy by the huge teacher union, the National Education Association.

Once a staid professional organization interested in imparting knowledge to kids, the NEA today means muscle. Muscle for politics. Muscle for doing battle with school boards. Muscle for just about everything, it seems, but teaching Johnny and Jenny how to read and write.

Which is what has parents fed up and, according to author Burton Yale Pines in his new book, Back to Basics, demanding an end to open classrooms, permissiveness, and sociological claptrap, and a return to reading, writing, and arithmetic.

But don't think the NEA is going to take this lying down. Union officials see the back-to-basics movement as some kind of right-wing conspiracy. And at the union's big 120th national convention this summer, NEA President William McGuire rang the alarm.

McGuire told his flock in order to combat the "onslaught" from the right "you have to organize, you have to fight, you have to put your shoulders to the grindstone of the political and legislative lobbying process."

In his keynote address he said, "educational excellence without political power is not a practical possibility; political power for educational excellence is a professional responsibility."

Accordingly, the first set of "educational excellence" items on the convention agenda dealt with the international peace movement. The delegates approved a statement advocating a nuclear weapons freeze. Members also approved an unusually long seven-point plan to put the NEA in the forefront of the women's rights movement.

The ironic twist, of course, is that as the educational community has gotten more politically savvy, "educational excellence" has undeniably declined. Why, for instance, should the NEA spotlight the nuclear freeze movement as a priority issue when problems of student delinquency, declining test scores and functional illiteracy are plaguing our educational system?

How are parents to have any confidence in the teaching profession when even a superficial glance at what they as a collective body consider to be important shows broad international issues instead of rudimentary basics like how can we help our children to be intellectually better equipped to deal with a complex world?

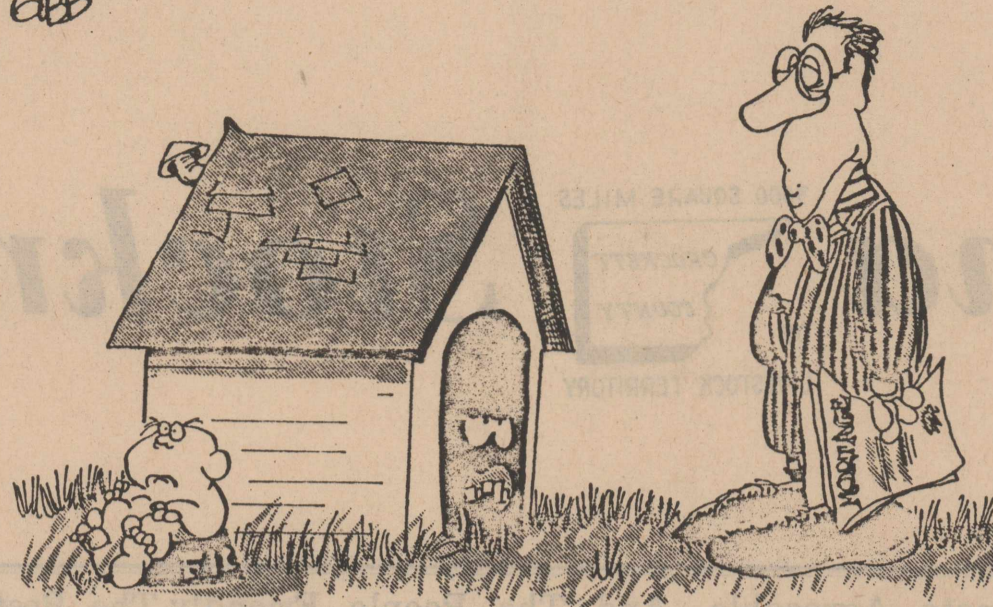

Not all teachers are failures, of course. One teacher of my youth (whose name I regrettably forget) drummed a lesson into my head that I will always remember. She did so by making me write it on the blackboard several thousand times during a semester.

The message: "Persistent perversity provokes patient pedagogues producing painful penalties."

Instead of chasing right-wing boogymen and flexing their political muscle, perhaps McGuire and Company would do well to write those words down on paper — substituting the word "parents" for pedagogues.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—As the 1982 campaign season moved into the final stretch last week, the statewide races began to get even hotter than they have been.

Gov. Bill Clements and his Republican colleague Sen. Bill Meier, candidate for attorney general, have already dredged up old charges of drunk driving and obstruction of justice against their Democratic opponents. Now, agriculture commissioner candidate Fred Thornberry has leveled what could become criminal charges against his Democratic opponent Jim Hightower.

Thornberry, who was hand picked by the State Republican Party to replace original GOP agriculture commissioner candidate Donald Hebert, has alleged "gross irregularities" in the campaign contributions and expense reports filed by Hightower.

Thornberry campaign staff members say Hightower reported no contributions or expenses during the period from May 2 to Aug. 4. They also contend that nearly $10,000 collected at a Washington, D.C., fundraiser also were not listed in the report filed by Hightower in late September.

Hightower campaign manager Kristin Ozmun says the discrepancy was caused by the sudden resignation of Hightower's campaign treasurer in May. A new treasurer did not take over until early August.

Ozmun says all expenses and contributions from the May-August period were reported in the September statement but, at the direction of the Secretary of State's Office, were listed from the date the new treasurer was hired.

As for the fundraiser proceeds, Ozmun says those funds were not turned over to the Hightower campaign until last week and, therefore, were not in hand at the time the report was filed.

Thornberry's staff has filed a complaint against Hightower with the secretary of state and has threatened to take the matter to Travis County District Attorney Ronald Earle.

Attorney General's Race
Meanwhile, Democratic attorney general nominee Jim Mattox got some help, but not an endorsement, in his race against GOP nominee Meier.

The Texas Consumer Association blasted Meier for his "anti-consumer" attitudes.

"Bill Meier will protect the loan sharks, the phony land developers, the utility companies and the lemon car dealers," charged TCA president Rebecca Lightsey. Lightsey also contended that Meier has spent his legislative career trying to destroy the consumer protection laws he would be charged with enforcing as attorney general.

While Meier was criticized by the consumers group, however, he did collect the endorsement of an anti-crime organization. Meier has stressed his support for anti-crime laws during the campaign.

Even though the consumers criticized Meier, they stopped short of endorsing Mattox or Libertarian Katherine Youngblood who also is in the race.

Teacher Survey
Some 37 percent of Texas' classroom teachers are thinking of quitting, according to the results of a survey released recently.

The survey, conducted in cooperation with the Texas State Teachers Association, showed that one in three Texas teachers are close to quitting because of low pay, stress and frustration.

The survey was based on responses from 319 classroom teachers selected randomly from the membership rolls of TSTA. It was designed by three college professors.

The results also showed that some 29 percent of the teachers hold second jobs during the school year.

Even though the teachers said they were contemplating leaving the profession, the current economic conditions are expected to delay many from doing so, at least until the economy gets better.

Researchers who conducted the survey—and a similar one in 1980—say the average teacher salary has risen in the past two years from $14,113 to $17,351.

Anti-Crime Proposals
Gov. Clements has unveiled the new anti-crime package he will push in the Legislature next year, if he gets re-elected.

Clements was very successful pushing his War on Drugs package through the Legislature in 1981.

The new proposals include even tougher laws to control drugs and a crackdown on drunk drivers.

Clements also has proposed closing loopholes that permit criminal defendants to abuse the insanity defense, allowing the introduction of evidence discovered by police officers in the course of

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

October 26, 1982

Dear Kitty:

This is my first attempt at writing to the editor of a newspaper and it is difficult to know how to begin.

First of all I want to say thanks, and express my sincere gratitude to our local D.P.S. for the many hours they spent in trying to locate us, when we went to a medical meeting at the Grand Canyon and in delivering the message that my mother had passed away in Pennsylvania. There were so many people involved it is impossible for me to mention all of them so to all of you I say, thanks! We were located at 4 a.m. in a motel in Albuquerque, N.M. by their local police.

It never ceases to amaze me of the continued concern and love you wonderful people in Ozona have for us. All I can say is—we continue to feel this is the best town we have ever lived in, and once again you have shown it.

Our deepest thanks. Sincerely, Helen and Dr. Owensby

Dear Editor:

In regard to the letter to the editor in the October 7, issue pertaining to the article written by Miss Jana Harris on the Western Texas College girls' basketball team, I feel that the explanation given for not printing the article was insufficient.

I realize from working on The Western Texan newspaper that not all information coming in can be printed due to space, but some citizens in Ozona might like to read about how Ozona graduates are faring in college.

In past issues of the Stockman, I have read articles concerning certain graduates. Whether or not the information comes from parents or the public relations offices at colleges, I do not know. I would like to know what method of discretion you use in printing these articles.

actions taken in the good faith and reasonable belief that their action was legitimate and requiring defendants to allege defects in indictments before trial or else waive the right to appeal a conviction because of faulty indictment.

Clements' proposals were released just a day before a special traffic safety task force appointed by the governor handed down recommendations for strengthening the state laws on driving while intoxicated.

Several leaders of the anti-drunk driving group Mothers Against Drunk Drivers have endorsed Clements for re-election because of his pledge to support their efforts to crackdown on DWI suspects.

MADD has proposed mandatory prison time for drunk drivers, raising the legal minimum drinking age to 21 and tightening loopholes that allow DWI suspects to plead guilty to the lesser charge of public intoxication or be granted deferred adjudication to keep the DWI conviction off of their records.

Clements has not given any specifics of how his proposals should be implemented.

It seems to me that a person in your position would take an interest in anyone pursuing a major and a career in the field of journalism.

Very truly yours, Erika Lee

Debra Says

By Debra Price

This fall's accessories for men accent a tweedy country feeling or an elegant city look of clothing and sportswear—both big for the upcoming cool-weather seasons.

Today's country theme encourages a new interest in braces, walking sticks, beefy muffers, bow ties and English caps.

The elegant city look reflects a 1920s and 1930s influence, illustrated by dress felt hats and dress gloves along with understated jewelry.

Every detail is being considered as manufacturers emphasize the importance of cuff links and evening studs in capturing the total mood of each look.

Color is important in all categories of accessories and especially in neckwear. Ancient colorations and musty muted tones are prevalent. Mauves and greens are strong, and deep jewel tones such as dark reds and blues are seen frequently.

Teals and the mustard-gold-rust family are used often as accent colors. Surface interest and patterns provided eye-catching detail. Oversized, widely spaced patterns are the trend, especially paisleys and tapestry looks.

Leather belts are another focus this year. Braiding, buffing, track stitching, embossing, padding and leather-and-fabric mixes all create variety and excitement.

Elegance in belting steps forward with exotic skins like eel, snake, lizard and alligator. Buckles are leather, brushed brass, leather-and-brass combinations, and enamel and matte finished. Increased interest is appearing in channel buckles with jewelry accents.

Leather and skins turn up in unpredictable places—leather trimmed umbrella handles, leather hat bands and leather sunglasses.

In today's luggage-leather as well as fabric—the outstanding feature is function. Many models are multi-pocketed and flexible.

New colors in leather goods include cordovan, taupe, gray, honey and russet.

A wide assortment of hats will top off any look this fall. The popular movie, "Raiders of the Lost Ark," has prompted almost every hat manufacturer to include a version of the 'Raiders' hat in this season's line.

As a result, hat brims and bands are slightly wider. Tweedy caps and fun hats like 'Sherlock' models are part of the new fashion offerings.

CHICKEN SPAGHETTI
 large fryer or small hen
 tsp. salt
 large onion, chopped
 c. diced celery
 can Cream of Mushroom soup
 pkg. long spaghetti small jar pimientos (chopped)
 1/4 lb. round cheese (grated)

Boil chicken with salt, onion and celery in about 1 quart water until very tender. Remove from broth to cool, then pull meat from bones and chop into medium pieces. Boil spaghetti about 8 minutes or until tender in chicken broth.

Combine chicken, spaghetti with remaining broth, pimiento and mushroom soup. Place into large shallow baking dish or pan and cover with grated cheese. Place in a medium hot oven until cheese is melted and slightly browned; serve immediately. This will serve a crowd and with a salad and hot rolls or garlic bread is a delicious luncheon. Can be frozen.

Tips For Gardeners

From The Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

This cool weather of late has been most welcome to all of us, as well as the vegetation of our area which is really suffering for the lack of moisture. Be on the alert for our first frost.

This should be a wonderful year for landscaping new homes or replacing and adding new plants for your plans. The best selection of plants will be available the next few months in near by nurseries, or from reliable nurseries in other areas.

To be ready to preserve autumn leaves get your glycerin. When ready to mix use 1 part glycerin and 3 parts water. Mix well and let them remain in water until you can see glycerin in the leaves, which will become pliable and will take on a shine. Colors will fade slightly, but the leaves will retain enough to be attractive in dried arrangements throughout the winter. For grasses, use 1 cup glycerin to 2 cups water. For all these, use a tall jar rather than flat containers. If in a hurry to use leaves, use hot water.

If you are planning to move a native tree or shrub this winter, tag it now while leaves are still on the plant and you can easily identify it. Prepare the planting site now so the soil will be in excellent condition to receive the plant. Try to duplicate the plants current location. Make sure each site is well drained unless your plant you are moving prefers a constantly moist location. Your chances of a successful transplant will be greater if you move only small plants that have been root pruned. There are many beautiful native plants in our area that can be moved successfully.

Start bringing houseplants indoors before 40 degrees in forecast. Check under the leaves and in leaf junctions for such pests as spider mites, white flies, aphids and other bugs. Control any present by applying malathion according to label directions. Be sure to spray outdoors. Snails can be evacuated by soaking the pots in a tube of water for 10 to 15 minutes and let the pots drain and dry before bringing the plants indoors.

If no rain, be sure to get all evergreens watered well throughout the winter to prevent freeze damage.

COUPLES GOLF

Winners in the weekly couples golf play at the Ozona Country Club on Tuesday was the team of Ronald Koerth, Lori Hardy, Dale and Jean Taylor in a first place tie with the team of Ricky and Darolyn Webster, Jerry Hayes and Jean Ward.

Winning third place was the team of Tommy and Christi Mathews and Bob and Barbara Wallace.

Nearest to the pin on number nine were Dick Webster and Marie White.

Royalty wears purple

Royalty wears purple, and members of the Ozona Band Boosters Club, are asking Lion fans to wrap themselves in a cloak of purple to cheer the King Lions to the district championship this year.

Purple windbreaker jackets are now on sale by the club at a price of $30, all sizes except small. Please call Mrs. Jesse Marley to purchase a jacket.

Calling All Homemakers

Brought to you by Brown Furniture

Based on many years of practical experience, we suggest that husbands and wives practice "togetherness" when shopping for furniture.

In other words, men and women should consider themselves partners in homemaking so that the home furnishings will reflect the taste and living habits of the entire family.

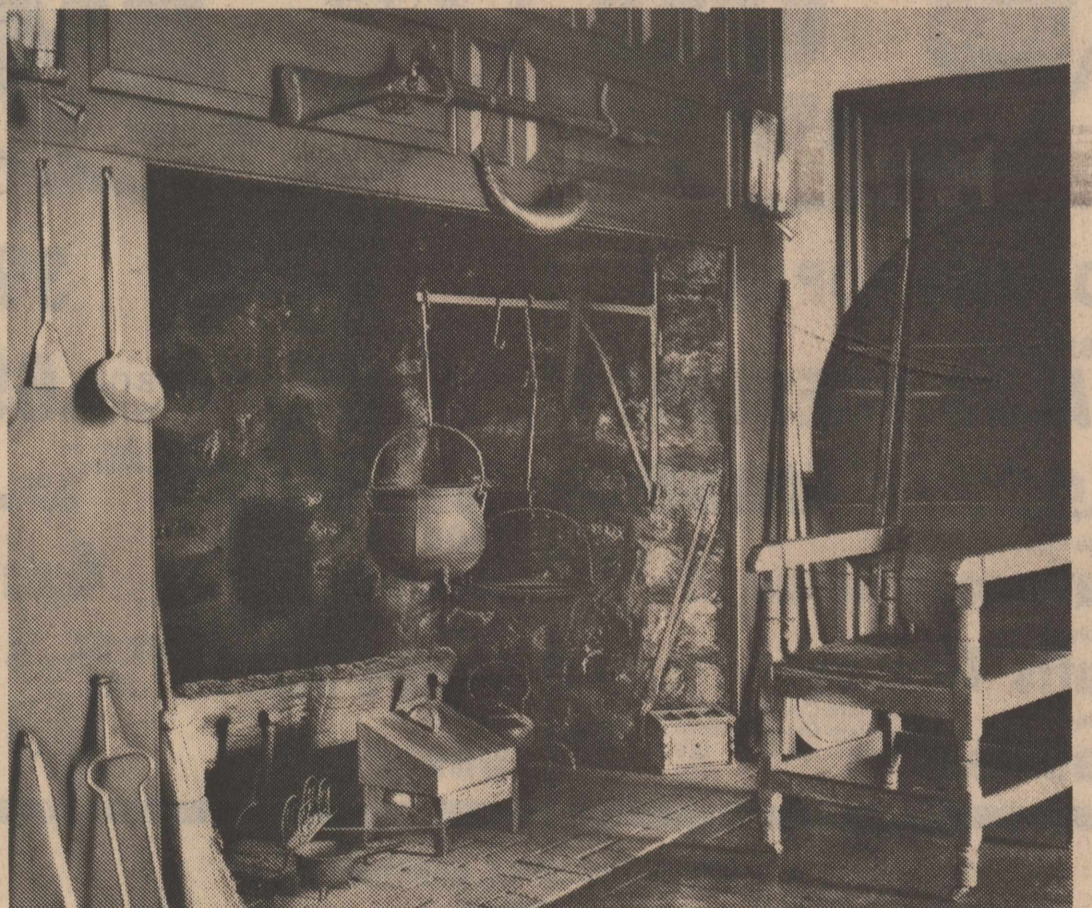

One of the greatest advantages of couples shopping together for furniture is that it makes it so easy for the final decision—style-wise and budget-wise.

Another advantage is that you are more apt to strike a happy balance in the final selection without making the decor either too feminine or too masculine.

It also saves a great deal of time and mental strain on everyone concerned. Every dealer and decorator can tell you of the many times that their female customers are about to make a purchase, only to say "I had better have my husband look at this furniture before deciding". How much better it would have been had they looked together in the first place.

Also, men can try that lounge chair or that new mattress before you buy it.

Remember, the couple that buys together can live more happily together. And the place to shop together happily is our showroom at Brown Furniture.

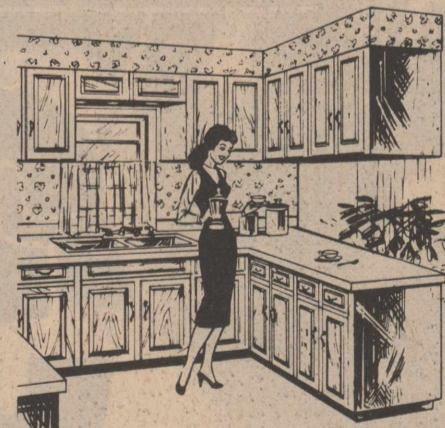

The Comforts of Home

To our forefathers, this was living at its best... but the hard chair, the iron pot and the open grate would not be our idea of comfort.

Today kitchens sparkle with bright, easy-to-clean metals, and cupboards are filled with helpful appliances. We relax in foam-padded chairs and sleep on spring-filled mattresses. Almost every aspect of modern life is slanted toward speed and convenience.

Man, with his marvelous God-created brain, has overcome many obstacles, and there seems to be no limit to his inventiveness. God has given us a world full of possibilities, and minds that constantly seek to improve our environment.

But to make the most of our opportunities, we must ever develop and renew the resolute "faith of our fathers." Come worship with others and receive that heritage of inspiration and light.

BOB CHILDRESS puts his sheep dogs through the paces as he prepares to enter them in yet another sheep dog trials events. Childress, along with his border collies, Nan and Lyn, have won trophies throughout the nation and in foreign countries.

Ozonan to compete in border collie trials

Bob Childress, Ozona rancher, president of the United States Border Collie Handlers Assn., will compete with his dogs in the Border Collie Sheep Dog National Finals field trials, Nov. 6-7 in Savannah, Tenn.

Border Collies are a unique breed of dogs that compete in field trials with the Border Collie moving sheep over a 400 yard course by commands from his master and buddy, is a game that goes back to the 1800's in Great Britain, where over 15,000 men and dogs compete in these competitions each year. It has been an active sport in the United States for over 50 years. This year the Border Collie Sheep Dog National Finals field trial will be held in Savannah, Tenn., on November 6th and 7th. If you have never seen these dogs compete by seeing which ones can move wild sheep over a large field, it is a must.

The United States Border Collie Handler's Association qualifies about 30 dogs to compete in National Finals each year. The way one gets to enter these competitions is by winning one of the 20 major trials held all over the United States.

It takes a minimum of 3 years training to put a dog in the winning circle of a big competition, so one can imagine the action you will see here in Savannah.

The Judge this year will be Willie McMillan from Scotland, an internationally known competitor and judge.

The Spanish-American War period was 1898-1902, the Indian Wars period was about 1817-1898 and the Civil War period was 1861-1865.

Those wars beneficiaries include in Texas, one Spanish-American War veteran, one Union spouse, and one Union child and two Confederate spouses and three Confederate children plus two Indian Wars spouses and one Indian Wars child.

Davis named to committee

Garland Davis, Crockett County's new assistant superintendent of schools, has accepted an additional responsibility on behalf of young children with his appointment to the Advisory Committee of Texas Interagency Council for Early Childhood Intervention. He is one of 15 professionals and parents who will help guide early childhood intervention (ECI), a state-funded program established in 1981 to locate and provide intervention services for children under age 6 who have a handicapping condition or are developmentally delayed.

The program is conducted cooperatively by the Texas Department of Health, Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation, Texas Education Agency, and Texas Department of Human Resources. In September, it granted $6.1 million to 56 programs throughout the state to provide needed services. In counties without funded programs, such as Crockett, services can be purchased for eligible children through the ECI office at the Texas Department of Health in Austin. Information can be obtained by calling ECI at 512-458-7342.

Davis, formerly with the Texas Education Agency in Austin, served as a member of the ECI Council, the program's policy-making board, before moving to Ozona in the summer of 1982.

Want to know how Bill Sims thinks?

Ask your neighbor.

In a word, Bill Sims is ONE of us.

He is a Paint Rock rancher with three generations of roots in West Texas.

He was educated in West Texas and much of his adult life has been devoted to serving the agricultural industry of this region and the state.

Bill has been a county agent and for the past 17 years has been executive secretary of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association. In that capacity, Bill Sims has been charged with representing agricultural interests before Congress, the Legislature and state and federal agencies.

Throughout this campaign Bill Sims has been emphasizing the issues that affect WEST TEXAS:

- WATER, for now and for the future.
- CRIME, not just fighting it, but preventing it.
- EDUCATION, quality from kindergarten to college.
- CARE, helping those who can no longer help themselves.
- THE ECONOMY, our jobs depend on a sound West Texas economy.

And, he has compiled a record of accomplishments for West Texas Agriculture.

In short, Bill Sims knows how the system works, because he's been there time and again.

That's why Bill Sims is endorsed by his West Texas neighbors, former Gov. Dolph Briscoe, former Congressman O.C. Fisher, Congressman Richard White, Rep. Susan McBeck and former Representatives such as Tom Massey and Dick Slack.

In addition to Agriculture, Bill and his wife, Sue, own a small business in San Angelo, where their children were raised and educated.

A West Texan for our times.

AN EDITORIAL

By-Cyndi Trujillo

With the approaching November 2 elections, eligible voters should be considering candidates and issues in their own minds. Many students are of age and are eligible to exercise their right to vote, and should not become citizens who do not care or do not take the time to vote.

Students should examine all sides of the issued and all pledges and backgrounds of the candidates. A good voter never simply "follows the flow" of what his friends are voting for. He weighs all factors in his mind, and comes to his own conclusions.

Students who will be voting should give thought to how the issues and elections will affect their lives in the future, since the new policies and new officials will be in effect when the students graduate, begin college or the work force, and possibly when they marry and set up their own homes.

In order to vote in the upcoming election, a citizen must be 18 years of age or older and have a valid voter registration card, which is available at the courthouse.

The General Elections to be held November 2 are for senators, representatives, governor, and other state offices, as well as judges, county officials, and six constitutional amendments.

LARGE CROWD ATTENDS DRUG ED. PROGRAM

By-Karise Aycock

For a very large crowd last Monday night, the Ozona Woman's League, Beta Sigma Phi and the Lion's Club sponsored a very revealing and honest program on drug abuse.

Bill Freeman, special investigator for the District Attorney's office, and Don Hazelwood, undercover agent, were the speakers at the presentation.

A film entitled, "What Did You Take?" was shown to the audience. It was a very graphic and true account of the effects that different drugs have on the body.

A slide presentation entitled "The Drug Scene" followed the film. It was narrated by Mr. Freeman, and it dealt with the most commonly used drugs and their paraphernalia.

A question and answer session followed. Most of the questions asked concerned the recent drug bust in Ozona, and showed the interest of citizens in combating the local drug problem.

HALLOWEEN CARNIVAL INTERESTS STUDENTS

By-Irma Ybarra

Every year the Halloween Carnival is sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce. This year, the carnival will be held October 30 at 7 p.m. at the City Park.

So far, according to Beth Boyd, Chamber of Commerce director, sixteen booths are assigned for the carnival. There will be a haunted house, a duck pond, a caramel apple stand, a concession stand, a pony ride, a sponge toss, dart board, ring toss, helium balloon sale, cake walk, fortune telling, hot tamales, bean bag toss, sweet shoppe, and car bash bingo.

The purpose of the carnival, according to Mrs. Boyd, is to make Halloween fun and safe for the citizens of Ozona.

AG TEACHER ENJOYS ROLE

By-Irma Ybarra

One teacher who has found a niche in life he never dreamed of enjoying is Rob Hicks, Agriculture teacher and FFA advisor at OHS.

Mr. Hicks, who is twenty-four and single, said he had not planned on a career in teaching, but took some courses in college which sparked his interest. He first attended a junior college on a football scholarship, sports being a big interest in his life. Following that, he transferred to Texas A&M University.

Mr. Hicks was born in Austin, where he attended public schools. His parents are in the ranching business near Medina. He has one married sister, who has two boys.

Mr. Hicks' favorite color is maroon, he said he likes to watch football on television, and likes to eat just about all foods.

Among the teacher's interests are hunting, fishing, ranching, and keeping in shape through all sports, especially playing basketball with "the kids."

Mr. Hicks said his main goal is to improve each year in working with the students he teaches.

DRIVING SIMULATOR ARRIVES

Every fall, the Driver's Education simulator comes to OHS in order to benefit both students and teachers. The simulator, a mobile classroom set up with driving booths, gives actual pre-driving fundamental skills such as driving, car checks, basic skills like turning, changing lanes, and driving in moderate traffic.

The simulator's purpose is to teach the student driving skills in a safe, off-the-street situation.

This will benefit students and teachers because of time consumption. The teacher will have all his students together at one time during use of the simulator, which will eliminate some individual driving time.

The simulator is used for eight hours and eight days. Eight hours in the simulator is equivalent to two hours actual driving time.

Because of staggering of classes in the spring, the simulator will return next spring.

EXTRA-STRENGTH TYLENOL

By-Noemi Gonzales

Many adults and students were startled when they heard that experts found cyanide in Extra-Strength Tylenol capsules.

Finding Cyanide in tested capsules has caused many people to stop using Tylenol. Not only did it cause panic in Chicago and surrounding areas, but it caused a national panic. For example, there have not been capsules found containing cyanide in Ozona, but yet many adults and students are afraid of taking them. Why? They cannot be sure that the Tylenol capsules do not have any Cyanide, and would not like to risk their lives finding out.

The reason so many people are afraid of cyanide is because it is a dangerous poison and can kill a person within 15 minutes. It is so powerful that 50 milligrams, a fraction of a teaspoon, can kill in as little as 15 minutes.

The way Cyanide kills a person is by disrupting the blood's ability to carry oxygen through the body. This affects the heart, lungs and brain.

The first lot number in which Cyanide was first discovered was 2880 MC. Johnson and Johnson then announced that they had manufactured 93,400 bottles in the lot number. McNeil, a company in Ft. Washington, Pa. shipped them to 31 Eastern and Mid-western states in August.

By noon that day, the firm had also made a delivery to nearly half a million physicians, which were also alerted after the discovery of cyanide.

The 1910 MD and MC 2738 were other lot numbers found. People were told not to take any Extra Strength Tylenol, no matter what lot number it had.

Clayton Robinson of Village Drug has posted the address to write for people who want to exchange capsules for tablets. The address is: Tylenol Exchange, P.O. Box 2000, Maple Plains, Minnesota, 55348.

CRANE GETS BY CUBS

By-Robbie Turnley

The seventh grade Cubs lost a close game to the Crane Golden Cranes 20-14, Thursday afternoon.

The Cubs had the football first but lost it on a fumble at their own 44 yard line. Crane took over and scored a touchdown midway through the first quarter. The two point conversion was good.

The Cubs took the kickoff but had to punt although Oscar Payne and Armando "Sul" Fierro had good runs. The Golden Cranes got the ball and mainly because of Sean Haynes' good plays, they had to kick. The Cubs got the ball back but Oscar Payne had to punt. Crane retained the ball but Derold Vargas intercepted a Golden Crane pass and raced fifty yards for a touchdown with 32 seconds left in the half. The two point conversion failed with the score at halftime: Crane 8, Ozona 6.

Crane received the second half kickoff and drove to a touchdown with 1:42 left in the third quarter. The Cubs then gave the ball back to Crane on a fourth down conversion that failed and the Cranes scored another touchdown with seven seconds left in the third quarter.

Ozona then got the kickoff and marched deep into Crane territory where Armando "Sub" Fierro scored with 3:40 left in the game. The two point conversion was good.

The eighth grade Cubs were embarrassed by Crane 34-0 Thursday afternoon at Lion's Stadium.

The Golden Cranes scored all of their points in the first half.

The first touchdown came just 19 seconds into the first quarter. The two point conversion was good. The Cubs then fumbled and Crane recovered the football at the Cub 17 yard line. Crane scored another touchdown with 6:08 left in the first quarter. The two point try was successful.

The Cubs got the ball but had to punt. Sam Hightower had a good night punting the ball. He kicked it deep into Crane territory. Crane then drove to another touchdown with 2:59 left on the first quarter clock. The two point try failed.

Sam Hightower then punted the ball again and the Cranes possessed the ball. The first quarter ended with Crane leading Ozona 22-0.

Crane then scored another touchdown with 7:13 left in the first half. The Cubs then retained the ball but lost it on a fourth down conversion try. This led to Crane's last touchdown with 3:41 left in the first half.

The only time the Cubs came close to scoring were at the end of the game but Sam Hightower's pass fell incomplete.

The seventh and eighth grade Cubs will travel to Coahoma for their last road game of the season. The game will take place Thursday, October 28, and the first game will begin at 5:00 p.m.

STUDENT OF THE WEEK

HALLOWEEN ORIGIN REVEALED

By-Gayla Bell

Halloween is one of our more confusing celebrations. Most adults don't know why we have this annual rite any more than kids know why someone always drops an apple in the trick-or-treat bag just after someone else has put in cookies.

To you, Halloween probably consists of getting Star Wars costumes for your youngsters and making sure you have enough goodies on hand so the neighborhood kids won't throw eggs at your car. But besides the popular belief that Halloween has to do with witches and goblins and pumpkins, the roots and reasons for Halloween remain deep in mystery. Well, get ready for a Halloween unmasking.

Halloween, as we celebrate it today, is a "melting pot" of ancient customs and religious beliefs. It can be traced to the Druids, the Celtic priests of ancient Gaul, Britain, and Ireland. The Druids combined the new year and autumn harvest festival for their celebration. As part of the festival, they honored Samhain, their lord of death, who they believed called together the sinful souls who had died during the past year. By offering gifts and sacrifices (including animals, crops, and even criminals) to Samhain, the Druids hoped to free the sinful souls to go to heaven.

At the end of the new year's feast the pagans would have on masks and costumes, hoping to get rid of the souls by tricking them into following the crowd of masqueraders to the outskirts of the town.

After the Romans conquered the Celts in 43 AD, they pushed aside the Celtic festival with their own feasts-one in honor of the dead, another in honor of Pomona, the goddess of trees and fruits. This is probably how apples became associated with Halloween. The Roman history of this holiday makes wearing togas to Halloween parties perfectly acceptable.

In the 8th century, Pope Gregory III proclaimed November 1 as the day to honor all saints of the Catholic Church who didn't have a day of their own. Evil spirits and witches supposedly stalked the streets on October 31--because the next day, they had better be in hiding.

Like modern-day Halloweeners, the Irish used to go from door to door collecting treats for their annual November 1 feast. But instead of saying, "trick or treat," they asked for contributions in the name of Muck Olla, an ancient Druid diety who would "take revenge" if landowners gave nothing.

In medieval times, Irish peasants celebrated All Saints Day by dressing up as their patron saint, the one they were named after. Since everyone enjoyed masquerading, people also dressed as angels and devils so they wouldn't duplicate saints. Then, in a joyous parade, a procession was held that raised everyone's spirits.

A NEW LOOK FURNISHED

By-Cyndi Trujillo

The Auto Mechanics students have a new look this week. The students have purchased 30 work shirts out of their VICA fund. The shirts were purchased in order to try and promote a more professional attitude towards the field of work, according to Mr. Pete Maldonado, the auto mechanics instructor.

The boys would like to say "Thanks" to Thorp's Laundry for furnishing a reasonable price which made it possible for them to purchase the shirts.

The shirts are light blue with OHS Auto Shop printed in the top left-hand corner. They are worn tucked in at all times for safety purposes, commented Mr. Maldonado. Both classes will wear the shirts.

OFFICERS ATTEND CONFERENCE

By-Cyndi Trujillo

The VICA officers, along with other members, attended the 1982 Officer Training Fall Leadership Conference which was held Saturday in Andrews, Texas. The conference was held in order to review the basics in officer training and to prepare and help the students with the duties as an officer.

The students attending the conference were Willie Payne, Randy DeHoyos, Zeke Martinez, Greg Fierro, David Tijerina, Henry Delgado and Mr. Maldonado.

LIONS CAN THE CRANES

By-Karise Aycock

In a "downright devastating" game in Lions stadium Friday night, the Ozona Lions defeated the Crane Golden Cranes. This win put the Lions in a 3-way tie for first place with Crane and Ballinger.

First string quarterback, David Badillo, went out of the game early in the first quarter with injured ribs. Second string quarterback, Allen Dews, came in and took control for the remainder of the game.

The first score of the night came on a 14-yard field goal kicked by Diego Leal after the Lions were faced with a fourth down and four yards to go.

Thirty-five seconds later the Lions scored again on a fumble at Crane's 34 yard line. Dews dropped back and hit to Robert Massey in the end zone to make the game 9-0. Leal kicked the PAT.

Crane fumbled the ball again, giving the Lions a recovery on their 37 yard line. On the Crane 18, Dews tossed an 18-yard throw to Leal for the second touchdown. Leal kicked the extra point making the score at halftime 17-0.

The third quarter saw both teams fired up and looking to win. On the first drive in the third quarter, the Cranes carried the ball 75 yards in six plays in a minute and a half.

After gaining 15 yards from the Lions 26, the Cranes put their one and only touchdown on the board, making the score 17-8.

Crane attempted a 25-yard field goal in the fourth quarter but the kick was short. Ozona also nearly scored twice in the fourth, but both passes were intercepted.

This week, the Lions travel to Coahoma to take on the Bulldogs, where they will be looking to make their district record 3-1.

LIONS J.V. DEFEAT CRANES J.V.

By-Noemi Gonzales

With a score of 15-8, the Lions J.V. defeated the Crane Golden Cranes J.V., Thursday night at Crane.

The first touchdown was a pass from quarterback Al Ramirez, to Manuel Perez. The extra-point was kicked by Ramirez.

Later in the game the Lions scored on a pass from Ramirez to Harvey Fierro. Capp Couch received a pass from Ramirez for the two point conversion, which made the score 15-0.

Crane's only score came with 40 seconds left in the game. The two was good, ending the game with the score at 15-8, in favor of Ozona.

The Lions ended with 217 yards total offense to Crane's 160.

Overall, the young Lions are having a great year. With this victory, they kept winning with their two losses coming to Eldorado and Wall.

Longoria named Mauro manager

Garry Mauro candidate for Texas Land Commissioner announced this week that Robert Longoria of Ozona has been appointed to serve as his county chairman for Crockett County. Robert has previously worked with Garry in 1976 and 1978 on Bob Krueger's campaign staff.

The duties of Land Commissioner includes managing the 22.5 million acres of state lands and the $800 million per year income, most of which goes to the Permanent University Fund. The office also awards oil, gas and sulphur leases for exploration and production on state lands as well as leasing mineral rights to the state's riverbeds and tidelands. Mauro's accomplishments in his 34 years have been numerous. After graduating from Texas A&M University and receiving his law degree from the University of Texas, he managed Bob Krueger's successful first race for Congress, later serving as his Administrative Assistant in Washington.

In 1976, Mauro returned to Austin and was appointed by Bob Bullock to serve as Assistant Comptroller for Field Operations moving up the next year to the position of Deputy Comptroller for Tax Administration. His responsibilities included the administration of a $25 million budget and supervision of over 1500 employees. In 1978 he resigned from governmental service to open his own law office. He has been active in the Texas Democratic Party for many years and served as its Executive Director for the 1979-80 term.

Difficult times demand wise decisions... and strong decision-makers like Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby.

Texans are facing some difficult times. Now, more than ever, we need experienced, compassionate leaders in our state government.

We need a leader like Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby who has our interests at heart. Here's how Hobby stands on the issues concerning Texans:

EDUCATION.
HOBBY will not be satisfied until our education system is the best in the nation. His efforts to improve the quality of public education for your children and grandchildren begin in the classroom. He is for improving teacher salaries and benefits. He is for giving more control to local school districts.

JOBS.
HOBBY is working to create more and better jobs for Texans. He is making sure jobless Texans receive their full unemployment benefits. He is working to increase the efficiency to the Texas Employment Commission. He is stimulating economic growth and new jobs through responsible state spending and one of the lowest tax rates in the nation.

CRIME.
HOBBY is for strong laws and certainty of punishment of criminals, backed by better training and pay for our police officers. He is helping upgrade our courts to speed up trials of accused criminals. He is for improving our prison system and parole system.

LT. GOVERNOR,

to the midway point in the second period.

With 4:13 remaining in the half, Huerreca took a first and ten handoff off tackle for 15 yards, where Dews connected on two consecutive passes to Massey good for 26 yards and a first down inside the Crane 25. Dews, on a week side roll-out, lofted a pass to Leal who'd improvised a pattern underneath the coverage and trotted in for the score. His conversion was good and the Lions moved out to a 17-0 count which was sustained until the half.

Crane opened second half play with a 6 play 74 yard scoring drive and succeeded with the two point conversion, making the score 17-8 with under two minutes gone in the half.

But the Lions, playing like champions, shut down the Crane offense quite impressively for the remainder of the contest.

Zeke Martinez, playing his typically all out game, was a principal reason the Crane QB was ineffective, as he consistently swarmed all over the besieged signal caller all evening, once slamming him into the turf for a big 14 yard loss late in the 4th quarter.

Ed Borrego, the sensational sophomore "Hulk", blew through the offensive blockers and single-handedly smothered a critical 3rd down play late in the third period. The "Hulk" also had several unassisted tackles and generally was an impressive defensive presence.

Johnny Rodriguez was awesome with his crisp blocking on offensive assignments and played a commendable game at cornerback, stopping several sweeps to his side in crucial situations. Marcello Hernandez, filling in for injured Lion star Will Mason, was simply terrifying on several tacked on the near sidelines. Huerreca, whose 84 yards rushing helped the Lions' ball control game, also had a terrific evening punting for the second week in a row. His sky high punts kept the Crane offense buried deep in their own territory for most of the second half struggling with poor field position.

"Crane is a big, strong, physical outfit" explained head coach Don Abbott after the game. "We knew that we'd have to execute fairly well in order to win and our offense, although considerably crippled by the loss of Badillo and the outside threat that he represents, managed to be productive enough to get the job done in fine fashion. Allen Dews has stepped in before when we were in a bind and came through very nicely for us. Robert Massey had a whale of a game tonight and so did Harvey considering the fact that with David out and the outside run no longer a primary consideration, the defense could afford to concentrate more attention on containing him."

When asked about the Hurricane's punting the mild mannered mentor said, "Harvey's punting was a factor all evening because it kept Crane deep in their own territory for most of the evening and away from any decent field position. Our motto all year has been 'Play Like Champions' and tonight we played a tough and very physical ball club...and because we played the kind of ball we are capable of, we emerged victorious. It was one of our finer efforts of the season and essentially I'm satisfied with our overall level of play."

The Lions journey to Coahoma for another critical confrontation with a strong district rival, whose level of play has been better than expected over the last few weeks. The intensity and the accelerated surge of team effort and desire will be necessary to continue the push towards a post season play-off berth. No longer will the fans be content to see the team play good football...Ozona wants a champion...and the next two weeks will unveil the truth about the determination of this talented team's desire to be #1.

Wilson services in Odessa

Funeral services for W.A. (Son) Wilson, Jr., 69, were held Monday in Odessa at the Asbury United Methodist Church, with burial in Elm Grove Cemetery in Alpine.

Mr. Wilson died Friday at 2:45 a.m. in Odessa Medical Hospital.

He was born November 21, 1912 in Alpine. He married Elizabeth Perner, November 24, 1934, in Ozona.

Survivors include his wife of Odessa; two daughters, Joan Wilson of Burbank, Calif. and Anne Capron of Salt Flat, and two grandchildren.

Wind power systems costly

Windmills have long been popular for pumping water for livestock as well as for farm and ranch homes in remote areas. They also have potential for converting wind energy into electricity, but the process is costly.

"As a fuel, wind is free, but the devices needed to use the energy beneficially can be quite expensive," says Wayne Keese, an agricultural engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

"Wind chargers" were a common sight in the 1930s and early '40s and were the only source of electric power for many rural areas. But when the Rural Electric Cooperative system brought low-cost central station power to all parts of the country, wind-generated electric power systems practically disappeared, explains Keese.

"One of the disadvantages of wind-powered electric generators has been the need for power storage," notes the engineer. "Batteries can be used to store power but are costly."

Former war prisoner named to VA post

The longest-held former prisoner of war of the Vietnam conflict, Everett Alvarez Jr., has been confirmed by the U.S. Senate as new deputy administrator of the Veterans Administration.

Alvarez, 44, joined VA Administrator Robert Nimmo in leading the government's largest independent agency. He came to the VA from the Peace Corps where he has served as deputy director since 1981.

As VA deputy administrator, Alvarez is assisting the VA chief in carrying out the agency's numerous responsibilities in serving the nearly 30 million living veterans and overseeing the agency's $25 billion budget.

During his 20-year Navy career, Alvarez was assistant program manager for the Naval Air Systems Command, director of the Naval Air Production Management Project Office and an aviator in Vietnam—where he was shot down, then held prisoner in North Vietnam for 8½ years.

On retirement from Navy in 1980, Alvarez joined a Washington, D.C., law firm. Prior to that, he established the Everett Alvarez Jr. Scholarship Foundation "to help youngsters get ahead and develop a sense of responsibility and positive feelings toward being an American." The foundation is administered by the University of Santa Clara, California.

Alvarez holds a bachelors degree from the University of Santa Clara and a masters degree from the Naval Post Graduate School, Monterey, California. He is married and has two children. Among his military awards are the Silver Star, two legions of merit (with combat "V"), two Bronze Stars (with combat "V"), the Distinguished Flying Cross and two Purple Hearts.

VA EDUCATIONAL ENTITLEMENT

Employers who are seeking or have hired Vietnam-era veterans who may have VA educational entitlement should contact the Veterans Administration about approval of their training programs.

Close watch of children at Halloween

Halloween brings ghosts, goblins and, sometimes, real danger. The American Lung Association of Texas warns about one danger for children--the risk of choking on holiday treats such as candy corn, hard candy, and peanuts.

At Halloween, children go door-to-door trying to fill their sacks full of candy and other goodies. Parents should insist youngsters bring the treats home for inspection. For the youngest--two, three or even four years old--some of the candy can be divided or mashed before eating.

The chewing and swallowing muscles of young children may not be sufficiently developed to cope with certain treats. Choking can result. Halloween goodies may also "go down the wrong way" and lodge in the lung instead of the stomach. This is called aspiration. A "foreign object" of any kind in the lung can cause life-long problems. At times, surgery for removal is required.

The best warning is: be sure children are old enough to chew and swallow correctly before trusting them with small, hard bits of food.

Notes from the locker room

The scene in the Lion field-house was one of subdued elation with players quietly congratulating one another and discussing critical plays and game situations in which they or their teammates were involved. No one was aware of the enormity of the victory that they had just posted on their principal rivals for this year's district championship, but no where could this writer hear any celebrative aggradizements of the significance of the win.

Ed Borrego: "We were ready for this one tonight as a team...we had good team spirit and preparation for this one was excellent. My brother Carlos was making some timely tackles on his side tonight and the whole defense just shut down most of what they had to offer...it was our best team effort so far this season. Thanks to the fans who were so vocal tonight in cheering us on. It made us really feel good to hear them being so supportive."

Allen Dews: "This was a gratifying win tonight because the team is such a talented one, and the fact that Crane came in with no defeats served as a sort of extra incentive for us to do well. I'd like to say that the offensive line did a great job in handling the Crane defensive front tonight. It generally felt good and I hope that the injury to David Badillo isn't too serious. Massey was sensational and it helps a quarterback's confidence to know that a receiver will put forth the kind of effort that Massey did so consistently this evening."

Diego Leal: Tonight was a team effort all the way. We knew that we had to have this one and in my opinion, the entire team should be congratulated for a really good performance. Dews did a good job filling in for Badillo in a pressure situation."

Iron Man: Our entire unit played the kind of football that we are capable of and the people who are reserves did a good job also...we really wanted this one for the school, the town, the coaches...but most of all we wanted it for our own pride and we went out there and did it.

Randy DeHoyos: There isn't much doubt left on this team about our capabilities and you can expect this team to really turn it on for the rest of the way. I think that the entire team deserves credit for this victory."

WTU announces lower fuel costs

West Texas Utilities Co. has entered a gas purchase agreement with Haskell Gathering Co. which could re-

Energas rate hike is 10% instead of 26

Last week we reported that Energas rates would increase by 26 percent this winter. We are glad to report now that the figure was wrong. There was a misunderstanding about the figure we needed by the original spokesman for Energas.

A representative for Energas in Midland said the figure should be closer to ten percent, rather than 26%. Energas is the gas company supplying Ozona.

In other news, a large oil and gas lease sale was scheduled for Wednesday, October 13, in Anchorage, Alaska. The sale was for 1.8 million offshore acres in the Beaufort Sea. Between one and two billion dollars are expected to be spent in cash bonuses for the rights to explore 338 tracts in the Diapir Field.

The U. S. geological survey estimates the area has between 500 million to 4.7 billion barrels of oil and 1.8 trillion cubic feet of natural gas.

sult in lower fuel costs at this Paint Creek Power Station.

WTU has begun taking a small volume of low Btu gas, and is expected to take more when the gathering firm's pipelines are extended to additional wells in Haskell and Throckmorton counties. The Paint Creek plant is on Lake Stamford in southeastern Haskell County.

The gas is cheaper than WTU's main supply, but is of lower quality, according to Walter Meller, WTU's manager of system production.

"Because it is a lower Btu gas, it must be blended with other gas before it can be burned in our boilers," Meller said. "But we are doing everything we can to buy gas where there is a price advantage."

He said WTU is the process of negotiating for low Btu gas at some of its other power plants. The company's contract with its principle supplier, which was renegotiated this past year, permits WTU to purchase gas from other sources, and WTU does so when it is available. The Company has eight major power plants, all of which burn natural gas as the primary fuel.

Oil industry brings $352.7 millions to county

The sale of crude oil and natural gas from Crockett County wells in 1981 enriched the county's economy and accounted for $352.7 million of the $44 billion value placed on Texas petroleum production last year.

In a report on the economic impact of oil and gas industry operations in the significant producing counties of Texas, Dallas-based Texas Mid-

Continent Oil and Gas Association said the county ranked 30th among Texas' 254 counties on the basis of value of its marketed petroleum production. This production includes condensate and casinghead gas.

The county's wells produced 4.8 million barrels of crude oil, valued at $166.1 million, and 104.4 billion cubic feet of natural gas, valued at $186.6 million. Owners of royalty in the county received $44.1 million as their share of the output, the Association noted.

"Although the oil and gas industry is suffering through a slowdown in drilling attributable in large part to a worldwide decline in demand for petroleum products—it continues to be the cornerstone of the economy of Texas and many of its counties," said the Association's chairman, Avery Rush, Jr.,

of Amarillo. "Oil and gas producers operating in Texas remain committed to the drilling of every well that is economically feasible," Rush added.

In addition to paying local, county, and state property taxes, producers in the county supported state government through production tax payments estimated at $21.6 million, according to the Association. Crude oil taxes amounted to $7.6 million, while natural gas levies totaled $14 million.

Based on Texas Employment Commission figures, some 756 oil and gas industry employees in the county received wages of about $13 million in 1981.

In the search for new petroleum reserves in the county oil and gas operators spent a reported $120.3 million in the drilling of 435 wells, including 17 wildcat, or exploratory, wells. This effort resulted in the completion of 164 oil wells and 215 gas wells, although some $10.2 million was lost in the drilling of 56 dry holes. As of April 1, 1982, there were 3,847 producing wells in the county; 2,138 oil and 1,709 gas.

Petroleum processing also contributed to the county economy, with 11 natural gasoline processing plants, having a total daily capacity of 210.2 million cubic feet of natural gas in operation.

Pickup noted in county oil drilling activity

ABCO Energy Corp., The Woodlands, will drill the No. 1 Chandler, a 5,200-foot wildcat in Crockett County, two miles north of a newly opened west area of Canyon production in the Hudspeth (Canyon and Strawn) field separated by and 3/8-mile north-northeast of a 5,300-foot failure, three miles west of production and one mile west northwest of a depleted long extension to the Adams-Baggett Ranch (Canyon gas) field and 25 miles southwest of Ozona.

Location is 500 feet from the south and 467 feet from the east lines of 150-O-GH&SA. Ground elevation is 2,190 feet.

The failure, Sublett Exploration & Resources and Merrimac Corp. No. 1-131 Pierce, was abandoned June 10, 1975.

Southland Royalty Co., Midland, will re-enter and test as a 6,500 feet for recompletion attempt as a 1 1/8-mile southwest extension to Clearfork gas production in the V.I.P. field of Crockett County at its No. 1-31 V.I. Pierce, former Canyon gas producer in the Ozona multipay field, 27 miles south of Ozona.

Location is 1,320 feet from the north and east lines of 31-A-TCRR.

Union Oil Co. of Calif., Midland, will drill the No. 1 West Wayne Ranch "B", as a 7/8 mile west and very slightly north outpost to the two-well Crockett portion of Massie (Strawn gas) field, 28 miles southwest of Ozona.

Location is 1,980 feet from the south and 660 feet from the east lines of 55-O-GH&SA. Contract depth is 11,700 feet.

The field was opened in Val Verde and that portion has three wells. Production is assigned to District 1.

Vinson Exploration, Midland, will drill two outposts to Queen gas production in the Ingham multipay field, 23 miles west of Ozona.

Both projects are scheduled to 1,600 feet.

The No. 1 University "34-29", 1/2-mile north and very slightly east of the original portion and 3 7/8 miles southwest of a one-well northeast extension area, is 467 feet from the south and 990 feet from the east lines of 34-29-ULS.

The No. 2 University "4-30", 1 1/8 miles northeast outpost of the original portion and 3 1/8 miles southwest of a one-well northeast extension area, is 2,173 feet from the north and 1,500 feet from the west lines of 4-30-ULS.

Ozark Exploration Inc., Dallas, completed two previously scheduled wildcats as extensions to Strawn detrital gas production in the University 31 (Strawn detrital and Queen gas) field of Crockett County, approximately 10 miles northwest of Ozona.

The No. 2-50 Joe Bean "A" (amended to add "A"), 1 5/8 miles north and slightly west extension, was finalized for a calculated, absolute open flow of 3,800,000 cubic feet of gas daily, with gas-liquid ratio of 183,725-1. Gravity of the condensate was 56.8 degrees.

Production was through perforations at 7,870-901 feet, which had been acidized with 7,500 gallons.

Drilled to 8,049 feet, with 4 1/2-inch casing set at 8,075.67 feet, it is plugged back to 8,015 feet.

Location is 3,300 feet from the south and 1,400 feet from the east lines of 50-UV-GC&SF.

Todd Ranch wildcat set

Holly Energy Inc., Dallas, will drill the No. 2 Todd Ranch, a 6,700-foot wildcat and as a location east offset to the opener and lone producer of the Seright (Strawn) field of Crockett County, 1/2-mile north and slightly west of a 7,835-foot failure and 19 miles northwest of Ozona.

Location is 2,410 feet from the north and 3,510 feet from the west lines of 12-10-GC&SF.

The Seright opener, the firm's No. 2 Todd Ranch, drilled to 6,600 feet, was finalized Aug. 27 for 199 barrels of 42.3 gravity oil, with gas-oil ratio of 1,035-1, through a 16-64-inch choke and perforations at 6,102-130 feet.

It topped the Simpson at 6,200 feet and the Ellenburger at 6,510 feet on ground elevation of 2,452 feet.

The Howard Draw multipay field gained its current ninth and tenth shallow oil producers with completion of two projects by James L. Lamb Jr., Midland, 16 miles northwest of Ozona.

The No. 5 University 26, a location west extension, was finalized to pump 42 barrels of 28 gravity oil, no water, through perforations at 1,381-91 and 1,412-22 feet, which had been acidized with 2,000 gallons.

Location is 990 feet from the north and 830 feet from the east lines of 26-30-University Lands.

The No. 6 University 26, a 3/8-mile west extension, was finalized to pump 23 barrels of 28 gravity oil, no water, through perforations at 1,445-55 and 1,464-74 feet, which had been acidized with 2,000 gallons.

Location is 990 feet from the north and 1,650 feet from the east lines of 26-30-University Lands.

Pickup noted in county oil drilling activity

A pick-up in oil activity, maybe not commensurate with the former heated pace in West Texas, but at least a steady if limited action is noted in the Crockett County area the past few weeks.

Principal activities has been centered largely in the western section of the county and in the northwest area. Recently reported oil drilling activity in the county includes the following:

Crockett County gained a discovery and two extenders.

Resources Investment Corp., Denver, Colo., No. 1-28 Dudley (amended from Lee), Crockett County Strawn lime gas discovery, 1 3/8 miles northwest of the Dudley (Devonian gas) field, five miles northwest of the dual opener of the Cox (Canyon and Strawn gas) field and 26 miles southwest of Ozona, was finalized for a calculated, absolute open flow of 5,200,000 cubic feet of gas daily.

Production was through perforations at 9,090-222 feet, which had been acidized with 4,000 gallons.

The following tops were picked on ground elevation of 1,987 feet: Strawn lime, 9,064 feet; Strawn detrital, 9,178 feet; Devonian, 9,238 feet; Fusselman, 9,726 feet; Ellenburger, 10,444 feet.

Drilled to 10,468 feet, where 4 1/2-inch casing was set, it is plugged back to 10,382 feet.

Location is 890 feet from the north and 9,361 feet from the east lines of 28-1&GN.

Queen gas production was extended one mile north in the Ingham multipay field of Crockett County with completion of Vinson Exploration, Midland, No. 1 University "35-29", 23 miles west of Ozona, for a calculated, absolute open flow of 425,000 cubic feet of gas daily.

Production was through perforations at 1,429-517 feet, which had been acidized with 600 gallons and fractured with 20,000 gallons and 52,000 pounds of sand.

Location is 1,980 feet from the north and east lines of 35-29-University Lands.

The same firm also will drill two outposts to Queen gas production.

The No. 1 University "15-30", 1 3/8 miles south and very slightly west of a one-well, five mile northeast extension area, is 2,173 feet from the south and west lines of 15-30 University Lands.

The No. 1 University "29-D", 5/8-mile north outpost, is 760 feet from the south and 660 feet from the west lines of 26-29-University Lands.

Both projects are scheduled to 1,600 feet.

The Crockett portion of the Aldwell Ranch (Canyon gas) field was extended a 1/2-mile northwest and 5/8-mile west with completion of Anderson Petroleum Inc., Midland, No. 3-28 Joe Friend Estate, 19 miles southwest of Sonora, for a calculated, absolute open flow of 1,550,000 cubic feet of gas daily.

Production was through perforations at 8,974-9,124 feet, which had been acidized with 13,000 gallons.

Location is 2,000 feet from the south and 933 feet from the west lines of 28-G-GWT &P.

Crockett County Care Center News

BY ANN McCARTNEY
DIRECTOR OF ACTIVITIES & SOCIAL CARE

Another week, and fall weather seems to have arrived. Third Sunday services were brought by the Baptist Church. Music was supplied through cassettes.

Monday morning Paul Cavin, Maude Pettit, Ola Mills, and Johnny Henderson played dominoes.

Monday afternoon we had paints and ceramics delivered by Cindy Reavis. What fun to see what all new "goodies" we had received.

Tuesday morning's bingo winner of El Chato's dinner for two was Juana Hernandez. Volunteers included: Adlina Flores, Ofilia Enriquez, Dorothy Doll, Doris Karr and Alice Ross.

Tuesday afternoon we had our monthly trip to Clayton's Village Drug. Those making the trip included: Carol Reed, Paul Cavin, Frances Borrego, Virginia Russell, Nina Mayfield, Johnny Henderson, Minnie Karr, and helpers Dorothy Doll and Bernabe Villarreal. All other residents were sent home a milkshake.

Wednesday morning ceramics had a new volunteer, Louise Johnigan. We welcome her! Regulars, namely Dorothy Doll, Marie Pierson, and Ruth Hester, were here and all were kept busy. Residents participating included: Juana Hernandez, Frances Borrego, Ola Mills, Maude Pettit, and Moriama Perez.

Wednesday afternoon residents were treated with cake and punch made and served by Dorothy Doll. We may not be able to sit out in the sun for sunshine hour but it is hard to give up the refreshments! Thanks, Dorothy! Thanks also goes to Alice Ross who helped her serve.

Thursday morning beauty shop was manned by Madye Jo Humphreys and Arlene Clayton. Thursday afternoon the Lutheran Church group once again came for Bible study followed by Spanish hour given by the Catholic ladies. Mr. and Mrs. Jesus Perez, mother and father of Moriama, brought cookies. Thanks!

Leona Harris played the piano for us several times this week.

Friday morning bingo was won by Ola Mills. Her gift certificate was donated by Westernman Drug. There was a three way tie for second. Our man's gift was Avon aftershave donated by Anna Bell Patrick and our ladies chose from a lovely group of pins donated by Alice Ross. Winners were Jesus Hernandez, Maggie Crawford, and Nina Mayfield. Anna Bell once again popped popcorn and donated the money it took to buy it. She and Alice were volunteers for the day and great volunteers they were!

Another Friday morning event was the filling of Halloween sacks with candy. Every resident will be given a sack with candy to pass out to trick or treaters for Halloween. Youngsters, especially those in costume, are urged to come by and trick or treat. No tricks, we have the treats!

Friday afternoon Jo Cook from Big Lake came for another demonstration on liquid embroidery. Residents enjoying this afternoon treat included. Frances Borrego, Paul Cavin, Juana Hernandez, Moriama Perez, Bertha Miller, Maude Pettit, Ola Mills, and Carol Reed. All enjoyed this new type, at least for them, of craft. Thanks, Jo.

Each week I say that volunteers are what make our program. By reading this, you have seen what I mean. Think volunteer!

November oil allowable in Texas is set at 100 %

The Railroad Commission today set the Texas oil production rate for November 1982 at the market demand factor of 100 percent for the 69th month in a row and the 125th time since the Commission first went to the ceiling level in April, 1972.

Commissioners Mack Wallace and Buddy Temple directed the continuance of the maximum statewide allowable after receiving and reviewing purchaser nominations for Texas oil in November totaling 2,533,424 barrels per day, an increase of 70,915 barrels daily when compared with October 1982 buyer requests. November 1981 nominations totaled 2,444,973 barrels daily.

Next month's permissible rate of output is calculated to average 2,909,506 b/d with actual production estimated at 2,385 million b/d. The maximum allowable applies to all but 10 fields in Texas that are assigned lower legal rates of flow for conservation purposes. Actual production in November 1981 was 2,440,719 barrels daily.

Temple reported that November 1982 nominations for the purchase of Texas gas totaled 20,517,940 Mcf/d (thousand cubic feet per day). Gas nominations for October amounted to 20,713,241 Mcf/d. November 1981 gas nominations totaled 25,028,939 Mcf/d.

The next statewide oil and gas hearing will be held Thursday, Nov. 18, at 9 a.m. in Austin at the Railroad Commission headquarters building, Rm. 107.

TO OUR KYLA--

The sparkle of her smile, the softness of her touch, the sweetness of her temper, the cheerfulness of her presence, the deftness of her hands, the love in her heart--these are monuments to the memory of our precious little Kyla Marrs, the golden hair-

Kyla Marrs, the golden haired sunshine of the Stockman staff. Not soon will her memory fade and not soon will the hurt of her passing heal.

For such a ray of sunshine sent by God into this sad world, surely that same God has need and a place of happiness for her. May you bloom and glow and be beloved of your fellow angels as you were among those of us who knew you here.
