SIGN OF SPRING?

Worst Storm of Winter Blasts Plains

The West Plains, while suffering from high winds, blowing and drifting snow and sand, escaped much of the brunt of a three-day weekend gale which swept over the Panhandle and South Plains, paralyzing some towns and stranding many motorists.

In Muleshoe, winds up to an estimated 75 miles per hour with gusts to 90 mph, began blowing Friday night and by early Saturday, snow blanketed the ground several times, melting soon after it fell. In some protected spots snow did drift up fairly high, but the amount of snow on the ground at any time was negligible.

Highways north and west of Muleshoe were closed to all but emergency traffic Sunday and most of Saturday night, with a few cars trying to get through. Highway patrolmen and sheriff's officers reported only one accident, but many cars sliding into the narrow ditches due to slippery conditions.

TV antennas suffered the most damage in Muleshoe, many of the fragile ones succumbing to the gusts of wind. No windows were reported damaged by winds here, however.

A total of .04 of an inch of moisture was recorded from all the snow flurries over the weekend, by the Muleshoe weather station. Saturday afternoon, blowing gales, which filled the air with snow and sleet, were followed by warm spring sunshine, and weather observers reported the blow the worst of the winter season.

By daylight Monday, winds had subsided to about 15 to 20 mph, and clear skies promised a resumption of springlike weather which the weekend storm interrupted.

Railroads Help Drouth Stricken Areas of Texas

Down at Dublin, Texas, the other day, the citizens staged a railroad appreciation banquet that attracted much attention.

To quote it was a gesture "in appreciation for the railroads' action in reducing rates to one-half on hay moving into the drought stricken area", and was the people's way of saying "thanks for the millions of dollars that such reduction has saved our livestock men in Texas."

A full report of the unusual occasion was carried in state papers and was reviewed in Santa Fe Magazine for March, a copy of which has been furnished to The Journal by H. O. Barbour, local agent for the Santa Fe.

Incidentally, Mr. Barbour reports that this station has shipped out of Muleshoe 86 cars of hay on the one-half commercial rate on account of the drouth. He reported having received 7 cars of milk at one-half the commercial rate.

Firestone Store Formal Opening This Weekend

Hugh Jones' Firestone store, located at 612 west Clovis road, will hold its grand opening here Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week, manager Dick Martin has announced.

The store will feature the well-known, nationally advertised Firestone line of automotive and home appliances.

Door prizes during the opening day sale will include a 17-inch TV set, a chrome electric mixer and a Westinghouse steam or dry iron. There will also be free refreshments and gifts for all who visit the store, including road atlases, flower seed and balloons.

Juvenile Names Accomplishes In Gas Theft Ring

With the arrest of one juvenile Friday, sheriff's officers believe they have cracked a ring of juvenile gasoline thieves, sheriff Dee Clements said early this week.

Clements said that the youth was picked up on another charge and while in jail, confessed to breaking locks on five gasoline storage tanks, and implicated several other youths in the escapade.

Sheriff Clements said that the burglary of the high school building over the weekend might also be connected with the juvenile group, all of whom are known.

Rules Changed For Tradesday Events

Members of the retail merchants committee of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce met Monday afternoon to restyle plans for continuing the Trades Day weekly giveaway programs.

Effective April 1, all stubs will be removed from tickets as they are handed to customers. Merchants will be solely responsible for placing the stubs in the barrel at the CoC office by 4 p.m. each Saturday.

Stubs will be retained from week to week in the drum until announced at the drawing.

Each week the $50 first prize money is not claimed, $25 will be added to the first prize.

Members of the committee pointed out that by keeping the stubs in the box for more than one week, persons holding tickets would have a better chance of receiving one of the three cash awards given each Saturday.

In addition to the first prize of $50, second and third prizes of $25 and $10 will also be given away.

J. A. McGee Has New Realty Office

J. A. McGee, who has been in the real estate business in Muleshoe longer than any other dealer, has completed a splendid new office on American boulevard, just off Main Street.

The building, located on a lot he purchased from J. A. Wimberly, is of brick and tile and dimensions are 30 feet by 23 feet.

There are four rooms and at present they will be divided into two offices. The building contains rest rooms, a lobby, hall etc.

Mr. McGee was a partner in the business, with the late J. B. Barkhead, with offices on Main Street, a business they established in 1943. Mr. McGee, who was from Seminole County, Okla., used to go back up there and bring farmers from that area to the Muleshoe county to buy farms.

Mr. McGee also farmed for several years a short distance north of Muleshoe after moving here in 1929. He invites the public to visit him in his new quarters.

Adams urged all persons who have ordered trees through his office, to be on hand sometime April 1 to get their orders.

The shipment will include 550 Austrian pine trees, 3500 red cedars and 250 honey locust trees.

Besides being top students, each has found time to participate in extra-curricular activities and make "good citizens" in the school and in the community.

During the past two summers she has finished a Girl Scout counselor in-training at Camp Mary White, Maybell, N. M. One summer she completed training for Red Cross Senior Life Saver.

She is a member of the Order of Rainbow for Girls, is a past worthy advisor, and was a member of the Grand Choir at the Houston Grand Assembly this past summer. At the present time she is co-leader of an Intermediate Girl Scout troop.

Quineil is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Elliott.

Accent Spicy Lamb With Bartlett Pear Dish

BY DOROTHY MADDOX

THE spicy tang of canned Bartlett pears flavored with thinly sliced lemon peel and a few cardamom seeds goes perfectly with hot curried lamb.

These Bartlett pears have a western history. About 90 per cent of them are grown and packed in the three Pacific coast states of Washington, Oregon and California—because of climate and soil conditions.

Hot curried lamb will taste doubly good with this side dish of lemon-flavored Bartlett pears.

Pears With Curried Lamb (6-8 servings)

One No. 2½ can Bartlett pear halves, 1 lemon, thinly sliced; 1 teaspoon cardamom seeds. Drain syrup from pears and place in saucepan. Add lemon slices and cardamom seeds. Heat to boiling and cook for 3 to 4 minutes. Pour over pears and let stand for 1½ to 2 hours. Serve chilled.

Calcutta Curry (Serves 6-8)

One onion, ½ cup melted shortening or oil, 1½ pounds lamb stew meat, 1 tablespoon curry powder, ½ teaspoon chili powder, 1 clove garlic, 1 sprig parsley, 1 tart apple, ½ cup sour milk or buttermilk, one 8-ounce can tomato sauce, ½ cup stock or water, ½ teaspoon salt, 2 cups rice, steamed. Slice or chop onion and brown in melted shortening in heavy pan with tightly fitting cover. Remove onions and reserve. Salt meat and dredge with flour. Brown in the fat. Reduce heat; add curry powder, chili powder, chopped garlic, minced parsley, sliced apple, browned onions and sour milk. Stir well, then add tomato sauce and stock or water. Cover and simmer 1 to 1½ hours or until meat is tender. Serve in heated dish or platter surrounded by steamed rice.

Mrs. C. E. Moore in her most clever manner conducted a debate, calling on Mrs. Alex Williams and David Anderson to be on the affirmative side of "Why I think My Child Should Have Music", and with Mrs. Clyde Monk and Al Griffin taking the negative side. This was quite hilarious and was greatly enjoyed by everyone.

Gary Edwards played background music while the hostesses, Mrs. J. E. McVickers, Clarence Stephens, and James Reynolds served delicious punch and cookies to some seventy-five members and guests.

Pays To Advertise Proves True After Three Year Lapse

Although it sometimes takes a long time, the old adage that "it pays to advertise," always proves true. And Jack Thomman of Levelland, with the State Comptroller's office, has proof positive that newspaper advertising in the Muleshoe Journal is effective.

About three years ago Jack lost his eyeglasses in Muleshoe, and subsequently had another pair made.

Tuesday of this week, he heard that an ad had been in The Journal several years ago advertising that a pair of glasses similar to his had been found and could be claimed at The Journal office.

Sure enough, when Thomman came in Tuesday afternoon his glasses were here, safe and sound, with only three years accumulation of dust on them.

Thomman was grateful, but regretfully declined to make any adjustment in The Journal's tax structure.

Student Council Makes Plans For Fun Day Observance To Be April 1

Tuesday morning the Muleshoe High School Student Council met to transact business on several matters.

The first item on the agenda concerned the way the four delegates to the TASC Convention should vote in the officer schools election. It was decided that how they voted should be left up to the individual delegates.

Buddy Peeler was elected Junior Rotarian for April, and the party committee was authorized to investigate possibilities of having a party in the near future. The council had planned to have a party earlier this year, but various activities made it necessary to postpone it until a later date.

In order to provide an interesting end of the year activity, the SC will sponsor a ping pong tournament. A committee composed of Max King, Tommy Thomson, Terry Dill, Quinell El-

Hott, Jerre Kemp, Lynn Honeycutt, and with Harold Cooper acting as chairman, was appointed by president Johnny Allison.

Since this is National Teacher Appreciation Week and in accordance with this, Friday has been set aside as Teacher Appreciation Day at MHS. Tuesday the student council presented each teacher with a beautiful red carnation.

Because of conflicting events there will be no Western Day this year. Also the administration thought there was not enough interest shown by the student body as a whole to merit having it. In order to fill this vacancy, the SC plans to sponsor a Fun Day, April 1. A committee composed of Harold Cooper, Max King, Naomi Watson, Sandra Briscoe, and Freddie Cook, with Rosemary Hicks acting as chairman, was appointed.

NOT IN NEMO'S WILDEST DREAMS—A deadly thing beneath the ocean's surface will be this first atomic submarine capable of firing guided missiles. This sketch shows the vessel shooting one of the weapons from its deck. The Westinghouse Electric Corporation, under contract with the U.S. Navy, is designing the nuclear propulsion plant, the same company which supplied the power plant for the first atomic sub, the USS Nautilus. The ship will be 346 feet long and have a beam of 29 feet.

AYLESWORTHS WITNESSED MARDI GRAS KILLING

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Aylesworth visiting the Mardi Gras celebration in New Orleans on their 27th wedding anniversary, were unfortunately enough to be eye witnesses to the killing of a Tulane University student.

Several students, they said, were dressed as convicts and as they came down the street they pistolled a Negro, who drew his pistol and began shooting, killing the student. The Aylesworths were in their car at the time and due to the press of the crowd were unable to leave the scene.

The incident was given nationwide publicity and was given extensive treatment with story and photographs in Life magazine. Otherwise, the local folks had a fine trip, enjoyed the blooming flowers, took a trip on the Father of Waters, and enjoyed watching the Mardi Gras parades and frolicking crowds.

Buford Butts Family Leaving For Colorado

Mr. and Mrs. Buford Butts are leaving Monday for their new home, in Poudre River Canyon, Colo., after having resided in the Muleshoe community most of their lives.

They will have a fishing camp, with cabins, a general store, etc., on a 38 acre tract which runs along the canyon. Their location is 43 miles northwest of Fort Collins and is on State Highway 14, which traverses the Canyon.

Mr. Butts recently sold his interest in Arnold Morris Auto Co. after purchasing the Colorado property last summer. He has sold his home here in Muleshoe to C. W. Sanders of Oklahoma Lane.

Buford came here in 1923 from Amarillo with his parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Butts. He

Delegates To Galveston For S. C. Convention

Wednesday afternoon, Sandra Allison, Patsy Nowlin, Bob Stack and Buddy Peeler, along with Mr. Bill Parker, high school principal, traveled to Lubbock where they boarded a chartered bus which took them to Galveston. These four people are the MHS Student Council's delegates to the State Convention of the Texas Association of Student Councils to be held in Galveston, March 28-30. Mr. Parker is the student sponsor at MHS.

The Muleshoe delegation was one of eight area schools riding the chartered bus. The bus left Lubbock at 6 p.m. Wednesday, and was to arrive in the coastal city about 8 a.m. Thursday. Muleshoe representatives were to register at approximately 1:00 p.m. Thursday, according to Mr. Parker.

Very little information concerning the program of activities is available at this writing. However, Buddy Peeler, who attended the State convention at Midland last year, will lead a discussion group entitled "The

The trio is composed of Anne Birdson, Al Wilson and Rufus Aylesworth. In addition to their vocal numbers, Mr. Aylesworth will render a number of piano selections.

Aylesworth, who is minister of music at the Muleshoe Christian Church, has also been a leader in the organization of the Muleshoe choir. He is a talented organist and pianist, and as a member of the trio appearing last month was well received and invited back for the musical program Sunday evening.

PROCLAMATION

GREETING: Three great institutions of American life, the church, the home, and the public school, exert powerful influence upon our youth in preparing them for useful citizenship. The public school teachers of Texas have great responsibility that cannot be valued merely by statistics or dollars and cents. In doing their job well, our teachers must work long hours, keep constantly abreast of new developments, and continue their own studies in their chosen fields.

Many problems face our teachers, not the least of which is the present shortage of teaching personnel which has placed an added burden upon those in the profession. All citizens should do their part in helping the public school teachers fulfill their responsibilities which grow so much greater with every passing year.

Therefore, I, as Mayor of Muleshoe, do hereby designate March 25-29 as TEACHERS APPRECIATION WEEK in Muleshoe and urge all citizens to demonstrate their gratitude to our public school teachers in every appropriate manner.

A man in his mid-fifties came to our clinic the first part of February. His entrance complaints were that had been diagnosed as rheumatoid-arthritis of the knees, ankles, elbows, and wrist. His knees and ankles were so swollen and painful he could hardly walk. He had suffered from this condition for some three years.

He was examined and spinal X-rays were made. He was accepted as a patient and chiropractic adjustments were begun. His response was very good from the beginning, and after a short period of time he was able to begin work at hard heavy labor.

We know of course, that this patient is not completely well, however we feel confident that it is only a matter of time until he will be well.

Babson Discusses

MAKING A FORTUNE IN THE STOCK MARKET

Babson Park, Mass., Mar. 28. Ninety per cent of investments are made haphazardly. Sometimes they are made on the advice of employees of brokerage firms. However, will usually be found that these men have been unable to make and KEEP any money for themselves.

IMPORTANCE OF PATIENCE, HOPE, AND DESIRE TO RENDER SERVICE

The selfish, shortsighted person seldom makes much money in the stock market, and keeps it only by sheer luck. Most of the real fortunes of today came from the fundamental desire to render service and give "for value received" help to: (1) A panicky market or (2) a new and useful industry. The first can be accomplished by anyone with patience and hope; the second sometimes fails because of poor judgment or because one is too early or too late.

Both of the above two methods of making money require courage, hope and patience. It takes courage to sell stocks and "store up" cash during a bull market when most people are very optimistic; and it takes courage to buy stocks again, one or two years later, when most people are bearish. Furthermore, the waiting period between these right times to sell and buy requires patience and hope. However, the person who follows either of the above methods renders an important service; namely, his selling helps make the boom less dangerous, and his buying helps check the panic. For this service an investor always receives a handsome reward.

METHOD NO. 1 — SELLING HIGH AND BUYING LOW

It is important that an investor decide in advance which of the above two methods he is to follow. It is difficult to mix the two methods. If you are to follow the first, of "selling high and buying low," it is usually best to confine your holdings to the active popular stocks, perhaps those known as the "blue chips"; while the second method often requires buying stocks of new and smaller companies with inactive market. All purchases should be confined to listed stocks. In either case, never buy on margin or borrowed money. For results with this first method, under the very best conditions — which no one could expect to duplicate — $100 could increase to $90,000 in 40 years, not considering either taxes or dividends. To show the great spread in price of some of the best single stocks, the following figures are most interesting: —

For instance, General Electric, now quoted around 55, but selling due to stock split at an equivalent of 165, sold for 9 during the thirties. Texas Company stock, now selling at an equivalent of 248, then sold at 10. Deere & Company, now selling at an equivalent of 180 then sold at 4. Du Pont, now selling at an equivalent of 720, then sold at 22. General Motors, now selling at an equivalent of 240, then sold at 8; while Radio Corporation, now selling at 33, then sold at 3.

METHOD NO. 2 — BUYING INTO NEW INDUSTRIES

Howard N. Feist, Jr. of the Business Statistics Organization of Wellesley Hills, Mass. has made an analysis of what could have been accomplished by investing only $100 in automobile stocks in 1915 and then making twenty-two successive switches into various industries, at the right time. This results in a most amazing figure of over two billion dollars!

As a practical matter, it would have been very difficult to have picked the right groups at the right time; but if you chose 90% wrong and only 10% right (provided all else was 100% correct), the $100 could have resulted in over $200,000,000, disregarding both taxes and dividends. Any "Doubting Thomas" may get a copy of this analysis with list of groups by sending two dollars to the Information Center, New Boston, N. H.

RESULTS OF CERTAIN TRUSTEES

I also have a copy of what E. L. Quirin of Elm Street, Wellesley Hills, Mass., who handles Trust Funds (minimum of $50,000) has accomplished per $1,000. In 17 years he has turned $1,000 into $7,256 for a local friend of mine. This means an annual rate of interest of from 25% to 40%. Of course, he had the general market in his favor much of the time; but it is another illustration of what intelligent, supervised investing can theoretically accomplish.

our hearts wide to welcome Thee into our lives. In the Master's name we pray. Amen

'Do-It' Fad Hits Washington

THIS WEEK — In Washington

With Clinton Davidson

Although it is just now beginning to break into the open, one of the hottest farm issues before Congress is whether to extend the $1 an hour and 8-hour day Fair Labor Standards law to include hired farm workers.

Several bills to do that have been introduced, including one by Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon, and hearings have begun before the Senate and House Labor committees.

Although the proposed legislation would exempt most small farmers it is estimated that the minimum wage and maximum hour provisions would apply to about 1,500,000 workers and would add approximately a billion dollars a year to the cost of producing and processing foods and fibers.

Testimony so far in favor of the bills has come largely from spokesmen for organized industrial labor. They argue "equal treatment" for both industrial and farm labor. There are some scattered union efforts to organize farm workers.

Similar bills have been introduced in the past, but this is the first time one has progressed to the point of public hearings before a congressional committee. There is considerable doubt that legislation on the subject will be enacted this year, but that will not be the end of efforts.

Spokesmen for the major farm organizations have joined in strong opposition to minimum wages and maximum hours for hired farm workers. They see the proposal as a threatened increase in costs of production.

They point out that farm wages have increased 28% during the past 10 years, during a period when farm prices have declined 15%, and that farmers now have to compete with industry for workers.

But their main argument is that agriculture cannot be operated successfully on an 8-hour day, punch-clock basis. The addition of over-time, at time-and-a-half pay, would add substantially to costs during rush seasons.

"Farmers who have been able to expand their operations should not have regulations imposed upon them which would be so burdensome as to be penalties," the Farm Bureau protested during Senate hearings.

Elimination of the agricultural exemptions now in the wage-hour laws would have a two-fold effect, the Bureau argued:

1. It would transfer income from farm people, whose net incomes have been declining for several years, to workers, whose net incomes have been increasing steadily for many years.

2. It would impose a regulatory burden involving excessive costs and record keeping, the cost of which would in a large part be borne by farm people.

The National Grange raised substantially the same objections and, in addition, pointed out that a great majority of the harvest operations in agriculture are paid for on a piece basis. Likewise, the Grange said, farm workers normally are furnished housing and other prerequisites without charge.

In support of arguments that current farm wages are not out of line with farm prices and income, the farm groups quote government reports showing that farm operators last year had an average income of only 70 cents per hour for their labor and management.

Sandhills Philosopher Wants THE RIGHT TO RURALIZE CITIES

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm is talking about something that's probably none of his business, his letter this week reveals.

Dear editor: Where I live, there's not much danger of any city ever bringing my farm into its city limits, cities may be hungry for more area but no city could be that hungry, yet a lot of cities throughout the country are growing and expanding and taking in land all around them, and I understand it creates a problem, especially for a farmer who wakes up some morning to find his barn on the city tax rolls.

I was reading last night in a newspaper which some city man threw out of his car along with some tin cans while he was driving through the countryside out here earlier in the day where a big New York real estate developer says a city ought to have the right to annex the area around it. It's not fair, he said, for people living near a city to enjoy its advantages and not pay any of its taxes, and he said the city should have the right to take in the territory without the consent of the people taken in.

Now this may be a good idea, if it's allowed to work both ways.

For example, take city people. They enjoy the advantages of the land around them, at least they still enjoy food, and if they've got the rights to urbanize the country, the country ought to have the right to ruralize the city.

A lot of city area would be hard to plow, but many's the time I've driven through a big city and thought about what my hungry cows could do to all the grass they've got growing on the city lawns. If the city has the right to rope in a country barn, the country people ought to have the right to fence off some of those lawns, although as I say the question is really none of my concern as any city that got so hard up for space it had to take in my farm would be faced with indignation anyway.

However, the way I look at the problem is, if the country people want to move to the city, let em; and if the city people want to move to the country, let em; but when the city itself wants to move to the country, that's a different matter, although I don't know of anything anybody can do about it. You can't stop progress. If you could, they'd back up on the hydrogen bomb. I wash my hands of the problem. It's not my fault if everybody in the country wasn't as farsighted as me and didn't pick out a piece of land nobody, farmer or city man, can do anything with.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

FREEMANS VISITED WITH HUGH AND FAMILY

The country Weldon and Eastham State Prison Farm put on its Sunday clothes for the visit last weekend of Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Freeman, their daughter, Mrs. Robert Rundell and children, with the Hugh Freeman family. Lush green grass that was knee high, blooming trees and flowers, the hum of bees and singing of birds greeted them and they really hated to leave there.

Hugh is liking his job at the prison fine and the family is all pleased with their new situation.

Hugh told them it has rained 11 to 12 inches there since he moved to the prison Jan. 1. Hogs and cattle are fat and the whole countryside seems prosperous.

TODAY'S MEDITATION

Read John 15:1-11.

Love for God means obedience to His commands; and His commands are not irksome. (1 John 5:3, Weymouth.) My friend Elsie Lee brought her little niece Si-Wei for her daily glass of orange juice. After squeezing the oranges, she sweetened the juice and gave a glass to Si-Wei and kept one for herself. Elsie tasted her own and realized that most of the sugar was in it. She tried to exchange glasses with Si-Wei, but Si-Wei eluded to the glass she had and said, "No, no! This is mine!"

"But this is better," her aunt said.

"No! No!" the child persisted. "Well, then, just taste mine". Thus quietly persuaded, she took a sip. "Isn't it better?"

"Yes," Si-Wei finally admitted and accepted the glass her aunt had been trying to give her.

We are so often like the child. We cling to our own will, thinking it too precious to exchange for God's better plan. All the time God is trying to persuade us to accept what He in His love and wisdom prepared for us.

PRAYER

Our loving Father, we thank Thee for Thy love and wisdom which we can always trust. Forgive us for our foolishness in clinging to our own ways, while rejecting Thy will and way for us. Help us to open

Spring Cues Closet Cleanup

BY EDNA MILES

AS most cleaning is done these days, there's no longer a set housecleaning spree known as spring cleaning. But somehow, spring does seem the ideal time of year to turn out the closets.

Perhaps it's because so much has accumulated in them during the winter months. First step is to get rid of the useless things that always collect in closets. The next is to remove everything so that shelves, walls and floors can be scrubbed.

An efficient cleaner for walls and woodwork can be made by adding a cup of ammonia, one-half cup vinegar and one-fourth cup baking soda to one gallon of water. If you like, use a little household bleach to dispel musty odors.

When you put away winter clothes, always label the boxes and clothes bags so they can be identified at a glance. And in moth-proofing winter woollens, check the directions carefully before you start.

When everything is shipshape again, keep a bottled wick deodorant on the closet shelf to maintain the fresh, clean smell.

Cleaning materials handy, this housekeeper readies her closets for spring.

into specific categories relating to type of damage. Illustrations, descriptions and summaries of common habits supplement clear, concise control measures listed for each insect.

Some cautions listed by the specialists concerning application of oil solutions include: never spray near pilot lights or other open flames; don't apply directly to the skin of humans or pets and always allow sprayed surfaces to dry before touching them to prevent smears. Read the manufacturers' labels on all insecticides and follow directions to the letter. Store out of children's reach and label home mixtures.

The "Texas Guide for Controlling Household Insects" is available from your county extension agent or the Agricultural Information Office at College Station. Ask for Bulletin L-311.

In 1929, the German dirigible, Graf Zeppelin, circled the world, 21,700 miles, in the time of 20 days, four hours.

Approximately 60 per cent of the population of the United States has church membership according to the World Almanac.

A railroad freight car's average carrying capacity is 53 tons.

Publish Guide For Control of Insects

Seldom can one observe a home and its surroundings without finding some form of insect life. That's the text of a new leaflet compiled by extension entomologist offering today's best control measures for household pests.

Certain pests may be found outside and controlled before they enter the home, say the specialists. Some pests live entirely within the home, however, and must be controlled by applying insecticidal sprays or dusts inside the dwelling.

Entomologists say insect activity changes from season to season. While some feed on fabrics, contaminate food, or attack dwellings, others bite humans, carry diseases, or cause infections. Sanitation and good housekeeping are usually effective in controlling or preventing most of these nuisances. But even the best-kept homes sometimes become infested, point out the entomologists, and require more direct action. Many types of sprayers and dusters designed for use in controlling household pests are now on the market.

This new bulletin classifies all major pests except the termite

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

Monday night, March 18, your Board of Supervisors met in regular session in the offices of the Bailey County Farm Bureau. With chairman Sherman Inman presiding, the business session included the following:

Approval of requests for 1741 trees by District cooperators. This number of trees for farmstead windbreaks takes care of all those available to our district, and no more requests can be accepted.

Literature for Soil Stewardship Week (May 26-June 2) will be ordered for use by local ministers to assist them, if they so desire, in preparing sermons on soil to be delivered on either May 26 or June 2. These pamphlets can be obtained by ministers from Mrs. Jerry White, secretary to the board, in the office of the Bailey County Farm Bureau.

The Land Judging Contest was set for April 3. Bill Bickel, Muleshoe Vocational Agriculture Instructor, was appointed to get awards for winners.

A new set of 32-inch stubble mulch sweeps ordered by the board have arrived and will be available to cooperators through the Muleshoe high school Vocational Agriculture Department at the rental rate of 10¢ per acre.

With approximately 21,000 acres in the District put into the Soil Bank, the need for an additional grass drill and seeder was pointed out by Duane Barbee, Soil Conservation Service representative to the board. Jay Logan Green, Bula voc. ag. instructor, was authorized to secure parts to make a new grass seeder for the district. An additional drill will be bought to supplement the three drills now owned by the District.

Rent on the 7-foot float was reduced to $8 per day for the first three days, $6 per day for the next three days, and $5 per day thereafter. Rent on the 9-foot float remains the same.

What Others Are Doing

Children Love Circus Set-Up!

Maybe they aren't meant to be, but a birthday party for youngsters sometimes seems like a circus! So—why not start with that idea, and plan a circus theme for your very next young-fry occasion? For this a "drum" filled with crunchy flaked coconut confetti is an attractive and simple-to-make centerpiece. Simply paste bands of colored paper or ribbons around a tin box. Add clown figures, gray glasses, pretty napkins, and the table is ready. Have plenty of ice cream, a pitcher of ice cold milk (flavored if desired), extra cookies to refill the drum and the party's on! Couldn't be simpler or more effective.

Party Cakes

- 1 1/2 cups tender-thin flaked coconut
- 1/2 cup finely cut dates
- 1/2 cup finely cut walnuts
- 1/2 teaspoon grated lemon rind
- 1/2 cup sweetened condensed milk

Combine ingredients in order given and mix thoroughly. Pack in greased 10x5x3-inch loaf pan. Bake in moderate oven (375°F.) 25 minutes. When cold, cut in 1-inch squares. Wrap in waxed paper, if desired. Makes 32 squares.

Now Is Time To Plant Grasses For Conservation Reserve In Soil Bank

By Lans Brown

The time is at hand when a decision must be made as to the type of grass you will use for cover on the Conservation Reserve Acreage of the Soil Bank.

At this time, we of the Soil Conservation Service wish to make some suggestions which we feel might be helpful in assisting you to secure a good stand of grass.

First, let us see what you plan to do with your land when your soil bank contract period has ended. Let us suppose that you will be returning the area to cropland because it is in a good class I or class II soil which is suited to cultivation.

If you have steep, shallow or sandy land which you do not plan to return to cropland, that will be managed along with other rangeland, you should select the type of native grass which is best adapted to the area.

Assistance on the proper kind of grasses, planting rates, dates, depth and cover requirements are available at your local Soil Conservation office. There are handbooks available now at the ASC office which state the amount of Federal cost-sharing will be given in establishing grasses. The handbook also points out the requirements to meet practice specifications.

All native grass seeding should be made in a good cover such as shown in the accompanying photo.

400 Jackrabbits Killed, 30 More Trapped In Drive

More than 400 jackrabbits were slaughtered in a drive on the Johnny McMurtry ranch last week, when a group of area men, in two hunting forays bagged 280 jackrabbits in one party and more than 120 in another.

The increase in the jackrabbit population has posed a threat this spring to young grain and alfalfa fields in this area.

Three men employed in Ft. Worth read about the jackrabbit threat in the Ft. Worth Star-Telegram; and came out early this week to capture live rabbits for greyhound racing.

Aided by county agent J. K. Adams, the men trapped at least 29 rabbits using spotlights and nets.

The trio plans to be back next week to get more jacks.

There are three or more possible ways to choose. If you are in doubt, check with the SCS office soon, as it is time now to decide which way you will want to choose.

You could seed in existing cover seed grasses adapted to rows; establish an annual cover in which to seed in 1958.

Drilled annuals are best to seed in grasses, but good row sorghums or sudan residue may be used also.

Bailey County Has $15,681 In Bond Sales In February

Texans invested over $14 million dollars in Series E and H United States Savings Bonds during the month of February, Mrs. Inez Bobo, County Savings Bonds Chairman said today. Total purchases of $14,458,082 for the month were recorded.

During the first two months of 1957, Texans bought $32,065,275 in E and H Savings Bonds. This amounts to 16.6 per cent of the 1957 state goal of $193,100,000.

Here in Bailey county, purchases through February totaled $15,681 for 16.4 per cent of the 1957 goal of $102,688.

Primary emphasis during the spring months is on Payroll Savings. Mrs. Bobo said. Hundreds of firms throughout the state are installing the Payroll Savings Plan which will offer their employees a plan by which they can save systematically. Over eight and a half million Americans and 250 thousand Texans are now taking advantage of this method of regular saving.

State Draft Board Registrations Pass Million Mark

State draft board registration passed the million mark in February, a consolidation of local board reports revealed Tuesday.

The consolidation report, made by state Selective Service headquarters to the national headquarters in Washington, showed that the state had 995,232 men registered at the end of January, and 1,000,945 at the end of February.

At the end of 17 days of registration in August and September 1948, when the draft law required that all men register between the ages of 18 and 25, a total of 450,183 males of those ages had signed registration cards.

Since that time, there has been a continuing requirement for all males to register on their 18th birthday, or within five days thereafter. Under such requirement it has taken about eight and a half years for the registration rolls to reach one million men.

As men grow older after they register, some lose their draft liability at age 26, some at age 28, and others not until they are 35 years old, depending upon deferments. Some deferments keep individuals liable for induction longer.

No matter whether their liability ceases at ages 26, 28, or 35, draft registrants always have the liability of keeping their local boards informed of their current address.

Since the present draft law was enacted in 1948, all males born since August 30, 1922, have had and now have a legal obligation to register, except those not yet 18.

Let Farmers Farm, Theme Of PCG Address Meeting

Rep. Jamie L. Whitten (D. Miss.) called for a firm program that would let farmers farm in an address Monday, March 18, in Lubbock before the first annual meeting of the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

The Mississippi Democrat spoke to more than 500 UCG members, directors and officers from a 29-county West Texas area on proposed farm laws and proposed legislation.

The Congressman called for a complete new look at the agricultural program of our nation, including price supports. His talk came after a morning session in which a business report on the PCG was given and a meeting in which the current officers of the organization were elected again.

The three top men named to serve another year include W. O. Fortenberry, Lubbock, president; Wilmer Smith, Wilson, Lynn county, vice-president; and M. A. (Rip) Elms, Jr., Littlefield, secretary-treasurer.

A. J. Lenderson and Ross Goodwin are directors of the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., from Bailey county.

Whitten, Chairman of the powerful Agricultural Appropriations Committee, who was the first to insist that the Department of Agriculture sell its surplus cotton in world markets at competitive prices, said this sales program has done lots of good and if continued would relieve some of our problems.

Whitten, Chairman of the powerful Agricultural Appropriations Committee, who was the first to insist that the Department of Agriculture sell its surplus cotton in world markets at competitive prices, said this sales program has done lots of good and if continued would relieve some of our problems.

He insisted, however, that there were many defects in the present law which have become apparent after years of experience.

"First", he said, "we have learned that controlling acreage will not control U. S. Production and we also have learned that reducing U. S. production will not reduce world production."

"It is my belief", he said, "that we must rewrite our farm legislation so as to reverse the present approach, which leads to less and less farming on a more and more expensive basis."

"We must start out with the premise that any farm program, to be worthwhile, must let the American farmer farm."

"I am preparing a bill which will be introduced shortly, wherein the American cotton farmer will be given support on his share of the domestic market, figured in terms of bales or pounds. Such supports on the farmers share of the domestic market should be on the basis of 100 per cent of parity. Under such a bill, the farmer will be released from acreage controls and any cotton that he produces beyond his share of the domestic markets would be available only for world trade and on that share of his crop the farmer would be dependent on what the world market would pay."

President Fortenberry presided at the annual meeting and presented Cong. Whitten with a western hat after Whitten's address. President Fortenberry also made his annual report.

Christian Science Services
God's infinite goodness will be brought out in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Reality" at Christian Science services Sunday.

Scriptural selections will include the following from the Gospel of John (1:1, 3): "In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. All things were made by him; and without him was not any thing made that was made."

Correlative passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (472:24-26): "All reality is in God and His creation, harmonious and eternal. That which He creates is good, and He makes all that is made."

The Golden Text is from Psalms (18:32): "It is God that girdeth me with strength, and maketh my way perfect."

WHY AN INDEPENDENT FARM AGENCY?

Texas has one of the few independent farm agencies remaining in the United States. That is, one of the very few whose leader and activities are responsible only to the people of Texas — not to a board, a special interest group, or a higher government. This is because the Texas Department of Agriculture, headed by a Commissioner elected by the people, works to promote all phases of agriculture relating to Texas and its citizens. And agriculture is still our most basic industry, affecting more Texans than any single phase of our economy.

A proposal has been introduced with the Texas Legislature to place the affairs of Texas agriculture into the hands of a board who would "select" a secretary as their head. This would likely take away the independence of the Texas Department of Agriculture and place it directly under the watchcare of the federal government.

Nothing could be more damaging. The people of Texas have a right to select the leader of their farm agency just as surely as they have a right to pick their governor.

If this ill-timed, poorly thought-out plan should pass into law — and the people of Texas are certain to prevent this from happening — then the day might come when the voice of the people is lost in selecting its state leaders.

It would be like having a group of lawyers to pick an attorney general, a board of bankers to select a state treasurer, or a bunch of big shots to pick a governor.

The leaders of Texas must be chosen by the people. Any effort to change this Democratic process must be combatted.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Sooter Deplores Huge Surpluses, "Smothering" Gov't. Programs

Editor's Note: Another dirt farmer, Joe Sooter, this week discusses in an interesting way the nation's farm problem. The Journal will print all such articles as space permits.

Dear Editor: I read with considerable interest the recent letters of farmers Bill Millen and Richard Smith concerning Farm Organizations, parity, free enterprise, and farm surpluses. Let me say right off that this is a healthy sign. In my opinion the farm problem can only be solved in the most satisfactory way by those who live daily with those problems—the farmers themselves.

As long as we look to politicians, who base their decisions on ballots and political expediency, we may expect the farm problem to remain in the conglomerate mess it was in after twenty years of New Deal—Fair Deal doctoring and which mess, four years of Bensonianism has not improved upon.

Where is the farmer today after twenty years of New Deal—Fair Deal and four years of Bensonianism?

He is buried beneath a mountain of farm surplus amounting to approximately eight billion dollars on which the taxpayers are paying one million dollars per day to elevators and warehousemen for storage. Then Benson and some politicians and publications point an accusing finger at the little fellow buried under the mountain of surplus and tell the taxpayers we are spending your money to help him.

What has brought this deplorable mess of huge surpluses, low prices, and smothering government regulations, under which the farmer finds himself?

First — We farmers must admit that mechanization combined with the farmer initiative and ingenuity in production started the upward spiral of over-production and the downward spiral of farm prices.

Second — (And here is where the argument starts) Political expediency (otherwise called Farm Programs) to alleviate the economic pressure on the farmer that resulted from these spirals have tended to magnify rather than cure the problem of surpluses and low prices.

I am sure such a forthright statement as that will get the starry-eyed disciples of big benevolent Federal Government as the great infallible dispenser of economic, social and racial equality right up on their hind legs. But before these believers in big government become too infuriated let us look at how the farm programs have operated and the results obtained.

To make this complex problem more understandable let us put it in the simplest form. We farmers get over industrious and with an able assist from the Lord end up with bigger harvest than there is a market for. Prices fall below production costs. We turn toward Washington and yell for help. The politicians from the farm areas hear the cry and go into a huddle. After carefully taking note of where the most votes were, they decide to call for a complete government regulated economy and our farming methods and prices dictated to us by hirelings out of Washington. "We cannot exist half slave and half free."

And now may I indulge one moment more of your time while I point out some of the fruits that we have harvested here in Bailey county under the benevolent protecting arm of government controls: A few years back the government was spending much money through the County Agents to teach the poor backward one crop cotton farmer how to produce something besides cotton and thereby conserve his soil and improve his income. Time and cotton allotments have made a fool of the County Agents and proven this farmer as the most intelligent and far sighted in the county. One acre of his depleted soil will now yield as much net returns as three acres belonging to his neighbor who was dumb enough to raise feed, legumes and livestock.

His run down soil will sell for much more than the fertile acres of his neighbor. If the present farm program continues he can proudly leave to his son a farm with a cotton allotment which he can put in the Soil Bank and be assured a comfortable living while he retires to the city. His neighbor will leave only a fertile farm on which his son will have to sweat to eke out a living.

If this cotton farmer happened to live in Lubbock county his cotton allotment would be almost twice as large as a similar farmer in Bailey county. Not only that, but if he puts it in the soil bank the government will pay him almost twice as much per acre as the farmer in Bailey county. And to think, dear editor, thirteen years ago I was a cotton farmer in Lubbock county. I moved to Bailey county because it had better land and water. To make it worse I started raising feed, legumes, and cattle. How stupid can a farmer get?

But almost any farmer who has been shaving 20 years or more could keep this type of enumeration going on indefinitely all the way back to the halcyon days of the programs inception when we plowed under cows and little pigs, cashed cotton certificates, and farmers discovered that it paid big to learn to lie. Yet there are those among us who think these swindrous fruits should be extended to all segments of agriculture.

I would be pulling a Westbrook Pegler if I stopped this diatribe here without making any constructive suggestions. So I wish to say that the Texas Farm Bureau originated a beautiful Soil Bank plan that would have stopped the creation of surpluses, cut government costs to mere conservation payments, eliminate most of the controls, and let each farmer prosper according to his ability.

This plan was badly twisted by American Farm Bureau, beat up by Congress and ravished by Benson; but we still hope that this off-spring will recover and grow into something worthwhile. Also the Farm Bureau's program for the disposal of CCC stocks is being belatedly put into effect by the administration and shows real promise of being successful.

When we farmers eliminate the surpluses, prevent the creation of more and re-establish freedom on the farm, we can write, "mission accomplished".

Sincerely,
JOE SOOTER

Bible Comment:

Amos, the Prophet, Saw in His Time An Image of Ours

AMOS was not the first of the Hebrew prophets, but he is the first whose prophecies have come down to us in a book attached to his own name. What makes him interesting is that what he said about his own time can be applied with equal intensity to our own.

Amos was a herdsman in a small village about 12 miles south of Jerusalem. His farmer's sense of value and clearness of vision was shocked when he came to Jerusalem. He protested as might a plain, honest, hard-working man of today at things to be seen in the city life of our time.

It was a time of so-called prosperity in Palestine but Amos saw poor wretches who had no share in this. Some were living in luxury while others starved. Amos not only saw this contrast but saw that beneath it, and in some measure causing it, were real injustices.

Not only were those who had wealth unwilling to share it, but the society itself was full of materialism and corruption. The rich and powerful were using the poor for their own gain. Amos describes what he saw in vivid words. He saw corruption in political life, bribery and dishonesty. A prudent man might have kept quiet but Amos was fearless. He appealed to the people to seek good and not evil. He warned them that the course they were pursuing was bound to bring destruction on them.

Religion itself was perverted from its true ways. It had become largely a matter of form. The people observed feasts and brought burnt offerings, but they were not offering their own lives as sacrifices in holiness to God. Amos poured out his wrath on these things. Surely one can read the application of all this to our own day. Amos, a prophet of Israel, speaks directly to our own time as much as if he stood among us.

Parmer County Farm Bureau News

The General Appropriations Bill (HB 133) with Farm Bureau's amendments with the exception of the one increasing funds appropriated for State Experiment Stations, was approved by the House last week. Though Farm Bureau people were glad to see the McIlhenny amendment, granting increases to the Forestry Service, approved, they are still exerting every effort to gain support in the Senate of the Kennedy amendment, granting increased funds to support State Experiment Stations. Representative Jesse Osborn, who usually votes pretty well in line with Farm Bureau recommendations, voted against the latter amendment. We are convinced that he must have good reasons for his stand, but believe that if he had a little more correspondence from his constituents favoring the amendment, he may have favored it in his vote. The vote was 67 for and 69 against. Farm Bureau's reason for strongly advocating the fund increase in State Experiment Stations are for product research and marketing purposes. It is believed such projects would pay their way with good dividends to boot. HB 27 by Talasek and SB 26, its companion bill by Secrest will be heard on March 26. Some who have argued against this flexible insurance rates) have said that flexible does not necessarily mean rates would go down—they might go up. We can assure you that the principal supporter of the bill, Texas Farm Bureau, expects rates to go down immediately upon approval of the bill. If you favor it, write Senator Andy Royers and Representative Jesse Osborn in Austin and say so. They have indicated their probable support, but your letters would strengthen their supporting thoughts.

Eight or ten Parmer county Farm Bureau leaders will be in Austin Tuesday night and Wednesday of this week, checking on legislative activities. A report of their experiences will be in your newspaper next week.

The Holt family went to Stephenville Saturday night and visited Mrs. Holt's sister, Mrs. Ferel Little and family. The Littles are former residents of Muleshoe.

RALPH YARBOROUGH

"I am for restoration of crop supports at 90 per cent of parity. Parity does not mean profit for farmers. Parity means only a fair price for raw crops from the farm arrived at in relation to the prices farmers must pay for manufactured goods. A farmer can lose his crop and his farm even with 100 per cent parity. Surely price supports at 90 per cent of parity — 90 per cent of what is fair — is not unfair to anybody.

"Prosperity for all the people is based on prosperity on the farms. Declining farm prosperity means trouble for all of us. That is why I will continue to be, as I have always been, for restoration of crop supports at 90 per cent of parity."
