Proper Well Spacing Conserves Water

According to an old saying, "Two heads are better than one." By similar reasoning, two water wells in the High Plains should supply more water than one well for irrigating a farm; for municipal use, or for industrial supply. In general, that is true provided the wells are adequately spaced as shown in figure 1. However, if some of the wells are too close together, as shown in figure 2, the interference between closely spaced wells may cause so much additional lift and decrease in yield that over a period of years the profits from two wells may be no more than the profits from one well.

Imagine well "A" above, as the hole you might dig near the end of a wheat bin. Reaching the bottom, you are surrounded by the light-shaded cone. In the case of underground water, dotted line "X" is the static water level. The cone itself is the well's "area of influence" . . . the circle from which your well draws its supply of water.

Now, see what happens when TWO men dig away at opposite ends of the grain bin. Grain pours both directions from the supply zone between the two holes. In effect, the two diggers are fighting a silent battle with each other for the lion's share of the grain. The same is true of water wells "A" and "B", which are spaced several hundred feet apart.

Interference is a typical subsurface condition where water wells are jammed together. This causes increased drawdown, the point where pumping costs go up. Regulated well spacing, as practiced by the Water Conservation District, can help reduce this interference.

Figure 2 may be the situation as found in a field of water wells. The four wells, spaced too near each other, have a leap-frogging zone of interference. Drawdown increases sharply. Pumping expenses zoom. Often some wells in a cluster like this have to be abandoned. Pumping rate may have to be reduced.

These "waterbug's eye views" show easily drawdown can be increased by congested spacing at the surface. Drawdown can be measured at a distance of 100 feet from a pumped well, and has even been known to reach 3,000 feet in some areas. A sharp pencil and some quick figuring at today's drilling and pumping costs will show how spacing can cost, or save, thousands of dollars for the High Plains well owner.

Sunshine Club Members Inspired By Visit To Famed Girlstown, USA

A trip to Girlstown, USA, was an inspiration to a group of Bailey County ladies, who spent most of Friday, May 22, in the nationally famous home for unwanted girls, the only institution of its kind anywhere.

The ladies, members of the Sunshine Club of Muleshoe, found that the home is run like a large family, has a staff of 21, and operates a farm of 1425 acres. There are 55 girls in the home now, ranging in age from infancy through the teens, and on file are applications from some 1300 more from all over the U. S.

Miss Amelia Anthony, head of Girls town, must feel wonderful to have 55 girls call her "Mama." Her ambition is to provide more room so that some of the 1300 who have applied may have a home.

The girls attend school at Whiteface, which is nearby, and they attend the church of their choice. Some of the churches have their members to go for the girls and return them to their home.

The home is run entirely on donations. Right now there is enough brick and tile on hand to construct a needed new kitchen. As instances of folks giving to the home, Brownfield Sheriff's Poses gave a piano; Lubbock's Bruncheon Club gave an electric organ; the Elks Lodge of Hobbs, N. M., gave the home a television set for Christmas. Lions of Sundown gave 5 electric washing machines for the laundry.

The farm has 85 cows and there is a 12 acre garden. Children who are old enough are assigned chores and they get new assignments each week to give them more experience and avoid monotony.

There is a complete library in the home, with reference sets and appropriate reading material.

Their trip to the home inspired the local ladies to do something to help, and they are planning something nice for the girls at Christmas time. Mrs. Dave Coulter, one of the local group, said those who have TV sets will enjoy seeing the girls, 25 of them, in a chorus to be presented over KGNC-TV June 2, 3, and 4.

In the Sunshine Club group were Mesdames George Chambliss, Crit Odum, Tiny Lewis, May Atkins, Pat Patterson, Dave Coulter, and they had one guest Mrs. Ona Odum, of Wichita Falls.

Boone-Jackson Vows Exchanged

Miss Patsey Carol Boone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Boone of Springlake, and S-Sgt. Woody Jackson, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Jackson of Muleshoe, were married Saturday, May 16, at 6 O'clock.

The double ring ceremony was read by Elder J. W. Goforth of Springlake at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Whitford in Earth.

Mrs. Earl Parrish accompanied Miss Delora Whitford as she sang "I Believe" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a sleeveless white ballerina length gown of nylon net over taffeta, fashioned with a V-neck and a gored skirt. She wore lace mitts and carried a bouquet of white carnations. Her fingertip length veil was held in place by a tiara of seed pearls.

Miss Delora Whitford was her cousin's only attendant. She wore a powder blue ballerina length frock with a lace bodice and full gathered skirt over taffeta. She wore powder blue slippers and her corsage was of blue carnations.

Grady Boyd of Amarillo was best man.

A reception followed the wedding. The double wedding ring cake was centered with a tiny bride and groom. Mrs. Bill Struve and Mrs. Bruce Higgins served the punch and wedding cake.

The bride is employed at the Muleshoe State Bank and the groom is stationed at Camp Pendleton, Oceanside, Calif.

When You Feed RED CHAIN DAIRY FEEDS

Tests have very definitely shown that a variety of the right kind of ingredients in a supplement increases the percentage of digestibility of roughage in ruminant animals. With dairy cattle this means a greater amount of nutritional elements to make milk and keep the cow in condition. RED CHAIN Dairy Feeds provide a variety of protein ingredients along with vitamin D and molasses for improved palatability as well as an aid to the digestive processes. That is why dairymen have found that RED CHAIN Dairy Feeds aid cows to "shell out" more milk.

RED CHAIN Dairy Feeds are available in 16%, 18% and 24% protein, so as to economically balance, good, average or poor roughage. For dairymen having plenty of home grains, RED CHAIN 34% Protein Dairy Supplement provides the base for dairy feeds of any desired protein content. See us today for a supply of RED CHAIN.

BABSON Discusses — UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE

New York City, June 4. During the past winter, while in the South, I received many interesting letters which I have saved. Most of these letters can be classified under four headings: (1) Unemployment Insurance, (2) Excess Inventories, (3) Personal Debts and (4) Labor Unions. As these letters come from over thirty different states, they give a cross section of what the average businessman is thinking about. UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE For a very subtle reason most businessmen, especially retailers, are not opposed to unemployment insurance. They feel that if a depression comes, these unemployment checks — as well as pensions, old-age assistance and other sources of Government, State and Municipal aid — will be of real help in preventing a business collapse. Doubtless these checks from the public treasury will cushion a decline in their business when unemployment comes. But why have the unemployment?

These letters almost unanimously, however, complain about present abuse of this unemployment insurance. For instance, in Massachusetts a person who earns approximately $500 in each quarter of a year, or approximately $2,000 a year, is entitled to collect $25 for twenty-three weeks for unemployment, or $575. But the laws of the various states vary somewhat as to the amount paid and the duration of payment.

If these were bona-fide cases, it would not be so bad; but my correspondents claim that a large proportion of these "unemployed" have purposely arranged to get "fired" in order to get this insurance. In other words, it is becoming a fast-growing racket which is upsetting the employment situation, undermining the character of employees and causing an unnecessary drain on public funds. If unemployment offices are not operated by politicians and their friends, officials do seem to be shutting their eyes to this abuse. It should be stopped.

DANGER OF EXCESS INVENTORIES

John C. Lang of Baltimore writes a letter which is typical of many similar letters. He calls attention to the excess inventories which businessmen for various reasons feel obliged to carry. Of course, the future of your community depends, in the long run, on keeping purchasing power and inventories on a reasonable balance.

Such a balanced condition would help to give your community a steady but gradually increasing prosperity. Various suggestions have been made for preventing excessive inventories. One is that the Excess Profits Tax be switched to an Excess Inventories Tax. Surely, some check on excess inventories is needed to avoid a business depression. I hope each merchant will be careful.

INSTALLMENT DEBTS

The American people are today indebted for $19.3 billion due on installment purchases. Savings are larger than ever and these should, to a certain extent, serve as an offset. Unfortunately, however, Congress has not given the Federal Reserve System the power to curb consumer credit, and this unnecessarily permits further credit expansion.

A dangerous feature of the situation is that local banks, which refused to loan customers when they were out of employment and needed the money, are now, with higher prices being paid for automobiles, refrigerators, fur coats, etc., encouraging unnecessary borrowing. I hope they will be careful and avoid a policy which would not be good for their community.

LABOR LEADERS

From almost every state I received complaints about the arbitrary actions of union labor. My correspondents do not object to the carpenter, painter, plumber, bricklayer, etc., getting more pay. They, however, complain desperately that these workers are not producing what they should and are loafing on the job. The workmen in turn blame the problem on the labor leaders. All of this sets up a vicious circle which sometime must collapse.

I am a great believer in every family having a home, and hence have always encouraged the building and buying of homes. I fear, however, that the present attitude of labor leaders may cause the building boom to collapse. Considering that the building of a small house aids twenty-seven different industries, such a collapse should be avoided.

SAND HILLS PHILOSOPHER:
THINKS ENGLAND GOT QUEEN
CROWNING IDEA FROM READING
AMERICAN NEWSPAPERS

Editor's note: The Sand Hills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm takes the cake this week for backwardness, as his letter will reveal.

I've heard it said by statesmen and students of history that the British Empire has been declining and shrinking in recent years, and while I've got nothing against declining and shrinking, know lots of folks who've been doing it steadily for years, I had not paid much attention to the claim.

In fact, the way England could still manage to swing a loan, regardless of who was in the White House, Democrats or Republicans, led me to believe she was as mighty as ever, but the last few weeks I've begun to have my doubts.

They were brought on by all the excitement and hullabaloo over the crowning of the Queen over there.

Now personally I got nothing against the Queen, looks like one of the most level-headed young ladies I ever heard of, but what worries me about England is it looks like that once mighty empire is running out of ideas, at least of original ideas. Now she's copyin' after America.

Crownin' a queen is all right, it brings a big crowd to London, turns lots of tourists' dollars loose, but thunder the idea has been used so much in this country it's about as novel as a Fourth of July float. In the last few years a community which ain't crowned some sort of a queen was considered queer, almost unorthodox. A picture of some girl gettin' crowned — doesn't

Today's Meditation

"FOLLOW ME"

I am the light of the world; he that followeth me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life. (John 8:12). Read John 1:1-14.

One of the persons most active and helpful in the work of distributing the Bible in Mexico is a woman who has been blind since childhood. The secretary of the Bible Society once asked her if she could remember seeing the light of the sun before she became blind. She replied: "I don't remember seeing the light of the sun, but I remember very well the moment in which the light of Christ entered my heart and dispersed all the darkness of sin."

This is a most striking testimony of the reality of the words of Christ: "He that followeth me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life". The darkness of physical blindness though pitiable and tragic, is not so great compared with the darkness of sin.

Thanks be to God who has not left us lost and abandoned in the midst of darkness. He has sent Christ, our Saviour, to us. If we turn to Him, we learn for ourselves that He is "the light of the world."

PRAYER

Our heavenly Father, out of grateful hearts we thank Thee for Christ. In the midst of the darkness of this world, we turn to Him and find our paths made bright, our spirits filled with hope. Help us to follow Him this day. In His name. Amen.

A Little Headwork Saves a Lot of Footwork

"I don't ever aim to give up fishing," Pappy Hayes said one day—"but the older I get the less I like hiking over to Pike's Creek. Guess I'll have to bring the fish nearer to me."

So Pappy got his nephew to bulldoze down about three acres of bottom land. Then he dammed up the little stream there.

He wrote the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, in Washington, and got some "blue gills" and bass to stock it—free. Pappy's idea wound up giving him (and us) just about the best fishing pond in the county . . . right in his own back yard.

From where I sit, Pappy may be older than some of us but his mind is active—and open. He's ready to listen to anybody with an idea. That's why he and I can talk on any subject—sometimes about his preference for buttermilk and mine for beer. And though we disagree, we respect each other's opinion. That's neighborliness without a "catch" to it.

INSECTICIDE EFFECTS ON SOIL

How often and for how long can some of the new chemical insecticides be applied to the land without damaging crop yields?

The answer to this serious question is being sought by both Texas and federal plant pathologists. Their eventual conclusions may bring about a re-arrangement of crop spraying procedures.

After five years of working with a wide range and amounts of insecticides, including some excessive dosages, some chemicals have been found to remain surprisingly toxic in the soil. The effects of others were relatively mild. An unusual heavy dosage of a popular brand was applied on a test plot of one acre in 1945. To date, the insecticide has lost very little of its toxic effect. We also know now that smaller amount applied to crops as needed to control insects' accumulate in the soil over the years.

The crops found most sensitive to this build-up in the soil are truck garden produce. Growth of some of these crops was reduced as repeated heavy dosages accumulated in the soil, or as increasingly large amounts were applied.

These research findings indicate that heavy, continuous use on the same land of the more stable insecticides may not be a good practice. The farmer should be especially careful to avoid careless, excessive, or improper use of chemicals.

DDT, the first and most widely used of the post war insecticides, was studied more extensively than others. It was found that an application of about 30 pounds per acre per year could build up soil accumulations in 5 years that would damage the more sensitive plants.

Limited trials showed technical BHC to be less stable and lasting than DDT, but because of its high toxicity to plants in the soil, it is capable of forming damaging accumulations if used too frequently at heavy rates. Toxaphene and parathion, however, were found to be so unstable in the soil that they are not expected to accumulate to a harmful degree if recommended practices are followed.

Until further test are completed, farmers are strongly urged to strictly follow instructions set forth by manufacturers of insecticides. Any chemical can be a boon or curse to agriculture, depending upon how it is used.

Dismal Outlook For Panhandle Wheat Reported

PLAINVIEW (Special) — The South Plains-Panhandle wheat picture, as well as the one for the rest of grain producing Texas, is pretty dismal as painted by grain men that met here Saturday as guests of the Harvest Queen Mill and Elevator Co.

Fred Dines, Amarillo, wheat marketing specialist for the Texas A & M Extension Service, told the group he doubted if Texas would make 20,000,000 bushels of wheat this year.

Wheat prospects are so poor in the Plainview territory that no one has attempted to estimate this year's harvest. Low acreage and drought have cut the prospects to the lowest point in a number of years, wheat experts stated.

Some Hope Seen

Dines said the Vernon, Crowell, Seymour, Denton and Wichita Falls areas may produce good crops.

But the Panhandle - South Plains area, which normally produces 70 percent of Texas wheat, offers a contrasting prospect, Dines noted.

Drought has taken its toll in most 14 seriously damaged most in the Spearman region. Dines' views were confirmed by R. I. Cross, agriculture agent for the Panhandle-Santa Fe Railroad.

Bugs Under Control

Cross said he doubted if Texas would harvest 20 million bushels because of the large acreage abandoned on the High Plains, although the rest of the state could come through to bring the total to 25,000,000 bushels.

The poor prospects for wheat have not lessened activities of the Pan-Tech Farms near Amarillo according to Don Ashdown, director of green bug research. Green bug has naturally been for the driving YOU do!

This year's Chevrolet brings you the most important gain in economy in Chevrolet history. And it's the kind of everyday economy that saves you money wherever and however you drive!

Inch along through heavy traffic. Roll up the miles in steady highway cruising. Long trips or short errands, byroads or boulevards, you get far more miles per gallon in this great new Chevrolet.

New high-compression power is the reason. Both the new 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine in Powerglide models—and the advanced 108-h.p. "Thrifty-King" engine in gearshift models—deliver more power on less gasoline. Acceleration and hill-climbing ability are greater, fuel consumption is lower!

This is the kind of economy that counts the most—important gasoline savings for the driving you do, together with lower over-all costs of upkeep. And along with it, you enjoy all the other advantages that only the new Chevrolet offers you. Come in and see for yourself!

*Combination of 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine and Powerglide automatic transmission available on "Two Ten" and Bel Air models only.

"Titanic" Story Begins 4-Day Run At Valley Sunday

The tragic sinking of the "Titanic", a British luxury ship on its maiden voyage to the United States in 1912 with the loss of 1500 lives is depicted in the picture "Titanic" which will be shown at the Valley Theatre Theatre in Muleshoe June 7, 8, 9 and 10, according to announcement of Mrs. Hertha Walker, theatre manager.

"This gripping and suspenseful factual drama of the sinking of the Titanic will leave a profound impression on all who see it. A moving and memorable moviegoing experience", Mrs. Walker says.

The great ship narrowly missed a huge iceberg near Newfoundland, but an unseen rib of the berg lying underwater ripped the side of the Titanic. Only 712 persons were saved.

Clifton Webb and Barbara Stanwyck take leading roles in the film, but there are a score or more great names in the cast, including Robert Wagner, Audrey Dalton, Thelma Ritter, Brian Aherne, Richard Basehart, Alyn Joslyn, James Todd, and many others.

The show will be here four days beginning Sunday.
