Muleshoe Cannery Packing Order For 75,000 Cases Local Tomatoes

The tomato canning season in the Muleshoe area is rapidly approaching its peak. Carl Case, manager of the Muleshoe Canning Co., told the Journal this week, Case is running his cannery half days at the present time, but expects to go on full eight hour production any day now, and will probably be on a 24 hour basis before the season ends with first frost.

The Allen Canning Co. of Siloam Springs, Arkansas has contracted for all the canned tomatoes the local plant can produce. Mr. Case says Allen wants 75,000 cases, but he imagines they can deliver about 42,000 cases, based on last fall's production figures.

Daily average for the local plant has been between 800 and 850 cases daily, but this figure can be increased by extending the working hours daily. The cannery is shipping No. 10 cans and No. 303 cans this week. Most of the 303s are labeled for one of the large chain grocery stores. Labels for a number of private concerns may be applied depending on the orders received by the Allen Co.

The tomatoes from the Muleshoe area are superior to many tomatoes in other parts of the country, the cannery says. Thousands of fine, firm No. 1 choice tomatoes are being packed in the local cannery. A few pink are picked out and allowed to ripen before being put into the washer and steamer for packing.

About 30 persons are employed at the cannery at the present time, but should full time operation go into effect, the personnel would double rapidly.

City Conducts Intensive Spraying Campaign To Prevent Encephalitis

The city has stepped up its mosquito spraying program to combat a threat of encephalitis, which has caused at least two deaths and many illnesses in neighboring cities this summer. The state health service has issued spraying instructions to municipalities to combat mosquitoes. The health service believes that certain types of mosquitoes cause encephalitis.

City employees in Muleshoe have conducted an intensive spraying campaign, using malathion and chlordane, sprayed from special equipment recom-

Hunters Asked To Return Bands of Game Birds Shot

Hunters have been asked to cooperate with the National Fish and Wildlife Service, by returning bands found of game birds shot in this area of Texas.

Bob Darnell, manager of the Muleshoe Wildlife Refuge, has asked local hunters to note bands on doves and ducks as well, which they shoot.

Darnell requests that the bands be mailed to him at the refuge to the Fish and Wildlife Service in Washington, D. C., or to bring them by the office of The Muleshoe Journal, where they will be gathered and given to Darnell.

Each hunter who returns a band, will receive a letter telling where the bird was banded and when. It is important to note where each banded bird was shot and on what date, Darnell said.

Chamber Samples Public Opinion On Local Retail Stores

The Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce has prepared a questionnaire designed to improve merchandising methods of local retail stores. The questionnaire will be sent to every adult in the trade territory within the next few weeks, and the Chamber is anxious to have as many returned as possible in order to get a better sampling of public opinion about local retail stores.

The lengthy multiple choice form need not be signed, but each blank should be filled in. There are questions concerning favorite stores in Muleshoe, what is wrong with them and how retail merchandising may be improved.

Blanks will be distributed through schools in the trade area for children to take to their parents.

Bi-State Water Conservation Commission Outlines Conservation Plans

The primary aim of the Bi-State Water Commission is the protection and conservation of underground water against excessive demands of municipalities and industries. At Hall, coordinator for the group of 150 farmers and businessmen, told the Muleshoe Lions Club Wednesday.

A six-point program to accomplish the desired results outlined by the speaker included the items:

To encourage the High Plains Underwater Water Conservation District to enact regulations requiring greater spacing for non-agricultural wells based on the maximum capacity of the wells and equipment.

To encourage adoption of regulations requiring owners of non-agricultural wells to file periodic reports on the operation of the wells that would include hours of operation, gallons produced and the decline in water levels.

To work for legislation giving districts directors the authority to allocate production of underground water, subject to a referendum vote of landowners in the district.

To work for legislation making county committee recommendations binding on the district directors of conservation districts who shall hold public hearings on rejected well applications in the county where the wells are to be located.

To work for legislation to protect irrigation farmers against excessive demands on underground water resources by municipalities.

To encourage adoption of a regulation requiring public notice and hearings on applications for non-agricultural wells, the hearings to be conducted by district directors in the county

Prevailing Wage Survey Will Be Taken In County

The first of a series of prevailing wage surveys for Bailey County will be taken next week. Maurice Oden local office manager for the Texas Employment Commission announced Wednesday.

The survey will be in the nature of a report to the Department of Labor, which will set the prevailing wage for agriculture workers in the county. The prevailing wage will be published in The Journal every two weeks during the harvest season, and will also be posted in the courthouse and all postoffices in the county.

Oden points out that the TEC does not set the prevailing wage rate, but only makes a survey of what wage is being paid in the county. The TEC questions landowners, crew chiefs and laborers to obtain the information required for the reports filed in Austin.

The Department of labor then establishes a wage rate which must be paid to laborers in agriculture.

A wage survey for the vegetable industry will be taken within the next two weeks. Oden said.

Attention People of the Pleasant Valley Com.

There will be a very interesting program presented at the Community Building at 8:30 p. m., September 25, on electricity. The demonstration will be on "Adequate Wiring vs Inadequate Wiring." This program is designed to help farm families have a better understanding of the hazards created by the use of deficient wiring. A film will be shown to further explain the demonstration. Following the program refreshments will be served by ladies of the community.

4 Encephalitis Cases Reported

West Plains Hospital & Clinic, in Muleshoe, reports four cases of encephalitis have been treated there and at first of the week the patients were still in the hospital. A final diagnosis had not been made in one of the four cases.

Of the three definitely diagnosed as encephalitis, two were children, one an adult man. No fatalities have resulted here, although one case was very serious for a time, but all victims of the disease being treated here are doing well, staff doctors said.

Meanwhile, Plainview medical center reported 30 patients have been treated there, and there have been three deaths from suspected encephalitis.

Lubbock reported Sunday that 37 cases of encephalitis have been diagnosed there from July 17 through Tuesday of last week. There had been two deaths, suspected as from the results of encephalitis, although no definite diagnosis was made in either case.

Local physicians said encephalitis is characterized by fever, sleepiness, and a general malaise. About three weeks are required for a complete laboratory diagnosis of encephalitis. Lubbock doctors said encephalitis is not the disease commonly known as sleeping sickness, saying that is another disease with a high rate of mortality.

Governor Frank Clement To Speak At Sudan Festival On September 28

Gov. Frank G. Clement

Governor Frank Clement, of Tennessee, keynote speaker at the recent Democratic National Convention in Chicago, will speak in Sudan Friday, Sept. 28, at 7:30 p.m., according to announcement of F. O. Masten, widely known Sudan area farmer.

Governor Clement's appearance will be the feature of Sudan's annual Fall Festival, which every year builds its theme around international peace.

Because of Mr. Masten's friendship with the Governor, and the enterprise of Sudan people, folks of this area will get an early opportunity to see and hear in person the brilliant young Democratic leader, who set the tone of the Democratic convention and galvanized the delegates into an action packed national meeting.

Mr. Masten has invited area farmers to bring in a 50 lb. sack of grain to be contributed to the Democratic National campaign. Already hundreds of sacks of grain, several bushels of corn, etc. have been received. At 1 p.m. Friday, Sept. 28, all articles contributed will be sold in a giant auction, proceeds to go to the Democratic national campaign fund.

Some Democratic supporters at Pecos, friends of Mr. Masten, have said they will send a load of cantaloupes. The Sudan folks will accept alfalfa hay or anything else that anyone wants to give for the auction.

Sudan's getting a nationally recognized figure for a speaker is another indication of the hustle that characterizes the people of Muleshoe's smaller neighbor city. Since he delivered the convention keynote speech, Gov. Clements is receiving 500 invitations for speeches every day, coming from every section of the U. S.

This meeting, and a similar meeting in every county in Texas, has been suggested by Walter T. McKay, Farmers Home Administration State Director at Dallas. It is an outgrowth of the interest of all people interested in and serving Texas farmers and ranchers. It's purpose will be to give those present information regarding Farmers Home Administration loan programs and to work out a proper working relationship with them, since this agency's leading activities supplement but do not replace other sources of agricultural credit.

Mr. McKay has advised that as a result of recently enacted legislation, the leading activities of the Farmers Home Administration have been broadened materially, and now makes it possible for the agency to serve the credit needs of a larger number of Texas farmers and ranchers.

Tom H. Davis Is Death Victim

Tom H. Davis, 71, of Anton, passed away at 4 p.m. Wednesday of a heart attack, just as he entered the Anton Grain Co. office, of which he was manager.

Mr. Davis was manager of the Muleshoe Elevator from 1931 to 1937, moving here from Claude, Texas. He was a native of Tennessee.

Funeral services will be held Friday morning at 10 from the First Methodist Church of Anton, with the pastor, Rev. Royce Womack, officiating. Interment will be in the Littlefield Memorial Park.

Survivors include his wife, Nell; a son, Hugh, of St. Louis; two daughters, Mrs. Alex Williams of Denton and Miss Mildred Davis of Muleshoe, and a sister, Mrs. Bruce Best of Dallas and six grandchildren.

Local Committee Named To Review Seasonal Labor Needs In Bailey County

Three Bailey County citizens, Rev. J. E. Moore, Bill Milten, and Charles Lenau, will serve as a County Farm Labor Committee, and meet with Mr. J. D. Jordan, manager of the Texas Employment Commission in Littlefield, and Maurice Oden, interviewer in charge of Muleshoe sub office, Tuesday to review the total seasonal employment needs developed by the TEC.

The committee was presented with figures of the TEC showing that Bailey County will need 7625 cotton pickers during the peak period of the cotton harvest.

The committee will function under Public Law 78, obtaining facts relevant to the supply of domestic workers existing in Bailey County and the shortage of workers, if any, which must be met by importing Mexican Nationals to harvest the cotton crop.

Under Public Law 78 the TEC must supply this information to the Secretary of Labor who must limit the number of Mexican nation the brilliant young Democratic leader, who set the tone of the Democratic convention and galvanized the delegates into an action packed national meeting.

Mr. Masten has invited area farmers to bring in a 50 lb. sack of grain to be contributed to the Democratic National campaign. Beginning with the east side of town, all houses will be numbered with aluminum figures, furnished by the Chamber of Commerce. The numbers will cost 15 cents, but if the householder is away from home, his house will be numbered, and he can pay for the figures at the Chamber office.

The house numbering is required by the Telephone company, and will also be necessary in the event of home delivery of mail in the future.

Recent changes in street numbers and names are also listed as a reason for the necessity of numbering each residence.

Following the film, Clyde Bray explained that plans for the establishment of a single High Plains station in the area have been changed. At least three such stations are now being planned, one in Hale county, one in Castro, and one in the Bailey County area.

Meetings to obtain support and financial backing are being held throughout the area, Bray said.

nations to be used in this country by granting a "ceiling." The committee consults with the local office manager to assist him in estimating the number of workers who will be needed, based on current local conditions affecting the cotton crop.

"Ceilings" granted by the Secretary of Labor limiting the importation of Mexican Nationals into this area will be posted in the Post Office in Muleshoe, in the County Agent's office and in the county courthouse.

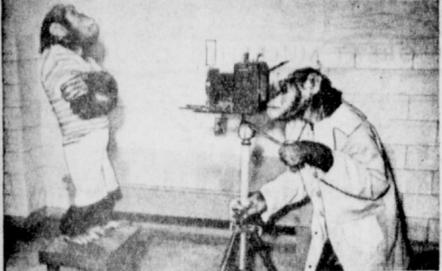

The TEC has estimated that 3350 Mexican Nationals will have to be imported into this county to harvest this year's cotton crop.

Short Staple Conference October 18

An event which will have far reaching consequences and benefit to the South Plains is in the planning stage by the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. This is a short staple cotton research conference to be held in Lubbock October 18 and 19. W. O. Fortenberry, president, announced.

The South Plains area produces approximately one-tenth of the entire U. S. cotton crop and nearly one-half of the Texas crop. Production has expanded rapidly during the past decade or so and many problems have arisen in connection with this rapid expansion. Many different varieties of seed have been tried with more or less success and satisfaction, but there has been little effort at standardization or organized seed distribution. The short growing season on the Plains gives rise to problems existing only in this area. Storm resistance and early maturing in combination are only two of the important factors which must be developed. Modern concepts of cotton marketing are bringing up a new factor in the marketing picture which is of tremendous importance to the Plains area. This is the rapidly expanding use of the micronaire in cotton merchandising, and the real possibility that the micronaire value may soon be included on the Smith-Doxey classing card. Such a move would undoubtedly inject the micronaire into the loan picture, and would carry tremendous implications for the Plains. These are only a few of the many problems which must be faced and solved in the near future.

The purpose of this conference is to study and explore the entire short staple cotton situation. It is expected to develop a Master Plan for action through both immediately and long range research program to improve the quality of Plains cotton, to reduce costs; and strengthen the competitive position of short staple cotton in the market. To initiate a sound program of research and marketing it is necessary to collect and thoroughly analyze all the facts and work out an integrated plan which will take into account every segment of the cotton industry.

To accomplish this the Plains Cotton Growers are inviting the top cotton leaders in the United States to this conference. Outstanding men in research, production and marketing will be included. These will include scientists from the U. S. D. A., the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, the Texas Extension Service, private breeding firms, technical experts from the National Cotton Council, and outstanding leaders from all segments of the cotton and allied industries. Advanced experimenters in the field of cotton genetics, plant physiology, plant pathology, entomology, production, harvesting, ginning, warehousing, crushing, marketing, utilization, economics, and market research are being invited, and a number have already accepted.

The conference will not be of large proportions; instead it will be a working committee of out-

Going Away Party Fetes Mona Wilhite

Following an interesting program rendered by the Business Women's Circle of the W. M. U., Wednesday evening at the church, an announcement was made by Mrs. Arch Fowler, training union director, that every member of the church interested in Training Union would go to the dining room of the church.

In the dining room, where a large crowd assembled, a surprise was in store for Miss Mona Ellen Wilhite, church secretary, who was leaving September 15, for Ft. Worth, where she will be secretary to Michael Warr, minister of College Avenue Baptist Church in Ft. Worth. A style show was presented, showing clothes dated back to 1946, the year Mona Ellen came to Muleshoe. Clothes shown belonged to Mona, and featured some she had worn as a junior, intermediate, high school and college girl. The last ensemble shown was a suit, to be worn for going away to the new job. The girl wearing the suit carried two suspicious packages, which when investigated by Bro. Shepherd and Mona Ellen, revealed two beautiful pieces of her samsonte luggage.

Girls taking part in the style show were: Judy Inman, Claudia Cox, Linda Lee, Donna Guinn and Mrs. Buddy Lane. The script was written and read by Mrs. Byron Griffiths.

Following the presentation of the gifts from the church, refreshments were served to the large crowd.

Postmaster Arnold Allcorn this week issued a stern warning to persons who have been taking the new ball point pens from the lobby of the post-office. Allcorn said the pens are government property, and theft of same is punishable in the same manner as theft of any government property.

Besides, they are not worth much, even if you do take one. And they are chained down, at that.

Mules Clobber Sudan 20-19 In Second Victory Of Season

The Muleshoe Mules showed the home-town folks a brand of football that hasn't been seen here in several years last Friday night at Benny Douglass Stadium as they upset their traditional arch rivals, the Sudan Hornets with a score of 20-19.

The Mules received the opening kick on their own 27 and little Johnny Young gathered fans out of their seats with his fine run back of the ball to the Sudan 49. On first play from scrimmage the Mules fumbled and the Hornets recovered. The Hornets, with the help of two penalties, the last one for 15 yards to the Muleshoe 1-yard line, crossed the double stripe for the first score in the ball game. On the kick-off return little Johnny Young brought the fans to their feet as he gathered in the ball on his own 10 and raced back to the Sudan 30. Driving to the Sudan 25, the Mules were penalized back to the 35. On the next play they fumbled and the alert Hornets recovered. The Mules' rugged line play held and Sudan was forced to punt. The Mules had a little hard luck in the form of penalties and they quick-kicked on third down to the Sudan 35.

SECOND QUARTER

In the second quarter the Mules drove to the Sudan 45 where they again fumbled. With Gore and Williams slashing just inside of the tackles and more penalties on the Mules, the Hornets drove to the Mules' 8. Again a penalty put the ball on the Muleshoe 1-yard line and on the next play James Gore rammed over tackle for the touchdown.

The try for extra point was stopped and they led 12-0. The Mules displayed determination as they drove relentlessly from the kick-off from their 33 to the Sudan 46. Darrell Oliver, a very promising freshman, took a pitchout from Young as he was stopped at the line, and raced to the Sudan 19. Dickie Johnson, slight of hand quarterback for the Mules, hit Billy Black in the end zone for the Muleshoe tally. The try for extra point was wide and the half time score stood at 12-6 for Sudan.

THIRD QUARTER

In the third quarter Muleshoe drove to the Sudan 8 but were unable to hit pay dirt. After holding the Hornets to very short gains, the Mules recovered a Hornet fumble on Sudan's 21-yard line. Young made to to the 12, then Oliver bulled for 5 more yards. From the 1 yard line Young hit pay dirt. He also ran the extra point over, putting Muleshoe ahead for the first time 13-12.

Again the Mules' line held the Sudan running attack, but penalties kept the Mules' back to their goal. With the ball on their own 16, the Mules' drew a 15-yard penalty, to their own 1-yard line. From there Jimmy Williams raced over for another Sudan touchdown. This time their extra point try was good as Kenneth Wells ran it over.

The Mules took the kick on the 50-yard line the Mules' backfield began to grind out yardage as the forward wall opened up for short gains. Billy Black rammed over for the Muleshoe second touchdown of the night.

Dickie Johnson countered for the extra point and the game stood at 20-19 for Muleshoe.

After kicking off, the Mules' stubborn line held the Hornets for downs and took over on the Sudan 47. Again the Mules were held and they quick-kicked to the Sudan 25. On the first play Sudan passed but Joe Roark intercepted for the Mules and raced it back to the Sudan 20. Muleshoe was again penalized back to the Sudan 35. With Black, Johnson and Young carrying the mail, the Mules drove to the Sudan 4-yard line with first and goal as the gun sounded to end the game.

The Muleshoe line displayed outstanding ruggedness and hard tackling as they held the Hornets forward wall and stopping the ball carriers at the line of scrimmage. The backs for Muleshoe showed a lot of drive and speed as they hit the Sudan line for gain after gain.

Mules Are Friday Nite Favorites

The hotter-than-a-firecracker Muleshoe Mules will go into Friday night's game against the twice beaten Morton Indians as the shoe-in favorites, according to all standards of predicting high school football.

Morton has dropped both their games this season, going under 19-0 at the hands of Seagraves in the opener, and taking another 25-18 defeat from Portales last Friday night.

The Mules, on the other hand, have won both their games so far, taking Portales 38-0 in the opener two weeks ago and outplaying the Sudan Hornets in a crowd thriller 20-19 in Benny Douglass stadium last Friday night.

The Mules will once again depend on the wit and speed of Johnny Young, already being mentioned as an all-conference star.

Game time is 8 p.m., and another large crowd is anticipated.

From Tee To Green

By JOE LOPEZ

We will go to Portales this Sunday to play in the Bi-State Men's Golf Association. We didn't do well in Hereford but we managed to stay in second place behind Hereford.

We should pick up a few points this Sunday. Houston Hart, Ruby Hart, Bill St. Clair, and Charles Alsop won the low ball tournament we had here Sunday. Noel Woodley, Chief Jones, Herb Griffiths, and Jo Wood teamed up to win second. Chief had a very fine 42 for his lowest score. Jo Wood also had

The Muleshoe FFA attended the Tri-State Fair at Amarillo Tuesday. Sixty-three boys left the ag. building at 9 a.m. on two buses and arrived at the fairgrounds at one o'clock.

The exhibits were good and educational. The Bailey county exhibit was outstanding.

The Ag. III and IV boys are preparing samples of their crops to take to the South Plains Fair at Lubbock next Monday.

We hope all have good luck and bring home some ribbons.

her lowest score she has had this year.

We are getting ready for our first Pro-Am on October 1, which will be on a Monday. I am sending placards to all the Pros and hoping that we have around 15. We also have a golf clinic that afternoon, which I am sure everybody will enjoy.

Seventeen ladies played Wednesday and they had their weekly tournament. Mildred Lambert had a very fine 43 on the front nine and a 53 on the back for a 96. She had a low net of 70 to win the event. Low putts tourney went to Lydia Lopez, Ruby Hart, and Melzine Elliott.

GOLF TIPS

While most golfers certainly understand that the body supplies the motive power that their hands actually release, few of them seem to have a clear picture in their minds of what correct, balanced body action looks like — or feels like. In their misdirected efforts to get some power into the swing via the body, 95 out of 100 players sway as they take the club back. That is, they move the bulk of their weight to the right in such a way that they push themselves off balance immediately. That sway finishes the chance there and then for a correct swing and a good shot. The rest of the swing is a rushed attempt to compensate for that first big error.

The best image, I think, for conveying the nonsway pivot (which sets up the desired exchange of weight) is the one Percy Boomer introduced years ago. His advice — and I endorse it heartily — is for the player to imagine that he is standing inside a barrel about as wide as his stance. Then the player must feel as he swings that he is turning inside that barrel, turning freely but without touching the right side of the barrel going back or the left side following through or, for that matter, any side of the barrel. This is the introductory step in getting the right concept of rotation.

New Revolving Sprinkler Installed on Aylesworth Farm

One of the strangest sights ever to greet anyone interested in agriculture and irrigated farming may be seen just one mile from Muleshoe on the Morton highway. It is a huge mechanical device, resembling some modern version of the old fashioned flying jenny, with the addition of sparkling sprays of water jetting out in all directions as it revolves.

The machine is a Vermeer Pow-R Sprinkler, and it is being operated by Dave Aylesworth on his new land south of town.

The sprinkler consists of two 70 foot booms, made of pipe, tapering from five inches to two inches, mounted on a centrally located upright pipe, five inches in diameter. The central upright revolves under water pressure from a five inch aluminum irrigation pipe, connected to an eight inch well.

As the water enters the booms, a series of five nozzles on one boom, and two on the other, cause the booms to rotate slowly, making one complete revolution in from two to four minutes time.

The rig will water 10 acres in 20 hours, with two inches of water, in the form of falling rain, according to the manufacturer's literature. But Aylesworth and Ben Chapman, who sold the unit to Aylesworth, believe the machine will water the new sandy land much faster than claimed.

The two men conducted a series of tests late last week, after the machine was installed September 10. They set out a row of cans and ran the sprinkler for four hours. The results of this test convinced them the machine is capable of more irrigation in less time than the manufacturer claims.

Chapman reports that although many of the machines are in use in Iowa, where they are used to water corn, the one on Aylesworth's place is the only one in this section of the country, as far as he knows.

The sprinkler is mounted on a 20 foot, lightweight trailer, which has seven foot spacing between the wheels so it can straddle rows without injury to young plants or beds. The trailer can easily be moved with a light tractor, and no bogging down has been noticed on the sandy land.

Each new "set" of the sprinkler is made by moving it to interlap with the previous circle of watering. Five joints of aluminum pipe are connected, and the machine is ready to go again.

Although it is too early to make any definite deductions as to its efficiency, it is felt that the machine will water on a hillside, or any kind of land level enough to support a tractor.

It may be the dawning of a new era in irrigation for the ranch land, some of which is rather hilly for other types of watering. Time will tell.

Stovall Opens Cotton Office

His office also will write government loan notes.

MRS. CHILDERS DOING NICELY

Mrs. A. P. Childers, who underwent surgery at McBride's Clinic in Oklahoma City last week, is reported by relatives here to be doing nicely.

PICK UP CERTIFICATES

Parents with children in elementary school grades two and above, have been requested to call at the office of principal Frank Ford to pick up birth certificates he no longer needs.

Ford said this week that about 500 certificates are on file in his office, and he would like for parents to come by and get them.

Artist Waited 35 Years To Carve 'Last Supper' Panel In Local Church

Editor's Note: The unique wood carving of "The Last Supper", which ornaments the altar of the First Methodist Church of Muleshoe, has been the center of considerable interest and comment since the new church was opened several months ago. Many people from this area of other faiths, and in fact from other states have asked about the carving at length. We reprint herewith an article about the carver of the panel, John Stalker, of Batesville, Arkansas, and how he came to carve the wood masterpiece.

John Stalker has been wanting to carve "The Last Supper" for 35 years, but sculptural work on buildings throughout the nation did not leave time for this project. Early this year he was asked to make that carving for the First Methodist Church in Muleshoe, Texas. Nothing could have made him happier.

For two-score years Stalker has studied the story of The Last Supper, and the people who attended it. He has read and re-read the story in the Bible. He has read everything he could get his hands on that would tell him more about Jesus and His disciples — the kind of people they were, their personalities, their outstanding character traits. He has done research on the mode of clothing worn in that era, the hair styles, the food that was eaten and the kind of utensils used.

Now at last, Stalker could fulfill his ambition.

First he drew the picture that would be his working model. Over a period of 10 days, with varying degrees of lead pencils, he composed his picture exactly as the finished carving would be, with every detail included. He used a small copy of da Vinci's famous painting in the Monastery of St. Mary's Church in Milan, Italy, as a model for grouping the characters.

However, the facial expressions he used originated in Stalker's own mind. The drawing was blue printed and attached to a cylinder in his studio so that as he completed carving each character, he could turn the picture so that the next character would be within his visual range.

A Hunted Group

The background of panelling, a door, two windows and ceiling were carved first. Stalker used a closed door and windows instead of da Vinci's open ones, "because", he explained, "Jesus and His disciples were a hunted group, and they would not sit with their backs to open doors and windows."

"The superstition of the number 13 being unlucky", he added, "originated with the Last Supper. It was attended by 13 persons, and afterward, Christ was betrayed."

On completing the background, he chiseled out the floor, the vessels of food, and the front side of the table. Then starting with Bartholomew, on the far left, began to carve the figures and the dishes of food on the table in front of them. He worked straight across the panel, carving into each face and their hands characteristics of that person.

The precise instant portrayed in the carving is immediately after Jesus has said, "One among you shall betray me."

Bartholomew evidently jumped to his feet and leaned across the table as if to make sure of what he had heard. James, the younger, next to Bartholomew, touches Peter on the arm as though to tell him something. Andrew, the intellectual looking disciple, throws up his hands as if to ward off such an evil suggestion.

The Greed of Judas

Greedy Judas, grasping the bag of silver he has been paid to betray his Lord, appears to be nervous. Peter who was sitting next to him, jumped up and ac-identally jabbed him in the back with his knife handle. Judas knocked over the salt cellar, thus originating the superstition that spilled salt causes bad luck.

Peter leans over behind Judas to ask John what this is all about.

Jesus, the central figure, dominates Stalker's carving. His face is not like any of the others. It shows super intelligence, power, yet loving kindness, compassion and sadness.

Thomas possesses a pair of shifty eyes that follow the viewer anywhere in the room. James, the elder, shows exasperation. Phillip points to himself, asking "Is it I, Lord?"

Matthew, Thaddeus and Simon are discussing the startling statement just made by Jesus.

One man, after studying the carving for some time, commented, "John Stalker knows each one of these characters personally."

The masterpiece was carved by hand in two months, using eight chisels and a mallet. It is the only carving done by Stalker for the local church. He carved symbols for the pew ends, the pulpit panel, the lectern and font.

The carving is eight feet by 30 inches by several inches deep, and is in a lighted, recessed portion of the altar.

And low first cost is only your first saving

• Before you buy your next truck, look at both sides of Ford's story of value. Check what you get and what it costs. You'll like what you see.

Look at the costs. Ford's first cost is low. Resale value is high. Modern Short Stroke engines—V-8 or Six—are designed for less friction, less wear, lower running costs. Maintenance costs are lower, too, because Ford trucks are built stronger for rugged long life. And a 10-million truck study proves Ford trucks last longer.

Look at what you get and you'll see you get more in a Ford. For example, more horsepower per dollar—proved by a comparison of factory-suggested list prices and net horsepower of all truck lines. You get more comfort and safety in Ford's Driverized Cab with exclusive Lifeguard features.

Look carefully... consider everything. You'll agree Ford trucks cost less, give you more. If you want a great deal—a great deal more for your money—see your Ford Dealer.

WIEDEBUSH KILLS BEAR

Rudolph Wiedebush of Muleshoe Friday killed the first bear of his long hunting career. Using his bow and arrow, Rudolph bagged the handsome brown bear last Friday while spending the weekend at his cabin near Cowles, N. M.

He brought the hide home to be cured out for a rug or den wall piece. There are lots of bear in the mountains around Cowles, Wiedebush reports.

GUARD YOUR HEALTH THIS CHANGEABLE WEATHER

This advice comes at a time of year when one day is cold, next day hot, then dusty and dry — even occasional humid periods. These temperature, barometric, and humidity changes require sudden adaptive changes in the body. For the body to cope with the weather conditions at hand, it must be functioning at its very best.

The nervous system is the mechanism which makes it possible for the various tissues to accommodate themselves to the weather changes must be in the most active and responsible condition. Chiropractic health services make this possible.

SINUS TROUBLE

Sinus trouble is very prevalent in this part of the country. Some of the symptoms of sinus trouble are frontal headaches, pain about the orbits of the eye and through the nose. There seems to be a continuous drainage from the nose. The eyes are affected, and water. The lack of the body to adapt the tissues of the nose and throat and sinuses to the sudden weather changes is the predisposing cause. This is due to the lack of control in these tissues through the nervous system. Chiropractic adjustments remove the cause of these incoordinations very readily and in short time all symptoms disappear.

A local case history will further prove this point. A man in his early forties came to the clinic with severe sinus trouble. In our examination we found his blood pressure to be low. Also slight leakage of the heart. He had been diagnosed as having prostrate trouble and diabetes. His entrance complaints were lack of energy, difficult breathing and severe headaches for more than 20 years. The headaches were becoming more severe.

After a spinal nerve and x-ray analysis revealed nerve pressure causing his trouble, corrective adjustments were begun. After six weeks of chiropractic service, he is much improved. His blood pressure is up 20 points and he has had only two slight headaches and is feeling better generally.

SCIATICA

This man, age 35, came to the Chiropractic Clinic with conditions which are greatly aggravated by weather changes. Sciatica, with pain in lower back, hips and legs which had existed for several years, asthma, sinus and rheumatism in shoulders and arms. A spinal nerve and x-ray analysis, revealed the area of nerve pressure in his spine causing his trouble and corrective adjustments were begun. At termination of service, this man reported no pain or discomfort from entrance ailments.

Many people eventually recover after much pain, from periodic attacks of rheumatism in shoulders or lower back or catches in the neck, but unless the CAUSE IS REMOVED no consistent relief from pain can be expected and eventually the condition becomes chronic and con-

Babson Discusses

YOUR CHILD'S "BRAINS"

Gloucester, Mass., Sept. 20 — If I have any real hobby, it is the study of the human brain. In fact, if I were to live my life again, I should devote myself to the development and harnessing of the human brain.

TEACHING YOUNG SCHOOL CHILDREN
Any school superintendent who insisted that first-grade children should be taught psychology would probably be called "crazy." On the other hand, I believe if he did not use this long word, but merely began in the early grades to teach the child about his own brain, he would be praised. After twelve years spent in the Gloucester schools and four years in the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, I had never heard of psychology. Yet it seems only common sense to begin education by teaching a child about his own brain, with which he will learn everything in the years to follow.

As so many children are starting their first formal education this month, I urge that their interest be aroused in the wonderful machine which every one of them has in his head. It makes me cross to see the attention which is given by the press to the new electronic computers, while so little space is devoted to the human brain. In fact, Mr. Thomas J. Watson, late President of International Business Machines until his death a few weeks ago, once said to me, "If one of my machines is worth a half million dollars, the brain which every child has is worth ten million dollars."

BRAINS COMPARED WITH TELEPHONE SYSTEMS

Every child who has entered school this month has in his head the equivalent of three pounds of mental switchboards. These are connected by the equivalent of telephone wires to every part of the body. Whenever we touch anything, see anything, hear anything, smell any odor, a telephone message is immediately sent to our brain. There it is automatically directed to one of these switchboards, which in turn makes a permanent impression upon some part of the brain similar to the small circular impressions on a long playing phonograph record.

There are many such "switchboards" with millions of plugs. The chief switchboards are the following twelve: DESIRE — INSTINCT — MEMORY — INDUSTRY — COMMON SENSE — EXPEDIENCY — REASON — INSPIRATION — IMAG-INATION — RELIGIOUS FAITH — HOPE — LOVE. These last three are the most important for the good of mankind. But from a business point of view, perhaps Industry, Common Sense, Inspiration, and Imagination will give school graduates the best salaries and job opportunities. In my business I am especially interested in getting people with keen imagination, who can correctly see into the future. I believe the great opportunities lie with those who have cultivated this power.

HOW OUR BRAINS WORK

Each child possesses hundreds of thousands of living cells. Some are pressure-sensing cells; others are seeing, tasting, and smelling cells. All of these have "private telephone" lines to the brain, which automatically transmit messages by the "dial system" to the right switchboard, which in turn makes the permanent record.

I believe that children could become tremendously interested in their brains, and that this interest could add a hundred per cent to their educational results. Children are always interested in animals. When it is shown them that moths have smelling powers to find their mates several miles away; that the instinct switchboard in the heads of dogs enables them to find their way home and hunt out criminals; and that the robin on the lawn has far better eyesight than we have, children will wake up to their own precious possibilities.

Children should be taught that in their heads they carry a telephone system with more private lines than the telephone systems of our largest cities. Getting children to use more of these thousands of private lines and dormant switchboards will make for healthy, happy, and prosperous lives.

The real task facing our schools is not to develop more knowledge but rather more reason, self-control, and imagination. The ability to solve problems which have never yet been solved and to see more correctly into the future should be our real goals. I especially appeal for work with children because children can learn more in the first twelve years than they will be able to in the next forty. My closing thought would be to impress upon these children the great importance of the switchboard entitled religion, with its sub-switchboards of Faith, Hope, and Love.

agement of the track will continue their policy of placing the profits from the operation back into the plant itself. Architects and engineers, he said, are now studying improvements such as:

Larger grandstand facilities and wider ramp in front to make it more attractive to the average racing fan; widening the track to handle ten horse fields instead of eight; reallocations of the track itself, widening curves, and possibly increasing the length to 3/4 mile.

The Fuse!

Action Program Outlined By Safety Officer To Help Cut Traffic Deaths

An "action program" backed by powerful organizations and groups to lessen the ghastly toll of traffic deaths and accidents on the nation's streets and highways was outlined before the Rotary Club Tuesday by Fred Marshall, Lubbock district safety officer, Texas Highway Patrol.

He quickly got the attention of his listeners when he gave them such astonishing figures as these: 38,000 persons, men, women and children were killed in the U. S. last year in traffic accidents. Two million more persons were injured or maimed. Economic waste resulting from these accidents ran into the billions of dollars.

In the past 50 years, the speaker said, traffic accidents on the nation's streets and highways were responsible for more deaths than any one of our dread diseases; a greater number deaths than all the American soldiers killed in combat in all our wars since the beginning of the Revolutionary War.

If the present trend continues, this forbodes that one out of every 2 Americans will be injured or killed by a traffic accident in his lifetime.

Causes Discussed
Enforcement officers do not use the term "accident." They call them wrecks and believe there is always a cause. Four main causes, Mr. Marshall said, of these mishaps are: Speed, violation of rules of the road, alcoholic influences, and ignorance of safe driving practices. 85 per cent of all accidents are caused by human frailties.

Attitude of the driver has a very large bearing on traffic accidents. One common evidence of a poor attitude is discourtesy in traffic, he said.

Program Outlined

Mr. Marshall outlined a program that he said is receiving the support of more and more groups of men and women:

1. Laws and ordinances.
2. Engineering.
3. Education.
4. Enforcement.
5. Motor Vehicle Administration.
6. Public Support Groups.
7. Accident Records.
8. Driver License Inspection.

Mr. Marshall's time is consumed in addressing civic groups and other organizations, speaking once or twice each day. He has 21 counties to cover. Last year, he revealed, Texas had 2547 traffic deaths; 108,297 were injured; economic loss was estimated at $149,461,250. This district, No. 6, had 117 deaths, 903 were injured, and economic loss was estimated at $941,248.13. He fears the District 6 death toll will be higher this year.

Mr. Marshall grinned when one of his listeners asked if he knew any motorists are giving each other a sign indicating a radar set-up on the highway up ahead. He said the patrol is glad to have people give each other this sign; the officers' aim to slow traffic and promote safety and these signs get the job done.

The officer told The Journal he does not, and the department does not, believe the speed limit should be extended to 65 or 70 miles an hour as has been proposed. They sincerely believe such a move would increase the death rate in Texas sensationally.

Neither does the department think that construction of 4 lane divided highways will materially reduce the death rate in Texas, although these roads undoubtedly do cut down the number of multiple car accidents. But the better engineered a road is, the

THIS WEEK

In Washington

Clinton Davidson

With Clinton Davidson, probably would be about Monday, Aug. 20, 1956. That was the day the Republican convention opened in San Francisco.

I accompanied him that day and now, a month later, I still am amazed when I re-read my note on the varied, interesting and sometimes humorous events of the one day in the life of just one man out of the more than 10,000 people that were a part of the convention.

It was, principally, a four behind the scenes of a busy convention. The TV cameras saw very little of it, and few newspapermen made more than a mention of the highlights. This is how it went:

Mr. Hall was up at 3 a.m. and at 4 a.m. took part in a Will Rogers TV program. Then at 5 a.m. the program was repeated. At 6 a.m. he was on the Dave Garroway TV program, and then had breakfast with a state delegation.

After breakfast there were a number of quick conferences to get everything settled for start of the convention, and then at the Cow Palace at 10 a.m., an hour ahead of the opening, to see that everything was set.

While speakers addressed the convention he slipped back of the platform to his office, and a big double desk that seated four people. The staff included his secretary, Mrs. Juanita Shields; Campaign manager Robert Humphrys, and his secretary, Miss Costello.

Three telephones were on his desk of which led directly to the San Francisco White House and, in turn, to the President's desk in the White House at Washington. During lunch he saw a number of important people, including governors, senators and congressmen.

The afternoon session moved along like the well-oiled program it was, but Mr. Hall was busy meeting with his staff and planning ahead. By 9 p.m. the afternoon session was over and he was back at his Fairmont Hotel office and ready to start a dozen or more conferences that continued until 1 a.m.

Some of the conferences, both at the Cow Palace and at his hotel, were important. Others were trivial and sometimes amusing. There was the important-looking lady who reported she had the top of her fountain pen in the ladies' rest room and wanted him to get it for her.

Then a man, who managed to get an introduction to Mr. Hall through proper channels, explained that he had made a tape recording of voices from outer space, and that these personalities told through recordings exactly what should be done in running the convention to get the best results, all of which he offered for a price.

There was the candidate who wanted permission to walk back and forth behind the speaker so that the folks back home could see him on T.V.

more one car accidents in rural areas, the officers have found. They attribute this to the carelessness of the driver, speed, etc. Some of our worst roads, winding and narrow, have safeguards built in, Mr. Marshall said, in that the driver knows the roads are dangerous and takes constant care to avoid trouble.

COTTON AND OTHER CROP PROSPECTS

Texas' prospective cotton crop estimate has been whittled down by 140,000 bales since the United States Department of Agriculture's previous guess of August 1. The new prediction is for 3,460,000 bales this season.

Observers point out that dry weather in unirrigated sections has taken its toll and the production outlook is smaller than for any year since 1950, and is 2 percent below average. Acreage allotments are a big factor in the reduction.

TURKEY growers in Texas are raising an estimated 4,457,000 birds this year. This increase of 47 per cent over the 1955 output has trade nervously wondering whether the market will absorb such an increase and still provide any kind of profit for the grower. The turkey crop is bigger than at any time since records were begun in 1934.

Over the United States as a whole, the number of turkeys is put at 76 million, or 16 percent above last year.

As a result of this increase and the unsettled condition of the market, the U. S. D. A. has inaugurated a turkey purchase program to prop up the anticipated sag in demand. Turkeys which the government buys will be distributed to non-profit school lunch and institutional programs.

PECANS, the fruit of our state tree, may amount to 26,800,000 pounds, according to the Crop Reporting Board. The estimators, remembering a bad miss in their guess of last year, cautiously add that the casebearer insect busy on the crop and may reduce it somewhat. Drouth is also cited as a factor that may cut this figure down before harvest time.

BROOMCORN, a minor state crop but one of importance in South Texas, is estimated at a low of 2,500 tons this season.

PARMER COUNTY Farm Bureau News

By RAYMOND EULER

October 1 will be one day too late for you to file for refund of two cents per gallon on farm used motor fuels. If you haven't already done so, do it at your first opportunity. Your wife can do it for you if you're too busy, and it only takes about five minutes. We'll be happy to assist you in the office if you wish.

This coming Monday night, September 24, is the date of the eighth Parmer County Farm Bureau convention. You are urged to attend and speak your piece on the solution to your problems as farmers. You will be courteously heard.

For the fourth time in a row, our Farm Bureau queen failed to win in the district contest in Lubbock. Judy Bruns, your county queen made a good showing, and she will ride the Farm Bureau float Thursday in Friona.

Among other things, Bruce Parr and the Farm Bureau Weed Committee have submitted wheat samples to PGC in Amarillo for milling and baking tests. Two slices of bread, encased in plastic are in the office, if you are interested in the results of some of the tests. One slice is from a loaf made of Early Black Hull and the other is from Comanche wheat. It is not difficult to see the difference in quality in the two. The committee is releasing other information resulting from the tests that they believe will help wheat growers decide which is the best kind to grow for market.

Attending the Farm Bureau policy discussion meeting and the queen contest in Lubbock Thursday were, Gilbert Kaltwasser, Harry Hamilton, Roy V. Miller and Raymond Euler.

The government's Smith-Doxey cotton classing service is getting quite a going over by Farm Bureau leaders in Texas and other states, too. Farmers have shown that government classes chosen their samples from $10 to $25 per bale lower than private buyers, in some cases. This makes it look like something should be done, and soon. Farm Bureau has had, and is having more meetings to investigate the cause, and a consequent remedy for such goings on.

CONSIDER THIS: He that coveth his sins shall not prosper; but whoso confesseth and forsaketh them shall have mercy. Proverbs 28:13.

Bailey County Farm Bureau News

By LONNIE M. BASS

We feel that we were platted against last Thursday night when Miss Doris Fields was not crowned District Farm Bureau Queen. Even though Miss Fields did not win, we feel she should have and know that she has a lot of success ahead of her.

Those attending the queens contest in Lubbock were: Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Fields, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Black, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Sooter, Mrs. Burelsmith, Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie M. Bass, Linda Fielden and the Queen, Doris Fields.

Before the queen contest, the directors had a meeting in the Lubbock Hotel at 2:00 p.m. W. T. Parker and Jack Lowe attended this meeting but were unable to remain for the queen contest. Social Security Changes Analyzed For Farmers. If an individual worked for a farmer before 1957 his earnings from farm work will count toward a social security benefit under either of these conditions:

If a farm employer pays him $150 or more in cash during the year, his cash pay from that employer is covered by the law.

If he does farmwork for an employer on 20 or more days during a year for cash pay figured on a time basis (rather than on a piece-rate basis), his cash pay for that employer is covered by the law.

For the $150 a year test, both piece-rate and time-rate cash pay count. The total number of days worked does not matter so long as he is paid $150 in cash by the employer in the year.

For the 20 day test, the total amount of his cash pay does not matter so long as he works for one employer on 20 days or more for cash pay based on some unit of time such as an hour, a day or a week.

Further information about social security employment taxes can be obtained from the local Internal Revenue Service office. The address of these offices can be obtained at the local Post Office.

VISIT GRANDPARENTS Linda and Bobby Hart, of Farwell, spent the weekend here with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Blackburn.

Parmer County Farm Bureau 8th Annual Convention Next Monday

Officials of Parmer County Farm Bureau have been working steadily the last several weeks in preparation for the eighth annual convention to be held in Bovina school auditorium September 24 at 8:00 o'clock. Gilbert Kaltwasser, county president, said that directors, in a meeting several weeks ago, voted to set the meeting at this earlier date in an effort to gain more participation in adoption of policies for the coming agricultural year.

Though things seem to be moving along rather quietly and smoothly now, Kaltwasser said, it is important that farmers keep abreast of further threats to the security of the American farmer, and be prepared to meet those challenges before they are quietly made laws. Most people are aware of the futility of attempts to eliminate detrimental laws, once they are passed, Kaltwasser said.

The evening program will begin with a 30 minute concert presented by the Bovina school band. Farm Bureau Leadership pins will be presented to outstanding 4-H boys and girls, FFA boys and FHA girls of the county school districts. A county president will be elected, as well as five directors. Brief reports on the past year's activities will be given, and resolutions prepared for consideration by the resolutions committee, as well as any introduced from the floor will be discussed and voted upon.

Subjects prepared by the resolutions committee, headed by Harry Hamilton include, method of taxing for, and selecting board of directors, for any water development program that may be instituted; opposition to any efforts that may be made to repeal Texas' Right to Work Law; asking premiums for feed grains free

Soybeans Have Plenty Of Time To Mature; They Like Long, Cool Nights

Three agricultural officials whose work is connected mainly with soybeans, visited the Lubbock Experiment Station last Tuesday and checked the soybean acreage in this area.

Their main observation after examining the soybean crop was to advise farmers to keep soybeans watered.

Dr. Edward E. Hartwick, coordinator of soybean research for the Southern states, from Stoneville, Miss.; Dr. Raymond D. Staten, legume improvement director from Texas A&M; and Dr. Herbert W. Johnson, project leader of soybean production and research for the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Beltsville, Md., all agreed that South Plains soybeans just need more time to mature.

"Soybeans don't start setting until longer nights and cooler temperatures become more normal. It has been too hot and the nights have been too short for many beans to be set", Dr. Johnson explained.

Give the beans a chance to make. There is a definite time for the beans to mature and nature has somehow related it to the length of nights. Beans will form and mature—perhaps all within a two-week period. Sometimes an entire stalk will mature pretty close together", Staten added.

If soybeans are short on water, it may mean smaller beans or a loss of beans before harvest. Dr. Hartwick explained. The officials also explained fryers, as well as eggs, peanut butter, cheese, milk and other dairy products. Mrs. Raymond Gaede and daughter, Ginger, were in Dallas last week, where Ginger recently visited her mother.
