DeHoyos elected county attorney

Crockett County voters turned out in large numbers to elect their candidates in the November general election. Absentee votes accounted for 24 percent of the ballots cast with 679 of the 2,883 registered choosing early voting.

In the only locally contested race, Orlando DeHoyos defeated Troy Williams for county attorney 1095 to 524.

DeHoyos was selected for a place on the general election ballot by the local Democratic party after the resignation of Tom Cameron as county attorney.

Williams ran as a write-in candidate.

DeHoyos, a 1977 graduate of Ozona High School, holds a doctorate of jurisprudence degree from Texas Tech School of Law. While a student, he was employed with a Lubbock law firm for 1½ years. Before moving to Ozona in May to open a solo practice, DeHoyos was employed by Ratliff and Edwards Law Firm in San Angelo. He was licensed by the State Bar in May.

The county went Republican in its presidential preference, selecting the Bush/Quayle ticket 932 to 881 for Dukakis/Bentsen. Libertarian candidates Ron Paul and Andres Marrou received six votes.

Lloyd Bentsen was welcomed back as U.S. Senator with 1213 votes to 486 for Beau Boulter. Libertarian candidate Jeff Daiell received eight votes.

In the race for 21st District representative, Lamar Smith received 879 votes to 44 for James A. Robinson.

David Currie, Democratic candidate for Dist. 67 state representative was the local favorite, receiving 1061 votes to 493 for Republican Harvey Hilderbran.

Lions claim winning football record

STOCKMAN SPORTS
by T. C. Tucker

"It was a good game for us to finish on." - Coach Don Payne

The 1988 football season ended as it should have with the Lions' 29-14 beating of Wall last Friday. Despite failing to make the playoffs, Ozona sported its first winning record since 1982 and a competitive ball club that possesses immense potential for next year.

The final game displayed some of that potential and provided momentum for next year. It was indeed a good game to finish the year with.

The Lions took control from the beginning; George Ybarra, who had 139 yards rushing on the night, set the pace with an opening scrimmage run of 33 yards. Their first drive took Ozona 73 yards and ended in a field goal for a 3-0 lead.

They never looked back. Wall fumbled three plays later, Ozona's Harvey Dominguez rushed for 12 yards, Chris Denman connected with Robby Tambunga for a 38-yard pick-up, and the Lions set up for another field goal. Although they missed and faltered 18 yards from the end zone on their next possession, Ozona showed they could move the ball.

Oscar Galindo intercepted a Hawk pass early in the second quarter, putting the Lions on Wall's 45. On a 19-yard run, Dominguez suffered a knee injury that removed him from the game.

Ybarra responded with an 8-yard run which set up his ensuing 13-yard touchdown run. Ruben Borrego nailed the extra point, and Ozona took a 10-0 lead.

Wall only penetrated Lion territory once in the first half, moving to the 24 only to fumble the ball into the hands of Isaac Leal.

Starting from their own 26 and with three minutes remaining on the clock, Ozona marched down the field off four pass plays totaling 65 yards. Still, the Hawks stood solid once the Lions reached the 2-yard mark, forcing Ozona to go once again to the field goal team.

But the Lions never had any intentions of kicking the ball; instead, Galindo took the snap and ran into the end zone around the right end. With the successful extra point, Ozona led 17-0 at halftime.

The Lions looked to capitalize again after covering a Wall fumble in the second half's opening seconds. The drive ended on the Hawk 10 with another field-goal attempt missing.

Denman's 17-yard pass to Lalo Rodriguez pushed the Lions into Wall territory a few minutes later on the following possession. Denman went to the air again, hitting Galindo for an 8-yard gain.

Ybarra moved them two yards closer, setting up Tambunga's 34-yard touchdown pass reception and a 23-0 lead.

Another fumble just eight seconds later gave Ozona possession 12 yards from the end zone. Following Denman's one-yard loss after being sacked, Ybarra blitzed in for the Lions' last score of the year.

The Hawks finally invaded Ozona's field again late in the third quarter, closing in as close as 13 yards before succumbing to the Lion defense.

With 4:27 remaining in the game, Wall blocked a punt and recovered the bouncing ball in the end zone for their first score. The 2-point conversion succeeded, giving the Hawks eight points.

Wall took possession about two minutes later only 36 yards away from scoring, which they did five plays later.

From there, the Lions ran out the clock to secure the 29-14 win.

"We got a little sloppy in the last minutes," Coach Payne said. "But we were enjoying the moment and having a good time."

All the way to a 5-4-1 record.

"I know the guys were disappointed at not having reached the playoffs," Payne noted. "Hopefully, that will make them more determined to get there next year."

"We're only losing five starters, so we'll get most of our guys back." As for this year, a time when the Lions beat Sonora, Iraan and lost to Big Lake by only 10 points, Payne says, "I'm proud of our guys. They were in every contest they played."

And hopefully in every contest they play in the future. With good effort and playing, and support from both sides, another great season looms over the horizon.

Year end livestock, crop surveys on tap

The Texas Agricultural Statistics Service will begin contacting farmers and ranchers across the state in late November for 1988 acreage, yield and production totals and end-of-year livestock and poultry inventories.

"Changes in the national farm program and this summer's dry weather certainly had an impact on Texas agriculture, and these surveys should help us summarize where the industry stands at the end of 1988," state statistician Dennis Findley explained.

"Information from these confidential surveys conducted by mail, telephone or in person will also help producers make their plans for the coming year."

"Sound production and marketing decisions require good, reliable information and some advanced planning, and our reports provide producers with solid facts and figures they can incorporate into their plans," Findley added.

The Texas service will be trying to keep survey costs at a minimum this year because of budget cuts, so Findley is urging producers to return their mailed questionnaires as soon as possible.

"Remember, these are sample surveys, so if you are contacted it is important to provide the requested information, since one producer represents similar operations of the same type and size. Our estimates can be no better than the numbers producers provide," Findley noted.

Results of the surveys will be published in early 1989. Anyone wanting a copy of the results can write Information Section, Texas Agricultural Statistics Service, P. O. Box 70, Austin, Texas 78767.

Childress returns as trustee

Messengers attending the recent annual sessions of the Baptist General Convention in Austin, elected three new Hardin-Simmons University trustees for three-year terms.

They are B. B. Risinger Jr., pastor of First Baptist Church of Corsicana who is a 1960 graduate of USU; John L. Quisenberry, manager of Meridian Oil Inc., Fort Worth, a 1954 HSU graduate; and Donald E. Jackson, an Amarillo attorney.

Those reelected as trustees for another three-year term are: Mrs. P. another three-year term include Mrs. P. L. (Sandra) Childress III of Ozona. Mrs. Childress graduated from Hardin-Simmons University in 1967 and is owner of Cameras Two Photography and Frame Shop in Ozona.

Water district subject of council meeting

Retaining local control of Crockett County's rural water resources will be the topic at the annual meeting of the Crockett County Extension Council on Thursday, Nov. 10, at the Ozona Civic Center.

The meeting, which kicks off at 6:30 p.m. with homemade chili supper prepared by council members, will feature State Senator Bill Sims of Paint Rock and Sterling City attorney Drew Durham as speakers. Sims and Durham will discuss the need for a water district and how to form such a district.

All county landowners are invited to attend and learn more about the "critical water issues facing Texas and Crockett County," according to County Extension Agent-Agriculture Billy Reagor.

In addition to the information presented on water during the program, a special exhibit on water use in the home and landscape will be on display. Included will be examples of laundry problems and their solutions and the results of water quality tests performed on water from wells in various parts of the county.

"Water has been identified as the number one critical issue facing Crockett County in the future, and all county residents need to be informed about water conservation - both quantity and quality," said Reagor.

Immigration act enters green card phase

The second phase of the Immigration Reform and Control Act of 1986 began Monday, allowing temporary residents to begin applying for permanent residency.

Phase one, the amnesty period, began May 5, 1987, when illegal aliens who had resided in the United States for a period of five years or more could begin the process by which they could obtain temporary legal residency status. That period came to an end Nov. 7, 1988.

Those aliens who now have temporary residency cards must now work toward permanent residence status (green cards).

Temporary status may be converted to permanent status by an individual demonstrating a minimal understanding of English and some knowledge of U. S. history and government.

These requirements have caused a shortage of adult English classes and civics classes. Some locations in Texas claim to have waiting periods of two to three months for available space in these classes.

About 1.8 million non-agricultural workers have applied for amnesty throughout the U.S. Federal officials expect about 1.5 million of these persons to apply for permanent residency.

Volunteer Joan Nicholas, director of the Laubach Literacy International Program in Ozona, reports a large increase in the number of requests to join the literacy classes and a need for additional volunteers. Aliens must be able to read, write and speak English before U. S. citizenship or permanent residency status will be granted.

Prior to the 1986 immigration act, it was illegal for immigrants to work in the U.S. without proper documentation. However, it was not illegal for the employer to hire that worker.

The two-year-old immigration act closed that loophole by making the employers liable for hiring illegal workers. Fines ranging from $250 to $10,000 plus possible six-month jail terms have been the teeth in the law. These sanctions have been in effect since June 1, 1987.

Since the law went into effect, 720 fine notices have been handed to employers. About half of that number have been issued since the end of August.

Employers are also required to ask for documentation to prove citizenship or legal status when hiring. Failure to ask for documentation may result in $100 to $1,000 fines for each time.

Employers are not required to prove the authenticity of documents.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION
AUSTIN—The 1988 election may be remembered as one which changed forever the way campaigns are waged in Texas, and a few words during the closing days by Sen. Lloyd Bentsen may best sum it up:

"In Texas, politics is a contact sport."

Indeed, it was. Some observers say this election has permanently altered future campaigns. Others disagree, certain that Texas will not see another election like this one for years to come.

With two Texans on the presidential ballot, it is certain to be many years before the stakes are so high.

From the early primary days to Election Day polling, Texas was visited, wooed, and crisscrossed by every candidate who could beg, borrow or steal a plane to fly here.

Texas: Big Enchilada

This was the first year of the Super Tuesday primary. Texas was the big enchilada. All the hopefuls appeared and returned as often as appearances could be scheduled.

When the primary dust settled, two Texans sat at the top of the tickets, and every voting household felt the pressure.

Both parties let loose with heavy shelling in the form of relentless television spots.

The candidates spent untold millions on television and travel budgets while ignoring more traditional aspects of political campaigning.

Remember when most candidates would save funds so they could purchase last-minute spots?

Not this year. Both parties started buying time before the Labor Day picnic and never faltered.

For ten long weeks, voters endured a blitz of negative political messages.

For voters, the silver lining was first-time absentee voting without being out of town as an excuse. The positive aspect of the election is that voters participated in record numbers.

The FBI has harassed and intimidated Hispanic agents who successfully sued the bureau for racial discrimination, according to documents filed in U.S. District Court in El Paso.

In papers filed last week, lawyers representing more than half of the bureau's 440 Hispanic agents asked for an injunction to prevent the bureau from harassing employees who joined in the suit.

One Hispanic agent said in an affidavit that the bureau had taken away his pistol in retaliation for his decision to testify in the trial last summer.

MCorp Asset Move

The Federal Reserve Board has temporarily ordered MCorp to prepare a plan to move $400 million in holding company assets into subsidiary banks that are short on cash.

According to the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, a source who requested anonymity said the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency contacted MCorp subsidiary banks needing a cash infusion, asking them to provide an explanation of how they intend to increase capital.

MCorp, Texas's second-largest bank holding company, will file for protection under the U.S. bankruptcy code if it receives a permanent order for a cash transfer, the source told the newspaper.

Houston Bingo Probe

Comptroller Bob Bullock's office launched a probe into reported irregularities in Houston bingo halls.

Attorney General Jim Mattox called for the investigation following reports of rigged games to steal money from charities.

Bullock has also asked Mattox to rule whether he can regulate high-stakes games planned for the Kickapoo Reservation in Eagle Pass.

Other Highlights

While the spotlight was on the election, Capitol halls were business as usual.

• Meeting in Laredo, directors of the University System of South Texas voted to make their schools part of the Texas A&M University System. A&M officials will decide this month if it will take over Laredo State, Corpus Christi State, and Texas A&I.

• State Rep. Glenn Repp tested electronic monitoring of non-violent parolees by wearing the ankle transmitter device for three days. Rep. Duncanville Republican, said he will push for use of the device as a safe alternative to expensive prison terms.

• Thirty-five prospective track operators have told state gaming officials they want licenses to build horse and dog racetracks across the state.

• State Employment Commissioner Ronnie Luna was buried last week amid tributes from state and party officials for the long-time Democratic Party activist.

Letter to the Editor

Citizens
Counties of West and Northwest
Texas

Dear Sirs and Madams:

Big Spring State Hospital is the "catchment area" for 56 counties in West and Northwest Texas: Brewster to Parmer County, El Paso to Callahan County. "Catchment" means: anyone, in these 56 counties who needs to be hospitalized for any type of mental illness will come to BSSH for treatment.

Volunteers, working through the Volunteer Services Council, work very hard to make a client's stay at BSSH as pleasant as possible. They have birthday parties, picnics and ice cream in the summer, Halloween and Valentine festivities, Christmas parties, and a gift under the Christmas tree for each client on Christmas morning. The volunteers maintain a library for the clients; offer a sympathetic ear and helping hand to families of clients, and maintain a resale shop, The Chalet, in downtown Big Spring to help finance their projects. The list could go on and on. The volunteers are dedicated, hard-working people who gladly give of their time, money and energy to help others.

During this economic crunch, donations from Big Spring citizens have been less, and, with more people working two jobs, it is harder to get volunteers to help. We, the volunteers, could use financial and physical help from all the other counties served by Big Spring State Hospital.

The present volunteers will not quit doing all we can for the clients of BSSH, but we could use some help.

Sincerely,
Doris Day,
Volunteer

Students attend Central's college day

by Summer Shacklette

San Angelo Central High School sponsored a college-technical school program Tuesday, Nov. 1.

Sophomore, junior and senior students from area high schools and their parents were invited. Several Ozona students took part in the program.

The counseling department sponsored the program to help students make future plans.

About 50 schools and colleges had representatives on hand to answer students' questions.

Three colleges presented 30 minute talks in Halmes Hall. These were the University of Texas at Austin, Texas Tech University and Texas A&M. Angelo State University also presented a program for prospective students.

Tommy Tucker, Elaine Casey, Maria Sanchez, Summer Shacklette, Julie Carson, Gina McCollum, Bianca Cervantez, Idalia Fierro and Rita Rios attended the program. Ozona High School counselor Jack Probst and Bill Williams, an Ozona teacher, accompanied the students.

Astros pitcher to chair Smokeout

Houston Astros pitcher Nolan Ryan will break in a new "pitch" this fall as Texas' Honorary Chairman for the American Cancer Society's Great American Smokeout.

Ryan, who holds the major league strike out record, will try to help the Society strike out smoking during this year's observance of the annual moratorium on smoking.

The great American Smokeout is sponsored by the American Cancer Society each year on the Thursday before Thanksgiving to encourage tobacco users to set aside their cigarettes, pipes, cigars, snuff and chewing tobacco for 24 hours. This year's Smokeout, November 17, is the 12th anniversary of the national day off from smoking and tobacco use.

"My philosophy is you've got to take care of yourself," Ryan said. "There are no benefits to smoking or using tobacco, but plenty of good reasons to quit. The Great American Smokeout is a chance for smokers to take care of themselves, and get some support while they're doing it," he added.

Ryan has pitched for major league teams for 22 years, and has been with the Astros for eight years. He won his 100th game for the Astros this season and recently published his autobiography, Throwing Heat.

Ryan is featured in a thirty-second television public service announcement to be distributed statewide this month.

"The Great American Smokeout has a successful batting average, and I respect that," he said. "I hope my participation will help maintain that success."

Last year, according to a Gallup survey, 19.6 million American smokers participated in the Smokeout by quitting or cutting down for the day. The Society hopes at least one in five of the nation's 50 million smokers will make the attempt this year.

"We're delighted that a sports figure of Nolan Ryan's caliber is getting behind our effort," said Jim McLean, R.N., chairman of the American Cancer Society's Smokeout campaign in Texas.

"There's no question he's a hero to young people and baseball fans, and we hope they will follow his example of a smoke-free, healthy lifestyle," McLean said.

For more information about the Great American Smokeout, or for tips on how to quit smoking, contact your local American Cancer Society office or call 1-800-ACS-2345.

Students make egg drop soup

by Summer Shacklette

An egg drop contest was held by the Wizards of Science Club at Ozona High School Wednesday, Nov. 2, under the direction of physics teacher Frank Reavis.

The object of the contest was to see how high an egg in a shoebox could be dropped without being broken.

Students were allowed to fill the shoebox with anything they chose to cushion it.

Eggs and shoeboxes were dropped first from one meter with the distance increasing one meter at a time with each drop.

All participants made the one meter drop.

Jose Gutierrez's egg broke at two meters. Towels and sponges were his cushions.

At three meters Copie Davis' Jello-covered egg cracked, and Jason Tumlinson's broke at four meters.

Three went out at five meters: Mr. Reavis, T. C. Tucker, and Mr. Jerry Tucker. Their boxes contained foam rubber, cotton and silver dollars, and panty hose.

It came down to three participants who took part in the play-offs. Round One was the 10 meter drop.

The second round was thrown 10 meters. Mark Fierro's egg, floating in a jar of jelly and Thousand Island dressing, broke.

Oscar Galindo's and Jennifer Colin's eggs never broke. The two tied as the winners.

Limbaugh to join lottery group

Former Ozonan Marsha Moore Limbaugh has been named to a position on the Missouri Lottery Commission by Gov. John Ashcroft.

The Cape Girardeau resident is the daughter of Kirby Moore of Ozona.

Mrs. Limbaugh is one of two new members named to the commission. A constitutional amendment approved by voters Aug. 2 expanded the commission from three to five members.

Reuben Shelton of St. Louis, a claims attorney for Union Electric Co., is the other new appointee.

Mrs. Limbaugh is vice president for investments and branch manager for A. G. Edwards & Sons, Inc. in Cape Girardeau. She was contacted by a member of the governor's staff several weeks ago and asked if she might be interested in serving on the commission.

The governor's office indicated that "my background in sales, marketing and investments was one of the reasons they were considering me for the position," Mrs. Limbaugh said.

"I really appreciate the confidence the governor has put in me, and I am looking forward to serving," she added. "I'm new at this and plan to work with other members of the commission to have a successful lottery."

Mrs. Limbaugh is joining the commission at a time when it will be implementing changes approved by voters to keep the lottery financially solid in the years ahead.

In December, Mrs. Limbaugh will be concluding a three-year term on the Missouri Council on Women's Economic Development and Training, which Ashcroft named her to.

She is a member of the Chamber of Commerce board of directors, a member of the SEMO University Foundation board, the Southeast Missouri Hospital Foundation board, a past president of Zonta, a charter member of the Cape County Junior Service League and a member of Centenary United Methodist Church.

She also serves on Secretary of State Roy Blunt's securities advisory panel and on the board of directors of the Missouri Mansion Preservation, Inc.

Marsha Limbaugh and her husband, Circuit Judge Stephen N. Limbaugh Jr. have two sons, Stephen III, age 5, and Christopher, age 4.

Museum to sponsor homes tour teaching, lives in Del Rio with his wife and 10-year-old daughter.

Study Club celebrates Thanksgiving

The Pandale Study Club met at noon on Thursday, Nov. 3, at the home of Josephine and Henry Mills Jr.

A traditional Thanksgiving dinner, prepared by club members, was served to husbands, family members and guests. Carl Rolfs, former minister of First United Methodist Church of Del Rio and presently minister of First United Methodist Church of San Angelo, presented the program after dinner. Carl is a great favorite at Pandale, and this was his third Thanksgiving program for the club.

Using the Thanksgiving hymns "We Gather Together", "Come Ye Thankful People, Come", "O God,

Our Help In Ages Past", and "Now Thank We All Our God", Mr. Rolfs told the history of each and provided the piano accompaniment for the group singing the hymns.

Reminding his listeners of the many reasons for giving thanks to God, Carl's program was most timely, and, combined with his wit and genial manner, made for a delightful afternoon.

Joining the Pandale folk from Del Rio, Ozona, Juno and San Angelo, 43 people enjoyed the meal, program and fellowship.

Facts Every Family Should Know

By
CROCKETT FUNERAL HOME

The prospect of death both teases and frustrates our sense of futurity. Death is that point in time when our personal time ceases. Who could be curious about anything, and not be curious about death? The why - where - when - how draws our thoughts forward - although an instant of such thought may suffice to send us reeling backward in confusion and disarray. Even the most ardent non-facer of death must peek around the corner occasionally to assure himself that what "really isn't there" still isn't there.

Pre-arrangement of our own funeral can sometimes help ease the fear. At least we have the comfort that our wishes will be known and carried out, that family and friends left behind will have a little less of a burden because the inevitable was planned for ahead of time.

QUESTION:

Exactly what is funeral pre-arrangement?

It is, quite simply the planning of a funeral before it is needed. Funerals can be pre-arranged for oneself and all family members.

QUESTION:

If I pre-arrange my funeral, do I have to pay for it?

No. Wishes and requests for the funeral service, as well as information pertaining to the historical, financial, and legal affairs of a person can be simply written down and left at the funeral home of choice or with a family member. Do not leave them in a safety deposit box that might not be able to be reached on a weekend, holiday, or after bank hours.

QUESTION:

What are the benefits of paying for my funeral ahead of time?

When a pre-arrangement contract is purchased from a funeral home the costs are frozen at today's lower prices. The expense can be paid for over a long period of time in monthly installments, only the unpaid balance would be due should death occur. When you prepay for your funeral the price you determine is clearly stated to prevent emotion from causing an expensive mistake.

QUESTION:

How do I know that the money I give a funeral home will be safe should something happen to the funeral home?

Pre-need funeral contracts are governed by the Texas Department of Banking. By law the money is placed with a licensed insurance company or in a trust fund established at a bank or savings and loan. The money is not arbitrarily available to the funeral home and is safe from tampering and bankruptcies.

As with all contracts that involve a substantial amount of money, read your contract carefully and be sure you use a duly licensed company.

We, at Crockett Funeral Home, would be happy to answer any other questions you might have about pre-arrangement of your funeral wishes. All information is available by simply contacting us by mail, phone, or in person. Crockett Funeral Home, 701 9th St., Box 1901, Ozona, Texas 76943. 392-3202. Pd. Advertisement

On Saturday, Nov. 12, the Fort Stockton Silhouette Shooters and the Comanche Springs Pistol and Rifle Club will combine efforts to produce a turkey shoot. The event will be held at the Pecos County Pistol Range two miles east of Fort Stockton.

There will be events for everyone in the family: .22 rifle (scoped and unscoped), .22 pistol, big bore rifle, big bore pistol and poker for those willing to try their luck.

For the grand finale, there will be the Border Patrol shuffle.

The shoot begins at 10 a.m. and there will be concessions available.

Lost Maples show fall splendor

After several subpar years, the famous bigtooth maple trees and Lost Maples State Natural Area are expected to return to their past glory this November.

Texas Parks and Wildlife Department officials said climatic conditions this year apparently have been favorable for the trees, as the leaves reach their peak of color during the first two weeks of November.

The 1,280-acre natural area has been developed only minimally to enhance the natural beauty of the surroundings. One camping area offers 30 sites, and primitive camping is allowed on a limited basis.

Heavy weekend traffic at the area has prompted TPWD officials to recommend that trips to the popular park be made during weekdays whenever possible.

Day use parking is limited to only 250 vehicles, so weekend traffic may be restricted to driving through the main park road, officials said. Only persons with reservations for camping have a guaranteed parking place in the park.

Lost Maples is habitat for endangered golden-cheeked warblers and black-capped vireos. Also, the Sabinal River in the park is a genetic refuge for Guadalupe bass. Fishing for the species is allowed on a catch-and-release basis only.

Lost Maples is located four miles north of Vanderpool on Ranch Road 187. For further information, call the area at 512-966-3413.

Hagelstein serves as queen

Ashley Hagelstein, daughter of Rick and Thomasue Hagelstein of Woodway, was chosen the 1988 Waco Christian School Homecoming Queen.

Escorted by her father, Ashley was crowned Saturday night, Oct. 16, at halftime at Midway Jr. High football field.

While at W.C.S., Ashley has also been named Valentine Sweetheart and class favorite. She is in the National Honor Society and currently serves as co-captain of the varsity basketball team and the varsity cheerleaders. She was also chosen as an Outstanding High School Student of America.

Ashley plans to attend Abilene Christian University.

Museum to offer gift books

Several new books from the University of Texas Press have arrived at Crockett County Museum just in time for Christmas giving.

"We have several new copies of J. Frank Dobie books," said Geniece Childress, museum director. Tales of Old-Time Texas is a heartwarming array of 28 stories filled with vivid characters, exciting historical episodes and traditional themes. Apache Gold and Yaque Silver is a classic of Southwestern legend and lore. This book explores the mysterious and alluring sagas of lost mines and high adventure. For the reader, the treasure is here - Dobie's tales are pure gold.

Coronado's Children was one of J. Frank Dobie's first books and the one that helped gain him national prominence as a folklorist. In it he recounts the tales and legends of those hearty souls who searched for buried treasure in the southwest following the footsteps of that earlier gold seeker, the Spaniard Coronado.

The Raven by Marquis James is the best book written on the life of Sam Houston, said Mrs. Childress. A tale of heroism and adventure, even the name is mythological, yet soberly authentic. This is the stuff of which legends are made, this story of the making of Texas and Sam Houston.

Recollections of Early Texas is the memoirs of John Holland Jenkins edited by John Holmes Jenkins III. This is a firsthand account by one who measured up to the demands of danger and hardships and lived to write about it for others.

The Texas Republic, written by William Ransom Hogan, is the first social history of the Republic of Texas. Originally published in 1946, it has become recognized as one of the outstanding works in the field of Texas history.

Walter Prescott Webb, one of the great American historians of all times, wrote The Texas Rangers. This book was developed from Webb's own experience with the Texas Rangers and stories they told. These were a small group of men destined to become a model for law enforcement agencies throughout the nation.

Collecting the West by Richard H. Saunders presents all the works in the C. R. Smith Collection of Western American Art with 74 color and 76 black and white illustrations.

FROM THE BOOKSHELF
by T.C. Tucker

November 22 marks the 25th anniversary of John F. Kennedy's death which has become permanently imbedded in our history, an incident marked by many as the beginning of the end for America.

Many have tried to describe the story behind the man who suddenly gave not only America, but the world as well, new spirit when he became the "young" president. Confident of real progress, people followed JFK into the "New Frontier", answering only to the good times and positive sayings.

Not until after his death did people start to ask questions and dark rumors evolved, tainting the once perfect Camelot as JFK's reign has come to be called.

LIFE, the magazine packed with memorable photographs, says little one way or the other; instead, they let the pictures do the talking. Their book, LIFE in Camelot, issued to coincide with the anniversary, contains over 500 photographs depicting JFK, both formal and personal.

Following an explanatory introduction, the book begins with the Kennedy heritage then works its way into politics, Jackie, presidential campaign, the White House, and ending in death and departure. Text runs throughout the book, but the photos, more compelling than words, paint the picture. Kennedy himself realized this early in his life and eagerly used photo-happy reporters. LIFE's in particular, to his advantage.

And that is how he will best be remembered: through pictures. LIFE in Camelot closes with the same pics that ended the JFK memorial edition of LIFE following the assassination. Next to a photograph of JFK walking toward the horizon is another with his saluting farewell toward his father's coffin. Here, LIFE's final caption comes through loud and clear:

In this retelling of Camelot so many years later, it still seems fitting to let these two pictures close the story. This is how it was, you can tell your children, and your children's children. And tell them too, that, ever since, nothing has quite been the same.

Want action, sex, fast cars, greed and unforgettable characters? Webster's Ninth New Collegiate Dictionary has it all and whole lot more. No, you don't have to be a college student to use it; in fact, this particular dictionary is perfect for the average household for times when a new, unknown word is encountered. A perfect compromise between wimpy editions that lack every word you're hunting and unabridged monsters that have to be moved by cranes, Webster's costs only $16.95 and can pass for a doorstop when not in use.

graphy fall contest featuring oil rigs and windmills. Last year Randi was awarded best of show at the San Angelo Stockshow and Rodeo arts and crafts show for a photograph of her cat.

Randi is a freshman student at Angelo State University. An undecided major, she is leaning toward the study of photography. Her course work next semester includes a class in color photography. Her interest in photography began in junior high with photographing 4-H activities. During high school, she was employed for four years by Sandra Childress at Cameras Two. Currently, Randi is a photographer for the ASU Ram Page. She is also on the yearbook staff at ASU. Randi is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Thompson.

A Great American Tale was shown Tuesday afternoon. Residents enjoyed the video immensely. We would like to thank Jo Davidson for sharing the video with us.

Ruth Hester had her hands full in Wednesday morning's ceramic workshop giving just the right instructions to each resident concerning the piece they were working on. Techniques used ranged from dry brushing to plain glazing. Thank you, Ruth. Residents attending were Theo Burns, Hazel McDaniel, Moriamia Perez, Consuelo Sarabia, Juana Hernandez and Tomasa Ramos.

Wednesday afternoon was spent finishing up craft projects that were on display at the arts and crafts fair.

Vivian Hughes and Joann Williamson were back with us Thursday afternoon to style hair along with other volunteers Audrey Smith, Lola Rios and newcomer Jody Miller. We were glad to welcome Jody, and we hope to see her often. We would like to thank all the ladies for boosting our morale.

The Spanish Hour of Praise with Rev. Bill Du Buisson of Our Lady of Perpetual Help Catholic Church and a Bible lesson presented by Jim Gray of First Baptist Church were Thursday afternoon's scheduled activities. David McCarley led the singing for the mid-week Bible study. We would like to say thank you to both groups. We look forward to their weekly visits.

Cubs shut out Hawks

STOCKMAN SPORTS
by Clint Landon

Ozona's 8th Grade Cubs, fired up and ready to play, hit the field Nov. 3 determined to win their last game of the season. Matt Marshall's pass to Eric Sanchez started the game off right. Sanchez had soon run the ball 40 yards for the first score of the game. A minute and 30 seconds into the first quarter, the Cubs were leading by 6 points. A few short seconds later, Sanchez slipped into the end zone again for a successful 2-point conversion.

Even though the Cubs allowed the Hawks to have the ball, that was all they would let them have. Joe Mendoza, along with the rest of the 8th grade defense, held the Hawks, forcing them into a punting situation.

When the Cubs took over the ball at the beginning of the second quarter, they decided it was time for another touchdown. Jason Yeager carried the ball, working it back and forth across the field, getting closer and closer to the goal line. Only a minute and 30 seconds into the second quarter, Marshall gave the ball to Yeager, who successfully pushed his way into the end zone. The Cubs now were leading the Wall Hawks 14 to 0.

Again the Hawks got the ball - and again the Cubs refused to allow them any gains. The Hawks were once again forced to punt the football back to the Cubs.

The Cubs were playing good, and it showed. Seconds before halftime, Leroy Martinez was handed the football, and quick as lightning he was downfield for 31 yards and another Cub score. Ozona's 8th Grade Cubs went into half-time leading the Hawks 20 to 0.

Wall started the third quarter with the ball, but couldn't seem to make much headway against the Cub defense. The one time they were within reach of a first down, Cub Leroy Martinez broke through the line and sacked the Hawk quarterback.

Two minutes and 44 seconds into the third quarter, Yeager returned the punt, giving the Cubs the ball on their own 20-yard line. Chad Upham took the hand-off from Marshall and pushed his way into the end zone, adding another 6 points to the Cub side of the scoreboard.

The Hawks received the ball with two minutes, 43 seconds left in the ball game, hoping for one more chance at a touchdown. But the fired-up 8th Grade Cubs refused. The Cubs had come onto the field feeling like winners and never lost that feeling all night. When the final whistle blew, Ozona's 8th Grade Cubs had shut-out the Wall Hawks with a score of 26 to 0.

Their victory over the Hawks finished the Cubs' seven game season. Even though they had a 5-2 season record, the 8th Grade Cubs played hard and will be an exciting team to watch in the coming years.

Prayer

By Rev. Connie Marroquin
Church of God of Prophecy

"If my people, which are called by my name, shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven and will forgive their sins, and will heal their land."
2 Chronicles 7:14

When we humble ourselves before the Lord and become quiet before Him, we feel His hand laid upon our heads, and His spirit flowing through us, healing and touching our being. Waiting before Him, we feel that. When we look to Him for guidance, His gentle touch leads the way.

When in mental, physical or spiritual weakness, we cry to Him. His healing comes, his touch bringing strength, the power to climb and move on for God. When we faint by the way and stumbling footsteps show human strength is waning, then His strong and helping hand supports us on the way.

His touch is yesterday, today and forever. The forever power is promised to us so that we might go forward into today and tomorrow bravely and unafraid. These promises are obtained through prayer. God bless you is my prayer.

Junior high ends with winning seasons

STOCKMAN SPORTS by Clint Landon

Ozona's 7th and 8th Grade Cubes finished up their 1988 football season with two successful victories over the Wall Hawks Nov. 3 in Lion Stadium.

The 7th Grade Cub offense started the game with determination and a strong downfield drive. Sammy Hinostrza and Ryan Morris worked the ball back and forth between them to set the Cubs up for their first touchdown.

With three minutes and 47 seconds left in the first quarter, Michael Fay ran the ball 31 yards into the end zone and put Ozona's first six points on the scoreboard. Shortly afterward, Fay handed off to Hinostrza who ran the two point conversion and put the Cubs ahead 8 to 0.

Unfortunately, the Wall Hawks refused to be grounded. With only a little more than two minutes left in the first quarter, the Hawks took the ball into Cub territory and soon added their own 8 points to the scoreboard.

When play continued after half-time, the Hawks started with the football, but not for long. The quick recovery of a Hawk fumble by Daniel Caldera put the Cubs in good field position again. Fay and Morris tried to get around the tough Hawk defense for a first down.

minute and 10 seconds left in the third quarter; a Hawk player broke loose and headed for the end zone. But Cub Bart Grimes refused to give up. Only a few short steps from the end zone, Grimes made a flying tackle bringing down the Hawk runner and keeping the score tied 8 to 8.

When play began in the fourth quarter, the Cubs knew they had to get down to some serious playing and break the tie. Unfortunately, the Wall Hawks were thinking the same thing, and before long had the ball back and scored another touchdown. The Hawks now led the Cubs by 6 points.

The 7th Grade Cubs returned the kick and fought hard, but couldn't seem to make any headway against the Hawk defense. Soon, with very little yardage gained and only four and one-half minutes left to play in the fourth quarter, the Cubs were forced to punt the ball away.

But the scrappy Cubs refused to quit. With the Hawks in possession on first down, Fay intercepted a Hawk pass and started the Cubs on their way for the game-winning touchdown.

With two minutes 30 seconds left to play, Fay and Hinostrza had pushed the Cubs 35 yards downfield to put the Cubs on first and goal. Fay kept the ball and threaded his way into the end zone, tying up the score again.

But the Cubs refused to settle for a tie. Fay handed off to Hinostrza who side-stepped his way into the end zone and put the Cubs in the lead by 2 points.

Once again as they have done game after game this year, the strong Cub defense held the other team. Julian Sifuentes, Grimes and Caldera headed up the tough defensive line and refused to allow the Hawk offense any more action that night.

Ozona's 7th Grade Cubs ended their seven game season with five wins and two losses. They played hard and tough and showed improvement with each game.

WTU puts lower rates into effect

Customers of West Texas Utilities Co. will see approximately a 12.5 percent drop in their rates beginning in November. The reduction is the result of using the lower winter rates, which will be in effect six months. Using higher summer and lower winter rates is part of the States' plan to encourage energy conservation during the summer when air conditioning creates the peak demand on electricity use.

According to WTU local manager Stephen Williams, "a residential customer using 476 kilowatt hours of electricity a month, the average for November 1987, will see his bill go from $43.53 to $38.02." Other customer groups will see similar reductions, Williams said. Since mild fall weather has reduced many customers' cooling and heating use, the actual decrease in the electric bill from September when average use was 906 KWH to November will probably be around 50 percent. That decrease includes the combined impact of lower winter rates and lower use resulting from mild weather. The actual size of a customer's bill is determined by their use.

According to the local manager, the electric company is still waiting for final approval from the Public Utility Commission regarding a request to change the fuel portion of the bill. Fuel is used at power plants to make electricity.

Although the average cost of fuel on the company's many fuel contracts has not changed significantly, WTU faces a December expiration of a very low cost 20-year gas contract at one of its nine power stations. That was for gas at pre-oil embargo prices of 22 cents per mmbtu and has saved customers $350 million. It must be replaced with gas at today's prices which are almost $2 per mmbtu.

Paying for this replacement gas will mean customers using 476 kilowatt hours of electricity will see an increase of approximately $2.95 on the January bill if the PUC completes its review and approval process by then.

The local manager added that since 1985 WTU has lowered the fuel portion of the bill -- called the fuel factor -- five times, and had six refunds totaling almost $50 million as the result of other fuel contract changes.

Lady Lions begin basketball

Though football just ended here in Ozona, basketballs have been hitting the floor and flying through the hoop for the past three weeks as the Lady Lions' basketball program prepares for the '88-'89 season under the leadership of new head coach Frank Hughey.

"The girls have responded well to the new format," he noted. "They've done pretty good so far." Forty-seven players cover the squad from 9th to 12th grades. "We'll carry 11 on the varsity, 23 on the JV and 13 on the freshman team."

The girls have already scrimmaged twice; against Junction a week ago and Sonora this recent Tuesday.

"We handled Junction well, especially our half-court offense and defense, but we need to control the press more."

The Lady Lions open their season again Christoval next Tuesday, Nov. 15, in Ozona. Coach Hughey sees a see-saw road ahead.

"Early in the season, a team adapting to a new coaching style will go up and down. Right now, we're concentrating not on who we play, but on ourselves and what type of game we play."

I think the word "forward" has finally been defined.

Congratulations go out to cross country state-qualifiers Luis Rico and Maria Sanchez who placed eighth and tenth respectively at the regional meet in Lubbock this past weekend. The state meet will be held this Saturday at Georgetown.

Further congratulations for the Lion football team who ended their season with a 29-14 victory over Wall last Friday. The boys and Coach Don Payne and his staff should be commended for their 5-4-1 record. Sporting one of its best teams in some time, the Lions may not have made the playoffs, but their record and efforts speak for themselves.

George Ybarra #22 bulldogs his way past a Wall defender for a 10 yard gain during the Ozona-Wall game Friday night. The Lions defeated the Hawks 29-14 in their final game of the season.

Fall spraying controls pests

Fall is often the time when fruit tree care is forgotten or neglected, but it's a critical time for controlling many peach and plum tree diseases to ensure a good crop next year.

With the arrival of fall, there's often a tendency to forget our peach and plum trees that served us so well last summer, said Billy Reagor, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The agent said that applying a copper fungicide now can stop or reduce three of the diseases that attack peach and plum trees in Texas. These are peach leaf curl, bacterial leaf spot and bacterial canker.

Puckered and distorted peach tree leaves that were either bright red or light green in diseased areas last spring were due to peach leaf curl fungus. The only time to effectively control this disease is in the fall with a copper-containing fungicide. Timing of the fall spray is critical for effective control and for avoiding tree damage. Copper is a metal and may cause severe defoliation unless applied correctly.

He advises spraying when 70 percent of the leaves fall off the tree. Spraying too early will cause leaf shed or cause the spray to be ineffective later.

Fungicides containing chlorothalonil can also be used for the control of peach leaf curl.

Bacterial leaf spot and bacterial canker can be partially controlled by fall spraying with a copper fungicide, but not fungicides containing chlorothalonil, Reagor said. But again, it's important to spray at the right time to prevent foliar burn with the copper fungicide.

Bacterial leaf spot affects both fruit and foliage. The infection causes fruit to crack and leaves develop angular spots which drop out. Bacterial canker will kill trees slowly. Infected trees will have gum or wax forming on the main trunk and main limbs.

Fall spray in Crockett County should be applied Nov. 1 - Dec. 1. Application time will vary with the season, so check your fruit trees closely.

Fall spraying is important to the health and production of fruit trees because there's no other time when peach leaf curl of peach and plum trees can be controlled.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Miller had their niece, Rebecca Robbins Carlson of Grapevine, as their house guest over the weekend.

Mrs. Beverly Kimble and daughters Erika and Stephanie of Odessa and Coy, Allison and Ashlee Worley of Midland were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Al Bailey and Ruben Whitehead. Mrs. Kimble assisted her mother with a booth at the Crockett County Crafts Guild fall fair.

Crockett County Public Library
by Louise Ledoux

This is the last in a series of library services. Crockett County Public Library offers various services to the citizens of Crockett County. Many of these services are provided through our membership in the Big Country Library System of Texas. One such service is the Adult Literacy Program.

There are 27 million adults in the USA who cannot read or write; there are 40 million who have insufficient skills to fill out a job application. Many of these adults are right here in Ozona! A Laubach Literacy International Program has been in operation in Ozona since 1986 under the direction of volunteer Joan Nicholas. This program teams volunteer tutors with students using the Laubach method to teach reading and writing. The LLI program is sponsored and funded by the BCLS through the public library. Since the passage of the Immigration Reform and Control Act, Mrs. Nicholas has been flooded with requests to join her literacy classes. These people have to be able to read, write and speak English to become U.S. citizens. Mrs. Nicholas is in desperate need of tutors for these students.

Please consider volunteering a little of your time and ability for this program. No teaching degree is necessary, only one of caring. All materials, student and teacher books, etc. are provided. Mrs. Nicholas and her volunteer tutors have made a wonderful beginning in wiping out adult illiteracy in our community. But, for the program to reach all the students who are wanting to learn, we need your help! Please come by the library or call Mrs. Nicholas at 392-3265 and pledge your support today. It could be the most fulfilling thing you have ever done!

Gold Star 4-H'er Tammy Arrott receives a plaque from WTU representative Bill Tedder of Abilene at the district awards banquet.

Bill Tedder, WTU representative, presents award to Cody Sutton, Gold Star winner.

Gold Star boy, girl honored at district banquet in El Paso

Tammy Arrott and Cody Sutton were among the honorees at the 1988 District 4-H Gold Star Awards Banquet in El Paso Nov. 5. Having previously been named winners of the highest county 4-H Club achievement award in Crockett County, these local 4-H'ers were among Gold Star winners from 22 other counties in the district.

Sponsored by West Texas Utilities Company, TU Electric, Texas-New Mexico Power Company, El Paso Electric Company and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the district program annually recognizes the outstanding 4-H Club members in each county. Recipients of the Gold Star Award must have demonstrated outstanding leadership development and successfully completed a project related to agriculture, home economics or personal development.

The recognition program was conducted by members of the District VI Council. John Williams, public relations officer, gave the invocation.

Accompanying the local winners to the award banquet were Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Arrott, Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Sutton, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Williams and Mr. and Mrs. Billy Reagan.

Sims to sponsor internships

State Senator Bill Sims of San Angelo will sponsor the internship program once again this next session. The program will be for the 71st Legislative session which starts Jan. 10, 1989 and ends May 29, 1989.

"This session promises to be very interesting," says Senator Sims. "I will be able to handle more interns this year, so I am looking forward to having even more of my constituents involved in the legislative process through the 25th district."

Gary C. Gilmer, Rocksprings attorney, said, "I regret that I could only spend two days as an intern, but I enjoyed the experience very much during the time I was there."

Another intern from Sen. Sims' district was Wanda Garner Cash, the city editor at the Kerrville Daily Times. Mrs. Dash commented that "watching Texas government at work up close was one of the most eye-opening experiences in my career as a reporter."

Because of limited space in the senator's office, internships are restricted to residents of the 25th Senatorial District which includes the following counties: Bandera, northern part of Bexar, Blanco, Brewster, Coke, part of Comal, Crane, Crockett, Culberson, Edwards, part of El Paso, Gillespie, Glasscock, Hudspeth, Irion, Jeff Davis, Kendall, Kerr, Kimble, Loving, Mason, Medina, Menard, Midland, Pecos, Presidio, Reagan, Real, Reeves, Schleicher, Sterling, Sutton, Terrell, Tom Green, Upton, Val Verde, Ward and Winkler counties.

Residents of the 25th Senatorial District who are interested in working a few days during the legislative session may call Ms. Sharon Allen, (512) 463-0125 or write to her in care of Senator Sims' office, P. O. Box 12068, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas 78711.

If you are not sure whether or not you are from Senator Sims' district, give the office a call and this will be clarified for you.

Expression can relieve stress

Sometimes we repress our feelings to avoid family problems - but this can often lead to greater problems. All families experience stress, in varying degrees from day to day and from family member to family member. Stress can range from small, seemingly insignificant but aggravating events (like someone forgetting to run the dishwasher or unplug their curling iron) to major trauma like the death of a close relative or friend.

Even small children are affected by stress - and they need to express themselves as much as do adults and older siblings.

What can a family do to minimize stress but still relieve their feelings about stressful events? There are a number of simple activities a family can do together, even with very young children in the family. For instance:

Make a collage of feelings. Assemble the family around the kitchen table with paper, crayons and markers. Everyone draws pictures of happy, sad, angry and fearful faces, then each person selects a face that reflects the way they feel and tells why.

Do you see what I see? Use a "family togetherness time" to role-play the way people express their emotions. Each person selects one emotion and acts it out, then the other family members describe what they see. Children learn to look for "clues" of emotions expressed by family members and the reasons behind those emotions. Encourage children to talk about their feelings.

Speak in pastels. In every family there are times when the volume level is pretty high. Suggest that family members "speak in pastels". What's a pastel? It's a pleasing soft color - not harsh or too bright. Help family members understand that speaking in moderate, firm tones can help people understand each other much more effectively than yelling.

Healthy emotional expression doesn't just happen - in strong families, parents help children learn how to express their feelings without hurting other people or things.

For more information on helping young children express their feelings and on dealing with stress, contact the Crockett County Extension Office at 392-2721.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages, regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion, national origin or handicap.

Boys Ranch receives gifts

"Ask and you shall receive" is a well-worn adage, but sometimes, if you ask the right people in the right way, you will receive what you ask for.

West Texas Boys Ranch has been in operation for more than 40 years and all during that time has been entirely supported by the free will donations of the public. Most people make donations of money, but others are a little more creative.

When we asked for a small, economy car in a recent issue of The Ranch Hand, the Boys Ranch newspaper, George Brockman read it and responded.

Within the week, Mr. Brockman, of Sonora, drove up the driveway of the Ranch office with a 1982 Volkswagen Rabbit sedan and handed over the keys.

"I considered giving the Mercedes, but you did ask for an economy car," said Brockman. "Besides, my wife did have some say so in the matter."

The article stated a need for an economy car for making doctor's runs into town, as well as picking up boys after school when their is only one or two boys involved. This saves using our big vans for these runs.

"The Ranch is about 17 miles from town, and the miles add up in a hurry when you have over forty boys to pick up from school, get to ball practice, or other activities," noted Boys Ranch Executive Director, Dave Gottshall. "We've put well over 200,000 miles on cars and vans going back and forth over that 17 miles."

Not everyone is in a position to give something as big as a car, but other requests have touched a chord in some of our donors. In an earlier Ranch Hand, we asked for replacement hymnals for our chapel. To date, that request has brought in over 70 hymnals, most of them dedicated to the memory of a loved one. A dedication ceremony is scheduled at the Boys Ranch Chapel on November 20.

We also asked for and have received quite a few of the "West Texas Bucks" that are being used in a local buy West Texas first campaign. These "bucks" will spend like money during a special auction early next year.

We also mentioned in the Ranch Hand a need for some golf equipment for some of the boys at the Ranch who were learning to play the game. This time it was a company, Nathan's Jeweler's of San Angelo, who stepped in, providing two complete sets of clubs, bags, balls and miscellaneous golf supplies. Nathan's Manager, George Bundren, brought the shiny golf clubs over, and even stayed to watch a couple of the boys try them out at the local golf course.

It has taken donations of all sorts to care for the over 1,200 boys who have called Boys Ranch home since 1947, and the donation doesn't always have to be cash.

Small things

by Sandra Hancock Stark

For the sunshine on an autumn morn
Though frosty the air may be.
For the willow bending close to Earth
Poised on the brink of Eternity.

For lilac's essence, sweet with wonder;
For raindrops; for diamond dew;
For calm present before each storm;
For a sweethearts love so true.

For rivers running freely
Through forests ---crossing plains.
For sun, for moon, for love we share
Now and again and again.

How small these things seem to be,
Yet, how great ---how great they are.
We thank you, God, for all these gifts.
We utter a sincere prayer.

Ozona Lion mascot Stacy Lay was joined at the ballgame by McGruff, the Crime Dog, during Red Ribbon Week in Ozona schools. Sponsored by the Just Say No Club of OJHS, the week was filled with activities designed to bring an anti-drug message to students and the community as a whole.

Three reasons why this Veterans Day is special

With the 11th day of the 11th month approaching, it is time to look at three special developments our veterans can celebrate on this year's national holiday in their honor.

In its final days before adjournment, the 100th Congress handed a triple victory to America's 27.4 million veterans, more than 73,000 of whom live in communities I represent.

After enacting legislation to create a Cabinet department for veterans affairs, we gave final passage to other measures that will improve benefits and set up a new federal court where veterans can appeal denials of those benefits.

The most symbolic of these measures is the one that will transform the Veterans Administration into the 14th Cabinet-level agency next March, when it will be renamed the Department of Veterans Affairs and its director will become a Cabinet secretary.

"All of those who have served in America's uniform deserve the nation's thanks," President Reagan said as he signed the bill.

"This bill gives those who have

Washington Update

By Congressman Lamar Smith

borne America's battles, who defended the borders of freedom, who protected our nation's security in war and peace, it gives them what they have deserved for so long—a seat at the table of our national affairs."

In addition to serving all veterans, the V.A. now serves 49 million dependents or survivors with a budget of $30 billion. It will disburse $14 billion in pensions and $626 million for educational assistance this year.

The second veterans bill passed last month will make some important changes to the education and home loan programs of the so-called Montgomery GI Bill, which covers those who entered the service after July 1985.

Besides allowing a second opportunity for enrollment in the program, the bill also authorizes refunds to certain survivors of veterans who did not use all their benefits before their death.

But perhaps the most important of the three new laws is the Veterans Judicial Review Act.

Bills giving veterans their day in federal court had been stalled on Capitol Hill for more than a decade.

A compromise version was finally approved as part of the same legislation that will create a 4.1 percent cost of living adjustment for veterans on December 1—a COLA in line with that for Social Security recipients.

Under the measure, a special seven-member federal court will be created to review contested decisions by the Board of Veterans Appeals.

This new court would have power to decide all factual, legal and constitutional questions on claims for benefits. And many questions could be appealed to the higher federal courts.

Feelings about V.A. judicial review are controversial and emotional. Many say leave the system alone. Many say turn the whole thing over to the federal courts. I believe the compromise bill passed by the House strikes the proper balance.

And, coupled with its new cabinet level status, the judicial review law should tighten the V.A.'s accountability.

At a time when the V.A. is being increasingly criticized for its administration of medical care, home loan and compensation programs nationwide, giving veterans a seat at the table of national affairs will give them both the added status—and the added responsibilities—they deserve.

I want to take this opportunity to thank all the people of Precinct 2 that supported and voted for me. I will try to represent each of you to the best of my ability in all county matters.
