His and Hers

By Scotty and Linda Moore

Hers

Visitors at the fairgrounds park joined spectators at the Ozona Youth Rodeo Saturday night and had such a good time they stayed until the next day. This report comes from Joyce Hohertz, mother of the 1987 Rodeo Queen, Lorelei Hohertz.

The man in the visiting family had a big camera and took a number of pictures of the rodeo (they had never seen one before) and of our queen.

I enjoyed watching a touring family on the square last week. They were obviously taking in the Davy Crockett statue, and the little boy of the family even wore a coonskin cap. Haven't seen one of those since my boys were little, and that has been awhile.

The dog days of summer have set in. Rodeo is over and a little more than three weeks remain before school starts. Seems like summer should be just beginning. For those with kids in band or football, summer is over, because those activities begin next week.

Bob Harris came by Thursday to let us know that Hwy. 290 would not be dug up during the GTE cable burying project after all. Seems as though those intrepid Reese Albert employees tunneled under the street in the dark of night and placed pipe to carry the underground telephone cables.

Despite talk of hard times, Ozona is reaping the benefits of several projects that involve a considerable amount of money. The wastewater treatment plant, cable company and telephone company projects are bringing improvements to the community, a positive step.

On Monday a friend asked if any businesses had closed over the weekend. I replied with an admonishment to "ask if any new businesses opened over the weekend."

The recent closing of Whitehouse Gulf is a regrettable loss in the community. Others are tightening belts, and at the same time, new places are opening and some are expanding.

We like to publicize any new businesses or major business changes, and some are happening in Ozona now that the owners or managers are just not ready to talk to the paper about. When they're ready, we'll help them tell you about their changes and improvements.

We're often so busy typing the news that we don't get out and hear about "your" story. Don't be bashful; call or come by if you have a newsworthy item. We're almost always here!

120 boys and girls participate in rodeo

Lorelei Hohertz was crowned 1987 Rodeo Queen Saturday night at the Ozona Youth Rodeo before an admiring crowd. The 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hohertz also received the horsemanship award from the queen's contest. A silver tray was presented to Lore for each honor by 1986 Queen Tressa Crawford.

Queen candidate Stephanie Saunders received the personality award, and Tamie Reagor the appearance award. Both young women received silver trays.

The three candidates rode in the grand entry Friday, and Saturday nights along with rodeo contestants and officials. Marty Acton led the parade of cowgirls and cowboys each evening, and flag bearers were Cody Sutton, U.S. flag; and Texas flag, Darrell Dunham on Friday and Shane Cooper on Saturday.

Marshall Hubbard was the recipient of the C. E. Davidson Scholarship for 1987, and Jay Miller memorial buckles were presented to Sutton and Melissa Bishop. The buckles are given each year by Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Miller.

All Around buckles were earned by: Shanna Owens, 9-12 division; Mecca McMullan, 13-15; Shawn McMullan, 16-19.

Owens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Owens of Rankin, was tied with Marshall Hubbard in the 9-12 division, and a toss of the coin determined the buckle winner. Mecca and Shawn McMullan are the daughter and son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenny McMullan of Iraan and grandchildren of Mrs. Dorothy Friend of Ozona.

Buckles were given to first place winners. Second place earned breast collars and third place, saddle pads.

Goats for the rodeo were provided by Gary Buck Mitchell, steers by the roping club, and double mugging yearlings by Jeff Sutton.

Co-chairmen of the Lions Club sponsored event were Gary Vannoy and Billy Reagor.

- 5 Joe Martinez - Will M. Black 21.76, 516.00
- 6 Mike Lister - Roger Coots 22.07, 375.00
- 7 Tom Figueroa - Ed Hale 22.34, 234.00
- 8 Troy Fox - Joe Martinez 22.40, 94.00
- Allen Childs of Fort Stockton furnished the cattle.

Johnny Powell of Eldorado was the winner in the Jay Miller Memorial. Powell was second in the first go with 10.64, following Mark Howard with a time of 10.41.

Powell's time on two head was 21.59. He had a 9.22 on the third for a total of 30.81.

Jeff Waldrop was second with his 31.76 on three followed by Shawn McMullan with a total of 33.63 on three calves.

McMullan won a match roping with Jim Smith. McMullan's total on three was 32.69 while Smith totaled a 60.00.

Girls' basketball coach hired

Trustees hired a coach for the varsity girls' basketball team at a called meeting July 29.

Lyna Diane Coleman will come to Ozona from Grand Saline where she has been girls' varsity coach for four years.

Prior to that time, Miss Coleman was varsity coach for two years in Shamrock and a junior high teacher and coach in Mineola for two years.

Miss Coleman is a 1977 graduate of West Texas State University at Canyon where she was a member of the basketball team for three years. She earned her teaching certificate at Stephen F. Austin in Nacogdoches in 1979.

She graduated from Sam Norwood High School in 1973.

The faculty vacancy created by the resignation of Brant Myers remains to be filled according to Ted Cotton, assistant superintendent. Myers taught five classes of physical science and coached.

A number of applicants are being interviewed for the position of junior high school principal. Former principal Jack Probst will be high school counselor, a position he had held for several years before taking the principalship.

Principals reported for work Aug. 3. A registration schedule has not yet been finalized.

Lorelei Hohertz's smile is almost as bright as the reflection of the silver trays presented to her when she was crowned Rodeo Queen Saturday evening.

Sheriff reports local thefts

ARRESTS

7-30 A 37-year-old Temple man was arrested by sheriff's deputies on charges of criminal trespass at a local motel and a warrant out of North Carolina charging non-payment of alimony. He is being held in county jail awaiting transfer to North Carolina.

7-31 Sheriff's deputies traveled to Fort Stockton to pick up a 51-year-old Del Rio man on a warrant charging theft of services. The offense occurred last month when the suspect left an Ozona motel without paying his bill. The suspect was also held on a similar warrant from Fisher County. He was released on 8-1 after posting bond on both offenses.

8-1 A 20-year-old Austin man was arrested by sheriff's deputies after he stole gasoline from a local station. He was released the same day, after restitution had been made to the gas station.

INCIDENTS

7-30 A local motel reported that a suspect was prowling around the motel and appeared to be intoxicated. Sheriff's deputies investigated the incident and arrested the 37-year-old suspect. He was placed in jail on charges of criminal trespass and out-of-state warrants.

8-1 The Sheriff's Department received a report that a six-year-old child had been bitten by a dog belonging to a relative. Sheriff's deputies impounded the dog for observation. The child was treated and released at Crockett County Hospital.

8-3 A local video rental store reported the theft of a video recorder and a video tape. These were rented to a customer and never returned. Sheriff's deputies are investigating the case and will confer with the county attorney for prosecution.

STATE CAPITAL

HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—When gubernatorial front-runner Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby last week decided not to seek any office in 1990, the status quo logjam in Texas politics let loose a resounding "crack".

The fact that other political hopefuls were considering their new opportunities was enough to prompt an amused Hobby to clarify he may run again someday — but not for governor or lieutenant governor in 1990.

His act of acquiescence has set next session's agenda, the overhaul of the tax base to deal with the fiscal crisis.

Hobby's stature is such that for Texas Democrats he is several officials rolled into one. While Republicans occupy the Governor's Mansion, Hobby really has been "the governor" in the eyes of many die-hard Democrats.

Without him, they will have no incumbent running for the top two spots in Texas government. Thus, the door is open for many hopefuls and as officials play musical chairs, more openings will be created throughout the ballot. With the tax hike vote also a factor, the Democratic Party will undergo a large-scale change of names.

Cabinet Post?

With more than three years left in his term, Hobby has not made his last mark on the Capitol scene. Those given to speculation can easily see Hobby in a U.S. cabinet position — perhaps as Secretary of Energy — but Hobby said he wants to keep politics out of the goals he has for Texas in his remaining term.

In his own words, he can be more effective now that the perception of his running for higher office has been removed.

GOP Pooh Pooh

Other camps offered more cynical reasons why Hobby is pulling back his troops.

Some Texas Republicans pooh pooh Hobby's stance, saying his latest program for new taxes would sink any election bid.

Indeed, tax bill author Rep. Dan Morales, D-San Antonio, predicted 50 legislators will not run for re-election because of the specter of political defeat or personal financial hardship.

Another view holds that Hobby did not want to endure the sniping of announced opponent Attorney General Jim Mattox, who has already mud-balled him several times this year.

Amid the massive praise of Hobby's service, his most vocal detractor was Texas GOP executive director John Weaver, who thinks Hobby has now lost a lot of leverage around the Capitol.

Anointment Power

Fifteen years ago, Hobby's leverage came from family wealth and a bevy of powerful friends.

If knowledge is power, then note what Comptroller Bob Bullock said last week: "Bill Hobby knows more about state government than any person alive."

Insiders will agree, but some will say under their breath, "except for maybe Bob Bullock." Hobby wouldn't mind that.

And as the reigning conservative Democrat of state government, Hobby can play a big role in anointing successors and in delivering the Texas vote to an '88 presidential candidate.

End of an Era

So, barring massive upheaval in the Senate membership, Hobby is not likely to pass as your average lame duck.

What is passing, however, is the end of an era, for Hobby is the strongest of conservative Democrats at the state level. He will likely be replaced in nomination by an unabashed, unapologetic liberal — such is the Democratic talent pool.

Far-righters will argue that a pro-tax official like Hobby cannot be a conservative. But he enjoys the allegiances of the biggest conservative power brokers in the state, and that makes Bill Hobby a conservative.

Quite likely, some of those conservatives will support more Republicans when he is gone. The realignment continues its own merry way.

Other Highlights

• State Treasurer Ann Richards rewarded her staff with a party and huge cake last week for collecting its billionth dollar in non-tax revenue for the state.

• George Bayoud, Gov. Clements' executive assistant, will resign later this year to return to his Dallas real estate business. Some predict Bayoud will resurface politically in the 1988 presidential sweepstakes for a GOP candidate.

• Dallas school superintendent Linus Wright said he will be nominated by President Reagan to the No. 2 position in the Department of Education.

• Texas lost a South Texas political and economic power, and a long-term friend to higher education last week when Corpus Christi attorney Hayden Head died in a plane crash. Head was an informal advisor to President Reagan, U.S. Sen. Phil Gramm and Gov. Clements, and served the University of Texas System in many capacities.

• San Antonio Mayor Henry Cisneros, a '90 gubernatorial maybe, has been appointed to the Baylor College of Medicine board.

News briefs--

Immunization clinic to be August 8

The Texas Department of Health will be holding an immunization clinic Thursday Aug. 6 from 10 a.m. to 12 and 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. at the Ozona Civic Center.

Immunization provided at the clinic are DTP, Td, polio, measles, mumps, and rubella.

Parents need to bring records of any immunizations that a child has already received. A parent or legal guardian must accompany each child.

VBS registration at First Baptist

Bible School registration at First Baptist Church will be held Saturday, Aug. 8. Registration will be held in conjunction with Just For Kids from 10 a.m. to 12 noon at the church.

There will be ice cream and movies Saturday morning. Vacation Bible School will be held Aug. 10-14 from 6 to 8:30 p.m.

School band practice

Summer band practice for all high school band members will begin Monday, Aug. 10, at 7 p.m. at the high school band hall.

Any new band members should plan to attend that rehearsal says director Kelly Glaze. The schedule for the two weeks of practice will be given at that time.

by Louise Ledoux

Children's story hour for 1987 came to a close with July. The program was pronounced a big success by the almost 100 kids of all ages who enjoyed the films, crafts, stories and fun. Mrs. Lisa Wagoner, our Friends children's chairman, did a wonderful job coordinating all the volunteers and planning the programs for the children. A great big thank you from all of us here at the library goes out to Mrs. Wagoner.

I also want to congratulate our winners of the summer reading program for reading the most books. Christina Cantu read 15 books in the three to five year age. Robyn Conner read 19 books in the six year and up group. The contest was very close this year because we had so very good readers. Keep up the good reading!

Coming up in August, the library has several programs planned for young adults. In conjunction with the 4-H program and Mrs. Rachael Hall, the library has planned a babysitting clinic for teens. This is a three-day program Aug. 12, 13 and 14, covering child care, safety and first aid, and storytelling and games. Participants completing the clinic will receive babysitting certificates and a list will be kept in the Extension Office, so that anyone needing a babysitter can call and locate teens that have received training. This is a free program to all interested teens.

Also in August, Tuesday, the 18th, there will be a grooming clinic for teens at the library. Again in conjunction with Mrs. Hall and the 4-H program, a one-day clinic covering make-up and skin care, hair care and styling, and clothing care will be presented at the library. Several speakers will be on hand for the different topics covered. This clinic promises to be fun and informative. Last year, we even had several boys that attended and enjoyed the program!

Mr. Rod Chalmers, local game warden, will present a program on Texas wildlife Tuesday, Aug. 25, in the library. All boys age six years and up are invited to attend the film and discussion of wildlife in Texas.

Mr. Chalmers welcomes questions about wildlife and the laws that protect wild animals, so come prepared with questions you have about animals.

August is going to be a busy month at the Crockett County Public Library, so mark you calendars and don't miss a single fun and informative minute!

Notch babies want equality

Notch babies! Unite and fight inequality!

This is the message throughout the Texas Notcho News, Vol. 1, No. 1, which arrived at The Stockman office recently.

The name of the paper alone being sufficient to arouse interest, a swift perusal led to the revelation that a "Notch baby" is a person born between 1917 and 1921 who receives social security benefits.

In action referred to as the "notch botch", Congress changed the formula in 1972 by which social security benefits are computed, effectively eliminating part of the earnings of notch babies.

Ted Powers, long-time Associated Press photographer in Austin, and his wife, Kay, a feature writer of the Austin American, both recently retired and learned the hard way about the social security system.

In short, they discovered that those born between 1917 and 1921 receive less money in social security benefits even if they worked exactly the same number of years and received the same amount of salary as those born before and after the notch.

The transition formula, used to compute benefits for "notch babies", does not take into account earnings after age 61. These earnings are considered for those born before and after the "notch", however.

These earnings, which to many represent the best years of workers' lives, have payroll taxes deducted from them.

Bill Berger, publisher of The Hondo Anvil Herald and also a "notch baby", offered to print a publication concerning the issue, and the Texas Notcho News was born.

No donations are requested, no "club" is being formed. The Notcho News staff hopes others will join the fight to correct a perceived injustice.

Congressman Edward Roybal, D-Calif., chairman of the House Select Committee on Aging, is sponsoring H.R. 1917, to correct the situation.

Some benefits would have to be increased by as much as 21.8 percent to equal some received by persons born in 1916.

Crockett County Public Library's artist of the month is Frances W. Hill of Christoval. Her black and white and color photographs will be displayed throughout August at the library.

Her interest began 15 years ago when she took photography classes from Lloyd Whittier. Frances was also encouraged by her husband, Grady, who was general editor of the San Angelo Standard Times.

She recalls that at the time she thought a 35 mm camera would bite her. Frances overcame that fear, and became a participant in several photography clubs in San Angelo over the years.

A black and white photo of a windmill has earned Frances two honors. In 1983, it won Best of Show at the Texas Pageant Windmill Art competition. In 1983, it was honored as the Texas Farm Stockman Magazine's best black and white photo.

Her work consists mostly of ranch and wildlife photographs. Frances' favorite photo is "Lambchop by a Wagon Wheel". Lambchop became a member of the family as a dogie 15 years ago. He was raised on the bottle, and as he matured, Frances' daughter, Margaret, then six, realized the impending doom Lambchop was facing. She proclaimed that she would give up her allowance and work to buy feed for him. The Hills relented, and Lambchop has been a favorite photo subject and member of the family for 15 years.

Frances is now immersed in a personal project of compiling wildflower pictures. The rains this year have produced many unusual flowers, and she doesn't want to miss one. She has taken 22 rolls of film entirely of wildflowers since January, and is still spotting new varieties.

"Come visit the library and enjoy Mrs. Hill's work," invites Louise Ledoux, librarian.

Bill's TV opens Ozona store

Since the opening of Bill's T.V. and Appliance Store # 2 in Ozona June 22, business has been good, say Dian and Mike Teague, managers.

Teague came to Ozona with the idea of opening a repair business, but the business grew to much more after talking over his plans with Bill Harp of San Angelo.

Rent to own or immediate purchase are possible at the store located in the Village Shopping Center.

New General electric refrigerators, stove, washers, dryers and televisions are on the showroom floor. The Teagues also carry Welton and Pilot stereos.

Records important to management success

Good records can help farmers and ranchers to manage their operations more effectively and to recognize opportunities for increasing profitability.

"The benefits of keeping and using records are many," points out Richard Patterson Jr., and economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "The first big payoff to good record keeping is planning. With records from past years, a farmer or rancher can prepare a financial picture (cash flow) for the upcoming year or years."

This will enable him to see the timing of expenses and receipts month by month and just exactly when and how much operating money he needs to borrow -- all before he spends a dime on his operation, notes the economist.

Using the cash flow statement, a producer may be able to make adjustments to reduce interest expense by borrowing later or to consider production or marketing alternatives which may enhance the "bottom line".

"Records also can help the farmer or rancher know his current financial position," says Patterson. "Relying on good records and the cash flow statement prepared at the beginning of the year, he can compare actual receipts and expenses to his budgeted estimates. Any adjustments that need to be made can then be planned for rather than coming as a surprise to him and possibly his lender."

Keeping records will provide the farmer or rancher the necessary information to prepare his tax return and avoid making mistakes. Common problems include failing to include all deductions on Schedule F and over-reporting taxable income due to bank deposits which do not show the source of funds.

If the farmer or rancher faces a year of high taxable income, then good records will allow him to consider making additional purchases before year-end to reduce his tax liability, and vice-versa.

Evidence abounds that shows the benefits of good farm and ranch records, notes Patterson. Research from Illinois indicates that farmers who keep records only for tax reporting purposes are generally in the lower one-third of profitable businesses while those that keep and use records to plan and manage their operations represent the upper one-third of profitable businesses.

"The high one-third profitable farms do a better job of marketing, pay closer attention to production and economic efficiency, and make better use of their input dollars. They are able to do these things only because they keep a good set of farm records which allows them to make better management and marketing decisions," Patterson emphasizes.

The economist offers two approaches to record keeping for a farmer or rancher. One is to keep records on his own, using either a system he designed for his particular operation, a manual record keeping book provided by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, or a commercially available record keeping system (manual or computerized).

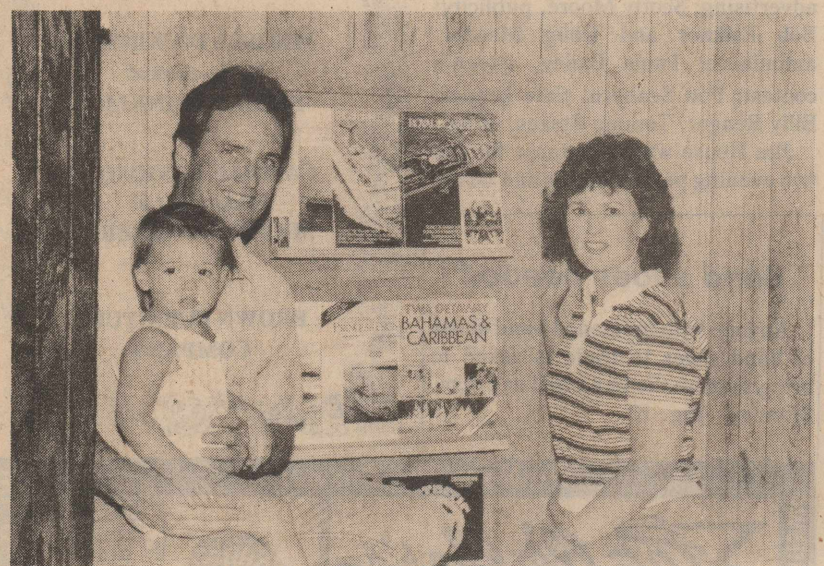

An alternative is for the farmer or rancher to keep records as a member of a farm business management association. In return for an annual fee, the farmer or rancher receives assistance in keeping records as well as management assistance from an agricultural economist hired by the association.

"A major benefit of participating in such an association is that the farmer can compare his operation to the average of all farms within the association," says Patterson. "He can note differences and make changes and improvements where necessary. Of course, all individual farmer or rancher records and conversations remain confidential."

Farm business management associations operate successfully in 11 states today, notes the economist.

For more information on farm record keeping or farm business management associations, contact any county Extension office or Patterson at P. O. Box 1298, Fort Stockton, TX 79735; phone 915-336-7542.

Binghams open travel agency

Ozona's newest business, Ozona Travel, opened this week at 1004 Henderson. Owners Tom and Kathryn Bingham are excited about their venture, and they expect to bring excitement to the lives of their customers.

There is no charge to use the services of a travel agency, Bingham emphasized. Ozona Travel, which is affiliated with Midland Travel Agency, can make your trip arrangements, from an overnight in San Angelo, to an exotic trip abroad.

"We can arrange any type travel, train, bus, air, ship, tours and accommodations when you reach your destination, he said.

Bingham has traveled all over the world during his years of employment with Trans World, Texas International and Air Midwest. Although he has been out of the travel business for five years, the enthusiastic Bingham has often thought about starting his own travel agency.

The Binghams were transferred to Ozona with ARCO Oil and Gas in July of 1985. When ARCO became Hondo Oil and Gas in February, the young couple made the decision to stay in Ozona with the new company. Tom is employed as a pumper with Hondo, and Kathryn is, at present, a housewife and mother. Their 18-month-old daughter Katy occupies her time.

Before moving from Andrews, Kathryn, a licensed vocational nurse, worked as a surgical nurse in the hospital there. The Fort Worth native completed her nurse's training at St. Joseph's Nursing School.

Tom, who is from Hobbs, NM, received his education at Eastern New Mexico University.

Membership in Beta Sigma Phi, swimming, and walking four miles a day get Kathryn out of the house. She is looking forward to being occupied with Ozona Travel, however. "It is fun and exciting for us," she said of the venture.

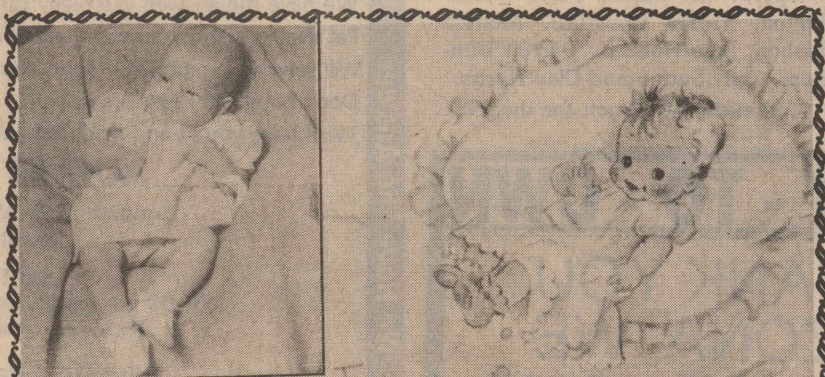

The office of Ozona Travel is behind the Bingham home at 1004 Henderson. Hours are 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Saturday, "but call anytime," said Tom.

In addition to his job with Hondo, Tom stays busy working in the yard and reading about travel. His carefully researched business is affiliated with the best travel agency in the Permian Basin, says Tom of the Snelson owned agency.

Sept. 29 will be a special evening for Midland Travel and Ozona Travel when they sponsor cruise night in Midland. Representatives of 10 cruise lines will be at Midland Downtown Center, and the public is invited to see what they have to offer.

For more information about cruise night, contact Tom or Kathryn at Ozona Travel, 392-5273.

Flowers that never wilt, a real possibility

Why must the beauty of a flower last only a few days, instead of a lifetime?

Jan Frazier, daughter of Mrs. Lela Mae Nussbaumer of Ozona, has discovered a way to preserve a flower's beauty forever.

Through experimentation, Jan Frazier has learned to preserve all kinds of flowers, from wild pickings to intricate bridal bouquets. The flora retain their original colorful glory for many years.

The young Colorado Springs woman was first introduced to floral arrangements by her great-grandfather, who was a florist in San Angelo. Mrs. Frazier first moved to the Rocky Mountain state 22 years ago when her husband Ken was among the officers assigned to the Air Force NORAD Cheyenne Mountain Complex.

Her hobby of flower preservation slowly blossomed into a career. She now preserves bridal bouquets, corsages and boutonnières for persons throughout the United States and overseas. Her flowers are currently displayed at the National Wildflower Research Association in Austin and also at the Broad Moor Hotel Flower Shop.

The interest to preserve flowers did not appear until after her move from Texas to Colorado. "A friend of mine had an apothecary jar. She had three big white orchids sitting in there. The orchids had been in there for five years."

Mrs. Frazier learned that her friend had dried the orchids, which had a creamy white antique color, with a substance found in hobby shops, silica gel.

"I became interested and started picking every flower in my yard and drying them. Every stem and bloom would open up, I would experiment," she explained. For flowers to retain their original natural beauty, they must be completely dehydrated, and the silica gel did accomplish the drying out process. The gel had a drawback, Mrs. Frazier later learned. "It tends to burn the flowers."

The second step in floral preservation for the dotting grandmother came when she mixed Borax and cornmeal. This method worked, but seven years ago she discovered her latest method, using oolitic sand, as a drying material. The sand, which is very light and full of minerals, comes from the Great Salt Lake.

"The oolitic sand particles are round soft granules that absorb the moisture (of the flowers).....It preserves the colors of the flowers better," Mrs. Frazier said.

The preservation process takes much time and patience. A single rose will take from 10 days to two weeks. The oolitic sand is poured off the preserved bloom very carefully. The blossom petals are then glued in place. The flower then is bathed with a special spray, which serves as a sealer. The spray is applied a second time 24 hours later. "It seals in the flower and seals out the air. It prevents the moisture from coming back." The flower then is moved to a floral display, and the display goes into a glass container, which is sealed with silicone (to make the container airtight).

Because Mrs. Frazier's talents are in such demand, she likes to have a three or four month warning so as to reserve time for the work. The time consuming process means that her days start at 5 a.m. But who can adequately measure the continuing beauty of a flower, which has been preserved from a wonderfully memorable time?

Crockett County Care Center News

by JoAnne Marshall

Fan blades were decorated with lace and wooden letters in Monday morning's craft class. Residents spelling out a warm welcome were: Manuela Perez, Doris Robnett, Maria Cervantez, Consuelo Sarabia, Tomasa Ramos, and Lucy May Meinecke.

Monday afternoon, residents got a few practice shots in with the basketball after exercise class. Residents keeping in shape were: Harry Blatchford, Lucia Rios, Doris Robnett, Edna Wallace, Nellie Harp, Lucy May Meinecke, Juana Hernandez, Tomasa Ramos and Moriana Perez. Juana was the top scorer.

Sophie Kyle was the helpful volunteer in Tuesday morning's bingo. Prize winners were: Rebekah West, Tomasa Ramos, Harry Blatchford, Virginia Hoover and Theo Burns. Theo was the lucky winner of the El Chato's gift certificate.

Several interesting pieces were worked on in Wednesday morning's ceramic workshop by Theo Burns, Hazel McDaniel, Moriana Perez, Doris Robnett, Maria Cervantez and Ethel Youngblood. Much appreciated volunteers were: Beth Stallings, Rita Rios and Ruthie Doris.

Wednesday afternoon, residents were treated to delicious, refreshing watermelon, compliments of Mr. West. We would like to thank him for helping us beat the heat.

Thursday morning's beauty shop volunteers were: Clara Byrd, Joann Williamson, Lola Rios, and Audrey Smith. As usual, the ladies did a splendid job styling the hair. Clara's piano playing put just the right amount of spark in the morning's activities.

Spanish speaking residents enjoyed attending the Spanish Hour of Praise Thursday afternoon. The service was uplifting, and the fellowship warm.

Friday morning's bingo winners were: Tomasa Ramos, Manuela Perez, Theo Burns, Maria Cervantez, Minnie Karr. Alice Ross won a lovely pearl necklace as a special prize for forming a frame around her bingo card.

Friday afternoon, residents took an imaginary Hawaiian cruise via VCR, compliments of Jo Davidson. A discussion of the VCR followed. We would like to thank Jo for sharing her VCRs with us. They are always interesting and enjoyable.

Lovely singing by members of the Church of Christ was heard during the Sunday worship service.

District show returns winners

Three Ozona youths placed in the District 4-H Fashion Show held July 30 in Pecos.

Robin Myers received first place in Junior II Evening Wear, JoLynn Vannoy third place in Junior I Active Sportswear, and Stefny Sutton received the award for the best overall use of cotton, Jr. I.

Other competitors from Crockett

County included: Martha Mayfield, Julie Childress, Nikki McCarley and Emily Cervantez.

Those accompanying 4-H members included: Nancy and Whitney Vannoy, Kathryn Mayfield, Carmen Sutton, Sandra Childress, Burl and Diane Myers, Jeri McCarley, Valerie Flores, Lynn Harris and Rachel Hall.

Guild to hold annual meeting

The Crockett County Arts & Crafts Guild will hold its annual reorganizational meeting, Saturday, August 15, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., at the Civic Center.

All members, past members, and any interested persons are welcome to attend. Various local crafters and artists will have their work on display, with some of them giving demonstrations on their skills.

If you have a special talent, we are looking for you, please come and get acquainted with our guild, says a spokesperson for the organization. If you would like to display your work, please contact Donna Snyder, 392-3052, so we may have the proper arrangements for you.

All members are urged to attend a short business meeting at 4:00 p.m. It is time to elect new officers for the coming year.

Williams qualifies for state

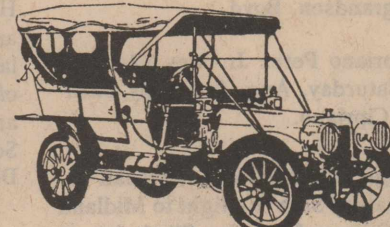

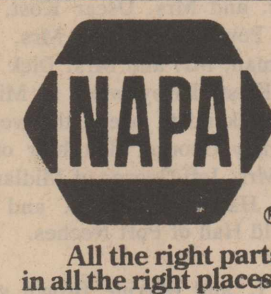

John Williams earned a first place and the right to state competition with his Sr. Conservation recordbook July 28 in Fort Stockton. Other award recipients include: Bonnie Martin, first place Jr. Horse; Martha Mayfield, first place Jr. Range; Gary Thompson, second place Junior Range; Keith Fowler, second place Sr. Sheep and Randi Thompson, third place Sr. Shooting.

Other Crockett County participants in the District 4-H Recordbook Judging included: Stefny Sutton, Misty Fowler, Cody Sutton and Trebie West.

Energias enters buy-out plan

Energias Company (OTX-EGAS) has announced the entry into an agreement in principle with Texas American Energy Corporation (TAE) for the purchase of TAE's natural gas distribution business, Western Kentucky Gas Company, and certain other TAE assets and subsidiaries for a purchase price of $61.5 million in cash plus assumption of certain liabilities.

The transaction is subject to the negotiation and execution of a definitive agreement by the parties. Approval of the purchase by the appropriate regulatory bodies will be required.

Western Kentucky is a natural gas distribution company which serves about 143,000 customers in 108 towns and communities in Kentucky. Principal cities served include Owensboro, Madisonville, Paducah, Bowling Green and Danville.

Energias is a natural gas distribution company, headquartered in Dallas, serving approximately 378,000 customers in both Texas and, through its Trans La division, in Louisiana.

Vaccinations slow outbreak

The recent outbreak of western equine encephalomyelitis in Crockett County and surrounding areas appears to be on the decline according to Ozona veterinarian Gary Vannoy.

"I believe it has slowed down now," Vannoy said. "We've vaccinated a lot of horses and the mosquitoes have died down because of the dry weather."

The disease, which may be 50 percent fatal in unvaccinated horses, is spread from infected birds by mosquitoes. Local horse owners have vaccinated their animals in record numbers.

Rain may cause mosquito numbers to increase and increase the number of encephalomyelitis cases.

TODAY'S YOUTH ARE TOMORROW'S LEADERS

Today's youths are tomorrow's leaders, and 4-H helps prepare today's youths for tomorrow. Leadership is involved in all parts of 4-H.

Youths need an opportunity to learn how to do things successfully; they want to develop skills necessary to get along with others. Leadership jobs offer opportunities for growth and development. Young people need responsibilities according to their ages. 4-H helps youths develop into capable adults by learning to plan, set goals, make decisions and evaluate all walks of life. Each 4-H member should develop his or her capabilities to the fullest.

4-H helps youths improve skills, increase their knowledge, learn to express themselves well, develop confidence, and earn recognition. 4-H teaches an individual to think for himself when making decisions. It also teaches one to organize thoughts and to be tolerant of other's decisions. 4-H'ers learn to apply what they have learned to everyday living.

4-H provides members with learning opportunities and experiences. It provides members the opportunity to compare skills they have gained with those of other members. It provides members with an opportunity to develop and practice citizenship and leadership skills, and it recognizes the accomplishments of 4-H members.

The aim of 4-H is to help youth gain a positive self-concept, rational social behavior, knowledge and problem-solving capabilities. Members develop leadership abilities, learn cooperation, improve their citizenship and have fun by participating in local, county, regional, state and national events. Education through 4-H occurs when youths are involved -- the greater the involvement, the greater the educational opportunity.

Probst passes cosmetology test

Jennifer Paige Probst, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Probst, has received her cosmetology license after passing the state cosmetology test in Austin July 7.

Jennifer was one of the first two students to take the test who had completed the first two years of this course in its entirety offered in the Ozona High School cosmetology lab under the direction of Judy Riza.

Randi Thompson accompanied Jennifer to Austin to serve as her model. The two girls had spent many hours during the last year preparing for the final test. The test is an oral, skills and written test and included all processes of hair care, nail care and a complete facial.

Jennifer will be a freshman at Sul Ross State University this fall. She has spent the summer in Kerrville working with Mr. and Mrs. Mike Reynolds in their restaurant, Gorceateria, on the Guadalupe River, and living with her grandmother, Mrs. Morgan Singleton.

Ozona Youth Rodeo offers something for big and little kids alike. This bunch of tykes is busy with the boot scramble while Louis Bunger prepares to referee.

Kerrville to be cattle workshop site

KERRVILLE, TX -- "Growing Quality Forage for Beef Cattle" and "Evaluating Cattle for Fertility and for Different Range Environments" are the titles of two workshops during the beef cattle session at the International Ranchers Roundup.

The IRR, sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, will be August 24-27 at the Y-O Hilton and the Inn of the Hills here.

Dr. Cas Maree from South Africa, known worldwide as an expert in cattle fertility, will conduct a workshop on evaluating cattle for fertility as well as different range environments.

Along with Dr. Maree's workshop, another interesting workshop will be conducted by Dr. David Bade and Dr. Don Dorsett on producing high quality forage for cattle.

Both speakers are forage specialists with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Be strong in the grace that is in Christ Jesus

Rev. Norvell Allen
Mt. Zion Baptist Church

Strengthened with all might, according to his glorious power. As ye have therefore received Christ Jesus the Lord, so walk ye in him: rooted and built up in him, and established in the faith, as ye have been taught, abounding therein with thanksgiving. - Built upon the foundation of the apostles and prophets, Jesus Christ himself being the chief corner stone; in whom all the building framed together groweth unto a holy temple in the Lord: in whom ye also are builded together for a habitation of God through the Spirit.

I command you to God, and to the word of his grace, which is able to build you up, and to give you an inheritance among all them which are sanctified. - Being filled with the fruits of righteousness, which are by Jesus Christ, unto the glory and praise of God.

Fight the good fight of faith. - In nothing terrified by your adversaries.

MEGA BANK

THINK WE'LL MAKE IT BEFORE THE INTEREST RATE CHANGES?

At some network banks, customer service may not be top priority.

Being an automated and computerized bank doesn't mean we'll treat you like a number. We go to great lengths to offer prompt, fair attention on any matter, and accurate financial advice for any need. Whatever your banking concerns, you'll receive the personalized attention a good customer deserves. And of course, you'll always find a warm greeting waiting for you when you come through our doors. So if you're still experiencing the impersonal pitfalls of some banks, stop in and talk to us. We have a difference you can feel.

You Know Us. We Know You.
