Morales services Saturday

Funeral services for Rosemary Morales, 33, were held Saturday at 9 a.m. at St. Joseph's Catholic Church in San Angelo with burial on the Morales Ranch Cemetery near Ft. McKavett.

Mrs. Morales, an Ozona resident, was killed Thursday afternoon in San Angelo when her car struck a steel beam which was loaded on a flatbed truck and protruded almost 21 feet into the traffic lane. According to a report, the beam did not have a red flag on it. Mrs. Morales was pronounced dead at the scene.

She was born May 31, 1950 in Boerne. She was married to Rudy Morales August 17, 1968 in San Angelo. He was killed in an oilfield related accident Sept. 14, 1982.

She is survived by three sons, Paul, Charlie and Adam Morales, all of Ozona; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Felipe Alvarez of San Angelo; three sisters, Delores Vargas, Tillie Fass and Gloria Salinas, all of Boerne, and several nieces and nephews.

A nostalgic stroll up and down main street Ozona

On minding the store

By-Evart White

On assignment to 'mind the store' while the Stockman crew is in Odessa attending the West Texas Press Assn. convention, I'm back in familiar surroundings for the day—the afternoon as a matter of fact. The surroundings are not altogether familiar in terms of my beginning in the newspaper business in Ozona—more elegant now—but just sitting here brings up some familiar scenes and faces.

Back in the old Davidson building on the south side, there's Oscar Kost and his boot shop on one side and Houston Smith's law offices on the other. Both were frequent visitors in the office and both were dear friends. Before Houston there was Judge Davidson, who, as county judge and attorney, was the source of much needed information and an absorbing conversation when you caught him at leisure.

Then, there was Mother Davidson, beloved matriarch who was also a frequent visitor to my office. She often commiserated with me that the worms were eating my linotype machine—the metal shavings that fell at the machine's base as the metal type lines (line-of-type) were shaved to precision sides and back as they were ejected from the typesetter.

Being next door to the county judge, first Davidson and then Smith, members of the then Commissioners Court were frequent area callers. Faces that appear are of Rob Miller, Wilse Owens, Charlie Black, Bill Miller, Beulis Kinser, Jake Young, Ben Ingham, Mrs. Ingham, and maybe a few others whose names escape me.

There's the face of T. A. Kincaid, Sr., telling me of the affairs of the Sheep & Goat Raisers Assn., of which he was president for a dozen years. Here's Tom Smith, my neighbor down the street, one time Mr. Atlas the blacksmith of Ozona and now rancher and earnest member of the local school board, come to take me on an inspection tour of some new project of the school board.

I see John Bailey stroll by (he walked to town nearly every day when he intended to stay downtown). John would stop in front of the Judge's office and take out his always sharp pocket knife and trim off some straggling branches on a scrawny mulberry tree that Houston Smith petted. On down the street in front of the then Smith Drug No. 2, another mulberry is growing and has been shaped to a presentable contour by John's frequent trimming.

And always looking forward to visits by the preachers. There was the intense

Judge under investigation

Judge Troy D. Williams, 112th District Judge, is being investigated by the Texas Commission on Judicial Conduct as a result of his actions in a rape case he presided over in the 83rd District Court in Rankin January 18.

The investigation came about after he accepted a guilty plea to the charge of "statutory rape" from a 21-year-old Big Lake man and gave him a probated sentence. The plea bargain was made by 83rd District Attorney Aubrey Edwards and Judge Williams appointed his daughter, Kathryn Mayfield, to act as defense attorney for the accused.

Big Lake citizens were outraged and this prompted a front-page editorial in the Big Lake Wildcat, weekly newspaper, by its editor, David Werst. The editorial may be found in this week's Stockman and will give the reader a better account of the situation than can be gleaned by all the statewide media coverage.

The crime involved a 14-year-old Big Lake girl who was brutally raped, sodomized and injured so badly it necessitated corrective surgery in a San Antonio hospital. The crime occurred two days before Christmas. Two men were indicted by the Reagan County grand jury after a three-week investigation by the Reagan County Sheriff's Department. Members of the Big Lake community feel the plea bargain was not necessary nor right, and they are outraged.

Most of their criticism is aimed at District Attorney Edwards, but Judge Williams also came under fire and his actions are being examined by the Judicial Conduct Commission. There is some doubt about the effectiveness of the commission and the power it might wield.

Hospital board in meeting

Don Hopkins, Crockett County Hospital Administrator, gave a report on the most recent Medicare survey at a regular meeting of the hospital board Thursday evening.

The deficiencies cited in the survey were for the most part on procedure and are easily corrected. Hopkins commented the deficiencies had decreased dramatically over those of last year, and the hospital is in no danger of losing Medicare qualifications.

The board voted to approve the financial statements of the hospital and care center as well as write off a list of bad debts. Total revenue for the hospital for the month of January was $65,412, and total disbursements were $96,462. Care center revenue for the same period was $34,712 with expenditures of $46,424.

Salary changes were approved by the board for the administrator of the hospital and care center personnel. Increases in care center salaries amount to 15c an hour for the activity director; 24c an hour for the ward clerk; 25c, and an increase of $100 per month for the administrator of the center.

Board members present included Bonnie Warth, Al Ramirez, Bob Falkner, Lloyd Winkley and Sandy Stokes. Others present were Dr. and Mrs. Don Carlisle, Ramona Turnley, Jacque King, Dottie Tuttle, Tom Cameron and Elvira Caldwell.

Watch for clues pointing to DWI

The following article is a public service by The Ozona Stockman through the cooperation of Bill Mason, 112th Judicial District Attorney, Thomas Cameron, County Attorney, and the Prosecutor Council. Its purpose is to make you aware of a prosecutor's role, of your responsibility as a resident of Crockett County, and how we can work together to alleviate some of society's problems.

DWI: Watch for Clues

Previously the District and County Attorneys and the Prosecutor Council presented a series of articles examining the problem of DWI, the changes proposed in the law, and the changes recently adopted by the Legislature. Weekends and holiday seasons—with parties, extra drinking and increased driving—can be particularly hazardous times. Still, the toughest laws in the world are not enough if a drunken driver crosses your path. The best defense is knowing how to identify a drunken driver and avoid him.

The National Highway Traffic Safety Administration suggests the following clues may indicate the presence of a drunken driver:

Turning suddenly, illegally, or in a wide radius.

Straddling the center of the lane marker or weaving from lane to lane, possibly into oncoming traffic.

Stopping inappropriately or without cause in a lane.

Driving at night without headlights on.

Failure to dim lights for an approaching vehicle.

Responding slowly to changes in traffic lights or signaling in a manner inconsistent with driving actions.

Following other vehicles too closely.

Accelerating or decelerating rapidly.

Almost hitting an object or vehicle.

If you see a driver whom you suspect may be drunk, put plenty of space between your car and his. Pull off the road and let him pass, if necessary. If you have a CB radio, give an impaired-driver alert on emergency channel 9. Give the location by identifying the road and direction of travel. Give a description of the vehicle, including model, color, and license plate number. Stand by to answer questions or repeat information.

It is each citizen's duty to report such incidents and be willing to testify about them if necessary. In this day and age we may often feel problems are too complex or massive for the individual to make a difference. But alertness and willingness to act is something that the individual can do to assist law enforcement in this area. We owe it to ourselves to help out; it is only through our combined efforts that the DWI problem can be lessened.

Together we can help each other to have happier—and safer—lives.

Commissioners Court in routine meeting

The Crockett County Commissioners court met in regular session Monday with a routine agenda. In the absence of Judge A. O. Fields, who was out with the flu, senior commissioner Jack Williams presided.

Members of the court allocated paving for the summer season. Five miles will be retopped in the city along with five miles in each precinct of county roads, for a total paving program of 25 miles. Bids were ordered taken for a front-end loader and for welding pipe.

Bids will also be taken for nine push lawn mowers for the parks department as well as for one pickup truck.

The Crockett County Hospital report was given by Don Hopkins and the court approved the recommended pay raises for hospital personnel.

Bids were opened for gasoline and diesel for the county for the next six months. Moore Oil company was the successful bidder.

L-B Motor Co. was the low bidder for two cars for the sheriff's department and Iran Ford was the low bidder on one vehicle. The three cars were ordered purchased.

The court approved the temporary appointment of Maxine Brown to the post of Justice of the Peace, while Judge Davee recovers from surgery performed last week in San Antonio.

A new electric generator was ordered for the jail at a cost of around $2,500.

Commissioner B. W. Stuart reported on the dumpground which is being operated in violation of the Texas Department of Health's "Municipal Solid Waste Management Regulations," according to a letter received by Stuart from the Texas Department of Health. Seven violations were listed after an inspection of the site in November, 1983. Stuart has been working on correcting the situation.

In other business, the court approved a foster home contract for dependent children and declined to take action on an insurance proposal presented by a representative from NFC Associates.

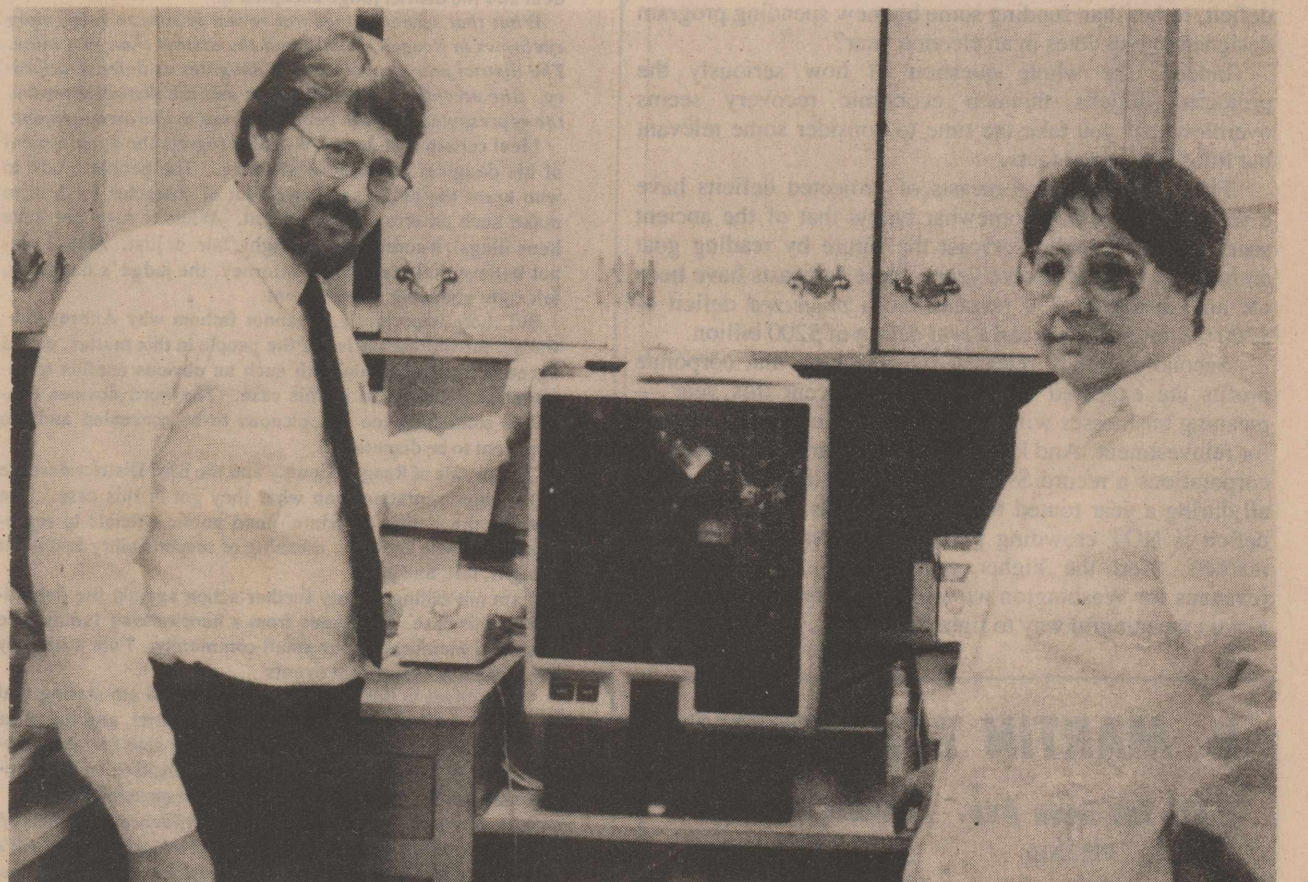

Historical Society sets slide show

A slide presentation depicting the building of the Southern Pacific railroad through West Texas in 1882 will be presented at the Civic Center February 21, by the Crockett County Historical Society.

Presenting the slides and speaking on the subject will be Jack Skiles of Langtry, supervisor of the Judge Roy Bean visitors center at Langtry since 1968, and archaeologist for many years.

The biggest single obstacle to the building of the railroad was how to cross the Pecos river gorge, and much of the program will be devoted to showing how the pioneer rail builders managed to lay the rails across the river.

The program will begin at 7:30 p.m., Feb. 21. A cordial invitation is extended to the general public to attend the evening's interesting account of an historic accomplishment.

New machine added

NEW EQUIPMENT FOR HOSPITAL—Don Hopkins, hospital administrator, and Mary Huckabee, lab technician, show off the latest addition of equipment to the hospital. The new machine will measure electrolytes on heart patients. The machine, which cost $3,995 is much more accurate than the old machine which was being rented for $600 per month.

NO RED ALERT OVER RED INK

By Edwin Feulner

One of the more cynical jokes going around Washington today is the heightened "concern" over projected federal deficits currently being expressed by several presidential candidates and some of the biggest spenders in Congress.

These folks, such as House Speaker Thomas O'Neill (D-Mass.) and presidential candidate Senator Ernest Hollings (D-S.C.), more often than not come from the ranks of the shock troops of the Great Society. They brought you the $11.8-billion food stamp program, federal funding for Lesbian poetry collectives, and Amtrak, a socialist anachronism that offers a means of traveling between Los Angeles and Phoenix seven times slower and roughly five times the cost it would take to fly there.

Some government forecasts are now projecting a deficit in the $200-billion range next fiscal year. Like all good conservatives, we consider that bad news. But here is where we part company with the congressional deficit Cassandras. We don't think a $200-billion deficit is an excuse to raise taxes. And they do.

The big-spending worrywarts suggest that a $200-billion deficit could endanger economic recovery by crowding private borrowers out of the capital markets. What this means, in lay terms, is that if the government is chewing up $200 billion in available credit, there won't be very much left for business to borrow to finance job-creating expansion. The worrywarts don't propose to cut the fat out of domestic welfare programs, which currently make up the lion's share of the federal budget. Instead they suggest solutions like a 25-percent cut in defense spending (former Senator cum presidential candidate George McGovern) or a 10-percent across-the-board tax surcharge (Senator and presidential candidate John Glenn).

Frankly, this is really "the wrong stuff." Defense spending isn't the cause of the deficit. A recent Heritage Foundation analysis by Guy M. Hicks showed that defense spending accounted for less than one of every five dollars spent by government in 1983, or only 17.2 percent of all government spending.

And does anyone really believe that money raised by increasing taxes will be channeled toward eliminating the deficit, rather than funding some big new spending program designed to buy votes in an election year?

Indeed, the whole question of how seriously the projected deficits threaten economic recovery seems overblown, if you take the time to consider some relevant but little-publicized facts.

First, government forecasts of projected deficits have a record of accuracy somewhat below that of the ancient seers of Delphi, who forecast the future by reading goat entrails. In the last twelve years, these forecasts have been off an average of 254 percent. So a projected deficit of $200 billion doesn't mean a real deficit of $200 billion.

Secondly, newly released figures show that corporate profits are expected to increase 25 percent this year — meaning businesses will have plenty of money of their own for reinvestment. And last year's stock market rally brought corporations a record $97.3 billion from the sale of stock, all during a year touted for record deficits. So clearly, the deficit is NOT crowding private borrowers out of capital markets. And the higher profits will mean more tax revenues for Washington without raising taxes — certainly a more meaningful way to fight the deficit.

AN EDITORIAL

by david werst, editor
[Re-printed from the Big Lake Wildcat]

Our respect is lost

If you once forfeit the confidence of your fellow citizens, you can never regain their respect and esteem. It is true that you may fool all the people some of the time; you can even fool some of the people all the time; but you can't fool all of the people all the time.

-Abraham Lincoln

If there is a creed that public officials should strive for, that creed would say something to the effect that public officials should ever be mindful of their responsibilities to the people they serve and they should strive to do that which is right, fair, and just. The key phrases are responsibility and right, fair, and just.

A recent court case has caused doubt in my mind whether several public officials in our judicial system know that their responsibilities are to the people they serve.

The people of Reagan County and the 83rd District have a right to know the facts which lead me to question the priorities of these so-called public officials.

In the process of seeking justice for the victim of a recent sex offense case involving two men age 21 and 28 and a 14 year old juvenile, the police officers did their job and their investigation led to the arrest of the two for the offense against the victim. One of the men gave officers a statement which led to the arrest of the other man who was allegedly involved.

After spending only a few days in jail, the man who gave the statement was taken to Rankin where district court was being held. The man and his court appointed lawyer apparently made a deal with the district attorney, and the judge in the case accepted the plea bargain. The offender confessed to a charge of statutory rape, was given a three year prison sentence-probated for three years and was ordered to pay $97.00 in court costs along with no fine and $150.00 restitution to Reagan County for the expense of a court appointed attorney.

This type of arrangement is nothing unusual. We are not so naive that we do not know this is a common, convenient arrangement for prosecutors, although it often leaves a bad taste in the mouth of the public. The public is also not so naive that it does not know that these arrangements are sometimes necessary to achieve the goals of the prosecution. However, the way this arrangement was handled not only left a bad taste, it also smelled bad.

The defendant in the case did not come forward and confess to his part in the alleged crime. There was a 20 day intensive investigation which led to his arrest. It was only after he was confronted that he gave a statement to officers. After a few days he was taken before District Judge Troy Williams. Williams appointed Kathryn Mayfield as defense attorney. District Attorney Aubrey Edwards was responsible for representing the people of the State of Texas, the people of Reagan County, and the little girl who was seriously and grievously injured in the incident. The defendant, who was arrested after the exhaustive 20 day investigation, confessed, was convicted, given a probated sentence, ordered to pay $97.00 court costs and of course a $150.00 restitution to pay his defense attorney. All of that was the result of an agreement or deal or plea bargain between the district judge, the defense attorney, and the district attorney. The defense attorney was doing her client a good job. This was a victory of sorts for the defense. The district attorney agreed to the deal and the district judge accepted it.

What that scenario does not reveal is sure to raise more eyebrows in Reagan County and the district than just mine. The district judge appointed his daughter as defense attorney. She accepted the appointment and the district attorney, the representative of the people, agreed to this arrangement. I feel certain that Judge Williams regrets the appointment of his daughter as defense attorney. The people I talk to who know the judge say it was out of character for him to make such an error in judgement. While it may not have been illegal, it surely was not right, fair, or just. Also, I cannot believe that the defense attorney, the judge's daughter, felt right about her appointment.

But more importantly, I cannot fathom why Aubrey Edwards, the representative of the people in this matter, would agree to a plea bargain with such an obvious conflict of interest as was evident in this case. The word obvious describes something too conspicuous to be concealed and too apparent to be disputed.

The people of Reagan County and the 83rd District deserve better representation than what they got in this case. The people, the victims of crime, need public officials to represent them who know the meaning of responsibility and what is right, fair, and just.

I am not calling for any further action against the defendant in this case. He comes from a hardworking family who are solid members of our small community. I am sure they are heartsick over recent events.

My motives in this editorial are simple. I am stating that the people of Reagan County, the 83rd District, and the State of Texas will surely not countenance, nor vote for, nor support, public officials who are either insensitive to their responsibilities or do not care about their responsibilities.

We as citizens elect and put our confidence in public officials who will represent high goals of ethical conduct. We as citizens are vulnerable. We are trusting. We look to our officials to protect us. We despise those who betray our confidence.

Our confidence has been forfeited. Our respect and esteem is lost. It is true that you may fool all the people some of the time; you can even fool some of the people all of the time; but you can't fool all of the people all of the time.

you and the LAW
PRESENTED BY THE STATE BAR OF TEXAS

Q: Three questions regarding legal ages in Texas: FIRST: What is the age of majority? SECOND: What is the legal age for consuming alcohol? THIRD: What is the youngest age at which one can be married?

A: The age of majority is 18, which means that at 18 a person may legally enter into contracts, including marriage, and be legally bound by those contracts. Since September 1, 1981, the legal age for consuming alcohol in Texas is 19. The minimum age one can marry in Texas without parental consent is 18. If you are between 14 and 18 and you have your parents' consent, you can marry. Without parental consent, you may request permission from the court. If you have the consent of the court there is no minimum age if your parents are given adequate notice to object to the marriage.

Q: I married a man who said he was divorced. However, five years after I married him, he received some papers from his first wife. They were divorce papers for him to sign. I am really confused. I don't know if I am married or not. What should I do?

A: You are not married to the man you are living with. Now that you have learned this you must protect your rights in the community estate as soon as possible. You are what is legally called a putative wife, which simply means that you may have a claim roughly equal to the legal wife's claim to assets acquired during the putative marriage. For example, in one case the putative wife received one-half of the assets and the man and the legal wife each received one-quarter of those assets. Many factors, including how fast you act to clarify your legal status, will affect the strength of your claim to the community assets.

Q: In a common-law marriage, when one spouse dies without a Will, what happens to property and possessions?

A: People sometimes use "common law" marriage to describe other relationships but a true common-law marriage exists between a man and woman who could legally marry each other in a ceremonial marriage; if they marry by living together as married; and if they are intending to be married. In Texas this kind of marriage is just as valid as a ceremonial marriage, though it may be harder to prove. Consequently, when one spouse dies without a Will, the surviving spouse has the same rights in the property and possessions as a surviving spouse in a formal marriage; that is, the survivor retains one half the community and the rest goes to the decedent's children.

Q: Is there a law that would exempt a senior citizen from having to make a minimum purchase in order to buy a "special" in a supermarket? As an example, a dozen eggs for 59¢ with a minimum $10 purchase?

A: There may be an ordinance in your particular city that would exempt a senior citizen from having to do certain things. For example, there are ordinances which allow senior citizens to pay less for bus fares. The easiest way to determine whether there is an ordinance governing this would be to contact your city attorney's office.

Q: What type of information is available to me under the Freedom of Information Act and how do I go about requesting this information from the government?

A: Any information in government agency files which can be reasonably identified may be obtained upon request, except for that which falls under any of the Act's exemptions. A written request should be made to the Freedom of Information Act officer of the government agency in question, and should be clearly identified as a Freedom of Information Act request, citing the Act by name. The Code of Federal Regulations volume entitled "Public Availability of Information" lists the specific address of each Freedom of Information Act officer. Each agency may have its own directions on the form and format of a request. You should offer to pay reasonable standard charges for actual search time and copying fees, up to a specified limit. Alternatively, you may visit or call the agency records center and discuss the subject before filing the request.

Q: I was a common law wife for 14 years and only learned upon the death of my husband that he had never divorced his first wife. Will I be able to draw from his social security?

A: The Social Security Administration will look to state laws to determine whether you were married to the man you considered your husband. In this case, you had no valid marriage because his first marriage was never ended.

There are two chances for you to draw benefits anyway: First, if you had a formal marriage ceremony, or second, if the deceased was the father of a minor child left in your care.

Tips For Gardeners

From The Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

Since our severe weather lasted so long and has caused the flowering shrubs and bulbs to be late blooming, why not try to design an exciting foliage arrangement for your home. I notice that some evergreens were not harmed by the freeze, and they are long lasting and don't conform to a stiff formality. It sets a style of its own, in line, form, color, and texture of living plants.

Before you begin to combine the plant material, identify the qualities that make a plant unique. Does it have a certain form, or a unexpected color, or a curiously textural leaf or a handsome line that will create a sense of flow within the composition. It's the interplay of mass and line and of color, form and texture that gives a foliage arrangement its grace and vitality.

Before you start collecting your material, you will need to give some thought to where the arrangement will be placed and how it will be seen. Too, that will determine the size and the quality and character of the material you use. Also it needs to be in keeping with the general feeling of the design and with the character of your room. Also the container needs to be heavy enough to keep the arrangement from tipping over and large enough to hold a supply of

Clothing workshop scheduled

Members of 4-H, ages 8-13, are invited to the February 25, Clothing Workshop, at the Civic Center from 8:00 a.m. to 12:45 p.m. This workshop will concentrate on hair care, pattern selection, facial and hand care, sewing machine practice, color, wardrobe, and accessory coordination.

In one of the four rotation sessions, Village Beauticians, Ana Martinez and Ten Sepata, will illustrate proper care and management of hair. One person in each group will receive a personal hair cut or style. Jan North, Ozona Home Economics teacher, will be teaching about pattern selection and basic pattern alterations.

Susie Basurto, beautician at BT's will be demonstrating proper facial and hand care for 8-11 year olds and makeup for 12-13 year olds. Again one person will be selected for the demonstration. Another session will feature a sewing machine part identification, machine care, and easy to make accessories.

Jody Sessom and Becky Childress, owners of the Teacher Store, will be concluding the workshop with a session on effective use of wardrobe, colors, and accessories.

This workshop has been coordinated with 4-H leaders and local businesses to create more interest in 4-H clothing project work. Members of 4-H should plan to attend this workshop prior to beginning their actual sewing experiences with leaders.

water for several days. When all these have been determined, the most important thing to keep in mind is naturalism. To help you select the plants you need for a specific effect, refer to the lists below and there may be others in your garden or a friends.

Accent plant material-cluster mahonia, auculea fatia, loquat, yellow edge California privet and many others. Line material, deciduous red twig and flowering dogwood, winged elm, euonymus, pussy willow, crepe myrtle, corkscrew willow and others.

Evergreen line material-horsetail-showy jasmine, thorny elaeagnus, willow leaf cotoneaster and Japanese yew.

Multi-purpose material-nandina, long leaf pine, luster leaf holly, southern magnolia, Virginia and white pine and variegated pittosporum.

Mass plant material-boxwood, burford holly, common camellia, photinia, Japanese pittosporum, scotch

Avoid following strict schedules for watering houseplants. The amount of water a plant needs depends on the type of plant, size and type of pot, proximity to heating vents, and amount of light the plant receives. The best way to tell if your plant needs water is to stick your finger into the soil about 1 to 2 inches deep. If the soil feels damp, don't water and wait until it feels dry.

Woman's Forum meets at home of Mrs. Marley

The Woman's Forum of Ozona met in the home of Mrs. J. C. Marley on February 7. Mrs. Roy Pearson and Mrs. Marley, acting for her mother, Mrs. C. O. Spencer, were hostesses. Thirty-two members and nine guests were present for an outstanding slide show presented by Mrs. Charlie Black.

In October 1983, Mrs. Black, her sister, Ms. Billie Carver of Winslow, Arizona; Mrs. Mamy Daniel of San Angelo, and three other Forum members, Mrs. Brock Jones, Mrs. George Bunger, Sr., and Mrs. Fred Hagelstein traveled to Australia, New Zealand, Hawaii, Tahiti, Fiji, and several other South Pacific islands during a four week period. Mrs. Black, well known in Crockett County for her fine photography, projected slides and discussed the cultural and historical points of each of their stops. Particularly interesting to the group was interior of Australia, similar in landscape and botanical make-up to Crockett County. In addition, Mrs. Black had a series of slides depicting sheep ranching and shearing on the Australian ranches, called "stations" on the "down-under" continent.

Following the film, Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Bunger exhibited gifts and mementos from their trip. These included boomerangs, shell and jade jewelry, Gaugin prints from Tahiti, and the beautiful handscreened fabrics and skirts of the islands.

Forum guests included Mrs. Marley, Mrs. Elizabeth Wilson, Mrs. Bill Mason, Mrs. Bill Black, Mrs. David Bean, Mrs. Thelma Jones, Mrs. Ira Carson, Mrs. Sybil Howe, and group member, Mrs. Daniel.

Other members present were Mdmes. Worth Allen, Bill Carson, James Childress, P.L. Childress, Hugh Childress, Mike Clayton, Bill Clegg, Roger Dudley, Lee Graves, Madye Jo Humphreys, Huey Ingram, Ralph Jones, L.D. Kirby, Arthur Kyle, Lowell Littleton, Allie Lock, Jess Marley, J. TO TURN AGAIN

In winter the pond freezes over, and the old mill wheel is idle. But although the landscape appears dormant, there is hidden life beneath the surface. One day it will be spring again, with water rushing over the mill wheel and corn being ground into meal.

If you have been living in a winter of your own, why not take a lesson from the old mill? The winters of our life are bleak — they are hard to weather. But forever and ever there is the chance to start again. Spring will come and your church will sustain you through doubt and disappointment and give you promise of another chance — another life.

Crockett County Care Center News

BY ANN McCARTNEY
DIRECTOR OF ACTIVITIES & SOCIAL CARE

Remember the letters submitted by the residents, published here, and submitted to "Caring" magazine? It was a bitter-sweet occasion when we received the Dec.-Jan. issue because our beloved Frances Borrego had won first place and $25. She lived to know that her letter had been selected but did not know which place or the cash award. It was so sad to think she would not be able to see it in print.

We had a new program this week. Jo Davidson gave our residents a demonstration and then assisted them in painting with plaster crafts. She even furnished all the supplies! One cannot beat a volunteer like that! Residents participating included her mother, Inez Biggs, along with Pearl Morris, Moriana Perez, Maude Pettit, Ola Mills, Nina Mayfield, Hilda Dysart, Juana Hernandez, and Tomasa Ramos.

Tuesday morning's dinner for two at El Chato's was won by Minnie Karr. She did not go with us to eat but her certificate went into reserve for another time.

The weather was pretty and not everyone was sick so we did go to El Chato's for dinner following our game of bingo. Residents going included Floy Clare Short, Johnny Henderson, Inez Biggs, Ola Mills, Maude Pettit, Nila Turnell, Pearl Morris, Tomasa Ramos, Nina Mayfield, Hilda Dysart, Paul Cavin, and Juana Hernandez, along with volunteers Sammy Patino, Anna Hufstetler, Jo Davidson, and Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Tambunga. Our helpful waitress was Veronica Tebbets. Thanks, El Chato's, for this treat!

Ceramics class was led by Doris Karr on Wednesday morning. In the afternoon we had a "down memory lane" reading and discussion. Thursday morning's beauty shop was manned by Lola Rios and Betty Jo Bullard, and, yes we need more help here.

Thursday afternoon Ted Turnley once again came for Bible study. Maude Pettit played the piano.

Friday morning's bingo winner for the week was Maggie Crawford. She received a gift certificate from the Teacher Store. Second place winner of handcream donated by the W.M.U. ladies of Big Lake was Ola Mills. Volunteers were Elena Lopez, Sammy Patino, Amalia Lumbreras, Anna Bell Patrick and Mattie Cooper.

Friday afternoon we finished our Valentines for our fifth grade students. Residents participating included Juana Hernandez, Paul Cavin, Tomasa Ramos, Bertha Miller, Hilda Dysart, Maude Pettit, Ola Mills, Inez Biggs and Moriana Perez. Volunteers were Elvira Martinez and Lola Rios.

Saturday afternoon the evangelist and minister of music visiting the First Baptist Church, the Rev. Tommy Phelps, and Nelson Dobson, along with Dr. Nelson Lanham, Ted Turnley, Joe Ross, Chris Gibson, and Ted Turnley Jr. all came and shared a program of song and personal testimony with our residents.

Sunday's afternoon church service was brought by members of the Catholic Church. The eighth grade C.C.D. Class was in charge. They gave a song and Bible verse program, brought a fruit basket, Valentines, and candy. Eleven church members were involved with this program, led by Roberta Schoenhals.

Thanks goes to the Garza family for flowers shared with our Care Center.

Residents playing dominoes on Monday included Nina Mayfield, Hilda Dysart, Paul Cavin, Maude Pettit, Ola Mills, Inez Biggs and Moriana Perez.

Hearts, like doors, will open with ease-to very, very little keys-don't forget that two of these-are "Thank You, Sir" and "If you please." Submitted by Minnie Karr.

It's part of "the plan" — the Energy Saving Plan

THE ELECTRIC HEAT PUMP: It can save you money on your home energy bills. And when it's used along with other WTU-recommended energy conservation measures according to the ENERGY SAVING PLAN, you can save even more. WTU will pay YOU money when your home meets all the E.S.P. requirements that ensure your home to be energy efficient. That's where the ELECTRIC HEAT PUMP comes in — it's part of "the plan" because it's the most efficient system for heating and cooling. During the winter it removes heat from the outside air and pumps it into your home. In the summer it reverses the process and becomes an air conditioner, so you get even comfort year-round. Lionettes finish season with loss to Crane

The Lionettes met up with undefeated Crane Tuesday night in Ozona and played a very fine ballgame. The Lionettes were defeated by the Cranes 37-59. The Lionettes had a very slow first quarter, but in the second, third and fourth quarters they were only outscored by a total of 6 points. The Lionettes worked together as a team better than they have all year.

Sherri Buckner played another good game with 16 points, 13 rebounds, 3 steals and 1 assist. Kristal Williams also played a good game with 10 points, 9 rebounds and 3 steals. Donna Sanchez played one of her best games of the season with 7 points, 1 rebound and 1 steal. Rita DeLaRosa came off the bench in the fourth quarter and sank 2 free throws for her 2 points. Christy Parks also had 2 points and 1 rebound. Zelda Munoz hustled good and contributed 3 rebounds and 2 steals. Lydia Maldonado also hustled a lot and had 1 rebound, 1 steal, and 2 assists. Vanessa Miller had 2 assists for the game and Julie Reagor had 1 rebound.

Last Friday night the Lionettes played their last game of the season against Colorado City. The girls lost the game by a score of 41-68.

Scoring for the Lionettes was Sherri with 13 points, Kristal had 9, Julie 8, Rita 3, Lydia 2, Vanessa 2, Donna 2, Christy 2, and Zelda 1. Rebounding for the Lionettes was Kristal with 8, Julie 6, Sherri 5, Vanessa 4, Zelda 4, Lydia 2, Rita 1, Christy 1. Sherri, Vanessa and Zelda had 2 steals each and Kristal had 1. Kristal had 3 assists for the game, Lydia and Vanessa had 2 assists each and Donna had 1.

Playing their last game for Ozona was Sherri Buckner, Lydia Maldonado, Kristal Williams, and Rita DeLa Rosa.

The Lionettes final record was 5-18. They won the Consolation trophy at the Sonora Tournament and third place at the Ozona Tournament.

The Lionettes made a lot of improvement over the season and the girls that will be back next year should have a very good season after gaining the needed experience this year.

Spring Fashion '84 Fashion Update

If you followed the Fall '83 couture collections, you may have noticed a new feminine elegance replacing the sportive attitude that prevailed for summer and early fall. Couture seems to be setting the trend for the spring season taking on long, lean proportions reflected primarily in geometric shapes. As you begin to think about spring sewing and putting together ideas, patterns, and fabrics to update your spring wardrobe, the following will be helpful.

Fundamentals include color, pattern, and texture. They include leveling (or layering techniques) and soft touches (reflected in dressmaker details). For colors, mixing color tones in the same color family will be prevalent. Look for unusual color combinations. The freshest color for fashion show is yellow--all tones and shades. In pattern and prints, we see combinations running from stripes to florals to African art. Stripes will be most important. Mens wear continues its strong influence in feminine interpretations. Textures is this season's fabric message, both visual and tactile. Seldom does fabric not have additional surface interest. Linen, of course, will be strong, as well as cotton in all weights and weaves. Over the past few seasons, color, pattern, and texture have begun mixing in unorthodox combinations. For Spring '84, the mixes are at their ultimate, for example: In color, shocking combinations of turquoise, pink and yellow; coral plus orange; fuchsia plus orange; black, chartreuse, and orange. In pattern: stripes plus dots; checks with florals, etc.; and in texture: tweeds plus glazed linen; suede plus crepe de chine, plus gabardine. Levelling or paralleling is the new way of wearing layers. The importance is the proportions: short over long over long. For example: short jackets or tanks over long tunics over long skirts or trousers. Hip aprons add texture or pattern over jackets, shirts, pants, and dresses. As always, the soft touches soften the silhouette--draping, knotting, wrapping, dressmaker details, gentle Japanese influences and sexy bareness. Draping takes on many variations. You will see many draped or shirred dresses and shirts-for day or night. Dressmaker details to look for are maderia embroidery, pleating, and tucking.

Specific fabrics to watch for this season include knits-ribbed, lacy, meshed, cable-knit, popcorn-alone or mixed. Suits will be popular for designer patterns; often beginning with a long lean menswear jacket or blazer (double or single breasted). When teamed with narrow, longer length skirts or cropped pants, this creates a mannishly feminine look. Jackets are most often unlined and unconstructed with strong round shoulders. Details to look for are slits, pleats, plenums and aprons. The sarong skirt, the full, circle skirt. Pants-classic and pleated. We'll be seeing more of the cropped pants; from mid-calf to just above the ankle. Foreign intrigue will be inspiring fashions this season with everything from casual beachwear to evening dresses. This costuming will carry further with the accessories topping off the total look. Put it all together for a fun, festive approach to Spring '84.

machine shop that was formerly Tom Smith's (no relation). Farther on there's the post office with J.R. and Mrs. Kersey serving, later to move to their own building. Beyond the alley Tom Harris was advisor to all who wished to build or repair in his West Texas Lumber Co.

Back to the west side of the downtown park, Richard Flowers grocery, later Hubert Baker's Piggly-Wiggly, next down the line W.D. Barton's Ozona Hardware, next C.G. Morrison variety store, then Bob Cooke's meat market, I.G. Rape's Ozona Drug Store, earlier W.E. Smith's drug store and still later Paschal Northcutt as manager and later owner of the retained name, Smith Drug. Roy Parker's tailor shop and next to it on the corner, the barber shop, with Red Greer, Sam Beasley, Barber Brown keeping 'em trimmed up.

Across the way in the rock building that before my time was the L.B. Cox general store, now the L.B. Adams grocery. Then like the financial giant it was the Ozona National Bank's two story rock building stood, with the Masonic lodge atop it. Joe Oberkamps furniture, hardware, plumbing and undertaking business was re-established after burning out and being replaced by the Perner buildings. Wup, go back a bit, we overlooked Charlie Butler's cafe, later John Held's now Pepe's. Next door Richard Miller's filling station.

Past the bank and Oberkamps' shop, was Jess Hancock's restaurant, then Ben Lemmons dry goods store and the Hotel Ozona across the street and Joe North's garage and Chevrolet-Olds agency and on the corner the historic Ozona Hotel, two story frame building that still stands and serves.

Look at the clock in the morning and if it's ten, look out and see L.B.T. Sikes parked next to the park wall, to pick up Oscar and me for a cup of coffee. The school board told him to mix and mingle, so he mixed with us---later to be joined by T.J. Bailey and A.O. Fields.

So many interesting people. One could reminisce until never and still miss some giants. This is only a hurried compilation to fill a lost afternoon. This is a hit and miss look at Ozona and some Ozonans. Some have contributed much, some little but all have left a mark of a sort, and all have in some manner contributed to the making of a community. Altogether they've done an excellent job.

Teen drug meeting

Ozona Teens Against Drugs (O.T.A.D.) met Thursday, February 9, at the Civic Center.

They decided on the name for their organization and also set bylaws which are: To educate youth and children on the bad effect of drinking and drugs.

To be an example for others to look up to. Provide confidential support and help to anyone who has a problem and asks for help.

The objective is to provide good clean activities for youth. They also decided to put on a skit for the Ozona Junior High School. Also they would like to invite all high school students to see Jaws III, February 24, at the Civic Center. They would also like to invite all high school students to their next meeting, Thursday, February 16, at 5 o'clock at the Civic Center.

SCS commorative stamp is available

A new 20-cent commorative stamp marking 50 years of soil and water conservation in the United States was issued by the U.S. Postal Service at the National Association of Conservation Districts annual meeting in Denver, Colorado on February 6.

C. H. Sinclair, district conservationist for the USDA Soil Conservation Service said the stamp is now available at the local post office. "The soil and water conservation movement began in 1934 when the Soil Erosion Service in the U.S. Department of Interior began working with farmers on demonstration projects," Sinclair said. "In 1935, the agency was transferred to the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Later in the spring, when Congress passed Public Law 46, it became the Soil Conservation Service."

"Today, SCS works with nearly 3,000 local conservation districts that are local units of state government," Sinclair said. "The conservation movement is a voluntary one that has involved 2.5 million landowners and operators since its inception."

In the local Crockett Soil and Water Conservation District, some 160 landowners and operators are cooperating with the district to apply conservation work to their land.

Does your life insurance fit together?

Over a lifetime, most of us acquire more than one life insurance policy which may have gaps or overlaps when providing for your total needs. This is expensive and may not meet all eventualities.

Your Farmers Agent has a portfolio of unique life insurance and annuity combinations which can be used to modify or consolidate your existing program.

To quote just four examples:

MORTGAGE PROTECTOR
A new plan tailored to pay off the home mortgage even with today's high mortgage interest rates, if the breadwinner dies.

VIP 100
Permanent insurance at term-like rates, providing flexibility to meet almost every household or business life insurance need.

VARIABLE PREMIUM WHOLE LIFE
A modern approach to whole life insurance which provides the insured with the lowest possible rates.

PLAN FOR FINANCIAL INDEPENDENCE
A unique life insurance-annuity combination package which provides for both working and retirement years. Ideal for IRA.

These programs and much more are available to you...why not give your Agent a call!
