Lions ready for bi-district play To face Marfa Friday in Crane

by T. C. Tucker
STOCKMAN SPORTS

Despite lacking two starters, the Ozona Lions beat Fredericksburg Saturday, Feb. 18, in preparation for their bi-district confrontation with Marfa this Friday.

"We had a good game," Coach John Curry said of the warm-up game. "We shot well and played pretty good half-court defense."

The 3A Fredericksburg took the early lead, though it amounted to only a one-point difference at the end of the opening quarter. The two teams each scored 12 points in the second quarter to maintain the margin at halftime.

The third period proved Ozona's best as they capitalized in both shooting and defensive areas, scoring 16 points to Fredericksburg's eight. The fourth quarter saw things even out again, but the Lions' earlier spurt gave them the necessary edge to win 59-53.

"We played with a lot of poise," Coach Curry noted. "It was a good confidence builder for us."

Leading Lion scorers included

Wooten to compete in teen pageant

Christi Wooten of Ozona will join other area girls as a contestant in the Miss West Texas National Teenager Pageant.

Winner of the April 28-29 pageant in Midland will receive a $500 U.S. savings bond, crown, trophy and banner. She will compete in the Texas State Pageant in Fort Worth, a preliminary to the national pageant scheduled for August in Florida.

Christi, a 14-year-old freshman at Ozona High School, recently transferred here from the Rankin school system. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Wooten.

The honor roll student was nominated to Who's Who Among American High School Students, was a member of the band and 4-H Club in Rankin. She participates in Acteens, band and track in Ozona.

Oscar Galindo, Lalo Rodriguez and George Ybarra who scored 20, 18 and 15 respectively.

Curry also pointed out the contribution made by those moved up from the junior varsity level. "Michael Ybarra, Danny DeHoyos, Lonnie Martinez and Ruben Borrego have become a part of our regular team."

The Lions lacked two of their regulars at Saturday's game. Involved in a motorcycle accident, Robby Tambunga will miss the remainder of the season, while Chris Denman struggles with a plaguing ankle injury but looks to return in time for Friday's game with Marfa.

The runner-up of district 5AA, Marfa sports "a bunch of good athletes that can play both zone and man-to-man defenses."

"They like to keep their offense in motion," Curry continued, "and they have some pretty good shooters."

"We're going to have to pressure them hard to turn the ball over and make them do things they don't necessarily like to do. That will be the key to our success."

Tight defensive play has been the backbone of the Lion team this season. After an 0-6 start, their offense began to come around, and their defense improved to a stifling point.

Not until the Ozona tournament did the Lions' movements and motives begin to gel, leading to a second place showing.

Their pre-district play against such powerhouses as Brownfield and Odessa High added a defining spark to the Lions' style.

This edge led to their manhandling their first three district opponents: Big Lake, Stanton and McCamey. However, the Eagles of Eldorado stopped Ozona's streak.

The Lions bounced back against Forsan and ended the first half of district play with a 4-1 record. Eldorado's loss to Stanton set up a tie between the Eagles and Lions for the opening half.

Repeating their performance, Ozona hosted Eldorado with a chance to secure the district title. The Eagles had lost earlier to Big Lake and held a 2-1 record. Victory for the Lions meant 4-0 for them and 2-2 for Eldorado.

Yet, matters did not run accordingly as the Eagles claimed an overtime victory and tied Ozona at 3-1.

From here, the outcome seemed deja vu when the Lions again beat Forsan, Stanton did likewise to Eldorado, and Ozona tied for the second half; except, this time with Stanton.

The arrangement, though, gave Ozona the district championship and left Eldorado and Stanton tied for second.

The Lions' bi-district game will take place in Crane this Friday, Feb. 24, at 6:30 p.m. Admission is $2 for adults and $1 for students. Eldorado, runners-up to Ozona after beating Stanton in a deciding playoff game Feb. 17, will play Van Horn following the Ozona-Marfa match-up.

If the Lions prove victorious, they will play the winner between Bangs and Holly with the action probably taking place next Tuesday.

Lions' victorious bout against the Fredericksburg Billies Saturday. The Lions meet the Marfa Shorthorns in Crane for the Bi-district game Friday, Feb. 24, at 6:30.

Multi-county water district poses problems for Uvalde

by Jacquelyn Shacklette

A five-county water conservation district dominated by one big water user hasn't worked out as far as two of the counties are concerned.

The Edwards Underground Water District, which includes Uvalde, Medina, Comal, Hays and Bexar Counties, will become smaller by two counties March 1 when Uvalde and Medina Counties officially withdraw from the regional water district.

Residents of Uvalde and Medina Counties voted overwhelmingly in separate elections Jan. 21 to withdraw from the San Antonio dominated district. The election came after the water district attempted to adopt a water plan limiting agricultural use.

A public hearing will be held March 2 concerning the organization of a countywide water conservation district. County commissioners called for the hearing after a petition bearing 249 signatures of property owners was presented to the court. The petition called for a public hearing.

Two Uvalde organizations have pushed for the withdrawal from the Edwards district. Citizens for Water Rights and Uvalde County Water Conservation Association Inc. have endorsed the organization of a local water district.

The proposed local water district would have five directors nominated by the commissioners court. After the district is formed, subsequent directors would be elected.

An estimated penny per $100 valuation tax rate for the district would be required according to estimates. This is about the same rate as is presently being paid to the Edwards district.

Another proposal would have the new water district assuming septic tank controls which are being mandated by the state.

Uvalde County officials expect the state legislature to approve local efforts to form a water district.

Crockett County's proposed water conservation district will soon be placed on the state legislative agenda for approval.

CAC to give county Head Start

by Jacquelyn Shacklette

Crockett County is one of seven counties in which a Head Start program will begin in the fall of 1989 if federal funding is provided.

A Tom Green County Community Action Council Board approved the proposal to add the seven counties in January.

Funding for the expansion was requested from the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services.

"We expect to hear whether the funding request was approved in March or April," Executive Director J. D. Cortez said. A sum of $623,092 was requested.

Some confusion resulted when the San Angelo Standard-Times ran a story Jan. 27 stating $614,013 had been awarded to the CAC's Head Start programs. That money will not be used to begin new programs but will enable CAC to continue the Head Start programs already in operation.

CAC's current programs serve 255 students in San Angelo and Junction.

Cortez said the Head Start program in Ozona would serve about 30 students. The program is aimed toward children from low-income families, especially targeting those who do not speak English or who have handicaps.

"One of the biggest differences in our program and others is the dental and medical aspect," Cortez said. "We provide 100 percent dental and medical services. We screen the children in the fall for those needs."

Head Start teaches children for six hours each day, 8 a.m. to 3 p.m., Monday through Friday.

"We have a handicap program as well," Cortez said. "If we can't hire a local person to provide the services for the handicapped, we will hire someone in San Angelo to travel to Ozona to provide the necessary service."

The Ozona school system provides a pre-kindergarten program for children three hours a day.

"I've been told that the program in Ozona is good," Cortez said. "Our services are the biggest difference. The dental and medical aspect of our program is one of the biggest differences."

Ozona Community Center also offers a pre-school program for Crockett County children ages three and four. The program currently serves an average of 70 children in the morning pre-school program. An all-day child development program has also been added to the center's services.

The after school program serves children in kindergarten through grade 5. An after school tutoring program for first and second grade pupils is staffed by community volunteers.

Located adjacent to Ozona Primary School, the center has access to the speech therapist and other school services as needed. The staff and board of the center assist in a preschool screening clinic each spring.

New Head Start centers have also been proposed for Concho, Menard, Reagan, Schleicher, Sterling and Sutton Counties. Each of these would serve about 20 students except for that in Sutton County which would serve about 30.

Rains spell drought relief

by Jacquelyn Shacklette

Plentiful and very welcome rainfall went far in dispelling some of the late winter gloom being felt by local ranchers up until last Wednesday evening when more than an inch fell over the county.

Thursday dawned overcast and damp much to the delight of many Ozona residents. The rain continued throughout the day and night, putting the rain gauge markers up to as high as 5.5 inches in some parts of the county.

Dorothy Friend measured the 5.5 inches south of Ozona. Terry Gries gauged 4.25 inches southwest of Ozona near Pandale.

The Joe Pierce Ranch 25 miles south of Ozona received about 3.5 inches which was the same amount received at the Perner Ranch southwest of Ozona, according to Ginger Perner.

Town meeting to discuss detention center

The Ozona Chamber of Commerce will host a town meeting at the Civic Center Monday, Feb. 27.

A panel has been assembled to answer questions about the proposed

The amounts measured decreased somewhat as the clouds moved northward but still gave pasturelands a good drink.

The Bill Black Ranch 27 miles northwest of Ozona measured 3.36 inches.

Larry Williams and Perry Hubbard both reported 2.5 inches north of Ozona on Midway Lane.

Boyd Baker was pleased with the amount he recorded. "One more drop and we'd have had 4 inches," he said.

Rancho Bonito received 3.8 inches, according to Kathryn Mayfield.

Buddy Moore reported 3.8 inches 25 miles southeast of Ozona.

Sammy Pierce's observations summed up the rainfall for most of Crockett County's residents.

"It seemed pretty general," Sammy said. "It soaked right in. No water gaps were down."

minimum security prison facility at Crockett Heights.

The 7 p.m. meeting will be informal, and everyone is welcome to attend.

Local students bring home band ribbons

Nine Ozona band students earned seven first places and two seconds Feb. 18 at UIL District VII Solo and Ensemble Contest. The competition was held at the Angelo State University campus in San Angelo.

Members of both the high school and junior high bands prepared solos for this event to be rated against a standard of excellence.

Participants from the high school band were: Tricia Etheridge, flute solo, division II rating, and Melissa Wooten, flute solo, division I rating.

Junior high band members who participated at contest were: Leesa Haire, flute solo, division I; Martha Mayfield, clarinet solo, division I; Stacey Grendahl, french horn solo, division I; Aaron Carroll, trombone solo, division I; Robert Gentry, baritone solo, division I; Tim Wheeler, Baritone solo, division I; Keith Sessom, tuba solo, division II.

The students are under the direction of Kelly Glaze and Skip Carroll.

Accompanists for the solos were: Mrs. Barbara Burger, Mrs. Katharine Russell, Mrs. Lou Whitley and Mrs. Rosalind Williams.

The students expressed appreciation to their accompanists for the extra time and effort they spent for the contest.

Ozona band students competing in UIL solo and ensemble contest Feb. 18 in San Angelo are: front row, Martha Mayfield, Leesa Haire, Tricia Etheridge, Keith Sessom and Aaron Carroll; back row, Melissa Wooten, Stacey Grendahl, Tim Wheeler and Robert Gentry. The musicians brought home seven first places and two seconds for their efforts.

State revenue to show increase

Austin, TX - State Comptroller Bob Bullock said Tuesday that state government will have $45 billion in revenue from all sources during its 1990-91 budget period, an increase of $4.2 billion over '88-89. After deducting money earmarked by law for specific purposes and a reserve for potential losses due to current tax lawsuits, the new revenue will net out an increase of $1.6 billion available to the legislature, Bullock said. This $1.6 billion will be available even though the temporary tax increase adopted by the Legislature in '87 expire automatically August 31, 1989 as set by current law, Bullock said. "Thanks to our Texas economic recovery, the outlook is better than it has been in years," Bullock said in issuing his official revenue estimate. He pointed out that the additional $1.6 billion available to the Legislature actually represents a $3.7 billion turnaround from the time less than two years ago when the state saw its available income decline by $2.1 billion. "We have bounced back big and strong and we think the improvement will continue," Bullock said. "And our estimate would have been even larger if it had not been for the continued poor condition of the oil industry." Bullock said that any prolonged and significant decline in oil prices -- below current market ranges -- could hand the Texas economy a serious setback, as also would a national recession. Bullock's estimate foresees 1990-91 tax revenue increases of 15.7 percent in the sales tax and 13.5 percent in motor vehicle taxes. He projected much lesser increases for motor fuels taxes, oil and gas taxes and for the state's tattered corporate franchise tax which is under attack in the courts.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS
 By Lyndell Williams
 TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN-While legislators labor in obligatory hearings, some unusual happenings in Texas history are occurring:
 • The Lt. Governor and Speaker urged the demolition of the original Texas General Land Office building, now a crumbling museum in the front corner of the Capitol lawn.
 • The attorney general running for governor called for a summit meeting of top Texas bankers to resolve the lending crisis.
 • Commissioners of the State Board of Insurance and the Public Utility Commission continued to draw charges of incompetence or conflict of interest from irate senators.
 The insurance board took renewed heat for failing to act for at least six months on the insolvency of Best Lloyds Insurance Co. State insurance officials are now suing two company officials for conspiracy to defraud policyholders and creditors.
Conflict of Interest?
 Meanwhile, two of Gov. Bill Clement's appointees to the Public Utility Commission face questions from senators over whether they are too closely tied to the utilities they regulate.
 The two commissioners, Marta Greytok and William Cassin, were appointed during the interim but now face confirmation. They denied any conflict of interest. State Rep. Lloyd Criss, D-La Marque, has written senators asking them to deny confirmation of Cassin's appointment because he was long an attorney for Houston Lighting and Power Co., now waging a rate hike battle against consumer advocates and Attorney General Jim Mattox.
Mattox Back In
 Mattox was put back into the middle of rate hike battles last week when the Texas Supreme Court reversed, 5-4, its earlier ruling that Mattox had no legal right to represent state agencies as consumers.
 The vote split down party lines, except for Raul Gonzalez, who voted with the losing Republicans. The reversal was won on the vote of Franklin Spears, who voted against Mattox in the earlier decision.
 Mattox, the activist bulldog who has waded into utility rate cases and insurance industry squabbles, ventured into the banking world by calling for a summit of top state lenders to discuss the crisis facing banks and savings and loan institutions.
 Mattox, who as a congressman served on the House banking panel, faulted lawmakers for failing to address the lending crisis and leaving the industry vulnerable to federal law.
Landmark or Blemish?
 Debate over whether to renovate or demolish the 132-year-old Land Office building began when the State Preservation Board got a report detailing its poor construction and deterioration.
 Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, who sits on the board, said the $3.8 million restoration price tag is too high for a dilapidated building, which happens to sit on Capitol grounds. He plans to either abstain or point thumbs down when the final vote is taken.

 Speaker Gib Lewis will tour the building again, but said the wisest decision is to call in the bulldozers.
 Unused by the state, the crumbling structure houses museum collections of the Daughters of the Republic of Texas and the United Daughters of the Confederacy.
Briscoe Eyeing Race
 Not only is former governor Mark White exploring the prospects of running for governor in 1990, but his predecessor, Dolph Briscoe, has a former aide checking out his chances for a comeback.
 Howard Richards, who was Briscoe's general counsel, last week confirmed that he has been asking people around the Capitol what they think about Briscoe making another race. "The response has been very good," Richards said.
 Briscoe, a 65-year-old Democrat and Uvalde rancher, was governor from 1973 through 1978.

Other Highlights
 • The regents of West Texas State University in Canyon plan to prepare a report by May on the possibility of merging the school with the University of Texas or Texas A&M systems.
 • The Senate last week confirmed two of Gov. Clements' appointments to the University of Texas System Board of Regents. Former U.S. Rep. Tom Loeffler of San Antonio and Houston accountant Robert Cruikshank were confirmed, 30-0.
 • A recent poll indicated 70 percent of Texas voters believe the Legislature will raise taxes, despite the governor's pledge to veto them.
 • The same poll shows Gov. Clements still has a negative rating of about 53 percent, better than the 68 percent rating in 1987.
 • The original Goddess of Liberty statue from the Capitol dome will be moved from storage to the Texas Memorial Museum at the University of Texas.

Mrs. Hersey celebrates 95th

Mrs. Lewis G. Hersey of Rio Concho Manor in San Angelo celebrated her 95th birthday with an open house on Sunday, Jan. 29, 1989. The open house was hosted by Mrs. Hersey's family of 50 McMullans.

She was born Feb. 3, 1894, in Gordonsville, Virginia, to Mr. and Mrs. D. K. McMullan. She and her mother and older brother, the late Frank McMullan Sr. moved to Texas to join her father when she was three years old. They ranched in Val Verde County for a number of years before moving to San Angelo in 1900.

The former Lutie McMullan married Lewis G. Hersey of San Angelo in 1917. They ranch in Val Verde and Crockett Counties, making their home in Crockett County on a ranch 37 miles southwest of Big Lake for 43 years. They moved there in 1927.

Mr. Hersey died in 1964; Mrs. Hersey moved to Rio Concho Manor in San Angelo in 1970. She has one daughter, Julia Mae Grabow, and two grandchildren, Chuck Guiditas and Tempie Brooks; and one great-grandchild, Chris Sharp, all of Houston.

children, two who died in infancy. She has one living sister, Mrs. Artamysse Watts of Midland.

Mrs. Hersey is still active in Rio Concho Manor activities. She is noted for her needlework and for playing bridge several days a week. Her needlework items from the past 50 years were on display for her open house. The items were brought by nieces and nephews and their families.

One of her favorite moments during her birthday time is always receiving birthday greetings from the President of the United States.

Mrs. Hersey was honored with an open house in the recreation room of Rio Concho Manor on Sunday afternoon, Jan. 29, from 2 until 5 p.m. The McMullan nieces and nephews and their families, along with Mrs. Watts and sisters-in-law, Mrs. Floyd McMullan of Big Lake and Mrs. D. K. McMullan of Midland, hosted the special event.

Special guests were Mrs. Hersey's first cousins, Mrs. Polly Moore and her husband, Bill Moore, of Staunton, Virginia, and "Hop" Baughan and his wife, Liz, of Luray, Virginia, who came just for the party and to spend several days in San Angelo with Mrs. Hersey. Other special guests were the Wiley family of Fort Worth, longtime friends of the family (Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Wiley and children and their families.)

Other guests were from Midland, San Angelo, Water Valley, Austin, Iraan, Big Lake, Ozona, Bronte, San Antonio, Bandera, Sonora, Gail, Rankin and Edmond, Oklahoma.

Hosing the event were: Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie McMullan, Mr. and Mrs. Kenney McMullan and Mrs. Floyd McMullan of Big Lake, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Kelly and Mr. and Mrs. Dean McMullan of Iraan, Mr. and Mrs. David McMullan of Bronte, Dr. and Mrs. Jimmie McMullan of San Antonio, Mr. and Mrs. Joe McMullan of Bandera, Mr. and Mrs. Frank McMullan Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Cliff McMullan and Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Stewart of Ozona, Mr. and Mrs. James "Doc" Dodson, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Jackson, Mrs. D. K. McMullan and Mrs. Allen (Artamysse) Watts of Midland, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bob Ragsdale of Sonora, and hosting in absentia, Ronnie McMullan of Helotis and Mr. and Mrs. Kit Pettigrew of Clovis, New Mexico.

Myrtle Post Garden Club begins new year

The first meeting of the Myrtle Post Garden Club was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Hignight on the evening of Feb. 13.

Club programs and activities for this year will be centered, for the most part, on horticulture. Instead of flower designs each month, a member will bring a houseplant or plant specimen that is named and a brief description of its care as to water, light and soil along with pest problems and remedies.

As the president, Mrs. Hignight, opened the meeting, roll call was answered giving the name of a favorite house plant.

When special reports were given, Mrs. Allen Smith reported contacting Magic Farms nursery to supply bedding plants, potted plants and hanging baskets for the club's annual plant sale held each year on the Saturday before Mother's Day.

Mrs. Jim Dudley informed the group that the Myrtle Post Rose Garden had been pruned, but may need further cutting.

Emerald House grounds are in good condition due to extra attention by Mrs. R. W. Bullard during the hot dry months.

The president appointed Mrs. Allen Smith as nominating committee chairman to choose a committee for selecting officers for the next two years.

Two horticulture tips were given: add five drops of dishwashing detergent to one quart of water and spray plants to kill or discourage pests. Save water that vegetables or eggs have been boiled in for food for house plants.

At the close of the business meeting, a program on winter gardening was brought by Mrs. Grace Williams. She explained ways of designing windows to be attractive to the outside as well as inside viewers, suggested plants adaptable to light and gave planting and care techniques as to moisture and temperature.

At the close of the program, a plant auction was held.

Other members and guests were Mrs. Lee Graves, Miss Leta Powell, Mrs. Leota Hodges, Mrs. Scottie Houston, Mrs. Marge Smith, Mrs. Joe Moran, Justin Moran, Mrs. Thomas Young and Mrs. Jack Brewer.

Delicate arrangements captivate garden club

Jan Frazier of Colorado Springs, Colorado, displayed her arrangements and bridal bouquets made of dried and preserved flowers when Ozona Garden Club met at the Bill Mason home Feb. 13. She completely explained the different processes to members and guests.

Marolyn Bean was presented her certificate as a National Flower Show judge, and the club honored her with a life membership in Texas Garden Clubs during the meeting.

Plans for the upcoming spring flower show were discussed. The show will be April 27 at the Mason home.

The meeting was attended by 18 members and the following guests: Bernice Phillips, Emma Adams, Benny Gail Hunnicutt, Corrine Carleton of Midland and Macy Collins of Pumpville.

Jo Nel Stokes and Mary Jo Mason were co-hostesses for the meeting.

Country Club Bridge

Mrs. Joe Couch won high score at Country Club Bridge Thursday afternoon. Second high went to Mrs. Ann Murrah. Winning bingo were Mrs. Sherman Taylor and Mrs. C. O. Walker.

Other players included Mrs. Clay Adams, Mrs. Evart White, Mrs.

Hugh Childress, Mrs. W. E. Friend, Mrs. John Hunnicutt; Mrs. Arthur Kyle, Mrs. Jess Marley, Mrs. Beecher Montgomery, Mrs. Charles Williams, Mrs. Gene Williams, Mrs. Bill Mason, Mrs. Buddy Phillips, Mrs. Jack Williams, Mrs. Charlie Black and hostess Mrs. Joe Friend.

Englishman spends rainy days here

The cold rains that fell last Thursday were great for rangeland, but made travel by bicycle very uncomfortable according to Howard Markland of Manchester, England. Markland was on his way through Ozona as part of his 'round the globe adventure when the foul weather slowed his travels.

The cyclist happened into the chamber of commerce office and was chatting with Judy Adams when Steve Williams stopped by on his way to the noon Lions Club meeting. Markland agreed to come along to sample some Mexican food. Little did he know that the program had been detained. Markland provided an awe-inspiring program. He had, after all, just come through 21 countries in the past 10 months.

Markland later ended up at the Levis and Lace Square Dance Club. He tried his hand at a little do-se-do. Markland charmed everyone he met in Ozona with his accent and polite mannerisms. For the weekend, he was off to Amistad's Rough Canyon for a little fishing before moving on to the Hill Country.

Howard Markland had worked for two years as an environmental health officer before deciding to get a master's degree in public health engineering. After completing his studies, he wanted to take a little break to see the Olympics. He decided to take his "push cycle" because it could go with him on planes at no extra cost. He likes to experience countries at a slower pace.

Markland rolled through Holland's 128 miles the first day and went on to survive flooding in Germany and blizzards in Austria. There was red tape in Yugoslavia, the only communist block state he was allowed to travel in at all. In Turkey and Pakistan the religious Ramadan season made it illegal to eat by day, so he had to sneak food and water from sympathetic citizens in back alleys.

The 112 degree temperature in India forced a relief trip to the cool mountains of Nepal until the monsoons came. Then onward through Thailand, Malaysia, Singapore, Brunei Darussalan, the Philippines, Hong Kong, Japan and finally Korea.

He said the telly could not do justice to the Olympics, it must be experienced in person.

His prized bicycle was "pinched" (stolen) in Korea. After he made a television appearance, a prosperous businessman made a national gift of a replacement cycle. He decided with a new bike to continue around the globe. It was on to Australia, then New Zealand where he spent Christmas and New Year's stranded in a remote area because of a 21 inch rain. Howard then flew into the West Coast of the U.S.A. and came down I-10 to Ozona.

When he finishes his trip on April first, he will return to England after a year's travel. The total cost? About $6,000, and mostly for air fare. He could easily fill several books with his travel stories. He stayed with many families, but also slept in stables, hospitals, jails, schools, bus stations and many other spots.

Howard Markland said, "It was good to find the kind of friendly people that are in Ozona all over the world," but Ozona offered experiences that were unique in his travels.

Tina Moran does an Alaman Left with Howard Markland of England while Raul De La Rosa and Kim Miller look on at the Levis and Lace Square Dance Club.

Overdue books cost us

Do you think of yourself as a taxpayer? Of course you are.

Taxpayers and many people who give extra money and time are working together to provide a good library for all. You're a part of that team. And you're a library patron.

As a patron, you were happy to find the books you wanted here at the library. But, because those books haven't been returned, other patrons are disappointed.

We've searched our shelves and can't find the item(s) you checked out. Please search at home and return the book(s) listed below. If you wish to pay for the book instead of returning it, the replacement cost is listed. It is vital that we either get the book(s) back or have them paid for, because until you do one or the other, your library privileges will be suspended! We want everyone to be able to use the library. It's up to you.

We need to hear from you before March 1, 1989, because that is the day our list will be publicly posted in the library for everyone to see. We don't want your name to be there. Hope to see you soon.

This letter has just gone out to almost 50 people in Ozona. It is very important to return books and materials to the library on time so that everyone can use them. The library belongs to everyone, not to a selfish few. Many of the books go out-of-print and cannot be replaced at any price. Please, return your books to the library. Everyone will thank you for it!

PRAYER FOR OUR DEPARTED LOVED ONES

We seem to give them back to You, O God, Who gave them to us.
Yet, as You did not lose them in giving so we do not lose them by their return.
Life is eternal and love immortal and death is only an horizon, and an horizon is nothing except the limit of our sight.
Lift us up, strong Son of God, that we may see further; cleanse our eyes that we may see more clearly; draw us closer to Yourself that we may know ourselves to be nearer to our loved ones who are with You.

Even though it's a late thanks, we want to thank everyone for sharing with us our hurt and sorrow in the loss of our beloved daddy.

We love you all, and may God bless you for everything you did to help us in our time of sorrow.

Your friendship will always be in our hearts.

Thanks, Friends.

Forgiveness

CHURCH OF GOD OF PROPHECY REV. CONNIE MARROQUIN

If we want to be forgiven, we must also forgive those that do us wrong. If we want our prayers to be answered, then we must forgive. Jesus said in Mark 11:25-26 "and when you stand praying, forgive, if ye have ought against any that your Father also which is in heaven may forgive you your trespasses, but if you do not forgive, neither will your Father which is in heaven forgive your trespasses".

Paul tells us in Ephesians 4:26 "Be ye angry, and sin not. Let not the sun go down on your wrath".

The devil wants to keep us mad at our brother. He wants to steal our peace and joy. He knows that if we are mad then we will be miserable and our prayers will be hindered.

So, before the day is over, go be reconciled with that person. Tell him you're sorry. God will bless you and forgive you both.

Jesus asked the Father to forgive those that crucified Him. Stephen prayed for those who stoned him to death.

"Then came Peter to Him and said, 'Lord, how oft shall my brother sin against me, and I forgive him?' Till seven times?" Jesus saith unto him, I say not unto thee, until seven times: but, until seventy times seven." Mat. 18:21-22

We as Christians must do the same thing. Forgive in order to be forgiven. Sometimes it is hard when the hurt is deep, but Paul said: "I can do all things through Christ which strengthen me". Philippians 4:13.

We can also learn a lot from children; one minute they fight and get mad, and the next they forget what happened and are the best of friends again.

Let us humble ourselves before our Lord, and ask Him to give us a forgiving spirit and a loving heart. God bless you all.

FROM THE BOOKSHELF

by T.C. Tucker

Looking back at '88

The publishing world produced millions upon millions of books and thousands upon thousands of different titles during 1988. An abundance of those looked back in time, highlighting incidents from the beginning of the universe and time itself to present concerns such as the Iran-Contra scandal and world pollution.

the CIA knocked the President off. And if the spotlight ever left Kennedy, it fell on the civil rights movement. Taylor Branch offered Parting the Waters: America During the King Years 1954-63, an extremely descriptive account of the movement's roots and the man and people who led it.

Speaking of taking on a big subject, A Brief History of Time: From the Big Bang to the Black Holes proved no small matter. Ultra-physicist Stephen W. Hawking has made great Einsteinian bounds in theoretical physics, survived Lou Gehrig's disease for more than 20 years, and written this little, stunningly clear book that is indeed one of the best of '88 and, if its pace continues, '89.

with Imagine, both book and movie. The Righ Stuff's Tom Wolfe proved he could write a novel and did so in grand style with The Bonfire of the Vanities. His story of a New York bond trader taking a wrong turn on the expressway and changing his life forever stayed on the hardcover list for more than a year and currently reigns supreme in paperbacks.

issue focused on the fragility of Earth, pointing out that man's lack of foresight has created his current environmental problems and that only man himself can solve the mess.

As this concern grows, so will the publications dealing with these issues; expect to see the incoming waves in 1989.

GTE sponsors teacher grants

Seventh through twelfth grade math and science teachers in Texas are eligible for a grant program providing opportunities for school enrichment and professional development.

The program, called Growth Initiatives for Teachers (GIFT), is entering its fourth year in Texas under the sponsorship of GTE and GTE Southwest.

Since starting the program in 1983 as a pilot effort in North Carolina, GTE has expanded the program to eight states and the District of Columbia. Over 500 math and science teachers, including 128 from Texas, have won the grants.

The GIFT grants allow experienced math and science teachers to broaden their subject knowledge, network with other talented teachers, and carry out a classroom-based project for the benefit of students and school. The program is designed to offer new opportunities and enhance secondary school teaching.

A feature of the program is its team approach with a GIFT team composed of one math and one science teacher from the same school. Each team submits a school enrichment program and two professional development proposals.

The school enrichment portion of the grant is $7,000 while the professional development portion is $2,500 for each team member. Unlike previous programs, the grants do not have to be matched by the school or community.

In addition to the grants, GTE will bring together all GIFT teachers from throughout the country in late June 1989 for a week-long seminar in Boston and Washington, D.C., including a tour of GTE laboratory facilities.

Science and math teachers interested in applying for the program may call 215-750-8480 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. (EST) Monday through Friday.

Representatives from all Ozona Intermediate School classes pose with a combination get well and Valentine greeting prepared for Supt. Garland Davis. Every student signed the greeting which was then taken to Mr. Davis at his home where he is recuperating from recent heart surgery.

Eighth graders to pre-register

Ozona High School has begun to plan for the 1989-90 school year. The present high school students are pre-registering for next year during the month of February.

On Feb. 27, Mr. Buddy Hooper, OJHS principal, will hand his 8th grade students a letter to take to their parents. This letter's purpose is to explain the process for pre-registration.

On Tuesday, March 7, at 7 p.m., current 8th grade students and their parents are invited to an orientation and pre-registration meeting with high school principal Jim Payne and counselor Jack Probst in the high school auditorium.

The main purpose of the meeting will be to inform parents and students of the various course offerings that are available at Ozona High School and to assist students in selecting the courses best suited to their individual needs.

It is strongly requested that all 8th grade students and parents attend. Please bring the requirement papers that Mr. Probst will pass out to the students at a meeting during school on March 6. It would be helpful if both the parents and the students become familiar with the requirement sheets before the meeting on the 7th.

WATCHIN' and WONDERIN' with Zeke Smith

Howdy! Glad to be home after travelin' a bit. Travelin's OK if you're not rushed too much. If you're in a hurry, all airports and towns look the same.

I was flyin' on an airplane a while back, bein' bored to tears by this nice fellow next to me who kept explainin' this computer he had in his lap, when mercy me, you'd a thought we'd crashed into a pig pen. I mean, the whole plane was suddenly full of a serious stink.

I tried not to notice. I sat there wigglin' my nose, holdin' my breath, turning blue, and watched my computer buddy doin' the same thing. Finally, I had to breathe. That was a mistake, but unavoidable.

I turned to look around and quickly spotted the problem at hand. The fellow across the aisle, who was dressed in some fashion that must be acceptable in California or New York, I suppose, had taken his shoes off. There he sat, wigglin' his toes, readin' some gentleman's fashion magazine, and dang near killin' me.

Well, I squirmed a little more, and got up to go to the bathroom. I thought maybe I could wait in there until I could breathe again.

I came out and mentioned to the pretty little lady who was servin' us that I thought we had a problem and that if it was all right with her, I was gonna handle it myself.

She said she's smelled it, but couldn't locate the source. I told her we country boys had good noses and where she could find the outlaw.

Well, I'll be skunked if when she went and talked to this boy, he had the nerve to deny it and stick his expensive shoe in her face to smell. At that point, I considered puttin' my boot in his teeth to smell, but I refrained.

Anyway, I have the solution to this. The whole country ought to wear boots, 'cause you can't get out of 'em in public places. I think I'll write my congressman.

Extension Connection

Saving water begins at home

All that unexpected February rain looked good to us, but we're still short on total rainfall. For that matter, when haven't we West Texans been short on rain?

So we still need to conserve water as much as possible, even though at this moment we think we might milder if the present wet weather keeps up!

In the home, we have two appliances that can really eat up the water if we're not careful -- but you wouldn't find too many homemakers who would give up these time-savers. They are, of course, the dishwasher and the washing machine.

Surprisingly enough, dishwashers even save water over washing dishes by hand -- an average of 5.8 fewer gallons per load for newer models. In testing done at Ohio State University, researchers found that persons used 9.9 gallons when the dishwasher was used without hand-rinsing (I'd like to know what brand that was!), 15.7 gallons when dishes were washed by hand, and 17.2 gallons when dishes were first hand-rinsed and then washed in the dishwasher.

That hand-rinsing step added 7.3 gallons to the total usage!

To use even less water in the dishwasher, also be sure you load the dishwasher correctly, to its full capacity. Make sure the water temperature is 140 degrees F. at the kitchen faucet. This enables the detergent to work properly. And don't use any detergent except a detergent made for automatic dishwashers.

How much detergent you use will also make a difference in the cleaning ability of your machine. A general usage recommendation is one teaspoon of detergent per grain of water hardness, with three teaspoons as the minimum in hard water. Our Ozona city water tests out at about 5.87 grains, so you'd want to use about six teaspoons of detergent.

Now that you know how to save water in the dishwasher, how about the washing machine?

Again, 140 degrees F. is the best setting for both hot and warm washes. Careful sorting of laundry -- into darks, lights, different types of fabrics, etc., -- will pay off also. Pretreating actually helps save water.

Always use a cold water rinse -- it doesn't pay to use any other temperature, and cold water works fine. Be sure you've adjusted your water level to the size of the load. Too much water is obviously wasteful -- but too little may result in excessive wear on the washer and the clothes and the need for a re-wash to get clothes clean.

Use enough detergent to avoid having to launder the load. Use heavy-duty liquid detergent for best results in hard water, and use a water conditioner. (Call our office for a copy of "Water Quality and Laundry Problems" -- it's free.)

When you're buying a new washer, check the specific amount of water used per load in your tub. It really does vary from model to model. Washers with the smallest amount of space between the inner and outer tubs use less water more efficiently.

Remember, saving water takes a little extra thought and planning -- but it's worth it when you consider the consequences if we don't.

Seeding rangeland can boost forage

Because of favorable soil moisture conditions, ranchers with rangeland in poor condition may want to consider a seeding program during the next few months.

Seeding forage-deficient ranges with desirable forage plants can make them productive again, points out Billy Reagor, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. Also, seeding is usually necessary following root-plowing for brush control.

Range seeding is usually done in late winter or early spring, and now is the time to begin planning. Since seeding is expensive and the risk of failure is always present, careful attention must be given to a number of factors.

To begin, evaluate the quantity and distribution of desirable plants currently present. If desirable plants make up less than 10 to 15 percent of the vegetation, seeding is probably necessary. Ranges can be improved by grazing management and brush and weed control if desirable plants are uniformly distributed and make up more than 10 to 15 percent of the vegetation.

Seeding is usually necessary following a brush control method such as root-plowing that destroys existing turf, says Reagor. Also, seeding is usually the most effective way to establish desirable vegetation on abandoned cropland.

Reagor recommends seeding only on better sites to insure reasonable chances of success. Steep, potentially erosive sites should not be disturbed. Seeding range sites that receive runoff water usually provides good results.

Species and varieties of plants selected for seeding must be adapted to the area's soil, climate and topography. Also, plants selected should be easily established, palatable to animals, relatively productive, able to withstand invasion by undesirable plants, able to withstand moderate grazing and able to prevent erosion under moderate grazing.

Reagor advises ranchers to check with the county Extension office or local Soil Conservation Service office for plants adapted to a specific area. A publication on seeding rangeland (B-1379--Seeding Rangeland) is available at the county Extension office.

As far as the seeding operation is concerned, plant into a well prepared seedbed, says Reagor. An ideal seedbed is firm below seeding depth and free from live plant competition. It has moderate amounts of mulch or plant residue on the soil surface.

Less expense is involved in preparing a seedbed on abandoned cropland. On rangeland, however, the ideal seedbed is a goal seldom attained because of expense and expected return. So, prepare the best seedbed that available resources will allow, suggests Reagor. For example, rootplowing followed by roller chopping or chaining is an acceptable method of seedbed preparation on brush infested rangeland.

The two most common methods of seeding rangeland are broadcast and drill, notes Reagor. Broadcasting places seed on the soil surface while drilling puts seed into the soil. Drilling is the superior method of seeding where a drill can be used. However, broadcast seeding by aerial or ground application is often used because most drills are not sturdy enough for rough rangeland.

When to seed is important. Start seeding at the beginning of a period that will provide the best growing conditions for the slowly developing seedlings, suggests Reagor.

Warm-season plants grow in the summer and will make the best and most vigorous growth if seeded in late winter or early spring. A late summer or fall seeding date for cool-season plants may be best because young seedlings may not be able to tolerate hot, dry summers.

A newly seeded area will need protection from grazing until seedlings are established, Reagor points out. With exceptionally good growing conditions, deferment through one growing season may be sufficient. During periods of harsh growing conditions, two or three years of deferment may be necessary to allow seedlings to establish.

Weed control measures such as mowing, shredding or use of herbicides may be necessary during the first growing season to allow seeded species to become established.

Seeding can rejuvenate poor ranges, but careful attention must be given to proper planning, use of correct plant material, seeding methods and good management, says Reagor.

4-H to emphasize decisions

The Ozona Junior High 4-H Club will meet Monday, Feb. 27, at 7 p.m. The meeting, which will feature a program on the 4-H Consumer Decision Making Contest, will be held at the junior high cafeteria.

The Consumer Decision Making Contest involves choosing the most suitable of four items and giving reasons for one's choice. According to County Extension Agent-Home Economics Tedra Ulmer, it's a great way for young people to learn to stand and think on their feet and helps them develop speaking skills. All 4-H members in grades six through eight and their parents are invited to attend. Any other interested persons are also invited.

For more information, contact the Crockett County Extension Office at 392-2721.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages, regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion, national origin or handicap.

Show increases scholarships

4-H members in Crockett County who are interested in applying for a Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo Scholarship can now choose from a broader range of majors at universities across the state. Some 18 undergraduate majors have been added under the framework of agriculture and life sciences.

The Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo annually sponsors 50 4-H scholarships along with another 50 for FFA members, each valued at $8,000 over a four-year period, said Billy Reagor, county 4-H program coordinator with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

In the past, these scholarships were limited to majors offered in the agricultural college or department of the university in which the recipient planned to enroll, Reagor said. Now, applicants that qualify for a HLS&R Scholarship may select from among 47 majors offered by a number of Texas colleges and universities.

Some of the new majors that scholarship applicants may want to pursue include the following: botany, clothing and textiles, aquaculture, mariculture, meteorology, biomedical engineering, chemical engineering, food and nutrition, biology, zoology, microbiology and pharmacology.

4-H members interested in applying for a HLS&R Scholarship should contact the county Extension office for a complete list of eligible majors and other details, Reagor said. Application deadline for all Texas 4-H Opportunity Scholarships is March 1.

Know your pruning purpose first

A lot of people prune trees without really knowing why they are doing it.

However, anyone who cuts into a tree should have objectives and a purpose before doing so.

"If you don't have a reason to prune a tree, don't," Dr. Michael Walterscheidt of College Station, supervisor for forestry with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service said.

Reasons to prune include safety and/or to get rid of all dead wood, clearance for such things as automobiles and lawnmowers, disease control, to shape a tree, and to control vegetative parasites such as mistletoe, Dr. Walterscheidt said.

Generally, trees may be pruned at any time of the year, with certain advantages to certain times of the year over others.

Fall pruning generally poses no problems, but usually has no positive effect. There are certain advantages to pruning during the dormant season or winter, he pointed out.

There's no reason not to prune during the spring, because, contrary to popular belief, trees will not "bleed to death," or have too much sap run out of the wound.

During the summer, homeowners will have the weight of the leaves to contend with, but also can see their finished product immediately, Walterscheidt explained.

He cautioned that oaks should be pruned in the fall and pecan trees are best pruned during their dormant season in the winter.

Pruning should be done with the "three-cut" technique.

This involves making a cut out on the limb about one-third of the way through the limb. The second cut should be made further out on the limb, beginning on the top of the limb. The limb will fall at a certain point during that cut.

The third cut should be made closer, but not flush with the trunk. A flush cut is not best for the tree, Walterscheidt said.

The tree will have a visible "collar" around the limb next to the trunk. Any cut should be made outside that collar, he said.

If a cut is made inside the collar, the wound could be two to three times larger than one made outside, he said, and consequently takes longer to close.

However, a stub that is left too long is an open invitation to sprouting, disease and infection, he cautioned.

A Salute to Our FFA Youth

Of Crockett County

The Motto

Learning To Do
Doing To Learn
Earning To Live
Living To Serve

THE EMBLEM

The national emblem is made up of five symbols, each of which has significance.

The cross section of an ear of corn, which forms the outline of the emblem represents common agricultural interests since corn is native to America and is grown in every state.

The rising sun, signifies progress and the new day that will dawn when all farmers are educated and have learned to cooperate.

The plow, is the symbol of labor and tillage of the soil.

The eagle, signifies the national scope of the organization.

The owl, is the symbol of knowledge and wisdom.

Within the FFA emblem are the letters "FFA" and the words "Agricultural Education".

FFA Creed

I believe in the future of farming, with a faith born not of words but of deeds - achievements won by the present and past generations of agriculturists; in the promise of better days through better ways, even as the better things we now enjoy have come to us from the struggles of former years.

I believe that to live and work on a good farm, or to be engaged in other agricultural pursuit, is pleasant as well as challenging; for I know the joys and discomforts of agricultural life and hold an inborn fondness for those associations which, even in hours of discouragement, I cannot deny.

I believe in leadership from ourselves and respect from others. I believe in my own ability to work efficiently and think clearly, with such knowledge and skill as I can secure, and in the ability of progressive agriculturists to serve our own and the public interest in producing and marketing the product of our toil.

I believe in less dependence on begging and more power in bargaining; in the life abundant and enough honest wealth to help make it so - for others as well as myself; in less need for charity and more of it when needed; in being happy myself and playing square with those whose happiness depends upon me.

I believe that rural America can and will hold true to the best traditions of our national life and that I can exert an influence in my home and community which will stand solid for my part in that inspiring task.

The creed was written by E. M. Tiffany, and adopted at the 3rd National Convention of the FFA. Revised at the 38th Convention.

The FFA

The FFA is a national organization of students enrolled in vocational agriculture/agribusiness in 50 states, Puerto Rico, Virgin Islands and the District of Columbia. Organized in November, 1928, the FFA is an integral part of the curriculum of vocational agriculture/agribusiness departments in the public schools. All students in these programs are to receive instruction in personal leadership growth and development which can best be achieved through the FFA.

Through active participation in the FFA, members learn by taking part in and conducting meetings, speaking in public, participating in contests based on occupational skills, earning awards and recognition and becoming involved in cooperative efforts and community improvement. The FFA offers opportunities for becoming productive citizens in our democracy.

FFA members believe in leadership, citizenship and patriotism. They believe in free enterprise - freedom under the law - in making their homes, schools and communities better places in which to live and work.

There are four degrees of active membership: FFA Greenhand Degree, Chapter FFA Degree, State FFA Degree and American FFA Degree. Local chapters provide the opportunity for advancement through the first two degrees. The state awards the State FFA Degree and the national organization confers the American FFA Degree.

Agriculture is not just "cows, plows and sows"

Members of Ozona High School's Future Farmers of America chapter join more than 404,000 FFA members in promoting agricultural education and the food and fiber industry during National FFA Week Feb. 19-25.

The local chapter takes pride in being one of 7,800 across the United States, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

The theme for this year's FFA Week is "Agriculture's Leading Edge - FFA".

Agriculture is not just "cows, plows and sows" anymore according to OHS ag teacher Brent Pool. Electricity, plumbing, arc welding, repair of small gas engines and surveying are some of the subjects studied in ag. Animal, plant and soil science are also part of the curriculum.

The Ozona FFA chapter holds an annual livestock show in December. Students compete in judging and skills contests while acquiring lasting knowledge and leadership ability.

Leadership skills developed through the program will last a lifetime.

FFA Week is held during the week of George Washington's birthday to recognize his leadership and commitment to American agriculture. The National FFA Center is located near Alexandria, Virginia on part of Washington's original Mount Vernon estate.

THE AIM AND PURPOSES

The primary aim of the National FFA Organization is the development of agricultural leadership, cooperation, and citizenship. The specific purposes for which this organization was formed are as follows:

- To develop competent and aggressive agricultural leadership.
- To create and nurture a love of agricultural life.
- To strengthen the confidence of students of vocational agriculture in themselves and their work.
- To create more interest in the intelligent choice of agricultural occupations.
- To encourage members in the development of individual occupational experience programs in agriculture and establishment in agricultural careers.

- To encourage members to improve the home and its surroundings.
- To participate in worthy undertakings for the improvement of the industry of agriculture.
- To develop character, train for useful citizenship, and foster patriotism.
- To participate in cooperative effort.
- To encourage and practice thrift.
- To encourage improvement in scholarship.
- To provide and encourage the development of organized recreational activities.

Changes in the FFA organization

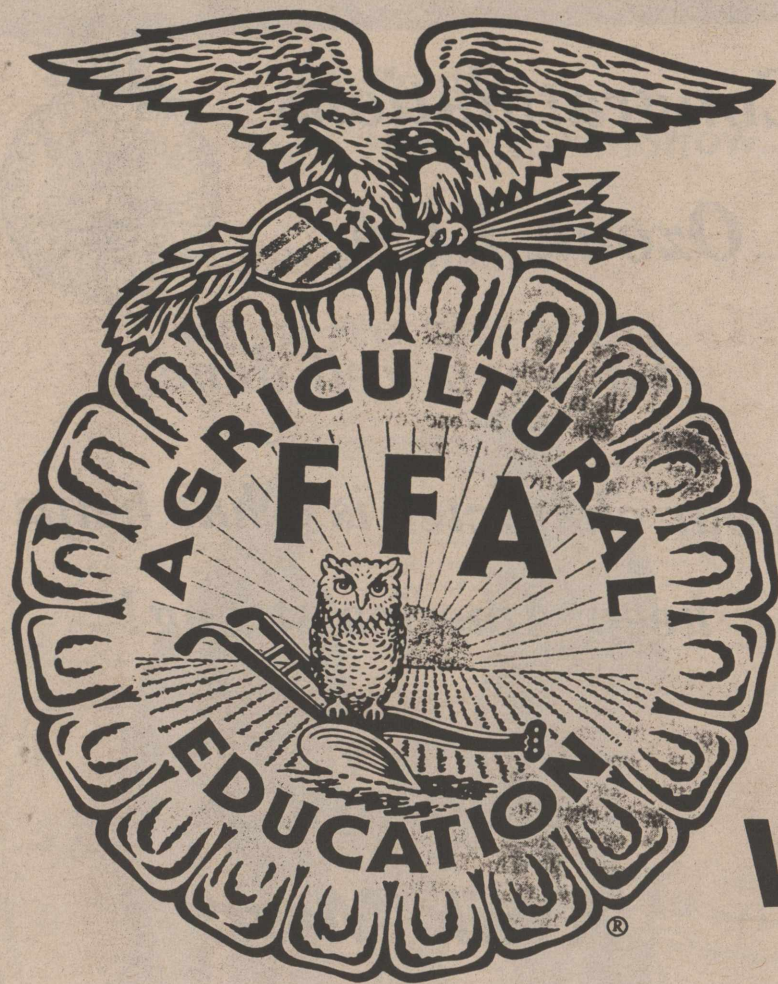

Changes in the Constitution of the National FFA Organization were approved in November at the group's 61st convention. Several of the amendments require changes in names and symbols used by the organization. Other changes affect policies and operations at the local, state and national levels.

The 18 amendments to the Constitution of the National FFA Organization will go into effect in a timely and cost-effective manner.

Use of the words vocational agriculture will be changed immediately to agricultural education under the amended constitution. This will be the most visible change to the public as the words change on the official emblem.

Other changes make it possible to extend FFA membership to 7th and 8th grade programs if the students are enrolled in a secondary agricultural education program, to delete the word "Farmer" from the names of active and honorary degrees of membership and to insert the letters "FFA" in all the degree names including the Greenhand Degree.

Chapter and state degree requirements have changed as has an article governing the number of candidates allowed for the State Association. Another change allows greater flexibility in the election of state and chapter officers.

Due to your hard work and desire, we can look forward to seeing continued success in the agricultural industry!

Scholarships available to FFA members

The National FFA Organization's scholarship program will award almost $220,000 in college and vocational/technical school scholarships this year. Funds for the scholarships are donated by more than 50 sponsors through the National FFA Foundation Inc.

All high school seniors in FFA are eligible to apply for the scholarships. In order to qualify, applicants must have been an active FFA member, maintained a satisfactory Supervised Agricultural Experience program and received good grades in high school.

Some of the scholarships require proof of financial need which would be provided through an analysis form included with the application.

Most of the scholarships, all of which are for college freshmen, are in the amount of $1,000. They do range from $500 to $25,000.

FFA members receive the money after they have submitted their college class schedule to the scholarship committee.

Deadline for scholarship applications is March 1, 1989.

Forms are available through chapter advisors or from the Scholarship Office of the National FFA Center at P. O. Box 15160 in Alexandria, VA 22309-0610.
