Albers' Wills In Contention

Following Larry Albers' death in March, two wills were filed in the Crockett County Courthouse. The first, filed by Bill Mason at 4:15 p.m. on March 21, 1994, had been signed by Albers on March 19, 1992. This will, drawn up by Mason, had as beneficiary Albers' wife, Mary Frances. The document provided, if she should not survive him, that all his property be left to his two grandsons.

The 1992 will, which was filed for probate after Albers' car was located in a ravine 30 miles south of Ozona and before his body was identified, was filed quickly to ensure that any will filed thereafter was the challenger.

On March 22, 1994, at 2:15 p.m., Troy Williams filed a will he had drawn up for Albers which was signed on Jan. 24, 1994. In this will, Albers left his estate to his companion, Loretta Carroll Neumuller. His wife, Frances, had died March 19, 1993.

This will provided that should Neumuller predecease him, Albers' estate should be divided into thirds with his two grandsons to receive one-third, Neumuller's two grandchildren to receive one-third and her daughter to receive one-third.

This will also has a provision that in the event of a questionable cause of death of Albers or Neumuller the death is to be "investigated thoroughly before any of the estate is dispersed since there have been threats made against each of us".

On March 23, John Stokes, who was Albers' CPA, was appointed temporary administrator of the estate by Judge A. O. Fields.

Loretta C. Neumuller was arrested March 31 on a charge of capital murder in connection with Albers' death.

Tyrone Comilous Parker was arrested March 30 on a charge of murder in connection with Albers' death.

Both were indicted by a Crockett County Grand Jury April 20, and at that time Parker's charge was upgraded to capital murder.

Bill Mason filed for Stokes on April 12 a petition to recover property which Albers had transferred to Neumuller "during the period of their cohabitation/and or companionship" and application for a temporary restraining order against Neumuller to prevent anything further from happening to the estate.

Law prohibits county judges from handling this, so the cases were transferred to district court.

District Judge Brock Jones granted the temporary restraining order and called a hearing for April 25 to determine whether or not the temporary restraining order should be made a temporary injunction pending a final hearing, whether the additional temporary injunction should be granted, whether the court should order Neumuller to file a sworn inventory and accounting of all the property owned or claimed by Albers and herself and whether additional orders were necessary to fulfill the duties and requirements of temporary administrator.

As temporary administrator, Stokes serves under the auspices of the court. His duties include taking charge and possession of all the property belonging to Albers and carrying on the operation of Albers' business.

Judge Jones, at the time he set the March 25 hearing, did order the filing of a sworn inventory and accounting of property owned or claimed by Albers and by Neumuller and all debts and liabilities of each.

Jones also signed an order granting Stokes custody of all real and personal property that is or may be considered to be part of the Albers estate.

On April 25, a motion was filed by Mason for Stokes requesting that attorney John H. Hofmann of San Angelo be added as additional counsel. This motion was granted by Judge Jones.

At the hearing in Jones' court on that date, Jones granted a temporary injunction which continues the restraining order and prohibits Neumuller from "transferring, encumbering, destroying, removing, concealing or otherwise reducing the value" of a house, its contents and the lot located at 616 Coates Street, all shares of stock or other negotiable instruments issued by Ozona National Bank, any bank accounts, savings accounts, or negotiable instruments issued by any financial institution jointly in the names of Lawrence E. Albers and/or Loretta C. Neumuller and any business accounts in which Lawrence E. Albers was authorized either singularly or jointly to write checks, all automobiles, jeeps, pickups, boats and trailers in the name of Lawrence E. Albers and/or Loretta C. Neumuller, as of January 1, 1993, all real property located in Val Verde County and Maverick County, Texas, in the name of Lawrence E. Albers and/or in the name of Loretta C. Neumuller, as of January 1, 1993.

Neumuller was also ordered by the court to deliver to Stokes the key to the safety deposit box in Ozona National Bank in the name of Lawrence E. Albers and/or Loretta C. Neumuller.

The injunction not only enjoins Neumuller, but also her "agents, servants, employees and attorneys and any persons acting in concert with her."

On March 26, Neumuller's attorney, Troy Williams, filed a motion asking the court to order Stokes, as temporary administrator, to allow him to enter the Albers house and list furniture and appliances and indicate whether they belong to Neumuller or Albers, examine car titles in her bedroom and if title of car she owned before meeting Albers was found, to remove and take possession of that title, remove any living plants from the house and give to some institution, preferably the hospital or nursing home, and examine the refrigerator and deep freeze and discuss whether to remove the items and discuss whether to give them to some benevolence and have the electricity cut off.

Jones signed an order allowing a joint inventory by Williams and Stokes, a search for the car title, which if found, was to be given to Williams removal of plants and immediate action to remove food from the refrigerator and to consider removing food from the deep freeze and donating it to some benevolence.

Pastor Fuller Joins In International Mission In Russia

Ozona sent a message of love and good will last month when Bill Fuller, pastor of First Baptist Church, joined 32 others in a mission to the Ukraine. Brother Bill packed his guitar and joined Christians from seven states to carry the Word of God to this far away land.

Each was responsible for his own travel funds, and in addition to providing money for the trip, Bro. Bill's congregation and others in the community collected $10,000 for Bibles to be distributed during the mission.

Coordinated by Dr. Taylor Henley of San Angelo, the group divided into 16 teams of two. The teams stayed in homes of pastors and were accompanied by interpreters once they reached their destination. Bro. Bill and his teammate, 74-year-old Lovey Hamilton of San Angelo, were guests of Pastor Boris Ivanivich, his wife and family, in the town of Alupka, a suburb of 20,000 in the district of Yalta in the Crimea.

The group distributed 20,000 New Testaments (which were printed in Russia) and 200 children's Bibles. More than 4,000 people made decisions for Christ through the work of these 16 teams in April.

During their time in Alupka (the trip began April 7 in San Angelo and ended there April 19) Bro. Bill and Mrs. Hamilton helped hold street meetings at a new residential area. Primarily for military personnel, the homes consisted of apartments as does most of the housing there. The street meetings were attended mainly by children, but adults came out on their balconies to listen, Bro. Bill said.

The West Texans also attended Pastor Ivanivich's service held in a rented room at the city library, visited neighboring congregations and schools. Meetings are also held at the pastor's home where he feeds the congregation before the service. The churches there are referred to as "Christian communities".

Before the fall of communism, Christian believers would gather at the home to sing hymns, never knowing whether they would be turned in to the authorities by neighbors who came to listen.

In Alupka, while the Americans were there, the city government voted to give Pastor Ivanivich a plot of land in the center of town to build a church. Bro. Bill returned with photos of plans for the structure which will be paid for through donations. He hopes to return to Alupka, especially when the new church is ready to be dedicated.

"The people really enjoy their freedom. They talk freely about everything," Fuller said.

"There is more freedom to take religion into the schools there than in the U.S." The U. S. group there in April was the third American group to go into the schools. High school students learn English, and the American teams were able to distribute Bibles and give testimony to those they met. One teacher even had the class study a Bible chapter before the visit.

The older children attend school one-half day due to overcrowding. After grade 11, students go on to a university or trade school for which they must pay. The brightest students are invited to the university.

As a result of the new religious freedom in the country, cults are also allowed to carry their messages into the classroom, Fuller said. "Moonies were in the school before we went in."

Ozona elementary students have written to new found pen pals through the efforts of Bro. Bill and a teacher in Alupka.

Some of the American teams visited military bases and one of the men was made an honorary chaplain at a base. "They are looking at establishing a chaplain corps in the military," Bro. Bill said.

Villarreal Wins Second In Mile To Qualify For State

By Neal Ulmer, Stockman sports-writer

Ozona's Charles Villarreal "ran a good race", posting a 4:38.44 in the 1600m run to qualify for the state track meet in Austin. Unfortunately, Villarreal's teammates did not fare as well, facing stiff competition in the Region I-2A Track and Field Championships at Elmer Gray Stadium in Abilene last Friday and Saturday, April 29-30.

Coach Pete Maldonado had high praise for Charles Villarreal as he said, "Charles had a good time with a lot of competition. He will have a good future in front of him."

With hard rains and extremely cool weather, the Ozona High girls' and boys' track teams experienced a lot of difficulty in getting across the finish line first. The Ozona boys' team placed 17, with 10 points scored. The Ozona girls' team placed 32nd with four points scored.

Individual Ozona boys' track results are as follows: 1600m Run-2 Charles Villarreal, 4:38.44; 3200m Run-8 Charles Villarreal, 10:51; 800m Run-8 John Ramirez, 2:09; 300m Intermediate Hurdles-4 Anthony Sanchez, 40.7; and 1600m Relay-7 Ozona, 3:35 with the team composed of Anthony Sanchez, Rene Tambunga, David Browne, and John Ramirez.

Individual Ozona girls' track results are as follows: 3200m Run-5

Heather Hall, 12:50.25; 1600m Run-5 Heather Hall, 5:49.76; 300m Hurdles-8 Tara Wilkins, 49.83; 800m Run-9 Amy Laughlin, 2:39.06; and Long Jump-no place available, Dana Bishop, 15'7".

Fans will want to congratulate each trackster on a job well done and wish Charles Villarreal good luck in his quest for a state medal. The state meet will be held in Austin on May 13 and 14.

RAIN

Ozona received 1.27 inches of rainfall April 23-30 according to records kept at Crockett County Water District office.

The gauge at the office recorded .17 on April 23, .05 on April 24, .35 on April 28 and .70 on April 30.

The sun was back out by Monday afternoon, but on Tuesday, press day, the area forecast included a 30 percent chance of rain.

Ranch lands around the county received varying amounts. Figures heard at The Stockman range from .30 to 1.50. What moisture fell was slow and steady, "a million dollar rain".

Letter to the Editor

Dear Readers,
Due to our strong belief in the rights of the unborn, we are deeply concerned about the proposed Clinton health care plan. The specific concern we have is that if enacted in its present form, this plan will fund abortions for any female who requests it.
This will undoubtedly open the door even further in allowing thoughtless, unconscionable death of innocents. Sure abortion will continue with or without Clinton's plan, but do you want to be a part of it? Do you want your tax dollars to have a part in taking the life of an unborn child?

If your answer is no, then do something about it! Addresses of our representatives in Washington are printed in this paper. Let them know your feelings.
Sincerely,
The class and instructors of the freshman CCD class of Our Lady of Perpetual Help Catholic Church

Upton Co. All Kid Rodeo June 3-4

Rodeo time in Rankin is less than six weeks away. June 3 and 4 have been selected as the dates for the Forty-Fifth Annual Kid Rodeo, which will be held in Rankin and sponsored by the Upton County 4-H Club.
The idea for the rodeo grew out of a conversation between two 4-H'ers who were looking for something to do. The boys solicited prizes from local merchants and accepted entry fees. After having done all this, they managed to convince a number of adults that they were serious.
There were twenty-three contestants entered in that first rodeo. The net profit was $35.00 and it was considered a great success. There were only six events which were girls' barrel race, bull riding, calf roping, goat roping, hair pulling, and ribbon roping. This year's rodeo will consist of: barrels, poles, flags, goat tying, break-away roping, ribbon roping, tie down roping, goat riding, calf riding, goat hair pulling, stick horse barrels, boot scramble and the queen's contest. The categories will be 8 and under, 9-12, and 13-16.

The Upton County 4-H Club has made every effort to maintain the tradition of standards of that first all kid rodeo and the measure of their success can be seen in the popularity of their show and by the fact that many of today's top rodeo contenders got their first taste of rodeo right here in Rankin.
If you have any questions or would like to enter, please contact the Upton County Extension Office at (915) 693-2313.

Snips, Quips, and Lifts

by Lottie Lee Baker

Success doesn't always go to the head; sometimes it goes to the mouth.

There are a lot of books telling you how to manage when you retire. What most people need is a book to tell you how to manage in the meantime.

There might be more good books if there were more good people to read them.

A person who never made a mistake is pretty boring.

Some people can stay longer in an hour than others can in a week.

Small boys are washable, but a lot of them shrink from it.

Some people have more money than brains - but not for long.

There's nothing tighter than next year's budget and this year's bikini.

A family budget is a device to make you worry about money before you spend it.

A business man is coming to realize that education is to business what fertilizer is to farming.

To drive carefully - just drive like everyone else is crazy.

Glasses can make driving a lot safer, provided they are worn and not emptied.

A tip to young male drivers: forget the girl and hug the road.

A good past is the best thing a man can use for a future reference.

Character is the one thing we make in this world and take with us into the next one.

The true test of moral courage is to ignore an insult.

The one who gets along in the world is the one who looks cheerful and happy when he isn't.

A LIFT FOR THE WEEK
Two marks of a Christian: giving and forgiving.

Ramos-Ybarra To Wed

Mr. and Mrs. Alberto Reyes Ramos are proud to announce the engagement of their daughter, Maria, to Michael Ybarra. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Ybarra. The bride-elect is a 1992 graduate of Ozona High School. The prospective bridegroom is a 1991 graduate of Ozona High School. He is employed at Triple G Supply.

Following a July 9 wedding at Our Lady of Perpetual Help, the couple will make their home in Ozona.

Sororities Celebrate Founder's Day

Treasure Special Moments was this year's theme for the three sorority chapters in Ozona.

Members shared their special moments at El Chato's on Founder's Day with the top honors of Woman of the Year going to Billie Morris of Preceptor Mu Chi, Donna Herring of Xi Sigma Omega and Laurie Hale of Alpha Alpha Mu.

Other award recipients were: Preceptor Mu Chi's Program of the Year, Mavis Dunlap and her program on communicating with the deaf; Xi Sigma Omega's Program of the Year, Barbie Myers and Shannon Hunnicutt's program on country line dancing; and Alpha Alpha Mu's Program of the Year, Diane Schwertner and Tonya Poindexter's program on talking to your children about sex.

Although visitors were allowed to move about freely, (they used a tour bus while in the area) there was one town that was off limits. "It was a military town where the fleet anchored, and you had to know someone to get in." Some of the group did go through contacts by their hosts.

The only other restriction Bro. Bill incurred was when he was discouraged from taking photographs inside a store because of bare shelves.

The Crimean economy reminded some of the group of America's Depression. Personal transportation in the country includes small, small cars, motorcycles and bicycles. Trucks look like those of the U.S. in the 1950s.

Gasoline is very expensive, and many things Americans consider essential are luxuries there.

In Yalta, the pastor's daughter and a friend rode the bus across town to join her family and their guests at a meeting. Because of the expense of riding the bus, the teenage girls returned by riding in the closed trunk of the family car.

There is no industry in the resort area along the northern coast of the Black Sea according to Fuller. Foreign investors are the resort builders and owners.

Pastor Ivanovich, who is also a city sanitation worker, makes approximately $18 per month. The translator traveling with Bro. Bill and Mrs. Hamilton is also a university professor and earns $20 a month. Her husband, an electrical engineer, earns $18 a month. Doctors earn $20-$25 a month.

The bankrupt economy operates on coupons with 40,000 coupons being the equivalent of one U. S. dollar.

Food was lacking in some areas and abundant in others. Diet consists mainly of bread and soup. The family hosting Bro. Bill ate a lot of fat. "The hamburger meat was almost white."

Citizens go to the hills to gather mushrooms. Pastor Ivanovich, who is fortunate to own a home with a yard for a goat, takes the animal to the hills to graze once a week. The land is government owned.

The people are proud and concerned about their families and personal things, Bro. Bill learned. They are proud of their heritage and offended if they are called Russians. They consider themselves Crimeans. The Crimea, the only warm water port, is claimed by both Russia and the Ukraine.

"The people want to be a republic, but they realize this would take armed conflict, and they enjoy their new freedom very, very much."

"I developed a great compassion for the people. They are just like we are. Only they speak a different language. I fell in love with the people, and they were very loving in return," he said.

Teens enjoy the telephone and are appearance conscious. The adults keep up with world events. The people are interested in American products such as shoes and Levis.

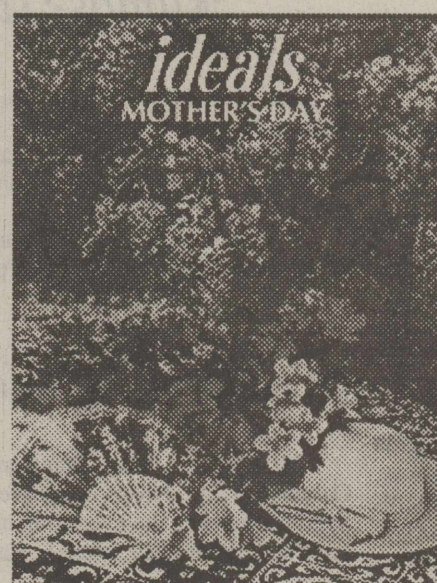

This was Dr. Henley's ninth trip to the area. The first time he went was two weeks after the coup. In April and July, the mission is to teach the people about God. The October trips are to train pastors. Bro. Bill found that the churches are not equipped for training the members. More emphasis is needed now on training pastors and strengthening churches.

Any individual or group interested in learning more about his trip or in helping support the new church is invited to contact him.

God's Volunteers

By Dennis J. Prutow

God will not drag you kicking and screaming into His heaven. God will not violate your will. In fact, some say God's hands are tied at this point. He cannot act contrary to your will. Sad to say, this makes a lot of people feel pretty big. They think they have God over a barrel.

But do human beings really have the upper hand on God? No they don't!

In fact, people who think they have the upper hand on God and reject Him will discover a hard truth. When Jesus taught His disciples, "Do not fear those who kill the body...fear Him who is able to destroy both soul and body in hell." He was talking about God and the Day of Judgment (Matthew 10:28).

But I also agree that God will not take people like you and me into heaven against our wills. God is much smarter than that. You see, God is in the business of changing people like you and me on the inside. God is in the business of giving people new hearts. He is in the business of changing how people think. He opens their minds to understand the Scriptures (Luke 24:45).

God's hands are not tied. The great modern day miracle of grace is God changing how people think so they "volunteer freely" and follow Him (Psalm 110:3).

Water Districts Sponsoring Students To Texas State 4-H Water Camp

Students in Crockett County who will be entering their sophomore, junior or senior years of school in Fall '94 have an opportunity for a terrific learning experience and week of fun this summer, thanks to the county's two water districts.

The Emerald Underground Water District and the Crockett County Water Control and Improvement District will each sponsor one student to attend the third Texas State 4-H Water Camp, slated for July 17-22 in Monahans at the George and Opal Bentley 4-H Center.

Students who have attended the camp have been treated to a whirlwind week of in-depth experiences, including hands-on water testing, field trips to water treatment and other facilities, and fun-filled days at Balmorra State Park and Water Wonderland. Participants also enjoy dancing and recreation each evening led by District Six 4-H Council members.

The scholarships are quite generous, commented County Extension Agent Tedra Ulmer, "The water districts will pay the $150 registration fee plus some funds which can be used for whatever the participant desires--travel expenses, t-shirts, snacks, etc." The agent noted that transportation is not furnished to the camp--participants are responsible for providing their own transportation--but meals and lodging and travel on tours while at the camp are included in the registration fee.

Two participants and two alternates will be chosen to go to the 1993 camp. Entrants need to turn in a water conservation slogan and a one-page essay on a topic such as water usage, water conservation or water reuse to the Crockett County Extension Office, Box 969, Ozona 76943, by May 8th, 1994.

A committee selected by the water district will choose the lucky participants in this year's camp, which has been featured on CNN and several other national television news programs in the past.

For more information about the contest, contact Dee Keilers at 392-2730, or the Crockett County Extension Office at 392-2721. Educational programs such as the Texas 4-H Water camp are open to all persons, regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion, national origin or handicap.

Agent Ulmer also noted that registration is limited to 30 students from across Texas.

Human vs Animal Rights?

CCPL has just received an excellent book for our collection donated by the West Texas Chapter of Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Auxiliary. Animal Scam: the Beastly Abuse of Human Rights by Kathleen Marquardt exposes the fraud and reveals the tactics animal rights activists and their organizations use to persuade the world that there is no difference between animals and people, and that owning a pet is like owning a slave. What these groups claim in their official press releases and mailings is far from what they actually practice. Over 90% of the money they generate for the welfare of animals is actually spent sending out requests to raise more money. Unsuspecting contributors who think their money is going toward helping abused or abandoned animals are shocked when-or if- they find out.

Marquardt points out that the demands animal rights groups wish to see fulfilled are detrimental to both people and animals. Strident activists call for an absolute end to all animal testing used in science and all medications derived from animals including insulin for diabetics, tetanus-diphtheria booster shots for children, and polio and measles vaccines. The most radical activists are convinced that phasing out the human race is the only way to solve all the Earth's social and environmental problems.

The book is divided into 3 main parts. In Animal Rights: Uncovering the scam, Marquardt explains animal rights, describes animal rights groups, and focuses on the special case of PeTA-a particularly infamous group. In People And Animals: Animal Rights Lies about Animal Welfare and Conservation, the author exposes the fraud of groups radical ideas on animals in science and agriculture, pets, furs and hunting. She explains the consequences of animal use on science, health, our economy, food and many aspects of daily life that we take for granted. In part 3 Danger And Opportunity: the Threat To Human Rights and How To Fight Back, Marquardt outlines the danger of animal rights, how radical ideas have consequences and tells what you can really do for people and animals to benefit both.

Marquardt includes lists of organizations, incidents of extremism, using animals in biomedical research and best of all, a section of quotations from animal rights leaders showing their inconsistencies in logic and reason in their own words!

The book is dedicated to all victims of animal extremism: wild animals suffering and dying from overpopulation, disease, and habitat degradation due to irrational attacks on hunting, trapping, and wildlife management; farmers and ranchers who face increasingly crippling over regulation and attacks, and livestock and crop depredation from overpopulated predators and pests; biomedical researchers who brave unbelievable terror to find treatments and cures to save both people and animals; and the hungry, who bear artificially high food costs because of restrictions on agriculture and prohibitions on the donation of game to charity. Read this important book before donating to animal rights groups or condemning a mutually beneficial symbiosis of man and animals.

Return Of The Female Fat Cells

No, this title doesn't mean I've gained weight--it just means if you missed the program "Fighting Female Fat Cells" at the last FCE meeting during the health fair, you're in luck--we're going to repeat it again at Crockett County National Bank at Noon this Thursday, May 5th!

Just bring a brown bag lunch and listen in--for free--as we discuss how most of us females are doing things that make us fatter--while we're trying as hard as we can to lose weight! Our end goal is a happy, healthy individual, and we can tell you how to do it while not feeling deprived, angry and starving to death.

This is not a diet--repeat, this is not a diet! It is a way to change your habits to more effectively burn fat and make yourself healthier. Since February, I have lowered my horribly high cholesterol level, gotten into clothes I haven't worn since 1990, and I've even lost pounds--the first time since I don't know when!

And I'm not a dieter--but you shouldn't be, either! And while you may know and even have done most of the things you're going to learn about in this program, it's the way you combine these actions that makes the difference.

So join us for some fun and some education at the Crockett County National Bank's break room on Thursday at noon--we'd love to have you!

For more information about this or any Extension-sponsored program, call the Crockett County Extension Office at 392-2721. Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages, regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion, national origin or disability. Persons with disabilities who require an auxiliary aid, service or accommodation in order to participate in this meeting are encouraged to call 392-2721 to determine how reasonable accommodations can be made.

Country Club Holds Couples Tournament

The annual couples tournament at Ozona Country Club drew 50 couples with players from Kermit, Monahans, Sonora, Iraan, San Angelo, Austin, Midland and Ozona.

Championship flight winners Rick Webster and Ann Drake scored a 61 on Saturday and 62 on Sunday for a total of 123. In second place were Ray Roe and Juanita McBride with 62 and 65 for 127. Taking the third place spot were Adolf Garza and Becky Hakes with 65 and 63 for 128.

Sam Cates and Jan Cates won first in the first flight, scoring 67 and 68 for 135. Second place in the flight went to Steve Tackel and Frances Tackel with 69 and 68 for 137. H. O. Hoover and Gina McCollum were third with 73 and 65 for 138.

In the second flight, Rick Hensley and Carol Yeager totaled 144 with 73 and 71 for first place. Micky Rathbone and Mytra Rathbone were second with a total of 147 on 74 and 73. Harvey Sanchez and Tommy Sanchez placed third with a 148 earned on 73 and 75.

Third flight winners David Jacoby and Geneva McWorter scored two 69s for 138. Second and third places tied with 148. A card playoff put O. L. Schuch and Dorothy Schuch in second and Hank and Jeanne Wellman in third. The Schuchs scored 75 Saturday and 73 Sunday, and the Wellmans shot 74 both days.

Top spot in the fourth flight went to Freddie and Lisa Garza with 73 and 77 for a total of 150. Norman Engebrecht and Catherine Engebrecht shot a 79 and 77 for 155 and second place. Close behind were third place winners Frank Justiss and Janey Justiss with 82 and 75 for a total of 157.

Weather Dampens Golf Teams

By Neal Ulmer, Stockman sports-writer

Weather played a big part in the Regional 1-2A Golf Tournament held in Abilene last Thursday and Friday as teeoff times were delayed due to heavy rains. Ozona's girls' and boys' golf teams had an extremely tough time competing.

The scores were based on the first day's round of playing as the second day was cancelled due to the rain. Only the top two teams will advance to the state tournament May 13 and 14.

In the boys' division, first place was won by Memphis with a one day score of 313. Second place was won by Albany with a score of 321 and Ozona placed eighth with a score of 334.

Individual Ozona players and scores are as follows: John Childress, 79; Casey Upham, 82; Jason Stuart, 86; Charlie Branch, 87 and Lynne Haire, 103.

In the girls' division, first place was won by San Saba with a 344 score. Second place was won by Wheeler with a score of 351 and Ozona placed seventh with a score of 388.

Individual Ozona players and scores are as follows: Heather Hill, 90; Emily Stuart, 93; Shelby Stuart, 102; Shelly Sullivan, 103 and Jana Kaye Cotton, 107.

These athletes should be commended for a good season and for representing their school and town.

Time To Register For Head Start

The Head Start Child Development Program will take applications through May for the fall term of the 1994-95 school year.

Head Start, under direction of Tom Green County Community Action Council, is a child development program for 3 and 4-year-old children from low income families.

Children must be 3-years-old by Sept. 1, 1994, to qualify. The program is also open to disabled children.

Major components of Head Start include education, health, dental, nutrition, parental involvement and social services.

Applications may be picked up and submitted between the hours of 2 and 2:30 p.m. at the Head Start office in the parish hall.

Applicants must bring proof of income, a copy of the child's birth certificate and current immunization records.

Lions Edged Out 6-5 By Eagles April 26, In Ozona

By Neal Ulmer, Stockman sports-writer

The Ozona Lions played a good baseball game but could not stop an Eldorado rally in the fifth and sixth innings and came up short in a 6-5 loss last Tuesday, April 26, at the Ozona Baseball Complex.

The Lions have shown improvement with every game and in this game they took an early lead in the third inning. Tony Valencia got things going with a base hit and scored on a base hit from Chris Sanchez. Michael Fay received a walk before Sanchez's base hit and scored on a daring steal to home for the second run.

Eldorado came up with four runs in the fifth inning and two more in the sixth inning to give them the game. They won the ballgame with 10 hits for six runs.

Ozona scored three runs in the sixth but was unable to come up with anymore in the seventh inning. Ozona scored a total of five runs on eight hits.

Tony Valencia was the hot hitter of the day with three hits for three at bats. Chris Sanchez had a good day behind the plate as he picked off two Eagle base runners as they tried to steal second base.

Jesse Garza did a pretty good job pitching as he went four innings and gave up six hits, one walk, no runs, and had three strikeouts. Lance Jamerson relieved Garza in the fifth inning, pitching three innings and gave up four hits, two walks, six runs and had four strikeouts.

The Lions fell to 0-3 in district play and 2-10 for the season. The San Angelo Lakeview JV game that was to be played on Friday, April 29, was cancelled due to rain. The game will be played on Friday, May 6, start-ing at 4:30 p.m. at the baseball com-plex and will not be re-scheduled. The next home game will be on Friday, May 6, start-ing at 4:30 p.m. at the baseball com-plex.

Youth Sports Take Commitment From Parents Too

HOUSTON--(April 19, 1994)--Youth sports take commitment from both child and parent, but knowing when to sit back and cheer may be a parent's hardest job.

"Sports teach us how to be successful in life," said Dr. Fran Pirozzolo, a neuropsychologist at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston. "You learn to do your best, to play within the rules, to take commitments and to be prepared."

The more emphasis that is placed on fair play, having fun and challenging oneself, the better the outcome for the child. Children often learn these values by seeing how their parents react at work and play.

If possible, Pirozzolo encourages parents to reinforce the commitment to sports by tailoring their schedules to meet their child's practice and game requirements.

But parental involvement, Pirozzolo says, should not cross into the realm of coaching. He cautions parents to work only on the fundamentals of a sport with their child. Once a child joins a team, the instruction should be turned over to the coaches.

"At practice and games, your role is to cheerlead," he said. "Differing sets of instructions from parents and coaches can really put a child in conflict."

Pirozzolo, who is a psychologist for the Houston Astros, encourages parents to ask their child how they should behave at the game. "Children often get embarrassed when their parents yell instructions every time they step up to the plate. A simple, 'you can do it!' works best," he said.

By supporting their child at the games, parents also get a chance to see what values the coach is teaching.

"Parents should watch out for coaches who promote rule breaking and winning at all costs," Pirozzolo said. "If parents observe what they feel are inappropriate behaviors for a coach, they should ask the coach about what they observed."

"If the behavior was out of line," he added, "the next step is to report the coach to the authorities and remove your child from the team."

Children are the sum of all their experiences, and the concepts learned through youth sports will last a lifetime.

"Never underestimate the impact sports and your support can have on a child," Pirozzolo said. "And don't pass up the opportunity to praise your child for doing his or her best, especially on the bad days."

Sessom Honor Graduate At Munitions School

U. S. Army Pvt. Keith Sessom reported for duty at Fort Hood, Texas, Sunday, May 1, following a weekend visit in Ozona with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Sessom.

Sessom joined the Army Nov. 9, 1993, and has most recently completed advanced individual training at the U. S. Army Ordnance Missile and Munitions Center and School, Redstone Arsenal, Alabama.

Graduating fifth in his class April 7 as an ammunition specialist, Sessom was awarded two certificates as an honor graduate. Signed by Lt. Col. Phyllis C. O'Connell, the certificate of achievement was awarded "for exceptional accomplishments while attending the Ammunition Storage Specialist (55B) Course at the United States Army Ordnance Missile and Munitions Center and School. Your outstanding academic performance in a very demanding technical training environment and mastery of military skills required of today's soldier earned you the recognition as Honor Graduate of your class. This outstanding achievement reflects great credit upon yourself and the Ordnance Missile and Munitions Center and School."

He was also presented with a certificate of affiliation with the United States Army Ordnance Corps.

Coach Don Hood Speaks To Tracksters

By Neal Ulmer, Stockman sports-writer

Noted track Coach Don Hood from Abilene Christian University conducted a track mini-camp for the Ozona tracksters on Thursday, March 24, at Lion Stadium. Coach Hood was brought here through the efforts of the track coaches and through the generosity of Ozona's Dairy Queen-Wade and Jane Richardson.

Hood recently retired from coaching at ACU and is presently conducting vaulting camps across the United States. In the last six years he has coached five high school vaulters over 17', coached 20 high school vaulters over 16', and has coached four vaulters over 16' in one camp where their previous best was 14'.

In his coaching career, Hood, has coached more vaulters over the 18' barrier than any other U.S. coach and is the only coach to have coached two 19' vaulters—Billy Olson and Tim Bright. Under his direction and guidance, the Abilene Christian University Track Team won ten NCAA II Championships in the last decade, with eight athletes competing in the 1988 Seoul Olympic Games and five in 1992 in Barcelona, Spain.

Coach Hood started out by visiting and giving a talk to all the junior high and high school tracksters. He told the young athletes it not only takes will and determination but also, "track takes a tremendous amount of courage." Hood added, "Your thoughts won't just do it," with this statement he implied a person needs to train and practice.

After giving an inspiring and encouraging talk, Coach Hood then went outside to put words into action. He split the athletes into their respective track areas and talked to these groups separately.

Coach Hood gave several good pointers to the discus and shot put throwers. He explained the key to these two events are rhythm and balance—avoid leaning back, instead lean forward.

"Good high jumpers make good triple jumpers and the main difference between the two is the run," said Coach Hood as he started giving pointers to the athletes. In the triple jump, you gather for speed. The success of a long triple jump depends on a good run up. The run up has to be a crescendo and the main keys are relaxation and control.

One of the main points Hood made is the athlete should work on his mental side as well as his physical side. A person has to have confidence to be aggressive.

Hood also stressed to athletes as well as coaches the need to video tape their tryouts and meet performances and to look for areas to improve upon. Gymnastics and weight training are also used in a good track program according to Coach Hood.

POINTERS FOR HIGH SCHOOL TRACK ATHLETES - Coach Don Hood, a former Abilene Christian University track coach, is giving Ozona tracksters some pointers in throwing the discus and shot put recently at a clinic he conducted. The clinic was sponsored by the Ozona Dairy Queen.

Viewing The May 10 Solar Eclipse

Don't directly view the May 10 solar eclipse or you risk losing your vision, warns the American Academy of Ophthalmology, the world's largest association of medical eye doctors.

"Many people use sunglasses or other filtering devices to view the eclipse and think they're protected," according to Wayne Fung, MD, an ophthalmologist with California Pacific Medical Center in San Francisco. "Commercial sunglasses are not safe for looking at the sun, even if they claim to filter out all the ultraviolet light. People forget about the infrared light." And the infrared light, lying outside the red end of the visible spectrum, is the cause of potentially blinding eye damage.

The American Academy of Ophthalmology answers the most-asked questions about safe viewing of the eclipse:

What happens if you look directly at the eclipse?

Direct eclipse watching can cause irreparable burns to the retina, the membrane at the back of the eye that transmits light images to the brain via the optic nerve.

The actual injury leading to a blind spot is painless because it is not a thermal, or heat-based, reaction. "The radiant energy causes a photochemical reaction in the outermost layer of the retina," Dr. Fung explains.

Does the American Academy of Ophthalmology advise against direct viewing of the eclipse?

Yes. Almost all devices - welder's goggles, smoke-colored glass, neutral density filters, mylar glasses, developed film - are considered unsafe and are not recommended.

So, how do I get a look at the eclipse?

Indirectly. You have at least two easy options:

Call the television station and find out if the eclipse is being broadcast. You can watch it safely on the television. Many science centers and planetariums schedule safe viewing of the eclipse with special equipment.

Astronomers at The Morrison Planetarium in San Francisco report that unlike a total solar eclipse, when the moon completely hides the sun, this will be an annular eclipse; the moon will be farther away and will therefore appear slightly smaller.

As a result, like a penny peeking out from under a dime, a thin ring, or "annulus", along the sun's outer edge will show around the dark silhouette of the moon.

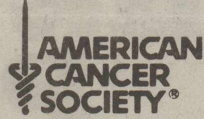

The path of the eclipse - a roughly 150-mile-wide band from which the annulus can be seen - will stretch diagonally across North America, starting in central Baja, California, crossing the North Atlantic, and ending in Morocco. Major cities along the path include: El Paso, TX; St. Louis, MO; Springfield, IL; Toronto; and Halifax, Nova Scotia. The rest of North America will see this event as a partial solar eclipse.

Upham, Wilkins Part Of Young Leaders Conference

Ozona High School sophomores Casey Upham and Tara Wilkins are the community's most recent representatives to the National Young Leaders Conference in Washington, D.C. The two were in Washington in mid-March to participate in this unique leadership development program for outstanding high school students who have demonstrated leadership potential and scholastic merit. Theme of the conference was The Leaders of Tomorrow Meeting the Leaders of Today.

Casey and Tara joined more than 350 youths from across the country who divided into eight caucuses to work with different parts of an amendment to a bill regarding repayment of government loans for college education. Casey's portion of the bill focused on a payment program through community service at a low wage. The conference culminated with a mock congress.

"It totally shocked us when he (Bonilla) was in no hurry," Upham said. "He discussed many issues and talked about all our area." Rep. Bonilla also provided copies of the Wool Act Bill and other written information for the students. To Upham, this was the best part of the trip.

At the Brazilian Embassy, Upham's group viewed a film and heard a talk. They also visited Arlington National Cemetery, the Lincoln and Jefferson Memorials and the Smithsonian.

"You see it (Washington) on T.V., but you have to be there to see what it is really like," said Upham. "It is great." Meeting teens from other parts of the country is also part of the fun and a learning experience for all who attend.

Casey and Tara were nominated to the alumni organization and as such, will be able to nominate other Ozona students to attend the conference. The event, which consists of several sessions during the year, is sponsored by the Congressional Youth Leadership Council, a nonprofit, nonpartisan educational organization. Founded in 1985, the council is committed to "fostering and inspiring young people to achieve their full leadership potential."

"We enjoyed the trip so much, we would have stayed," said Upham.

Iran Alley Oop June 4

The Iran Chamber of Commerce will be holding the Annual Alley Oop Day Celebration and the Annual Alley Oop Chili and Brisket Cookoff June 4 in the Iran Park.

Tax Freedom Day Arrives May 5 - Two Days Later Than Last Year

The bad news is in. Tax Freedom Day is May 5, which means it has taken the taxpayers in this country 125 days of hard work to pay all their federal, state and local taxes. It also means that taxpayers had to work two days longer than they did just last year to pay all those taxes.

stimulate the economy is to cut spending and streamline government, not make our citizens work a third of every year just to pay taxes.

Tax Freedom Day marks the day when the money that we taxpayers earn will finally start going to pay for something other than taxes. Unfortunately, due primarily to the tax increases passed last year, Tax Freedom Day jumped from May 3 in 1993 to May 5 in 1994.

Last year's new taxes hit Texans particularly hard. According to a study by the Heritage Foundation, higher taxes - including a gasoline tax and a tax on Social Security benefits - are draining more than $500 million just from the 23rd District this year. That's $500 million that families could have put into savings or spent at local businesses across West and South Texas. In fact, most of us spend more money on taxes each year than we spend on food, clothing and housing combined. According to the Tax Foundation, Texans spend more than 32 percent of their income on taxes. If taxpayers were allowed to keep more of the money they earned, we would see true economic growth and there would be no need for the government to spend our money trying to "grow" the economy.

The worst part about paying all these taxes is that for all the money we send to the government, most of us don't get much in return. A lot of folks in Washington still don't think we pay enough taxes. Why should we have to pay for creating more government programs and adding more bureaucrats to the payroll?

It is time for the government to stop taking advantage of American taxpayers. We need more leaders in Washington who will realize that the best way to reduce the deficit and

Ozona 4-H'ers Excel At Roundup, Fashion Show

4-H members from Crockett County took home top honors from District VI 4-H Roundup competition in Fort Stockton last Saturday. Crockett County had the second-highest number of entries from the District in Roundup contests this year, only three entries short of Pecos County's total and ahead of 21 other counties in the district, including Midland, Ector, El Paso and others.

In 4-H Roundup Method Demonstration competition, Crockett County members did an outstanding job. In the Horse category, Heather Hill advanced to State Roundup by winning first with her illustrated talk on "Blister Beetles: Toxic Time Bomb." Junior 4-H'ers Codi Richardson and Kyle Richardson won first in their age division in the Horse category with "Wrapping It Up". Quay Oglesby and Chase Clark placed fourth in the same category with "An Accident Waiting to Happen".

In the Junior Poultry category, Crockett County was hard to beat, as Helena Williams and Lindsay Flanagan won first with "The Egghead Speaks" and the team of Amanda Hignight and Kristin Bullard won second with "Flippin' Over Crepes". Camelia Williams won the Junior Housing contest with her talk, "Primary Colors".

Jason Hignight placed first with his Rabbit illustrated talk, "A Surprise Every Time." Ky Montgomery advanced to state with her senior Clothing demonstration, "Smartshopping", by placing second. John Baker will also advance to state; his talk, "When Love Hurts," placed third in Family Life.

In the District 4-H Fashion Show, Steffy Sutton advanced to State Competition by winning the Senior Dressy Buying division with her mohair coat.

Sutton also placed first in the Senior Wool/Mohair Buying Division. JoLynn Vannoy was the winner of Best Senior model, and took third place in the Senior Casual Buying division. Jason Hignight was third in the Senior Formal Wear Buying division.

In the Intermediate Buying division, Britney Ellis placed third in School Wear and Amanda Hignight was fourth in Dressy Wear.

In the Junior Buying division, Kristen Tambunga won second in Recreation Wear, and Andrea Ewen won second in School Wear. Jimmy Nowell was third in Cotton.

Paige Tambunga won third in Junior Specialty-Wear Construction. Other Crockett County representatives in the fashion show were as follows: Sophie Jo Bangeman, Jr. Construction Recreation Wear; Rebekah Shaw, Jr. Construction School Wear; Codi Richardson, Jr. Construction Dressy Wear; Kimberly Nowell, Jr. Cotton Construction.

In the 4-H Design Competition, all three entries from Crockett County received first place. Codi Richardson won with her new garment design, Regan Shaw with her accessory design, and Rani Davis with her textile design.

Crockett County was well-represented on District 4-H Council, as JoLynn Vannoy and Steffy Sutton presided at both the Roundup Awards Ceremony and the Fashion Show. Parents, grandparents, brothers, sisters and friends also made up a large contingent, as the 4-H'ers were cheered on in their efforts by a total Crockett County group of approximately 45 persons.

"Special recognition should go to the leaders and parents who have helped with practice, preparations for contests and fashion show, have served as leaders for their own children and others, and who provided transportation to the District Contest," said Tedra Ulmer, County Extension Agent-Home Economics, who accompanied the group to Roundup.

Ulmer noted that, "All our contestants have spent a lot of time and effort in preparation, and we applaud their desire to improve their public speaking and presentation skills, poise and ability to think on their feet."

She also thanked those who served as judges or superintendents, including Neal Ulmer, Adrienne Dickerson, Nancy Vannoy, Carmen Sutton and Jane Richardson. "Without these volunteers, we would be unable to hold these contests," she said.

For more information about 4-H and about how your child can gain from participation in demonstrations, talks, judging contests or fashion show, call 392-2721 or come by the County Extension Office, located on the second floor of the Courthouse Annex.

Special Night Honors Junior High Academic Achievers

An Academic Fun Night was held at the civic center Thursday night, April 28, to honor junior high students who had excelled academically during the year. The students were honored for one or more of the following categories:

1. Maintained A or A/B honor roll status for the first five six weeks.
2. Placed in the top six in an academic event at one or more of the practice U.I.L. meets in which the junior high participated.
3. Participated in the district U.I.L. academic meet.
4. Was chosen by one of the teachers as the student that exhibited the most improvement or most enthusiastic effort in that class.
5. Was named an outstanding reader by his/her reading teacher.

Students who placed in the top six in an event at the district U.I.L. academic meet also received their medals or ribbons.

Following a delicious meal served by parents and awards presented by Principal Tom Humber and teachers, the students and their parents were treated to special entertainment. A carnival was set up outside the civic center. Students and their families could make spin-art frisbees, eat cotton candy or win prizes playing games.

The most exciting attractions were the Spider Web and the Bungee Run. Participants in the Spider Web could put on a suit of velcro and be thrown by two very strong fathers into the "spider's web", which was also covered with velcro. In the Bungee Run, two participants wearing bungee cords raced to see who could run the farthest before the strong elastic cord pulled them backward on the inflated runway. All of the carnival booths were operated by parents and teachers.

Thanks go to all the parents and teachers who helped with food or in the carnival booths. A special thanks goes to Jane Richardson for organizing the entire evening, Belinda Wilkins for printing the invitations and the programs, Esmie Barrera and Matilda Camarillo for preparing beautiful and delicious cakes for dessert. Thanks are also in order for all the individuals, organizations and businesses that funded the evening's activities. Without your support, the Academic Fun Night would not have been possible.

Students honored at the Academic Fun Night are:

COMMUNICATE BEFORE YOU EXCAVATE.

Before you dig, drill, blast, shovel, tunnel or backhoe, look out below! For buried natural gas pipelines, that is.

To provide your community with a clean, efficient source of fuel, natural gas pipelines are buried underground in many areas. Although these pipelines are built to meet the highest safety standards, an unknowing person who is excavating can cause accidental rupture.

In many areas, especially road crossings, our company has posted warning signs to indicate the presence of an underground natural gas pipeline.

But you can always confirm the safety of your excavation site by calling us at one of the numbers below at least 48 hours before breaking ground. This way we can determine for sure whether you are in any danger of rupturing one of our lines.

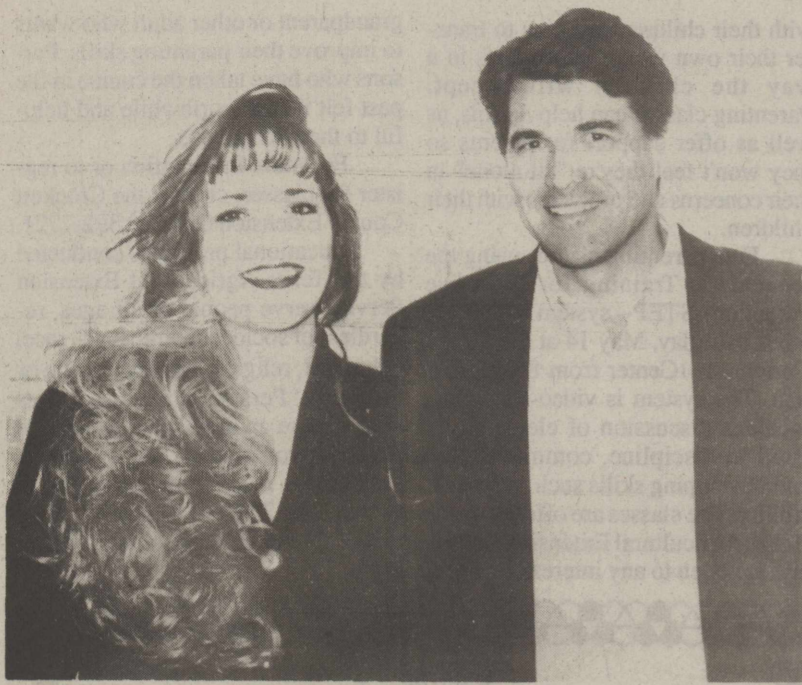

Everyone—not just those involved with excavation—should be alert to signs of a ruptured natural gas pipeline. These telltale signs include dying vegetation, blowing dust, persistent bubbles through water, a distinctive smell, high-pitched noises, and, in severe cases, fire or explosion.

So before you drive anything underground, get on the horn! In fact, call us collect to report any conditions that concern you in the vicinity of our pipelines.

Boys Ranch Sunday Slated For May 16

West Texas Boys Ranch has set May 15 for their annual Boys Ranch Sunday. Presented by Texas State Bank, Boys Ranch Sunday will feature good food, fun and entertainment for the entire family from 11:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Ranch located just 17 miles west of San Angelo.

The day's activities will get underway with a barbecue lunch served from 11:30 a.m. until 2 p.m.

Kids of all ages will enjoy a festival of games, a dunking booth, fishing pond, hoop shoot, a petting zoo, wagon rides and more. Live entertainment will continue throughout the afternoon featuring local musicians with special attractions to include the Explorer Scout Troop with authentic Indian costumes and dancing demonstrations and more.

Tickets for Boys Ranch Sunday are $5 for adults and $3 for children, age 6-12. Children under 6 are free. Tickets will be available at the event. West Texas Boys Ranch is located just 17 miles west of San Angelo off Hwy. 67. For more information, call 949-1936.

You never know what you might find inside a tree . . .

Lefty Walker and Jim White couldn't believe their eyes last week when they cut into a pecan tree trunk with a chain saw. Jim White, Ozona High School wood shop teacher, helped Lefty cut down one of his pecan trees, and they found a 2x6 inch by 2 foot board embedded in a section of the tree's trunk, complete with nails. ### Reagor Interns With Ag Department Tammye Jayne Reagor of Ozona has been assigned to a work-study internship at the Texas Department of Agriculture in Austin.

Miss Reagor, a junior majoring in agriculture development at Texas A&M University in College Station, is working side by side with the agency's marketing staff, which promotes Texas agricultural products.

"The student interns bring a fresh perspective to the workings of a state agency," Agriculture Commissioner Rick Perry said. "We're very pleased to have them at TDA helping us assist the Texas agricultural industry."

"TDA is the top organization for an agriculture development major to work with," said Miss Reagor. "The internship has given me an opportunity to learn more about agriculture on the state level and a chance to get to know the key people in the ag field."

Following the completion of her internship, Miss Reagor plans to return to school to earn a master's degree and to eventually pursue a career in agriculture, preferably with the Mohair Council.

She is a member of the 12th Man Student Foundation and the Saddle and Sirloin Club.

The internship was established by mutual agreement between TDA and Texas A&M University, Tarleton State University and St. Edward's University.

Capitol Comments
by BOB TURNER
State Representative - District 65

The primary and run-off elections are now over and local and city/school elections are coming up next. Those of us in government can now resume tending to the business of the state in a more effective manner. Before I leave the subject of elections and voting I must make the following observation: The low voter turn-out during all of these elections is simply not acceptable! When, in some instances, the turn-out was as low as 11-12% and the state average was 20%, then it is no wonder to me that government on all levels is currently in such a bad state of affairs. Those citizens who show so little interest in the business of the state - which is really been business of us all and financed by us all - cannot blame anyone but themselves when public policy does not turn out the way they wish. It is a deep and worrisome problem to me as to how to raise the consciousness level of the citizenry so that they will accept the responsibility of voting. In a democracy, public participation is absolutely necessary and should be a treasured privilege. How we can make willing participants of our citizens in the voting process is a puzzle to me. After that comment, I want to take up with my readers the controversial topic of health care.

Health care is a very major topic of interest and discussion, not only in the media, but in every coffee shop in Texas. All sorts of proposed national health care reform plans are being brought out and discussed. Now, before I proceed further, let me say that I feel well qualified to make the following observations on health care reform, and the impact it will have on all of us as Texans and Americans.

For three years I chaired a National Rural Health Care Advisory Committee for the American Farm Bureau Federation, as well as serving for five years as a chair of a statewide Health Advisory Committee for the Texas Farm Bureau. More recently I served 13 months on Governor Richards Health Care Task Force. As a military commander before my retirement I had medical personnel in my command, and have observed, first hand, the nationalized health care systems in several European countries. So, first, I personally do not believe that a national, universal health care plan will work in the United States. I base this on the ineffectiveness of both Medicare and Medicaid, as well as the understaffing and poor handling of our veteran health care facilities, all direct products of the federal government. I would like to offer my observations and the corrective actions that if taken, with our current health care system, I believe will make substantial improvement.

Self-employed persons should be able to deduct 100% of their health insurance premium from their federal income tax form, in the same manner that major industry does, at this time.

This would provide incentive for an increase in the insuring of the self-employed. I believe that potential health care purchasers should be able to obtain prices for the procedures they need or require, as well as outcome results from health care delivery providers. This would enable the purchaser to shop for, not only the best price possible, but to evaluate how effective that provider has been in providing that particular service in the past. I am further convinced that some sort of caps must be set on the exposure of health care providers, whether they be physicians, hospitals, dentists, nurses, or any other of the host of health care providers. This in turn will minimize a large portion of "CYA" in the matter of ordering unneeded tests, and multiple opinions that are costing unnecessary millions in today's health care system. It is further my opinion that medical providers (doctors, hospitals, etc.) should be exempt from malpractice exposure when providing public service, or free health care services. This would greatly reduce the cost in providing health care for the indigent and needy.

I further believe that the United States Internal Revenue Service (IRS) Code should be amended to allow "individual health care savings plans (health care IRA's)", which would be tax exempt to the purchaser. With the accumulation in this "IRA", the individual could cover up-front and minor health care costs. A low cost, high deductible health insurance policy could then be purchased to cover those major medical and catastrophic type health care costs. The unused portion could then become a tax free savings account for the purchaser. It is obvious that if the individual covers the up-front costs, many abuses of the health care system are eliminated.

Free enterprise and competition is the factor that drives research and development of new procedures as well as the development of new and advanced facilities and equipment. For private enterprise, the hope for an increased share of the market and an improved profit picture is required to enable development of new and improved health care delivery techniques, as well as adequate availability of these systems and facilities. This would prevent rationing of health care, such as is being practiced in, not only Canada, but many European nations today. It is my observation that in a governmentally owned and managed health care environment where the tax payers are paying for new equipment, facilities, and techniques, the development will be limited. In turn the adequate availability of health care facilities will become more and more limited, as time goes on.

A Mother's Attempt To Escape

By David D. Dodge
Ministries of Mercy Inc.
Utopia, Texas

Many years ago an alcoholic man promised to quit drinking if a young woman named Celia would marry him. She did. He didn't.

The drinking and all that went with it became a source of mental and emotional abuse. For Celia, the inner suffering and turmoil became unbearable.

The man refused to leave home and would not let her leave. Even if she had tried, he would have gone after her and brought her back.

Celia could not change him or her circumstances. The hopelessness that once camped on her doorstep now moved in with all its baggage of despair and depression. She could not take it anymore.

Thoughts of another kind of escape entered her mind. How nice it would be to leave her body and float up to be in heaven with the angels. He would never be able to chase after her and find her there.

One night, just after midnight fifty-nine years ago, this young mother reached over and kissed her little baby girl good-bye. She inched her way to the door and stepped out into the cold blackness of the night.

The love of the small life she left behind was not great enough to overcome the pain of desperation she felt inside.

Only those who have experienced this situation can know of the struggle that tormented Celia as she walked her last mile of life.

There it was! The cold steel bridge outlined against a solemn dark sky. She longed to be free from the abuse and yet yearned to be with her baby, but felt she could not have both.

Reaching her destination in the middle of the bridge, Celia turned and gripped the railing before daring to look below.

The ugly, muddy waters of death terrified and yet seduced her at the same time. This last decision would rob her of choice forever.

Someone once told her that those who commit suicide cannot be forgiven. She desperately wanted to be with Jesus, but what would He think of her last act on this earth?

The decision was made. She inched her way down the bridge and back toward trouble with distress.

Celia still died that night, but not in a watery grave. She died to self and her attitude of hopelessness, despair, and defeat. She surrendered her need to feel happy in order to fulfill her purpose on this earth.

She returned home to a tiny helpless baby, who with gurgling sounds of happiness began reaching innocent hands toward its source of life and love. Celia knew then that she could never contemplate this form of escape again.

Celia went on to give life to ten more children, who in turn gave life to thirty-two more children, who in turn gave life to thirty-eight more children. To date, this woman is responsible for giving life to eighty-one people on this earth. These children are not committing murder and mayhem in the streets. In fact, just the opposite.

Some became pastors or married pastors. Some became missionaries, working in China, Tibet, Japan, Thailand, Cambodia, Hawaiian Islands, Mexico, Haiti, Guatemala, Peru, Africa, Russia and several other countries. The rest ran alcoholic rehabilitation centers, got involved in teaching, counseling, prison ministries, politics and built businesses.

This is just the beginning! Many of the grandchildren and great-grandchildren have yet to marry and have children.

There is yet to be a mountain of good created in this world because one young woman refused to give in to her thoughts of suicide.

Who is Celia you ask? She is Celia Larson Dodge. She is my wonderful and lovely eighty-four year old mother.

Happy Mother's Day, Mom! Thank you for choosing life!

To all mothers who are suffering turmoil, hopelessness, despair, or depression: you have a much higher calling on this earth than I, or any man will ever have. Let me encourage you to choose life for yourself and your family. And, Happy Mother's Day...to all of us.

How do you discipline a 13-year-old without causing further resentment and rebellion? How does a two-year-old learn the difference between right and wrong? How can you keep order without resorting to physical punishment or put-downs?

The need to improve parenting skills across the community was recently identified as a critical issue in Crockett County during the Extension Long-Range Planning study group meeting. The group studying the issue, which was made up of both youth and adults, felt that many of the problems facing our youth—such as teen pregnancy, drug and alcohol abuse, and poor scholastic performance—were all related to the need to better parenting skills.

"But I'm a good parent—I'm raising my kids like I was raised!" Unfortunately, our parents had a much simpler world to raise kids in—fewer negative outside influences, more time to parent and more time in which to be a parent.

Since the world is so much more complicated, parents need a better understanding of how to communicate with their children and how to transfer their own values and beliefs in a way the children will accept. Parenting classes can help do this, as well as offer support for parents so they won't feel they're "all alone" in their concerns and problems with their children.

Free parenting classes using the Systematic Training for Effective Parenting--STEP-- system will be offered Saturday, May 14 at the Ozona Community Center from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. The system is video-based and includes discussion of elements related to discipline, communication and developing skills such as responsibility. The classes are offered by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and are open to any interested parent, grandparent or other adult who wants to improve their parenting skills. Persons who have taken the course in the past felt it was worthwhile and helpful to them as parents.

For more information or to register for classes, contact the Crockett County Extension Office at 392-2721.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages, regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion, national origin or disability. Persons with disabilities who require an auxiliary aid, service or accommodation in order to participate in this meeting are encouraged to call 392-2721 to determine how reasonable accommodations can be made.
