Customer service starts at the top

BY MELISSA PERNER
THE OZONA STOCKMAN

Creating better customer service was the topic of the Ozona Chamber of Commerce's July 13 Lunch and Learn session.

Led by staff members from the Angelo State University Small Business Development Center, the program focused on the importance of customer service inside and outside a business.

"We try to model the importance of customer service ourselves," said Dave Erickson, director of the ASU-SBDC.

In order to have good customer service, it must start within the business, Erickson said.

Employers should try to make work fun, have a positive attitude, be present and focused with employees and use kindness, patience and thoughtfulness.

"Customer service starts at the top. Kill them with a smile. Eye contact is key. Make that person feel like they are the most important person in the world," said Adriana Havins, certified business advisor with the ASU-SBDC.

Erickson said employees will treat customers exactly how they are treated in the business. He also said employers should look at their business and ask "would I recommend my business to my friends and family?"

"You need to create a good work environment. Train your employees and then let them do their job. Give them that freedom within reason," Erickson said. "Look to hire people who are coachable and teachable."

Havins also cautioned employers of hiring people who are just like them. She said workplaces need a mixture of personalities.

Opportunities for students to continue their education with military service

One of the great privileges of being a state representative is that, from time to time, I am afforded a unique opportunity to make a real difference in the lives of the next generation of Texas leaders. One such opportunity that I am excited to share with you today is the Texas Armed Services Scholarship Program (TASSP), which offers scholarships to hard-working students who are dedicated to their education and to serving their state and nation through military service.

Created in 2009 by the 81st Legislature, the TASSP was designed to help defray the cost of a college education by encouraging students to become members of the Texas Army National Guard, the Texas Air National Guard, the United States Coast Guard, the United States Merchant Marine, or to become commissioned officers in any branch of the armed services of the United States. Each year, the Governor and Lieutenant Governor nominate up to two students, and each Texas State Senator and State Representative may nominate one student.

The TASSP provides recipients with a conditional scholarship for up to four years to any Texas university with an active ROTC program, depending on available funding. To be eligible, the student must fulfill at least two of the following four requirements:

1. Be on track to graduate or has graduated high school with the Distinguished Achievement Program (DAP) or the International Baccalaureate Program (IB);
2. Has a current high school GPA of 3.0 or higher or graduated with a GPA of 3.0 or higher;
3. Is currently ranked in the top third of his or her respective high school graduating class or graduated in the top third of his or her graduating class;

4. Has achieved a college readiness score on the SAT (1590) or ACT (23).

If you or someone you know meets these requirements, please contact my office for more information about the scholarship program. I can be reached at andrew.murr@house.texas.gov or by calling (512) 463-0536. Nominations are due Aug. 31, 2017.

Additionally, if you or someone you know has previously applied to a military academy and fallen short, there is a fantastic program right here in our district designed to help give those serious about an appointment another opportunity. It is called Greystone, a Service Academy Prep School located on the campus of Schreiner University in Kerrville.

Since 2004, Greystone has helped 252 young men and women earn academy appointments. Their approach

Texans deserve better than Obamacare

When Republicans in Congress began working on our health care reform plan earlier this year, I asked folks from around the state to tell me about their experiences under Obamacare. The response was overwhelming.

I heard from one small business owner in Donna who was faced with an unthinkable decision: fire four employees just to comply with Obamacare's mandates, or owe the government more than $100,000 in fines that could bankrupt his business. He didn't have much of a choice.

Or take the Texan in Needville who, after having to stomach a 50 percent increase in his monthly premium, still lost his doctor — who wouldn't accept his Obamacare plan.

Thousands more Texans, in emails, letters and phone calls, relayed similar stories — from difficulties with Medicaid to higher costs and poor coverage. Texans deserve better, and our plan delivers it.

Seven years ago, then-President Obama imposed a risky health care experiment on the nation. Today, the countless ways in which Obamacare has failed Texans are clear. Right now, one-third of Texas' 254 counties have only one health care provider on the exchanges, and more than a half-million Texans can't afford health insurance at all. Furthermore, only 34 percent of Texas doctors currently accept new Medicaid patients.

The draft plan Republicans released last month addresses the systemic problems at the root of Obamacare's failure. The Better Care Reconciliation Act (BCRA) will help stabilize collapsing insurance markets, free Texans from the mandates requiring them to purchase insurance they don't want and can't afford, and lower average premiums over time. Importantly, our plan preserves access to care for people with pre-existing conditions and allows children to stay on their parents' health insurance plans through age 26. Finally, our plan strengthens Medicaid by giving states more flexibility while ensuring Texans who rely on it don't have the rug pulled out from under them.

ing Obamacare's failings, from the get-go Democrats in Congress made clear they had no interest in working with us to replace it. Instead, they have fought tooth and nail to preserve the health care status quo that's failed so many Texans and people across the country. And they've made some dubious claims about our plan along the way.

A common refrain is that our plan 'slashes' Medicaid; in fact, under the Better Care Act, the nonpartisan Congressional Budget Office (CBO) estimates Medicaid spending will grow by $71 billion over ten years. Opponents also neglect people in states like Texas who fall into Obamacare's 'coverage gap,' meaning their incomes are above Medicaid eligibility levels but below what would qualify them for subsidies.

According to the Kaiser Family Foundation, as many as 600,000 low-income Texans fall into this category; under the BCRA, these folks would qualify for help in the form of tax credits not available to them under Obamacare. Critics also claim our plan will kick millions of people off their insurance or make premiums too expensive to afford. This, too, is false: the BCRA gives people the ability, free from government mandate, to choose not to buy something they might not want. And the nonpartisan budget office estimated that under our plan average premiums will decrease by nearly one-third in three years.

Our draft bill, like any piece of legislation, can be strengthened. As the debate over our reform plan continues, the experiences of Texans will continue to guide my work. Health care is a deeply personal issue, and the passion reflected by that is evident on all sides of the debate. But one thing is clear: doing nothing to stop Obamacare from continuing to hurt millions of families in Texas and around the country is simply not an option.

Get Along, Little Dogies

Among the many things I enjoy about raising animals is watching their interpersonal relationships. If there was such a thing, I think I'd have made a very good cow, sheep, pig or horse psychologist. Wisely, I considered their ability to pay and became a writer instead, which pays only slightly better than a tightwad hog would.

Here are some observations I've made over a lifetime of studying farm animals.

Horses are high society. They consider themselves better looking than the sheep, smarter than the cow and higher class than hogs. They'll use human males and allow them to ride on their backs so they can buck their way into the Hall of Fame, or win the race for the roses at the Kentucky Derby. If they get tired of men, as they often do, they just put them in their place: on the ground. Horses absolutely love the human female gender and vice versa. Women and horses are BFF and the love affair between them is a beautiful thing to behold.

Horses think they're far superior to cows, don't care much for sheep and absolutely hate poultry. The only time my horse Gentleman did not act like one was when I rode him behind the shop where we had just finished killing some chickens the day before. I won't say that Gentleman actually bucked, he never had that much energy, but he almost crow-hopped a little.

Horses set a wonderful example for their barnyard brethren to follow if only the others were that smart. In fly season you'll see two horses head to tail, swatting flies off each other. When was the last time you saw two hogs doing that? Granted, that might look a little silly considering the fly-swatting ability of a pig's tail.

IT'S THE PITTS

Second in line in the social structure of a ranch are cows. This is based entirely on bulk, not brainpower. Hogs, dogs and horses are all smarter than the cow. The cow is the grump of the group. They lack commitment and don't like anyone, or anything, especially yapping dogs and cowboys. Farm animals are different than humans in that they don't go around killing each other, but in the case of cows, I believe they would kill some dogs and cowboys if they could only get their hooves on a handgun.

Cattle don't recognize swine or cowboys as members of the animal kingdom and will only suffer sheep as long as they don't eat the same grass they do. Despite their place in life, cows can be very snooty with the black hidden ones thinking they're far superior to the reds, and the registered cattle lord it over the more commercial grade. Cows enjoy keeping company with other equally worthy cows but their boorish behavior can border on bigotry. Take the relationship that exists between beef and dairy cows for example. Beefier cows take one look at dairy cows and think, "Just look at those stupid ninnies, gathering themselves up so that some jerk with rough hands can yank on their udders two to three times day." Or, "What a pitiful example of a cow, being bred by an AI technician instead of a real bull!"

Hogs are the rich uncle who shows up at the family reunion driving a brand new Bentley with a much younger girl for a girlfriend. Secretly, other animals are jealous of the hogs because they have their food delivered to them and they don't have to suffer from wolves or PBR cowboys. No wonder they live such happy-go-lucky lives! Hogs would willingly hang around with the other animals and see themselves as peacemakers. While other species tend to mate with other animals that look just like them, a hog will bed down with a goat if given the opportunity.

Last, and possibly least of the barnyard brigade, we have sheep. Think of them as the blonde, valley girl airheads of the group with their gums always yapping. Sheep hate Border Collies, wolves, shearers, and coyotes in equal doses and see themselves as victims. They are the poor, downtrodden members of the farmyard society and every year they must suffer the humiliating ordeal of having their beautiful wool coats sheared off and their private parts exposed for all the swine to leer at with a lecherous look in their eyes.

Abbott gives lawmakers initial marching orders for special session

AUSTIN — Gov. Greg Abbott on July 10 issued a formal proclamation for the special session that begins July 18, directing the Texas Legislature to extend expiration dates for the Texas Medical Board and other state boards that regulate psychologists, marriage and family therapists, professional counselors and social workers.

Abbott said he plans to issue a supplemental proclamation further directing lawmakers to pass another list of items he previously announced. The areas of legislation would:

- Reform laws governing ad valorem property taxes;
- Increase average salary and benefits of Texas teachers;
- Establish a statewide commission to study and recommend improvements to the current public school finance system;
- Preempt local regulation of the use of hand-held mobile communication devices while driving; and — Deal with the use of multi-occupancy showers, locker rooms, restrooms and changing rooms (also known as the "bathroom" bill).

On July 13, Gov. Abbott applauded Lt. Gov. Dan Patrick, who presides over the Senate, for holding a press conference to express his support for the special session agenda. "My office," Abbott said, "has been working with lawmakers in both the Senate and House these past six weeks, and if these items do not get passed, it will be for lack of will, not for lack of time."

One of the ideas laid out by Patrick is a tiered salary increase schedule for active and retired teachers. Patrick suggested that pay increases would rely on the reallocation of funding by local school districts, because the state already spends 53 percent of its budget on public education.

The Austin-based Center for Public Policy Priorities reacted to Patrick's suggestion, saying, "If state leaders are really concerned about property taxes, they should increase the state's share of public school funding."

ABBOTT TO SEEK 2ND TERM

With sights trained on the 2018 general election, Gov. Abbott announced his candidacy for a second term as the state's chief executive on July 14 in San Antonio. His current term expires in January 2019.

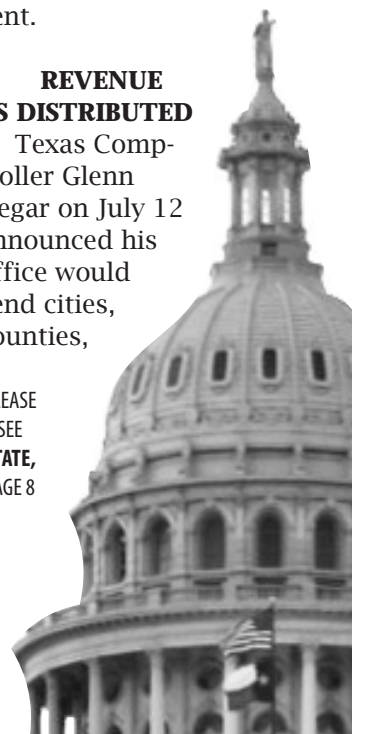

In January, Lt. Gov. Patrick announced he would seek a second term at his current post. Mike Collier, a Houston businessman and a Democrat, announced his candidacy for lieutenant governor on March

2. In 2014, Collier challenged incumbent Glenn Hegar in the race for state comptroller, receiving 37 percent of the vote to Hegar's 58 percent.

She would take our order and would cook whatever it is that we picked” said Maria’s children. “When mom and dad first bought the building, dad wanted it to be a convenience store but mom just wasn’t convinced. Mom was insistent that she wanted to open a restaurant. We all told mom that it was going to be a lot of work but she said it didn’t matter, this was her dream and with God’s help it was all going to work out.”

OZONA SENIOR HAPPENINGS

Bingo Social Monday

BY BRENDA NEWTON
SENIOR CENTER DIRECTOR

Good grief! The wind was strong for a few minutes on Sunday afternoon. I had started sweeping a little trash from the patio when it hit. It was fast and furious for a few minutes then calmed down and put some good ole water on all the trees and grass. I always like to see the fresh green after the rain. They said this happened on Saturday night. We were in San Angelo so we didn't see that one. Thank the Good Lord for blessing us with the rain.

I have some copies of the 2017 Senior Sourcebook that lists all the services available for us older folks. Stop by the Senior Center and I have some extra copies that you can have. There are a lot of people working to help you with your problems. Take advantage of them.

I talked to Niki Bishop, the Wesley Nurse, this week and she said she was planning to come back with her exercises on Aug. 15. She is back at the church already, but has a lot of work to catch up on after being off for her maternity leave. I know it is so hard to come back to work and leave a new baby. Bless her heart. It is crummy that we have to work for a living. She will be working at the Methodist Church and helping the people of Ozona with their health problems. She has the training to do just that.

We are still doing balance exercises Monday and Thursday mornings at 9:30 a.m. These are simple exercises that are done very slowly so that most can do them. The ones that are joining in say that it helps them with the movements that they have had a lot of trouble with. All is slow and easy.

Come play bingo on Thursday afternoons. That means tomorrow afternoon at 2 p.m. Try it - you'll like it. Just a nickel a card per game. You win all the nickels if you bingo. Then we have a blackout game at 4 p.m. that has a little more for a prize. We have cold drinks and popcorn and it is kind of like a little party.

Pallbearers included his grandsons plus lifelong friend Matias Gutierrez. Honorary Pallbearers were his nephews Gino Tambunga and Frank Galvan.

Joe was preceded in death by his parents Eusevio and Celestina Mata Galvan and his wife Hilda Montez Galvan.

Joe left behind his children, Carmen Ramos (Charles), John E. Galvan (Joyce), Debora Tambunga, Delia Longoria, Michelle Seekins. Grandchildren: Ashlee Ramos, Rylee Ramos, Jason Galvan, Megan Sanchez, Kristen and Becky Tambunga, Aimee, Michael and Manny Longoria, Leah, Lui and Jessica Moreno. Amongst these grandchildren Joe had a total of eight great-grandchildren including one that was very dear and close to him, Carlie Ramos.

He also left behind his brother Francisco Galvan, sister Arjelia Tambunga, sister in law Lucrecia (Lookie) Ramirez and special niece Frances Ramirez.

As most of the community knows, Joe known to all his customers as Big Joe, lived his life to work at the grocery store and for his customers. He was a hard worker, loved his job and was proud of what he did.

He worked 57 years until his health forced him to stay home. He may no longer be around physically but we hope his memory will live on forever.

Thank you for sharing your memories, support and love. Your kindness is deeply appreciated and will always be remembered.

The family of
Jose Elias (Joe) Galvan

I was walking down life's highway a long, long time ago. One day I saw a sign that read, "HEAVEN'S GROCERY STORE." As I got a little closer, the door opened wide, and I found myself standing inside. I saw a host of ANGELS. They were standing everywhere. One handed me a basket and said, "My Child, shop with care." Everything a human needed was in that grocery store. And if you couldn't carry it all, you could come back the next day for more. First, I got some PATIENCE. LOVE was in the same row. Further down was UNDERSTANDING, you need that everywhere you go. I got a box or two of WISDOM, a bag or two of FAITH. I just couldn't miss the HOLY GHOST, for it was all over the place. I stopped to get some STRENGTH and COURAGE TO HELP ME RUN THIS RACE. By then my basket was getting full, but I remembered I needed some GRACE. I didn't forget SALVATION, for SALVATION was free. So I tried to get enough of that to save both you and me. Then I started up to the counter to pay my grocery bill. For I thought I had everything to do the MASTER'S will. As I went up the aisle, I saw PRAYER; and I just had to put that in, for I knew when I stepped outside, I would run into sin. PEACE and JOY were plentiful; they were last on the shelf. SONG and PRAISE were hanging near, so I just helped myself. Then I said to the angel, "Now, how much do I owe?" He smiled again and said, "MY CHILD, JESUS PAID YOUR BILL A LONG, LONG TIME AGO."

THEY WORSHIP MONKEYS, SNAKES AND VEGETABLES

Our family visited many beautiful and elaborate temples and saw many strange happenings while living in Japan as a teenager. In some temples people prayed and worshipped snakes. If the snake touched or ate food put in front of them, the person that offered the food thought they was blessed. Monkeys, rivers, trees, vegetables and even dead ancestors were worshipped in other places. The question we should ask is, "What should I worship or bow down to or raise up and honor as a God?" When God started dealing with mankind He informed them who, how and what they could worship. We are only to worship Him and He gets angry if we worship or pray to or bow down to any other God, (Exodus 20:5 and 23:13). We are not to make any form of anything on earth like animals or birds, (Leviticus 19:4 and 26:1). We are not to make things like we think might be in heaven, like angels or whatever, (Deuteronomy 4:15-19). We are also not to worship things in the seas or in the earth, (Exodus 20:4). If we have some of them or are worshipping them, get rid of them, (Genesis 35:2 and 1 John 5:21) and worship the only true and living God, (John 17:3). God promises to bless us if we do, (Exodus 20:6) and a curse if we don't, (Deuteronomy 27:15 and Psalm 16:4). See you in Church next Sunday. Brother J

William David 'Dave' Thompson

LISBON - William David "Dave" Thompson, born at home in Gavers, Ohio, on January 23, 1940, passed away at 9:48 a.m. Monday, July 10, 2017 at the East Liverpool City Hospital. Dave, who resided on State Route 154 in Lisbon, had been ill just a short time and died at the age of 77.

A son of the late David William and Lois Warrick Thompson, he was a 1958 graduate of David Anderson High School. He was an old car enthusiast, and enjoyed going to the Rogers Sale. All who knew him will say that his family was - and always had been - the most important part of his life. Throughout the years, he went out of his way to help many people, and he left a lasting impression on others with his great sense of humor, his unique laugh and his devotion to his loved ones.

Dave had been a boiler-maker for over 27 years at the former Crucible Steel Corporation, and was currently driving for Ferguson School Bus Transport System.

On February 1, 2007, he was preceded in death by his wife, Rachel French Thompson, whom he married on September 22, 1957. They were the proud parents of eight children.

Surviving are two daughters, Marilyn Young and her husband, Harris, of Georgetown, Texas, and Diana "DeDe" Thompson of Lisbon. Dave also leaves behind five sons: David Thompson and his wife, Renee, of New Waterford; Warren Thompson and his wife, Darla, of Pflugerville, Texas; Mark Thompson and his wife, Dorothy, of Lisbon; Duane Thompson and his wife, Tammy, also of Lisbon; and Brad Thompson and his wife, Janet, of Ozona, Texas. Another son, Bret Thompson, passed away in 2003; his wife, Aileen, resides in Georgetown, Texas.

There are 18 grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren. A brother, Walter Thompson, survives in East Liverpool. Two other brothers, Daniel and George Thompson, preceded Dave in death.

Services were held Saturday, July 15, at the funeral home with Pastor Norm Eckert of the Beechwood Free Methodist Church officiating. Dave will be laid to rest at Kimble Cemetery in Elkton.

Card of Thanks

I would like to express my gratitude to all the people that were praying for me during my recent stays in the hospital and then surgery. Your prayers and thoughts were truly heard. It was the strength to keep me going. I am truly humbled by all the people that called or visited me. Once again, thanks and May God Bless each of you. Thanks to all the members of the Ministerial Alliance for your congregation's prayers also. God is good, all the time.

Paisano Baptist Encampment 101st meeting next week

BY KELLY HERZOG
PAISANO BAPTIST ENCAMPMENT

For over 100 years, Paisano Baptist Encampment has been deeply rooted in holy ground as the cowboy camp meeting brings together families, friends, and churches for worship, fellowship, and a refreshing break from the world's hectic activity.

Come join old and new timers for the 101st meeting beginning with Sunday evening supper on July 23, and continuing through Friday lunch on July 28.

Preachers include Steve Wells, pastor of South Main Baptist Church in Houston, and Matt Snowden, pastor of First Baptist Church of Waco. Larry McGraw, Associate Dean of Logsdon School of Theology at Hardin-Simmons University, will lead adult Bible study.

Nursery, preschool, children's day camp, and youth programs occupy those from birth through high school in the mornings while adults have their own experiences.

Each day family ministry and missions focus begin at 8:45 a.m., Bible study at 9:45 a.m., and morning worship at 11 a.m.

The evening service starts at 8 p.m. with choir practice at 7 p.m. Supper is served at 6 p.m. Nursery, preschoolers, and children have their own evening activities except on Wednesday when the whole family joins together in worship, and childcare is available only for nursery age.

Kelly Barnett, Senior Pastor at The Worship Place in Sun City, will share insights during family ministry using Paul's prayer in Ephesians 3:14-21.

He will discuss relationships with God and others from the perspective of attachment needs, injuries and God's design for healing and strengthening relationships. Nate Sprinkle, Director of Missions/Prayer for Sugar Creek Baptist Church in Sugar Land, will host the missions focus with different individuals speaking each day about their unique experiences. They will also offer inspiring insights into how God is engaging his followers around the world.

Afternoon recreation, sports tournaments, a men's prayer meeting, and other activities exercise the body and spirit and create deep friendships that last generations. An all-camp fellowship and bell-ringing will be held on Tuesday afternoon from 2-4 p.m. around the museum. Paisano encourages family togetherness and spiritual renewal.

In August 1916, West Texans gathered and George W. Truett preached the first Paisano sermon standing on the bed of a wagon with a wooden barrel as the pulpit. Families camped in tents or slept under the stars. Attendees picnicked or cooked over campfires. The tradition of family and faith continues with the addition of a tabernacle, dining shed, and cabins. The beauty of stars in the evening hasn't changed, and all are still welcome.

Paisano Baptist Encampment is located in Paisano Pass, between Alpine and Marfa, in far West Texas.

Texas Producers have until Aug. 1 to submit FSA County Committee Nominations

BY SHAWN MCCOWAN
U.S. DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

When we think of driverleThe U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) Farm Service Agency (FSA) Acting State Executive Director for Texas, Erasmo (Eddie) Trevino, today reminded farmers and ranchers that they have until Aug. 1, 2017, to nominate eligible candidates to serve on local FSA county committees.

County committees are made up of farmers and ranchers elected by other producers in their communities to guide the delivery of farm programs at the local level. Committee members play a critical role in the day-to-day operations of FSA. Committees consist of three to 11 members and meet once a month or as needed to make important decisions on disaster and conservation programs, emergency programs, commodity price support loan programs, county office employment and other agricultural issues. Members serve three-year terms. Nationwide there are over 7,700 farmer and ranchers serving on FSA county committees.

"The Aug. 1 deadline is quickly approaching," said Trevino. "If you know of a great candidate or want to nominate yourself to serve on your local county committee, go to your county FSA office right now and submit the nomination form. I especially encourage the nomination of beginning farmers and ranchers, as well as women and minorities. This is your opportunity to have a say in how federal programs are delivered in your county."

To be eligible to serve on an FSA county committee, a person must participate or cooperate in an agency-administered program and reside in the local administrative area (LAA) where the election is being held. A complete list of eligibility requirements, more information, and nomination forms are available at <http://www.fsa.usda.gov/elections>.

All nominees must sign the nomination form FSA-669A. All nomination forms for the 2017 election must be postmarked or received in the local FSA county office by Aug. 1, 2017.

Ballots will be mailed to eligible voters by Nov. 6 and are due back to the local USDA Service Centers on Dec. 4.

The newly elected county committee members will take office Jan. 1, 2018.
