Jail Meeting has lots of questions and answers

BY MELISSA PERNER
THE OZONA STOCKMAN

The public had their second look about the proposed new Crockett County Jail Tuesday night.

At the second jail town hall meeting, about 40 people sat in the civic center as the Crockett County Commissioners' Court, Sheriff Robert Rodriguez and officials from DRG Architects presented plans, photos and answered questions about the new facility. The first jail town hall meeting was held July 16.

A $6 million bond proposal, along with a $4 million bond proposal for a new wellness center, are on the Nov. 3 election ballot. The two bonds are separate items on the ballot.

Also on the ballot are seven proposed state constitutional amendments.

Early voting started Monday, Oct. 19, and will run through Friday, Oct. 30. Crockett County voters can cast their ballots from 8 a.m.-5 p.m. at the courthouse annex.

Election Day voting will be from 7 a.m.-7 p.m. Poll locations are: Precinct 1 - Crockett County Courthouse; Precinct 2 - Crockett County Senior Center; Precinct 3 - Crockett County Civic Center; Precinct 4 - Ozona Chamber of Commerce Visitor Center.

The proposed jail facility will house 24 prisoners. Cost is estimated around $6 million.

For Crockett County taxpayers the increase in county tax will be $.063 or $.034, depending if the county chooses a five or 10 year payout. The yearly impact of tax rate increase on a county homeowner with a house at $50,000 market value is $25.32 on a five-year payout or $13.56 on a 10-year payout.

The tax increase if the wellness center bond passes is $.041 per $100 valuation.

If both the wellness center and the jail bonds pass, the tax increase will be $.103 per $100 valuation.

The proposed 24-bed jail will have new offices for the sheriff and deputies, places for storage, a full dispatch area, a kitchen, cells and a Sally Port, or enclosed garage, where prisoners will be brought but not visible to the public, and an area for juveniles to be booked before being transported. The exercise yard will also not be visible to the public, as it will be in the middle of the building.

Location for the new jail is proposed between the south softball park and the cemeteries at South Highway 163 and Claybird Lane.

Wayne Gondeck, architect with DRG Architects of San Antonio, said the $6 million is based on construction costs being around $280 a square-foot, which is an overestimate.

"Inmates try to tear up anything they can. Everything is concrete and steel," Gondeck said.

If there is any money left over from the project that has to go back toward paying the bond or toward the jail project.

"We're trying to build a facility that is flexible as possible, depending on the jail population," Gondeck said.

The Twistflower Ranch, Crockett County Interpretive Trail, Escondido Draw Recreation Area, Fort Lancaster Historic Site and the Jarrett Juno Ranch are now on the map.

Last week, the Texas Parks and Wildlife revealed their new Heart of Texas Wildlife Trail maps during a launch event at the Ozona Chamber of Commerce Visitor Center. The updated map has these five new sites, as well as sites from San Angelo, Ozona, Sonora, Junction and Fredericksburg areas, down to Uvalde, Del Rio and the Edwards Plateau.

"This is really a big way to get these sites out to the world," said Shelly Plante, communications division nature tourism manager with the Texas Parks and Wildlife. "People were not stopping at these little spots, these jewels

Commissioners tour new road department office

BY MELISSA PERNER
THE OZONA STOCKMAN

The Crockett County Commissioners received their first look of the new County Road Department Offices and Vehicle Maintenance Facility last week.

During a special called meeting on Oct. 14, the commissioners toured the new building that was constructed by Lopez Construction and Remodeling of Ozona.

The 7,000 square-foot building has three offices, a break room area, meeting room and a vehicle bay area with an office.

Cost for the building is around $900,000. The building replaces the old office and vehicle maintenance facility that burned down in a massive fire last year.

The commissioners accepted the building as substantially complete excluding some items on the punch list that still need to be completed.

"Everybody was satisfied. We had a good job done for us out there," said County Judge Fred Deaton.

Oscar Lopez, with Lopez Construction and Remodeling, thanked Triple C Hardware & Lumber for providing 100 percent of the materials for the building.

The commissioners also approved a bid from Harrison Roofing, of San Angelo, for $90,205 for the courthouse annex roof.

The commissioners are hoping to get the new roof completed before the end of the year.

Commissioners Randy Branch and Pleas Childress III were absent from the meeting.

Tax dollars do not need to pay for 'private health club'

Dear Editor,

Let me see if I have this straight. You want to build a Private Health Club (Wellness Center with membership fees), with taxpayer dollars, then get the county (taxpayers) to cover the $130,000 to $150,000 in cost overruns each year just so you can exercise in a climate controlled building?

I don't think so. If you want to exercise, put down your smart phone and go walking around your neighborhood. "Miserably hot" burns more calories.

No tax dollars for a private health club.

Community's good health depends on wellness center

Dear Editor,

With regard to Proposition #2 on the ballot for the bond election coming up in November, I wished I could convey the importance of Crockett County voters voting "YES" to the building of the J. Cleo Thompson Wellness Center.

My first realization for the need of such an institution in our county came very personally in the spring of 2010. On my birthday in May of that year, I was lying in bed contemplating my health and the fact my doctor had warned me that most people in my then condition had about a five-year life expectancy. I was diagnosed with COPD in 1997 and prescribed two medications via inhalers daily. On Aug. 28, 2004, I had a heart attack and was prescribed the usual beta blockers, statins, blood thinners and other medications. With that incentive I finally quit smoking "cold turkey" after 30 years but by the spring of 2010 my weight had climbed to 310 pounds. Further, I was also pre-diabetic, had Metabolic "X" Syndrome and would be beginning the appropriate drug regimen on my next visit to the VA hospital in Kerrville that November.

There I was on my birthday, May 25, 2010, 58 years old, huffing and puffing just to get my body out of bed. I wasn't scared of dying but the thought of being alive and not able to live, terrified me.

On June 1, a week later, I began my journey to regain my health. I joined the health center in Sonora, since we had none here in Ozona, and began cardiovascular and strength training programs. I learned

Votes of confidence

Whe old expression "can't know a player without a program" still has traction, but particularly at this time of year, the same is true of coaches.

Few would join picket lines opposing college presidents announcing "votes of confidence" for coaches soon to be sent packing. Typically, firings occur after coaches have delayed dissection of horrid losses. Such "confidence votes" usually are announced when guillotines are on downward swings, not worth the wheezes of lungs from which they come. Such occurred to me when the University of North Texas' Coach Dan McCarney got the axe before homecoming fans cleared the stadium. Alas, the 66-7 drubbing administered by Portland State couldn't be brushed aside.

A similar situation once involved another Texas team, but that time, it prevailed. And the "egg-faced, mid-major host" was New Mexico State University. True, the Aggies fell to a comparative "mid-minor" expected to be a "pat-sy," and eggs were cheaper than Sul Ross - the 1963 42-15 victor - pocketed "only" $25,000. Even after paying the bus charter, SRSU coffers bulged with 24 grand and change.

Large schools now must schedule non-league games years in advance. Teams considered "mid-minor" at contract time can become raging devils, roaming about seeing who they can devour.

One afterthought: The NMSU coach in 1963 was the late Warren Woodson, who likely was neither as brilliant as his strongest supporters suggested nor as inept as his cruelest critics claimed. He kept his job for four more seasons, leaving only when the "mandatory" retirement age of 65 was called into play. However, thorns prevailed. The brass couldn't wait to lean on the rule, despite significant huffing and puffing about an exception being made - or a birth certificate being altered.

It should not be ignored that he won several bowl games - and, during a long career - coached basketball, track and baseball teams to conference titles. Long-time NMSU fans still call his firing "the Woodson curse." Since his departure, the Aggies have had one winning season (7-5) and no bowl trips.

IDLE AMERICAN

During the rip-roaring years of the Border Conference, Woodson coached at Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene.

The Cowboys had as much fire as smoke, disposing of major schools left and right.

Few coaches - then or since - have had highs or lows equaling Woodson's. Doubtters should Google him.

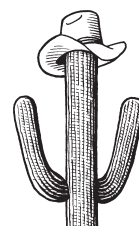

HSU now has sports in perspective, playing in Division III, where athletes compete for the love of the game.

Consider the current season. The Cowboys are undefeated. Recently, though, there was as much stir about a missing bird as there was about football. Gilbert the Goose - long seen gliding gracefully on the campus pond - was missing. That was the murmur in the stands during HSU's victory over cross-town rival McMurry. There were groans for their goose - a minority group insists should be gander - one honored at the HSU Library coffee bar. No longer at issue is his whereabouts. Gilbert had not been "goose-napped" by McMurry baddies, and charges against Harold Preston were dismissed. (Preston - longtime HSU financial VP known for ever-tightened fists - thought all creatures eating on campus should pay. Gilbert quacked in his face. The university's heralded six white horses, however, breathed easily only after Preston was retired to pasture. It is said, BTW, that HSU folks were admonished to climb over gates to save the hinges.)

Dr. Lanny Hall, HSU president, could have claimed spotting Gilbert near the campus. However, two students were there first, and, well, what with social media, the university's drone - we all fear - knows the whole story. Anyway, the hunt was called off. Gilbert is gliding again. The horses are getting second helpings. And Preston - for now - is exonerated.

Back To The Blanket

IT'S THE PITTS

LEE PITTS

I was sifting through the rubbish and rubble of our lives because my wife said I had to start throwing away some of my valuable junk. It's pretty depressing when you look back on your life and realize it can be summed up in 23 apple boxes.

The first box was from my "farming period" when I partnered with my ex-brother-in-law on 100 acres of hay. It was a time in my life that I'm not proud of; a cattleman stooping so low to become a plow chaser and dry land dirt farmer. As a rancher it sickened me to be turning the grass upside down and hoping it wouldn't rain on our hay. Whoever heard of a rancher not wanting it to rain? I felt so ashamed.

I started wearing lace up boots and getting to the coffee shop two hours before sunrise to commiserate and complain with my fellow farmers. I joined the coop, went to farm auctions and almost joined the Farm Bureau. I started getting free magazines, hired an accountant and was on the lookout for any government programs I might qualify for. I laid awake nights worrying about organophosphates, whatever they are. I pasted a "Save the Bees" bumper sticker on my truck, opened an account at Farm Supply and learned an all new language with words like fungicides, biocides, insecticides and herbicides. It all sounded like The Far Side to me. I was too proud to ask my fellow farmers what a carbofuran or nematode was. I even met the Farm Advisor, although I noticed he kept his distance. Perhaps it was my "Eau de Cow" deodorant. I was no longer welcome at brandings and my horse Gentleman wouldn't even look me in the eye. He had barely forgiven me for raising sheep, and now this!

The first box I dug into was a good example of how low I'd stooped. It was full of baby tractors. My wife took one look and said, "Throw those toys away."

"They aren't toys," I replied as I sat there pushing and pulling them down straight rows, making engine noises like, "Vroom, vroom" and "zoom, zoom."

"I can't throw these out," I replied. "This is the best investment I made while I was a farmer. I might even be able to get back half of what I paid for them." I didn't tell her that, as usual, I had bet wrong and my toys were the wrong color, a nauseating orange, instead of the much valued green or red.

I hid the box so my wife wouldn't find it and then hit the mother lode: four boxes crammed full with farmer caps. Instead of having the name of an auction market or ranch on them, they had words like Accel, Hinder, Case, Deere and Checkmate embroidered on them. As if I played chess!

My wife thought she'd fool me by suggesting we only keep the hats that pertained to ranching. Little did she know that the chemical companies came up with names for switch-hitters like me, with hats that said Stirrup, Spur, Roundup, Mustang, Lasso and Wrangler. (I had one on my rump, I might as well have one on my head.) I even found a cap with the word "Rattler" on it, although I think it predated the rope of the same name.

I made one pile that was for caps that conveyed my Macho image like Patriot, Sniper, Swagger, Esteem, Empower and Venim. That's when I noticed that farmers probably aren't the best bet to win a spelling bee considering how they spell Venim and Sevin.

I immediately discarded the cap that said "Widow" on it, feeling that it sent the message I was looking for love. Likewise the cap that said "Nudrin", as if I was remotely interested in a clothing-optional lifestyle!

Before I'd even gone through the first box I realized the error of my ways and "went back to the blanket." That's what Indians called tribal members who "went white" but came back to the tribe. So I got rid of the evidence, cleansed myself and went back to others of my tribe... cowboys, large animal vets, semen salesmen, artificial insemination practitioners and semen collectors. I did this knowing it's risky because, judging by the evidence, some of their caps could get a guy arrested

Revenue estimate reflects slowdown in energy sector

AUSTIN — Texas Comptroller Glenn Hegar on Oct. 14 announced the release of his office's Certification Revenue Estimate.

The "CRE" is an update to the Biennial Revenue Estimate, a document that gives state lawmakers a good idea of how much revenue will be available for general-purpose spending in 2016-2017, the next two-year state budget period.

The CRE, Hegar said, reflects "any new laws from the session that could affect state revenue, as well as the most current fiscal and economic data." The 140-day legislative session concluded four and half months ago, on June 1.

The new CRE shows a 2.3 percent decline in the estimate of revenues available for general-purpose spending from $113 billion to a revised figure of $110.4 billion. The figure primarily reflects our most current estimates of oil and natural gas prices and continuing weakness in Texas' energy sector, Hegar said, adding that his office anticipates "no trouble in absorbing this reduction in available revenue."

EARLY VOTING PERIOD BEGINS

Early voting for the Nov. 3 Election began Monday, Oct. 19, and runs through Friday, Oct. 30. To cast a ballot in person, voters must present an approved form of photo identification.

The state's chief elections officer, Texas Secretary of State Carlos Cascos, pointed out that age 65 and older and people with disabilities are automatically qualified to vote by mail and the last day to request a ballot by mail is Friday, Oct. 23.

VOTER ID MAY BE OBTAINED

The Texas Department of Public Safety on Oct. 13 posted a reminder that for individuals in need of proper identification required to vote, Texas driver license offices are the place to get an Election Identification Certificate.

To help more people get a certificate, the DPS is deploying mobile stations to various locations across Texas and alternate approved locations will be issuing certificates in select counties. Additionally, select driver license offices will be open on Saturday, Oct. 24, to issue EICs only.

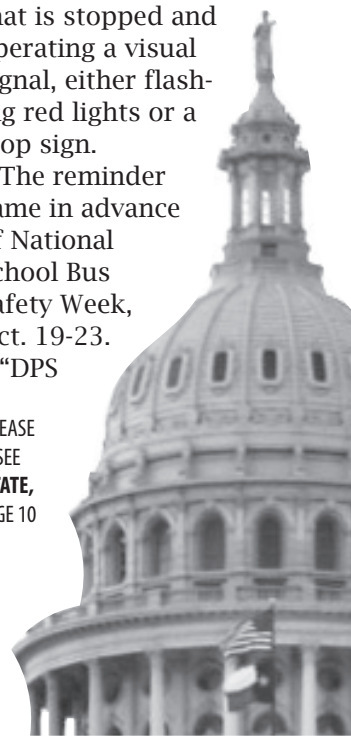

More information on voting in Texas is posted at vote-texas.gov.

IT'S SCHOOL BUS SAFETY WEEK

The Texas Department of Public Safety recently reminded drivers that it is illegal to pass any school bus that is stopped and operating a visual signal, either flashing red lights or a stop sign.

The reminder came in advance of National School Bus Safety Week, Oct. 19-23.

that only locals know about. Now, this map will be the economic driving force for nature tourists."

The Heart of Texas Wildlife Map is part of a series of nine regional driving trail maps produced by Texas Parks & Wildlife for wildlife and nature tourists.

Texas was the first state to do these maps, and since then other states have followed, Plante said.

The last time the Heart of Texas Wildlife Map was updated was 2003. Plante said it was time for an update when Texas Parks and Wildlife decided to revamp the wildlife trails website, making it more interactive and user-friendly with mobile devices.

Ozona Chamber President Shanon Biggerstaff said there are 11 attractions in the surrounding area on the map.

"This lets folks know that there are things to see and do around here," Biggerstaff said.

During the Oct. 15 launch event, many of the area attractions brought information, photos and videos to show visitors.

The biggest highlight was the camels, Richard and Jadid, from the Texas Camel Corp as part of the Fort Lancaster Historical Site.

Fort Lancaster is one of the five new sites on the map. The fort is located eight miles east of Sheffield in Crockett County off of Interstate-10 on U.S. Highway 290.

"This is all about tourism," said County Judge Fred Deaton. "Without this map, people may not have a to get to know these sites."

Other new map sites include the Jarrett Juno Ranch, located off of State Highway 163 south and Ranch Road

The Twistflower Ranch is a 5,800-acre ranch that offers accommodations and a variety of activities, such as hunting, Native American tours, star gazing, swimming, birding, wildlife photography, wildflowers, hiking and biking, clay pigeon shoot, monarch migration and yoga.

The ranch is located off of Country Road 208 north of Ozona.

The Eaton Hill Nature Center in Sonora is also new on the map. The 37 acres located off of City Hill Road in Sonora offers wildlife watching, hiking, pick nicking and opportunities to enjoy geology, botany and fossil studies for free.

The Crockett County Interpretive Trail located at the Ozona Chamber of Commerce Visitor Center showcases the importance of water conservation and native plants from the Texas Hill Country and Trans Pecos regions. The trail includes over 200 native plants, a rain harvest exhibit, wildlife viewing area and a watering hole for birds and butterflies.

The final new site is the Econdido Draw Recreation Area (EDRA) located in southwest Crockett County off of County Road 406.

The 3,400-acre park is primarily an off-road vehicle park with over 50 miles of birding, hiking and off-road vehicle trails. Birders can expect to see a variety of local birds and camping and RV hookups are available.

During the event, members of the Tejas Off Road Racing Association were on handing showing off some of their off road vehicles and promoting a Baja style race in 2016 to be held at the EDRA.

Other area attractions on hand at the map launch event were the Devil's Sinkhole near Rocksprings, Old Ice House Ranch Museum in Sonora, the Caverns of Sonora, the XBar Ranch near Eldorado and the Hummer House located in Christoval.

OZONA SENIOR HAPPENINGS

Better Living for Texas Program Tuesday

BY BRENDA NEWTON
SENIOR CENTER DIRECTOR

Have you got your spooky costumes ready yet? Halloween is not too far off, so if you do not have your costume ready, you better get busy. I have decided I don't need one, but then that is just me. Went to see the Lions play Saturday. They lost but really played a good game. It is always fun to see the kids play.

County Extension Agent Kailey Roberts will present the Better Living for Texas Program at 11:30 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 27, at the Senior Center. This program continues the education series with a focus on the MyPlate food groups. MyPlate illustrates how to build a healthy plate using the five food groups. Join us as we continue this series with a tasty snack and discussion about the nutritional and health benefits of fruit. Don't forget to vote on Nov. 3. If you need paperwork on what we are voting on, it is posted on the window of the building. The center will be open, but the main room will be used for Precinct 2 voting that day.

The next Bingo Social is 6:30 p.m. Nov. 9. We will be serving Hobo Stew with cornbread muffins and dump cake for dessert. Don't forget your prize must be worth $5-$10 and one prize for each person playing.

The movie for Thursday, Oct. 15, will be "Pride and Prejudice" starring Keira Knightley and Matthew Macfadyen. Lushly romantic and subtly sexy. Makes you believe in true love and happily ever after. Don't miss it. Come on out and enjoy yourself with popcorn puffs and drinks at 2 p.m. Thursday.

Don't forget the Thunderbird. They are available to help you get around. Just give them a call and leave a message. Be sure to say who you are and where you area. They will call you back. Call us at (325) 392-9094 if you do not have their number.

I still have not heard from the Howard College GED classes. I understand there is one person that has said he will teach this class but has not been contacted by the college. We will keep you posted.

Exercise - 9 a.m. Monday, Wednesday and Friday
Bridge - 1:30 p.m. Monday

Balance Exercise - 9 a.m. Tuesday and Thursday
Mexican Train - 1:30 p.m. Wednesday

Prayer Group - 3 p.m. Wednesday
Quilting - 9:30 a.m. Thursday

Come on out, the coffee is on.

OBITUARIES

Billie Jaqueline (Mawmaw) Malone (1935 - 2015)

Billie Malone, born August 4, 1935 in San Antonio, Texas, passed away on October 19, 2015. She was 80 years old.

She was preceded in death by her husband, Earl "Tooter" Malone and Daughter, Robbie Nell Stevens.

Survivors include her son Max Malone (Sue), Sheffield, Texas, two grandchildren, Michael Malone, Iraan, Texas; and Jessica Carlile, Sealy, Texas; and two great-grandchildren, Cameron and Abigail Carlile.

She also leaves Jack Wiliford, who was like a son and his daughter Rachel.

Billie was a Beautiful, Generous soul, who loved to play the organ and piano. During her short stays at Manor and Polo Park in Midland, Texas, she would play anything from classical to Tex-Mex music and delighted in playing "Rancho Grande" to the surprise of many.

She was a born again Christian and a longtime member of Mother Holmes Baptist Church, Sheffield, Texas.

In accordance with her wishes, there will be no services. Max and Sue Malone will host a celebration of her life at their home in Sheffield, on Saturday, Oct. 24, 2015, from 1-6 p.m. Family and friends are welcome.

and Robert Pena and Mary Williamson. Angel dancers attending: JoAnn Babbitt, Carol Adcock, Mary Williamson, Nell Wester, Karan Heffelfinger, Tracye Young, Frank Fred, Melvyn Mejia, Sara Gunnels, Karen McDonald and Bobby McDonald.

On Saturday, Oct. 10, Levis and Lace Square Dance Club had a dance at the Crockett County Senior Citizens Center 7-9 p.m.

The caller for the evening was Tracey Dowell from McCally, Texas. Excitement filled the air as the music started. Dancers started the night by lining up across the floor to do the grand march.

They marched as couples around the floor gathering more couples together as they went until they ended in the square they would be in to start the first tip of the dance.

Skirts were twirling round and round and toes were tapping up and down while dancers circling right and left all across the floor. A special tip just for the students was called, which allowed the student to show off all the new calls they had learned so far.

The new students who danced this tip and were Ana Knaack, Don Bretz, Robert Pena and Mary Williamson, and they did an exceptional job.

Between tip dancers did two step, line dances, cupid shuffle, the electric slide. We appreciate our dancing visitors from San Angelo Ernie and Sally Wolfe.

Other visitors were: Travis Knaack, Bob and Linda Rodriguez, Ty and Taylee Cross (Carol Adcock's great-grandkids and Tracye Young's grandkids from Andrews, Texas).

THE NEW ARRIVAL

I came home and there she sat with the new arrival. She was sitting in the easy chair carefully holding him in her arms. She said, "What do you think?" Now I have been married forty years and I would like to make forty-one so I thought a minute and very carefully chose my words and I said, "He's kinda cute". He did have the prettiest soft brown eyes and his nose was cute too. I should have expected the red hair but those big, long ears. When he tried to walk they almost touched the ground. You see, a friend of my wife brought her an eight-week-old red bloodhound puppy. As I looked at the latest arrival I thought about all the things that puppy is going to have to learn to stay in good favor around here. He must be nice to the other animals and pets. To go outside when he needs to go to the bathroom. The furniture is not to be chewed and he must learn to come when called. There is a list of acceptable things he can do and things not to do. That reminds me of the Christian life. There is a certain way God wants and expects us to live, (Exodus 19:5, Joshua 1:8). There are things we should do and things we shouldn't, (Ephesians 5:7-11) and the Bible tells us about them, (Colossians 1:10). See you in church next Sunday. Brother J

Ozona's Sewell made lasting impact in community

BY MIKE LEE

SAN ANGELO STANDARD-TIMES

Rip Sewell was as important, socially, in Ozona as he was on the athletic fields, which included a 10-year run as head football coach and a 21-year stay as track coach and athletic director.

Former players say Sewell, who died last summer at age 87, didn't play favorites. That was significant because when he arrived at Ozona in 1968, the town's two elementary schools were still segregated between Anglos and Hispanics.

"At a time when Hispanics and Anglos did not see eye to eye, there was none of that with Rip," said Tom Davidson, who played football for Sewell from 1968-1970. "There was a tremendous amount of coming together of those two communities, and it started with the brotherhood Rip taught us on the football field. To this day, I have no better friends than two of my teammates, Ruben Tambunga and David Pagan."

Athletes at Ozona included kids from very wealthy families and others from very poor families. Sewell treated them equally. The most memorable example was when the coach named Tambunga a starting varsity running back as a freshman in 1969.

"Coach Sewell didn't care if your dad was the richest person in town — a rancher or a banker. You had to earn your position," said Tambunga, now 61 and produce manager at Lowe's Market in San Angelo.

The Tambunga decision couldn't have worked better. As a sophomore in 1970, he rushed for 2,086 yards, helped the Lions end an 11-year playoff drought and led them on a memorable run to the regional round of the playoffs. He finished his career with more than 4,700 yards.

But even a star player like Tambunga experienced

RIP SEWELL spent 10 years as head football coach at Ozona.

Sewell's equal treatment. "One year a bunch of us (players) wanted to go camping on Labor Day weekend, but coach Sewell scheduled a practice on Labor Day. He told us that if we missed practice, we wouldn't play in the next game. We didn't believe him because we figured he wouldn't have enough players left to have a team," Tambunga said.

"Well, we didn't play. Some of the other players went to coach Sewell and said, 'We need Ruben to play this week.' But coach said, 'No, I meant what I said.'"

Orlando DeHoyos attended segregated schools in Ozona until the sixth grade and later played for Sewell. "For him to coach that way at that time with what was going on in Ozona, and to put Ruben on the varsity as a freshman, that's the reason his legacy is still well entrenched here," said DeHoyos, a captain for Sewell in 1976 when Ozona made one of two state quarterfinals appearances in school history.

Sewell also was known for the psychological mind games he used on his players. In 1970, Ozona was a disappointing 4-2 after opening district with a 28-19 loss to Coahoma in an era when you had to win district to make the playoffs. Sewell suddenly came down with a major health problem.

"I don't remember what he had, but I do remember that season not going so well. Rip didn't want us to think we were finished," said Davidson, a senior on the 1970 team. "He said, 'I don't know if I'm going to be around next year so I want you to approach these next games as if they might be your last.'"

"Even as a teenager, I wasn't gullible enough to believe he was that sick. He used every facet he could to get the upper hand, psychologically. It didn't always work, but we won every game after that until we got to regional."

Tambunga, who still is remembered for his 300-yard rushing performance in a 41-29 bi-district win over Alpine in 1970, also recalled Sewell's midseason illness.

"I seem to remember him having some kind of surgery and having to watch practice from the sideline for three or four days," Tambunga said. "The coaches and players were saying that he should be at home resting. But coach Sewell said, 'I can't leave y'all out here alone. We're a team, and we'll stay a team.'"

"We expected him not to be there, but he was at all the games. It really encouraged us."

Another of Sewell's memorable psychological strategies came when the Lions were a heavy underdog to Seagraves in a 1976 nondistrict game.

"Coach Sewell told us just before the game that he had talked to the Seagraves coach," DeHoyos said. "Their coach said Ozona wouldn't win for three reasons. No. 1 was that Seagraves had more tradition. No. 2 was that Ozona's players were too small. And No. 3 was that we had too many Hispanics on our team. Needless to say, all of us were really motivated."

Ozona beat Seagraves 25-0. "Coach Sewell never admitted making that story up, but I figured it out," said DeHoyos, now an attorney and school board member in Ozona. "That Seagraves coach wouldn't have said something like that. Coach Sewell did it just to fire us up — and it did."

Sewell's record as Ozona's football coach was a modest 60-44, but the play-off runs in 1970 and 1976 remain memorable. Sewell also won several district track championships and was known for carrying two buses of athletes and often scoring 200 points at a meet — even 300 on a few occasions.

But his contributions to Ozona reached far beyond the athletic fields.

"I really think the greatest thing that ever happened to Ozona and Crockett County was when Rip Sewell and his family moved there," said Davidson, a longtime San Angelo attorney. "I'm glad he's not suffering anymore, but the world is not nearly as much fun without him. Even in his 80s when he was not in good health, he'd still make you laugh."

Mike Lee writes a high school football column on Fridays for the San Angelo Standard-Times during the season. He can be contacted at michaellee7@att.net.

OZONA GARDEN CLUB NEWS

BY CHARLOTTE HARRELL

OZONA GARDEN CLUB

The Ozona Garden Club met at the home of Tina Bean Monday, Oct. 12, with Tina Bean and the Rev. Jean Reardon serving as hostesses. Thirteen members were present.

Monty Sims of Bes-Tex Supply, LLC, San Angelo, spoke to the members about lawn care - how to water, how to apply fertilizer, and how to mow for the best results. Members were given handouts with specific information about the most common types of grass grown in West Texas.

President Vicki Stokes conducted the business meeting. Secretary Charlotte read the minutes of the September meeting, which were approved.

Treasurer Esther Williams reported that $500 from the Scholarship Fund was sent to Loaves and Fishes to provide lunches for school children.

Marolyn Bean reported that the fall bulbs had still not arrived, so they will be sold at the November meeting. Esther Williams will sell the National Garden Club calendars ordered by members in November.

Members present agreed to host the TGC District VIII Spring Convention in Ozona March 3-4, 2016. A committee will be formed to make preparations.

New member Helen Bean was welcomed into the club.

The next meeting will be Nov. 9 at the home of Jean Odom.

Members attending were Helen Bean, Marolyn Bean, Tina Bean, Mary Anne Deaton, Charlotte Harrell, Jeannine Henderson, Pamela Maresch, Jean Odom, Willa Perry, Rev. Jean Reardon, Laura Skehan, Vicki Stokes, Carmen Sutton, Esther Williams and Rosalind Williams.

JV Lions fight tough against Eldorado Eagles

DARIO RODRIGUEZ SCORED TWO TOUCHDOWNS for the JV Lions in their 20-19 heartbreaking loss to Eldorado on Oct. 15.

The JV played Eldorado and lost a heartbreaker 20-19, but the Lions played hard until the final whistle.

Dario Rodriguez went rumbling, tumbling and tumbling down the field on 60 yard touchdown run. Irving Rodriguez kicked the extra point.

Again, Rodriguez scored on 50 yard touchdown refusing to be tackled and trucking several Eagles on his way into the end zone. The extra point was blocked.

Donovan Hunt was on the verge of scoring when the ball popped out into the end zone and Carlos "Little Stach" Martinez pounced on the ball to recover the fumble and score for the Lions.

On the following kickoff, Gabriel Tambunga kicked an on-side kick which was recovered by a host of Lions, Dario, Emmanuel Sarabia and Hiram Castaneda.

Unfortunately, the Lions were unable to capitalize on the opportunity.

On the next defense series, Rodriguez and Brian Salinas mauled the Eagle runner, causing a fumble which Ryan Ramos recovered and giving the Lions another shot to win the game.

Marcus Perez connected with Rodriguez on a beautiful 40-yard touchdown pass but it was called back for pass interference.

"The Lions gave every inch of sweat, blood and heart last night. Thank you all for your continued support and unwavering loyalty to our boys," said Coach Mitch Kay.

Red Ribbon Week Oct. 26-30

Ozona Schools will celebrate Red Ribbon Week Oct. 26-30. Red Ribbon Week is the oldest and largest drug prevention campaign in the country. The National Family Partnership organized the first nationwide Red Ribbon Campaign in 1988. Dress up days for Red Ribbon Week are: Monday - "Follow Your Dreams...Don't do Drugs," everyone wears pajamas. Tuesday - "Team Up Against Drugs," wear your favorite college or professional team gear. Wednesday - "Give Drugs the Boot," wear your favorite boots. Thursday - OMS and OHS "Don't get tied up with drugs," wear your favorite tie; OES "We Scare Drugs Away," wear your Halloween costume. No scary costumes, weapons or blood. Friday - No school, student holiday. The week will also feature speaker Jessie Funk. Funk is a professional singer and has toured with Broadway's "Footloose." Her voice has been heard on TV's "The Biggest Loser," "America's Got Talent" and ESPN. She has been speaking to teens for 13 years. Funk will speak to all three Ozona campuses on Wednesday, Oct. 28. She will be at OES from 8:30-9:15 a.m.; OHS from 9:30-10:15 a.m. and OMS from 10:30-11:15 a.m.

OMS ROBOTICS STUDENTS Cameron Harrison, Jose Munoz, Jonathan Vega, Varun Kala, Kemberly Hernandez, Daniel Hernandez, Krislyn Longoria and Savannah Harger spent their Saturday morning at practice.

OZONA MIDDLE SCHOOL TECHNOLOGY

New library software will help with research

BY JASON DAVIS
OZONA MIDDLE SCHOOL

The Robotics team had a strong turnout this Saturday. Saturdays are a precious time to many to sleep in or travel or work, so I want parents to know I appreciate you bringing your kids up to the school so they are able to learn. In two uninterrupted hours students have a chance to do a lot of trial and error with their robots' designs and programming. I feel like this time is the most valuable of all. Students in attendance included Cameron, Jose, Jonathan, Varun, Kemberly, Daniel, Krislyn, and Savannah. Thanks again for attending kids. Science practice has changed times as well as Calculator. Schedule changes and reminders:
• Number Sense - 3:40-4:30 p.m. Monday
• Science - 3:40-4:30 p.m. Monday
• Mathematics - 3:40-4:20 p.m. Tuesday
• Calculator - 3:40-4:20 p.m. Tuesday
• Robotics - 3:40-5 p.m. Wednesday
In a couple of weeks students will undergo a training on TexQuest and library history from our high school librarian Candace Gallarzo. Coach Clayton at the high school graciously purchased licenses for this program for the whole district! TexQuest is an online database of peer reviewed journals and academic research and reliable primary and secondary sources. We are going to teach our students how to do correct and responsible academic research instead of searching Google for answers. This prepares students for the type of research and paper-writing they will have to do in college and beyond. Students will learn a brief history on the Dewey Decimal System and how books are categorized in the library. Our mission in this respect is to empower the students to walk in the library and be able to find (on their own) the book or author they desire. Upcoming Robotics and TMSCA/UJL Meet Schedule:

• Nov. 14 - TMSCA at Rankin
• Dec. 2-3 - UJL at Eldorado
• Jan. 23 - Robotics TBD
• Feb. 6 - TMSCA in Ozona
• Feb. 11 - Robotics at San Angelo
• Feb. 27 - TMSCA at San Antonio
• March 5 - TMSCA at Abilene
• April 16 - TMSCA at San Antonio (must qualify)

OHS Book Fair Oct. 26-30

The OHS library is having our Scholastic Book Fair coming up at the end of the month. This year we are teaming with OMS to make it extra special. It will be a monster theme just in time for Halloween. The fair will be Oct. 26-30. Purchases can be made online at <http://bookfairs.scholastic.com/homepage/ohsommonsterfair>. Monday, Oct. 26 - 8 a.m.-4:30 p.m. with teacher preview at 7 a.m. Tuesday, Oct. 27 - 7:30 a.m.-5 p.m.; Family Night Event - 6-8:30 p.m., dress the family up for a spooky night to remember at the OHS Monster Bash. We will have activities for the kids, face painting, Halloween stories, giveaways and much more. Wednesday, Oct. 28 - 7:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 29 - 7:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m.; Scary Movie Night featuring "Hocus Pocus" immediately following the OHS Blackout pep-rally. Cost is free at the door. Snacks will be on sale to benefit OHS organizations. Friday, Oct. 30 - 10 a.m. - 1 p.m.

The reason for the proposed new facility is due to the conditions of the current jail.

Gondeck showed photos of the current jail with cramped offices, limited capacity, very little storage, deteriorating walls and non-functioning locking systems. Rodriguez said that the current jail has been moved down from a 72-hour holding facility to a 48-hour holding facility due to the Texas Jail Commission.

Rodriguez said the next step down is zero, not being able to hold prisoners at all, but immediately transporting them out of county. It is about 70 miles one way to the Upton County Jail in Rankin.

The current jail also has no female housing, inadequate booking and processing area, difficulty to supervise prisoners and inadequate office space.

Rodriguez also said he had to recently release a female prisoner on a personal recognizance bond because he couldn't find a place to house her.

"We have an individual that needs to be jail and she's roaming the street," Rodriguez said. "How many more of these incidents are going to occur when the jail commission says no more?"

Rodriguez said the current jail is operating under 10 variances with the jail commission. The jail commission has allowed Crockett County to keep the jail while pursuing the bond election.

If the bond doesn't pass, the jail commission could possibly shut down the current facility, or cancel the current variances making it where Crockett County can no longer hold prisoners, Gondeck said.

Gondeck said there is also a certain liability to the county in transporting prisoners, and also if inmates' families are injured in accidents traveling to out of county jails.

"There's nothing else we can do to the current jail to fix it. It will probably cost three times more money to fix what we have. We can't put a band aid on a problem like this," Rodriguez said. "It's up to you, ladies and gentlemen, to decide how you want us operate. We will make it work."

Crockett County houses a daily average of 14 prisoners out of county. The main facility Crockett County uses is Upton County in Rankin. Payment to Upton County averages around $18,000 a month for 15 beds, whether those beds are full or not. Crockett County also uses Pecos, Mitchell, Schleicher and Sutton Counties to house prisoners.

"We write a check every month to pay for these inmates. That check will stop and that money will stay in our county," said County Treasurer Karen Webb.

The new facility is estimated to have a $200,000 increase per year on the county's operating costs due to additional staffing and it being a larger facility.

Five additional jailers or dispatchers will be needed for the new facility.

Currently, one person operates as a jailer, dispatcher and 911 operator. With the new facility, the additional personnel will be required by the jail commission.

Rodriguez said he is asking for a facility to just house inmates, not make money.

Gondeck said this is not an income revenue generating facility.

"It's strictly an essential facility that is providing public safety for the community," Gondeck said. "Right now you're paying deputies to transport and not be law enforcement."

District Attorney Laurie English said it is also costly for court appointed attorneys who have to travel between Rankin and Ozona to visit clients and come to court.

English said the majority of defense attorneys come out of San Angelo and are paid to drive from San Angelo to Rankin to see their clients.

"It really does slow things down in getting cases pled," English said.

Care Center Administrator Robert Stecher asked if the care center would continue to prepare meals for the jail. Stecher said he was concerned about the increase in the number of meals.

According to the Texas Jail Commission, inmates have to be provided three meals a day.

Gondeck said nothing has been decided on who would provide the meals, but the new building would include a new kitchen per the jail commission standards.

Rodriguez said trustees can be utilized to cook meals inside the jail.

"I'd rather do everything in house," Rodriguez said.

Janet Pullen said she was concerned about officer safety and how long other counties would allow Crockett County to house prisoners in their facilities.

"I think we can either spend a lot of money and have nothing, or spend a lot of money and have something," Pullen said. "Things are going to have to change. We're going to have to have a jail."

"We're not asking for anything we don't need. Just to operate our facility in a professional manner," Rodriguez added.

Commissioner Eligio Martinez said it's important for everyone to go out and vote on the two bonds.

"We're not here to influence you either way. It's up to you to decide what you want us to do," Martinez said.

OFFENSE REPORTS/ARRESTS:

about nutrition, my genome and individual gene expression, about my microbiota and about misinformation, replete throughout nutritional science in the United States and around the world. I learned the syndromes and conditions with which I was plagued are absolutely preventable; all of them. I learned seeking out the causes and eliminating them was more efficient and much less expensive than pursuing a cure for my diseases. I learned that good health is a lifestyle unique to each of us with regard to our culture, environment, genetics, nutrition and activity/exercise. The J. Cleo Thompson could help us all be more mindful of our health and nutrition habits and instrumental in accomplishing our individual goals.

It took four years to restore my good health and I am proud to say I beat heart disease, COPD, lost 105 pounds, out-manuevered diabetes, ended the whole Metabolic X thing and became so inspired by my success I became a health coach. Now, I have taken no prescribed medications for over a year and my lab results are inspirational with every checkup. It has been five-and-a-half years since I began my journey and I just realized, if the fear of my doctor's warning had materialized, I wouldn't be here writing this letter right now.

It seems everyone has their own idea of what a wellness center is and a resource that would be valued differently from person to person. As with anything, it's how we carry it forward that will determine its worth to Crockett County. Some say it is a gamble; I say it is a greater risk not to have a wellness center available to our residents. I have to give much of the credit for my success to the wellness center in Sonora and cannot emphasize enough the positive impact and health benefits to Crockett County residents now and in the future with the J. Cleo Thompson Wellness Center in place and operating for our well-being.

Vote "YES" on Proposition #2 of the bond election ballot in November. Our good health depends upon it.

urges drivers to make the safety of our children a priority whenever they travel near school buses and DPS will not tolerate those who break the law and put our children at risk. Remember, children are particularly vulnerable when entering or exiting a school bus," said DPS Director Steven McCraw.

EDUCATION CHIEF RESIGNS

Texas Education Commissioner Michael L. Williams on Oct. 15 resigned effective Jan. 1 from his post as the head of the Texas Education Agency. Williams was appointed by then-governor Rick Perry on Sept. 1, 2012.

"As severe wildfires continue to impact Bastrop County, I strongly urge Texans in that area to take all possible precautions to ensure their safety. By declaring a state of disaster in Bastrop County, the State of Texas is activating resources to help affected communities as efficiently and as effectively as possible," Abbott said.

GOVERNOR DECLARES DISASTER

The Federal Emergency Management Agency has approved a Fire Management Assistance Grant request, meaning that Texas will be eligible for 75 percent reimbursement from the federal government for costs associated with fighting the fire, Abbott added.

26,600 nonfarm seasonally adjusted jobs were added last month after a decrease of 3,400 jobs in August. Since September 2014, state payrolls have increased by some 224,800 positions.

Texas' seasonally adjusted unemployment rate increased to 4.2 percent in September from 4.1 percent in August. Meanwhile, the current national unemployment rate stands at 5.1 percent, as calculated by the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics.

JOBS NUMBER GROWS AGAIN

The Texas Workforce Commission on Oct. 16 announced Texas added jobs in September for the seventh month of job growth in 2015. The state agency reported

Public Notice Q&A

Should government simply post its own public notices online?

Government websites have very low readership. They're notoriously difficult to navigate. And do you really want the government to be responsible for monitoring itself?

Newspapers provide an independent, third-party source for public notices. Newspaper notices get NOTICED. And they're archived, in unalterable form, after they're published both in print AND online.

Newspaper notice has worked in Texas since 1836. And it still does.

Remember the Alamo

This landmark boasts more than 2.5 million tourists each year.

But did you know 7.9 million people in Texas see a newspaper every week? Now that's something to remember.

Thank you for being part of the 7.9 million.
