James receives Golden Trowel Award

Frank James was the surprised recipient of the Golden Trowel Award Nov. 16 at a supper hosted in his honor by the Ozona Masonic Lodge No. 747.

This award, authorized by the Grand Lodge, is the highest honor a lodge can bestow upon a brother said

Graham Childress in making the presentation. Childress, of Sanderson, is Past Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Texas.

James was lauded as "a businessman, a county official and above all a friend to everyone who has been privileged to know him."

The prestigious award reflects years and years of service, not just a single act and was given from the hearts of all members of the Ozona Lodge, Childress said.

In accepting the Golden Trowel, James expressed appreciation for the honor. "I didn't expect this. I just came to be with everyone else," he commented.

Freddie Nicks, Worshipful Master of Lodge 747, added his congratulations with those of other Masons in attendance.

Approximately 50 persons attended the presentation and brisket supper.

County 4-H'ers excel at food show

Crockett County 4-H members exhibited their expertise in foods and nutrition at the annual 4-H Food Show on Saturday, Nov. 16, at the civic center in Ozona. There were 28 entrants.

This year's food show was one of the best in recent memory in regard to excellence of entries and the knowledge exhibited by 4-H members, said County Extension Agent Tedra Ulmer. "The judges were most impressed with the 4-H'ers' abilities and were vocal in their praise for the kids' knowledge of nutrition," said Ulmer.

The agent noted that 52 local donors made this year's show possible. "We are fortunate to be able to reward these fine young people for their efforts," she said.

Special recognition was given to Southwest Texas Electric Cooperative for annually sponsoring the ribbon awards at the event, as well as to Extension secretary Peggy Dickerson for her assistance "above and beyond the call of duty" and to 4-H leader Sadie Davidson for her work with senior 4-H members. All of the seniors in the food show this year have been or are currently in her food project group, and two of the young women she has worked with have competed at the state level.

While "all of the youth who participated are winners" according to Ulmer, a number won the right to advance to district competition in Kermit on Dec. 7. For the first time, 4-H'ers had the opportunity to compete in lamb, beef or pork categories as well as the regular contest categories of main dish, snacks and desserts, fruits and vegetables, or breads and cereals.

Ulmer said the Crockett County National Bank and Ozona National Bank are donors for the district lamb awards in the junior, intermediate and senior age divisions. She also noted the two banks sponsor all first-place awards at the county food show, providing $50 savings bonds to each regular category winner.

Category participants and results for Saturday's contest are:

Junior Division

Main Dishes - 1 Leana Baggett, 2 (tie) Lori Sanchez and Allison Preddy, 3 Mason Wilkins, 4 Amanda Hignight. Mason Wilkins was also the junior lamb dish winner, and Leana Baggett was the junior pork dish winner. Lori Sanchez and Allison Preddy also received the "Rookie of the Year" awards in the junior division.

Fruits and Vegetables - 1 Codi Richardson, who also received the Band ranks seventh at state competition

For the second consecutive year the Ozona Lion Marching Band performed at the State Marching Band Contest held in Austin on Nov. 11. The Lion Band was one of 14 bands representing the seven music areas for the State of Texas. All Class A and AA bands at the state contest performed in the preliminary competition at Memorial Stadium and were ranked from 1-14. The top five bands in each class then advanced to the final competition which was also held at Memorial Stadium. The Lion Band was ranked in seventh place for the preliminary contest, up one slot from last year's eighth place finish.

"The band gave their best performance of the year at the prelims," stated Mr. Glaze. "Mr. Carroll and I could not have been more pleased with their show."

"The music and the marching all seemed to be at their peak on Monday," stated Mr. Carroll. "It was also a thrill to see all the people from Ozona cheering the band at Memorial Stadium."

In the 2A competition, Eldorado finished 10th and Iraan won the contest with a first place finish. Mertzon advanced to the finals in Class A and finished fifth.

Cross country team ranked 5th

Seniors Mark Ramirez and Pablo Talamantez completed their high school cross country careers by placing in the state cross country meet Nov. 16 at Georgetown. Mark placed seventh overall in the class AA field, and Pablo was 42nd overall. Their placing helped the team finish fifth in the AA division.

Boys' Ranch won the Class AA field with 47 points. Sundown was second with 58, Stockdale third with 87, Farmersville fourth with 108 and Ozona fifth with 120. Other teams competing were: Aubrey, Bullard, Dilley, Krum, Little River Academy, Timpson and Winnie East Chambers.

This is the second time Mark has finished in the top 10 in the last three years. He finished seventh in 1989.

The Ozona team finished in the top five at state for the fifth year in a row starting with 5th place in 1987, fourth place in 1988, third place in 1989 and fifth places in 1990 and 1991.

Other Ozona team members placing at the state cross country meet were: junior Cipriano Perez, 39; sophomore John Ramirez, 41; freshman Rene Tambunga, 65; junior Aaron Carroll, 74; and freshman Bryan Valdez, 82 overall out of 117 runners who had qualified to the state meet.

This completes the 1991 cross country season for the Ozona team. "The returning lettermen for the 1992 season will make an impact on the return to the state meet next year," said Coach Pete Maldonado. "Mark will be missed next year, but his contribution to the program has been tremendous in upholding the tradition of the Ozona distance programs. Mark is being recruited by numerous colleges due to his success in his school work and his athletics."

Great American Smokeout Nov. 21

Just about everyone knows that quitting smoking is very beneficial for a person's health. In fact, the last Surgeon General's Report said that the lungs begin to heal as soon as a smoker quits.

But the big fear for many people who quit is not health-related. It's waist-related. Smokers are afraid they'll gain weight after they quit.

But according to the Surgeon General's Report, anyone who says that is just blowing smoke.

The report found the average weight gain after quitting smoking was just five pounds. Obviously, the health benefits of quitting far outweigh the possibility of weight gain. Also, people who quit smoking are more likely to exercise, which helps keep the weight off.

The report also said that quitting isn't easy. Most smokers quit several times before becoming permanently successful.

This is why the American Cancer Society holds the Great American Smokeout Every Year.

"Smokers are encouraged to quit for 24 hours on Thursday, Nov. 21," says Becky Childress. "One successful attempt can be the first step to quitting for good."

This year, the American Cancer Society is also offering a free, 31-day plan to help smokers quit permanently. The toll-free number to order the plan or request other information is 1-800-ACS-2345.

Smiles from both young and old showed the success of the Texas Game Warden's Association's seventh annual West Texas Boy's Ranch deer hunt on the Gene and Betty Perry Ranch. The 10 boys are pictured with their TGWA associate member sponsors and the 13 deer they killed.

Drawing to be held on quilted wall hanging

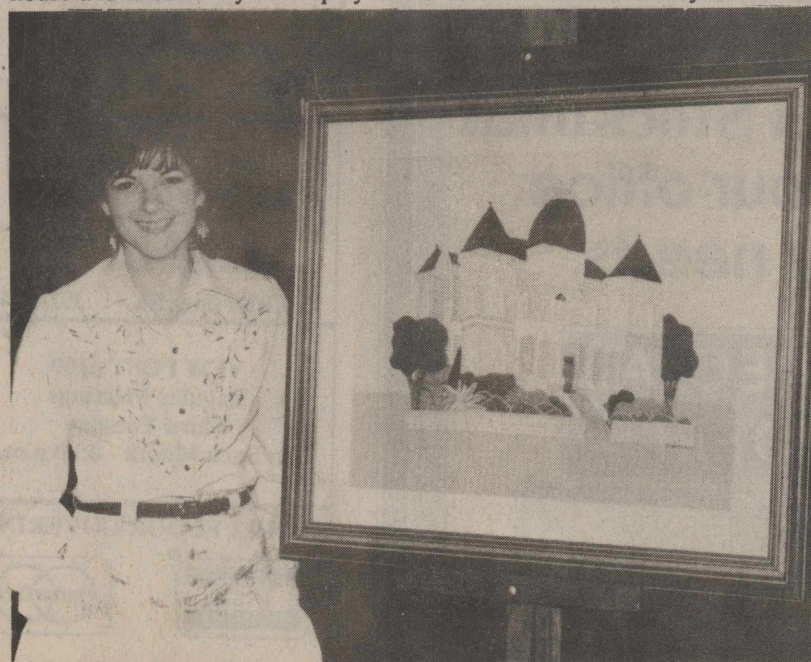

Chances will be sold starting this week for a beautiful hand-pieced and hand-quilted wall hanging created by Barbara Allen. The hanging is a replica of the Crockett County Courthouse and is currently on display at the Ozona National Bank.

The project, a fund raiser for a new Crockett County Museum, was first started during the Centennial celebration in July. At that time sealed bids were taken with July 31 as the date beyond which no bids would be accepted. Due to limited response and lack of publicity, only four bids were offered. The high bid was submitted by Mrs. Douglas Bean. Since the bid amount barely covered the expenses of the project, it was her desire to donate the hanging back to the museum and that chances be sold in order to raise more funds. Chances will be $1.00 apiece and the drawing will be on Dec. 16 at the Emerald House during a reception from 4:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. The public is invited.

The wall-hanging will be on display at the Ozona National Bank from Nov. 18 through Nov. 29 and at the Crockett County National Bank from Dec. 2 through Dec. 13. Chances will be sold at both banks during the display period. It will also be displayed and chances may be purchased at the annual Ozona Woman's League Bazaar on Nov. 26. Chances may be purchased at the Village Shopping Center on Dec. 14 and at anytime until the day of the drawing from Tina Bean, Benny Gail Hunnicutt, Mary Jo Mason, Crockett County Museum, the Pizza Place and various other individuals and businesses.

Barbara Allen poses beside the hand-quilted wall hanging she created. Chances will be sold as a fundraiser for the Crockett County Museum

Backwages cover two-year period

Back wages owed to 68 hospital and care center employees are for a two year period, not one year as stated in the Nov. 13 issue of The Stockman.

A wage audit conducted last February by the U.S. Department of Labor determined that $29,017.65 was owed employees for incorrectly paid overtime and callback wages.

Time cards for the Feb. 26, 1989, to Feb. 10, 1991, period were the ones audited Zoe Green said Friday.

Has Ozona forgot its "Veterans" who served honorably in World War I, II, Korea, Viet Nam or most recently Desert Storm? Has Ozona forgot those who served in active duty stateside or overseas during those times? Has Ozona forgot those who died serving our Country to assure freedom for all of us? How short the memories of some must be. Where were the flags, the ceremonies and programs this Veterans' Day?

Since 1919, The American Legion has been our country's leader in the observance of patriotic holidays, sponsoring marching bands, color guards and drill teams. Such days just aren't complete without the involvement of the Legion. Listed are just a few examples of what Legion Posts did nationally:

- 355,000 rehabilitation cases handled by local posts
- 28,000 Veteran's assisted in finding jobs
- 18,000 boys sponsored to Boys' State Programs
- $1,228,000 given for school scholarships
- 2.5 million hours given to community service.

It is a fitting time to talk all Ozona Veterans together to call about "The American Legion". Patriotism! Service! Fraternity! It is a Powerful package! It's a program which can have a positive influence in the lives of you and your family, and the community. It's a program of promise!

If you served honorably on active duty in the U. S. Military for at least one day, male or female, during and of the following periods, you are eligible!

- WWI - April 6, 1917 - Nov. 11, 1918
- WWII - Dec. 7, 1941 - Dec. 31, 1946
- Korea - June 25, 1950 - Jan. 31, 1955
- Viet Nam - Dec. 22, 1961 - May 7, 1975
- Desert Storm.

Please take time, Ozona, and call or visit me for information on an organizational meeting of the Ozona American Legion.

Robert Bryson, 392-2682 office, 392-5855 home.

Ozona's residents need to honor and recognize those who served. Ozona needs a veterans' organization which will foster and perpetuate a one hundred per cent Americanism; to preserve the memories and incidents of our associations in the Great Wars.

Laughter is the remedy for many little ills. It can cure more quickly than the doctor's tiny pills.

Judges and criminals are the only people who take the law into their own hands.

Following the path of least resistance is what makes men and rivers crooked.

Contentment is often the result of being too lazy to stir up a fuss.

Lack of pep is often mistaken for patience.

The business of a leader is to turn weakness into strength, obstacles into stepping stones, and disaster into triumph.

Winning high score at the Country Club Bridge Thursday, Nov. 14, was Ruth White. Mary Jo Mason was second high and Marilyn Cox won bingo.

Others playing were Louise Bunger, Rachel Childress, Alice Couch, Dorothy Friend, Peggy Hagle, Sophie Kyle, Dorothy Millsbaugh, Jean North, Ellen Sewell, Blanche Walker, Jonesy Williams and Winnie Williams.

Hostess for the club was Eileen Childress. Hostess for the next meeting on Nov. 21 will be Marolyn Bean.

Fall foliage abounds across Texas

Leaf spotters throughout the state have been watching the weather map. After that first wave of really cold weather chills Texas forests for three or four days, the trees burst alive with color within a week.

Many areas have reported leaf changes while it will be later in the month before changes are expected in other areas. Lost Maples Park is expecting its best color in mid-November while Daingerfield State Park has reported a 30 to 40 percent change of leaves.

Additional information on fall foliage and events may be obtained by calling the Texas Department of Transportation's toll-free travel assistance number (1-800-452-9292) between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. daily.

Pearl Harbor commemorative medal available to survivors

Military veterans and certain contract civilians who served on Hawaii during the 1941 attack on Pearl Harbor are eligible to receive a congressional medal commemorating the 50th anniversary of the event, the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) has announced.

Members of the armed forces who were in Hawaii on December 7, 1941, and civilian employees of the War Department or Navy Department who were wounded in the attack, or survivors of those who were killed are eligible to receive the Pearl Harbor Commemorative Medal.

Eligible veterans or their survivors should call the toll-free number established by the Defense Department for additional information and form, 1-800-545-4052.

Copies of the application forms also are available from VA Regional Offices.

Those not eligible for the medal include Navy personnel who were on ships stationed at Pearl Harbor but who were at sea during the attack. Personnel on board ships that were patrolling just outside the harbor entrance are authorized to receive the medal.

Boys ranch deer hunt highlights year

The Texas Game Wardens' Association held its seventh annual West Texas Boys' Ranch deer hunt on the weekend of Nov. 8-10 at the ranch of Gene and Betty Perry on Taylor Box Road. A total of 10 boys from WTBR attended the hunt, and each boy got at least one deer.

The hunters consisted of Roger Kirschbaum, Daniel Stambaugh, Scott Hoy, Chris Duncan, Brandon Harris, Ricky Crawford, Mike Sedillo, Joe Gomez, Randy Paz and Clint O'Daniel. Each boy was assigned to a guide who is an associate member of TGWA, most coming from the Ozona area. The guides were: Jack Probst, Lonny Avery (Alpine), Bob Harris, Dee Keilers, Jerry Perry, Larry Hensley, Robert Newman (Game Warden from Marfa), Armando Arredondo, David Tijerina, and James Montgomery. Camp Boss was W.D. Haire, former Ozona resident who now lives in San Angelo. Cooks for the weekend were Fred and Clay Garcia of San Antonio, headed up by Capt. Harvey Hill of the Crockett County Sheriff's Department.

Special thanks go to Granny and Buck Williams for a pickup load of pies, cakes and candy that they provided for the group. A bunch of Crockett County season-lease hunters, who chose to remain anonymous, made a donation to the TGWA to cover the cost of the groceries for the occasion. Also, DPS Trooper Ben Macias donated propane heaters for the hunting blinds to take the chill off the morning hunts.

The Boys Ranch regards this particular hunt as the highlight of the hunting season for their boys. Besides being allowed to take trophy bucks on the hunt, the boys have the experience of spending the weekend with a "dad" in one-on-one, deer hunt fellowship. Through the years, several lasting bonds have been made between repeating boys and sponsors. The seven bucks and six does taken on this year's trip were just the icing on the cake.

For the past six years, the Perrys have chosen to use the wildlife on their ranch for the WTBR and the youth of Crockett County, rather than lease the hunting commercially. Their generosity is greatly appreciated by the youngsters and the Texas Game Warden Association.

A special thanks also goes to the Perry Ranch staff for preparation of blinds, feeders and sleeping quarters.

The TGWA was created in 1979 by Texas Game Wardens to encourage conservation for future generations through hunting and fishing outings for youngsters in Texas. The association is comprised of more than 6,000 members, and its strength comes from its large compliment of associate members like the group which donated their time for this occasion. Anyone wishing to become a member of the TGWA or make a donation to assist in its endeavors is encouraged to call 1-800-322-TGWA, or contact Rod Chalmers at 915-392-3972.

"In the meantime, we know of at least 10 proud, young hunters who are already making plans for the 8th Annual TGWA/WTBR Deer Hunt," said Chalmers.

Ozona Senior Apartments residents and friends enjoyed their monthly covered dish dinner Nov. 15 in the club room.

Attending were: Max Avalos, Arnie and Marie Gerlach, Linda and Lupe Victorino, Mary Proulx, Cecil, Jackie and Michelle Necessary, Ofelia Torres, Daphne Martinez, Lola Rios, Jaclyn Lara, Lee Oakes, Bernard and Bernice Cota, Berta Mae Harvison and Virginia Bishop.

ARE YOU A ONE-DESK FAMILY?
One of the new trends in the furnishings industry is the realization of how useful it is to have one, or more, desks in a home.
And a further trend today is using desks in more than one room, and giving each member of a family his or her own desk.
Furniture manufacturers are responding to this trend by designing more desks in all sizes and shapes for big areas and small, and in all kinds of styles. So, actually, a desk today can adapt to, and compliment the decor around it, and look good in a living room or bedroom or den--or any room.
If you haven't had your own desk, you might be surprised how handy and practical they can be for both work and storage.
And you can decorate them beautifully with perhaps a pretty lamp and other accessories--making them a beautiful piece of furniture in themselves.
Industry experts are now predicting that the sales of desks will double in the next few years, and if you'd like to see desk ideas now, or table ideas, or any furniture for your home, we invite you to shop here.

Crockett County Public Library News
By Louise Ledoux

MEDICAL EXAMINERS

Crockett County Public Library receives a newsletter from the Texas State Board of Medical Examiners. It is a quarterly newsletter and contains all kinds of medical information. The Fall 1991 issue has a story on the AIDS-HIV guidelines for health care workers. It also has a story on disciplinary actions taken against physicians.

Protecting the public is the mandate of the Texas State Board of Medical Examiners. Responding to complaints against physicians is a major part of the board's job. They receive approximately 1800 complaints yearly. All complaints are requested in writing. In 1991, they have already received 1664 complaints - 27.2% for practice inconsistent with public health and welfare, 21.3% unprofessional conduct, 15.7% recurring health care liability claims, 6.6% persistent and flagrant overcharging, and so on.

Upon receipt of a complaint, the director of investigations evaluates, prioritizes, then assigns the complaint to a field investigator based on geographic location, as well as the particular needs of the complaint. An investigative file is opened and monitored on a computer tracking system. The investigative process begins with the physician and the complainant being notified in writing. The complainant, the physician, and perhaps others are interviewed. If necessary, a consultant is asked to review the file and render an opinion. In cases involving professional liability claims, a district review committee composed of four physicians and a lay member, reviews each case.

Emergency hearings to suspend a doctor's license may occur due to severe infractions. The executive committee of the board conducts suspension hearings with the physician present. He/she is given an opportunity to respond to the allegations at a formal hearing within 30-60 days. The mandate of the board is to protect the public. While doing so through this lengthy process, the physician must be allowed due process. Questions about the complaint procedure may be addressed to the Executive Director, Texas State Board of Medical Examiners, 1812 Centre Creek Drive, P. O. Box 13562, Austin, TX 78711-3562. 512/834-7728. For disciplinary status information and form to register complaints against physicians, call the hotline: 1-800-2428-4062.

Visit your public library and read this informative newsletter. Remember, the more you know, the safer you are.

Ozona native receives Scottish Rite 33rd degree

Ray O. Robison of Sanderson was elected to receive the 33rd and last degree of the Scottish Rite at the biennial session of the Supreme Council for the Scottish Rite in the Southern Jurisdiction of the United States.

The 33rd Degree of the Scottish Rite is the ultimate honor reserved for only selected members of that order of the Masonic Lodge. It is an honorary degree and recipients are those who have exemplified extra-ordinary and unusual service or activity as a Scottish Rite member.

The Ozona native was elected master of the Marfa Masonic Lodge in 1969. He served as Potentate of Suez Shrine Temple in San Angelo in 1979 and received the decoration of Knight Commander of the Court of Honor in El Paso Scottish Rite the same year.

Robison was appointed District Deputy Grand Master of the 57th Masonic District in 1980 and appointed Grand Junior Steward for the Grand Lodge of Texas in 1985.

Gloves optional for blood donor technicians

(Reprinted from the Aug. 1, 1991 issue of Action Time column by Shirley Alford; Courtesy of San Angelo Standard)

Q. I recently donated blood for the first time at United Blood Services in San Angelo and was shocked by what I saw: None of the staff wore gloves.

They went from donor to donor inserting needles and cleaning up blood spills—not only not wearing gloves, but also not even washing their hands.

When I asked about gloves I was told, "They're not really necessary."

As a result, I no longer will donate blood. As soon as UBS changes its policies, I will be more than happy to begin donating blood again.—Candy Bowden, San Angelo

A. I read your letter to Michael Rangel, United Blood Services technical director.

Rangel said under Occupational Safety & Health Administration (OSHA) regulations, if the phlebotomists or donor technicians have cuts on their hands they are required to wear gloves, mainly to protect themselves and/or the donor from blood-to-blood contact. Otherwise gloves are not required.

He said, "The situation (you mentioned) of going from donor to donor should not affect the venipuncture site (the site where the vein is punctured surgically) because we don't touch the area after we scrub it. We scrub it for a 30-second period vigorously with a type of betadine solution.

"We use a swab going from the inward in concentric circles for about three inches so we move all of the debris out, then remove it with another sterile swab.

"We let all of that dry for about 30 seconds and then we go in with a needle. The needle is capped to prevent contaminants from getting on the needle. It is a sterile needle. It is not reusable. We only use it once.

"The blood bags (we use) have the needles attached. They are all sterile and nonreusable. We only use them once. The needle is physically uncapped when we are ready to use it and go in with the needle."

Rangel said if a blood spill does occur—on the donor, the area, equipment or elsewhere—the donor tech cleans the site with "a germicidal disposable cloth that kills the HIV virus, herpes simplex (virus), polio (virus), staphylococcus, microbacteria, et cetera. They clear a lot of viruses and bacteria off," he emphasized.

"Once the spill site has been decontaminated, "it is allowed to air dry and then we go on to the next donor. We don't really wash our hands per se under a sink, because in a lot of areas there are no sinks available. We disinfect our hands with a sanicloth or with those wipes.

"After the donation when the needle is removed, we do again clean the site and around the area. We don't touch the site where the needle came out. We put a sterile 4x4 (pad) on the venipuncture site. We tape the arm and tell them no heavy lifting for six to eight hours, and to keep the sterile 4x4 on the site for that length of time."

In summary, Rangel emphasized that while the donor techs do not wear gloves unless they have cuts or other breaks on the skin, they do clean their hands with the chemical wipe. "The donors may not see them, but they do clean their hands," he emphasized.

Also, he said, "We do have a lengthy decontamination procedure if there is a large blood spill. We have our own biohazard safety program and it is regulated by OSHA. We all are instructed in that program. Every new employee goes through it. Also, we are updated in in-service seminars."

He said UBS is in need of blood and issued an urgent appeal for donors. He stated once again that strict procedures are followed in accordance with OSHA regulations.

Note: Regulations provided in part Friday by the OSHA office in Austin for health care workers in phlebotomy confirmed gloves are not required unless the circumstances given here exist:

-The health care worker has cuts, scratches or other breaks in his/her skin.

-The situation is such that hand contamination with blood may occur. For example: when performing phlebotomy on an uncooperative patient.

-When finger and/or heel sticks are performed on infants and children.

-When persons are receiving training in phlebotomy.

A 25-page section of OSHA regulations for health care workers will be mailed to me from the OSHA office. Readers will be able to examine the information at the Action Time desk on weekday mornings.

San Angelo's old Fort Concho to host Frontier Christmas

The history of late-1800's forts in Texas will come to life for three days, Dec. 6, 7 and 8, during Christmas at Old Fort Concho in San Angelo. The public will have the opportunity to savor the sights, sounds and smells of a festive Christmas as it was celebrated more than 100 years ago at a Texas frontier fort.

During its 10th anniversary, Christmas at Old Fort Concho will bring to life the 40-acre, restored, fort site and enable visitors to relive the past. Besides photographs and memories of re-enactments by the fort's living history groups and artisans of the era, guests may take home selected treasures provided for sale by more than 75 arts and crafts merchants.

Food, entertainment and the opportunity to learn more about how early settlers and the military celebrated the Christmas seasons will lure visitors from around the world as it has in past years.

One of the largest yuletide celebrations in Texas, Christmas at Old Fort Concho has become a tradition in San Angelo, bringing hundreds of costumed volunteers who provide western hospitality and a true learning experience as they mix and mingle with visitors to the fort. Authentic demonstrations, wares and entertainment are available to families and individuals who lose themselves in their trek into the past.

Uniformed soldiers and mounted cavalry, depicting frontier policemen of the past century, perform drills. Children and adults board horse-drawn wagons for a ride through history. Visitors wander Officer's Row, savoring the authenticity of period decorations and the delicious ethnic foods served there. Tours of the enlisted men's barracks indicate the simple and rugged lifestyle endured by most soldiers.

Visitors may sip their liquid refreshments in the Arc Light Saloon and enjoy the tastes of a wide range of foods while tapping their toes or dancing to the music provided by various bands. On the parade ground, cowboys will occupy an authentic western camp, complete with chuckwagon, inviting visitors to join them by the campfire.

This year, renowned cowboy poets will gather in the cowboy camp to entertain visitors on Saturday night.

A Sunday-morning cowboy breakfast and an outdoor church service, complete with hay bale pews and congregational singing of favorite hymns, attracts the hungry and the faithful. A nightly drama on the parade ground tells the history of the fort and the area, as well as about life on the frontier.

Admission to the fort grounds is $3 per day and $6 for the weekend. There is no charge for children under 12.

Residents worked on carousel horses and Christmas bells during Monday morning's craft class. These items and many more can be seen and purchased during our Christmas bazaar on Dec. 7, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the care center. If you have any craft items or baked goods that you would like to donate to the bazaar, call Joanne, 392-3096 or 392-5044. We will be happy to come by and pick the items up. All donations will be greatly appreciated.

Spouses need to share holiday duties

HOUSTON - Instead of decking the halls this Christmas, many wives may feel like "decking" their husbands, according to a psychologist at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston.

"Couples should plan the holidays together so that no one feels overwhelmed or left out," said Dr. Nancy J. Warren, clinical associate professor of psychiatry and director of the Family Transition Program at Baylor.

Women traditionally coordinate the family festivities during Thanksgiving and Christmas, while husbands often stay in the background and wait to be called upon. This apparent lack of interest can cause marital tension.

Between their careers, making the gift list, buying the gifts, addressing and mailing cards, baking goodies and decorating the house, wives usually have little time left over for their husbands. This too can put a strain on a marriage.

Warren suggests that couples make a list of what needs to be done, but set priorities. Determine who will do what and equally share the chores, even those that may be unpleasant. Time management and a firm budget are especially important to get through Thanksgiving preparations and hectic shopping days.

Stress levels differ from family to family. To limit stress, Warren advises developing realistic holiday expectations.

"For example, many families anticipate a closeness during the holidays that they do not have during the year and become disappointed when it does not happen," Warren said.

Families that recently experienced a loss through death or divorce may want to create new holiday traditions if the old ones do not feel "right" any more.

The basic strategies for coping with stress are: eat and drink moderately, exercise, manage time and make certain that you find time for yourself, and if necessary, find a support group.

"A support group can be helpful," said Warren. "The holidays bring more referrals for depression than any other time of year."

So decorate that tree, send out those cards, buy those presents, attend those parties, cook that turkey, but relax - there are 34 more days until Christmas.

The resident's monthly birthday party was held Monday afternoon in honor of Jean Beardmore, Moriama Perez, Lucia Rios, Alice Ross and Floy Clare Short. Each of these lovely ladies received a beautiful corsage, compliments of Ozona Floral Shop. Elvira Caldwell was the gracious hostess. Thank you, Elvira and Ozona Floral Shop for making this celebration special.

A performance by the Sheriff's Posse Band topped off the day's activities on a pleasant note. Band members present and demonstrating their musical talents were George Hester, Otis Nester, Jim Wilson, Bob Hartman, Jamie Knox, Bill Dane, and Marsha Tomlinson. We would like to thank them for coming.

Monie Boyd, Jeff Owens and Joe Connolly won two games during Tuesday morning bingo. Monnie even had a double bingo. Other winners include Moriama Perez, Virginia Hoover, Frances Davis, Jose Arredondo and Nina Flores. We would like to thank volunteers Sophie Kyle and Georgia Kirby for their assistance during the games.

Tuesday afternoon residents attended a song service led by Maxine Brown of the First Baptist Church. The singing was great. Thank you, Maxine.

Virginia Hoover not only won four games during Friday morning bingo, but she filled her piggy bank for the third time. Other winners were Elvira Pena, Moriam Perez, Joe Connolly, Florencia Porras and Tomasa Ramos.

Sunday's worship service was presented by members of the First Baptist Church. We would like to thank them for sharing the inspirational hour with us.

Locals elected to boards at Baptist General Convention

Ozona residents were elected to major positions on Texas Baptist boards during the annual meeting of the 2.5 million-member Baptist General Convention of Texas in Waco Nov. 11-12.

Elected to serve on the board of trustees of Hardin Simmons University, Abilene was Sandra Childress.

Elected to serve on the board of trustees of Baptist Memorial Geriatric Center, San Angelo was Lucille H. Littleton.

Texas Baptist institutions include eight universities, two academies, Hispanic Baptist Theological Seminary in San Antonio, seven hospitals and children's home and homes for the aging in multiple locations throughout the state.

Southern Baptists in more than 5,400 Texas congregations support these institutions through the cooperative program unified budget, which also provides support for state missions causes and about 7,500 missionaries worldwide. The basic 1992 cooperative program operating budget is $63.5 million.

"UNSHAKABLE" - "At that time His voice shook the earth. But now He has promised: "Once more I will shake not only the earth but also Heaven". The words "Once more" show clearly that He will take away what is shaken, seeing He made it, leaving what is not shaken as permanent. Since we have received a Kingdom that cannot be shaken, let us be thankful and so serve God in a way that pleases Him, with fear and awe, because our God is a consuming fire."

When the LORD descended on Mount Sinai in fire, it smoked like a furnace and quaked violently (Exodus 19:16-20) as He spoke the words of the Covenant - the 10 Commandments. When God speaks, some things will be SHAKEN and shaken hard!

We may not have lived through an earthquake, but those who have know the devastating impact that takes place when the earth is SHAKEN - as in the San Francisco area a couple of years ago. Of course, with our modern communication devices those kind of events can be brought right into our homes - via TV. And as we look around the world at all the destruction taking place - in erupting volcanoes, raging flood waters, and toppling earthquakes that sweep away earthly lives and property - we have to agree with Jerry Lee Lewis, that there IS a "Whole Lotta Shaking Going On!"

Many people today are also SHAKEN by such things as unemployment, illness, divorce, death of a loved one, the increasing crime rate, the serious drug problem, etc. Some things may cause slight tremors, or even major faults which lead to earthquakes in our lives. And because of our old sinful nature, we have a tendency to depend on and trust in things we can see and touch. Are we relying on worldly things like wealth, social status, or power? If we are, then we're in for a big SHAKE-DOWN for this present creation, tainted by sin, will not only be SHAKEN but also "pass away" (2 Peter 3:10-14).

All of us must admit that there are some things in our lives that, in the words of a song made popular by Elvis Presley, get us "All Shook Up". Because of our weakness, we sometimes allow ourselves to come apart over the problems of this transitory world. Yet, while some things may cause stress and grief in our lives - they shouldn't destroy us, or our faith. One of the challenges for Christians is to endure all the trials, tribulations, and afflictions of life in such a way that they don't weaken our faith - but actually strengthen it. Can you say "I will not let these circumstances rob me of my joy and hope in Christ?"

There are three things that cannot be SHAKEN: The King, His Word, and His Kingdom. God never changes but is eternally the same, even as the writer declares in chapter 13: "Jesus Christ is the same yesterday, today and forever". And it is the same with His Word, through which the "heavens and earth" were created, as Isaiah proclaims in chapter 40: "The grass dries up, and a flower withers, but what our God says will stand forever". And His Kingdom, promised since the Fall in the Garden of Eden, was established forever by His Son Jesus Christ - who on the Cross gave His own life for our sins. And when He gave up His spirit "the earth was shaken, and the rocks were split" (Matthew 27:51). But then there was another earthquake - on Sunday morning (Matthew 28:1-2), as Jesus Christ arose from the tomb as "King of kings and Lord of lords" - the Victor over death itself! And this is the UNSHAKABLE KINGDOM "built on the foundation of the Apostles and Prophets, with Christ Jesus Himself as the chief Cornerstone," as Paul declares in Ephesians 2 - so that true believers in Christ might stand firm in their faith.

We recognize that through His fiery presence, God is not only able to destroy the heavens and earth, but also us poor sinners. Therefore, we approach Him "with fear and awe". Yet in the Scriptures the fire of God can be either Law or Gospel. As Law, the fire of God consumes unbelievers in judgement - like chaff. Our text describes God as "a consuming fire", implying judgement on the Last Day for those on the outside of His Kingdom. However, as a Gospel fire, God doesn't destroy - but refines and purifies His people - as the Apostle Peter explains in chapter one of his first letter. Having been brought into God's unshakable kingdom through our Baptism, we are "thankful" and seek "to serve God in a way that pleases Him".

On Oct. 31, some Christians celebrated the great heritage handed down to us from the Reformation - when Martin Luther rediscovered and reaffirmed the Gospel which Jesus Christ entrusted to the Apostles and inspired them to write in His eternal Word. Luther's great Reformation hymn, "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God", was based on Psalm 46 where these words are written: "we're not afraid - even when the earth quakes, the mountains topple into the sea; even when its waters roar and foam, and the mountains SHAKE in the middle of it. God is in the city, she cannot fall. Nations are in confusion and kingdoms totter - when God utters His voice, the earth trembles". And then He adds these words to His people: "Be still, and know that I am God!" His Kingdom is present wherever Christians gather to worship around His Word and sacraments - and will continue throughout eternity in the "new heavens and earth".

So when we as Christians feel ALL SHOOK UP over the difficulties in life - whether physical or mental, we can take comfort in knowing that Jesus Christ is our secure foundation. And as His disciples, we are called to invite others into His UNSHAKABLE KINGDOM - by sharing the Life-Shaking Good News of His Cross, Resurrection, Ascension, and soon Return to take His people to that "new heavens and earth". Until then, we remain secure through faith in Jesus Christ, who says in John 16 "In the world you have trouble, but have courage - for I have conquered the world".

College information hotline provided

The College Information Hotline (available to any Texan via a toll-free call) provides timely information concerning post secondary educational opportunities to Texas students and families. One week-end in January is set aside for Hotline operation each year.

The toll-free number (1-800-253-8989) is publicized statewide through radio, television, newspaper and every high school guidance office in the state. A Hotline information packet is distributed in December and early January.

Teams of high school and college admission counselors will man 10 incoming WATTS phone lines. Each year, about 75 professional counselors from schools across Texas volunteer to take calls. Spanish-speaking counselors will be available on each shift. Hot line is operated from the Freshman Admission Center at the University of Texas at Austin. Volunteers taking the calls are members of the Texas Association of College Admission Counselors.

The Hotline is directed to anyone in the state who has questions about any aspect of college admission, financial aid, degree programs, housing, student activities or special programs.

Callers are predominantly high school students and their parents, but an increasing number of information requests are coming from middle school students, current college students, adults who did not complete college or who have never attended college and veterans with questions about their education benefits.

High school teams compete in scrimmages

Lady Lions

By Don Stark

The Ozona Lady Lions scrimmaged Sanderson Nov. 12 in girls' basketball action at the Ozona gym. Varsity coach Frank Hughey and junior varsity coach Kathy Aldridge were pleased with their teams' effort against the Eagles.

On Saturday, Nov. 16, the Ladies journeyed to Junction to scrimmage Llano and Junction.

"We did real well against Llano, but we made some mental mistakes against Junction," said Coach Hughey. "Fatigue may have been a factor in the second game."

The Ladies' home opener against Reagan County on Friday night may be cancelled due to the Owl football team being in the playoffs.

Ballots go out for ASCS committee election

The ASCS committee election will be conducted by mail from Nov. 22 until Dec. 2. Voters may also get ballots at the county ASCS office. All known eligible voters will receive a secret ballot in the mail with instructions on how to vote for candidates of their choice. The voted ballot must be returned to the ASCS Office or postmarked no later than Dec. 2, 1991. Nominees on the ballot for this three year term are Pon Seahorn, Sally Oglesby and Dean McMullan.

TIME IS RUNNING OUT - A reminder from the ASCS Office that provisions of the 1990 Farm Bill have expanded requirements to include most programs administered through the county office. One of these requirements calls for the 1991 marketing year status date. This is the date when an entity such as a partnership, corporation or trust is created for the current operating year and is the basis by which determinations are made by ASCS for that ranching operation. The 1991 marketing year status date for wool and mohair producers is Dec. 1, 1991. Beginning in 1992, the status date will be Oct. 1 of the applicable marketing year. ASCS programs other than wool and mohair currently have a status date of May 1 of the applicable program year.

Another requirement derived from provisions of the 1990 Farm Bill asks for the filing of a CCC-502, Operating Plan For Payment Eligibility Review, and an AD-1026, Highly Erodible Land Conservation (HELIC) and Wetland Conservation (WC) Certification, with corresponding form AD-1026A supplement. For wool and mohair producers these forms must be submitted on or before filing the wool and mohair incentive application (CCC-1155).

The ASCS office staff asks that producers who have not done so please submit the required CCC-502 and AD-1026(s) as soon as possible so that required determinations may be completed. To avoid the end-of-year rush, these forms may be secured when producers bring in early sales documents. Program payments cannot be made until required forms and determinations are complete.

Agriculture statistics sought

The Texas Agricultural Statistics Service will begin contacting farmers and ranchers across the state in late November for final 1991 acreage, yield and production totals and end-of-year livestock and poultry inventories.

"The surveys will be very important this year because they will show the final outcome of our 1991 crops and coupled with the livestock inventories, will serve as the basis for production and marketing decisions as we enter 1992," state statistician Dennis Findley reported.

Weather conditions certainly affected Texas agriculture this year. Dry weather in the High Plains delayed spring planting in some areas, but timely showers in the Blacklands and Central Texas have produced bumper hay crops for some producers.

"This end-of-year survey will help us summarize the effects of the wide range of weather conditions on 1991 crops," Findley added.

"Sound production and marketing decisions require good, reliable information and some advanced planning, and our reports provide Texas producers with solid facts and figures they can incorporate into their plans," Findley reported.

Individual reports from the sample survey will be combined to set state, district and county estimates. In a random sample survey, one producer represents several other operations of the same type and size.

"It is very important for producers to participate in this survey when contacted, since our estimates are only as good as the numbers producers provide," Findley added.

Land Bank reports third quarter performance

Declining interest rates and new financing options have contributed to strong performance through the third quarter for the Federal Land Bank Association of Sonora according to President Jack B. Smith Jr.

The agricultural lending cooperative reported loan volume of 36.9 million at Sept. 30, 1991, as compared to 37 million at year-end 1990. Net income totaled $58,673 for the third quarter of 1991 as compared to $67,736 for the third quarter of 1990.

"We have been able to take advantage of lower costs of funds and have passed those savings on to our members," said Smith.

"The new adjustable rate loan we introduced this year has provided steadily declining rates since its introduction. As of today, it is priced at 7.65 percent.

Smith added that the variable rate loan was lowered one quarter percent, to 9.50 percent, bringing the variable rate down a full percentage point over the last two years.

The Federal Land Bank Association of Sonora provides long-term agricultural financing in Sutton, Schleicher, Crockett and Edwards counties. It is a part of the Tenth Farm Credit District, which reported $3.66 billion in loan volume at Sept. 30, 1991.

Conservation cost sharing assistance

By Tom W. Payton
USDA, Soil Conservation Service

The Soil Conservation Service offers assistance toward accomplishing your conservation goals through the Great Plains Conservation program (GPCP). This voluntary program is available to ranchers and farmers in the 10 Great Plains States. Technical and financial assistance is provided to producers who want to improve and protect their vegetative resource, reduce soil erosion and improve water quantity and quality. During the 1990 fiscal year, 971 producers signed contracts on three million acres of land.

The producer and SCS technicians develop long term goals that are established during the planning stages. When the plan is agreed upon, it is submitted to the local soil and water conservation district for review and approval. The proposed contract is then sent to the SCS state office for funding as monies become available.

The GP program provides cost-share assistance on a large number of conservation practices. Some of the more common ones in this area include crossfencing, water development, various brush management practices, and prescribed burning. Since the primary goal is to improve the resource base, non cost-share practices such as deferred grazing, proper grazing use, wildlife management, and planned grazing systems are stressed as follow-up measures.

The contracts are flexible so that the producer can change or modify the plans as needed to meet the needs of the land and the producer.

For more information about the Great Plains program or any other technical assistance, contact the Soil Conservation Service office.

Landowner's liability for hunters based on fees, hunter's status

COLLEGE STATION—Deer seasoned opened Nov. 2 across much of Texas, and landowners found themselves facing potential liability for hunters' safety.

"According to current law, the landowner's liability depends on the amount charged for entry," says attorney Judon Fambrough, author of The Texas Deer Lease.

"Landowners owe a recreational guest (hunter) no greater degree of care than is owed a trespasser if there is no charge for entry, or if the charge does not exceed twice the amount of the ad valorem taxes imposed on the hunting premises," says Fambrough, who is also senior lecturer with the Real Estate Center at Texas A&M University.

Regarding trespassers, the landowner is liable for grossly negligent activities or for acts done with malicious intent or in bad faith.

If the landowner charges more than twice the amount of ad valorem taxes, the landowner has a duty to inspect the property and remedy any unsafe conditions.

Alternatively, the landowner must warn the hunters of any unsafe conditions revealed by the inspection.

Landowners may limit liability by not charging a fee, or by keeping the charge to no more than twice the amount of ad valorem taxes.

Otherwise, landowners may reduce liability by:

- *routinely inspecting property and making the conditions safe or
- *routinely inspecting property and warning hunters of unsafe conditions.

Another method is to use a signed waiver from the hunter releasing the landowner from liability. The hunter must realize what rights are being given up and must grant the waiver willingly and intentionally.

Insurance will not reduce the landowner's liability but will provide a source of funds. The landowner may either purchase a policy or require that the hunters purchase and assign one to the landowner.

Recently revised and expanded, The Texas Deer Lease lists issues affecting hunters and landowners. New sections cover compliance with state hunting regulations and describe hunter and landowner responsibilities in more detail. The 12-page report, which includes a sample waiver form, is available for $1 in Texas and $2 out of state from the Real Estate Center, Texas A&M University, College Station, Texas 77843-2115. Request publication NR-570.

For a sample copy of the waiver form only, send a stamped self-addressed envelope to the Real Estate Center at the above address.

We all can remember sitting at the dinner table requesting permission to be excused only to be denied by Mom with the reply, "not until you eat all of your vegetables, they're good for you." Well, almost daily, the scientific community is presenting new data which confirms what mothers have known for a long time, vegetables are good for you!

In addition to being a good source of Vitamin A&C, minerals and dietary fiber, numerous studies have been reported which indicate that eating many types of vegetables may reduce the risk of certain cancers and/or heart attacks. Scientists are now developing a better understanding of how plants store compounds that may block the body's synthesis of a carcinogen or decrease cholesterol levels in blood (The Packer, Sept. 7, 1991).

Cruciferous vegetables (broccoli, cabbage, cauliflower, kale, brussels sprouts) have been found to contain high levels of indole-3-carbinol, a chemical which reduces breast cancer (Produce News).

Vegetables high in beta carotene, a substance which can be converted into Vitamin A, have been shown to reduce the risk of lung, throat and bladder cancers. Vegetables such as sweet potatoes, carrots and broccoli are excellent sources of beta carotene. Researchers now believe that a cup of broccoli eaten every other day could contain enough of these substances to prevent cancerous growths. Beta carotene has also been reported to reduce the incidence of heart attacks through its role in reducing cholesterol levels in the blood (The Packer, Nov. 17, 1991).

New research with onions indicate that red and yellow types contain high levels of quertin, the most biologically active and common dietary flavonols. Quertin has the ability to inhibit tumor-promoting activities of many carcinogens as well as to reduce the carcinogenic activities of several cooked food mutagens. In addition to these characteristics, quertin seems to enhance the activity of other anticancer agents in preventing cancer cells from proliferating (The Illinois Vegetable Farmer's Letter, Vol. 10, No. 2).

Surveys of certain ethnic groups who regularly consume large quantities of onions and its relatives, garlic, leeks and scallions, point out that these people are less prone to stomach cancer than people who eat only small amounts of these vegetables (Produce News).

Frequent use of onions in the diet also have the added benefit of reduced blood pressure, cholesterol level, and incidence of serious blood clotting problems. Similar findings have been presented for celery.

Divorce decrees in Crockett County nine times fewer than marriages performed

Tom Pollard of the Bureau of Vital Statistics in Austin reported that Crockett County had 27 marriages performed and 3 divorces finalized in 1990.

However, the number of divorces granted to Texas couples last year totaled more than half the number of marriages performed, according to statistics from the Texas Department of Health (TDH).

While TDH recorded 178,613 marriage licenses issued in 1990, the state also granted 93,850 divorces, according to Tom Pollard, director of the Statistical Services division of the TDH Bureau of Vital Statistics.

The year before, 170,964 couples married, while 93,434 divorced.

Pollard said that the ratio of marriages to divorces has increased slightly for the last two years.

The most numerous age group of people who married in 1990 was 20-24 for both males and females (48,657 men and 51,979 women). Divorces were more common among the 25-29 age group, where 20,399 women and 18,306 men ended their marriages.

The largest number of divorces concluded marriages of less than five years (32,448). Some marriages lasted less than a year before divorce (4,391).

Among adolescents and teens, 557 females and 46 males younger than 15 were married. Meanwhile, among those 65 and older, 1,978 women and 3,529 men were married. Divorces involving those 65 and older included 914 women and 1,668 men.

About half (47.7 percent, or 44,794) of the divorces in 1990 involved no children, while 24.6 percent of 23, 132, involved one child. The total number of children involved in divorces last year was 85,674. As in previous years, densely populated counties recorded some of the largest numbers of both marriages and divorces. Harris County led in both categories with 29,434 marriages and 16,522 divorces.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bohannon have just returned from Borger where they visited her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Hays. Joining them was another sister, Mrs. George Roland of Rockwell.
