911 emergency telephone system to be located at hospital

Crockett County Hospital was selected as the location for the 911 emergency telephone system when commissioners met Monday. Space currently being used as an examining room will be available for the small amount of equipment necessary and a desk after Dr. Marcus Sims moves to the professional building.

Sheriff Jim Wilson and Bill Boswell talked with court members about space and personnel requirements for the system which starts locally in July of 1991.

Persons answering the phone at 911 locations are required to be certified through 40 hours of training. San Angelo will be the training location for Ozona 911 personnel.

The court expressed interest in the possibility of using the civic center kitchen for preparation of food for the Helping Hands Meals on Wheels program. The Helping Hands lease at its current location expires Dec. 28.

A joint meeting to discuss the possibility with the civic center board will be held Dec. 17 at 6 p.m.

Meals were served to 484 clients during November and 20 more were added to the program Dec. 3 through a state program, Janet Hill told the court.

During a report from Eddie Moore, road department supervisor, commissioners voted to provide materials for right-of-way fencing on the Tom Hill Ranch with Hill to provide labor.

Consideration of purchase of a new street sweeper and wood chipper was tabled until after the first of the year.

The court voted to adopt a records management program required by the state. Each county must appoint a person to see that elected officials maintain the required schedule for disposing of records. Monthly reports are to be filed. A list of schedules is to be provided the state librarian or that person is to be informed as to who the local contact is, Judge Kathryn Mayfield said.

Auditor Sandy Stokes was appointed by the court to head the program.

Crockett County officials responded favorably to an invitation from neighboring counties to join in the creation of a rural rail transportation district. The district is being formed in response to the sale of a section of Santa Fe railroad to a firm which deals in railroad salvage, Judge Mayfield said.

There is approximately one-half mile of railroad track in Crockett County.

In other action, the court voted to:
-authorize purchase of a new Sheriff's Department car from Mustang Chevrolet for delivery after Jan. 1
-award bid for vehicle liability insurance to The Baggett Agency
-discontinue NTS Communications as telephone system for county offices

-approve contract with Tom Green County Juvenile Detention Center
-amend budget for Extension Office

-authorize auditor to zero out hospital and care center budgets

-replace retiring road department employee Stanley Najjar with employee Ismael Lujan at Najjar's salary

-rent Perner Building to house ambulances on a month-to-month basis for no longer than six months beginning immediately

-approve placing of Gene Brown, Della Moore and Marilee Robertson on list of hospital parttime employees. Persons on the parttime list only work if no one else is available.

-appoint Armando Arredondo and Carmen Sutton to the hospital and care center board

-hire a receptionist for the hospital clinic to replace Della Moore with Commissioner Jim House abstaining from voting

Regular monthly reports were heard from Sandy Stokes, auditor; Bill Boswell, hospital; Doris Hull, care center; Eddie Moore, road department; Onecimo Ortiz, parks department; Janet Hill, Helping Hands; Louise Ledoux, library; and Garland Young, civic center.

Concerned parents and teachers attend drug and alcohol prevention program preview

by Scotty Moore

A group of concerned parents, teachers and school board members met at the Ozona Community Center Thursday night. The group heard a presentation of a drug prevention program called "Parent to Parent", considered as a parent private war on drugs.

Don Howard, Ozona Junior High School principal, presented an introductory video and led the group discussion and answered questions about the program founded in 1977 by PRIDE Community Action. Its concept is the training and mobilization of parents concerning infectious diseases and epidemics among the young, specifically drug and alcohol addiction.

According to PRIDE, the United States is in a national tragedy with 70% of all high school seniors and 20% of all 11-year-olds being intoxicated. The current cost of the drug epidemic among children is massive. Every community in America is paying a staggering price both in human terms and in economic terms. The group as a whole agreed that there is a problem in Ozona with young people using drugs and alcohol.

According to Howard, "Parent To Parent" is a fully integrated video-based training system designed to reach the most important ingredients in an adolescent's decision making process, his mother and father. Drugs and alcohol are not new. They have always been around and available in one form or another. What is new is our attitude about them. It is a fact that most adults simply do not recognize the dangers that drugs and alcohol pose for children. They really do not know for example, the reason a legal drinking age exists. They simply are not aware of the ramifications of a permissive attitude about children using alcohol and pot.

PRIDE considers early intervention, at the stage where the family and other caring adults are able to change a young user's behavior, to be part of basic prevention. It trains and equips parents to reach and teach other parents.

The investment required for the course is $6,550 for eight video-modules and a two day training session in El Paso for two people who are parents from the community who will, upon completion, be certified to conduct Parent To Parent workshops.

The program also offers a master facilitator training that lasts three days for one person from the community who will, upon completion, be certified to use the proprietary Facilitator Training System to teach others in the community to lead the workshop. An on-site facilitator training course can be conducted right in our own location by professional staff of PRIDE. Sixteen people for Ozona can be trained to provide an immediate cadre of fully trained facilitators. According to PRIDE, this is the fastest way to kick off the program in a community.

At the conclusion of the video Howard ask each member of the group to give his views of the program. Everyone who spoke felt that the program will be a success and that Ozona needs it.

Hospital Board meets in regular session

The Crockett County Hospital and Care Center Board met in regular session Thursday, Dec. 6, in the hospital conference room with Armando Arredondo presiding.

Ambulance coordinator Doug Meador reported that both ambulances passed state inspection and that specifications for a new ambulance are being written.

Following discussion of renting the Perner Building for ambulance storage, the board voted to rent the building on a month-to-month basis for approximately six months.

During a report by Doris Hull, care center administrator, the board learned that plumbing repair in the care center is now complete and working perfectly.

Mrs. Hull also informed the board that a new regulation for nursing homes requires that residents have access to a phone for making calls which cannot be overheard. A pay telephone has been installed for that purpose.

Care center residency now stands at 40. Mrs. Hull stated she believes the center is in a position to request a Veteran's Administration contract and asked the board's permission to actively seek a VA contract.

Members discussed the proposal and agreed with the suggestion.

Board members authorized Bill Boswell to contact Joe Sanchez to begin work Monday on renovation of the doctors' clinic.

Other action included agreement to renew membership in the Texas Hospital Association Governing Board, selection of four names for commissioners' consideration to fill the two board vacancies Jan. 1 and reappointment of the medical staff.

Medical staff members are Dr. Robert Owensby, Dr. Marcus Sims, Dr. Joe B. Logan, Dr. Steve Sessom and Dr. Nick Jackson, a Kerrville radiologist.

Fire ravages campers

A fire at a hunting camp south of Ozona destroyed four camp-type trailers and damaged a motor home Monday afternoon.

The campers were totally involved when firemen arrived at the scene on the Bob Childress ranch. They were able to save the mobile home, however. "If we'd gotten there five minutes later, it would have burned, too," said John L. Henderson.

Damage to the motor home was confined to interior smoke and paint burned off an exterior wall, Henderson said.

Henderson believes electrical wiring started the fire which spread from one camper to the others. Propane tanks were popping when the two fire trucks arrived, but volunteers prevented explosions by cooling the tanks with streams of water.

The Fort Worth hunters who own the campers were not at the lease at the time of the fire.

The fire took about 45 minutes to contain with eight volunteers using 1,500 gallons of water from two trucks. The rescue van was also at the scene.

Crockett County Care Center News

By JoAnne Marshall

After three weeks of hard work, Chata Tambunga and Florencia Porras finally finished their craft projects during Monday morning's craft class. Their finished flowers were well worth the time it took to make them. One more craft class should give the remaining residents ample time to complete their flower making projects. Residents putting the last touches on their projects are: Frances Davis, Moriana Perez, Juana Hernandez, Josefa Perez and Monnie Boyd.

Monday afternoon was spent decorating the halls with Christmas cheer. Alice Ross, Florencia Porras, Hazel McDaniel and Frances Davis deserve a special thank you for the fine job they did on the front desk and dining room decorations.

Bingo winners for Tuesday morning were: Santos Martinez, Bertha Miller, Juana Hernandez, Myrtle Post, Tomasa Ramos, Joe Connolly, Monnie Boyd, Manuela Perez, Theo Burns and Elvira Pena. Helpful and much appreciated volunteers were Sophie Kyle and Georgia Kirby.

Tuesday afternoon Bill Fuller of First Baptist Church conducted a short Bible study and led singing. Residents enjoyed the lesson he presented, and were more than happy to join him in the singing of hymns. Thank you, Bill.

Items ranging from nativity scenes to Southwestern art were worked on in Wednesday morning's ceramic workshop. Ruth Hester and Ruthie Dorris were the busy volunteers. Residents attending the class were: Theo Burns, Hazel McDaniel, Joe Connolly, Juana Hernandez, Moriana Perez, Josefa Perez, Florencia Porras, Frances Davis and Chata Tambunga.

Time for addressing Christmas cards was scheduled for Wednesday afternoon.

Residents got a big morale boost Thursday morning thanks to beauty shop volunteers Vivian Hughes, Joann Williamson, Lola Rios and Audrey Smith. The ladies did their best to make each resident look and feel better. Thank you, ladies. You succeeded in both.

Spanish speaking residents enjoyed the Spanish Hour of Praise Thursday afternoon. Communion was offered and hymns were sung. We would like to thank members of Our Lady of Perpetual Help Catholic Church who attended for sharing their time with us.

Five residents yelled bingo at the same time during a special game that was being played Friday morning. That was the first time that we have had that many winners for one game. The five winners were: Theo Burns, Monnie Boyd, Florencia Porras, Josefa Perez and Santos Martinez. Bingo games were also won by Alice Ross, Minnie Karr and Myrtle Post.

The projector was brought out and the lobby was set up to view movies furnished by the Crockett County Library Friday afternoon, but unfortunately because of a malfunction of the movie projector, the films were not shown. Residents had to settle for a quiet time in front of the television instead. Although we were unable to watch the films, we would like to thank the library for ordering them for us.

Sunday's worship service was presented by members of Our Lady of Perpetual Help Catholic Church. We appreciate the time they spent with us.

Holiday food hints for diabetics can help dieters

By Sandra Avant

COLLEGE STATION - Dieters gearing up for holiday gatherings may want to take a few tips from those with diabetes.

The American Diabetes Association estimates that more than 12 million people in the United States have diabetes, and half of them don't know it. More than 800,000 Texans are thought to have diabetes.

Weight control is something most diabetics are used to handling because it's crucial to their health. However, fighting the temptation of delicious treats can be a challenge to anyone when it comes to eating out.

"Just like the average dieter, many people with diabetes panic when they are served so-called forbidden foods," said Dr. Mary Kinney Bielamowicz, nutritionist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "Parties, holidays and restaurant menus can ruin sincere efforts to follow a meal plan."

For diabetics, selecting appropriate foods that fit into their meal plans help prevent wide blood sugar swings, Bielamowicz said. For dieters, sticking to certain choices keeps them away from high-calorie foods.

"Nowadays, it's more acceptable to call the hostess or restaurant manager ahead of time to discuss the best way to prepare your food," she said. "A good idea is to make a dish using a diabetic or low-calorie cookbook and take it to help out the hostess."

Also, snack before festivities to reduce hunger and the temptation to overeat. If you are diabetic, check with your doctor before drinking alcoholic beverages to prevent drug reactions with insulin or hypoglycemic agents, Bielamowicz said.

"Oral hypoglycemia agents combined with alcohol can cause dramatic reaction - nausea, vomiting, flushing, a quicker heart beat, and impaired speech. "Alcohol lowers the blood sugar," she said. "If you take insulin, drinking on an empty stomach can lower your blood sugar enough to bring on severe hypoglycemia."

"With a little research and practice, eating away from home can be pleasant for everyone," Bielamowicz said. "Learn to substitute wisely, so occasionally you can enjoy special treats."

The following choices are better for diabetics than others:

-Appetizers - Low-calorie vegetables, clear broths, consomme, bouillon, dill pickles, tomato juice, fruit juice without sugar, fresh fruit.

-Meat, Fish, Poultry - Broiled, baked, roasted, or boiled meat, poultry and fish or seafood. Trim all fat. Broiled food may be available on request only. Ask that gravy be served on the side or left off and remove any breading or coating.

-Eggs - Boiled, poached, scrambled or baked.

-Potatoes and Substitutes - Baked, mashed, steamed, boiled. Rice and noodles as a substitute for potatoes.

-Vegetables - Steamed, baked, boiled, stewed.

-Salads - Tossed vegetables, lettuce or tomato. Request dressing be served on the side or use vinegar or lemon juice. As far as the calorie content, count cottage cheese as part of your meat servings.

-Fruit - Fresh fruit, fruit salad, fruit juice without sugar.

-Breads - Whole wheat or enriched bread and toast, rolls, biscuits (watch size), unsalted or lightly salted crackers, muffins, popovers, English muffin, taco shell, hot dog bun, hamburger bun.

-Fats - Margarine, salad dressing, oil, unsalted nuts.

-Desserts - Fresh fruit, canned fruit without sugar. Sometimes, a scoop of ice cream (similar to the calorie content of one slice of bread and two servings of fat.)

-Beverages - Coffee, decaffeinated coffee, tea without sugar, sugar-free soft drinks, low-fat or skim milk.

Happy Birthday!

A Preacher's Pondering

Christ and Christmas

It's that time of year again. As the song suggests, "Tis the season to be jolly." There is a spirit of friendliness in the air that is unique to the month of December. It's Christmas! The hustle and bustle of the Holiday Season calls forth in all of us, I presume, visions of grandeur, gifts, and gaiety.

Before Thanksgiving the business world starts preparing for the economic gold mine found in Christmas. The commercialization of Christmas is a dreaded reality that robs the spirit of giving that should grace the season. It is a thief that carts away the joy, opting for profit rather than purpose.

Some say that we have deteriorated as a society because we have taken Christ out of Christmas and put cash in His place. Whenever we take Christ out of any day we have slipped. The Christ is not. He cannot be, confined to only one day a year. Without remembering the Savior, the 4th of July, Veteran's Day, or Ground Hog Day never reaches its pleasure or potential.

Many historians and researchers think that Christ might have been born in the Spring. There is ample evidence for that speculation, but, really, what difference does it make as to when He was born? He was born! Joy to the world, the Lord did come. Whether it was December 25 or March 12, what difference does it make? Must we have only one day to honor the Child? I think not!

I savor the season of Christmas. Santa Claus, music downtown, hot cider, smiling faces, and good food are ingredients of joy. I also savor the Savior. His birth brought angels to center stage. The heavens radiated glory. Men were dispersed to spread the joyful news. I revere the day heaven graced this old earth with God's Son wrapped in swaddling clothes and placed in a manger. Wise men sought

Him then, wise men seek Him now.

Can Christ and Christmas go together? You bet! Can He be saluted on Flag Day? Yes sir! Can He be remembered, adored, and praised on Thursday? Yes, a thousand times yes! Any day, any time, the cradle, the cross, and the open tomb must be idealized in the hearts of humanity. We dare not take Christ out of Christmas or any other day of the year. Peace on earth and glory to God is a year long message.

When you envision Christmas do you see a tree or a manger? Do you sense giving or getting? Is it hilarity or holiness that you crave? One's perception to these questions will determine where his heart is — and that my friend is what really matters. The birth of Christ, whatever the day, held hope for the world and started men on a journey toward salvation.

Fritz Eichenberg produced a wood engraving that shows Christ hovering around two homeless souls on a street corner. Behind them is a street sign on a pole — the shape of a cross. That is the essence of Christmas. Jesus came in to the world to save sinners like me, and that is good news, on Christmas or any other day of the year.

Think about it!

Finding Something Beautiful In Each and Every Individual

Rev. Fernando Charles
Templo Bautista Jerusalem

All of us have our faults, but we don't always recognize them.

What we do recognize much more easily are the faults of others. She talks too much; he's too fat; she's never friendly; he thinks he's smart.

This same fault-finding attitude can even develop with our spouse or other companion. Maybe he or she is unlikeable or unlovable; all of us are at times.

It is just human nature to be critical of the shortcomings of others. No one is perfect, so it's not too difficult to find something we don't like in almost anyone's personality.

But when we put aside our human nature and replace it with God's nature, then our critical attitude can turn to loving and caring attitudes. We begin looking at the good in everyone rather than the bad.

In I John 4:7-8 we read, "Beloved, let us love one another: for love is for God; and everyone that loveth is born of God, and knoweth God. He that loveth not knoweth not God; for God is love".

As God's children, we need to believe that it's possible to see some good in the most unlovable person.

Just as God loved us and sent His only Son Jesus to die for our sins, so we should always be willing to love others, even when they don't seem all that lovable.

There are times when all of us are put in a position where we must work with or be around uncomfortable personalities. But God wants us to experience these things so that we can grow in character, and our faith will be strengthened because of it.

Maybe our love for others has grown cold over the years because we have failed to keep it warm and flowing out of us through God's spirit. If that's the case, then we need to pray that God will send us an extra measure of His Holy Spirit to change our hearts and mind.

When we are walking in faith through Christ Jesus, our spirit and personality doesn't allow us to be unloving, rude and abuse to an unloving person. God doesn't want His children to push others down, but rather to lift them up.

Snips, Quips, and Lifts

by Lottie Lee Baker

You might as well do your Christmas hinting early.

Christmas is a time when a lot of others besides Santa find themselves in the red.

There have always been some Christmas stockings that provided Santa with a few problems, but one wonders about his reaction to pantyhose.

Keeping Christmas is good, but sharing it is better.

Christmas is a time when everybody wants his past forgotten and his present remembered.

Can you remember when Christmas was so simple that one Santa Claus could work an entire town?

Christmas is a race to see which gives out first - your money or your feet.

When you pay $25 for a Christmas tree, you've been trimmed more than the tree.

Christmas is the time of year that

Santa comes down the chimney and your savings go down the drain.

A Christmas shopper's complaint is one of long-standing.

Conversation between Adam and Eve must have been difficult at times because they had nobody to talk about.

An open mind is sometimes too porous to hold a conviction.

Every year the cars get lower and wider, while the payments get longer and higher.

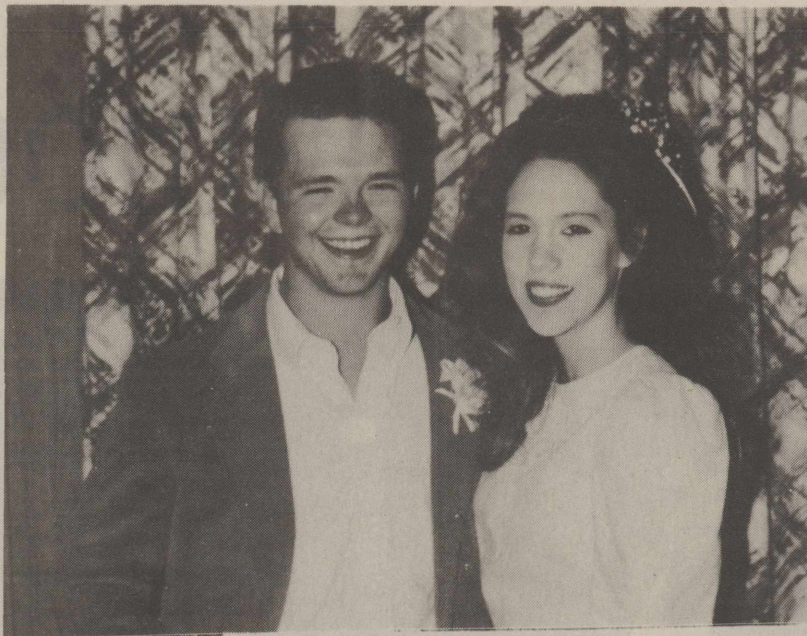

Bank interest on a loan is so high that if you can afford to pay it you don't need the loan.

A minority of the people usually carry a majority of the load.

If there's anything stronger than your convictions it's the heat of your prejudices.

We cannot all play the same instrument, but we can all be in the same key.

A LIFT FOR THE WEEK
The way you spend Christmas is far more important than HOW MUCH.

Reed, Haire united in marriage

Miss Tammie Marie Reed and Mr. James Odie (Jay) Haire Jr. were wed in holy matrimony Friday, November 23, 1990, in the home of the James Haires with family and close friends in attendance. The ceremony was officiated by Ralph Moore, Church of Christ minister.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Harris of Sonora are grandparents of the bride. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. James Haire of Ozona.

The bride was dressed in a pale pink, tea-length, dropped waist dress of linen blend featuring antique ecru lace appliques at the neckline and on the three-quarter length sleeves.

Tammie's hair was adorned with baby's breath and ecru ribbon streamers which complemented the bouquet of silk spring flowers arranged in shades of pink. White and pink ribbons gently flowed from the bottom of the bouquet.

Maid of honor, Leesa Haire, was dressed in a dusty rose shirt with antique ecru lace trim and a paisley print skirt in coordinating pinks.

The bridegroom, attired in western wear, wore a matching pale pink oxford shirt. Serving as his best man was his father, James.

A reception and buffet followed the ceremony. The couple's table, covered with an antique damask tablecloth from Australia, consisted of pink and white accessories and a wedding cake topped with silver and pink ribbons.

The bride is a 1990 graduate of Sonora High School.

The bridegroom is currently a Senior at Ozona High School.

Following a wedding trip to San Angelo, the couple will reside in Ozona.

Congratulations to Juanita and Ector Gutierrez who will celebrate their anniversary on Dec. 12.

Best wishes go to Lupe and Tony Sanchez who celebrate 22 years of marriage this week.

Outreach effort looks for older women

Despite advances in the economic status of most retirees, older women, especially women over age 85, remain one of the most economically vulnerable groups in our society, Franklin H. Upp, Social Security manager in San Angelo, said. Social Security hopes that its current Supplemental Security Income (SSI) outreach effort will assist some of these older women.

Because of differences in life expectancies, 70 percent of Social Security beneficiaries age 85 and older are women. Their benefits are usually lower than men in the same age group because historically women have had lower paying jobs or have taken time out of the labor force to care for their families.

Additionally, many women at 65 have savings and other resources which are gone by 85, Upp said. Their resources may be depleted by a husband's final illness or the increased living expenses of living alone as a widow.

SSI provides an income floor for many older people with low Social Security benefits and reduced financial resources. Over 75 percent of the SSI recipients over age 85 are women, and advocacy groups believe many more older women may be eligible for SSI.

Social Security Commissioner

Gwendolyn S. King has committed the Agency to an outreach effort to ensure that all individuals who are potentially eligible for SSI know about the program, know what the benefits of the program can mean to them, and have an opportunity to obtain benefits.

Information about SSI is available from Social Security, Franklin H. Upp said. The San Angelo Office is located at 2214 Sherwood Way. The telephone number is 915-949-4608.

4-H recipes make great holiday treats

4-H'er Tamie Reagor receives a $100 saving bond for the 1991 lamb award from Drake McKinney, president of Crockett County National Bank.

If you're searching for just the right holiday recipe, consider these dishes from our Crockett County contestants at the recent District VI 4-H Food Show.

Julie Childress' "Torte Milanaise" is deceptively simple, with purchased puff pastry and layers of delicious cheese, ham and vegetables. It's equally at home on a buffet table or as the centerpiece of a holiday luncheon.

Leana Baggett's "Chicken Tetrizzini" is so good, one of our food show judges decided her own child should make it for the Sutton County food show! It's also an excellent make-ahead dish for holiday entertaining.

Courtney Phillips' "Calico Potato Soup" only looks rich—it's low in calories and filled with nutrients—and it tastes great!

And Kelli Gentry adds a new twist to an old favorite—"Bubble Bread" made from a tasty yeast dough.

Speaking of breads, C'Jay McKinney made a hit—and you will too—with her "Almond Braid." A hint of citrus makes it delightful for a holiday brunch or coffee.

If chicken is your favorite, try "Chicken and Dressing Casserole" from JoLynn Vannoy. It's delicious, easy, and we bet the kids will love it.

Ty Porter's "Potato Casserole" is also easy—it's one of our favorites, along with Sara Mayfield's "Wild Rice Casserole". Both make perfect accompaniments to almost any kind of main dish.

And for a grand finale or any holiday party, don't forget Robin Conner's "Pumpkin Roll." For the food show, Robin chose to garnish the roll with stripes of the filling to make it look like a log.

We hope you enjoy these recipes, and will let the 4-H'ers know when you've tried them!

Julie Childress' Tourte Milanaise

- 1 pound puff pastry
- 1 T. oil
- 1 T. butter

- 1 10-oz. package frozen leaf spinach, thawed and drained
- 2 garlic cloves, minced
- 1/4 t. nutmeg
- Salt and pepper
- 2 bell peppers, sliced
- 1 egg

Omelets:

- 5 eggs
- 2 t. chopped chives
- 2 t. chopped parsley
- 1/2 t. dried tarragon
- Salt
- 2 T. butter
- 8 oz. Swiss cheese, sliced
- 8 oz. ham, thinly sliced

Lightly grease 8-inch springform pan. Roll out 3/4 pastry 1/4-inch thick and line bottom and sides of pan. Keep remaining pastry refrigerated.

Heat oil and butter in large skillet. Add spinach and garlic and saute 2 to 3 minutes. Season to taste with nutmeg, salt and pepper. Remove from skillet. Add bell peppers to skillet and saute briefly. Remove from heat and set aside.

For omelets: Lightly beat eggs, herbs and salt to taste. In 7- to 8-inch skillet over medium heat, add 1 tablespoon butter and shake so butter coats bottom evenly. Pour in 1/2 egg mixture and stir briefly. As eggs start to set, lift edges so liquid can run under. When eggs are completely set, and top of omelet is no longer moist, shake pan and slide omelet onto warm plate. Repeat with remaining butter and egg mixture.

To assemble: Position rack in lower 1/3 of oven and preheat to 350 degrees. Layer ingredients in prepared pan in following order: 1 omelet, 1/2 spinach, 1/2 cheese, 1/2 ham, and all bell peppers. Repeat layering in reverse order, using remaining ingredients.

Roll remaining pastry 1/4 inch thick. Cut out 8-inch circle. Place over omelet and seal well to pastry lining by pinching with fingers. With tip of knife, draw number of slices desired directly on pastry. Brush with beaten egg. Place pan on baking sheet and bake until golden brown, about 70 to 75 minutes. Cool slightly. Release from pan and serve warm, slicing with sharp, thin knife. Serves 8.

Ty Porter's Potato Casserole

- 32 oz. bag frozen hashbrown potatoes
- 1/2 cup melted butter
- 1-10 3/4 oz. can cream of chicken soup
- 12 oz. grated cheddar cheese
- 1-8 oz. carton sour cream
- Dash of salt
- 1/2 small onion, chopped

Mix potatoes and onions together and place in bottom of pan. Mix butter, sour cream, soup, cheese and salt. Pour over potatoes and onions. Bake at 350 F for 30 minutes. Makes eight 1/2 cup servings.

Optional: May top with 2 cups crushed corn flakes.

Courtney Phillips' Creamy Potato Calico Soup

- 1 large onion sliced
- 2 T. margarine
- 5 cups boiling water
- 1 1/2 lb. potatoes, peeled and sliced 1/8 inch thick
- 1 bay leaf
- 1 1/2 cups lightly packed, shredded cabbage
- 1 cup carrots, shredded
- 1/2 cup celery, thinly sliced
- 1/4 cup parsley,
- 1 1/2 t. basil
- 1/2 t. pepper

In 3 quart saucepan, saute onion in margarine over medium heat. Remove onion. Add water, potatoes and bay leaf. Bring to boil. Cover and cook gently until potatoes are tender, about 10 minutes. Remove and press potatoes through a ricer. Return potatoes and onion to liquid in saucepan, mixing to blend. Add remaining ingredients. Simmer 10 minutes.

To serve, ladle into bowls; sprinkle with additional parsley. Makes 6 servings, 139 calories each.

Kelli Gentry's Bubble Bread

- 1 cup milk, scalded
- 1/2 cup shortening
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 2 cakes yeast
- 2 eggs, beaten
- 4 1/2 cups flour
- 1 stick butter, melted
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- 1 cup sugar
- 1/2 cup nuts, shopped (optional)

Mix scalded milk, shortening, sugar and salt together. Let cool to lukewarm, then crumble the yeast into mixture. Add beaten eggs and flour. Mix to soft dough, turn out on a floured board and knead until smooth and not sticky. Place in a greased bowl and cover with a damp cloth. Let rise until double in bulk. Punch down and let set for 10 minutes. While dough is setting, combine the sugar, butter and nuts. Make dough into small balls, about the size of a walnut. Roll each ball in butter, then in the sugar mixture. Place in greased angel food cake pan, in staggered rows and layers until all dough is used. Let rise again, then bake in a 350 F. oven about 45 minutes. Turn out onto board or plate and pull off luscious bites one by one.

Chandra McKinney's Almond Braid

- 1 pkg. dry yeast
- 1 t. sugar
- 1/4 c. warm water (105-115F)
- 1/2 c. milk
- 1/4 c. butter or margarine
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1 t. salt
- 1 t. ground nutmeg
- 1 egg, beaten
- 2 3/4 to 3 1/4 c. all-purpose flour, divided
- 1 T. butter or margarine
- 1 t. grated orange rind
- 1 T. orange juice
- 1 T. lemon juice
- 1 1/4 to 1 3/4 c. sifted powdered sugar
- 1/4 c. sliced almonds

Dissolve yeast and 1 t. sugar in warm water in a large bowl; let stand 5 minutes. Combine milk and next four ingredients in a saucepan; heat until butter melts. Cool to 105 to 115 F. Add to yeast mixture. Stir in egg and 1 cup flour, mixing well. Gradually stir in enough remaining flour to make a soft dough.

Turn dough out onto a lightly flour surface and knead 5 minutes or until smooth and elastic. Place dough in a well-greased bowl, turning to grease top. Cover and let rise in a warm place (85 F), free from drafts, 1 1/2 hours or until doubled in bulk.

Punch dough down and divide into four portions. Shape 3 portions of dough into 14-inch-long ropes. Place ropes on a greased baking sheet (do not stretch); pinch ends together at one end to seal. Braid ropes; pinch loose ends to seal. Tuck ends under, and spread braids apart in center.

Divide remaining portion of dough into thirds. Shape each third into a 12-inch rope; braid loosely. Pinch ropes at ends to seal, and tuck ends under. Place braid on top of first braid. Cover and let rise in a warm place, free from drafts, for 45 minutes, or until doubled in bulk.

Bake at 350 F for 20 minutes or until a toothpick inserted into the middle comes out clean. Cool braid on a wire rack. Combine 1 T. butter

Ladies capture consolation

By Ann Trull

The Ozona Lady Lions completed their stint in the girls' bracket of the annual tournament by capturing the consolation trophy Dec. 8.

In the first round, the Ladies defeated Junction 54-29.

The first quarter of the tournament opener saw the Lady Lions take a commanding lead of 22-11 as Kimberlee Coy dropped in 10 of the 22.

In the second quarter, the Eagles of Junction slowed the Ladies' pace by allowing them only six points compared to their 12, but when the half ended, Ozona was still in the lead 28-23.

As they made their way back onto the court, the Ladies put on a different game face and dropped in 15 points while holding the Eagles to 0. The score was now 43-23.

The final minutes of the game saw the Ladies outscore the Eagles in yet another quarter 11-6 for a final of 54-29.

They bashed the boards for a combined total of 37 rebounds, 16 offensive and 21 defensive. Rebounders were: Haley Carson 15, Myra Sanchez 5, Teena Tambunga, Claudia Avila 4 each, Veronica Mendoza 3, Leticia Dominguez 2, Kim Coy, Tricia Hartnett, Cullen Curry and Sandra Fuentes 1.

Even though the Ladies triumphed, they accumulated 11 personal fouls and 9 give-aways.

Ozona burned up the court, stealing the ball 20 times.

The Lady Lions shot 22 of 57 from the field for 39 percent, and stepped up to the charity stripe for 10 of 63 and 15 percent.

Scorers were: Kim Coy 21, Carson, Tambunga 8, Dominguez 6, Hartnett, Sanchez 4, Avila 2 and Curry 1.

The second game of the round robin saw Ozona fall to district rival Coahoma 55-44.

The Lions once again came out on top of the rebounding game, totaling 35, 12 offensive and 23 defensive. Rebounders were: Tambunga 10, Carson, Dominguez, Ofi Rios 5, Fuentes, Coy, Sanchez 3, and Hartnett 1.

When the half ended, the Bulldogs of Coahoma were on top 28-20. But the Ladies came back and outscored them 16-13 in the third quarter. This would prove to not be quite enough for the ladies to win as the final score was Ozona 44, Coahoma 55.

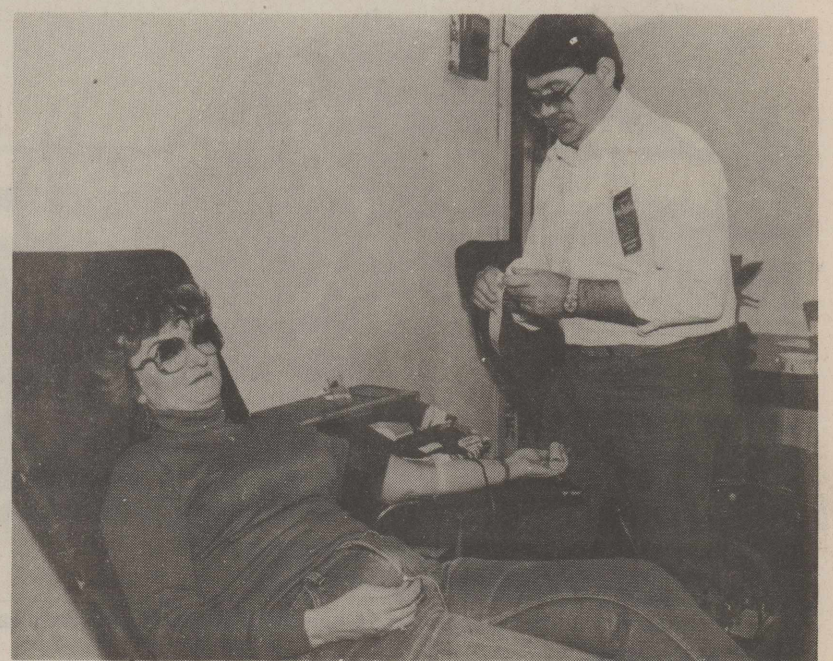

Scorers were: Tambunga 12, Carson, Coy 10, Dominguez, Rios 4, Hartnett, Sanchez 2.

The last game of the tournament proved to be close and exciting with the Lady Lions falling to Brownfield 50-48.

The first quarter saw the Ladies behind 11-20, but as the buzzer sounded ending the first half of play, it was the Lady Lions who outscored the Lady Cubs 13-10 in the second quarter.

In the third quarter, the Ladies scored 8 and held Brownfield to 7. The game became tense in the fourth quarter with Ozona scoring 16 to 13 for the Lady Cubs. This was not enough for the win as Brownfield triumphed 50-48.

Ozona scorers were: Carson 17, Tambunga 10, Dominguez 9, Coy 6, Mendoza, Rios and Sanchez 2.

The Ozona Junior Varsity Lion basketball team opened the 1990-91 season with a mark in the loss column when they were downed in their opener 80-62.

In the first quarter, the Lions tossed in 12 points only to fall to the 4-A Panthers 12-24 at the end of the first.

The second quarter proved to be the same as the Lions added 13 points compared to Fort Stockton's repeat of 24 to end the quarter and half 25-48.

As the Lions took the court in the third they could only accumulate 6 points while the Panthers added 21 for a total of 31-69.

The final quarter proved to be the end as the Lions were able to toss in only 19 for their largest score in a quarter. The opponents dropped in 23 for a final of 62-80.

The musings of a hunter

by Roy A. Harrell, Jr.

Recently I returned from the Persian Gulf area where I had been on a special assignment to the American Embassy. Our economic analysis team had as its mission recommending how to develop the economies of the area in order that the people could enjoy the benefits of twentieth century life. As economists love statistics, while there I read that in the United States there would be more deer hunters out in the woods this fall than there are American troops in Saudi Arabia. I found this to be a comforting thought knowing that not only am I safe from that madman from Iraq-Saddam Hussein-but also will be protected from those aggressive deer as well. I slept like a baby the night I read that tidbit and all of the troop buildup in the Persian Gulf didn't worry me one bit. I knew that once I returned to the United States I could join my fellow hunters in protecting Americans from deer.

Upon returning to the United States I read some other deer news in the papers. A jury in Maine returned an innocent verdict against a deer hunter charged with manslaughter. According to the papers, he was out in the woods and saw something white, so he took a couple of shots. What he saw was a young mother of infant twins who was in her back yard wearing white mittens. She unfortunately died from the gunshot wounds. A portion of the hunter's defense strategy was that the dead woman wasn't a native of Maine and simply didn't know about all of the hunting that was going on at the time. It was stated that she should not have been in her back yard wearing white mittens as this simply confused the hunter and he sincerely thought that he was shooting at a white-tail deer.

Anyone who knows me knows I am an avid hunter. But I have been thinking that perhaps, just perhaps, some of the rules need a bit of revision. I want to submit these for consideration by the authorities in Austin. I have put a lot of thought into these revised rules. Rule No. 1-If a hunter kills a deer, he has to eat it. None of this trophy killing of just for the sheer fun of seeing it drop. This rule does make sense. We kill cattle so we can have sirloins and T-bones.

An addendum to this rule is you have to eat the entire deer if you kill it. Oh, I don't mean you have to eat the pancreas or the large intestines, but whatever is edible must be completely consumed.

Rule 2-How would it be if we all hunted in the nude? After all, the deer aren't dressed. Perhaps all of the camouflage is nothing but trickery and perhaps shouldn't be allowed if the sport is fair. I realize it might get a little nippy out there, and then there are mesquite thorns and the like, but all hunters know that hunting isn't an Easter Egg hunt at the White House.

Rule No. 3-Forget the bazookas when you go hunting. Do your target practice elsewhere. Barney was given only one bullet and Andy didn't even carry a gun and they kept Mayberry safe and sound. Sorry friend, you missed. Go home and get another bullet for the 300 Savage and try tomorrow.

Rule No. 4-If you happen to shoot another person by mistake, it would be tacky in the extreme to request his bereaved family to allow you to have the head of the victim to put on the wall of the den. This rule would not of course apply in Maine where putting heads of hunters in dens is expected.

Rule No. 5-Let's be honest about why we kill deer. Let's not say that we are doing the deer any big favor or that a lot of them will starve if we don't. I am worried about the balance of nature, and I hunt for this reason. Someone else may have a perfectly legitimate reason. But if I truly am worried about deer starving to death unless I harvest them, I can always take some corn out and feed the poor creatures. And if I want to commune with nature, then I can take some binoculars and watch the birds. And if I should see a Redbird, or a three-toed, black-billed Redbird, there should be no rules stating that I have to eat the thing as I am proposing for deer hunters.

I realize all of this is revolutionary and maybe will cause some consternation. But it is time for hunters to get on the offensive against the animal rights types and show that we do have a set of rules of fair play. All society needs to be governed by ethics and even the breed of deer hunters are no exception. If we don't establish some set of rules, who knows but that the next time we are out in the woods or draws all alone, perhaps Smokey the bear will eat us for our red caps. My friends in Scouting tell me he has been doing this for years to the Boy Scouts. I don't want to suffer that fate, and I want to see more Scouts compete their trail to Eagle Scout. What more noble thing can I possibly do?

In the only game in the third round, the Sonora Broncos defeated Ozona 63-53.

The final games for both consolation and the championship proved to be interesting. San Angelo Central

J.V. defeated Coahoma in a cliff-hanger 58-54 for consolation, and the championship went to Brownfield when they smashed Sonora 94-38.

In the girls' round robin, the team from Brownfield remained undefeated, moving toward the championship trophy by defeating Coahoma 56-55, Junction and Ozona.

First graders learn about soldier's life in Saudi Arabia

Mrs. Jeannine Henderson's first grade class has been studying the Middle East countries of Iraq, Kuwait and Saudi Arabia. The children have been learning about a soldier's way of life in the Saudi desert along with why the soldier are there.

They have sampled an MRE (meal ready to eat) and have found that the food the soldiers have to eat is not so great. They have seen Saudi money and pictures of the country.

Their class sent a Thanksgiving FAX, letters and Christmas cards to the men from Ozona who are in Saudi Arabia or the Persian Gulf. Their most recent project was to send a care package to some of the soldiers.

The class received a letter from Spc. Dale Perry who wrote about his daily life as a soldier in the desert.

The class has a special bulletin board of the men showing their support.

No is a support word for kids

Youngsters in Ozona schools learned that no is actually a support word when Marvin Nash and his friends Sonny the Wonder Horse and a goat named B.A. (for Bad Attitude) came to visit last week.

Nash, a clown who puts forth the message "don't clown around with drugs" delighted children at Ozona Elementary and Intermediate Schools as he led them through a program designed to teach them how to say no and mean it.

Support, which does not always appear to be fun, is essential to learning how to say no to drugs. A pipe frame dummy which cannot stand without Nash's help illustrates the need for support.

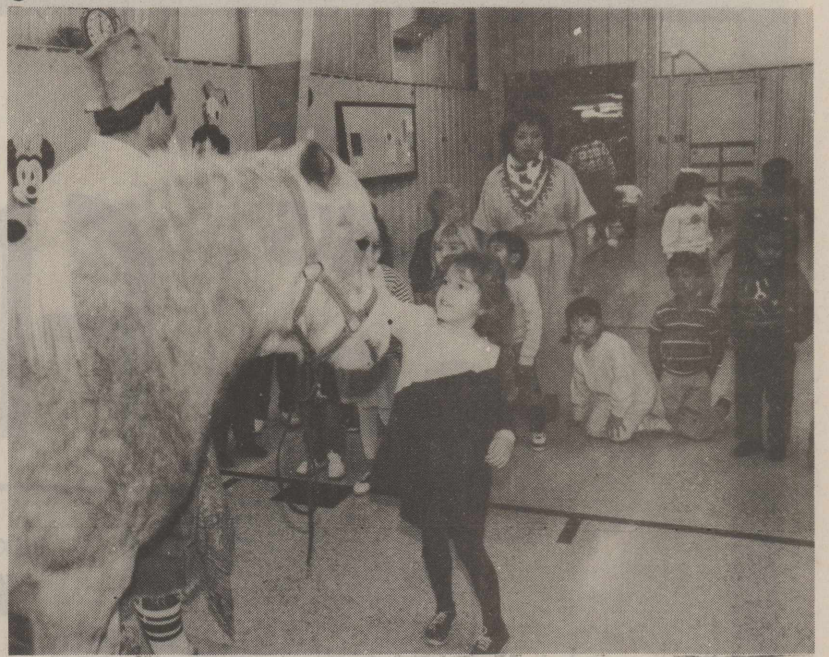

"Part of growing up is falling down. When teachers sometimes tell you no, they're not being mean, they're supporting you," Nash said.

Supporting each other, getting good attention rather than bad through making right choices and education were stressed by Nash.

Each child was allowed to pet Sonny the Wonder Horse before leaving the auditorium.

The Victoria resident has been on the anti-drug speaking circuit for about two years. He was a rodeo clown until he retired last August. Before the 1990-91 school year ends, he will have spoken to more than 300,000 school children statewide.

Nash was in Ozona through the Education Service Center in San Angelo said OJHS principal Don Howard. Howard is anti-substance abuse coordinator for Ozona schools.

Sonny the Wonder Horse gets a pat from Michelle Bueno during an anti-drug abuse program at Ozona Primary.

Taco Bell sponsors America remembers campaign

The America Remembers Campaign is a national effort sponsored by Taco Bell that encourages and enables Americans to support more than 180,000 U. S. servicemen and women stationed in more than 80 countries and afloat on three oceans.

Organizations and groups such as school classes are encouraged to adopt one or both of the military units list through Taco Bell.

Mail should be sent by Dec. 6, but if you miss that date, the troops will appreciate any mail received anytime. The only special procedure is to fill out a customs form at the post office for parcels and packages going overseas.

The troops enjoy Christmas cards and letters along with any sort of magazines or books. Comics from the daily and Sunday newspapers are also appreciated.

Each adopting organization is asked to send as many or as few cards and letters as they desire. Packages to Saudi Arabia should not weigh more than 15 pounds. Do not send pork products or anything that will melt in the heat.

Units available for "adoption" are: The USS Ranger battle group: A U.S. Navy Aircraft carrier and its support ships that are going to the Persian Gulf with 8,000 sailors on board. Cards and letters can be addressed to: "Dear Sailor" or "Dear Friend":

Ozona Girl Scouts hold product award ceremony

Ozona Girl Scouts held their Product Award Ceremony Dec. 8, at the Crockett Room opening with the flag ceremony by Cadette Troop #95.

Service Unit Coordinator, Debbi Bachman, explained to the group how Girl Scouts is a nonprofit organization. Local troops are dependent upon donations and fund-raisers to meet their operational expenses. All Scouts, with the exception of Daisies, are allowed to participate in the council sponsored calendar and cookie sales. Junior Scouts are allowed one outside fund-raiser per year. Cadette Scouts are allowed two outside fund-raisers per year. Fund-raisers are important, not only for the monetary purpose; but, they allow the Scouts to experience responsibility and to develop pride in earning their own money.

This year, the Scouts chose to participate in the Merton Meat Locker Holiday Sale. Two Junior Troops and one Cadette Troop took part. Troop profits were announced and the sale was deemed successful.

Merton Meat Locker had individual incentives especially made for each Scout that participated. These were hair bows in the Ozona school colors, which were presented by troop leaders. Linda Usener, leader of Troop #24, presented bows to: Jennifer Usener, Loretta Stewart, Reba Vargas, and Katherine St. Clair. Becky Young, co-leader of Troop #42 presented bows to: Erin Barbee, Ashley Ramos, Amanda Hignight, Yvonne DeHoyos, Gina Sadler, Michelle Camerillo, Ashley Hubbard, Audrey Young, Nicole Perez, and Robin Tambunga. Debbi Bachman, leader of Troop #95 presented bows to: Connie Fielder, Kelli Gentry, and Jackie Lara.

Top sellers in each troop were announced and recognized: Troop #24 Jennifer Usener, Troop #42 Gina Sadler, and troop #95 Connie Fielder. The top sellers were presented with a cash award by Mr. Lee Walston, Merton Meat Locker representative.

J. L. Tucker, president of Troop #95, presented Mr. Walston with a thank you banner on behalf of all the Scouts. Mr. Walston was applauded for his interest in youth organizations. Appreciation was expressed for the cash awards and the refreshments furnished by Mr. Walston. The Ozona Stockman was recognized and thanked for their part in making the fund-raiser successful.

The ceremony concluded with Troop #24 singing "Green Trees" and "Taps."

The Ozona Girl Scouts wish to express their gratitude to all that made purchases.

Visiting in the home of the James Haires for the Thanksgiving holiday and wedding of their son, Jay, were Mr. and Mrs. Jesse O'Rear, Mr. and Mrs. Jim O'Rear, Misty and Michael all of Jal, New Mexico, also, Mr. and Mrs. Tim O'Rear and Jared of Las Cruces, New Mexico, and Sherry, J. R. and Tammy Haire of Pearsall.

4-H UPDATE

Congratulations again to our food show contestants. This is the best showing for Crockett County in the past three years—we had more people place than any other county!

Welcome home to Katharine Durham. You have to hear the story about her head exploding on the airplane! Chicago and National 4-H Congress was really the trip of a lifetime, and I'm happy to report she made it home with all her luggage, jewelry, clothes and camera! And an autographed photo of Michael Jordan she refuses to give to her mom!

Upcoming events:

—Another 4-H Trash Pickup on Saturday, Dec. 15 at 9:30 a.m. Meet beside the highway sign and wear heavy shoes/boots, jeans and bring gloves if you have them. The highway department has asked us to pick up one more time before Christmas, so this is it, folks.

—Sheep showmanship clinic on Saturday following the trash pickup, at 1 p.m., county show barn. Senior 4-H members will be helping with the training. Call the county office for details.

—We're getting ready for the stock show, which isn't very far away. Watch your mail for a letter asking for concession stand help and help with the barbecue meal. We will not be asking anyone to bring food—but we will be asking both adult leaders and older 4-H'ers to help, even if you're not in the livestock projects. The money we raise goes for all our 4-H projects and activities.

We were proud that once again Crockett County had the largest group of 4-H members at a district event, when we had 24 folks at the Christmas Ball in Odessa. You should have seen how handsome and beautiful they looked. Thanks to the parents who helped chaperon and provide transportation: Carmen Sutton, Elizabeth Upham, Nancy Vannoy, Janis Graham and Sadie Davidson.

For community service, we're asking all 4-H members to bring a small Christmas gift (something you would like—a toy or something for a teenager) to the Extension Office between now and next Wednesday, to help the Sheriff's Department with their "Santa" program. Just remember it's fun to help those less fortunate.

For more information about the 4-H program and opportunities for you and your children, contact the Crockett County Extension Office at 392-2721.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages, regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion, national origin or handicap.

The Extension Service Offices won the prize for best decorated county office during judging last week.

Parenting styles can predict kid's behavior

All parents have their own "style"...and that style, along with each child's temperament, personality and life experiences, are just some of the things that affect the way that child responds.

Three family atmospheres have been identified which may affect behavior. Researchers say a family may be either authoritarian, permissive, or authoritative.

Authoritarian parenting includes rigid, controlling practices. Parents often expect unreasonably adult behavior from their children, regardless of the child's age. They make all the decisions, discouraging the child's independence.

Usually, one parent is the dominant disciplinarian, and little encouragement or praise is given. Under these circumstances, predictions of the child's behavior include distrust, hostility, rebellion by strong-willed children or timidity by complacent children, low self-esteem, dependency, fearfulness, difficulty in establishing close relationships, rejection of parental values and beliefs, and a high rate of anti-social behavior.

The other extreme is permissiveness, and that's the style we see all too often in today's society. In this type of family, parents avoid exercising control of any kind, there is inconsistency, little structure and few expectations set. The parents make few demands for responsibility, orderly behavior or social rules.

However, this type of family has a lot of nurturing and communication. Really, the parent acts more as a friend than as a shaper of the child's values and behavior.

How does a child feel in these families? Basically, they may feel insecure an unloved, have low self-concept and find difficulty adjusting to structure in school and other social settings. They practice little self-control, are irresponsible, lack consideration and thoughtfulness of others. They see no need to follow parental standards (there are none!) and have a high rate of antisocial behavior.

Even though most families practice some of each of the authoritarian and permissive parenting, the ideal atmosphere for children to develop capability, confidence, competence and healthy independence is the authoritative. In this environment, parents are clearly in charge and have set firm, well-defined guidelines, yet are flexible in establishing boundaries. There is mutual respect for feelings, ideas and emotions, with acceptance of the uniqueness of each individual. Reasonable expectations allow for mistakes and give appropriate encouragement and praise. There is healthy role modeling, nurturance and affection.

Children from these families have high self-esteem, adopt family values and beliefs and exhibit lower rates of antisocial behavior. They tend to be cooperative, friendly and are good decision-makers. They are achievement-oriented, creative and secure.

All parents want to be good parents. Though few families achieve all the goals they like in the area of childhood behavior, these parenting style guidelines can help families achieve that goal.

Just remember that many factors other than parenting style—environment, temperament, personality—can affect how our children turn out, but it's probably the most significant.

For more information—and to develop your own support system—why not try our STEP/Teen parenting classes. We'll begin meeting in January, and the charge is only $10 for a workbook. Couples may share the workbook.

The series of STEP/Teen lessons helps you learn how to communicate, set rules and deal with the trying teen years. It's great for parents of teens or (I would recommend) for those who have pre-teens.

So call the Crockett County Extension Office today. Space for classes is limited to 10 persons. Our number is 392-2721, or you can come by our office, located on the second floor of the county courthouse annex.

History of county recorded through grant project

A video history of Crockett County and a children's historical activity book were presented Tuesday, Dec. 4, at the civic center. Supper was served to more than 80 people.

The event honored all those who had participated or worked in any way on the project. It was sponsored by the Crockett County Museum, Crockett County Historical Society and Crockett County Historical Commission.

Carmen Sutton, Crystelle Childress and Camille Jones were in charge of the decorations.

Camille Jones, president of the Crockett County Historical Society, welcomed guests and introduced Dr. Tim Brewer who gave the invocation.

Geniece Childress was responsible for the video, and Shirley Kirby chaired the book committee. Others who worked on the book were Katrece Hale, Tammy Bunker, Maridel Dudley, Cookie Worthington, Sid Hoover, Ginger Perner, Judy Probst, Geniece Childress and Janie Riggs.

Background music for the video was by: Pam Brewer, Marilyn Chalmers, Rosalind Williams, Lupe Alvarez, Joe Ibarra, John Stokes, Jim Wilson, Bob Hartman, Judge Brock Jones, Rev. Bill Fuller and Katharine Russell.

The script was by Geniece Childress with narration by Johnny Childress.

The projects were funded through the generosity of the Robert Massie Foundation. The Ozona Woman's League contributed, also.

Mrs. Childress paid tribute to the Robert Massie Foundation and to the dedicated, conscientious board members who administer the trust money.

Robert Massie came to Crockett County from Scotland in the 1800s. He married Mary Payne. They amassed considerable wealth and left a legacy of hard work and integrity. Today the Massie Foundation gives to many educational and cultural institutions. Three great-nephews of the Massie's serve on the board.

The video, "This Rugged Land Called Crockett County", and the activity book may be purchased at the museum.

Holiday foods and exercise on tap for homemaker club

Easy party foods for the holiday, together with some easy, low impact exercise tips, will be the topic for Thursday's meeting of the Progressive Extension Homemaker Club.

The group will meet Thursday, Dec. 13, at the Civic Center from noon to 1 p.m. Anyone interested in the topic is welcome to attend. There is no charge, and guests can bring a brown bag lunch if they need to in order to return to work if they would like to come on their lunch hour.

County Extension Agent-Home Economics Tedra Ulmer will present the program. "We'll feature some low-cal party food ideas for those of you who are fighting the battle of the bulge, plus some easy arm-chair exercises for those who want to get in a little exercise but are unable to do the usual types of aerobics, etc.

Ulmer noted that dress for the program is casual, and participants can join in the exercises if they wish. "Many of these exercises will be appropriate for someone with foot and leg problems, such as those who have diabetes," the agent said.

For more information, contact the Crockett County Extension Office at 392-2721. Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages, regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion, national origin or handicap.
