Weekend showers bring rain

Weekend showers brought .38 of an inch of rain to Ozona, giving more indication the drought is over. October closed out the month with a bountiful 6.81 inches of rainfall and already the results can be seen in pastures around the county.

The first fall freeze is near at hand, but if the area is lucky enough to have a late freeze, there should be plenty of grass and weeds for livestock. The average date for the first freeze in this area is November 28, but the first freeze has occurred as early as November 5, and as late as December 22.

The rainfall picture for the year looked bleak until rains came in October. Two months, July and September, failed to record even a trace of rain, making the 1.5 inches in August of little consequence. Up until October, only 8.89 inches of rainfall had been recorded for the entire year. With the weekend showers and the October rain, the yearly total stands at 16.08 inches.

Chemical people meet draws large crowd

Ozonans gathered in large numbers at the Civic Center Wednesday evening to participate in the first session of "Chemical People", a nationwide program about school-age drug abuse.

Almost 200 parents, youngsters, law enforcement officers, community leaders, civic clubs and church members attended. The first part of the program was the television hour concentrated on school-age drug abuse nationwide. Viewers were encouraged to crawl over the wall of denial about local drug and alcohol abuse among school students. Drug and alcohol abusers were categorized in four ways: experimental user, regular user, early abuser and dependency.

A panel discussion followed the television broadcast. Moderator for the discussion was Hank Sellers, local rancher and school board member. Panelists for the evening were Garland Davis, Superintendent of Schools; Cathy Carson, Womans League; A. O. Fields, county judge; Bill Mason, district attorney; Maria DeLaRosa, family living committee; Alonzo Lopez, Downtown Lions Club president; Fr. Richard Altenbaugh, Catholic Church; Harvey Hill, sheriff's department; Russell Winkley, Ozona High School senior and president of the National Honor Society, and Rowdy Holmsley, senior and member of NHS.

Sellers began the panel discussion asking Judge Fields if he was surprised at the statistical information presented during the program. The judge answered "no" and added that the survey in the program is also applicable to Crockett County.

Harvey Hill was asked if he thought the survey was an accurate representation of drug abuse here. His answer was "yes the drug problem is definitely here."

Cathy Carson was asked how parents and teachers view the drug and alcohol abuse situation. She said they are more aware of it than in previous years.

Sellers asked Davis what teachers and parents could do to prevent alcohol and drug abuse. Davis replied that first they should be aware of the facts and be objective. Second, he suggested they get involved and communicate with the youth involved. He also said anyone in the audience who did not want to ask a question in public could do so privately in the school offices. He said the school wants to cooperate with any effort to stop the abuse of drugs and alcohol in the schools.

When asked if parent and child communication lowers the amount of alcohol and drug abuse, Russell Winkley said open communication is very important. He said if there is no communication, the youth will be ashamed to admit a problem to the parent.

Lions close out losing season

By-Gary Davis The Ozona Lions began the 1983 season in August and ended it Friday, November 4 with a valiant, yet unsuccessful effort against the Sonora Broncos at Bronco Stadium.

The game was primarily an offensive spectacular as the ball was only punted three times during the entire evening. Despite the Lion's amazing effort and intensity, the Broncos won the contest by a score of 45-34.

The Lions stacked up 333 yards on the ground. Senior running back, Diego Leal, was responsible for 149 of those yards while junior, Matt Gutierrez added 30 yards and sophomore quarterback, Steve Sanchez, contributed 29 yards to the large total.

Sanchez threw for 67 yards, Oscar Vargas for 35, and Leal for 24, to lead the Ozona team in passing.

Bob Reneau led the receivers with 111 yards while Capp Couch added 15 to the tally.

The first quarter ended with Sonora leading, 21-0. The Lions came out passing in the second quarter and lessened the margin to 7 points.

With 8:45 remaining in the second period, Steve Sanchez zipped a 15 yard pass to Couch for the touchdown.

The extra point attempt failed leaving the score 21-6 in the Bronco's favor.

One minute and fourteen seconds later, Sanchez hit Bob Reneau for 8 yards for the touchdown and Diego Leal made the two point conversion as the scoreboard read: Sonora 21, Ozona 14.

The third quarter belonged to the Broncos, as they scored 14 points to make the score 35-14.

Both teams combined to score 30, 4th quarter, points to wind down the season. Sonora hit a field goal early in the fourth but Ozona's Leal came back minutes later to score 3 times. The first came with 10:22 remaining in the game. Leal broke for 34 yards for the score. Approximately 3 minutes later, Leal dove into the endzone from 2 yards out. The final touchdown was a three yard run, after which Leal ran in for 2 bonus points.

The Lions will hang up their gear for another year and look towards a better year in 1984.

The team will say goodbye to 13 seniors including: Mark Vallejo, Oscar Vargas, Marcelo Hernandez, Diego Leal, Rowdy Holmsley, Bob Reneau, Arnold Vargas, Joe Vandiver, Bo Aycock, Roy Tambunga, Capp Couch, Mark Dudley and Israel Gonzales.

children see the parents smoking or drinking, they think it is okay for them too. He also suggested that parents build up their child's self-esteem and tell he/she they love them daily. Above all, he said, get involved in their lives.

Father Altenbaugh urged teachers and parents to learn everything they could about drugs and communicate honestly with students and children. He suggested they should look to local resources, such as Alanon, Alteen, and Alcoholics Anonymous.

Lopez, when asked, said television and commercials increase the use of alcohol a great deal.

Davis, when asked about the school's role in prevention, said the school should take a positive approach. He

Ozona students excel in TABS test

Composite Texas Assessment of Basic Skills (TABS) test results received recently from the Texas Education Agency in Austin revealed that Ozona third, fifth, and ninth grade students are exceeding many of their Texas classmates in progress on the state test of educational attainment that is administered each year in February. The scores indicate that, in many areas, students in Ozona schools possess a very high degree of competency in their knowledge and application of basic reading, writing, and mathematics skills.

Ozona's third graders were among 220,987 students tested, and they equaled or surpassed the statewide math averages in six of the ten objectives. 97% of the students achieved mastery in multiplication of whole numbers and 94% exhibited command of basic addition facts. The grade also did well in the reading and writing portion of the state test.

A total of 227,526 fifth grade students were tested, and again Ozona's students fared well. Compared to state percentages, the group equaled or surpassed nine of the ten objectives in math, five of the eleven objectives in reading, and four of the six objectives in writing.

TABS results for Ozona's freshman class revealed that these students were also doing well in comparison of 217,445 other Texas ninth graders. The group surpassed the state math percentage in six of eleven computational objectives, attaining 97% competency in adding, subtracting, dividing and multiplying whole numbers. Reading progress compared favorably in all content areas, and in writing the participants were ahead in spelling, punctuation, capitalization, correct English usage, and sentence structure.

The Texas Assessment of Basic Skills (TABS) is an annual assessment of student achievement in mathematics, reading and writing, including composition. Its purpose is to determine student mastery of minimum competencies so that districts may implement appropriate compensatory instructional services for students. In addition, TABS provides information for use by educational policy makers, administrators, and instructional personnel in improving student achievement levels in these three curriculum areas.

Annual League gift bazaar set

The Ozona Woman's League annual Bazaar will be held Tuesday, Nov. 22, from 4:00 to 6:00 p.m. at the Civic Center. The co-chairmen for the event are Mrs. Steve Wilkins and Mrs. Wade Richardson. Mrs. Randy Upham is publicity chairman and Mrs. Dwight Childress is food chairman.

League members will have for sale all handmade items and baked goods. There will be children's things, Christmas decorations, items that can be personalized while you wait, and miscellaneous things. The food booth is always a main attraction featuring cakes, pies, breads, jellies, pickles, cookies, and candies. You may make a food order by calling Becky Childress at 392-2492 or Shawn Mitchell at 392-2719 before Nov. 18.

Proceeds from this annual fund raising bazaar go back into the community through Ozona Woman's League projects. This year's projects included a scholarship for a 1984 Ozona High School graduate, student loan fund, providing Interscholastic League Literary Event plaques, providing special entertainment at the Ozona Day Care Center, assist with Cystic Fibrosis Drive, promote support and volunteers to work at the Crockett County Public Library, contributions to the Crockett County Museum, Ozona Chamber of Commerce fireworks display, Crockett County Hospital and Ozona Day Care Center.

OHS approved by state GED

Ozona High School was approved by the State GED Administrator in late April for a GED Test Center. The GED testing program is a service provided for adults in Texas who have been unable to complete a formal high school education and wish to establish their educational equivalency.

The GED tests are designed to measure, as nearly as possible, the major outcomes (skills and concepts) generally associated with four years of regular high school instruction. Using a multiple choice question format for each of five tests (writing skills, social studies, science, reading skills and mathematics), the test battery corresponds to the general framework of most high school curricula.

The context of list items attempts to measure skills relevant to adult experience. Most test questions require the understanding of broad concepts and generalizations rather than the ability to remember facts, details or precise definitions.

GED classes are being held each Wednesday night at 6:30 at the Ozona Community Center.

On October 19, thirty-one students were examined. Twenty-four received their GED certificates with seven to retest.

USE OF MIRRORS AT THE U.N.

By Edwin Feulner

After two centuries of disdain for international organizations, the United States has become one of the world's great joiners.

The U.S. today belongs to scores of international organizations, ranging from the United Nations, World Bank, International Monetary Fund, and North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO), to the Inter-American Tropical Tuna Commission and the International Agreement Regarding the Maintenance of Certain Lights in the Red Sea.

So large and complex is the global web that in 1954 the State Department had to create an entire section to deal with international organizations. The assistant secretary of state for international organizations currently has a staff of 170 or more, monitoring relations with nearly 100 international groups.

The U.S. also has ties to scores of other international bodies — so many, in fact, according to my colleague Burton Yale Pines, that "no one in the government seems to know" just how many.

There is one in particular, however, that everybody is aware of: the United Nations. That's the House of Mirrors along New York's East River where much is said about nothing and nothing is done about anything. And for the pleasure of sitting there and listening to Third-World and Iron-Curtain delegates berate the United States, U.S. taxpayers cough up a cool $1 billion each year in tribute.

As Pines notes in an upcoming book, scheduled for publication next spring, the U.N.'s failures and shortcomings are probably its most impressive attribute.

"The U.N. has failed as a peacekeeper and peacemaker and as a protector of human rights. Its record of caring for refugees is suspiciously mixed, ignoring the legions attempting to flee Communist-ruled Vietnam while allowing the Palestine Liberation Organization to turn refugee camps into armed garrisons. Inefficiency, cronyism, high pay, lavish expense accounts and even corruption and illiteracy have become the all-too-common characteristics of the Secretariat and other U.N. bureaucracies." And, U.N. agencies in New York, Geneva and Vienna serve as a valuable cover for Soviet, East European, Cuban and other espionage services hostile to the West.

But even this troubling litany omits what now is the gravest danger posed by the United Nations — its role in affecting the way in which nations and their citizens view critical global issues, Pines says. "Like a House of Mirrors at an amusement park, the U.N. distorts reality — exaggerating some things, diminishing others and obscuring most. Unlike a House of Mirrors, however, the U.N.'s distortions, particularly in the General Assembly and its Secretariat, form a predictable pattern."

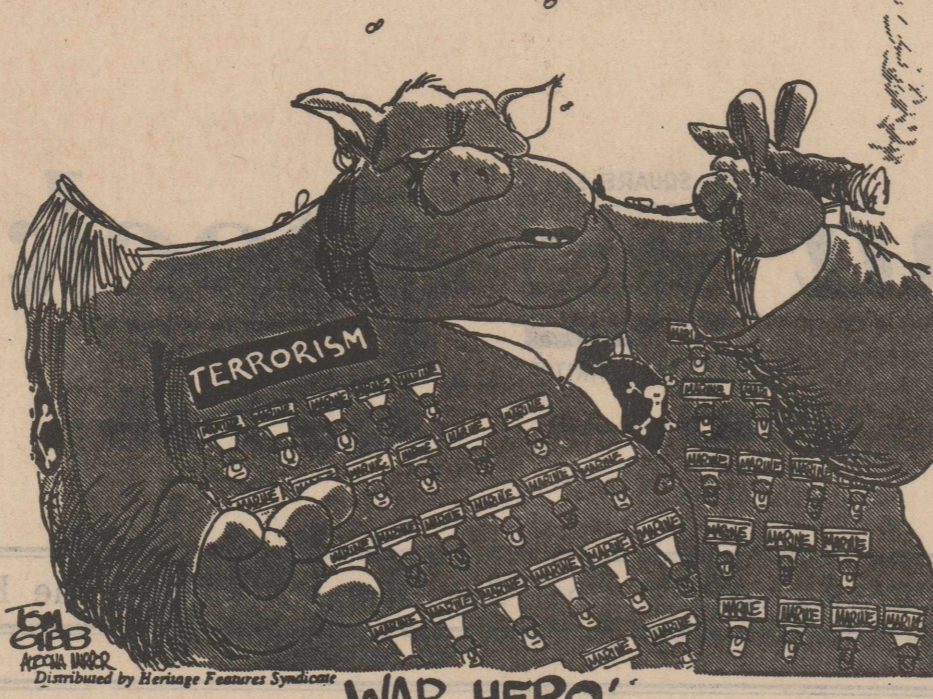

That pattern: if there's something wrong in the world, blame the West; blame democracy; blame the free enterprise system. Place responsibility for all of the globe's ills on the United States and its allies. And if the Soviets step out of line on occasion, blame the United States anyway — because we probably provoked them.

How much longer the U.S. is going to put up with this nonsense is anybody's guess. But the smart money today says that the U.N. had better clean up its act, or start thinking about packing its bags.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Controversy over whether to release federally stored corn to relieve drought-ridden ranchers in West Texas continued to build as a partisan issue last week.

Texas Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower and Atty. Gen. Jim Mattox initiated a lawsuit to force the U.S. secretary of agriculture to release surplus grain for a 27-county area in West Texas.

The lawsuit claims that the grain stored in Plainview is unfit for human consumption and is musty, weevily or moldy. The two Democratic officials launching the lawsuit say the grain, which costs about half a million dollars monthly to store, could feed livestock in the drought area through the winter.

The target of their suit, John Block, made no comment on the legal action.

Block, a Republican, has said he lacks authority to release the corn because it has not deteriorated to a low enough grade.

On this point, it seems, federal inspectors and state inspectors are headed on a collision course.

Collision Course

Block says that federal figures have the deterioration level at 1 percent. State inspectors say 53 percent of the grain has deteriorated while in storage.

The political partisan overtones of the controversy are obvious, especially as Texas Democrats jockey for leverage to prevent a Republican president from winning re-election. A foul-up on Block's part could hurt Reagan state-wide, not just in West Texas.

But the issue could blow up in the faces of Hightower and Mattox, if their deterioration claims prove wrong.

The error would provide detractors of Hightower, who is not a farmer or rancher, with more ammunition about his lack of knowledge of agriculture.

Mattox, who faces a bribery indictment in Travis County, has enough troubles without making more enemies.

Senate Inquiry

The issue will be settled one way or the other if U.S. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen gets the Senate Agriculture Committee to review the deterioration status. Two weeks ago, Bentsen asked Block for a federal investigation of the grain situation and got no adequate response, in his view.

Block, meanwhile, is waiting for Congress to order the release of the grain, which he says will cost millions to distribute.

Prison Audit

The $300 million prison construction program, which has faced cost overruns and mismanagement charges, will be audited by an independent firm and not the state auditors.

House Speaker Gib Lewis called off state auditors after the corrections board chairman told him the board does not have confidence in the state auditing team.

The full independent audit will take about six months. Upon its completion, the state auditor will begin continuous monitoring of all aspects of prison financing.

Jackson Candidacy

Texas black leaders last week reacted cautiously or not at all to the announced presidential candidacy of activist Jesse Jackson.

Houston Congressman Mickey Leland was concerned Jackson's race might damage the traditional Democratic coalition beyond repair.

For the most part, reported interviews with local Black leaders in East Texas produced a cautious response: let Jackson run and see where it leads—it may be beneficial or it may not.

Senate Race

With primary campaigns due to swing into heavy action only a few short weeks from now, the U.S. Senate candidates of both parties are quiet, using the time to raise funds and line up local organizations.

Bob Krueger, still regarded as the Democratic front-runner, has a statewide organization far ahead of his rivals, liberal Lloyd Doggett of Austin and boll weevil Kent Hance of Lubbock.

Doggett has made few visible gains except in the Golden Triangle area, where he apparently is gaining headway towards the labor endorsement. But in Austin, observers already speak of a Doggett-Mattox match-up for the Attorney General slot in '86. Hance reportedly is gaining ground among Houston conservatives.

In the GOP primary, Phill Gramm enjoys the highest name recognition, but Houston Republicans point out that their county contributes more votes in the primary, which could benefit their two regional candidates, Ron Paul and Rob Mosbacher.

Letters to the Editor

November 7, 1983

Letter to editor:
I would like to take this opportunity to thank the people for their attendance and support of the Girl Scout's Annual Fund Raising Dinner that was held Sunday, Nov. 7th at the Civic Center.

My special thanks to Joyce and Garland Young for use of the Center, who has always been so generous and a very, very special thanks to my leaders; Cathy Carson, in charge of tickets and money, Mary Skains for coordinating this dinner, and all the other leaders and girls who gave their time in working and contributions to make this dinner a success. Without these fine women and girls my job would certainly be a difficult one. Thank you all.

[Letter to be submitted to "Caring" magazine on "Why I enjoy living at Crockett Co. Care Center"]

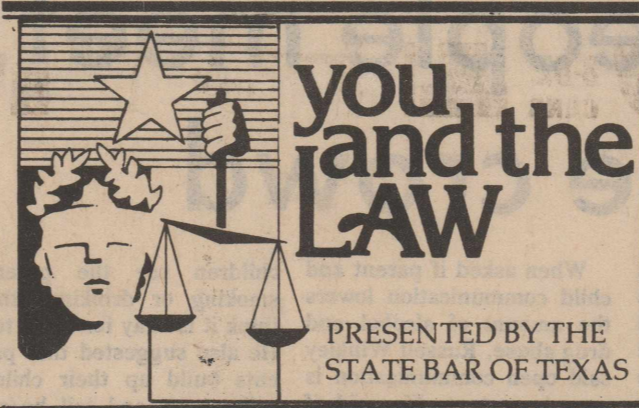

In January, 1979, I was transferred from the hospital to the Crockett County Care Center. I found everyone polite and friendly. The Administrator, nurses, cooks, activity director, as well as the volunteers all take time to talk to each and everyone of us and look out for our best interest.

From my window in the mornings I can see beautiful green grass, trees, and often deer grazing. Looking at a lovely sunset at night, I thank the good Lord that I am able to have such a beautiful place which I can call home. (As I visit with other residents, I find they, too, feel the same way.)

I, too, am a volunteer and have received my certificate of recognition from the Texas Department of Health for several years now. It makes me feel good to help those who cannot help themselves so I enjoy helping other residents.

I thank the Lord for being here and pray that He will bless each and everyone of us, especially those who assist in their various ways in making this a place I can call home.

you and the LAW
PRESENTED BY THE STATE BAR OF TEXAS

Q: My husband and I are planning on a divorce but he refuses to leave our home and rent an apartment. Can he be forced to leave? What procedure should I take?

A: Once the divorce is final, the court will hear the party dispute concerning occupancy of the residence and will award temporary possession of the home to one spouse. The court can then, upon motion filed by your attorney, enjoin your husband from occupying or coming about your home during divorce proceedings.

Your rights and the specific procedures in divorce should be discussed with an attorney. There are many remedies available to you once a divorce is begun.

Q: Last year I gave birth to a son. I was not married and put the child up for adoption. Now I have married the father of the child. We both want our son back. What can we do?

A: If the child has not yet been officially adopted, you have the right to withdraw your consent to adoption. You will then want to ask your lawyer to complete the birth registration procedures to insure that you and your husband are both named as parents on the birth certificate.

You have a much harder task if the child has been formally adopted. You should consult an attorney to see whether any grounds at all exist for setting aside the adoption, but as you probably suspect, the Court will be most reluctant to re-open a final adoption.

Q: I am due to inherit an estate. The problem is that debts from the estate far outweigh the assets. Will I be responsible for these debts?

Who will pay the debts if I don't?

A: As a named beneficiary in someone's will, you do not automatically assume the debts unless you were the spouse and the debts were community debts.

As a first step, all debts will be classified according to the Texas Probate Code and the non-exempt assets will be sold.

Using all available cash, debts enjoying priority will first be paid, either entirely or so many cents on the dollar, until the funds are exhausted. Lower priority debts will lapse and simply not be paid.

Q: My husband and I own our home which, of course, is mortgaged. We also have a car titled in my name for which we make loan payments. My husband is threatening to leave me. Will I be left with both these debts?

A: With regard to the home mortgage, you and your husband can agree to any type of settlement and then have that settlement incorporated into the divorce decree. Assuming that the home was bought during the marriage and is not separate property, you will be responsible for the mortgage if you continue to live in the home and you can get no contribution from your husband. As to the car, it does not matter in whose name it is registered. All that matters is who signed the note to finance it. It is that person who will be responsible for the note payment, and should that person default, the finance company can repossess the car.

Send your questions to "You and the Law," State Bar of Texas, P.O. Box 12487, Austin, 78711. Answers may appear in columns in hypothetical terms; personal answers not possible.

Tips For Gardeners

From The Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

From this date on through the winter months everyone will look forward to the beautiful sunny day we have most of the time. The temperature is just right to accomplish many tasks in your yard. Take a critical look at the overall appearance and make a list of improvements to work toward.

Cut tops of peonies back to a few inches above the ground. Add a cup of bone-meal to soil around each plant, and mound with soil for the winter.

Keep mums watered to extend their blooming period. They are showing their beautiful blooms now and should for another few weeks.

If you haven't planted pansies and intend to, this should be done this month. Today's pansies have blossoms that are bigger and better than ever. Plant now and they will bloom through spring until fading in our summer heat. For a delightful combination plant them with tulips and daffodils. Its important to plant the pansies first or at the same time, otherwise, you may damage the bulbs when setting out the pansies. Pansies need a location with full sun. Before planting, prepare the soil by working in a 2-inch layer of compost, leaf mold, or sphagnum peat moss. Also add 1/2 pound of 5-10-10 fertilizer per 25 square feet of planted area. Set transplants 6 to 12 inches apart, and water regularly when the weather is dry. Treat pansies as hardy annuals pulling them up after they finish blooming.

Gardeners without a greenhouse should try overwintering geraniums the old-fashioned way. Lift the plants out of their pots, and wash the soil from the roots. Store the plants in a cool, dry place where they won't freeze. Set out the dormant geraniums next spring, and cut them back to 4 to 6 inches tall. New shoots will sprout from old stems and blooms should appear in about a month. After the first flowers fade, begin fertilizing the plants every week. Apply a water-soluble fertilizer such as 18-18-18 or 20-20-20 diluted according to label direction.

Pot amaryllis bulbs early this month if you want blooms during the holidays. They prefer to be somewhat potbound, so plant them individually in a pot just 2 inches wider than the bulb. This will leave about an inch of soil between the bulb and the rim to allow space for watering. Plant so that a third to half of the bulb protrudes above soil level. Water thoroughly, and leave the bulb in bright, indirect light until sprouting begins. Then move it to a sunny location. Blooms should appear in six to eight weeks.

MRS. GEORGE DOUGLAS BEAN
...nee Miss Tina Renae Dodson

Miss Dodson becomes bride of Mr. Bean

Miss Tina Renae Dodson became the bride of Mr. George Douglas Bean in a ceremony in the First Baptist Church in Van Horn, Saturday, November 5, at 6 p.m.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hunter Dodson of Van Horn and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Fredrick Bean.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of candlelight satin designed with a high round neckline outlined with Venetian lace with sleeves tapering to fitted points over the hands. The dress was worn by the bride's aunt thirty-seven years ago. The bride's train and veil were trimmed in Venetian lace as was the headpiece which was trimmed with seed pearls. She carried a cascade of candlelight roses.

Miss Joni Dodson, the bride's twin sister, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Stephanie Burger of Van Horn, Miss Kelly Hawkins of Stephenville, Miss Julie Hawkins of Midland and Miss Jan Flores of Alvarado. Flower girl was Leslie Schaffer of Van Horn, and ring bearer was Wesley Joe Bean, nephew of the bride.

The attendants wore dresses of brilliant teal taffeta with fitted bodice and puffed sleeves. Their shoes matched the dresses and they carried candlelight roses trimmed in lace.

Mr. David Bean served his brother as best man. Groomsmen were Dan Bean, brother of the bridegroom, of Alpine, Cliff McMullan, Max Schroeder and Louis Bunger. Dan Bean also served as candlelighter, along with Will M. Black of Alpine. Ushers were Darryl Jones of Petrolia, and Steven Jones of Wichita Falls, both brothers of the bride, and Will M. Black.

The altar held a fifteen branch candelabrum and was flanked with ten individual tapers surrounded in greenery. An arrangement of candlelight flowers also flanked the altar. Along the aisles were intervals of hurricane lamps surrounded by greenery.

Mrs. Donise Pearson of Wichita Falls, was the vocalist.

A reception followed the wedding, hosted by the bride's parents.

Extension office news

By Rachel Hall

The Chemical People broadcast and panel discussion brought some 190 concerned parents, school, church, law enforcement, and youth citizens together to look at national and local drug and alcohol abuse. The broadcast revealed that approximately 93% of today's high school youth were drinking alcohol regularly, which was confirmed by the panel group. The need for communities to get away from denial that the drug and alcohol problem did not exist was emphasized through the broadcast. Audience and panel comments suggested that "the entire community working together" was necessary to decrease the use of alcohol and drugs among school-aged youth. One special group or individual could not accomplish the many issues related to abuse, rather a strong community effort by several groups would be necessary for the community to benefit.

Wednesday, November 9, the community is invited once again to view the second broadcast and panel discussion. The broadcast will begin promptly at 8:00 p.m. and the panel discussion at 9:15 p.m. at the Civic Center. The overall emphasis for this evening will be "Community Call to Action." Successful plans of other communities nationally will be reviewed and hopefully the Ozona Community will want to adopt some plans for future programming in drug and alcohol abuse.

Other upcoming dates include: Thursday, November 10 - Foods and Nutrition leaders will be meeting at the Civic Center at 4:00 p.m. Menus, judging, and committees will be set up for the upcoming food show. The 4-H Food Show will be December 10.

Begin making plans to enter the Pecan Show, November 28 at the Civic Center. Pecans, baked entries, and posters may be entered by various age groups. A detailed list of rules may be obtained from the County Extension Office.

Following a wedding trip to South Carolina, the couple will be at home on the ranch in northern Crockett County.

Pre-nuptial parties honoring the couple include a dance at the Ozona Country Club, a kitchen shower in the home of Mrs. Gene Lilly, a plant party in the home of Mrs. Jerry Perry, and a luncheon in the home of Mrs. Louise Appel in San Angelo. The bride attended Van Horn High School and Tarleton State University. The bridegroom, a graduate of Ozona High School, also attended Tarleton State.

Calvary Baptist Revival

Calvary Baptist Church will hold a revival November 16-20, with services each evening at 7:00 o'clock and Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

The preacher will be Rev. Louis Halford, who is pastor of First Assembly of God in Sonora. There will be special music each service.

A "lock-in" for junior and senior high youngsters will be held Friday, Nov. 18, following services. There will be films, games and refreshments and the event will be chaperoned.

Make sure you are seeing life in the right perspective. Nothing ever looks right when viewed from the wrong vantage point.

Of course there are reasons men descend into manholes—good reasons that contribute to the health and happiness of the community. But viewing skyscrapers isn't very satisfactory from a manhole.

When you look at the many problems that beset mankind, seek first a Christian perspective. God meant each of us to contribute something to making this a better world.

So view the state of civilization as a challenge to constructive living, to sound religious principles, to frank awareness of the spiritual hungers that plague men.

The way to see Life clearly is to look with the eyes God has given you...standing at that point in time and place to which God has brought you...and knowing His Way makes the difference!

Boosters pay special tribute to teams at meet

The Ozona Lion Booster Club met Tuesday evening in the Ozona High School auditorium to review the previous Friday night's football game film and to pay a special tribute to the members of the OJHS Cubs football teams and the OHS Lions football teams.

The "40-Year Old Cheerleaders" got the meeting started with several spirit lifting yells. Each football team was recognized and were asked to respond to the cheerleader's question "What's the War Cry?" Naturally...it was an enthusiastic...Beat Sonora!

Members of the "Cheerleaders" are George Ann Aycock, Terry Adams, Wanda Dews, Mary Galindo and Tot Holmsley.

President John Parks asked Mrs. Holmsley to give a report on the upcoming bake sale to be held at the Village Shopping Center on November 11. Mrs. Holmsley stated that she had received good response from the Lion booster members and there should be an abundance of yummy cake, cookies and pies for sale.

Alena Faye Hokit reported that she still had a few "Gold 'N Growling" caps and windbreakers if any Lion fan would like to purchase one. She asked that they contact either Robin Reneau at The Flower Basket or herself.

Coach Don Abbott gave a "run-down" on how the Lions were looking and shaping up for their final game. After responding to several questions from members, Coach Abbott narrated the game film and, as always, aided in explaining various calls made during the game and different blocking techniques used.

Once again, president Parks urged all interested Lions supporters to attend the Tuesday night meetings... which will also be held in support of the Lion Basketball teams. These meetings begin promptly at 7:30 p.m.

Hernandez is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Navidad Hernandez.

Household workers should pay SS tax

Many people may not realize they are responsible for reporting the wages they pay household workers for Social Security purposes.

Household workers include maids, cooks, cleaning persons, gardeners, handymen, and others who do household work in or about a private home. Babysitters are also included if they care for children in a private home.

If the worker is paid less than $50 during a calendar quarter, the wages should not be reported. A calendar quarter is a 3-month period from January-March, April-June, July-September, and October-December.

The employer must deduct the Social Security tax from the worker's wages and pay the employer's matching amount. In 1983, the tax is 6.7 percent each for the employee and the employer.

Before the end of the month after the calendar quarter, the employer must send the taxes and a report of wages to the Internal Revenue Service. IRS Form 942 should be used for this purpose.

Failure to report a household worker's wages can mean the employee will not be eligible for Social Security benefits. Even if the worker qualifies for benefits, the amount may be lower because benefits are figured on the person's annual earnings over his or her working life.

The amount of work needed to get Social Security benefits is measured in "quarters of coverage." In 1983, all workers receive one quarter of coverage for each $370 of earnings, up to four quarters a year. The amount of earnings needed for a quarter of coverage increases each year with increases in average wage levels.

Many employers may not insist on reporting their employee's wages for fear the employee will quit, since the reported wages may mean income taxes as well as Social Security taxes are due. However, employers should note that they may be liable for back taxes if the employee later files for benefits and reports the work.

For more information on Social Security and your household worker, contact the San Angelo Social Security Office located at 2214 Sherwood Way. The telephone number is 949-4608.

Drug abuse

did not mean using scare tactics, but talk about the affects in biology classes.

Hill was asked if citizens could file a complaint on minors drinking. Hill said if the law has a complaint or can see a minor drinking from the street, they can arrest. Otherwise, he said it was illegal.

Discussion was then opened to the audience. The need for the community to work together on the problem was the main topic of discussion. The meeting concluded at 11 o'clock.

Tonight's program will focus on what the community can do to help with the drug and alcohol problem. Community involvement will be the primary emphasis. A panel discussion will follow. The meeting will begin at 8 o'clock and the panel discussion will follow at 9:15. All interested persons are urged to be present.

Deer herd should be harvested in season

As a general rule, 25% of the bucks and does of a deer herd should be harvested during the hunting season, according to Reggie Quiett, SCS. This can be safely applied without damage to the herd. Once a harvest goal has been set, accurate harvest records should be maintained. Harvest data will give trends in a population as to whether the deer herd is improving or what steps need to be taken to improve the herd.

Data from the harvest can be divided into two categories, which are the collections and the analysis. Data to be collected on buck deer include the following: age, field dressed weight, beam circumference, antler spread and points. Doe deer are much easier to collect data from because there is not as much data to collect. Age and weight should certainly be collected for does. Determining whether the doe was lactating or not is optional. This is optional because it can be dependent upon the rainfall, available forage and whether the doe was under stress.

Data collected should be done in the same manner for every harvested animal. This is the key to keeping accurate records. Hunters should be made aware that records are being kept so that they will cooperate in collecting the data.

Analyzing the harvest data is not that complicated, but probably should be done by a biologist or other trained person. Assistance can be obtained from the Soil Conservation Service which has a wildlife biologist available upon request.

Crockett County Care Center News

BY ANN McCARTNEY
DIRECTOR OF ACTIVITIES & SOCIAL CARE

November arrived and the first thing on the agenda was the removal of Halloween decorations and the replacing of them with Thanksgiving turkeys, etc. Halloween left fond memories, though. Our home economics girls left a nice pumpkin, as well as initialed handkerchiefs for the men and spice ropes for the ladies. The fifth grade "grandchildren" sent Halloween cards and pumpkins made from paper sacks that were real cute. Many thanks to both groups.

Other gifts received this week included the memorials listed elsewhere, annual money from Woman's Forum that will go toward our purchase of the new bibs that Maude Couch made for us from hand towels. Also a half case of popcorn from Willie Tooke. Aren't our friends nice?

At our monthly resident's council meeting it was decided we would do more cooking and go on more field trips. This worked in just fine this week because we went first to the Ozona National Bank and received the real VIP treatment, complete with refreshments, from Jo Ann Babbitt. Then we went to the cooking demonstration sponsored by our County Agent, Rachel Hall.

Tuesday and Friday bingo players found Bertha Miller winning a gift certificate from Clayton's Village Drug and Ramona Lugo and Elzy Bishop winning second place Avon prizes. Inez Biggs won the certificate good for two dinners at El Chato's. Volunteers included Dorothy Doll, Elodia Zapata, Bessie Borron, and Anna Bell Patrick.

Arlene Clayton, Lola Rios, Eglantine Estrado and Tina Moran all fixed hair on Thursday morning. Charles Huffman and his fellow church members from the Faith Lutheran Church all came on Thursday afternoon for Bible study.

Doris Karr led ceramics on Wednesday and on Thursday assisted Julie Watson in the cleaning of some to use next week. We really appreciate volunteers like these ladies!

Friday afternoon our ladies stuffed some Christmas decorations. It will not be long until we will be putting them up. Dorothy Doll led this activity.

Frances Curry brought five members of her youth choir from the United Methodist Church on Sunday. Residents enjoyed their two songs, the sermon by Rev. Wayne Boyce, who also served communion. Lucile Harrell played the piano for the group. Several other members assisted with the singing.

Elodia Zapata assisted two tables of players, Paul Cavin, Maude Pettit, Ola Mills, Bertha Miller, Johnny Henderson, Nina Mayfield, and Nila Turnell on Monday for 42 and dominoes.

In the afternoon we had a fine cooking session. Dorothy Doll furnished the group with cinnamon rolls that were cooked in her portable oven. Everyone participating enjoyed eating their treat.

Volunteers, come join us for an activity!

Ms. Lowe to speak to parents

The Ozona Community Center will be the site on Monday, November 21, at 7:00 p.m. for another enlightening program sponsored by the Parental Awareness Program. Because of interest and concern shown by parents who attended the initial meeting, a program will be presented on learning disabilities.

Ms. Nancy Lowe from Region XV Service Center in San Angelo, a reading specialist with previous concentration in special education and learning disabilities, will present the program which will be followed by a short question and answer period.

She will have information on how to help children with learning disabilities, and signs parents can watch for to identify a learning disability. Because the holiday period becomes so hectic, the Parental Awareness Program will not sponsor a December program, but will resume in January.

Turkey is nutritious and best buy for holidays

It's time to talk turkey. Consumers shopping for the traditional holiday bird will be pleased to find that it's just as economical as last year, says a Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service poultry specialist.

Retail prices will be about the same, or only slightly higher than last year, says Dr. David Mellor.

A larger than usual red meat supply is helping to keep prices stable, says Mellor, in spite of increased feed costs for producers and a reduction in the excessive storage stocks of turkey from last year.

Shoppers will find plenty of turkey in the stores, but prices will vary significantly between different types of turkey products—plain whole turkey, self-basted store brands and self-basted national brands, says the poultry specialist.

Economy and tradition aren't the only reason that the average American consumes about 11 pounds of turkey per year. "Turkey is one of the best high-nutrition, low-calorie food around," says Dr. Dymple Cooksey, a foods and nutrition specialist with the Extension Service.

Roasted dark turkey meat contains 30 percent protein, 8.3 percent fat and 203 calories for a 100-gram serving, which is just under a quarter-pound. Roasted light meat contains 32.9 percent protein, 3.9 percent fat and only 176 calories per serving.

When shopping for a turkey, look first for the white, circular USDA inspection mark located on the package, says Cooksey. This mark assures that the processing was done under sanitary conditions.

The designation of a grade on turkeys is not mandatory, but a high percentage do have a USDA grade mark, she says.

Most turkeys sold at retail are Grade A turkeys. Some stores also have grade B turkeys and a few may package grade C turkeys. "Don't hesitate to buy a grade B or C turkey when they are available," advises Cooksey. "The price will be lower, and the factor that caused the lower grade, such as a skin tear, has nothing to do with the wholesomeness of the bird."

Since tenderness of the meat is determined by the age of the bird, and not the grade, size or sex, look for the words "young" or "fryer-roaster," to get a tender bird, says Cooksey.

Plan on buying a turkey big enough to supply three-fourths pound per person, or one pound if you want leftovers.

Smaller families and singles can enjoy a holiday turkey without having to purchase more than they can eat, says Cooksey, by shopping for a turkey half or quarter. Most stores also carry frozen boneless roasts and rolls in a variety of serving sizes, she adds.

Since turkey leftovers can be frozen in any high-quality moisture and vapor-proof material for up to a year without losing quality, planned leftovers make good food management for large or small families.

Dieters should select fresh-dressed or frozen plain turkey. Pre-basted frozen turkeys have more calories and usually cost more. Those on salt-restricted diets should also avoid pre-basted or processed turkey, since salt is added to preserve the meat and enhance flavor.

Winterize your home for lower electric bills.

Follow Reddy's tips this winter to help you save money on your electric bills:

CALL YOUR HEATING SERVICE SPECIALIST NOW.
Have your heating unit checked NOW by a qualified specialist to put it into top operating condition. Not only will you minimize the possibility of a costly and uncomfortable breakdown in the middle of winter, you also will help to keep down home operating costs. Have it serviced early, before your serviceman or dealer has a waiting list.

SET YOUR THERMOSTAT AT 68 DEGREES OR LOWER.
Leave your thermostat at 68 degrees or lower in the winter during the daytime, and turn it down a few degrees when you retire at night.

ADD TO THE INSULATION IN YOUR CEILING AND WALLS.
Insulation comes in rolls, loose fill or batts. The "Resistance-value", or "R-value", indicates the ability of a material to keep heat from passing through it. The higher the "R-value", the more heat the insulation will keep inside in winter and outside in summer. Values up to R-30 in the ceiling and R-16 in the walls are recommended in these areas.

KEEP CAULKING AND WEATHERSTRIPPING IN GOOD SHAPE.
Sealing of cracks around doors, windows, pipes and wiring should be done to help you save on both heating and cooling costs. Polyurethane or similar caulking, plus felt or foam rubber products, come in easy-to-install form at most hardware stores and will help to draft-proof your home.

WINTERIZING YOUR HOME FOR ENERGY-EFFICIENCY WILL HELP YOU HAVE A MORE COMFORTABLE WINTER WITH LOWER ELECTRIC BILLS

Crop and livestock survey to get under way this month by state

The Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service will begin contacting farmers and ranchers across the state in late November for final 1983 crop acreage, yield and production totals and end of year livestock and poultry inventories. State Statistician Dennis Findley reported that producer compliance with the current farm programs reduced crop acreage across the state, and many farmers and ranchers are depending on this survey information for an accurate picture of the 1983 agricultural situation.

Findley explained that the confidential interviews, conducted by mail or in person by field enumerators, provide information used by producers to make their production and marketing plans for the coming year. "Without these reports, farmers and ranchers would have to rely on other sources for crop and livestock information," he added.

To reduce survey costs, Findley is urging farmers and ranchers to return the mailed questionnaires as soon as possible.

Annual county estimates are published for livestock, dairy, poultry, cotton, field crops, small grains, fruits and pecans, vegetables, and cash receipts from the sale of farm products.

Copies of these bulletins can be obtained by contacting the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, P.O. Box 70, Austin, Tx. 78767.

Neighborhood Girl Scout meeting held

The monthly Girl Scout neighborhood meeting was held Monday, November 7, at the home of Terry Adams.

Investiture by candlelight ceremony was held for three new leaders in Girl Scouts. The following women have completed nine hours of training: Leslie Wilson, Elma Ybarra and Stella Ramirez.

Mrs. Judy Probst was guest speaker and gave the leaders some fantastic ideas in crafts for Christmas that can be made by their girls.

A business meeting followed with leaders reminded to have their girls use up their cookie dough by December 31. Plans were made for attending an Arts and Craft training in Sonora, November 22, at 7 p.m. in the Sonora Girl Scout house. Cost is $3.00 per person to cover expense of supplies. Those wishing to attend can contact Terry Adams at 392-3028 before November 18.

The balance of calendar money was collected and plans were made for a Christmas party to be held on December 5, with invitations going out to the leaders in Sonora and Big Lake. Each leader attending is to bring a covered dish and a gift. The gift will have to be something that is homemade, such as food, arts and craft, needle work, ceramics, etc.

Those attending the meeting were Peggy Phillips, Wanda Halford, Thelma Janes, Elma Ybarra, Stella Ramirez, Cynthia Ramos, Cathy Carson, Nikki Dunn, Mary Skains, Leslie Wilson, Carla Blackledge, Judy Probst, Terry Adams and Judy Madden from San Angelo.

Wanda Halford donated the door prize that was won by Stella Ramirez. Refreshments were served. Next meeting is scheduled for December 5, Monday night, at 7 p.m. in the home of Terry Adams, Service Unit Coordinator.

Older citizens feel vulnerable to crime due to limitations

Many older Americans feel more vulnerable to crime because of physical limitations and limited financial resources, says Judith Warren, a family life education-aging specialist.

"Actually, older people are not victimized any more or less than other age groups but this fact does not help feelings of fear," says Warren, who is with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service home economics program.

"Older persons in both cities and small towns sometimes end up living in high crime areas," Warren says. Though they may have lived in the same place for years, the neighborhood often changes around them. They are the outsider-the different person-and so might be victimized.

"Older people living in rural areas may feel the isolation more than they did when they were younger," she adds.

Crime prevention organizations have a series of suggestions for older persons. To prevent robbery, make sure the home is locked whenever you are not home. Dead bolt locks, locks or pins in windows and closed garage doors help keep a home secure.

The appearance of someone in the home is important too. Lights left on or a radio played at normal volume can be a deterrent.

Many neighborhoods organize a Neighborhood Watch. In this, neighbors agree to be aware of each other's home and report to the police any activities out of the ordinary. Even a casual neighbor-to-neighbor conversation asking that the home be watched, can give the older person a feeling of security, notes the home economist.

Older persons can do some things themselves, too, says Warren. Women do not have to carry their purses with them all the time. If they are out for a walk or window-shopping, they can leave their purse at home and remove some temptation to a purse snatcher.

"Go out with friends," says the specialist. "There is security in numbers. Plan your route so that you are traveling in safe areas and don't always go to the same place at the same time. Go grocery shopping at different times so that an intruder can't learn your schedule."

MR. AND MRS. JEFFREY MARK HILL

Miss Massey and Mr. Hill are wed in Uvalde

Miss Julie Darlyne Massey and Jeffrey Mark Hill of Ozona were united in marriage at one o'clock in the afternoon at St. Philip's Episcopal Church in Uvalde on Friday, October 21, 1983. The Rev. Nicholas Mayer, Jr., officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Marjorie Cochran and Warren Massey of Sabinal. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hill.

The altar of the church was decorated with large vases of white gladiolas and blue chrysanthemums. Candelabra with ferns flanked each side. The family pews were marked with blue ribbons.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white acetate and nylon lace over taffeta. The Queen Anne neckline was trimmed with re-embroidered lace and seed pearls. The lace elbow length puff sleeves had satin ribbon bows and streamers. The skirt was edged with tiered lace. Her sweeping cathedral length veil was of sheer nylon illusion, trimmed in matching lace and seed pearls. The bride carried a bouquet of white baby rosebuds and carnations, with baby's breath, needle-point ivy and greenery.

Organist was Nancy Hildebrandt.

Miss Jana Lyn Cochran was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a floor length dress of baby blue organza over taffeta.

Mikel Deen Hill served his brother as best man. Ushers were Ken Stokes and Rex Surber, also of Ozona.

Following the ceremony a reception was given by the bride's family in Briscoe Hall.

After a trip to Las Vegas, Nevada, Mr. and Mrs. Hill are at home in Ozona.

On Friday before her wedding Miss Massey was honored with a brunch given by her aunt, Mrs. Betty Butler, at the Holiday Inn Dining room.

Honored guests were Marjorie Cochran, mother of the bride, and Janet Hill, mother of the groom; also Mrs. Troy Wright, grandmother of the groom, and sister, Jerrilyn Miller of Ozona and Miss Jana Cochran, sister of the bride.

When you think about supplementing your cattle two questions probably come to mind. How much will it cost? And, what kind of results can you expect? With Loomix you can usually get favorable answers to both questions.

Loomix is a different feed supplement. Different for a number of reasons. Reasons that add up favorably on the bottom line, where costs and results always show up.

The delivered price is the fed price. That's one Loomix difference. And an important one because it means you can accurately budget supplementation. There are no hidden costs to take into account.

The Loomix man does your supplementing for you. There are no extra labor or equipment costs. He keeps a top quality supplement in front of your cattle at all times, good weather or bad. He's around every 10 days or so to fill the troughs. He checks consumption, which is controlled by a natural method and keeps an eye on your cattle.

You can feed low quality roughages. Loomix improves digestion, enabling cattle to get more from any feed, especially high fiber, low quality roughages. This too shows up in lower feed costs... and results.

Cows winter better when supplemented with Loomix. They have more calves, bigger, healthier calves, with fewer calving problems. And they're in condition to breed back quickly. That pays off too.

Stocker cattle can be grazed year-round without expensive losses in gain when the grass turns brown and dry. Green grass gains can also be increased. The result? Market weights reached sooner and at lower costs.

The chances are good Loomix can benefit your cattle business. Either by lowering costs, or improving results. Or a combination of both. Get the facts on Loomix. The Scientists Tell Me...

More Efficient Milk Homogenization Could Save Sizeable Amounts of Energy

By Robert L. Haney
TAES Science Writer

Milk homogenization which blends the fat into whole milk and prevents it separating out as cream is extremely inefficient with respect to energy use, according to scientists at Texas A&M University.

In high-pressure homogenization, particularly, the fluid product is forced through a narrow slit at very high pressures in order to reduce the size of the fat globules and cause them to disperse in the milk serum, according to Dr. Vincent E. Sweat, professor in food engineering, and a member of the team of researchers who made the study for the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

The homogenizer valve invented by Gaulin in 1898 is still in use today. It was adopted because it gave good results in homogenization of milk.

"However," Sweat says, "since milk fat constitutes only five percent of the total volume of milk and less than five percent of the total weight, we can infer that a process like high-pressure homogenization of milk intended to induce a change in the fat globules only, but which subjects the total milk volume to the same high-pressure, is inefficient.

"We realize that present methods are costly, energy-wise, and made this study in order to further define the energy efficiency of the homogenization process and consider alternatives and where research may be needed.

"Our review team, which included Dr. Ronald Richter, associate professor in animal science, Larry Gardner, graduate research assistant in agricultural engineering; and Ricardo Casinelli, of Lima, Peru, developed several interesting possibilities.

There is an indication that milk is over homogenized, at least from the prevention of creaming. An analysis of fat globule rise due to buoyant forces predicts much greater separation than that which actually occurs.

"This would indicate that there is considerable 'anchoring' of interfacial forces between fat globules and milk serum so that it may not be necessary to obtain such small fat globules, as used in the present process. There is a need to better define the potential 'anchoring' forces as a function of fat-globule diameter.

Also, as mentioned earlier, since fat is only five percent of milk volume, it seems obvious, from the standpoint of energy efficiency, that it would be better to separate the fat before homo-

Pregnancy important time in woman's life

For many women, pregnancy is the most important time in their lives for taking care of themselves--and the child.

Eating right, cutting out cigarettes and alcohol, and being careful about taking medicine are all important, says the Texas Medical Association.

Also deserving attention are X-rays and other radiation procedures of the abdominal area, according to the American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists and the American College of Radiology.

genization, and then homogenize the fat and just enough milk serum to surround the fat globules and keep them separate.

"Once this was done, this low volume product could be blended with the remainder of the milk at a much lower expenditure of energy," Sweat concluded.

Hospital Auxiliary meeting

Most pregnant women never need an abdominal X-ray during pregnancy. But sometimes, because of a particular medical condition, a physician may feel that one is needed.

The risk to the woman and her unborn child is very small, and the benefit of the information gained is far greater. In fact, the risk of not having a needed X-ray could be much greater than the risk from the radiation.

Refreshments were served before the meeting adjourned.

Brownie troop elects officers

The Crockett County Hospital and Care Center Auxiliary met recently in the day room at the Care Center. Doris Karr was elected president, Marie Pierson, treasurer, and Blanche Walker, secretary. The president reported the name plates for patient's doors have been installed.

The members present volunteered to help with birthday parties each month at the center. This is a courtesy to the patients to help serve the birthday cake.

Volunteers for 1983 were presented pin bars for their hours of service. Anna Bell Patrick for 150 hours, Bonnie Warth 100 hours, Alice Ross, 100 hours, and Dorothy Doll, 500 hours.

Ann McCartney, Activities Director at the Center reported several residents have entered a letter writing contest sponsored by Care Magazine, telling about their lives in the Care Center.

Members paying dues for the new year are Sue Linthicum, Maudie Couch, Allene Sutton, Mary Lee Jones, Earline Jones, Liz Mary Pipes, Bonnie Warth, Polly Mayes, Dorothy Doll, Marie Pierson, Blanche Walker, Beth Boyd, Jo Davidson, Anna Bell Patrick and Doris Karr.

The new officers voted in were Stefny Sutton, president; Mindy Coates, vice-president; Staci Sessom, treasurer; Sunny Lowman, hostess; T. J. Lambert, refreshment chairman; Tiffany Vargas, clean-up chairman.
