Business Man: I have got to the point that I hate to put an ad in The Journal. For, as soon as the cover is out, I will be besieged by representatives of papers from Earth, Farwell, Bovina, Needmore and whereot. The callers remind me of ambulance chasers. I don't have the time to interview them all and tell them no.

We don't know the answer to this little dilemma. We do know The Journal is the Muleshoe area's local paper. And we know The Journal is your best and cheapest form of advertising, leaving aside your personal sales efforts.

And we know Muleshoe firms cannot keep up a dozen community papers plus three or four radio stations and have anything left for The Journal. This paper is and always has been the paper that the people of this area read and if your message is in it, the message might get read.

Well, it's still your money and you may spend it as you see fit. One thing, The Journal keeps up eight families, or contributes a good part of their income. We pay taxes, support local causes, contribute to every fund raising drive, individually and as a firm. The money is being read by more and more people all the time, is getting stronger in its field and becomes with every passing month a better, more effective means of advertising.

We have spent plenty of money and time to build in Muleshoe a newspaper plant and a newspaper that's not approached by that of any town of comparable size. It's still your advertising dollar to spend in any way you see fit.

Pretty much, though, our aim and it is the business firm's, too, is to build Muleshoe and Bailey County and trade area. If to patronize out of town firms is to build our own area we have been misled somewhere along the line.

You have your problems, too, Mr. Business Man. If we could induce our people to spend here what they annually give to the firms of the larger area towns, we could have quite a lot better city.

With malice toward nobody on earth and with charity for all as Abe says, The Journal will continue as it has in the past its efforts to build a better paper, and a better community.

Plan Reorganize JayCees Club At Meeting Tonight

Routine Meeting Held Monday By Commissioners

The Bailey County Commissioners Court met Monday to discuss routine matters and take up several minor problems.

At the end of the day they had paid their outstanding bills, contributed to several needy cases, and had granted permission to Pioneer Gas Co. to lay pipelines across county roads in a number of locations to service irrigation wells.

City Paving Election Carries; County Bond Vote Fails

Engineer Directed To Proceed With Plans For City Paving Project Here

The City Commission of Muleshoe met Tuesday afternoon to canvass the returns in Friday's city election which carried a proposed $50,000 paving bond issue to a successful conclusion. The voting was 253 ballots for the issue and only 54 votes were cast against it. In what was said to be the largest turnout in a city election since the parking meter question was submitted to a vote, Muleshoe citizens heartily endorsed the paving program by almost 5-1 majority.

The paving bond issue was for the purpose of blacktopping an estimated 84 blocks of city streets, and for re-surfacing the 96 blocks of streets already blacktopped.

The city will participate in the cost of paving to the extent of 10 per cent of the cost of paving each block, and will also re-surface all streets already blacktopped in order to equalize benefits received by all property owners.

Engineer Ralph Douglas met with the Commission Tuesday afternoon and told the group that he would immediately begin drawing up an engineers roll list so that property owners may be contacted to sign voluntary liens for paying the cost of paving in front of their property.

Following this, the property owners will be contacted, an ordinance will be adopted for street improvements, after the Commission calls for bids for the paving project.

The Commission must get bids on the paving before it can set a per front foot cost of the job to the homeowner holders and property owners.

The Commission will meet again next week to continue the legal process necessary to getting the paving project started as quickly as possible.

Muleshoe Man Dies Sunday From Electrocutation

Marvin J. Burton, 27 year old Muleshoe farm hand, was electrocuted near Friona Sunday, when the guy wire of a television antenna he was helping install made contact with a 7,200 volt Rural Electrification Administration power line.

He was rushed to the Farmer County Hospital at Friona, where he was pronounced dead on arrival. Two other men who were helping him set up the antenna, were knocked loose from their hold on the tower, but were uninjured.

Burton is survived by his wife, Lavawn, five daughters and two sons; his parents, five brothers and two sisters. One brother, Leon Burton, lives at Muleshoe. Funeral services were pending at this writing at the Claborn Funeral Home, but it was expected that services and burial would be held at Chillicothe, where his parents reside.

LUBBOCK'S BROCHURE BROKEN DOWN

In what appeared at first glance to be a conciliatory gesture, the Lubbock City Commission this week brought several copies of a brochure to Muleshoe for general circulation.

The brochure is entitled "To Our Friends and Neighbors of the South Plains", and contains statements by mayor Murrell Tripp; a resolution by the City Commission offering to sell water from the Bailey county land to cities on the proposed 45 inch pipe line; and maps showing where the water rights are located in Bailey county.

In a page entitled "Some Interesting Facts", the Lubbock City Commission points out that the city of Lubbock now owns over 19 per cent of the water in Bailey county, and that Lubbock citizens now own over 26 per cent of the land in Bailey county.

The tone of the entire brochure is one of condensation and "we have the size and power, and there is nothing you smaller towns can do but bow down to us."

At one point the brochure smugly states, "Presently the revenue from the citizens of Lubbock finances 40 per cent of the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District." It is not a difficult feat to figure out that if 40 per cent of the population is located in Lubbock and Lubbock participates in the High Plains Underground Water District, that consequently 40 per cent of the revenue comes from Lubbock.

Time and time again the leading citizens of Lubbock have said in public assembly that Lubbock depends on neighboring communities for its livelihood and that what helps the South Plains helps Lubbock. "We are your friends", cry the citizens of Lubbock, "Call on us for help at any time and be assured that we are always ready to help you in any way", states the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce.

In a signed statement Lubbock's Mayor Murrell Tripp states the Lubbock City Commission proposes to pay out the neat and tidy sum of six millions of dollars of taxpayers money to lay a 45 inch pipeline from Shallowater to just south of Muleshoe to pump "supplemental water" just "during the peak periods", and just "until the Canadian River water becomes available".

The brochure states, "The attached ground water map indicates that the City would have to use its supply for 25 years before the water table would be as low as the water table in the adjacent area if no water were used for irrigation in those areas." "Consequently, it is believed that it will be impossible for the city to lower the water table in its area to the extent that it would drain water from the irrigated area. The City is more interested than anyone else in conserving the underground water". No comment necessary.

The Lubbock City Commission goes on to state that, under the deed whereby it obtained the water rights, towns in Cochran, Bailey, and Lamb county can buy water from Lubbock. We raise the question, what towns between Muleshoe and Lubbock want or need water bought at who knows what rate from Lubbock. Littlefield only last year purchased sand hills water rights from the Halsell estate that will supply its foreseeable needs. It is the only community of any size on the pipeline route that might conceivably be interested in the terms of the deed. Certainly Muleshoe would not be a likely customer for buying water from Lubbock.

Another factor that Lubbock's benevolent City Commission might well consider is the vast amount of cash money that is spent every day and every month in Lubbock by Muleshoe citizens. While not enough conceivably to bankrupt Lubbock if it ceased, it is nevertheless enough to cause Lubbock citizens who own that 26 per cent of the land in Bailey county to give pause for reflection.

"We on the South Plains have many things in common". We agree. Namely we have in common the desire and right to decent survival, and if Lubbock takes the water, the precious lifeblood of our livelihood from under our soil, we cannot survive. In a strictly agricultural community such as ours, with the sparse rainfall which we have, the element of sufficient underground water is our only hope for survival, much less continued growth.

Mayor Tripp also says, "If our South Plains area is to continue to grow and prosper, our basic democratic processes must be preserved, and we must cooperate in every way for the betterment of our community." Again we agree. But cooperation would seem a poor choice of words to describe the action Lubbock is planning to take in pumping millions of gallons of water from under Bailey county to supply the needs of Lubbock which could meet its needs right at home.

Tuesday, the citizens of Lubbock voted overwhelmingly to participate in the Canadian River Water project as a source of water for Lubbock's civic needs. The Lubbock City Commission's little brochure states, "The city will use underground water only as a supplement to the Canadian River water. However, because of the size of the project and the problems encountered, it will be several years before any water can be delivered to Lubbock from the Canadian River."

Note that first sentence in the quotation above. There is an argument as old as the days when man first began to practice inhumanity to man. Every time, without exception when a community has taken the water from beneath another community, that argument of "supplement" has been advanced. It is as empty as the campaign promise of a ward-healing politician. We do not believe it, and we do not believe that the Lubbock citizens who own 26 per cent of the land and 19 per cent of the water in Bailey county believe it.

The brochure concludes with this rather smug statement, "It is regrettable that the delay in the construction of the Canadian River dam necessitates the development of this area much sooner than had been anticipated." We agree wholeheartedly with this statement. It is regrettable, just as it is regrettable to farmers to see their irrigation wells dry up and their crops wither away.

That's what Lubbock's City Commission wants you to know. And now you know, and the action you as citizens of Muleshoe and Bailey County take may well be governed by this knowledge.

Bula Speller Will Represent County

Tony Paiz, Bailey county's champion speller will represent this county at the district spelling bee in Lubbock Saturday afternoon.

Tony, who is 13 and in the seventh grade at Bula school, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Paiz of that community. He is the first boy ever to win the Bailey county spelling bee, officials state.

He will compete with champion spellers from schools all over the south plains area for a chance to represent the district at Washington, D. C. in May for the National spelling championship.

Winners of the spelling bee at Lubbock Saturday will receive valuable awards for themselves and their school, as well as all expense paid trip to Washington in May.

Bailey county wishes Tony the best of luck Saturday afternoon.

Both Ad Valorem; Road Bond Vote Fail To Carry; Two Boxes Approve

Both the ad valorem tax vote and the $50,000 road bond issue failed to carry in a light turnout at the polls in Bailey county's seven precinct boxes Monday. The road bond election, for obtaining right of way for a four lane highway from Muleshoe to the Lamb county line, which needed a two-thirds majority to carry, polled 207 votes for the issue, and 214 votes against. The ad valorem tax vote which needed only a simple majority polled 205 votes for and 210 votes against.

Only the boxes at Muleshoe and Circleback carried both the questions, with Muleshoe voting 135-69 on the ad valorem tax vote and 138 for and 46 against on the road bond issue. At Circleback the vote on the road bond was 15 for and 7 against, and 15 for and 6 against on the ad valorem question.

At a meeting of the County Commissioners Tuesday morning, the votes were canvassed and the complete returns recorded. Observers stated they felt that the road bond issue would have had a better chance of carrying had it not been for the influence exerted by the impending Lubbock water right of way problem. They said that many voters felt that by voting against the road bond issue they were also voting against the Lubbock water line right of way. Actually, there is no relation between the two subjects, and the Lubbock problem has no relation to widening highway 84.

By boxes here is how the two questions were voted on:

Road Bond	For	Against
West Camp	14	62
Baileyboro	2	6
Circleback	15	7
Three Way	4	24
Bula	11	59
Mays	3	10
Muleshoe	158	46

Ad Valorem	For	Against
West Camp	14	62
Baileyboro	2	6
Circleback	15	7
Three Way	4	24
Bula	11	59
Mays	3	10
Muleshoe	158	46

While members of the Commissioners Court mulled over possible action they could take in the face of the failure of both issues to carry, Marshall Formby, highway commissioner for this area was talking to Judge Glen Williams concerning the right of way for highway 84.

Formby said that unless the right of way is obtained, or some effort is made to obtain it, the funds allocated for widening the approximately 11 miles from Muleshoe to the Lamb county line, will be re-allocated to some other area when the State Highway Commission meets in May at Austin. Formby said the funds for four-laning that portion of 84 in Bailey county had been allocated for two years, and unless right of way is obtained, the money will be transferred by the state to an area where right of way had been secured.

Speaking from 4:30 until 7:30, Mrs. Hancock, who is of the Cherokee Indian Tribe, told of her work with the Oklahoma Indians, and their efforts to build up the Baptist Church there. She related that due to the fact that not much work had been done with the Indians in New Mexico and Arizona, the work in these two states is about one hundred years behind that in Oklahoma.

Following her hour-long talk, the large group went to the dining hall of the church to enjoy a meal of Indian Stew, prepared by Big Chief Dean; hominy, red beans, green salad, fruit pie and coffee or tea. The delicious stew was served from a large black wash pot. Ladies of the W. M. U. of the church were sponsors of the affair.

Hi-Plains Water Men Answer Quiz From Bi-Staters

Members of the Bi-State Water Conservation Committee met Wednesday night in the Muleshoe high school building to discuss water properties with Bill Broadhurst and Tom McFarland, of the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District. Broadhurst and McFarland answered a volley of questions from members of the committee on how water migrates, structure and depth of water bearing sands and similar questions. The two Lubbock men were accompanied by Gus Parish, of Springlake, who is a member of the governing board of the High Plains group. Dr. L. T. Green, Jr., presided at the meeting.

Sam Damron Will Head Lions Club For Next Fiscal Year

New officers to be installed April 6 include Sam Damron, president; Dee Clements, second vice-president and Wilbur Leveque, third vice-president. Duane Bartee, secretary, M. D. WB Member Believes Private Ownership Best

"The right of private ownership of underground water must be respected, and if we are to remain consistent, we must believe that any person or groups of persons who buy underground water rights has the authority to bargain, buy or sell that water to others."

That is the context of what Otha F. Dent, underground water authority and member of the State Board of Water Engineers told the Muleshoe Journal in an exclusive interview Wednesday night.

Dent, who spoke at the water meeting of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in Lubbock Thursday, said that while his sympathy was with Bailey county residents and he appreciated their apprehension over Lubbock's developing the water field in Bailey county, he nevertheless felt sure that residents here would prefer continued private ownership of underground water.

Some states, including New Mexico, do not recognize private ownership of underground water. "We are constantly being asked to legislate for similar laws in Texas," Dent said, "but we believe that the majority of irrigated farmers do not want state controlled underground water."

Dent is a former county judge from Lamb County, and a long time member and past president of the Texas Good Road Association. He is also a member of the children's camp at Kerrville was shown by program chairman Alex Wilkins.

John Deere Day Well Attended

John Deere Day in Muleshoe, observed by A. J. Lenderson Implement Co., Wednesday, was a success by Roy Whitt, one of the owners.

Mr. Whitt said during the morning 129 registered. The firm served donuts and coffee to all comers. In the afternoon some 150 attended the lengthy film program, shown at the Valley theatre.

Out of town John Deere men were for the day's observance were the blockman, Roy Dwyer, chairman; and Dave Farner, Amarillo, factory representative.

Potatoes Being Planted in Area

Muleshoe area's curtailed Irish potato acreage is being planted this week. Workers at the Barrett Produce are cutting the potatoes and getting them ready for going in the ground. Some already have been planted.

Fred Barrett, of the produce company estimates there will be less than 50 per cent of last year's potato acreage planted this year.

Others have said no more than 400 acres will be devoted to the crop. Seed have been scarce and priced high.

"But we'll find other crops to plant this year," said Barrett cheerfully.

The Journal hears that a large acreage will be planted to tomatoes; some predict as much as 2,000 acres in this area will be seeded to tomatoes.

Systemic Treated Cotton Seed Are Received Here

County Agent J. K. Adams received two sacks of systemic treated cotton seed this week from the American Cynamide Co.

The seed is treated with Thymet, a poison which makes the plants immune to thrips and fleahoppers until the plant is about six weeks old.

The seed will be planted and kept under close observation, Adams said, and a complete report will be published as soon as conclusions can be drawn.

THE TEXAS LAW ENFORCEMENT CONFERENCE, sponsored annually by Attorney General John Ben Shepperd, left, will be held in Austin March 18-21. Homer Garrison, Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety. Private citizens interested in law enforcement are invited to all sessions of the meeting. The week beginning March 18 has been designated by the Governor as "Civic Support of Law Enforcement Week" in Texas.

Farmers were present from Sudan, Hart, Tulia, and Olton in addition to local farmers.

Ladies Club Meeting

The making of lamps and pictures and wall plaques had been the hobby of ladies in the Enoch's Homemakers Club as they met Thursday, March 8, at the home of Mrs. T. A. Thomas. Mrs. Ray Spence, vice-president, led the business meeting as plans were made for the making of copper-plated pictures, lamps and planters, in the near future, for which additional supplies were to be ordered this week. On display at the meeting were 12 pictures which had been made by the ladies, under direction of Mrs. Dyer, Three Way Home Economics teacher; also on display was a lamp made of hardwood. A variety of hostess gifts were presented to Mrs. Thomas.

Refreshments of home made cake and punch were served to Mrs. Ed Autry, Ray Spence, C. W. Vanlandingham, W. A. Pool, Butch Cash, L. H. Harris, G. A. Weaver, L. G. Fred, James Merrill, H. H. Snow, Lynn Crabtree, R. T. Newton and the hostess.

The ladies were glad to have Mrs. Weaver as a visitor. Next club meeting is to be at the home of Mrs. Ed Autry on March 22.

Farewell Party For Jones Family

The Lewis J. Jones home was the scene of a gathering of a large crowd of friends and neighbors in the Enoch's Community, Wednesday night, March 7, at a farewell party.

Bringing gifts, the friends gathered for one last visit with Mr. and Mrs. Jones, who were to leave next day for Brownfield, in preparation for moving into their new home there. The Jones' have lived at Enoch's since 1947, and are members of Enoch's Methodist Church. They have taken an active part in community affairs and have always been ready to help in any project started in the community. Their three children all have families and live in the Friona vicinity. They are Mrs. Kenyth Cass, Mrs. W. S. Ingram, and L. J. Jr.

Several children were reported to be ill in the Enoch's and Bula communities this week as measles and mumps spread through the school. The two children of Coach and Mrs. Claude Morrison, Ann and Mike, were ill with mumps. Gerald Reid, son of Mrs. Ruby Reid was reported to have both measles and mumps. Lee Bellar was ill. Elvin Henderson and Beverley Clawson both became ill in school Friday and were thought to be taking mumps. Sammy Nichols had mumps Sunday. Kay Peterson was ill with the measles. Several others were absent because of illness.

A delicious chicken dinner was served by the ladies of the Women Society of Christian Service. After explanations and discussions on the organization, a business session was held to elect officers for the year. H. L. Ivy was elected president; Al E. Jennings, vice-president; E. T. Christian Science Plans More Films

Additional Christian Science TV programs are being planned in continuation of the series which have proven so popular according to announcement of local members of the church.

Over 160 television stations have broadcast the initial 13 programs in the series, "How Christian Science Heals" since they were first released last September, it was pointed out.

Nationwide demand for religious telecasts "so far exceeded our expectations, we decided to produce additional programs almost immediately", said Will B. Davis, manager of Christian Science Committees on Publication in announcing release of the second group of films.

Radio programs of the denomination, which also carry the series title "How Christian Science Heals", will continue to be broadcast over 800 stations throughout North America and overseas.

WILL WED RESCUER — A cold November night that brought death to five Minneapolis girls has had one romantic after-effect, engagement of the sole survivor of the accident to her rescuer, Donna Mae Wills, 24, had never met William A. Mathias, 26, a truck driver, before he pulled her out of the icy water of the Minnesota River. The car in which she was riding plunged down a 25-foot bank into 8 feet of water. They will be wed in June.

Long Lines Seen For Motorists

The Highway Safety Council of Texas today warned Texas motorists that they face the "longest waiting lines in four years" if they postpone inspection of their automobiles nearer the April 15 deadline.

State law requires every motor vehicle in Texas—passenger car, truck, and bus—to pass an annual check-up on mechanical safety. It is unlawful to operate a vehicle which has not been inspected after the deadline.

Highway Safety Council Executive Director G. C. Morris said today:

"For the past two years, 1954 and 1955, the bulk of private passenger cars have been inspected well ahead of the deadline and there have been no bothersome delays or snarls at the last-minute. This year, however, inspections are far behind schedule and auto owners who wait beyond March will probably have to buck the longest waiting lines in four years to comply with the law."

Tourist Biz Ranks Next to Cotton As Income Source

A check on the 1955 Texas Tourist Industry" was released today in Austin by the Texas Highway Department. The survey shows that 9.9 million out-of-state tourists visited Texas last year, an increase of 1.2 million persons over 1954. In cash value the tourist industry ranks next to the state's annual cotton crop, with cotton listed at $700 million and tourists at $412 million for the year just past. "Texas has been slow to realize the potential value of the tourist industry as a source of cash income," D. C. Greer, State Highway Engineer stated, "but the steady rise of out-of-state visitors since the end of the war indicates that people in other states are becoming increasingly aware of the state's many attractions as a vacation spot." Annual tourist expenditures in 1955 were set by the Department at $276 million. By 1955 this figure had risen by $136 million. During the same period the number of tourists had increased from 8 million to 9.9 million. Mr. Average Tourist of 1955 spent 5.5 days touring the state and spent $7.53 daily for food, lodging and other expenses. "We believe this daily expenditure for a vacation is substantially less than is necessary in some of the other 'big' vacation states, thus allowing our out-of-state visitors to stay with us longer and see more of Texas," Greer said. The seven Highway Department Travel Information Bureaus located at the state line were able to increase the itinerary of out-of-state visitors by assisting in planning and routing trips to include points of interest throughout Texas, Greer said. In addition to this direct counseling of travelers, the bureaus and the Austin office during 1955 answered a total of 56,506 requests for information on Texas from potential visitors. "In spite of the limitations imposed on us," Greer stated, "we in the Highway Department are doing everything possible to bring Texas to the attention of vacationers from other states. We believe that we have only begun to tap this source of direct cash income, and in years to come we expect to see tourists move ever higher on the scale of top Texas industries."

The Department also takes advantage of every opportunity to furnish out-of-town state newspapers and magazines with photographs and stories on Texas, Greer concluded. PAPER And supplies of all kinds at The Journal. Ph. 7220 or 5400. We deliver.

SEN. KEFAUVER VOTES ON FARM BILL -- Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.), (right) cuts his Minnesota campaign trip short to return to Washington to vote on the farm bill. Income Tax Facts No. 8— PLAN NOW FOR NEXT YEAR'S TAX

The previous articles in this series were intended to help you in preparing your tax return for 1955. This article deals with your taxes for 1956 and beyond. When the time comes to make out your tax return for 1956 it will be too late to take advantage of some possible tax savings. Here are some possibilities for reducing your tax which you can't do anything about after the end of the tax year: 1. If you are providing nearly half the support of someone who might qualify as a dependent, consider providing more than half so you will be entitled to a $600 exemption. The extra amount you contribute may be less than the tax saving. 2. Remember that unless a dependent is under 19 or a student, you will lose the exemption if his income is $600 or more. Be sure to check the income of everyone you expect to claim as a dependent. 3. If you are planning to be married, a wedding before midnight December 31, 1956, will give you the privilege of filing a joint return for 1956. This probably would result in substantial tax saving. 4. A baby born up to midnight December 31 qualifies as an exemption for the full year. 5. If your medical expenses are likely to be over 3% of your income this year and you expect them to be less next year, pay as many medical bills as possible before the end of the year, up to the maximum allowable deduction. If you borrow to do this, remember that you can also deduct the interest. 6. If your medical expenses are over the maximum deduction, perhaps you can defer part of the payment until after the end of the year. 7. Borrowing to pay your taxes can sometimes let you take the deduction a year earlier. 8. If you sell your home at a profit, remember that you do not have to pay a capital gains tax if you pay more for a new home within a year than the price you get for the old one. 9. When investing money, remember that stock in a domestic corporation offers the possibility of dividend exclusion and credit. 10. If you sell securities or other "capital assets" at a profit, it is usually better to wait until you have held them at least six months so that the profit gains rate instead of an ordinary income. 11. When buying bonds, consider not only the interest rate but the fact that interest on state and municipal bonds is exempt from federal income tax. If any of these points is likely to make a substantial difference in your tax, it will probably pay you to discuss your problems with the Internal Revenue Service, or to seek professional tax advice. Anything you pay for assistance in preparing your tax return is deductible from your taxable income. But beware of any "tax expert"

GMC Introduces Unique Rear Axle In '56 Truck Line

Chalking up another "first" in the trucking industry, GMC Truck & Coach Division is introducing in its 1956 truck line a unique rear axle that reduces driver fatigue and improves vehicle performance. Known as a wide-range, one-shift axle due to the fact that the high and low ranges are spaced to permit obtaining progressive gear combinations with only one shift of the axle, the unit can be used in conjunction with either Hydra-Matic or manual rear-shift transmission. When combined with manual transmission, the axle eliminates split-shifting which means shifting the transmission and rear axle alternately or together to obtain progressive speeds. The wide-range, one shift axle has a low gear ratio with as much as 18 to 1 reduction for taking full advantage of the engine power in moving a heavily loaded truck from a dead stop, and a high ratio that assures peak performance when the vehicle reaches a cruising speed. This is especially significant to operators of trucks employed in off-the-road operations where poor driving conditions demand more usable horsepower to move heavy loads. Switching the axle between its low and higher-speed ratios is easily accomplished by flicking a switch mounted on the steering column.

Franklin Williams of Houston, grandson of the famed Sam Houston, poses before the smithy shop at Old Washington on the Brazos, where the Texas Declaration of Independence from Mexico was signed March 2, 1836, by his illustrious ancestor and 58 other early Texans. A campaign to raise one million dollars to build a memorial to this event is under way by the Texas Press Association.

Journal To Assist In Raising Fund For Texas Museum

The Muleshoe Journal has joined with the other 500 members of the Texas Press Association in an appeal to the people of Texas to contribute one million dollars with which to build a great memorial to the signers of the Texas Declaration of Independence. The monument will be in the form of a museum of Texas history and will be located at Old Washington on the Brazos where the declaration was signed. This is a state park located in Washington county, 20 miles northeast of Brenham. Present plans call for a building, shaped like the Lone Star of Texas, with a tower rising several hundred feet into the air. It will be topped by a powerful searchlight visible over several counties, and to be known as "The Light of Texas Freedom". An elevator will take visitors to the top for a fee, and thus provide maintenance funds.

The Journal will receive contributions to the fund, send them on to the Texas Independence Day Organization at Brenham, sponsors of the project. The Texas Press Association has endorsed the project and asked its members to take part.

At the conclusion of the campaign, this newspaper will publish a list of individuals who give $5.00 or more and business firms which send in $10.00 or more. The page containing this list will be treated for permanence and will then go on permanent exhibition in the museum. Thousands of persons of both present and future generations will thus be able to learn the names of those in each community who have helped erect the museum.

"This is the closest thing to immortality a few dollars can buy", Tom S. Whitehead, executive director of the campaign, said. Whitehead is publisher of the Brenham Banner-Press.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
I love Christ; I share His sufferings today and shall share His glory tomorrow.
Stanley A. Fry (Brazil)

Today's Meditation

WE WALK IN HIS SPIRIT
Read Luke 22:54-62.
Yes, if we share in His sufferings we shall certainly share in His glory. (Romans 8:17, Phillips.)

Basketball hero Howard Polard and basketball sweetheart, Bettye Ann, were awarded miniature basketballs.

Elizabeth Dupler gave a toast to Coach Spears. Supt. Sims introduced the guest speaker, Dr. Joseph Dickson, of E. N. M. U., of Portales, who gave a talk on the value of sports.

My baby boy taught me anew the meaning of true sharing. He was ill; and while he was ill, I shared his illness. I was miserable, too, for I love him. Last night after his bath and before he went to bed, I romped with him again and heard him laugh, saw him smile, and felt his tiny hand gleefully tugging at my hair. He was full of joy—nothing more than the common joy of a little child—but I shared his joy. I was happy, too, for I love him.

As a result of this experience, I understand better that God shares my misery and illness, my sins and grief—even as He shares my joy. He is my father and He loves me, for I am His son.

Do I love Christ enough to share the suffering which His great love cost Him during that last tragic week which He lived on earth? If I do, I shall certainly love Him enough to share in His resurrection glory. "Yes, if we share in His sufferings we shall certainly share in His glory."

members of the football teams, girls and boys basketball teams. A toast to the captains was given by Joan Reeves. Tootie Hodnett responded with a toast to the pep squad.

This is true, of course, because Cadillac quality and goodness have made it the overwhelming preference of people of judgment and discrimination—and the whole world has come to know and understand this and to appreciate what it means.

Yes, your best foot is forward when it rests on the throttle of a 1956 Cadillac.

Why not consider a Cadillac for your next car?

It is a logical choice—not only for quality and goodness and prestige—but for economy of ownership and operation as well.

American Cotton Congress To Be Held May 31--June 2 In Lubbock

South Plains cotton production and marketing problems will receive special attention during the seventeenth annual American Cotton Congress to be held in Lubbock, May 31-June 2.

This announcement was made Monday by Burriss C. Jackson of Hillsboro, Chairman of the Congress, after an advance meeting of the program committee in Lubbock.

"We will attempt to analyze the major current problems of the cotton industry, with particular emphasis on those involving the South Plains area," Jackson said.

"Principally, these are problems of price and quality. Because of the importance of this area in U. S. cotton production, these problems must be solved here if they are ever to be solved nationally," he added.

Speakers for the three-day session will include leading cotton authorities. A partial list, released Monday, includes Earl Heard of West Point, Ga., vice-president of the West Point Mfg. Co., and former head of the textile department at Texas Tech; F. Marion Rhoads of Washington, D. C., director of the Cotton Division U.

S. D. A.; and Dr. M. K. Horne, Jr., of Memphis, Tenn., chief economist of the National Cotton Council.

Other sessions will feature production and quality discussions of direct interest to South Plains cotton farmers. A special effort will be made to have a large attendance of South Plains producers.

During the first two days of the Congress all sessions will be held in downtown Lubbock. The third day's program, on Saturday, June 2, will be provided on the campus at Texas Tech. Anyone interested may attend the free sessions.

The American Cotton Congress is a non-profit organization sponsored by the State-Wide Cotton Committee of Texas and other state and national groups. Its purpose is to stimulate cotton research and education for the betterment of the industry.

FARMER COUNTY Farm Bureau News

By RAYMOND EULER

This has been a busy week for Farm Bureau people in Farmer County. Membership teams have been out seeing the people, and Glenda Rickerd has been keeping pace with their reports in addition to her regular office procedures. Reports received to date have been very good. Ralph Smith, who has worked alone contacting residents of Friona turned in twenty-two renewals of twenty-five members he contacted. Spencer Hough was unable to help as scheduled because of the death of his father last Sunday. Three other teams had not reported at this writing because of illness, threshing and other detaining factors.

Thursday, March 15, about twenty officers, directors and committee members are expected to attend a school in the Herring Hotel in Amarillo. The training school is primarily for committee members, instructing them as to the responsibilities and methods of carrying out their various activities.

It appears that the grain sorghum program is working into the soil bank program about as nicely as could be expected. Remember the District 2 Farm Bureau Proposal last October in which 85% of parity was asked for Milo, with a 20% cut in planted acreage? Well, the probable 76% with only 15% in the soil bank is just about the same net result. That is about what it looks like will be written in the program. Anyway, milo men are looking a great deal happier now that they have for the last several months.

Gilbert Kaltwasser asks us to urge you to turn to TV Channel 13 Sunday evening at 6:00 for a Cotton Council Program, outlining efforts that are being put forth to stabilize cotton export and domestic markets above the present volume. This program embodies Farm Bureau's 7-point program for increasing cotton consumption at home and abroad. If you are a cotton producer, you will find this program of great interest.

Farmers now own 88% of all Production Credit Association. At one time, the production credit association had a peak of $90 million of Government capital. Farmer purchases of capital in their associations since then have helped bring about a reduction in the Government capital to about $2 million. Farmers now own $98 million capital stock in these cooperatives. This is further proof of success in America's capitalistic system of operation. Farmers had rather do their own financing. Farm Bureau spearheads this movement for complete farmer owned and controlled credit associations three or four years ago. There are only 58 associations that still have Government capital, and it is expected that it will all be repaid in a few years.

Six Area Boys Leave For Service

The boys left last Tuesday, March 6, for Amarillo, where they were inducted.

The Plainview Bulldogs won the 31-team contest, finishing with 2 1/2 points. Antone's Bulldogs were Plainview's closest competitors, scoring 14 points.

The Cotton Plant That Kills Insects

Cotton plants with built-in protection against insects will be grown this year in Mississippi and Texas. This is made possible by treating cotton seeds before planting with a new insecticide named Thimet, which stays in the growing plant for up to several weeks and eliminates two to four early season dustings or sprayings. The cotton plant at right in the photo was protected with Thimet; the one on the left was not and shows typical insect damage.

Thimet, developed by American Cyanamid Company, was recently accepted by the U.S. Department of Agriculture. It will be marketed in other cotton producing states next season. Cyanamid is also testing Thimet on corn, peas, beans, lettuce, beet, peanuts, tree fruits, and tobacco seedlings. Results, they say, are promising.

REDDY'S Farm Report

FROM THE AGRICULTURAL DEVELOPMENT DEPARTMENT
SOUTHWESTERN PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY

To survive, little pigs must have heat. Under natural conditions they depend on each other and good weather for their heat. Little pigs piling up creates a hazard, and the weather is unpredictable; also the mother sow often rolls over or lies down on the piglets crushing out their lives. The next best bet (safe, too) is the artificial heat created by electric energy.

While most pig raisers will use electric heat lamps, Panhandle Agricultural and Mechanical College at Goodwell, Oklahoma, has been using a manufactured brooder for the last nine years.

This brooder utilizes a metal canopy, which might also be constructed of plywood, under the roof of which is mounted a 115 watt electric heating element coupled with a wafer thermostat. In addition a small lamp bulb is attached which serves to attract the little pigs to the heat source.

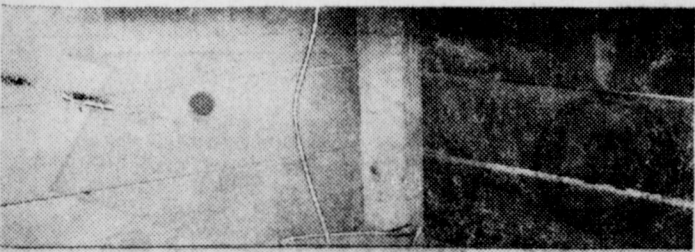

Professor Milton England, who raises the college's pork supply, has high praise for electric pig brooders, and he should know for he supplies the college cafeteria with about 1200 pounds of pork per week. Along with other livestock, the professor has in his care thirty-five head of brooding sows for 1956.

At current feed prices Professor England calculated that a baby pig is worth about $10.00 at weaning time. So obviously every pig that can be saved to go to market is a ten dollar bill in the seller's pocket. Conversely, every baby pig that dies is a ten dollar loss. A few cents worth of electricity can prevent this loss.

While the professor has had good results from the pig brooders using the electric heating elements, he expresses the opinion that heat lamps would do the same job. The main thing is to give your baby pigs the warmth they need at birth continuing until they are large enough to withstand the cold. One sure thing, there's no chance of electric heat rolling over on a baby pig and crushing out its life.

Professor Milton England, Head of the Agricultural Department, Panhandle A & M College at Goodwell, Oklahoma, shows the working parts of a pig brooder used by the College Farm.

Baby pigs get the heat they need to survive in a safe dry corner of the pen, under the electric brooder.

THE HOUSEWIFE'S BUYING HABITS

What is the deciding factor for the Texas housewife at the supermarket produce counter — economy or quality?

The Texas Department of Agriculture is conducting a series of surveys to find out. For after all, the housewife's buying habits have a profound effect on the farm economy in the state.

Is she a thrifty shopper? Does she consider price first and quality second, or vice-versa? Is she a selective buyer, disregarding both factors and picking "what looks good to her?" Preliminary survey results are surprising.

In an East Texas suburban supermarket recently, the first test was arranged to study the average shopper's purchase methods. Since it was a "locally grown" product, the sweet potato was used as a guinea pig product.

Department inspectors arranged three bins of potatoes, clearly labeling each one according to grade and quality. The U. S. No. 1 grade potatoes were market at 10c per pound, U. S. No. 2's at 8c per pound, and the Unclassified potatoes at 6c per pound.

Actually, for the purpose of the test, all potatoes were of good quality, according to grade. The main difference between the first two groups was in size; the number 1's being medium and fairly uniform in shape, and the number 2's slightly larger and irregular shaped. The unclassified bin contained both No. 1 and No. 2 quality potatoes as well as culls.

The bargain buy was in the unclassified bin. After each purchase from any bin, the customer was questioned as to her choice of potatoes.

Surprisingly, a total of 81 per cent of the housewives bought U. S. No. 1 grade sweet potatoes. The reasons varied, but the predominant attitude was "I want to be certain of getting the best for my money."

Another 15 percent chose the U. S. No. 2 potatoes. The two-cent price difference appealed to them but they were wary of the still cheaper potatoes in the unclassified bin.

Only 4 per cent of the buyers thrifflily picked their choices from the unclassified potatoes. Of these, most of the shoppers indicated they were familiar with the factors that made up a good sweet potato without having them graded beforehand.

Definite conclusion cannot be drawn from this one test but one factor was clear — the housewife is influenced a great deal by the grade of a product. Most of them stated that they preferred that produce be pre-graded so she was getting. And in a relatively inexpensive commodity like sweet potatoes, she wants the best.

This test was only the first of a series on a large variety of Tex-

Systemic Insecticide Control For Cotton Report By A and M Scientists

Texas entomologists report that cotton grown from seed treated with new systemic insecticide has been protected against thrips, aphids, spider mites and leaf miners for four to six weeks from date of planting.

F. M. Fuller, Jr., and C. F. Garner, entomologists, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, say that the insecticide is compound 3911. A systemic insecticide is one that can be taken up by plants and translocated to all its parts.

Seed treatment such as this will replace the first two early season applications of insecticides, but will not be effective against the overwintered boll weevil. Application of a recommended insecticide should be made before the squares are one-third grown to protect the young fruits from weevils or other insects.

Individuals can not purchase Compound 3911 because of the hazards involved. Severe toxicity to man calls for extreme caution, and all seed containers must be burned. Farmers must transport their seed to and from the treating plant. There are two companies in Texas equipped for treating seeds, both are at Waco. Seeds can be treated at a cost of about three dollars an acre.

Advantages of the systemic insecticide are four to six weeks protection against certain insects, and elimination of the first two poison applications by spraying or dusting. Adverse weather conditions cannot destroy the effectiveness of the poison in the plants, report the entomologist. Loss of time for transportation of seed, and three dollars per acre as compared to two dollars when dusting or spraying is employed, offer some disadvantage.

Expanded Research Asked on Soil Water Relationships

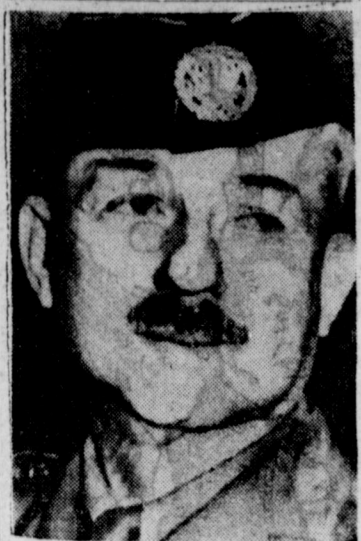

The Soils, Water, and Fertilizer Research Advisory Committee of U. S. D. A., urged basic investigations of soil-water-plant relationships for solution of many critical problems in agriculture during their annual meeting in January.

Considering research proposals in six categories, the committee gave high priorities to a number in each grouping. The committee stressed major importance to the nation of expanded fundamental studies on soils and water.

Improved methods for fertilizer quality control, new research in watershed hydrology, and soil structure, and expanded studies of moisture conservation in both arid and humid regions were among top-priority research needs cited by the committee.

Proposals concerning soil and water management research by humid regions included expansion of humid-region irrigation research to provide more information on soil-water-plant relationships. In urging more research on these problems, the committee pointed out that better and more efficient use of existing cropland in humid regions would result from research on problems of water-use, control, and conservation.

Moisture conservation and erosion control in dryland areas were also named for research expansion. Research would be made of tillage implements,

BABSON DISCUSSES—

URANIUM

Babson Park, Mass., March 15 — Readers are still being pestered by Canadian brokers to buy uranium stocks. News items about building reactors on college campuses keep up the interest. From studies, I believe that our money, if put in savings banks, can be both safer and more profitable than if put into a speculative clay bank.

URANIUM IS VALUABLE

Uranium will have its uses, but for many years these will be confined to military purposes, especially in connection with ammonia, shipping, guided missiles, and movable electrical plants. Uranium, however, is subject to many competitors including water power, oil, natural gas and cheap coal. These other natural resources will hold down the price of uranium, especially in view of its great quantity all over the world. The main thing for the oil and gas people to fear is legislative persecutions such as the electric utilities suffered under Roosevelt. The recent action of the U. S. Senate, however, in connection with the natural gas bill shows that there is no reason to fear such destructive legislation at present.

Probably the first competitor that all these natural power resources will face is the unused power from the sun. This has tremendous possibilities and will someday be harnessed. Looking ahead many years, I see much more profit in buying properly located land in Florida, Texas, Arizona, New Mexico, and southern California, where the heat of the sun is great, than in buying land in Colorado, Utah, or somewhere else with the hope of getting uranium.

DON'T FORGET GRAVITY

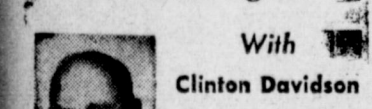

Gdandpa used gravity to help regulate his tall clock; later it was used to develop power from falling water. There are other uses for gravity, though they are very few at present. Yet, when we think of the tremendous unused power of the ocean tides, we realize the possibilities of harnessing gravity. Today gravity power is where steam power was 200 years ago. Men of that era knew steam would lift the cover of a kettle; but no one knew how to harness it. For details, write the Gravity Research Foundation, New Boston, N. H.

The secret of harnessing most power is to have a "differential" which will enable the power to work in opposite directions. The great work of Watt's in harnessing steam was to devise the reciprocal engine, which provided a differential, permitting the steam to automatically enter opposite ends of the cylinder of his engine. This means that the harnessing of gravity may await the discovery of a partial insulator of gravity. — probably some new alloy. As there are millions of different alloys which have not yet been tested, it is probable that a partial insulator of gravity will be discovered.

REMEMBER THE REVOLUTION OF THE GLOBE

THIS WEEK —In Washington

Clinton Davidson

It is open season this week in Washington on lobbyists, and as in any hunting season a lot of people that shouldn't be likely to get hurt. The danger is that the investigators of lobbying will use a shotgun instead of a rifle when they start firing away at their target. Undoubtedly there are some bad lobbyists, but that doesn't mean all lobbying is bad.

And like a shotgun, a broadside blast at lobbyists can have a strong kick-back. There is a double-barreled danger which could, if misdirected, do more harm than good.

First, if carried to an extreme, it could impair the right of the people to petition their Congress—to try to influence the vote of their congressmen—as guaranteed in the Constitution. That could be an unintended step toward dictatorship.

Second, as President Eisenhower pointed out in vetoing the gas bill, there is the "risk of creating doubt among the American people concerning the integrity of governmental processes." There should be no loss of public confidence in our democratic governmental processes.

you realize that you are moving at the rate of 1,000 miles per hour? (The world is approximately 20,000 miles in circumference and the day consists of 24 hours.) This revolution offers the greatest opportunity for free power. Furthermore, it will not need a differential in order to be harnessed. The most hopeful thing is that most physicists, astronomers, and other scientists agree that they do not know what makes the world revolve! They do not accept seriously the standard theory that — like a baseball — our globe was sent twirling when it was thrown off from the sun or some other planet and has been twirling for billions of years ever since.

In view of experiments with toy meters, where the revolving armature has no electrical connection with the magnetic field, another theory is possible. This is, that the interior of our Globe consists of some new metals or alloys making it the rotor of a great meter. The field of this meter is the electrical waves coming from the sun and other planets or generated by the clouds. Thomas Edison told me that more static electricity is used in one thunderstorm than is produced each day by all the power companies in the U. S. When this static electricity can be harnessed, I forecast that every factory will have a large revolving globe on its roof which will furnish power, light, and heat for the factory without cost, or without the consumption of our natural resources. For further details write, Babson Institute, Babson Park 57, Mass.

Therefore, don't put too much money into any one thing, uranium, oil, natural gas, water power, or even gravity! The first principle of successful investing is proper diversification.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

The idolatry of relying on material rather than spiritual power will be stressed at Christian Science services this Sunday. Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Matter" is the Golden Text from Isaiah (42:8): "I am the Lord; that is my name; and my glory will I not give to another, neither my praise to graven images."

Selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (27:29): "Nothing we can say or believe regarding matter is immortal, for matter is temporal and therefore a mortal phenomenon, a human concept, sometimes beautiful, always erroneous."

The following is among the passages to be read from the Bible (Isaiah 44:9): "They that make a graven image are all of them vanity; and their delectable things shall not profit; and they are their own witnesses; they see not, nor know; that they may be ashamed."

You are lobbying when you write your congressman, or talk with him, about legislation. Your farm organization leaders lobby when they testify on farm bills. Labor and business organizations employ people to present their views to Congress. Churches sometimes engage in lobbying.

Freedom to petition Congress, like the freedom of speech and freedom of press, is important to all of us. We should guard against its misuse if we are to preserve it as a privilege of free people. That is the purpose of the investigation by Congress.

Some uninformed, or malicious, people depict Representative Harris and Senator Fulbright as dupes of the gas lobby. Actually, Rep. Harris has the morals of a Baptist minister. His uncle, his first cousin and a nephew are all Baptist ministers. His reputation for opposing evil and greed is well known.

SAND HILLS PHILOSOPHER WANTS— CONGRESS TO GUARANTEE FISH WILL BITE IN SOIL-BUILDING FISH PONDS

Editor's note: The Sand Hills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm may have his tongue in his cheek this week, although of course it could be his foot in his mouth.

Dear editor: I have been following the proposals for this Soil Bank plan that'll allow me to get paid for taking my land out of cultivation. I am talking my language. I never have had any trouble figuring out for myself how to take land out of cultivation, it's easy, it's how to get paid for it that has always stumped me.

Under this proposal, a farmer would be allowed to build a pond on some of the land he's taken out of cultivation for soil-building purposes and then he'd be allowed to harvest fish out of it. There is no permanent surplus of water because fish out of the fish three days no longer depresses the market.

Well, so far, this fish-selling allowance is all right, I accept it, if I had the right layout I wouldn't mind getting paid for putting a few acres under water, but what Congress is completely ignoring is this: what if you dug a pond, it fills up with water, you stock it, and still the fish won't bite.

It seems to me Congress is leaving out the most vital point in the whole plank. You mean to say Congress is willing to let a man go to all the trouble of digging a lake and then showing absolutely no interest in whether he catches anything or not? How does our Congressman stand on this?

It's bad enough to fish all day in somebody else's stream or lake and not catch anything, and I've long felt Congress ought to do something about this, a sort of fish support program, but if you mean to tell me Congress is going to let a man build his own lake and then leave him with an empty stringer, then what I'd like to know is what sort of a farm program is that? They might as well let a man build an atomic bomb factory and then not tell him what the secret of building one of the bombs is.

If it's not too late, I wish you'd use your influence to get Congress to write a guarantee into the Soil Bank bill that a man will catch fish out of his own soil-building pond at least three days out of the week, with proper payment in lieu of keepers.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

KOGHE SEES— THROUGH A GLASS DARKLY By CARROLL POUNCEY

We note with alarm that Kansas City, home of the Royal American Livestock classic this year will ban the showing of mules, both Missouri and foreign born, to make room for the growing hordes of mundane horses which are to be shown this year.

We note this with alarm, for it marks another step in the saga of the fast disappearing long eared, un-benevolent, four legged beast of burden and small charm.

Here in Muleshoe, more or less the epitome of the lowly and unloved mule, we think some sort of protestive action should be taken. Small but interested groups might very well form on several street corners to talk in hushed voices about this latest outrage against us. We might also organize the West Plains Association for the Preservation of Mules at the Royal American Livestock Show, Incorporated. We might also send a delegation to Austin to protest. There are several legislative bodies down there which would qualify on questions dealing with jackasses.

At any rate, let's not wait three years to do something about this problem. Do it now.

'Tis spring, and the voice of the reluctant politician is heard through the land. Good ol' Pappy O'Daniel has coyly admitted, amidst song and poem, that he might be persuaded to seek the governors job if he is drafted by a mail-in campaign, and Price Daniel, (notice the similarity), took a handful of our time to be just as coy, although without the background music, to say that he just might get in the race if enough of his fellow Texans wrote in pleading with him to do so.

Like two small boys at a Sunday School party being urged to play the piano, these two bashful hopefuls either want to run and are afraid to, or else they just want to test their waning popularity.

O'Daniel obviously would run just for the publicity value of the campaign, while Daniel needs the governors job like he needs a third cranium cavity.

We make no predictions except there will be lots of letters written to both men and the summer campaign should be as dull as any election year in recent history.

ON THE JOB

The only bright spot in the otherwise totally appalling picture of storm and flood disaster in the northeastern states, as always in an emergency of such scope, is the relief work instantly undertaken and effectively performed by the American Red Cross.

The reason the Red Cross is able to go to work so fast and do it so well when the need is so great is that the American people have had the foresight and the good sense to put up the necessary money in advance of the need.

Few things we do in the field of national preparedness pay off so often and so fully in dividends measured in the health, safety, and the lives of our own people.

After disaster strikes, the difference between life and death for many people - many thousands of them in the case of the current storms and floods - is the time required to get effective help to the scene and into action.

If the Red Cross or other rescue agencies had to raise the money first and then do what could be done, it would be too late. It is because the Red Cross is ready that the always frightening toll of national disaster is made less horrifying.

It is because the American people make it ready with their response ahead of time that the Red Cross has such vast power to do so much good and so many helpful things.

The next time the American Red Cross asks the country for supporting funds, more Americans than ever before will give answers reflecting the good job so well done in the tragic circumstances now so vividly in our minds.

In the course of time, disaster strikes in many places and many forms, but with the Red Cross always ready and able to meet it the cost of suffering and lives will be held to a minimum - and while today's disaster may seem remote, tomorrow's disaster may be as close as your own doorstep.

JOIN PLAINS COTTON GROWERS

The Old Cotton Belt Association of Texas, the organization largely responsible for the trend cut in cotton acreage allotments this year from West Texas farms to smaller East Texas farms, is currently beating the drums for additional membership. They are busy circulating farmers in east and Central Texas, seeking membership coupons and donations.

In their circular the OCBA boasts of having won the fight to "get back—and keep cotton acres where they belong: in central and east Texas, where . . . cotton has been the basic cash crop, the livelihood of a great agricultural empire."

Copies of the circular make interesting reading and are bold enough to make any West Texas cotton farmer mad enough to join the Plains Cotton Growers, which is our organization to fight just such outfits as the Old Cotton Belt Association.

Get yourself a copy of their folder and then run, don't walk, to the nearest member of the Plains Cotton Growers and join the fight.

700,000 GUESTS ARE GONE Wildlife Week Observance Set For March 18-24, Bob Darnell Reports

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Darnell, Muleshoe, attended the North American Wild Life Conference, held in New Orleans March 5, 6, and 7. The meeting drew a large number of people from over the U. S., Canada, and Mexico, and the program featured some outstanding speakers. Mr. Darnell is manager of the Muleshoe Wild Life Refuge, located in the south part of Bailey County.

The local couple brought back literature on National Wildlife Week, which is March 18 to 24, and which is sponsored by the National Wildlife Federation, with headquarters in Washington. Walt Disney is national chairman.

The Federation's goal for 1956: Save Endangered Wildlife. The Federation pamphlet says, in part: Wildlife is a part of our national heritage. It is to be shared by each of us and each of us has a responsibility for perpetuating it for future generations so that they may enjoy, as we have, the living creatures that inhabit our lands and waters.

Today, many of our once abundant wild animals are on the verge of extinction. The goal of 1956 National Wildlife Week is to further conservation programs that will preserve these endangered species. The public's recognition of the plight of these animals and its support of the programs needed to restore them, provide the only hope for their recovery.

Mr. Darnell extends an invitation to the people to visit the local Wildlife Refuge, where until recently some 70,000 ducks were making their home. Now they're

Ford V-8's outsell by 2 to 1 all other Truck V-8's combined

Economical performance is the big reason why Ford's the V-8 leader!

It takes a FORD to squeeze maximum power out of today's gasoline

Only Ford gives you modern Short Stroke power—V-8 or Six—in every truck! Short Stroke design means up to 53% more power with no increase in engine size

Just one kind of engine can give you all the mileage built into today's gas. And that's a modern Short Stroke engine—the new kind of truck power pioneered by Ford.

Short Stroke engines develop power that used to be possible only with much bigger engines. And Short Stroke engines do it on less gas! The shorter stroke means less piston travel, which means less friction to waste power and gas, and less wear, too. You also get more usable power to work for you at the rear wheels!

New Ford Trucks save you money when you buy! Ford is America's lowest-priced line of V-8 trucks.* And right now your Ford Dealer is offering attractive terms for spring. Call him and find out what a sweet deal you can get!

Views From Pleasant Valley

A special community meeting was held at the PV Community Center on Wednesday night, Feb. 27, with approximately 50 people attending.

The minutes were read by the secretary. There was a correction in the date that Fred Marshall is to be at the meeting on March 27 to present a program on safe driving.

Mrs. Kirk Pitts gave a financial report. We now have $14.50 in the treasury.

The president introduced the visitors: Mr. and Mrs. O. C. McBride, Jr., of Littlefield; Mr. and Mrs. Hendrick, Mr. Darling, Mr. Ray Lawhon, Mrs. Harold Faulkner, Goose Ramey, from Dimmitt, and the guest speaker "Cotton John" Smith.

The meeting was then turned over to "Cotton John" who gave us information on the Texas Rural Neighborhood Program contest.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Paul and daughter, Mildred of Hereford, and Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Greene of Lubbock, visited in the L. F. Greene home last Sunday.

Pat Inman was home from Wednesday until Monday of last week visiting in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Inman and family. Pat is attending Baylor University.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Hicks returned Monday night from Woodward, Okla., where they were called to be at the bed side of Leroy's mother, Mrs. Agnes Hicks who suffered from a stroke. She was able to be moved to the home of a daughter on Sunday.

The regular community meeting was held at the Pleasant Valley Community Center Tuesday night, March 13 with 42 people attending.

The meeting was called to order by the president. The minutes were read and stood approved.

Bonnie Haberer, Lillie Wuerflein, Leona Hicks, and Harry Engelking were on a committee to compile all individual reports into one final report for the community.

Cliff Faulkner was appointed to replace Paul Hammett as chairman of the Social Participation division.

Mrs. Ethel Allison is to contact Mrs. Burelsmith of West Camp and invite she and the West Camp community to our next meeting which will be on March 27.

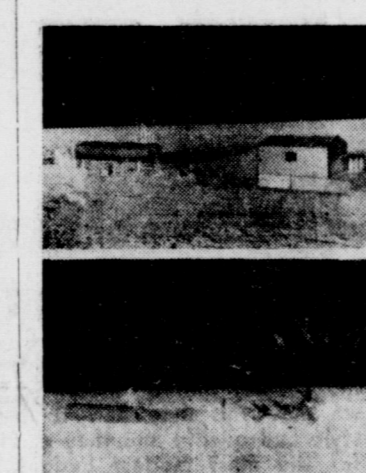

Mr. Fred Marshall is to be present at our next meeting and give a program on safe driving. Meeting was adjourned.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Allan Haley on the birth of a baby girl, weighing 8 lbs., 1 oz., on March 10.

The new baby has been named Sandra Kay.

Last weekend guests in the John Inman home were C. M. Moore and sons of El Paso.

The Pleasant Valley community extends their heart-felt sympathy to the Marvin Burton family in their recent bereavement. Marvin was accidentally electrocuted on Sunday.

ARE FARM TAX RATES FAIR?

It's income tax season again, and some farmers may have received some net income above expenses in 1955.

If you're one of these, here's a suggestion for some self-education in tax policies which may help you to understand why some people are so willing to make big cash contributions to the election campaigns of some Congressmen and Senators.

You must report your income, and pay the tax on it, before April 15. As soon as you have filled out one set of blanks, start over again on the other set.

But this time, instead of figuring your tax as you did on income that you earned by working for it, figure it as if you had received it all in the form of dividends from corporations.

You will discover that the tax law enacted in 1954 gives about a 25% savings to people who don't work for a living.

For example, a farmer and wife with two dependent children and the standard deductions would have to pay a tax of $416 on an income of $4,999. (That's the top income for which the tax can be computed by the tax table.)

But another man and wife and 2 children who got their income from corporation dividends instead of by milking cows and mowing hay would have a tax bill of only $317.

That's a penalty of $89 which the farmer has to pay for living on the wrong side of the economic tracks and having to work for his income instead of getting it from investments in corporations.

A stockholder without children gets an even higher premium to reward him for not having to work for his living. A playboy bachelor stockholder who clipped $4,999 last year on the General Motors stock his daddy left him er who dug an equal $4,999 out of the cotton field.

ing in music. Applicants must live in the Seventh District. Preference will be given those who have been members of student or junior music clubs. MHS Students Hear ENMU Band

Muleshoe High School students were privileged to hear the Eastern New Mexico University Concert Band, of Portales, N. M., perform Tuesday for an hour of good musical entertainment.

The band, under direction of Floren Thompson, played a number of songs, and to live up on the concert a girl's vocal quartet sang three songs, accompanied by the band.

Stanley Fox, Student Council president at MHS, introduced Eugene Mann, University Director of Public Relations, who in turn introduced Thompson and the tour officials.

Most interesting to the students at MHS was when Thompson turned the 70 piece concert band over to Norvill Howell, graduate of ENMU and now the director of the MHS band, to direct them in "Officer of the Day". The band ended their program with "The Stars and Stripes Forever", by Sousa, and then they had to load up on the bus and be on the way to their next concert to be put on Tuesday.

"Want your clothes to look better? Then you need an ELECTRIC Clothes Dryer!" says Mrs. W. H. Simpson, Jr.

715 W. MISSISSIPPI STREET
FLOYDADA, TEXAS

"Yes, clothes that are dried in an electric clothes dryer look much better than line-dried clothes because you eliminate clothespin corners." You do away with outside dirt and dust, too, and your clothes are soft and fluffy instead of being wind-blown or stiff as a board.

"We save a lot of money with our electric clothes dryer. For example, the children used to need several pairs of pajamas, where now two will do nicely." So many clothes can be worn again right after drying, without ironing, in many cases, and tests have shown that clothes will last as much as 50% longer when they are dried electrically.

"I really enjoy my electric washer and dryer, as well as a dependable supply of hot water from the electric water heater." Plan now to build an all-electric home laundry with a washer, clothes dryer, and electric water heater. You'll have better washes, and more time for your family, as Mrs. Simpson does.
