Kitty's Korner

By

Benjamin Franklin said, in a letter to a French official in the year of 1789, "...nothing in this world is certain but death and taxes."

I think he should have added "and higher utility bills." I guess in his time this was not a concern, but the past ten years have seen a dramatic increase in gas, electricity and telephone. The past two years have been the most expensive to the consumer in Texas. We have a governor who was elected on the false promise of holding the line where utilities was concerned but during his tenure in office utilities costs have increased, indeed doubled. This is a mystery to most people in this part of the state, as gas wells are shut in and oil prices are down.

Nobody seems to be able to explain this mystery. With a glut of oil on the world market you would think the consumer would get some relief. However, when you complain about your electric bill, you are told the company needs the money to complete the building of its coal-fired plant in Oklahoma (wherever that is). They have removed the fuel adjustment factor (which I never understood) from the bills consumers receive, but the total cost continues to rise. Of course, with the cost increase the tax increases.

The gas bill at the Stockman last month was almost $80 and the month before it was $15. We have had some really cold weather since that time and I shudder to think what it will be this month. When I questioned it, I was told the cost of gas fluctuates and that the cost of Texas gas in the east was much less than the cost of gas paid by Texans. Not wanting to sound uninformed, I went away scratching my head and saying "oh I see, I see," when I really don't see at all.

The bill for electricity at my home last month was a fairly decent amount, considering the high cost of living, but this month was a different story. I got it today and it had doubled to just under a C-bill. I can't understand this since I'm never at home to speak of. I don't cook on my electric range. I keep my thermostat at 60 degrees and off at night. I only use my hot water for a bath a day and seldom use but one light. I do watch television, but could that account for such an increase? Also, I've been using my fireplace for heat. I fail to see how that could affect my utility bills in any way but lowering the cost. So far, it's had little effect. This coming month I am going to use candlelight and heat my bath water by the fireplace.

Speaking of taxes, the outlook looks bleak at the state and federal level. After passing the largest tax bill in the history of the state, lawmakers in Austin are trying to rake up more money. Almost every agency has submitted an excessive budget, with the exception of the Comptroller. In a news release, Bob Bullock announced he is closing eight offices and reducing his workforce by 104 people in an effort to help the state meet its budget crisis. It's too bad more department heads don't follow suit.

We are already feeling tax reform at the federal level, having to keep mileage logs on our business vehicles. However, it's rather educational. It's exactly a mile from my house to the office. It's 4 tenths of a mile to the post office and just under 200 miles to take the paper to be printed, pick it up and return to Ozona. You learn something new everyday as the old saying goes. I'm interested to know how ranchers with two or three pickups are going to log the distance between waterings and the feed store, to the bank and back to the ranch.

S. S. Rep. sets Feb. visit to Ozona

John Willis, representative of the San Angelo Social Security Office, has scheduled his February visit to Ozona. He will be at the County Courthouse on Wednesday, February 20 between 2:00 p.m. and 3:30 p.m.

Anyone who wants to file a claim for benefits, get information, or transact other business with the Social Security Administration may contact him at this time.

City slickers visit Ozona

Steve and Jan Kenley spent Tuesday showing these New York advertising executives around the city. They were here to use Kenley for a model in a national advertising campaign for a New York bank. [See story]

Southwest Sheep Dog trials draw big crowd

The Ninth Annual Southwest Sheep Dog Championship was held in Ozona Friday, Jan. 25, with a large field of handlers and a large number of spectators.

Dogs and handlers arrived from nine states, all the way from California to Georgia and as far north as Ohio.

Border Collie sheep dogs are used in the field trials to move sheep over a 300 yard trial course. The judge was Peter Heatherington of Barr.

Kenley to be model for ad campaign

Steve Kenley took a "tongue in cheek" attitude a couple of weeks ago when he received a long-distance call from New York City, from a representative of an advertising agency, who wanted to use him in a national advertising campaign.

He was finally convinced Tuesday morning when two account executives and a photographer showed up to begin the lay-out work for a New York City bank.

Three executives from E.B. Wilson Company, a small financial ad agency in New York, flew to San Antonio and drove from there to Ozona Tuesday morning. The three, commissioned by Manufacturers Hanover Bank, were Carolyn Schroth, Kim Ducote and Scotland, GB. Heatherington is an international judge, sheep rancher and professional sheep dog handler.

Placings in the ranch class were as follows: Temple Henderson of Hunt with his dog Snip won first place with 39½ points; Joe Jones of Rocksprings, with his dog, Pete, came in second with 38½ points; and Ozonan Rick Hunnicutt with Mattie took third place with 32 points.

In the open ranch class, Robert Steven Wilks, Ms. Schroth explained the selection of Steve after a request to Firehouse Magazine produced his name and address. The agency was searching for a young man actively involved in community affairs and at the same time running his own business. The ad layout is for the bank's corporate campaign and will appear in all the national print media.

The color layout will feature Steve in full battle dress standing by the new fire truck. The full color ad will appear in Time, Newsweek, Sports Illustrated and other well-known publications.

Steve and his wife, Jan, directed the three city people around Ozona for a complete tour of the city. It was educational to the group, who were all city born and reared.

Elton McGinnes is honored on retirement from Co-op

Elton McGinnes, longtime manager of Southwest Texas Electric Cooperative, was honored in Eldorado Friday upon his retirement from that position. McGinnes has been an employee of the cooperative since 1946 and became manager in 1968 succeeding Don McCormick.

Mr. and Mrs. McGinnes were guests of honor at an open house in the co-op office in Eldorado during the afternoon and at a dinner that evening in the Eldorado 4-H building.

The dinner, given by directors of the co-op, featured Jim Morse, of Austin, president of Texas Electric Cooperative, as guest speaker. Directors, former directors and employees of the rural electric cooperative, which covers a vast area of Southwest Texas, were present for the dinner.

Attending from Ozona were employees and their families, Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Easterwood, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Perry, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Vordick and Travis, Mr. and Mrs. James Montgomery, Kerry Thompson, and Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Harrell. Mr. Harrell is a former director.

A. T. (Sonny) Turner will take on the duties of manager of the cooperative.

Due to a conflict in press time and the annual Chamber of Commerce Banquet which was held last night, the story and pictures of the event will be reported in full in next week's edition of the Ozona Stockman, Crockett County News. As of Monday afternoon over 400 tickets had been sold.

School board hears options

Architect Ron Barbutti met with the Ozona Board of Trustees Tuesday, January 22, to give members a progress report on the Ozona Junior High Renovation Project. Mr. Barbutti reported that the district's attorney, Mr. Craig Porter of San Angelo, has been proceeding in discussions with the attorneys for Security National Insurance Company, the performance bond surety for Stein Construction Company, regarding a proposed agreement contract between the district and the surety company. Following board discussion, the members voted to request a meeting as soon as possible with Mr. Porter to discuss contract options.

In other developments, the Board voted to accept the resignation, effective at the end of 1984-1985 school year, of Mr. Charles Womack, principal of Ozona Middle School. Mr. Womack is retiring after thirty-four years of meritorious service to the district. The resignation of Mr. Theron Morrow, school athletic trainer, was also accepted by the members.

The Board of Trustees approved the employment of Mr. Richard Bridges as a vocational agriculture teacher in Ozona High School. Mr. Bridges, a 1984 graduate of Tarleton State University in Stephenville, will take the place of Mr. Rob Hicks who resigned to teach at Texas A&M University. The members also granted Mrs. Katrina Pullen's request for a temporary leave of absence, and they approved the employment of Mrs. Joyce Maness as her replacement.

Board approval was also given for the addition of Sandra Jean Perez, Deborah Stinson, Francis Denman, Mabel Delgado and Lorelei McMullan to the 1984-1985 substitute teacher list, and William Morrow was hired for the school maintenance department.

The meeting was adjourned after reports were given by Superintendent Garland Davis on building improvement projects for this coming summer, results of an accreditation monitoring visit by the Texas Education Agency, insurance, teacher career ladder appointments, school housing, and student enrollment and average daily attendance for the first semester of the 1984-1985 school year.

Blood drive is set for Feb. 6

United Blood Services of San Angelo, Ozona's Community Blood Center is in need of blood donors to help meet the blood needs for area hospital patients. You will have the opportunity to donate blood when the bloodmobile visits Ozona on February 6 at the Chamber of Commerce from 3:00 p.m. to 8:00 p.m.

Do you carry life insurance, car insurance, hospitalization, etc.? Do you plan on having a car wreck next week that could result in hospitalization and perhaps require emergency surgery? Of course not! But, you do insure yourself from these possibilities and many others, "just in case you need it".

Unfortunately, statistics show that one out of every ten people will be hospitalized and will require blood to sustain their lives. When this occurs, all of your preliminary insurance foresight will minimize your expenses, but it will not "INSURE" the availability of blood.

Most all surgeries require that blood be on hand, cross-matched and ready for the patient if needed. Whether the blood is infused or not, it must be available!

How can we as individuals and members of our community insure blood availability? Not by reaching in your pocket-for you can not transfuse dollars. The answer is by taking the time to donate a pint of "life".

Being aware of blood needs does not solve the problem of blood availability. Being a blood donor, when your community is asked to participate will help.

If you are in good health, please take the time to donate blood and save a life!

Crockett Co. gets revenue from drink tax

Crockett County collected $6,379.71 in tax revenue from the sale of mixed alcoholic drinks for the fourth quarter of 1984. Of that amount, 15% or $1,256.96 was remitted by the state to the county.

This is an oddity, since Crockett County is a dry county. The surrounding counties, which are in the "wet" column, all collected less with the exception of Sutton County where a little over $1,000 more was collected.

Prize winning sheep dog

Bob Childress' Fly won the open class at the Ninth Annual Southwest Sheep Dog Trials held here Friday. It is easy to see why these dogs are so valuable to sheep ranchers. Childress has won several championships with Fly, nationally and internationally.

UNDERSTANDING POVERTY

By Edwin Feulner

Undoubtedly, we will be hearing much in the months ahead about the social "safety net" as Congress and the administration consider a variety of measures to bring government spending under control.

Some of the programs reportedly targeted for cutbacks or extinction date back to the 1960s when the architects of Lyndon Johnson's "Great Society" decided the U.S. could effectively fight poverty by throwing money at the poor.

As a considerable body of literature now shows, however, the hundreds of billions of dollars that went into the war on poverty have not dramatically reduced the size of the poverty population.

Many reasons have been suggested. One theory, brilliantly argued by Charles Murray in his new book, Losing Ground: American Social Policy 1950-1980, is that the welfare system as it exists today leads to dependency. Another view, detailed by former California welfare official Charles Hobbs, holds that much of the money intended to fight poverty never reaches the streets, but is consumed instead by what he calls the "welfare industry."

Washington analyst Anna Kondratas offers another theory. Kondratas posits that the United States appears to be on a poverty treadmill because benefits are targeted according to statistical models that "disregard the dynamics of poverty."

In 1983, Kondratas notes in a recent study, federal, state and local governments spent $107.5 billion on the major means-tested welfare programs.

In fact, she notes, one in five Americans—approximately 42 million people—received at least one form of welfare that year.

Had the money been given outright to the 35.3 million people in the official Census Bureau poverty population, each person would have received approximately $3,048. And a family of four would have received $12,192—well above the official poverty threshold for a family of four, which stood at $10,178 in 1983.

Kondratas notes that there is actually a large turnover in the "poverty" population from year to year. According to researchers at the University of Michigan, as many as one-half of the poor in a given year are not poor the next. As others replace them, usually temporarily, the official numbers create an illusion of persistent poverty.

The Michigan data suggest, Kondratas says, that the persistently poor an "underclass" that stays poor from year to year, and perhaps generation to generation—a may number less than 3 percent of the U.S. population, far less than the 15.2 percent currently cited as the official mark.

"But the welfare system keeps growing, as the official poverty figures are taken as a barometer of the need for spending," she notes.

Kondratas says, "The system already serves one in five Americans, yet liberals insist we are not spending enough. We are spending enough, but we are targeting poorly."

"In fact, because the poverty statistics disregard the dynamics of poverty, we do not even know just what it is we are trying to solve. If we continue along the present path, we will probably make the war on poverty unwinnable," she says.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Texas Comptroller Bob Bullock rocked the Capitol complex on its heels last week with his own unique method of trimming fat from government.

Bullock, before anyone could recover from the shock, cut 127 employees from his payroll and closed 12 regional offices, including some in Dallas, San Antonio, Fort Worth and Houston.

While Bullock says that he's now "down to the bare essentials of tax collecting; he still rules over a mighty force of some 2,550 workers. Stories about Bullock's whims, crazy-like-a-fox-tactics, and eccentricities are now legends among the Capitol crowd.

One favorite myth concerns former Bullock employee Bob Jordan, now the Deputy Commissioner for Budget and Planning under Land Commissioner Gary Mauro, and a highly regarded figure at the Capitol. Jordan walked by a table one night where Bullock and his top aides were holding court, and Bullock, who harbored some anger then towards Jordan, told one to fire Jordan when he came to work the next day.

Hire and Fire

"We can't do that. You fired him last week," he was told. "Well then, hire him back, and fire him again," Bullock said, as the story goes. Several folks swear it's true to a reasonable degree. And if Bullock has fired his fair share of employees in his long tenure, he has also trained a majority of the Capitol work force. Many of his former employees like

Jordan, have gone on to greater accomplishments and earned high marks of respect.

Hiring Lid

Bullock's meat cleaver tactics combined with the warnings of the Legislature have caused several state agencies to impose a hiring freeze. Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower's office was the latest to join the freeze movement last week.

Two legislators, a Republican and a Democrat, have authored a bipartisan bill to eliminate about 20,000 state jobs through attrition. Eventually, no state agency could hire more than 100 employees per 10,000 Texans.

Two state employees groups, one a union, have asked for a stop to the massacre by calling for a task force to study ways to cut staff.

Bullock took a big political chance, some say, because the public is bound to ask: "What's he doing with all those extra employees in the first place." But Bullock also stands to make a good deal of political hay as the man who wasn't afraid to admit and solve the problem. Texas Democrats probably owe him a big favor.

The Legislature

The Democratic Caucus in the Texas House of Representatives elected Rep. Gene Green of Houston as new majority leader. Green said he will try to persuade conservative Democrats from bolting to become Republicans, but that may not be necessary. Only one legislator, Rep. Gary Thompson of Abilene, is showing any signs of changing parties. The others are sticking to their guns, come what may, apparently.

House Speaker Gib Lewis predicted last week that Texas will have to impose both corporate and personal income taxes before the turn of the century, because tax revenues from oil and gas are running out. He also foresees substantial hikes in the sales tax, but still vows that no tax bill will be passed this session.

Split-Primary Bill

The notion of a Texas split primary election, that is, holding presidential and party primaries on different days, has come full circle.

Six years ago the "Killer Bees" of the Senate hid out to keep Republicans from profiting from a split primary. Then last week the titular head of the Texas GOP, Phil Gramm, strongly opposed the plan which was adopted recently by the Democrats.

Right now no one knows which party would be hurt and which would benefit. Certainly in the long run it would probably even out and the real winners would be independent conservative voters.

Incidentally, two former "Killer Bees" were defeated in November: Lloyd Dogget of Austin and Bill Patman of Ganado.

Mattox v. Mauro

Texas Atty. Gen. Jim Mattox issued an opinion last week that a Canadian citizen who served in the U.S. military has the right to participate in the Texas Veterans Land Program. But Land Commissioner Gary Mauro, who administers the program, disagrees, saying the Texas Constitution specifically requires that participants be "a citizen of the United States." The vet's application is on hold until the problem is worked out.

Mattox, meanwhile, told the Legislature that if it will give him $500,000, he will track down some $240,000 million owed the state in court judgments and penalties.

Hightower, Africans

Texas Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower has dubbed "Project Texas" his plan to seek $3 million in donations from Texas farmers and ranchers to buy grain for starving Africans.

The money, about $25 per producer, would buy a boatload, or about one million bushels, of Texas-grown grains to ship to Africa.

Also last week, Hightower urged farmers to "take up their pitchforks" and wage a "first-class, full-scale rebellion" to save the embattled family farm system.

His anti-Reagan, anti-Washington tirade came during his Houston annual convention of the Texas Farmers Union.

Tips For Gardeners

From the Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

Since the weatherman forecast the severe cold in early January for our area, it seems he has been very close again in his predictions for nearly all month. I'm ready for warmer weather.

Someone asked the meaning of the expression "suitable bulbs for naturalizing". These bulbs will adapt well to outside growing conditions and do not need dividing so often, every 4 or 5 years.

If your pampas grass did not grow as it should, mulch around the plant to prevent roots from freezing, and use 1/2 cup of complete fertilizer to supply the necessary nutrients. It will need a few years to become well established. Divide old clumps before they become too congested and large.

Should your crepe myrtle be healthy and well cared for, but fails to bloom, perhaps they do not get enough sunlight. They should have at least six hours of full sun to bloom normally. Too much nitrogen fertilizer, and heavy pruning can also produce abundant vegetative growth and no flowers.

Another summer flowering shrub, the Tamarisk (salt cedar) may need the old growth pruned to the ground in late winter to increase blooms. This is a fast growing plant with tiny pale-pink flowers on the current season's growth.

A very attractive accent plant that does well here if given the proper soil and care is the Dwarf Mugo Pine. It is a strikingly handsome shrub that grows to a height of 18 to 24 inches. They are especially desirable where low growing, narrow-leaf evergreens are needed in a foundation planting, or as dwarf accents in the garden. Too, they also make impressive rock garden plantings, develop slowly, do not grow out of scale, and seldom require pruning.

Another small tree or shrub that has delicate lavender, tubular flowers is the Desert Willow. It has long been a favorite throughout Texas and withstands droughts like the retama and senisa. They have the habit of blooming profusely after rains.

New plants grow readily from cuttings.

About to capsize

Albatross is sailing at a sharp angle to the wind. Her sails are "fighting" the wind, turning its energy to a contradictory course.

The unseen hero in this drama is a keel weighing tons. Without it the Albatross couldn't even carry her rigging, let alone face sea and wind. Her keel is the counterbalance to all shifting forces.

Faith serves exactly this function during one's voyage through life. The person whose beliefs are firm can hold a true course when the winds of circumstance drive others to and fro. A person stands up to forces that would otherwise capsize them. They use them constructively to reach their destiny.

The first thing people do in building a ship is to lay the keel. In the building of human society our churches and our church schools are involved in that essential first step — the planting of FAITH.

EXTENSION OFFICE NEWS

By Rachel Hall

A regular exercise program is necessary to improve cardio vascular health. "Building" activity into your day gives you more energy; contributes to your feel and looking good; increases muscle strength, endurance, and flexibility; provides an outlet for mental and physical tension, and aids in weight control. In addition to a 30 minute exercise routine, you may consider building muscle power into your household routine.

Build Fitness Into Your Household Duties

When you are home and tackling daily household responsibilities, use a little creative thinking to devise ways to build muscle power into your routine.

For instance, park your car at the far end of the grocery store parking lot and carry your own groceries. When you are putting up the groceries, store frequently used items on high shelves so you have to stretch to retrieve them. Do not always use the electric mixer or food processor when you are preparing meals. Instead, beat, blend and chop the way Grandma did-by hand.

Although no one will claim house cleaning as a favorite activity, make it work for you and your family. Turn on some fast and lively music, assign everyone a task or two and have them attempt to raise their pulse rate by at least 25 beats per minute while dusting, picking up, vacuuming, sweeping etc. Not only will your house be cleaner, but you will have programmed a little extra activity into everyone's life.

Substitute body power for mechanical or electrical power. It may cost you a little inconvenience and extra time but the benefits can include dollar savings as well as burning calories and providing good stress control therapy. The possibilities are endless. Retire the garage full of labor savers--power mower, electric hedge trimmers and rehabilitate your old fashioned hand powered models. They save fuel because the only energy they use is yours. Next time your car needs washing, get out a bucket and do the job yourself instead of taking it to the car wash. Make it a Saturday family activity with everyone pitching in to make the work go faster. Forego the dryer and hang your clothes outside. You will not only have the exercise of bending and stretching but your clothes will smell fresher too.

Other possibilities include getting rid of your television's remote control unit. Get up to change channels. Or disconnect downstairs extension phones, so that you have to run upstairs when the phone rings. Learn to use those 30-second blank spots that occur in everybody's day--waiting for the toast to pop up, sitting through a red light or a television commercial, or waiting for your phone call to go through. Suck in your stomach for six seconds at a time, sit with your feet straight out, roll your head in slow circles or do a few exaggerated shoulder shrugs. Anything is better than just slouching there.

There are many ways, in addition to those discussed, that you can build more activity into your life. Adapt and modify the ideas presented and use the following guidelines to find unique ways to build activity into your life.

Never lie down when you can sit up. For example if you watch an average of five hours of television daily while reclining, and instead you decided to sit up, the difference in a year's time would be equal to a pound of fat. Remember, it's the little things that count.

Never sit when you can stand. The caloric difference per hour is about 10 calories, depending on your present weight--that may not sound like much, but it will have a discernible effect over the months.

Get into the habit of pacing. Instead of dropping into a chair to mull over a problem, get up and move around. Some of the world's best thinkers are habitual floor pacers.

As a general rule, never sit for more than an hour and a half without standing, stretching, and walking (or pacing) five minutes or so. Not only will this burn extra calories; you will return refreshed to what you were doing, and be more efficient at it.

Run in place whenever you can, even if it's only for 30 seconds or so. Waiting time is a natural for this. You can run in place as you wait for the toast to pop up or for the tea to boil. Never use a machine when you can use body power instead. In other words:

Don't use the escalator or elevator if there are stairs nearby. Don't drive if you can get there by bicycle or foot. Don't use a power saw if a hand saw will do the job. Don't buy a riding lawn mower if your lawn is average sized.

All photos and materials submitted to the Stockman for publication become the property of the newspaper. However, these items may be retrieved if picked up the same week of publication.

We are clearing our files as of Feb. 1, 1985. In the future, no item will be kept for longer than one month.

Correction: Mr. and Mrs. Chad Poindexter are from Ozona and not from Big Lake as reported in last week's paper.

What on earth is it?

Manuel Fierro captured this vicious looking reptile, along with a whole tribe of them, while digging in the mud of a dry dirt tank near Garden City last week. They are perfectly at home in water. Manuel had them housed in a milk jug. This one is about 8 inches long, has four or five sets of fins and a head like a catfish. If Manuel's hand was not holding the tail of the reptile, one could almost imagine some sort of pre-historic monster.

Local business community sees changes

Several changes in the Ozona business community have taken place lately.

Curtis and Evelyn Keith have sold Donuts, Etc. to Ken Eppler and Terry Racher. The Ozona Quick Stop has been sold to the owners of Shots and will become Shots #4.

Nip Vitela is the new manager at Foxworth-Galbraith. Larry Petron has been re-assigned to Kerrville. Vitela has been an employee of the firm for 22 years. David Young, manager of KRCT Radio, has resigned and is moving back to San Angelo. A new manager will be announced shortly.

Willie V. Baggett Miller of Kerrville spent the early part of the week visiting here and helping her mother, Mrs. S.A. Coose, celebrate her 91st birthday.

Highway Dept. crew cuts long distance tele. cable

General Telephone reports that a highway department crew cleaning brush near a bridge was responsible for a long distance outage Tuesday, January 22.

Eighth grade girls gain win over Eldorado

The Eighth Grade Cubettes defeated Eldorado 33-10 Monday at Eldorado. Scoring for Ozona were Patty Sanchez with 12, Stacy Lay 10, Kristina Martinez 4, Cathy Moran 2, Also Kriss Layman 2, Stacie Winkley 1, and Dottie Gonzalez 1. Patty Sanchez got 17 rebounds while Stacy Lay had 16. Stacie Winkley was high on turnovers and steals with 13. Patty Sanchez and Stacie Winkley both had 4 assists.

The girls played as a team. They have a lot of fun together. They are an exceptional bunch of girls, according to Coach Renee Schultze.

The next game will be Monday at Big Lake at 5:30.

The outage isolated the communities of Mertzon, Ozona, Big Lake and Barnhart which means long distance calling into and out of these cities was temporarily interrupted. The damage cable was located near Mertzon which also reported a brief local outage. Long distance service was affected from about 1 p.m. until 4:45 p.m., when GTE crews completed repair.

General Telephone regrets this outage and apologizes to its customers for this inconvenience.

CROCKETT COUNTY CARE CENTER NEWS

By Ann McCartney
Director Of Activities & Social Care

I know three things must always be To keep this nation strong and free; One is a hearthstone bright and dear.
With busy, happy loved ones near; One is a ready heart and hand To love and serve and keep the land; One is a warm and beaten way To where the people go to pray. So long as these are kept alive, Nation and people will survive. God keep them always every where: The hearth, the flag, the place of prayer.
Submitted by resident Minnie Karr

What has happened to January? It is nearly gone!

We had a good hospital and care center auxiliary meeting last week. If you missed it, come to the next one the third Monday in April.

Thanks to the auxiliary, we had new faces helping with bingo on Tuesday. Bonnie Warth was caller. She was assisted by Alleane Sutton plus the old faithfuls like Mattie Cooper, Dorothy Doll, Elodia Zapata, Amalia Lumberas, Sophie Tijerina, and Lelia Tambunga. On Friday Lelia was our caller assisted by Mattie, Dorothy, Elodia, Amalia and Anna Bell Patrick. Resident winners included Tomasa Ramoz, winner of the first place gift certificate from Western Drug and Virginia Russell, winner of El Chato's dinner for two.

Immediately following our game on Friday we took advantage of the pretty weather and went to El Chato's to use some of those certificates. Volunteers were Glenda Henderson, with her nice van and Angelita Pena. Residents going included Juana Hernandez.

Mrs. Sanders is hostess for sorority meet

The recent meeting of Xi Sigma Omega was held in the home of Donna Sanders.

The Pledge Ritual of Beta Sigma Phi was conferred on Jeanne Wellman. Receiving the Exemplar Degree was Judy Adams.

The annual Valentine Dinner will be held February 11 at Charlie's Place with husbands as special guests.

A delicious stuffed potato dinner was enjoyed by all before a short business meeting.

Members attending were Judy Adams, Elaine Bell, Barbara Burger, Bobbie Fatout, Nancy Hale, Diane Myers, Brenda Newton, Tommie Pena-Alfaro, Jeanette Robinson, Donna Sanders, Donna Snyder, Barbara Wallace, Jeanne Wellman and Sherry York.

Jean Beardmore, Tomasa Ramoz, Inez Biggs, Billie Whatley, Phil Schneemann and Johnny Henderson. Diners were brought back to the following winners who could not make the trip: Virginia Russell, Hilda Dysart, Nina Mayfield, Ola Mills, Jesus Hernandez, Moriana Perez and Minnie Karr.

Tuesday morning Mattie Cooper came and did some mending on our Care Center sewing machine. She returned that afternoon and joined us for our sewing club meeting. She helped crochet some hangings on some stuffed decorations. We appreciate her help.

Tuesday night the Knox Band entertained our residents. Many thanks goes to band members Jamie Knox, J.D. Kilgore, Don Kilgore and Larry Petron.

Residents working with ceramics on Wednesday morning included Billie Whatley, Ola Mills, Moriana Perez, Juana Hernandez, Nina Mayfield, Hilda Dysart, and Jean Beardmore. Alice Ross was our resident volunteer.

The Ozona Stockman was read during reading on Wednesday afternoon.

Thursday morning workers in the beauty shop included: Clara Byrd, Vivian Hughes, Clara Babb, and Velma Marley.

Three members of the Faith Lutheran Church assisted Charles Huffman with Bible study on Thursday. Ruby Olson played the piano and also treated all residents with homemade cookies she had made. Thanks, friends.

Friday afternoon Dorothy Doll assisted with the making of Valentines to decorate the dining room. Residents participating included Jean Beardmore, Juana Hernandez, Tomasa Ramoz, Hilda Dysart, Ola Mills, Billie Whatley and Moriana Perez.

Sunday afternoon church services were brought by eight members of the Church of Christ. Our residents really brag on their singing.

Dominoes were played on Monday by our newest resident Mary Simpson, along with Jean Beardmore, Billie Whatley and Johnny Henderson.

Thanks goes this week to Glenda Henderson for bringing us a cat bed, Audrey Glynn for donating two crocheted stoles and the Pierce family for donating various items of use.

If you are helping with or involved with a group, why not share your programs with our Care Center residents? Keep volunteering.

Myra Jones (Mrs. Jack) who lives at 614 Ave. I recently went to work at Crockett Co. Care Center as their newest L.V.N. Myra graduated from Howard College of Big Spring on August 21, took her state board exam on October 22 and received notice of passing on December 23. (What a Christmas present!)

OHS Varsity basketball team

OHS boys and girls teams lose games in District play

By Gary Davis

Both the Lions and Lady Lions lost to the Ballinger Bearcat teams in Ballinger last Friday night. The ladies who led in the first quarter 9-8 lost to the Ballinger team 56-36, thus lowering their district record to 0-1 in the second half of play. The Lions who were down by 19 in the third quarter fought back to within 2 points of the Bearcats, but lost 60-58. The girls were led by Senior, Christy Parks. Parks had 9 points and 9 rebounds. Vickie Reagor hit for 8 points and grabbed 8 rebounds. Esmi Borrego shot for 6 points. Donna Sanchez, Vanessa Miller, and Alma Gutierrez each added 4 points, while Olga Borrego made 1. Coach Terri McColloch attributed the loss to turnovers. The Lady Lions combined for 22 turnovers. McColloch praised Parks and Miller for their efforts in the game.

In the boys' game, Steve Sanchez, Al Ramirez, and Harvey Fierro led the team in scoring with 16, 17 and 18 points respectively. Gary Davis, Scott Denman, and Bret Thompson each scored 2, while J.B. Green added 1. The Lions had a 'cold' start as they could not hit the basket in the first quarter and only scored 5 points. After the half, the Lions were down 11 and began to relax and play well. They drew within 2 points of the Bearcats but could not manage to win.

The Ozona JV teams were also defeated in Ballinger.

All four teams will be in action this Friday in Davidson Memorial Gymnasium here. The boys will be starting the second half of district, while the girls will be playing their second game in the second half. The JV teams are scheduled to begin at 5:00 p.m. The Varsity girls will begin at 6:30 and the Varsity boys at 8:00 p.m.
