Ranchers are urged to bring their 1982 wool, mohair, and unshorn lamb sales by the ASCS office. The deadline for bringing in sales documents is January 31, 1983. When bringing in documents for wool and mohair we will need the following information: the number of head, the hearing date, and if there was any freight.

In final meet of year-

Court discusses many and varied projects

The Crockett County Commissioners Court met in regular session Monday for the final meeting of the current year and discussed many projects which are going to require some monumental budget corrections in coming years, due to expansion and growth in the community.

After bills were approved and several reports received from various county departments, a delegation from the Ozona schools was received. Superintendent Foy Moody, school board members, Jeffrey Sutton and Cecil Buckner, and librarian Sherri York, met with the court to ask that the county library be separated from the school library. This was one of the projects the increased growth of the community and the school system has made necessary.

County officials have known for some time a move must be made in this direction. The librarian, Ms. York, said she felt the county library would be utilized by the public more if it were in a more accessible location.

The group expressed its appreciation for the new road at the Primary School and said it had made a great improvement in traffic safety at the school.

The court discussed several options for moving the library, and made plans to take a further look at each. The members were in agreement about a location with parking space and without stairs.

Henry Elledge gave the road department report and said work on various projects was normal for the time of the year. He also reported an over-supply of rock from the Taylor Box Road project and said it would be moved to the dump ground to be used as fill. The road department absence policy was discussed and it was agreed to retain the policy of being for one year before giving any paid sick leave. Long-term employees will be given more consideration. The court also ordered that to be eligible for overtime, the employee must have worked 40 hours in a week.

The court discussed a full time maintenance crew, but since the budget for the department does not allow it for the coming year, action must come at a later date. James Conaway, hospital administrator, gave the hospital report and although the financial picture was not bright, he seemed to indicate the past month was one of the better months with a loss of $64,000. The patient load was up, but expenses have grown as well.

The meeting with the representative of the Texas Hospital Association about a hospital district was discussed. Two of the court members, Sostenes DeHoyos and Jesus Castro, were present for the meeting, but neither expressed a desire to assist in forming a district. Indeed, County Judge Johnny Jones said the court could not take a stand on the issue except as individuals in the community. However, Commissioner Jack Williams went on record "against," explaining with only one town in the county and one hospital, he saw no need to create a new taxing unit.

Some discussion on the deterioration of the physical plant was discussed, but no action was taken.

Hospital board members were discussed and the judge asked for discussion on the appointment of three new hospital board members. The board is made up of six members of the community, but is presently operating with five. Each year the court appoints three new members. Conaway told the court Beth Boyd, a member whose term expires, had expressed a desire to serve another term. He was told that it was not the policy to re-appoint board members. Some names were given to the judge for consideration when the court appoints new board members next month.

In other hospital business, the court discussed a raise in salary for the administrator, given by the hospital board, and authorized the county auditor to transfer $175,000 to the hospital and $60,000 to the care center from the general fund.

Dudley McCary met with the court to complain about vandalism at the Youth Center. He reported he had replaced 60 ceiling tiles which had been mutilated with pool cues about three months ago, and a recent inspection had turned up 49 in the same condition. He suggested the court get closer supervision for the youths at the center. The court told McCary not to replace the damaged tiles and was assured the court would take some action.

Bids for the Ingham Trap were opened. The county leases the trap for one year with a one-year option. Only three bids were submitted. Gene Cooper bid $502.50; Jesus Sanchez, $650, and Weldon Maness, the present leasor, bid $500. The high bid was accepted.

The application for a salt water station 25 miles west of Ozona near I-10, was brought up by Judge Jones. Some discussion was held on the problem of salt water in West Texas, especially in Crockett County, where fresh water is being contaminated by the brine water used by oil companies.

Ozona falls to Eagles in tourney

The Junction Eagles, using a loose zone defense, and displaying a persistent and consistent ability to execute the fast-break offense, managed to out-run and out-gun the Ozona Lions 70-60, in the championship round of the 52nd Annual Tournament held here Saturday night.

The Eagles' fine all-tournament backcourt ace, Mike Alvarado, simply overwhelmed the Lions' guards with his quickness and accurate shooting, while moving Junction up-court quickly and capitalizing on the Lions' rather sluggish transition game.

The contest was nip and tuck for the first 3 quarters with Ozona using good inside defense to stay close, but in the crucial 4th quarter, Ozona's stubborn determination to walk the ball upcourt, slowing the pace and altering their offensive rhythm proved to Junction's advantage as the Eagles widened the gap.

"I believe some of the people were getting a little tired out there and just making careless mistakes and they made free throws while we didn't...that was the main difference in the game," Dan Bean explained afterwards. "They had me shut out there pretty well... I wasn't working tonight as good as I usually do."

Dan, playing against all-tournament selection Nicky Haines, was held to 6 points and just 2 rebounds.

"We've got real good talent and everything, but we just haven't quite gotten our game down with the skills our coach wants us to play with," Zeke Martinez added. "We're going to get serious in practice and everything and try to do the job better now."

Zeke, playing tough basketball in the teeth of Junction's floating zone defense, managed to score 12 points with 3 pairs of hands in his face all evening. Ozona's 2nd year all-tourney standout did a lot of passing, since the defense tended to collapse around him for much of the contest. Against such a zone, an effective perimeter shooter is a necessity, and Steve Sanchez, recently elevated by Head Coach John Curry to the varsity is one of the sharp shooters in the district.

Steve ended with 10 points and several fine rebounds down the stretch.

Robert Flores, another reliable gunner was reluctant at times to fire it up, although his early offensive contributions kept the Lions in the game. Flores, who crashes the boards better than any Lion guard, can be counted on to follow his shots and has shown a willingness to lead the fast-break preferring to push the ball up-court to capitalize on scoring opportunities presented by the transition openings. His heroics in the opening game of the tournament may well have accounted for the difference in the outcome.

David Badillo showed conclusively that he can steal the ball almost at will, but only did so late in the game when Junction had moved out to an insurmountable lead.

Asked about the lack of a running offense against the Eagles, Coach Curry smiled and acknowledged the point. "They did to us what we'd hoped to do against them. We can't run if we don't get the defensive rebounds... we've just got to improve our showing on both the offensive and defensive boards."

It was the 12th time in 52 years that Ozona has had to settle for runner-up honors in its tournament. The Lions have won it all only 5 times during the long history of the tournament.

This week Ozona travels to Rankin to the Red Devil Tournament, where the Lions' first round opponent will be Greenwood, defending Class A Regional Champions. Stuart Burleson, an All-State standout will lead his squad in the 10:30 a.m. tilt and it should be a honey.

Christian radio program set by KRCT Sunday

A new radio program of contemporary Christian music, "On Track", will debut on KRCT-FM Sunday at 8:30 a.m.

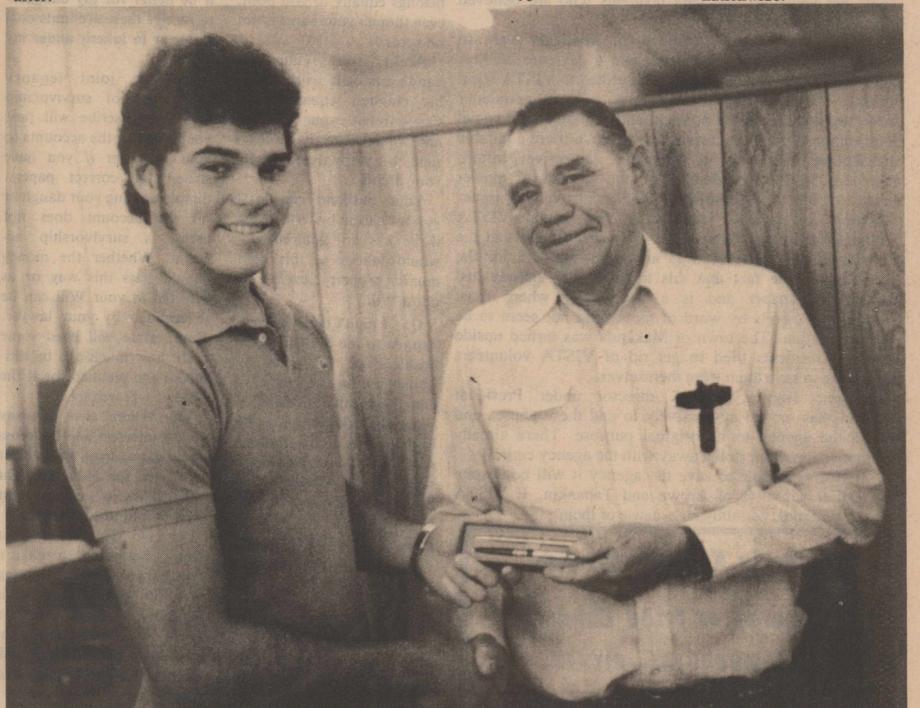

The 30-minute show, produced by the Southern Baptist Radio and Television Commission (RTVC), combines an interview and short religious message with the music of top performers of religious rock.

Contemporary Christian music is fast gaining popularity across the country. Several secular recording companies recently have started gospel music labels. Statistics show that gospel and country have gained more in record sales than any other types of music.

Early marketing efforts for "On Track" confirmed this popularity. More than 120 radio stations had scheduled the program even before it debuted, most without even hearing it. It is the fastest start of any new RTVC radio show.

The RTVC provides free program offers to listeners who respond to the show and provides counseling to people who write about personal problems.

The Radio and Television Commission is the world's largest producer of religious radio and television programming for airing on public service time. Its programs are aired 5,559 times each week on 3,775 radio and television stations nationwide.

THIS YEAR'S WINNER in the Voice of Democracy Contest, sponsored annually by the Veterans of Foreign Wars was Harvey Huereca. The contest was conducted through David Porter's speech classes at Ozona High School. VFW Commander Bob Balley presents Huereca with the local prize, a pen set. Huereca's recorded speech will compete at the regional level.

SEEKING NEW VISTAS

By Edwin Feulner

While the Weathermen agitated college campuses, blacks rioted in the streets, and our GI's died in Vietnam, the poets said give peace a chance. Large parts of white middle-class America tripped-out, freaked-out and dropped-out in an effort to find meaning in their lives. The high-energy idealism of the '60s resulted for many in a disdain for bourgeois values and a heightened concern about the plight of the poor.

VISTA (Volunteers in Service to America) was born of this era and originally attracted many young people who genuinely wanted to help those less fortunate than themselves. The program started out on the right track . . . a good idea with noble aims.

Unfortunately, the VISTA program fell far short of fulfilling its obligation to the poor — and became, instead, a training ground for community activists wishing to change "the system" from within.

This picture, long a suspicion of conservatives, emerges clearly from information about the Carter-era VISTA program that is just now beginning to come to light thanks to the investigative spadework of William Poole, one of the country's most proficient analysts of the American Left.

Under Carter administration appointees Sam Brown and Margery Tabankin — both New Left activists — the "volunteer" agency launched a national grants program. The program, however, Poole says, was used to large degree to funnel money from the federal government to organizations that, to be kind about it, think the American system stinks.

The VISTA Guidance Reports, issued in 1979 under Brown, suggested, for example, that VISTA volunteers should directly help their constituents, the poor, only "if the provision of that service is part of an overall organizing strategy." In other words, community organizing — a New Left euphemism for what most of us would call "troublemaking" — was to take precedent over helping the poor.

Take the case of Makanda, Illinois. Makanda is a small community in southern Illinois with a population of 407. The average family income is $12,000. There are about 40 Makanda residents who are believed to be below the poverty line.

VISTA's two major projects in Makanda were to establish a community newsletter and a day-care facility. The MCDC goals and objectives submitted to VISTA state: "Goal: To organize and distribute a local newsletter informing citizens about political and economic and social information needed to successfully effect a more equitable distribution of power in Makanda. Objective: Inform members of the community of the misuse of power practiced by local politicians and controversial issues affecting low-income residents." The actual VISTA Volunteer Plan for action states very specifically that the newsletter was to be used as an organizing tool for the community. The fact that this town of 407 already had a local newspaper and is a community where most information travels by word of mouth did not seem to be a consideration. The town of Makanda was turned upside down as residents tried to get rid of VISTA volunteers who came to save them from themselves.

Connie Horner, VISTA director under President Reagan, has moved aggressively to end these abuses and return the agency to its original purpose. There already is strong support for doing away with the agency entirely.

If Horner is able to save the agency it will be despite the earlier activities of Brown and Tabankin. If VISTA dies, it will most certainly be because of them.

GREAT AMERICAN FANTASIES

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS
By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Faced with rising expenditures needed for highways, public education and the prison system—not to mention future water problems—will the 68th Legislature convening next month pass a new tax bill?

Last week Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby remarked to freshmen lawmakers that a new tax bill of $1.25 million was needed to meet Texas' needs, and in one simple statement he summed up the crux of the next session.

Is Texas government going to have enough money?

Hobby touched a nerve. Republican Party officials promptly criticized Hobby for wanting to raise taxes to live up to Democratic campaign promises to various groups.

And Gov.-elect Mark White promptly stated he was committed to Texas living within its means without raising taxes.

Growth, Cuts

Coming from Hobby, a new tax suggestion carries clout that makes wise heads at the Capitol believe that perhaps a new tax is actually necessary.

Hobby is a conservative Democrat, disliked by some liberal factions, yet he has dared to depart from the conservative litany of "no new taxes."

For the past few weeks he has served as chairman of the Legislative Budget Board, daily slashing funding increases proposed by state agencies.

Hobby knows government budgeting like the back of his hand. When House Speaker Bill Clayton steps down next month, Hobby's knowledge of state government will be unrivaled.

He says new taxes are needed because of growth in population, cuts in federal funds to states, inflation, and growing demands for the state to cover costs for local governments.

Gas Tax Hike

Privately, lawmakers are probably resolved to the fact they will raise the state excise tax on gasoline by a nickel per gallon, new revenues that will go to build and repair state highways.

Much depends on whether Congress acts sooner to pass a similar nickel-per-gallon fuel tax, and how much will be returned to the individual states.

The gas tax increases are quietly supported by a number of groups, including the Texas Municipal League which wants a penny of the increase reserved for cities.

White's Advisors

The new governor, Mark White, is playing his appointment cards awfully close to his chest, still no inkling of who his Secretary of State will be. Speculation for weeks now is that his top executive officer, John Fainter, can have it if he wants it.

Others expected to play key roles in advising White are: political campaign whiz Dwayne Holman of Austin; Texas Democratic Party Chairman Bob Slagle, a Sherman lawyer; former party chairman Calvin Guest, now a Bryan S&L executive; Austin financier Robert Baldwin; White's campaign treasurer Shannon Ratliff, an Austin attorney and Jim Nelson, high among White's staffers in the Atty. General's office.

BY ANN MCCARTNEY
DIRECTOR OF ACTIVITIES & SOCIAL CARE

December is a busy month at the Care Center. We have many extra things going on and lots of people to thank, so many that at times we may miss someone. We do appreciate all the things done for our residents.

For instance, every morning everyone who can read a newspaper but cannot buy one for themselves is furnished one, compliments of Baggett Insurance Agency. On Wednesdays everyone is given a copy of the Ozona Stockman, compliments of the Ozona Stockman. Many thanks goes to both these company owners!

The Catholic Church came for our first Sunday services this month. They always bring a nice song service, I am told.

Monday afternoon the United Methodist Church furnished a movie for our residents' enjoyment.

Tuesday morning we were happy to welcome Lizzie Perner to bingo for the first time. Winner of the El Chato dinner for two was Paul Cavin. Volunteers were Dorothy Doll, Louise Johnson, and Alice Ross.

Friday morning was once again popcorn and bingo time. Volunteers were Anna Bell Patrick, Dorothy Doll, and Alice Ross. Winner of the gift certificate from The Teacher's Store was Juana Hernandez. Second place winner was Jesus Hernandez.

Friday afternoon volunteer Dorothy Doll assisted residents Ola Mills, Juana Hernandez, and Tomasa Ramos with Christmas crafts in felt. Juana and Tomasa made presents for their daughters while Ola made decorations for the day room Christmas tree.

Dominoes were played several times this week, Christmas cards were passed out, Christmas present hand-work is being done. Everyone who wants to be busy stays busy.

Speaking of Christmas cards, a special thanks goes to Sulema Martinez for her donation of four boxes of cards.

One other thanks, and that is to the Church of God of the Prophecy for their fruit basket. Thanks, friends!

Letters to the Editor

December 13, 1982

Dear Editor: Madalyn Murray O'Hare, an atheist, whose efforts successfully eliminated the use of Bible reading and prayer from all public schools fifteen years ago, has been granted a Federal Hearing in Washington, D.C. on the subject of religion and the airways by the Federal Communications Commission (FCC). The petition R.M. 2493 would ultimately pave the way to stop the reading of the Gospel on the airways of America. She took her petition with 27,000 signatures to back her stand.

If her attempt is successful, Sunday worship services being broadcast either on radio or television may stop. Many elderly people and shut-ins as well as those recuperating from hospitalization or illness depend on radio and television to fulfill their worship needs every week.

Mrs. O'Hare is also campaigning to remove all Christmas Programs and Christmas songs and Carols from the public schools.

You can help this time. We need 1,000,000 (one million) signed letters. This should defeat Mrs. O'Hare and show that there are still many Christians ALIVE AND WELL AND CONCERNED in our country.

This is petition No. 2493. There are letters at many local retail stores in Ozona. Please ask for these letters, fill one out today and send it immediately. The instructions are on the letters.

Thanks, Bobby Aycock

Carpets represent a considerable expenditure in regard to the family budget.

The right decision about carpeting depends on a basic understanding of carpet fibers and construction. It is also important to consult a reputable dealer and to read the carpet label very carefully before making a choice.

Most carpets are made by one of four methods—tufted, woven, needle-punched or hand-knotted.

Tufted carpets are made on a tufting machine. Yarns are looped into a pre-formed backing. Then an adhesive coating is applied and a second backing attached.

Woven carpets are made on high-speed looms in one single operation. Woven carpets will not come loose or unravel.

Needle-punched carpets are made on a pre-woven fabric. Needle-punched carpeting has a smooth surface and is often used for indoor/outdoor use and kitchens and baths.

Hand-knotted carpets and rugs are generally made in the Middle East. They are usually handmade, and are expensive.

Carpet fibers chosen depend on durability, wearability, and price. Carpet fibers to consider are:

Nylon is especially durable, resistant to abrasion and is water absorbent. Look for nylon carpeting with fibers that have been twisted and heat set. This process prevents crushing or matting. Nylon carpeting is also non-allergenic.

Polyester carpeting resembles wool in appearance. It is moisture resistant and comes in a variety of textures and colors. Polyester carpets are less resilient and should be used in low traffic areas.

Acrylic carpeting is the closest to wool of all the man-made fibers. It is crush resistant, fade resistant and cleans easily.

Wool is a natural fiber and is an excellent carpeting material. Wool is crush resistant, durable and easy to clean. Check to see that it has been moth-proofed. Wool carpeting is considerably more expensive than man-made fibers.

The best guide to quality in carpeting is its density. Density refers to the number of ounces of yarn in each square yard of carpeting—and the denser it is, the better the quality.

To check for density, bend back the carpeting to expose the backing. The more backing you see, the less dense and durable the carpet will be.

Texture refers to the surface pile of the carpet. Plush carpets have a velvety look and show footprints. Cut and looped carpet creates a sculptured effect, and is excellent for high traffic areas. Shag carpeting creates a casual look, but is hard to deep clean. One-level looped carpet is durable and is used in kitchens and other areas where soil is kept on the top surface.

So, read the carpet label, consider the durability area being carpeted, consult a reputable carpet dealer, and ask lots of questions before buying carpeting.

POPCORN BALLS [Light Corn Syrup]

5 quarts popped corn
2 cups sugar
1 1/2 cups water
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup light corn syrup
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 teaspoon vinegar

Keep popcorn hot and crisp in slow oven, 300° F. to 325° F. Boil sugar, water, salt and corn syrup until it forms a hard ball. Add vinegar and vanilla and boil to light crack stage. Slowly pour over corn stirring well so that every kernel is coated. Press into balls and let stand in cool place until hard. Wrap in moisture-proof paper.

POPCORN BALLS [Molasses]

1 1/2 quarts popped corn
1/2 cup molasses
1/4 cup sugar
1/2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1/4 teaspoon salt

Place popped corn in a large bowl. Cook molasses, sugar, butter or margarine and salt. Brittle threads form when syrup is dropped into cold water, 305° F. on candy thermometer. Pour hot syrup over popcorn.

MULLED APPLE CIDER

2 sticks cinnamon
A few cloves
2 jugs apple cider (1 gallon and 1 quart)

MEXICAN HOT CHOCOLATE

6 ounces semi-sweet chocolate, grated
6 cups milk
1 teaspoon cinnamon

Mix chocolate and milk in small pan over low heat. Stir until the chocolate is melted and steaming; then stir in the cinnamon. To make the chocolate frothy, beat with a whisk or a molinillo (wooden beater, twirled between your palms). Serve hot or cold. If served hot, stir well before pouring into glasses and adding ice cubes.

Tips For Gardeners

From The Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

We wish you a very merry and meaningful Christmas.

Our city is aglow with beautifully lighted streets, homes, parks and the business areas.

Christmas decorations have diversified origins, coming to us from countries and different times. Evergreens, for example, had mystical significance to all the ancient peoples who revered the sun as a source of life, warmth, and light, because evergreens held their leaves unlike the deciduous plants. Cuttings of holly, mistletoe, laurel, ivy and rosemary were used in their religious ceremonies and to brighten their homes. Today we use greens and many other materials to welcome the holidays and guests to our homes.

Now that you will be receiving foliage plants for the holidays, you may have problems so here are a few hints how to recognize the problems. Brown tips or burned margins of leaves are caused by too much fertilizer, plants too dry, windburn, fluorine, or chlorine damage. Yellowing and dropping of leaves are caused by gas fumes, chilling, too much water, poor drainage, or poor aeration.

Weak growth, light green or yellow leaves are caused by too intense light, lack of fertilizer, or a poor root system. Wilting could be due to too much heat, lack of water, or root injury. Spindly growth and small leaves are caused by too little light or too high temperature.

An informal door or wall decoration is the popular greenery shray made with branches of several varieties of juniper, pine and other evergreens you have. Use heavier wire to secure the heavy branches together at the top. Pine cones, or ornaments may be attached in small groups or along the branches with smaller wire. All weather ribbon should be used for out-door use. Cut and harden the evergreens branches in buckets of water and place in a cool place until needed.

BROWN FURNITURE will be open on Saturdays through Christmas. 35-11c

Strategies for tax saving at year's end

With 1982 winding down, farmers and ranchers need to take a close look at their income tax situation. A few smart decisions to adjust income or expenditures before the end of the year might save considerable tax dollars.

"The key thing is for farmers and ranchers to consider the tax impact before making any major sale or purchase," points out Dr. James Ahrenholz, economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

"The general purpose of year-end tax planning is to level out taxable income from year to year to avoid jumping through several tax brackets from one year to the next," notes the economist.

However, 1982 offers a certain dilemma for many agricultural producers. With another tax reduction (about 10 percent) slated for 1983, producers may feel inclined to shift some taxable income into next year, particularly if 1982 taxable income will be above average.

On the other hand, pushing income into 1983 could be a costly mistake if income prospects for next year look better or if such action will create a net operating loss (NOL) this year.

"Avoiding a NOL is important from several standpoints," says Ahrenholz. "Personal deductions and exemptions should add up to at least $5,400 for a couple with no dependent children and $7,400 for a family of four. If income does not equal these levels, these allowances will be lost."

Social Security retirement benefits also will be affected by low net earnings in preretirement years. And contributions to a Keogh or IRA retirement plan may be affected if taxable income falls too low.

"To find out where you stand on 1982 taxable income, use last year's tax tables and schedules and subtract 10 percent," says

"To find out where you stand on 1982 taxable income use last year's tax tables and schedules and subtract 10 percent," says the economist. "For a rough estimate of 1983 taxes, subtract another 10 percent. Remember that the maximum capital gains tax on the sale of land, machinery or other investments is 20 percent."

Delaying expenses is a sure way for the cash basis taxpayer to shift taxable income from 1983 to this year, says Ahrenholz. This can be done by postponing purchases until next year or by waiting until next year to pay for fertilizer or lime that's needed before the end of the year.

Certain soil and water conservation and land clearing expenses can be capitalized and depreciated rather than taking them all this year. If this election is made for soil and water conservation expenses, then it must be continued in future years. However, the choice to expense or capitalize land clearing costs is an annual election, the economist points out.

Producers might also be able to defer paying certain taxes and interest until next year. And shifting capital assets bought before 1981 from a rapid method of depreciation to straight line depreciation can postpone deductions.

"Farmers also can boost their 1982 income by making sure they receive payment for grain and livestock sales before yearend," Ahrenholz explains. "In addition, they can receive advance diversion and deficiency payments when they sign up for the 1983 wheat, feedgrain and cotton programs."

CCC crop loan proceeds can also be included in

VA urges vets protect papers

The Veterans Administration is reminding veterans and their families to safeguard important documents relating to their military service, marriage, life insurance and VA correspondence.

Discharge papers, marriage certificates or child custody evidence should be secured from fire, theft or loss, as well as government and commercial life insurance policies, any VA correspondence with identifying claim numbers, social security numbers, wills and where applicable naturalization papers.

The VA reminds potential beneficiaries that they should be aware of survivors benefits which may include VA pensions, dependency and indemnity compensation for service-connected death, burial benefits and interment in a national cemetery for the veteran and his or her dependents.

The few minutes spent by the veteran in organizing and protecting his or her documents—and informing the family of their whereabouts—can do much to avoid needless anguish during times of emotional stress.

Veterans should also alert their families that information and assistance concerning benefits are available at the nearest VA Office.

The few minutes spent by the veteran in organizing and protecting his or her documents—and informing the family of their whereabouts—can do much to avoid needless anguish during times of emotional stress.

New Books

New fiction books have recently been added to the collection of the Crockett County library. They are as follows:

- And More by Andy Rooney
- Crisis: The Last Year of the Carter Presidency by Hamilton Jordan
- Even More Recipes from the Backs of Boxes, Bottles, Cans and Jars by Ceil Dyer
- The Fall of Freddie the Leaf by Leo Buscaglia
- Guinness Book of World Records 1983
- Keeping Faith by Jimmy Carter
- Leaders by Richard Nixon
- Miracle at Midway by Gordon W. Prange
- To Love a Child by Nancy Reagan

income in the year received. Once this practice is started, however, it must be continued in future years.

To avoid a NOL, producers might consider selling certain assets that will eventually be sold anyway. Gifts might be sold instead of sows to create ordinary income instead of capital gains. Machinery that is depreciated-out might be sold instead of traded, resulting in ordinary income in 1982.

To delay 1982 income so as to take advantage of a lower tax rate next year, simply avoid receipt of income from any 1982 sales through a deferred payment agreement with the buyer, suggests the economist. Producers also

DHT Honors Galvan's service

Francisco M. "Cico" Galvan, with the maintenance section of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation (DHT) located in Ozona, was honored recently with the presentation of a 10 year Certificate of Service and Lapel Emblem.

Cico began his DHT career in 1972 doing general maintenance work and has advanced to his present position of Maintenance Technician II. He is with the work force of Maintenance Construction Supervisor Cecil Hedrick and has been described as a good, steady employee. He does mowing and equipment maintenance. In 1980 Cico was given a five year Safe Driving Award along with a letter that said "Your efforts, along with the efforts of your fellow co-workers has contributed greatly to the Department's accident preventive program."

Mrs. Galvan "Lupe" and Cico have three children and two grandchildren. They belong to the Catholic Church. When Cico has time he enjoys fishing and camping.

The presentation was made by Maintenance Construction Superintendent the option to delay counting until next year crop insurance proceeds, federal crop disaster payments and income from forced sales of livestock from federally designated drought areas.

"Farmers and ranchers can also step up deductions to postpone 1982 income," explains Ahrenholz. "This simply means to pay for and take delivery of equipment and supplies before yearend. Qualified farmers may also prepay certain 1983 expenses this year, including taxes, interest and lease payments. And contributions to a Keogh and an IRA retirement plan are deductible."

If a producer does everything he can to reduce his taxable income and still finds this year's earnings to be much higher than in past years, income averaging can come to the rescue, says the economist. Averaging may save tax dollars if the current year's income will be 20 percent above the average taxable income for 1978 through 1981 plus $3,000.

Ahrenholz advises farmers and ranchers to check with their tax advisors or consultants now for further information on yearend tax planning strategies. A great deal of detail is associated with most of the tax management strategies identified above.

Visitors in the homes of Audrey Glynn and her mother, Mrs. Baker, were Audrey's daughter, Ginger Glynn, director of the Goliad branch of South Texas Children's Home, and Ann Heard and her family of Kremmling, Colorado. Also visiting were Audrey's sister, Florence Emler and family of San Angelo. The family gathered to celebrate the December birthdays of Ann, an RN at the Kremmling hospital; her husband, Pat, a Baptist minister; and their son, Matthew.

WTU rates to go up early next year

West Texas Utilities Co. rates will increase early next year by an average of 4.7 percent as result of a settlement agreement reached this past week.

WTU and all parties involved, including the Public Utility Commission staff and the Texas Municipal League, agreed on a retail revenue increase of $10.2 million annually. WTU had proposed an increase of $20.4 million.

WTU officials said the Company agreed to the settlement because it was in line with recommendations of the PUC staff, and that the Commission usually does not deviate far from the staff's recommendations. The main difference between WTU's request and the amount allowed is the rate of return on common equity. WTU had sought 18 percent and received 16.25 percent, which is about the same percentage granted in WTU's last rate settlement last February.

"It is obvious that as result of this settlement we'll have to ask for another increase sooner than we had hoped," said Tim McMurray, WTU local manager.

He said WTU management has indicated that a new rate case may be filed as early as April of 1983. The new rates are scheduled to go into effect Jan. 7 unless the PUC changes the date.

Effect on monthly residential bills, including both the base rate and estimated fuel cost charges, would be as follows:

For 600 kilowatt-hours-- $45.76 at 7.63 cents per kilowatt-hour, compared to $43.39 at 7.23 cents per KWH under the present rates.

For 1,000 kilowatt-hours-- $71.98 at 7.20 cents per kilowatt-hour, compared to $68.30 at 6.83 cents per KWH under the present rates.

Residential rates vary, depending on whether the home has electric water heating, electric heating, or a combination of both, but the average increase for the residential customer classes will be 4.96 percent. The increase for commercial customers will average 5.55 percent and the increase for large power customers would average 2.95 percent.

MAKING FRIENDS-SHOULD IT BE HARD?

An Editorial
By-Gayla Bell

Making friends can either be the hardest or the simplest thing a person does. It is all in the way you go about it.

People who do not make friends easily should consider what they may be doing wrong. Some people try to buy their friends by spending a great deal of money on them in order to be noticed.

They buy expensive gifts or anything they happen to see someone looking at. Others do not want their friends to have any other friends or interests that they themselves are not included in. They try to dominate these people's time and lives and get furious if they do not get every ounce of everyone's attention. Still, others are so shy they do not even try to make friends.

On the other hand, for most people, making friends is easy. They do not have to spend a lot of money on people to get noticed. They let their friends have friends and interests of their own. They do not try to run their lives and do not get mad if they are not the center of their friend's attention all of the time.

Our staff feels that this problem can be solved by just being yourself and letting your friendships--the ones that last. Remember the old saying: You have to be a friend to have a friend!

GIVE YOURSELVES

By-Robbie Turnley

We often face a dilemma at Christmas time--trying to decide what presents to buy for family and friends. Will it be toys for the children, clothes for the teenagers?

What about Mom and Dad? And what about the person who has everything? One gift, however, is appropriate for everyone. It is the sharing of ourselves. This carries a bigger price tag than jewelry, video games, or household appliances.

The need for self-giving becomes evident when we probe the motives of people who spend so much money at this time of the year. Consider the situation of many fathers, for example. For twelve months they are so absorbed in making money and striving for success that they really share very little of themselves with their families. But at Christmas time they try to make up for it. So they show how much they love them by purchasing expensive gifts. But is that what really gets the message through? Ask yourself, "From all the past Christmases I've known, what do I remember most--the people or the presents?"

J.V. LIONETTES WIN 2ND PLACE IN IRAAN TOURNNEY

By-Gayla Bell

The J.V. Lionettes let's decide that every present will be accompanied by something of ourselves--a loving word, a listening ear, a helping hand. That makes any gift priceless and long-remembered.

This Christmas let's decide that every present will be accompanied by something of ourselves--a loving word, a listening ear, a helping hand. That makes any gift priceless and long-remembered.

VIDEO GAMES BECOME WAY OF LIFE

By-Robbie Turnley

People around the United States spent five billion dollars on home video products. Males spend more time at video arcades than females do. In fact, actual female players are outnumbered by males at least ten to one. But that's beginning to change because of Pac-man. It attracts the women because it stands apart from the typical shoot-em-up, space battle games guys like to play. Pac-man is cute. He has personality. And so does his girlfriend, Ms. Pac-man.

Now game producers are introducing games that appeal to women as well. Atari's Centipede, designed by a woman, and Sega's Frogger are fueling the female market. Who knows? Maybe in a few months you'll see games entitled "Defendress, Queen of the Galaxy, and Missile Command."

At this very moment a techno-entrepreneur named William von Meister is at work developing what he calls Game-Line, a subscription computer network that will interconnect all of the estimated ten million Atari VCS units in the country. You would purchase a "modern" to connect your unit to a computer via the telephone. Then all you'd do is dial a local number, choose the game you want using your joystick and fire button, and blast away.

As for new directions in the games themselves, video designer Bernie DeKoven of Palo Alto, California has plans for a Fitness Arcade. DeKoven aims to diminish the drudgery of exercising by creating a fantasy world where people can keep in shape.

VICA WILL HOST PARTY

By-Cyndi Trujillo

Christmas caroling and refreshments will be on the agenda for the fifth annual care center party. The party is scheduled for Thursday, December 16, at 6:30 p.m.

Every year, Mr. Maldonado, auto mechanics instructor, and Mrs. McCartney, care center's director, get together and set a date on which his VICA students will host a Christmas party. Hosting Christmas parties at the care center came about five years ago when Mrs. Maldonado worked at the care center and suggested it to Mr. Maldonado, her husband. He then suggested it to his students and it had become an annual event ever since.

Mr. Maldonado feels that giving parties at the care center is a good experience for an overall view of life in addition to putting out work in P.R. for the students. These parties also help support the statement that "there is communication (fellowship) between the young and the old."

The VICA students must prepare the program for the party and set up a decorated table with refreshments once they arrive. After refreshments have been served, the boys, along with some senior girls, will go caroling. The boys enjoy giving this party because they gain satisfaction from helping others.

Everyone is invited to attend.

PBPA ENERGY REPORT

The natural gas issue is one of the top priorities in the lame duck session of Congress. Proposals have been introduced to rollback and/or freeze gas prices, force pipelines to renegotiate take or pay contracts, force them to buy the lowest cost gas available, and, of course, decontrol gas with a windfall profits tax added.

The public image of the natural gas industry as a whole is suffering now because of high prices and an oversupply at the same time.

To show good faith to the public and to keep the government from stepping in, some people in the industry are urging the pipeline companies and suppliers to voluntarily renegotiate the contracts to help keep gas prices from rising so fast.

And, PBPA suggests that oil producers decline to accept any back payments if the windfall profits tax is declined unconstitutional. We believe this would show the government that producers are willing to go more than half way to get rid of this excise tax on production.

The U.S. House of Representatives has passed the 5 cent a gallon increase in the federal gasoline tax. The bill is expected to pass the Senate with ease. 80% of the money will be used to repair roads and bridges and twenty percent for mass transit.

In the Permian Basin our rig count for this week was 356. Last week it was 348. One year ago it was 491.

By now you've probably heard about the proposal to raise the federal gasoline tax five cents a gallon. President Reagan, Senate leader Howard Baker and House leader Tip O'Neil are all in favor of the tax, also called a user's fee. If it's passed the federal gasoline tax would go from four cents a gallon to nine cents a gallon.

Hypertension is problem

Hypertension, or high blood pressure, is a major health problem in the United States and is also a contributor to heart attacks and strokes. It has no clear signs or symptoms, and a person can have it and not know it. It is important for all individuals to have their blood pressure checked regularly--and if it is high--to follow the treatment prescribed by their doctors.

Hayes to receive degree

Fall commencement is set for Dec. 18 at Stephen F. Austin State University in Nacogdoches with approximately 672 candidates for degrees.

The following Ozona student is among the candidates: Trazell Hayes, Bachelor of Business Administration in Management.

Dr. Edwin W. Gaston Jr., vice president for academic affairs at SFA, said graduation will be at 10 a.m. in the SFA coliseum. Dr. William R. Johnson, president of SFA, will confer the degrees.

The graduating class includes some 530 candidates for the bachelor's degree and 142 for the master's degree.

Located in historic Nacogdoches, SFA had more than 11,000 students for the fall 1982 term.

The number of Americans aged 65 and older increased by 27.9 percent in the decade of the 1970s, while the population as a whole increased by 11.4 percent during this 10-year period, reports Judith L. Warren, family life education specialist-aging with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

aware. Just as aware of this are the inventors of quack devices and "miracle cures," says the Texas Medical Association.

For every dollar spent on arthritis research, $25 is spent on useless nostrums, unapproved devices, unnecessary food supplements and arthritis diet books, according to Consumer Reports magazine. The total annual tab for arthritis quackery is estimated to be $950 million.

One dangerous and powerful drug making a comeback as an unapproved arthritis treatment is Leifcort.

This hormone compound was developed and promoted nearly 20 years ago by Dr. Robert Leifmann, who fled to Canada to avoid arrest for selling a purported baldness cure. He continued to sell Leifcort there until his death in 1972.

The U.S. Food and Drug Administration says a number of Leifmann's colleagues are back in business in the U.S. and operating as the Arthritis Medical Offices and the Arthritis Medical Center. Leifcort--under new names like "Hormone Balance Treatment," "Balanced Hormone Treatment," "Holistic Balance Treatment" and "Rheumatriil"--is being sold in clinics often set up in hotel rooms. The FDA says the combination of hormones in Leifcort poses a danger to health.

Another product that the FDA says has not been proven effective is a snake venom combination called PROven. Made from cobra and krait venom, PROven has been given to people with rheumatoid arthritis and multiple sclerosis.

"Special" arthritis diets abound, but the Arthritis Foundation says what you eat neither causes nor cures the disease. Everything from cod liver oil, alfalfa, pokeberries and blackstrap molasses to a mixture of honey, vinegar, iodine and kelp have been sold for arthritis diets. In the 1960s, the FDA confiscated about 2,000 bottles of seawater to break up a nationwide swindle.

The best advice for arthritis victims is to be wary of products that offer "special" or "secret" formulas, promise quick or easy cures, or are promoted by case histories and testimonials.

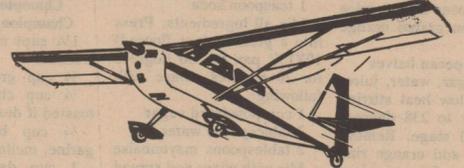

The only product that seems to relieve arthritic pain effectively is aspirin in large amounts. Your doctor can advise you on the proper dosage.

20 million Americans seek headache help Carlisle's horses win

BROWN FURNITURE will be open on Saturdays through Christmas. 35-1c

About 20 million Americans—two-thirds of them women—seek medical help for headaches on a regular basis. This is one of the most common problems brought to physicians.

"Despite being so common, headaches are often difficult to sort out in terms of a specific diagnosis and treatment program. The majority of headaches are not related to a serious underlying disease," reports Dr. Mary Ann Shirer, health education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

It is helpful to consider headaches in terms of some five major types, she says. This type of headache is most often confined to one side of the head. Classic migraine consists of early symptoms—such as flashing lights or flickering vision—followed by an initial throbbing headache which later becomes steady or dull.

Most migraines do not occur in this classic form, however.

Instead, they often take the form of "cluster headaches"—so called because they tend to occur in clusters over a period of days, weeks, or months. Associated symptoms may include nausea and vomiting. There is solid evidence that the migraine headache occurs when blood vessels in the neck and head expand.

This type of headache is caused primarily by contractions of the muscles of the scalp and neck. Treatment includes heat and massage for the involved muscles and simple muscle relaxants.

In persistent cases, underlying emotional factors may require attention, however.

Headaches of this type are common following head and/or neck injuries. Sometimes these headaches do not begin until weeks—or even months—after an injury. They generally clear up with time.

Sinus headaches should, as a rule, be accompanied by signs of infection, such as local tenderness, fever, or mucus discharge, to distinguish them from migraines.

Treatment usually involves an over-the-counter pain reliever or a prescribed decongestant to relieve sinus pressure.

This type of headache is uncommon and more often associated with the treatment for high blood pressure than untreated high blood pressure. When they do occur, they typically are located in the back of the head, are worse upon arising, and generally improve as the day progresses.

Regardless of the exact cause of headaches, two areas of prevention and treatment—identifying and minimizing "trigger" factors and careful drug therapy—are effective for many patients.

The list of factors that can "trigger" a headache is virtually as long as the list of headache sufferers. Most common, however, seem to be:

Dietary factors—including changes in patterns, such as fasting or missing meals; specific foods; alcohol or excessive caffeine; or sudden withdrawal from caffeine; food preservatives and flavorings, including salt. Hormonal and drug factors—hormones, such as birth control pills, and reserpine, used in treating high blood pressure, sometimes produce headaches.

Emotional factors—when perfectionists are subjected to stress, they are more likely to have headache problems.

Environmental factors—including temperature extremes, cigarette smoke, perfume, glaring light, and sudden changes in barometric pressure can lead to headaches.

Careful drug therapy emphasizes the need for attention to both proper use-timing and dosage—and potential side effects.

Besides the usual over-the-counter pain relievers, these drugs are commonly prescribed for treatment of various types of headaches.

Ergot alkaloids, which prevent blood vessels from expanding.

Anti-depressants. Propranolol, a new drug with minimal side effects.

Diuretics, to reduce body fluids.

"If you have frequent headaches, check with your physician. He should be able to pinpoint the cause of your headaches and establish an individual treatment program," Shirer says.

For a list of specialists in headache problems, write the National Migraine Foundation, 5252 North Western Avenue, Chicago, Ill. 60625.

Two purebred Arabian horses, owned by Dr. and Mrs. Don L. Carlisle, again placed high in the ribbons in the San Antonio Saddle Horse Assn. show held over the weekend in San Antonio. Arabisque, a stallion, was Champion in Saddle Seat Equestrian Championship class; first place in saddle seat equestrian; first in Maiden English and second in English open.

Bark El Tigre, four-year-old gelding was reserve champion in English Championship and second in English Junior Rider Class.

Both horses are trained and exhibited for the Carlises by Fancy Free Training Center in San Antonio.

D.A. District Attorney says DWI is problem of entire community

The following article is a public service by The Ozona Stockman through the cooperation of District Attorney Bill Mason and County Attorney Tom Cameron. Its purpose is to make you aware of a prosecutor's role, of your responsibility as a resident of this county and how we can work together to alleviate some of society's problems.

DWI-Everyone's Problem--This coming January your Legislature will consider several bills to stiffen the penalties for drunk driving.

A recent survey showed that 85% of all Americans believe drunk driving to be a very serious problem but

One of every two Americans will be involved in a DWI collision in his/her lifetime.

On an average weekend night, one out of every ten drivers on the road is drunk. Many of us probably don't realize how serious.

Drunk drivers kill 26,000 Americans every year—one every 23 minutes.

More Americans have died at the hands of drunk drivers during the past two years than have died in the ten years in Viet Nam.

Alcohol-related crashes are the number 1 cause of death in Americans 16-24 years of age.

Drunk driving is the most common form of violent death in the nation.

Drunk driving is a crime that kills more people than homicides and injures more people than assaults with a deadly weapon. The property damage in dollar amount is more than that done by forgers, burglars and robbers all added together.

Last year was the fifth consecutive record year in Texas for motor vehicle deaths. 4,071 Texans died last year on the highways and over 200,000 were injured. DPS statisticians attribute 23% of the deaths to drunk driving, but believe that figure would be as high as 50% if Texas law required blood alcohol measurements from all drivers involved in fatal accidents. State Board of Insurance figures show property damage from collisions last year to be over $22 million.

Twenty-seven states, during the past year, have enacted stiffer laws governing DWI. We are all beginning to realize it is a problem we can no longer ignore. States which have enacted stiffer laws have shown as high as a 47% decline in alcohol-related fatalities.

Many societies have substantially reduced their highway death tolls, and there's no reason Texans cannot do the same. It requires a concentrated effort at all levels, but most of all, it must begin with the individual citizen. The first step, of course, is to make sure our own drinking and driving behavior falls within the limits of safety and common sense. But there is much more to curbing drunk driving than merely watching our own behavior. What can you do to help?

Besides being responsible for our own behavior, be responsible for others. Every drunk driver is a potential killer. Friends don't let friends drive drunk. It sometimes take courage to be a good friend. Have the friend stay the night with you, take the keys away, call a taxi and pay for it. It's cheaper than a funeral. The friend may become angry, but when sober he will know you cared enough to draw the line.

Drunk driving is the number one killer of men and women in their teens. And regardless of all the other drugs, alcohol is still the number one choice of drugs of young Americans. Chances are very good that your teenager will one day have to decide whether to get into a car about to be driven by a drunk. He/she must be prepared to say no. Talk with your teenager about the problem and what he or she thinks about it. Make sure your child knows that his or her safety is more important than going to pick him or her up at 2:00 in the morning or in getting the car home.

Speak up whenever alcohol abuse is portrayed as an amusing or socially accepted form of behavior. Write letters of protest to television stations and other media who glorify drinking.

Support local authorities who are making a determined effort to deal with the drinking driver. Support community groups who are working to alleviate the problem. Promote alcohol safety education. Education is by far the most potent weapon available in the struggle against drunk driving. You can't change the way people act until you change the way they think.

Write a letter. Save a life. This slogan has been adopted by MADD (Mothers Against Drunk Drivers) and it couldn't be truer, especially now when Texas will attempt to pass legislation this next January to stiffen DWI laws. The people are the most powerful lobbyists in this state. If Texans demand passage of new laws, they will be passed.

The next article on DWI will give a summary of some of the proposed new laws which will be considered this January by your legislature.

This article is provided in cooperation with the Prosecutor Council in cooperation with your local prosecutor.

Notes from locker room

By-Ross A. Alexander

Robert Massey shows signs of life lately. Against Llano, the magic man was assertive and dominant, scoring 12 big points and was an awesome defensive presence, blocking shots in crucial situations, collecting 6 steals and snatching 21 rebounds. In the championship game, Massey tallied 8 points and 10 rebounds, as Zeke worked Massey into the flow.

If John Curry succeeds in reaching this complex enigmatic personality, Ozona's fortunes will experience a quantum enhancement.

Here are the all-tournament selections:

Zeke Martinez of Ozona, David Jones, Llano; Jeff Brittain, Sonora; Nicky Haines, Junction; Mike Alvarado, Junction.

Zeke has repeated for the second year as an all-tournament selection.

Look for him to make Bureson and Greenwood sit up and take notice this week in Irran.

Parent understanding for school bus riders

Texas students need help getting to and from school safely on buses. Texas Safety Association's vice president for schools and colleges, Dr. Jerry Ramsey, Associate Vice President, Texas Tech University in Lubbock, today reminded motorists and school bus riders of several safety considerations.

Ramsey emphasized safety laws regarding buses of which automobile drivers should be aware. For instance, Ramsey pointed out, Texas law requires motorists to give the right-of-way to school buses.

"If you approach a school bus from either direction and the bus is displaying alternately flashing red lights, you must stop and not pass until [1] the school bus resumes motion, or [2] the driver signals you to proceed, or [3] the red lights stop flashing," Ramsey said. State law also directs school buses when carrying passengers, to stop at all railroad crossings to check for oncoming trains.

"Motorists should be patient while buses make these extremely important safety checks," he said.

Ramsey alerted drivers to watch for young people running to catch a bus. These youngsters may be so preoccupied with reaching the bus that they fail to look out for oncoming automobiles.

Parents can help keep order by being present at every stop, Dr. Ramsey says. They should warn their children to keep out of the roadway and discourage them from games or horseplay. Tragedies occur when children run or are inadvertently pushed into the path of an oncoming car.

Besides his advice to motorists, Ramsey listed safety tips for students who ride school buses.

Tournament at a glance

By-Ross A. Alexander

Ozona, Llano, Sonora and Junction survived the first round of action last week in the opening games of the tournament that saw good defense and varied offensive looks.

Sonora, sporting a shiny new set of offenses, advanced to take on the powerful Eagles of Junction in Friday's semi-final round while Llano confronted the host Lion squad.

VA burial benefits

For more than a year, the Veterans Administration's $300 burial allowance has been limited by public law to veterans eligible for VA pension or compensation at the time of their death, and to those who die in VA medical facilities, advised Ted W. Myatt, Houston VA Regional Office Director.

The $150 plot allowance, not affected by the change, still is available to all veterans who served honorably during war periods, he added.

For more information, telephone the nearest VA Regional Office.

When all the dust had settled, Junction and Ozona stood astride the heap, poised to clash in the championship finals at 7:30 Saturday evening.

First however, Llano and Sonora clashed in the consolation final with the Broncos falling to a stronger Yellow Jacket team in a closer-than expected contest.

In the championship final, Ozona and Junction battled for over 3 quarters with the outcome very much in doubt. However, the Eagles managed to hold off a late Lion surge and emerged with the first-ever Junction championship.

HEALYS GRADUATE

Barbara Healy, a 1977 graduate of Ozona High School, graduated from the Signal Search and Development Course, an eight-week class at Fort Bliss. Her husband, Jim, graduated from a 12-month course in Chinese Mandarin at the Defense Language Institute. Following two weeks with his family in Maine, the couple will be stationed in Hawaii.
