His and Hers

By Scotty and Linda Moore

His

Speaking of rain, I had a call from Homer Boyd the other night informing me of the biggest old bull frog he had seen in quite sometime. By the time I arrived at his house the next morning with camera in hand, the beast had gone his merry way, but not without leaving his trail behind, if you call tadpoles by the thousands a trail.

Since Homer lives on the hill west of town, he was beside himself that the frog had picked a high point to raise his family. You know bull frogs usually hang around the draw. I guess it has rained more than we thought!

I was raised in this country, and I have never seen it this wet and green. Even after all the water of the flood of '54, it didn't produce grass like this year. There are spots on Mother and Dad's place on Taylor Box Draw where grass has never grown in the mesquite flats that I can remember. Let me tell you it has now—knee high!

Changing the subject, I'm not sure I can take another fiasco Cowboy football season this year. They have pulled so many Houdini tricks in the last few seconds of the few games that they have managed to win that sometimes I wonder if it wasn't all a big put-on. Reminds me of T.V. wrestling matches. I think I will hoot for the Oilers this year, at least they don't give you the urge to put your foot through the tube.

It's HER time now.

Hers

"Have your written 'HERS' yet?" he asks.

"No, I haven't," she snaps. It is 7:45 p.m.; deadline is past and her temper is short.

There aren't enough hours in the day. How do others manage their time? Am I the only one who lags behind?

Surely there is a magic formula to get things done. If and when you find one, come see me. I'll buy it.

All the women's magazines have articles about setting priorities and getting your work done. Some things aren't worth doing perfectly, they tell you. The bed doesn't have to be made perfectly, the magazines don't have to be stacked perfectly.

Heck, how about shutting the bedroom door when you leave and kicking the magazines under the couch?

Women in the work force have done a lot to revolutionize the art of short cuts.

A dear friend who is a retired teacher attributes getting things done in her day to a "pressure pot". I never use my pressure cooker that I don't think of her.

In addition to pressure pots to cook in, there are pressure pots to work in. But most of mine are of my own making.

Head 'em up move 'em out!

The Ozona-Barnhart trail ride rounds the corner onto Hwy. 163 and the route north. Crockett County riders made the two-day trek to join others at Barnhart, once a great livestock shipping point.

Thirty-plus riders take part in trail ride

"A few of us are a little sunburned and saddle sore, but we sure had a great time."

Chief deputy Jim Wilsom summed it up this way for the 30-plus Ozona riders who took part in the two-day, 30-mile-ride from Ozona to Barnhart Saturday and Sunday.

Beginning on Ave. AA and proceeding slowly through Ozona, the group paused at Mrs. Zilla Miller's home on Ave. E to present flowers to the 100-year-old "Miss Zillie" and to dedicate the trail ride to Crockett County's oldest resident.

The trail riders rode north on U.S. 163 to the top of Four Mile Hill where the old O-B Trap Company's drover's land diverges from the highway. There they left the highway to follow the old road.

The outing was an outgrowth of last year's event which developed after Ozonans discovered the Sesquicentennial Wagon Train route would not include Ozona, but would pass through Barnhart to Big Lake.

County residents organized their own trail ride last year to celebrate the Texas Sesquicentennial by meeting the official wagon train at Barnhart. About 60 riders and three wagons participated in that ride, including a number from Big Lake, Barnhart and other area towns. Originating in Ozona, the ride followed the O-B Trap Company's drover's lane to Barnhart.

Some of the visiting riders enjoyed the trek enough to resolve to hold their own this year.

While Crockett County's trail riders camped out Saturday night on Midway Lane enjoying Lion's Club barbecue and the music of the Jamie Knox Band, riders from Big Lake, Mertzon and Boys Ranch at Knickerbocker readied themselves and their horses for Sunday rides to converge on the Barnhart shipping pens for more barbecue and music, and best of all, reminiscences about the "good ole days" when Barnhart was the largest shipping point in the Southwest for cattle and sheep.

It was a time to recall the long trail drives to the railroad during the 1920's and '30's when hundreds of thousands of livestock were weighed and loaded into railroad cars at Barnhart. Modern trucks and better highways have made the drover's lanes obsolete with the last drives taking place in the late 1940's and early '50's.

The O-B Trap Company remains alive and well, but the emphasis is no longer on the use of its traps as temporary holding pastures for livestock. The traps, or small pastures, are now leased to various area ranchers.

About 60 persons enjoyed the barbecue and music at the Midway Lane campsite Saturday, while more than 300 ate at Barnhart Sunday evening.

Young people enjoyed the Midlane stopover as much as the adults. When Jamie Knox's band tired Mindy Coates and Jennifer Evans sang a duet, followed by another song by Beverly Evans and Patsy Coates.

The band's rendition of "Cotton-eyed Joe" prompted young folk to dance.

Wilson says that plans will soon be underway for another year's ride, basing his prediction on the fun of this year's ride.

Declining valuation discussed, possible cuts forthcoming

A previously projected loss of $750,000 in tax dollars for the coming year has been revised upward commissioners were told Monday. A further decline in valuation will put the county's income from taxes down by $784,000 rather than the $750,000 expected.

Final figures on the valuation decrease and revenue loss will not be available until after the June 16 Board of Equalization meeting. Tax Assessor Tommy Stokes is looking at a valuation loss of $165,000,000 for the county and $1,287,000 for the school as things stand this week.

"I know one thing, you can't operate your county next year like you did this year," Auditor Dick Kirby told the court.

Commissioners were advised by Judge A. O. Fields to look over the current year's budget for places to make cuts for 1988. The road and parks departments and hospital have already made sizeable employee decreases over this time last year, Fields said.

The road department now has 20 employees, 10 less than in 1987, and no overtime hours are permitted according to Supervisor Eddie Moore. In the parks department, there are 12 employees, four less than last year, to take care of the cemetery, parks, ball parks, hospital and care center grounds.

Crockett County Hospital has 21 full-time and two part-time employees compared to 26 a year ago. Of these 21, seven are dietary, preparing food for the hospital, care center and jail. The remaining 14 staff members are nursing, lab, x-ray, pharmacy, office, house-keeping and maintenance personnel.

There were 35 people on the hospital payroll 1½ years ago and 50 employees five years ago according to assistant administrator Jacque King.

The hospital board has formed a budget committee, Fields told the court. The committee will look at several ways to operate pending a hospital election to be held later this summer. Legislation approving the creation of a hospital district in Crockett County has been sent to Washington for approval by the Department of Justice. An election may be held 35 days after the legislation is returned to Crockett County.

During the regular monthly hospital report by Bill Boswell, Judge Fields commented that he had told the board that "at no time has the court ever said the hospital would close if the election failed." The court has about four options, and one is closing the hospital, Fields said.

The court approved purchase of a microwave for the Civic Center kitchen after hearing a request from director Garland Young. The measure was approved on a motion by Jack Williams seconded by Jerry Hill.

Young said that 200 attended the all-night graduation party and 166 stayed for the lock-in. A mid-summer dance is scheduled for July 18 and the back-to-school dance will be held Aug. 29.

Young reported that 12 inch plastic letters for the Civic Center Building will cost $690 as opposed to more than $1600 for metal letters. He was instructed to order plastic lettering for the building. The wording will say "Crockett County Civic and Youth Center".

Kirby said that the county had received a bill for $1,400 for water at the cemetery for May despite the frequent rains. Water to the cemetery is turned off except during the hours of 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Commissioners voted, on a motion by Sostenes DeHoyos seconded by Jesus Castro, to replace 370 V-8 motors in two 1982 Ford trucks. Jim Bass Ford had the lowest price for the motors.

Moore was asked to devise specifications for street repairs after water line replacement and repair and talk with the water department regarding the repair process.

Commissioners reviewed a contract to be sent to Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Harrell pertaining to dirt for the landfill.

They agreed that no shooting and no trespass signs should be placed on the perimeter of the dump ground.

A University of Texas man said easements on any UT roads now maintained by the county would be given at no cost to the county according to Jerry Hill.

Maps to be used to designate roads will be brought to the July meeting.

New Texas Highway Department supervisor Winston Koerth was at court to let the officials know he would be available at any time, should problems arise.

During the discussion on roads, Castro mentioned the need for widening the road in the area of the intermediate school.

Librarian Louise Ledoux reported that Friends of the Library donated money for the new front lawn which was planted last weekend. Mrs. Ledoux had asked the commissioners about grass or ground cover for the area during the May meeting and had been told to obtain prices.

The library will be receiving an Apple II computer through state funds as soon as it can be picked up, she said.

Frank Galindo, child welfare worker, appeared before the court to ask payment for three bills. The court agreed to pay the bonding fee of $64.50 for notary Janet Henry, $55.60 for parenting class books, and a Shannon Hospital bill in the amount of $165.65 incurred in May of 1986 for diagnosis of a child.

Reese Albert was low bidder on gravel for roads when bids were opened at 11 a.m. Other bidders were Lilly Construction and South Texas Aggregate.

Bids from 10 individuals were opened and tabulated for surplus county equipment.

Rain, best it has ever been

By Cynthia Harrell Hodges

Local ranchers and gardeners continued to enjoy springlike showers this week as the phenomenal rains pelted certain areas of the county for the seventh consecutive week.

The forecast for additional moisture caused many local citizens to worry about possible flooding. But many ranchers said the countryside had never looked better.

"This is wonderful stuff," said John Childress who ranches north of Ozona. "It's the prettiest I've ever seen. It has never been this good. Prices on livestock are at an all time high. For once, we've got it all going. Usually, when range conditions are good, prices (on livestock) are down. This is a first in history."

The same story continued south of Ozona, where Eugene Miller reported that his country looked "awful green. I've never seen the ranch look this good, not in my lifetime, and I'm 71 years old. We need to have a year like this once every five years or so, to help us get over the drought years."

Spotty rains on the Pecos River west of Ozona have helped that portion of Crockett County to enjoy the moisture without washing away. B. B. Ingham reported that the .1 received this week almost caused portions of the countryside to wash away. "We have logged 2.5 inches of rain during the last seven weeks. The livestock is as fat as it can be. These spotty showers bring no complaints from me."

The excellent reports continued from Mrs. Amos Owens. Their ranch, located northwest of Ozona on Live Oak Creek "looks better than I've ever seen it. This is the best in my 38 years of ranching here. It has never been this good for this long. The grass comes up to the windows of the pickup. It really is hard to believe."

Southeast of Ozona, Sonny Henderson reported that his ranch has "never looked this good. This will be an awful good year for the ranching industry for a change. Though lamb and sheep prices are down a bit from a few weeks ago, the price on wool remains high."

Temporary washouts on Taylor

Box Road have been patched. The Powell Field Road also needed some repairs following the downpours in late May.

Herbert Kunkel, local gardener, reported that the rains had helped his tomato and bean crops. "I'll just have to wait and see how the tomatoes produce the end of this month."

Despite the fact that the rains were welcomed by most citizens, some voiced the need for a drying out period. Willie Tooke said her garden was washing away. Mrs. P. L. Childress said, "I'm getting a bit moldy and am mildewing. We need a drying out period. This is just not like dry West Texas, is it?"

Museum meeting to have economic focus

Local business people are invited to learn more about attracting travelers to Ozona Saturday when the Permian Basin Museums' Institute holds its summer meeting here. The event is being hosted by the Crockett County Museum.

Letter to the editor

The second annual Ozona-Barnhart Family Trail Ride is over now. And a few of us are a little sun-burned and saddle sore, but we sure had a great time. I would like to take this opportunity to express our special "thanks" to some of the people who made this ride possible.

We really appreciate the many ranch families that made their land available to us, and allowed us access to the Drover's Lane. Without exception, the ranchmen welcomed us and made us feel at home. We certainly appreciate this kindness.

Tina Moran was on stand-by as our E.M.T. to tend to our physical needs, and fortunately we didn't have to put her talents to work. Dr. Gary Vannoy visited our camp Sunday morning on the Williams Ranch, and tended to our spiritual needs with a wonderful devotional service before our day's ride.

We also want to thank the Ozona Lion's Club for the barbecue supper that they put on Saturday night. The good food, and the music of the Jamie Knox Band, made the evening very enjoyable.

Finally, we want to thank the Ozona Chamber of Commerce, and the various members of the Trail Ride Committee who gave so much of their time to made the ride the success that it was. You each one know who you are, and we couldn't have done it without you.

This trail ride has sure been a lot of fun for all of us. And, you can be assured that plans will begin, before long, for next year's ride.

Sincerely,
 Jim Wilson

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—The 70th Legislature adjourned "sine die" last week but lawmakers did not get to go home for a rest.

Gov. Bill Clements called the Legislature back into special session immediately to deal with the unfinished problem of tort reform.

Lawmakers could not solve the state's budget problems in the 140-day regular session, but took just two days to wrap up the tort reform issue, passing legislation that will make it more difficult for injured plaintiffs to collect large monetary awards from defendants.

Tort Reform Passes

Tort reform had been one of the hottest issues of the regular session, but lawmakers were able to hammer out a compromise between the pro-and anti-reform forces by the end of the session. Insurance companies backed tort reform as a way to cut the cost of liability coverage for doctors, large corporations and others. Defense lawyers and other opponents claimed it simply would protect the rich from lawsuits.

The reform package approved last week included three bills rewriting the state's civil justice laws. Another bill amends insurance laws to include the creation of an office to represent consumers before the State Board of Insurance.

Insurance Bills

Also approved were two insurance bills that would allow non-profit organizations to set up their own liability insurance pools and to require agencies to work with the Industrial Accident Board on job safety programs.

The Senate approved the measures on the first day of the special session. The next day, the House took only seven minutes to send the package to the governor to be signed into law.

That prompt action was largely due to House Speaker Gib Lewis' threat to adjourn the House and send lawmakers home without finishing the tort reform action if any representatives tried to amend the bill sent over by the Senate.

Budget Session

Lawmakers now are getting some vacation time, but they will be back in Austin June 22 to resolve the unfinished budget debate.

Legislators completed the regular session without passing a budget bill for the 1988-1989 biennium. The House and Senate both had passed budget bills totaling nearly $40 billion, but could not work out about $100 million in differences by the end of the session.

The stalemate partly resulted from Gov. Clements' threats to veto any spending bill that topped $36.9 billion.

Also left to be addressed in the special session is the issue of making permanent the temporary sales and gasoline tax increases approved last year. While Gov.

Clements supported the tax extension, he vetoed legislation making the 15-cent-a-gallon gasoline tax permanent because House and Senate members could not agree on whether to make the 5.25 percent state sales tax rate permanent or extend it only to Jan. 3.

"The legislature must pass both bills to adequately ensure a revenue stream that will ensure the fiscal integrity of the state for the coming two years," Clements said.

Senate members had voted for only the temporary extension of the tax in hopes of putting pressure on Clements to go along with an expansion of the sales tax base to include professional services and other items not now taxed.

Supercollider

While lawmakers were putting their stamp of approval on tort reform, Clements and a bipartisan delegation from Texas were in Washington, D.C. attempting to bolster support for building the much sought-after supercollider in Texas.

Clements was joined in his efforts by former Democratic National Chairman Robert Strauss, the Texas congressional delegation and former University of Texas at Austin President Peter Flawn, who heads the Texas National Research Laboratory Commission.

The supercollider would cost $6 billion to construct and bring thousands of jobs to Texas.

Flawn said Texas' proposal must be "very strong on its technical merits" to beat out competition from Illinois and California.

Congressman Jack Brooks, D-Beaumont, said, however, that political muscle would be essential in getting the Reagan administration and the National Academy of Sciences to pick Texas.

Ella Clegg, library artist of the month for June

Local artist Ella Clegg was born in Ozona and grew up enjoying and admiring the beautiful surroundings. She had no training in art except for a short time when she was in junior high. She painted in oil with Mrs. Birdie Williams and took a short course in water colors with Mrs. Gerald Williams, wife of the high school principal. Although Mrs. Clegg's mother, Wilma Carson, and grandmother, Alma West, were artists, she didn't paint until 1972 when she was recuperating from a knee injury. She then joined the class of Mary Brocker. Among the other artists she has painted with are: Harold Rooney, Jim Hall, George Konteupas, Carl Cogar and Raymond Froman. Many of her paintings currently on exhibit at Crockett County Public Library are landscapes from the Big Bend. Included in the exhibit are a portrait and a painting of a peacock. Mrs. Clegg's paintings will bring pleasure to those who enjoy work done in oils. Mrs. Clegg graduated from Ozona

High School in 1940 and attended Baylor University and San Angelo Business College. She worked in Ozona National Bank until her marriage in 1944 to William R. Clegg. The Cleggs have one daughter, Chris Beckham, and one granddaughter, Heather Hill.

Myrtle Post Garden Club

The Myrtle Post Garden Club had their regular monthly meeting Monday night at the home of Mrs. Jim Dudley.

The regular business included the treasurer's report, a report on the Emerald House, and a reminder that it is time to order calendars for next year.

A member of the club and accomplished designer, Mrs. Lee Graves, was honored by having one of her designs featured in the new calendars.

The nominating committee presented nominees for the officers for the up-coming year: Mrs. John Hight, president; Mrs. Jim Dudley, vice-president; Mrs. Ben Williams, secretary, and Miss Leta Powell, treasurer. The club approved the nominees and they were elected. July 11 was set as the tentative date for the club's Pilgrimage.

Mrs. Joe Bean, an accomplished designer and member of the Ozona Garden Club, presented a program on "Preserving Plant Material." She explained glycerination of plant materials by using one part glycerin to two parts hot water and adding a small amount of bleach to prevent mildew.

Leave the plant material in the solution until there are beads of the solution on the uppermost leaves. Then take the plant material out of the solution and hang it upside down for two to three weeks. The material will then be pliable and easy to use in arrangements.

Other methods of preserving plants are to air dry them, use silica gel, or a mixture of borax and cornmeal to dry them. Mrs. Bean showed examples of plants that had been preserved by the different methods.

Members present were Mrs. Jack Brewer, Mrs. R. W. Bullard, Mrs. Jim Dudley, Mrs. Lee Graves, Mrs. John Hight, Mrs. Scottie Houston, Mrs. Richard Mayfield, Miss Leta Powell, Mrs. Phillip Smith, and Mrs. Ben Williams.

Mrs. Jim Dudley and Miss Leta Powell were co-hostesses and Miss Leta Powell had done a floral arrangement with native wildflowers.

Rachel's Reviews

by Rachel O. Hall

Testing for Listeria

Listeria is a bacteria that has been implicated in illnesses and deaths caused by eating contaminated products such as shredded cabbage, milk and soft Mexican-style cheese. The U. S. Department of Agriculture is expanding its testing of meat and poultry to include testing for this bacteria.

Because consumers are unlikely to further cook ready-to-eat meat and poultry products, the USDA is concerned with their possible contamination. The new testing program will put special emphasis on ready-to-eat products such as dried-cured pork products, fermented sausages and cooked luncheon meats, both domestic and imported.

If Listeria is found in the samples of these products, the USDA will initiate the removal of these products from the marketplace.

Listeria can grow slowly on foods under refrigeration and therefore is difficult to control.

It has the potential to cause serious illness or death among high risk individuals. Those at greatest risk are pregnant women, the unborn and those with weakened immune systems, such as cancer patients on radiation therapy.

The vast majority of persons consuming foods with Listeria would not be notably affected.

To keep food safe, pick up meat, poultry and dairy products last when shopping. Get them home and refrigerate promptly. Maintain refrigerator temperature at 35 to 40 degrees and freezer at 0 degrees or lower. Wash hands, the kitchen counter, and utensils before and after preparing raw meat or poultry, and always thoroughly cook the food.

4-H'ers attend horse camp

Prude Ranch near Fort Davis was the location for a five day 4-H horse camp attended by three Ozona 4-H'ers. Crista Chalmers, Paul Perner III and Steffy Sutton spent the week working with 18 other junior and senior 4-H members to improve their horsemanship.

Charlie Hemphill of Coleman was the instructor, and Mr. and Mrs. Rod Chalmers and Mrs. Jeffrey Sutton were counselors for the camp.

The youngsters rode from 8 a.m. until noon and for two hours each afternoon to practice correct horsemanship, western pleasure and trail riding.

Activities each night included showmanship clinics and making tac. A video critique of each rider was part of their training.

Former residents Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Matthews of Uvalde were in Ozona June 4 and stopped to visit the Crockett County Museum. Pictured with them are Mrs. Grace Williams and Geniece and Ples Childress.

Matthews taught in Ozona 40 years ago. He has been head of South West Texas Junior College at Uvalde since 1952.

"All night long"

Graduation party honors Senior Class

The all-night graduation party was held May 29 honoring the Senior Class of 1987.

The attendance count was over 200 with the total after lock-in at 166. This was above last year's total. A total of 25 seniors spent the night at the civic center.

The main ballroom was decorated in a rainbow theme. A dance contest was held with the dance. Mary Lou Hayes and Roger Flores won the contest and received trophies.

The game room with its tournaments and games was also very popular throughout the night. Tournament winners were awarded trophies, also.

Winners of the contests included Judy Flores and Stephen Villarreal for pool, Paul Galan in snooker, Polly Villarreal in nine-ball, and Larisa Schoenhals and Jesse Fierro in darts. Lanessa Porter and Jerold Savala were Foos Ball winners.

The movie theater was in operation all during the night with door prizes being given during the movies.

The movies became more popular as the night wore on as they provided a quiet place to rest from the more energetic pace of the other activities.

The board members and parents who donated their night to the activities included Mr. and Mrs. Brock Jones, Mrs. and Mrs. Van Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Garland Young, Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Wilson, Frances Denman, Raymond Sanchez, Brenda McCollum, Jim Williams, and Jo Nel Stokes.

Others helping out for part of the night were Judy Pridemore, Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Galindo, Mr. and Mrs. Jeffrey Sutton, and Ethel McCrohan. The breakfast cooks who came in at 4 a.m. were Johnny Jones, Billy Reagor, Pon Seahorn, and Dan Pullen.

The donors of food, money, and door prizes were very generous this year. Thank you notes are being sent to each of these.

The Crockett County Civic and Youth Center Board as well as the Teen Council apologizes to anyone who may have been forgotten during the last minute confusion of preparations. The list of donors is lengthy, but the board and council feel that the merchants, parents, and clubs that donated large amounts toward the celebration should be recognized. These include the Southside Lions Club, Crockett County National Bank, Ozona National Bank, Mrs. Bernice Jones, Mrs. Roy Henderson, the Crockett County Teachers Association, Ozona Storage, and Buttery Motors.

"We feel that you have shown your approval of our celebration by your support of our effort," a Crockett County Civic and Youth Center Board spokesman said. "The teens have shown their support by an increase in attendance over last year. With the entire community helping, the teens have been given a fun way to spend a safe graduation night."

Summertime food safety

Summer is a time for taking food out to the porch, the park and the beach. Not remembering food safety on these outings can lead to food poisoning, which is no picnic.

Food safety begins at the grocery store. Pick up poultry and meat last, and get them home and stored in the refrigerator as soon as possible. If leaving home for a cookout, pack wisely. Make sure the cooler is well insulated and has enough ice to keep the food cold.

Before barbecuing, make sure everything is clean, from hands to cooking utensils to preparation surfaces. A quick wash with hot soapy water will do. Use separate cutting boards and utensils for raw and cooked foods, or wash them thoroughly between uses. Make sure to wash hands often to avoid "cross contamination".

Never use the same plate for cooked meat or poultry that once had raw meat or poultry on it, unless it has been thoroughly washed in hot, soapy water.

The flu like symptoms of food poisoning are unwelcome picnic guests. Food-borne illnesses can be prevented by handling food wisely.

Lions Club members Mike Preddy, Ray Don Myers and Richard Berry helped serve hungry trail riders and visitors at the Midway Lane campsite Saturday night. The two day ride ended in Barnhart Sunday.

"The New Creation" youth group formed by Catholics

Our Lady of Perpetual Help Catholic Church now has a youth group called "The New Creation"; it was formed in the early part of April. Sponsors Sylvia De Hoyos, Ernest and Isabel Tambunga, Hector and Mel DeHoyos and Celda Borrego held a meeting during the first week in April to discuss who the five appointed leaders for the group would be. Those appointed by the sponsors were: Michael Vasquez, Teena Tambunga, Estella Hernandez, Roland DeHoyos and Willie Vargas. It was also decided by the sponsors that these five appointed leaders should have a back-up person in case one would be absent. They then met with the five appointed to discuss the names of those who would be presented to the group in order that they elect the back-ups for them. Those elected were: Penny Ramirez, Valerie Flores, Mikki Ramirez, Jose Gutierrez and Opie De Hoyos.

The name, The New Creation, was chosen when the five appointed leaders first met with the sponsors and considered what the group should be called. They took a look at where the youth in O.L.P.H. Parish were a year ago and where they were at present as far as involvement in their church. They found a scripture reading from the Wisdom of Solomon 3:15 which reads "Wisdom is like a root which sprouts new shoots". They also chose a drawing of a dead tree with a new sprout as their logo, thus calling themselves The New Creation.

Guidelines in order to be a part of The New Creation are that members attend religion classes, youth gatherings and mass along with being a practicing Catholic. There is a $2.00 entry fee with 50c dues per month. This money along with any fund raising will be used for trips which the group plans to take in the future.

The first organizational meeting of the group was held April 23, 1987, and it was decided that they would meet once a month on the first Monday of each month.

During May, the group got another sponsor; Elijah Martinez joined The New Creation.

Activities held in May included sponsoring a Coke and lemonade stand during the Cinco de Mayo festivities and winning second place with their float during the parade. They serenaded their mothers with "Las Mananitas" on Mother's Day and also sponsored a youth dance.

At their June meeting on Thursday, June 4, they planned activities for the month which consist of: a rock concert Saturday, June 13, with music by BURNS, and a father and child breakfast on Father's Day.

Members of the group were honored by their sponsors and leaders at a swimming party on Friday, June 5, at the South Swimming Pool. The group enjoyed fun and games with a weenie roast.

Playing possum is no game

Three six-week-old opossums are getting a taste of human kindness from Janet Wilson. A mother possum was found in Ozona by the animal control agent after it was killed on a local street. The babies were still in the mother's pouch, alive.

Mrs. Wilson, an employee at the Ozona Veterinary Clinic, decided the babies needed a chance at life.

"They are just as big as a honeybee when they are first born, but they live in their mother's pouch until they can fend for themselves," Mrs. Wilson said. "They had their eyes open when we found them, but they could not see well."

Goat milk every five hours, provided by Mrs. Jack Skains, served as the possums' first liquid diet. This was soon supplemented by baby food jars of applesauce, cereal, ham, and weenies. The possums presently will eat almost anything, from bananas to chopped up strawberries and bugs.

The nocturnal animals climb and play during the nighttime hours when all the lights are out.

"They are not pets," Mrs. Wilson said. "We plan to release them as soon as they can fend for themselves. I've handled them very little intentionally, because they need to be returned to a normal life in the wild."

Ole Cobbler to arrive June 18

Carl Hardy, the Old Cobbler, will return to Ozona on June 18.

If

by Rev. Ken Harrison

United Methodist Church

There is much preaching being done currently which centers around the concept of prosperity. The idea seems to be that if you give you will get. While there may be some validity to this theme, there are also some attendant dangers. Present prosperity preaching would have us believe that all we have to do to get rich is give our money away, to the right cause, church or person, of course. There are even wonderful testimonials from folk who have begun to tithe and have realized sudden, unexplained, increases in their incomes. The prosperity portrait which is painted portrays great wealth arising from seed gifts planted by the faithful.

There is another side to the story. Look in the Gospels of Matthew, Mark, Luke and John for what Jesus said. There are some rather confusing messages there, but, for the most part, Jesus warns against the love of wealth. When he spoke to the rich young ruler he told him to give away his wealth and to come and follow. There was no promise of increased income. Jesus said it is easier for a camel to pass through the eye of a needle than for a rich man to enter the Kingdom of God. If it is true, as Jesus said, that the way is narrow and difficult that leads to life, then most of us could scarcely benefit by adding wealth to the other obstacles to be overcome. If the disciples took Jesus literally when he told them that anything they had given up in order to follow him would be restored a hundred-fold, they must have been solely disappointed, since they were nearly all martyred for their faith. When Jesus told the story of the poor widow who put her two copper coins into the offering, he said she put in her whole livelihood. He did not conclude the story by telling us that the woman suddenly became wealthy as a result of her sacrificial gift. Presumably, she went on being a poor widow.

Think of what most prosperity preaching does to us as persons. It tends to make us even more self-centered than we already are. It tends to tie us more firmly to the things of the world than we already are. It tends to distort our faith into believing that we can justify, sanctify and earn for ourselves a place in the kingdom of God. Worst of all, it tends to magnify the "get something for nothing" mentality held by so many folk already. Picture God --- running a heavenly lottery!

If you will look in Deuteronomy in chapter 30 you will discover that God does promise prosperity. Look at chapter 30, beginning with verse 9. "The Lord your God will make you abundantly prosperous in all the work of your hand, in the fruit of your body, and in the fruit of your cattle, and in the fruit of your ground; for the Lord will again take delight in prospering you, as he took delight in your fathers,..." This promised prosperity depends upon more than a simple gift, or even a sacrificial one. In verse 10 there is a tiny word; "if." Prosperity from God depends upon a great deal more than simply pulling the right string or getting the right ticket, for verse 10 provides us with a big if, "...if you obey the voice of the Lord your God, to keep his commandments and his statutes which are written in this book of the law, if you turn to the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul." Once we have turned to the Lord our God with all our heart and with all our soul, our focus is off ourselves and on Him. When that happens our personal prosperity no longer is an issue.

Odessa tourney disappoints local golfers

Six Ozona youths traveled to Odessa June 2 to compete in the semifinal qualifying round of the Optimists' Junior World Golf Championship held at lavish Mission Country Club. The finest golf course in West Texas took a definite toll as none of the golfers advanced to the finals in Fort Worth.

In the 15-17-year-old division, Bret Hood, Will Seahorn and Copie Davis found that hitting the ball "good" wasn't good enough. Hood and Seahorn, who had scored well during a practice round at Odessa's Sunset Country Club the day before (75 and 78 respectively) just couldn't find the handle and consequently found the going rough during the tournament.

Hood shot a disappointing and frustrating round of 89. "The funny thing about it was that I never missed a shot," said Hood. "I hit the ball just like I wanted to, but I couldn't score."

Seahorn, who hasn't played a competitive round of golf since early April, couldn't shake the rust off and ended with a score of 86. "I just couldn't get it together," said Seahorn. "I bogeyed the first three holes, and from then on I was really inconsistent."

Davis had the lowest score of the three, but still wasn't satisfied with his round of 83. "I had a lot of chances to play well, but I didn't. I had to scramble for a bunch of pars that should've been easy."

Davis' score of 83 placed him in a tie for 11th in a field of 31. Seahorn followed in 14th. Hood's 89 was not in the top 20.

Jackson Cameron of Abilene won the tournament with a round of even par 72. Second was Matt Welch, also of Abilene, with 74.

In the 12-15-year-old division, Jay Haire, who impressed many local golf fans with his high placing in the junior high district golf tournament, smoked the Mission Country Club course with a round of 85. This placed him second in his division. "I was extremely pleased with the way I played from tee to green, but I couldn't putt," said Haire of his performance. "I putted for a lot of birdies, but I couldn't get anything in the hole."

Shane Pridemore had a dismal day on the links as he cranked out a round of 109. "I played very bad," said Pridemore. "I couldn't get out of the sand, and I couldn't putt. I had a terrible day."

Rounding out the Ozona field was Daun O'Neal who shot a disappointing round of 116.

The group's next stop was McCamey on the 9th. That tournament began the West Texas PGA Junior Tour.

Bass signs contract with other hospital

The regular meeting of the Crockett County Hospital Board was called to order at 7 p.m. at Ozona National Bank. Board members present were: Jo Davidson, Raymond Borrego, Betty Perry, Don Long and Jean Read. Also present were Bill Boswell, Jacque King, Elvira Caldwell, Dr. Owensby, County Judge Al Fields, County Commissioner Jerry Hill, Tina Moran, Dub O'Bryant and Louis Hall.

The minutes were read and approved with corrections.

Under old business, Boswell reported:

- Justice Dept. requested further information before approving district election bill
- water cooler installed in hospital kitchen
- hospital and care center insurance purchased from Texas Hospital Exchange •fire alarm system completed and in compliance with present regulations.

Mrs. King gave financial reports for the hospital and care center. Cash deposits for the hospital were $40,594.48, and disbursements were $83,518.26. There were 311 patients in May. 217 of these were emergency room visits. 202 were released, six transferred and nine admitted. There were 164 lab procedures done and 63 x-ray procedures.

Total cash deposits for the care center were $37,942.71 and total disbursements were $60,646.29.

Following discussion, the board approved expenditures for the month.

The Social Services contract has been signed with West Texas Rehabilitation Center, and the representative has completed her first quarterly visit.

The board voted to approve Dr. Boster as EMS director for the ambulance service.

Under new business, Boswell reported that Dr. Bass has signed a contract with another hospital, leaving him with only around two or three days per month for visits to Ozona. Boswell has contacted other doctors, and the hospital is covered for the moment; however, it has been strongly recommended that the board begin to look for another full-time physician. Sample contracts will be drafted in the next month for the board's approval.

After a motion by Don Long and seconded by Jo Davidson, the board approved the payment of $180.50 to the family of Mrs. Ola Mills for reimbursement for ambulance services.

Betty Perry read two letters from Dr. Don Carlisle recommending a physician for Ozona. Boswell has talked with the doctor, and he has taken a position in Breckenridge.

Mrs. Caldwell reported that there were only three beds open at the Care Center.

Following the business meeting, County Judge Al Fields spoke to the board regarding the county's tax situation. He had several suggestions to cut expenditures. In turn, board members questioned Judge Fields on the commissioners' plans for the hospital should the district election fail.
