His and Hers

By Scotty and Linda Moore

Hers

Sheriff Billy Mills won't be leaving office right away. He will retire when his term ends Jan. 1, 1989, not 1988 as reported last week. Mills announced his plans so that the field might be open for anyone interested in filing for the office.

Sheriff Mills says he doesn't intend to change his mind about retirement, just needs the date corrected.

Last week was an outstanding example of Murphy's Law at The Stockman. Anything that could go wrong did, in every direction. The only thing that kept me from leaving town was the lack of bus fare. (No donations, please. I feel better this week.)

All in all, I whined enough to make everyone else around the office wish they could leave if I didn't. Usually when I take one of those spells, I get ashamed of myself, thinking about all the other folks out there who have it worse than I, and shut up, but not last week.

A multitude of minor, and thank goodness for minor, irritations, aggravations and malfunctions kept me complaining all week.

Maybe my resolve to behave is the reason all has been smooth since the doors opened at 8 a.m. Monday.

Watching former students was a treat at the homecoming game. The hugs, handshakes and animated conversations made it clear that recent grads were happy to see friends and had lots of exciting stories to tell.

Ozona spectators are invited to the Greenwood boys' gym for a barbecue supper sponsored by the Senior Class Friday night. Plates are $5.

Now that I have the entire herd of county employees mad at me I might as well tackle the phone company.

Did you know that our phone company, yes the one here in Ozona, Texas is charging the good folks of Ozona sales tax for the City of San Angelo. This one I'll never understand! How in the heck can you be charged sales tax for a city 85 miles away when the services are performed here. If you don't believe me, take a look at your next phone bill at the bottom where it says sales tax.

I hate to be a sour puss, but for some reason, I don't feel like paying for the mayor of San Angelo's coffee break every day. Do you?

Have a legitimate gripe? Come see me. I will probably agree with you!

Sandra Ramirez chosen homecoming queen

Sandra Ramirez was crowned homecoming queen Friday night in Lion Stadium before an admiring crowd. Miss Ramirez, one of four candidates for the honor, received the crown from her escort, Jones

Fay. She was also presented with a bouquet of long-stemmed red roses.

Sandra is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Ramirez, and Jones' mother is Mrs. M. E. Fay.

Flag corps members formed an arch for the candidates and their escorts to pass through. Miss Sharon McCrohan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim McCrohan, was escorted by Jim Etheridge, grandson of Joe Etheridge.

Miss Eileen Moran was escorted by Bret Hood. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Moran. Bret's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Gene Hood.

Miss Melissa Vallejo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Vallejo, was escorted by Derold Vargas. He is the grandson of Frank Vargas.

The Lion band performed during the ceremony, and cheerleaders assisted with the crown and bouquet presentation.

Oct. 2 deadline for voter registration

Crockett County residents who have not registered to vote have until Friday, October 2, to do so in order to be eligible to vote in the November 3 Special Election. The election has been called for voters to cast their ballots on the Constitutional amendments.

To register in person, residents should go to the County Tax Office in the County Courthouse. October 2nd is also the final day for registered voters to report changes of addresses in person at the Tax Office.

Change of address should be reported as soon as possible even if voters do not plan to vote in the November 3 election. Voter renewal certificates, which will become effective March 1, 1988 through December 31, 1989, will be mailed in December.

The early mail date is necessary because the party primary elections, formerly held in May, have been scheduled for March 8, 1988. Voter certificates not having the correct mailing address on them will not be forwarded and will be returned to the voter registrar.

If no address correction is furnished after the certificates are returned, the voter's registration eventually will be canceled.

Voter renewal certificates to be mailed will be used in the 1988 general election.

Changes in mailing address only also must be reported. These include change from a residence address to a post office box or business, from a post office box or business address to a residence, from one rural route and box number to another, or from a rural route to a street address.

While the voter has not actually moved, the change in mailing address results in a forwarding order. A forwarding order to the post office is not a substitute for a written contract with the elections office.

Lions drop homecoming game to McCamey Badgers 42-0

by T. C. Tucker

The score makes things seem worse.

Compare the recent game against McCamey to that with Iraan, where the Lions had to scramble just to keep their hands on the ball, the end result, 48-0.

Then the Lions hosted McCamey for Homecoming '87 and the final score looked pretty much like Iraan's, 42-0. However, the journey to those scores were individually different.

For one thing, as mentioned, the Lions had trouble doing anything against Iraan, but the situation rotated a half-turn as the Lion defense caught McCamey off guard.

"I was pleased with our defense who played exceptionally well," Coach Don Payne said. However, as he points out, that defensive momentum sputtered after about three quarters.

After scoring late in the first quarter, the Badgers did nothing on their next possession and suddenly found themselves with a third and 28 situation after their quarterback scrambled, then fell before a rush of Lion defenders.

On the very next play, the Lions looked about to break the play wide open when McCamey's quarterback broke a tackle and lofted the ball 33 yards downfield and sparked their drive.

But the best was yet to come as McCamey drove to within 11 yards of the goal line. On the next four plays, the Lions would put out their best defensive effort all year and keep scoring out of the Badgers' hands by four yards.

Thus ended the first half with the Lions down by only seven the momentum leaning slightly in their direction. That would be about all of the Lions' positive gestures for the night.

McCamey took the opening second half possession and drove for another score to extend their lead to 13 points. Then they would take over six minutes to slowly ramble down field and finally score off a two yard run and a 20-0 lead.

If the Badgers had failed to score anymore, the Lions still would have had to worry about scoring themselves. They only put together 68 yards total offense and the nearest they came to the end zone was 32 yards worth.

"Our offense moved the ball inconsistently," Coach Payne said. "If we had put some points on the board early on, it would have helped."

McCamey next scored with 4:33 left in the game. In its footsteps would follow a safety when the Badgers found the Lions' quarterback in the end zone.

The Lions' defense had one thing going against them all night long. With the offense not able to move very well, McCamey always came up with good field position and only had to travel 40 or so yards to score.

So no surprise when the Lions tried to get things started from their own three yard line and instead found themselves kicking to McCamey as well as two more points on the visitor's side of the board.

On that kickoff, McCamey would return it from their own 34 to the Lions' one. The result: another score and 36-0.

The Badgers added another six points two minutes later and came close to scoring on the last play of the game when the interceptor of a Lions pass was stopped only eight yards short of the goal line.

So ended the homecoming game, marking the second week in a row the Lions have been shut out.

"If we're able to get all the parts working together at the same time, then..." Coach Payne ended. Again the Lions must try to correct past mistakes and look forward, this week, to a team that sports a like record to Ozona's but also six to eight guys over 220 pounds and about a dozen at six feet or better.

"They're an exceptionally large bunch but they probably won't play as physically as Iraan or McCamey did," Coach Payne said.

An important note many have probably heard during the past week is that pertaining to sophomore quarterback, Chris Denman's condition after suffering a back injury against Iraan.

Denman made a trip to San Antonio Monday to check with experts on his chances for playing this year. The chances look slim since Denman sustains a broken vertebrae, yet things could go either way in a case such as this.

Roger Martinez will be out for four weeks, having broken his collarbone in last Friday's game. After the allotted time period, the situation will be touch and go.

Robby Tambunga received a deep bruise to his thigh, and Harvey Dominguez sprained his knee, both in Friday's game.

This Friday's game will take place in Greenwood with kickoff at the usual 8:00 p.m.

Wool sale moves inventory

Local warehousemen were pleased with the sealed bid sale of almost 400,000 pounds of wool Sept. 23 in Ozona. Wool Growers Central Storage Company offered 154,000 pounds, Sanderson Wool Commission Company offered 117,000 pounds and Ozona Wool and Mohair offered 125,000 pounds.

"We sold most of it," said Wool Growers' manager Jim Adams. Although he was pleased with the prices at the time of the sale, they have come up slightly since then, Adams said.

Remaining wool or wool brought in since the sale will be sold by private treaty.

The major portion of the wool sold Wednesday, 222,000 pounds of six-month paint-free ewe wool, went from $1.08 to $1.14 per grease pound. An offering of 33,000 pounds of cleaner wool from Sanderson Wool sold from $1.1425 to $1.16 3/8 per pound.

Ozona Wool company sold almost 5,000 pounds at $1.1725 in the grease. Lower yielding wools moved from $1.0225 to $1.0725 per pound. Some lots went from 84 5/8 to 98 cents per pound.

More than 20,000 pounds of 10-month wool sold from $1.2225 to $1.2775 per grease pound. Approximately 1,500 pounds sold at $1.02 5/8 per pound.

Higher yielding lots of paint-free lamb wool went from 91.5 to 98.5 cents per pound. One lot of 5,800 pounds moved at $1.085 per pound in the grease. Low yielding lots turned at 75 to 85 cents per pound.

Paint ewe wool saw approximately 10,000 pounds bringing 89 1/8 cents to $1.05 per pound. Some crossbred lamb wool moved at 82.5 cents per pound.

Included as volume buyers were: Anodyne, Inc. and A. H. Helmig and Co., Inc. with 117,000 pounds each; Forte, Dupee, Sawyer Co., 50,000 pounds; Clyde Young Wool Co., Inc., 49,000 pounds; Blanks Oglesby 33,000 pounds; and Prouvost, LeFebvre and Co., Inc., 17,000 pounds.

Soil Conservation election

An election for a director to serve in Zone 3 on the Crockett Soil and Water Conservation District is scheduled for Tuesday, Oct. 6, at the S.C.S. office located at 401 First Street, announced Bill Baggett, chairman of the board. The election will be held at 6:30 p.m.

State law decrees that to be eligible to vote in a soil and water conservation district director's election, a person must own agricultural land within the district where the election is being held. The person must also live in a county all or any part of which is in the district and the voter must be 18 years of age.

Legal qualifications state that a candidate for the office of a soil and water conservation district director must own land in the zone he represents, be 18 years of age, and be actively engaged in farming and ranching. He must also live in a county all or part of which is in the district.

Zone 3 of the district includes lands in Crockett County south of U.S. Hwy. 290 and west of Johnson Draw.

Current members of the board of directors of the Crockett SWCD are Bill Baggett, chairman - Zone 1; Earl Acton, vice-chairman - Zone 4; Gene Perry, secretary - Zone 3; Pleas Childress, III, member - Zone 2; Bud Hoover, member - Zone 5.

The purpose of the Crockett SWCD is to promote sound soil and water conservation programs on farm and ranch lands within the district and to serve as a voice for ranchers on conservation matters and other issues affecting private property rights of landowners. All conservation programs managed by the district are of a voluntary nature to the landowner or operator.

Through the years, the Crockett

County Ambulance Service has grown larger and stronger, with 18 active members. There are four ECA, seven EMT and seven EMT/SS (Special Skills) trained personnel to serve as the Crockett County EMS. Ninety percent of the service are cross trained as fire department personnel and are active members in the Ozona Volunteer Fire Department.

Crockett County stays active in continued education programs of their own and also in other towns.

Most ambulance runs are to rural areas with most transfers going to San Angelo, which is approximately 87 miles. The ambulance paging is handled through the Crockett County Hospital, 24 hours a day. The service

REFLAGGED STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Maybe things will even out a bit on the Texas Railroad Commission, and maybe they'll even pick a chairman, now that former Congressman Kent Hance of Lubbock has been sworn in to fill the seat vacated by Mack Wallace. Wallace, who has served on the commission since 1973, resigned recently to join an Austin law firm.

As the lone Republican on the three-man commission, Hance will have the vote to hand the gavel to either of the two warring Democrats, John Sharp or Jim Nugent.

Observers are speculating as to how long it will take Hance to take sides with one or the other, although one group sees Hance holding out to cut a deal making himself chairman.

Watching Hance at his swearing-in ceremony, it was apparent he is comfortable, perhaps fulfilled, in his new position on the political playing field with his new team, the GOP.

Democratic Disarray
And despite the heat he caught last week for billing the state $20,000 for official use of his plane, Gov. Clements, who named Hance to his new job, said Republicans are gaining clout in the midst of disarray in the Texas

Democratic Party.

The disarray the governor is talking about is the potential problem Democrats face as many of their elected officials talk about resigning in mid-term, creating vacancies for Clements to fill with Republicans. Creating incumbents, you might say.

Why this is occurring is hard to pin down, but the Democrats were worried enough about it last week to pass a resolution urging all Democratic officeholders to serve out their terms.

Certainly there's enough open sniping between some top Democratic officials as they jockey now to grab the choice spots on the 1990 ballot, three years away.

Mattox, Richards

Attorney General Jim Mattox, who's playing king-of-the-mountain for the governor's mansion, turned his guns on likely opponent, Treasurer Ann Richards, just as he did to Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby and Henry Cisneros before they deferred.

Mattox said Richards can't raise enough money to win, and that her candidacy would be divisive for the party. Apparently, he expects the nomination without a fight in the primary, using that argument.

But street-fighter Mattox will get a fight, and it may be the hardest one for him to handle. He'll have to fight a woman.

If he goes hammer and tongs after Richards, as he usually does to anyone he faces, he may create a sympathy backlash for the lady. But don't underestimate Richards; she's a tough cookie who can play politics with the best of them.

Other Highlights

- Texas leaders were pleased to learn last week that the jobless rate fell slightly, from 8.7 to 8.3 percent.

- Texas students' scores on college entrance exams remain below the national average in about the same position as last year's effort. This despite the education reforms.

- Five of eight Texas sites proposed for the supercollider project made the first round of federal cuts last week. Still in: three West Texas sites, Amarillo and Waxahachie.

- Meanwhile, Clements and Speaker Gib Lewis demonstrated bipartisan support for the $500 million supercollider bond package on the November ballot. Both donned white laboratory coats for the press.

- Land Commissioner Garry Mauro, who organized a statewide beach cleanup, said some 7,100 volunteers picked up almost 215 tons of garbage in three hours.

- Mauro regularly lobbies Washington to ban trash dumping in the Gulf by international ships.

- Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower wants a wine cooler made exclusively from Texas wines to tap into the market now dominated by New York and California.

- He's talking about coolers processed at a former soft drink bottling plant in La Grange.

- The American Ethnic Coalition, leading the fight for an amendment to make English the official state language, asked both political parties to put the issue on their March primary ballots.

- The Republicans will consider the request at a November meeting. The Democrats passed a resolution against it.

- Gov. Clements reappointed legendary corporate raider T. Boone Pickens Jr. of Amarillo to the West Texas State University Board of Regents.

- Vice President George Bush last week announced his statewide committee of 27 vice chairmen. Many of the biggies were listed.

operates with a five person on call schedule. The weekly scheduling starts at 7 a.m. on Monday running through the next Monday at 7 a.m. Three personnel are listed for primary and two for secondary duties during this time.

All are equipped with a radio, pager or both. Those on call respond directly to the ambulance, usually within three minutes of the page.

First responders from the ambulance service and the fire department usually go direct to the scene, and are there to help with the patient care. Although once the ambulance arrives, the ambulance crew takes over primary care of the patient. These departments work well together, and that better serves the community.

All patients are taken to the nearest hospital, which is the Crockett County Hospital, and if needed, transferred to a larger area hospital.

The Crockett County Ambulance Service is funded through the county and operates two ALS certified ambulances. First out is a 1985 Ford made by Collins, a type III, and second a 1983 Chevrolet made by Daytona 300, a type II. The Ozona Fire Department also has a rescue van that can be used for an ambulance should the need ever arise.

All members of the Crockett County Ambulance Service are active in community education and sponsor CPR classes, first aid classes, attend clinics, visit schools, health fairs and stand by at football games.

Crockett County Emergency Medical Service members posed for a picture Sept. 23 during National EMS Week.

Gov. proclaims Fire Prevention Week Oct. 4-10

Citing the tragic loss of lives and property from fire each year in Texas, Governor Bill Clements has proclaimed the week of October 4-10, 1987, as Fire Prevention Week.

"Fire continues to be a major threat to all Texas citizens, even though many destructive fires could be prevented," said Governor Clements. "We have the knowledge and technology today to prevent much of the needless loss of lives and property in this state and we urge every Texas citizen to practice fire prevention every day in an effort to conserve our valuable Texas resources," he continued.

This year marks the 65th anniversary of National Fire Prevention Week. The week-long observance was first established in 1922 by President Warren Harding in memory of the so-called "Great Chicago Fire" of October 8, 1871.

The conflagration killed 250 people and destroyed 17,430 buildings at a cost of $168 million. People began thinking in terms of fire prevention in addition to fire fighting as a result of this fire.

"Anyone can do any amount of work, provided it isn't the work he is supposed to be doing at the moment."

Go Big Lions!

St. Jude Children's Hospital benefits from the miles these youngsters rode Saturday in the Wheels for Life bike-a-thon. There were 26 riders according to chairman Pat Willmon.

Cross country teams place first, second at Central High meet

by T. C. Tucker

Placing five in the first ten finishers, the Ozona boys' cross country team captured first place in the overall standings of the first division at the San Angelo Cross Country Invitational meet held last Saturday, Sept. 26.

The girls' team, led by second place finisher, Maria Sanchez, was runnerup to Eldorado in Division I competition.

The first to cross the finish line, Danny Sanchez completed the three mile distance in 16:19 minutes, a time which would have placed second in Division II running.

"I contemplated running with the big boys (Division II), but instead

Be a part of Lion spirit

The 1988 yearbook staff is trying to start a new tradition in an effort to involve the public more in the O.H.S. spirit. The new idea is for parents, grandparents, relatives and friends to sponsor the various pages in this year's yearbook.

Anyone can sponsor a particular page such as a sports page, class page or activity page where a certain person is going to appear. Also, one can dedicate a message or line to that "special student" on a reserved dedication page.

If you are interested in becoming a link to this new tradition and would like to find out more about this opportunity, please call the high school office at 392-5501, and a yearbook staff member will get back to you with more details.

7th grade close, but not close enough

by T. C. Tucker

The Ozona 7th grade Cubs allowed McCamey to score only one time, but that proved to be enough to keep victory just out of their reach when they clashed here Sept. 24.

The Cubs opened play with the first possession and controlled the ball for awhile yet could not move it very far downfield.

McCamey took over on the Cubs' 48 and at one time it looked as if Ozona would have its hands on the ball again. However, McCamey's running back broke away for 16, 11, and 14 yard gains and two plays later the first and only score of the game occurred.

After adding the two-point conversion to make it 8-0, McCamey kicked to the Cubs who resumed their slow but steady pace forward, coming as close as 21 yards to the goal line before time expired.

McCamey took the entire third quarter and part of the fourth in their 51 yard drive that ended in a goal-line stand by the Cubs who would take over and, unable to do anything, punt the ball back to McCamey for good field position.

That drive was snuffed out when Jim Bob Moran recovered a fumble on the Cubs' 10 yard line with 2:16 left in the game.

Behind the running of Joe Hernandez, who had 51 yards rushing on the night, the Cubs moved 27 yards inland before the time once again stopped any hopes of scoring.

Besides Hernandez, Mike Vitela and Raul Rico added yards to the Cubs offense while Andy Borrego did a great job defensively, often having to pull down a McCamey runner by himself.

The Cubs are open this week but will travel to Iraan Oct. 8 with the game beginning at 5:00.

entered the lower division to help the younger members on the team gain more confidence in their running," coach Pete Maldando said.

Taking the top five finishers and adding their number places gave the Lions the winning total of 19 points (ex. 1+2+3+5+8=19) and the first place trophy.

"I was exceptionally pleased with our top five finishing in the first ten," Coach Maldonado said, pointing out that the second place overall finisher had 86 points.

Maria Sanchez paced herself to a 13:30 two-mile finish behind Iraan's Julie Floyd who has given Sanchez tough competition during the past years.

Overall, the girls totaled 81 points as Tricia Etheridge ended in 10th place, Kimberlee Coy 19th, Bibi Cervantez 23rd and Missy Bishop 27th. Amy Graham and Dottie Gonzalez finished in the field of 30.

Besides doing extremely well at the meet, the Ozona team members also gained recognition through the Standard-Times and local television stations.

The Ozona girls were pictured on the front of the sports section in Sunday's paper. Television reporters interviewed some of the members and a spot was run Sunday night with a more in-depth story to appear later this week.

"The reporter said he was most impressed with the Purple and Gold," Coach Maldonado said in closing.

Next week the two teams will travel to Big Spring where pretty much the same competition will be met.

Badgers dig hole for Lion Cubs, 32-6

by Cople Davis

The Ozona 8th grade Cubs made their home debut Sept. 24 against a hard hitting McCamey Badger team and came up short, 32-6.

Ozونا played the Badgers tough during the first quarter, once driving all the way to the McCamey three yard line. But an offside penalty and two plays that lost yardage pushed the Cubs all the way back to the McCamey 15 yard line where the Badgers took over on downs.

After exchanging punts, McCamey got the ball on the Ozona 43 where they began their first scoring drive of the game. Then with 4:35 left in the first quarter, the Badgers scored on a nine yard touchdown run to take a 6-0 lead.

In the second quarter, the Badgers scored three touchdowns in a mere four minutes. At the 6:42 mark of the period, they scored on a 15-yard run, and quarterback John Babb followed that with TD strikes of 22 and 28 yards within two minutes of each other. This touchdown flurry gave the Badgers a 26-0 lead with 2:45 left in the half.

Then, just when you thought it was safe to go back in the water, McCamey returned a Cub punt 50 yards for their final touchdown with 00:10 left before halftime. At the half, McCamey enjoyed a 32-0 advantage.

The third quarter saw the Cubs produce their only offensive bright spot of the game. With 5:39 left in the period, Ozona quarterback Adam Alba, who completed five of nine passes for 160 yards on the night, teamed up with explosive wide receiver Mark Ramirez on a 74 yard scoring strike. The PAT was unsuccessful, and the Cubs got as close as they would ever get, closing the gap to 32-6. There was no scoring in the fourth period.

Statistically, the Cub's rushing game was their major weakness, as they could only attain 49 yards on 22 rushes for an average of 2.2 yards a carry. Ozona's leading rusher was Pablo Talamantez who rushed for 29 yards on three carries. Talamantez also caught one pass for 50 yards.

The game's leading receiver was wideout Mark Ramirez who burned the Badger secondary four times for 130 yards.

Defensively, the Lions gave up 221 total yards and five TD's to the Badgers. McCamey rushed the ball 24 times for 171 yards and two touchdowns.

Through the air, Babb completed two of three passes for 50 yards and two touchdowns. McCamey's only other score came on a 50 yard punt return at the end of the first half.

Leading tacklers for the Lions were Adam Alba with five and Adrian Vargas with three.

The 8th grade Cubs' next game will be Thursday, Oct. 8, in Iraan at 6:30 p.m.

CROCKETT COUNTY OUTDOORS

by Rod Chalmers

As early as thirty minutes before sunrise on Saturday morning, Oct. 3, folks will be legally hunting deer and turkey 's'ut with bows only. The special archery only season will run through Nov. 1 in Crockett County and surrounding counties, so a discussion of laws regarding this season is in order.

Before donning his camouflage and painting his face, our bowhunter must get himself outfitted with the proper licenses. A resident of Texas must have either a Resident Hunting or Combination Hunting/Fishing License, or in the case of youth under 17 and not so young 65 and over, a Special Resident Hunting License. In addition to the license, all persons who hunt deer or turkey during archery only season must have an Archery Stamp attached to his or her license, but if he hunts with a bow during the regular season the stamp is not required. Any deer or turkey taken during the archery season must be tagged from the hunter's license, so it goes without saying that the game taken at this time is not "extra", or in addition to that taken during the regular season. To put it another way, if you kill two whitetailed deer during bow season, you can only kill two more during the regular season.

Antlerless permits are not required in Crockett County this year for whitetailed deer, but antlerless mule deer are not currently legal anytime in Crockett County. In those nearby counties, such as Pecos and Terrell, where antlerless mule deer may be taken with an antlerless permit, no permit is required if the antlerless deer is taken during archery season.

Armament allowable during archery season is limited to a long-bow, recurved or compound, that is hand held, hand drawn, and has no mechanical devices built into or attached to the bow that will enable the archer to lock the bow at full or partial draw. In my opinion, that's a wordy way to say crossbows are illegal for taking game birds and game animals. For a longbow to be legal for deer and turkey it must have a minimum peak draw weight of 40 pounds. Most serious bowhunters use 50 to 65 pound bows so this shouldn't be a problem. Arrows must bear the name and address of the hunter and be equipped with a broadhead hunting point at least 7/8" in width with a minimum of two cutting edges. While hunting squirrels (not much of that in our county) and all game birds, other than turkey, arrows may not be equipped with target or field points.

There seems to be a lot of confusion about firearms on or about the hunter during archery season. The law says the only legal firearm is a shotgun with shot no larger than no. 4 (to enable bowhunters to take their dove gun to the lease with them). The intent of the law is to prevent hunters from using guns to take big game, then sticking arrows in the wound. A handgun for self-defense, left in camp or locked away in a vehicle, shouldn't raise any eyebrows or warrant any tickets from the Game Warden. But, I would recommend against packing a .357 Magnum on your hip while hunting during archery only season. Of course, during the regular gun season, you can carry whatever your heart desires.

That run-down or regulations ought to keep all you Rambos and Robin Hoods on the right side of the game laws. And as for you musket-packers who've never tried to get your game with a bow, don't laugh when you see these camouflage-clad folks with dirty makeup and big grins on their faces talking about some ole' skillet-headed doe in the pickup...they've worked awfully hard for it!

SCS provides technical assistance to area ranchers

The Soil Conservation Service is dedicated to improving the productivity of our native rangelands. One of the ways to achieve this goal is to provide technical assistance to ranchers and help them implement a planned grazing system.

A planned grazing system is managing rangeland so it is grazed and then rested in a planned sequence. Livestock are selective in the plants they graze. They tend to repeatedly graze the desirable plants and leave the less desired plants. This weakens the more desirable plants and allows unwanted plants to thrive and multiply. Almost all rangeland pastures also have areas where livestock concentrate such as around water, bedding grounds, and feed grounds. Under continuous use, these areas are always overgrazed.

Grazing and resting plants on rangeland in a planned sequence gives the better plants a chance to regrow, compete, and multiply, thus gradually increasing the amount of high quality plants available per acre. This improved range condition increases livestock production, improves the habitat for wildlife, reduces erosion, and conserves water. By resting pastures, overgrazed areas are allowed to become productive again.

By combining livestock from several pastures into one herd and grazing one pasture at a time, there is a tendency for them to disperse and improve the grazing distribution over the entire pasture. Planned grazing systems vary somewhat from unit to unit. The kind of system or systems may depend on present pasture and corral layout, available water supplies, and economics as well as range condition, kinds and classes of livestock, long-range goals for rangeland improvement, and the time necessary to supervise operation. The point is, rangeland greatly benefits from the graze-rest sequence provided through properly managed planned grazing systems.

For more information on planned grazing systems, contact the local Soil Conservation Service which provides technical assistance to ranchers by working through the Crockett Soil and Water Conservation District.

Rachel's Reviews

by Rachel O. Hall

Carbohydrates affect mood changes

Do carbohydrates have any affect on your mood? Do they make you feel happy or depressed? Do they make you want to eat more?

In an attempt to answer these and other questions, researchers at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology recently conducted a study to see how carbohydrates effect the moods of obese people. The results were published in the American Journal of Clinical Nutrition.

Researchers used two groups of obese people: carbohydrate and non-carbohydrate cravers. The researchers studied the obese people's snacking habits and mood changes for three days.

Carbohydrate cravers snacked on carbohydrate-rich foods 86 percent of the time, even though there were protein-rich snacks available. Non-carbohydrate cravers ate about equal amounts of carbohydrate-rich and protein-rich snacks.

Researchers noted that two hours after snack time, those obese people who snacked on both types of food were tired, listless and less alert. Those who ate primarily carbohydrates noticed little change in mood, and were less likely to become depressed than the people in the other group.

This study suggests that carbohydrates were chosen as snacks because of the positive effect they seem to have on people's moods. In some cases, carbohydrates even had anti-depressing effects. Though that may sound like a good deal, it's not. Carbohydrates are often high in calories, and obese people may find it difficult to give up their positive effective on mood in order to lose weight.

Quick Change

It's a simple matter to change a light bulb. A few quick turns and you switch darkness into light. Suddenly all the corners in the room come clear again.

Suppose you could solve all your problems that simply. Suppose that by a flick of the wrist you could flood your troubles with light and understanding. Are you sure you could stand the sight?

Revelation — and perhaps self-revelation most of all — isn't always pretty. It takes courage to turn the light on yourself, to face up to things. The Church won't hand you that courage — but if you start going there, you may begin to see your problems in a clearer light.

Miss Taylor, Mr. Graves wed in Lutheran ceremony

Annette Sue Turner and Michael Roy Graves were married Saturday, Sept. 5, 1987, in Faith Lutheran Church of Fort Stockton.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Linn Taylor of Ozona and Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Turner of Indiana. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Larry Graves of Fort Stockton.

Vows were spoken before a beautiful stained glass window in the shape of a crucifix. Brass candelabra placed on both sides of the altar held six white tapers. A bouquet of red and white roses completed the altar decoration.

White tapers in hurricane lamp globes and white bows with streamers were used as pew markers.

Her bridal gown featured a deep rounded neckline with a fitted lace bodice overlay. The long sleeves were accented with lace motif and fastened to wide cuffs edged in a ruffle.

The skirt flowed into a long train. A lavish bouquet of white blossoms trailed white streamers.

Maid of honor Cindy Villarreal wore a rose colored gown with a sweetheart neckline and fitted bodice. Ruffles capped the shoulders of the gown.

Michael Benavidez of Fort Stockton served as best man. Candles were lit by Terry House of Ozona.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bridegroom's parents.

A floor-length white cloth with lace overlay covered the bride's table. A two-tiered cake ornamented with spun sugar confections was flanked by two cakes on pedestals. Stairways connected them to the top tier of the wedding cake, and miniature wedding party figures were placed along the steps. Bride and bridegroom figures decorated the top of the cake.

Punch served from a crystal bowl, nuts and mints were also on the bride's table.

A round lace covered table held the horseshoe-shaped bridegroom's cake. White spun sugar roses were scattered across the top of the cake. A silver coffee service was also on his table.

Serving guests were Betty Goll and Lynesse Graves.

Guests also enjoyed a barbecue meal during the reception.

The Bell-X-1 was the first plane to officially exceed the speed of sound. It was flown on October 14, 1947 by Major Charles E. Yeager. The plane was nicknamed "Glamorous Glennis."

League members plan bazaar

The Ozona Woman's League met Tuesday, Sept. 22, at Crockett County National Bank for their regular meeting. Becky Childress and Lou Deaton provided a lovely selection of fresh vegetables, dips and homemade cookies which were enjoyed by all.

As the business meeting was called to order, members joined in reading the club's collect. New members Janis Graham and Diane Meyers were introduced and welcomed.

Bazaar co-chairmen Ann Childress and Camille Jones distributed this year's bazaar committee assignments, answered questions and gave a brief report on plans for this year's fund raising project to be held Nov. 24.

The club was asked to vote upon a donation for the Heart of Texas District fund raising committee and voted unanimously to do so.

The meeting was then turned over to Nancy Vannoy who introduced Pacha Bailey and Karen Childress. They presented a skin care program demonstrating the use of "We Care" - Oil of Mink Skin Care by Rose Marie. Lee Allen, Marilyn Chalmers, Ann Childress, Mary Jo Mason and Lisa Wagoner served as models for the various cleansing, toning, firming applications presented to the club.

After the completion of make-up application techniques and a brief question-answer period, the meeting adjourned.

Members present were: Lee Allen, Sandy Baggett, Paula Bailey, Helen Bean, Cynthia Berry, Tammy Bunger, Cathy Carson, Marilyn Chalmers, Ann Childress, Karen Childress, Becky Childress, Elizabeth Clark, Shelly Conner, Lou Deaton, Nancy Forehand, Debbie Glasscock, Jeanine Henderson, Karen Huffman, Benny Gail Hunnicutt, Carol Hunnicutt, Camille Jones, Barbara Malone, Mary Jo Mason, Lorelei McMullan, LuAnn Pierce, Jane Richardson, Jodie Sessom, Kay Stewart, Vickie Stokes, Carmen Sutton, Nancy Vannoy, Lisa Wagoner, Belinda Wilkins, Janis Graham, Diane Meyers.

Forum hears guest speaker

The Ozona Woman's Forum met Sept. 22, 1987 in the Lucille Littleton home with Lillian Brown assisting hostess.

To begin the program, Katy Jones led the group in prayer. Betty Perry told how the pledge to the flag was written. Members answered roll call by naming a Texas governor, good or bad.

The president, Alleane Jones, introduced Dr. Eugene Jones, a Silver Haired Senator of Texas. Dr. Jones explained the Silver Haired Legislature of Texas and stressed it was organized to help the older people in Texas to be self supporting.

The 27-members present sang "The Eyes of Texas" to close the meeting.

Present were: Dr. and Mrs. Jones, Jewel Bailey, Lillian Brown, Norma Carson, Crystelle Childress, Geniece Childress, Arlene Clayton, Elizabeth Dudley, Bobby Fatout, Lu Ingram, Alleane Jones, Katy Jones, Mary Lee Jones, Georgia Kirby, Sophie Kyle, Lucille Littleton, Marcille Long, Betty Perry, Katharine Russell, Blanche Walker, Barbara Wallace, Mary Agnes Ward, Bonnie Warth, Modine Whitaker, Alice Couch, Rachel Childress, Ethel Miller and Madeline Stokes.

Double ring ceremony unites Miss Borrell, Mr. Gonzales

Miss Darlene Borrell became the bride of Arturo Gonzales Jr. in a double ring ceremony Sept. 5 at the Civic Center.

Rev. Raul Tirado of Eldorado officiated the four p.m. wedding.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Eunice Borrell of Ozona and the late Jimmy Borrell.

Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Arturo Gonzales of Ozona.

For her wedding, the bride chose a white satin gown richly accented with lace. The rounded neckline was sculptured in lace which flowed down the front of the gown and came to a point below the waist. Tulle and lace sleeves extended from satin puffs.

Her fingertip veil fell from a white hat decorated with white satin roses.

Peach and white roses with green and white streamers made up the bridal bouquet.

Larry Alba of Garland gave his niece in marriage.

Donna Morrow of Ozona was matron of honor. Deborah Gonzales of Ozona, sister of the bridegroom, and Nadine Rivera of Midland, the bride's cousin, were bridesmaids. Brenda Rodriguez and Samantha Rivera, cousin and sister of the bride, were flower girls.

The attendants wore gowns of peach or aqua satin. Bows matching the dresses were in their hair, and they carried bouquets of peach or white carnations with baby's breath.

The bridegroom was attired in a white tuxedo.

Brian Morrow of Ozona was best man. Groomsmen were Kenneth Borrell, brother of the bride; Lalo Rodriguez, the bride's cousin; and David Alba of Garland, uncle of the bride. They wore white jackets and black pants.

Naomi Gonzales played the wedding march and accompanied Zoila Alba as she sang "I Thee Wed".

The wedding party ascended the stage over stairs with an arched railing decorated with doves, greenery, peach and white carnations and ribbons.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony. Christina Rodriguez, cousin of the bride from Menard, registered guests at a table covered in an aqua cloth. An arrangement of white carnations, the wedding book and a feathered pen were placed on the table.

A white floor-length cloth covered the bride's table where a three-cake was the focal point. Peach and white carnations were placed between each tier. Atop the cake were the traditional wedding couple before two intertwined hearts.

Wedding cookies, mints and tea were also served from the bride's table which was decorated with an arrangement of white carnations and baby's breath.

German chocolate cake, Mexican wedding cookies and mints were served from the bridegroom's table. An arrangement of wedding bells served as decoration.

The couple are at home in Ozona following a wedding trip to Odessa.

I am so many, many persons.
I fight inside of me.
I'm knocked down and picked up
Whenever I disagree.

I have so many, many emotions
That search, seek and climb,
Grasping for a mere foothold
Somewhere in the sands of time

If only I could find my true self
Perhaps I'd say "Hello"

And there'd be no fighting within myself
Since "I" and "Me" would know.

But until that time, I'll struggle
a bit
And somehow make it through
I often wonder if others fight within themselves--

Do YOU?

Cull open, late-calving cows before winter feeding

Ranchers who haven't already culled open, late-calving and poor performing cows should do so soon. There's no need to put expensive winter feed into cows that are unproductive and inefficient, points out Billy Reagor, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. Culling the cow herd now will also help you more effectively plan on feed supplies for the winter months.

Stray cats spell trouble for quail

If you were a bobwhite quail standing six inches tall, weighing just over eight ounces, and a common component of larger animals' food chain, predation would be a major concern of yours. As if he didn't have enough worries already, a growing population of feral (stray) housecats means additional peril for Mr. Bobwhite.

Domestic cats are, instinctively and by design, skillful predators. When such pets are released to fend for themselves in the wild, quail often become the unfortunate victim. Reports from a number of fur "weed out" unsound cows with bad eyes, udders or feet and legs, says the agent.

Also, pregnancy testing cows this fall may be a more profitable management tool than ever before.

Since it's difficult for a cow to produce a calf large enough to pay her annual maintenance bill and leave some profit for the producer, an open cow is surely losing money, emphasizes the agent. In addition, cows calving late and during the summer months wean calves 30 to 90 pounds lighter than their herd mates which calve at earlier times. For this reason it's advisable to cull cows which will calve late next year and purchase pregnant replacements which will calve early.

Whoever does the pregnancy diagnosis (usually your veterinarian) will be able to estimate the calving date on each animal and make it easy to identify next year's late-calving cows. Work toward a 60-day calving season or one that's certainly no longer than 90 days.

Total Ranch Management

The Total Ranch Management School will begin Oct. 8, 1987. The eight day school is a new approach for ranchers. It will provide them with the knowledge needed to manage and use all resources for best total ranch benefits. This will include looking at all resources - livestock, range, water, wildlife, finances, etc.

There is still room in the school for two more people. For more information, contact the County Extension Office at 392-2721.

Masonic Awareness

Last week's article and the following articles were obtained from a book titled "The Texas Masons" published by Brazos Valley Masonic Library and Museum Assn.

This week is about Bro. Stephen F. Austin who is known throughout Texas history as "The Father of Texas".

Stephen Fuller Austin came to Texas to seek a life and fortune. Instead, he exhausted both in the service of Texas. To him alone belongs the well deserved title, "The Father of Texas".

Austin was born in Wythe County, Virginia, on November 3, 1793, the elder son of Moses Austin. In 1798 the family moved to Missouri. Young Stephen attended Bacon Academy in Connecticut and Transylvania University at Lexington, Kentucky. In 1815 Austin became a member of Louisiana Lodge No. 109 at Ste. Genevieve, Missouri, the first lodge west of the Mississippi. He later transferred his membership to St. Louis Lodge No. 111.

By the age of 27, when he decided to take up his father's venture of moving three-hundred families to settle in Texas, Austin had served three terms in the Missouri Legislature, served as a director of the Bank of St. Louis, as a federal circuit court judge in Arkansas and as the editor of a newspaper in New Orleans.

In 1822, while meeting with officials in Mexico City, Austin became friends with Lorenzo de Zavala and other Masons in the government. In 1828 Austin and six other Masons met to form a lodge in Texas, but it was never chartered. While visiting Mexico City in 1833, Austin was arrested and thrown into prison by order of the dictator Antonio Lopez de Santa Anna. He was not released until December 1834. In September of 1835, with the advance of General Cos across the Rio Grande, Austin put out a general call to arms. The revolution had begun.

Austin went to New Orleans to urge the United States to support the Texas cause. Returning to Texas in 1836 he was persuaded to run for President of the new Republic but was defeated by Sam Houston. He accepted the post of Secretary of State but, following a brief illness, died on December 16, 1836, at the age of forty-three.

Masons, their families, the Eastern Star, and honored guests are invited to a banquet, awards presentation and movie on Saturday, Oct. 3, 1987. Festivities will begin at 5 p.m. We will have a early supper from 5-6 p.m., then awards from 6-7 p.m. The festivities will conclude with a movie about Masonry.

4-H Club members who show lambs took turns helping during the lamb shearing Saturday. Talking a break from raking wool to hold a lamb is Adriane Dickerson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Terry Dickerson.

Thanks to everyone for your calls, visits, cards and especially for your prayers while I was in the hospital and after I came home. May God bless each of you.
Buck Williams

I'd like to take this opportunity to publicly thank those who took care of Nathan when he was hurt at the football game in Iraan.

There were so many folks that either helped in some way or went by the hospital that I'll probably miss someone, but I at least wanted you to know that Jerry and I appreciate all of you, and we want to give each of you a great big thank.

Please allow me to especially thank Peggy McWilliams, Cliff Babbitt, Ricky Crawford, Bob Falkner and Lou Whitley. We appreciate each of you very much.

Thanks again,
David and Jerry McCarly

Words cannot express our appreciation to our friends for their kind expressions of sympathy at our loss of Albina. We want to thank you for your prayers, visits, telephone calls, food, cards, flowers, memorials and love shown to us at a time when we needed it so much. May God bless each one of you.

A PAY RAISE ONLY LEADS TO PROBLEMS! PRETTY SOON YOU'LL START WORRYING ABOUT OUR RETIREMENT PLAN!

If you don't plan for your own retirement, who will?

While a company pension plan may help you retire comfortably, it's rarely the whole answer. That's why you should contribute to an IRA. We make it easy with a variety of investment options.

Even under the new tax law, an IRA is still one of the best ways to assure a comfortable retirement. Your money still grows tax-deferred - a major advantage. And depending on your adjusted gross income and whether you or your spouse are covered by a company plan, you may be eligible for a full or partial tax deduction of your IRA contribution (most people are). See us about an IRA today.

We can also help you with Life Insurance and Mutual Fund investments
