AND AD VALOREM TAX VOTE

$50,000 Road Bond Election Mon.

Bailey County voters will go to the polls Monday to cast their vote on a $50,000 road bond issue, which if it carries will provide funds for purchasing right of way for about 11 miles of four lane road on highway 84 from the Muleshoe city limits to the Lamb-Bailey county line. Only half the total bond issue has been earmarked for four lane right of way purchases, with the other $25,000 to be used for purchasing right of way for farm to market roads within the confines of Bailey county.

Scoop Sez

By J. M. FORBES

Back in the depression days, the people of Muleshoe did not or one minute question the validity of the future of the town and its farming area. They believed with Rockefeller that "Prosperity has always returned and will again."

They had a basis for that confidence. They knew the soil was rich, the people industrious, the climate good, and the water plentiful. Now, for the first time in the history of the community a doubt has been implanted in the mind of the people.

We fear Lubbock will get all the water, and we fear what Mr. Benson may do or continue to do.

I have suggested to the people down here at The Journal that we entrust our argument with Lubbock over the water to our duly elected committee, and that we down here go back to work. We have a good committee; let's you and I go back to work.

We hope that nothing will ever happen to change the rosiness of this territory's future. In the meantime, we must make a living; payrolls and rent and insurance payments will need to be met, just as if there were not a couple of clouds on the horizon. We can work while keeping one eye on the clouds.

Postoffice receipts always have been considered a good index to the business health of a community. Business men might like to know that our postal receipts so far this year give a mighty favorable indication of good business health here.

In January and February, 1956, receipts made a spectacular gain of 17.69 per cent over the receipts for the same two months of 1955, a year that has been considered one to be remembered for its high general business activity.

Heck, I'm probably twice as apprehensive and "worked up" over the situation as you are. Only I know I've got to make a living THIS MONTH, now. But inside, I really am convinced there's nothing wrong with this community's future that a good rain, elimination of Lubbock as a contender for our water, clarification of the national agriculture policy, provision for early easing of farm credit, an end to these unpopular duststorms, and a lot of hard work won't cure.

And you might like to know that old story about operating a business without advertising has been resurrected and is again making the rounds. It said that could be compared to the man winking at the girl in the dark room; he'd know what he was doing, but would anybody else?

Lions Hear Plans For MHS Athletic Season Next Year At Wednesday Meet

Varsity football uniforms for the Muleshoe Mules will be black and white next season, coach Wayne Mantooth told members of the Lions club Wednesday when that group held their luncheon meeting at the school.

Mantooth said the change to black and white from the traditional purple uniforms was on account of the color fast dyes used in black or gray uniforms not fading.

The coach also discussed some other aspects of the school athletic program for next year, including plans to inaugurate varsity baseball, and possibly a tennis team schedule. Junior high conference football will be played here next season, Mantooth said.

A slate of nominations was named by chairman Bloddy Ray to be voted on within the next two weeks. Nominated for officers were Sam Damon, president; Ernest Kerr, first vice-president; Dee Clements, second

The State Highway Commission has already set aside funds for the construction of the additional two lanes on highway 84 from the county line to Muleshoe city limits, but has not secured the right of way, a chore left up to the County Commissioners.

The $50,000 bond issue would be sold at an interest rate not to exceed 3 1/2 per cent, with most officials feeling it will sell for about 2 1/2 per cent interest. The money would be used for purchasing right of way for widening 84, to purchase right of way for farm to market roads, and for maintenance and construction of farm to market roads and bridges.

AD VALOREM TAX VOTE

In connection with the $50,000 road bond issue, a simultaneous election will be held in the county to vote on whether or not up to 30 cents in ad valorem taxes may be levied in the county.

This issue, if it passes, will enable the Commissioners' Court to set ad valorem taxes in Bailey county at a rate not to exceed 30 cents.

Polling places in both elections to be held Monday are at Muleshoe, with Ernest Kerr, election judge; West Camp Baptist Church; Loneview Church at Mays with Bert Seals judge; school house at Three Way with J. G. Arm, judge; Baileyboro gin with Howard Ashley; Bula school house with Roy Young and the school house at Circleback with C. G. Damon as judge.

The special canvassing board includes Barry T. Lewis, Mrs. Elizabeth Woodley and Johnnie Johnson.

Pen Sentences Given Six Men In Court Here

Judge E. A. Bills sentenced six men to a total of 19 years in the state penitentiary February 24 when he held a session of District court here.

The session was held on pleas of guilty, and the first case was Robert Hogue, charged on three counts with forgery. Judge Bills sentenced him to two years on each count.

Robert Simmons, charged with defrauding with worthless check received a sentence of two years. Royce Scarberry charged with defraud with worthless check also received a two year sentence.

Members of Hiway Commission Reply To Millens Wires

The decision of the State Highway Commission on Lubbock's request for right of way for their water line should have no decision or bearing on Bailey county voting bonds for a four lane highway March 12.

That is the opinion of Marshall Forby, member of the Highway Commission, expressed in a letter received this week by W. T. "Bill" Millen, president of the Bailey County Farm Bureau.

Mr. Forby said the Highway Commission was awaiting an opinion on its powers from the Attorney General and would "do what the law says for us to do, and that only."

He goes on to state that Bailey County needs the four lane highway for safety sake as it will save lives and property damage in the future.

Millen also received letters in reply to his protest telegrams sent to E. H. Thornton, Jr., chairman of the Highway Commission, and from D. C. Greer, State Highway Engineer.

Thornton said that although the Highway Commission realizes the water problem is of the utmost importance, it has no authority to pass upon the question as to whether Lubbock does or does not have the right to transport its water from Bailey county to Lubbock.

Mr. Greer replied to Millen's wire by stating that copies of it had been sent to all members of the Highway Commission.

Old Fashioned Box Supper Friday Nite At Lazbuddie School

By MRS. BERT GORDON

An old fashioned box supper will be held at the Lazbuddie gym at 8 p. m. on March 9, Friday, sponsored by the Lazbuddie P-TA.

Since the bonds were voted on last year for new school buildings, construction costs have gone up so much that several things had to be omitted in the new buildings.

These things can be added

Station KMUL To Go On Air Next Month, Owners Say

O. B. Ratliff was in Muleshoe Saturday morning, making some necessary arrangements for the early construction on Muleshoe's own radio station, KMUL, to be located at West Eighth and Avenue F.

Ratliff said his brother, David Ratliff, of Stamford, who will own and operate the new radio station here, is expected in town sometime this week to finish preliminary details of the work.

The 500 watt daytime station will probably go on the air about April 1, at 1380 kilocycles, Ratliff said.

later as money is available. One of the main things that had to be omitted was the tile floor covering on the concrete floor in the elementary building.

The P-TA project this year was to put half the money made during the year to covering as much of the floor as possible, and the other half for science equipment for the high school.

The question was which floor to cover, if we only have enough money for one room. You can readily see that it would have been almost impossible to have come to a decision on that, so with all the money that could be scraped together, and by omitting other things, the P-TA "stuck their neck out" and promised to raise the balance of the money needed for the tile floor covering if it could all be done at one time.

It has been done. We need approximately $900 to complete the project. The P-TA is asking every woman and girl in the community to bring a box to be auctioned off, and all the men and boys to be there to buy the boxes. Let's have a good community get together and pay for these floors. With all working together on this amount per person will be small.

Remember, it is for the safety and well-being of all the grade school children, not only for this year, but in years to come.

The Muleshoe Journal has recently obtained some authentic information relative to the water situation concerning Lubbock's plan to pipe water from water land south of Muleshoe along highway 84. Since the information is of interest to all residents in this area, we print it herewith without comment.

Records show that beneath Muleshoe the elevation of the water table is about 70 feet lower than the water table beneath the sand hills 5 miles south of Muleshoe. In other words the elevation of the water table 5 miles south of Muleshoe is about 30 feet higher than the land surface in Muleshoe. Ten miles west of Muleshoe the water table is 80 to 90 feet lower than the water table beneath the sand hills 5 miles south of that point. These records show that the water table slopes from the center of the sand hills northeastward toward Blackwater Draw. Additional records show that all across the northern part of Bailey County, between the Bailey-Parmer County line and Blackwater Draw, the water table slopes southeastward. For example, the water table beneath Progress is about 65 feet higher in elevation than the water table beneath Muleshoe.

Measurements of depths of water in wells within the irrigated area in Bailey County northwest, north, and northeast of Muleshoe show that since 1936 the net declines of water levels in wells have ranged from a few feet to more than 40 feet. Measurements of water levels in stock wells along Blackwater Draw west of Muleshoe show that the depths to water in 1953 were almost the same as in 1936. Measurements in still other wells in the sand hills south and southwest of Muleshoe show that the water table has declined about one foot since 1953. Study of these measurements leads to the conclusion that during the past 20 years pumping of large quantities of water for irrigation in the Muleshoe-Valley has not materially affected the water supply in the sand hills south of Blackwater Draw.

Dr. Clark Buys Large Block of State Bank Stock

Dr. Anson L. Clark, of Dallas, recently bought a considerable block of the stock of the Muleshoe State Bank, Jesse M. Osborn, bank president announces.

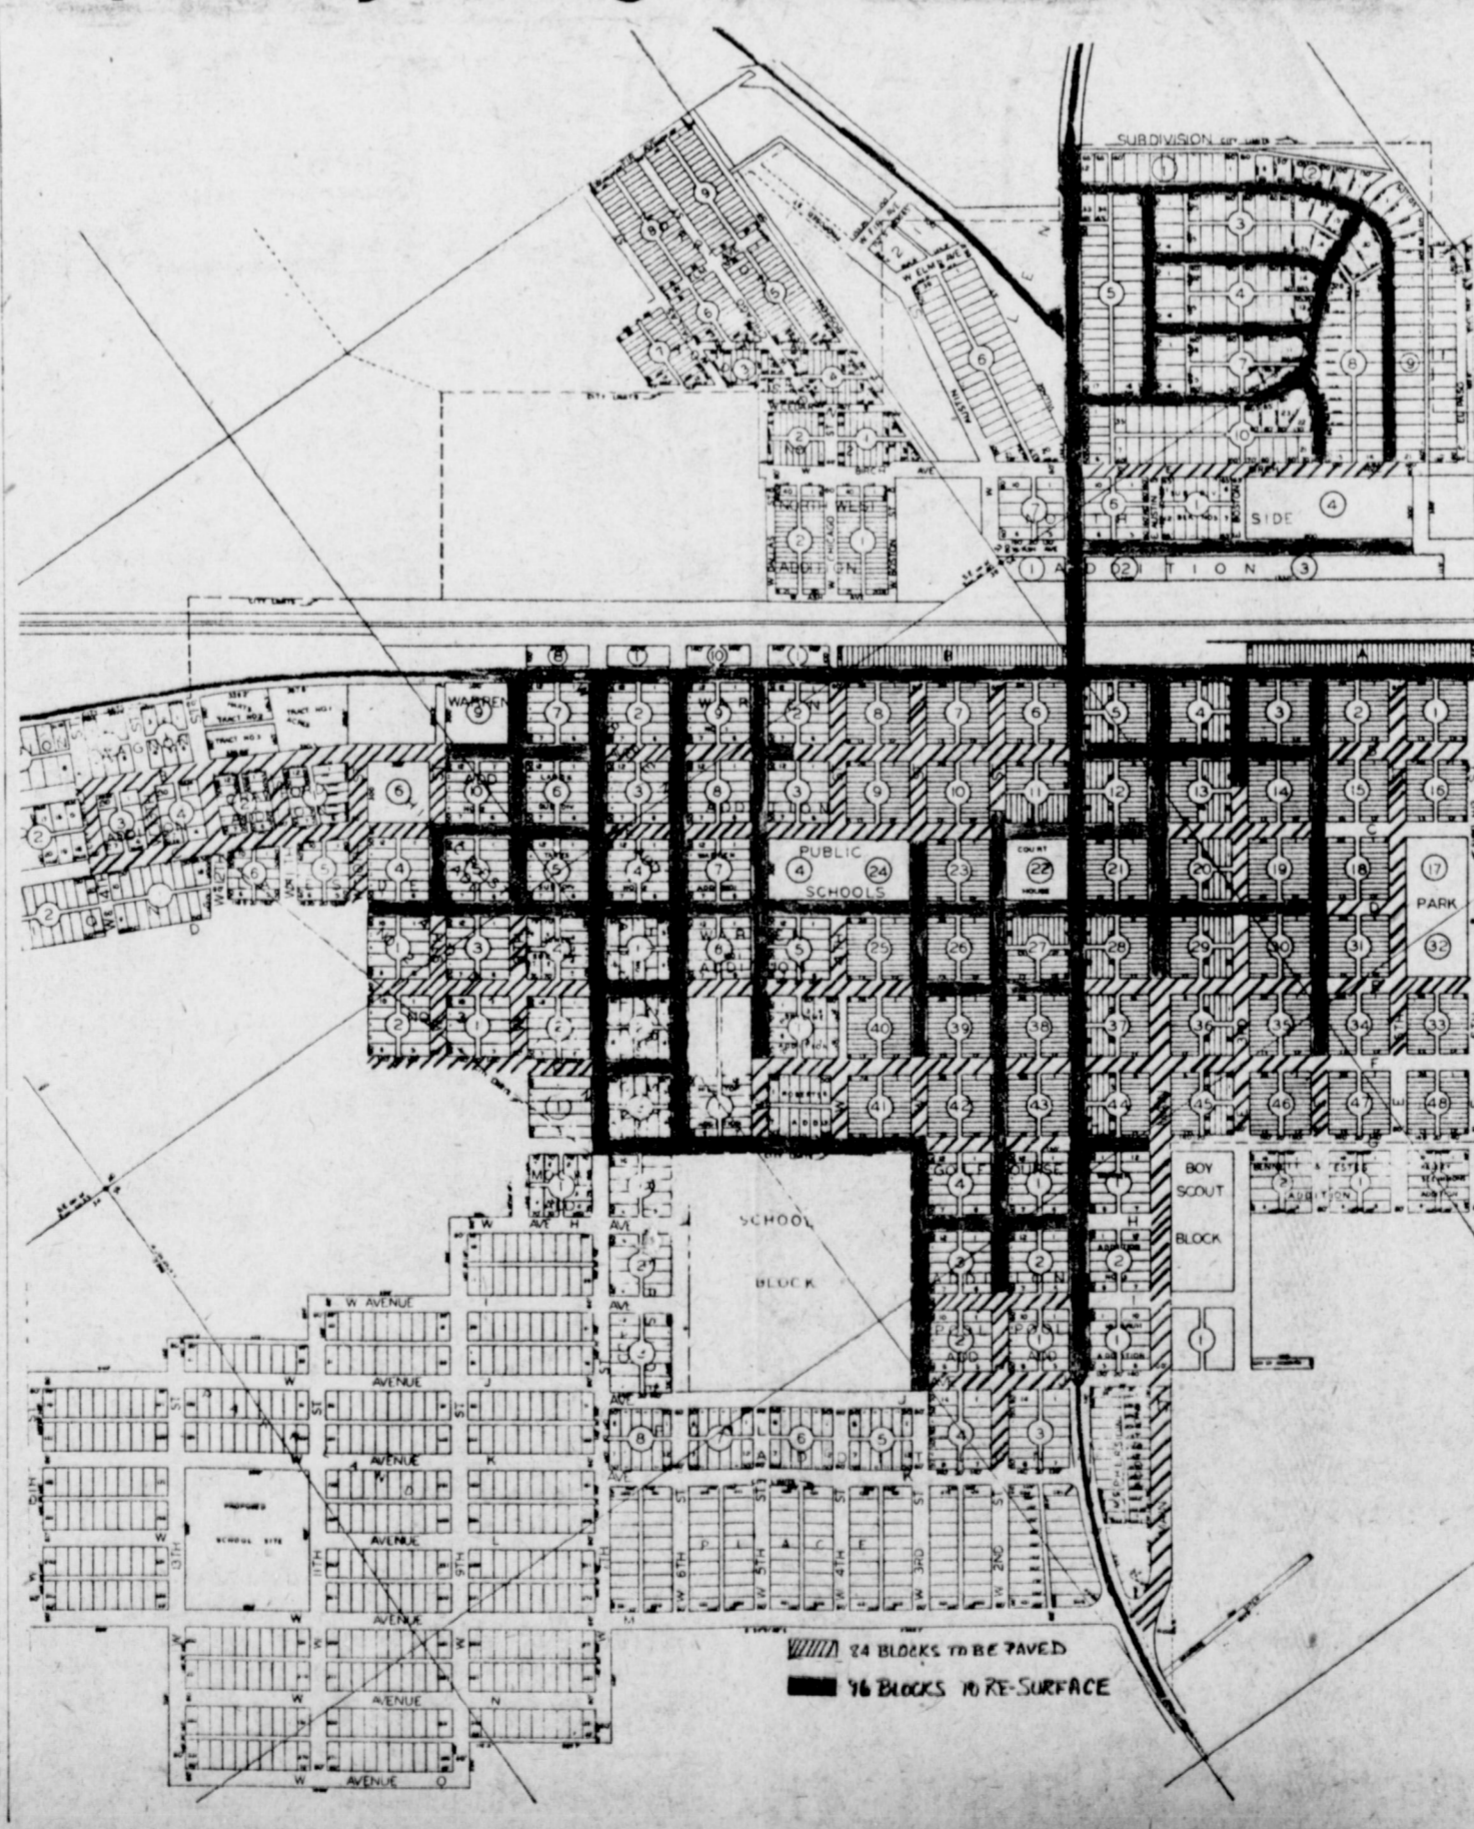

Dr. Clark states that there will not be any change in the management or in the operation of the bank.

He is president of the Cornell Oil Co., and has many other business interests over the state.

Plans that have been prepared by the City of Lubbock show that along the New Mexico State line and along the northernmost boundary of city property in the sand hills wells are to be spaced about one mile apart and at least half a mile back from the property line. At no place on city property is a well to be drilled closer to the property line than a quarter of a mile. The plans further show that when the sand hills project is fully developed by 1980, the annual withdrawals should be less than the present annual withdrawals for irrigation in the Muleshoe Valley.

Salt grass grows profusely on several thousand acres along Blackwater Draw from the New Mexico Line eastward to Lamb County. Salt grass is a phreatophyte, a plant that uses ground water as well as soil moisture. An acre of salt grass will use several acre-feet of ground water each year and may use all or nearly all the annual recharge that moves from the sand hills toward the Muleshoe Valley. At present the only practical method to salvage the large quantity of water that is used annually by the salt grass is to lower the water table beneath the salt grass areas by pumping from wells. It is conceivable therefore that a relatively large quantity of water could be withdrawn perennially from the sand hill area without materially affecting the water supply in the Muleshoe Valley.

$50,000 City Paving Bond Election Set For Tomorrow

A city election will be held in Muleshoe March 9 for the purpose of voting on the issuance of $50,000 in bonds for paving and resurfacing city streets.

The bond issue, if it carries, will be used to blacktop approximately 84 blocks of city streets as shown on the map by slanting lines. The shaded lines are streets already paved, 96 blocks in all, most of which are to be resurfaced in the same paving program.

While all the 84 blocks indicated on the map may not be paved, due to lack of interest on the part of property owners and for other reasons, there is strong possibility, say city officials, that all will be paved.

The city plans to participate in the cost of paving, and will spend an equal amount for resurfacing streets already paved.

An advisory board will be appointed following the election to recommend which streets shall be paved, and to determine the priority of paving and resurfacing.

Raymond King Is Speaker At FFA Meet In Dimmitt

Early season insect control and proper watering practices can be vitally important to good cotton production, Raymond King told a group of district FFA members and their teachers at a meeting held in Dimmitt Tuesday night.

King who is with Lubbock Cotton Oil Co. is well known as a plains agricultural figure, said that early insect control will cause early blooming, harvest more cotton on first picking, give a better grade and staple and even though it might not increase production, farmers who use early insect control will profit by the first three factors.

Late watering of cotton will cause delayed maturity, King said, and excess young tender growth that will attract insects and affect the grade of cotton. The Experiment Stations recommend that watering be stopped by August 20 and not later than August 25. Since it takes from 65 to 85 days for cotton to mature from square to open boll it is necessary that the maturity not be delayed by late watering. Over a period of years, King said, we believe you will make more cotton a lower cost of production with better grade if you stop watering by August 20.

King also went into some detail about the different varieties of cotton available for growth on the Plains. Since the number is so large, it will not be detailed here. Copies of the variety list are available at The Journal of file.

Junior High Hears Tech Band

The Muleshoe Junior high school band was entertained Wednesday afternoon for one hour in the High school auditorium by Texas Tech's "Big Red" band.

The band had already made its appearance Wednesday afternoon playing for Littlefield at 10 a. m. and after playing for the Muleshoe students, was to play for Tucumcari, N. M., at 8 p. m. Wednesday.

The band is under the direction of Dewey O. Wiley, and is close to 100 pieces. They change their music annually.

The students enjoyed the band's performance very much and hope to have more of that type of entertainment during the year.

ENMU Band Will Give Concert Here March 13

Muleshoe high school students will hear the Eastern New Mexico University concert band March 13 at 9:00 a. m. The band of 55 pieces, conducted by Florence Thompson, is making its eighth annual tour of New Mexico and West Texas.

The band has become well-known for outstanding, well-presented programs and has been invited twice to play for conventions of the National Music Educators Conference, Southwest Division. Two trips have been made to Chihuahua, Mexico, for the Cinco de Mayo celebrations, and four shows have been presented at the Sun Carnival and bowl game in El Paso.

Earlier in the month, the band played for the national convention of the American Bandmasters Association meeting in Santa Fe. In addition to Thompson, the group was directed by seven other conductors from throughout the United States.

FARMERS UNION MEETING

A meeting will be held Wednesday, March 14 at 8 p. m. in the district courtroom here for the purpose of organizing a chapter of the Farmers Union.

Elementary School Pupils Present Program Tuesday

More than 800 parents and friends of elementary pupils here crowded into the high school auditorium Tuesday night to watch a vivid pageant of American history unfold as the students presented "America, the Melting Pot".

Under the general chairmanship of Mrs. Dunn, about 500 pupils from the first five grades in bright costumes, presented songs and dances illustrating how America came to be settled. Dressed as Indians, Pilgrims, Spanish, Dutch, Japanese, Chinese and all the racial groups who colonized America, the children kept the large audience completely entertained for about two hours.

The program was part of the local observance of Public School Week, which ends today.

There will be no school tomorrow, in order that teachers may attend a meeting of TSTA.

Student Council Members Get Pins

At the weekly Student Council meeting held Wednesday morning, about twenty members received Student Council pins that they ordered earlier this year. The pins are gold, with "MHS Student Council" printed on them, and a "56" attached with a small gold chain.

The Council had the choral club from High school visiting them at the meeting, seeing how the Student Council conducts their meetings and just what goes on in the Council.

The delegates who went to the State Convention at Midland last week gave reports on the convention, giving suggestions on how other schools' Councils hold their meetings, elect officers, what special projects they have through the year, and how they promote sportsmanship in the student body.

Council president Stanley Fox appointed a committee to discuss a Student Council party and bring the suggestions on different kinds of parties to the group. Those on the committee are Quinell Elliott, Thurston Garrison, Velta Gillis, and Gwyneth Cox.

State Student Council Officers Are Elected

At the Texas Association of Student Councils Convention, held March 1, 2 and 3, officers were elected for the year of 1956-57. All officers won by a large vote, and the members feel they selected some good officers.

PROGRAM INCLUDES FULL LENGTH FEATURE
Film Treat Awaits Farm Families
 On John Deere Day March 14

A treat of six all-color films awaits farmers and their families, who are to be guests of Lenderson Implement Co. in Muleshoe on John Deere Day, to be held Wednesday, March 14, according to announcement of A. J. Lenderson and Roy Whitt, owners of the implement firm. The firm is distributor in this territory for John Deere farm machinery.

The film fare, which is to be shown at the Valley Theatre here at 1:00 p. m., will be headed by a full length feature titled "Tim's Choice."

According to Messrs. Lenderson and Whitt, "Tim's Choice" is a happy type of movie built around the three youngsters of a typical rural family. How the delightful trio, all of 4-H age, vie with one another for activity honors and the sometimes anxious, sometimes comical, situations they find themselves in provides a story that is a pleasant combination of humor and sentiment.

Additional Films Listed

The Gordon family, a Deere-created clan that has grown to seem as real as it is actually fictional, appear in the picture "A Lesson on the Future". This time, the story is built around an immigrant refugee's new start in his newly adopted country.

Tom Gordon's exasperating antics have their usual satisfying ending and will keep him a favorite of John Deere Day audiences everywhere. A series of films which has proved extremely popular for the last half dozen years, "Oddities in Farming" is continued again this year with amusing sequences taken in the wild rice harvest, the stubble winter harvest, and mushroom farming — all important but little known, agricultural pursuits.

Free Coffee, Donuts

Lenderson Implement Co. will be serving free coffee and donuts at their store, located on Clay Street, between West 5th and 6th streets. They invite their friends to come to the store before the picture show.

of a disability, have not been able to work for six months or more, according to announcement he made today.

"The Social Security Act now permits us to keep the benefit rights intact, of a person who is disabled before age 65 and who is unable to work because of his disability," Mr. Hutton explained. "To qualify for this so-called 'disability freeze', a person must have worked under social security for at least five years out of the ten years before he became disabled and one and a half years out of the three years before he became disabled. The disability must have existed for more than six months and the person must be disabled at the time he files his application for the 'disability freeze'."

"Anyone now receiving a social security payment on his own earnings records may have his benefit refigured to exclude a period of disability, if he is now disabled and the disability was in existence for more than six months before he reached age 65," Mr. Hutton continued. "Of course, he must meet the work requirement of five years out of ten years, and one and a half years out of three years as set out above."

"People who are now disabled and unable to work or anyone who becomes disabled in the future should contact his nearest social security office in order to

 In Pacific Area

Marine Pfc. William E. LaFavers, son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. LaFavers of Friona, landed on Iwo Jima February 17 during an assault exercise by the 3rd Marine Division.

Using new methods and equipment, the Marines landed on the tiny island from both the sea and air to wrest a selected portion of the historic, WWII battleground from a mythical enemy with but an estimated fraction of the casualties it would have cost using WWII methods. The exercise is the largest participated in by the division since 1954. A battalion of the division's 3rd Regiment acted as an "enemy" force defending the island.

While ashore the Marines found many scars of WWII still unhealed. The otherwise peaceful island is now used as an Air Force way-station and bears little resemblance to the devastated real estate that cost the Marines thousands of casualties in WWII.

At completion of the exercise the Marines will return to their bases in Japan and Okinawa.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR Writer says water development Here creates serious situation

Editor's Note: It's been nearly three years since the City of Lubbock announced it had acquired water rights on large tracts of land near Muleshoe. Not until a few days ago did the people awake, however, to the fact that Lubbock bought these rights because they intended to develop them. About three years ago, C. V. Wooley, Amarillo, widely known here, wrote to Cecil Tate, the then county judge suggesting action at once to forestall this intention on the part of Lubbock. We print here parts of this letter:

June 3, 1952

Dear Judge Tate:
Further our conversation of recent date relative to the City of Lubbock's proposed purchase of permanent water rights under a large amount of acreage in the vicinity of Muleshoe:

The more one meditates over this situation, the more serious it appears. As you remember, in the recent county elections as to the adoption of the High Plains Water Conservation and Users Association, the theory was advanced by the water engineers that the water sands were charged from the rainfall in our various irrigation localities, and that this had been going on for many, many years, therefore when the water was pumped through irrigation these reservoirs would be gradually depleted and finally vanish.

By infiltration, some of the water used in irrigation would return to the water sands, therefore all the water pumped would not be a total loss to the reservoir. Furthermore, as you know, these wells are pumped only from 4 to 6 months a year, therefore for the remainder of the 12 month period the sands have time to recharge and accumulation of water in the sands might just balance that which was used during the growing season. Hence, that vicinity would continue to be an irrigated area for years and years, or let us hope, indefinitely.

Now, if the infiltration theory is correct, or only true in part, then your situation becomes very dangerous indeed, because when water is pumped from these sands constantly, year in and year out, night and day, without cessation and millions of gallons of water per day are piped away to another vicinity, the water is gone forever and the chances are that, within eight or ten years, unless the supply is replenished from some underground streams, this reservoir will be exhausted and the land in that vicinity will revert to dry land farming which, as you know is highly hazardous and, except in rainy years, is not very productive.

Of course, it is almost impossible to realize that this transition could take place, as stated above, in eight or ten years, but there have been other valleys where the water has been exhausted and they have become sparsely populated areas, and it can happen to Bailey County, and in fact if this water is drawn away it also affect Parmer and Lamb Counties, and could affect Castro and Deaf Smith Counties as well.

It would be very difficult, it appears to me, to accurately gauge or foretell the area of the territories that would be affected, as these water-bearing sands have not been definitely charted and it is not known whether or not they are connected at various points; we do know that the strata, as in the Sudan area, are serpentine formations.

There is one thing certain the water that is used to irrigate the farms in that vicinity now produces wonderful crops, and not only are the farmers in the area prosperous, but also the various towns are prosperous, too. It is also certain that the water that is used away not only does not produce but will gradually sap all productivity and prosperity from the entire vicinity . . .

Mr. Wooley goes on to suggest that, lacking legal measures to stop Lubbock from taking this water, the alternative was to encourage the building of the dam across the Canadian River. This project has been "in the works" for a long time and much has been done since Mr. Wooley wrote his letter. At this date, it does furnish the only bright spot in the outlook, for Lubbock water probably would take much less water from this vicinity if sufficient water were available thru the Canadian project.

BABSON DISCUSSES—

"IKE'S" DECISION TO RUN AGAIN

Babson Park, Mass., March 8—Last December there were published in this newspaper Fifty Forecasts by me for 1956. The first stated, "President Eisenhower will be re-nominated and re-elected in 1956." The last of these Fifty Forecasts stated, "I now see no depression ahead for 1956, but, of course, stock prices will not 'grow to the skies' and there must be a sad readjustment some day." The remaining forty-eight forecasts, which I have brought up to date in view of the events of the last three months, are as follows:

1. The President will be relieved of much speculation, entertainment and detail work.
2. The President will be very severe.
3. Competition will be very severe.
4. Higher wages may be expected.
5. Increased advertising appropriations will be seen.
6. Recent policies of the money managers will be shifted to more "ease".
7. Liberal credits to the purchaser of houses, automobiles, televisions, etc. will continue to be strong support to business.
8. Great sums will continue to be spent on research and new plant expansion.
9. The baby boom will roll merrily on, resulting in more sales.
10. Predicted declines will come in auto and residential building, but will largely be offset by expenditures for roads, sewers, and schools.
11. Retail business will be handicapped in some cities by the parking nuisance.
12. No appreciable price improvement in city business property is likely.
13. Building costs will continue high.
14. Speculative builders will have to watch their step more closely.
15. The limiting of rents will be practically abolished.
16. Owners of costly apartment buildings will find their profit margins squeezed harder.
17. Commercial farms need not suffer.
18. Owners of small scattered farms will suffer.
19. More well-located "close-in" farms will become subdivisions and shopping centers.
20. Those who have been holding real estate for speculative profits might well consider selling.
21. Russia will keep out of war with us during 1956.
22. There will be one or more small wars during 1956.
23. The "cold war" now existing between Russia and the United States will continue.
24. The threat of the hydrogen bomb and guided missile will be the greatest international factor for diplomatic trading.
25. The Republicans will turn slightly "New Dealish".
26. Some "dark horse" may run off with the Democratic nomination.

27. Some taxes will be reduced.
28. The farm problem will be the center of most political fights.
29. The cost of living will increase slightly.
30. There need be no further inflation during 1956.
31. Expanding farm subsidies will mildly bolster farm income.
32. Wheat and corn prices will also depend upon shifting weather and foreign conditions.
33. Look for selective easing in industrial commodity prices.
34. Do not expect any cut in the price of steel.
35. Zinc and lead may give a tip-off to the coming downturn in nonferrous metals.
36. Processed and frozen foods will advance only slightly, if any.
37. There will be more leisure time during 1956.
38. School teachers will be paid more.
39. More people will continue to return to the help of religion.
40. The Administration will not allow high money costs to bring about unemployment.
41. Seasoned dividend-paying stocks will do better.
42. There will be one or two bad stock-market breaks during 1956.
43. I have great confidence in the "ton-ten" group of variety chain stocks.
44. The money managers will reduce stock margins.
45. Bank insurance and certain investment trust stocks should continue to be a refuge for the uncertain investors who seek security and income without reference to prices of marketability.
46. Certain aircraft stocks will suffer.
47. Soundly financed natural gas stocks will enjoy good growth.
48. Many important new developments and inventions will emerge from drawing boards and test tubes.
49. Canadian stocks have reached their peak for this cycle; this includes the uranium craze.
50. Conclusion: My fiftieth forecast is given in the first paragraph above, and I see no reason to change it on account of President Eisenhower's consent to stand for re-election. There will continue to be bitter political fights up to the day of election, and the international situation will remain severely unsettled.

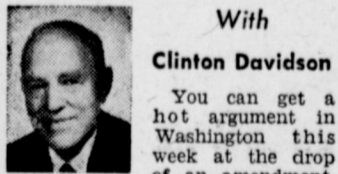

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

How faith advanced to spiritual understanding of God provides the answer to sin, lack, and other discords will be brought out in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Substance" at Christian Science services Sunday.

From the King James Version of the Bible will be read the following: (Romans 14:22): Hast thou faith? have it to thyself before God.

The Golden Text is from Hebrews (11:1): "Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen."

THIS WEEK -In Washington

Clinton Davidson
You can get a hot argument in Washington this week at the drop of an amendment. Especially if it is an amendment to the farm bill.

We've poked our nose around Washington for a good many years, and we've never seen so many people in dead earnest about the development of a program that would ease the price-cost squeeze on farmers.

Congressmen have honest differences of opinion on the kind of a program needed, but all of them we know want a program that is fair both to farmers and consumers. They say it is difference of opinion that makes for horse races, and we suppose it is the same in politics.

With everybody for a good farm program you'd think there would be no trouble at all in passing a farm bill. But it doesn't work out that way. It is hard to get three congressmen who will agree, and impossible to get the three farm organizations together.

Take price supports for instance. Two years ago Congress passed and the President signed a flexible price support law. But all Secretary Benson did was flex them downward. That, he said, was the way to help farmers.

Some congressmen, mostly Democrats, said that wasn't fair and what they wanted was for him to flex them up once in a while. Mr. Benson said no, that it was high supports that caused surpluses and the way to get rid of them was to have low supports.

Finally the House, last year, passed a bill to make Mr. Benson support some crops at 90% of parity. The Senators said wait while we go talk with farmers about it. And so they did.

Then the 15 Senators on the Agriculture Committee came back to Washington and, in February, voted 8 to 7 to make it unlawful for Mr. Benson to offer farmers less than 90% of parity for their corn, cotton, wheat, rice and peanuts.

Mr. Benson said that was wrong, and Mr. Eisenhower said he didn't think it was right. Mr. Benson said he had $6,500,000,000 worth of surplus farm products now that he didn't know what to do with, and that high supports would just make the situation worse.

Everybody agrees that farmers have been hit pretty hard the past few years; that the cost-price squeeze is really tough. Farmers have taken a 36% income cut while labor got a 40% wage increase, and the stock market boomed to an all-time high.

Mr. Eisenhower suggested to Congress that it wasn't low farm prices but low farm income that was the trouble with farming. Don't, chimed in Mr. Benson, forget my surpluses.

The thing to do, said Mr. Eisenhower, is to pay farmers to take their land out of production, temporarily. We can pay them, he suggested, with Mr. Benson's surpluses, and call it a Soil Fertility Bank. That and about a billion dollars cash would raise farm income, lower production, decrease surpluses, and store up soil fertility for future use.

That struck almost everybody as being a wonderful idea. The only question now is: Will it work?

All In How You Look At It!

SAND HILLS PHILOSOPHER LOOKS OUT FROM GOVERNOR OF NEW YORK

Editor's note: The Sand Hills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm is drawing an odd parallel this week, but that's his look-out, not ours.

Dear editor:
I was out here on my farm the other day sitting in the sun watching spring creep up on me and not letting anything worry me, the way I see it, worrying is all right if you ration it and keep it under control, but anybody who sets out to worry about everything that needs worrying about in this world can worry himself to death and still not make any dent in the problems, you take this farm. I could sit down and worry for seven days running and not get around to all the things that call for worrying, but any rate, as I started out to say, I was sitting out here all I had to do was take hold of not worrying about a thing and maybe dozing a little as the sun warmed up when a newspaper blew across my face and since it was almost in position to be read, all I had to do was take hold of it and hold it away from my face a couple of feet. I went ahead and did it and I'm glad I did.

The first article I read was one I've been looking for, without knowing it.

According to it, the Governor of New York, Gov. Harriman, who is being talked as a candidate for President on the Democratic ticket, explains his position like this: "I am not an active candidate for the nomination, and on the other hand I'm not inactive candidate."

A lot of people would make fun of such a statement, but not me.

It sums up exactly my attitude toward my farming. You might say I'm not an active farmer, but on the other hand I'm not an inactive one. Like Gov. Harriman, I have no objection to making a bumper crop this year, but I'm not actively seeking it. Just because I don't leap on my tractor and start going up one row and down another is no sign I would not like to haul some crops to town in the fall. There's a fine difference between physical activity and mental activity, and I'm proud to know me and Gov. Harriman have figured it out.

A man can be sitting in the sun, with his tractor idle and his land un-plowed, but still his brain can be racing.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Today's Meditation

We Receive God's Salvation
Read I Corinthians 7:20-24.

Believers, let every man be wherein he is called, therein abide with God. (I Corinthians 7:24.)

The story was told by L. P. Jacks of two unbelievers, one of them dying and the other sitting by to be of whatever encouragement he could.

"Stick to it, Tom, stick to it" urged the companion.

"There is nothing to stick to", ebbbed the response from the dying one.

"Can anything in life be more tragic than that, to come to the end with nothing to tie to, possessing nothing of eternal value?"

One does not have to be a theologian to have God as his hope and surety. Paul writing to the Corinthian church emphasized that station in life and performance of religious rites are not in themselves stepping-stones into the kingdom.

Salvation, he affirms, is turn-

HOW TO CLASSIFY HIS FARMING

Pensions and Investments

This article deals with investors in general — and retired people in particular.

Many people can stop filing income tax returns when they have retired, because no return is required from a person who is 65 or over and had less than $1,200 income, not including Social Security or Railroad Retirement Act benefits, which don't count.

But when retired persons are required to file their returns can be quite complicated.

First, let's look at some provisions that affect people with investments, whether they are retired or not.

Dividend Credit
Anyone who owns stocks needs to know about the dividend exclusion and credit. This applies ing to God through faith in His Son — turning where one is, in whatsoever state, and then making sure to abide with God.

As we move about our tasks today, there need be no barriers between us and God.

PRAYER
Gracious God, our Father, we rejoice that Thou art about us and within us. All our hope is in Thee, in the redeeming love of Thy Son, our Lord. O sanctify us wholly. Teach us Thy will and nerve us as we endeavor to fulfill it, through Christ Jesus our Lord. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
God can transform us into vessels meet for the Master's use. John Marvin Rast (S. C.)

erally speaking, your profit on the sale of an asset which you held more than six months is taxed at half the rate of ordinary income — and never more than 25% regardless of the tax bracket you are in.

Interest from state and municipal bonds is tax exempt, of course, but any gain from selling these bonds must be included in your tax return, and any loss can be reported as a capital loss.

Retirement Income
There is a provision for "retirement income credit" which may reduce your tax on pensions and investment income in some circumstances. You may be entitled to this credit if you are able to answer "yes" to all three of these questions:

1. Did you (or your deceased husband or wife) earn more than $600 in each of any ten calendar years before 1955?
2. Did you receive less than $1,200 in tax exempt pensions or annuities in 1955?
3. If you are under 75, did you earn less than $2,100 in 1955?

The space for computing your retirement income credit takes up most of the last page of the tax form. It is not too difficult to work out if you read the instructions carefully.

The most any individual taxpayer can save from this provision is $240, but husband and wife can each save this amount if they are both eligible.

If you have an annuity from life insurance, pension plan, or other source, the portion which you may receive tax-free depends on your life expectancy. The Internal Revenue Service will furnish actuarial tables upon request to help you figure this out.

The instructions that come with your tax forms give further information. Help is also available from the Internal Revenue Service, which urges you to consult a properly qualified advisor if you need outside assistance.

On March 12, 1956 you, the tax-paying voters of Bailey County will be called on to go to the polls and vote on two (2) propositions that should be of vital interest to everyone. Feeling that you should be well informed on these propositions, we, the Commissioners' Court desire to make the following explanatory statement:

About 18 months ago the Texas Highway Department submitted a proposal whereby they would spend $250,000 widening and four-laning U. S. Highway 84 from the Muleshoe City Limits east toward Sudan to the Lamb County Line, provided the Bailey County would secure and clear the right-of-way. It is estimated that this right-of-way would cost about $20,000 and the Court has not entered into a contract because the County does not have the money.

Recently several interested citizens requested the Commissioners' Court to take some action on it lest the Highway Department spend this $25,000 elsewhere. The Court therefore called the $50,000 bond election to determine whether or not the people want to pay the price necessary to obtaining the right-of-way.

Approximately $25,000 would be used on Highway 84 and the remaining $25,000 on Farm-to-Market roads only. This is designed to make the rural people feel that they would be participating in the Program as well as those in and around town. None of the money, if voted, could be used for any purpose other than acquiring rights-of-way. It is not the policy of the Court to start buying right-of-way for Farm-to-Market roads, but this money would be used for clearing rights-of-way, such as moving REA Lines, telephone lines, fences and irrigation wells and for re-implementing land owners where they sustain excessive damages. It is thought that until needed, this money could be re-invested so that it would draw as much interest as it would be costing. Passage of this proposition would necessitate a tax increase of about six or seven cents per one hundred dollars ($100) valuation.

The other proposition, if voted, would authorize the County to levy a special road tax not to exceed 30 cents per one hundred dollars ($100) valuation, subject to homestead exemptions, to supplement the Road and Bridge Fund. This is a tax that once was collected by this State but since the State does not need it any more, the legislature, realizing that the County's expense of building and maintaining county roads is constantly becoming greater, made it possible for Counties to collect it if approved by popular vote of the people. The continuous growth of the County, necessitating the opening of more new roads, together with the increased cost of machinery, repairs, fuel and labor has made the cost of working the roads far greater than it was a few years ago. This tax rate would vary from nothing to 30 cents from year to year as the needs of the County might require and the money could be used only for the construction, maintenance and operation of Farm-to-Market and County roads.

We want to personally encourage you to study these propositions very carefully and then go to the polls and vote your convictions.

Contest Scheduled For Piggly-Wiggly Checkers Locally

Cleveland may help to crown a new queen of American industry, the "Checker of the Year", the outstanding checker among the nation's thousands of checkers, it was announced today by M. E. Simmons, local manager for Piggly Wiggly Super Market, who are participating with super markets throughout the nation in local contests to select regional and national winners.

Customers and employees of Piggly Wiggly Super Markets will help select the local checker of the year, who will then go on to almost a month of gold and glamor — with prizes ranging as high as an all expense trip to Europe.

The competition will be no beauty contest, Mr. Simmons emphasized. Nominations will be made on such practical considerations as courtesy and good customer relations, accuracy, efficiency and speed, good housekeeping, pride of job and desire to improve. The competition honors the primary contact super markets have with their customers — the checkers who handle billions of consumer food dollars annually, with errors of less than three one hundredths of one per cent.

The competition to choose Muleshoe's checker of the year starts March 9 and will last through March 17. Entry blanks for customers are at the checkout stand in all the company's stores. Piggly Wiggly Super Market has set up its own prizes for tie local winner.

Each of the 10 Regional Winners (to be selected by a board of judges in Chicago) will receive:

- An all expense trip to Cleveland for 1 week.
- 2 pieces of Samsonite Luggage.
- A wardrobe ensemble of Saeony dresses.
- A chance to win 1st, 2nd, or 3rd prize in the final judging.
- To the "Checker of the Year": An all expense trip for two to Europe (a week in Rome and a week in Paris) — courtesy, American Express Money Order Dept.
- A Lucien Piccard Diamond Wrist Watch.
- 2 pieces of matched Samsonite Luggage.
- A Saeony wardrobe ensemble including a traveling suit and 2 day dresses.
- A mink stole.
- A check to cover expenses in Europe.

Six MHS Students Talk Over Radio

Six MHS students had a panel discussion over KICA Tuesday morning direct from Principal Bill Parker's office. Each class was represented from high school as the panel consisted of Stanley Fox, Student Council president; Linda Lancaster, senior; Johnny Allison, junior; Buddy Peeler, sophomore; Alva Lee Shofner, freshman; and Derrell Oliver of the eighth grade from junior high. Superintendent Jerry Kirk made announcements, stating that school will not be held on Friday of this week because the teachers will be at a teacher's convention at Midland.

The students, each a member of the Student Council, discussed the Council, giving the definition, telling what good they thought it did, telling some of the Council's annual projects, and some of the requirements of the members of the Council.

Sound Investment Seen In Certified Seed Plantings

Guaranteed purity, higher germination and top crop yields are all on the credit side of certified planting seed. While germination and final yields are dependent upon available moisture, Ben Spears, extension agronomist, says farmers can't afford to gamble with planting seed of questionable quality.

Certified seed usually are the best seed of a particular variety available. Seed with a "blue tag" comes from fields that were inspected during the growing season, properly handled at harvest time, cleaned and tested for purity and germination.

Certified seed may cost slightly more, but the added cost is good insurance, says Spears. He advises farmers to buy now the seed needed for planting this year's crops. Seed supplies are generally adequate but last minute shoppers find local stocks depleted.

If the planting seed has not been chemically treated for seed-borne and seedling diseases, Spears recommends treatment. He points out that farmers have found this practice profitable and insurance against poor stands and plant losses during early growth.

Local county agents can supply additional information on seed treating and also on adapted varieties, says Spears.

Southwest Farms Expand Through Machinery Use

Southwestern farmers have greatly expanded the use of machinery on their farms during the past two decades. The effects of this rapid adoption of mechanical equipment is the subject of study by a group of rural social scientists in the region.

"Factors Associated with Agricultural Mechanization" is the title of a publication issued jointly by the agricultural experiment stations in the five states in which the study was conducted, Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Oklahoma, and Texas.

The report attempts to answer a number of heretofore puzzling questions. Among these are: To what extent is farm mechanization related to the migration of people from farms? Does mechanization tend to increase or decrease farm tenancy? Does it increase or retard the farmers' levels of living? Are the operators of highly mechanized farms more likely to be employed in off-farm jobs than the operators of the lesser mechanized farms?

A total of 58 economic sub-regions were studied in the five states. Texas had the three areas of highest mechanization. These were the High Plains cotton area, northwestern wheat area and the Rolling Plains in the order named.

The authorities all rural sociologists are A. L. Bertrand, Louisiana State University; J. L. Charlton, University of Arkansas; H. A. Pederson, Mississippi State College; R. L. Skrabenek, Texas A. & M. College; and J. D. Tarver, Oklahoma A. & M. College. The study was done in cooperation with the Farm Foundation and the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

A copy of the report, Southwest Regional Bulletin No. 6, may be obtained from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas.

FARMER COUNTY Farm Bureau News

By RAYMOND EULEN

Through it has already been widely publicized, we believe it might be worthwhile to repeat once more, the importance of cotton farmers getting a germination test on cotton seed before planting time. Your ginner or your county agent will gladly give you necessary instructions. County Agent, Joe Jones urges farmers to take this step before planting time.

Jack Patterson, your director from Rhea Community, who won the speaking contest in San Antonio recently, was invited to speak to Farm Bureau members at Rosedale, N. M., two weeks ago. There were about a hundred and twenty five folks present and he did a good job. He and his wife were called to the bedside of her mother last week, in Georgia.

We believe you and your family will enjoy the victory meeting in the Bovina auditorium next Monday night. Membership worker awards will be made, musical entertainment will be enjoyed, and some valuable door prizes will be given.

Here are four provisions American Farm Bureau is prevailing upon congress to include in a Soil Bank Farm Program: 1. Allowing farmers to voluntarily underplant acreage allotments in return for negotiable certificates valid for purchase of government-owned stocks of farm commodities. 2. Permitting farmers to place other land in the soil bank for at least three years in return for negotiable certificates for surplus stocks or other payments. 3. Prohibiting harvesting or grazing on any soil bank land, but providing Agricultural Conservation Program payments for approved practices performed on this land. 4. Requiring farmers to put an acreage of soil depleting cropland in the soil bank as a condition for price supports.

The Department of Agriculture has announced a new upland cotton export sales program for shipment after July 31. This involves export of cotton 15/16 staple length and under. This is a move supported vigorously by Farm Bureau, and believed to be a long needed move toward disposition of surplus farm commodities.

Russian Thistle and Tumbleweed 2 different Pests, Agronomist Say

Editor's Note: Dr. E. M. Trew, agronomist with the Texas A & M Extension Service recently wrote the following letter in reply to a request for information concerning the homely tumbleweed. Because there is a good deal of information contained in the letter, we are printing it herewith.

Muleshoe FFA Chapter Mr. Wink Thomson Muleshoe, Texas

This is in reply to your card to the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in which you requested information on the difference between a Russian thistle and the American tumbleweed.

I was raised in West Texas and we generally referred to the Russian thistles as tumbleweeds. However, the two are actually different.

The botanical name of the tumbleweed is Amaranthus graecizans. This weed was naturalized from Central America. It is pale green with bushy branches.

The flowers are small and green and several of them are found together in small clusters in the axils of the leaves. The leaves are 1/2 to 2 inches long, they are flattened, rounded on the ends and the tips are broader than the end at the stem. The plants have a shallow, pinkish-white root. The leaves fall off in the winter and the plants are easily blown by the wind.

The botanical name for the Russian thistle is Salsola pestifer. This is a very bushy plant as you know. The leaves are small and spine-like, with a sharp pointed bract on each side. The seed are small and reddish in color. One reference states that seed of the Russian thistle came into this country in impure flax seed from Russia, while another source simply states that the weed was naturalized from northern Europe or Asia.

I hope this information is helpful to you. Let us know when we can be of further help to you. Very truly yours, E. M. Trew, Agronomist.

TPA President in Answer To Charge Against Sanford

AUSTIN, Texas — Russell W. Bryant, president of the Texas Press Association, has issued the following statement relating to charges by C. T. Johnson of Austin that TPA manager Vernon T. Sanford violated the election code back in 1954.

"Charges that Mr. Sanford has violated the Texas election code are ridiculous and without foundation. The entire matter stems from the vindictiveness of a disgruntled, defeated candidate who cannot face the fact that the people of Texas believed him unfit to be lieutenant governor.

"When Mr. Sanford could not substantiate this man's charges that Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey had violated the election laws, he immediately began a campaign of harassment that has continued until this day. This perpetual annoyance has caused Mr. Sanford mental strain and embarrassment and has interfered with his duties as general manager of the Texas Press Association.

"Were we as vindictive as the man who has caused all of this trouble, we have ample grounds in which to claim damages. I think it is significant that in the home town of Mr. Sanford and the man who instigated and inspired this campaign of harassment, the latter has been unable to obtain support for either civil or criminal action. Only when he turned to another county where he is not known, and to a politically ambitious individual, was he able to gain any serious consideration.

"Mr. Sanford spent none of his own money nor any funds of the Texas Press Association in behalf of Mr. Ramsey or any other candidate. He acted as an agent for Texas newspapers, and in no way represented any candidate. He accepted advertising orders from candidates and such other persons who desired to place advertising for a candidate on behalf of the newspapers he represented.

"If the line of reasoning used in these charges is to be accepted, then only the publisher of a newspaper, and no employee, would be empowered to accept political advertising for a newspaper.

"The man who has inspired this attack on the integrity of Mr. Sanford and the Texas Press Association also utilized the services of our organization in 1954. No one questioned his good faith, the source of his campaign funds, or treated him any differently from any of the other numerous candidates we served."

As a result of charges made by Johnson, Sanford was indicted by a McLennan County grand jury for ordering two ads published in the Waco News-Tribune. They were in behalf of Ben Ramsey, successful candidate for re-election as Lt. Governor. One ad was for $35.00, the other $41.25.
