Baird Is Host At Rural Meeting

The chief topic of round table discussion at the Development Association's meeting here Tuesday night was to see if the county wide organization could enlist the assistance of all the county newspapers in their program. It was pointed out that The Star was the only paper giving publicity to the October 1st meeting. If all the papers would get behind the club, the entire county would derive much benefit, it was said.

Callahan County Club was host to the association and Vice-President, F. E. Mitchell extended the address of welcome, with Rev. R. H. Campbell pronouncing the invocation when the meeting opened in the auditorium of the Baird Methodist church.

The development association accepted an invitation to hold its next meeting at Putnam to a date to be set later. Putnam is the home town of the association's new president, Billy Mac Jobe, and a large attendance of Putnam people are expected to gather in respect to him and to continue efforts for the betterment of conditions of rural residents of the county.

Ace Hickman, local ranchman, spoke of the USO county drive to raise between $900 and $1,000.

County Judge Lester Farmer was elected county chairman, and community chairman were chosen as follows: Frank Carpenter, Dudley; Frank Kenezak, Clyde; Morton Whitley, Denton.

Billie Mac Jobe presided at the meeting.

Entertainment for the evening was prepared by Mayor Hugh Jones, Ace Hickman and Dr. M. Stubblefield. Miss Sue Hooker, school music teacher, gave a violin number, accompanied by Mrs. E. Hill. Dale Glasson played piano selections.

The celebrated Dudley quartet consisting of Ott Neal, Jim Loper, Frank Carpenter and L. H. Hay accompanied by Mrs. Hay at the piano, sang several songs.

Concessions were interspersed with chocolate and coffee, in the basement.

Farm Agent A. R. Jones will do for county. Started as a farmer, it has been discovered better adapted as a farmer.

OP said, hampered phosphate fertilizer being shipped in for use with the hairy vetch and that a better deterrent to its widespread use just now is lack of equipment. Grote stressed importance of observing State Fire Prevention Week on Callahan county farms.

D. C. Jones, Soil Conservation Service, outlined and described work being done to prevent soil erosion and build up soil fertility in Callahan county.

Minutes read by Secretary J. C. Holmes, Clyde, showed the club had been busy during the month. The constitution and by-laws were read and new members invited.

Mrs. Sue Hatchley, Dudley, entertained with several humorous readings.

Baird Bears Play Moran Tonight

The new lighted football field at Moran will be the scene of the first conference game of the season for the Baird Bears when they meet the Moran team tonight at 8 p. m.

Although the battered Baird Bears took the Albany Lions by a winning score of 21-7 last Friday night, the home boys are going to need a lot of support in tonight's game and Baird fans are ganging up to take in the event. The Moran team is more than 20 pounds to a man heavier than the Bears, and in this game where weight counts, twenty pounds to the man is a lot.

Baird's starting line-up is as follows:

West, 42, and Walls, 38, ends; Poindexter, 32 and Daniels, 37, tackles; Goble, 30 and Hill, 39, guards; Jones, 36, center; Cook, 44; Varner, 31; Yarbrough, 35; and Gillit, 41, backs.

Moran's line-up:

Hagar, 30 and Jones, 29, ends; Mitchell, 28, and Roberts, 34, tackles; Moore, 26 and Hamilton, 27, guards; Miller, 25, center; Williams, 31; Bennett, 21; Parrish, 24 and Lummus, 32, backs.

Officials for the game will be Tony Grubbs, Lester Dorton and Roland Dunn.

LOOKING AHEAD AT A TOUGH ONE

The game scheduled with Early high school promises to be the toughest game the Bears will play this season, according to Superintendent A. H. Pritchard. He stated the game was slated for Friday week, at the Bear's Den, Baird.

Elsewhere in this issue of The Star they invite you to trade with them. Visit the new place and see what they are giving to the city.

FIRE DESTROYS LEA MACDONALD HOUSE

Fire removed one of Baird's most cherished landmarks Monday when the Robert Macdonald house, north of the city, was completely destroyed by fire. The origin of the fire is unknown. Kitchen utensils, and quite a bit of furniture was saved.

The two-story 10 room house was located high on a hillside, built there by the late Robert Macdonald. Macdonald came here from Scotland in 1885, first settling in Shackelford county and later moving to Callahan county where he built this house and resided until 1912, when he and his family moved to Virginia. Two of his six children, Lea and Donald, were born in the old house. Mr. and Mrs. Lea Macdonald and their small son, Donald Grant, had been occupying the house since moving here from Virginia last May. They are now staying with the Hugh Ross family and plan to rebuild on the four and a quarter sections estate ranch.

She was brought to the Callahan county hospital and later moved to Abilene.

A fine of $33.80 and an agreement that he would pay all medical and hospital bills was assessed the driver of the car, a resident of Los Angeles, in county court here this week. The driver violated the law when he passed the school bus while it was stopped.

Baird Bears Trample Over The Albany Lions 21-7

Gene Walls and Billy Bob Pierson The Baird Bears won a second victory Friday night by beating the Albany Lions. Corky Cook, captain of the Bears, made all three touchdowns. Jimmy West, left end, caught a pass for one extra point. Cook kicked the second extra point and Jack Gillet ran the third one over the center.

In the first quarter both teams scored. The Lions fumbled the ball and Baird recovered it on the first play.

In the second quarter the Baird eleven scored again and this time Cook made the touchdown and extra point. The Bears held Albany back from making a touchdown.

After the half the Albany team rallied enough to hold the Bears in the third quarter and the Bears also held the Lions.

In the last quarter of the game the Bears scored with Cook carrying it over again. Jack Gillet came in, in Cook's place as Corky was hurt in that play. Gillet hit the line for an extra point.

The Bears are in class B and the Albany team is in class A. The Bears completed five passes out of ten tries. The Albany Lions completed five out of seven tries. The Bears made ten first downs while the Lions made eight. Three penalties set the Bears back forty-five yards while six penalties cost the Lions sixty yards. The Bears intercepted one pass.

The Bears meet Moran next Friday night at Moran. Hugh Shrader, half-back, broke his arm in the second quarter.

The Cubs will meet Albany in the Bear's Den Thursday, October 3, at 2 o'clock. Harry Benson is coaching the Cubs. Garland Sampson is also helping Mr. Benson.

AUSTIN WHEAT

A new variety of rust resistant soft red wheat called Austin wheat, has become so popular since its first distribution to central Texas growers in 1942, that an estimated one million acres were grown in 1946. Outstanding desirable characteristics of Austin, as compared with older commercial varieties, are its high resistance to leaf and stem rust and to loose smut.

Austin wheat was developed from a cross of Mediterranean, a soft red winter wheat of desirable milling and baking characteristics, and Hope, a rust resistant spring wheat, by E. S. McFadden and J. M. Atkins, agronomists at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

This new variety has been included in nursery plant variety test at the Denton substation since 1937. It was seriously damaged in 1943 by a late spring freeze when old standard varieties were not damaged. However, except for the 1943 season, it has outyielded Denton and other Mediterranean strains every year. It has done well in tests of wheat at Temple, College Station, and Beeville. It is recommended for the Central Texas area from Fort Worth and Dallas southward to the Gulf Coast area of the State. Although some Callahan farmers have grown Austin in the past and had good results, it is not as adapted to this area as Westar wheat, which was developed for this area. It is similar to TenMarq and Comanche. Stands well for combine harvesting and is winter hardy.

Westar's outstanding characteristics are: 1. high yield, 2. high test weight, 3. good milling and baking characteristics, and 4. very high resistant to leaf rust. Other recommended varieties in order of preference for Callahan county are: Wichita, Comanche and Tenmarq.

OPLIN BOY WINS AT ABILENE SHOW

The Duroc gilt awarded Howard Johnson, Oplin 4-H boy, in May, as a reward for winning the Sears-Roebuck Cow-Hog-Hen assay contest, won grand champion at the West Texas Jersey, Sheep, and Swine Show, in Abilene September, 27-28. The prize for having the best gilt entitled Howard to get first pick out of five registered Jersey Heifers given by Sears-Roebuck and Company with the second and third, and fourth place winners in the show and the boy exhibiting the best boar, got respective picks.

Howard first showed against Callahan county 4-H boys, then showed against the best gilt for each of the following counties to win grand championship: Eastland, Shackelford, Jones, Fisher, Taylor and Coleman.

Other Callahan county 4-H boys receiving prizes in forms of either 100 baby chicks, 50 turkey eggs or 25 poults were: Robert Collins, Clyde; Thurmal Atchley, Dudley; Billy Hicks, Clyde; Roland Driggers, Clyde; and Johnny McKendie, Dudley. Robert Johnson of Oplin showed the heifer he won last year as a result of having the best gilt in Callahan county and he placed second in the open show and won a blue ribbon in the Sears-Roebuck sponsored classification show.

ARE YOUR CATTLE GRUBBY?

The annual tonnage of beef trimmed and condemned by federal meat inspectors and sent to the tank because of grub injury in an inexcusable waste, especially in this period of world wide meat shortages. The trimmings of an average of 2 lbs. of meat from loins and ribs of grubby carcasses amounts to a waste of at least 9,800,000 lbs. of beef, condemned and lost as human food. This waste was sufficient for a years beef ration for a city of one-third million population.

The loss in gains and in milk production caused by cattle running and stampeding in an effort to avoid the heel fly as it deposits grub eggs on cattle and the almost constant irritation of grubs encysted in the skin represents too great a waste and deduction in price.

The control of grubs (and lice can be gotten at the same time if present) is a humane profitable practice. Use 7 1/2 pounds 5 per cent rotenone in 100 gallons of water for spraying; 1 part 5 per cent rotenone to parts of volcanic ash, pyrophyllite or tripoli earth for dusting; and if you are equipped to dip, use 10 pounds of 5 per cent rotenone, 2 ounces of sodium lauryl sulfate or other suitable wetting agent to 100 gallons of water.

HOW TO GET TEACHERS

With more Americans going to school and college this year than ever before, educational authorities call attention to the serious shortage of trained teachers which, they say, runs into the hundreds of thousands.

The average salary for teachers is only $1,950, with many teachers being employed at a salary that is much less than the average. Educators say that the Federal Government pays a minimum of $2,654, for workers in professional positions and L. Frazier Banks, of Birmingham, Alabama, says it is not a question of whether teachers are receiving as much as they deserve, but "whether the American people are going to pay high enough salaries to get qualified people to teach their children."

EXPECTED WAR WITH U. S.

There may be a few Americans who still cling to the idea that the Axis powers were friendly to the United States. They would take cognizance of the facts revealed in the latest volume of the "Nazi Conspiracy and Aggression" series, which has been released by the United States Government.

This shows that in May, 1941, the German Military attache in Tokyo discussed with the Japanese Overseas Minister "the forms in which Japan would start hostilities in case of a war between the United States and Germany."

The Japanese Minister explained that Japan would stand by her treaty obligations, but "would not open hostilities immediately." He said that "preparations for attack on Singapore and Manila stand" and that Japan would consider attacks upon Russian ports.

Earlier, in March, in Berlin, at a conference between the Nazi Foreign Minister Ribbentrop and the Japanese Foreign Minister Matsuoka, the Germans said that maps of Singapore had been ordered so that Hitler could advise on "the best method of attack against Singapore." Later, the Japanese Minister discussed the topic with Hitler himself.

HOW TO START FIRES

With the approach of cold weather, the nation will witness an increase in the number of fires, in homes, in business places and in the forests, and, consequently, the public is being offered plenty of free advice on the methods they should adopt in order to prevent fires.

This is interesting, and in as much as October 6-12 has been designated as Fire Prevention Week in the United States, by reversing a series of "don'ts," sent out by the Fire Protection Institute, we are to balance the propaganda and to give our readers the latest expert suggestions on the best method of starting incendiary blazes at this time of the year. Here they are:

1. Smoke in bed.
2. Leave the electric iron turned on while you gossip over the back fence with a neighbor.
3. Hang your fire extinguisher in a dark corner, behind boxes, brooms and ironing board. Never inspect or refill it.
4. Use a wastebasket for cigaret ashes—never use an ash tray.
5. Hang flimsy curtains on kitchen windows, with sufficient length to blow over any open flame on the range.
6. Store cans of gasoline, oil and grease in the garage and be sure that there is no fire extinguisher near your automobile.
7. Forget the Fire Department's telephone number and, if possible, misplace the telephone directory.
8. Always use inflammable fluids to clean clothing, especially if working near an open flame. It is a helpful idea to smoke a cigarette while doing this work.
9. Never put a fire screen in front of your open hearth fires, regardless of how high the fuel is piled.
10. Do not bother to inspect electric wiring, or replace wires on electrical appliances.
11. Keep a large pile of oil-soaked rags and mops in a remote corner of the house. Spontaneous combustion will provide a good fire and it will be especially dangerous if it begins under the stairs.
12. When cooking on a gas stove, leave pots boiling. Sometimes the liquid will overflow and extinguish the flame, thus permitting the gas to fill the room. The pilot light will eventually provide the fire-works.
13. By following the above suggestions you and your family will shortly be living in a tent. This is not so bad because outdoor life is healthy, but if you do not correct your habits, it won't be long before you will also burn down the tent.

ARE U. S. AIRMEN SLAVES?

The American Army will leave no stone unturned in its effort to investigate the report that some of our airmen, forced down in 1944, while flying from India to China, are held as prisoners by aboriginal tribesmen in mountainous western China.

The possibility that American aviators have been kept in captivity requires the full exertion of this nation in the effort to rescue the men. Americans in China, familiar with the tribesmen and conditions in the wild country, say that rescue will have to be effected by barter. They do not consider a punitive expedition feasible.

IN THE AIR AND ON THE OCEAN

Those in this country who would allow the Army, Navy and Air Force to gradually fall behind in technical advances and necessary preparation for another war will do well to note recent utterances of Britain's Air Ministry.

Air Chief Marshall Lord Dowding, who planned England's defense measures in the 1940 air blitz, recently wrote just how close England came to actual invasion and possibly capture when he recalled, "If the fighter defense had failed in the Fall of 1940, England would have been invaded." The article went on to point out that, contrary to popular belief, the R. A. F. was seriously weakened after the great daily duels in the skies in 1940 with the Luftwaffe.

Had the German Air Force been built around the principle of smashing England instead of for ground support of armies, the Germans would have probably defeated the R. A. F. German pilots in 1940 were equal to the British, but the Spit and Hurricane had definite advantages in defensive combat too telling to be overcome by superior numbers of German fighters.

Perhaps the next war will find the nations more heavily involved in air power. In that case, the United States should maintain an air defense second to none and a similar air offense. Since this country has the world's most powerful navy and also greatest air strength, the army must be allowed to sift down to a minimum at home. However, the army should maintain active reservists in large numbers and overseas garrisons in adequate numbers also.

Under no circumstances should the Navy or Air Force be allowed to recede whatsoever from their present day comparative standards. To do so in this age invites aggression.

THE CONSCIENCE

The conscience is a very human trait that apparently has not altogether been lost in the last few war-frenzied years. One large railroad company recently pointed out that letters come in steadily with "contributions" that range anywhere from $250.00 to $1.00. These contributions are sent in to satisfy that human trait—the conscience.

Dollar bills come in years after little unpaid debts were ignored. Anything from a couple of lumps of coal to long trips without tickets is repaid in envelopes that usually have a name and address on the bottom of the page, and a dollar bill or more inside the envelope. One man recently sent in a letter "This money belongs to the Railway. The person sending it will sleep better tonight."

Some come in signed—"A Friend;" others just say, "I think I owe you this." One letter received merely stated: "I don't no you and you don't no me so I will mention no names." The writer sent one dollar for two buckets of coal taken in 1910.

Most of the letters are sent to repay debts that have been standing for many decades. One man in Georgia sent this note: "For cotton lost in transit at Flowery Branch, Georgia in 1905." He included a check for $250.00. But that much money is the exception. Usually the letters contain only a dollar or two.

Most of the voluntary repayments are made for fares that were never collected. Though they outmaneuvered conductors, these persons sending in money think they will feel better about it if they pay back the money and let their memories rest. One man sent $25.00 and said that forty years ago he bummed a 700 mile ride and the enclosed sum was payment at 3.6 cents per mile.

Some 38 years ago, a passenger was missed by the conductor in the regular ticket-taking walk. He cashed in the unpunched ticket and used the money for something else. To square himself, he later mailed in twenty dollars for the six dollars borrowed and good interest. Since he didn't sign his name the company couldn't return the interest.

The conscience fund contributions come in to railway agents all along the line. They might have detailed explanations, or as was the case with one fifty-dollar bill, come folded in a scrap of unmarked tissue paper. When it can, the railroad acknowledges contributions with a warm letter of appreciation—a personal letter written to bring peace of mind to those who admitted a mistake.

STOCK MARKET TREMOR

There was something of a flurry among stock traders recently when prices experienced the widest break in six years. The recession was attributed to an accumulation of a series of international and national uncertainties but no one was able to say whether the break was temporary or would spread into something like a trend.

It might be a good idea for speculators in the stock market to look into the history of 1929, when stocks reached their dizzy heights, only to plunge into the abyss. What happened once can happen again.

County H. D. Agent's Column

By Loreta Allen

AN APPEAL TO 4-H CLUB MEMBERS

The sharp eyes and keen powers of observation of farm youth are called upon by the National Fire Protection Association, sponsors of Fire Prevention Week, October 6-12, to aid in discovering and getting rid of the common causes of farm fires during this week and throughout the year.

Pointing out that authoritative estimates indicate an increase of 22 per cent in property losses from fire during 1946 over $85,000,000 loss suffered last year, plus the fact that nine out of ten fires are preventable by the use of reasonable care and precaution, the NFPA urged farm youths to enlist in the fight.

The Association declared that many 4-H clubs have rendered valuable aid in the fight against farm fires and suggested that all 4-H club members could perform a valuable service to their communities by cooperating with their County Agents to learn the common fire hazards on farms, and then carrying on concerted drives to correct them on every farm in their area.

FARM FIRE LOSSES REACH NEW HIGH

Fire losses this year threaten to surge to an all-time high of $590,000,000, a 22 per cent increase over 1945, according to the National Fire Protection Association.

If farm losses keep pace with the general average, as the NFPA forecasts, the farm loss will reach $104,000,000.

The tragic aspect of this picture is that more than 90 per cent of these fires can be prevented if farmers will adopt simple and sensible precautions. Care, instead of carelessness, would reduce the farm loss which would amount to $10,000,000, the NFPA asserts.

The price of carelessness is almost $100,000,000.

Fire Prevention Week, observed this year from October 6-12, by proclamation of President Truman, and sponsored by the National Fire Protection Association, with the cooperation of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, demands the whole hearted support of every farmer who treasures his life and property.

At least 50 per cent of all farm fires are directly attributed to faulty construction; and now, when farmers are planning new and remodeled buildings, is the time to stamp out structural hazards that take such a high toll of life and property. Pointing out that farms normally are far removed from organized fire protection, the NFPA urges farmers to insist upon fire resistant materials and construction.

Concentrate on these five structural hazards, the NFPA advises:

1. Be sure the heating equipment is properly installed, and has adequate safeguards. Keep it clean and in good repair.

2. In new construction, repairs, or remodeling, use only fire resistant roofing, such as asphalt, slate, metal or asbestos, on the farm home, barn and other buildings. Sparks from chimneys or bonfires, falling on inflammable wood shingle roofs, rank third among the major causes for farm fires.

3. Be sure wiring systems are safe and adequate to carry the expended electrical load needed to service the modern home; that newly installed systems meet all the requirements of the National Electrical Code.

4. Build chimneys with a sturdy masonry foundation, set on the ground and not on timbers, and soundly built of fire safe materials.

5. Properly install and adequately maintain lightning rods on all principal farm buildings. Constant vigilance against the common fire hazards is the price of safety, the NFPA warns. Fire Prevention Week is the best time to make a thorough check, and every week is a good time to follow it up.

The common fire hazards on farms are:

Careless smoking habits and use of matches; poor storage facilities for and negligent handling of gasoline and kerosene; spontaneous ignition of hay; failure to clean out rubbish, papers, old feed bags, discarded bedding, and oily rags from closets, basements, attics and out-buildings; misuse of electricity, and failure to replace worn or frayed electrical cords.

BURNING UP MONEY

Burning Oil Is Burning Money

Tell tale smoke shows excessive oil burning . . . This waste is caused by worn rings which allow oil to be pumped into the firing chamber. This means loss of compression, which makes it impossible for your engine to operate efficiently. Bring back the old "Pep". Savings on oil and gas will pay for new rings in a short time.
