

Lions pluck the eagles 14-8

Passing attack and good defense proves disastrous for Eldorado

by T. C. Tucker

Coming away from nearly surprising Forsan, the Ozona Lions finally added another win to their record upon beating Eldorado 14-8 Oct. 16 at Lion Stadium.

With the aid of Harvey Dominguez and George Ybarra, the Lions moved the ball on the ground enough to relieve some pressure off their passing game, though both Ozona touchdowns came from the arm of Chris Denman.

"George Ybarra and Harvey Dominguez ran well and added to our offense," Coach Don Payne said.

But with the Lions' first possession, the spotlight focused on Denman who went three for four on that opening series of plays. He moved Ozona into Eldorado territory with his 32 yard completion to Robby Tambunga.

Then Oscar Galindo caught another pass and dodged several tackles for a 24 yard gain that put the Lions within 10 yards of scoring. Dominguez moved Ozona three yards closer and on the next play, Denman faded back and hurled a pass toward Oscar Payne in the end zone.

The ball bounced off an Eagle defender, and came close to hitting the ground when Dominguez lunged and tipped it high enough for Payne to get his hands on it for the touchdown.

Payne booted the extra point clear into the practice field for a 7-0 Ozona lead.

Eldorado moved the ball a few yards at a time, but the Lion defense never allowed much breakaway yardage. Ben Rios, Andy Stokes and Jim Etheridge contained the Eagle rushers while Wolv Rutherford pressured the defense and George Ybarra swept up anyone that happened through.

The next time Denman went to the air, he received a blow that rattled him somewhat and put him out of that particular play-series. Afterward, the sophomore quarterback had trouble passing at times, completing only six more passes out of 22 attempts.

Without about three minutes remaining in the second quarter, Denman found Tambunga who appeared clear for an additional six points, but the ball suddenly slipped out of his hands and into Eldorado's.

The Eagles finally made a move upon gaining possession of the ball. Though on their own 15 yard line, five plays later they had crossed over into Lion territory.

Following two passes and 33 yards, the clock expired and Eldorado's last hope for the half ended in the form of an incomplete pass.

Eldorado received the second half kickoff but failed to make any sort of vibrations. Denman took the first play from scrimmage and completed a pass to Payne who danced back and forth for a 39 yard gain. However, the Lions turned the ball over two plays later, ending a chance to take a sizeable lead.

Timewise, Eldorado controlled the ball the most in the second half but made little movement, usually taking three plays to make the first down.

Out of ten pass-plays, Denman completed four passes to move the Lions 57 yards to another touchdown. For the six-point pass, Denman lofted the ball and appeared to have over-thrown his receiver. But keeping his feet in bounds, Tambunga stretched far enough out to grab the ball and push the Lions ahead by 13. A Payne kick later and that lead became 14-0.

Eldorado, though, refused to die. They took their next possession and steadily moved into Ozona's side of the field until Copie Davis intercepted an Eagle pass to end the drive.

Eldorado's biggest break came when Oscar Payne could not get off a punt and tried to pass it downfield to a receiver. The Eagles took over the ball only two yards away, and two plays later scooted in for the TD. A fake kick paid off as the Eagles capitalized on the two-point conversion.

Using Dominguez and Ybarra, the Lions kept the ball on the ground long enough for the clock to tick down to a minute. However, on a third-and-seven play, Denman suffered his second interception for the night and Eldorado had one more chance.

The Eagles' first pass went incomplete, and then Bret Hood broke through the line to sack the Eldorado quarterback. A surprise pass play pushed the Eagles 31 yards further downfield, but time ran out and the Lions came away victorious 14-8.

"We didn't play with as much intensity as in the game with Forsan," Coach Payne said. "We made more mental mistakes than usual, but we're always glad to win."

By winning, the Lions are now 1-1 in district play and 2-5 for the season. Eldorado has the same record for the season, but now remains winless in district standings.

Next week, the Lions journey to Big Lake to take on the top district and state-ranked team who pounded Forsan last Friday 35-8.

"We'll just have to play our best game and have luck on our side," Coach Payne said. "Anything can happen in a Friday night game."

Big Lake has lots of speed, size and quarterback Scott Lipsey. Their senior fullback, Junior Romero, sprained his ankle in last week's game and possibly will not make it for Friday's game. However, senior tailback James West could make up the difference.

The game will begin at the usual time of 8:00 in Big Lake.

Hers

West Texas and the world waited last week while many tired and frustrated men worked to free 18-month-old Jessica McClure from her pipe prison in Midland. The tender expression on the face of the young man who brought her from the pipe will long be remembered by those who saw the rescue live, or replay or in newspapers.

Jessica is safe and recovering after her ordeal which began Wednesday morning and ended Friday night.

Here at home the parents of another toddler were fearful of the danger to their little one when they learned that the shiny black berries that form after lantana flowers fall were poisonous. The berries had been taken from her before, and the parents were almost sure she had managed to eat one or two.

A call to the family physician and a hurried trip to his office ended in relief for this family, also. They were told, however, that if enough of the sweet tasting berries were eaten the child could have suffered neurological damage.

Maybe being poor isn't so bad after all. If you don't have it, you sure can't lose it in the stock market. Reverberations from Monday's plunge in the market have been felt worldwide, and the results will be felt by us all, investors or not.

Fire calls

Volunteer firemen answered two calls last week, one to a grass fire, and one to an oil spill.

The Oct. 14 grass fire was four miles east of Circle Bar Truck Corral in the median of I-10.

Six men and two trucks responded to the 12:57 p.m. call. After using 200 gallons of water, volunteers returned at 1:30.

A liquid spill at the Pandale cutoff west of Ozona Oct. 16 required only 50 gallons of water to wash. One truck and eight men answered the 5:54 a.m. call to the two small spots of oil. Highway Department employees were to put sand on the spill

Trustees approve AIDS policy

Supt. Garland Davis presented new local school board communicable disease policies for trustee review and consideration when the board met Oct. 13. The policies, based on Commissioner of Health Robert Bernstein's and Commissioner of Education Bill Kirby's recommendations that all school districts have AIDS (Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome) policies in place before the need for a policy arises in local school districts, were developed by the legal services division of the Texas Association of School Boards.

The policies are based on preliminary discussions and decisions by the Texas Department of Health and the Texas Education Agency. Both entities have reviewed and have approved the policies for establishing legally appropriate procedures for dealing with employees or students with AIDS.

In reviewing the policies, Supt. Davis said, "Under these policies, the school district's medical advisor and local health authorities, in consultation with the student's doctor and the person in charge of the school's health program, determine if student removals are necessary. With regard to the employees, AIDS is treated as any other communicable disease. The decision of exclusion from the workplace is based on medical information and the requirements of the job."

After board discussion, the policies were approved as presented.

Trustees reviewed a request by Deputy Sheriff Danny Simmons for permission to allow his drug dog to work on the school parking lots and lockers in search of drugs. In presenting the request, Supt. Davis explained that Deputy Simmons has obtained permission from Sheriff Billy Mills to conduct search activity under the authority of the Sheriff's Department as a service to the school district.

Davis said he was receptive and willing to work with Deputy Sheriff Simmons in this type of service; however, he did want all searches to be conducted with the permission of the campus principal and under district guidelines.

Following board discussion, Deputy Simmons' request was approved as presented.

Trustees approved several revisions in the 1987-88 Ozona school calendar as requested by Supt. Davis. In presenting his request, Supt. Davis explained to the seven-member board that he had received a letter recently from the Texas Education Agency which stated that the present school calendar had been disapproved because it did not contain at least 86 instructional days during the first semester of school, and there was a need to revise the calendar to comply with state law.

Changes in the 1987-88 Ozona school calendar which will occur as a result of board approval include: (1) Friday, Jan. 15, originally scheduled as a teacher planning day, will become an instructional day; (2) Saturday, Jan. 16, originally scheduled as a bad-weather make-up day, will become a teacher planning day; and (3) Monday, April 4, originally scheduled as an instructional day, will become a school holiday. This additional holiday will coincide with the Easter weekend. In the event of bad weather this winter, this day will become the second bad weather day.

Production was through perforations at 8,928-9,370 feet, which had been acidized with 6,500 gallons and fractured with 103,000 gallons.

Drilled to 9,602 feet, with 4 1/2-inch casing set at 9,558 feet, it was plugged back to 9,469 feet.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Top Texas politicians continued their early display of interest in the 1988 and 1990 elections, with some interesting moves occurring last week, including:

- Vice President George Bush unveiled his Texas presidential committee and appears to have locked up the support of most Texas Republicans, including all three '86 gubernatorial candidates.

- Former Democratic Gov. Mark White said he might try to retake the Governor's Mansion in 1990, but wants to concentrate first on paying off a $1 million campaign debt and getting a Democrat into the White House, and,

- The three railroad commissioners, unable to elect a chairman, announced they would be rotating the gavel with each taking monthly turns.

Bush Supporters

Bush listed Gov. Bill Clements' wife, Rita, and Kent Hance, one-time Clements opponent, as co-chairs of his Texas organization. The announcement was made by former Congressman Tom Loeffler, also a Clements opponent in 1986.

The list named all six Texas GOP state senators and 46 of 56 GOP House members.

For the record, the governor remains neutral, but the fact that his wife has signed on to co-chair Bush's Texas team speaks for itself.

Republican Unity

As Texas heads toward the Super Tuesday primary, less than six months from now, the Texas Republican Party is demonstrating unprecedented strength and unity, as exemplified by the Bush team.

In contrast, Texas Democrats appear more interested in fighting amongst themselves, and divvying up the spoils of the 1990 election, despite the number of Democratic presidential aspirants who come to Texas seeking votes and contributions.

Since no Texas Democrat is running for president, it is understandably excusable that Democrats cannot match the Republican posture of unity while the GOP rallies around Bush, its adopted Texan.

But the Democrats' internal feuding, fueled by ambitions, grudges, jealousies, and overtones of party disharmony, now smells in public.

In short, with Super Tuesday, top Texas Democrats appear more concerned with their own individual whims than with the opportunity of using the super primary to advance their state.

Rotating Gavel

Though the connection can only be loosely drawn, the symbolism can be seen in the activity on the Texas Railroad Commission, where three disparate politicians cannot put together a majority of two to elect a chairman.

The diverse views are represented by: Jim Nugent, a conservative, old-school Democrat; John Sharp, an up-and-comer from the new generation of Democrats; and Kent Hance, newly appointed Republican who could be the king-maker, if he so chooses.

One would think that Sharp and Nugent would band together to elect one or the other, if only by the flip of a coin, but their feuding is deep and stubborn.

As a result, Hance has been able to cut himself a one-third share of the chairman's gavel.

More Mark White

Amidst the disunity, enter Mark White, ready to pay off a campaign debt and unite the Democrats.

White warned Texas Democrats to forget about divvying up the 1990 spoils until after the '88 election, because it can lead to disaster.

In particular, he ripped Attorney General Jim Mattox and Treasurer Ann Richards for talking about running for governor so soon.

White's critics point out that he started running for vice president soon after his inauguration in 1982.

One possible candidate, Land Commissioner Garry Mauro, has taken himself out of the 1990 gubernatorial rumor mill. Mauro says he wants to concentrate on being the best commissioner in Texas history.

Other Highlights

- Houston State District Judge William Hatten, 74, filed suit seeking to overturn the mandatory retirement provision in the Texas Constitution.

- State Rep. Gerald Geistweidt, R-Mason, won't run for reelection, ending a 10-year career which elevated him to a key House player. He cited the overtime in special sessions as financially draining.

- Word is making the rounds that Dallas Congressman John Bryant is gearing up to run for attorney general in 1990.

- Houston Mayor Kathy Whitmire and Comptroller Lance Lalor, are mentioned as possible candidates for Texas Comptroller in 1990, now that Bob Bullock is preparing to run for Lt. governor.

- The top four Texas teachers' groups are opposing Proposition One on the Nov. 3 ballot, supporting a return to an elected State Board of Education.

CROCKETT SOIL AND WATER CONSERVATION DISTRICT 37th Annual Report

CROCKETT COUNTY

Conservation Districts:

The ranchers of Crockett County, realizing the importance of conserving the soil, water and plant resources of the county, organized the Crockett Soil and Water Conservation District in 1950. The basic objective of the District is to use each acre of land according to its capabilities and to treat each acre in accordance with its need for maintenance or improvement. A further function of the District is to coordinate and make available assistance from various federal, state and local agencies through a unified program of planning and action.

The primary source of help the District offers landowners is the technical assistance of the Soil Conservation Service. Through a Memorandum of Understanding with the USDA and SCS, the Crockett District is able to furnish technical assistance to ranchers, farmers and others in the preparation of a complete soil and water conservation plan to meet the needs and specific capabilities of each land unit.

The Crockett District is governed by a board of five directors, each representing one subdivision of the District. The directors are resident landowners and are actively engaged in ranching or farming. These directors are elected by other landowners and hold the responsibility of coordinating and administering conservation activities within the District.

It is the responsibility of the elected board of directors to develop a long range plan of work. This program is actually an inventory of the land and water resources and problems of the district. It describes the actual conditions bearing on land and its use. Conservation needs and treatments are outlined in the program of work and details solutions to problems and resources available to accomplish district objectives.

Our survival and existence depends entirely on preservation of our agricultural base. Each person in the district has an interest in the land and must share in the responsibility of preserving its productivity.

Crockett Soil and Water Conservation District is providing leadership in meeting this responsibility.

Brush Management

Brush regrowth or reinfestation following expensive mechanical or chemical control methods is one of the many problems faced by our livestock producers. The expected years of control of the initial brush control method could be significantly increased by controlling or suppressing the regrowth problem.

There are herbicides available that are specifically labeled for individual plant treatment. These herbicides have proven effective in controlling plants such as mesquite, cedar, creosote, tarbush, whitebrush and many others.

The two most common herbicides are Velpar RP, a liquid formulation, and Spike 20P, a dry pellet. Both are soil active herbicides and are applied directly to the soil surface underneath the target species. For Velpar RP there is an applicator gun to apply the correct amount of the liquid directly on the soil surface.

The Spike 20P pellets can be applied by hand.

Both herbicides require rainfall to carry the chemical into the soil. Since rainfall is needed, application just prior to seasonal rainfall gives the most rapid response. Once in the soil the chemical is carried throughout the plant. The chemical causes the plant to defoliate. The plant may grow new leaves and defoliate several times for two to three years before the plant's reserves are completely gone. When food reserves are depleted the plant usually dies.

The application of these herbicides is a practical, economical method of controlling regrowth following treedoing or aerial spraying. As new plants sprout and grow, a rancher can control them and maintain the level of brush density he desires. They can also be used to control brush in fencelines and around corrals.

Prescribed Burning

With increasing costs of chemical and mechanical control many ranchers are looking for more economical methods of managing brush and increasing forage production. One method that many ranchers are incorporating into their overall management program is prescribed burning.

Most people have been exposed only to wildfires that occur during the growing season under dry, hot and windy conditions. These disastrous fires are untimely and have undesirable effects. In contrast, a prescribed burn is a safe and controlled burn that accomplishes a certain objective. Depending upon the goal, a prescribed burn can be used to suppress brush, improve forage quality, improve palatability prickly pear.

Another objective may be to improve quality and palatability of grasses by removing old vegetation and excess litter, such as tobosa. Spot grazing may occur when this rank vegetation builds up. Some areas will not be touched by livestock while others will be continually grazed for their new tender growth. By eliminating this excess build up with a burn, a grazing distribution problem can be corrected.

There are several factors to be considered before starting a burning program. A fuel load of at least 1500 lbs./ac. of grass that is fairly continuous with as few breaks as possible is necessary to carry the fire and achieve good results. After the burn, a rest period is needed to allow

Conservation Ranchers

Pleas Childress III and Jim McMullan were chosen as recipients of the outstanding conservation ranchers' awards in the 1987 Area II Soil and Water Conservation Awards program. Pleas and Jim were presented with plaques during a special awards presentation dinner held in the Houston Harte University Center on the Angelo State University campus.

Each year the Texas Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts recognizes outstanding leaders in the field of natural resource conservation. These honors are the highest given in the state by the Texas Association. Area II is the largest in the state, covering 52 counties bounded by Abilene, Midland, El Paso and Uvalde.

Pleas Childress III was chosen as the outstanding resident conservation rancher. Jim McMullan was presented the outstanding non-resident conservation rancher award. Both ranchers have utilized sound grazing management practices resulting in improved forage production and range condition on their operating units. They realize the importance of maintaining a balance between livestock numbers and forage resources.

The conservation efforts of these two ranchers will not only result in improved forage production, livestock production and wildlife habitat, but, also reduces soil erosion ensuring a sustainable productive land for future generations.

During 1987, Jim McMullan was also recognized by the Society of Range Management with the Excellence in Grazing Management Award presented during their annual meeting held in Abilene. Pleas Childress III was a recipient of the same award in 1986.

Pleas Childress III and Jim McMullan exemplify the knowledge and skills of range and wildlife management necessary to maintain the productivity of our rangelands. The Crockett Soil and Water Conservation District is proud to have such outstanding ranchers within the district.

Wildlife, such as deer, turkey and quail, are an important economic resource to many ranchers in Crockett County, and proper brush control is important to the future of these wildlife populations. Proper use of herbicides and brush control can actually improve wildlife habitat while at the same time increase forage production for livestock.

of grasses, or improve grazing distribution.

Some ranchers have taken a two-pronged approach to brush problems by using mechanical or chemical control in combination with burning. Controlling resprouts of mesquite or juniper by burning can increase the length of time necessary before chemical or mechanical treatment is again needed. Prescribed burning followed by aerial spraying with a reduced rate of picloram has shown excellent results in controlling the grasses to recover. A prescribed burn is most effective when done under proper weather conditions. Most burns should be conducted during January or February.

Prescribed burning for range improvement is considered a relatively low cost practice, but the risks can be high if proper safety measures are not used. The most important factor in conducting a burn is planning. Know where the fire is to begin and where it will stop.

Sheriff's report

ARRESTS:

10-16 A 42-year-old Ozona man was arrested on charges of criminal mischief and reckless conduct. Bond was set by the justice of the peace at $500 on each charge. The subject was released later in the day after posting bond.

INCIDENTS:

10-16 Sheriff's deputies responded to a disturbance at a residence on Ave. K at about 1:22 a.m. Officers arrested a 42-year-old man who had fired a shotgun during a family argument. The shotgun blast had struck a neighboring house causing damage to two doors.

The suspect was arrested on charges of reckless conduct and criminal mischief. Judge Davee set bond at $500 on each of the misdemeanor offenses and the case was referred to the county attorney's office for prosecution.

10-16 Sheriff's deputies issued a citation for "minor in possession of alcohol" to an 18-year-old Ozona girl during Friday night's football game. The suspect, who was not intoxicated, was cited for possession of alcohol and released to go home. The case is referred to the justice of the peace court.

ACCIDENTS

No injuries were reported in the one accident investigated by local DPS Trooper Cliff Babbitt last week.

A 1988 Lincoln driven by Roger Cuellar of San Angelo was in collision with a Dodge van driven by Peggy McWilliams Oct. 15 at 5:05 p.m.

The Cuellar vehicle was westbound on 11th Street and McWilliams southbound on Ave. I. The report indicates that McWilliams stopped at the stop sign, then pulled out in the lane, striking the right side of the Cuellar vehicle.

Report from Lloyd Bentsen

U.S. and Mexico negotiating trade agreement

The United States and Mexico are on the brink of negotiating a sweeping trade agreement.

The U.S. and Mexico have been holding private discussions and are nearing agreement on a framework for conducting the negotiations. The actual negotiations would begin within 90 days after the framework is established.

Seven specific areas would be included in these discussions: textiles, agricultural products, steel, investment matters, matters involving technology transfer and intellectual property, electronics products and the exchange of information on the service sector geared toward improved analysis.

I not only support these negotiations, I've been pushing for them. This is because increased trade between us can only benefit both nations. In particular, it is a most effective way to help our border economy.

Mexico, after all, is one of our top trading partners. In 1985, it was the third largest buyer of U.S. exports and our fourth largest source of imports. The U.S. is Mexico's most important trading partner, providing 66 percent of its imports and purchasing 70 percent of its exports.

I want to make sure we go about them in the best way and get the best results. But if these negotiations are going to succeed, the Administration can't go it alone.

They must consult with Congress --and not make the same mistake they have made in the past, when they have left Congress out of the process, then belatedly asked us for authority and have almost been denied it.

The reason? They hadn't consulted with the Congress--and the Constitution charges us with the responsibility of consultation.

By consulting with Congress, the Administration will come into contact with the viewpoints of a broad cross-section of Americans. They will see how we can benefit both countries better.

A number of us have substantial experience on that border.

I grew up there and have spent much of my tenure in the U.S. Senate working to improve border trade.

At my request, the U.S. International Trade Commission conducted a comprehensive, 343-page study on the impact that increased trade between us and Mexico would have on the border--a study that many consider to be the standard work on the border region. I have commissioned other studies and held hearings into this matter.

When I visited Mexico City last year, I met with President de la Madrid and the Mexican Trade Minister. We discussed how we can improve the trading conditions between our nations.

Now, we have an opportunity to make additional great strides in trade between our nations, and that would be good for Texas.

I want to make sure we do it right.

Mason awareness

Last week's article and the following article were obtained from a book titled "The Texas Masons" published by Brazos Valley Masonic Library and Museum Assn. This week is about Bro. James Bowie.

JAMES BOWIE

"Greatest Fighter in the Southwest"

One of the most popular characters of the old Southwest was the legendary Jim Bowie. He was born in Tennessee in 1795, grew up along the bayous of Louisiana, and gained a fierce reputation as an alligator-rider, an indian-fighter, and a deadly duelist. He killed the son of Jean Lafitte in one of a number of fights that were an occupational hazard of Bowie's many business ventures. He and his brothers, John and Rezin, had made and lost several fortunes in land speculation and slaverunning before Jim's thirtieth birthday.

Henry Clay declared Bowie "the greatest fighter in the Southwest". Clay had witnessed a confrontation between Bowie and an obnoxious pipe smoker on a stagecoach in 1832. When a lady's request that the pipe be extinguished was ignored, the gallant and daring Bowie produced his famous knife and caused the fellow to reconsider.

Although the records were destroyed by fire in 1850, he is recognized as a member of Loge L'Humble Chamiere (Humble Cottage Lodge) No. 19 at Opelousas, Louisiana.

Bowie came to Texas in 1830 and settled in San Antonio, where he married the beautiful Ursula Veramendi, daughter of the Vice-Governor of Coahuila and Texas. With these connections to the established aristocracy, Bowie became one of the most trusted Americans in Texas. But just when the future seemed brightest, his wife and two children died in the great cholera epidemic of 1833.

Bowie joined the struggle for Texas Independence at the siege of Bexar, and accepted the command of the volunteers at the Alamo. On February 2, 1836, he wrote, "we will rather die in these ditches than give them up...." True to his word, he chose to remain with the defenders of the Alamo, although confined to his cot with pneumonia.

The British historian Thomas Carlyle said of Bowie, "By Hercules! The man was greater than Caesar.... The Texans ought to build him an altar."

League holds guest day

Tuesday, Oct. 13, was a special day for Ozona Woman's League, which held their annual guest day at Ozona National Bank. Hostesses Tammy Bunger, Karen Huffman and Jodie Sessom served a lovely selection of homemade cakes, tea and coffee.

Cathy Carson began the meeting with several short announcements prior to the day's program.

Mrs. Geniece Childress also offered information regarding the next Historical Society and Commission meeting Oct. 19 at the Emerald House. This will involve an oral history workshop teaching how to best record and preserve our heritage. Vivian Stockton and Frank Hilton of the Fort Concho Oral History group will conduct the meeting.

An exciting event will take place Monday, Nov. 9, in the lobby of Ozona National Bank from 2-3:30 p.m. Elmer Kelton will be in Ozona for an autograph party benefiting the Crockett County Museum with his latest book The Man Who Rode Midnight.

Sandy Baggett then introduced Keith White, co-owner and floral designer of the Cactus Flower in San Angelo. Mr. White proceeded to demonstrate fabulous quick and easy ways to decorate your home. An easy fresh flower arrangement of beautiful gladiolas was shown as well as a transformation of dried flowers, grasses and cactus into beautiful seasonal to transitional arrangements.

The Cactus Flower has opened a Christmas shop located in the Guilded Cage Center on N. Chadborne in San Angelo. Beautiful ornaments imported from Russia, Germany and other countries were on display along with other decorating ideas for Christmas. A gift of thanks was presented to Mr. White at the conclusion of the program, and members and guests were invited to browse and visit.

"We would like to express a special word of thanks to our many guests who attended Tuesday and helped make our day such a memorable and successful event," said reporter Ann Childress.

Juniors to take math and English competency tests

As a result of the passage of House Bill 72 by the Texas Legislature, juniors in Texas high schools will be taking math and English language arts competency tests on Tuesday and Wednesday, Oct. 27 and 28. Passage of both sections of the TEAMS (Texas Educational Assessment of Minimum Skills) test will enable these students to become eligible to receive a high school diploma at the end of their 12th grade, provided that all graduation requirements have been met.

Students who fail one of both sections of the state-mandated examination will be required to retake the failed section(s) of the test in May, 1988. If successful mastery has not been accomplished by that time, students will have two additional opportunities during their senior year to pass the TEAMS test before being denied a diploma in May, 1989.

The mathematics section of the Exit-Level TEAMS will consist of 72 multiple-choice questions covering eighteen objectives. These objectives are:

- 1 Selecting a set of numbers that are correctly ordered from least to greatest;
- 2 Rounding numbers to a particular place value;
- 3 Identifying equivalent fractions, decimals and percents;
- 4 Converting numbers from exponential notation to standard notation;
- 5 Solving problems involving addition/subtraction/multiplication of fractions and mixed numbers;
- 6 Using the basic operations to solve decimal problems;
- 7 Solving problems involving addition of integers;
- 8 Solving word problems involving multiple operations of whole numbers, decimals, fractions and mixed numbers;
- 9 Solving word problems using formulas;
- 10 Solving word problems involving proportions;
- 11 Solving word problems involving percent;
- 12 Solving problems involving metric/customary measures using the basic operations;
- 13 Solving word problems involving averages;
- 14 Solving word problems involving simple probability;
- 15 Using information from graphs and tables to solve word problems;
- 16 Solving problems involving geometric formulas;
- 17 Using geometric properties to solve problems involving geometric shapes; and,
- 18 Solving problems to determine the value of a variable.

The English language arts sections of the Exit-Level TEAMS will contain 72 multiple-choice questions over 18 reading and writing objectives. These objectives are:

- 1 Identifying the main idea;
- 2 Using context to understand the meaning of words;
- 3 Using word structure to identify words;
- 4 Identifying specific details;
- 5 Identifying a sequence of events;
- 6 Drawing logical conclusions;
- 7 Identifying the appropriate reference source;
- 8 Using reference sources to locate information;
- 9 Distinguishing between fact and opinion;
- 10 Analyzing literary selections;
- 11 Demonstrating knowledge of standard uses of capitalization;
- 12 Demonstrating knowledge of standard punctuation;
- 13 Recognizing the correct spelling of commonly used words;
- 14 Demonstrating knowledge of correct English usage;
- 15 Demonstrating the ability to distinguish complete sentences from fragments;
- 16 Recognizing sentences that best combine two related sentences;
- 17 Demonstrating the ability to organize written communication; and,
- 18 Demonstrating the ability to proofread written communication.

All juniors in Texas public schools are required to take the Exit-Level TEAMS except those students who have been formally evaluated and determined to have a physical, mental, or other impairment which entitles the student to receive special education and related services.

Ozona school officials expect to receive test results by the end of November, and students will be notified as soon as possible.

Cross country fares well at relay meet

by T. C. Tucker

Competing in a different type race, a five-mile, five-person relay, the boys and girls' cross country teams held their own against several four and five A schools Saturday.

The teams traveled to Big Spring for the second time this year; however, the event had a new twist to it. Instead of each person taking out on his own, five runners joined together to run a mile each in a relay-form race.

Luis Rico, John Sanchez, Jose Gutierrez, Ruben Borrego and Danny Sanchez, in that order, made up the varsity squad who finished fifth overall.

Lubbock High, Midland Lee, Lubbock Coronado and Andrews placed before the Lions. Ozona beat teams such as Big Spring, Lubbock Monterey, Lubbock Dunbar and San Angelo Lakeview.

"It was a change running a relay," Coach Pete Maldonado said. "The runners had a little trouble setting their pace to just a mile."

That did not slow the JV squad down any, though, as the five members combined to place fourth overall behind JV teams from Midland, Andrews and Monterey.

Robert Dominguez, Corey Pate, Robby Tambunga, Oscar Gutierrez and Jose Ramos made up the fourth place team, which competed against 14 other schools.

Only one group of girls entered the event as Tricia Etheridge, Kimberlee Coy, Amy Graham, Kriss Corley and Maria Sanchez finished second out of 10 teams in the JV division. Coronado edged out the Ozona bunch who in turn beat the likes of Midland and Big Spring.

"Overall I was pleased with the individual times," Coach Maldonado said. "Plus, the type of race added a little fun for the runners."

Both boys and girls' teams journey to Eldorado Monday, Oct. 26, for the cross country district meet. All the practice meets should pay off for the teams.

"I'm real pleased at how the season has turned out," Coach Maldonado said. "I'm really looking forward to district and further down the line."

Maldonado expects Ozona and Eldorado to come out as the two toughest individual teams on through to region.

"I expect us to take the top spot in both boys and girls competition," he said.

The first and second place teams will advance to regional as well as the top five individuals.

The meet on Monday will begin at 4:30.

GED preparation

Ozona Public Schools have announced that the district is conducting an interest survey of Ozona adults who would like to prepare for the Graduate Equivalency Diploma (GED) Certificate.

Interested participants are urged to call Ms. Kathy Grendahl, instructor, at 392-2483 as soon as possible to obtain more information about the program.

Game Warden Rod Chalmers talked to students at series on animals. The youngsters enjoyed viewing Ozona Community Center Oct. 16 as part of a study slides of wild animals during the program.

8th grade Cubs cage Eagles

by Copie Davis

The Ozona 8th grade Cubs used a fourth quarter rally of 18 points to rocket themselves past an aggressive Eldorado squad last Thursday by an impressive margin of 24-0.

The Cubs, pacing themselves with a rushing game that amassed a total of 311 yards, took control of the game early when quarterback Adam Alba cruised 52 yards on only the fifth offensive play to score Ozona's first touchdown. At the 6:24 mark of the first quarter, the Cubs had a lead of 6-0.

Defensively, the Cubs played a solid first period. Eldorado ran 11 offensive plays and gained a grand total of 45 yards total offense. However, the Cubs never allowed the Eagles near the end zone.

In the second quarter, turnovers played a key role as Alba was intercepted once, halting a drive, and Ozona's Michael Gray pounced on an Eldorado fumble, causing them to break down. At the half, the Cubs still led 6-0.

In the third quarter, Mario Mendoza warmed up and broke away on a 65 yard touchdown ramble that gave Ozona a 12-0 lead. The defense then rose to the occasion, allowing the Eagle offense a mere 11 yards total offense during the quarter.

In the final period, the Eagles definitely had the edge in time of possession, as they ran 15 plays of offense compared to Ozona's four.

Yet, the Cubs' defense snagged two interceptions. One by Mark Ramirez was returned 33 yards for a touchdown; the other by Adrian Vargas gave Ozona the ball and halted an Eldorado drive. Then, with the ball on their own 10 yard line and a lead of 18-0, Mario Mendoza bolted 90 yards for Ozona's fourth score of the night to win easily, 24-0.

Ozona's leading rusher was Mendoza, who rushed 12 times for 187 yards and two touchdowns. Close behind him was Alba with five rushes and 50 yards and one touchdown.

Defensively, Ozona forced four turnovers. Adrian Vargas and Mark Ramirez each had an interception, and Pablo Talamantez and Michael Gray each had fumble recoveries. Ozona's leading tackler was Adrian Vargas who terrorized Eldorado with nine tackles.

Weekend athletes are at higher risk for injury

More than 20 million Americans are "weekend athletes". They sit quietly at their desks during the week, then suddenly become active Saturday and Sunday -- hike, run six miles, play a rousing game of basketball with friends. But part-time athletes have to be particularly careful. A recent Gallup survey found that the majority of doctors see three times as many sports injuries among weekend athletes as among participants of organized sports.

Injuries occur because people plunge into their exercise programs without taking the proper precautions, according to sports medicine consultant Paul Saltman, Ph.D., of the University of California at San Diego.

"Don't try to achieve your optimum performance on the first day," Dr. Saltman advises. "You want to take a nice, gradual warm up and take it easy the first time out. And by the way, it's not just warming up, it's cooling down."

Bicycling is a favorite sport of many part-time athletes. Thomas Prehn, 1986 U. S. professional cycling champion, has his own warm-up and cool-down system. "To warm up for a race or a training ride, I start out slowly, gradually pick up the pace until I start to sweat," says Prehn. "Then I ease off, do a few harder, real short sprints."

In addition, a weekend athlete should prepare for an active Saturday by maintaining a balanced diet during the week, according to Lisa Bellini Ergley, M.S., R.D., sports and cardiovascular nutritionist for New York City's Executive Health Center.

"To maximize your performance on the weekend, you have to build up your energy reserves by eating the right foods during the week," says Gergley. "All machines need fuel. For the human machine, that fuel is food."

Houston Astros baseball pitcher Nolan Ryan recognizes the importance of diet. "I have to watch my caloric intake and eat a proper balanced diet," Ryan says. "Normally, I'll eat my biggest meal the night before I pitch, and that usually consists of a steak, usually a sirloin."

A free booklet featuring diet and exercise tips for the weekend athlete is available from the Texas Beef Industry Council. The four-color booklet called "The Weekend Athlete" is available by sending a self-addressed, stamped business-size envelope to The Weekend Athlete, Texas Beef Industry Council, 6504 Bridgepoint Parkway, Suite 400, Austin, Texas 78730.

7th grade Cubs tie Eldorado 6-6

by T. C. Tucker

Against Iraan on Oct. 8, the 7th grade Cubs took the lead and held it until late in the fourth quarter when Iraan spoiled the Cubs' hopes for a victory by tying 6-6.

Last Thursday, the Cubs did a complete turn-around, allowing Eldorado to score first, then coming back to dominate the second half and return the favor of a 6-all game.

The Cubs took their first possession midway through the first quarter and moved 31 yards downfield before an Ozona pass accidentally found its way into the hands of an Eldorado defender.

Jim Bob Moran quickly retaliated, recovering an Eldorado fumble and giving the Cubs great yardage 13 yards away from the goal line, but a penalty and stout defensive stand on Eldorado's part ended that drive.

Starting from their own 19, Eldorado did not seem threatening; however, a dump pass across the middle of the Cub defense led to an 81 yard touchdown with 2:21 left in the first half.

Eldorado came close to putting the first layer of icing on the game after gaining access to the ball with under a minute remaining in the half. In five plays, they drove 40 yards but came up short due to the defensive efforts of Joe Hernandez, Joe Mendoza and the clock.

Eldorado never again crossed into Cub territory as Ozona controlled the ball and stifled Eldorado's offense.

Slowly but surely, the Cubs worked their way toward the end zone with their first possession of the second half. Only inches away, Cub quarterback Chad Upham could not find a hole; then Hernandez met a solid defensive wall as once again the Cubs came up short and still six points down.

Mike Kenison set up the Cubs' score when he pounced on a loose Eldorado ball, giving the Cubs possession only 22 yards away from a touchdown.

Hernandez broke away for a 17 yard romp that put the ball on Eldorado's four yard line. On third-and-goal, Hernandez took the pitch on a right sweep and scored from six yards out.

Eldorado rallied enough to cause failure of the Cubs' two-point conversion try, leaving the game tied just like the week before, 6-6.

Eldorado fumbled the ball once more, right into the hands of Mike Vitela, giving the Cubs another opportunity to cross into the end zone.

Upham connected with Eric Sanchez, then Hernandez gained 11 yards, putting the Cubs only 28 yards away from a chance to win the game. But as time ran out, the Cubs last-chance play ended without success.

Hernandez led Cub rushers with 60 yards while Larry Sanchez followed with 29. Besides Hernandez and Mendoza, others leading defensively included Alonzo Hernandez and Matthew Marshall.

The Cubs travel to Big Lake next week with games beginning at 5 p.m. The following week, the Cubs will get another shot at Eldorado, this time playing on the Green's home ground.

I'd like to point out a correction. In last week's 7th grade article, Mike Vitela was listed as having 23 yards rushing. Larry Sanchez should have been noted for the accomplishment. I apologize for this mistake, both to Vitela and Sanchez.

Elements prevent absorption

Once you're on the right track, incorporating a healthy amount of dairy foods into your diets, it pays to know any factors that may inhibit your calcium absorption. Following is a list of dietary elements that, depending on the amounts consumed, may have a negative effect on calcium.

Protein-although an important dietary nutrient, too much protein may increase calcium excretion in the urine. The end result is lost calcium.

Caffeine-Research has shown that heavy coffee drinkers (four or more cups per day) may be at risk to lose more ingested calcium than non-coffee drinkers. The same is likely to be true for other caffeine-containing beverages.

Oxalates and Phytates-These elements are found, primarily in green vegetables and grains; they tend to interfere with calcium absorption by combining with the molecules of calcium and creating large, insoluble compounds.

Fiber-Fiber is another element that latches on to calcium, creating large compounds that are difficult to absorb. In addition, fiber increases the rate at which food passes through the intestines, thus limiting the time of intestinal calcium absorption.

Phosphorus-Found mainly in sodas, red meat and processed foods, phosphorus appears to contribute to bone deterioration if taken in excessive amounts as shown in animal studies. The effect of phosphorus in humans is not clearly defined. Doctors recommend that patients try to maintain a calcium-to-phosphorus ratio of 1:1 to 2:1.

Stress-The body may respond to stress by decreasing calcium absorption and increasing calcium excretion via urine. Your need for calcium may therefore be greater under unusual emotional and physical stress.

Roof Thatching

Miss Bertha's eighty-years did not show as she lay in the hospital bed facing surgery. We talked about the weather, the latest news, and about life in general.

Then, our conversation centered on faith. She told me the surgery was serious but she had no fear. "My roof is thatched," she said, and smiled as she noticed wrinkles of question marks forming on her young pastor's face.

"Your roof is what?" I stammered, searching for a handle of interpretation.

She took my hand in both of hers. "My faith in God was birthed when I was a little girl, and it has been growing ever since. Every day I have built my faith, and now that I face this unknown surgical journey, I have no fear. Nothing can harm me; nothing can scare me. My house of faith is firm, solid. I have covered the roof of my life with the teachings of God's word," and she took a deep breath, then called my attention to the beauty of the day reflecting itself outside her window.

"My roof is thatched."

Lion Band ready to take on the world

by Alison Larisa Schoenhals

"It's the band to beat" and "Watch out for Ozona" are only two of the comments circulating throughout Ozona's district. Saturday, Oct. 24, the band will leave at 7 a.m. for Brady and the district marching contest.

The Lion Band is scheduled to march at 11:40, but regional qualifiers will not be announced until the end of the contest.

Last year the band participated in the regional marching contest held in Waco. They didn't however, manage to advance to the state level, but it was the farthest an Ozona band had gone in a number of years. In comparison to last year's band, the band this year is nothing close to the same - it's better. The good attitudes and a competitive edge have put the necessary additive in the group to make it the best band in Texas.

Throughout the course of football season, the hometown audience, as well as the competitor's audience have received brief tastes of what the band is capable of. The year started off slowly, but it has progressed and gradually built into a fireball of excitement and enthusiasm.

Director Kelly Glaze commented briefly on his feelings toward the Pride of Crockett County. "I'm very hopeful for a I and then to advance to the regional and state levels. I feel the musicianship in this year's band is the best it's been since I've lived in Ozona. The attitudes are more competitive, also, than in the past, and we've definitely got what it takes to make it all the way."

Two bandmen were on hand to comment on their aspects of this year's band. "I have a strong attitude...we are going to make it all the way to state!" said junior Rosie Gonzales.

"Ozona band is by far the most competitive band in District 7-AA and I feel that if everybody gets serious about it, we will definitely make it to state," said Paul Galan, a junior.

Optimism is not only in the student body and parents, but also in the faculty and other townspeople. The support the band has been given on Friday night is greatly appreciated. The band promises the fans that 1987 will be the year of Ozona.

Fans are welcomed to attend the contest. The support will be greatly appreciated.

Planting spring bulbs in the fall is as natural as falling leaves and football games. It is an opportunity neglected by the home gardener if he does not include some of the hardy, easy-to-grow spring beauties in the garden this fall. Bulbs are truly some of the simplest of flowers to grow, easy to care for and inexpensive. All they ask is a fall planting and they will reward you with weeks of early spring color, fragrance and beauty.

One's success with spring bulbs will depend to a large extent on his selection of good, healthy, quality bulbs. Second-rate bulbs, or bargain bulbs, produce second-rate flowers and often, first-rate disappointment. To be assured of top quality bulbs and desirable varieties, September is the time to get an order off.

In general, good bulbs produce flowers the first season after planting, as the flower buds are already formed when the bulbs are purchased and planted. This emphasizes the importance of purchasing quality bulbs, as the quality of flowers is determined by the bulbs and not affected to a great extent by cultural conditions or growth practices. One can be assured, the larger the bulb, the larger the bloom. Many disease problems can also be eliminated by obtaining healthy, disease-free bulbs.

Garden check list for October

1. October through November is an excellent time to purchase bulbs while you still have a good selection in the garden center. They may be planted at any time with the exception of tulips and hyacinths.
2. Chill tulip and hyacinth bulbs in the refrigerator until mid or late December before planting. The lower part of the refrigerator is best. Do not leave bulbs in airtight plastic bags during refrigerated storage.

3. Plant bulbs in well prepared beds so the base of the bulb is at a depth that is three times the diameter of the bulb. In sandy soil, set slightly deeper and in clay soils less deeply.

4. Start collecting leaves for the compost pile. Be sure to have extra soil available so that each 6-inch layer of leaves may be covered with several inches of soil. Always wet the layer of leaves thoroughly before adding the soil. Add about one pound of a complete lawn or garden fertilizer to each layer of leaves to provide the necessary nitrogen for decomposition.

5. In addition to bulbs, check your nursery or garden center for started plants of snapdragons, pinks, sweet william, poppy and calendulas. Planted now they will usually provide a riot of spring color.

6. Keep Christmas cactus in a sunny spot where night temperatures can be kept below 65 degrees F. Buds will drop if you allow night temperature to be above 70 degrees F. or if you allow the plant to become excessively dry. They should also be kept in total darkness from 5 p.m. until 8 p.m. for about 30 days in October to initiate flower buds.

7. If you have saved seed of your favorite plants, allow them to become air dry then place in an airtight container and store in the refrigerator. Be sure to label each packet carefully. Remember seed from hybrid plants will seldom resemble the parent.

8. Prepare beds for planting pansies when they become available at the garden centers. They need a well-drained soil and exposure to at least a half day of sun. It's best to use started plants as seed is difficult to handle.

9. If you are planning to save caladium tubers for another year, dig them in late October, and allow to dry in a well-ventilated but shady area. After 7 to 10 days, remove leaves and dirt, then pack in dry peat moss, vermiculite or similar material for storage. Pack tubers so they do not touch each other. Dust with all-purpose fungicide as you pack. Place container in an area where temperature won't drop below 50 degrees F.

10. If twig girdlers have worked over your trees so that many twigs and branches are dropping, make sure these are collected and destroyed as the eggs are deposited in that portion of the branch that drops to the ground.

11. October is a good time to reduce the insect and disease potential in next year's garden. Clean up the garden, removing all annuals that have completed their life cycle. Remove the tops of all herbaceous perennials that have finished flowering or as soon as frost has killed the leaves.

12. Holly plants with a heavy set of fruit often suffer a fertilizer deficiency. An application of complete fertilizer late this month can be helpful and provide a head start next spring.

13. The attractiveness of ornamental gourds can be prolonged with proper curing. Remove from vine by cutting so a short portion of stem remains on the fruit. Wipe fruit with cloth dipped in rubbing alcohol or dip fruit into a bath of 1 part of Chlorox and 9 parts of water. Lay the gourds so they don't touch each other. Dry for three to four weeks inspecting and discarding any that start to spoil. When well dried, apply several coats of clear shellac to enhance color and preserve beauty for several months.

Game laws affect Lions

Rod Chalmers, game enforcement officer in this area for the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, will cover changes in the law when he addresses the Ozona Lions Club. He will speak at noon on Oct. 22 at La Cocina when the Lions meet in their regular weekly session.

Rod will not only cover changes in game laws, but he will also answer any questions members might have. All Lions and their guests are urged to attend.

Low fat diets can be harmful to children

Many people have recently become aware of the health benefits of a diet lower in fat. High fat diets have been associated with increased risk of stroke, heart attack and cancer. But many people also assume that if a low fat diet is good for an adult, it must also be good for children, including young infants. According to a new booklet from the American Institute for Cancer Research that could be a serious mistake.

The American Institute for Cancer Research notes that while adults should limit fat in their diets, fat is an essential dietary element for developing children. Attempting to restrict dietary fat for children under 18 months of age, by limiting them to skim milk or low fat solid foods, may result in babies not getting the fat necessary for normal development of their brains and nervous systems.

The Institute's new booklet, "Infant Nutrition: Sound Eating Habits Start Early", provides basic information on sound nutrition for young children. It notes that babies who are either breast fed or bottle fed on a regular formula will get sufficient amounts of dietary fat for normal development. Problems occur when parents attempt to limit the baby's diet to the low or no fat foods they themselves are eating.

The Institute notes that as a baby is switched over to solid foods it is important to begin teaching the child positive eating habits. This includes providing a broad variety of foods, with a special emphasis on fresh fruits and vegetables. It is also a good time to limit sweets. Although even newborn babies seem to be born liking sweets, studies have indicated that what the baby is fed during the first year may influence his taste for sweets later on.

The American Institute for Cancer Research is a national, nonprofit organization which focuses on the relationship between diet and cancer. Through its dietary guidelines for lower cancer risk, the Institute has recommended that adults lower their dietary fat intake from the current average of 40 percent of calories to 30 percent or less. It has published "Infant Nutrition" to help make parents more aware of the proper nutritional standards which should apply for children and which can be different from those for adults.

A free copy of "Infant Nutrition" may be obtained by sending a stamped, self-addressed, business size envelope to the American Institute for Cancer Research, Dept. IN9, Washington, D.C. 20069.
