"Mr. Democrat" Armed To Vote

O. D. "BLONDY" RAY, Bailey County Democratic party chairman, is shown here receiving the first 1956 poll tax issued here. Hugh Freeman, sheriff, tax assessor and collector, hands Ray the slip that will authorize him to vote in all elections held in his voting precinct, and there'll be lots of them in '56. It's a general election year and the officials will be chosen from President through precinct offices, and special local issues may come up. Never, it would seem, will $1.75 paid for a poll tax, entitle a citizen to so many privileges.

I could pick up my hat, light a cigarette and leave town and probably the only one who'd miss me would be Mrs. Jim White (for she has The Avalanche devoted to me every Sunday morning bright and early.)

But when a fellow like Carroll Jones ups and leaves it hurts and leaves a hole right in the middle of things. The little man never attempted anything he didn't finish satisfactorily. He could farm, teach, preach, be a civic leader, a builder, organizer, and a swell human fellow equally well. We learned to respect him, his attitude, his capabilities, here at the Journal.

Ever since we have been in the paper business we have been saddened because the Church saw fit to transfer to another charge a pastor who had proved himself in the community. But we know it's for the good of the Church and its people; we certainly welcome the new minister, Rev. C. T. Jackson.

Until Juan Peron forced La Prensa of Buenos Aires, one of the world's great newspapers, to close down and caused the editor to flee the country to save his life, we hadn't paid a lot of attention to this wacky be Mussolini. But when he took this action, thereby silencing all newspaper opposition or even comment about his tyrannical regime, he got us against him, and when we heard this vain power mad, lecherous, evil, wicked old man had been run out of Argentina we felt like taking a holiday and celebrating.

Argentina presents another case study of how things like that become dictators. First off, we think, they trump up emergencies, or use real emergencies to make the majority of the people wish they had a strong man. Once in power, they use armed force to stifle all expression of opinion, in the newspapers, over the radio, or in any other way, and they use the threat of reprisal, arrest, imprisonment, or even death to prevent even a private unfavorable comment about the regime. Some dictators have been known to use police to purify the mind — thought police.

Freedom of many kinds flourishes again in the great South American Republic. Newspapers are free again to say what they please so long as they don't libel anyone. There is now freedom of worship, freedom of assembly, freedom of speech.

Here in the U. S. we take a free press and all the other freedoms for granted. But "Eternal vigilance is the price of Liberty", and here during National Newspaper Week let us urge upon us all that we be alert, now and forever.

The community paper may not be a great paper, but you can get your views aired in it. The editor will print your opinion if you'll sign your name to your communication, and without fear or favor. Maybe more citizens ought to pen a letter to the editor, either in praise or condemnation; let's use this Freedom of the Press to help preserve all freedoms.

One time, when Jesse James was policing traffic, this business man in a hurry kinda went slow but didn't quite stop at the intersection. "That sign," Jesse reminded the driver, says "Stop, and it doesn't say Ooze."

Roy White Rites Held At Lazbuddy

Roy White, 69, a Lazbuddy farmer for many years, died at 2:10 a. m., Tuesday in Castro County Hospital, after a long illness.

Funeral services were held at 2:30 p. m., Wednesday at the Lazbuddy Church of Christ, with Denton Thompson, minister, officiating. Burial was in Lazbuddy Cemetery under the direction of Dirmitt Funeral Home.

Survivors include his widow, Alburatta; a daughter, Estelle White; a son, Clarence Weems; and three brothers, Luther White, of Oklahoma, S. G. White, of Muleshoe, and N. C. White, of Lazbuddy.

Parachute Jump Is Planned Soon

Thrill seekers here can look forward to an event that always draws a crowd. It's a parachute jump, to be performed by Carl Crawford, an old timer at the business.

Crawford will jump sometime after defoliating work is completed in the area, the date to be announced later.

CAA will have to grant a waiver for jumping is strictly regulated these days. A CAA representative must be on hand. Parachutes for the event will be furnished by Pioneer Parachute Co., Dallas.

Slight Damage In Fire Monday

Muleshoe Fire Department answered a call to the Dinner Bell Cafe early Monday morning to put out a slight blaze on the outside of the building. The fire started when a neon sign shorted out.

Windy Young, city water commissioner, requests that all persons turning in fire alarms to be sure to give right address and proper directions, so that the fire fighters may reach the scene without unnecessary delay.

J. K. Adams this week judged the classes in the Swine Show, a part of the annual Fair at Levelland.

He said 190 animals were entered, being virtually the same individuals shown at the South Plains Fair at Lubbock.

Muleshoe Beauty Salon Moves To New Location

The Muleshoe Beauty Salon, Mrs. Lucille Cherry, proprietor, has this week moved into their new location at 1316 West First, in the new building recently completed by Roy Jordan.

The decor theme is in pastel shades of green, gray and pink. The walls are a soft pink, with the gray floor covering forming a pleasing contrast. The four booths are divided by walls padded with light green leatherette and topped with green glass.

All new furniture in soft gray leatherette with tweed design, and air foam cushions add greatly to the comfort and relaxation of the customers.

Lettuce Harvest Starting Here

An "army" of bracos swarmed into the lettuce field of Bill St. Clair Wednesday morning under bright sunshines to begin the lettuce harvest in the Muleshoe area. Alexander Marketing Co. will receive the lettuce at the Barrett Produce shed and attend to its marketing.

St. Clair is reported to have about 18 acres in lettuce, and it was said to promise a good yield.

MULESHOE GREW INTO THEIR HEARTS

"Thank You" And Goodbye Said By Rev. Carrol Jones And His Family

The Journal deeply regrets to see Rev. Carrol Jones, pastor of Progress Methodist Church, a useful man and a needed man, leave this community. He and his family are moving to Stinnett, where he will become pastor. At the request of the editor, Rev. Jones wrote an article to tell the folks how much they love them and how badly they hate to leave.

In the course of human events it sometimes happens that even people who consider themselves as "permanent fixtures" in a community must move. Right now that is happening to us very unexpectedly. In the mad rush of trying to move on a week's notice, we have not had time to properly say "thank you and goodby" to so many friends and neighbors in the Muleshoe territory. My family and I, therefore, are borrowing the good offices of The Muleshoe Journal to shake the dirt of Muleshoe out of our shoes.

It must have been a little more than 35 years ago when I first laid eyes on Muleshoe. As a boy I remember getting to sit in the front seat of the Model T so I would be right handy in opening gates and helping to pick the right cow trails on our visits out "west" from Olton to Muleshoe. Although it took half a day to come, it didn't take long to look the town over after arriving.

I must say that none of us were too favorably impressed with the future outlook for Muleshoe in those days. The publicity committee of the Chamber of Commerce was on vacation and things just didn't look too inviting. I made up my mind on one thing - I would never be counted among the residents of Muleshoe or its environs and I spent my opinion to this effect rather freely. It was a joy to shake the dirt of Muleshoe out of our shoes.

Now I find the situation exactly reversed. In '45 I staked out a little claim in the Y. L. community and began to speak of Muleshoe as home. Before long my wife and I had the feeling that we would build our dream home right here where once I said I would never live.

This beautiful section and its wonderful people just grew into our hearts. Before coming to Muleshoe I swore off school teaching. I was going to farm and let the world go by with its troubles. I wanted a rest and a very private life with my young family. Many of you know how well I kept my promise. Next year Y. L. needed my service as a school man. The following year following consolidation I was in Muleshoe High. Things were different then, but well, I'll stop at that.

In '48 I plunged a little deeper. The old sense of responsibility had me going again. I felt an urge to be of greater service and to pay "the debt of love I owe." Some speak of it as a call to preach. My "call" was one of helping men to know God as I be in progress in downtown Lubbock.

Farm people will be exploring all possibilities of a workable farm program. It doesn't matter whether a farmer wishes to help his profession through policy discussion or help increase his profits through knowing more facts found from research. Mr. Adams said, but he has a date in Lubbock October 13. Field tours start at 9 a. m.

So for the last eight years I have been officially classified as a minister. I have been fortunate in having a pastorate that has given me an unusual opportunity and a free hand to pursue my own interpretation of religion which is not altogether orthodox. I have operated under the idea that "orthodoxy" should give the simple teachings of Jesus a chance to break out in this modern world. What a wonderful new day we could have if we could only unforget the "good news of Jesus" - just crack it out of some hindering traditional patterns. This I have preached and tried to practice.

In practicing my convictions I have been unable to escape the call from Macedonia to "come over and help us." God's bounty are not ours to lavish upon ourselves. The have-much-have-a-responsibility-to-the-have-little. In God's world we can't escape it. War and desolation is the natural penalty of national selfishness.

Because of these convictions I have as an ambassador for Christ busied myself with other people's business - giving many the opportunity of lending a helping hand to God's unfortunate children in distant places. Recently the generosity of people in this area helped make it possible for me through the Christian Rural Overseas Program (CROP) to help carry a ship load of TEXAS FRIENDSHIP to Korea.

This project needs to be followed up. We have only begun a program of friendly international relationships under Christian auspices that has wonderful promises. And in the very midst of it all I have to up and move. But I still have a sense of obligation which I wish to meet in the form of a report on the Korean project.

I have promised to come back to Muleshoe to show the movies which I made of the trip and give a brief report. Possibly the date will be Oct. 27. As soon as arrangements are confirmed, notice will be given so that all who desire may sit in on this report. I especially want all who had some part in TEXAS FRIENDSHIP FOR KOREA to be present. I am simply your agent of friendship in the matter.

Hasn't it taken a long time to say goodby? My family and I go to Stinnett with a deep sense of appreciation for all the fine people of this area. Our prayer is that all of us may grow "in favor with God, and man." Come to see us in Stinnett. The latch string is on the outside of the door.

—Carrol Jones and Family

Rainfall for September, 3.37 in.; for October, .99 in.

Sunshine never looked so good to Plains farmers as it did Wednesday morning of this week, coming as it did after several days of cloudy, dripping skies. It was the second recent wet spell, beginning last Thursday and continuing through Tuesday.

A dry southwest wind prevailed through Wednesday, and today a dry norther blew in to help the sunshine drive away the last vestiges of moisture from feed and cotton stalks and fields.

The weather man indicates more of the same can be expected the next few days, so the outlook for an early resumption of cotton and grain harvest appears to be good. Many were becoming jittery, for rain at this time of year would mean serious damage. Undoubtedly, cotton, grain, tomatoes, and sudan have been damaged some. Some sudan has begun to sprout, and a shock, and a discoloration caused by rain could bring about a bad market condition. Grain, too, can easily sprout in the field when it is ripe and too much wet weather comes along, but it is not felt that widespread damage to milo and kafir has resulted so far.

Cotton growers who had some hail ten days or so ago have found they had more damage than at first thought. Where a hail stone left a hole in a cotton boll, the water has entered and rotted or soured the boll. Some "sp" may result also.

More Good than Harm That the rain has been of more benefit than it has damaged crops was the opinion expressed by Frank Hinkson, north of town, and Jimmy Wedel, west of town. This averaging of the results doesn't help the man who is badly hit, but the overall picture does look that way.

Wheat and oats growers of course needed the rain. And as soon as sorghum grains are harvested, farmers will prepare the ground, for there is now ample moisture.

Cotton harvest was just beginning in the area when the rains began, and it is expected work will be resumed as soon as the ground is dry again. Gins of the county are poised to go to work on a crop that is now estimated at 55,000 bales.

Apparently, boll worms have done considerable damage in the irrigated areas, especially where cotton was rank. Tom Morgan had noted quite a few in his tallest cotton. Wedel said the worms have done more damage than he at first thought.

Inman Elected SCD Supervisor

Sherman Inman was elected supervisor of District 2, Blackwater Valley Soil Conservation District at a meeting held here Tuesday night in the offices of Bailey County Electric Cooperative Association. Burt Black, who was not a candidate for reelection.

Mr. Black presided at the meeting until the selection of Jimmy Wedel as permanent chairman. Joe Sooter acted as secretary.

About twenty farmers of the district attended. Lonnie Bass, ASC office manager, discussed the 1956 ACP program, giving details of the wheat allotment set up, and discussing also the grain storage situation. J. K. Adams, county agent, told about the future and possibilities of hybrid sorghum grains during the program.

Mules Return To Home Pasture For Abernathy Battle

After three weeks on the road, Muleshoe's Mules football team come back to the home pastures this week to do battle with the Abernathy Antelopes. Their three games away from home have been three defeats for the Muleshoe, who were defeated by Canyon, Sudan, and Springlake on successive weekends. It made our boys have failed to win in four starts this season.

Abernathy's Antelopes come to Muleshoe fresh from a scintillating victory over Dimmitt, 34 to 14. It was their fourth straight win this season.

A chuck wagon supper is being sponsored by the senior class preceding the game, and plenty of time will be allowed for eating before the opening kickoff.

The evening's are cool since the rains, not too cool, the grounds will all be dry, and it ought to be a great football night for the fans.

Seniors Sponsor Chuck Wagon Supper Friday Night

Mrs. Albright, Tickets are $1.00 for adults and $.50 for children. Anyone not buying advanced tickets may pay at the door.

Pvt. Billy Joe Morrison has been visiting in Muleshoe with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Morrison, Sr., and other relatives and friends. The Morrison family met him at Amarillo Air Port, September 17, when he arrived from Fort Ord, Calif., where he had been stationed and where he took his basic training. He left Muleshoe September 29, by auto, for Camp Chaffee, Ark., where he is to be stationed for the next eight weeks. Billy is a graduate of Muleshoe High School. Cleaning Women's Felt Hats
If you can't afford a new fall hat, give the old one a new look with careful brushing and cleaning.

Start by careful brushing. This may show up spots and stains that need special treatment. Try using the sandpaper method first. With a piece of No. 0 sandpaper, begin at center top of crown and gently sand in the same direction around the crown, side crown and the brim.

If this fails, use naphtha or other cleaning fluid. Dip a small brush as nail brush in the cleaning fluid, shake out the excess and brush hat until the soiled spots disappear. Remember to work outdoors when using cleaning fluids.

White or light colored felt hats may need special treatment. Saturate cornmeal with naphtha or other cleaning fluid. Rub the mixture into the felt with a clean stiff brush. When fluid has evaporated, brush out the cornmeal and air the hat before storing.

Care Of Leather Accessories
Leather accessories are expensive items in the clothing budget these days. Fall and winter costumes call for more leather belts, bags, gloves, and shoes. Preserve the beauty and length-of the life of the articles by proper care.

Shoes especially receive hard wear. An economical plan is to have two pairs for alternate daily wear, permitting each pair to rest or dry out between wearings. Perspiration weakens leather, and causes shoes to crack and rip. Use a good shoe cream frequently to protect the leather. Preserve the shape of your shoes by using shoe trees or paper pads in toe and heel.

On belts, bags and gloves use cream or wax polishes to protect the leather and keep it pliable and soft.

To remove spots from leather articles clean with benzene or gasoline, air well, and re-polish. Saddle soap can also be used to remove dirt and grease from leather articles between polishings.

Prevent cracking and preserve the finish on patent leather articles with vaseline. Use a cheese cloth pad to apply a light even coating once or twice a month.

To clean and brighten velvet, try this suggestion. Place the velvet on the ironing board with the nap up. Smooth gently to remove all wrinkles, then pin down the edges. Put a few drops of chloroform on a soft cloth and rub carefully with the pile of the velvet. The chloroform evaporates rapidly, so re-dampen the cloth several times. This helps to restore the color as it cleans. CAUTION: Work outdoors or near an open window.

Arlen Wesley Back In Tech Line For Saturday Game

LUBBOCK, Oct. 3 - Texas Tech meets the only Border Conference school ever to defeat a De Witt Weaver coached Red Raider team, Texas Western, in El Paso Saturday night.

ARLEN WESLEY
Texas Tech Co-Captain

It was in 1952 that the Miners mustered a 20-14 decision in Lubbock. Otherwise, only a tie with Hardin-Simmons the same year mars the Border Conference record compiled by Weaver in 18 games.

With his best team in history ready for Saturday night's fray, Coach Mike Brumblow is prepared to stage another upset. The miners, tied by North Texas the week before, unleashed a powerful attack to drub New Mexico University, 34-0, last Saturday.

Texas Western sports a potent combination in a pair of all-conference selections, quarterback Jesse Whitenton of Ysleta and end John Howle of Abilene.

Whitenton earned the "most valuable player" award last season, as did Tech's Jack Kirkpatrick of Post the year before. Tech, which managed to carve out a 24-6 victory over Oklahoma A&M of the Missouri Valley Conference last week, should approach full strength for the first time since the Raiders' opening victory over University of Texas.

Only tackle Jerry Walker of Pampa and fullback Jim Stiles of Lubbock both twice all-conference should be sidelined this Saturday. Back in action will be guard Hal Broadfoot of Clyde, and center Don Barber of Floydada. Center Dwayne West of Fort Worth got back in for the Oklahoma A&M contest.

Farm Bureau News

The regular monthly meeting of the Bailey County Farm Bureau was held in the Farm Bureau office, October 4.

In keeping with the policies of the Farm Bureau to recognize the outstanding farm boys and girls of our county, the board of directors voted to pay the expenses of Miss Jay Carney to the State Meet Dress Review. Jay has been outstanding in sewing and dressmaking in County and District competition.

A tentative date of October 27 has been set when the Farm Bureau will sponsor a moving picture of the highlights of the trip hogs, dairy cattle, goats, other to Korea by Rev. Carrol M. Jones. This movie will show the assembling of the many gifts of livestock, seed, sewing machines and many other items that people in Bailey County and the state of Texas contributed to CROP in the Friendship to Korea program. Since Rev. Jones has moved away this may be the first and last opportunity to see this film.

There will be a meeting in West Camp Church on October 17 at 8:00 p. m. to discuss the problems worked out in the Lubbock meeting. All farmers and their families are urged to attend. There will be a meeting also at Three Way a tentative date is October 18.

The Bailey County Convention will be held October 24 in Muleshoe, to draw up the resolutions of Bailey County Farm Bureau. These resolutions will be the recommendations that have been made at the West Camp, and Three Way meetings, and any other recommendations that farmers in Bailey County have to make.

We will need some voting delegates for the State Convention to be held in the Texas Hotel the 3, 7, 8 and 9. We are allowed seven delegates.

Joy Ann Melson and Gary Reid, Jr. Are Wed In Ceremony At Main Street Baptist

MRS. GARY REID, JR.

In a beautiful double-ring ceremony read at the Main Street Baptist Church, Sunday, September 25, at 2:00 p. m., Miss Joy Ann Melson became the bride of Gary Reid, Jr.

Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Melson, of Muleshoe, and parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Gary Reid, Sr., of Munday.

Rev. E. K. Shepherd performed the ceremony before an altar banked with white gladiolus and greenery. An archway of candleabra completed decorations.

Mrs. A. L. Sterner, of Abilene, was accompanied at the piano by LaVon Copley, as she sang, "I Love You Truly", and "The Lord's Prayer". Miss Copley also furnished traditional wedding music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a waltz length gown of Chantilly lace over cotton-satin. The gown was designed with full gathered skirt, and a tight fitted bodice which featured a high neckline. Her shoulder length veil of illusion was attached to a cap of Chantilly lace over satin, encrusted with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white roses and white carnations, atop a white Bible.

Matron of honor was Mrs. B. M. Rose of Brownfield, twin sister of the bride. She wore a waltz length gown of mint green taffeta featuring a full gathered skirt, and a fitted bodice. Designed with high neckline, the collar was sprinkled with seed pearls. Her cap, which was sprinkled with seed pearls, matched her dress, and she carried a nosegay of white feathered mums.

B. M. Rose, of Brownfield, brother-in-law of the bride, served the bridegroom as best man.

Vic Spivey, of Seminole, cousin of the bride, and Brenda Melson, sister of the bride, lighted the candles. Ushers were Curtis Spivey, of Seminole and A. L. Sterner, of Abilene.

the home of the bride's parents. Laid with a beautiful cloth of white lace over pink, the bride's table was centered with an arrangement of gladiolus. Mary Ellen Wingo presided at the punch service, and Ruby Garvin and Wanda Ogletree served cake. Guests were registered by Myra Hogan.

Following a wedding trip to points in New Mexico, Mr. and Mrs. Reid will make their home near Munday, where the groom is engaged in farming.

Mrs. Watson, treasurer-librarian, gave the financial report.

Jesse Osborn, State Representative and guest speaker, was introduced by Mrs. Buck Ragsdale, program chairman. Mr. Osborn gave a very interesting and informative talk during which the ladies learned that the first Mental Hospital in Texas, which was built in 1857, is still in use. "Our laws are very much outmoded, at present it requires a jury trial to commit an individual to a mental hospital for treatment", Mr. Osborn said. More funds are needed for more and better hospitals, trained personnel, research, and new drugs.

Plans for the House Beautiful tour, October 23, were discussed, and two new names were presented for the waiting list.

It's HOME FASHION TIME, Sept. 29—Oct. 8. This is the time of year the new home furnishings styles are introduced to the home-maker. Most retail furniture stores are holding open house so that you can see these new fashions.
The new fashions for your home are elegant and tasteful. The dining room shown is typical of today's trend. Furniture is scaled for the smaller dining area, yet styled for the more formal setting. This particular group is a classic contemporary version of Italian Provincial styling.
Circular dining tables have found a return to popularity and it is not difficult to see why. This one is truly elegant, as well as functional. Note the casters for easy mobility.
Generously proportioned, the drop leaf serving cart has many purposes. It may be used as a tea wagon, a bar cart, a room divider, or a living room console. It too, is on casters. The entire surface, including the drop leaves, is of a white formica to insure permanent loveliness.
Walnut wood has been used for this grouping. This is highlighted with brass trim seen in medallions on the table apron, in the lovely loop drawer pulls, and the tiny orbs atop the chair back. To unify the setting, wall-to-wall carpeting is used.
During HOME FASHION TIME you can preview these new fashions for your home.

Barrow Bred By Inman And Sons Wins High Honors

A Poland China barrow bred by Sherman Inman and Sons of Muleshoe was judged champion of the heavy weight division at the New Mexico State Fair at Albuquerque last week.
The animal was shown by Larry Hudson, of Texico, N. M.
Mr. Inman said they have had quite a few bad breaks this year with their pigs. One occurred just before the fair at Clovis, when a barrow they had sold to a Texico high school boy died from the heat. Mr. Inman said this was one of the best pigs he had ever seen, and sev-

Sheriff Freeman Rotary Speaker

Sheriff Hugh Freeman discussed juvenile delinquency along with law enforcement problems before the Muleshoe Rotary Club Tuesday noon.
Mr. Freeman paid tribute to the Little League and the Babe Ruth League, which he said keep boys busy in a fine sport, and he said that since the establishment of this baseball program or young boys he has not had to deal with a single juvenile delinquent.
At the same time, he cautioned his listeners that when a repeat-er in wrongdoing, a man who is old enough to know what's right, is brought before a jury, it is the duty of the jurymen to see that the law is enforced.

Juvenile delinquency is no respecter of homes; wealthy and poor come from the line the parents, teachers, or perhaps a business man has failed, the sheriff thinks. He asked for the cooperation of everyone in eliminating delinquency and law violation.
Stanley Fox was introduced as the junior Rotarian for the month. He is an outstanding student of the senior class. Other guests included Joe Salem, St. Jan Rotarian, and Gil Lamb, of Muleshoe. D. B. Lancaster was in charge of the program.

Rites Held Friday For Gene O. Mayo

Funeral services for Gene O. Mayo, of Petersburg, were conducted at the Methodist Church there Friday, Sept. 30. Mr. Mayo, who was a brother of George Mayo of Muleshoe, passed away in Taylor Hospital, Dallas, at 3:45 Tuesday afternoon. He had been ill since July. Mr. Mayo was 48. He moved to Petersburg in 1914 with his parents from Gordon, Texas. He was born Oct. 25, 1906, in Palo Pinto County, Texas, and was married to Miss Lois Snelling in 1934 in Floydada.

He is survived by his wife; one son, Sam of Petersburg; three brothers, Joe, of Petersburg; George of Muleshoe; and Mike of Philadelphia; and one sister, Mrs. Hazel Hughes, of Midland.

Springlake Beats Muleshoe 28-0

The Muleshoe Mules went to Springlake Friday night, Sept. 30, to play the Springlake Wolverines for their fourth game this season. Although the Mules were beaten 28-0, they were playing good ball all the way, and both teams showed fine sportsmanship.

The Mules were taken by surprise from the kickoff when Ronald Sandel, Springlake halfback, took the kick on his own 12 yard line and ran the remaining 88 yards for the first TD. Rex Loftis ran the extra point. Muleshoe took the kick and were held, so they had to punt out on the last down.

The determined Mules then held the Wolverines and when Springlake failed to get a first down, Muleshoe took the ball on the Springlake 30 yard line. The Mules worked up to the Springlake 4 yard line and then Springlake took the ball when the Mules didn't make the first down. The Mules then set the

Bailey Products Win Fair Prizes

Many individual prizes were won by crop and vegetables products exhibited in the Bailey County booth at the Tri-State Fair, Amarillo, and South Plains Fair, Lubbock this year. County Agent J. K. Adams and Mrs. Adams accumulated the specimens for the booths.

Out of thirty entries at Amarillo, the local exhibits won 8 first, 9 seconds. They had 11 entries at Lubbock, won 5 first, 3 seconds.

A. R. Bounds' watermelons were first at Lubbock. And some Texas No. 2 tomatoes, grown by Mr. and Mrs. Adams were first place winners at both fairs.

Wolverines get through the line and soon Ronald Sandel went over for the second Wolverine touchdown from his own 35 yard stripe. Loftis again ran the extra point.

Muleshoe took the kick and made about fifteen yards and again had to kick to the Wolverines. The Muleshoe defense held the Wolverines and the Wolverines punted. Again Springlake took possession after the Mules had to punt and Rex Loftis threw a pass to Max Nell for thirty-five yards and a touchdown. The extra point was good. The half ended with the ball in Muleshoe's possession and the half time score was Springlake 21, Muleshoe 0.

No score was made in the third quarter, but Muleshoe had the ball most of the time, and they were playing a tight defense now. Early in the last quarter Joe Edd Wheat intercepted a Muleshoe pass on the Mules 35 yard line and after they had worked to the 5 yard stripe, Loftis went through center for the touchdown. Ronald Sandel ran the extra point.

That was the last touchdown made as the score stood Springlake 28, Muleshoe 0. The Mules from then on were trying for a much needed touchdown and when the game ended they were on the Springlake 25 yard line and had just made a first down. The Mules played a nice game all the way.

Despite admitted handicaps and difficulties to be overcome, Muleshoe area can (as believed in pioneer days) become a great vegetable producer.

Some of the present handicaps: Fickle weather and fickle markets. Add to this the consideration that every year is different for different crops, and that growers have to learn, mostly from experience.

As for the third condition, Muleshoe farmers have learned how to solve other problems, and they can learn about produce.

Little can be done about the weather, but selection of proper varieties bred to meet conditions here can certainly help to ameliorate effects of the weather. Selection of varieties of tomatoes best suited for Plains weather conditions, for instance, will without a doubt help to produce a tomato more in keeping with what buyers want.

Now, as for the market situation: Reliable markets are, of course, a must. We believe good markets will come about as more reliable companies, like Alexander Marketing Co., become interested in Muleshoe and perform the function of finding buyers for produce grown here.

Alexander Co. has had a hand in helping to market quite a sizeable portion of the potato crop, although that wasn't what they came here to do. Now, they are buying Muleshoe tomatoes for the "green wrap" trade. Might interest you to know they made nothing on first tomatoes handled, indeed, lost money. They're a determined bunch, well backed financially, and they kept buying Muleshoe tomato growers are going to do all right this year.

Alexander Co. hope to come out all right, too, before the year is over, on their tomato deal here and likely will.

One thing this writer has found about those who process or buy produce: They try to tell the grower about the risks involved before, he ever commits himself to a single acre to vegetables.

Potatoes, onions, cabbage, carrots, tomatoes, peppers are grown at the grower's risk. He has no support price furnished by the government; his produce may hit the market at a time when prices are high; on the other hand, he may dig potatoes at a time when no one wants potatoes, a condition that prevailed here this year.

Enticements are: reasonable irrigation, fertilizer and cultivation costs, and if the market holds good, an extra high money yield per acre. If it doesn't turn out that way, it was a poor bet. As we said above, we believe that improvements in marketing may be expected. No one, much less this paper, is taking the position of encouraging the farmer to take risks he is not financially able to take.

But the world is hungry for Muleshoe grown potatoes, lettuce, cabbage and carrots. At the same time, the world hopes we will produce less sorghum grain and less cotton, and unless we are away off, there will be curtailments in allotted acres or supports for these products. What are we going to grow on our fertile, idle acres?

Amana PLAN IS NOT A LUXURY FOR HOME MAKERS!

One of many Amana owners of Muleshoe, Mrs. Harold E. Newsom is surely an admirer of her new Amana Food Freezer. Mrs. Newsom says, "we have always thought owning a food freezer was a luxury, but since we now own the Amana and have the privilege of buying under the Amana Food Plan, we have definitely decided that it is not a luxury; it is a savings that I would recommend to any family. I'd say the Amana Food Freezer and the Amana Food Plan is the best investment we've ever made. We are proud to be Amana owners."

More Than 100 View Rev. Jones' Movie Of Texas Friendship For Korea

By DOROTHY GILES
Journal Society Editor

Some one hundred persons gathered Monday evening of this week at the Y. L. Church building to view a movie of Rev. Carrol Jones' trip to Korea with the Texas Friendship for Korea group.

To begin the evening, invocation was given by Rev. Jones, after which delicious sandwiches, cake and home made ice cream were served.

Before showing the film, Rev. Jones spoke on his trip, explaining a few of the things which would be seen in the film.

First part of the movie was taken south of Muleshoe on the Morton highway, showing the beautiful beargrass growing, and the rolling hills. Next came the loading of animals, feed, sewing machines, plow tools, and other items donated by people in the Muleshoe area.

Leaving Muleshoe, the next part of the movie was filmed in Plainview, and viewers saw the Muleshoe Mules, the trailer donated by Muleshoe

Chamber of Commerce, and items donated by persons in the Plainview area, in the parade which took place there.

In Houston, where the Friendship group embarked, viewers of the film witnessed the ceremonies during which various Texas dignitaries spoke, and the loading of the huge ship, "Sylvia Lykes". For this reporter, viewing the film was almost like making the trip with Rev. Jones.

The ship left Houston at midnight following the loading, which took one and one half days. Next scene was on the sea showing the gentle rolling of the ship, and beautiful white-caps breaking in the distance as far as the eye could see. The sea was as blue as the bluest ink, and Rev. Jones said many times he wished for some empty ink bottles.

He was accompanied on the trip by a number of other Texas Methodist ministers, and some Texas Cowboys. Pictures of the group caring for the livestock on the ship was very interesting. First stop was Panama Canal.

None of the Texas group left the ship there, but Rev. Jones, using his movie camera, took pictures of the beautiful scenes along the canal, including two of the huge U. S. Army Bases, and the huge locks at the canal. The beauty of the Canal Zone is beyond description.

The ship next docked at Honolulu, on a Sunday morning. Following church services, crew members left the ship, but members of the Texas delegation had to remain aboard.

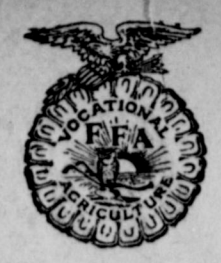

The "Sylvia Lykes", with her precious cargo left Honolulu and once again put out upon the high seas, and the next stop was Pusan, Korea, where a number of the animals and other items were unloaded. Here was shown, too, homes of some of the Korean people, and the people themselves. Rev. Jones said that though the majority of the Korean people lived in squalor, many of them lived in fine homes, and were a very cultured people. "In fact", said Rev. Jones, "the Korean culture is the oldest in the world." There is also a middle class of people there, much like our middle class here", he said.

The parade of 4-H boys and girls, the Texas delegation, and Methodist ministers, and some Texas Cowboys. Pictures of the group caring for the livestock on the ship was very interesting. First stop was Panama Canal.

Next the movie camera took viewers to Japan, to visit with Rev. Jones' sister-in-law and her family. She is a sister to Mrs. Jones, and her husband is a missionary in Japan.

The group flew to the United States by American Airlines, and the last part of the film was taken in Tucson, Ariz., where the group left the train for a few minutes.

Following the film, Rev. Jones spoke on his trip, and said that the main thing Americans

Charles Bratcher To Receive FFA Highest Award, "American Farmer"

By BUDDY BLACK
In July of 1953 Charles Bratcher received one of the highest honors that a member of the Future Farmers of America can receive. During that, his senior year in Muleshoe High School, Charles received the Lone Star Farmer Degree. From that point there is only one more step up to reach the top as a Future Farmer. At the National FFA convention in Kansas City on the 9 thru the 13 of this month, Charles will at last reach the top, and be awarded the American Farmer Degree.

Charles, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Bratcher of Muleshoe, began his FFA work as a freshman in Muleshoe High school. That year he had as his projects a gilt for pig production, three acres of milo and a registered dairy heifer. His labor income from this first year was $81.94.

As a sophomore, Bratcher really began to make a name for himself in the local ag. chapter. He served as the chapter's second vice-president that year and stepped up his project considerably. He fed out four pigs and increased his heifer program to two head. Charles also increased the scope of his operation to 80 acres of cotton.

By the time Charles reached his junior year, he was not only an outstanding personality in the FFA Chapter here, but he had claimed a place of leadership in the other departments of the school as well. During that third year he played football at a guard position for the Mules and was elected "Class Favorite" by his fellow students.

During his third year of agriculture, Charles had three head of dairy cattle and increased his cotton crop, once again, to 80 acres. That year he continued his extra activities by once again holding his position at right guard on the football team and serving as president of the local FFA.

As a senior he was awarded a medal by the school for his outstanding leadership in the schools vocational department. Following his graduation in July of 1953 he journeyed to the state convention to receive his Lone Star Farmer's degree. The assets from his agricultural program at that time totaled $3,151.

Throughout Charles' high school days, in his church work, and high school activities there had always been another person. On June 14, 1953, Charles and Tommie Bovell were married in the standing ability as evidenced by his leadership and cooperation in student, chapter, and community activities, and have a satisfactory scholarship record certified by the local school superintendent or principal". His home town, friends, and school can be proud of him as he leaves for the National Convention and the last big step up.

So excitingly new, we couldn't wait!
The new long Lincoln for '56 is here—Now!

This handsome sedan introduces Lincoln's Premier series of fine cars—new companions to the famous Lincoln Capri.

WE ANNOUNCED the 1956 Lincoln early this year. We just couldn't wait.

For this Lincoln sets a new standard for fine car styling and performance—proves conclusively that a car can possess length and luxury and still be as lithe as the most cat-like of sports cars.

This is a truly long Lincoln... over a foot longer in the frame. And it's a lean, crisp length.

This is a truly luxurious Lincoln. Incomparably rich in fabric and color and detail.

And this is a Lincoln with unprecedented maneuverability. The 1956 Lincoln's new V-8 engine turns out 285 horsepower with scarcely a whisper. An advanced automatic transmission puts that power to work with a smoothness unequalled in any motor car. And improved suspension makes even country roads seem like superhighways.

We invite you to break with the past. Drive the completely new 1956 Lincoln and prove to yourself that length and luxury can, at last, be as maneuverable, as easy to handle as a sports car.

Stockholders Approve Merger General Telephone With Theodore Gary & Co.

SAN ANGELO, Sept. 29 -- Overwhelming approval of the merger of General Telephone Corporation and the Theodore Gary and Company was voted today by stockholders of the two companies at meetings held in New York and Kansas City, respectively. The merger will become effective Oct. 31, 1955, according to word received here by W. G. Wright, president of General Telephone Company of the South West.

Basis of the merger is an exchange of stock in which General Telephone will absorb Gary. Gary stockholders will get 1 1/2 shares of General common for each Gary share, either common or participating common.

General Telephone System, which even before merger is the largest independent (non-Bell) telephone system with operations in 21 states, now will operate about 2 1/2 million telephones in 30 states, or a third of the country's non-Bell system telephones.

Principal investments of the Gary Company are the Associated Telephone and Telegraph Company, whose subsidiaries are engaged primarily in the manufacture and sale of telephone communications equipment (and includes the Automatic Electric Company) and Continental Telephone Company whose subsidiaries are engaged in furnishing local and long distance telephone service through 18 telephone operating subsidiaries in 17 states.

Subsidiaries of both companies are located in Texas and Oklahoma.

PARMER COUNTY Farm Bureau News

By RAYMOND EULER

Correspondence received to date, indicates that freight cars will be received in Parmer County in sufficient numbers to move out all grain ordered shipped by CCC, before harvest is fully underway. There is an actual shortage of cars, and that is why your Farm Bureau has found it necessary to inform traffic centers of the urgency of our local situation the last four years. We never get as many cars as we could use, but traffic is expedited.

Your president, Gilbert Kaltwasser and resolutions chairman, Raymond Schueler have done everything they thought would inform farmers of the open forum in Bovina Thursday night. They would be happy if the auditorium were filled with "talking farmers", because they want to know what the man on the farm wants so they can draw up resolutions and presented for vote, for or against, Thursday, October 20, they can truly be "the voice of organized agriculture" in Parmer County. That is what Farm Bureau is for, to amplify your voice so that it will be heard in Austin and Washington.

During the harvest of the 1954 cotton crop, Texas Farm Bureau requested the CCC to permit producers who were dissatisfied with the Smith-Doxey staple and grade classification to request a re-examination of the cotton without sending in the card on which the original grade was stamped. We were not successful in securing the privilege for the 1954 crop but were promised by the CCC that such a procedure would be available for the 1955 crop, and now producers may ask for and secure a re-examination

NEW VIGOR FOR SWEET POTATO INDUSTRY

The Texas sweet potato industry is having growing pains. Although it was far from puny—grossing some $10 million in good years—recent developments show promise of making the "yam" a really robust commodity in state farm economy.

The Texas Sweet Potato Law has been in effect just over a month. And already, some changes have had to be made to help move the crop to market this year.

Nov. 15. After that date, unclassified potatoes found anywhere according to original specifications the same as No. 1's and 2's.

Sweet potatoes are grown widely in East Texas, with a new development on the High Plains area and in South Texas in recent years. Upshur, Titus, Cass, Smith, Morris, Van Zandt, Wood, Robertson and Leon counties are the traditional leaders until now.

The law calls for grading, inspection and proper shipping of potatoes under certification of the Texas Department of Agriculture. Originally, U. S. No. 1 and U. S. No. 2's, along with unclassified grades, had to be boxed in standard approved cases to prevent damage and assure uniform quality. But the law failed to reckon with Texas' production capacity.

However, lack of consistent grading was the principal deterrent in outside markets until this year. The new law was designed specifically to correct this lack.

The new grading standards are essentially the same as those of the United States Department of Agriculture. As a matter of fact, in some ways they are a little better—which should give Texas a slight edge on out-of-state markets when the facts become generally known.

Standard packing cases, approved by law, fell short of the demand. As a result, a change in regulations was made to allow unclassified grades to be shipped in bulk. This is a temporary measure good only until

'Growth Of A Giant'

The huge scale of the exhibits in the Agriculture Show at the 1955 State Fair of Texas, Oct. 7-23, is illustrated by the display showing how agricultural research has developed grain sorghum into Texas' leading grain crop. "The Growth of a Giant" depicts the development of the crop from the old-fashioned tall, goose-necked, hand-harvested grain through the short combine-harvested type to the hybrid of today with as much as 40 per cent higher yield.

NATIONAL NEWSPAPER WEEK OCT. 1-8

Personal Freedom In United States Tied To Press

By RABBI THEODORE L. ADAMS
First Vice-President
Synagogue Council of America

The annual observance of National Newspaper Week offers a welcome opportunity to emphasize again the fundamental relationship between freedom of the press and those other basic freedoms which give meaning and dignity to our lives.

A basic concept in Judaism is that of free will, which means essentially that every man has the right to self-expression. The democratic pattern of life in our United States is so precious to us and to the rest of the world yearning for freedom because it is only in a democratic society that man has the opportunity to use this divinely-given gift of choice.

It is self-evident that freedom of choice is a mockery where men do not have, as part of their rights and obligations as citizens, the basic rights of freedom of speech, freedom of assembly, freedom of worship and freedom of the press.

In mankind's long struggle to assure these rights, the press has been a mighty instrument for civilization. The press of the United States has a particularly distinguished record in revealing abuses of these rights and in mobilizing the power of public opinion for the correction.

It is surely no accident that the United States, the nation which has achieved history's brightest example of personal freedom for all, is also the home of the freest press in the world.

Given right to choose to grow, to express his deepest aspirations of self-fulfillment, except in a democratic society, which is inconceivable without a free press.

Let us remember, not only during this special Newspaper Week celebration, but during all other weeks of the year, how great is our stake, as free citizens, in the existence and constant strengthening of our free press.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

How spiritual understanding of divine law brings freedom from discord of every kind will be explained at Christian Science services Sunday.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon "Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" is the Golden Text from Romans (8:2): "The law of the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus hath made me free from the law of sin and death."

The importance of coping with sin is emphasized in selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy including the following (3:15-16): "The likeness of God we lose sight of through sin, which beclouds the spiritual sense of Truth; and we realize this likeness only when we subdue sin and prove man's heritage, the liberty of the sons of God."

Readings from the Old and New Testaments of the Bible will include Christ Jesus' parable of the prodigal son (Luke 15).

SAND HILLS PHILOSOPHER PUZZLED

Over Politicians' Objections To Making Issues Political Football

Editor's note: The Sandhill Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm is talking about politics or football this week, we can't tell which.

Dear Editor: I noticed in a copy of a newspaper which I was using to fan the gnats off me yesterday afternoon where Secretary of Agriculture Benson, in a speech in Salt Lake City, said the "farm program should not be made a political football."

Just a while back, another Washington official, I forget his name, said foreign policy should not be made a political football, and over the past few months other topics which officials said shouldn't be made into a political football included social security, income taxes, balancing the budget, national defense spending, airplane contracts, tax cuts, and a good many other I forgot to keep track of.

The question I want answered is: what are they gonna leave us to play football with?

The way it looks to me, a lot of politicians in this country must be opposed to football, and personally, while I never play the game myself, I never considered it very sinister, in fact it seems to afford a lot of people a lot of pleasure and besides is a good way for a lot of boys to work their way through college, even if it doesn't leave much time for education, although this is no real criticism, as I've noticed you can never go near a football stadium and still get through college without bothering much with an education.

But back to the other type of football, political football, regardless of how much the officials claim we shouldn't use this or that subject as a political football, I'm afraid they won't get anywhere with it. The game is too popular.

If yelling when farm prices go down or promising to do something about it if elected, without mentioning exactly what, is making a football out of the farm program, I'm afraid the game will go on. Farmers aren't much different from football fans, when the game isn't going to suit them, they start howling.

This is a great American sport and if prices stay low everybody is likely to continue making a football out of the farm program, and if by the end of the season things are still the same, they'll make a political basketball out of it, then a political baseball and finally maybe a track meet. I rule out ping pong, though.

Yours faithfully
J. A.

RABSON DISCUSSES—

Stock Market Explosion

Rabson Park, Mass., Oct. 6 — What has happened to our good friend President Eisenhower has been the match to set off the explosion which has been due for some time. Those of you who have followed this weekly column will remember that I have often noted five "sticks of dynamite" which were awaiting something to set them off.

FIVE REASONS FOR THE COLLAPSE

1. Buying By Investment Trusts, Pension Funds, and Institutions. The money has come into these so fast that the fund managers felt they must invest it. Furthermore, they naturally turned to the biggest companies.

2. Tremendous Building of Houses. This exceeds that of previous years. The money is well spent, both to house the owner and help the twenty-seven industries which benefit from the building of every house. Home purchasers, however, should have been made to put up more money of their own, and not buy houses on shoestrings.

3. Greatly Increased Installment Purchasing. I do not criticize the purchasing—even on installments—of automobiles, electric refrigerators, washing machines, modern kitchens, and other things which improve the efficiency of the home; but buying TV sets, with hardly a down payment, may be questionable.

4. Military Expenditures A Great Factor. To the extent these are paid for by taxes, they are not too serious; but they cannot be depended upon. Furthermore, although necessary, the expenditure is uneconomic.

5. Poor Yields Of Stocks After Payment Of Taxes. Except in the case of Pension Funds, Institutional Investments, and other nontaxable purchases, low yields may be the greater factor. After most investors deduct the income tax from their dividends, the yield is altogether too small to run the risk of buying stocks.

EFFECT UPON BUSINESS AND EMPLOYMENT

What the market will do from now on: I forecast that most major dips will go lower than the preceding dip. Yet, each dip in due time will be followed by an upward reaction. This latter will probably not reach as high as the preceding upward movements. What will really happen to the stock market will depend upon general business, which in turn determines employment. Employment determines retail sales, which supply the factories with orders, thus completing the economic cycle.

President Eisenhower's health will be a great factor in determining the immediate future of business. Many large undertakings have been held in abeyance pending a decision from President Eisenhower as to whether he will run again. This work will doubtless now be held up until it is known who the Presidential candidate will be. Perhaps this means that the contracts will not be signed until after the election, if they are signed for some years to come.

EXPECT THE UNEXPECTED

Motorists Should Always Be Alert When Driving Around Children

WHAT THE PRESIDENT WOULD LIKE TO DO

Intimate friends of President Eisenhower and his wife have known that he does not like the details, the public speaking and entertaining demanded by the Presidency. He enjoyed being General of the Army where his work was largely confined to thinking and planning. Others carried out the details. No one opposed him or ignored his orders. We now know he will not run again. But I believe that he would have liked to be Secretary of defense or Secretary of State or Chairman of the Security Board. His holding such a position would add greatly to the Administration and give the country a lift.

When manufacturers and merchants telephone me asking what they can now do to prevent a business depression, I reply: "Spend more money on advertising." As stated above, future business and prosperity depend upon retail sales at the grassroots level. To stimulate these sales, two things are required: More advertising and better employee relations. I hope that every businessman and wage-worker will do his part along these lines during these critical weeks.

"Expect the unexpected from children."

"That should be the watchword for all motorists at all times, but especially during the peak hours of school traffic in the morning and afternoons," E. C. McFadden of Dallas, Vice-president of Employers' Casualty Company and President of the Texas Safety Association, Inc., told motorists today in speaking of the united community effort being made to reduce traffic casualties to school children by the Texas Safety Association, the Department of Public Safety and the National Safety Council.

"Children often are unpredictable in their reactions," Mr. McFadden said. "This is especially true during the school and strains of growing up."

"Despite repeated warnings from parents and from school people not to jaywalk, or beat the light, or run in a street after a ball, children are apt to forget these warnings and walk or run right into danger."

"While we are all united in a common drive against the senseless killing of our children by motor vehicles each year, we must always be prepared for the unexpected, and keep alert whenever near an area where children may be walking or playing near the street."

"Many of the 4,000 children killed and the many more thousands injured in accidents over the past year were the traffic consequence of an impulsive action on the part of a child," McFadden said.

"While we as parents and teachers are doing our best to teach children how to protect themselves from accidents," he said, "statistics show we are not doing enough to insure the safety of our children. We must depend, therefore, on the motorist and enlist his cooperation in remembering his own safety practices even if a child occasionally forgets them."

"The motorist who always expects the unexpected from children and who drives accordingly recognizes the problem and is doing his part to save our children," McFadden concluded. "That driver will be able to avoid an accident should a child forget."

Meditation Today's

CHRIST'S SUFFERING FOR US

Read John 10:11-18.

I am the good shepherd: the good shepherd giveth his life for the sheep. (John 10:11). The shepherd is gentle toward his sheep. He leads them into green pastures and beside still waters. The sheep are at peace with him; they trust in his protecting presence.

I have witnessed such scenes in Portugal where hungry wolf packs daringly attack the flocks. The shepherd, however, confronts them with equal daring, risking his life in defense of his sheep.

The parable of Jesus always have conclusions based on real life facts. He called Himself the good Shepherd. He risked His life to save us from the gnashing teeth of the wolf of sin. He willingly gave it to save our sinful souls, unworthy even of a much lesser sacrifice.

Do we appreciate this costly sacrifice? A mother or father might make such a sacrifice for a son or daughter. Christ sacrificed Himself for all without distinction, pouring out His precious blood for all alike.

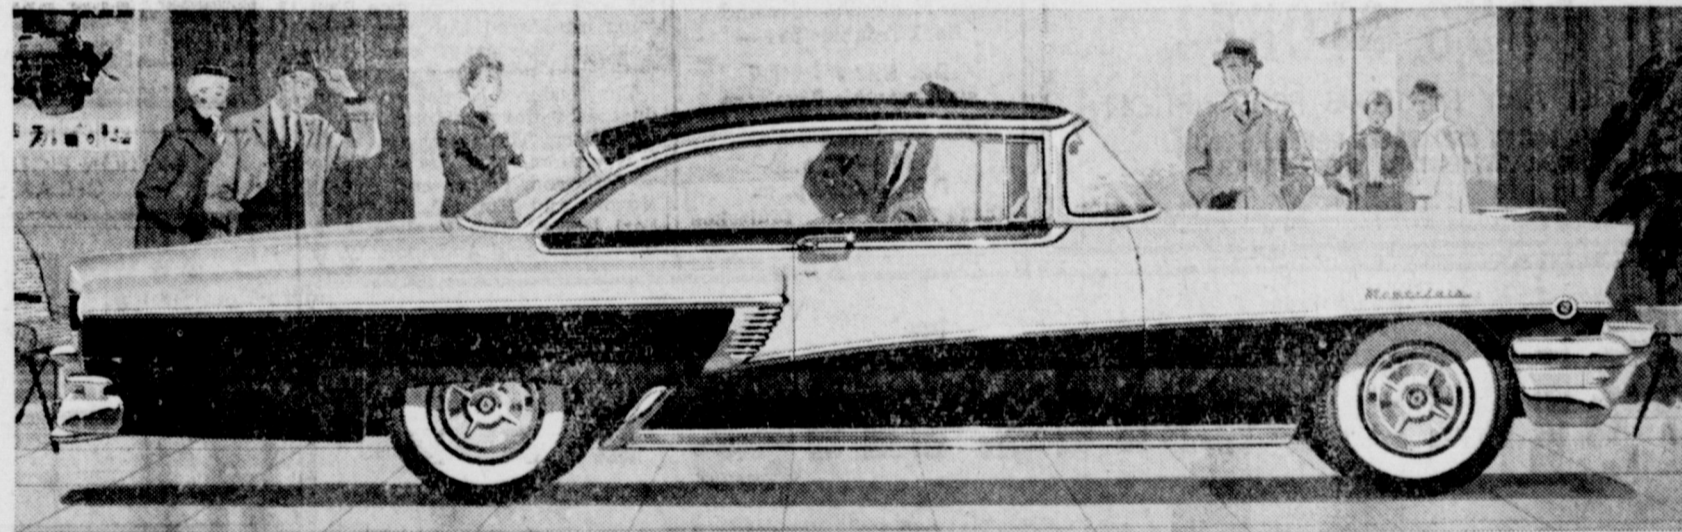

PRAYER

Blessed God, we know that the good Shepherd goes on before us. Help us to follow in His footsteps so that we may come into a life of peace in communion with Thee. In the name of our good Shepherd we pray. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

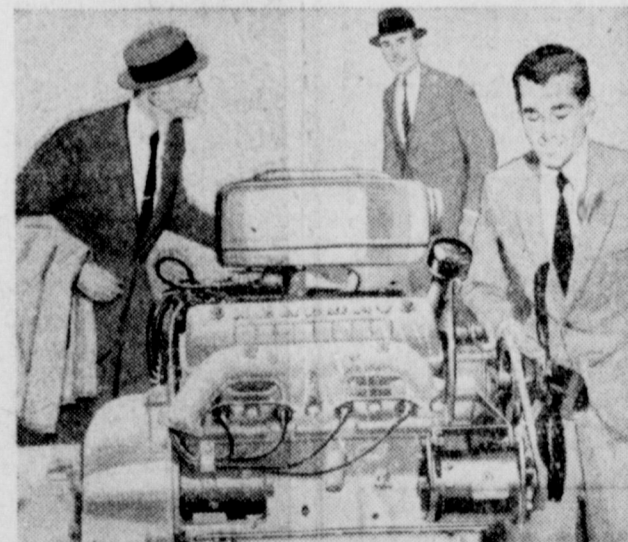

Following Jesus — the good Shepherd—we will find the way.

Mary Mendoza Speaks To The Lazbuddie WSCS

Mrs. Mary Mendoza, an Indian of the Walspai Tribe, was guest speaker, as the Lazbuddie W. S. met last Thursday afternoon for the third lesson on the study, "Indian Americans".

Mrs. Mendoza and her family reside on the Nelson Foster farm in the Oklahoma Lane Community. She is Spanish-American. She and her husband have a son who attends Lazbuddie Schools and plays on the freshman football team. Mrs. Mendoza came to the meeting dressed in traditional Indian costume. She wore her hair in two long braids. Her headband, moccasins, belt and purse were covered in minute beads. Her moccasins were of a soft white leather.

Until five years ago, Mrs. Mendoza had lived on an Indian Reservation near Kingman, Ariz. She told of the government school which she attended, and learned to speak English. While attending the school, she also began attending church, and is now a member of the Presbyterian Church. Many years ago she said, the reservation kept "pale face" preachers, but now have Indian preachers, which her people like much better.

Her tribe, the Walapai, is a small tribe only about six hundred members. Their ancestors lived in Hogans like the Navajos, but now live in modern homes.

Their chief ceremonial is a memorial for dead, during the past year, and is held annually at Flagstaff, Ariz.

Other speakers featured on the program included Mmes. H. E. Gilmore, Frank Hinkson, C. D. Gustin, and W. C. Williams, Jr. Refreshments of punch and cake were served to Mmes. V. H. Bewley, C. D. Gustin, Mary Mendoza, Frank Hinkson, H. E. Gilmore, Finis Jennings, E. F. Ford, W. C. Williams, Jr., H. I. Ivy, and pastor, Bruce Matthews.

WSCS In Regular Meeting Monday

W. S. C. S. of the First Methodist Church of Muleshoe met Monday, Oct. 3, at 2 p. m. in the Fellowship Hall for a regular session with 16 members and two visitors present.

The program was opened with the group singing "Publish Glad Tidings." The study, "Indian Americans," was led by Mrs. David Anderson. Others taking part on the program included Mrs. A. C. Gaede.

Mrs. I. F. Willman favored the group by singing "Dakota Hymn" as a devotional hymn. Mrs. Anderson took the scripture, "God seeks his own," from the Methodist Hymnal. Mrs. Clarence Stephens introduced the new study, "Indian Americans," which she will begin next Monday, Oct. 10.

The business session was conducted by the president, Mrs. H. Jay Weyer. Those present were: two visitors, Mrs. Daisy Abbe of Jefferson, Okla., and Sherell Mason; and Mmes. A. C. Gaede, Earl Howell, Roy Bayless, I. F. Willman, David Anderson, W. D.

With the coming of our new citizens to Muleshoe it will be well for all of us to keep in mind this thing of coming a stranger among strangers, and making a special effort to let them feel that this is home in Muleshoe.

No one ever grows too old that he or she forgets his and her first time away from home and the missing of friends. Then there comes that AFTER WORKING HOURS feeling that goes along with it that does not help very much, that thing of having time on our hands and nothing to do or no one around to help us find something to do or at least to share it with us. All of these seem to pile up and all at one time. All of this is part of life that comes to all who are having to make new adjustments.

The question comes, then, sometimes "How does one go about making friends?" Those who lived all their natural life back in the old home town did this rather unconsciously, it just seemed to naturally happen. Now they and others must make it happen.

Parker Circle WMU Met Thursday

Parker Circle of the W. M. U. met last Thursday morning at Trinity Baptist Church Mission for Bible Study. Rev. J. E. Moore brought the lesson.

Next meeting is to be held Wednesday morning, October 5, at 10:30, at the First Baptist Church. Each member is to bring a covered dish for luncheon. Husbands and families are invited.

Attending Thursdays meeting were: Mmes. Bob Pillow, Albi Rathiff, J. E. Moore, J. R. Harri-

of our leading women psychiatrists, has said: "Not to WANT friends, to WANT them and NOT BE ABLE TO MAKE THEM, TO MAKE THEM AND NOT BE ABLE TO KEEP THEM, is a sign of poor mental health. For mental health, AIM TO HAVE MANY FRIENDS, lasting ones many sorts, without too much interdependence on either side, AND FIND SELF AT HOME IN ALL SORTS OF GROUPS." This is the key to unlock the door.

"There ought to be no strangers in this little vale of tears; I haven't seen a stranger's face for years and years and years."

I see, of course, some people that I have never seen before. But they're just like the other. They've known in days of yore the self-same things the rest have known and felt.

They'll freeze up for unkindly folks, for kindly ones they'll melt. They've each had a sorrow that they thought they couldn't bear. But bore it, just as people do with sorrows everywhere."
