911 petition presented to court

A request that commissioners reconsider implementing 911 emergency service was presented to the court Monday in the form of a petition. Catherine Coates delivered the petition and was supported in her request by Totsy Hagelstein and Katherine Russell.

Commissioner Fred Deaton explained that while he is for 911, the court must weigh whether or not the convenience of having a three-digit, easy to remember emergency number versus calling a five-digit number is worth the $100,000 to $120,000 a year cost to the county.

The original 911 plan in Crockett County called for existing personnel to answer. Both the hospital and Sheriff's Department would require additional personnel to serve as a 911 answering point, Deaton said.

Contracting with a private answering service was investigated and found to require structural renovation to provide a climate controlled environment for the equipment. The county cannot legally provide these improvements on private property.

The state wants Crockett County covered by 911, but offered no solutions or funds, Deaton said.

After giving everyone in the courtroom an opportunity to speak, commissioners voted to keep the lines of communication open but not reconsider implementing 911 at this time.

Sheriff Jim Wilson, Bob Denson, hospital and care center administrator, and Doug Meador, representing the fire department, attended the presentation.

Telephone bills will continue to show a 50 cent per month charge relating to the service through October, Judge Kathryn Mayfield said.

Court members voted against doubling the road and bridge tax on vehicles registered in the county from $5 to $10. The increase would have added about $20,000 to the road and bridge fund.

Ted Sivadon of Marble Falls presented a comprehensive plan to renovate the exterior of the courthouse. Some of the work included in the restoration approved by the court is cleaning and painting outside trim, cleaning limestone on the north wall, tinting newer limestone used to fill closed-in area to match original, repairing tin and ceiling of north porch. Cost of the renovation was approved at $14,875.

Court members voted to authorize advertisement for fuel bids, participate in group permit application for storm water discharge from county owned/operated landfills, pass resolution honoring retiring employee J. C. Schroeder and approve an overall economic development plan as prepared by the Economic Development Committee.

A list of items placed in the centennial time capsule was reviewed and added to the clerk's minutes of the meeting.

Following the monthly report by Bob Denson, hospital and care center administrator, commissioners voted to approve lease of a new Xerox copier for the facility.

The court also voted to approve recruiting of a lab tech for the hospital through Health First Management of Tyler and joining National Association for Exchange of Industrial Resources. The association provides a monthly catalogue of supplies available at no charge to member organizations. Members order as many items as they would like, placing them in an order of priority. Some months you may receive none of your requests or you may receive many, Denson said. If goods are not received during the year amounting to the membership fee of $625, the second year membership is free.

Denson said one shipment received at a hospital where he was employed was valued in excess of $5,000.

Commissioners voted to repair rather than replace the road department ice maker. They also voted, during the report by department head Eddie Moore, to extend maintenance on County Road 408, referred to as the "old Dunlap country", .8 of a mile to bring maintenance up to the last property line.

A charted plan for watering the cemetery presented by Onecimo Ortiz, parks supervisor, was approved by the court.

Reports were also heard from Garland Young, civic and youth center; Sheriff Jim Wilson, and Louise Ledoux, librarian. The court voted to approve the civic center board's request to replace director Pete Ybarra with Manuel Munoz.

Reports from Helping Hands and the fire department were read by Judge Mayfield.

Commissioners met in executive session to discuss purchase of property for a landfill. No vote was taken following the return to open session.

In a separate executive session, the court considered restructuring of personnel under their supervision. No vote was taken upon their return to open session.

Court proposes 6 1/2 cent tax increase to fund 1992

A .065 increase in taxes needed to fund the 1992 budget will keep the county at a break even point Auditor Sandy Stokes told commissioners Monday. The increase, up from .615 per $100 valuation to .68 per $100, would increase revenues approximately $500,000. Each one cent tax increase generates about $50,000 from the $520,000,000 tax base, he explained.

County reserves have declined by $300,000 to $400,000 each year for five years according to Stokes. At the end of 1991, reserves are expected to stand at $700,000.

A notice published in the Aug. 7 issue of The Stockman showed the effective tax rate for 1991 taxes to be .5829 per $100 valuation. The effective tax rate is the amount of taxes needed to generate the same amount of revenue as the previous year.

This year's rollback tax rate, eight percent above the effective tax rate, is .6267.

"A rollback to .6267 would result in a cut of services," Judge Kathryn Mayfield said.

A tax hearing is scheduled for Sept. 26 at 6 p.m. in the courthouse. Following the hearing, commissioners will meet to set the tax rate.

A budget hearing is planned for Sept. 9. A copy of the proposed $6,070,000 budget for 1992 is available for public inspection at the office of County Clerk Debbi Puckett.

The Ozona High School Lions started practice Monday morning with a large turnout.

"I'm excited about the enthusiasm the guys showed up with this morning (Monday)," said Coach Don Payne, athletic director and head coach. "I think we will still need to grow, but mainly I believe we need to play our hearts out every Thursday and Friday night."

All the coaches are hoping for the same large turnout as practices continue.

"The team isn't real big, fast or strong, and since there aren't very many days to practice before school starts," said Coach Jim Green, "we need to push fast and hard, and I think they found that out today. (Monday)"

The Lions scrimmage in Sanderson at 5 p.m. Aug. 23. They will scrimmage Van Horn in Fort Stockton at 6 p.m. Aug. 29.

Letter to the Editor

Now that the hoopla and excitement of the centennial are over, I want to thank Geniece Childress and all the other people who made this experience—particularly the pageant—so positive for our community.

Many of you don't realize that work on the pageant started early last fall. It was Geniece's vision to have a "home-made" pageant as good as any professionally-written and produced pageant, and I believe she succeeded. You know, you have to have a vision before you can have reality—and maybe dreamers aren't always practical, but they eventually get things done with the help of you "doers" and organizers" ... and luckily, Geniece just happens to be a little of both!

There were a lot of lonely, cold nights spent up here in the Courthouse Annex meeting room through January, February and March—with folks like Geniece, Frances Curry, Thomas De Hoyos, Chita Cisneros, Al Ramirez, Lucille Littleton and Camille Jones.

Then, by April, I ran out on Geniece - 4-H called and I answered by hitting the road! But she never gave up—and found new faces and energetic helpers and other visionaries—so in the end, our whole county had something to be proud of for the next hundred years because of her determination, persistence (I don't know why her ears didn't burn off at times, but they didn't!) and expertise.

Not only did she write much of the pageant script, but she sent off for scripts and videos from other pageants, and talked to people in other communities which had these events, so we could avoid the "pitfalls" and snatch some of the good ideas for staging and so forth for ourselves.

On Saturday night, I heard a lady behind me say "Well, we did it!"—yes, the whole community did it, but we weren't all there for those many hours when Geniece labored alone. Thankfully, however, because of many other people who "caught the spirit" and wanted our pageant to be the absolute best it could be, the ranks grew thicker and we had more and more people who pitched in and made the vision a reality.

I just wish I had half her energy, creativity, and spunk. She's a great lady, and I'm very proud to know her, and to have had the opportunity to work with her and my other Crockett County friends on this project.

Sincerely, Tedra L. Ulmer

A Quick-View Guide to the Journey to Oz

By T.C. Tucker

I buy gas at Angerman's General Store. Five dollars worth paid with cash—ararity, usually I use VISA for petrol.

Just down the road on my right, I pass Two Ninety Fence and Ranch Supply. Appears to be a good-sized operation.

As I top a small hill leading to a sharp decline, I notice a woman in an RV traveling in the opposite direction. She is leaning against the driver's seat and talking to the man behind the wheel.

A few miles later, a barbecue pit riding in a truck's bed passes me at a speed more than 60mph.

The wind is ferocious—another rarity. I have to roll up my window, it is so strong. Now and then a gust hits the car, tries to push it off the road.

This trip I notice more things. Course, that's the plan: follow 290 West, slow down and look around. Take it in, read the signs, stop here and there.

I pass through Henly in a matter of seconds, even at 50mph.

So far along this stretch of road, the landscape has been tremendously green; thanks, no doubt, to the amount of rainfall recently in the Austin area. I know that as I travel west, the green will fade to yellow and maybe even brown near the end of the trip.

For now it's green. Really green! I imagine I'm in the cool New Mexico mountains.

Then I feel the sweat on my forehead.

During the trip I pass ten picnic areas and two rest areas. I may have missed one or two of the former, but I believe only two of the latter exist: one right next to the entrance to the LBJ State and National Historical Park; and one just west of Sonora, the one preluded by ominous warnings—"Next Rest Area 86 Miles" if you're moving west or "119 Miles" if you're heading in an easterly direction.

At one of the first picnic areas, I spot a man with white hair and one crutch sitting at a stone table. He looks like an aged Salman Rushdie.

Yes, I know what the writer-in-hiding looks like. Immediately following the now-dead Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini's curse on Rushdie's head more than two years ago, it seemed every periodical ran the author's picture. Gee, what a nice gesture. Make sure everybody—including a dogmatic terrorist—knows what Salman Rushdie, author of The Satanic Verses, looks like.

Right to the east of McCall Creek is a small, well-kept cemetery. It's nice. In fact, it's nice enough to have a picnic there. Disgusting, you say? No, that's the atmosphere: a cemetery without being dreadful, dreary, dead. It's an uplifting cemetery.

A suggestion for those Mr. Rushdie insulted: instead of aiming at the real head with a bullet or bomb, cut out his picture, attach it to the board and throw darts at it. If you still don't feel avenged, break a few dishes and perhaps even write a letter to your congressman.

Personally, I'm horrified that such an obscene action as the Ayatollah's occurred in such a modern, free-willed world.

Of course the most democratic society in the world, America, at times comes close to similar measures. An example. Making and releasing The Last Temptation of Christ is an act of free will. Picketing outside the movie theatre showing it is an act of free will. But, banning The Last Temptation of Christ is an elimination of free will. Luckily the latter failed to happen. And thank God no one put a bounty on the heads of the movies' director or actors or best boy or makeup...

The hills around Johnson City are spectacular, though the town itself has never been an engaging one.

A few miles back, 290 joined 281, but in Johnson City 290 turns left and I follow, letting 281 to wander north to Burnet, Lampasas, Hamilton and eventually Wichita Falls.

Maintaining a westward direction, I pass a white house with a rainbow van out front. What's a rainbow van? A white van with a rainbow painted on the side. Probably some company's vehicle. Colorful.

Goats on the right, and then the land ripples for a mile or so. I mean the ground bulges in a pattern equivalent to incoming waves. Scientists say terra firma behaves as such during earthquakes and other internal manifestations.

I look at the rumpled land. My word, no wonder quakes turn hair white. It's like being in the water—nothing to hold on to but yourself.

People living next to the road place little reflectors to tell themselves and/or visitors where the built-up driveway ends and the shallow ditch begins.

At the community Rocky Creek (straddling Rocky Creek), a house and 4.52 acres bordering the substantial flow of water are for sale. Have been for the two years I've traversed this route.

Also here, as I come off a hill and bank to the left, a faded, rusty sign proclaiming 'MOTEL' hangs in front of a cluster of buildings. Still in use? The Roads of Texas (published by Shearer Publishing) confirms the evidence: it is a motel.

The Roads of Texas also tells me the Post Oak, Rocky and Pleasant Valley Communities are in the nearby vicinity, as well as two private runways, Monument Hill at an elevation of 1800 feet, and two triangulation stations. What the heck is a triangulation station? Sounds deadly, somewhat akin to 'strangulation.'

Besides all the roads in Texas—including ranch roads, Roads shows everything: gates, water sources (with concrete and natural fords), cattleguards, grain elevators, Barbara Earwood of Sonora has been selected as artist of the month by Crockett County Public Library. Her life on a ranch is evident in her work.

Earwood paintings on display at library

Watercolors by Barbara Earwood of Sonora are on display this month at Crockett County Library. Life on the ranch where the Earwoods raise some of the finest wool and mohair in the world is depicted in watercolors and drawings by Mrs. Earwood. "The antics of the lambs and kids are always exciting to me," says the artist who lives on the ranch 30 miles from town.

Born in New England, and a graduate of Woodward School of Quincy, MA, and the Washington School of Art, Port Washington, NY, she has continued studies at Angelo State University and with many notable artists. Her 12x5 1/2 foot montage, portraying the simultaneous growth of Sonora and the bank, hangs permanently in the Founder's room of First National Bank of Sonora.

Mrs. Earwood's favorite medium is watercolor with its "tremendous challenge". She also executes superb pen and ink and scratchboard renderings. In 1984, her design won the Sutton County Logo Contest and was used extensively for the sesquicentennial state celebration.

Barbara Earwood is included in the 1981-1982 American Artist of Renown, the 1984-1985 edition of Notable Women of Texas and the New Historical Encyclopedia of Texas.

Her work has been selected for numerous juried shows and has been awarded top honors. These include: Texas Fine Arts Association, Texas Watercolor Society, Museum of the Southwest in Midland, Abilene Fine Arts Association, Southwestern Watercolor Society and Laguna Gloria Museum in Austin.

"Stinkys", a watercolor done in quadrangle style, of baby skunks is currently on tour with the Texas Watercolor Society. Other works hang at Warner's Frame and Art Supply, The Art Center Gallery, both of San Angelo, Ol' Sonora Trading Company and at her studio in Sonora.

Think About It!

Free (for the asking)

There are many things that are available, from the government and private industry, free to any person who asks for them. These things range from advise to pamphlets, from samples to gifts - but, often, no one asks for them. Despite advertising and 800 numbers, many "freebies" go unclaimed.

I wonder why, especially in hard economic times, that people don't ask for things that are free? It seems to me there might be three reasons: (1) they don't know (2) they know but don't believe it (3) they are ashamed to ask. In either case, the fact remains, if you don't ask - you don't get.

The Bible presents a similar condition. The same thing happens when it comes to God's great blessings. The Divine wants to give, and will, to all who asks. But, many go without the kindness of God because they don't ask!

There were numerous times that Christ gave His blessing only after people asked. Once, at the pool of Bethesda in Jerusalem, an invalid came under the stare of the Son of God who said, "Do you want to get well?" In essence, Jesus was saying, "Then ASK!" (John 5) Another time, at Jericho, the Savior healed a blind man only after the man had asked (Mark 10).

In fact, the Lord said plainly, "Ask and it will be given you" (Mt. 7:7). Many did, and they received; many more didn't, and they did not receive. The rich blessing of Deity were, and are, available to those who ask of God.

James writes of those who "do not have because they do not ask"

(James 4:2). Why not ask? Some do not ask for God's blessing today because they don't know He wants to bless them. These deprived folks go without because of ignorance. As Christians, we must tell these needy folks of the God who gives freely to those who come to Him.

Others know of God's free gifts, but they don't believe it. They don't ask, and they don't receive. It might take some effort to get free material, but those who don't want to take that effort will not receive. Unbelief stops the refreshment of God.

Still others are ashamed to ask. I think that this is the case of many of us. Pride keeps us from asking. We think that if we ask for something that it means we are not showing that good old American spirit of doing it yourself.

God's great reservoir of blessing is endless. Sure, all receive some blessings from Him, but the greatest amount goes to those humble souls who ask. There is grace, mercy, and pardon in the storehouse of the Lord - it is FREE, for the asking.

Think about it.

Clothed with immortality, in new bodies, He's coming

1 Thess. 4:16, 17 and 1 Corint 15:34-35

By Rev. Miguel Jimenez

* Awake to righteousness, and sin not; for some have not the knowledge of God: I speak this to your shame, But some man will say, How are the dead raised up? and with what body do they come? Thou fool, that which thou sowest is not quickened, except it die: What a day that will be for those worldly minded people whose affections are centered on things of this earth; it will be a day of great disruptions. For the saints of God, however, it will be glorious. It will be the fulfillment of their greatest desires. Just to see Jesus, to look on his face - what a time of rapture! At that moment those who are ready for His coming will lose their mortal limitations and weaknesses. They will find themselves clothed with immortality, in new bodies.

Those who have gone before us, by way of death, will be resurrected, and we will join them in clouds of glory for a meeting such as never has been known. We have often sung and rejoiced about that meeting in the air, but our minds still can hardly conceive such a gathering where millions will be experiencing indescribable joy. There'll be singing, there'll be shouting, then there will be reunions, plus getting acquainted with those we have only read about. It all seems too good to be true.

Yet, it is true. It was Jesus who said, "I go to prepare a place for you.

And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again, and receive you unto myself; that where I am, there ye may be also." John 14:2,3 His coming has occupied the thoughts of His followers ever since that time. It was a prominent theme in the writings of the Apostles. To be ready for His coming has been a compelling force in the Church's evangelistic thrust.

We have felt the need of getting the gospel to every creature as a part of being ready for our Lord's return. This has been a powerful motivation to thousands of men and women who have been called to forsake all and become involved in the Great Commission. The return of Jesus is something we must not lose sight of, nor can we afford to lose the sense of excitement which this hope brings...

Breakfast, "It is the most important meal of the day, especially for children"

School is just round the corner, and parents are beginning to shop for supplies. But a nutritionist at the Children's Nutrition Research Center in Houston says one obvious entry on the annual checklist is often overlooked — breakfast.

"It is the most important meal of the day, especially for children," said Janice Stuff, a research instructor at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston. "Breakfast supplies 1/4 to 1/2 of the recommended daily allowance of vitamins and minerals. If you skip breakfast, it is hard to catch up during the day."

Mastering the three Rs requires a lot of energy. Without breakfast, children are usually hungry by midmorning. A hungry child is too cranky and too tired to concentrate on school work, Stuff said.

"Breakfast gives a child an energy boost improving his or her behavior, attitude and physical and mental performance."

Healthy breakfasts draw on several of the basic food groups. Parents can fortify their mini-scholars by serving a dairy product, a protein, a bread or cereal and a fruit.

However, it is okay to vary the menu and offer foods that do not fit the traditional breakfast ideal.

Stuff suggests the following alternatives: peanut butter and jelly sandwich, yogurt and toast with jelly, fresh fruit and cottage cheese, cheese and crackers, soup, popcorn, breakfast taco, leftovers.

Before parents rush to the store and overstock the pantry with breakfast "goodies," Stuff encourages them to read labels.

"Parents may discover they are giving their child a product that lists sugar, sodium or fat as a main ingredient," she said.

Sugar-coated cereals are an example. Stuff recommends that children be introduced to a variety of natural wholegrains.

Discretion is urged when selecting breakfast meats as well. "A number of breakfast meats are marked lean or lite. They may have fewer calories, but 70% of those calories may come from fat," Stuff said.

To add protein to the morning meal, she recommends either Canadian bacon or ham that has been prepared in a non-stick skillet or microwave oven. Only 45% of the calories in Canadian bacon or ham come from fat.

Despite good intentions, parents may undermine efforts to start their child's day on a healthy note. According to Stuff, children's food choices and eating habits are influenced by the preferences of their parents.

"Parents must set a good example, and Mom is an especially important role model. If she sips coffee and munches on a doughnut, what kind of message is she sending her child?"

When possible, parents should also include the child in menu planning, shopping and meal preparation. The entire family should practice the ABCs of good nutrition.

New Ozona residents, Thelma Kirksey, Christine Cockran and Lee McClure along with Mr. Harvey McClure of Houston enjoyed a cactus jelly canning party Sunday morning at the Ozona Sr. Clubroom.

On lookers Wanda Smith, West Texas supervisor Calhoun Property Management, Virginia Bishop, manager of Ozona Sr. Apartments and Latham Ducote, grandson of Linda Kramer, were happy to be the official tasters.

Mr. McClure, who has recently moved back to Ozona from Houston, says he enjoys walking the hillside to pick this delicious native fruit and enjoys being in the Ozona climate again.

4-H enrollment nets new members

A number of new members joined 4-H this past week during school registration, according to Tedra Ulmer, County Extension Agent-Home Economics and county 4-H coordinator.

"We were pleased to see a number of new names on our enrollment cards," said Ulmer, who noted the school enrollment was carried out by 4-H members.

Ulmer said the Extension Office was appreciative of the time and effort spent by the 4-H members and their parents in enrolling new members. She also noted that anyone who has not yet enrolled or who has not filled out a new enrollment card for 1991-92 should do so as soon as possible, since activities are already being planned.

4-H is a youth organization open to anyone age 9 or in the third grade through age 19. It is designed to teach leadership and citizenship skills, as well as self-esteem, responsibility, and working with others. Parents/leaders are an integral part of the 4-H program, which offers a variety of projects and activities to choose from.

"With over 200 4-H members in Crockett County, and with the number of different projects we have available, we need everyone's help," said Ulmer, "and that's why we need 4-H leaders to volunteer—for everything from transportation to helping with project lessons."

The fall Crockett County 4-H Parent/Leader Association Meeting will be held Tuesday, Aug. 20, at the civic center, beginning at 7:30 p.m. This year's president is Jimmy Arrott, vice-president is Nancy Vannoy, and treasurer is Helen Bean. All parents are urged to attend and become involved in 4-H along with their children. "4-H is a family affair," said Ulmer.

For more information or to sign your child up for 4-H, call the Crockett County office of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at 392-2711, or come by the office, which is located on the second floor of the Courthouse Annex.

Educational programs such as 4-H which are sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service are open to persons of all ages, regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion, national origin or handicap.

Girl Scout Cadettes hold farewell pizza party

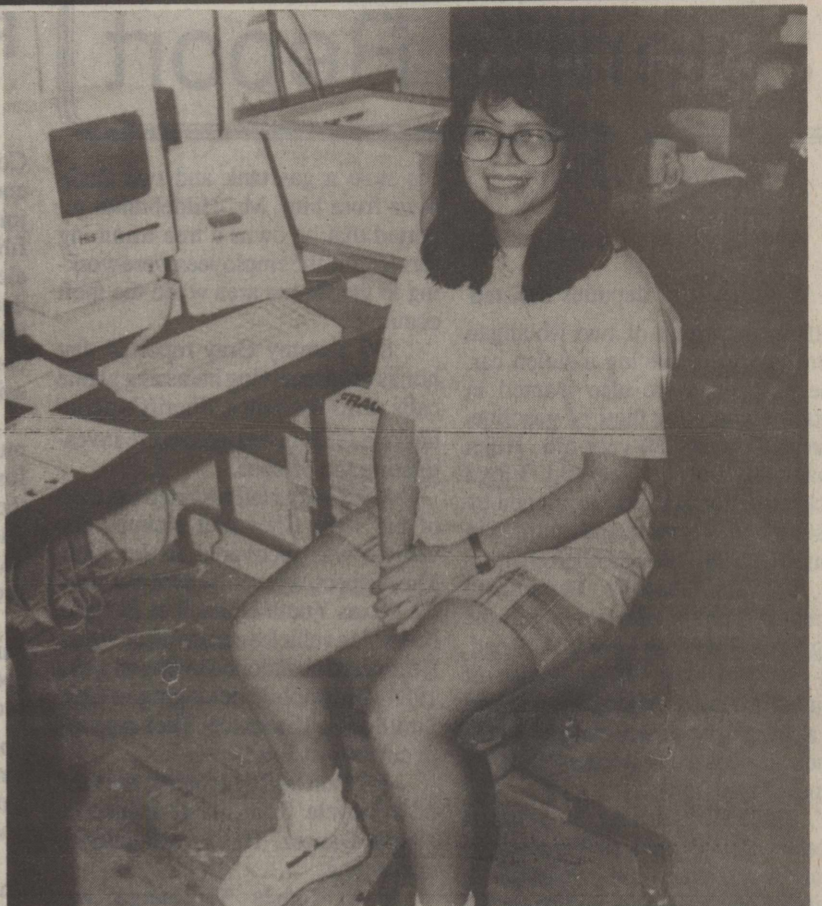

Girl Scout Cadette Troop #95 concluded their summer activities with a farewell pizza party for Troop President J. L. Tucker. J. L. has been an active member of Troop #95 for many years, and she exemplifies the true spirit and being of Girl Scouting. She will be greatly missed by all in the Ozona Girl Scout Program. Best wishes are extended to J. L. and her family on their move to Snyder. Members in attendance were Christina Marshall, Tonya Petty, J. L. Tucker, Kelli Gentry and Connie Fielder.

Summer activities for Troop #95 included hosting Daisy Daze in lieu of a day camp. Daisy Troop #103 enjoyed an evening of Girl Scout fun. The girls joined in singing songs, playing games, and making their own leather sit-upons. Each Scout was served refreshments of bug juice and created their own bumps on a log. The evening closed with a friendship circle and the exchanging of friendship rings. The Daisys accomplished several requirements towards Brownie Try-It badges. Daisy Troop #103 members in attendance were Chrissy Carson, Kasey Miller, Grace Galvan, Michelle Necessary, Regan Shaw, Rebekah Shaw, Paige Tambunga, Lindsey Wilson, Holly Sheppard, Amy Ybarra and guest Heather Sheppard.

Additional summer activities for Troop #95 included assisting in the Children's Summer Library Program, participating in the all-troops' Father-Daughter swim party, holding a mid-summer pizza party, attending Lions Club play, marching in the 4th of July parade, and participating in the all-troops' swim and watermelon party.

Cadette members Connie Fielder and J. L. Tucker earned their Silver Award this summer. The Silver Award is the highest award that may be achieved as a Cadette Scout. The Silver Award entails completion of five requirements. The first four teach the Scouts leadership skills, career possibilities and commitment to others and one's self. The Scouts were required to earn Career Exploration Pin, Cadette Leadership Award, the Cadette Challenge, Dreams to Reality Patch, and three interest project patches. It takes approximately three years to properly complete the first four requirements. The fifth requirement involves, working with an adult to carry out a project that implements the skills and knowledge learned. The Scouts must be instrumental in the planning of project activities, preparations, and the follow through. The Scouts project must be approved by the troop leader and service unit coordinator. Connie Fielder's project was the Children's Summer Library Program. J. L. Tucker's project was the achieving the Silver Award.

Belia Vasquez has been selected by the Stockman to write junior high football, cross country and girl's high school sports this year. Belia is a junior at OHS this year. She is the daughter of Belia Ramirez Reyes and Pablo Reyes.

According to the American Cancer Society, one out of ten women in the United States will develop breast cancer sometime in her lifetime. It is currently estimated that over 37,000 women die each year as the result of breast cancer.

Ninety percent of breast cancers are diagnosed by women or their physicians finding a lump in the breast. Women who are diagnosed with a lump large enough to feel have a 50 percent five year survival rate. A woman who is diagnosed as having breast cancer by mammography, before a lump can be felt, has a 97% five year survival rate and a 90% 10 year survival rate.

A mammogram can detect a cancer this small, ● even before it can be felt.

Guidelines For Screening Mammography Established by the American Cancer Society.

- I. 35-40 years of age - One baseline mammogram.
- II. 40-50 years of age - A mammogram every 1-2 years depending on breast type and risk factor.
- III. 50 years of age and over - An annual physical examination and annual mammogram.

Rep. Hilderbran joins others in lawsuit against LBB

AUSTIN—Stating that the Texas Constitution has been ignored long enough, Rep. Harvey Hilderbran joined 19 other Texas legislators in filing a lawsuit which would force elected officials to perform their legal duties regarding the state budget. "This blatant disregard of our state's constitution requires drastic action," said Hilderbran.

A petition for a writ of mandamus, which seeks to compel the enforcement of Article VIII, sec. 22, of the Texas Constitution, has been filed with the Texas Supreme Court and will be handled as an emergency proceeding.

Under the law, the Legislative Budget Board is required to meet at a specified time and adopt a rate of growth for the state's economy for the following two years. This economic growth rate is designed to limit the growth of the state budget to an amount the people can afford to pay.

The board failed to meet and adopt this figure for the 1992-1993 budget. They also failed to comply with the law in 1985, 1987 and 1989.

Since last March, Hilderbran has been working to close up the legal loophole that has allowed this to happen. He said that some people are asking why they have waited until so late in the budget process to file this lawsuit. A better question, said Hilderbran, is "why has the LBB refused to obey the law in the past and is still refusing to do so today."

Because of Article VIII, Sec. 22, state spending above the rate of growth of the state economy is illegal. However, there is a process by which the state can spend more than this amount. The Legislature, by resolution, must declare that an emergency exists, identify the nature of that emergency and specify how much spending over the constitutional limit is necessary. "The law is clear. The constitution is the people's voice and there is absolutely no justification for ignoring it," said Hilderbran.

The enforcement of article VIII is important as the state of Texas is preparing to spend over $1 billion more than the highest estimate of the state's economic growth for the two-year period ending August 31, 1991. Hilderbran said that he and other legislators have tried to solve this problem using every step of the legislative process and none have worked. "The LBB has yet to pay attention and perform their legal duty. Maybe this lawsuit will improve their hearing," said Hilderbran.

Visiting

Visiting in Ozona last week was the Akil Kaham family, a delightful group from Istanbul, Turkey. The Kahams arrived in Los Angeles July 15 for a dream trip across the U.S. Speaking with the family became a history trip itself. Ben, the youngest of three sons, told most of the story. The family's trip started some two years ago but was derailed with the crisis in the Middle East. The oldest boy, Jarik, spoke, saying the war was far enough away, but so close, and to quote the 13-year-old, "Don't you see?"

The children's desires for things in America were "New Kids on the Block", Gatorade, watermelons and Disneyland. Mrs. Kaham said, "we have learned recently Mastercard and money, you just can't travel without it."

Birthday greetings go out to Peggy McWilliams on Aug. 8. Hope you had a beautiful day, Peggy.

Anniversary wishes for a great day go to Roy and Tonya Bullard on Aug. 11. Best wishes go out for both of you.

Some 31 children and five brave adults made a trip to Six Flags last week for "Soul Lift" day. Though the trip was exhausting, this was an enriching trip. Chaperones were Dr Gary Vannoy and wife Nancy, Curtis Keith, Judy Farris and Cindy Nicks.

Anniversary wishes on their first year go to Jeff and Lorie Hill on Aug. 11. Best wishes to you both.

Birthday wishes go to Spec. Michael Tomlinson Aug. 8 as he turns 22. Mike, wherever you are, happy birthday.

Visiting in Ozona this past week with family and a host of friends were Ben and Annette Badillo and children. The Badillos are former residents and students from Ozona. The family now resides in San Jose, CA, and though they like San Jose, Ozona is home. Do come back soon.

Birthday wishes go to Freddy Garza on Aug. 15 as he turns a year "wiser". Have a good day, Freddy.

Visiting along AT&T were Staff Sgt. Shane Tomlinson and family. Shane's call to the Tommie Tomlinson family was to inform them he would arrive in DFW on Aug. 15. The news was long awaited after three years overseas.

Birthday greetings go belatedly to Wes Bryson on Aug. 9. Wes didn't speak of being older, just about working on a tool shed. Happy birthday, Wes.

Visiting along the Inky Trail was Hiroko Yamagiwa from Seattle, WA. "Hero" is a full-fledged U.S. high school graduate now and pleased as punch. Plans are to find a good college to further her English education. Hiroko says hello to all her former classmates and hopes to see you all soon.

Happy anniversary to Rose and Doug Lewing who will celebrate their 25th on Aug. 17.

Celebrating their wedding anniversary on Aug. 19 are Jeff and Laura Owens.

Houston teenager killed in I-10 accident

A Houston teenager was killed Aug. 9 in a motor vehicle accident 30 miles west of Ozona on I-10. Michael Hagens, 14, died when he was struck in the head by a loose object after the van in which he was riding was hit from behind by a truck. The accident happened about 4:35 p.m.

Passenger Reinhard H. Wuensche, 47, of Houston, was taken to Crockett County Hospital for treatment of head and chest injuries. He was transferred to Angelo Community Hospital.

Stephen Wuensche, 17, driver of the 1989 Chevrolet van which was pulling a camper trailer, and David Christian Wuensche, 15, were treated at Crockett County Hospital and released.

Gary Alan Ebeck, driver of the 1990 Peterbilt truck which struck the van, was not injured. Ebeck was charged with criminally negligent homicide. He remained in Crockett County Jail Tuesday.

The accident was investigated by

DPS Trooper Richard Barton.

An Aug. 8 accident in Crockett County occurred at 6:40 p.m. 15 miles east of Ozona on I-10. James Bae of Cyn County, CA, lost control of his 1988 Mazda after hearing a noise coming from the vehicle. The car skidded off the road and hit a rock embankment before overturning one-half times.

DPS Trooper Ben Macias was the investigating officer.

Texas Senate week in review

AUSTIN—On Sunday, July 28, the Texas Senate passed legislation to create a new Texas Department of Transportation, which would include the Department of Highways and Public Transportation and the Department of Aviation. This legislation is in response to the Texas Performance Review released in June by Comptroller John Sharp. Included in the legislation are measures to allow civilians to perform driver's license tests and supervise motor vehicle inspection stations.

The Texas Senate also passed Senate Bill 82, sponsored by Senator Chet Brooks of Pasadena, which would bring in 500 million dollars a year in federal funds for Texas hospitals that serve a disproportionate share of Medicaid patients. The concept is to reward those hospitals, and to provide incentive to others to do more, so access to health care will be improved.

On Tuesday, July 30, the Texas Senate passed House Bill 2, sponsored in the Senate by Senator Carl Parker of Port Arthur, which provides for changes relating to public and private education as recommended by the Texas Performance Review. Senate changes to the house bill restored pre-kindergarten programs for at risk 3-4 year olds, a provision removed in the Texas House last week, causing several members to walk out. The bill passed on a vote of 31-0.

Also on Tuesday, the Senate concurred on House amendments to Senate Bill 2, the legislation creating the Department of Environment. On the same day, Senator Parker filed Senate Bill 90 to clean up the legislation passed. House amendments took the notification and liabilities of a company knowingly endangering employees' health out of the legislation, as well as guaranteeing certain employees of the agencies involved long-term employment commitment. Senate Bill 90 will amend the legislation to take care of these items. The Finance Committee is hearing this bill.

On Friday, Aug. 2, the Senate passed House Bill 4, sponsored by Senator Bob Glasgow of Stephenville, which creates the Texas Department of Licensing and Regulation, transferring 49 regulatory and licensing agencies to the new department. It also transfers the tax functions of the Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission to the state comptroller's office and transfers TABCO bingo regulation to the new department and the bingo tax collection to the state comptroller. These are all recommendations included in the Texas Performance Review.

Several House-Senate conference committees are meeting to work out differences in legislation. Meetings are expected to continue through the weekend.

Public Notice

On April 9, 1991, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company filed an application with the Public Utility Commission of Texas to request that the optional feature "Call Transfer Disconnect" be available to all PLEXAR I customers by including the feature in Southwestern Bell's PLEXAR I tariff. Currently, this optional feature is available only on a customer requested basis.

Call Transfer Disconnect (CTD) is an optional feature that allows PLEXAR I customers the ability to transfer a call to another telephone number within or outside their PLEXAR I system, hang up, and permit the two remaining parties to continue with the call. The PLEXAR I user is then free to place or accept another call. CTD is not intended to be used to avoid toll charges. Therefore, CTD will not be available to PLEXAR I customers subscribing to optional Extended Metropolitan Service or Extended Area Calling Service.

If the company's application is approved, the monthly rate for CTD will be $4.00 for each PLEXAR I station line. Prior to the June 19, 1991, interim rate approval, Southwestern Bell was billing customers who receive the service $1.50 for each station line equipped with this feature. In addition, under Southwestern Bell's proposed tariff, every line within the PLEXAR I system must be equipped with this feature. The nonrecurring charge for the additional lines which must be equipped with CTD will be waived for existing CTD customers. The tariffed monthly rate will apply to all existing and future CTD customers.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the commission as soon as possible. A request to intervene, participate, or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission Consumer Affairs Division at (512) 458-0256, or (512) 458-0221, teletypewriter for the deaf.

Phony health claims come in many forms

Phony health claims used as "scare" sales tactics come in many forms. Unscrupulous salespersons may use research data out of context, misquote researchers, use unreliable data, or data which is outdated.

For example, one claim I heard recently involved the relationship between aluminum cookware and Alzheimer's. They concluded there might be a link to using aluminum cooking utensils and being afflicted with this terrible disease. However, it seems that this accumulation of aluminum occurs in several types of brain damage, and that the condition is caused by the disease or injury—not the causative factor. But did you throw out all your aluminum pans? We hope not! Current research says there is no link between using aluminum cookware and any kind of disease.

And how about those vitamins and minerals giving you energy? That's been a popular claim for several years, since America became "health-conscious." But vitamins and minerals do not give you energy themselves. They work with other nutrients—carbohydrates, protein and fat, as well as other vitamins and minerals—to make your body function correctly and thus make you feel better—but not the moment you take a vitamin pill!

They won't make you eat less or suddenly give you abundant energy—and you can get them from eating a balanced diet, without taking supplements.

Oh, and let's don't forget the popular "cholesterol" scare tactics. America's problems with heart disease are related to more than just cholesterol—we consume too much saturated fat, get too little exercise, and smoke too much, in addition to eating foods high in cholesterol.

Cholesterol is found in the cell walls of all animal tissue—therefore, you can't "remove all the cholesterol" by taking the skin off chicken or cutting the fat off meat. You can reduce the amount of saturated fat and cholesterol by doing those things, plus using cooking methods which don't use additional fat or oil.

There are many false claims being used today—what we have to do as good consumers is be alert and question anything that doesn't sound right or that you can't be certain comes from a reliable source of research-based information. The Texas Agricultural Extension Service is one place you can get that information—free—by calling or coming by our office.

Our number is 392-2721, and we're located on the second floor of the Courthouse Annex. Educational programs and information provided by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages, regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion, national origin or handicap.

Crockett County Care Center News

by JoAnne Marshall

Residents were entertained by the Sheriff's Posse Band Monday evening. Their performance was spiced with lots of humor and lively music. Band members present were: Jim Wilson, Bob Hartman, Bill Dane, George Hester, Bill Fuller and Marsha Tomlinson. We would like to thank them for putting a smile on our faces and a melody in our hearts.

Tuesday morning's bingo volunteers were Sophie Kyle and Georgia Kirby. The caller was Joe Connolly. We would like to thank Joe and the ladies for their assistance. Game winners were: Myrtle Post, Hazel McDaniel, Juana Hernandez, Theo Burns, Barnabe Villarreal, Alice Ross, Jeff Owens, Tomasa Ramos and Jose Arredondo.

Bill Fuller of First Baptist Church conducted a short Bible study Tuesday afternoon. Maxine Brown played the piano. We would like to thank Bill and Maxine for sharing their time with us.

Parrots, elves and southwestern art were worked on in Wednesday morning's ceramic workshop. Volunteers lending a helping hand were Ruthie Dorris and Ruth Hester. Thank you, ladies. Residents attending were: Theo Burns, Hazel McDaniel, Florencia Porras, Chata Tambunga, Moriana Perez, Frances Davis, Joe Connolly, Barnabe Villarreal and Juana Hernandez.

Residents and staff members shared jokes during our lighter side activity Wednesday afternoon. Laughter really is the best medicine.

Residents were beautified by volunteers Vivian Hughes, Jerri Pesson, Yolanda Avila and Audrey Smith Thursday morning. We would like to thank these ladies for their time and talents in our beauty shop. We always look forward to their visits.

Don Godeau of Calvary Baptist Church conducted a short song service and Bible study Thursday afternoon. We would like to thank Don for stopping by.

The Spanish Hour of Praise was held Thursday afternoon with Fr. Quirino Cornejo conducting the Mass. Members of Our Lady of Perpetual Help Catholic Church attending were: Alicia Perez, Paulita Leal, Anita Fierro, Maria Vitela, Germana Onofre, Herbierto and Lorenza Gutierrez, Felipa Munoz, Isabel Ramirez, Beatriz Vasques and Alejos Tambunga. Much to the residents delight, a short visitation followed. We would like to thank all those who attended this activity with us for coming.

Hazel McDaniel set a new record for bingo wins in Friday morning's bingo. She won five games. Other winners were: Moriana Perez, Florencia Porras, Alice Ross, Elvira Pena, Bertha Miller and Juana Hernandez. Alice was lucky enough to win two games. Fresh popcorn was served as an extra added treat.

Friday afternoon residents attended a magic party. I performed magical tricks such as mind reading, egg floating, disappearing ink and ribbon cutting. The residents, with a little of my magical powder, performed their own trick. They made an egg float. By the time the party was over, they had all performed one trick all by themselves, and that was to make their cupcakes disappear. A bird that sang when it was touched was part of the act. My assistant for the show was Gracy Galvan. Refreshments were served by volunteer Georgia Kirby. Thank you Georgia, and thank you Gracy for being such a good assistant.

Sunday's worship service was presented by members of Our Lady of Perpetual Help Catholic Church. We would like to thank them for sharing their time with us.

Dare to Care completes third year

This past week ended the third annual Dare to Care Youth Work Camp in Ozona. Many local youths and adults combined forces to refurbish two work sites, the Ozona Community Center and a residence on Blas Street. Tasks included window and screen repair, cleaning, minor plumbing, replacement of a kitchen ceiling, adding light fixtures, flooring, and painting. Yard work was done at a third site.

Members of the Church of Christ hosted an ice cream supper in Granny Miller Hall on July 29 to kick off the work camp. Karen and Chuck Morris coordinated this event.

Breakfast and a devotional at the First United Methodist Church began each day's work at 7:00 a.m. with various members of the church supplying the food and cooking for these meals.

The week's events closed on Aug. 3 with a swimming party and cookout at the north swimming pool and hosted by members of the First Baptist Church. Steve and Opal Mobbs coordinated this activity.

The following young people participated either all or part of the week of this year's camp: Chad Johnson, Justin Southern, Leroy Martinez, Cullen and Shannon Curry, Robert and Kelly Gentry, Doug Meador, Chris Gibson, JoLynn Vannoy, Eddie Deluna, Gabriel and Michael Vasquez, J. D. Lewing, Chris Sanchez, James Nelson, Raul and Gilbert Rico, Ryan Morris, Kelly Cramer, Larry Sanchez, Tony Valencia, Myra Wilson, and Matt Brewer.

Adults who helped with book-keeping, planning, and work at the sites were Opal Mobbs, Tina Bean, Bill Fuller, Chuck Morris, Tim and Pam Brewer, Frank Hughey, Kathy Aldridge, Rick Bachman, Gene Hood, Tommy Wilson, Raul DeLaRosa, Lou Whitley, and John and Frances Curry. Special thanks go to Harold and Ronald Shaw and the staff of South Texas Lumber Company, to Jamie and Bobby Knox of Knox Floor Covering and to all who donated money.

Weekly Standard brought printed news to area

The Weekly Standard started May 3, 1884 - 4 page edition on a hand press. News of San Angelo and West Texas published by 2 young men, 26 yr. old J.G. Murphy and his partner 22 yr. old W.A. Guthrie.

Started May 3, 1884 with a small hand press - went to press on Friday evening - volunteers lent a hand with the arduous job of grinding papers out of the hand press.

After 21 years as a weekly, the Evening Daily Standard was established May 3, 1905.

The first edition of the San Angelo Morning Standard came off the presses September 5, 1909. After 1 1/2 yrs. returned to evening only. In 1920, after 36 years of managing the newspaper he sold out to a young man from Missouri - Houston Harte.

Northwesterners Praise WT Climate

Mr. E.M. Powell returned yesterday from the Luverne colony in Crockett County, which is being principally settled by farmers from Iowa and Minnesota. Concerning the impressions which people of the northwest have formed of Texas, Mr. Powell says: "They unhesitatingly pronounce in favor of the climate of Texas as being far more favorable to agricultural pursuits than that of the northwest. They believe winters there are becoming more severe and farmers, as a consequence, are becoming alarmed. They confess that while they cannot alter the course of nature, they can come to Texas where they can find cheap homes and genial climate."

Master plumber, missionary pedals bike for homeless

by Scotty Moore

Former plumber Robert MacDonald stopped in Ozona Saturday to rest his weary bones and feet from a hard day of pedaling 90 miles along the interstate.

As he travels the country, Robert MacDonald hopes for increased compassion and public awareness of the needs of homeless people across the nation.

"This trip is mainly discipleship," MacDonald said in an interview Saturday. "Jesus went around His country to ask people to help the poor. As a Christian, my mission is to do the same." Robert is on his second bicycle trip across the country in two years.

The 39-year-old former plumber originally from Las Vegas, NV, pedaled from Los Angeles to Philadelphia last year to experience what it is really like to be homeless and ended up at the Bethesda Project, which provides an array of housing opportunities for the homeless in Philadelphia. He became a night supervisor there.

"The problem of the homeless is growing all round the nation everyday, by at least 50% per year," said MacDonald, "especially in the larger cities, but the problem also lies in the smaller communities such as Ozona. Washington D.C. is the worst I have seen. In each city it's like an epidemic. People are sleeping on the streets and vacant lots under cardboard boxes or anything that they can find just to get out of the weather. In the suburbs, people are isolated from the homeless. They forget we are all in the same family. I want people to see what is going on and that we need to work together."

MacDonald hopes that communities such as Ozona would show compassion for these people and share in the responsibility by providing a place of shelter such as a house. "The churches could team up together and provide such a place for these people," he said. "It would be better for all of us to do this rather than hauling them out on the interstate and telling them to hit the road."

Robert MacDonald takes a welcome rest to pose for the camera. He hopes to promote awareness of the plight of the homeless through his travels across America.

"Most of these homeless need to be fed, a roof over their head with a place where they can at least lie down take a shower and have clean clothes so they can have a chance of holding down a job", MacDonald said.

"I see things that make me wonder what's going on," he said. "Like St. Louis, and the Great Arch. I mean, it's a beautiful piece of architecture. But just five miles away from it is gross poverty. We have to stop building monuments and help people."

MacDonald plans to start his own shelter in Philadelphia after he returns from his trip.

Stockman Deadline: Monday - 5 p.m.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING ON TAX INCREASE

The Crockett County Commissioner's Court will hold a public hearing on a proposal to increase total tax revenues from properties on the tax roll in 1991 by .17 percent. Your individual taxes may increase at a greater or lesser rate, or even decrease, depending on the change in the taxable value of your property in relation to the change in taxable value of all other property.

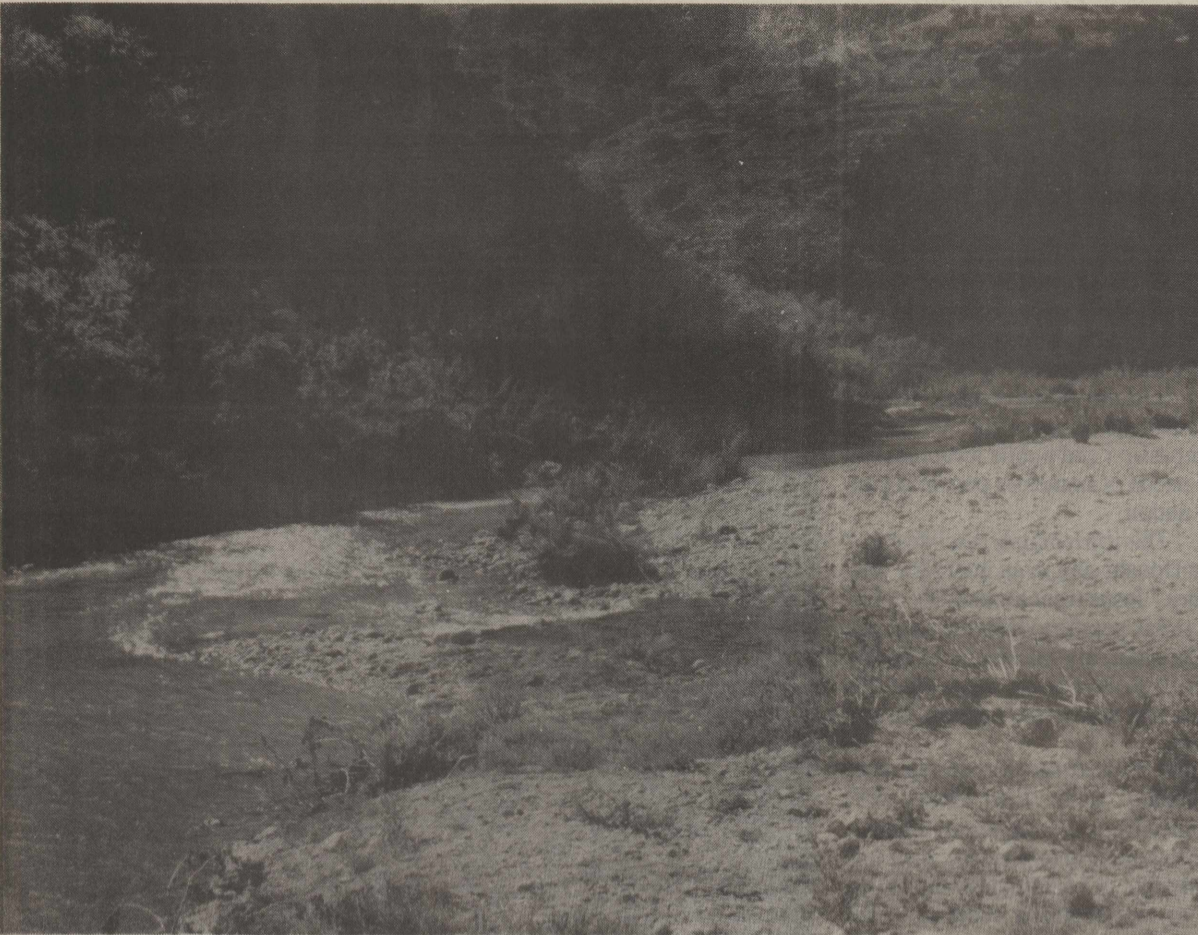

The public hearing will be held on August 26, at 6:00 P.M.
County Judge - Kathryn Mayfield, Prec. #0001 - Sostenes DeHoyos, Prec. #0002
FOR the proposal: - Fred Deaton, Prec. #0003 - Jim House, Prec. #0004 - Rudy Martinez, Jr.
AGAINST the proposal: NONE
PRESENT and not voting: NONE
ABSENT: NONE

The statement above shows the percentage increase the proposed rate represents over the effective tax rate that the unit published on 08-07-91. The following table compares taxes on an average home in this taxing unit last year to taxes proposed on the average home this year. Again, your individual taxes may be higher or lower, depending on the taxable value of your property.

	Last Year	This Year
Average home value	23,690	23,690
General exemptions available (amount available on the average home, not including senior citizen's or disabled person's exemptions)	4,738	4,738
Average taxable value	18,952	18,952
Tax rate	.615	.68 (proposed)
Tax	116.55	128.87 (proposed)

Under this proposal taxes on the average home would increase by $ 12.32 or 11 percent compared with last year's taxes.

Comparing tax rates without adjusting for changes in property value, the tax rate would increase by $ .065 per $100 of taxable value or 11 percent compared to last year's tax rate. These tax rate figures are not adjusted for changes in the taxable value of property.

Family forms partnership with private conservation group to protect ranch's natural heritage

Through a unique cooperative arrangement between the Joe Chandler family of Terrell County and the Texas Nature Conservancy, a splendid piece of West Texas' natural heritage will be protected. The shores of Independence Creek, one of a handful of spring-fed perennial streams in this part of the world, are now covered by a conservation easement purchased by the private, non-profit Texas Nature Conservancy. Under the terms of the easement, the Chandler family will retain ownership of the entire ranch, while the Conservancy will manage the ecologically sensitive 701 acres alongside Independence Creek. Once some renovations have been made and a nature trail has been established, visitors will be invited to join the Conservancy for guided nature tours of the ranch.

"We are all very pleased with the arrangement we've worked out with the Conservancy," said Charlena Vargas-Prada, daughter of ranch owners Joe and Mildred Chandler. "My grandfather settled this land in 1900, so this place is special to us. We have always care a great deal about preserving its natural beauty, and with the Conservancy's help, we'll be able to do that," she said.

"We feel like we've created a partnership with the Conservancy to manage our ranch," added JoBeth Holub, also a daughter of the Chandlers. "We'll continue running the Joe Chandler Guest Ranch and our other ranch operations like we always have, and they'll take care of the area along the creek," she said.

Independence Creek is biologically significant because of its unique ecosystem and aquatic life. "Independence Creek is one of only a few desert perennial streams in the Trans-Pecos," said Dr. Clark Hubbs, an aquatic biologist with the University of Texas at Austin and a trustee of the Texas Nature Conservancy. "Several springs located on the creek five miles before it joins the Pecos River ensure that the creek's final stretch is live water," said Hubbs.

"This makes Independence Creek an important oasis in the dry Chihuahuan Desert," he said. Groves of ancient live oak trees along the creek, unusual in this part of Texas, are eviclude scientific research, long-term monitoring of water quantity and quality, and restoration of the creek bed and adjacent uplands.

Joe Chandler's Guest Ranch, which has been in operation at Independence Creek since 1950, will reopen its doors to visitors following several months of renovations. Although golfing and creekside camping and fishing will no longer be offered, other recreational opportunities - swimming, hiking, birdwatching, cabin rentals - will remain available to guest ranch visitors.

The Chandler Independence Creek Project also offers a haven for several rare species of fauna which live there. The Black-capped Vireo, which nests in only a handful of sites in Texas, Oklahoma and Mexico, has been spotted there. Two rare fishes - the Pecos pupfish and the Proserpine shiner - live in the creek. Adapted to perennial desert streams, these fish species have seen their habitat decline or disappear in most other parts of West Texas.

The Texas Nature Conservancy is the state chapter of an international, non-profit organization, The Nature Conservancy, that is committed to protecting native plants, animals and ecosystems. The Texas Nature Conservancy has been responsible for the protection through acquisition of over 280,000 acres of important natural areas, and works cooperatively with the private landowners of an additional 290,000 significant acres throughout the state of Texas. The Texas Nature Conservancy enjoys the support of 17,000 individual, corporate and foundation members.

(A good sales pitch, eh?)

Hye has a small grocery store that fronts for an 'everything else' store and has a post office tucked away in the far corner. Supposedly, LBJ the kid mailed his first letter here. He returned as president to swear in a postmaster general.

I give the local postmaster my piece of mail and slowly walk out, listening to the floorboards creak beneath my feet. I study the ceiling design, the old freezers with fresh milk, and the bottled soda dispenser. Besides the milk, the newest things in this place are the blue jeans.

On the store's porch, I watch vehicles zoom by, the three or four buildings comprising Hye nothing more than a blink of the eye.

Turning around on the narrow road behind the store, I read an old sign that looks official, like the Highway Department actually made it twenty or thirty years ago, black trim and all.

GOD CARES FOR EVERYONE
KEEP ON YOUR SIDE OF THE ROAD
DRIVE CAREFULLY
THEN WE KNOW YOU CARE

I get back on 290, on the correct half of the road, and head for Stonewall.

For some reason I wonder what Jesse Jackson would think of Hye and its store w/ post office.

We have an election coming up. Perhaps 'pseudo election' is a better term. Unless something drastic occurs with President Bush's health, I do not think '92 will be otherwise.

Public Notice

On July 22, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company filed an application with the Public Utility Commission of Texas for approval of two new optional services, Exchange Connection Service and Customer Alerting Enablement. Exchange Connection Service will permit a customer of the Telephone Company to provide voice messaging service, telephone answering service, or other services to itself or to patrons of the customer. Customer Alerting Enablement will permit residence and business lines to receive an alerting tone (intermittent dial tone) transmitted by an Exchange Connection Service customer. The proposed effective date for this offering is September 25, and will be available statewide where facilities permit.

The calling party's telephone number and other originating network call information will be delivered to the Exchange Connection Service customer when the calling number and the called number are served by the same switch. Additionally, the caller's telephone number and other originating network call information may be recorded and stored by the Exchange Connection Service customer. Customers may be able to identify the caller before the call is answered. All Exchange Connection Service customers will be required to sign a non-disclosure agreement prior to being provided service. In the agreement the customer agrees not to disclose the calling party's telephone number unless the customer has written permission from the calling party.

The Telephone Company estimates these new services will increase its annual revenues during the first year by approximately $1.2 million. Providers of voice messaging service and telephone answering services and their subscribers are the types of customers likely to be affected by approval of these services.
