Fort committee, TPWD agree to agree

Partnership was the key word last week when Andrew Sansom, executive director of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, came here to discuss the future of Fort Lancaster. The fort, one of eight state operated sites targeted for closing, will remain open to the public on a regular basis if Crockett County and the State of Texas agree to work together to fund the operation. The concept of a partnership with local governments or groups is a new one, Sansom admits, but one that can be made to work.

Sansom, Ignacio Garza, the chairman of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission, Rep. Harvey Hilderbran, Joe Morris of Sen. Bill Sims' office, John Hoffman of Rep. Bob Turner's office, and Ralph Rayburn of the TPWC, talked with a group of second graders and about 80 adults who met them at the airport Wednesday afternoon. Then they went to Ozona National Bank's Crockett Room to outline possibilities for the fort and to listen to all from the roomful of interested persons who wanted to comment.

"We need your help in any form you can give it," Sansom told the people.

Legislative changes for the way TPWD is funded interest Rep. Hilder-bran. Transfer of money from other agencies was also a Hilderbran suggestion, but all agreed that getting through the short-term is the immediate concern.

Morris and Hoffman talked of their efforts to obtain grant money to help keep the fort open. The Texas Historical Commission is assisting in the search, and grant applications were given to the commission last Tuesday according to Morris. By the end of the week, Fred Deaton, Crockett County commissioner who is chairman of the Save Fort Lancaster committee, had received word that prospects for a grant looked good.

Once grant money is located, there is about a 30-day turnaround Morris said at the meeting Sept. 30. This timetable is not compatible with the Nov. 30 closing date for the park, however.

"We will be flexible if we see progress being made," Garza said.

Commissioner Dick Kirby asked Sansom what the state is willing to do. "If you put in, we're willing to put in," Sansom replied. He asked if the county would consider coming up with half the operating budget for the fort or provide personnel.

Direction of TPWD funds away from historic sites and into recreation areas was questioned by more than one member of the audience. Neal Sconiers, commissioner from Pecos County, stated that he doesn't think historic and recreation sites should mix. He suggested that historic sites be preserved and the department do what it could with the rest.

According to Garza, the public's demands now are for recreation rather than historic preservation. Putting some sites under the Texas Historical Commission has been considered, but that agency has no funds for the operation either.

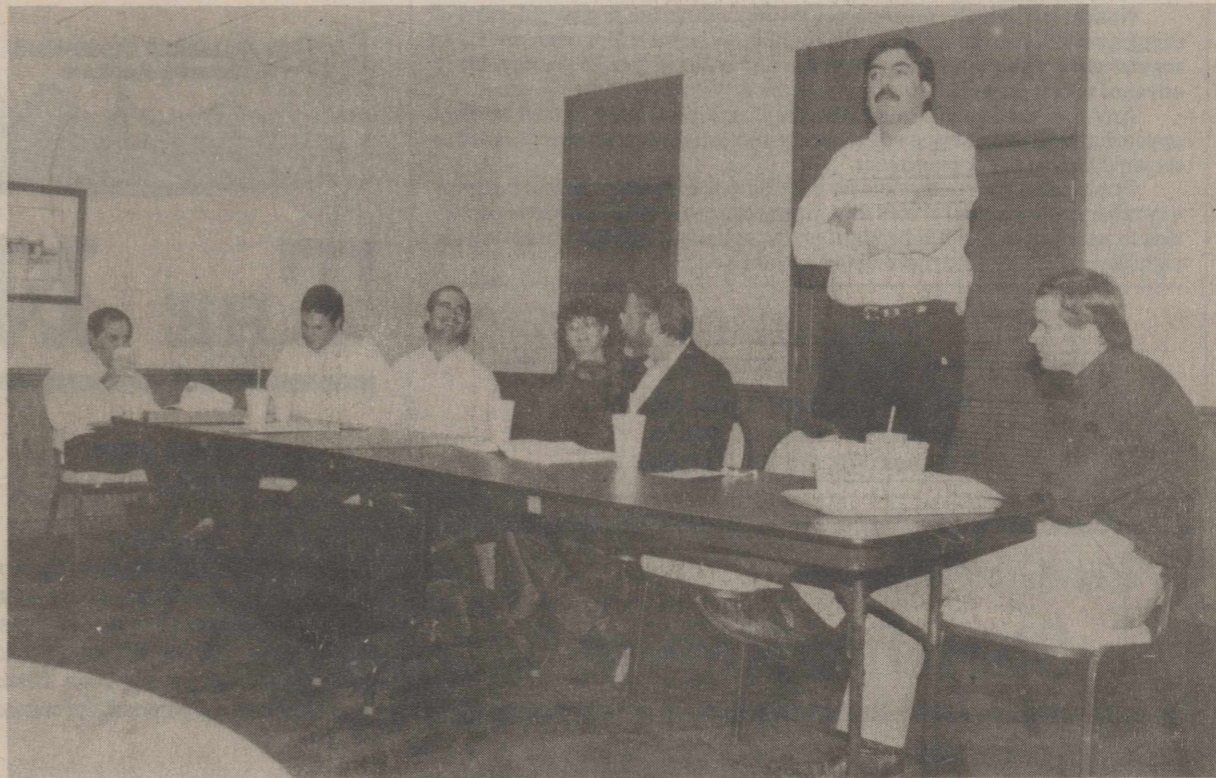

"Reality is how do we go about working with local communities," Garza said.

Criteria used to determine which facilities were closed or reduced in operation included number of visitors, cost per visitor, intrinsic value and economic impact, Garza said.

"Progress kind of hurts history sometimes," he said in reference to the interstate's routing of traffic away from the fort.

Sansom and Tom Palmer, regional parks supervisor, stayed in Ozona to meet with a committee appointed by commissioners last month to work toward keeping the fort open. Others

The meet will be run on grass and pavement with starting and finish lines on the north end of the baseball practice fields.

"Due to the safety factors, we are asking for people not to park alongside Hwy. 163," said Coach Pete Maldonado. Parking will be available inside the baseball complex, alongside First Street.

Junior high girls will compete at 10 a.m. followed by the junior high boys at 10:30 a.m. High school girls will run at 11 a.m. and the boys compete at 11:30 a.m.

Deerfest planning underway

Directors and workers are hard at it planning and preparing for this year's hunters' feast to be held Dec. 4 at the civic center.

"We have already acquired the dove for the menu and 25 of the rifles have come in and will be on display at both wool houses, with the other 25 arriving shortly" said president Tom Anderson. "Printing of the meal tickets, posters and drawing tickets is underway and those will be available in a few days.

Tom asks all ranchers to please remind their hunters of the DeerFest date and encourage them to attend. Flyers will be available for hunting camps.

"Let's make this year's Fest another success," said Tom.

Ray Boyd star picker

Ray Boyd had 16 good picks this week and grabbed the Stockman twenty-dollar bill. Joe Connolly was a close second with 15 picks. He also tied Keith Miller for third with 14.

Again we have to keep you on your toes--the Rams didn't play the Raiders.

Outstanding 4-H'ers saluted at banquet

4-H members, parents and leaders enjoyed a festive salute to 4-H, "Celebrate 4-H!" at the Crockett County Civic Center on Monday evening, Oct. 5.

Chad Upham, son of Randy and Elizabeth Upham, swept the top honors as the 41st annual Mother Davidson Award winner and the winner of the 1992 Dan Bean Memorial Scholarship. Upham, who is county council chairman, senior club president and District VI 4-H Council secretary, was named outstanding Crockett County 4-H member.

A 1991 Gold Star recipient, he has attended state 4-H Congress and placed third at state with his beef cattle record book. Competing three years at Texas 4-H Roundup with the wool judging team, the team won fourth and advanced to national competition in 1992, where he was fifth high individual in that contest. A recipient of the Regina Everett Memorial Buckle for most points from placing market animals at major shows, he has excelled in market steer, commercial ewe lamb, and market lamb projects.

The Dan Bean Scholarship is presented annually by the Bean family to the 4-H member with outstanding agricultural projects. The Mother Davidson trophy is presented to the outstanding 4-H member in the county each year.

This year, three gold star recipients were awarded the highest recognition given statewide in 4-H. They were Julie Childress, Jennifer Davidson and Stefny Sutton.

"By doing the best you can and being all you can be, you're always a winner no matter what color the ribbon." That's Julie Childress' philosophy of 4-H and it's served her well. But in spite of setbacks, she persevered enough to win first place and a $500 scholarship at the state fashion

TWO MEN ESCAPED SERIOUS INJURY last week in a two vehicle crash twenty miles northwest of Ozona on Hwy. 137 at the Iraan junction. The vehicle photographed was struck by the other vehicle, causing it to skid out of control off the road into a high voltage power line pole. A fire unit from Ozona and EMS ambulances from Big Lake and Ozona responded to the scene.

Xi Sigma Omega meets

Xi Sigma Omega Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met Sept. 21 at the Crockett Room for their first regular meeting of the year. Dr. Mary Bode from M.H.M.R. of San Angelo spoke to the group on adolescent behavior.

With all the new problems our society has brought upon our children, parents are beginning to reach out for help. Parenting is the most important job many of us will ever have for which no real training is available.

M.H.M.R. of San Angelo helps deal with all kinds of problems and is not limited to helping only those with mental handicaps, although that is their major concern.

Dr. Bode gave an enlightening talk, the group asked many questions, and of course this topic brought about many, many comments and stories, most of which began "Well, when we were kids..." or "When I was growing up..."

Donna Herring was hostess for the meeting. President Lisa Branch announced that the chapter had again received the 3-Star Chapter Award. Connie Jennings announced that the blood center wanted to hold a barbecue at the next blood drive in appreciation for all the help and hard work Xi Sigma Omega has given them the past several years. The number of donors has doubled since the chapter took this on as their major service project.

After refreshments were served many members lingered for more talk about adolescence.

Present at the meeting were: Lisa Branch, Alice Couch, Mavis Dunlap, Rita Hensley, Donna Herring, Connie Jennings, Jackie Johnson, Barbie Myers, Maida Sims, Roylan Sullivan, Pam Tarr, Martha Weant and Leslie Wilson.

Mavis Dunlap was the hostess for the 2nd regular meeting held Sept. 28th at the civic center. After a brief business meeting, a few final plans for the trip to the convention in Lubbock were made. Ronda Shaw brought out sponges and paint, and then shared her talent. Mavis provided everyone with an orange T-shirt and each created her own special look with sponge patterns of leaves and pumpkins. The painting was a lot of fun and a little messy, especially for Donna.

Members attending were: Lisa Branch, Kim Caddell, Mavis Dunlap, Rita Hensley, Donna Herring, Connie Jennings, Jackie Johnson, Della Moore, Barbie Myers, Maida Sims, Roylan Sullivan, Pam Tarr, Martha Weant and Leslie Wilson.

Alpha Alpha Mu program timely

The Alpha Alpha Mu Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met Monday, Sept. 28, 1992, in the Crockett Room at Ozona National Bank.

Hostesses Ellen Lipsey and Laurie Hale presented a program on saving time and fast and easy meals. While members tried to solve crypt-a-quotes about time, they enjoyed a light supper of quick and simple dishes prepared by the hostesses. Afterward, they shared their recipes with everyone.

Following the program, a business meeting was held. President Jackie necessary announced that the chapter will pick up trash in the spring of 1993. Christmas poinsettia sales were also discussed, and yearbooks were distributed.

Members attending were: Tonya Poindexter, Janell Sparks, Jackie Necessary, Gail Spence, Diane Anderson, Diane Schwertner, Jana Wilson, Melissa Glosson and Sally Roane.

Country Club Bridge news

Jonesy Williams was hostess for luncheon bridge Oct. 1 at Ozona Country Club. Winning high score that afternoon was Mary Clayton followed by Mary Lou Lilly, second high; Rachel Childress, bingo; and Blanche Walker, consolation.

Others attending were: Emma Adams, Jane Black, Louise Bunker, Eileen Childress, Dorothy Friend, Ruth White, Sophie Kyle, Mary Jo Mason, Dorothy Montgomery, Jean North, Ellen Sewell, Winnie Williams, Camille Jones and Lela Nussbaumer.

Presidents' wives topic of Forum program

Members of the Woman's Forum met in regular session Tuesday, Sept. 22, at the Crockett Room with Katy Jones and Bonnie Warth as hostesses.

President Katharine Russell called the meeting to order.

Barbara Malone led the club members in saying the American Creed.

Members answered roll with "My most memorable visit to a historical place".

The program was introduced by coordinator Elizabeth Dudley. "The Power of a Woman Behind a Man in the White House" was the title of Norma Carson's informative and entertaining program. The program explored the interests and hobbies of presidents' wives from Martha Washington to Barbara Bush. Mrs. Carson also displayed paper doll dresses fashioned in styles worn by many first ladies.

Snips, Quips, and Lifts

by Lottie Lee Baker

Drivers are safer when highways are dry -

Highways are safer when drivers are dry.

It's the nut BEHIND the wheel and not the nut ON the wheel that causes traffic accidents.

There are three ways to get something done: do it yourself, hire someone to do it, or forbid your kids to do it.

Our ship would come in much sooner if we would only swim out to meet it.

It's nice to be important, but it's more important to be nice.

The true object of education should be to train one to think clearly and to act rightly.

It isn't how high you go in life but HOW you got there.

Nothing makes installment buying as easy as advertising.

Advertising helps raise the standard of living by raising our standard of longing.

We might be more eager to accept good advice if it did not continually interfere with our plans.

My advice to young people who are going out in the world today - Don't go!

America has turned out some great men; there are others not so great that ought to be turned out.

Most kids can't understand why a country that makes atomic bombs would ban firecrackers.

What America needs most are those things that money can't buy.

Every person born in the United States is endowed with life, liberty and a substantial share of the national debt.

In many ways the past two hundred years of our country have changed this country from independence to government dependence.

In 1492 Columbus sailed the ocean blue! Oct. 12 we celebrate the 500th anniversary of the arrival of Columbus in the Americas. Cristobal Colon, or Christopher Columbus, was born the son of an Italian weaver in 1451. He took to the seas as a teenager and eventually became a navigator for Portuguese merchant ships. He traveled throughout the Mediterranean, sailed south to the Guinea coast of Africa and north to Ireland. Columbus was an accomplished sailor and a self-taught mapmaker. He dreamed of a way to travel west across the Atlantic Ocean to the Indies - the name for China, Japan and India at that time. Columbus hoped that a new, shorter trade route to the Orient would win him wealth, glory and nobility.

Years later, Columbus convinced Queen Isabella and King Ferdinand of Spain to finance the voyage. In August of 1492, Columbus was given three ships and 90 sailors to embark on his Enterprise of the Indies. His age was 41, old by 15th Century standards, and his plan was to sail west on the trade winds to the Indies and homeward on the westerlies. About a month after leaving the Canary Islands, their last sight of land, Columbus and his men made landfall on Oct. 12, 1492. They arrived on an island somewhere in the Bahamas. The exact location is still debated today. Believing that he was close to the Indies, Columbus called the people who greeted the sailors "Indians". Columbus continued his search for the Orient and its gold and spices on three successive voyages. He died in 1506, still believing that he was close to finding the Indies route.

In the last hundred years, tales surrounding Columbus have been told mostly through European eyes. Kids have been taught that Columbus was a hero who began the European Age of Discovery. History books have at times been inaccurate in relating facts. Life for most of the world changed because of Columbus's voyages. The encounter of two distinctly different cultures had enormous consequences which are still unfolding today.

Columbus did not set out to prove that the world was round. It was common knowledge in the 15th Century that the world was round.

Columbus did not set out to discover new lands. He believed that sailing west across the Atlantic Ocean would bring him to the Indies. He would not believe that these lands he encountered were continents the Europeans did not even know existed.

Columbus was not the first person to set foot in the Americas. Some 15 to 30 million people already lived in North and South America by 1492, some for thousands and thousands of years.

Columbus was not the first European to land in the Americas. It is believed the Norseman Leif Erickson may have arrived in Newfoundland sometime around 1000 A.D. Columbus did not discover America. He encountered the Americas. In his four voyages, traveling around the islands in the Caribbean and parts of South and Central America, he never landed in North America.

Columbus is not a superhero or villain. The controversy over Columbus has little to do with 1492 and nearly everything to do with 1992. People today look around and see a world with social, economic and environmental problems. Blaming these problems on Columbus solves nothing. When Columbus and his men arrived in 1492, the encounter brought about many exchanges - foods, plants, animals, people and diseases. It began a wave of European immigration that continued for hundreds of years. It was devastating for the native peoples because instead of blending the cultures, Europeans overtook them. Some people were enslaved, some were killed, many died from diseases because they had no immunity, and all were displaced from their homes. Europeans also began to sell Africans into slavery. It is believed that from 1505 to 1870, some 10 million Africans were shipped to the Americas in chains.

Another profound effect of Columbus's voyage was on food. The tomato became an important ingredient in Italian and Spanish dishes; the potato became a staple on Irish tables, and chocolate was turned into fantasies by French and German bakers. Fruits, vegetables, spices and meats of one culture were used to create new foods in another.

Columbus's voyage stands as one of the great divides in world civilization. Some of the changes are worthy of marvel - new inventions, adaptations, medicines, arts, music, sciences. Some are worthy of scorn - conquests, disease, racism, destruction, pollution. Where the world heads in the next 500 years will be shaped by children today. Let 1992 stand for a time when people, young and old, try harder to understand one another.

Chamber Chatter

by Nancy Moore

The Shop Ozona campaign is on schedule. Participating merchants are working hard to provide coupons that challenge the consumer to shop at home. We believe this campaign will benefit both the Ozona merchant and shopper, plus provide a good time for all those participating. Keep watching the paper for the big event.

The economic well-being of Ozona is very important to the chamber of commerce. The Shop Ozona campaign is one way money can be turned over in Ozona. Another is our guest (tourist). The tourism industry is the third or fourth largest industry in Texas. One of the ways Ozona can benefit from this is by utilizing the tour bus trade. Our goal is to get in touch with as many tours traveling I-10 as we can, arranging a time and place to meet and welcome them to our town. Each person receives a welcome pack. When a tour bus stops in Ozona, they have the opportunity to eat, sleep, gas-up, shop, tour historical sites, etc. depending on the length of the visit. A bus of 35-40 guests can spend from $200-$1500 or more while in Ozona. We encourage return visits not just from the tours but from the individuals on the bus. The newly formed Ambassador's Club is doing a great job helping with this project. Chamber members involved in this club are: Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Kost (Oscar was the chamber's first president), Mr. and Mrs. Dick Kirby, Lefty Walker (a past president), Al Fields, Crystelle Childress, Jane Black, Betty Perry and Lucile Harrell.

The chamber has also been active in the Save Fort Lancaster campaign. It was good to see the town turn out at the airport last Wednesday for the arrival of the TPWD meeting and tour of the fort. We have a video of the fort and its history at the chamber office if anyone needs it for a program or classroom project.

If you would like to have a part in the Halloween Carnival, call or come by the office. Many have already signed up for booths.

We are so excited about the growth of the David Crockett Birthday Festival. The date is set for the first Saturday in August. Many things will be going on that weekend. The annual Lions Club Youth Rodeo, the Texas Crockett Reunion, arts and crafts, Jay Miller Roping and cowboy church are but a few of the events. You want to mark your calendars right now and make plans to be in Ozona that weekend and invite your family and friends.

Many clubs and organizations have planned many things this fall and winter for Ozona. You'll want to enjoy all of them.

Ozonans working together for Ozona is what it is all about.

Happy Birthday!

Can You Start Life Over?

By Dennis J. Prutow

Perhaps you have said to yourself, "If I could only start life again, I would certainly do things differently." Yes, for many people, the past is a graveyard of regrets and mistakes. And today is filled with guilt over past sins and failures. As a result, the nagging question persists, "How can a man be born when he is old?" (John 3:4). In other words, how can a person put away the past and really start life over? Can any human being really do that?

"With men this is impossible, but with God all things are possible" (Matthew 19:26). It is possible for God to change you on the inside, to literally transform how you think and feel about yourself, to make you a hopeful person! You see, God can forgive you for past sins and failures. At the same time, God can give you a vision for the future. He has plans for you!

You can't give yourself a fresh start in life but God can! So when Jesus Christ comes to you and says, "You must be born again" (John 3:7), don't laugh! Trust Christ! Join the ranks of those who say, "Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who according to His great mercy has caused us to be born again to a living hope" (1 Peter 1:3).

Preparing for the Africanized honeybee

by Billy H. Reagor, Crockett County Extension Agent

Africanized honeybees, commonly known as the "Killer Bees", are closing in on Crockett County and the Ozona area. The latest find was just across the Pecos River in Crane and Terrell Counties. All indications are that Africanized honeybees will soon invade Crockett County and local residents should begin to prepare for their arrival.

Understanding Africanized honeybees is the first step in learning to live with them. These bees are wild, tropically adapted insects. They are practically identical in appearance to domestic honeybees, but their behavior is radically different. Africanized bees will strongly defend their nests. They are much more prone to sting anyone or anything they consider a threat to the nest. Sting for sting, there is no difference between the sting of an Africanized honeybee and a domestic honeybee. However, Africanized honeybee stinging incidents generally involve hundreds of stings. In contrast, attacks by domestic honeybees are much harder to provoke and generally involve only a few stings. Early discovery and destruction of colonies is critical in prevention of Africanized honeybee related injuries.

Experts disagree on the long-term potential of the Africanized honeybee to establish and maintain high levels of colonization in the West Texas area. Since this is a tropically adapted bee, it is poorly suited for winter survival in temperate zones. It does not store sufficient honey to survive cold winters. The tendency of Africanized honeybees to live, build comb and raise brood in the open (such as on tree limbs) makes these bees more susceptible to cold. Furthermore, colony size is considerably smaller in Africanized honeybee colonies than in domestic honeybee colonies. Large colony size is critical for winter survival in temperate zones because the developing honeybee larvae are kept warm by adult worker bees flexing and releasing their wing muscles. The experts agree that the Africanized bee will overwinter well along the Rio Grande from Del Rio to Esperanza and Fort Hancock and up the Pecos River probably as far north as Bakersfield, Imperial and Grandfalls. Areas along and surrounding these rivers may sustain populations at near the saturation point during most years. Africanized honeybees will expand their range each spring and swarms will invade the central latitudes of the state, only to fall back to the warmer areas the following winter. This expansion will be greatest in those years with warm wet spring conditions and mild winters.

Since invading Texas in 1990-91 most stinging incidents have involved persons using power equipment such as lawn mowers, weed eaters, chain saws, etc. The vibrations produced by these tools provoke strong Africanized honeybee attacks. The best defense when one is under attack by Africanized honeybees is to run from the area and get inside a car or building. Deaths caused by Africanized honeybees in Latin America have invariably been among people and animals which were unable to run away. Groups most at risk are small children and the elderly.

Swarms are more easily killed than colonies. Swarms are clusters of bees in which no comb and no brood has yet been produced. Swarms are generally found in the open on tree limbs, on walls, under eaves, etc. With no brood to defend, the bees are less likely to sting, but are still dangerous. Colonies with comb and brood become very defensive and prone to sting. Honeybee colonies are generally found in sheltered locations such as walls, sheds, barrels, abandoned wells, abandoned structures and appliances of any kind, etc. Africanized colonies use these locations as well, but also build comb and raise brood on tree limbs. This makes distinguishing swarms from colonies difficult and increases the risk of handling any cluster of bees on a tree limb without protective clothing.

Africanized honeybee management plans are being worked out in the counties and cities involved. In each area agencies or individuals will be designated to handle removal of bee swarms and colonies. Untrained individuals or people without protective equipment should leave the bees alone.

USDA-APHIS is currently hanging Africanized honeybee traps in trees along the highways in Pecos and surrounding counties. Tampering with the traps is illegal and dangerous.

COMMISSIONER DICK KIRBY (center, rt.) talks with Rep. Harvey Hilderbran and Ignacio Garza, chairman of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission, shortly after their arrival at Ozona Municipal Airport last Wednesday. A group of approximately 80 adults and two second grade classes were at the airport in support of Fort Lancaster.

went to the fort with Ron Alton, superintendent of Fort Lancaster, where they were greeted by about 100 people from Sheffield and Iraan.

Sansom suggested several possibilities for the fort to the committee. Among them were a long-term operation agreement between the county and state, an endowment fund of interest from a designated state fund, a friends of the fort support group, joint plans for long-term development at the fort, tie-in of historic sites in the region and marketing them as a group.

"I assure you I'm going to do that," Sansom said of the endowment fund.

Deaton questioned Sansom about possible improvements in funding after the legislature meets and whether these benefits would pass on to Fort Lancaster if the county had already entered an agreement with the state. Deaton said agreements between counties and the state regarding affected parks and historic sites could remove the pressure and no legislative action would be taken.

"I ask you in good faith to move forward with us and together we can make it work," Sansom said.

He summarized the meeting with four items which will be considered in Austin as the basis for a proposal to be returned to Crockett County through Mr. Palmer.

1. Crockett County is willing to put some money into Fort Lancaster
2. The county wants a state employee kept on the site

3. County and state to work together on operational things beyond what is being done now

4. Together the county and state will develop a long-term plan for the park.

"We'll take the ball next. We've come up with some concepts to put our teeth into so we can get down to some specifics," Sansom said.

Palmer is expected to meet with commissioners at their next session on Oct. 12.

Hawks rally to defeat Lions 30-23

by Don Stark

The Wall Hawks, trailing 23-7 in the third quarter, rallied to defeat the Ozona Lions 30-23 in district football action on Friday, Oct. 2, in Lion Stadium.

The Lions, playing their best offense and defense of the year, dominated the heavily favored Hawks for almost three quarters.

After being forced to punt on their first two possessions in the opening quarter, the Lions moved down the field in six plays and scored on their third possession. However, an illegal procedure call wiped out the TD. On the next play, the Lions completed a pass play into the end zone, but the officials ruled that the receiver was out of the end zone when he caught the ball. Facing fourth down, the Lions attempted a field goal and missed.

A Wall fumble recovery by Alonzo Hernandez, a pass interception by Justin Castro, and good penetration by the Ozona defensive line shut down the Wall offensive efforts in the first quarter.

The Lions finally got on the scoreboard in the final minutes of the first quarter. On a four play drive which concluded with a 52 yard pass play from Justin Castro to Chris Sanchez, the Lions went ahead with :43 left in the quarter. The PAT was unsuccessful, and Ozona led 6-0.

The Lions scored again with 7:21 left in the second quarter when Justin Castro pounced on a Hawk fumble in the Wall end zone. The PAT was unsuccessful, making the score 12-0 in favor of the Lions.

The Hawks scored their first touchdown with 2:55 left in the half on a three play drive which was helped by a pass interference penalty against the Lions. The PAT was successful and the half ended with Ozona leading 12-7.

A Justin Castro interception of a Wall pass and a face mask penalty against the Hawks in the opening minutes of the third quarter set up the third Ozona touchdown. Starting on the Wall 25 yard line, the Lions scored after a seven play drive when Castro hit Andy Borrego on a 14 yard pass play. Jason Yeager was successful on the two point conversion and Ozona led 20-7.

The Lions' final points came with 4:04 left in the third quarter when Joe Mendoza kicked a 25 yard field goal to make the score 23-7 in favor of Ozona.

From this point on, the momentum switched to the Hawks. Wall scored their second touchdown with 1:09 left in the third quarter. The two point conversion was good and the quarter ended with Ozona clinging to a 23-15 lead.

A combination of fumbles, incomplete passes, and penalties killed the Lions' drives in the fourth quarter.

After being stopped on their first possession of the fourth quarter, the Hawks scored on their next two possessions to take the lead.

A recovery of a Wall fumble by Justin Castro with :38 seconds left in the game gave the Lions one final chance. However, Ozona was unable to move the ball and the Hawks escaped with the victory.

Michael Fay carried the ball 21 times for 46 yards. Justin Castro passed for 229 yards including two touchdowns. Castro also scored a touchdown, intercepted two passes and recovered a fumble.

"I am proud of our kids," commented head coach Don Payne. "They showed a lot of heart and courage. We seem to be playing better each week and I think we will be in the hunt when play off time comes around."

The loss leaves the Lions with a 1-4 season record and 1-1 in District 6-2A play. Ozona will travel to Stanton to play the Buffaloes on Friday, Oct. 9.

High school awarded library volumes

The collected works of America's best writers available to students through generosity of The Brown Foundation

The Ozona High School has been awarded a 60-volume set of The Library of America, the series described recently by Governor Ann Richards as "a priceless educational resource."

The Ozona High School is participating in an innovative program called CLASSICS, designed to help public high schools improve book collections in their libraries. The award was made to the Ozona High School after it sent an application to The Library of America and pledged $600 toward the cost of the books. The pledge was matched by $600 from The Brown Foundation of Houston.

The Library of America is a nonprofit publishing enterprise that is committed to preserving the works of America's greatest writers in handsome and authoritative hardcover editions. Volumes published to date include the works of Henry Adams, Willa Cather, Stephen Crane, W.E.B. Du Bois, Ralph Waldo Emerson, Williams Faulkner, Benjamin Franklin, Henry James, Thomas Jefferson, Abraham Lincoln, Jack London, Flannery O'Connor, Eugene O'Neill, Edgar Allan Poe, Mark Twain, Edith Wharton, and Walt Whitman.

In the letter pledging her support for CLASSICS, Governor Richards said, "All that is inspiring, entertaining, and enlightening in the American literary and historical tradition can be discovered in the volumes of The Library of America." The governor remarked that the series would help encourage in students a sincere and lasting love of reading, and added, "There is nothing greater our schools can hope to give them."

As the third state in the nation to have a CLASSICS program, Texas is among the leaders in the national effort to improve education by enhancing the resources available to students and teachers. CLASSICS was launched in late September with a $180,000 grant provided by The Brown Foundation to help 300 high schools acquire the award-winning library of America series.

Although a set of 60 volumes normally costs $1,850, CLASSICS enables each participating high school to acquire the books for only $600. Foundation funding, and a substantial price reduction by The Library of America exclusively for this program, puts the cost of each volume at $10, or one third of the price.

Each volume averages 1,200 pages in length and includes several works by one author. The supplementary notes and the chronology of the author's life and career in each volume make the collection especially useful in schools. The Ozona High School will receive the first 40 to 50 volumes of the series within the next few months; the remaining volumes will be shipped within a year's time.

Wall defeats Lion JV 14-8

By Don Stark

The Ozona JV. Lions suffered their first defeat of the season as they were defeated 14-8 by Wall on Thursday, Oct. 1, in Wall. The Hawks scored in the second and third quarters.

Ozona's lone TD came in the fourth quarter on a 22 yard pass play from David Browne to Jesse Garza. The two-point conversion was good on a David Browne run.

Having an outstanding game for the Lions were Jesse Garza, Matt Ortiz, Andres De La Garza, David Browne and Adam Carroll.

"We were not mentally ready to play," said Coach Brad Brevard. "Wall was fired up and took it to us. The good thing is you learn from things like this.

"We had six turnovers for the second week in a row, and that was the major factor. We just have to put this one down as one that got away and get after Stanton this week."

The JV Lions' next game will be against the Stanton JV in Lion Stadium on Thursday, Oct. 8.

Ozona High School cross country teams competed at the Big Spring meet last weekend. The boys placed third behind Plains and Sundown. Plains is the defending state championship team in Class A. Sundown placed second at the state cross country meet last year in the 2-A division.

"I felt like this was the best outing the boys have had," said Coach Pete Maldonado. "Finishing third behind these two teams was an outstanding feat for this young team."

Placings for Ozona were: 7 Bryan Valdez, 12 John Ramirez, 18 Cipriano

Perez, 21 Johnny Porras, 28 Aaron Carroll, 30 Rene Tambunga, 58 Anthony Sanchez.

The Ozona girls placed fourth with Myra Sanchez fifth overall. Heather Hall was 23rd, Dana Bishop 24th, Tonya Amaya 34th and Jessie Turner 90th.

The Eighth Grade Cubs lost their third game of the year as they were defeated by the Reagan County Eighth Grade 8-6 in a close ball game.

Emilio Porras threw a 10 yard touchdown pass to Moses Ramirez in the third quarter for the Cubs' only score.

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, The latest National Fire Protection Association's national statistics marked an historic low in the number of Americans who died in home fires. Experts give a lot of credit to home smoke detectors; and

WHEREAS, Six out of every seven homes have at least one smoke detector. But, many homes with one smoke detector need two or more for minimum protection and one-third of the smoke detectors now in American homes do not work; and

WHEREAS, The lives of each family in America could depend on having enough smoke detectors in the right places and on keeping those smoke detectors working properly. Only a working smoke detector can save lives and give precious time to escape from a fire; and

WHEREAS, The Ozona Volunteer Fire Department is dedicated to the safety of life and property of the citizens of Crockett County from the devastating effects of fire and recognize the value of smoke detectors that are properly installed and maintained:

THEREFORE, I, KATHRYN MAYFIELD, Crockett County Judge, do hereby proclaim the week of October 4-10, 1992, as Fire Prevention Week. This week commemorates the Great Chicago Fire of 1871, which killed 250 people, left 100,000 homeless, and destroyed over 17,400 buildings.

I call upon the people of Crockett County to participate in activities at home, work and school, and to remember as the 1992 National Fire Prevention Week theme suggests: "TEST YOUR DETECTOR; IT'S SOUND ADVICE."

In Witness hereof, I hereunto set my hand this the 2nd day of October, the year of our Lord nineteen-hundred and ninety-two.

show this year, in addition to the district lamb award at the food show and first place in the state sheep method demonstration. Julie's leadership and personal integrity make her a winner in every sense of the word. She is the daughter of Pleas III and Sandra Childress.

Jennifer Davidson knows how to set goals and achieve them. From placing third in the 1991 State Food Show to winning third, second and finally first with her sheep method demonstration, Jennifer has excelled in her 4-H work. She's used her considerable leadership skills to teach others - over 450 others - about foods and nutrition, and has contributed to her community through fund-raising drives and food drives which have netted more than 500 pounds of food for a local charity. Jennifer's parents are C. E. IV and Sadie Davidson.

From choreographing fashion shows to designing unique garments of mohair, Stefny Sutton has used her 4-H projects to help her gain experience for a career in fashion. A member of the state 4-H Teen Fashion Board, Stefny participated in the southern Regional Textile Symposium in North Carolina this year, and she'll use her knowledge to continue to promote her favorite agricultural product - mohair. A winner on the fashion runway as well as in the show ring with her goats, Stefny is a winner in life with her positive attitude and determination. Her parents are Jeffrey and Carmen Sutton.

I Dare You awards have been given since 1941 and were instituted by the founder of the Ralston-Purina company to challenge youth to lead productive lives. The recipients from Crockett County this year are Adrienne Dickerson and JoLynn Vannoy.

JoLynn Vannoy, daughter of Dr. Gary and Nancy Vannoy, has excelled in all her 4-H work and demonstrated both leadership and citizenship during her career in 4-H. A contestant at this year's state 4-H fashion show and a two-time winner of the beef award at the district food show, JoLynn is a double threat with her successful agricultural projects in market lambs, ewe lambs and Angora goats. Her showmanship ability is widely recognized and her "can-do" attitude is what sets her above the crowd.

Adrienne Dickerson, daughter of Terry and Peggy Dickerson, has put her public speaking skills to good use in such activities as state congress, leadership lab, the state sheep and goat workshop and in food and fashion shows.

Adrienne is always ready for a new challenge, but more importantly, she gives her time and efforts freely to promote 4-H and help others. This summer she was hostess for the reception given in honor of David Crockett's relatives and did an outstanding job of representing 4-H.

Other major senior awards were: Senior Leadership, Chad Upham; Senior Citizenship, Terry House and Justin Southern; and Senior Achievement, Whitney Vannoy and Katharine Durham.

The major junior-level award is for achievement. Three 4-H members were recognized - Maria Quiroz, Lauren Wilkins and Camelia Williams.

The following is a list of 4-H members and the awards they received this year.

4-H, like all programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, serves people of all ages, regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion, national origin or handicap.

Tedra Ulmer and Billy Reagor, County Extension Agents, noted there were a number of persons involved in putting on the banquet. Helen Bean and Jane Richardson, club managers for the Intermediate 4-H Club, supervised their club members in decorating for the event.

Terry Dickerson, Debbie Arrott and Art Roane were in charge of food, and "Chef Dickerson" did an outstanding job of cooking fajitas, with a great deal of assistance from numerous leaders.

Joyce and Garland Young donated soft drinks for the 4-H members and Dairy Queen donated ice. The senior 4-H members were in charge of the program, which was attended by approximately 200 persons.

National 4-H Ambassador Katharine Durham presented a challenge to new officers as they were installed, reminding them that they are representing 4-H wherever they go by their actions, speech and appearance. 1992-93 club officers were installed by Agents Reagor and Ulmer while outgoing officers were presented with an officer pin.

Let Co-Op Know If You Are On Life-Support System

Southwest Texas Electric Cooperative line crews are constantly performing maintenance or construction projects on distribution lines, and under certain circumstances, the need arises to plan an outage to further protect our linemen. Outages can also be caused by uncontrollable circumstances such as extreme weather conditions or other acts of nature.

No matter the cause, the cooperative tries to minimize any inconvenience that any outage may cause our members and attempts to restore the electric service to our members as soon as safely possible.

Of specific concern during any outage are those of our members who rely on electricity for a life-support system. To keep our records current, we ask those members who depend on a life-support system to any extent to complete the form here and return it to the cooperative office at P.O. Box 677, Eldorado, Texas 76936. If you have any questions or concern in this matter, please call the Member Service Department at (915) 853-2544.

Local ASCS Staff meets with presidential counsellor

LUBBOCK—Clayton Yeutter, Counsellor to the President for Domestic Policy, met with local employees of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service and agriculture leaders from across Texas. Mr. Yeutter coordinates all domestic policy activities for the president through the operations of a new Policy Coordinating Group (PCG). The PCG is the domestic equivalent of the National Security Council. Prior to coming to the PCG, Yeutter served as Secretary of Agriculture. While at Agriculture he was actively involved in farm legislation and in negotiations to open export markets for American farm products throughout the world.

Secretary Yeutter met with the group at the Texas State conference of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service recently held in Lubbock. The training conference was designed to train local employees in program administration and to improve the effectiveness of the farmer-elected County Committee System.

Jerry D. Harris, Chairman of the Texas State ASC Committee, stated that Clayton Yeutter has consistently worked to expand the role of U.S. Agriculture in the world. Domestic policy involves agriculture in every way. Secretary Yeutter's visit with ASCS committees and employees demonstrates the place farm programs have in our domestic policy.

The Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service is the United States Department of Agriculture agency that administers farm programs passed by congress. This includes programs that affect many local farmers and ranchers.

Chairman Harris noted that this meeting brought together local agriculture leaders and Administration

Warehouses hold wool sales Oct. 1

Paint free fall wool brought 40 cents to $1.10 3/8 for the 137,000 pounds sold at Wool Growers Oct. 1. Average was $1.00-$1.04.

The 34,000 pounds of lamb wool offered brought 38 to 78 cents a pound. Twelve month wool offered was 16,000 pounds at 67 to 79 1/8 cents.

At Ozona Wool and Mohair, volume buyers Bollman Industries, Anodyne Inc., Forte Dupee and Sawyer accounted for 161,000 pounds.

The 20,000 pounds of fall lamb wool sold averaged 65 cents on all types. Average for 130,000 pounds of fall ewe wool was 95 cents and the average of 7,000 pounds of 12 month wool was 75 cents.

Finer ewe wools sold from 98 cents to $1.06 a pound with coarser types going from 66 to 75 cents.

Cleaner, high yielding fine wools sold well, but competition was lacking on the coarser high volume wools.

The fall lamb wool sold by Jerry Davenport brought the highest price at 75 cents. Sam Perner's fall ewe wool brought the best price at $1.06 3/4.

Keilers part of hunting expo

Dee Keilers was in Austin last weekend to assist with the junior sporting clays exhibit at the Texas Wildlife Expo '92. There were 20 boxes of clay targets shot Saturday, Keilers said.

Also assisting at that booth was the Southwest regional junior shooting champion from Austin. He and Nolan Ryan tied after four rounds in Friday night's celebrity shoot.

The booth divisions were for juniors, 16 and under, 20 gauge shotgun, and for seniors, 12 gauge shotgun.

Hunter safety instructors from around the state assisted at these booths and at archery and airgun booths.

There were tremendous crowds all day at the Expo held at the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department headquarters on Smith School Road.

The Expo contained six circus tents full of displays, Keilers said.

Mother Goose visits children at community center

Children attending Ozona Community Center pre-school were surprised to find Mother Goose sitting in the lobby as they arrived at school on Monday morning, Sept. 28. That afternoon, the children constructed a life-sized replica of Ms. Goose complete with personalized tail feathers.

During the entire week, the children experienced many Mother Goose rhymes first hand, such as climbing a hill to fetch a pail of water, jumping over a (towel-tube) candle stick, scurrying up a grandfather clock, and living in a shoe. If you've never had such pleasure, talk with some of the young students at O.C.C., and you might learn a little.

The end of the week held another surprise for the students as they were visited by the cat (Mrs. Pam Brewer) and her fiddle. After enjoying the utter nonsense of this nursery rhyme, the children helped play some tunes on the fiddle.

Wildlife workshop set for Oct. 20

A comprehensive seminar discussing supplemental feeding of wildlife is slated for Tuesday, Oct. 20 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the TAMU Center in San Angelo. Supplemental feeding programs for wildlife, especially deer, have become increasingly popular over the past ten years. The program features a "who's who" of Texas wildlife researchers who will address topics ranging from mineral supplementation to economics of feeding.

The workshop is sponsored by the Texas Chapter, The Wildlife Society as a professional development seminar for its members.

This program will probably not be of interest to those ranchers/hunters who are only interested in baiting deer with a corn feeder. However, for those who are serious about conducting a year-round supplementation program, this meeting should prove extremely useful.

Registration for the meeting is $25 for non-members of the Texas Chapter, TWS ($10 for members). Registration includes a catered lunch. There is no pre-registration, but you are asked to please R.S.V.P. Dr. Dale Rollins at 915-653-4576 if you are interested in attending.
