School board member called out for not paying taxes

BY MELISSA PERNER
THE OZONA STOCKMAN

A school board member was called out for owing money to the IRS during the Feb. 27 regular meeting. Local citizen Dan Pullen addressed the board during the public comment portion of the meeting, where he said Orlando DeHoyos has $220,000 in federal income taxes that he hasn't paid and four liens filed against him.

"I think Orlando should recuse himself from discussing school money including the budget and making financial decisions," Pullen said.

At the same time Pullen spoke, DeHoyos kept responding "come see me, come see me and stop standing behind an open forum" while other board members tried to get DeHoyos to stop speaking. Before a person speaks in open forum/public comment, a statement is read stating the rules a person must follow to speak before the board.

According to the statement, the board is forbidden by the Texas Open Meetings Act from discussing any topic raised or making any decision unless that matter is already on the agenda for that meeting.

The Texas Open Meetings Act does state that officials must limit any discussion to a proposal to place the subject on the agenda for a future meeting, or giving a statement of factual information or existing policy in response.

Report shows CCCSD safety, criminal activity

BY MELISSA PERNER
THE OZONA STOCKMAN

An annual report now gives insight to a school district's safety and criminal activity.

During the CCCSD School Board Feb. 27 regular meeting, the yearly public hearing for the 2011-2012 District Academic Excellence Indicator System (AEIS) report was presented.

This report typically shows how a district performs on standardized testing, graduation rates and gives a breakdown of each campus.

In addition, the report now contains a breakdown of criminal or violent activity.

For CCCSD, this report shows a relatively safe school district with 90 percent of campus incidents coming from general conduct violations, such as dress code, tardiness and absences.

The report states that last year OHS had one incident of a firearm on campus. Superintendent Chris duBois said that incident was a student having an unloaded gun in a vehicle.

Also at OHS, there was one incident of an illegal knife where a student had a machete in a vehicle.

Criminal mischief shows six at OMS and one at OHS, which was the vandalism of the intermediate school building, duBois said.

Other incidents include one terroristic threat at OHS, one controlled or

STATE BOUND: Two Lady Lions advance

The Lady Lions Powerlifting team competed in the Region 1, Division 3 Powerlifting Meet at Irion County High School on March 1.

The team placed 11th in a field of 35 teams.

Elizabeth Kennedy earned second place in the 105 pound class by lifting a total of 585 pounds and qualified for the State Meet.

Daisy Guerra placed fifth in the same weight class and her 565 pound total is the automatic qualifying total for the State Meet.

Ashley Vargas took fifth place in the 181 class and finished her Freshman season as a Regional medalist. Cynthia Garcia, Melissa Lozono and Noel Fierro represented the Lady Lions with great effort.

Medalist. It has been a fun group to coach," said Coach David Kennedy.

The State Meet will take place March 16 in Corpus Christi.

Take back the American Dream

We've decided the American Dream has died.

Gone are the days of our ancestors, who started from the bottom and worked their way up to success. We expect to start at the top.

Gone is the ambition that shone in the eyes of our grandparents for a better life for their families. We expect that life to fall into our laps.

Gone is the hunger for education that burned in the hearts of the generation before us. We expect we know enough to get by.

Gone is the firm faith that could never be taken away even when everything else was.

We expect that we can do things on our own.

And finally, gone is the patience for love

THE SCOOP

that lingered in every hopeful heart of the youth. We expect to find love the first time or not at all.

Yet, just as we have let these things go, can we not be the generation to bring these principles back? If trends in music, fashion, and entertainment are so easily brought back from the brink of extinction, why can't we bring back the culture that made this nation so powerful in the first place?

CHRIS CANTU is an intern with The Ozona Stockman and a junior at Ozona High School.

Voter registration should be online

Senate Bill 315, one of the first bills I filed for the 83rd session, would add voter registration to the increasing number of government services and functions available online, making it more convenient for Texans to participate in the electoral process.

Currently 12 states offer online paperless voter registration, two others are in the process of implementing laws to do so, and legislation is pending in ten other states. I think it's time that Texas joined them.

Under my bill, eligible

Texas voters could register online if they possess a valid driver's license or identification card issued by the Department of Public Safety. For those who do not have such documents, a website would provide a convenient way to register that minimizes typographical and transcription errors by submitting the voter's information on a mail-in card.

Support is growing for online registration in Texas, including those who actually do the work. The Texas Association of Election Administrators included the proposal on its legislative wish list.

Bringing the voter registration process into the 21st Century would be great for everyone.

SENATOR URESTI represents Senate District 19, which includes Crockett County.

Water for all Texans

It's not news that more people are moving to Texas at a rapid pace. And why wouldn't they?

For starters, the low cost of living, genuine people, beautiful landscapes and old-fashioned common sense make Texas a great place to live. And our state's relatively strong economy and ample business opportunities make it a great place to work. With all that Texas has going for it, it should come as no surprise that more people would want to make this place their home.

More people equal more mouths to feed, and that's a good thing for the Texas cattle industry. But more people also equal more resources consumed, particularly more water, and that's something the Texas Legislature must address.

In February, I had the opportunity to testify before the House Natural Resources Committee at the state capitol regarding water. The committee was considering legislation that would provide a long-term source of funding for the State Water Plan, which is the primary planning mechanism used to help local entities implement water projects like conservation, infrastructure and new technology. This plan is crucial to our state because it allows cities and towns, both urban and rural, to ensure their residents have water.

While at the capitol I heard over and over how urban areas must be the priority for water funding and infrastructure. I understand that. Logically it makes sense to put those areas with the most people at the top of the list. However, the legislature must not overlook rural Texas.

Funding the state's water plan in a fair manner benefits all Texans. Those of us in rural areas want to see more people move to this state, and we realize that most of that growth will happen in the larger cities. But we in rural Texas provide the vast majority of urban Texans with the food they need to survive. To continue doing this, we need the support of the small towns that provide our industry with a workforce, schools for our children and a place for many of us to call home. If these areas are left to dry up, people will move, small towns will fade away and Texas agriculture will take a huge hit.

Case in point, there are 160 people in my hometown of Guthrie. The water in our area has always been high in nitrates, which means you can't drink it. For years, Guthrie residents have been provided with bottled water. Problem solved, right? You'd think so, but recently our area has been tasked with building a desalination plant to make the water drinkable. If only the people in this area were to pay for this plant, the rate on every water meter would go up by approximately $200 a month. In my town, $200 a month extra per meter is a lot of extra money to come up with. If our project is included in the state's water plan, than we might have help building the plant, which means more Guthrie residents will be able to pay their bills and stick around.

The point is we are all in this together. No person, city, town or industry can survive without water. The legislature must fund the State Water Plan and they must do so fairly, keeping both the growing cities and the small rural communities in mind.

JOE PARKER JR. is a third generation rancher from Clay County, Texas. He is president of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association. He is also chairman of the board and president of the First National Bank of Byers.

Show Business

IT'S THE PITTS

LEE PITTS

Have you ever noticed that the overflow crowds for every night's performance of the Wrangler National Finals Rodeo always seem to especially enjoy the team roping event, but if you go to a jackpot or regional roping there are usually more people in the arena than in the stands? And we're talking about a sport in which the contestants are every bit as good as the football players who play on Sundays. Team roping is lots more fun to watch than baseball or poker, and which looks more thrilling to you, swooping in and catching a steer's hind feet with a rope while mounted on a fast horse, or sweeping the ice with a broom? Yet millions watch poker on TV and curling during the Olympics, while maybe 20 people are sitting in the stands during your typical roping.

One of the more popular sports in America is NASCAR in which cars go round and round real fast until they are stopped because of a wreck. Heck, you can see that on any freeway in this country. Yet the NASCAR drivers are big celebrities with their own tour buses and Lear jets while team ropers are in pawn shops gathering up gas money. The difference is marketing. We should have learned by now from cage fighting and pro wrestling that when it comes to sports in America, it's all about the show.

Ropers deserve an audience as much as bass fishermen and soccer players but there's so much competition for people's time that you really have to liven things up if you expect to be able to gouge them for tickets and a cable bill. I have some ideas.

Vaqueros and cowboys in the old days roped other animals besides cattle and I think it might spice up team ropings, and introduce an element of surprise, if occasionally a bobcat, wolf or grizzly bear came charging out of the chute instead of a calf.

We've all seen the boost PBR gave bull riding and, taking a page from their book, team ropers should have to put up with distractions like music, fireworks and perhaps a pack of misbehaving cow dogs turned loose when it's their turn to rope.

One of the big draws of football or NASCAR is the possibility that someone will get maimed or killed. The occasional lost digit just isn't enough to satisfy a blood-thirsty public. So, to introduce an element of danger, just think if we could combine team roping with other rodeo events so that the team ropers would have to rope a calf while riding a bucking bull or bronc! A precedence has already been set for combining events like this. Every year in early September in conjunction with the rodeo in Durango, Colorado, there is a Biker Bull Riding and Bikini Contest.

These people clearly understand marketing. They know what it takes to draw a crowd and although Jim Shoulders, Gene Rambo and Casey Tibbs would be twirling in their graves, we can't do business the way it always been done and expect to be on Facebook. What if we instituted a rule that teams of ropers must consist of one male and one female, preferably a model, Playboy Bunny or hot movie actress, and that she must be clad only in a pair of chinks. Now there's something every guy would pay to see!

Granted, I do have an ulterior motive. Team ropers ride GREAT horses and one of the side effects of the success of the USTRC is that good ranch horses cost a lot more now than they used to because aspiring team ropers are bidding them up. Suppose team ropers had to draw like bulldoggers and bronc riders as to which horse in the bucking string they'd have to rope from in each performance. This would introduce even more suspense and ease the burden of team ropers having to haul their horses from one roping to the next. They could just fly in on their jets like tennis players do and you and I wouldn't have to pay so much for a good ranch horse.

If we institute all of these changes I foresee a day when team ropers will be just like all other pro athletes, with their faces in the tabloids, their marriages in tatters and their bodies in jail, court or rehab.

Sequestration happens, effects to be felt

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS By Ed Sterling | Texas Press Association

AUSTIN — Friday, March 1, was the deadline for Congress and the White House to agree on how much to tax and how much to spend to avoid "sequestration" — automatic across-the-board cuts to federal programs in the current federal fiscal year, which ends Sept. 30, and beyond.

No agreement came. Now, budget reductions totaling $85 billion will come, resulting in fewer federal dollars meted out to the 50 states for education, social programs, environmental funds, civilian jobs linked to defense functions, and more.

According to Texas' 10-member Legislative Budget Board, however, key safety-net programs are exempted from federal cuts, such as Medicaid, Children's Health Insurance Program, National School Lunch Program, and Temporary Assistance for Needy Families. Also, certain transportation programs are exempted, including those administered by the Federal Highway Administration and the Federal Transit Administration. The Airport Improvement Program is also exempted, the LBB said.

On Feb. 25, F. Scott McCown, executive director of the Austin-based Center for Public Policy Priorities, listed possible effects in Texas resulting from sequestration:

- Loss of $68 million in funding for primary and secondary education, putting around 930 teacher and aide jobs at risk.
- Loss of $51 million in funding for about 620 teachers, aides, and staff who help children with disabilities.
- Around 4,720 fewer low income students would receive aid to help them finance the costs of college and around 1,450 fewer students will get work-study jobs that help them pay for college.

- Head Start and Early Head Start services would be eliminated for about 4,800 children.

- Loss of $8.5 million in environmental funding to ensure clean water and air quality, as well as prevent pollution from pesticides and hazardous waste.

- Some 52,000 civilian Department of Defense employees would be furloughed, reducing gross pay by around $274.8 million in total.

LAWMAKERS MARCH ON
The Texas Legislature pressed forward with its tasks.

On Feb. 27, the Senate Finance Committee tentatively approved SB 7, legislation funding education and health and human services. The House on Feb. 21 passed House Bill 10, a patch that funds Medicaid until Sept. 30 coupled with partial restoration of the $5 billion hit suffered by public education in 2011. The bill quickly moved through the Senate Finance Committee, where it was substituted and passed. CS HB 10 is on the Intent Calendar, awaiting consideration by the full Senate.

OZONA SENIOR HAPPENINGS

Medicare information presentation Tuesday

BY BRENDA NEWTON
SENIOR CENTER DIRECTOR

Here we are in another month. I sure hope the March winds took place in February. If March is worse we are all going to blow away. Maybe we will have spring in March and we can get out and plant some pretty flowers.

I am so excited. The road department installed the 60-inch flat screen TV. It looks really good and I can't wait to see how it works. I will have to wait until the cable company can get here and move the lines. Many thanks to the guys at the road department for doing such a good job and being so patient with me.

The quilting girls finished another lap throw and again it is beautiful. They delivered the rest of the pillows to the care center. I just love to listen to them laughing and having such a good time planning and cutting, and sewing.

We had a good group at balance exercise. They all say they think it is really helping them and making them feel so much better.

Bingo will be on Monday, March 18, this month. It starts at 6:30 p.m. All you have to do is bring a little something to give as a prize and you will be served barbecue sandwiches and chips with birthday cake as desert. The cake is for all that have a birthday in March. Come join us, it is a blast.

On Tuesday, March 12, 10 a.m. a representative from the Area Agency on Aging will be here to bring us up to date on the rules and regulations for Medicare and other programs that affect seniors. This is a good time to get answers to the questions we can't figure out by reading the books. Some of it is so hard to understand. Please try to come and have your questions written down so you will not forget to ask them. If you are reading this, please call a friend and tell them about it. These people are trying to help us but if we do not come and listen it is our loss.

It is always good to have Our Lady of Perpetual Help Saint Mary's prayer group here on Tuesdays at 1 p.m. and Wednesdays at 3 p.m. I am working on your room and I hope to have it done before you come this week.

Exercise is on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday at 8 a.m. and balance exercise is on Tuesday and Thursday at 2 p.m.

Bridge is on Mondays at 1:30 p.m. and Mexican Train is on Wednesdays at 1:30 p.m.

Men, the back room is really private and fixed for pool, cards, dominoes or checkers.

Come on out - the coffee is on.

THE OLD CAT AND LITTLE BIRDS

We have had her for about 14 years. She is a nice pet and we like it when she catches mice in the barn but there is one problem. She likes to catch and kill little birds. Normally that would not be a problem but my wife likes birds around the house and she is always putting out different kinds of birdseeds for them. I have watched that cat so many times as she quietly sneaks upon unsuspecting birds and catches them. Sometimes she will lie down nearby and act like she is not paying attention to them and then too late for little birdie. That cat reminds me of something in the Bible. It says we have an enemy or adversary and he wants to destroy us, (John 8:44 & 17:15). He prowls around trying to find ways to trap us, (1 Peter 5:8). He may start out by getting us hooked on drugs, alcohol or sex and many times he uses false religions or false gods to ensnare us, (1 Timothy 3:72 :Timothy 2:24-26). It could be pleasures, wealth or fame, anything to keep us from drawing near to God and knowing Him. He just wants to keep us ensnared till our life on earth runs out and then it is too late, (John 10:10). Then we are headed for eternal separation from God, (John 3:16-20). That is just what Satan wants!

See you in Church next Sunday.

Heart healthy luncheon has good food, information

BY MELISSA PERNER
THE OZONA STOCKMAN

It sounds so simple. Eat right, exercise, don't smoke and get the right health screenings.

Simple if you just read it on paper.

Several Ozona ladies learned last week how to be more heart healthy at the annual Go Red for Women luncheon.

Presented by E.A. Wadsworth, RN with the Wesley Nurse Foundation, those that attended were treated to a heart healthy meal and information.

"Once the heart is damaged that area is done. Surviving a heart attack causes damage to your heart," Wadsworth said. "It changes how you live."

More than a quarter of deaths in the United States are caused by some form of heart disease, according to the American Heart Association.

Heart disease is also the number one killer for women, second only to cancer. The American Heart Association states that heart disease causes one and three deaths each year, which is around one each minute.

Around 11.7 million women are affected by heart disease, which adds up to a national cost of $43.6 billion and a per capita cost (per person cost) of $3,723, Wadsworth said in her presentation.

The risk increases in women ages 40-60 due to estrogen levels dropping during menopause.

"There is no black and white perfect answer for everybody," Wadsworth said. "It's important to know your family history and pass that on to your kids."

One of the biggest lifestyle changes people can make is to stop smoking, Wadsworth said.

Another big change is to become better educated on being healthy.

Fried foods are better if cooked in canola oil or sautéed in olive oil. Saturated fats and trans fats are the two fats people need to avoid. Examples are Oreo cookies or icing on cakes.

Also, look for 100 percent whole wheat on foods and leave skins on fruits and veggies.

Salt intake is also a problem. The recommended serving is less than a teaspoon a day and that includes salt already in the food not just only table salt, Wadsworth said.

Wadsworth showed examples of how plaque can develop in arteries causing blood flow blockage to the heart.

"It does make a difference what we eat," Wadsworth said. "You want to eat right more days than not. Also, you want to eat vegetables at every meal, and corn and potatoes are not vegetables."

By eating smart, having a healthy weight, being active, not using tobacco, drinking low amounts or no alcohol and getting recommended health screenings the risk for heart disease can decrease around 82 percent.

"You are not going to change everything in a day. Do a little bit at a time," Wadsworth said.

Lady Lions defeat Bracket, Mason in Junction Tourney

The Lady Lions traveled to the Junction tournament for their round of three games during pool play on Friday, March 1. The Lady Lions finished the day with 2 wins and 1 loss.

In game one, the Lady Lions got off the bus with their bats on fire offensively putting up 16 points and defeating the Bracket Lady Tigers by a score of 16-4.

On the mound was Samantha De La Garza and catcher Kodi Glosson. Brianna Cervantez led all scorers crossing the plate 4 times in the game. She was on base every time she came up to bat.

In game two, the Lady Lion bats were hot in the early part of the game but went cold and could not find enough offensive fire power to get out of the hole.

"We just collapsed offensively during the middle part of the game. That coupled with some base running errors and defensive errors was enough for us to lose game two by a score of 8-7 to Grape Creek," said Coach Butch Gonzalez. "As bad as we played, we still had a chance at the end. It just shows the fight the girls have even when things are not going our way. It's frustrating to see us lose like we did knowing that we should of pulled it out, but it serves as a learning opportunity for us to focus on the little things at all times during the game. I was proud of the effort we started off with and finished with."

On the mound for the Lady Lions was Bethany Martinez and catcher Kodi Glosson. Again Brianna Cervantez led the scoring attack for the Lady Lions scoring 3 runs.

banned substance at OMS and one fighting or mutual combat at OMS.

The report also gives results of the district's survey on school safety and drug-free schools.

It states that more than 78 percent of elementary and 85 percent of secondary students would grade CCCSD School Safety as an "A" or a "B."

Bullying and relationship conflict are the two most prevalent safety concerns for students, the report states.

Other survey results state:
-45 percent of elementary and 67 percent of secondary responders have witnessed either fighting or threats of physical harm at school.

-Almost 70 percent of elementary and middle grade responders report drugs are not a problem ever at school. That number is 36 percent of high school students.

-70 percent of elementary and middle grade responders would not know where to obtain drugs; 38 percent for high school students.

-72 percent of elementary and middle grade responders would report knowledge of a school safety concern immediately versus 21 percent of high school responders who would only report if they could remain anonymous.

-duBois said the district has revamped their policies and increased awareness on dating violence and bullying.

-The district has also initiated the Why Try Character Education program, which includes counseling services and a bullying prevention hotline sponsored by DCP Midstream.

-Campuses are also emphasizing emergency preparedness, duBois said.

The district has revamped security and safety policies, and recently conducted drills at all three campuses.

Also new to the report are adding the district's and campuses' goals for the next year and a report of how past graduates are doing at college or technical schools.

Board Vice President Orlando DeHoyos had requested to discuss student welfare during the meeting, but said this reported answered his questions about what the district is doing.

"Everything is looked at in a case by case basis," DeHoyos said.

duBois said the district has 22 policies that include student welfare and 15 that focus on the subject.

"Each case is different," duBois said.

The 2011-2012 report only contained TAKS testing data, which were last year's juniors and seniors. No other testing report was available because other grades took a practice STAAR test and that information just became available last month.

STAAR testing information will be included in next year's report, duBois said.

"We are still a little behind where we want to be," he said.

A breakdown of the 2011-2012 STAAR practice tests was also presented.

In grades 3-8 overall, CCCSD had more students score satisfactory than unsatisfactory in all subjects except social studies.

For social studies, 55.3 percent were unsatisfactory and 44.7 percent were satisfactory out of the 47 students tested. Social studies STAAR test is only given in eighth grade.

In high school, students now take end-of-course tests for each subject. Ozona students were satisfactory in those areas as well.

"We know what our starting place is. We do have some areas of concern," duBois said.

AVID PROGRAM
OHS Senior Joaquin Meza spoke in public comment to the board about the importance of the AVID Program.

Achievement Via Individual Determination (AVID) is a program at OHS at teaching and motivating under-achieving students toward a college-going expectation.

Meza said it is because of the AVID program that he has become a better student and is planning on attending Howard College in Big Spring next year.

"I wasn't always the student I am now. I use to not look forward to school. Luckily for me that has changed and the reason for that is the AVID program," Meza said.

Meza thanked Susie duBois, the program's teacher, and said whether or not she is in Ozona next year the program needs to continue.

"Everything you all do is for the students. You have a program that has really helped. There are many more people like me that need help. This is for the students," Meza said.

RESIGNATIONS
After meeting in executive/closed session for two hours, the board unanimously approved the resignations of Athletic Director Ray Brown, OHS Band Director Stephen Rollins and fifth grade teacher Cindy Owens.

Other items listed on the agenda for executive/closed session were employee discipline-professional personnel, review the hiring of maintenance and transportation director and discuss school board/superintendent contractual relations. No action was taken on these items.

OFFICIAL CALENDAR
The board approved the 2013-2014 Official Calendar with Grizz Medina and DeHoyos abstaining from voting.

Medina asked about having Martin Luther King Day off in January. Principals said that could put the school year going into June and that teachers and staff expressed opinions that they wanted school to end in May.

The calendar was reviewed by members of each campus. It was then voted on by the District Site-Based Committee which is comprised of administrators, teachers, staff, parents and community members.

DeHoyos said he wanted to table any decision to the next meeting due to more research needed about the calendar.

Board member Amy Newton said a decision needed to be made tonight.

Medina made a motion to table voting on the calendar, but the motion failed with only Medina and DeHoyos voted in favor.

The calendar includes the Wednesday before Thanksgiving off and Bad Weather Days on Good Friday and Cinco de Mayo.

OTHER ITEMS APPROVED:
-Letter of Engagement for the district's financial audit for the year ending August 2013 with Eckert & Co. Minutes to the Jan. 23 regular meeting.

-Campus and District Improvement Plans for 2012-2013.

-Resolution in support of encouraging the Texas Legislature to not do anymore damage to public schools, such as vouchers or doing away with anymore funding.

The next regular school board meeting will be at 6:30 p.m. March 20 at the Administration Building. The meeting is open to the public.

The board's statement that the open forum is not the time or place to bring complaints about a particular program or employee, and that the district has policies in place to deal with those complaints.

"It is sad to see that Dan Pullen, a former school board member, would intentionally violate a school board policy, in his desire to score a political point, by openly mentioning by name during the Open Forum portion of the board meeting and, secondly, by using inaccurate information," DeHoyos said in a statement.

"The tax liens mentioned by Dan Pullen involving my personal income taxes have been satisfied. I would add that I not only paid my fair share of taxes, but I have more than paid my fair share of taxes. Having said that, the bottom line remains that it is always best to timely pay your income taxes in order to avoid the penalties and interests associated with late payments."

Through another Freedom of Information request, the Stockman obtained copies of the federal tax liens and a copy of the property taxes owed by DeHoyos.

Filing dates on the IRS liens date from 2008-2012 and total around $222,404.

Former school board member Tom Anderson also addressed the board stating, but not naming, that three board members had not paid their 2012 county property taxes.

Through a Freedom of Information request filed by The Ozona Stockman to the Crockett County Tax Office, the Stockman learned that as of Monday, March 4, only DeHoyos had not paid his county property taxes. The other two members, Ray Don Myers and Roland DeHoyos, paid their taxes by Friday, March 1.

"As a school board member you are a moral and responsible citizen. Moral and responsible citizens set aside prejudice and personal agendas for the better of the community. You should pay your taxes before you think about spending a dime of hard-working citizens' tax dollars. You should be a good role model for the students of our district," Anderson said. "I'm disappointed how our school district employees and staff are treated by things."

Being up to date on any taxes is not a requirement for holding office as a school board member. The requirements include, according to the Texas Election Code, are living in Texas for at least a year and in the school district for a least six months before the filing deadline, at least 18 years of age, registered to vote at the time of election, be a U.S. citizen and not convicted of a felony.

The county tax statement states that DeHoyos owes around $2,300 in county property taxes. According to Crockett County Tax Assessor-Collector Rhonda Shaw, 2012 taxes were considered delinquent if not paid by Feb. 1 and started accruing penalty and interest. On July 1, attorney fees plus penalty and interest, at a rate of 38 percent, are assessed against all 2012 taxes still due. After July 1, the tax office can file suit to collect any delinquent tax still due. Shaw said her office allows tax payers to pay half of their taxes before Nov. 30 and then second half is then not due until June 30 without penalty and interest. The second half is not considered delinquent unless it is still due on July 1. This is the only exception to the Feb. 1 delinquent date, she said. Also, board members did not owe any taxes for 2011 or any other prior year. "We help people work out payments," Shaw said. The Crockett County Tax Office has a collection rate each year of around 99 percent. Statements are mailed in October and then Shaw said she sends a second notice in February. By law she is not required to send a second notice until May. Anderson also said the district should consider having the meetings videotaped and making them available to the public.

ORDER RESTRICTING
OUTDOOR BURNING

The Commissioners' Court finds that circumstances present in all or part of the unincorporated area of the county create a public safety hazard that would be exacerbated by outdoor burning; and NOW, THEREFORE, IT IS HEREBY ORDERED by the Commissioners' Court of Crockett County, Texas, that outdoor burning is restricted in Crockett County for 30 days from the date of adoption of this Order, unless the restrictions are terminated earlier based on a determination made by the Texas Forest Service or this Court. This Order is adopted pursuant to Local Government Code 352.081, and other applicable statutes. This Order does NOT prohibit outdoor burning activities related to public health and safety that are authorized by the Texas Natural Resources Commission for: (1) firefighter training; (2) public utility, natural gas pipeline or mining operations; (3) planting or harvesting or agricultural crops; or (4) burns that are conducted by an approved Prescribed Burning Association, Natural Resource Conservation Service, the and/or Texas A&M Agricultural Experiment Station, or prescribed burn manager certified under Section 153.048, Natural Resources Code, and meet the standards of Section 153.047, Natural Resources Code.

All burns shall be reported to the Crockett County Sheriff's Office (325) 392-2661 and the Fire Chief (325) 392-2626 prior to commencing, together with the name of the landowner, location involved and expert to be on hand. This Order does NOT prohibit outdoor cooking in a properly contained area which is attended at all times. In accordance with the Local Government Code 352.081 (h), a violation of this Order is a Class C misdemeanor, punishable by a fine not to exceed $500.
