SOFTBALL FAD SWEEPS TOWN

Business Men Form League To Get More Recreation During The Long Summer Days

"Softball" baseball has become quite a fad with the business men of Tahoka, and each of several businesses and professions has organized a team. The diamond is located near the cotton yards in east Tahoka. Six teams have been entered, namely: Cleaners, Barbers, Bankers, Fire Department, Hatchery, and Grocers. Games are played late in the evenings of all days in the week except Saturday and Sunday.

On Tuesday evening the Cleaners (which Louie Weathers states is the cleanest team in Tahoka) defeated the Firemen 12 to 9.

On Wednesday the Hatchery defeated the Grocers with an overwhelming score of 28 to 8.

Though several of these teams have been playing more than a week, Tuesday's game was the first of the official schedule.

Women are also talking of organizing two or more teams.

The schedule for June is as follows:

- June 7—Cleaners vs. Barbers.
- June 8—Bankers vs. Fire Dept.
- June 11—Cleaners vs. Hatchery.
- June 12—Grocers vs. Barbers.
- June 13—Bankers vs. Hatchery.
- June 14—Fire Dept. vs. Barbers.
- June 15—Bankers vs. Grocers.
- June 18—Cleaners vs. Hatchery.
- June 19—Fire Dept. vs. Barbers.
- June 20—Bankers vs. Grocers.
- June 21—Cleaners vs. Fire Dept.
- June 22—Hatchery vs. Barbers.
- June 25—Fire Dept. vs. Grocers.
- June 26—Bankers vs. Cleaners.
- June 27—Grocers vs. Barbers.
- June 29—Bankers vs. Cleaners.

Harter's Yard Is Made Beautiful

"Carrying on" for several years in that constant warfare with frost, drought, sandstorms, insects and other destructive agencies, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Harter of the Magnolia community have won to the extent of having one of the most attractive rural yards in Lynn county.

"We started our yard improvement under the direction of Miss El Fieda Harrison, our former home demonstration agent," said Mrs. Harter while showing her yard to representatives of the News recently. "Though we have put out more than 200 trees, our screen plantings, foundation shrubs, and many perennials, bought hose and other equipment for watering and caring for the lawn our total improvements have cost just a little more than $30.00." Mr. Harter replied to our inquiry.

In front of the house the smooth, well-sodded lawn is flanked on either side by a curving sweep of trees and shrubs used for protection against winds and sand. An attractive stepping stone walk curves gently from the front step to the mail box. At the back of the house other rock walks lead where needed, while blooming shrubs, perennials and evergreens screen off garden, poultry yard and other undesirable views, and the rose garden and smooth lawn make a lovely outdoor living room.

"It has been hard work and still is, but we are enjoying it and are always glad to show it to our friends," concluded Mrs. Harper as we reluctantly left this beauty spot.

Mrs. Cain's Mother Dies In Michigan

Word has been received by Judge C. H. Cain from Traverse City, Mich., that the mother of Mrs. Cain, Mrs. R. A. Rymer, died Saturday night in her home there.

Mrs. Cain has been with her mother the last two weeks, and will remain in Traverse City for some time. Mrs. Rymer was 88 years old.

The News joins other friends of Mrs. Cain here in offering condolences.

Little Miss Marjorie Howard of Hollis, Oklahoma, is here visiting her cousin, Patricia Hill.

Half Inch Rain Is Some Help

Rain amounting to 0.54 inches fell in Tahoka late Saturday afternoon. Eighteen hundredths had fallen on Friday evening. Like other showers which have fallen recently these were of a local nature, covering a comparatively small territory surrounding Tahoka.

Much of the county is yet very dry.

H. M. Larkin In Race For Judge

H. M. Larkin this week makes formal announcement of his candidacy for the office of county judge, subject to the action of the July Democratic primaries.

Having been a citizen of Lynn county for 28 years, and having been engaged in business in Tahoka for most of that time, Mr. Larkin is well known to the voters of the county.

Possessed of a pleasing address, always genial and accommodating, there are few men who have as many friends in Lynn county as he.

His announcement follows:

To The Voters of Lynn County:

In making my announcement for the office of county judge of Lynn county, I wish to say that it shall be one of few words.

The voters and people in general this county have known me for many years. They know my qualifications, if I have any, they know

J. F. Bearden, 74, Dies In Hill County

J. F. Bearden, 74, a citizen of the Dixie community, died at Abbot in Hill county last Friday afternoon, and was buried in Vaughn cemetery in that county.

Mr. Bearden had been in ill health for several months and had gone to stay with a daughter there for a few weeks, hoping that his health would improve.

His son, J. H. Bearden and family, with whom he resided in the Dixie community, attended the funeral.

Mr. Bearden left surviving three children, J. H. Bearden, Mrs. Jess Irvin, and Mrs. Jim Williams.

He had many friends in the Dixie community and in Tahoka who will regret his death.

Barrow Film Is Coming To English

Actual news-reel shots of the Barrow-Parker killing will be shown in Tahoka at the English Theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday in conjunction with the regular picture program. D. B. English announces. The showing here will immediately follow the Lubbock showing scheduled for this Friday and Saturday.

The cinema shows the bullet-punctured death car, pictures of the officers who consigned Bonnie Parker and Clyde Barrow to their graves, and, among other features, pictures of the outlaws on Dallas morgue slabs prior to their torn bodies being mended by morticians.

Candidates Will Visit Petty Tuesday

Lynn county candidates will address the people of the Petty community Tuesday night, June 12.

The Woman's Home Demonstration Club of that community has announced that they will conduct a 5c sale of candy, cake, ice cream cones, and popcorn balls. All the candidates are expected to be present with a little pocket change, and a large crowd of voters are also expected to be there.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Coltenback returned Monday from Mineral Wells, where Mr. Coltenback has been taking treatment. He came back much improved.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Watson of Draw are the happy parents of a baby boy, born Monday at the home of J. H. Bearden in the Dixie community.

MAURY HUGHES VISITS TAHOKA

Tells Stand On Vital Issues In Race For Governor, Heard By Small Crowd

Maury Hughes of Dallas, candidate for governor, spoke to a small crowd on the court house lawn here Friday afternoon in the interest of his candidacy.

Mr. Hughes did not discuss all the issues that he is discussing in this campaign, but touched briefly upon a number of vital matters.

Mr. Hughes expressed himself as being opposed to a state income tax and to a sales tax. He contended that the federal government has preempted the field in the matter of income taxes, stating that such taxes were already being levied and collected to the breaking point. He maintained that the sales tax is a tax upon the poor. It would levy a tax upon bread and meat and clothing and would be an undue burden upon those least able to pay. The big real estate owners, the fellows who own skyscrapers, the big corporations, all favor the sales tax, he contends, because it would relieve them of their just burdens of taxation.

He declared in favor of taking

School At Wilson Has Good Year

"We believe that the Wilson school has had the best year in its history," stated A. L. Faubion, superintendent, at the closing exercises held in the high school auditorium last Friday night.

The large auditorium was filled to capacity with friends of the school to witness the graduating program, at the close of which diplomas were awarded to twenty-two graduates.

The salutatory address was given by Miss Louetta Kahlich and the valedictory address by Miss Lorene Schaffner. The invocation was by Rev. M. P. Hines pastor of the Wilson Methodist church. There was a class song, a piano duet by Misses Veasey and Schlessler, and a vocal solo by Miss Betty King. Scholarships were awarded by Principal Brady Nix. Miss Veasey presided at the piano throughout the evening program.

The address to the graduating class was delivered by the Hon. George H. Mahon of Colorado. It was an eloquent and forceful appeal to the members of the class to do their best in life, and Mr. Mahon held the rapt attention of members of the class and the large audience alike in its delivery.

Circulating Library Will Be Started

In view of the fact that Tahoka has so few diversions for the young people of the community during the summer months, a movement is being forwarded by Rev. H. C. Smith and other citizens of Tahoka to establish a circulating library, the contents to be donated by the people of the town.

A committee has been selected to find a location and establish the library, consisting of Truett Smith, G. H. Nelson, L. C. Haney, Frank Hill, W. E. (Happy) Smith, and W. O. Thomas.

The books will be issued to the young people one afternoon each week from the place which will be selected for headquarters by a regular librarian.

The committee asks that all who have good literature they can and will either give or loan for use in this library, please leave same either at the Lynn County News office, Tahoka Drug, Thomas Bros. Drug, or the county judge's office. All contributions will be appreciated to the utmost, and all contributors who do not wish their books to be given to a permanent library will have them returned at the end of the summer season.

Such a movement for the betterment of the education and recreation of the young people is one that can be highly recommended, and every citizen who has just one good book should be a contributor.

JIMMY ALLRED SPEAKS HERE

Candidate For Governor Favors Pardon, Legislative, And Other Reforms

For an hour and thirty minutes, Attorney-General James V. Allred, candidate for governor, held the rapt attention of three hundred or more Lynn county voters here Wednesday morning as he discussed some of the vital issues of the campaign.

Allred was introduced by District Attorney G. H. Nelson, who spoke forcefully and at some length concerning Allred's record as attorney-general and his qualifications for the governorship.

Allred added spice to his speech by making frequent reference to the criticisms that his opponents have been directing at him, and his rapier thrusts in answer to these criticisms seemed to greatly please his auditors. He ably defended his record as attorney-general, showing that some of the criticisms which other candidates have been making are utterly groundless. He showed that in suits against big corporations in which he charged them with violating the laws of this state, he had

Tahoka Splits With Roswell

The Tahoka Baseball team played Roswell in a couple of games Sunday and Monday in that city.

The game Sunday was interrupted in the eighth inning by a heavy rain, the score standing at that time at 9 to 1 in favor of Roswell. The game Monday was a twelve inning affair, the score being 6 to 5 in favor of Tahoka.

Skip Taylor says that the Roswell team this year is one of the best they have ever had.

Wells Says Tahoka Needs Trades Day

Mr. and Mrs. Ruby C. Wells were in Brownfield Monday, and Ruby says there was a great crowd there, the first Monday being Brownfield's trades day.

Mr. Wells is strongly of the opinion that Tahoka should have a trades day. All the county seats towns around us have one, he says, and we have nothing. He thinks the second Monday in each month would be a good day to select.

It would be well for other business men to think on this matter and to act.

How Woman Raised 151 Of 154 Chicks

Some people believe that they have "good luck" or "bad luck" with their poultry. Mrs. B. J. Emanuel of the Magnolia community thinks that a good oil-burning brooder, chick starter, growing mash, clean water and shade have been the means of growing to the age of 5 weeks 151 White Leghorn chicks from 154 day-old chicks purchased from a local hatchery.

ATTEND CHEVROLET MEET

Chester Connolly and Summer Knight attended the district meeting of Chevrolet dealers and salesmen held in Oklahoma City Monday. Mr. Connolly says that he enjoyed the distinction of having gone the farthest distance of anyone present to attend the convention. It is 405 miles from Oklahoma City to Tahoka, and he and Summer negotiated the distance Tuesday in just nine hours. Chester says the Chevrolet is some car.

Marjorie Wells, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claud Wells, who underwent an operation in the Scottish Rite Hospital in Dallas nearly two weeks ago for an infection of the bone of one of the lower limbs is said to be improving nicely. It is thought that she will be able to come home within the next week or ten days.

B. J. Mayberry of the Dixie community underwent a minor operation in a Lubbock sanitarium.

Beer Elections Fail To Carry

Both Wilson and O'Donnell went dry in beer elections held last Saturday. The vote at Wilson resulted in 121 for beer and 159 against beer. At O'Donnell the vote was 116 for beer and 129 against beer. The Wilson election was for the Wilson Independent school district, while the O'Donnell election was for the city only.

McCord Asks Commission Job

M. E. McCord, residing a few miles east of Tahoka, this week gets into the political game. He announces as a candidate for commissioner for precinct No. 2, known as the Draw-Grassland district.

Mr. McCord is a farmer by vocation, though he sometimes serves as a salesman in one of the business houses at Tahoka on Saturday. For the past 25 years he has had dealings with the public and feels that he is ample to qualify to perform the duties incumbent on the County Commissioner.

Born and reared in Alabama, Mr. McCord and family removed from that state directly to Lynn county ten years ago. He has resided in and near Tahoka since that time. He has ever taken a deep interest in all public enterprises, and has actively supported every movement for the betterment of his community. Thus he has wide acquaintance and many warm friends.

He has no pledge to make other than this, that if he is elected he will do his very best for the district and county which he serves. He respectfully solicits your vote in the July primaries.

Fire Burns Feed On Spruelli Farm

R. D. Spruelli of the Joe Stokes community reported that about 5,000 to 6,000 bundles of feed and a four-wheel trailer belonging to him were destroyed by fire late Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Spruelli had been burning straw from some hen's nests when a high wind arose and spread the fire to the stacks of feed. A light rain fell while the feed was burning, but had little effect on the ravaging of the fire. Mr. Spruelli was not at home at the time, and the rest of the family were unable to extinguish the flames.

Joe W. Bailey Jr. Coming To Lubbock

Joseph Weldon Bailey Jr., candidate for United States Senate from Texas, will speak in Lubbock Wednesday night of next week at 8 o'clock, Durwood Bradley of that city informed The News Wednesday. Bailey, who is now serving as congressman-at-large, had previously announced speaking engagements in this section but was forced to cancel them when he was called to Washington several days ago. Mr. Bradley, a Lubbock attorney, is manager of Bailey's South Plains campaign.

Lynn county voters are invited to give Mr. Bailey a hearing in Lubbock Wednesday night.

Corn-Hog Reduction Contract Modified

Government restrictions on the use of corn rent acres under the corn-hog reduction contract has been modified to permit planting and harvesting of any forage crop, except corn and grain sorghums; and sudan or any other grazing crop may be planted for grazing purposes, according to V. F. Jones, county agent.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Heathman and children accompanied Mr. Heathman's niece, Miss Jesse Lee Heathman, to her home in Roll, Oklahoma, the first of this week. Miss Heathman has been visiting here the past two months.

Jim Uzle of Abbott, Hill county, is here visiting Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Watson, Mrs. Watson being his daughter.

WHITE IN RACE FOR CONGRESS

Taylor White, Former Teacher In Tahoka, Carrying Campaign To All Of District

Many friends here were a bit surprised last week when they learned that Taylor White, former vocational agriculture teacher in the high school here had announced as a candidate for Congress from the 19th district.

Mr. White has been teaching the past two years in the Odessa high school, but he held many schools of instruction in various communities near Tahoka for the benefit of young men and boys who could not attend the Tahoka schools and for farmers in these communities who desired the benefit of this instruction. In addition to this, he did much of the work usually done by a county farm agent, assisting many farmers in terracing and contouring their lands. He also took an active part in civic and religious work in Tahoka, serving for a long time as president of the Tahoka Chamber of Commerce, and for a year or two as secretary of that organization without pay. He was generally conceded to be one of the most useful citizens Lynn county ever had.

Possibly Tahoka never had a more popular citizen. Bubbling over with geniality, with good will and good cheer and always willing and ready to serve and to help, he made friends on first acquaintance and rarely lost one.

Mr. White has been busy the past ten days in seeing the voters of the district, having visited every county in the district within that period of time.

Mr. White is making Tahoka his headquarters during this campaign.

Sid Cathey Enters Tax Office Race

The belated announcement of W. B. (Sid) Cathey as a candidate for tax assessor and collector appears in this issue of The News.

It had been rumored for many weeks that Mr. Cathey would become a candidate, but it was not until two weeks ago that he made a definite decision.

Mr. Cathey has never before offered for office in this county. However, his friends prevailed upon him to accept the office of mayor of O'Donnell some time ago, and he is now serving his second term in that position. Recently he was paymaster and timekeeper for the Panhandle Construction Co. of Lubbock while that concern was building the grade and drainage structures on highway No. 9 from Tahoka to the Lubbock county line. During that time he had his office in Tahoka, and by his friendly disposition and accommodating manner he made many friends in Tahoka.

Mr. Cathey is one of the pioneers of Lynn county. He was born at Robert Lee, but his father's family removed to Lynn county when Sid was a lad of ten years of age, and before Tahoka was founded. They settled on four sections of land in the southwest corner of this county and there Sid grew to manhood. He then went to Oklahoma and for nine years was in the service of the American Express Co. He came back to Lynn county and located at O'Donnell in 1925, where he became associated with the First National Bank of O'Donnell, which connection continued until about 18 months ago.

Mr. Cathey is unquestionably well qualified to fill the office which he seeks and his friends are urging that the voters of Lynn county shall give his candidacy their most serious consideration. He will appreciate their support and their vote in the July primaries.

Wesley Simpson of Draw visited in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Simpson, Friday.

ELIMINATING THE BOOT LEGGERS

New Mexico is a wet state. They do not have any kind of prohibition
over there.

They do have the license system.
Under the state liquor law, a license to serve alcoholic liquors by the drink with meals may be issued to bona fide hotel keepers and operators of restaurants who have been engaged continually in such business in the county for at least one year. Under this law a dispenser's license may also be issued to persons who have been engaged in some form of business for at least a year, but such merchant is permitted to sell liquor only in the original package, the contents not to be drunk on the premises where sold.

In the light of these facts, the following editorial from the Lovington Leader is most pertinent and illuminating:

The bootlegger is still with us and from present indications will be here for years to come. Instead of being eliminated by the repeal of prohibition, he is more active than ever before and in greater numbers. As long as there is immense profit in the illegal sale of intoxicating liquor, so long will men take a chance and will sell it to those who are willing to buy from them.

The manager of the Hobbs distillery
was in Lovington last week making arrangements for securing license for the operation of that plant. He told of some of the problems which confront a legitimate institution in the way of competition with the wild-catters. He said that it costs about forty cents a gallon to manufacture whiskey at their plant. However, before the liquor can leave the plant, he must pay about $3.00 a gallon in taxes,

state and federal. This, of course, must be added to the selling price of the liquor. He can legally sell the liquor only to those engaged in legitimate trade and not to bootleggers. These licensed dealers must also pay a tax for operating a legitimate business, and this cost must be added also to the price of the liquor. Even the man who hauls the stuff from the distillery
to the dealers must pay a license tax, and this, too, must be added to the selling price.

By the time all the various taxes have been added and the legitimate profits of all the people who handle this 40 cent liquor, it has become a thing of no small cost.

The moonshiner has none of these taxes to pay. Even though it may cost him twice as much to make his liquor as it does the licensed distiller, he can still sell his goods for half the price of the legally manufactured stuff and still make an enormous profit. If he must, he can pay grafting officials enormous fees for "protection" and still make an immense profit.

And people will continue to patronize
the bootlegger. It was all a mistake to say that the reason bootleggers flourished before repeal was because people could not get liquor elsewhere and they would cease to patronize illegitimate dealers as soon as means were provided for them to buy their liquor legally. Those who drink their liquor regularly look upon the business as something questionable in its nature, even when conducted according to law. They therefore see little difference in the principle of the matter of patronizing the bootlegger and the licensed dealer. And since they usually can get the illegal stuff at about half what the regular dealer has to charge, they buy where they can get it cheapest.

It is costing the government
more today to combat the bootlegger
than at any time before the repeal of prohibition. The cost continues to mount and the evil to increase.

It is claimed that in many cities
and towns in south and southwest Texas, the officials have been in the habit of padding the school rolls.
Many thousand names have been placed on the rolls each year, it is said, which are fictitious. Each of these names has drawn for the offending district the scholastic per capita apportionment for the year, which ranged from $15.00 to $17.00 during the past several years. In this way these districts have stolen vast sums of money from the rest of the state.
These crooks should be sent to the penitentiary, where they belong, and the constitution should be amended so as to provide for the apportionment of school funds on the basis of attendance
rather than on the basis of scholastic enrollment.

The News has never been crazy about the Bankhead law. We do not know any too much about it however. It may turn out to be the finest thing yet, but we're a little leary. We think the plow-up campaign last year was a great help to farmers and business men of the South. We think the acreage reduction contracts signed this year will result in a great reduction of the acreage and probably a great advance in the price of cotton this fall. But, if we understand anything at all about the Bankhead law, after a Lynn county farmer has reduced his acreage 35 per cent, the Government may come along this fall and take half the value of all the cotton he sells above a certain number of bales. This tax may be levied on only a few bales or on the major portion of his crop or on none at all, depending on the yield. But, if his yield should be heavy, it is probable that he will be required to pay the tax on half or even two-thirds of his production. This paper has often expressed its doubts as to the advisability or the constitutionality of the Bankhead bill before it became law, when most of the farmers seemed to be for it. We predict that there will be a howl from farmers against it this fall that will be heard from California to Maine. Still, we sincerely hope that our fears are unfounded.

One of the greatest troubles with law enforcement in this country, in our humble opinion, is the venality of peace officers. If there were fewer crooks in office, there would be fewer criminals running wild loose over the country. The time has come when the people of this country should try to be as careful in the selection of a sheriff or a chief of police as they are in the selection of a district judge. We have known many district judges rather intimately in our brief lifetime and we have known very few who were not above suspicion. Most of them have been men of the highest honor and integrity. We have likewise known many brave and honest peace officers,
but on the other hand we have known many whose conduct and attitude were such as to bring them under constant suspicion. It is a grave situation when we cannot trust our peace officers. The bravest and best men in the country,
other qualifications being considered,
should be placed in these responsible positions throughout the land.

From time to time various citizens have spoken of the desirability of having some sort of civic or service club in the town. Since the chamber of commerce became defunct and the Kiwanis Club disbanded a couple of years ago, there has been no men's service organization of any kind in Tahoka. Many think that a men's luncheon club, in which every male citizen of the town should be eligible for membership, would be about the proper thing. There is no doubt but that Tahoka does need some such club.
What do you say about it, folks?

In this good year of 1934, when candidates are almost as numerous as the prairie dogs used to be, we have decided that it is a good time to remember the counsel contained in that bit of verse found in one of the text books in our schoolboy days. It ran thus:

If Wisdom's ways you'd wisely seek,
Five things observe with care:
Of whom you speak,
To whom you speak,
And how, and when, and where.

Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Bridges of Iran, Texas, spent the week end here visiting relatives and friends.

writes Mrs. Mary Garner, of Burleson, Texas. "My mother used it for a number of years and we do not think there is a better

saw Syrup of Black-Draught advertised.
I sent for it and gave it to

Little Mabel Ozella Green, three, daughter of O. W. Green, decided Friday that she would take a walk.
After a while the parents missed her
and set about to search for her.
They found her one and one-half miles down the O'Donnell highway, going south accompanied by her German police dog. The little tot explained she had just started for a walk in the T-Bar.

Sam Acton, salesman for the

Everybody come out for singing Sunday at 3 o'clock. We have new books ordered which will be here for singing and we are also expecting several visitors and singers from surrounding communities.

JUDGE MADDOX SPEAKS AT METHODIST CHURCH

Laymen's Day was observed at the Methodist Church last Sunday. Judge Maddox spoke at the morning hour. He chose for the scripture lesson the parable of the Good Samaritan. The unemployment situation was discussed.

The Rev. Mr. Richardson spoke at the evening hour. Brother Richardson's sermon was to the young people. Those who heard these visiting speakers enjoyed the talks very much.

The attendance at Sunday school was larger than that of the previous Sunday.

Rev. H. C. Smith did the preaching in a revival meeting at Grassland last week. The meeting closed Sunday night and the pastor will be in the home pulpit next Sunday morning and evening.

Let all members and friends of the Methodist Church be in their places next Sunday. These mornings are long and all of us have time to attend Sunday School as well as the Church services. Will you not cooperate with us in making next Sunday a great day.—Reporter.

METHODIST YOUNG PEOPLE AT SUMMER ASSEMBLY

Four young people from the Methodist Church here are attending the Summer Assembly for young people at McMurry College, Abilene, this week. Hundreds of young people from over the North-west Texas Conference gather at McMurry each summer to study the young people's work in the Church.

Those who went from this place are Miss Ney Camille Fenton, Miss Sybil Prater, J. D. Donaldson Jr., and Lester Prater.

CHURCH OF CHRIST NOTES

We were very much gratified last Lord's Day when the Treasurer's report was given to find all bills paid and a small surplus left. Our aim along this line of giving is "every member giving something every Lord's Day." Another gratifying feature of the services was the number of visitors present.

All members are urged to read Acts 20 and 7, also Hebrews 10 and 25 and act in accordance. Bible study at 10 a. m. Communion and preaching, 11 a. m. and 8:30 p. m. Come to the church with a gospel message, warm hand clasp and a friendly welcome.—R. P. Drennon.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Ensor of the Petty community were Tahoka visitors Saturday.

Golf Pro Giving Instructions Here

Ned Westby, who is here for a week or two giving instruction to members of Tahoka Golf Club and to others interested in the game, is a professional golfer of some note.

Westby is one of the ranking Winter tournament players. He has held the Mexican National Open championship since 1931, when he defeated the famous Leo Diegel for the title. In 1932 he defended by turning back the also famous Johnnie Farrell. Since that time, there has been no tournament in Mexico City for this championship, and Westby is therefore still the titleholder. He is also former champion of New England open, as well as of numerous other sectional championships.

English Has Shell From Parker Gun

D. B. English has in his possession one of the shells that was found in Clyde Barrow's car immediately after he and Bonnie Parker were killed by officers near Arcadia, Louisiana. By mere chance English met District Attorney Martin of Fort Worth and one of the Dallas deputy sheriffs, Oakley, in Shreveport on Thursday following the killing on Tuesday. They had in their possession some of Clyde Barrow's guns and some of the shells taken from his car; and Oakley gave English one of the shells. The shell was for a .45 caliber pistol.

Mr. English also says that he examined the sawed-off shot gun between his knees when killed. The officers told him that Clyde always carried this gun between his knees with the muzzle downward and the stock up, so that it could be quickly thrown into firing position. Mr. English greatly prizes the bullet in his possession.

Mrs. C. A. Cowan, who has been teaching at T-Bar this year, returned to her home at Burkett, Texas, after spending a few days visiting her sister-in-law, Mrs. H. M. Snowden, last week end.

Mr. and Mrs. D. B. English returned Friday night from a visit with relatives in Dallas, Shreveport and other places. They came back by San Antonio.

JIMMIE ALLRED HEARD HERE WEDNESDAY

collected more money for the people of Texas than any other attorney-general in the history of the state. Allred was merciless in his exhortation of these law-breaking concerns and especially of their practice of seeking to corruptly influence legislation through their highly-paid lobbyists.

One of the major issues of this campaign he claimed to be the lobbying evil. Declaring that he was not opposed to legitimate lobbying, wherein interested parties seek to lay facts and information before the legislators in order to enable them to act intelligently in the passage of laws affecting business, he voiced unyielding opposition to the methods that "big business" has been using to influence legislation in this state. He read a questionnaire which he claimed the lobbyists had prepared in advance of the meeting of a recent legislature seeking all kinds of information about the legislators-elect, with the evident purpose of undertaking to influence their action as legislators by the means that might seem most potent in each particular case.

Answering critics, Allred showed how the lobbyists had slipped a joker into the present law against lobbyists, making it scarcely worth the paper it was written on. He offered a remedy for the evil. He would insist on the passage of a law that would require each lobbyist to file an affidavit giving the name of his employer and a lot of other pertinent information. He would require each and every lobbyist to file a daily sworn statement as to the amount of money spent and how and for what purpose it was spent. In fact, he said that he would insist on the most stringent anti-lobbying law that could be written.

Another matter closely related to this evil is the practice of state senators and occasional members of the lower house of accepting lawyer's fees and other retainers from the corporate interest. "No man can serve two masters," he declared. He favored the passage of a law that would prohibit senators and representatives from taking fees from the public service corporations while in the service of the people, and that would require every senator and representative to file an affidavit giving the names of any and all corporations for whom he may be acting as an attorney. Mr. Allred pointed out that such a resolution had been passed by the lower house a year or two ago but that it was defeated in the senate. With biting sarcasm and deadly ridicule, he recited the objections that dignified senators pompously expressed when the measure came before that body for action. His thrusts at these senators and the objections they raised made them ridiculous in the minds of his hearers and created quite a bit of merriment at their expense.

Allred also discussed at some length and with telling effect the pardoning evil that has grown up in this state. He showed how that the Barrow brothers and others had committed their worst crimes and had become the most dangerous outlaws after having been pardoned by some governor. He would amend the law relating to this matter so as to prohibit the governor from pardoning any criminal except upon the recommendation of the board of pardons. This board of pardons would be appointed, not by the governor, but as follows: One member by the governor, one member by the chief justice of the supreme court, and one member by the chief justice of the court of criminal appeals. It would be the duty of this board to make investigation of every case and to recommend clemency before the same could be granted by the governor.

Answering the charge that he had posed as a dry in one part of the state and as a wet in another, he cited the fact that in his opening speech several months ago he stated his position on the liquor question. His position had been frequently stated in the public press that circulates in South Texas as well as West Texas and every other section of the state. He had never mis-stated his position anywhere, he declared. He pointed out, however, that the governor has no power in determining whether the state shall be wet or dry. That matter can be determined only by a vote of the people. He declared that he favored submitting the matter to the people but that personally and politically he had always been and is now a dry.

At the close of his speech scores of people crowded around him, shaking his hand and pledging support. In fact, the enthusiastic response of the people amounted to a veritable ovation.

MAURY HUGES MAKES HIS PLATFORM KNOWN

another 1-8 of a cent of the gasoline tax from the highway fund and giving it to the public schools. He said that the building of highways, if necessary, could wait, but that the education of the children of Texas could not wait.

He also favored an elective highway commission, one member to be elected from each of the four or five divisions of the state. He declared that it is the spirit of the new deal to give the people more power in their government, and he declared that if the highway commissioners were elected instead of being appointed, they would be more responsive to the will of the people.

He declared not only in favor of the new deal, but a square deal for West Texas. "West Texas has not heretofore gotten a fair deal politically," he said.

Another measure which he favors is old age pensions. Every person more than 65 years of age who is compelled to work for a livelihood should be granted a pension by the state and not be required to enter into competition in the commercial field with younger men, he stated.

Upon the liquor question, he stated that he was in favor of the repeal of the state prohibition amendment in the constitution and of the Dean Law. He claimed that the local option method was the best way to handle the liquor problem. He criticized Tom Hunter and James V. Allred for trying to carry water on both shoulders, as he expressed it, on the liquor question, declaring that whiskey saloons were running wide open in South Texas, he criticized Allred for not filing injunction suits to close them. He declared that Tom Hunter was running as a dry in the English language and as a wet in the Bohemian language. He scored hypocrisy and double dealing in politics and praised the man wet or dry who was consistent in his attitude, declaring that he himself has always been an anti-prohibitionist.

He went from Tahoka to meet other appointments further south.

Says All Ravens Should Be Killed

There should be some organized drives to kill the ravens as well as the rabbits, says J. C. Bond, who drives the bus through Tahoka from Post to Brownfield.

Mr. Bond says that the mesquite trees between Brownfield and Tahoka are full of ravens' nests and thousands of young ravens are being hatched out each year. These ravens are very destructive to crops, and he thinks it would pay farmers and business men to have some raven drives.

It seems to us to be a mighty good suggestion.

Mrs. J. B. Walker is visiting her sister, Miss Jo Bullock, at Aspermont this week.

Mr. F. E. Redwine and his son, Norvell, accompanied Mr. Redwine's two daughters, Misses Jewel and Elwayne Redwine, to Las Vegas, New Mexico, Friday, where they will attend State Normal University of New Mexico. Mr. Redwine and Norvell returned Saturday.

LARKIN ANNOUNCES FOR OFFICE OF COUNTY JUDGE

my record as a citizen, and know of my service to the Democratic party.

I am asking the voters of this county, if they feel or think that I am entitled to any recognition from the party, in return for my services to the party—if they feel that my efforts for the past twenty-eight years in helping develop Lynn county from frontier and grazing county into one of the best farming sections in West Texas, entitles me to any recognition—if they feel that I could fill the office with satisfaction to a majority of the citizenship, then I ask that you cast your ballot for me on July 28th.

The judicial oath of office contains the only platform on which a candidate for County Judge can run. A candidate for this important office can promise his supporters nothing except a conscientious and faithful performance of his judicial duties, and a candidate must be judged on the basis of experience, character, and judicial temperament. It is only on this basis that the people should make their choice.

I promise nothing except conscientious service, with the use of common sense and whatever legal ability I may have acquired from my contact with the business world. I will rely upon myself alone to fight for the people's rights, without favor or prejudice and with economy in administration.

I shall appreciate a consideration from the voters of this county as to my candidacy. Very truly,

H. M. Larkin

Local Boys Make Good At Insurance

Boswell Edwards and Vernon Massengale have sold so much insurance during the past two months for the Fidelity Union Life Insurance Co., of which Mrs. R. C. Forrester is local agent, that they will be awarded a trip into Old Mexico at the district meeting of salesmen and agents for that company next Saturday.

They have been further honored by being asked to tell "how they did it" at the dinner in the presence of Mr. Earl B. Smith, president of the company, who will be present.

It is thought, although the information is not definite, that these two young men each sold more insurance than any other salesman in the district, Boswell scoring a little higher than Vernon.
