The only new teacher in Ozona Primary is Margaret Porros, part-time special education aide.

Pre-enrollment figures down

Pre-enrollment figures released this week by Ozona School officials indicate that there may be a decline in the number of students this year. As of Monday, August 13, a total of 871 students had enrolled in Ozona schools, with approximately 106 more expected to enroll by opening day.

If the enrollment picture holds true, then this will mean that the district can expect a total of 977 students this year, as compared to a first-day total of 1,009 in 1983.

Student enrollment in the various schools is as follows: Ozona Primary-217; Ozona Intermediate-209; Ozona Middle School-210; and Ozona High School-235.

Court approves better lighting for Ozona

The Crockett County Commissioners Court met in regular session Monday. In the absence of County Judge A. O. Fields, Commissioner Jack Williams, senior court member, presided.

Ozona residents will be delighted to learn the court has agreed to update city lighting at last. Tim McMurray, West Texas Utilities manager, submitted a proposal to change all existing county street lights from incandescent and mercury vapor to the more efficient and higher powered high pressure sodium vapor lighting. To implement the conversion a county contribution of $4,836.88 was requested. The new lights will produce over twice the illumination of the present street lights and will represent a substantial savings to the county in utility bills. The court approved the proposal subject to further discussion on details.

A cemetery workers' proposal asking for continued summer help through October at least, increased car allowance, more tools etc. was tabled until Judge Fields' return. The court did, however, vote to increase the parks superintendent's salary to $2,315 per month, as of January 1, 1985.

The hospital report was given and the court took under consideration a request by the hospital board to purchase three walkie-talkies for the EMT staff at a cost of $395 each. A total of $25,000 was budgeted to turn four hospital rooms into care center rooms. The court asked for a list of requirements to be put out for bids. Some discussion was held on changing the laundry business at the hospital.

The court approved the hiring of Bobby Fatout to complete the report for the revenue sharing compliance plan. The report is due October 10. Under an affirmative action plan, all county buildings must be made

Self-inflicted gunshot is cause of death

Sheila Dyson, 19, of Hollis, Maine was found dead at the Circle Bar Motel around 1:00 p.m. Sunday. She died of a gunshot wound to the head which was ruled self-inflicted.

A San Angelo relative was to meet Ms. Dyson around noon Sunday at the motel. When employees were unable to get an answer in her room and found it dead-bolted from the inside, one of the supervisors used a ladder to gain access to the balcony and remove the sliding doors. The dead woman was on the bed with a gun, 357 Magnum pistol, and an envelope addressed to "my nearest relatives."

She checked in Saturday with a truck driver. The driver left Sunday morning, but authorities located him and got a statement. Another truck driver reported the gun stolen earlier in the day from his truck.

Justice of the Peace Raymond Davee pronounced the woman dead and sent the body to San Antonio for an autopsy. The autopsy confirmed the earlier findings.

Bob Childress to sheep dog trials in Eden

Bob Childress will be competing with several of his internationally known dogs in the second trial of the Triple Crown of Southwest Sheep Dog Finals in Eden, August 18.

Bob and his dogs have won second and third places in the British Isles where there are 20,000 sheep dog handlers, fifteen competitions, and from 150 to 250 dogs in each meet.

There will be trophy plaques and money for first place dogs in each of four classes: ranch class, open ranch class, open class and pro-am. There will be $750 in added prize money.

The sheep dog trials will be held at the Eden Consolidated Independent School District ball field at 1:00 p.m. Admission for the event is $1 adult and 50 student.

readily available to the handicapped.

During the meeting bids for the county gasoline contract were taken. Shelton Oil & Gas of Mertzton won the contract with the low bid, but it was discovered later the tax had not been figured in the bid, so the contract was actually awarded to Sherwood of San Angelo. Torres Upholstery won the bid to re-upholster the furniture at the care center with the low bid of $2,734.

Reform bill to affect local school budget

Effects of House Bill #72 recently passed by the Texas Legislature in a Special Summer Session are still not totally known; however, the local budgeting process has begun and will be based on estimated financial figures furnished by the Texas Education Agency.

The Crockett County Cons. CSD is on a list of eighty-four school districts in the state which will be classified as Budget Balanced Districts for the 1984-1985 school year. The effect of being classified as Budget Balanced results in the loss of state financial support.

Provisions of the recently enacted law will allow for a three-year transition in the total loss of funds which will allow for some relief; however, additional costs of implementing the education reform bill must be borne by the district.

The district's loss will be incurred through a reduction in State Available per Capita earnings from $473,870.00 to an estimated $218,270.00. Transportation losses will be $52,932.00, and losses in Minimum Aid Adjustments will be $93,096. Over the next two-year period, the State Available Per Capita earnings will decrease to a minimum earning of $90. per student in average daily attendance or an estimated $85,410. This will result in a three-year loss of $388,460. in per capita money.

The school administration is still awaiting a report from the State Commissioner of Education to determine if the school district will be eligible for any Transition Aid in 1984-85. This aid is based on a percentage recovery of the district's losses. The district will be required to make a comparable tax rate increase to cover the losses before it is eligible for the aid.

Increased costs mandated to the district which are known to the district at this time are approximately $235,000.00 for salary adjustments. Other costs for 1984-1985 will be incurred to provide tutorial services, educational alternatives to suspension for incorrigible students, a summer program for students who have language deficiencies, and for remedial programs.

Also, in 1985-1986, the district will be required to implement a kindergarten program for economically deprived and English language deficient four year-old children.

Drug abuse program here Monday drew a crowd. They watched an interesting program on the use of Labrador Retriever dogs to detect the presence of illicit drugs.

The program will be used in the Ozona schools this year. Cathy, the trainer, puts Buddy, the investigative dog through his paces.

FAST FOOD FRACAS

By Edwin Feulner

Those of us who watched the recent Democratic Convention couldn't help but be impressed by the "fruits and nuts" roaming around outside the convention hall: the transvestite nun, Sister Boom Boom; punk rocker Jello Biafra; and someone calling himself Jesus Christ Satan, campaigning for the position of Messiah.

Well, San Francisco is San Francisco, but it's not the only world-class city beset with "problems." In the hot-bed of Far East capitalism, Taipei, howling of a different variety has commenced over the opening of two McDonald's hamburger franchises.

That's right, McDonald's — which gave Sister Boom Boom and other Americans the fast-food habit — has met with some disapproval in Taiwan's capital city, namely because of things we Americans have long neglected to even think about (especially in an election year): Is fast food replacing traditional food? How does fast food affect society? What is the nutritional value of fast food? And, in Taipei's case, how will McDonald's affect the economy?

Of the two McDonald's outlets in Taipei, one has already become the top selling of some 7,500 McDonald's franchises worldwide. No wonder. On a recent trip to Taipei, I observed lines of eager Big-Mac attackers flowing around the block from McDonald's. At $2 a burger, in a city where the dollar is very strong, that's quite a sight.

In a recent issue of Asiaweek, the Far East's answer to Time and Newsweek, two of Taipei's academic experts debated the merits of bringing Big Macs to Taiwan.

Hsiao Juei-cheng of Taipei's Chinese Culture University insists that the "craze for fast food caused by McDonald's will only be a temporary phenomenon. . . . However, since the company is spending heavily on advertising, it may have a large impact in the long run, especially on children."

Professor N. Y. Lee of Ju-jen Catholic University insists that the popularity of Western fast food may spur Asian food manufacturers to develop more Asian-style fast food to attract customers.

Mr. Hsiao argues that allowing McDonald's into the country will greatly damage the Taiwanese economy, since McDonald's imports everything from food ingredients to packaging. "The overall costs to (Taiwanese) agriculture, animal husbandry, the food-processing industry, and the fast food business would be too high to estimate," he says.

The discussion of whether or not McDonald's is good for Taiwan may continue, as may the antics of San Francisco' Sister Boom Boom and Jello Biafra.

But, then again, there could be worse things than invasions of hamburgers and fruitcakes.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS
By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Prison violence in the scandal-ridden Texas Department of Corrections rose last week as wardens and the Governor met to discuss renewing control over inmates.

Two prison stabbings last week, one resulting in a fatality, brought the assault toll to almost 100 this year, with nearly 30 stabbings occurring in the past month.

Wardens told the Governor that longtime methods of controlling prisoners have been stopped because of a federal court-ordered reform program.

But even as guards conducted a weapons search at one prison, officials turned their eyes north, where a missing witness in the prison investigation is believed to have turned up.

For over a month, law officers have pursued the location of James R. Pitts, a former prison construction superintendent who disappeared the day after Attorney General Jim Maddox announced Pitts had agreed to be a witness in the prison probe.

Pitts worked for the TDC for the past seven years when cost overruns of prison construction became so excessive that an alarmed Legislature launched an investigation.

Early last month, Mattox said Pitts would pay $25,000 for violating state bidding laws and would cooperate in the probe of prison construction bids.

Bullet-Ridden Van

The next day Pitts' bloody, bullet-ridden van was found by a road in Madison County. Officers, however, believed the van incident was staged and pressed a search for the missing witness.

Last week, officials announced they believe Pitts is alive and in Ohio or Pennsylvania. A man fitting Pitts' description was described trying to check into a Pittsburgh motel using Pitts' credit card.

The credit card company also gave authorities an Ohio address where a man using Pitts' name rented an apartment and listed the TDC as his former employer. The apartment was vacated by the man.

Mattox and other authorities are considering detaining and extraditing the man to participate in the investigation.

New State Board

The names of candidates for the newly appointed State Board of Education are coming in with nearly 200 being nominated last week.

The Legislature abolished the elected 27-member board in the recent special session. Governor Mark White will appoint 15 new board members from the nominations.

Among the names are former Congresswoman Barbara Jordan and two of White's political cronies: campaign treasurer Shannon Ratliff and recently resigned Texas Secretary of State John Fainter.

White is expected to name the 15 sometime in September. However, before the new board begins its work, the election-related changes in the law must be approved by the U.S. Department of Justice, which could take several weeks. Once installed, the new board will serve for four years, then revert to an elected board.

Mental Health Budget

The head of the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation told a legislative committee last week that more than $340 million of his budget requests for the next two years will be spent on court-ordered improvements in state facilities.

Two class-action lawsuits against the state agency were settled in federal court at the cost of $191.5 million to improve care for mentally retarded and $151 million for improvements to state hospitals for the mentally ill.

For those reasons, the department commissioner said, the department is forced to disregard the "no-growth" request by leaders of the Legislature.

The total budget request was $161 billion for 1986-87.

Campaign Skirmish

The two candidates for the U.S. Senate seat being vacated by John Tower squared off in what may be the first real skirmish of their contest.

At the center of this liberal-conservative confrontation was the issue of gay rights, but the argument widened into some real finger-pointing and name-calling.

It began when Republican Phil Gramm told reporters he did not support special treatment for gays and didn't want them teaching their philosophy in public schools. A pro-rights retort from his opponent, Democrat Lloyd Doggett, led Gramm to accuse Doggett of accepting campaign contributions raised by a male strip-tease benefit held at a San Antonio club.

Checking his records, Doggett found the substance of the accusation to be true. While denying he knew of the activity in advance, Doggett returned the money to the gay rights group which had sponsored the event.

Oil Spill Lawsuit

Attorney General Mattox last week filed against the owner of the British tanker which spilled 2.3 million gallons of crude oil in the Gulf of Mexico.

Mattox seeks to recover clean-up costs and penalties for harm to natural resources and the coastal tourist trade.

No dollar figure was attached in the lawsuit. The owners have taken action to have their liability limited to $3.8 million.

Short Takes

• Comptroller Bob Bullock has warned bingo operators they "can say good-bye to their state licenses and hello to local police" if they ignore state laws governing games. After visiting 500 bingo games, Bullock's agents found nearly one-third in violation of some section of the law.

• The Libertarian Party of Texas lost its fight in U.S. District Court in Houston to be placed in the Nov. 6 ballot.

• Texas Conservation Corps workers have begun overhauling the Battleship Texas in an effort to make it shipshape by the 1986 Sesquicentennial.

• The Public Utility Commission will hold a hearing Aug. 14 at the Bellaire Civic Center on Houston Lighting & Power Co.'s pending $544 million rate increase.

Tips For Gardeners

From the Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

Through the parade of hot days and weeks, everyone has continued to water with every implement available to keep our yards looking exceptionally well. Again we should be thankful we have plenty of good water to keep our yards in a beautiful condition.

Some say when the Senisa blooms that it is a good sign of rain, so if that is really a fore-runner, we should have some heavy downpours, for I haven't seen them so full of beautiful blooms in a long time.

Even so there are many beautiful plants to be seen when driving around our city.

I have noticed the lycoris (spider lily) in bloom in several gardens. It is listed in some catalogues as Hall's Hardy Amaryllis. In the early spring, lycoris sends up strap-like foliage, which mature and dies in the summer. Then in August, fragrant pink lily like blooms appear on 2 foot stems. To prevent fast fading of the delicate blooms, choose a location that will be in light shade during the blooming season. Space the bulbs six inches apart and cover them with six inches of soil.

Many of our homes are featuring the colorful caladiums, marigolds, phlox and others. The perennial garden phlox is very popular for the blooms last for weeks, and they will last even longer if the fading flowers are kept removed, preventing the flowers from going to seed. The desirable seeds, are those of hybrid selections that you buy in packets at the garden centers. Sow them in late fall because they need exposure to cold before they germinate in the spring. Sow in porous organic soil in full sun or light shade. When the seedlings are 2 to 3 inches tall, thin them to 2 feet apart, and transplant the extras.

New garden and seed catalogues should have new and old varieties of many annuals, bulbs and perennials.

If you plan a fall garden, August is the month to prepare beds

MRS. JON MORGAN ADAMS

Candelight ceremony unites Miss Lee and Mr. Adams Sat.

Erika Sue Lee became the bride of Jon Morgan Adams in a candlelight ceremony, Saturday evening, August 4 at the First United Methodist Church in Kermit. David Brooks of the First Baptist Church in Big Lake, officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Terry P. Lee of Kermit. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Adams of Ozona are parents of the bridegroom. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Pleats also accented the sheer chiffon sleeves with long cuffs and self-covered buttons. Matching re-embroidered lace formed a ruffle at the shoulders. A chiffon bow and sash accented the waist. The dropback lace fell gracefully into the train. She also wore a picture hat and carried a bouquet of white gardenias over her childhood Bible.

Teresa Lee, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor. She wore a pink tea length dress. Jana Harris of

KEEPING IN SHAPE

Rita and Paul are just one of the couples in our neighborhood who jog together to keep in shape. They say the first week was so exhausting they almost gave up. Now that mile or so every morning gives tone and zest to the rest of the day.

What jogging does for the body, worship does for the soul. Our spiritual energies need to be used, enriched, renewed. Jesus himself confirmed the ancient principle that man does not live by bread alone but by God's revealing Word.

Naturally if a couple have been away from church a while it takes real resolve to rebuild their worship-life. After a few Sundays our time with God becomes the source of power and strength for every day's challenge.

They include Lance Keilers, Julie Reager, Vickie Reager, Randi Thompson, Trebie West, Dottie Gonzales, Tammy Arrott, Kelly Williams, Sarah Pullen, Tamie Reager, Misty Fowler, Danette Robinson, Marandy Keith, Susan Pullen, Tamel West, Robin Myers, Amy Jones and Bonnie Cameron.

The Family Living committee which is responsible for planning programs each year in Home Economics has been actively planning programs for this fall. A preview of these programs includes: "Women

First day of school can give most children the jitters

The first day of school can bring "opening day jitters" for even the most well-adjusted child, according to a psychiatrist at Baylor College of Medicine.

Martin Drell, M.D., a Baylor child psychiatrist, says parents need to prepare children for the first day in the classroom by explaining what school is like and how the child should behave.

"School isn't something to be sprung on the child at the last minute," Drell said. "Parents shouldn't say the child is going to the swimming pool and then end up at the school. It's important not to mislead the child."

Drell says parents should avoid overselling school to their youngsters, and should be realistic when describing how time will be spent during the school day.

"Some parents go overboard and make school sound slightly better than Disneyland," he said. "Under those circumstances, the big buildup backfires. The child goes to school and expects free time playing on the slide, but part of school is being able to sit down and get to business."

Parents can reduce children's normal fears by having them visit the school and meet the teacher before classes begin. Pointing out familiar faces of neighborhood children who will be classmates may also make the child less apprehensive.

Most children adjust to the new environment within a few days. Others may continue to have problems or may have a delayed reaction in which they develop problems getting along with other children or the teacher. Troubled children may reveal their problems in play, with the "mean" teacher or the classroom "bullies" as villains.

Parents should let children know that school rules are different from those at home. For example, playtime, naptime and bathroom visits will be coordinated by the teacher.

"The parent needs to let the child know that the teacher will be in control when the parent isn't around," Drell said. "This relieves the child and lets the teacher do the job."

Part of the ritual of going to school includes getting new supplies like pencils, a colorful lunch box, and even a backpack. The importance of having "in" things like velcro shoes or a T-shirt with a popular cartoon or movie character splashed across the front shouldn't be underestimated.

"One of the innate urges of children is to be like everyone else," Drell said. "They don't want to be different, and parents should let the child fit in with the crowd, at least at this age."

The most important thing is to get children used to playing and sharing with other children, Drell said, and to realize that there will be plenty of time to emphasize individuality after the child becomes adjusted to the classroom and the peer group.

Crockett County Care Center News

BY ANN McCARTNEY
DIRECTOR OF ACTIVITIES & SOCIAL CARE

My, what a busy week this reporter had. On Monday my husband and I went fishing at Brady Lake and also visited Mama McCartney, age 91. On Tuesday I journeyed to Mason with an Activity Director from Brady and there attended a meeting of the Midwest Council of Activity Directors. Then it was back to Brady and a trip on to Midland to see, and to hold, the new granddaughter who was by then fifteen hours old. The rest of the week was spent admiring the new one and helping her mother and father.

While I was gone I had a great group of volunteers who helped hold down the fort, so to speak. I want to thank each and every one of them for their supporting hands.

On Monday afternoon Clara Byrd came and conducted a sing-along, on Tuesday morning she was our bingo caller, on Thursday she helped fix hair in the beauty shop, and on Friday she once again called bingo. Most, if not every time, she was assisted by Vivian Hughes. Aren't these ladies great!

Tuesday afternoon Edith Owens entertained our residents with piano music. This friend from Barnhart is another talented lady we have learned we can depend on to help carry-on. Thanks, Edith!

Doris Karr came by Wednesday morning but could not stay for ceramics so some of the group played dominoes instead. Doris cleaned some ceramics for next week as did Ann Shaw. Thanks, friends.

Madye Jo Humphreys and Joan Nicholas served ice cream and peaches from Joan's tree on Wednesday afternoon for Sunshine Hour. Twenty-three residents enjoyed their visit on the front porch. Madye Jo shared some of her recent vacation and a fine time was had by all.

Thursday morning our faithful Lola Rios manned the beauty shop, assisted by Byrd and Hughes as previously mentioned.

Ted Turnley conducted the Thursday afternoon Bible study. This was followed by Spanish Hour of Praise led by Maria Vitela, Paulita Leal and Carmen Vargas. Attending from the Care Center were Tomasa Ramos, Moriama Perez and Juanita Hernandez.

Friday bingo volunteers besides Byrd and Hughes included Mattie Cooper, our Alice Ross and Maude Pettit, as well as our sitters. Virginia Russell won the gift certificate from the Teacher Store. Minnie Karr won the certificate for El Chato's dinner for two.

Monnie Boyd donated five jars of Avon moisturizer cream and Anna Bell Patrick donated talc powder and cologne. These will make good second prizes. We also received flowers from Ruby Mitchell's family and popcorn donated by Mrs. Lowell McCaleb.

Sunday afternoon church services were conducted by Rev. Richard Altenbaugh and two fellow members of the Catholic Church. My local reporter said it was a very fine service, enjoyed by all.

Dominoes were played on Monday morning by Tina Holmsley, Maude Pettit, Paul Cavin, and Johnny Henderson.

School will soon be starting with everyone getting back into a routine. How about including regular weekly volunteer work in your routine? The rewards are great! Try it.

Ladies golf play winners

Ladies Golf Day winners at the Country Club last week were: Low gross and low net-Marie White, low putts-Katy Jones. Winning team was Liz Williams, Ella Clegg and White.

Other golfers were Becky Dillard, Jonsey Williams, Marilyn Cox, Jimmie Jacoby, Bobbie Fatout, Monte Sanker, Mary Webster, Sherry Holt, Jeanette Bailey, Grace LeBarre, and Wanda Stuart.

Arthritis is topic of T-V program

Ozona T.V. System offers Ozona subscribers an in-depth look at arthritis and other rheumatic diseases when it airs Lifetime cable network's Information on these widespread diseases on Wednesday, August 15 from 6 p.m. to 10 p.m. on Channel 18, repeated from 10 p.m. to 2 a.m. Also in August, Lifetime focuses on the needs and concerns of elderly viewers on the Emmy and Peabody Award-winning series, "Over Easy."

Sponsored by Parke-Davis and produced in cooperation with the Arthritis Foundation, Lifetime's "Arthritis Information: A Serious Look" employs medical experts from around the country who provide viewers with the latest research on these debilitating diseases, dispelling common myths with hard, useful facts.

As in all *Information*s, a toll-free number, 800-828-LIFE, enables Ozona T.V. Cable System viewers to ask physicians and specialists confidential questions about arthritis. Hundreds of thousands of viewers have taken advantage of this direct access to experts during past *Information*s.

System Manager Oscar Kost said, "Lifetime's 'Arthritis Information: A Serious Look' is a prime example of how television can be used to better the lives of viewers. Its in-depth approach can enable Ozona viewers to learn the most up-to-the-minute information on this crucial health topic."

Also on Lifetime in August, hosts Mary Martin and Jim Hartz take an insightful look at the realities of growing older in America, entertainingly exploring the critical transitions we all face. Celebrity guests, consultants and exceptionally creative men and women provide a positive profile of aging in America. The series airs Monday-Friday at 12:00, Monday-Saturday at 3:30 p.m. and Sundays at 5:00 p.m. Van Johnson and Frankie Lane highlight two August episodes of "Over Easy." Mary Martin joins Mr. Johnson to sing Cole Porter's "It's De-Lovely," and he speaks movingly of his experiences recovering from cancer. This episode airs August 1 at 3:30 p.m. and August 2 at 12:00 noon.

Story brings news of old war buddy to Judge Fields

It ain't easy

Gary Yeager and Mark Thompson find teamwork difficult as they hop to third base during the Muscular Dystrophy benefit baseball game Monday evening. A total of $300 was raised.

Widespread reproduction by the Associated Press of a garbled interview granted by Crockett County Judge A.O. Fields to an AP reporter a few months ago has brought the judge word from a World War II buddy he had not heard from in forty some years when they served together in the C.B.I. (China-Burma-India) theatre of the global conflict, and may have triggered a possible reunion of a contingent of some dozen plus GI specialists who served in that theatre.

When the piece was reproduced in the Maryville, Tenn. Daily Times, it rang a bell for Frank P. Clark, a local photographer in Maryville (in the foothills of the Great Smokies.) "Dear Judge," he wrote. "Are you the A.O. Fields who autographed a 'Republica do Estados Unidos do Brasil cinco milreis' note as my short snorter when we flew over the equator to the C.B.I. Theatre in W W II?"

"If you are you probably remember such names (and characters) as Paul J. Miller, Harry A. Dennis, Alvin O. Fields, Larry P. Adams, Charles Beckman, Ray Colonari, Marion C. Duncan, Al Corning and Frank P. Clark."

Judge Fields does remember the 'characters' and still has the one dollar bill all of them signed as his 'short snorter'. But other papers relating to his military service were lost by the judge when flood waters of Johnson Draw rose in his home in the flood of 1954. And this was the first he had heard from any of the dozen or so men in his outfit assigned to the CBI for cryptographic work in World War II.

Veteran Clark, (now Maryville,

Catholics set religious ed. classes

Registration for the fall religious education classes at Our Lady of Perpetual Help will take place next week, August 20-24. Classes will register at the Parish Hall as follows:

Kindergarten-Thursdays, 2:00 to 3:00 p.m.; 1st grade-Thursdays 2:35 to 3:45 p.m.; 2nd grade-Tuesdays 2:45 to 3:45 p.m.; 3rd grade-Tuesdays 3:30 to 4:30 p.m.; 4th grade-Mondays 3:30-4:30 p.m.; 5th grade-Wednesdays 3:30 to 4:30 p.m.; 6th thru 12 grades on Wednesday at 7:00 p.m.

Classes will then meet the following week on the same time and day as registration.

For Adult Education we will have a program entitled, "Genesis 2". It is for spiritual growth and development. It will be bilingual and it will start on Tuesday, August 21 at 8:00 p.m. in the Parish Hall. Registrations are being taken at the Catholic Rectory.

For further information contact the co-ordinator. For K-5th grades the coordinator is Juanita Delgado, 392-3192. For 6th-12th grades the co-ordinator is Sylvia DeHoyos, 392-2466. For the Adult Education Class the co-ordinator is Kathy Reavis, 392-2213.

Tennessee, photographer) was equally starved for info about his former buddies, and he continued for two typewritten pages:

"The reason for using a five centavo note instead of a one dollar bill is simple. I was BROKE. We missed the payroll in Camp Crowder and while I got a partial payment of $30 in Miami, my wife, Mary, had come down for the week we were stranded there because we had to get yellow fever shots and they wanted us to die there if we were going to so they wouldn't have to pay to have us shipped home.

"I used my last dollar and a half to mail Mary a pair of Brazilian genuine silk stockings and the five centavo note was all I had.

To the surprise of no one reading the letter, Clark explained in a later paragraph that: "Still have my first wife and we have accumulated four kids, two boys and two girls who have supplied us with one grandson (now A/1C, U.S. ASAF) and six granddaughters ranging from six months to 20 years."

Judge Fields has replied, of course, and since he had lost the addresses of the men in the outfit to the flood, will seek Clark's aid in running them down in the hope of arranging a full or part reunion, at least before fifty years are up.
