Things A Fellow Learns By Listening:

It costs me 30 cents for three cups of coffee and some concentrated listening to learn a good deal I didn't know about Canada from June Sanders, who with his wife and Mike recently visited Mrs. Sanders' folks in Calgary, Alberta, and friends in Edmonton, Alberta.

For instance: There's more difference in customs and so forth between this area and St. Louis than there is between the Plains and Calgary or Edmonton.

Alberta is or has been a great wheat province, the Kansas of Canada. Now the government will let the farmer sell 6 bushels of wheat per acre, regardless of how much he raises, and last year wheat sold there for 89¢!

But they don't subsidize nobody. It's an effort to get farmers to quit all-wheat farming, quit raising something there's no demand for, and the agricultural department bombards Alberta plains farmers with advice on how to grow a variety of crops. They don't seem to be, says Homer, starting on this new diet.

There are only two rail systems in Canada, the National Pacific, owned or sponsored by the government; and the Canadian Pacific. Both are transcontinental systems, paralleling each other, at least in places. On a 95¢ car freight train at Edmonton, Homer noted, all box cars belonged to the National Railroad.

It's a rough and rugged road to travel by auto from Calgary west across the Rockies to the Pacific. But Canada is building a four lane highway; traffic to everywhere is increasing in Canada as elsewhere. They sure like English, German, French and Italian cars in Canada, but there are wads of U. S. made cars in use. Ford, General Motors, Chrysler, have their own plants in Canada, however in some cases the product goes under a different name.

The Canadian dollar is worth 5 cents more than our dollar, perhaps one reason being that wages are considerably less than our scale. Calgary's altitude is about that of Muleshoe. But Calgary is a long way north of us, so the maximum temperature is seldom over 80. Because they have a very long day, sometimes 20 hours of daylight, plants grow much faster; Homer says since plants have to hump to get grown, you can see them grow.

The Snake River stands on a glacier in northern Alberta that is 1000 feet thick; temperature was 43. Canada has only 16 million people, but, thinks Homer, the increase in world population will wipe the country. A thousand miles of good farm land lies northwest of Edmonton as far as the Dawson river.

Man Attempts Suicide Near Goodland Farm

Pedro Garcia 26, is in serious condition in a Morton hospital as the result of an attempt at suicide on the L. D. Sanderson farm south of Goodland Monday afternoon.

Officers said Garcia backed his car 380 yards from a tree speeded up his motor as fast as it would go and rammed the car head-on into a tree.

He suffered chest injuries as well as minor cuts and bruises, but hospital authorities said he is expected to live.

Sheriff's officers said Tuesday Garcia was despondent over domestic troubles, and attempted to take his life by ramming the tree with his car.

Record Breaking Cotton Crop Could Be Produced This Season On Plains

The first 1957 cotton crop production estimate for the Texas high plains, as of August 1, shows an estimated 1,654,000 bales expected off this year's crop, agricultural officials report.

This production is based on allotted acreage, stands and crop conditions as of August 1, from the 23 high plains counties. The 1957 crop estimate is more than 200,000 bales higher than the first crop estimate of the 1956 crop which actually produced the second biggest crop in history in this area, 1,640,000 bales.

Bailey county is expected to produce 73,000 bales, from 34,000 acres of dryland and 62,000 irrigated acres.

Twenty One In Jail Here Over The Weekend

Steel Bleachers To Be Erected At Douglass Stadium

New steel and treated wood bleachers are expected to be in place by the time the first home game is played on October 4, it was announced this week.

The new bleachers will be erected on the west side of the stadium, and will replace the wooden seats which are to be removed.

At a later date, the Board plans to install concrete seats on the home, or east side of the field, with treated wooden seats. Date of this work is not known at present, but is expected to be some time during the school year.

The new bleachers will have a seating capacity of 850, as compared to 750 in the old stands.

State Pay Half Costs For Widening 84 From Muleshoe To County Line

The County Commissioners Friday signed a contract with the State Highway Department in which the Department agrees to underwrite half the cost of securing right of way and moving obstacles in the right of way for widening U. S. 84 from Muleshoe city limits to the Lamb County line. The contract is a result of legislation adopted three months ago, and which becomes effective August 22, 1957. Funds for the state's participation in the right of way purchase program will come from an 11 per cent increase in car tag costs.

County Judge Glen Williams told The Journal Monday that the Commissioners have secured all but five tracts necessary for the four lane project, and have suits ready to file in condemnation court for four of these tracts. However, the Court has been advised to wait until the new state participation bill becomes effective before proceeding further.

Judge Williams said that the new law will enable the county to be assured of getting the four lane road by spring, when state funds become available. Under the terms of the contract, the state highway department will assist in payment to property owners who sell right of way for the widening project. The Department will also assist in payment for moving obstacles from the right of way, such as power lines, buildings, etc.

In other action Friday, the Commissioners paid routine bills and voted to transfer $2000 to each of the precincts from the road and bridge fund.

The resignation of assistant county agent James F. Ward was accepted, and the Commissioners voted a special commendation to Ward for his services.

Mr. Woods has been transferred to Baytown where he will be in charge of a new store being opened there by Perry's, Mrs. Woods was employed in the Ready-to-Wear department at Anthony's the past several months.

Mr. Reeder states he and his family like Muleshoe very much, and believe that the future prospects of this area are the brightest on the South Plains.

Property Owners Sign Up For Four Lane Road West From City Limits

Prospects for widening Highway 70 and 84 from the old city limit west to the new city limit and beyond seem bright this week as practically all property owners have signed agreements to pay for curbing.

This east-west thoroughfare, designated in the city limits as American Boulevard, is four lanes wide to about the location of Heathington Lumber, and the proposal is to widen the paving from that point to carry four lanes of traffic on past the highway roadside park in west Muleshoe.

Agreements have been secured by a group representing the U. S. Highway 70 association, joined by members of the Chamber of Commerce highways committee.

Working on the project for the Highway 70 association were Ed Johnson, Roy Dyer, Bill Collins, and Harrold Griffiths. The group met with the city council, the county commissioners court, with city engineer, and Highway Department district engineer, to explain the proposal, and secured their endorsement.

The highway department is ready to proceed with the work at a rate of $200 per foot of curb, and as soon as all property owners have signed agreements, two or three non-resident owners have yet to sign agreements.

It was said the widened highway will have a center divider; there will be 8 feet for parallel parking on either side of the highway, and no additional right of way will be required since there already is 100 feet of right of way.

Mr. Griffiths said an effort will be made to get the highway department to extend the widening project to the point where Farm to Market Road No. 1760 enters the highway west of Muleshoe.

Property owners along the highway here in the city are to pay a maximum of $200 per running foot for curbing.

More Weekend Rains Over Plains Aid Crops Headed For Record Production

The West Plains received more showers Sunday and Monday adding to the chances for a bumper fall crop in dryland as well as irrigated sections of the area.

Sunday the south end of the county received general rains up to 1 1/2 inches in the Stegall and Coyote Lake sections, with good showers throughout the dryland area.

At Muleshoe 83 of an inch was official for Sunday and Monday, while the Goodland area reported heavy rains on both days. Although the rains have caused some insect infestation in cotton fields, the infestations are not considered serious, and the outlook continues to be bright for a record cotton harvest and a long fall season.

This week the Texas Employment Commission and the Lubbock Cotton Exchange both issued long range predictions for one of the largest cotton yields in recent history for the 23 county high plains area.

Present predictions for Bailey county are in excess of 73,000 bales. Last fall Bailey county had more than 69,000 bales.

Correct Address On Statements Will Speed Delivery, Postal Workers Say

"More than 75 percent of monthly statements mailed in the Muleshoe postoffice are incorrectly addressed, and many of them wind up in the General Delivery box", postal officials here said this week.

"If a merchant goes to the trouble of extending credit, he should take a little more trouble to make sure the creditor receives his monthly statement by addressing it correctly before it is mailed", the postal employees pointed out.

Years ago, one postal clerk said, employees knew most every patron, and could properly handle an incorectly addressed piece of mail. But now since the area has become so heavily populated, clerks cannot guarantee correct delivery of mail unless the address is correct and legible.

Postmaster Arnold Allcorn said that delivery of statements and bills could be speeded up at least a day if separate ties are made of mail going on the different routes and a separate tie for city bills. This not only speeds up the work in the postoffice but gets the statement to the customer sooner.

Care of Steam Iron

There is a good chance that your steam iron is collecting a mineral deposit unless you are using softened or distilled water.

When the deposit forms it adheres to the walls of the water reservoir and the steam vents, thus reducing efficiency of the appliance. The deposit can be removed by filling the reservoir with distilled vinegar. Let the iron steam for 15 minutes, and then let it set over night. In the morning, pour the vinegar out of the reservoir and rinse thoroughly. This rinsing is important and should be very carefully done, since vinegar steam on your freshly laundered clothes is most undesirable.

Can Irish Potatoes

With the harvesting of potatoes you may have a good supply of the small size that are so nice for canning. Here are the directions:

Select only fresh small potatoes, one inch in diameter or smaller.

Wash thoroughly before and after peeling.

Peel, if potatoes are fresh the peel may be removed by scrubbing with a stiff brush or a coarse cloth — a piece of burlap does a good job. In case the skins have dried, boil about 5 or 10 minutes or until the skins can be removed easily.

Precook potatoes 10 minutes in boiling water.

Pack into cans or jars. Leave sufficient space at top of jar or can for a 1/2 inch air space. This is important because some harmful bacteria cannot live in the presence of air.

Add 1/2 teaspoon salt to No. 2 cans or pint jars.

Cover with clear boiling water. Process at 12 lbs. pressure. No. 1 cans, 40 minutes; No. 2 cans, 45 minutes, and pint jars 45 minutes.

Larger size containers are not recommended for potatoes. Cool tin cans in cold water immediately and let jars cool out of a draft.

Store in a cool dark place. Note — It is best to can potatoes alone, but if they are mixed with snap beans, use the time table for potatoes.

CAUTION: Always heat potatoes and other non-acid canned foods in open kettle at boiling temperature at least 10 minutes before they are tasted. There is more danger of botulism in potatoes because botulinus bacteria are found in the soil and it is difficult to remove every trace of soil. Potatoes are so starchy that heat cannot penetrate the container easily, therefore the bacteria that are present may not be destroyed. Ten minutes of boiling after opening the container removes danger of botulism.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to take this means to thank each of our friends and neighbors for their thoughtful words of sympathy, the flowers, and those who prepared and served meals, and for every expression of kindness during the passing of our husband and father.

May God bless each of you.

Errors Plague LL All Stars In Loss To Hereford Thurs.

David Shepherd

Travis Bessire pitched a great ball game for two innings, and then several errors broke open the game for Hereford as they beat Muleshoe Little League All-Stars 9-0 last Thursday in the opening game of district play.

Judon Fambrough a slugging third baseman slammed a powerful homer in the sixth with no one on base. Don Finn, who collected two hits, was the leading hitter.

Bill Overall, a little but loud fireballer struck out 12 Muleshoe batsmen, but walked only four. He also powered a long single and scored a run.

Bessire struck out five and walked five. He was relieved by Bobby Atkinson in the sixth. The Muleshoe hurlers were victims of a team lack of power, with 10 men dying on base.

Hereford beat Brownfield 6-4 Friday in seven innings, and went on to Abilene to represent the district.

1940s Produce Great Individual Stars At Muleshoe

"Teams 'Keep Going' But WW II Slows Muleshoe's Golden Era

Nets: The following is the second in a series of five articles on the history of football at Muleshoe high school. The author wishes to thank those who helped him compile data for this period; notably Lloyd Alsop, Jack Young, Joe Bob Horsley, Don Bryant, Arlo Farrell, Bill Pearson, Bob Horvey, and others whose valuable assistance made possible the following article.

By BILLY ELLIS

The 1940s found Muleshoe in its "Golden Era" of football, though there were no super-ectacular teams. There was, however, some great individual stars, some of the best talent Muleshoe has produced played in his period.

The 1940 team contained several players who had been on the squad in 1938, the only district champion team in Muleshoe's history. The star of the '40 eleven was quarterback and captain Dick Standefer. The sparkling signal caller made the all-conference team and quarterbacked his team in a high school All-Star game at Plainview. Standefer was later to star for Texas Tech under Coach Dell Morgan.

The 1940 Yellowjackets won five and lost three, rolling up 182 points to their opposition's 38, under Ed Haley, who took over the coaching duties just before the opening game as Choc Cooper left for the service.

Highlights of the year: Winning the first three games by shutouts over Springlake, Friona and the Clovis B team; outgaining Sudan in a tough district tussle only to lose on two pass plays, 12-6; downing Morton 35-0 as Standefer accounted for every touchdown with passes; losing to Littlefield 12-6 in the season finale, again getting all bad breaks.

In 1941, the "Jackets", under Coach Prince Scott, were again off to a good start, but a mid-season let-down caused the final record to read 4-5. Spud Thomas quarterbacked the '41 team, and he, too, proved an able passer, with end Garland "Tuffy" Kennedy his principal target.

In '41, memorable events were: beating Slaton, the district favorite, 14-7 in the opening district game, stopping their touted quarterback cold; using the "Detroit Pass" series against Sudan, and almost catching up — Anthony Jesko received two cracked ribs in this contest; Harry Walker, one of the teams stars, playing in the Oil Bowl game, composed of Texas All-Stars, in a post-season game.

In 1942, with older brothers and the "bigger boys" going off to war, Muleshoe high fielded probably its smallest team—in number and size both—in history. Some of the boys who played in the first game against Sudan hadn't even played football previously.

Despite the odds, and getting off to a bad start, with the team gaining experience each week, the Yellowjackets "by sheer desire" finished the season with a three win, two lost and two tied record. The old home-and-home series was the rule, as district affiliations were dropped during the war years.

Outstanding occasions of the year included: going to Sudan and tying the experienced Hornets, 7-7, with quarterback Irvin St. Clair picking up the blocked extra point try and running it over; Lew Jenkins, former world lightweight champion was a spectator at the Morton game; beating Hale Center in the last game of the season as Jack Cummings of H. C. broke his leg — Jack's younger brother, Joe, later was to break a leg playing for Muleshoe.

The next two years were the worst of the 40's from a won-lost standpoint. Nineteen forty-four found Muleshoe winless in six games, (the team tied Morton 0-0, not the first time the "Jackets" had failed to win a game, and definitely not the last time a Muleshoe team was to be winless.

Johnny Wight coached the '44 team, which lacked the scoring punch, being held scoreless in five of the six games. The "Jackets" seemed to be on their way to a win against Springlake, as quarterback Bill Renfro and halfback "Porky" Farrell each ran 70 yards for scores, but the Wolverines erased Muleshoe's 18-0 halftime lead to win 20-18 with a last ditch passing attack.

The record read 2-5 in 1945, with George Bass as coach. Sideline: quarterback Jack Young scoring his only TD in high school in the Morton game; Arlo Farrell returning a punt 85-yards against Olton; shifting to the single wing in the last quarter of the Springlake game; without even knowing any plays; the first broadcast of a Muleshoe home game, done "live" by KICA of Clovis.

James Beam became coach at Muleshoe in 1946, and drove the team to a third place finish in district 5-A. Quarterback "Porky" Farrell captained the '46 team, which also had Bill Jim St. Clair, Wiley Moore, and Fuston McCarty in the backfield. Many consider this backfield one of the finest in Muleshoe's history.

Highlights of the season: winning the first three and last three games to finish 6-3, losing only to Littlefield, Sudan, and Springlake; Herb Griffiths blocking three men on one play to spring Fuston McCarty on a TD run; Bill St. Clair's long TD run to sew up the Levelland game and third place in district; — the final year in beloved old "Cob" park.

Beam's 1947 team was a "break even" eleven, having a 4-4-1 record. Don Barnett, an end, captained the squad. Weldon McCarty, tailback, for one of Muleshoe's only single-wing attacks, was the scoring leader. The events: shutting out Canyon for the second straight year; edging Crosbyton 7-6 here, quarterback Bill Barbour's pass to Barnett for the point after McCarty's touchdown proving the difference; playing Olton to a 12-12 tie in the conference opener; walling Morton in the finale; playing the first game on the field at its present location.

In 1948, Beam again had a winning year, posting a 5-4 mark, which was to be the last winning year at Muleshoe until the 1956 team broke even. Joe Bob Horsley and Bobby Goss captained the Yellowjackets, who lost to the same four teams as in '47, Sudan, Littlefield, Sundown, and Levelland.

Highlights of '48: winning four of the first five games; holding district champ Littlefield to a 12-7 win in a game that was staffed by a Lubbock sportswriter, one of the few Muleshoe games that has drawn a special reporter; Lawler's 70-yard TD against Littlefield, aided by tackle Horsley, who took out three Wildcat on the play, according to the Lubbock paper; Goss making all regional; organization of the "M" club; losing to Levelland in the "first Homecoming Game in MHS history."

Woody Green took over as coach for the 1949 season, assisted by T. J. Bailey and Willard Hedges, who had also assisted on the play, captained by Bobby Goss and Ted Lawler, had a 4-5 record.

The last Yellowjacket eleven (some, notably The Journal, called the team "Mules" in '49, but it wasn't made official until the next year) started out well, but by the time conference play began, injuries had crippled the squad. Highlights included Bobby Goss being named all-regional for the second straight year; picking the wrong game for the second homecoming, as the power-packed Littlefield crew blasted Muleshoe 48-0, en route to their state championship; losing to Morton in an Armistice Day game — the last afternoon game played on the local field; the "Mule Barn" being used for the first time.

Surplus Reduction Farm Plan Would Increase Loan Price On Commodities

A farm program plan that would add millions of dollars net profit to the farmers of the South Plains and Panhandle area was submitted to the combined meeting of some 22 commodity groups in Washington, D. C., on August 6 and 7 by The Grain Sorghum Producers Association.

R. G. Peeler of Hereford and Frank Moore of Plainview attended the meeting representing the grain organization. The meeting in Washington was planned for the purpose of all commodity groups meeting together in order to work out a plan that all would support in the 1958 legislative session. The principal reason for failure to get a favorable farm program passed in 1957 was the fact that all commodities were fighting each other. Should such a meeting prove successful, there would be a greater chance of getting something beneficial done in Congress next year.

The Grain Sorghum Producers Association plan calls for all commodities to be supported at the same level. The plan provides for a percentage of the cultivated acres to be retired from production. This is to prevent acreage diverted from basic crops causing a surplus of non-basic ones. The group feels the plan would solve the surplus of feed grains quickly as it would take 50 million acres of feed out of production with a 15 per cent layout, or 70 million acres with a 20 per cent layout.

There would be no discrimination among farms as each farm could have the same percentage of price supported crops. It would have the effect of treating all feed grains alike and would take corn off the basic list.

Surplus Reduction Farm Plan
No farm will be permitted to plant more than approximately 85 percent of total cultivated acres in price supported crops, leaving approximately 15 percent in non-revenue layout acreage.

No payment will be received by a farmer for non-revenue layout land fallow or soil building crops permitted.

Non-revenue layout acreage must be rotated yearly. Non-revenue layout percentage can be increased or decreased yearly by the Secretary of Agriculture within limits set forth by law, according to supply of non-basic crops such as feed grain, soybeans, cotton seed, non-commercial corn.

Cross compliance will be in effect. Farmers will be permitted to plant price supported non-basic crops in case of drought, hail or flood on basic crop acreage.

Marketing and acreage allotments will not be used on price supported non-basic crops as non-revenue layout automatically reduced acreage. Program is voluntary in that it must be approved by a national referendum each year, and then is mandatory. A penalty of 50 percent of parity for non-compliance.

In exchange for no pay on non-revenue layout land, farmers will receive 75 percent of old parity for presently price supported basic and non-basic crops.

Loan Increases

Under the surplus reduction farm plan, cotton seed would increase in loan value from $16 to $61 per ton; milo from $1.57 to $2.10 per hundred; soybeans from $1.93 per bushel to $2.25; wheat from $1.82 per bushel to $1.73, and non-commercial corn from $1.02 to $1.37 per bushel.

Parmer County Farm Bureau News

By Raymond Euler

August 15 is the date of the Annual ASC cotton meeting, which will be held in Harlingen this year. Texas Farm Bureau will have delegates there, as usual, and probably other local Farm Bureau leaders will be present to listen in. This is where some of the final policies of the cotton control year will be determined.

The future for cotton producers looks much better than it did a year or so ago. The reason for this is that nearly everyone has now agreed that competitive pricing is a major factor toward keeping present foreign and domestic markets, plus gaining others through research.

Public Law 480, written by the American Farm Bureau a few years ago has resulted in increasing exports which have proven the necessity for such an export provision. On a more local basis, many farmers have wondered why cotton acreages could not be pre-measured, to avoid the necessity for plowing up later.

At last month's FB director's meeting, ASC Office Manager, Prentice Mills stated that they were working in that direction. Perhaps it will become standard procedure within a year or two.

Farm Bureau Policy Development meetings will begin in just a few days. District II has not set its date yet, but it will likely be in the first week of September. The district queen contest will be held the evening of the same day.

The State Convention will be held at the Adolphus Hotel in Dallas, beginning on November 17.

THE SOUTHERN DIET
Nutritionally speaking, Texas and other southerners are eating better these days than they were twenty years ago.

Comparing the hang-over depression of the thirties with present-day living conditions, people will not find this information too surprising. Still, foods need not be expensive to be nutritious, and the trend of southern families toward better balancing diets as evidenced by a recent survey is most encouraging.

To illustrate, a study by the U. S. Department of Agriculture in 1936 showed about 40 percent of southern diets to be "poor". Judging from the same standards used in that study, a similar survey conducted in 1955 indicates only about 20 percent of southern family diets to be nutritious.

Bailey County Farm Bureau News

By Bill Millen

The President of the Texas Farm Bureau today bitterly attacked a proposal that laws governing the construction of farm-to-market roads be changed.

"We see these sugar-coated schemes to divert funds from our farm-to-market road building program come up too often", J. Walter Hammond said. He was referring to a newspaper story from Austin which stated the Texas Research League advocated the change in a 55-page study of the Texas Highway Commission "as a means of preventing the state from becoming burdened with a rural road building program far in excess of its needs."

Farmers and ranchers are tired of having to stay awake 24 hours a day to keep someone from stealing their hard-won farm-to-market road building funds", Hammond said.

The league report said that if the present rate for building farm-to-market roads is continued, the state will have 171,000 miles of farm-market roads by 1975. It claims this is 31,000 miles more than will be needed.

Hammond said there were only about 28,000 miles of farm-market roads completed now and that more than 100,000 miles of rural roads are still unopened.

He said the state spent only about $36 million for farm-market road construction last year. He said that compared to the "more than $300 millions" spent annually on other highway programs in the state, this was but "a drop in the bucket - a little less than 10 per cent."

Bible Comment: Man Is Responsible for State of World

MAN lives in a wonderful world. The starry heavens have always challenged his imagination and interest, and the beauties of the earth stir an emotional response that has given to us our richest poetical literature.

Among the noblest of these responses to the glory of the universe is the 19th Psalm. As the psalmist says concerning the heavens which declare the glory of God and the firmament which shows His handiwork, "There is no speech nor language: their voice is not heard."

But there is more than beauty to the universe. It is a moral universe related to the law of its Creator. How different is the song of creation and that voiced by an atheism that finds nothing in the universe of spiritual law and order, nothing that corresponds to man's own free spirit.

How rich human life might be if, instead of greed, lust and false ambition, man would be content to enjoy this world and share all good things with his fellow man!

It is not God, but man, who is responsible for the failures that have visited upon the world so much of sin and suffering.

To change this picture, we must seek—and find—the spirit of the world as sung by the Hebrew prophets and poets.

Their words are guides for a new life for man and for society.

Unique Irrigation System Used On Hendrix Farm Southwest Goodland

A surface irrigation system designed to irrigate at the same time with a portable sprinkler system and gated aluminum pipe for rows has been installed on the L. L. Hendrix farm four miles southwest of Goodland.

The farm is operated by Billy Hendrix, son of L. L. Hendrix. He came into the office of the local work unit of the Soil Conservation Service for assistance on his irrigation. He had a real problem since he could not efficiently utilize all of his water for surface irrigation because of steep slopes on part of his land. His irrigation well produces 1800 gallons per minute and in order to fully utilize this amount the unique system shown in above picture was designed. A portable centrifugal pump picks up water from concrete line and operates four lateral sprinkler lines (one shown above). Alfalfa valve at next vent has aluminum transport pipe and gated pipe to row irrigate the more level land in the lake bottom. This way he can use all of his irrigation water.

Another problem encountered was the difference in elevation between the well and the land to be watered. The well was located on high rim of the lake on the east side and most of the land to be watered was across the lake on the southwest corner of the farm. Static head in concrete line would have been too high and cost of steel line necessary to overcome this head would have been prohibitive. Concrete line was laid on south side of the lake rim reducing friction and enabling sprinklers to be used on steepest land by using centrifugal pump.

This sprinkler system has twelve in-line valves in the 1800 foot main line. These valves are used with three 50-foot swing lines to facilitate pipe movement and ease of operation. One hundred eighty-four sprinkler heads are operated, putting out .33 inches per hour. With two sets per day (12 hours each), he can cover 115 acres in 15 days, putting on four inches gross moisture which will more than meet the needs of soil and cotton crop. It takes two men working three hours to move the four laterals.

The booster pump operates with 30 pounds pressure and the V-S motor being used operates all four lines without strain. Billy says that he can add two more laterals without additional power. The gravity flow of the concrete line will put the water out the sprinkler nozzles, but the pressure from the booster pump is necessary to make the heads revolve.

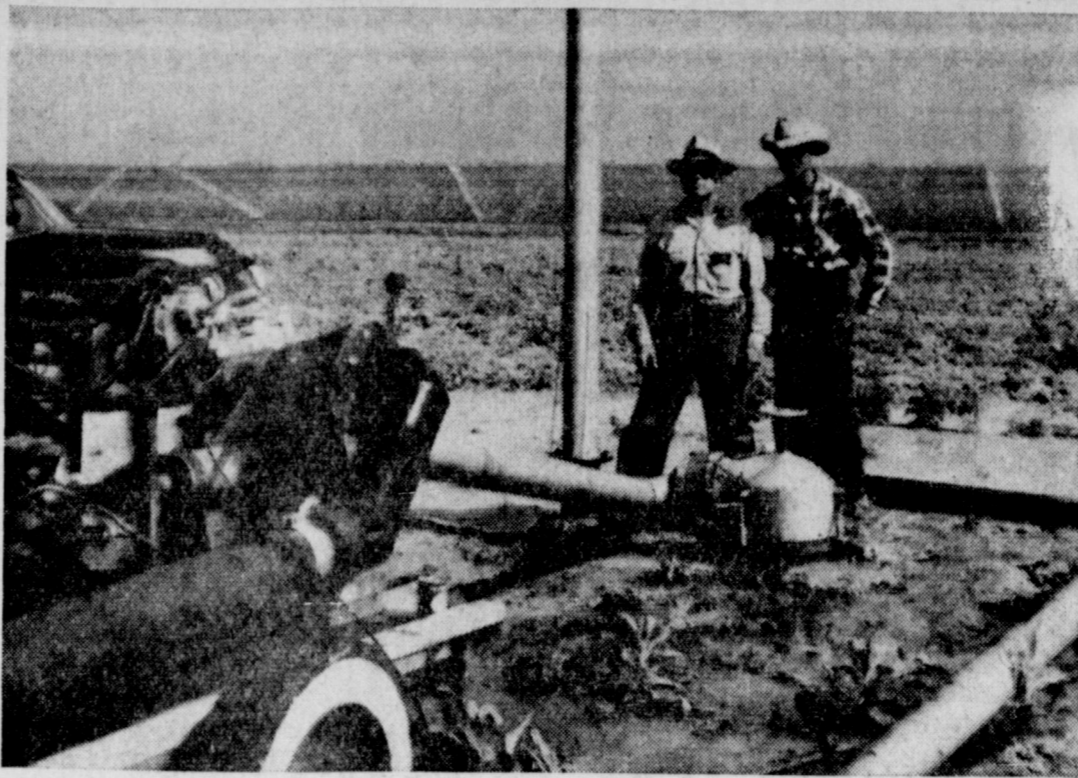

A little over a mile of 16" concrete pipe was used and 8" aluminum line used for transport with gated pipe for row application. The sprinklers use 877 gallons per minute and flow lines use about 900 gallons per minute.

Billy and Mr. Hendrix are well satisfied with their system and are especially pleased with its many advantages. Seepage and evaporation loss from ditches are eliminated, steeper land can be irrigated with sprinklers, and all the water can be used to irrigate all the cropland by applying controlled amounts needed to meet the needs of the soil and crops.

Billy is a cooperator with the Blackwater Valley Soil Conservation District and has completed a basic conservation plan with the District. This plan includes treatment practices which will meet the needs of each acre of the farm for protection and improvement. Technicians of the local work unit of the Soil Conservation Service assisting the Blackwater Valley Soil Conservation District will work with him in carrying out his plan.

Any landowner or operator living in the Blackwater Valley Soil Conservation District (Bailey county) interested in conservation farming can become a cooperator and should see his sub-district supervisor, local technicians of the Soil Conservation Service or the County Agent about assistance.

High Plains Station Conducting Tests On Corn and Sunflowers

One hundred varieties and strains of corn have been planted in observation test plots at the High Plains Station. These varieties are in tests of 25 with 2-row plots 22 feet long. Each plot is repeated four times. The varieties and strain include both white and yellow hybrids, supplied by Extension Farms, Plant Breeders and the Texas Research Foundation at Renner. Seed for T. R. F. No. 9, the latest white hybrid, produced by Lawrence Gundy at the Texas Research Foundation is being raised at the Station. Some fertilizer experiments are being conducted for corn.

In the search for new cash crops for the High Plains area, the High Plains Station has a research program on sunflowers. Some eighty varieties are planted in 22 foot observation plots. Forty of these plots are replicated four times and forty varieties have three repetitions. The sunflower has been developed as a cash crop in Argentina, Russia, Canada and in California and Kansas. It has not been a commercial crop in Texas because adapted varieties have not been available.

A breeding and cultural study of sunflowers has been conducted at the Texas Research Foundation during the past nine years by Dr. Earl Collister and his staff. The objective of the breeding program has been to develop high yielding varieties adapted to mechanization from planting through combine harvesting. Several experimental varieties have been developed which meet the general requirements of a commercial crop. The plantings at the Station at Halfway include many of the strains developed at Renner.

ance of eggs and small bollworms. The worms should be controlled as soon as damaging infestations develop in order to protect the already delayed fruit set.

Leafworms were found in an increasing number of fields. Medium to heavy infestations were reported in Borden, Dawson, Mitchell, and Scurry counties.

Cabbage loopers were found on cotton throughout the area. Infestations were light in most plantings.

We strongly urge everyone to consult the Texas Guide for Controlling Cotton Insects for recommended insecticides and dosages. Guides are available at county agent's offices.

Provisions Of Egg Law Are Explained

The Egg Law, just recently passed by the Texas legislature, will have a widespread impact on Texas citizens. It will affect egg producers, dealers, retailers, wholesalers, brokers and processors as well as consumers.

But just what does this law do? How will it affect those people just listed? F. Z. Beanblossom, extension poultry marketing specialist, lists a few of the law's highlights.

It provides for the establishment of standards of size and quality of eggs. The standards of quality as determined by candling and conditions of shell, the grades and standards of size as determined by weighing shall be the same as the standards and grades prescribed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture for shell eggs.

The law provides for proper grading and labelling. The eggs are inspected primarily at retail outlets and labelled according to grade, which includes size and quality. Unless the grading is under USDA supervision, it shall be unlawful to use the prefix "U. S." on grades and weight classes.

Provides for licensing of egg retailers, dealers, wholesalers, processors and brokers. There is no licensing fee to any retailer as defined by law — that is, any

Weather conditions continued favorable for growth and fruiting of cotton. While the rate of fruiting was very satisfactory in many plantings, excessive shed of tiny squares continued in other fields. Such shed could not be attributed to insect damage in many instances since infestations were often light. Increased insect activity was observed in many fields throughout the area.

Trips were present on cotton in all fields. Infestations were generally light. Fleahoppers were present in most fields throughout the area. While most infestations were reported as light to medium in most localities, heavy populations were present in some fields in Collingsworth, Dawson, Hall and Lynn counties. Heaviest infestations were generally found on the earliest planted cotton.

Lygus bugs were reported on cotton throughout the area. While infestations were generally light, damaging infestations were found in Bailey and Dawson counties.

Bollworm activity increased during the week. Although only scattered plantings had developed sufficient infestations to warrant control, the worms were found in light infestations on cotton in a majority of fields. Since cotton is in a very attractive stage, the crop should be watched closely for the appearance of eggs and small bollworms.

person selling or offering for sale, eggs to consumers only in this state. All retailers must have a license even though there is no fee.

Provides that the law will be self financing through the fees collected.

Provides penalties for violations. Any person convicted of violating this act is subject to a fine. The license of a violator may be suspended for a period not to exceed 90 days.

Gives exemption to producers selling eggs from their flocks unless a grade is claimed. But if they wish to claim a grade, then their eggs must meet the standards specified by the law.

It establishes an Egg Marketing Advisory board to be appointed by the governor. This board will be composed of the Commissioner of Agriculture, who will be chairman, and nine other members, all from Texas, who will serve six year terms.

TALK ABOUT ECONOMY... FORDS COST LESS PER MILE!

Fords cost less to buy!

No doubt about it! Model for model, Ford cars are the lowest priced* of the low-price three. And don't be fooled by those "low prices" now being quoted for some "stripped down" models in the medium-price field. Remember, a '57 Ford equipped the way most people want a car today—with automatic transmission, heater and radio—costs hundreds of dollars less than these medium-priced cars, similarly equipped.*

*Based on comparison of manufacturers' suggested retail delivered prices

Fords cost less to run!

In the only nationally recognized test of gasoline economy, the 1957 Mobilgas Economy Run, a Ford Six delivered more miles per gallon than any other car entered! This, remember, was no "private test" conducted for the benefit of a single manufacturer. This was grueling competition between 12 different makes of cars... supervised by the United States Auto Club. And when the test was over, Ford led all other cars in the thing you want most—actual miles per gallon!

Fords cost less to trade!

Latest official auction sale figures on used cars show clearly that the new kind of Ford commands a higher price than either of its two low-priced competitors. The men who bid at these auctions are professional buyers—men whose very livelihood depends upon their expert knowledge of cars. They pay more for used Fords because they know that Fords hold up in value. Like thousands of Ford owners from coast to coast, they have discovered that Ford is worth more when you buy it... worth more when you sell it, too!
