IT TOOK A LOT OF DOING but the people of Texas finally got Price Daniel to offer to run for Governor. In what a bad shape we would have been had not the Senator consented to "yield to the call," we shudder to think.

This year's approach to the simple fact that they're politicians and therefore ready to run at the drop of the hat, but their asking the good folks of Texas to write them their desires, this being on the part of Daniel, and heck, O'Daniel, is something that amazes this writer, although he has watched each Governor's race in Texas since Oscar Branch Colquitt.

Is anyone still so naive in the Lone Star State who thinks there was a possibility that either of these gentlemen would come before the electorate and say "Folks, I just didn't get enough postcards, so I've decided not to make the race for Governor." Is there?

I HAVE SAID TO FRIENDS, thusly: This is a good year for a dark horse, someone we haven't much thought about yet. I, for myself, would vote for a big business man, like Ross Sterling; or a Jim Ferguson type man, if his background suited me. How about some new blood in top level Texas politics?

That 1914 campaign tickled me (I don't mind being dated). No less than 13 esteemed gentlemen had announced they were willing to be Governor (without a TV, radio and newspaper appeal for postcards). In those days prohibition and anti-prohibition adherents had the lines sharply drawn. All the prohibition candidates agreed to meet and pick one strong man; they settled on Mr. Ball. The anti's decided to meet and pick a strong man among them; only Jim didn't turn up for the meeting. Before the campaign was well underway it was certain the Temple banker, the self made man who talked the common lingo, was to be the next Governor of the great state of Texas.

MY BOSS handed me a little folder which I fully believe he'd helped to concoct. It showed a picture of Texas with a heart superimposed in red ink with Temple located clearly in the center of the state, and the legend on the front page said:

"A State in the Heart of the Nation,"
"A Town in the Heart of the State,"
"A Candidate in the Heart of the People."

Then, on Labor Day, old Jim addressed a rabidly Ferguson crowd out between Temple and Belton. It was a crowd of union workmen, many railroad folks among them, and Jim said: "I will welcome the time when the laboring man has:

8 Hours Work,
8 Hours Play,
8 Hours Sleep, and
8 Dollars a Day!"

CRIMINY! WHAT A PIKER Jim was. If a man didn't get more than 8 dollars a day nowadays, he just wouldn't go home to the little wife.

JIM HAD A PLANK in his platform saying that he would try to make it illegal to charge a man who rented a farm a bonus. In those days, that bonus was a terrific thing and Jim got lots of votes on the strength of his stand against it.

WELL AFTER ALL THAT, I would like to say that I would like to see the Democrats nominate either Marshall Formby, of Plainview, or James P. Hart, Austin. Everybody out here knows about Formby. Hart has been associate justice of the supreme court, University of Texas Chancellor and things like that. I've known about him and his family for a long time. Formby's antecedents and background and actually his undoubted ability qualify him for our highest state office. Care to write some postcards or get up a petition?

Kerrville Camp Report Made By Lion Official

Buff Morris, of Canyon, former district Governor of Lions district 271, and International Counsellor of Lions International, was guest speaker at the Wednesday luncheon meeting of the Muleshoe Lions club.

Morris, who was introduced by Bill Moore, reported to the club on progress being made at the Lions club camp for crippled children, at Kerrville.

He told the Lions that the camp has been in operation for three summers, and is valued at more than $500,000 in land and buildings alone, plus the constructive work it is doing for handicapped children.

Present plans call for the camp to be used year round for mentally retarded and other handicapped children's groups.

Bi-State Water Committee Seeks Names for Petition to Gov. Shivers

Dr. L. T. Green, Jr., president of the Bi-State Water Committee has prepared the following appeal to area residents. The purpose of the appeal is to obtain signatures to a petition to Governor Allan Shivers, asking protection from Lubbock's proposal to drain water from beneath Bailey county land. Petitions in Muleshoe are at the First National and Muleshoe State banks.

"Today we face the real and present danger of complete desiccation of our land, our livelihood, our communities, and our way of life by uncontrolled and calculated greed of outside personal interest groups. On behalf of ourselves, our children, our children's children, and the future residents of our section of the State and any other portions of the State which are now or in the future may be so threatened, we must act quickly and in unison before it is too late.

"The wedge in the flood gate is at present being driven by the City of Lubbock, Texas, in their proposal to drill wells and construct a high pipeline some fifty or more miles to Bailey county, Texas, with the express purpose of draining the underground water resources of some 53,000 acres of Bailey county and piping to the City of Lubbock for industrial and commercial use.

"The City of Lubbock is taking this action for its own selfish purpose and with full knowledge from its own past experience with wells in its own immediate vicinity that the water supplies capped will at best furnish only a temporary water source, and that when that source is exhausted the city will still have to locate and develop some other source of readily replaceable water.

"If this action by the City of Lubbock is permitted, who can say what personal interest will be next to lay claim upon the underground water supply of this, the High Plains area? Because the water sands are interconnecting, drainage of one area is drainage of all, therefore the reduction of one area to an irremediable desert will likewise reduce a major portion of all the surrounding counties to a similar desert status.

"For this reason the Bi-State Water Commission makes this appeal to all farsighted and interested people of this section of the State of Texas to join this crusade, whose aim is to the fullest extent in any and all possible ways to avert or at least control the calamity which threatens us, and to maintain for us the freedom from confiscation and waste of our property, and from the futile destruction of our civilization to which all citizens and areas of our state and nation are inherently entitled.

"Petitions have been prepared and are being set up and passed around through your area to implore Governor Allan Shivers to exert his office to the fullest extent to avert or at least control this threatened disaster.

"The right of petition is guaranteed under the constitution of the State of Texas and the United States of America.

"We of the Bi-State Water Commission beseech you, the citizens of all the High Plains, to join with us in this endeavor to prevent the futile destruction of the civilization we have so laboriously built."

Community Easter Sunrise Services Scheduled at Local Drive-in Sunday

COMMUNITY EASTER SUNRISE SERVICES will be held at Cox Drive In Theatre Sunday morning, it was announced here this week. A number of Muleshoe churches will participate in the inspirational service which has become a tradition locally. A massed choir of voices from several churches will sing the traditional Easter hymns preceding the sermon.

The services will begin half an hour before actual sunrise at 6:10 a.m. Sunday morning, and will feature an Easter sermon by Rev. Orval W. Akers, pastor of the Muleshoe Church of the Nazarene, West Ninth and Avenue C.

The combined choir of voices will be under the direction of Norvil Howell, music director of Muleshoe schools. The choir has been rehearsing several nights this week in the school auditorium in preparation for the sunrise services.

The services will be transmitted through the car speakers of the drive in theatre so those attending need not leave their cars to hear.

Ministers from cooperating churches will take part in the program also.

The musical program will include two selections by the combined choirs. They are "To Thee We Sing," by Tchaikovsky, and "And the Glory of the Lord," by Handel.

Mrs. Pat Bobo will sing "Were You There" as a solo selection.

Final rehearsal of the choir will be held Friday at 7:15 p.m. The public is invited to attend this special service. Families need not dress, but may remain in their cars in comfort.

Coffee and doughnuts will be served, courtesy of Cashway Grocery and Gene and Howard Cox.

HAWAIIAN HAM
Follow label directions for baking ham. One-half hour before baking time is completed, remove ham from oven and cover top with drained pineapple slices. Place a maraschino cherry in the center of each slice. Spear pineapple chunks with cloves and stick into sides of ham. (With pineapple on top and sides — the tangy sweet pineapple flavor will have a chance to penetrate all through the ham.) Coat ham and pineapple with honey and return to the oven. Baste with drippings and additional honey every ten minutes until pineapple slices are golden brown and glazed.

Jimmy Holt Wins 440 At Waco

Jimmy Holt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Holt, sophomore at Texas University, is holding his lead in track at the meets taking place this spring.

In the triangular track meet held in Waco Wednesday, between Texas, Baylor and SMU, Texas piled up more points than the other two contenders put together. Holt ran the 440 in 48.4, placing first, and ran the 880 just 15 minutes later, placing 4th.

In the West Texas relays held at Odessa last Weekend Holt ran on the sprint Medley which won first place and 3rd in the mile relay.

Texas' mile relay team, which has had the fastest time in the nation this year, recently ran into bad luck, when three of their men became injured, and were unable to participate at Waco, and may take them out of the mile relay contest at Texas' relays in Austin next week.

DUST STOPPER ALUMINUM STORM WINDOWS

Patent Pending

- The First and only Proven Aluminum STORM WINDOWS to be manufactured in Texas.
- Over 11,000 units sold and installed in past 24 months which is proof of their success.
- Each DUST STOPPER is custom built to fit your windows, not a stock window fit with expanders as is the case with windows handled by most lumber yards. The difference is as great as there is between dime store eye glasses and ones fitted by a specialist.
- DO NOT be fooled into buying storm windows that do not have Weatherstripping such as most Eastern types which you will recognize because of their half screens, as they will not keep out the dust and dirt. FHA requires weatherstripping in all double hung windows for new construction whether they be made of wood, aluminum or steel. So why do you think a storm window without weatherstripping will keep out dirt?
- ALL DUST STOPPERS are 100% weatherstripped.

WHAT IS HEALTH WORTH TO YOU?

With health, everything is a source of pleasure. Without it, nothing else, whatever it may be, is enjoyable. Even the other personal blessings—a great mind, a happy temperament—are degraded and dwarfed for want of it. It follows, from all this, that the greatest of all follies, is to sacrifice health for any other kind of happiness, whether it be for gain, advancement, learning, or fame. Everything should be made secondary to health . . . Schopenhauer.

BACKACHE—

A backache needs the attention of the Chiropractor. Pain in the back is most generally referred to as sciatica, rheumatic neuritis, lumbago, (some even have gone so far as to diagnose it herniated or slipped disc) and is caused by highly inflamed and irritated nerves. Because Chiropractic adjustments remove the cause, they are beneficial in these cases. You need the Chiropractor if you have a backache, but it isn't necessary to have a backache to need a chiropractor.

A man, age 41, is the case of a man who avoided a spinal operation. This patient suffered lower back pain into left hip and leg for some time. When it finally became so severe it immobilized him completely, he was medically diagnosed "slipped disc" and a spinal operation was prescribed. As a last resort, he tried Chiropractic to avoid the dangers of an operation. Gradually his condition improved after our Chiropractic examination indicated and revealed the cause of his nerve pressure, and corrective adjustments were begun. He is now able to work on a hard schedule.

HEADACHE—

Headaches have a removable cause. A middle aged mother had suffered from headaches for so many years she couldn't remember when they first began. Working and taking care of her family with these head pains, she grew more and more nervous. She tried several remedies without results.

She was eventually brought to the Clinic for a spinal analysis and spinal X-rays to locate the cause of her trouble. She told us that she had developed sinus trouble, pleurisy, palpitation of the heart, and high blood pressure of 200. After a course of Chiropractic service, she reported no headaches at all. Besides this recovery, she said she was not dizzy any more, blood pressure was down to 156/100, all chest pains and sinus pains were cleared up. When your personal opinion is based on fair investigation and not upon conditioned emotions, you become a satisfied patient. It will pay you to investigate now.

Anette Leveridge and Delbert Lee Black Wed In Candlelight Ceremony Saturday

Miss Annette Leveridge became the bride of Delbert Lee Black in a beautiful candlelight ceremony at the First Methodist Church here, at 8:00 o'clock in the evening, Saturday, March 24. Rev. Clarence Stephens performed the impressive double-ring ceremony before an archway of candelabra bearing lighted tapers, and a fan arrangement of white gladioli, white mums and candy tuft. The communion rail was decorated with greenery and lighted tapers.

Miss Alva Lee Shofner, soloist, sang "I Love You Truly," "The Wedding Prayer," and "Because." She was accompanied at the organ by Miss LaVon Copley, who also presented the traditional wedding marches.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Leveridge of Muleshoe, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Black, also of Muleshoe.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina length gown of ripple faille, designed along the princess line. The scoop neckline was edged in seed pearls. Her elbow-length veil of illusion was attached to a small lace hat which was sprinkled with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white feathery mums atop a Rainbow Bible.

Miss Zora Leveridge, of Oklahoma City, was her sister's maid of honor. Her ballerina length gown of pale green taffeta was designed with long torso and full gathered skirt, and the bodice featured a softly folding V neckline. Her headpiece was pale green net attached to a circlet of white flowers, and she carried a colonial bouquet of green dyed carnations.

Billy Schaefer served the bridegroom as best man. Ushers were Bobby Black, cousin of the groom, and Bud Gilliland. Candlelighters were Richard Leveridge, brother of the bride, and Susie Willman.

Reception Honors Couple

Immediately after the ceremony, a reception honoring the couple was held in the home of the bride's parents. The couple was assisted in hospitalities by Mrs. H. C. Elliott and Quineil Elliott.

Covered with a white cloth of imported Irish linen, an serving table was centered with arrangement of white mums, gladioli and candy tuft, and candelabra bearing white tapers. The tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom.

For traveling, the bride chose a beige linen suit, which she complimented with tangerine accessories.

Following their trip, Mr. and Mrs. Black will make their home in Muleshoe, and continue their studies at Muleshoe High School, where he is a senior student, and she is a junior.

Muleshoe High Now Offers Shop With Ag. Course

Shop work has been integrated into the Agriculture Department at Muleshoe High School this year, with very good results, according to principal of the school, Bill Parker.

The boys learned to build practical things, such as tool kits, and other equipment to be used around the farm or home. They have used practically every piece of equipment in the shop, including power drills, electric saws, planes, etc.

An interesting contest was held in the Ag. Building last week. Each of the boys was given a 2x6 piece of wood, and six different sized nails. The boy who drove the nails into the wood with the least strokes, won the contest, and the prize of a new hammer. A bent nail counted as two strokes, and a mark on the wood, also counted against the participants' score.

Winner of the contest was Joe Gross, who drove the nails into the plank with only twenty-eight licks of the hammer.

The growers are A. T. Ferguson, Eagle Pass; Warren Wag-

More Employees Subject to Tax

Several additional employers in Bailey county became liable under the amended Texas Unemployment Compensation Act January 1.

And J. D. Jordan, TEC manager, Littlefield, advises these employers that establishing payroll reporting accounts with the state office of the Texas Employment Commission, Brown Building, Austin, will help avoid penalties and assessments of back taxes.

An amendment to the state's unemployment laws extended coverage to all employers with as many as FOUR employees on 20 days in 20 different weeks, Jordan said. Prior to January 1, 1956, only firms who hired eight or more were affected.

"The expanded program also covers a small business which has four people working only Saturdays, or one which regularly has two employees during the day and two others at night." The state program was extended by the 1955 legislature to conform with Federal statutes already enacted. "Otherwise," stated Jordan, "Bailey county employers of four to eight people would not have the advantage of the Texas system of possibly reduced taxes because of employer experience ratings. And early action will mean earlier eligibility for reduced tax rates."

Combined Federal and state taxes begin at 3 percent of each annual wage up to $3,000. However, the state's program provides for a possible minimum rate of 1/10 of one percent, and the 1955 average rate for rated employers was .222 percent. The net Federal tax is 3/10ths of 1% in addition to the state tax.

Any Bailey county employer of four, five, six or seven persons for 20 weeks during 1955 should request explanations of the state TEC office about complying with the program, Jordan added.

BABSON DISCUSSES—FIRE LOSSES

Babson Park, Mass., March 29—Fire losses have so increased that I feel the subject should interest everyone, whether manufacturer, merchant, or householder. The financial loss may be covered by insurance; but insurance does not cover other losses, especially in the case of a successful business or a happy home.

MOST FIRES COULD BE AVOIDED
Unfortunately, a certain number of fires are set, some by mentally deranged people, or by juvenile delinquents. Other fires are set by unsuccessful businessmen who use fires "to sell their business to the insurance company." In view of the large number of "set" fires, the little red fire-alarm boxes at street corners will always remain in use. No one who sets a fire will ever notify the fire department! This must be done by someone who discovers the fire when walking along the street. As such discovery is made only after the fire has got a good start, "set" fires are the most dangerous.

CAUSES OF FIRES

Read the following figures for the past-3 years issued by the National Board of Fire Underwriters:

CAUSES	Number	Per Cent	Prop. Loss
Matches — Smoking	666,812	26.90	$ 453,341,831
Misuse of Electricity	330,047	13.31	405,896,793
Exposure to other Fires	180,220	7.27	270,946,033
Petroleum Products	193,645	7.69	218,625,639
Stoves, Furnaces, Boilers	170,639	6.88	230,158,430
Overheated Chimneys or Flues	115,697	4.67	146,475,730

Gas — Natural and Artificial	43,505	1.76	70,351,899
Ignition of Hot Grease, etc.	97,143	3.92	50,303,751
Explosions	24,114	0.97	75,793,380
Hot Ashes and Coals	69,762	2.82	54,329,903
Chemical Combustion	23,308	1.02	41,981,865
Sparks on Roofs	38,422	1.55	38,120,602
Rubbish and Litter	56,734	2.29	51,710,806
Fireworks, Balloons, etc.	3,326	0.13	2,811,229
TOTAL	2,479,256	100.00%	$2,645,188,650

With the exception of fires started from explosions, practically all fires could be smothered, at their start, by someone with common sense. This is especially true, as 27% of the fires are officially reported as starting from "Matches and Smoking." In addition to the thousands of lives which have been lost in these 27% of fires, the property loss amounted to $453,341,831 — all from Matches and Smoking.

In this connection I wish to acknowledge a debt of gratitude owed the National Board of Fire Underwriters, especially their General Manager, Mr. L. A. Vincent, and their Chief Engineer, Mr. John A. Neal. This Board has various functions. It originates most of the publicity issued to prevent fires; it maintains a legal staff to detect and prosecute those who are suspected of setting fires; and through the Underwriter's Laboratory of Chicago, the Board tests Fire Extinguishers, Sprinkler Systems, Electric Alarms, and gadgets which are publicly offered for the prevention of fires. This latter is very important work. But your very best friend is your local Fire Chief.

WHAT ABOUT INSURANCE?
Too many people take the position, "Why worry, because the insurance company will pay the bill." Although, in case of loss, you get a check from one or more insurance companies from the premiums which they assess plus the cost of operation to all who take out policies. In fact, the real loss from fires is considerably more than the amount paid out as insurance. Due to the high character of the men who operate these insurance companies and the careful supervision given them by the official State Boards, their financial record is excellent.

Therefore, I urge every reader to see that his factory, his store, and his home are well covered by insurance. Furthermore, in view of the rising costs of building, insurance, in most cases, needs to be increased at the present time. I believe every reader of this column should check his insurance policies today and see that they cover not only fire losses, but also losses from wind storms, accidents, and other disasters. Frankly, I am a great believer in all forms of insurance, and this includes life insurance, — for family protection, for the payment of estate taxes, and for other purposes.

Three's a Crowd!

AN EDITORIAL . . .
We've Got Them Worried Now

LAST SATURDAY MORNING the daily papers printed the story of the Bi-State Water Committee's petition to Governor Shivers to protect our water rights. This is the identical story published two days previously in The Muleshoe Journal. Most dailies printed the story without comment, but in Lubbock, it was a different story.

Numerous quotations were interspersed in the story, all made by Lubbock's Mayor Tripp, who repeatedly branded the petition as being a misrepresentation of fact. Mayor Tripp attempted to point out that Lubbock was innocent of any intent to do wrong to anyone, which is about like a gunman pulling the trigger and apologizing for the noise.

The Lubbock mayor keeps harping on the idea that if Lubbock pumps our water away it will do no harm. Everyone knows that there are two very good reasons why it will do harm. It will ruin our farm lands in the first place, and secondly it will cause a decided decrease in the amount of money West Plains residents spend in Lubbock.

While no overt boycott has been attempted by Bailey county business people and private families, it is no secret that more and more Lubbock business firms are finding it impossible to make a sale in Muleshoe or Bailey county. At least 25 Bailey county merchants have told salesmen from Lubbock that they will not buy anything from them as long as the City of Lubbock persists in its wild scheme to suck the water from beneath our farming lands.

Already too, Lubbock's business people are beginning to be aware of the very good possibility that the huge pipeline scheme might very well turn out to be Tripp's Folly. It is no trouble at all to detect a growing suspicion among Lubbock's thinking people that they are being taken for a rather expensive ride.

Lubbock's city engineer, H. P. Clifton, gets into the act by climbing out onto the limb with Mayor Tripp. Clifton alleges, after "poo-pooing the idea," that "it will take 25 years of constant pumping to lower the water table under our (Lubbock) land to the present level of the surrounding agricultural areas, even if no water were taken from those areas for irrigation use faster than we use ours."

It is difficult to picture an area of land bearing underground water, standing high above that of surrounding areas, when the Lubbock land is being pumped at the rate of 40,000,000 gallons daily, 24 hours a day, 365 days a year. It is possible that the Lubbock City Commission has political influence enough to have repealed the law of gravity and the basic physical law wherein water seeks its own level. But we doubt it.

To sum up, the actions of the Bi-State Water Committee in petitioning Governor Shivers for protection have alarmed even the scheming city commission of Lubbock. We've got them worried now, and the thing to do is keep them worried.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

The significance for all mankind of Christ Jesus, victory over disease and death will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday.

Scriptural passages regarding Jesus' crucifixion, resurrection, and ascension will be among the Bible selections to be read from the gospels of Matthew, Mark, Luke and John. "Unreality" is the Lesson-Sermon topic.

Readings from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include the following: "The resurrection of the great demonstrator of God's power was the proof of his final triumph over body and matter, and gave full evidence of divine Science—evidence so important to mortals. The belief that man has existed or mind separate from God is the dying error. This error Jesus met with divine Science and proved its nothingness." (42:15-21.)

BULA MAN SUGGESTS MORE COUNTY UNITY
Enochs, Texas, March 23, 1956
Mr. J. M. Forbes, Editor, The Muleshoe Journal, Muleshoe, Texas.

Another subscription to your grand paper has been taken by the junior class. A dollar has been deducted, and the remainder, $1.50, is being forwarded to you. The order was taken by Mr. Roy B. Young, a member of our school board and election official. I know he will be pleased, for you have one of the very best county papers in the country. By far it outstrips many others. You are doing a great job of developing the great city of Muleshoe and the surrounding area.

Speaking of the "surrounding area," my mind runs parallel with yours in the hope and in the effort to bind closer the southern segment of our great county, the lack of which has been due to the lack of development of our county seat. I look forward to the time when we detached people below the sand hills are a greater part of our county in mind and spirit.

We assure you our sympathy in your fight to maintain the water rights of the county.

Yours very truly,
Marion J. McDaniel,

THIS WEEK —In Washington

With Clinton Davidson
Hottest topic in Washington this week, aside from the farm bill, is something called "market spreads."

There is a big fuss about who gets the difference between what farmers sell for and consumers pay.

That old boogie, the Middleman, really is in the middle this time. Congress is investigating him to find out if he is profiteering. And the Department of Agriculture is giving him a rough time.

It is one of those affairs in which everyone points a finger at the other fellow. Secretary Benson says farmers are getting it in the neck because those who buy farm products won't pay as much as they used to.

The Bureau of Home Economics, which looks after the housewife's interests in Washington, says Mrs. Consumer's food costs haven't come down much. The suspicion is that Mr. Middleman has his thumb on the scales.

A few years ago when the Middleman collected a dollar from Mrs. Housewife he kept 4¢ and passed 5¢ back to the farmer. Now he keeps 6¢ and gives the farmer only 3¢.

Mr. Benson, guardian of farmers' interests, gets quite upset. A considerable part of the increased profits that have gone to industry and the high wages that have gone to labor, he says, "have been siphoned from the economic bloodstream of the nation at the expense of agriculture."

Today's Meditation

Read Luke 22:14-20
This do in remembrance of me. (Luke 22:19.)

During my first visit to Washington, D. C., I took the elevator to the top of the Washington monument. From that height I saw more grandeur and beauty than I had ever before seen in any city. Moreover, that plain memorial is more than a granite shaft honoring the father of his country. It lifted me heavenward and gave me a new vision.

The sacrament of the Lord's Supper—the Master's memorial—lifts us closer to God. It causes us to ponder and to remember. In a service of remembrance and true worship in seeing and tasting the bread and the wine, we are helped to see that "strange Man on the Cross," the Saviour who sacrificed His life for us.

No event in history moves men so deeply as the crucifix of Jesus. Suffering love was put to death to redeem even the meanest of men. Although we remember the Lord's Table, Holy Communion is more than a memorial meal.

Sand Hills Philosopher Comes Out With Unworkable Plan For Solving The Farm Surplus Woes

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm comes up with another impossible idea this week, which we published only in the interest of freedom of the press.

Dear Editor:
As I understand it, there is considerable concern in Washington over the fact Congress has taken so long to get a farm bill passed it might not get into operation before the planting season arrives.

The planting season is rushing toward us, has already arrived in the southern part of the country, and Congress ought to get some action of a farm bill. Washington leaders said with considerable worry last week. They may not all know when the planting season is for all sections of the country, but they all know when the election is.

This is one worry I personally can relieve Washington of. I am perfectly willing to delay my planting as long as it takes.

I have tried planting by the moon, by the calendar, by a soil thermometer, by my rheumatism, by my neighbors, and by the farm magazines, and I don't believe I'd have any worse luck if I planted by Congress.

As far as I'm concerned, Congress can take all spring and most of the summer if it wants to, and I'll be glad to hold up on my planting until everybody in Washington is convinced the farm problem is solved. I don't know about others, most farmers can't seem to wait to get seed in the ground, but I know my patriotic duty when I see it. I'm waiting.

Talking about the farm problem and the big surpluses we've been piling up, I have hit on a way which I believe would eliminate the surplus in a couple of

Time To Plant Summer Pastures

Summer temporary pastures should form a very important part of the year-round grazing or pasture program on the farms and ranches of the state. E. M. Trew, extension pasture specialist, says good summer temporary pastures just don't happen. They must be planned well in advance and the same care given to seedbed preparation, seeding the right plants and fertilization as is used in connection with other cash crops.

Such pastures will permit a resting period for permanent pastures, provide grazing when permanent pastures are on the decline, and provide a means for building up feed reserves.

Sudangrass, says Trew, is the best bet in most areas of the state. It can be planted anytime after the danger of frost is past and until the supply of moisture becomes short in the summer. From one to two acres should be planted for each animal unit. Row plantings are best for grazing but broadcast or close drilled plantings will produce the most hay if it is to be cut only once, says Trew.

Row plantings should be made at the rate of 7 to 10 pounds of seed an acre while 20-25 pounds is recommended for broadcast or close drilled plantings. Staggered plantings made at intervals of two to four weeks may extend the grazing season until late fall. The different plantings should be fenced separately in order to get maximum production, advises Trew.

Two varieties of this old favorite are generally available in the state. Common is widely grown but may be damaged by leaf diseases in the humid regions of the state. Sweet carries some leaf disease resistance and may outyield common in humid seasons.

Trew recommends rotation grazing for getting the most from summer pastures but this should be planned for now. Production can be increased and quality of the forage kept high by rotation grazing. Old stems should be moved after grazing to keep new growth coming. Growth not utilized by grazing should be used for hay or silage.

A soil test made well ahead of planting will show what plant foods should be applied at seeding time. Side-dressing with 30 pounds of nitrogen an acre after each time the sudan is grazed down or cut, for as long as the plants are growing and moisture is available, will produce big dividends.

Trew says pearl millet may on the sandy, acid soils of East Texas outproduce sudan. He recommends a visit with the local county agent for those who desire detailed information on summer pastures for their particular section of the state.

Beef Farm Price Drops Faster Than Retail

During the last quarter of 1955, the farm value of choice grade beef was down an average of nine cents a pound, while the retail price dropped only 3.5 cents a pound.

A beef study by the U. S. Department of Agriculture shows that the difference between what the farmer receives for U. S. choice grade beef on the hoof and what the consumer pays for the meat has fluctuated widely during the seven years 1949-1955.

Retail prices remained relatively stable during the latter half of 1954 when farm cattle prices were rising, and during 1955 when the farm prices generally declined. Marketing margins, therefore, narrowed substantially below the long-run average in the latter half of 1954. In 1955, however, they widened markedly, exceeding the high levels of 1953. The comparisons are based on the price of a pound of beef at retail and the price of its equivalent weight of 2.16 pounds in the live animal.

Marketing margin is the difference in price received by the livestock producer and that paid by the consumer. During 1955, the spread between the farm marketing price and the retail marketing price was about

Rotary Donates To Little League

Members of the Rotary Club at their meeting Tuesday contributed enough to the club fund to pay Rotary's cost of sponsoring the Cardinals, Little League baseball team.

Estimated expense for starting the new season is $100 for each sponsoring club. Finding insufficient funds in the treasury, individuals raised the amount for the club quickly.

The club held a lengthy discussion of ways and means to raise money and decided on at least one plan. Members also voted to raise their dues from $16 a year to $25.

Don Copley, junior Rotarian for the month, expressed his pleasure at being selected for this honor, and told the club he had enjoyed the meetings. Guests included Rotarians Wayne Brown and R. D. Nix, Sudan.

SPENT SUNDAY AT MACKENZIE PARK

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. King and Mr. and Mrs. J. R. King, spent Sunday at Mackenzie Park in Lubbock.

Five cents a retail pound more than at the start of the seven year period. In the last quarter of 1955, the margin was 27 percent wider than in the same quarter of 1954.

A series of studies is now under way in the Department of Agriculture dealing with the cost of processing and distributing food. This particular report, Beef Marketing Margins and Costs, publication 710, analyzes the trend of prices and margins for U. S. choice grade beef at different stages in marketing process.

The report states that fluctuations in dollar margins come about because cattle and beef prices do not maintain a fixed relationship to one another at any point in the marketing channel.

"LONE STAR AGRICULTURE"
A Backward Glance at Farm Income.

Texas and U.S. farmers are just like business men—everyone is interested in making a return on invested capital. How did the farmer come out in 1955? Agriculture demands a big investment in land, improvements, tools and machinery. Last year, the nation's farmers had an equity in farms of about 95 billion dollars. In addition, farm operators and their families did 11 billion hours of unpaid work on their land.

For this capital investment, and for all this labor, the farmers collected a total of 11 billion dollars in 1955.

This means that if we allow farmers and their families a return of $1 per hour for their labor, then they had nothing left at all for a return on their invested capital last year.

However, let's say we allow farmers a 3 percent return on their $95 billion investment. This would be giving them 2.85 billion dollars on their capital.

In such a case, subtracting the capital gain from total income, the farmer would have earned only 74 cents an hour for 11 billion hours of labor.

All this points out a curious situation. It appears that the best thing for farmers to do is to sell out and invest all their money in a good safe company that would give them a 3 percent return. Then, any side job, including ditch-digging, would at least pay them the minimum wage of 90 cents or more an hour.

These figures are, of course, national totals. It is true that many farmers get returns to capital and labor that are higher than average. But also, many farmers obviously get returns that are far below the national average.

Unless some immediate relief is found in the form of a new national farm program, the forward look for American farmers is not much improved over the dim picture immediately past.

The appearance of green leaves on the trees and other early vegetation remind us that unwanted weeds, too, will be making their appearance in many places. Your weed committee, preparing for leadership in the third year of active efforts of eradicating and preventing growth of particularly noxious weeds, like bindweed, met last week and organized for this season's activity. Bruce Parr, who was instrumental in the first work of this kind in Parmer County, was elected chairman. Members of the committee, who are named in another article in some of these papers, wish to express their deep appreciation to members of the Commissioners Court, ASC Committee, Soil Conservation Committee, County Agent Joe Jones, Texas Highway Department, State Seed Inspectors, and others who have been cooperative in this rather difficult task of arousing interest in a problem, the solution of which, in its early stages, probably has already meant the saving of much money to farmers of the county. The newspapers of Parmer and Bailey counties have been extremely cooperative in

Weed Committee Maps Plans For Years Activity

Members of Parmer County Farm Bureau weed committee met in the Lawlis-Ely Gin office in Bovina last week to organize and map plans for noxious weed eradication in the county again this year. Bruce Parr was elected chairman of the committee, and Roy Grace was elected recording secretary. Other members are Clarence Johnson, L. F. Bruns, Ovid Lawlis, A. M. Bradley, Gene Snodgrass and Raymond Schuler. County Agent Joe Jones works as an associate member of the committee.

Parr said that the County ASC Committee has agreed to assist in the weed program again this year, and that that office will keep records of all plots poisoned and make checks on results obtained.

Brun, Lawlis, Johnson and Parr will contact State Highway Department officials to ask their cooperation on State road right of ways. These County and State departments have been cooperating the past two years, Parr said. County Agent Joe Jones was instructed to write Santa Fe railroad officials to seek their cooperation in eradication of weeds on their right of way.

The committee will again make arrangements for purchase of chemicals for use in the program at reduced prices, as has been done in past seasons. It was decided that efforts should be made to encourage all agriculture teachers in the public schools to emphasize education on bindweed eradication in their young men's classes.

committees that make up the visible value of organization toward solution to multiplied individual problems of neighbors.

We believe one of the most enlightening articles regarding the farm problem is found in the current issue of Reader's Digest. We have heard a number of farmers say so, too. It isn't pretty, or necessarily encouraging reading, but it's honest and factual.

We mention this again simply because activity on the subject usually picks up immediately following: If you ladies will watch for cards giving expiration date of your husband's tractor gas tax exemptions, you can come in while he is too busy farming and claim exemption. What you do with the check when it arrives is up to you and him. It is your money and should not be left to accumulate in the comptroller's office in Austin.

FORD WINS IN ECONOMY TOO!

V-8 WINS CLASS A

In this year's Economy Run a new Ford V-8, with Fordomatic, was the official victor over every car in its field, with a winning average of 47,764.3 ton-miles per gallon. This means that the sturdier, heavier Ford carried more weight, with greater gas economy per pound, than any car in its field.

This latest Ford victory was scored over a rough and rigorous 1,468.8-mile route running from Los Angeles to Colorado Springs. Through the heat of Death Valley and over chilling mountain heights . . . through gas-cating city traffic and over the straight-line open road . . . Ford proved anew its traditional reputation for economical performance.

The winning Ford was a regular-production model taken right from the assembly line. It was no different than thousands of '56 Fords you see on the road and in dealer's showrooms. This proves that Ford, the Performance, Style and Safety leader, leads in Economy, too! That adds up to four big reasons why the '56 Ford is worth more when you buy it, while you drive it, and when you sell it, too!

The "ton-mile" formula is used by contest officials to insure equal chance for all cars in each class, regardless of size or weight. Ton-miles per gallon equals the car weight (including passengers) in tons, multiplied by the number of miles traveled, divided by number of gallons of gasoline consumed.

Former Muleshoe Student Tells How it Feels to Make Routine Parachute Jump With 11th Airborne Division

(Editor's Note: The following account of a routine parachute jump was written in Germany by PFC Jimmy Luman, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. "Frog" Luman. Jimmy attended Muleshoe schools and entered service in January, 1955. He is presently stationed with the 11th Airborne Division in Munich, Germany.)

IT WAS fourteen hundred hours on the ninth of March, and with the sun beaming forth in all its splendor, we listened attentively to the time of departure for Neuberg Airbase. The time was set at fourteen thirty hours, which gave us only a short time to prepare ourselves for our little expedition.

We all ran to our individual rooms and put on our field trousers, added an extra pair of socks to our sweating feet and donned the old steel pots. Soon we heard SFC Lopez scream "Fall out!" We all like mad men to the waiting truck and away we went.

While the old "duce an' a half" made its way through the streets of Munich, all twenty of us cut loose with some real crazy cat calls, rebel yells, wise cracks, and a few well chosen phrases at the passing females. It didn't seem to fix one bit on the innocent damsels, as all we got in return were disgusting looks. However, we did manage to arouse a few of them. What they said to us in German I wouldn't say to my worst enemy. It was a mighty good thing for us that the truck didn't break down, as we might have been burned at the stake.

Arriving at Neuberg shortly after fifteen hundred, we leaped from the truck and formed up in column of twos. Our chief huncher, 1st Lt. Vernon B. Leksis, Jr., gave us a briefing as to the "chute issue time," "chuting up," and take off time. The boys then stood around talking over last night's date and comparing same; anything to get their minds off the task at hand. For the men who didn't have any interest in the gab sessions, there was a formation of Sabre Jets showing their stuff in the wild blue yonder. I might mention here, that it was from this very same airbase that all those C-119's took off on the now historical "airlift" to the destitute inhabitants of snow-bound Italy, just three weeks ago. There were no less than thirty-eight of these mammoth "flying boxcars" parked up and down the sprawling airstrip. It was an inspiring sight to the air-minded individual.

The word came through the channels for us to file by the "chute issue booth," and acquaint ourselves with that 26 pounds of silk. Upon receiving the "chutes," we proceeded to help one another harness up. It had been some time since we last made a jump, so we had to stop and think for a second or two as to where each strap went. When you are dealing with your buddies' "life," you check and double check before you fasten any straps. Once we were all in the harness and fully rigged, we again formed up in a column of two's facing inward. At this point, two graduates from riggers school stepped in front of each and every man to check on his reserve, making certain that the seal had not been broken on the rip cord handle, and in general, checking straps. Upon the completion of the reserve inspection, the very able rigger came up behind us. As we bent over at the hips, he checked our main back pack to make absolutely sure there wasn't any sign of silk showing through the corners of the deployment bag. If he thought for a minute there was a defect in the packing of the chute, he would tell you to take it off immediately and get another. However, if things looked A-1 to him, he would take the snap fastener on the end of the static line and hand it to you over your right or left shoulder, depending of course, on which door you were going to exit.

A parachute harness is the most uncomfortable mass of webbing that a man could ever strap his body into. It is next to impossible to stand straight up. The leg straps bite into your groin so, in order to relieve yourself of that "grin and bear it" situation, you bend over to release some of the pressure on your groin, and then you can breathe. At this point you are certain there is one way out of this mild torture and that is to wear a forced smile on your face or shoot yourself. When fully harnessed, a paratrooper has around 35 pounds of dead weight on his back. This is what we call jumping "Hollywood" style, however in a tactical jump, a trooper has well over 60 pounds of equipment strapped on his body. To the ordinary person, this may seem like a lot of weight to be lugging around, but then that is why we men of the airborne are subjected to rigid PT classes.

After we were all rigger checked, we got word from the flight engineer that the plane was waiting to be loaded. We walked in single file and in manifold order into the rear port door of the hugh Fairchild C-119. We took our seats and fumbled around in the darkness for the safety belts and at a time like this I seemed to be all thumbs. However, after a few choice words and phrases, I was fastened securely in the bucket seat and ready for whatever came my way.

The pilot came down out of his castle and told us a few details pertaining to such matters as emergency procedures, wind velocity, cruising altitude, time in the air, and drop time. After his briefing he wished us "happy landings" and climbed up to his throne in the cockpit.

In a very few minutes the two enormous propellers were being turned over, and after a misfire or two, huge billows of deep blue smoke encased the aircraft and the way those engines sounded, I thought for a moment that we might have to follow the emergency procedure of clearing the aircraft, even before we left the taxi strip. As it was, the vulnerable mass of steel made its way to the end of the runway, where the pilot did his final check on instruments and engines. First the starboard and then the port engine were revved up to their maximum RPM and then throt-ted back. By this time the pilot was positive that no deficiencies were spotted so now we were ready to head into the wide open spaces.

As the big bird made its clumsy way down the runway, I could feel the tension building up in my body. As I looked around me, I am sure I was speaking for the whole of us. I was number 17 man on the 20 man "stick." A stick is another name for the men on one side of the pane. Our stick was jumping the starboard door. Next to me in the 15 and 16 spots, were my two buddies, Charlie Clark and Robert Holditch. Clark is a true-blue "rebel" from Frankfort, Kentucky. And Holditch hails from Ontario, Canada. We were well on our way now and at cruising altitude. I could not help but notice the different ways in which the boys tried to relieve themselves of that cold, clammy sweat which comes from nervous tension. Some were tapping their toes, others were passing the buck, a few were rubbing their hands together as if it were 20 below zero, and then there were the handful of boys who were bowing their heads in a moment of prayer to the Father Almighty. I might say that I fell into this category. So a profession like this you don't get a second chance and I feel as though it is a must to at least try and prepare yourself for the worst and hope for the best.

As we got four minutes from the drop zone (DZ), the jump master started making with his jump commands. Lt. Lewis was the jump master and as he started shouting at the top of his lungs, "Get ready, stand up, hook up, check your equipment, sound up, check your equipment, sound off for equipment check," I knew that the time was drawing nigh to keep a date with "Hell's Angels," that, by the way is the nickname of the 11th Airborne Division. My heart beat was increasing every second. Clark checked my back pack for me last time and I checked the chute of the man ahead of me. I thought Clark would burst my eardrums with his terrifying "rebel yells." By this time every one was letting off steam, so to speak, and I joined in the refrain with a rebel yell too. My throat soon became sore, but I felt much easier inside.

"One minute 'till drop time," screamed Lt. Lewis as he took up a good door position. Keeping one eye on the red light he checked all around to make sure that there were no aircraft in the area and the next thing I knew, Lt. Lewis had made his exit from the door. I turned around to Clark and Holditch and wished them good luck and they returned the wish. "Airborne, all the way, Geronimo," we yelled, as we moved in a shuffle to the door. Out they went—twelve, thirteen, fourteen, and then—me. Taking a split second to get a good door position, I looked straight out on the horizon and with a brisk up and out leap, I was in the prop blast.

That blast was freezing cold. The temperature on the ground was a chilly twenty degrees, so it is hard to say what the mercury would read at 1,200 feet.

With the aircraft moving at a brisk 130 MPH, that blast seemed to cut you like an Arctic sizzard. Down I fell, faster and aster, gaining momentum with very anxious second. Knowing at this point, that my destiny was in the hands of the Master, I had no fear. I counted to myself, "One thousand, two thousand, three thousand, four thousand," and upon the completion of my four thousand, I received the much anticipated opening shock. Just as if someone had applied a hand brake in a car, I got the feeling of coming to a dead stop at a main intersection. Looking above me I saw the most beautiful sight in the whole world—a fully deployed canopy. Breathing a sigh of relief, I concentrated on keeping clear of the innumerable other jumpers in the air. I was over a heavily wooded area at this particular point, so I applied the knowledge that was so ably taught me in jump school, and pulled a hard slip to my left. Looking around me I saw that I was going to clear the woods, and as there was no immediate danger of me tangling with any of my buddies' "chutes," I took up my "prepare to land" attitude.

The four-mile-an-hour ground wind which was prevailing at this time was drifting me to the ground in such a manner that a PLF (parachute landing fall) to my rear would solve the problem at hand. Keeping my eyes on a horizontal plane I hit the ground. Jumping to my feet, I ran around the canopy in order to spill the air from it. Once the air hasn't access to the gores or panels, the parachute will collapse like a balloon.

Before I had hit the quick release box to free myself from harness I was surrounded by five little kids who were just as big as a minute. Before I knew what was happening, one of the larger boys had my chute all rigger rolled and waiting for me to get the carrying bag open for them to deposit the bundle of silk in. Now this was really unique, not only for me but for the troopers. We never had it so good back at Campbell. I made an attempt to put the two "chutes" over my shoulder and make my way to the turn in point, but this one tiny squirt told me in broken English, that was his job, so who was I to argue. He had no more than set the bag on the ground at the turn-in-point, when he held out his hand in a shy manner and asked me for a few pennings or cigarets which ever I had. I obliged the undernourished looking Kraut with a mark and with a gleam in his eye he said, "Thank you," and away he

"You can eliminate ironing with an ELECTRIC Clothes Dryer!"

says MRS. L. D. DENNY
Guymon, Oklahoma

IT'S MAGIC — NO TRICK ELECTRIC DRYING'S SLICK!

SEE YOUR REDDY KILOWATT APPLIANCE DEALER

"My big interest in owning a clothes dryer is the time that I can save. I make all the pies for our cafe, and spend several hours a day there, and I have four children, and must wash every day. Now that I have my dryer it takes fewer clothes for my children, and less time to launder them."

"I choose many of the materials that need no ironing for our clothes, especially the dresses for my little girl. I haven't time to iron the many ruffled dresses she wears every week. With the no-iron materials, her dresses are ready to wear when they come out of the clothes dryer. MY YOUNGEST SON WILL SOON BE TWO, AND I HAVE NEVER HAD TO IRON ANY OF HIS CLOTHES."

"Sandy says our towels are as soft as her kitten. And she is so right, because my towels are so fluffy, soft and clean smelling after being dried in my electric clothes dryer."

See your Reddy Kilowatt Appliance Dealer, and see for yourself that you, too, can enjoy all the advantages of modern clothes drying. Of course, it's electric.
