OHS Counselor defends contract

BY MELISSA PERNER
THE OZONA STOCKMAN

Defending her position and program, OHS Counselor Leanna Childress spoke to the CCCSD School Board during their Oct. 17 regular meeting.

Childress addressed the board in open forum/public comment. She said that she was recently approached by OHS Principal Tammy McWilliams with a new contract from Superintendent Chris duBois that stated she was a teacher, not counselor.

During the board's July 16 meeting, the board approved changing Childress's contract to counselor.

At the July meeting, McWilliams said Childress would not be a full-time school counselor, but that she would be teaching, counseling and helping with test coordinating.

No additional funding was needed for the position, Childress said.

"Two years ago I became a school counselor. I am not surrendering my title as school counselor. That's what I do. I'm a counselor who teaches. I see more students a week than any regular teacher in our school. We do fun stuff. We do activities. I'm there for them and I will continue to be there for them," she said. "I went to school with many of you. I've taught a lot of kids. I'm passionate about our school and community."

Lions fall to Punchers

BY MELISSA PERNER
THE OZONA STOCKMAN

LION STADIUM - For the first half, the Ozona Lions looked like they were going to give the Mason Punchers a close game.

However, the tide quickly turned as the defending state champions managed to rack up a 43-6 win over the Lions Friday night.

"It was no secret we were going to have to play a very disciplined football game in order to compete with a good Mason team," said Coach Ray Brown.

The Lions defense held the Punchers to only six points in the first quarter.

In the second quarter, Mason would add another touchdown, but the Lions would then get on the board with an 6-yard touchdown run by Quarterback Jayton Rodriguez.

Ozona had another chance to score at the end of the first half, but the Punchers picked off a pass with seconds left on the clock.

Heated battle in CD-23 getting lots of attention

BY JAY ROOT
TEXAS TRIBUNE

SAN ANTONIO — Texas Republicans are used to playing offense — and winning — but in the sprawling 23rd Congressional District, they have a fight on their hands.

Two years ago, Francisco "Quico" Canseco rode the Tea Party wave to Washington after defeating the Democratic incumbent. Now he faces a challenge from state Rep. Pete Gallego, D-Alpine, who has served in the Legislature for 22 years.

The district, larger than Mississippi, stretches from San Antonio to El Paso and encompasses 800 miles of the Texas-Mexico border and includes Crockett County. It has the unusual distinction of being both overwhelmingly Hispanic (66 percent) and almost

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Former maintenance director explains resignation

Dear Editor,

Letter to the Editor, I came here almost three years ago hoping to improve my situation and if everything went right finish my career. The first few months were everything I had hoped they would be, bigger challenges and new people to work with and common goals to strive toward. Sadly, things changed very quickly beginning with the departure of the Athletic Director in 2010. It is true that this person was and still is a good friend of mine so I guess some might think my opinion is biased when it comes to the circumstances leading up to his departure.

I only mention this because it is at this time that certain elements within School District and community decided they were going to force a change in this School Districts administration because of the circumstances that surrounded this situation.

I often hear as one of the reasons for replacing this Superintendent is low morale among the employees. I've worked with a lot of different people in the military and in my 15 years working in school districts.

Morale is always a problem when changes are needed and in my opinion this school district for whatever reason put off making these tough decisions it needed to make.

I do agree that to a certain degree there is a morale problem. What I disagree with is the reason some people would like you to believe is causing the low morale. The reason in my opinion is directly related to the way some elements of the current school board operates and is influenced by people outside of the district.

Their agenda is to undermine this administration whenever it can and then point to it as some sort of failure in leadership by either the Superintendent or another administrator or manager.

It is because of this targeted harassment that I have witnessed and been the target of that after 15 years of working in the education system I can no longer place my future in the hands of people who put their interest above what is good for the students and staff of this school district. I have reluctantly submitted my resignation effective Oct. 17.

It is my hope that this letter will raise awareness on what is really going on inside the school district and start a conversation on the best way to move forward. I fear if nothing is done this school district will most certainly lose some of the very qualified people that are needed to provide the education that students here deserve.

Breast Cancer Awareness

Twenty-five years ago, the word "cancer" was often spoken in a whisper, as if saying it out loud invited the disease. Americans then considered a death sentence.

That silence was deadly. Physicians have long understood that early detection was the key to successful treatment of breast cancer. To slow the growth in breast cancer fatalities, someone had to teach women to examine their breasts for suspicious lumps - and do it without blushing.

Those changes in behavior had to begin with increased public understanding, and thus launched Breast Cancer Awareness Month, born 25 years ago on Oct. 1. Backers of that effort not only adopted a color. Since then, everything has been coming up pink, from lapel ribbons to cereal boxes, NFL players' shoes and gloves, the wreath hanging on our courthouse and the sea of pink at Lion Stadium Friday night.

One of the unofficial mantras of breast cancer fighters and survivors is "Everyone knows someone." Whether it's a mother, aunt, neighbor, friend, nephew, co-worker, child, or teacher, chances are there are far fewer than six degrees of separation between every living American and breast cancer.

Just this month, I've had two friends diagnosed with breast cancer.

About 1 in 8 U.S. women (just under 12 percent) will develop invasive breast cancer over the course of her lifetime, according to breastcancer.org.

In 2011, an estimated 230,480 new cases of invasive breast cancer were expected to be diagnosed in women in the U.S., along with 57,650 new cases of non-invasive (in situ) breast cancer.

More than 192,000 Americans will learn they have breast cancer this year alone. More than 40,000 people will die from it. Literally millions (an estimated 2.5 million) of women are alive today who either have or had breast cancer.

Many of these women can be found right here in Crockett County.

Increased awareness initially resulted in a higher rate of breast cancer diagnosis, but early detection has helped reduce sharply the fatality rate. From 1998 to 2005, the number of breast cancer deaths in women fell by 1.8 percent per year. Recent statistics show that 98 percent of women diagnosed with cancer confined to the breast are alive five years later. That's one of the reasons why, 25 years ago, this month was created. The goal was, and still is, to educate women about early breast cancer detection, diagnosis, and treatment.

WHAT'S ON MY MIND

Mammography screenings are a woman's best chance for detecting breast cancer early.

When coupled with new treatment options, mammography screenings can significantly improve a woman's chances of survival. Death rates from breast cancer are going down.

Women must take control of their own breast health - educate themselves, do self-exams and schedule regular mammograms. In fact, pick up the phone and schedule one today.

Awareness is part of the cure, as demonstrated by the higher breast cancer rates among women who have immigrated to the U.S. Such women often believe cancer is a death sentence, not a curable illness, public health officials say, and they don't have access to good health insurance.

When forced to choose between an expensive mammogram and putting food on the table, many low-income women put their own health last.

While most states require insurance companies to cover diagnostic mammograms for women over 40 at a reduced rate, that doesn't help the millions of women who have no health insurance.

For everyone touched by breast cancer - and that covers most everyone - the awareness promoted by pink ribbons and pink newspapers is important every October.

Show your support this month for the millions of women - and men, too - who have been touched by breast cancer.

Step Up America

IT'S THE PITTS

LEE PITTS

Recently I had to look up the phone number for traffic court and while I was on hold for the better part of a day I had time to thumb through the city, county, state and federal government sections of the phone book. There were listings for everything from A to Z, from alcoholic services to a zoo. (Why is the government serving alcohol?) It dawned on me that with our government's gushing red ink we simply can't afford to continue to fund graffiti hotlines and Cantonese translators.

There were phone numbers for street sweeping, adult sports, golf courses and, of course, traffic court. (I'd get rid of that one right now!) There's also a phone number for a flood control agency, even though it hasn't flooded in my neck of the woods since 1969. I wonder what those folks have been doing to keep themselves occupied these past 40 years? Then there's a phone number for the Adopt-A-Highway program in which people volunteer to pick up trash along our highways. As bad as our roads are getting I'd say to heck with the bottles and cheeseburger wrappers, it's time to really adopt a highway by trading in their trash bags for a shovel and a wheelbarrow and start patching holes and building bridges.

Under listings for our county there were things like food stamps, DUI schools and smoking classes. Now I ask you, do we really need to be teaching people how to smoke? And what does a department called "Affirming Family Empowerment" do? There were several listings for fire departments and it occurred to me that perhaps the time has come to go back to volunteer departments. My Grandfather eventually got paid five bucks for every fire he fought as Chief and I think maybe we could afford that.

There were also several listings for things like Lead Abatement, Hazmat, and Bomb Disposal. Because our prisons are costing way too much I suggest we take every prisoner convicted of child molestation and send them out to defuse bombs and clean up hazardous spills. We could replace the Solid Waste department with politicians since it's something they know a lot about. I'd also look into replacing Parks and Recreation Departments with convicted pot heads. If they want to smoke grass they'd have to mow it too. I'd leave the air traffic controllers in place though because you really don't want some pot smoker telling airplanes when and where to land.

While on hold I came up with a program I call "Step Up America" in which people with special skills will replace government employees by working for free. For instance, we could get rid of immunization programs by asking cowboys to give the shots. I'd get rid of jury duty and instead everyone would take a turn being a Judge-For-A-Day. Those lucky enough to draw a spot on the Supreme Court couldn't do any worse than what we have now and look at the money we'd save. We could hire fewer teachers by asking professionals to teach at least one day once every school year for free.

We simply cannot afford programs listed in my phone book like the Barbering and Cosmetology Program, the lottery and special translators for people who don't speak English. Evidently they can call a translator to learn how they can get government services. I say if they can't speak English they don't get food stamps. I wouldn't fire the translators, however, instead I'd put them to work translating the Indians and Chinese at phone centers who are supposedly speaking English when we call for help.

I'd stimulate the post office by having our mail sorted and delivered by all the convicted crystal meth users and speed freaks. We'd get our mail in a day! As for the Immigration Office and Wildlife Services, we can kill two birds with one stone, so to speak. I'd quit turning wolves and mountain lions loose to terrorize and I'd take their radio collars and place them on illegal alien drug pushers so we'd keep track of them instead.

Let's face it folks, we're broke and the time has come to Step Up America!

Record number of Texans register to vote

AUSTIN — Secretary of State Hope Andrade, the state's chief elections officer, on Oct. 19 announced Texas reached a historical peak in the number of registered voters on her election division's "official list of registered voters."

As of Oct. 19, Andrade said, Texas had 13,646,226 registered voters, the highest number in state history. Oct. 9 was the last day to register to vote in the Nov. 6 general election. Early voting began Oct. 22 and runs through Nov. 2, and voters may cast a ballot at any polling place in their county during the period.

JUDGE PUTS POLICY ON HOLD

Hardin County State District Judge Steven Thomas on Oct. 18 granted a temporary injunction preventing Kountze Independent School District and its superintendent from stopping cheerleaders from displaying banners or run-through signs that have religious references on them at school sports events.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Ed Sterling | Texas Press Association

Plaintiffs, the parents of cheerleaders, argued that the school district's policy prohibiting religious expression at school events violated their minor children's constitutional right to freedom of expression.

A trial is scheduled for June 24, 2013, in Thomas' 356th state District Court.

Unemployment rate drops Texas Workforce Commission on Oct. 19 reported Texas' seasonally adjusted unemployment rate fell to 6.8 percent in September, down from 7.1 percent in August.

Texas added 21,000 seasonally adjusted nonfarm jobs in September for a total of 262,700 jobs added since last year, the Commission reported, and the state's unemployment rate is down more than a point, from 7.9 percent a year ago.

"We saw encouraging signs in our state's labor market in September and a decrease in the unemployment rate last month," said Texas Workforce Commission Chairman Andres Alcantar. "Texas continues to add jobs and we now have a record number of people employed in our state."

The U.S. Department of Labor Statistics calculated the national unemployment rate at 7.8 percent for the month of September.

CALL MADE FOR HIGHER PAY

At its Oct. 19 meeting, the Texas Public Safety Commission - the body that oversees the Texas Department of Public Safety - signaled unanimous support for increasing the base salary for state highway patrol troopers.

According figures in a recent report by the Office of the State Auditor, trooper pay would have to increase at least 20 percent to be competitive with compensation at the seven largest local law enforcement departments in the state.

The commission and Texas Department of Public Safety Director Steven McCraw plan to work during the 2013 legislative session with lawmakers to bring about a pay increase for troopers.

De La Garza competes for Miss Jr. Pre-Teen Dallas

Cambree De La Garza, of Forney, was recently selected to participate in the 2012 Miss Jr. Pre-Teen Dallas pageant competition that will take place on Sunday, Nov. 4. Cambree learned of her acceptance into this year's competition when the pageant announced their selections following interviewing in the local Dallas area. Cambree submitted an application and took part in an interview session that was conducted by this year's Dallas Pageant Coordinator. She is the granddaughter of Allan and Carolyn Stover of Ozona. Cambree will be competing, for her share of thousands of dollars in prizes and specialty gifts that will be distributed to contestants. Cambree will be competing in the Miss Jr. Pre-Teen division, one of four divisions that will have young ladies ages of 7 and 19 competing in modeling routines, which include casual wear and formal wear. Most important, Cambree will display her personality and interviewing skills while interviewing with this year's Dallas judging panel. Personality is the number one aspect that each contestant is judged on during all phases of competition. If Cambree were to win the title of Miss Jr. Pre-Teen Dallas, she would represent Dallas and the surrounding communities at the National Competition that will take place in Orlando, Fla. Over $30,000 in prizes and awards will be presented at the National Competition while each winner enjoys this expense paid trip of five nights and six days in Orlando. Community businesses, organizations and private individuals will assist Cambree in participating in this year's competition by becoming an official sponsor to her. Through sponsorship, each contestant receives all the necessary training, rehearsals, and financial support which will allow Cambree to become a very confident and well-prepared contestant in this year's Dallas Pageant. ## Quilting Thursday mornings

BY BRENDA NEWTON
SENIOR CENTER DIRECTOR

Well, I goofed! Surprise, surprise.

I put in the paper last week that we were quilting on Tuesday morning. Wrong! We are quilting at 9:30 a.m. Thursdays.

Guess how many came to quilting Thursday morning? Just one, Audry.

Bless her heart, she knew it was on Thursday and she said she didn't notice the Tuesday. She and I had a good time.

Come Thursday at 9:30 a.m. and find out what plans we made.

E.A. Wadsworth RN came Thursday afternoon and led a group in balance exercises. She said she would like to try a little more leg work so we decided it would be fun to put it to music.

Music adds fun to most anything.

Come on Tuesdays and Thursday at 2 p.m. and find out what we are going to do.

Jim will be here with the Agency on Aging. He has answers about social security and many other things you might be interested in asking about.

Don't forget the two-mile walk on Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 8 a.m.

We have bridge on Mondays at 1:30 p.m. and Mexican Train at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Also, remember that we have the Wii system here. I challenge you to a bowling game.

The start of flu season means it's time for vaccination

With flu season officially underway, the Texas Department of State Health Services urges everyone at least 6 months old to get vaccinated against the flu.

A vaccination now will provide protection throughout the flu season, which runs through May.

"Flu is very unpredictable," said DSHS Commissioner Dr. David Lakey. "We don't know exactly what this flu season will look like, but we do know the flu is circulating in Texas and getting vaccinated is the best way to protect yourself and your family."

The Centers for Disease

Control and Prevention recommends everyone 6 months old or older be vaccinated against seasonal flu. The CDC also says that children under age 9 who are getting the flu vaccine for the first time should get two doses at least four weeks apart.

The flu is caused by various influenza viruses. Symptoms include fever, coughing, sore throat, aches, chills and fatigue.

Most healthy people recover without problems, but people 65 and over, pregnant women, young children and people with chronic health conditions are at higher risk for serious complications and even death. It is especially important for people in those high-risk groups to be vaccinated.

In addition to getting vaccinated, people should help stop the spread of the flu and other illnesses by covering all coughs and sneezes, washing their hands frequently and staying home when sick.

For more information, call the Family Health Center of Ozona at 392-3788 or dial 2-1-1 to find out where to get a flu shot.

Flu information and tips for protecting against the flu are at texasflu.org.

YOUR VOTE COUNTS

One of the neatest things the founders and crafters of our county did was design our government to be for and by the people. That means we have a say in who our leaders will be. Very shortly we will be faced again with the decision of which candidates to vote for. We should not vote for someone just because of their popularity, financial status, good looks or race. Christians should carefully pray and even fast, (Philippians 4:6&7, 1 Peter 3:12) that God would raise up good leaders and give us insight into which one we should vote for, (Acts 13:2&3, 14:23, Luke 6:12&13). A question we could ask is who will or most likely protect Christian values? We do not want the government in the Church or the Church in the government. But we do need freedom of religion. That does not mean it will be forced on others but we have the freedom to worship the God of our choice or to have no God at all. I cannot wait to vote not because of the candidates but because it is our privilege and freedom that our forefathers fought and died for. I would encourage all to go vote and I hope my God's candidate win. Remember Christians are to pray for our leaders whether we approve of them or not, (1 Timothy 2:1-3).

See you in Church next Sunday.

Brother J

Local responder attends Homeland Security Training

Emergency responder Lorelei M. Sorrell, from Pecos County Emergency Medical Services, recently completed training offered by the Center for Domestic Preparedness (CDP), in Anniston, Ala.

The CDP is operated by the United States Department of Homeland Security's Federal Emergency Management Agency and is the only federally-charged Weapons of Mass Destruction (WMD) training facility in the nation.

Sorrell attended Hospital Emergency Response Training for Mass Casualty Incidents with hands-on training for CBRNE incidents from Sept. 24-28.

The CDP develops and delivers advanced training for emergency response providers, emergency managers and other government officials from state, local and tribal governments.

The CDP offers more than 50 training courses focusing on incident management, mass casualty response and emergency response to a catastrophic natural disaster or terrorist act.

Training at the CDP campus is federally funded at no cost to state, local and tribal emergency response professionals or their agency.

Resident training at the CDP includes health care and public health courses at the Noble Training Facility, the nation's only hospital dedicated to training health care professionals in disaster preparedness and response.

A number of resident training courses culminate at the CDP's Chemical, Ordnance, Biological and Radiological Training Facility (COBRA). The COBRA is the nation's only facility featuring civilian training exercises in a true toxic environment using chemical agents. The advanced hands-on training enables responders to effectively prevent, respond to and recover from real world incidents involving acts of terrorism and other hazardous materials.

Responders participating in CDP training gain critical skills and confidence to respond effectively to local incidents or potential WMD events.

OES Third Grade experiences McDonald Observatory

Ozona Elementary School Third Grade students participated in the McDonald Observatory's Astronomy Day on Oct. 18.

Through a video conference session, the students joined 700 others from around the state, Louisiana, Georgia and Florida.

Ozona and Menard were two of the schools in West Texas that participated.

The event celebrated Astronomy Day and the International Year of The Solar System.

NASA has proclaimed 2012 as the International Year of The Solar System.

Students made live observations of the Sun using McDonald telescopes, participated in a fun and yet simple activity related to the early formation of the Solar System, and ask their questions to facilitator Marc Wetzel.

The video conference session aligned with TEKS for grades K-12.

OES THIRD-GRADERS experienced McDonald Observatory on Astronomy Day on Oct. 18 through a video conference. Students learned about the sun and got to see some of the observatory located near Fort Davis.

The conference was made possible through Connect2Texas, Meyer Levy Charitable Foundation, Beal Foundation, Hillcrest Foundation and anonymous donors.

Special thanks to CCCSD Technology Director Keith Harmsen for setting up the video conference for the students and teachers.

McDonald Observatory is located in Fort Davis, Texas and is part of the University of Texas System.

"Special teams play and turnovers hurt us in the first half, but we still had a chance to only go in at half down by a touchdown. We didn't get in the right formation on the Mason pick with 48 seconds left in the half and it put Jayton (Rodriguez) in an awkward throwing position,"

Brown said. "I could have put us in a better play. I rushed it trying to preserve our last time out. I think a score there really helps our mind set coming back after half."
Mistakes just kept coming for the Lions in the second half as the Punchers capitalized and moved the ball quickly.
"Offensively we couldn't find a way to move the ball in the second half, and if you give Mason's offense the ball enough times they will pound it down the field. They can just wear you down with their size and physical play," Brown said.

Rodriguez was 13-16 for 94 yards and two interceptions. Blake Morrow had two carries for 26 yards and Daniel Gonzales caught four passes for 35 yards.
Ozona is now 5-2, 1-1 in district play going into Friday's game against Harper. The Longhorns are still looking for their district win coming off of big losses to Mason and Brackett.

"Our biggest challenge this week is to put the Mason game behind us and look forward. Harper is playing some young kids much like we did last year, but they will play tough at home," Brown said.
Kickoff is 7:30 p.m. Friday at Harper.

OMS Lions run through Punchers

The OMS Lions traveled to Mason and came home with a 34-14 win.
The Lions started off on defense but quickly went to offense when on the second play of the game Cade Hardy would cause a fumble that would be recovered by Jose Martinez and the Lions.
Offense would take the field. The Lions would take four plays to get into the end zone, after runs by Aiden Fierro, Jadon Perez, and Matthew Scheel.
Thomas Fay would get into the end zone and the two-point conversion would fail giving the Lions a 6-0 lead.
The Lions defense would again cause a turnover as Thomas Fay would intercept the Puncher pass and get the offense back on the field.
Again multiple backs would carry the ball for the Lions setting up an Aiden Fierro 22-yard touchdown run, behind a key block from Garry Held. Thomas Fay would add the two-point conversion making the score 14-0.
The next Lions score would come from the defense as Matthew Scheel would intercept the Puncher Quarterback and find the end zone from 65 yards out behind great blocks from Preston McCutchen, Aiden Fierro and Hunter Smith.

Mark Ybarra would attempt the two-point conversion but would be stop just short of the goal line making the score 20-0.
Mason would answer with a score, but the offensive line, made up of Weston Fay, Caleb Martinez, Cade Hardy, Jose Martinez, Ornelo Meza, and Gage Glidewell, would again open holes for our backs and lead Matthew Scheel into the end zone from 15 yards out.
Aiden Fierro would add the two-point conversion making the score 28-6 at halftime.
"We were very proud of the way the guys came out and played after the long bus trip. We had very few mistakes and played with a lot of confidence and determination," said Coach John Esparza.
In the second half, the Lions would get right back to it as the first play would see Aiden Fierro find Thomas Fay for a 45-yard touchdown pass and Weston Fay would attempt the extra point that would hit the upright and bounce out making the score

Mason would score again late in the game but the Lions would make some great defensive plays, by Rigo Gonzalez, Kobe Rodriguez, Tim Maldonado, and Mark Ybarra.
"This was another great team win as everyone had a big hand in the victory. We talked all week about making plays when you get a chance, not always about scoring touchdowns or getting sacks but making that one extra block or causing a pile that gives others a chance to make a play. We did a great job of that playing team football in every aspect of the game," Esparza said.
Others contributing to the victory were: Thomas Cruz, Juan Mendez, Brandon Jara, Alberto Rodriguez, Jessie Ramos, Greg De Hoyos, Murray Logan, Jacob Schroeder and Ryan Ramos.

of Texas' population, and they are expected to outnumber whites before the next census in 2020. Both parties are trying to win their loyalties in Texas, and this year CD-23 is ground zero — awash with outside money and national party anxiety. Democrats and their allies, convinced that Canseco's Tea Party views make him an outlier in the state's only congressional swing district, are pouring money into the race.

The Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee has sunk $1.3 million into the race so far, and the League of Conservation Voters has spent $1 million trying to take out the Republican incumbent, records from the Center for Responsive Politics show.

Canseco is leaving nothing to chance.

During campaign swings last week, he exhorted Republican activists to man phone banks, walk door to door and spread his message that Democrats want to inflict "European-style socialism" on the United States.

"This is a tough race, a very tough race," Canseco said during one campaign stop. "I can't win it without you."

The National Republican Congressional Committee has matched the $1.3 million spent by its Democratic counterpart in the district, and Canseco has outraised his opponent by $1 million, records show.

The air war has fallen along mostly predictable rhetorical lines. Gallego is portraying Canseco as an "extremist" who would dismantle the social safety net. Canseco says Gallego is a "radical" bent on destroying the pro-business climate and undermining traditional family values. Both sides allege their records are being distorted.

It has surprised no one that things have turned nasty, but one advertisement stands out. Canseco's campaign distributed a mailer that used both an image of Jesus Christ, an infant and a picture of two men kissing — all to highlight what the congressman says is Gallego's liberal record on abortion and gay rights.

Predictably, the ad has sparked a firestorm of controversy.

Gallego, a devout Catholic, says the mailer is inaccurate and inflammatory and is demanding an apology. And now even a few Republicans — a current legislator and two former ones, have flocked to his side.

"Jesus should not be a prop for any campaign," said state Rep. Burt Solomons, R-Carrollton, who is not seeking re-election.

Canseco is unbowed. His campaign manager, Scott Yeldell, accused Gallego of trying to score points by "acting like he stands up for the faith he abandoned years ago." The Gallego campaign called the statement "vile and disgusting."

The picture of Jesus in the Canseco mailer sits next to a block of text that says, "Three times they said NO TO GOD." The mailer attempts to associate Gallego with efforts to remove the word "God" from the party's platform at the Democratic National Convention last month in Charlotte, N.C.

Gallego noted that he did not attend the party's convention and said he supported the ultimately successful effort to restore the language.

The picture of the baby and the two men are designed to illustrate differences between the two candidates on the hot-button topics of abortion and gay marriage. Canseco notes that the National Abortion Rights Action League, or NARAL, gave Gallego a "100 percent pro-abortion rating" and said Gallego favored gay marriage.

In both cases, Gallego said the ad distorts his views.

NARAL scores each legislative session, and the group has given Gallego a 100 percent rating for some of them. But in others, the group has given him a score as low as 55 percent.

The Alpine Democrat favors abortion rights for women, but he voted for the law that gives parents a say in whether their minor children can undergo the procedure. He voted against a constitutional amendment banning gay marriage, but released a statement at the time — along with former Rep. Jim Dunnam, D-Waco — that said he opposed same-sex marriage rights but opposed the amendment because it could ban civil unions, according to the House journal from April 25, 2005.

"I fully agree that the institution of marriage should be limited to one man and one woman," the statement read. "However, in its continuing zeal to protect the institution of marriage, the legislature now infringes on the contractual rights of both men and women. For example, common-law marriages between men and women are in essence civil unions — but the Chisum Amendment bans civil unions between men and women — and not solely between individuals of the same sex. This is an unnecessary and improper governmental intrusion into the rights of individuals."

Canseco describes himself as pro-life and says he is opposed to legalizing gay marriage, but his campaign did not respond to repeated queries about whether he would allow any exceptions for abortion or if he opposes gay civil unions. Visitors to Canseco's website retrieve an error page when they click on the "Issues" button.

While policy issues and ads have gotten most of the attention in the race, they may not be the determining factor.

Larry Hufford, a political science professor at St. Mary's University in San Antonio, said he doubted Canseco would resort to such an "incredibly ugly" ad if he were not worried about losing his seat. But he said the "Jesus ad" — or any of their ads, for that matter — probably wouldn't move the needle in a sharply divided electorate.

"Ultimately, I think the winner is going to be determined by the presidential turnout," Hufford said. "And it's close."

Childress said she addressed the board because she was told they would be discussing her contract during executive/closed session later in the meeting.

"I hope and I would ask that you would agree I am a school counselor," Childress said.

The agenda for the board meeting did list consider professional contracts for 2012-2013 in executive/closed session.

The board met in executive/closed session for around 40 minutes but took no action in open session on Childress's contract, which means she keeps her counselor contract.

Action that the board did take after the executive/closed session was to accept the resignation of Director of Special and Federal Programs Kim Niehus effective Dec. 21.

The board also approved the hiring of Bill McGinnis, of Boerne, as high school special education teacher for the remainder of the 2012-2013 school year.

DARE PROGRAM

In the District Spotlight portion of the meeting, Crockett County Sheriff's Deputy Tara Carey talked to the board about the DARE Drug Prevention Program she is teaching to Ozona Fifth-Graders this semester.

Carey said the program has a new 10-week curriculum, talks about risk and consequences, internet safety, prescription drugs, bullying, peer pressure, alcohol and tobacco.

In order to graduate, the students have to write a DARE report, stay drug-free, make a pledge to not bully, have good attendance and keep up with their planners.

There are also activities for parents, Carey said.

"I really enjoy the kids and I hope to get the program in other grades," Carey said.

OES Counselor Katie Parker said the program has been a positive addition to the school and partners perfectly with Red Ribbon Week, Oct. 22-26.

"She (Carey) is making connections with our kids," said OES Principal Amanda Jackson.

OTHER AGENDA ITEMS APPROVED

• Three budget amendments to finish flooring in school housing, technology and conversion of the portable buildings into school housing apartments.

• Changes and revisions to board policy updates.

• Resolution of the Board of Trustees Crockett County Consolidated Common School District Eminent Domain Authority.

• Appointment of Chase McPhaul, Crockett County Extension Agent, as an adjunct faculty member of CCCSD.

FUTURE MEETINGS

The board will hold their regular meeting and canvass the Nov. 6 election on Nov. 14 at the Administration Building.

CERT meeting Tuesday at Crockett Room

The Crockett County Community Emergency Response Team will be conducting training for anyone interested in becoming a member of CERT.

Anyone interested plan on meeting on Oct. 30 at 6:30 p.m. at the Crockett Room.

use, landscaping, and commercial business use.

First National Bank of Sonora changes name to Sonora Bank

SONORA, Texas - The First National Bank of Sonora, which began operation in Sonora, Texas in 1900 and currently has two branches in San Angelo, Texas and one in Boerne, Texas, is changing its name to Sonora Bank effective Oct. 9.

According to Bob Malone, President and CEO, the reason for the name change was to better erect both the heritage of the original bank, the unity of our strong community banks, and the growth we have experienced in the markets we serve.

Malone said, "our new name, Sonora Bank, reassures our customers that we are one bank under one name and reminds us all of the bank's roots."

Along with the name change, Sonora Bank will have a new and improved website and an additional mobile banking services from their eBanking department.

Customers logging in to the bank's website using the old website address will be automatically redirected to the new website address: www.sonorabank.com.

The one thing that didn't change as a result of the name changes was the bank's personnel.

Malone said, "our name has changed...our faces haven't."

For questions or more information, call the bank at (325) 387-3861 or come by any of their branch locations.

KIDS KICK OFF ANTI-DRUG WEEK

More than 1,200 Texas fifth grade students from Austin, Corpus Christi, Dallas, Houston and San Antonio gathered at the state Capitol to declare that "drugs don't make sense," the theme of this year's Texas Red Ribbon Rally.

The rally kicked off Red Ribbon Week, a national campaign observed Oct. 23-31 that uses school and community events to teach millions of students about the dangers of drug abuse.

Part of the program was a mock legislative session in the House and Senate chambers, where students debated and voted on drug and alcohol related resolutions they drafted in advance.

A recent survey by the Texas Department of State Health Services and Texas A&M University's Public Policy Research Institute shows that the use of tobacco, alcohol and illegal drugs is declining among Texas youth.

SADLER - CRUZ DEBATE AGAIN

Republican Ted Cruz and Democrat Paul Sadler engaged in their second and final televised debate on Oct. 19, each seeking to succeed U.S. Sen. Kay Bailey Hutchison of Dallas, who is retiring from office at the end of her term on Dec. 31.

Among topics on the table were tax reform, immigration reform, taxation, health care and foreign policy. The tenor of the second debate was less heated than the first, yet sharp differences between the two over the range of issues, and the federal Affordable Health Care Act and how to spread the tax burden in particular, were notable.

GALENA PARK SENATOR DIES

State Sen. Mario V. Gallegos Jr., D-Galena Park, died Oct. 16. Gallegos, 62, was a retired Houston firefighter. He served two terms as a state representative before he was elected to the Senate in 1994. He was reelected to the Senate Dist. 6 seat in 2002 and 2008.

Gallegos is credited as the first Hispanic to serve as a senator for part of Harris County. He was regarded for his advocacy of firefighters, police, teachers and elder citizens.

PUBLIC NOTICES

Texas Commission on Environmental Quality

NOTICE OF RECEIPT OF APPLICATION AND INTENT TO OBTAIN AIR PERMIT RENEWAL PERMIT NUMBER 9824A

APPLICATION Belvan Corp., has applied to the Texas Commission on Environmental Quality (TCEQ) for renewal of Air Quality Permit Number 9824A, which would authorize continued operation of a Natural Gas Treating and Liquids Recovery Facility. The applicant provided the following driving directions: From Ozona approximately 20.0 miles northwest on Highway 137 then 6.0 miles east on Highway 190, Ozona, Crockett County, Texas 76943. This link to an electronic map of the site or facility's general location is provided as a public courtesy and not part of the application or notice. For exact location, refer to application. <http://www.tceq.texas.gov/assets/public/hb610/index.html?lat=30.925&lng=-101.309166&zoom=13&type=r>

The existing facility and/or related facilities are authorized to emit the following air contaminants: particulate matter including particulate matter with diameters of 10 microns or less and 2.5 microns or less, carbon monoxide, sulfur dioxide, hydrogen sulfide, nitrogen oxides, and organic compounds.

This application was submitted to the TCEQ on October 3, 2012. The application will be available for viewing and copying at the TCEQ central office, TCEQ San Angelo regional office, and the Crockett County Public Library, 1201 Avenue G, Ozona, Crockett County, Texas, beginning the first day of publication of this notice. The facility's compliance file, if any exists, is available for public review in the San Angelo regional office of the TCEQ.

The executive director has determined the application is administratively complete and will conduct a technical review of the application. In addition to the renewal, this permitting action includes the incorporation of the following authorizations or changes to authorized facilities related to this permit: alterations, amendments, and permits by rule. An amendment application that is not subject to public notice or an opportunity for a contested case hearing is also being reviewed. The reasons for any changes or incorporations, to the extent they are included in the renewed permit, may include the enhancement of operational control at the plant or enforceability of the permit. For more information about this permit application or the permitting process, please call the Public Education Program toll free at 18006874040. The TCEQ may act on this application without seeking further public comment or providing an opportunity for a contested case hearing if certain criteria are met.

PUBLIC COMMENT You may submit public comments, or a request for a contested case hearing to the Office of the Chief Clerk at the address below. The TCEQ will consider all public comments in developing a final decision on the application. The deadline to submit public comments is 15 days after newspaper notice is published. After the deadline for public comments, the executive director will prepare a response to all relevant and material, or significant public comments. Issues such as property values, noise, traffic safety, and zoning are outside of the TCEQ's jurisdiction to address in the permit process. After the technical review is complete the executive director will consider the comments and prepare a response to all relevant and material, or significant public comments. If only comments are received, the response to comments, along with the executive director's decision on the application, will then be mailed to everyone who submitted public comments or who is on the mailing list for this application, unless the application is directly referred to a contested case hearing.

OPPORTUNITY FOR A CONTESTED CASE HEARING You may request a contested case hearing. The applicant or the executive director may also request that the application be directly referred to a contested case hearing after technical review of the application. A contested case hearing is a legal proceeding similar to a civil trial in state district court. Unless a written request for a contested case hearing is filed within 15 days from this notice, the executive director may act on the application. If no hearing request is received within this 15 day period, no further opportunity for hearing will be provided. According to the Texas Clean Air Act § 382.056(o) a contested case hearing may only be granted if the applicant's compliance history is in the lowest classification under applicable compliance history requirements and if the hearing request is based on disputed issues of fact that are relevant and material to the Commission's decision on the application. Further, the Commission may only grant a hearing on those issues raised during the public comment period and not withdrawn.

A person who may be affected by emissions of air contaminants from the facility is entitled to request a hearing. If requesting a contested case hearing, you must submit the following: (1) your name (or for a group or association, an official representative), mailing address, daytime phone number, and fax number, if any; (2) applicant's name and permit number; (3) the statement "I/we request a contested case hearing;" (4) a specific description of how you would be adversely affected by the application and air emissions from the facility in a way not common to the general public; (5) the location and distance of your property relative to the facility; and (6) a description of how you use the property which may be impacted by the facility. If the request is made by a group or association, the one or more members who have standing to request a hearing and the interests the group or association seeks to protect must also be identified. You may also submit your proposed adjustments to the application/permit which would satisfy your concerns. Requests for a contested case hearing must be submitted in writing within 15 days following this notice to the Office of the Chief Clerk at the address below.

If any requests for a contested case hearing are timely filed, the executive director will forward the application and any requests for a contested case hearing to the Commissioners for their consideration at a scheduled Commission meeting. Unless the application is directly referred to a contested case hearing, the executive director will mail the response to comments along with notification of Commission meeting to everyone who submitted comments or is on the mailing list for this application. If a hearing is granted, the subject of a hearing will be limited to disputed issues of fact relating to relevant and material air quality concerns raised during the comment period. Issues such as property values, noise, traffic safety, and zoning are outside of the Commission's jurisdiction to address in this proceeding.

MAILING LIST In addition to submitting public comments, you may ask to be placed on a mailing list for this application by sending a request to the Office of the Chief Clerk at the address below. Those on the mailing list will receive copies of future public notices (if any) mailed by the Office of the Chief Clerk for this application.

AGENCY CONTACTS AND INFORMATION Public comments and requests must be submitted either electronically at www.tceq.texas.gov/about/comments.html, or in writing to the Texas Commission on Environmental Quality, Office of the Chief Clerk, MC-105, P.O. Box 13087, Austin, Texas 78711-3087. If you communicate with the TCEQ electronically, please be aware that your email address, like your physical mailing address, will become part of the agency's public record.
