

SCOOP SAYS
By J. M. FORBES

This is being written on a morning when, according to the weather man, the mercury slipped down to an astounding 49 here on the plains, and it is a little difficult to write about the cool delights of the mountain resort of Cowles, N. M., and vicinity. My wife and I recently spent a couple of days with the Rudolph Wiedebushes on Grass Mountain, just above the bustling Pecos River, from which we could plainly hear the noise made by the water rushing down from the springs of the mountains over millions of rocks, in its hurry to get back to the sea.

The Pecos Canyon and canyon of creeks that are tributary to the river are ideal spots for family vacations. While the old folks sit on the porch and watch the ever changing view as Old Sol advances, the kids can find plenty of pleasure along the rippling little streams or by wandering among the tall pines and aspens.

There are shelter houses where you may put up for three days or more; and by attaching a tent fly or erecting tent, you are set up in business. The shelter houses feature a big fireplace and everything is cozy. But many tourists prefer to camp out and rough it completely. It's 8200 feet at Cowles. The Wiedebush cabin is several hundred feet higher.

Near their cabin are those of Dr. L. Green and Dr. Andy Lewis. We saw the new Julius Lenaui cabin; the Lenaus were in Muleshoe, so we didn't go in, but it's nice and has a good location near swift running Winsor Creek. They have lots of work to do on it yet. We were struck by the fact that these canyons are filling up rapidly, more and more folks all the time.

We saw deer every little bit, but never did get a sight of Rudolph's bear. It was my job to help the kids feed the bear every nightfall; we'd put sardines in a sack suspended from a limb, and scattered roasting ears, but just to keep him coming back to the neighborhood. Down at the dumpground, day after we left, they discovered Mr. Bruin, a large Cinnamon bear, roosting in a pine tree 80 feet up, and many people came rushing up to get a look at him. Since the bear didn't eat his supper for two nights, they figured he was Rudolph's bear, probably up there to get away from the weekend crush of tourists.

It will be interesting to observe the future of this bear as time goes on.

Aversion of high school boys to technical subjects like math and science is worrying not only local school authorities but educators and general observers over the U. S. It's serious enough that experts are predicting a dire shortage of all kinds of engineers in the years to come.

We can hardly figure this lack of interest in a very important branch of learning. Surely in every group of boys there are some who have a "bent" for technical subjects; engineering is one of the most necessary and most honored professions.

But educators everywhere are finding it harder and harder to get boys to enroll in really stiff courses.

Not only are the students shying away from these subjects, but they don't like language too well, either. Spanish in the local high school is being taught to a class of five. No Latin is offered and if it were there would likely have to be compulsory before the boys and girls would enroll.

Yet, in our opinion nearly everyone ought to have a couple of years of study in Latin and even more if he intends really to be an educated person.

WHIPPLES ANNOUNCE ARRIVAL OF A SON

Lt. and Mrs. John D. Whipple, formerly of Muleshoe, are the proud parents of a son, John David, who was born September 2, in Clovis Air Force Base Hospital. He weighed 7 lbs., 12 oz.

Lt. Whipple is stationed in Italy with the U. S. Air Force. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Whipple, of Clovis, and Mr. and Mrs. Coley Graves, of Hobbs, N. M. Both families are former residents of Muleshoe.

The Weather

A north wind blew a cool front into the Muleshoe area Wednesday evening, lowering temperatures to 55 early Thursday, and dumping 21 of an inch of rain in town. Lots of blowing dirt accompanied the shower which was local, not recording over a trace south and west of Muleshoe. Heavy clouds and cooler temperatures Thursday forecast more moisture.

Five Area Schools Enroll Over 3200 Students; Expecting Increase

More than 3200 children started to school in five area schools Monday, four of them in Bailey County, and one in nearby Parmer county, at Lazbuddie. Most schools reported Tuesday that enrollments are slightly below the early 1955 figures, but all anticipate a considerable increase of transient pupils during the approaching harvest season.

MULESHOE 1513
At Muleshoe, where Jerry Kirk is superintendent, elementary school principal Frank Ford reports enrollment of 793 pupils, slightly less than the 809 average for the 1955-56 school term.

There are 179 in the first grade, 156 in the second, 164 in the third, 148 in the fourth and 146 in the fifth grade. Ford expects a peak enrollment of 880 during the height of the harvest season.

At Muleshoe junior high school principal Troy Perkins announced an enrollment Tuesday of 383, also a bit less than the 400 enrollees in junior high school last year. He too anticipates some increase before mid term.

High school principal Bill Parker reported a total high school enrollment of 337, about 30 less than in 1955. There are 86 freshman students, 80 sophomores, 106 juniors and 65 seniors. The boys are outnumbered by girls in high school by 180 to 157.

BULA — 144
At Bula school, where H. A. Reynolds is superintendent, enrollment totals 144, with 51 in high school, and 93 in grade school. At least three more high school students were expected to enroll later this week.

THREE WAY — 244
Three Way school has a total enrollment of 244 pupils, with 178 in grade school and 66 in high school. This represents about 15 pupils less than last year, superintendent Archie Sims reports. Principal John Criner estimates some increase in enrollment will occur within the next few months.

THEY LIKE CRIP COURSES . . . . .

Students Stay Away From Science and Math Classes, Favor Public Speaking

School youngsters are pretty much like their elders were they like to take crisp courses of study, it would appear from a talk made by Bill Parker, high school principal, made before the Rotary Club at its luncheon Tuesday.

Some math and science courses, offered for the first time this year, are going begging for students, his report showed.

Trigonometry, for instance, placed in the curriculum this year, has a total of 10 students, while a class in biology, considered an easy course, has 34 students.

Neither do freshmen in high school take kindly to foreign languages. In Spanish I, only 5 students are enrolled. Of a much larger Spanish II class last year, 28 remain in Spanish II. But the prospects for continuing Spanish in the curriculum are dim, for the authorities can't afford an instructor for a class of only five.

The school is planning to offer Latin next year. But unless the study of foreign languages is made compulsory, the outlook for success of Latin and Spanish is anything but rosy.

Mr. Parker urged his listeners to encourage the youngsters to take more of the difficult courses. Math, for instance is a must for future engineers and scientists, for whom there is a crying need in the U. S. High school, he said is the place to get a proper foundation in Math, for colleges are suggesting an earlier beginning in the study of trig and other higher mathematics.

Mr. Parker said he expects to see the state department require 20 credits for high school graduation perhaps by another year, instead of the 16 now demanded. This will mean, not five years in high school, but that the student will have to take 5 courses each year and make suitable grades in each.

Voc. Ag. Not Required
Vocational Agriculture is no longer a required subject in Muleshoe high school, the change having been effected this year.

Mr. Parker said this change was made because it was realized that fully 50 per cent of the boys perhaps never will be farmers. The course is there for those boys who believe they will be benefited by it.

Typing and other business courses are almost overrun. No less than 150 students are taking typing, and there are two business teachers one of them teaching some English.

Mr. Parker said business courses are designed to enable the student to get and hold a job in the business world and they are especially helpful for the student who does not intend to pursue his studies in college.

Rutarian Sam Cook was in charge of the program and introduced the speaker.

Cooperative Board Building Newest Type Murray Four Stand Gin Here

An entirely new concept in cotton ginning methods, designed to improve the grade and quality of lint, is being erected in the new four stand Murray 90 gin, at the Muleshoe Cooperative Gin.

The new gin has each one of the four stands arranged on 12-foot centers, and every unit in the gin house is controlled by an individual electric motor, thus allowing any unit to be taken out of action at any time without shutting down the entire gin.

The wider spacing around the gin stands also allows for greater safety to personnel moving about the gin floor while the machinery is operating, and makes cleaning the machinery much easier.

Earl Richards, manager of the gin, and Ben Everett, erector for the Murray Co. of Dallas, report the new gin here is one of only four such erected in the entire nation. Numerous safety factors have been built into the new machinery, in addition to methods of improving the grade of the cotton fibers.

The new gin will make a total of nine gin stands available for the fall ginning season. The new stands will be ready about October 1, Mr. Richards announced.

A new Moss lint cleaner has been added to the other new equipment.

Officers of the cooperative include Harold Wilson, president; W. H. Lee, vice-president; W. B. Little, secretary. Directors include Dick Willman, Wylie Baker, D. B. Head, and Edgar Broyles.

Goodland Farmer Receives Premium For Early Bale

A total of $219 in cash and merchandise was presented to W. E. Latimer, Star R. Goodland Saturday afternoon as a premium for bringing the first bale of cotton of the season ginned in Bailey county and brought to the Muleshoe compress.

Muleshoe and Maple merchants and individuals made up a donation to be given Latimer in appreciation for his bringing his first bale to Muleshoe.

The bale was ginned Thursday morning at the Stegall gin, and was grown on dry land.

Reception For Teachers Held Friday Night

Forty-five Muleshoe school teachers and perhaps 100 townsfolk and school patrons enjoyed a watermelon feast and session of games Friday night in the football stadium on the occasion of the annual reception for teachers sponsored by the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce.

Rev. E. K. Shepherd gave the invocation and Senn Slemmons, CofC manager, acted as master of ceremonies.

Following a short band concert, under the direction of Paul Summerrill, Slemmons introduced Jerry Kirk and Jeff Peeler, who gave the welcoming address. Mrs. Beddingfield gave the response for the teachers.

Kirk then introduced all the teachers present, as well as members of the school board of trustees.

Miss Elizabeth Harden then presented a game of "name that tune" in which all present took part.

Highway Patrol Safety Officer Asks Support of Drivers To Stop Deaths

Fred Marshal, district safety officer of the Texas Highway Patrol, spoke at the Wednesday Lions club meeting at Leigons dining room. Marshal told the group that the blame for highway accidents which killed 2547 persons in Texas during 1955, cannot be laid to juvenile drivers, fast cars or any other cause except drivers who do not observe proper safety precautions.

Marshal said that since our nation has been "on wheels", the attitude of the driving public toward traffic law enforcement has become a social disease. He asked for the support of individual drivers to obtain

Fourth Annual Soil Conservation Field Day Farm Tour September 11

Continental Has Leased Progress Elevator Plant

Continental Grain Company has leased the elevator at Progress from Progress Grain Co. It was announced this week. Roy Campbell, formerly with Continental at Frisco and at Friona, Texas, has been appointed manager and is now on the job at Progress.

Elevator superintendent will be Coy Rogers, who has moved here with his wife from Frisco, and they are occupying the residence on the elevator property.

H. M. "Curly" Eaton, with Continental Grain at Frisco, was here this week in connection with the lease arrangement. Mr. Eaton said the Progress Elevator is a Federally bonded warehouse and will issue warehouse receipts to the limit of their local storage, and will buy grain or accept it for storage at terminals after their present storage is full.

The fourth annual Blackwater Valley Soil Conservation District field day and farm tour will leave the Bailey county courthouse at 9 a.m. September 11, for a visit to eight outstanding farms in the county, climaxing in a talk by one of the state's foremost exponents of soil conservation, and a free barbecue luncheon sponsored by the First National Bank and the Muleshoe State Bank of Muleshoe. Farmers and business men of the area are invited to take part in the tour which is being done to conserve the natural resources of an area devoted almost exclusively to agriculture.

Sherman Inman, member of the Blackwater Valley SCD board of supervisors, assisted by Gil Lamb, will conduct the tour which will stop first at the farm of Horace Hutton, three miles southeast of Muleshoe. Here will be seen 20 inch grain sorghum, irrigated with a sprinkler irrigation system. It is felt that this will be of special interest to farmers who are working new land in the area, where sprinkler system appear to be the most practical method.

EARL LADD FARM

The next stop on the tour will be at the Earl Ladd farm south-east of town, where weeping love grass is being raised. The grass a soil builder, will be harvested for seed and for forage. Weeping love grass is one of the varieties recommended by the Soil Conservation Service as a means of holding top soil and moisture to prevent wind erosion.

CLAUDE SANDERS

The Claude Sanders farm, 1 1/2 miles north on the Friona highway will be the next stop on the tour. Here a concrete and aluminum irrigation system will be seen in operation. The system on the Sanders farm is considered unique.

CARL BARNERTS

At the Carl Barnert farm, four miles north of town, soil conditioning will be seen by use of vetch and madrid clovers.

M. L. SHIPP

The M. L. Shipp farm five miles out on the Clovis highway will be the next stop. Here members of the tour will observe corn and

McGUIRE FARM

At the McGuire farm one mile west on the West Camp highway, the tour will pause to see sorghum following soy beans, and the effect this has on increasing soil nutrition.

ROSS GOODWIN

The Ross Goodwin farm, four miles on the West Camp highway will be a stop on the tour so that beans and new era peas may be seen, interplanted with grain sorghums.

JACK LITTLE

The final stop on the tour will be at the farm of Jack Little, seven miles on the West Camp road. Here a hybrid grain sorghum variety production demonstration will be observed.

Here too, the tour will end with a talk by O. F. Armstrong of Abilene, Armstrong is the field planning engineer of the State Soil Conservation District Botrd. His talk will be of interest to men as well as women. Women are particularly invited to participate in the tour this year.

A free barbecue luncheon will be served by members of the Muleshoe Rotary club, following Armstrong's talk.

Cooperating with the SCD board of supervisors in presenting the tour are the state banks, the county agent and his assistant, the vocational agriculture teachers, the Muleshoe Journal and KMUL.

Jamie Lewallen Buys Shamrock Station Here

Jamie Lewallen, an experienced service station man, has purchased the Shamrock station, located on the Clovis highway, and is this week announcing that he is now open for business, under the firm name of "Jamie Lewallen Shamrock Station".

He states that the station will be open from 6 a.m. to 12 p.m., and that "Service" is their motto. His ad will be found on another page of this edition.

HIGH SCHOOL TEACHERS, new at MHS this year are assistant coach Charles McClure, Mrs. Paul Summersgill, who teaches English and commerce, and Mr. Summersgill, band director.

CofC Members Show Interest In Local Problems At Breakfast Meeting Today

Matters of immediate and long range importance to Muleshoe and territory were studied for an hour this morning when about 30 local men met for breakfast at Leigon's Cafe at the call of the Chamber of Commerce.

Senn Slemmons, CofC manager, presided and brought up subjects that previously had been suggested, some of them listed by people who attended a clinic held here in 1954.

City planning by the council, zoning, highway development, a paid fireman, city beautification, development of a vegetable market and of the vegetable growing industry, additional school classrooms, improvement of the public library, soil and water conservation and other items received attention.

Officers and directors of the CofC felt well repaid for their efforts when so many members turned out to present their ideas for the betterment of the town and community.

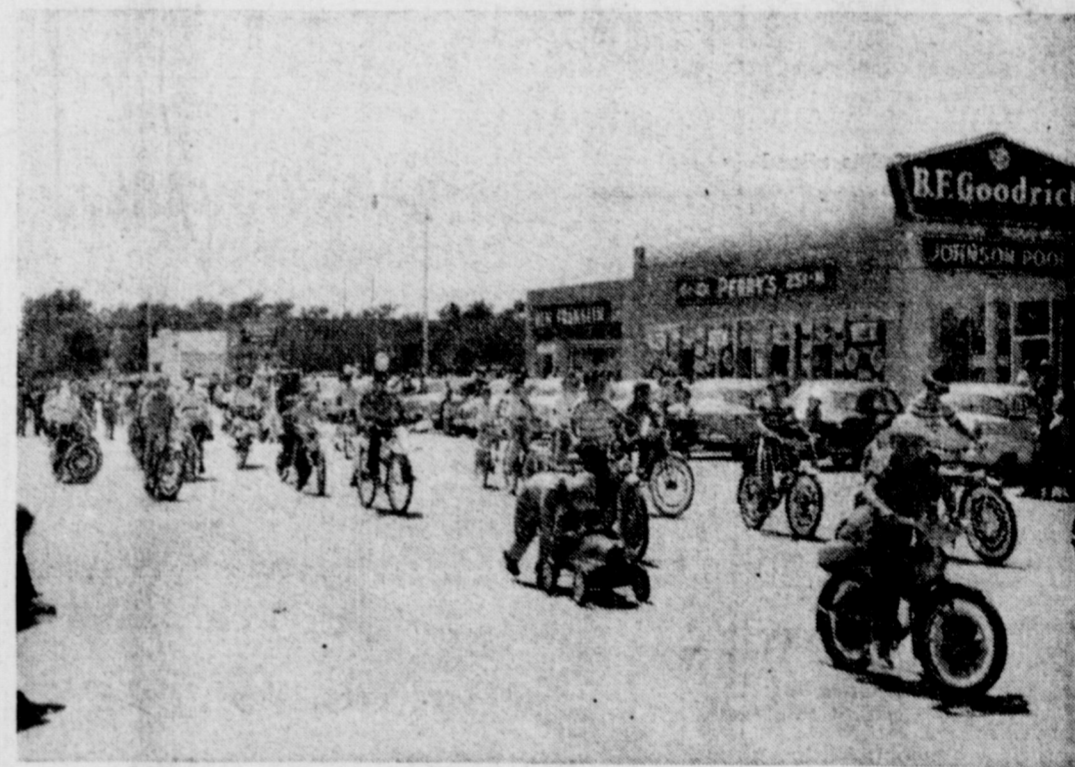

Object of the meeting was to get suggestions for formulating a program of work, both for im-moderns go GAS for Clothes Drying!

SMART

Like most every modern homemaker, I try to run the most glamorous and efficient household possible... at the lowest cost. That's why I use GAS appliances. Take my dryer, for example. I think it's the smartest looking appliance I've ever seen. Performance-wise, it's got every automatic feature you can think of... it's safe for all fabrics — even my most delicate lingerie — and I'll tell you, I didn't know dryers were so fast! And here's the thing: Ed, my husband, appreciates most... it costs next to nothing to operate! Yes, just between you and me, I think every woman who goes in for GAS appliances is "Smart"... any way you look at it.

Miss Dorothy Simpson and Doyle Turner Wed Saturday In Ceremony At Refugio

MRS. DOYLE TURNER

The marriage of Miss Dorothy Adele Simpson and Alan Doyle Turner was solemnized in the First Baptist Church at Refugio, Saturday evening, with the Rev. Troy Sumrall officiating. The double-ring ceremony was read beneath a scroll-work arch in a setting of gladiolus and candelabra.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Simpson, of Refugio, and Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Turner, of Muleshoe, are parents of the couple.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Betty Weaver, of Radford, Va. Bridesmaids were Miss Dottie Gilleland, of Corpus Christi; Miss Rita Turner, sister of the bridegroom, of Muleshoe; and Miss Sandra Moss. Their ballerina-length gowns of royal blue taffeta, were styled with short sleeves and rounded neckline accented with a bow at the center front, to give an empire effect. A wide cuff of soft material was set into the sides of the bodice and dipped to a deep point in the center back, and tied in a bow. They wore matching hats with circular short veils of maline, and carried cascade bouquets of yellow aster tied with tulle and streamers.

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full-length creation of imported hand-embroidered Chamilly type lace and tulle, designed with elongated bodice. The bodice featured a bateau neckline edged with natural pearl scallops of lace, and short sleeves. A bouffant skirt of crystal pleated tulle, featured an over skirt of lace, which swept into a short train.

Her circular tiered veil of bridal illusion fell from a queen's crown of tiny organza petals encrusted with sequins. She carried a bouquet of white feathered carnations centered with a white orchid.

Harold Jones, of Moody, served the bridegroom as best man. Groomsman were Dayce and Joyce Turner, twin brothers of the bridegroom, and Glen Watkins. Usars were Marvin Gaddy of Muleshoe, and Glen Ivy of Lazbuddie.

Soloist, Bill Wiolesess, of Pasadena, was accompanied at the organ by Miss Patsy Sumrall, as he sang, "The Lord's Prayer," and "The Wedding Prayer."

FELLOWSHIP HALL RECEPTION SCENE

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at Fellowship Hall. The bride's chosen colors of blue and white were carried out. The serving table, laid with a cloth of ice-blue under white organza ruffled skirt, was centered with a crystal bowl holding white mums and lily of the valley. Flanking this arrangement were crystal candle holders bearing lighted tapers. The four tiered wedding cake was decorated with wedding bells garlanded with blue and white flowers. A memory candle and in an arrangement of white mums and lily of the valley, were featured decorations on the table which held the guest book. Fern and baskets of white gladiolus furnished the background near the receiving line.

In the houseparty were: Mmes.

J. A. Vanhoof, M. M. Tabor, Paul Prater, C. P. Vincent, L. C. Morris, Lokey Huddleston, and Lewis Brooks, and Misses Kate Clark-son, Ibbey Murphy, Bobbie Lois Jenkins, Beverley Wipitiz, Linda Lyon, of Warren, Ark.; and Dorothy Tatum of Pine Bluff, Ark.

Bailey Youth Eligible For Vegetable Bay Prize At San Antonio

Area Student To Receive $25 Bond From State Bank

The Muleshoe State Bank will give a $25 savings bond to some school student in this area on September 15, 1956. All the student has to do is to come by the bank, secure a registration slip and leave his name, address and the school which he attends. These will be placed in a box and will be drawn September 15. The party whose name is on the slip will be notified by letter to call at the bank and to pick up his bond.

The bank suggests that when the bond is issued to the party that has been lucky enough to win that the name of the lucky person, plus a co-owner be inscribed on the bond and the bond not to be issued to one person only. You do not have to be present to win. The Muleshoe State Bank does this to encourage thrift and careful investment. Careful and systematic savings brings about success in life.

Bailey County 4-H and FFA members are invited to compete for prizes offered in San Antonio's "South Texas Vegetable Day" November 10.

J. K. Adams, Bailey County agricultural agent, of Muleshoe, has been furnished information about the show. The fifth annual show will be held on the grounds of the San Antonio Produce Terminal Market.

Last year, a bushel of cabbage grown and packed by Gus Berckmoes of San Antonio, won for Mr. Berckmoes a grand prize of $1,400.

Lazbuddie School Enrollment Set At 325 First Day

The first day of school was held in the Lazbuddie Public School system, Monday with a total of 325 students registering for school. Pupils and teachers alike were becoming adjusted to each other. Mothers were present with their eager, frightened and sometime very shy, first graders. Second graders on up through high school seniors took things in the stride of "old hands". They helped the newcomers learn their way around, but even the old-timers had to learn some new things concerning the new lunch room equipment which was in use for the first time.

The football boys are continuing their grueling workouts in order to be able to defeat their first opponents, Friona "B" team on this Friday night, Sept. 7.

The Pep Squad girls are also preparing for their debut on the night of the first game. Cheerleaders for this year are: Juanita Scott, Janice Oliver, Danny Rue Cargile, Janelle Floyd, and Joy Smith. Pep Squad officers are: Juanita Scott, president; Druella Lawrence, vice-president; Katherine Smith, secretary-treasurer. The girls in the pep squad are backing the Longhorns, and they hope that the people of the community will back them as they go into this year of eleven-man football. Lets put the twelfth-man school spirit on the field, too.

Various organizations will soon be back in full swing. The FFA and FHA will announce their meetings at a later date. The P.T.A. will once again have their meetings and back the school in their undertakings.

All in all it seems that for everyone concerned it will be a very profitable school year.

VISITS SISTER

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Ewing, of Waco, are visiting this week with her sister Mrs. W. F. Birdsong and family. They arrived here Friday.

Seibler Produces County's First Bale

Loyd T. Seibler ginned a 500-pound bale from 1900 pounds seed cotton at the Raymond Gage gin of Circleback at 3:00 p.m. Wednesday, August 29.

According to Cecil P. Henson, County Farmers Home Administration Supervisor, Seibler partially irrigated about 15 acres of April cotton from the overhead storage tank of the Raymond Gage gin located across the road from the farm. Seibler and family hand pulled this cotton from approximately six acres on Tuesday, August 28.

The FHA County Supervisor, Mr. Horace Hutton, reports the Seibler family has made exceptional progress during the past difficult drought years. By utilizing family labor and a good live-at-home program under FHA supervision, Mr. Seibler and his family have been able to keep

Commissioner of Agriculture Sees Desert Shaping Up On Plains

An underground desert is in the making in Texas which may eventually swallow such cities and towns as Amarillo, Dalhart, Plainview, Lubbock and Muleshoe.

These population centers are located atop a vast formation of moisture-laden sands from which water is being pumped at a faster rate than nature can replenish it. The situation was created by nature and aggravated by man.

These sands of the Ogallala formation depends partly upon rainfall and the water and snow sheds of the Colorado and New Mexico mountains to replenish the underground flow. For several years, snow in these states have been insufficient to feed the formation at a rate greater than water usage.

The sand strata is thick in some places, thin in others. In some sections of the Texas Panhandle, the saturated thickness of sand is 50 and 60 percent less than a short six years ago.

The boom in irrigation on the High Plains sparked the increase in water consumption. Municipal supplies account for only about 15 percent of water withdrawals. Records show that of all water pumped since 1938, over 60% of it was used since 1950, due mainly to an expansion in irrigated acreages.

Irrigation cannot be called the "culprit" in this case, however. Rather, it is merely the victim of a natural situation — drought. Weather conditions have failed to keep our water supply in balance during a period of great demand by the farmers.

The lowering water tables are a matter of concern in other sections of the state, also. Natural springs in Central and South Texas are at their lowest ebb or have ceased flowing altogether for the first time in the history of white settlements.

Comal Springs in the San Marcos-New Braunfels area ordinarily flows about 317 cubic feet of water per second. Early this summer, the spring went dry for the first time.

Barton Springs in Austin, a natural water source that fluctuates rapidly with rains, was producing only 12 cubic feet per second in late August. Its usual flow varies between a maximum of 180 cubic feet to a minimum of 5 1/2 cubic feet according to seasonal changes.

Primarily, Texas' greatest need is rain — in the state and on the watersheds of the Continental Divide. Secondly, the state needs comprehensive soil and water conservation measures which will keep the water in the vicinity in which it falls.

Surface tanks, small check dams and storage dams in the small streams and rivers, coupled with soil conservation work in the fields will help save our precious water, and aid in replenishing the underground supply.

CHIROPRACTIC LOCATES AND CORRECTS IT

Tests Disclose Spine Is Key To Good Health

Having a misplaced vertebra sounds like a catastrophe to most people, and they disregard the thought they could have one. However, it's not uncommon. Any severe bump, jolt or strain or emotional shock may cause a vertebra to move out of place and cause a subluxation which results in ill health. Amazing relief has been given to sufferers of all types of ailments. Figures compiled by the International Chiropractors Association quoted the following figures: Migraine sufferers, 95 per cent correction or great improvement; lung diseases such as bronchitis, 93 per cent; asthma, 91.5 per cent; allergies of the skin, 93 per cent correction or great improvement. 79 per cent of the patients who had adjustments also reported improved hearing at the B. J. Palmer clinic and school in Davenport, Iowa. These are only a few of the many figures that have been compiled by the commission showing real results received under Chiropractic by the field doctor.

Ruptured Discs

Case History: Man age 31, came to the Chiropractic Clinic after reading an ad describing a condition similar to his. He had been confined with extreme back pain which was aggravated by a spinal tap which in turn started terrific headaches. He was medically diagnosed "ruptured discs" and was told it would take a year or more to recover. In an effort to avoid an expensive and dangerous spinal fusion operation, he consulted us. After an examination consisting of nerve analysis and spinal X-ray at the clinic this man began corrective spinal adjustments. His pain was lessened from the first adjustments. His condition continued to correct rapidly until in less than six months he was doing heavier mechanic work than before having trouble with his back. He urges everyone to TRY CHIROPRACTIC FIRST to correct the cause of their disease or ailment.

Headaches

Headaches have a removable cause. A middle aged mother had suffered from headaches for so many years first began. Working and taking care of her family with these head pains, she grew more and more nervous. She tried several remedies without results.

She was eventually brought to the Clinic for a spinal analysis and spinal X-rays to locate the cause of her trouble. She told us that she had developed sinus trouble, pleurisy, palpitation of the heart, and high blood pressure of 200. After a course of Chiropractic service, she reported no headaches at all. Besides this recovery, she said she was not dizzy any more, blood pressure was down to 136-100, all chest pains and sinus pains were cleared up. When your personal opinion is based on fair investigation and not upon conditioned emotions, you become a satisfied patient. It will pay you to investigate now.

Soon the Muleshoe area will be overrun with Insurance Agents from far and wide — some with "Get Rich Quick" Policies — promising unheard of dividends, stock, etc. Here are a few things we think are worth pointing out

KNOW YOUR AGENT — This is a great asset when you need service or have a claim.

KNOW ABOUT THE COMPANY — Check with the Chamber of Commerce or your Banker before you buy, if in doubt.

BUY AT HOME — This has a two-fold advantage — First, you have local service, which is faster and better than mail. Second, it keeps money at home to help pay local taxes and build a greater Muleshoe.

Mules Start Comeback Trail With First Game Friday Against Portales

By DON TAYLOR

Muleshoe's chances of a winning team are brighter as this year's crop of gridsters hit the season trail against Portales at Portales Friday night.

After a week and a half of intensive drills, the Mules look considerably improved in both offense and defense.

The offensive attack will be familiar to Muleshoe fans, for it is the same Split-T formation that was used last year, with the exception of a wide split between the guard and tackle position.

The current Mules team will be more experienced than last, and seems to have a good bit more spirit.

Dick Johnson, a junior, will run the team at quarterback, with last year's head man, Eddie Wilt, moving to end where he has shown great promise as a pass receiver and ball carrier.

A few more changes have been made, with Charles Jennings moving from half back to end, and "B" team QB Don Alexander in the left tackle slot. The Turner twins, Doyce and Royce, and Edgar Martin will probably work in as guards, with Bob Sanders at right tackle. A familiar face will be at center in the person of 170 pound senior Joe Roark.

The backfield shapes up with Johnson at QB, Bill Black, a 170 pound junior, who looks great, at fullback; John Young, a tough little man at one half, and either Leroy Corraliz or Derrell Oliver at the other half.

Coach Wayne Mantooth is optimistic about future Muleshoe teams, especially next year. He has a right to be, for there are only five seniors on the squad this season. A few freshmen may see action this year, particularly Oliver, Donnie Shafer and center Robert Kemp.

Muleshoe is in District 1-AA, with Canyon, Dalhart, Dimmitt, Tulla, and Olton. Pre-conference duels pit the Mules against Portales, Morton, Hale Center, Springlake and the traditional rivals, Sudan.

Coaches include head coach Wayne Mantooth, assisted by Bill Taylor and new arrival Charles McClure.

Game time Friday night is 8 p. m.

Football season for the Bula high school team will begin Friday night, when Coach Claude Morrison's Bulldogs meet the 1955 district champions at Paint Creek.

The Paint Creek team is virtually the same as last year when they clinched the district pennant, and Coach Morrison is anticipating a tough game.

Morrison expects to start with Stroud at center, Claunch and Jones at ends, Roberts as quarterback, Roberts at tail back and Nichols as fullback.

The game will begin at 8 p. m.

Lazbuddie high school will be playing 11-man football for the first time this fall, in a new district. Schedule for the season, as released this week is as follows:

- Sept. 7 — Friona "B", here.
- Sept. 14 — Open Date.
- Sept. 21 — New Home, here.
- Sept. 28 — Whitham, here.
- Oct. 5 — Open Date.
- Oct. 12 — Farwell, here.
- Oct. 19 — Amherst, here.
- Oct. 26 — Happy, here.
- Nov. 2 — Hart, here.
- Nov. 9 — Bovina, here.

All Producers To Be Eligible For Wheat Reserve

Any producer who has a regular wheat acreage allotment may take part in the Soil Bank's Acreage program for the 1957 winter wheat crop, Robert Shrauner, chairman of the Texas Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, said today. Producers on farms which receive an allotment as a "new farm" for the 1957 wheat crop, however, are not eligible for participation in the 1957 Acreage Reserve program.

Payments under the program will be made for reducing the acreage of winter wheat below the amount of the allotment, designating in a written agreement a specified part of the allotment acreage as acreage to be "reserved" from production. Land so designated may not be cropped or grazed for the period of the agreement.

The rate of payment for wheat acreage placed in the Acreage Reserve varies by counties. The amount of the payment will be based on the normal yield for the farm or the normal yield for the designated acreage, whichever is the smaller.

The Acreage Reserve agreement must be signed not only by the farm operator, but also — if the operator is a share tenant — by each person who as owner or landlord has control of the Acreage Reserve land or is to receive compensation under the agreement. Provision is made for properly protecting the interests of tenants and sharecroppers under the program.

Chairman Shrauner explained that farmers may designate as much as 50 percent of their allotment or 50 acres, whichever is larger, for inclusion in the wheat Acreage Reserve. However, the wheat acreage designated for the Acreage Reserve may not exceed the wheat allotment. The minimum acreage which the farmer may designate for the Acreage Reserve is 3 acres or the wheat allotment, whichever is smaller. If any winter wheat is grown on the farm this fall, September 21 is the deadline for signing agreements to place 1957-crop wheat acreage allotment under the Soil Bank's Acreage Reserve.

Weather Cycles Not Found In Recent Studies

Predictions of rainfall cannot be made on the basis of weather cycles of "wet and dry years". Recent studies of 31 locations in the High and Rolling Plains of Texas show that cycles play little or no part in annual rainfall figures dating as far back as 89 years.

Drs. R. J. Hildreth and Gerald W. Thomas of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, who made the studies, state that an optimistic can find traces of cycles at some locations, but no statistical significance of cycles is revealed in the records.

"Average or normal rainfall seldom occurs", Dr. Hildreth said. "The records indicate that farmers and ranchers in the High and Rolling Plains should figure that more years — 42 to 69 percent — will be below average in rainfall than years above average."

Prolonged droughts have occurred on the High and Rolling Plains at least two or three times during the period weather records are available. The famous drought of the 1930's, which led to the dust bowl period, shows up in records at most locations. Another bad drought period occurred around 1917. At most locations the recent drought began in 1951 and is the longest and most severe on record. Records go back to 1866 at Abilene.

In most cases, it is not the first year of low rainfall that is dis-

Increase of Farm Machinery On The Highways Creates Safety Hazards

"More and more farm implements now are seen on public highways. This, of course, is one result of rapid mechanization on Texas farms. And it has brought with it added dangers", W. L. Ulich, Texas Agricultural Extension Service Engineer, said.

One-third of all tractor fatalities occur on public roads, and many others occur on private lanes and drives, Mr. Ulich added. Mile for mile, it is much safer to operate an automobile on public roads than it is to operate a tractor. The heavier the traffic, the greater the hazard.

Farm work should be planned to reduce the exposure of slow-moving tractors and farm machinery to traffic hazards.

Rules of the road apply to farm tractors and implements. Come to a full stop when entering the highway and at regular stop signs... do not proceed until it is safe to do so and then be sure to turn into the proper lane. Don't cultivate the habit of driving on the wrong side of the road when no vehicles are in sight, Mr. Ulich continued.

Early evening is not only a period of heavy automobile traffic, but it is also the time when motorists have the greatest difficulty in seeing. If machinery must be on the road at dusk or during hours of darkness, proper lighting is a must.

Reflective material applied to tractors and equipment is an added safeguard, and during daylight hours a red flag helps draw attention of the motorist to the hazards of slow-moving machinery, Mr. Ulich concluded. Motorists should not be expected to assume the entire responsibility for safety on rural highways. The farmer must also share in this responsibility.

Water For Texas Conference To Be Held September 17

Is artificial rainmaking a possible answer to Texas' water woes? Is it practical? The various aspects of rainmaking will be discussed frankly and objectively by a representative of the U. S. Weather Bureau during the second Water for Texas Conference to be held at Texas A. & M. College September 17-19.

The conference is sponsored by the Water Research and Information Center of the Texas A. & M. College System. All Texans who are interested in the state's water problems are invited to attend, by Gibb Gilchrist, head of the water center.

Mr. Gilchrist said the U. S. Weather Bureau has been making a thorough study of the possibilities of artificial rainmaking for the past several years. Information which it has collected should be of great help to Texans in evaluating proposals for solution of drought problems, he added.

Other parts of the program which are expected to contain considerable interest for Texans include watershed development and management, water laws of the state, needs and uses of water in production of oil, and water for Texas agriculture and forestry.

Panel discussions during the three-day meeting will deal with better uses of water for engineering works and agricultural irrigation, as well as a statewide plan for water use and methods of financing a statewide program.

Dean John Calhoun of the A. & M. School of Engineering, and Director R. D. Lewis of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station professor of geology, is program chairman.

USDA Names 23 Wheat Varieties For 1957 Discount

Discounts to discourage plantings of undesirable wheat varieties were included in the price-support program for the first time on the 1956 wheat crop. Today the USDA released a list of 23 varieties which are classed as undesirable because of inferior milling or baking qualities. They will be discounted 20 cents per bushel in price-support rates on the 1957 wheat crop.

According to extension agronomists, the hard red winter varieties are most commonly grown in Texas and those on the undesirable list include Stafford, Pawnee Sel. 33, Red Chief, Chiefkan, Early Blackhull, Red Jacket, Kankin, New Chief, Blue Jacket, Purkof, Cimarron and Red Hull. Others listed are soft red winter, hard red spring, durum and white wheat varieties.

These 23 varieties were designated as undesirable by the Agricultural Research Service after consultation with state agricultural experiment station personnel, agronomists, cereal chemists and others on state and Federal staffs.

The extension agronomists point out that the discount on these undesirable hard red winter varieties should not hamper Texas wheat producers because research has developed varieties which are better yielders as well as producers of better milling and baking quality wheat.

The recommended varieties available for the High Plains of Increased Industrial Uses of Farm Products: The group has until June 15, 1957, to make a final report. Commission members are J. Leroy Welch of Omaha, chairman; George Henry Copps, president of the National Biscuit Company, New York; Dr. Karl D. Butler, consultant to the Avco Manufacturing Company, Ithaca, New York; Dr. Charles R. Sayre, president of the Delta Pine and Land Company, Scott, Mississippi, and Dr. Frank J. Welch, dean of the University of Kentucky's school of agriculture.

The five members called on President Eisenhower last week. He offered his "full support and heartfelt good wishes". As efforts are successful to produce goods wholly or partly manufactured from agricultural surpluses, the President said, markets for farm products will be broadened and surpluses will be reduced.

The commission's duties, as outlined by Chairman Welch, are to develop by next June 15, legislative and other recommendations designed to bring about wider use of agricultural commodities in the manufacture of industrial products. The commission is concerned not only with extending the industrial uses of present crops, particularly those in surplus, but also with the development of new crops to provide continuing sources of industrial raw materials.

The commission itself will not conduct or supervise any research, Mr. Welch said. But it will work closely with USDA, the state experiment stations, colleges and universities, research foundations, and private research laboratories in developing its recommendations. The group also plans to seek the counsel of national farm organizations on extending the use of crops not required for food or feed.

Farm Bureau supported Congressional action in authorizing this Commission.

COTTON INSECT REPORT

Continued hot and dry weather retarded growth of cotton except in the more heavily irrigated fields. Heavy shedding occurred in many fields. The prevailing weather conditions were favorable for the activity of most cotton insects.

Bollworms were reported in sufficient infestations to warrant control in widely scattered fields. These infestations were generally found in late planted cotton or in those fields which had suffered earlier hail damage. In most cases worm populations were not heavy.

Lygus bugs were observed in medium to occasional heavy infestations in a few fields in Bailey, Hale, Floyd, and Lubbock counties. Low populations were present in many other plantings of cotton.

Cabbage loopers were present in all fields. While leaf beetles were light in a majority of fields, other plantings suffered damage from heavy feeding by the looper. A good number of fields were treated for control of the insect.

Leafworms were generally reported in light infestation throughout the area. No infestations have been reported as sufficient to require control.

Spider mites were found in increasing number of cotton fields. The infestations were generally spotted, with only parts plantings requiring control. Heaviest infestations were reported from Crosby, Hale, Lubbock and Lynn counties.

Babson Discusses BONDS AND INTEREST RATES

Babson Park Mass., Sept. 6 — Recently, monetary authorities have tightened their controls again, bringing about a further decline in bond prices. I forecast that these authorities — so long as business remains good — will maintain a firm rein on credit. The trend for bond prices has been down for 20 months. That is the primary reason why I have advised and still advise the average investor to buy only short-maturity bonds.

BONDS WILL AGAIN BECOME POPULAR
Investors' interest in bonds has increased somewhat in recent weeks as uncertainties have crept into the outlook for common stock prices and as yields from the most popular common stocks have become quite low. These stocks could be particularly vulnerable in any important market correction. I predict that investor interest in bonds will grow.

As I view the monetary and business situation this fall, I foresee a continued weak bond market. The monetary authorities will have to contend with possible upward price pressure arising out of the slow wage settlement; nothing radical will be done until after the elections in November. Certainly, nothing will be done before then to harm business.

GOVERNMENT BONDS
Do not count on long-term Government bonds showing any sustained strength. After the elections the money managers may have to fight higher prices by again slightly tightening credit terms and raising money rates. I assume that bankers — who are mostly Republicans — do not object to higher money rates.

I would caution the average investor against buying long-term Government bonds with any thought of profits. As with other bond groups, I urge investors to confine the major portion of their purchases to intermediate and short-term Government issues. Only for death-tax purposes should one build a backlog of those long-term Treasury issues which are always worth par for payment of estate taxes. This means one should not pay more than par for them. Remember, however, that the interest received from Government bonds is subject to federal income taxes.

CORPORATE BONDS FOR INSURANCE COMPANIES

The difference in yields between high-grade corporate and Government bonds in a given maturity is now relatively small. However, I question whether even insurance companies should buy so heavily into the corporate field as into Government bonds. Unlike the individual investor who maintains a balanced fund of bonds and stocks, insurance companies, particularly life companies, must spread maturities and include some long-term bonds, including AAA utilities and rails. Colleges, hospitals, and funds not subject to taxation can well consider good corporate bonds. However, I think such buyers should put more of their bond funds into utilities and industrials than into rails.

BONDS FOR ORDINARY INVESTORS

The average investor to whom yield is important would be justified in putting a small part of his bond funds into medium-grade utility and industrial issues. On long-term issues of such bond, he can now obtain a yield of about 3.75% on rails, 3.59% on industrials, and 3.62% on utilities. But at these yields, I prefer nontaxable bonds, such as municipals and high-grade revenue issues for those who are in the high tax brackets and who do not worry about marketability.

I would recommend that purchases of medium-grade corporation bonds be confined to first-mortgage issues. Medium-grade bonds are influenced in price movement by what happens in the stock market. In no case should the average investor place any of his funds intended as a nest egg for later purchase of stocks in other than short-term high-grade issues, even though he may have to make some sacrifice of yield.

CONVERTIBLE BONDS

Ordinarily, I like to recommend convertible bonds to my readers; but in view of uncertainties in the stock market it is questionable whether very many purchases in this field should be made now. Again I recommend to individuals — good short-term tax-exempt bonds.

It was easy to see, from the very start of the convention, that the Stevenson bandwagon was rolling. Party leaders from past years did their best to wreck it, or at least to head it up a dead-end street. Adlai Stevenson wasn't their man. You can say this for the Old Guard of the Democratic Party: They went down fighting. It was, in a way, a saddening sight to watch. In the end they were beaten, and they acknowledged it, and graciously volunteered to recognize and accept the new leadership.

A Presidential candidate was nominated and the new leaders of the party celebrated by giving the delegates a free choice as to his running mate on the ticket. Not even the oldest delegate could recall when the party bosses hadn't picked the candidate for Vice President.

It wasn't surprising that they chose Estes Kefauver, the lanky Tennessee whom the professional politicians liked even less than Stevenson. He was, so far as the Democratic convention was concerned, the "people's choice."

Labels can be misleading, but you couldn't escape the conclusion in Chicago that the new leadership comprised the middle-of-the-roads, the moderates who shunned both the traditional conservatism of the South and the ultraliberalism of the newer, northern wing of the party.

That was evident in the nomination of Stevenson and Kefauver, and in civil rights plank that both the conservatives and the liberals disliked, but accepted. It will become more evident, I think, as the campaign progresses.

Back of any success, or defeat, there is a story. At Chicago there were two stories. As any good farmer knows, the secret of a successful crop is in planting good seed, then working full time to make them grow into a good harvest. You can't grow a good crop if you wait too long. The new party leaders started early and worked long and hard.

The old-time leaders waited too long to begin their work, and in Chicago it was too little and too late. There is a quotation from the Bible that seems to fit the situation: "What so ever thou doeth, do with thy might."

THIS WEEK — In Washington

With Clinton Davidson

Something exciting and significant happened to the Democratic Party in Chicago; something that the TV cameras missed and only a few seasoned reporters saw. The party is under new management.

The professional politicians of the New Deal and the Fair Deal era took a thorough drubbing. That was obvious to all of us who covered the Democratic National Convention, and it was painfully plain to the politicians who lost their grip.

Young, enthusiastic and comparatively inexperienced party leaders challenged the party veterans of many political battles, and won. It may be, as some of the older heads claimed, that the Chicago affair was only one battle and not a war.

It is much too early to say that the New Deal and the Fair Deal were dealt a death blow in Chicago. But it was plain to see that the leaders who directed the party for 20 years have been shoved out of the driver's seat. They were very nearly shoved out of the convention.

In the hotels at night there were the usual smoke-filled rooms, and in them you could find the usual party notables of past conventions. They were sending out the usual orders to party-workers, but delegates were no longer obeying as they had in the past. They were following new leaders.

Sand Hills Philosopher Worried OVER IDEA OF ATOMIC-POWERED TRACTORS

Editor's note: The Sand Hills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm may be going out of his way to find something to worry about, his letter this week indicates.

Dear editor: According to an article I read in yesterday's paper, well it wasn't yesterday's paper according to the date, which was about a week old, but any paper I read yesterday, if I haven't seen it before, is yesterday's paper as far as I'm concerned, scientists are predicting they'll have an atom-powered airplane ready to fly in a couple of years. They say they based this on the fact the atom-powered submarine, which has now traveled 50,000 miles without refueling, is such a great success.

And furthermore, they said, after the atom-powered airplane will come atom-powered automobiles.

Now I don't know what this will do to the filling station operators, there won't be much for them to do if they can fill up your car with atomic energy and you won't have to come back until fifty or seventy five thousand miles later, sounds like the hours would be fine through the pay might be low, but I guess they'll think of something, maybe join the small family-size farmer as a political problem and let Sec. Benson worry about them. However, what's worrying me is that science isn't going to be satisfied to leave well enough alone and after they get airplanes and cars and trains running indefinitely on atom power, some smart alec will turn his efforts to tractors.

Now a tractor that'd run almost forever with one handful of atom power sounds all right, for the man who just can't seem to get enough of plowing, but I'd like to point out there are some farmers who look on a stalled tractor as one of the handiest things you can have on a farm. You take a man who's powered with an old-fashioned food three times a day and put him on an atom-powered tractor that'll run forever on one dose, and you can begin to see that science is no un-mixed blessing.

I don't want to stand in the way of progress, and while I don't believe science can ever invent a machine so efficient I'd want to run it all the time, you can see that this idea of an endlessly running tractor operated by a fast tiring man needs some careful thought before it's brought out. It's a question of who's going to be in charge, a man or his tractor?

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

WE NEED NEW BLEACHERS

School started Monday and so did football season. Our school system physically, is adequate for our present needs, and there seems to be little evidence of crowded conditions in the classrooms. Our athletic program is perhaps not so fortunate.

The sad fact is that Benny Douglass stadium is a sad fact. It is in a disreputable condition and is not much of a credit to our school. Surely a progressive community that can construct nearly 20 new brick business buildings in one year as a reflection of its financial security, could do better by its athletic program than the present football stadium.

SEPTEMBER SONG

By DOROTHY GILES, Journal Women's Editor

I just woke up to the realization this week, that fall is almost here again. The days are certainly getting shorter, the air during the evening and early morning is brisk and cool. Seems like with this season's approach, the old human race acquires a new outlook on life, and there is always that certain little feeling of excitement in the air which seems to grip us all.

Was kind of disappointed to hear that Bailey county wasn't going to have a fair this year. However, I talked to County Agent J. K. Adams this week, and he says we will have exhibits at the Tri-State Fair at Amarillo, and the Panhandle and South Plains Fair at Lubbock. Both to be held this month. Also, Mr. Adams said, Don and LaVon Copley plan to show animals at the State Barrow Show at McKinney next month, and at the State Fair in Dallas. Hope they come home winners.

Seems to me that the boys and girls in Bailey county don't have as much interest in the fairs and various shows over the country as they did several years ago. When from 15 to 20 club boys and girls would take their exhibits to the larger shows in the state, and would often come home winners. The "College Set" in and around Muleshoe have begun plans for another term away at school. Most of the colleges and Universities will begin their fall terms the latter part of this month. Talked to Jim Gordon this week, and he plans to leave Monday. Jim is a second year student at Howard-Payne College at Brownwood. Before he entered school there last year, he was Lazbuddie correspondent for The Journal, a job his mother, Mrs. Bert Gordon has since taken over.

Schools here in Muleshoe began Monday, with a total of 1,513 enrolled in grade, junior high and high schools. Our football team looks more promising than it has in several years. Under the apt coaching of Wayne Mantooth, the boys will play their first game with Portales, tomorrow evening, Friday, September 7, and we will be rooting for them to win. The band, directed by Paul Summersgill, will also be supporting the boys at this game and on through the season.

This is the season of football games, country fairs, hay rides, and weiner roasts, the harvest, and the World Series games in our national sport, baseball. Wonder if the Dodgers will win this year?

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

The board of supervisors of the Blackwater Valley Soil Conservation district met August 20, with chairman E. H. Eubanks, presiding. Present were board members

Virgil Nowell, E. N. McCall, Sherman Inman, Ray Carter and the following guests; W. T. Andrews, Gilbert Lamb, Carroll Pouncey, Murl Wilson, Senn Slemmons, Jim Ward, Bill Bickel and Charles Thomas. Also Ernest Rivers, George Thompson, Mrs. Doris Traweck, and Duane Barthe.

The meeting was devoted to discussing plans for the annual SCD field day tour to be held September 11. The finance committee reported they were ready to meet the financial needs of the tour, and all other arrangements were planned by the group present.

As before, with the enthusiastic support of local business and civic leaders, it appears another outstanding tour will be held this year. The board greatly appreciates the interest and help they have received in making the district progress.

The Blackwater Valley Soil Conservation district is a member of the Texas Soil Conservation Association and the National Soil Conservation Association thus indicating its interest in the improvement and protection of our greatest natural resources.

Twenty-two new conservation plans were approved by the board. These bring the number of cooperators to 891. This is more than half the number of farm owners and operators in the district.

The board voted to buy a small legume seeder and a set of three stubble mulch sweeps. These will be rented to cooperators at a nominal fee. They can be rented from the vocational agriculture teacher at the Muleshoe school.

The most valuable resource of this nation is the soil. Gold is more spectacular; iron in two generations made men richer; copper has opened up greater possibilities of advancing techniques. But it is the soil which produces the lasting and essential wealth of the nation.

Eriniser and Shepard, in "Our Use of The Land," Cooperators in the Blackwater

The romance between a U.S. army officer and an English girl comes to full flower on the eve of the Allied invasion in Twentieth Century-Fox's blazing account of "D-Day, the Sixth of June." Robert Taylor and Dana Wynter (above) co-star with Richard Todd and Edmond O'Brien in the CinemaScope film produced by Charles Brackett and directed by Henry Koster opening Sunday at the Cox Drive-In Theatre.

Valley Soil Conservation District are planting many acres of cover crops, including peas, vetch and rye. Among them are Vernon Roming who has 12 acres of winter peas; Joe McMakin on the L. S. Wheeler farm who has drilled wheat, rye and vetch in his cotton middles, and Mr. Friend, who has listed his land for planting cotton next spring and has fertilized and seeded vetch and rye on beds using a green drill.

Winter cover crops do well on the South Plains. Austrian winter peas, hairy vetch and small grains fit into a crop rotation plan with summer grown cash crops. They can be planted in solid stands or between rows of cotton and sorghum. There are several ways to get these cover crops on the land. After the sorghum crop is harvested, the land is shallow listed and a four row planter without planter bottoms can be used to scatter the seed on top of the soil. Then a tandem disc can be pulled just behind the planter and by setting the discs fairly straight, the seed will be well covered.

Some use a special legum inter-row seeder available from the District to plant between the rows of cotton and sorghum. This is done just before the last irrigation, usually during the first part of August. Another successful method is to use a cyclone seeder to broadcast the seed at the last cultivation in August. These seeders are adapted to run off of power take off or generator belts. These cover crops can be drilled in cotton middles if the cotton is not too tall.

Under irrigation these crops are watered once in the winter and in early spring as a pre planting irrigation. They are shredded in late spring, then disced into the top of the soil and the summer crop planted flat or on beds prepared before seeding cover crop.

On dry land, rye, a small grain, is a drought resistant crop that can be used for winter cover crops. These can be drilled in cotton middles or sorghum stubble. Austrian winter peas or vetch can be used with rye where moisture conditions permit.

In conclusion, it may be well to review the benefits of these crops. Winter cover crops protect the soil from wind and water erosion, and add organic matter which is the very life of the soil. Organic matter added to a soil increases its fertility, adds water holding capacity, allows for deeper root penetration and improves the soil structure.

FARMER COUNTY Farm Bureau News

By RAYMOND EULER

Members of the resolutions committee are working on subjects for consideration at the annual convention September 24. Subjects already slated for discussion and action are: State Water Development; Texas Right to Work Law; Noxious Seeds in Feed Grains; Flexible Versus Rigid Acreage and Price Controls; Administration of the Soil Bank Program; Minimum Parity for Non-Basic Commodities; Reduction of Cotton Acreage Reserve; Repeal of Existing Farm Trailer Licensing Law; Retaining Present Legislative Districts; Public School Segregation; and State Sales Tax for School Use Only. Other subjects will be presented by the committee, and resolutions from members will be welcomed from the floor of the convention.

Plans are being made to help emphasize Texas Farm Bureau's "Lead the South in '56" movement. The aim of this organizational move is to give Texas the greatest number of votes, thru increased membership, in the National Convention where all National Issues are finally decided.

According to USDA reports, cotton exports this year are showing promise of doubling those of the previous year. This means that there will be no increase in the surplus stockpile, which has been on the increase for the past several years. With this step-up in the export program, actual reduction of surplus stocks should become evident with proper administration of Soil Bank provisions.

Rhea Farm Bureau meets this Friday night at 8:30 (September 7). If you have not attended a good community meeting lately, you ought to go. They'll make you very welcome. Franklin Bauer is their president, and Jack Patterson is County Director from Rhea Community.

Consider attending the Texas Farm Bureau Convention in Houston November 11-14. Then you'll surely want to go to Miami, Florida the second week of December to attend the American Farm Bureau Convention. You can get first hand information about the two organizations at these meetings.

"Dust storms sure were bad news — till I switched to AMALIE L. P. G.!"

"That old common-grade oil I used to use in these irrigation engines sure did let the dirt and dust and rust cake up in those engines! But worse than that, with butane or propane, it thickened up where it looked almost like gear-grease! Man, what a change with this AMALIE L. P. G. Oil!"
AMALIE L. P. G. is more than just a good oil, it's a super oil. When you burn butane or propane (Liquid Petroleum Gas), ordinary oil won't do. It must be ENGINEERED for L. P. G. And AMALIE L. P. G. is just that. 100% pure Pennsylvania — no other crude like it on earth. Special additives, to hold that dust, grit, etc., in suspension — so they filter out. And above all, it holds its viscosity — its "flowing" qualities. Give YOUR engines — and your bank balance — a break!

For big jobs, small jobs, all jobs —

Ford Trucks Cost Less!

"I earn as much as $30 a day more because my Ford T-800 tandem job can carry more payload than comparable trucks," says timber-hauler Clarence Landwing.

"Low cost, dependability, toughness — that's what I get in Ford trucks," says John Karks. "Ford's power takes me through tough going that would stop many another truck."

Only a Ford pickup gives you the economy of modern Short Stroke design in both Six and V-8!

Ford's low prices mean real savings. But the on-the-job savings you get in Ford trucks count even more!

Take running costs; they're downright low. Because only Ford gives you the gas and oil economy of Short Stroke power. Only Ford offers Short Stroke engines backed by over 5 billion miles of on-the-job experience.

Upkeep costs are low because Ford trucks are built extra strong. They outlast all other leading makes — proved by insurance experts. That same stand-up ruggedness means greater dependability, too.

And when it comes time to trade — you'll gain from Ford's traditionally high resale value, too. You'll find that, from start to finish, Ford trucks cost less.
