The Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council has begun its annual search for the Texas rural hero of 1982, and the Ozona Stockman has begun its search for the Town Coward of 1982. The council will be giving an award for its hero, and the Stockman is offering a reward for anyone turning up the coward. The coward will be awarded with a good old fashioned beating with a horse whip.

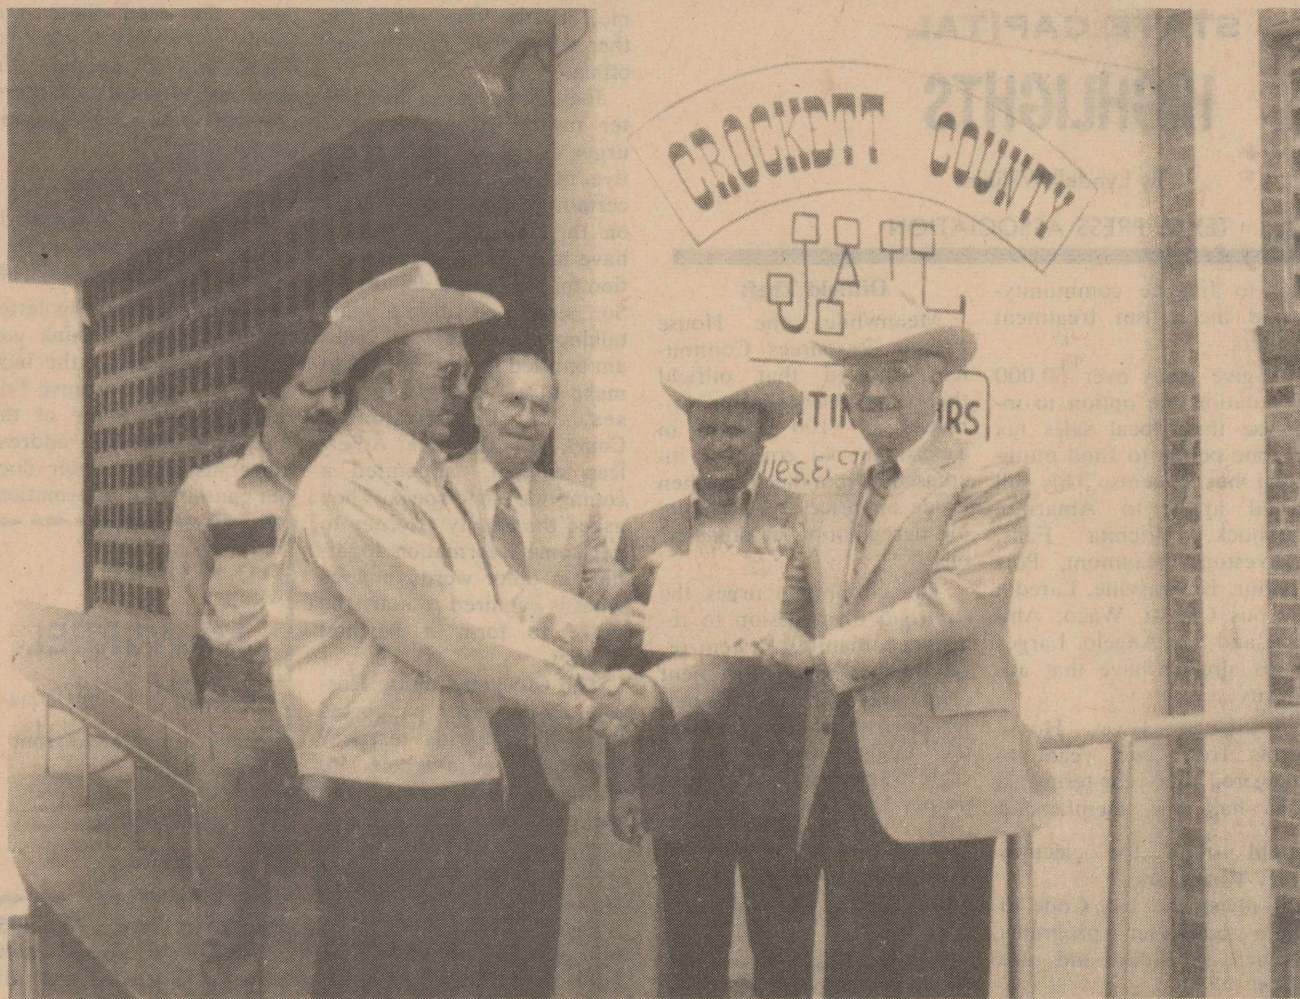

The coward shot a hole through our plate-glass window either Friday or Saturday night. We discovered it Sunday morning. The bullet went through the window and lodged somewhere in Tom's desk after making a hole the size of a quarter in the steel reinforced desk. If he had been sitting at the desk, we reckon we would have witnessed a miracle cure as he would no doubt have gotten away without his cane and completely forgotten his arthritis. However, cowards do not operate during the daylight hours. Cowards operate under the stealth of darkness. In the dead of the night they sneak around to commit their dastardly deeds. In other ways, they use the anonymity of the mails or the telephone to spew their hate. They never show their faces or sign their names. They are perverts who don't have the intestinal fortitude to come out in the daylight and be seen. They are small enough to crawl under a snake's belly in the daytime and at night, under cover of darkness, they are ten feet tall. They don't have the vocabulary to express themselves, nor the motivation to put their endeavors to work at something worthwhile. Sometimes they run in packs like coyotes and the one who performs the most outlandish act is the head ghoul to the rest of the pack.

Of times these degenerates are under-age or juveniles. This places them in the category of "juvenile delinquent." This is very special because the parents can't or won't handle them and the law is unable to handle them due to laws made by liberal judges who sit in their ivory towers and have deep sympathy for the underprivileged. Everybody is underprivileged who rapes, murders, steals, vandalizes, etc. Everybody is over-privileged who minds his own business, works everyday, saves a little money, takes care of his own family.

This has become "justice" in America, and things aren't going to improve until we get back to "an eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth." How many robberies are committed by a person who was serving a probated sentence, how many rapes by one who has been convicted for the same crime before, how many murders by one who has been rehabilitated? Is it any wonder our crime rate is higher than the national debt?

Lions lose to Stamford to close out season

By-Ross Alexander

The Ozona Lions played one half of championship caliber football in San Angelo Stadium Saturday, but the Stamford Bulldogs, with a strong 4th quarter and a persistent and pugnacious defense, shattered Ozona's dream of a state championship 20-5 before the largest 3-A playoff crowd in recent times.

The Lions contained the Bulldog offense in the early going, exhibiting the same aggressive head-hunting assertiveness which had produced such success during the season. Willie Payne, Johnny Rod, and Fabian Delgado gave truly sparkling performances during the first half of action, each demonstrating why the Lions have been considered a team of ferocious hitters.

Will Mason, with just under 6½ minutes remaining in the second period, booted an enormous field goal from 27 yards out, giving the Lions a 3-0 advantage which held until the first half ended. However, the Bulldogs opened second half action with a fine five-play scoring drive converting successfully and posting a 7-3 margin with under 3 minutes gone in the quarter. Strong defense by both teams dominated the rest of the third quarter although Robert Hearne managed to penetrate the tough Bulldog secondary with under 2 minutes left to make a fine catch good for 17 yards. Although the Lions were unable to move the football after Magic's nice reception had produced a first and ten at the Lion 42. Harvey "Hurricane" Huerreca's lazy high punt was downed inside the Bulldog 1 yard line. Tough Ozona defense by Zeke and the Iron Man, prevented the Bulldogs from securing a first down and on a fourth down punt formation from his own end zone, the Bulldog kicker yielded a safety with less than 2 minutes of 4th quarter action completed. From that point the chain of events favored Stamford.

Forced by the safety to free kick from their own 20, Stamford was detected off sides. The Iron Man declined

4-H Food Show Mon. at C.C.

The Crockett County 4-H Food Show will be held Monday, November 29, at the Civic Center. Some sixty-one 4-H members will be participating in this year's show.

The 4-H members will bring their food entries to the Civic Center from 9:30 to 10:00. Judging will start promptly at 10:00. Parents, guests, and friends are invited to view the food entries at 11:00. Cookbooks with all the contestants recipes will be available.

The theme for this year's show is "Be a Super Snacker." Joyce Young and Cynthia Ramos are chairmen for the show. Leaders teaching 4-H members in the food projects are Jeanette Robinson, Tina Harris, Amelia Alvarez, June Cameron, Crystelle Childress, Lou Deaton, Mary Louise Hayes, Brenda Newton, Peggy Phillips, Cynthia Ramos, Roberta Schoenhals, Jacquelyn Shacklette, Glenda Winkley, Sharmen West, Joyce Young, Cathy Carson, Camille Jones, Linda Taylor, Pat Willmon, Quetta Borrego, Dottie Searcy, Michelle Bridges, Lou Anna Haire, Ethel McCrohan, Connie Fowler, Michelle Couch, DeNeil Payne and Kim Baker.

The 4-H contestants prepare a recipe at home and enter the entire recipe in one of the four categories. The food show categories are Main Dish, Fruits and Vegetables, Breads and Cereals, and Nutritious Snacks and Desserts.

The 4-H members are judged on their knowledge of nutrition, their food, and a complete day's menu. Winners of the county show will compete in the district show, April 9, in Monahans.

Sponsors for the food show trophies and trays are: Maxine's Flowers, Brown Furniture, Baker's Jewelers, Thornton's Grocery, Ozona Television System, Jim's Foodway Grocery, Clayton's Village Drug, and Baker Oil Treating Company.

Ribbons and rosettes are furnished by Southwest Texas Electric Cooperative. Judging supplies are furnished by Watson's Department Store.

School Board in routine meeting

The Crockett County School Board met in regular meeting last week in the administration building and attended to routine matters, approving a payment to Davis Construction Co. in the amount of $7,727.90 for construction in enlarging the building meeting to include a large board room.

Tom Doyle of Doyle, Henslee, Hariston and Ryan, of Austin, was present to discuss the school's options in Drug and Alcohol control in the Crockett County Schools. This firm specializes in school law and Mr. Doyle discussed with the board many aspects of the law and the Texas Education Code.

Kelly Glaze, Royce Newton and Mrs. Bobby Aycock appeared before the board in regards to a proposed trip to San Antonio by the band. After some discussion and deliberation, the board approved the trip to the high school band may March in the Fiesta Parade, April 22-23. The Band Director, Mr. Glaze, was given complete charge of the trip and of selecting the adult sponsors to accompany the band.

Also approved was a proposal to conduct two computer science classes during the Spring Semester. The first course, an adult computer science course to accommodate 12 adults will begin January 10 and continue through April 11, meeting 14 times from 7 until 10 o'clock each Monday night. The class will be limited to the first 12 who enroll. It is open to the public and the fee is $90 per person.

A second class open to teachers in the Ozona Public Schools will begin Wednesday, January 12, and end March 16. The class will meet each Wednesday from 7 until 10 o'clock in the evening.

Those interested in the two courses need to contact Lane Scott, computer science instructor, for registration.

The hiring of a supervisor for the custodians was approved, with the provision a reorganization of the maintenance department and custodial services be reorganized.

Assistant Superintendent Garland Davis informed the board of the status of proposed policy changes and additions now being reviewed by TASB.

Other areas discussed were evaluation of school audio-visual equipment school maintenance, and a report on recent activities with drug and alcohol education.

Jail Complies with standards

The Crockett County Jail achieved compliance with the Texas Commission on Jail Standards last week and officials were presented the Certificate of Compliance in a brief ceremony at the Jail Friday afternoon.

Joe Slater, supervising inspector for the Texas Commission on Jail Standards was on hand to present the certificate to county officials.

In presenting the certificate, Slater said Sheriff Billy Mills and his staff, the Crockett County Commissioners and Judge Johnny Jones are to be commended on this accomplishment, which is not due to any one person, but to all working together.

Slater also commented the taxpayers should be proud they have elected officials who have been able to achieve this result at a minimum cost.

Having achieved compliance with the Texas Jail Standards and continuing to operate at this level assures officials frivolous complaints and law suits will not be looked upon favorably by the Federal Courts.

Compliance with the laws of the State of Texas serves to protect the county, as these rules and statutes have been tested and upheld on numerous occasions by the Federal Courts.

Slater congratulated the county officials and expressed his pleasure in working with them.

Ozona to observe holiday

Ozona will close up tomorrow, Thursday, to observe the traditional Thanksgiving Day holiday. Most business places will be closed for the day and will reopen Friday.

Schools will dismiss Wednesday afternoon and reconvene Tuesday at the regular times.

Most offices will observe the four-day holiday and remain closed from Thursday through Sunday.

Pecan show coming up

County residents are reminded the Annual Crockett County Pecan Show will be held Monday at the Civic Center, sponsored by the Crockett County Program Building Committee.

To enter, 45 large, heavy uniform nuts off the same tree should be selected. The pecans should be brought to the Civic Center before 9 a.m. Monday.

Food entries and recipes need to be turned in at the same time. All recipes must have pecans in the ingredients. Categories are cakes, pies, cookies, candies, breads, and miscellaneous. Written recipes should be turned in with the food.

There is an open division and a youth division for food entries.

GROUND BREAKING FOR Crockett County National Bank was held Friday at 9:30. Several local residents and the directors of the new bank took part. The bank will be located at Hwy. 163 and First Street. Directors present for the event were Duane Childress, Gene Lilly, Frank McMullan Jr.,

Bernice Jones, Bill Black, W. D. Noel, James C. Powell, Leo Cervantez, J. Cleo Thompson, chairman of the board; Wade Richardson, and Stan Lambert, president. Not present were Jack Baggett and Sandy Stokes.

Thanksgiving: A Capitalist Holiday

By-Andy Seamans

The first presidential proclamation of a day of Thanksgiving in the United States was issued by George Washington on November 26, 1789. It was declared as a day set aside for prayers and thanks for the new Federal Constitution. Several states continued the practice, each designating its own day.

Then, on October 3, 1863, Abraham Lincoln became the first chief executive to proclaim an official Thanksgiving Day to be celebrated annually. The celebration was to be held on the last Thursday in November. Lincoln apparently wasn't one for Monday holidays.

Since Lincoln issued that proclamation, the entire nation has joined in prayer on the same day each year in solemn remembrance of the small band of religious fugitives who landed accidentally at Plymouth Rock.

Perhaps if the Pilgrims had continued on to the Virginia shores for which they had been targeted they could have prevented the controversy between Massachusetts and the Old Dominion, which claims the honor of having been the site of the 'First' Thanksgiving in the Colonies by virtue of an earlier celebration in 1619 at Berkeley Plantation near Williamsburg.

While the fact of the Virginia celebration is often overlooked, there is another point concerning the early Pilgrim Fathers which is rarely, if ever, mentioned. It is their attempt at, and abandonment of, a system of mutual ownership and communal labor at the Plymouth Plantation. A primary cause for their initial hardships in the New World was this early effort to survive within a socialist society.

At first the young community seemed to be flourishing, but following the Plymouth colony's 'First Thanksgiving' in 1621 the settlement went into a tailspin. Many found that under the socialist system all shared equally whether or not they contributed in fair proportion. So not a few began to excuse themselves from work in the fields and workshops of the community. Naturally, the feigned illness, and the number of absentees increased.

Then, disaster struck. The crops failed, the 'starving time' soon followed, and, because of the lowered production, there was nothing to fall back on in the way of stores. Things were so bad that by 1623, just three years after the landing at Plymouth Rock, the best that the Pilgrims could provide new arrivals from Mother England was a lobster, a freshly caught fish, and a cup of water. Ill fare compared to the bountiful feast of 1621, when they had hosted Chief Massasoit and ninety of his braves.

So in that same year-1623-Governor William Bradford, at the urging of the Governing Council, established what we have come to know and take for granted: a free-enterprise system. And the Plymouth Plantation began to grow and prosper. The freeloaders now had to work for their bounty.

The Pilgrims had learned their lesson the hard way. There were still hardships to overcome, but, from the agony of the 'starving time' came the wealthiest, most-productive civilization the world has known to date.

This byproduct of the early lessons of Plymouth, Jamestown, and all the other lesser-known, but so important, early New World settlements, has been shared with other nations throughout the Free World.

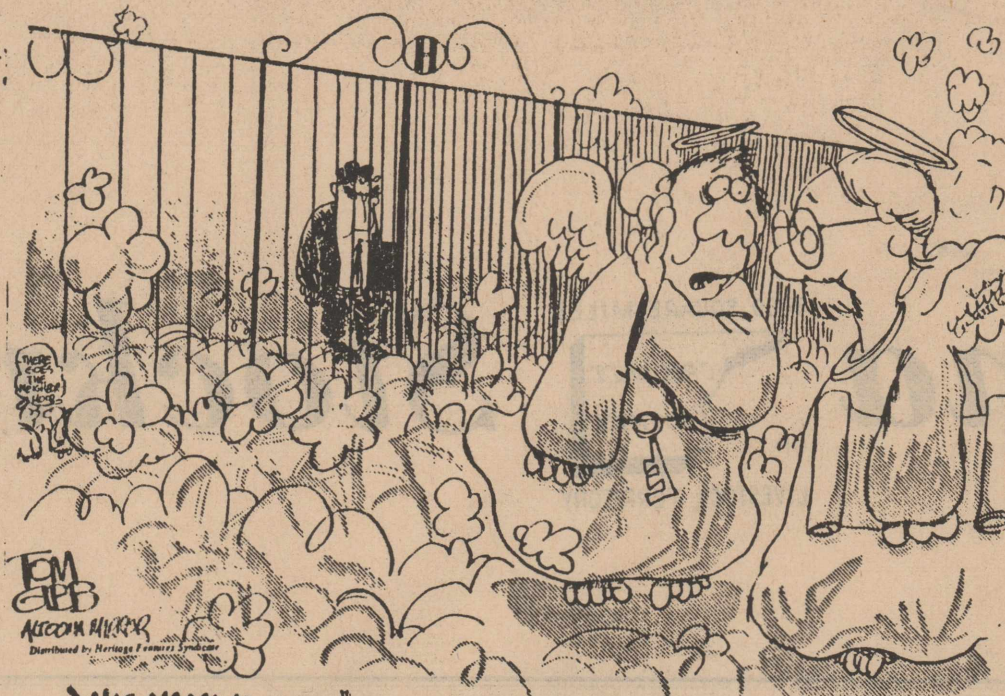

Thanksgiving is truly a Capitalist Holiday. And whether the first one was in Virginia or Massachusetts is really immaterial. The main thing is that we celebrate it as a tribute to the system which has taken us this far, and pray that it continues to serve us as well in future generations, as it has for the last three-plus centuries.

Home Health Care
Week is observed

The week of November 28 through December 4 has been designated by Congress as National Home Health Care Week. Under the Medicare program, Home Health Care Agencies provide health related services to patients in their homes. During the past few years Congress, through legislation, has liberalized home health care benefits, making it a practical alternative to long hospital stays. Home Health may even prevent or postpone admission to a nursing home.

It is believed that most older Americans would prefer to receive health care in the comfort of their own homes whenever feasible. Nurses work under the order of the patient's own physician to provide continuity of care on discharge from the hospital, or simply to reinforce instructions and skilled observation for a condition treated in the doctors office. Ila Fay Dunnam R.N., and Ruth Ann Dickenson, L.V.N. of Hill Country Home Health Agency provide skilled nursing services to homebound patients in the Ozona area. Fay Dunnam has been with the agency for seven years.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Political campaigns muddy the waters—but in the aftermath one begins to see through to the bottom again.

Last week the state's unemployment compensation fund went broke for the first time in its history, and the state government borrowed $1.8 million from the federal government to pay for some $3.7 million in claims. When the news of this dilemma first surfaced a couple of months before Election Day, Gov. Bill Clements and other legislative leaders avoided calling it a loan.

It was the wrong time to admit that Texas was going to the Feds for dollars. Now there are predictions that unless Texas enjoys a prosperous 1984, the Legislature may have to raise the employers' taxes again.

PUC Moves

The chairman of the Public Utility Commission said last week the PUC will take steps to abolish the politically controversial fuel adjustment clause on electric bills.

Gov.-elect Mark White, who campaigned on the promise to end the clause, had said he would ask the Legislature to outlaw the clause, if the commission failed to do away with it.

Although some PUC commissioners and representatives for several utility companies have opposed dismantling the clause, saying that cost hikes will be passed elsewhere in consumers' bills, they may now want to go along on this issue, rather than face a host of PUC reform bills already filed in the Legislature.

Commission chairman Moak Rollins said he has directed his staff to write alternative rules to the pass-through clause.

Gib Lewis

State Rep. Gib Lewis, D-Fort Worth, the probable 1983 Speaker of the House, told the West Texas Chamber of Commerce last week he expects the controversial long-range water plan to be a key issue when the Legislature convenes in January.

Lewis, who claims 141 House votes going into his election, said he favors dedicating part of the state severance tax on oil and gas for a Texas water trust fund.

Importing water from other states is not probable now, he said. "I've talked to some of those Arkansas legislators, and you don't get anything but cold stares."

Lewis has also said he will support a dedicated fund to provide permanent funding for the 17 state colleges and universities not covered by the Permanent University Fund.

Regarding clean-up work on redistricting, he expects the Legislature is in the mood to make few changes, only those necessary to comply with federal law.

Pre-Filed Legislation

Among the legislation already prefiled for the 68th Legislature are bills which would:

—prohibit the sale of so-called "cop-killer" bullets, those capable of piercing bullet-proof vests and other armor.

—allow wages to be withheld to satisfy court-ordered child support payments.

—increase taxes on alcohol to finance community-based alcoholism treatment centers.

—give cities over 50,000 population the option to increase their local sales tax by one penny to fund municipal bus systems. This bill could apply to Amarillo, Lubbock, Wichita Falls, Galveston, Beaumont, Port Arthur, Brownsville, Laredo, Corpus Christi, Waco, Abilene and San Angelo. Larger cities already have that authority.

—change Texas House terms from two years to staggered four-year terms, so that half the membership would stand for election every two years.

—revise the Tax Code to make computer programs subject to sales and use taxes.

—amend the Public Utility Regulatory Act to increase the number of commissioners from three to nine, all to be appointed by the governor with the advice and consent of two-thirds of the members of the Senate present.

—amend the PUC Regulatory act to increase the number of commissioners from three to nine to be elected for staggered six year terms.

—ban the sale of "look-alike" drugs, capsules and tablets that appear similar to narcotics but contain only caffeine or decongestants.

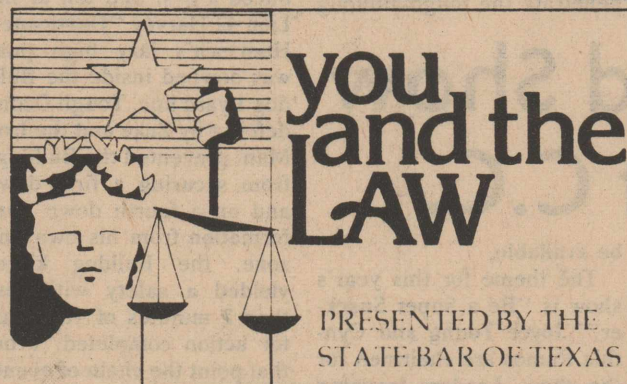

Oilfield Theft

Meanwhile, the House Energy Resources Committee reported that oilfield theft is producing losses estimated at $100 million in Texas, an old con that increased dramatically when crude oil prices rose following deregulation of domestic oil.

The committee urges the Railroad Commission to reinstate a manifest system requiring haulers to document origin and destination of materials transported, and for the Legislature to outlaw such transportation without proper manifest.

THE HIDEOUT CLUB, A PRIVATE CLUB LOCATED AT 157 MARTINEZ ST. OZONA, TEXAS IN CROCKETT COUNTY, HAS MADE AN APPLICATION TO THE TEXAS ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGE COMMISSION FOR A CHANGE IN LOCATION. WHEN APPROVED THIS CLUB WILL MOVE TO CROCKETT HEIGHTS BUILDING 13, 5 MILES EAST OF OZONA, TEXAS ON HWY. 290. OFFICERS ARE PRESIDENT, EDWARD J. GORSKI; VICE PRESIDENT, CARLOS LOPEZ; SECRETARY/TREASURER, NANCY P. OTWELL. 39-2tp

Q: A friend of mine was recently married here in Texas. Both she and her former husband believed that they were divorced in another state, but she recently discovered that this divorce was never granted. Is she now legally married? I say this is bigamy and she needs to consult an attorney to get the last marriage dissolved.

A: I am afraid you are correct: your friend and her first husband must complete their out-of-state divorce before she can re-marry. Great care will have to be taken to list the assets and debts she has in Texas and to make certain the divorce settles all matters between the couple. She will then have to observe the correct waiting period before she marries her Texas husband a second time.

Q: Concerning witnesses to the signing of a will: can the beneficiaries of a will serve as witnesses, and must the signing be witnessed by a notary public?

A: Let me separate out the two parts of your question: when you sign a formal Will, a notary must take your oath and the oath of the witnesses that you understand you are signing a testamentary document and that you wanted these people to witness.

Although any person over the age of 14 may witness, you do not want your beneficiaries to be involved in the signing ceremony. They are not disinterested witnesses, and the Will may be vulnerable to a challenge by a dissatisfied relative who did not inherit.

Q: My will includes a legacy to a 13-year-old girl. I directed my executor to buy her a certificate of deposit that will mature on her 18th birthday. I instructed the bank to issue her a trustee receipt but to retain custody of the certificate until maturity. I did not leave it to her in the name of a guardian or trustee because I wanted to be sure she would receive it. Is the procedure I used legal?

A: Texas law does not allow anyone under the age of 18 to inherit, so the gift to the child must be accepted by a guardian or trustee, even under the terms you specified.

You should ask your lawyer to explain the Texas Uniform Gift to Minors Act as well as some alternative trust arrangements. You will be able to insure the child inherits and at the same time save needless administration costs by a well-drafted trust or gift provision.

Q: Is there a law in Texas allowing a wife to file for separate maintenance, in a case of extreme mental cruelty and incompatibility? If not, what else can I do, short of divorce?

A: Texas does not have any provisions for enforcing separation and maintenance unless a divorce has been filed. Once the marriage is before the court, temporary orders can be entered for support, for use of the home, and for keeping the couple from interfering with each other. After the couple has been separated, the actual divorce can be postponed until final terms are reached or until the couple decides to reconcile.

Letters To The Editor

November 22, 1982

Dear Kitty:

My congratulations on your 'negative talk' on the suddenly proposed hospital district for Crockett County. I agree with you thoroughly, and furthermore, I think that next to a proposal to incorporate the town, the greatest mistake we could make would be to create a hospital district to operate the local hospital.

For my part, I am perfectly satisfied with the county-wide operation and financing of the hospital, under the responsibility of the Commissioners Court. I can understand if the Commissioners are in favor of a hospital district to "get these people off our backs," but they get no sympathy from me, because they asked for that when they ran for the office.

Joan Nicholas, in her letter to the editor recently, urges us not to "make negative noises" until, etc. We certainly didn't start the talk on the subject. I wouldn't have mentioned the proposition for a hundred dollar bill. So, since we didn't start talking on the subject, I feel I am entitled to and obliged to make a lot of negative noises. The Commissioners Court, as is the great American custom, 'appointed a committee' so to speak. They asked the county attorney to get some information together. In other words, tell us what is required to start the move to form a hospital district.

The Crockett County Hospital is presently supported by a "countywide district" the county as a whole, including all taxpayers, oil and gas producing firms, oil and gas royalty owners, homeowners, ranch property owners, livestock owners, oil industry service firms, real and personal property of all kinds, everybody and every company that pays taxes in the county. Would a hospital district include less? And if so, how would less taxable property improve the situation? If the proposed district includes the entire county, what's to be gained? Another administrative unit, new taxing powers, more politicians to endure, impossibly burdensome hospital bond issues to build a monument to the reigning hospital board—and most likely nothing more than a first aid station.

It is presently the responsibility of the Commissioners Court to oversee the hospital's operation. Appointing a 'hospital board' was thought a way out of responsibility. All the county has to do is put up the money. That attitude has led to hundred thousand dollar deficits, the inevitable result of poor management or lack of management. If anybody's unhappy with the hospital as it is operated in Crockett County, tell it to the Commissioners Court. They are the elected officials who agreed to shoulder the responsibility when they ran for office.

November 13, 1982
Chamber of Commerce
Ozona, Texas

Dear Sirs:

The purpose of my letter is to express my thanks and my gratitude for the prompt and courteous manner in which one of your merchants responded to my need on October 20, this year.

At about 4:15 p.m., on 20 October, I stopped by your office to seek help in having the front wheel bearings replaced on my Volkswagen camper. You referred me to a garage operating out of the front of the Ozona Body Shop.

I arrived at the garage at 4:30, talked with the mechanic, and, in spite of the late hour, he said he would make the repairs. He completed the work (which, inidentally, did prove to be more than just a routine bearing repair in that the bearings were frozen to the journals) at 6:30 p.m.

While I did thank the owner/mechanic, whose name I believe is Manuel, on the day he did the work, I would appreciate it if you would thank him once again for me, and tell him how comforting it is to know that there are merchants like him around in this day and age, when most people just won't work after 5 o'clock, who are kind enough to help a traveller in need.

Perhaps at your next Chamber meeting you could let your members know of this man's dedication to duty and what a nice feeling it is to a traveller to know that down the road there are towns and townspeople like Ozona and its people. It's sure nice to know that there are still some good Samaritans around!

Sincerely,

D.A. Broad

P.S. I have written this letter to you because I think you should know about the incident, but, also, because I do not know the name of the mechanic nor his address since his repair order does not contain that information.

Debra Says

By Debra Price

A large crowd attended the Christmas program by Darlyn Downing last Thursday. The cookbooks are excellent and will be available at the WTU office after Thanksgiving.

Let me remind you of the county pecan show and 4-H food show on November 29, at the Civic Center.

I hope you and your family will have a happy, safe, and joyful Thanksgiving. If you are cooking your own turkey this year, you will be glad to know turkey is an excellent meat buy. Follow the label instructions for roasting your turkey.

Follow your favorite dressing recipe for stuffing the turkey or bake the stuffing on the side. A turkey should be loosely stuffed. Allow 3/4 cup stuffing per pound of turkey.

Unstuffed turkeys require about 1/2 hour less roasting time. If not stuffed, rub salt generously in cavity. A few pieces of celery, carrots, onion, and parsley can be added for extra flavor.

If a roast-meat thermometer is used, insert it into the thick part of the inside thigh muscle or thickest part of the breast muscle. Roast the turkey at 325 degrees following the time chart on the label. A "tent" of foil placed loosely over the bird will eliminate the basting process. Remove the foil the last half hour for the final browning.

The stuffing should be removed from the turkey immediately after cooking and kept in the refrigerator. Left-over dressing should be used within 3 days and always kept in the refrigerator.

Turkey ranks higher in protein than any other cooked meat. Because of its high protein, low fat, and low cholesterol content it is used for many special diets.

The recipes below may be helpful in utilizing your left-over turkey.

Turkey Tetrazzini
 1 1/2 cup cooked thin noodles
 1/2 mushrooms
 1 bay leaf, crushed
 1/8 t. garlic powder
 1 1/2 t. salt
 1/4 t. black pepper
 2 T. salad oil
 1 1/2 cup diced cooked turkey
 6 T. margarine
 1/4 cup flour
 1/2 cup light cream
 1/2 cup milk
 1 cup chicken broth
 1/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese

Cook noodles. Saute mushrooms and celery in salad oil. Add all seasonings. Melt shortening and add flour. When blended, add cream, milk, and broth slowly. Stir until thick. In a greased 2-quart casserole dish, place noodles, turkey, mushroom and celery. Cover with white sauce. Sprinkle cheese over the top and bake at 325 degrees for about 25 minutes.

Shish Kabob
 On a plastic toothpick place an olive and a chunk of turkey breast. Dip in Firecracker Marinade.

[Firecracker Marinade]
 1/2 cup salad oil
 1/2 cup wine vinegar
 1 t. seasoned salt
 1/4 t. pepper
 2 t. Worcestershire Sauce
 1/4 t. Tabasco Sauce
 1 t. Tabasco Sauce
 1 t. paprika
 1 clove of garlic, minced

Turkey and Broccoli Casserole
 2 lbs. Texas turkey, cooked and diced
 Paprika
 2 lbs. frozen broccoli
 3 (10 1/2 oz) cans cream of chicken soup
 1/4 cup milk
 1/4 lb. Cheddar cheese, grated

Place cooked, diced turkey in bottom of oblong baking dish. Cook broccoli in salted water until tender, but not soft. Drain well. Layer broccoli over turkey. Blend soup and milk. Pour over turkey and broccoli. Top with grated cheese. Sprinkle lightly with paprika. Bake in 400 degree F. oven for 25 minutes or until cheese is melted and sauce is bubbling. Serve hot.

Couples social for sorority

The Country Club was the setting Friday night for a Mexican social of members and guests of Alpha Alpha Mu Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi.

Hostesses for the event were Jeannine Perry, Mrs. Cuatro Davidson and Mrs. Sandy Stokes.

Couples were entertained with Mexican music and treated to a meal of enchiladas, tacos, and other Mexican cuisine. Following the meal, games of Mexican Tripoli were played with Forest Henderson and Sandy Stokes winning top prizes.

 Mrs. Kirby Moore and Mrs. Pete North and Mrs. Robert Cox and Mrs. Sherman Taylor tied for the top spot in Duplicate Bridge Club play Saturday at the Country Club.

In play Sunday, Evert White and Mrs. Bill Baggett won and Mrs. Evert White and Mrs. Taylor were second.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED-Mr. and Mrs. Jess C. Marley announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Jennifer Lou, to Mr. James Murray Knox, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jamie Knox. Miss Marley is a student at Texas Tech University. Her fiancé is a graduate of Southwest Texas State University and is presently a production engineer for Mitchell Energy Corp. of The Woodlands. The wedding is planned for February 26, 1983 in Ozona United Methodist Church.

Womans Forum has Thursday meeting

The Woman's Forum met on Thursday, November 20, at the Civic Center with Mrs. L. D. Kirby and Mrs. Roy Pearson acting as hostesses.

The invocation was given by Mrs. Bill Carson. Mrs. Bonnie Warth introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Darlyn Downing, Electric Living Consultant with West Texas Utilities, from San Angelo.

Mrs. Downing displayed a beautiful holiday table and decorations. She also discussed her beautifully packaged Christmas goodies, decorations, and ornaments.

The president, Mrs. Gene Perry, presided at the business meeting. Mrs. Wayne Boyce was

Tips For Gardeners

From The Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

After the arrival of Thanksgiving tomorrow you may consider the time until Christmas very short.

Too, now that the days grow shorter, the importance of timely chores increases. Many have the task of raking leaves that have fallen the last few weeks, preparing new beds or working over old ones to be ready for new plants now or in the spring.

Maybe this list will assist when you are ready for spring jobs.

Planting from Thanksgiving to Easter-Fruits, nuts, fruiting vines, bush fruits, shrubs, trees, English peas, asparagus and strawberries. November to January-late winter and spring garden to be turned-composting-make pile early, turn it regularly, put in garden when soil is turned.

Pruning-Fruits by February 15-roses by March 15, if not planted in Nov. and Dec. Winter flowering shrubs, after bloom; summer flowering shrubs by March 1. Evergreens-shaping by mid-March, heavy pruning during March. February 1-fertilizing-manure on vegetable and flower gardens, asparagus beds, roses and strawberries.

Cottonseed meal on boxwood, camillias, azaleas and other evergreens by Feb. 1-fruits by Feb. 15. Propagating-root dormant wood cuttings by Feb. 1-Evergreens by March 1. Dormant spraying-fruits, flowering fruit trees, roses by Feb. 1.

If possible, obtain trees and start planting now. The roots begin to grow early and the plants become well established before the warm spring brings forth a new crop of leaves and shoots.

Now the foremost job is the removal of leaves from lawns, garden beds, shrubs

OUR DAILY BREAD

At the heart of the most cherished of Christian prayers is the plea "Give us this day our daily bread."

The Lord seems to be reminding his followers that we depend, for our very survival, on what God provides.

With strong emphasis, too, on the simple but wholesome nature of God's giving—bread, not cake.

Stressing the fact that our need continues without abatement—day after day after day.

Our thanksgiving, too, should be continual. But it never hurts to express it all together with common fervor as on Thanksgiving Day. Then live it every day of the year.

Notes from locker room

By-Ross Alexander

Diego Leal looked with contempt at the outstretched tape recorder.

"I've got nothing to say" he blurted, disgust dripping from his words like rain from a roof.

Losing comes hard when one's a winner. The multi-talented athlete, whose charisma exceeds that of David, Iron Man and Magic combined, who tolerated pain all season yet remained the Lion's finest pure running threat, ever-dangerous and continuously explosive, will return next year God willing. Diego can run, throw, kick and hit like a mack truck. Lion fans will not be surprised if Don Abbott taps this bright young man to run his veer attack next season. If the introspective Badillo could do well in Abbott's offensive fire storm, Diego can do even better. God blesses some more than others that way.

Ed Borrego: "Stamford was a really good ball club. We really played tough in the early part of the game, but our composure sort of collapsed a little in the fourth quarter when we really thought we'd created a favorable situation and fumbled. That hurt our confidence a little I think. It wasn't anyone's fault, but it still hurt. But our fans cheered us anyway even though we let them down. I've got two more years here at OHS, and I'm never going to let Ozona fans feel let down again. Thanks to all of the terrific Ozona fans for your love all year, and for backing us up even those who don't live in Ozona. I especially want to thank Coach Abbott and Coach Sexton, because they did it for us, and taught us how to execute with good technique...Coach Maldonado and Coach Curry did good jobs too."

Raymon Cedillo was caught up in the painful agony of an absolutely abject mood. He spoke with eyes red and swollen: "We tried so hard not to lose confidence we would pull it out...that someone would produce the big play that would make it all make sense. But they scored again and no matter how hard we tried, we couldn't make it back. That's what's so painful I believe. The fans sure came out and we thank them also." Raymon then slipped his head under a towel to be alone with his despair.

The Lion's Locker Room was no joyous place. Will Mason took the loss very hard. Although the intellectual, law-school bound all-district candidate's eyes were dry, they betrayed a deep and sullen shock, which he was, with difficulty, struggling to keep under control. He spoke with a pained eloquence: "I realize some people are going to find satisfaction in just the fact of our making it this far, but we didn't ever expect to lose to this team. This is not the toughest team we've faced, but it's the worst beating we've taken. On any given day, any team in 6 3A ball can defeat a smarter, better, more skilled team...Ballinger proved it before, and Stamford proved it today. We all thank the many fans whose faith in us grew as the season progressed. We owe them so much..." The Lion star turned away and continued to dress. Words, even for the most articulate of the Lions, were choked by a pain he will always remember to avoid. Defeat will do that favor, for a real winner.

Marcello Hernandez: "This was totally a shock to most of us. The game-breaking events happened so fast...it was out of reach before we knew it. Next year, some of us will not let our guys forget this awful feeling. Coach Abbott deserves a state title, and we will do it for him...and for Ozona."

Iron Man: "We had a couple of lapses in covering our areas of responsibility that hurt us, and of course the fumble midway the last quarter. They were a good tough team that wanted it a little more and fought a little harder, so they probably deserved to win. They played us in the last quarter, like we played Kermit. Thanks to all the fans for their love. We will always remember the love our Ozona people gave to us this year."

Hurricane: "It's tough...we've come so far against so many negative predictions. I know we could have beaten them. Maybe our rhythm was off...had it been a night game, or a rainy, cold day perhaps...who knows? But I want to thank the coaches...they helped us a lot, and our fans are the very best any team could have."

Greg Fierro: "I can't really say if they were the best we faced this year...but they won. I hope Ozona people will continue in the future to back up the team like they did this year. There's no way of knowing how good Ozona can get if they do back the guys next year. This year can be something to aim for in the future."

Magic was in pain all over, but his quick smile flashed despite the pain of the loss evident in his eyes. He spoke softly: "I thought I was hit just a little early and they called it. That really hurt pretty bad, but a big game like this, you hate to watch it from the sidelines. This was a stubborn little team that outlasted us in determination. I think I hope all the guys returning next year will win state for Ozona fans. They sure deserve it. I hope that enthusiasm will carry over into basketball season and beyond."

The Rifle was characteristically calm and reasoned, handling a painful situation with a surprising aplomb and detachment, considering the rampant despair which surrounded him: "Coach never did call on me... but I support his decision to stay with David. His coaching ability has brought us to a much better-than-expected spot, and I admire his mind... but it's tough. Just feel that our fans did a great job for us this year. Hope they keep it up."

Javier Sanchez: "We lost to a pretty good team and I wish them all the best. I want to thank all the guys on the team, the trainers and school personnel that were always with us even when others were doubting us. They've helped us have a great season."

After a fine dinner, the Lions boarded the bus for the last ride home of the long campaign. A brilliant golden sunset dominated the horizon as we rolled across the vast expanse toward home. It had been a long day of anticipation and high excitement for Ozona Lions and fans alike. Now it was at an end. But like that uncommonly beautiful sunset before us, our season, our team and our memories, thank God, will always remain golden.

Crockett County Care Center News

BY ANN McCARTNEY
DIRECTOR OF ACTIVITIES & SOCIAL CARE

Second Sunday afternoon activities began with a birthday party given by the family of Alice Locke in her honor. All residents ere included and enjoyed cake and ice cream after singing the "Happy Birthday" song. This was followed by Sunday church services, a song service given by the Catholic Church group.

Monday morning found Paul Cavin, Johnny Henderson, Maude Pettit, and Ola Mills playing a game of dominoes. Later in the week Johnny and Nila Turnell enjoyed a card game. Both Floy Clare Short and our newest resident, Hillary Phillips, joined their usual groups outside the center for games of cards and dominoes this week also.

Monday afternoon there was a fun sing-along held in the living room under the leadership of volunteer Sara Hignight. Musical instruments were given to everybody and everybody got in the act of keeping time with the beat. It proved to be a very fun event. Sara, come again soon!

Tuesday morning Moriama Perez won the El Chato dinner for two at bingo. Volunteers included Liz Mary Pipes, Doris Karr, and Dorothy Doll. Friday morning's bingo games made Paul Cavin the weekly winner. His gift certificate was donated by Watson's Dept. Store. Second place winner was Moriama Perez. Friday volunteers included Dorothy Doll, Alice Ross and Anna Bell Patrick.

Tuesday afternoon several ladies got a head-start on our usual Wednesday morning ceramics. They were back again Wednesday morning under the leadership of Ruth Hester and assisted by Marie Pierson and Louise Johnson. Residents working on getting ahead of the Christmas season with ceramic presents included: Moriama Perez, Maude Pettit, Ola Mills, Tomasa Ramos, Frances Borrego, and Juana Hernandez.

Wednesday afternoon Marie Pierson and Dorothy Doll assisted residents in making a Thanksgiving cake. This special cake was mixed by residents Ola Mills, Juana Hernandez, Tomasa Ramos, Alice Locke, Maude Pettit, Carol Reed, and Moriama Perez. The cake was baked in the kitchen by the kitchen crew and will be served at supper on Thanksgiving.

And, speaking of supper, after this meal on Wednesday residents were treated by the F.H.A. of Big Lake High School. These students, under the directions of their teacher, Susan Thorn, included: Clinton Moore, program chairman, Joel Ramirez, Alfredo Aguilar, Laura Levario, Eva Levario, Vincent Ramirez, Jeanette Castro, Aurora Cedillo, Norma Vasquez, Arthur Bocanegra, and Sandy Lopez. They not only entertained us with songs but also brought home made cinnamon rolls hot out of the oven. A real nice after supper treat.

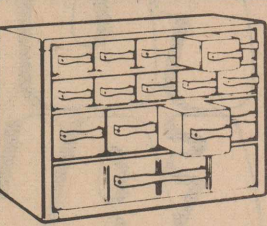

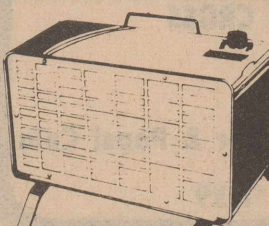

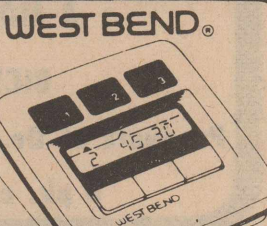

Thanks goes to Mrs. Eleno Moran was sharing her outdoor flowering grasses. We used them for our Thanksgiving decorations. We also appreciate the two lap throws made and brought by Mrs. Leon Dowdy.

Thursday morning was again beauty shop day. Volunteers were Bonnie Warth, Madye Jo Humphreys, and Arlene Clayton. Thursday afternoon the faithful members of the Faith Lutheran and the Catholic churches brought our Bible study and Spanish hour.

Friday afternoon we had a resident's council meeting. The T.V. was turned off for a few minutes and residents discussed coming events, gave ideas for future programs, and made plans for the coming holiday seasons.

Don't forget to drop by sometime.

Hugh Childress is in St. John's Hospital in San Angelo, in serious condition. He has been a patient there for several weeks.

JR. MISS PAGEANT HELD AT ODESSA
By-Gayla Bell

The Fine Arts Building at Odessa College was the site of the Permian Basin Jr. Miss Pageant, Saturday, November 20.

The event began Friday night with a very hectic dress rehearsal. This rehearsal began at 6 p.m. and ran until after 11 p.m.

The next day began in the same hectic manner. There were judge's interviews, a luncheon, and the actual contest at 7 p.m. Interviews consisted of such questions as the girls' feelings of patriotism, nuclear power, and the draft of women.

The pageant began at 7 p.m. with the parade of the Jr. Misses. Here, the girls introduced themselves, gave their age, and the high school they were attending. Following, there was a frenzied rush in order to get ready for the creative and performing arts competition. There was dancing, singing, poetry reading, and playing of instruments.

After the first eleven girls, the physical fitness routine began. This routine was performed to the tune of "Fame." The dance was vigorous and tiring, but even though the judges wanted to see it again, the girls were all smiles.

Number twelve in the talent competition began then, followed by the poise and appearance routine to the theme song from "ET."

The Spirit of Jr. Miss and the ad sales award presentation followed. The Spirit of Jr. Miss is awarded to the girl who best portrays a Jr. Miss. She is voted by the other girls in the competition to be awarded this honor.

The girls then went backstage to their small and crowded dressing rooms to change into their formals, while the reigning West Texas Jr. Miss, Tracey Estes, sang.

When the judges had reached their decision, the girls returned to the stage. At this time, the girls who won the talent competition, poise and appearance, and physical fitness contests were awarded. Then came the big moment everyone had waited for. There were tears of joy as the runners-up and the new Jr. Miss of the Permian Basin, Catina Boyle, of Midland, was announced.

Girls competing from Ozona were Karise Aycock, Sarah Falkner, and Jacinda Marley.

Karise wrote and acted out a humorous editorial on the "crazy group" called teenagers, as seen through the eyes of an adult. Sarah played the French horn with piano accompaniment by Gayla Bell.

Her selection was "Let's Just Praise the Lord." Jacinda did her routine from state twirling competition, to the song, "Eye of the Tiger."

The Lion's Roar staff would like to congratulate these three girls for qualifying for the pageant and comment them for a job well done.

LIONS END PLAYOFF HOPES
By-Karise Aycock

The Ozona Lions ended their hopes of a state championship last Saturday in San Angelo. The 6-3A bi-district champions were defeated by the Stamford Bulldogs 20-5 in the area play-off game.

The game remained scoreless the first quarter and most of the second. With 6:33 left in the half, Will Mason kicked a 36-yard field goal to give the Lions a 3-0 lead at halftime.

The second half saw the Stamford defense at its best. The Lions had only two first downs and 63 total yards.

Stamford scored in the third quarter on a four yard run to make the score 7-3. Early in the fourth quarter, Stamford chose to down the ball in the end zone. This gave the Lions a safety and brought the score to a close 7-5.

On the Lions' second play following the safety, Robert Flores fumbled the ball, Stamford recovered and from then on the Lions were a defeated team. Stamford scored twice more, and even though the first PAT was blocked, the Bulldogs ended up on top, the final score being 20-5.

Even though the Lions lost their area game, they won seven spots on the 6-3A all-district football team.

Robert Massey was named Player of the Year, and a secondary on defense. Zeke Martinez was a two-way choice at offensive tackle and defensive end. Harvey Huereca won the spot of running back and offensive punter. David Tijerina was chosen for linebacker on defense.

On the second team, David Badillo won honors for this outstanding job as quarterback. Running back Diego Leal and lineman Rowdy Holmsley and secondary Greg Fierro also represents the Lions on the second team.

LIONETTES SCRIMMAGE IRAAN
By-Cyndi Trujillo

The freshman, junior varsity and varsity girls traveled to Iraan Thursday evening for a no-score basketball scrimmage. The purpose of the scrimmage was to locate the girls' weak points and try to better them.

According to Coach Deaton, the girls on the junior varsity "played real well and looked great." "The varsity girls looked good in some places but still needs some work on their offense," commented Deaton.

INDIAN DAY
By-Irma Ybarra

Third graders at Ozona Intermediate School are studying Indians, and not only studying them, but imitating them as well.

The class makes Indian bankets, headbands, totem poles, and drums.

In their music class, the students study Indian music and learn that drums are used to send of messages, and killing people.

A highlight of their unit on Indians will be next week's "Pow-Wow." The event will be held during each third grade class music hour.

THE FIRST THANKSGIVING
By-Irma Ybarra

Mrs. Glasscock's 5th grade class will be presenting a Thanksgiving play called "The First Thanksgiving." The play will be given Tuesday 23, and Wednesday 24, at 8:20 in the Intermediate school cafeteria.

The director of the play is Mrs. Sarah Hignight, music teacher. She commented that the public is invited. The class has been working on the play two weeks. When asked if the kids were looking forward for the play Mrs. Hignight commented, "They're so excited they can't stand still when they're up there."

Mrs. Glasscock will grade the students on the costumes they wear, and on how well they do the scenery.

The Thanksgiving play is not an annual presentation, but the day after the Thanksgiving holiday, they will start working on their annual presentation, which is the Christmas play featuring Santa Claus and Rudolph the Red Nosed Reindeer.

The Stars of this play will be Chris Denman, Martin Childress, Philip Munoz, George Ybarra, Michelle Lambert, Michelle Ramirez and Kelly Williams. Others in the play will be Lissa Benson, Ricky Burger, Janina Carrizales, Debra Cervantez, Elizabeth Cervantez, Brian Cooke, Charles Dixon, Robert Dominquez, Leslie Hartman, Tracey Henry, Rene Hernandez, Rosario Ramos, David Van Orden, and Oscar Vargas.

THANKSGIVING THOUGHT
By Robbie Turnley

Remember the Thanksgiving story? The Pilgrims were given the right to leave England and therefore sailed and landed in Plymouth, Massachusetts. They thanked God for all the blessings they had received including freedom.

Giving heartfelt thanks to God is one aspect of prayer that Christians sometimes hurry over or neglect completely. This is especially true in times of difficulty when we do not feel particularly grateful. Yet, even in periods of suffering and fear, we should thank God for his abundant promises and unfailing goodness.

When we express our gratitude to Him, a wonderful change takes place within us.

Perhaps you have felt a shadow come over your life recently. Or maybe you're struggling under heavy burdens that seem unbearable. If so, thank the Lord for all He's done for you. Tell him you know He loves you and has not abandoned you. Express your gratitude for life, itself and for the good things around you. Then you'll experience for yourself the real blessing of Thanksgiving.

STUDENT OF THE WEEK
By Cyndi Trujillo

The student of the week is Mark Dudley, a junior at OHS.

Mark enjoys playing golf.

Some activities Mark has been involved in are golf his freshman and sophomore years and he has also been a manager for our football team for the past three years.

Mark's family consists of his mother, who is a teacher, his father, who is an accountant, and his brother, who attends college.

Mark will receive a boutonniere, compliments of the Flower Basket.

SOARING
By-Robbie Turnley

As the tow plane cuts us loose at 3,000 feet, my first impression is the sudden loss of vibration. Apart from that unexpected smoothness, all goes as I've feared it would. Our air speed decreases abruptly as we begin to fall.

The airport lies due north a mile away, and we have just enough altitude to make it by the crow's route. But to the southwest a cumulous cloud has begun to stack promising lift if we can make it that far. Should we fall short, the return will be impossible. We decide to go for it, and we bank to the south.

We keep dropping until I'm nearly able to count rooftop shingles. When we start to rise, the altimeter rises like a thermometer dipped in boiling water. We circle, drawn almost magnetically toward the towering cloud above us.

At 7,000 feet we sail out over loose air. We sink 1,200 feet, then catch an active thermal over an empty cornfield that pitches us back toward the sun.

I feel powerful and free, like I could go anywhere and stay up forever. We have room to waste, and we squander it lavishly on power dives, barrel rolls, stalls, hammerherd turns. At 5,000 feet we level off with outstretched wings, surveying the country like a hunting eagle, then swoop toward our roost. On the way, we detour once to catch a small thermal but lose it, burning precious altitude in the process.

Before we land, I look back over my shoulder and see a new cumulous building a mighty hydraulic off the port wing. But its too late... we have already spent our last move.

YOUTH-AMERICA'S STRENGTH
By Karise Aycock

The youth of today are the adults of tomorrow. It is these youth who are America's strength and it is important that the adults of today realize that.

In today's society, adults just dont seem to give their youth the credit due to them. Many see youth as America's weakness, not as it's strength. Maybe this is because the adults tend to look more at the youth who is on drugs or has some other type of problem, rather than the youth who is trying to make something of himself.

It is my belief that the adults should stop trying to help those who cannot be helped and start focusing on those youth who are going to be the leaders of the future.

You may ask, "How does one know in all this confusion which youth are going to be the leaders?" It is easy to see. Those youth who put everything they have got into everything they do are ambitious. Those youth who are leaders in high school and college are going to be leaders in their adult lives.

Those youth who are achievers and winners in their school and social careers are going to be achievers and winners throughout the rest of their lives.

This is the answer to America's future. Youth-America's strength-the ambitious leaders, achievers, and winners of tomorrow.

VANDALISM IS SERIOUS
By Gayla Bell

There is a problem today that plagues schools across the country. This problem is vandalism. Many students do not realize the cost of maintenance, school furniture, and books. They also do not realize that the education they are receiving is free. Vandalism is not free. It costs taxpayers money.

Vandalism ranges from dropping paper on the ground, to writing on desks, to breaking out windows. It defaces school property and makes it look cheap.

Students who vandalize school property are usually students who are not involved in activities at school or outside of school. They get bored and writing obscenities on a wall appeals to them and looks like great entertainment.

Vandalism makes the person look small. It shows that they have no character and no pride in their school.

HOW DO YOU FEEL ABOUT THE SPIRIT OF OUR SCHOOL AND OUR TOWN??
Compiled by-Melissa Galindo

David Delgado-It has been better than past years.

Zeke Martinez-It feels great. It's the best spirit we ever had in ages.

Randy DeHoyos-I think that the spirit we have is one of the strong points of our team, thanks for everything!

Rudy Martinez-I think the spirit of the school and town has been great this year and if it continues to stay the same the football players would always be fired up, and we would always have a great team.

Robert M.-It's alright, and its good for morale. We want more!

Carlos B.-Well, so far the whole community, students and band have done a great job in backing us up. Keep up the good work!

Edward Borrego-I really enjoy it and I think the fans give us all the spirit we need to win. It really plays an important part in our game, so keep it up and thanks!

Allen Dews-I think we can honestly credit most of our wins not only to ourselves but also to all the fans. Ya'lls spirit is great and it really makes us want to play our best for you. Please stay with us through out the year in all of our sports activities. But most of all please help all of us football players fulfill our dreams of a state championship team. Go Lions!

Johnny Rodriguez-I think that we have enough spirit but we could always have some more spirit because we need all the spirit that we can get from our high school because it makes us feel really good when we are in the field playing for Ozona Lions.

Marcelo Hernandez-Our school spirit is great! It could get better. It seems to be better as the year goes. As far as our community spirit, it just keeps getting better each week. We thank everybody for their support. We couldn't have done it without you.

Harvey Huereca-I think that the school spirit and town spirit is the best Ozona High School has had in a long time. We really appreciate what the town and school has done for the team. Without ya'll we could have never made it. Keep up the excellent work!!

Robert Flores-I think the whole Ozona fans can share the credit of our success. We couldn't have done a whole lot without their support. The fans are great and the Lion team loves them.

Will Mason-It is great to see such a great percentage of our town backing us in football. The fans seem to be more involved than some of the students. It makes the team feel wonderful and with all the support we have we should go all the way.

Lions #1
Ronnie Smith-It is a really good feeling listening to everybody in the stands. And the band has been great this year in backing us up. I hope all the fans go to San Angelo for our next game.

Henry Delgado-It is good to know that someone's behind us all the way. It has brought the community closer. The fans have done a super job. Keep up the good work. Thank all of you for your support!

Raymon Cedillo-I think it is great for the team in backing us up. I think the town spirit is at an emotional level of 110 percent.

David Tijerina-I think the highest point our team has is the backing up of our fans. We have had great fans all year around. I just thank God for the presence of our fans. I hope we keep having our super fans.

Gino Tambunga-I think there has been a lot of spirit and the fans have really backed us up. I just hope they keep it up because they really get us fired up before a game.

MEET OUR NEW ATHLETIC DIRECTOR
By-Noemi Gonzales

Teaching for fifteen years now at OHS is Coach Rip Sewell. Not only does Coach Sewell teach Driver's Ed this year, but he is also Athletic Director for OHS.

Coach Sewell graduated from the University of Tulsa, in Oklahoma in 1951. Thereafter he worked with Douglas Aircraft for one year.

Before moving to Ozona, Coach Sewell taught at two different high schools. He first came to Ozona in 1952 and has taught here ever since.

According to Coach Sewell, he "loves" teaching students all the necessary things of driving and owning a car. "It is something that you will always use" added Sewell.

Coach feels that the Athletic Period is something that the students "need". He also likes all the responsibilities he has.

Some of his responsibilities are to coordinate all the sports programs in both high school and junior high school transportation, assist the coach and students in whatever he can and making sure the coaches have all the equipment they need. If they don't, he orders it.

Mr. and Mrs. Rip Sewell, David, Kathy, and Danny Sewell.

They also have five grandchildren. Mrs. Sewell is the librarian for the Intermediate School.

Football

[CONT'D FROM PAGE 1] however to have the relatively poor Stamford punter, re-kick from the 15, opting instead to commence play from the Bulldog 45.

Two plays later, a Lion fumble eliminated Ozona's hopes for a go ahead field goal attempt, and Stamford's opportunistic quarterback drove his team in seven short plays to paydirt for the put away tally at the 6:47 mark. In a heroic attempt to keep the fading Lion chances alive, the Ironman managed to leap high into the air and block the PAT, but subsequent Lion failures to produce offensively led to still another 4th quarter TD for the Bulldogs, and the noble Lions, exhausted and somewhat disheartened were unable to effectively mount any substantial last-minute comeback threat.

plause rippled through the Ozona crowd. The Lions stood along the sidelines transfixed by the swift flow of events, stunned by the awareness that it was all over...that this fine season full of glory and excitement was closing forever...a strange sensation for these magnificent athletes. It was tough to lose against Stamford.

Highway construction gets underway on 190

Work has begun on U.S. 190 in Crockett County. The work consists of reconditioning the base and resurfacing, from R.M. 865 to 7.2 miles West of State Highway 163.

Jones Brothers Dirt and Paving Contractors, Inc. of Odessa are the contractors on the project. William F. "Bill" Dixon of Ozona is the Supervising Resident Engineer in charge of the project for the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation (DHT).

The contractor will begin working on the shoulders on the East end of the project. No major work on the existing roadway is anticipated until after the Christmas Holidays.

When work is in progress on the main roadway, traffic will be detoured around the site on each side of the road. Adequate barricades, warning signs, and when necessary, flagmen will be used to direct traffic.

The work will be completed by March or April 1983, according to the contractor.

The traveling public should watch for construction activities, slow down, and drive safely.

PUBLICATION GUIDELINES FOR WEDDINGS

Engagement announcements and pictures should be in this office not later than six weeks prior to the wedding. Wedding pictures and wedding information must be submitted the Monday following the wedding. The Stockman will no longer be able to give space to a wedding occurring prior to the first edition following the event.

Coach Abbott shows his sophomore QB how it will be done next year.

Fireplaces are not so hot after all

While many Texans are looking forward to enjoying the warm glow of their fireplaces this winter, the glow may be the warmest part of a standard masonry fireplace.

The average masonry fireplace delivers only 5 percent of the heat generated by the fire to the home, says Dr. Mike Walterscheid, forester with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The other 95 percent goes up the chimney.

In addition, the fire, when burning properly, draws between 500 and 600 cubic feet of air per minute. That air, enough to empty a 1,400 square foot home in about 20 minutes, is drawn into the home under windows, around doors and through cracks in the floors of even the finest homes. The result is that a fireplace can actually hinder, rather than help, your heating system, says Walterscheid.

Despite the inefficiency of a fireplace most persons whose homes have one will want to use it. The forester offers several suggestions that can add to the enjoyment of a fireplace.

Before the cold season sets in, check the chimney for obstructions and creosote buildup. Creosote, a tarry substance, is found in all types of wood and, as a result, will be found in all chimneys, not just the ones where creosote-treated wood has been burned.

A chimney rated as Class A by Underwriters Laboratories, Inc., among the safest chimneys available, will withstand temperatures up to 1,700 degrees F. for 10 minutes. Temperatures in a creosote-caused chimney fire can reach 3,000 degrees F. So, check the chimney and clean it if necessary before starting a fire.

Since a cold chimney will not draw as well as a warm one, hold a lighted, rolled-up newspaper toward the top and rear of the fireplace to warm the chimney and help prevent smoke from backing up into the room when the fire is started.

Allow ashes to accumulate to at least an inch deep on the hearth since they act as insulation and will help the fire burn more efficiently.

Add new logs to the rear of the fire where they will reflect light and heat into the room.

Use screens or glass doors in front of the fire to prevent sparks from falling onto the carpet or floor. Glass doors can double the efficiency of a fireplace, which means going from a 5 percent efficiency to a 10 percent efficiency. Glass doors also can be closed when the fire is unattended or at bedtime and will help keep home heat from escaping up the chimney.

Installing and using an outside air source directly into the fireplace can also help its efficiency.

Finally, never leave children unattended in a room where there is or has recently been a fire.

Sorority Ritual honors pledges

The executive board of Alpha Alpha Mu Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi was hostess for the Ritual Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Bill Glasscock.

The yellow rose, symbol of Beta Sigma Phi, was presented to new pledges as President Mrs. Rex Parker lead the candlelight ceremony.

New pledges were Miss Ellen Lipsey, Mrs. Tony Renfro, Mrs. Rodney Ruthardt, Mrs. Mike Preddy, Mrs. Tommy Morrison, Mrs. Ken Hamer and Mrs. Tommy Wilson.

The group also exchanged Christmas wishes, and discussed the upcoming Christmas party.

Members present were Mrs. Kent Burks, Mrs. Fred Chandler, Mrs. Dennis Clark, Mrs. Cuatro Davidson, Mrs. King Drake, Mrs. Bill Glasscock, Mrs. Forest Henderson, Mrs. Rex Parker, Mrs. David Porter, Mrs. B.T. Turland, Mrs. David Weant and Miss Jeannine Perry.

How do you treat a cold?

How do you treat a cold? Bundle up next to a roaring fire? Sweat it out by running several miles? Immerse yourself in a tub of homemade chicken soup? Or, do you run out to your local pharmacy and buy all the cold remedies you can find, hoping that one will provide relief?

If you do the latter, you're not alone. In fact, you contribute to a half-billion-dollar-a-year industry...and that figure doesn't include what is spent on aspirin.

A cold is caused by one or more of 120 different viruses and affects your body in many different ways. Viruses are usually short-lived and resist virtually all forms of medication. Most colds run their course in about a week, with or without cold medication—including antibiotics.

To treat a cold, doctors suggest the following: get plenty of sleep, drink more fluids than normal, eat well-balanced, light meals; avoid stress. Using cold remedies sold over the counter may provide temporary relief, which is important, but they won't "cure" or even shorten the stay of your unwelcome visitor, physicians say.

If you want temporary relief, physicians and pharmacists believe you should be aware of a few things before you purchase cold remedies.

Above all else, remember to read the labels carefully—and completely. Even over-the-counter cold medications interact with other drugs and can cause more serious medical problems. Also make sure that the drugs you purchase and use have not been tampered with. Inspect the package or bottle for any signs of tampering and return any suspect ones to your pharmacist.

There are two common types of cold medications; one includes ingredients that will act on a specific problem, while the other will work on every cold symptom from A to Z.

To help decide which medicine is right for you, first ask yourself some basic questions, like: "Do I have a single complaint or are there a variety of symptoms?"

"Is there any skin rash or irritation?" "What type of cough is it—'loose' or 'tight'?" If you aren't sure, consult your doctor. If you are reasonably certain you know the answers, ask your pharmacist for the best medication available over the counter.

Here are a few hints on how various medications work:

Antihistamines help stop a runny nose. When used in spray form, the drug contracts blood vessels which in turn constricts the dripping.

Oral antihistamines (tablet and liquid) act the same way. However, they can also restrict blood vessels in other areas of the body. People with high blood pressure, hyperthyroid conditions, diabetes, glaucoma or other eye diseases, should consult a physician before taking any cold medications, especially antihistamines. They may also cause drowsiness, and/or blurred vision.

Decongestants, which are found in a variety of cold medications, act differently than antihistamines—they reduce the stuffed-up feeling that may accompany a cold. They are often mixed with other cold remedies instead of being marketed as a separate product.

Coughing is an annoying aspect of a cold. However, it does serve a function. Coughing is a natural defensive reaction against fluid buildup in the lungs. Therefore, trying to stop a cough is not advised. There are a variety of cough medications on the market designed to do different things for different types of cough...expectorants induce coughing, while antitussive syrups restrain them. Before purchasing a cough remedy, ask your pharmacist which is best for your type of problem.

Last, and certainly not least, is aspirin. Americans take more than 20 billion aspirin tablets a year—a daily consumption rate of more than 20 tons. Although aspirin is the most commonly used drug, it can be harmful unless label directions are followed. Because of its wide use, aspirin leads over-the-counter medications as a cause of adverse reactions leading to hospitalization or other problems such as gastric irritation.

Aspirin is mainly used to reduce the aches and pains that can accompany a cold. It is an anti-inflammatory drug. Thus, it reduces swelling in the joint tissues of the body. Aspirin effectively combats fever as well. However, like a cough, a fever can be an important body reaction to your cold. It is important to treat the cause of the fever, not just the rise in body temperature alone. If a fever persists more than three days while taking aspirin, consult your physician.

Aspirin substitutes, known as acetaminophen also work to reduce fever, but they do not contain the anti-inflammatory ingredient found in aspirin. The lack of this ingredient makes the substitute less irritating to the stomach lining. In some instances of a cold accompanied with an upset stomach, the acetaminophen may be preferred. Regardless of which you choose, doctors strongly recommend taking only the recommended dosage—two tablets every four hours if you're over 12 years old.

To repeat—sleep, get plenty of fluids, eat a balanced diet and avoid stress—they are your best bet in the battle against the common cold. If your symptoms last longer than seven days, consult your physician right away. Always remember to read prescription drug and cold remedy labels carefully. When used wisely, over-the-counter cold medications and aspirin can provide welcome temporary relief from your cold.

Bloodmobile is due here

The Holiday Season is here! Time for lots of good food and good times. Time for plans and preparations. Are you ready?

It's for sure that Ozona is making plans and preparations to meet the increased holiday blood needs at Crockett County Hospital and the surrounding area. Won't you join in?

November 29, between 3:00 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. at the Chamber of Commerce Building, Ozona will sponsor a United Blood Services bloodmobile. If you're 17 (with minor donor permit) or older please take 30 minutes to come by and donate a "pint of life."

Help your community guarantee there will be enough blood for the holidays. We need you!

Bids for the Ingham Trap are now being accepted by the Crockett County Commissioners Court and will be opened at the regular meeting of the court in December. The trap, approximately 100 acres, will be leased for a period of one year with a one year option, starting January 1, 1983. The lease is for grazing purposes only. A copy of the lease may be seen in the offices of the County Judge or the County Auditor. Judge John R. Jones 39-2tc

Cards of Thanks

CARD OF THANKS

Thank you Ozona for the many ways in which you showed the Lions how much you cared for them. All your actions, from donations of materials for signs, to permitting your windows to be painted, to helping form the victory line at game time, to balloons, to words of encouragement to the boys and coaches, were appreciated by us who are especially close to the boys.

Even though the team lost the game to Stamford in San Angelo they are still winners. Everyone who demonstrated their loyalty to the Lions have a share in all the victories the team and coaches have enjoyed. It has been fun and we are looking for the community spirit to last the rest of the school year. Our youth are important to all of us. Some Ozona Lion Fans

We would like to give special thanks to our sponsors to the Junior Miss Pageant:

- Ozona National Bank
- Crockett Co. Nat'l Bank
- The Ozona Stockman
- The Teacher Store
- We would also like to thank Jake Young, who was a major contributor to the Pageant this year.
- A very special thanks goes to Jess Marley for providing air transportation between Ozona and San Angelo, so we could participate in the game as well as the pageant.
- Thanks, also, to all our friends who gave us so much encouragement.
- Contestants in the Permian Basin Junior Miss Pageant: Karise Aycock, Sarah Falkner, Jacinda Marley
