Highway patrolmen investigating the accident reported the tractor was being driven east by Alfonso Segovia, 21, on the farm road just north of the Muleshoe Coop Gins.

Segovia is said to have been momentarily blinded by lights from a nearby house, and the tractor hit one of several caliche piles in the road. Segovia was thrown clear, but Resendez was caught by one of the rear wheels as the tractor overturned and was dashed against the tractor body, killing him.

Segovia was hospitalized at West Plains Hospital, where the extent of his injuries was not known early this week.

The building will contain a 32x60 foot refrigeration room, featuring the latest designs and recommendations of the American Society of Refrigeration Engineers. It will have fiber glass insulation and a capacity of ten cars. It is of double unit construction with thermostatic control and automatic humidifiers. ## Heat Hits Plains; Heavy Rains Hurt Crops At Longview

Although the Summer Solstice is still almost a month away, being due on June 22, there is little doubt that summer is at least unofficially in force on the West Plains.

Afternoon temperatures reached an official 98 degrees at the Muleshoe weather station Tuesday about 3 pm, and an unofficial 102 degrees was reported downtown.

Another quirk of the weather brought an unexpectedly heavy flash-flood shower to the Longview community Sunday morning, dropping more than two inches of moisture in a short period of time.

One farmer in the community reported considerable damage to his newly planted cotton, and several farmers were arranging for crust-busting and scratching equipment to try to get the embryo plants out of the ground in the wake of heavy rains.

REMEMBER WHEN?

by JOHN CROW

In a small town in the Canadian backwoods, a country doctor named Allan Roy DaFoe went on a routine mission. A 25-year-old woman, already the mother of six children, was going to have a baby. Her name was Mrs. Olivia Dionne.

What happened after the doctor arrived electrified the world... for Mrs. Dionne gave birth to five little girls, who became the most famous babies in the world, the Dionne quintuplets. Their combined weight was less than ten pounds all together at birth.

Dr. DaFoe saw to it that all of the quintuplets survived... Yvonne, Annette, Cecile, Emilie and Marie. The world took the quintuplets to their hearts. Within a few years 3000 visitors a day would be counted coming to their home just to see them. The world has never forgotten the Dionne quintuplets, whose early years were eagerly followed in press and newsreel by millions, but do you remember when they were born?

Remember the year? A family man in those days, with a few mouths to feed, couldn't afford to gamble when he bought a car, new or used. He looked for the best deal he could find... and bought from a reliable dealer he could trust. The year was 1934.

Whether you're in the market for a new 1958 CHEVROLET or a good late model used car, we can offer you a better deal. Right now we have a terrific selection of good, reconditioned used cars... backed by our reputation for dependability and honest dealing. So drive safely with a good used car from—

Cotton Needs Help Face 20% Cut Says Secy Benson

How much worse can it get? Cotton growers have had their acreage slashed drastically in five straight years of controls. Unless Congress does something this session, they face a further 20 per cent cut in 1959.

Agriculture Secretary Benson indicates he almost surely will be forced to cut allotments from their present 17.6 million acres to about 14 million next year—if present farm law stands.

The result would still more idle land, land planted to less profitable crops, and a further income cut for the farmer, whose income is already too low.

What's more, a small 1959 crop would aggravate the shortage of better quality U. S. cotton which is already forcing mills to lower grades and encouraging substitution of rayon for cotton.

Cotton farmers need an acreage increase instead of a decrease. This means a lot to this area because when cotton is hard hit, we're all hard hit.

Congress is trying to make up its mind about the farm program. Time for corrective action for cotton is short. Cotton growers should express their concern. They should let their Senators and Representatives know their views—and right away.

Agent Urges Early Season Control Of Hoppers, Thrips

Grasshoppers are being seen in greater numbers than in any other year in recent history. They are mainly concentrated in pastures and in vegetation bordering fields, but are giving farmers the jitters as they move into cultivated acreage.

J. K. Adams, Bailey county agricultural agent points out that authorities at A&M college have already been contacted and they have worked out a survey through the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine in San Antonio.

Unofficially, they report the situation not as alarming in this area due to the fact that very few newly hatched hoppers were in evidence.

It is agreed by officials concerned, that money spent for poison to kill grasshoppers in vegetation on all field borders would be money well spent.

Plenty of information concerning details of poisoning may be found in the 1958 Cotton Insect Guide, available at the Extension Service office in the courthouse at Muleshoe.

Fortunately, the same poisons that kills thrips in early season cotton control, also kill grasshoppers. Thrips, the insects that are almost too small to be seen, are doing much more damage to cotton, and both can be killed with the same poison, the agent advises.

Wedding Shower For Mrs. Whitsett In Richards Home

A wedding shower, honoring Mrs. Al Whitsett, the former Virginia Gillis, was given Monday, May 26, at 2 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Sam Richards.

The table was decorated in the chosen colors of blue and gold. About 30 guests were served cake and punch.

Hostesses were Misses D. E. Bellar, M. L. Oswald, L. M. Hennington, N. W. Lee, G. A. Richards, Ingle Gatewood, Don Bruns, Shirlene Thomas, Julie Sims and Misses Emilie and Sue Jacobs.

Mosquitoes May Be Killed With Two Poisons

The spring and early summer influx of mosquitoes has presented a problem in this area, and county agent J. K. Adams urges farmers with water holes and lakes not being used by livestock to put out poison to kill the insects.

Adams said half a pound of either Toxaphene or Malathion applied per acre of water will control the mosquitoes and their breeding places.

Make a one percent oil solution of DDT, chlordane or toxaphene, and use about 10 quarts per acre of water surface. Or, use one half pound of Malathion in 10 quarts of kerosene, repeating as needed, usually at weekly intervals.

4-H's Learn to Curry the Iron Steed

Instead of currying horses and mules, American farm youth today learn to curvy tractors to do the big farm job. They find that both have much in common. The iron steed as well as the old grey mare needs food (fuel) for energy, clean air for full power, and daily care for peak efficiency. The 4-H boy pictured above is typical of the 550,000 club members who have benefited from special training received in the annual 4-H Tractor program conducted by the Cooperative Extension Service, and arranged by the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work, Chicago.

Along with "learning by doing" in machinery operation and maintenance, the young farmers are quick to realize that "care prevents repair." They receive expert instruction and guidance in carrying out the objectives of the tractor program, and in doing so direct their best efforts toward winning one or more awards offered by the Humble Oil and Refining Co.

Younger club members can try for county medals, while the more experienced compete for the state award, an all-expense trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago next fall. The top award for 12 national champions will be a $400 college scholarship, according to the Extension Service.

the home of Mrs. Horace Hutton, Mrs. Harriett Jackson, County Home Demonstration agent, gave a demonstration on the basic foods. Eleven women attended. Mrs. Louis Henderson joined the club at the meeting. Refreshments of iced drink and cookies were served.

cently. Gifts for a baby were displayed in the receiving rooms that were decorated in white and pink. White cake with pink icing and pink punch were served to about 30 guests. Hostesses were Mmes. Hutton, Neal Smith, Jack Hutcherson and Curly Avery.

Wheat Referendum Scheduled June 20

Texas wheat farmers will help make an important decision when they vote June 20 in the national wheat marketing quota referendum, Searcy M. Ferguson, chairman, State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, said today.

If at least two-thirds of the growers who vote in the referendum approve quotas for the 1959 crop, Ferguson explained, the 1959 wheat program will include acreage allotments, marketing quotas (with penalties on "excess" wheat) and price supports at a minimum national average of $1.81 per bushel, or 75 percent of parity.

If the quotas are not approved by at least two-thirds of those voting, there will be no marketing quotas or penalties, but allotments will remain in effect as a means of determining eligibility for price support. The price-support rate would be about $1.20 per bushel, or 50 percent of parity, as provided by law.

Chairman Ferguson pointed out that wheat marketing quotas and acreage allotments operate only in commercial wheat States—those with allotments of more than 25,000 acres. Texas has an allotment of 4,099,094 acres for the 1959 wheat crop.

Growers eligible to vote in the referendum are those who will be affected by the wheat quotas if they become effective. Thus, farmers who will have 15 acres or less of wheat for harvest as grain in 1959 and those who are taking part in the 1958 feed wheat program are not eligible to cast ballots in the 1959 wheat quota referendum on June 20.

Social Security Representative To Be Here June 5

Businessmen, including self-employed farmers, who are retiring soon can speed up social security payments by having the necessary documents at hand.

When filing a claim for social security, certain proofs are required. A self-employed individual should have an extra copy of Income Tax Form 1040, and Schedule C or F, depending upon his business activity. Where partnership Form 1065 was filed, a copy of that form also will be required. These forms will be kept with his file in the Social Security Administration. Usually forms for only one year are needed—the last one before the year you file a claim for old age benefits. Also be prepared to show your cancelled check, money order receipt, or other evidence showing payment of social security taxes for that year.

A representative of the Lubbock Social Security Office will be in Muleshoe on June 5, at 9:30 a.m. at the courthouse and will be glad to assist in all matters pertaining to Social Security.

DeMolay Chapter Installs Tonight

Officers of E. Y. Lee Chapter, Order of DeMolay, of Lubbock, will hold public installation of officers and will confer the Chevalier in ceremonies tonight, May 29, in the Blue Lodge room of Lubbock Masonic Hall, 1207 Main.

Muleshoe boys have formed a club under the Lubbock Chapter, and they and members of their family are invited; however it is hoped many other Muleshoe Masons will attend on this occasion.

Christian Science Services

How spiritual enlightenment brings freedom from the bondage of materialism will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Ancient and Modern Necromancy, alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced" is the Golden Text from Romans (12:21): "Be not overcome of evil, but overcome evil with good."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be read the following (22:24-26): "Citizens of the world, accept the glorious liberty of the children of God."

Mrs. Haberer Was Delegate To Red Cross Convention

Mrs. Bonnie Haberer of Pleasant Valley community, had the pleasure of meeting and chatting for a time with General Gruenther, president of the National Red Cross, when she attended the annual convention of the organization, held in San Francisco May 19 to 21. She was the delegate from the Lamb County Chapter.

She was impressed by his brilliant intellect, his sincerity, and the devotion of the general and his wife to the cause of the Red Cross.

The Red Cross, Mrs. Haberer recalled, last year poured $48,000 into Lamb County alone, following the disastrous tornadoes which struck the county. Therefore, she believes that the American people need to bring their best thinking, and sacrifice more in the future for the Red Cross, which is always present when disaster strikes.

During her stay at the convention she was able to see only a little of the colorful city, but she enjoyed what she saw.

Before going to the convention, she had toured the Northwest, and said she must have visited in the homes of some 20 former West Texas families. At Ellensburg, Wash., she visited a sister, Mrs. C. E. Bearden and family; and in Vancouver she was the guest of another sister, Mrs. Adolph Dieter and family. She returned home Friday after having been away a month.

Babson Discusses

SUNDAY SELLING

Babson Park, Mass., May 29—There is no one who wants to see a prosperous America more than I do. But if the only way to more business is to convert Sunday into just another work day, then America is in worse shape than I had thought!

Our Sunday Sales Problem
People in puritanical New England where only 1% of the supermarkets are open on Sundays are probably unaware that 78% of these markets are open Sundays in the Mountain and Pacific States. In California, stores of all kinds never close. The real reason for this is competition for the everlasting sales dollar.

There are a number of causes for the inroads the merchant is making on the Sabbath: (1) The long-term pattern of business from 9 to 5 gave way to wartime needs when stores in certain manufacturing areas remained open evenings to cater to round-the-clock defense workers. (2) The mass movement to Suburbia following the war radically changed consumers' buying habits; it was much more convenient to stay at home and shop in Suburbia, especially if the stores there remained open nights. (3) When competition for consumer dollars stiffened, it was but a short step into Sunday from Saturday afternoon—particularly in those parts of our country where Sunday Blue Laws either are weak or receive only token enforcement.

Is Sunday Selling Good

For Merchants?
That depends on who and where you are! The now famous case of Hess Brothers, Allentown, Pennsylvania's largest department store, points up one answer to this question. Last October, a large discount house, "Two Guys From Harrison, Inc.," began drawing away the Hess sales volume. Hess Brothers finally threatened to keep its doors open on Sunday, too. Hess' threat caused a Pennsylvania district attorney not only to fine the owners of "Two Guys From Harrison, Inc.," but also to fine each of the 100 or so employees of the discount house for violation of a 160-year-old Pennsylvania Sunday statute. This is one side of a typical problem confronting many communities today.

Another look, however, reveals that more and more merchants staying open on Sundays count on their Sunday sales to make the difference between the week's profit and loss. These merchants argue that times change, and with changing times must come changing merchandising techniques. In short, Sunday selling, they say, has become a matter of economic survival.

The Case Against Sunday Selling

The very fact that so many favor Sunday selling is a reasonably good index of how materialistic our culture has become. The paths of history are strewn with the wreckage of cultures that neglected their spiritual development. The place for our families on Sunday is in God's House, not in a Discount House. Surely in a country where the work week becomes constantly shorter and leisure ever greater, we ought to be able to find a little time during the week for reflection and spiritual regeneration.

Parents, law enforcement officials, educators—all who work with young people—are concerned with the many symptoms of maladjustment: juvenile delinquency, divorce, creating, etc. But, these are indications of a deeper problem: lack of adequate standards and values.

Better Homes Needed

We parents need to bring into much sharper focus the standards of right and wrong, and we need a philosophy of life much less ego-centered and a lot more others centered. Dare I say that most of our youth are what our homes have made them? This is where the Church comes in. Where, if not in the Church and in the church-oriented home, is the average youth going to develop sound moral and spiritual fiber?

As a businessman, I believe the business community owes more to its constituents than just making it easy for people to buy what they want when they want it. The balance sheet must be scrutinized for spiritual losses that may do far greater harm in the long run, than the immediate material gains. We need a "business depression" to bring us to our senses, and perhaps something more serious.

Sandhills Philosopher Finds His Plans And . . . Ike's Have Habit Of Failing To Pan Out Financially

Editor's note: The Sand Hills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm manifests some sympathy with Washington this week, his letter reveals.

Dear editor:
I have decided that running the government in Washington is not much different from running a farm or a family out here on this Johnson grass farm, financially speaking.

Last year, if you'll recall, President Eisenhower sat down to figure up what it was going to take to run the country for a year, and he said that while spending would be up some, this could be handled all right because incomes would be up, consequently taxes would bring in more, and the budget would balance with maybe a half-billion dollars left over.

Now though, with incomes not quite as high and hence tax revenue less, it looks like the government will go in the red around three billion dollars.

That's exactly the way it turns out for me. I can sit down and figure up what my expenses will be, what my income will be, and show a paper profit, but invariably as the year wears on things keep happening.

Expenses are a little more than I figured on, income is a little less, and by the end of the year me and the national government are in about the same shape. It's a funny thing, but I can always see fewer expenses and more income than ever results. Just like President Eisenhower couldn't have been expected to see a mild recession coming, I couldn't see that tractor tire I was going to ruin. It was a good tire, lots of rubber still left on it, and I figured it was good for two or three more years at the least. I got two dollars on it on a trade-in.

The same thing was true about that piston rod, that cow that got sick and died, the roof that blew off, the fence that fell over, my wife's breaking her eye glasses, those relatives that piled in on us.

I tell you, you never know what's going to turn up next on this farm or in the White House. Of the two jobs, though, I believe I prefer this one. It's one thing to have your wife nagging at you when you take off on a little vacation, but another thing to have the entire United States population to answer to.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Today's Meditation

Read Acts 6:1-8.

These that have turned the world upside down are come hither also. (Acts 17:6.)

Sometimes we see "Do Not Disturb" signs on doors to rooms in hotels or hospitals. These signs seem to hang also on the doors of some churches and minds.

We have come a long way since Pentecost, but some of our distance may have been in the wrong direction. Our own comfort, our consciences, our conduct have been dictated more often by respectability than disturbed by the implications of the gospel. Because we have been soothed by the gospel, our response to it does not disturb others—not transform the world to which we have been conformed. The early Christians gave themselves up to the power of the Holy Spirit. As the result, they had a disturbing effect on others, who wondered and were amazed. Early Christians had the reputation of turning the world upside down. Because the Holy Spirit prompted them to good works, their jail sentences became titles of honor.

PRAYER

Our Father, when our lives are filled with self, the seeds of unhappiness are sown in us. Empty us of self that we may be filled with the Holy Spirit. Produce in us such fruit as love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness, self-control. In Christ's name. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

As a Christian, what will be my influence today upon persons about me?

April Bond Sales $17,595 In Bailey

"During the month of April $17,595 in Savings Bonds were sold in Bailey County," reported Mrs. Inez Bobo, county chairman. Savings Bond sales in Texas for April were $14,176,749 which is 4.3% above sales for April 1957.

"Keeping America strong in military preparedness and economically sound must be the concern of every American," stated Mrs. Bobo, county chairman.

"Savings Bonds help strengthen America's peace power by building economic stability," Mrs. Bobo concluded.

Mrs. W. M. Cook went to Sudan to stay with her mother, while her brother is in a hospital.

THIS WEEK

—In Washington

With Clinton Davidson

LET'S STOP AIR ACCIDENTS

The recent series of airplane crashes have shocked official Washington into an all-out effort to develop and administer more stringent regulations over the use of the airspace.

Officials have recognized that unless this is done, and at once, our airways may become as dangerous as our highways. The more than 100,000 planes, civilian and military, now in use often create dangerous traffic jams.

The Civil Aeronautics Board, delegated by Congress to promulgate air traffic and safety regulations, has issued orders which are intended to increase the safety and convenience of air travel. That order became effective April 1.

The administrative agency responsible for carrying out those regulations is the Civil Aeronautics Administration, an agency under the Commerce Department. It is both an air traffic police force and safety enforcement agency.

Both of those agencies, the CAB and the CAA, are under civilian direction. They are authorized by Congress to "police" military flying, except in an emergency, but neither has the power to penalize military flyers who violate the regulations.

Congress Starts Hearings

Recent congressional hearings brought out testimony that the recent mid-air crash of a military jet and a civilian passenger airliner near Las Vegas, Nev., was due, in part at least, to lack of proper liaison between the military and civilian air traffic control authorities.

The airliner, the testimony disclosed, was on time on a regularly scheduled route near an airbase when the jet pilot was given permission

Farm Income Net Up $13 Billion From First Quarter, 1957

The annual rate of farm operators' realized net income rose sharply to about $13 billion dollars in the first quarter of 1958, compared with a rate of $11.7 billion in the same quarter of 1957.

This reflected substantially higher prices received by farmers for beef cattle, hogs, eggs, potatoes and other vegetables, for which supplies were reduced from a year ago, points out B. A. Wooton, extension economist.

Prices of farm products are running well above last year and are expected to average higher for the year than in 1957, says Wooton. Prospects indicate that supplies of some products will increase, notably vegetables, hogs, fed cattle, and eggs, so, farm operators' realized net income in 1958 is expected to be from 5 to 10 percent above the $11½ billion dollars in 1957.

This increase is the opposite of last year's situation, he points out. Realized net income to all farm operators was lower last year than the year before, though income per person on farms was about $90 higher last year than in 1956.

The increase in income per person last year was due to the fact that there were about eight percent fewer people on farms, leaving fewer people among whom the agricultural income was divided, he adds.

More and more farm people are supplementing their incomes with off-farm employment, notes Wooton. In recent years the ratio of income from non-farm sources, compared to farm sources, has been about one to two. This means that farm people are making $1 in non-farm jobs for each $2 they make on the farm.

The future level of income per person on farms may depend a great deal more on income from these non-farm sources.

and tactics. Like the U. S. Air Force Officer Candidate and Pre-Flight school, also located at Lackland, second phase training prepares graduates for eventual duties of critical importance to the Air Force and the Nation.

Yield, 8-inch layer.
Stir sugar into the mix. Combine milk, eggs and vanilla. Stir half of the liquid into the mix and beat two minutes or use electric mixer for the same length of time at low speed. Scrape bowl occasionally. Add the remaining liquid and beat two minutes. Bake in pans lined with waxed paper in a moderate oven, 375 degrees, about 25 minutes.

This cake recipe can be used for "upside down" cake using sweetened pineapple, peaches, cherries, apricots or other fruits or berries. Mince meat "upside down" cake is another good variation. Spices will change it to a spice cake.

says Mrs. E. B. McMahan
BOISE CITY, OKLAHOMA

★ Mrs. McMahan insisted on clean cooking 30 years ago when electric ranges were something of a novelty. Her first electric range was only 27 inches wide, "But," says Mrs. McMahan, "It was clean—and that's what I wanted most."

Today Mrs. McMahan has a modern double-oven electric range with automatic control on both ovens. She has push-buttons, too, and bakes pies, 5 at a time, to put in her electric home freezer. This grand lady, who has kept pace with the advances in electric cooking, says of her electric range, "Nothing goes wrong and the porcelain finish is so easy to keep clean." In addition to her range, Mrs. McMahan has every modern convenience in her kitchen and laundry—all completely electric.

Here's the Smoothest riding pickup...

Ford Styleside pickup — lowest-priced pickup with cab-wide box.

'58 FORD

Proved by Scientific Impact-O-Graph ride tests

You (and your family) are in for a pleasant surprise when you drive a new Ford pickup. A new suspension system, with rubber-cushioned springs plus long two-stage rear springs, gives you a ride that's more car than truck—empty or loaded. Yet, Fords are priced with the lowest. Running costs are low, too—because of economical short-stroke design in Ford's V-8 and Six. Ford resale value is traditionally high. And an independent study by insurance experts proves Ford trucks last longer.

Impact-O-Graph picture of a competitive ride. The Impact-O-Graph (a scientific instrument used to measure bumps) records what you feel — jar and jounce. Same Road, Same Speed — but some difference! Ford's new suspension gives the smoothest ride of any pickup — a ride mighty close to that of a car!

Official registrations show: AMERICAN BUSINESS BUYS MORE FORD TRUCKS THAN ANY OTHER MAKE!

Choice Plan Urged For Cotton Men To Keep Fiber On Open Markets

A program for cotton that would give individual farmers a choice between higher acres and lower price or lower acreage and a higher price was advocated today in a report to the cotton industry. The report was issued by the Board of Directors of the National Cotton Council.

In releasing the report, Board Chairman George G. Chance of Bryan, Texas, pointed out that if legislation is not passed the industry faces a cut of more than 20 per cent in acreage allotted for cotton in 1959—from 17.5 million at present to 14 million.

The Board urged adoption of a "choice plan" as a transitional program pointed toward a competitive, one-price system, coupled with a permanent program under which the price would be at or move to a competitive level as soon as possible.

"It should avoid problems involved in the present law, which fails to take cotton's competition into account," the report added.

All elements of the industry were urged to unite in working with the legislative and executive branches of the government in the enactment of the necessary legislation immediately. The report also urged two other steps:

"In determining marketing quotas and acreage allotments, provisions should be made for adequate supplies of cotton both in the U. S. and abroad, with due allowance for the quality requirements of the market and for the large margin of error which is inherent in forecasting production, consumption and exports a year or more ahead. Provision also should be made for increasing established allotments by administrative action in the event a quality shortage should develop after an allotment has been announced.

"Farmers should be permitted, under reasonable regulations, to transfer allotments within a county or state under a rental or purchase agreement."

The Board in its report pointed out that the delegate membership of the Council in January urged an "immediate increase in cotton acreage in 1958 sufficient to produce adequate supplies of all qualities of U. S. cotton needed to meet the requirements of our customers both at home and abroad."

The delegates had called for adoption of a long-range price and production program that would move as rapidly as possible toward: (1) expanded production and consumption of U. S. cotton; (2) competitive prices for U. S. cotton; and (3) a one-price system for U. S. cotton that maximizes the use of normal trade channels and minimizes the role of government in cotton marketing.

In its report issued today the Cotton Council's Board of Directors declared:

"Despite most strenuous efforts on the part of the industry and many Cotton Belt Congressmen and Senators, an increase in cotton acreage in 1958 was not obtained, due primarily to complications arising from the Soil Bank program.

"With regard to 1959 and thereafter, substantial progress has been made by producers and other segments of the cotton industry, as well as by congressional leaders from the Cotton Belt, in developing approaches generally in line with the objectives set forth in the Phoenix resolution.

"The Council's Board of Directors has carefully reviewed all these developments; and in addition has appraised the extremely critical situation which inevitably will confront the cotton industry if action is not taken by the present Congress to meet this crisis. Without adequate legislation this year, cotton faces further major declines in its markets and a resurgence of its competitors, both in this country and abroad—developments that unquestionably will mean drastic and permanent losses to the U. S. cotton industry."

4-H Clubbers Plant Gardens - Crops To Enter In Contests

Local 4-H'ers and a million other club members all over the country are moving right along in two important "growing" projects: garden and field crops. The Cooperative Extension Service directs the work.

The field crops program teaches how to produce quality crops and manage soil. Job possibilities on the farm and in related industries are explored. Participation in the garden program gives practical experience to 4-H boys and girls. They learn what to plant, how to market, and the importance of home grown vegetables and fruits in their daily diet. Demonstrating recommended practices to others, and exhibiting their wares at county and state fairs also are important phases of both projects.

Club members between 10 and 21 years old are eligible to enroll in the programs, according to the County Extension office. At the end of the club year, 4-H records are judged for county, state and national honors. In addition to excellence in project work, fulfilling the objectives of 4-H rates high.

Garden awards are provided by Allis-Chalmers Mfg. Co., Tractor Group, while the field crops awards are given by the Arcadian Products Dept. of Allied Chemical Corporation. Each state winner will be a delegate to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago early in December, and $400 college scholarships will be presented to national winners.

Freeze Surplus Spring Vegetables

Freezing is a quick, easy way to preserve fresh greens, asparagus, and other spring vegetables. Extension foods and nutrition specialists say that freezing keeps the natural color, fresh flavor and food values of most vegetables.

enough for the crop to mature before frost. Late irrigation can delay maturity and seriously reduce grade.

5. Pick promptly and carefully whether by hand or machine; avoid mixing good cotton and bad, wet and dry lots.

6. Deliver cotton to the gin as dry and clean as possible. The ginner, too, has a responsibility to keep his equipment in order, to use proper drying and take time to do a good job.

7. Sell on merit. Have cotton classed before selling; then sell on the basis of its grade and staple. This is the grower's means of assuring himself of the benefit of producing better cotton.

Planting Tips For Soybean Farmers

West Texas farmers planting soybeans for the first time this year may benefit from the experience of producers who have grown this crop for several seasons. Factual information on soybean production in West Texas has also been developed at Texas Agricultural Experiment Station in Lubbock, Paymaster Farm at Aikin, and the High Plains Station of the Texas Research Foundation at Halfway.

Variety, soil temperature and moisture, and length of daylight period, all strongly influence soybean yields. A soaking preplant irrigation, followed by a clean cultivation to control weeds, should have the soil ready for planting. The Lee variety soybean has proven to be the best adapted for West Texas.

Soil temperature should be 65 degrees F., or higher, soil moisture level high, and seeds should be inoculated with a special soybean bacteria inoculant just prior to planting. The Lee variety soybean should be planted between May 25 and June 15. Rate of planting should be from 45 to 60 pounds of good quality seed, or an average of one seed per inch of row, planted on 36 to 40 inch rows.

Cotton planting and cultivating equipment is used for soybeans, and the same row width setting of equipment eliminates the need to reset for each crop. Soybeans should be planted in a very shallow furrow or as near to ground level as possible. When planted deeper, early cultivations often cover the first few nodes which may cause a reduction in yields. A planting depth of 1 inch is ideal, but in any case, seed must be planted in good moisture.

The use of the rotary hoe following seedling emergence affords good early weed control. One or more later cultivations prevents further weed competition with the small soybean plant. Irrigation of soybeans is essentially the same as for cotton until plants begin to bloom. From this time on, high soil moisture must be maintained throughout the bloom set, pod and seed development period.

Consider this: He, that being often reproved hardeneth his neck, shall be suddenly destroyed, and that without remedy. When the righteous are in authority, the people rejoice; but when the wicked beareth rule, the people mourn. Prov. 29:1-2.

County Farmers Put 2887 Acres In Soil Bank

The 23-member counties of the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., in West Texas put only 6.4 percent of the 1958 cotton allotments in the Soil Bank.

From a total allotment of 2,279,436 acres, farmers in the 23 counties put only 145,777 acres in the Soil Bank.

In the irrigated belt Lamb county farmers put in 17,933 and Hale county farmers put in 12,746 acres. Lubbock county, which has the largest county allotment, 229,654 acres, saw farmers put in only 9,592 acres in the Soil Bank.

Farmers received slightly more than five million dollars compensation for this acreage being put in the 1958 Soil Bank. Bailey county farmers placed 2,887 acres in the Soil Bank, leaving 97,906 to plant to cotton.

Lord, what is man, that Thou takest knowledge of him... (Psalm 144, 3.)

How humble, how thankful, how enormously grateful we should be, every hour of the day, that Almighty and Eternal God, Creator of Heaven and Earth, still takes heed and account of each of us. He is our Father, and He is mindful of our weakness and our need; He is ever ready to forgive us, ever anxious to help us.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Self and children and Mr. and Mrs. Hopper Ivy visited in the home of their parents Sunday.

By JOHN C. WHITE, Commissioner

PLANNING FOR HIGH QUALITY COTTON

The Texas cotton farmer's opportunity this year will be in a high quality crop—not necessarily in quantity. Agriculture Commissioner John White said this week.

While there is a present surplus of cotton, the supply is mostly in the lower grades that sell for less. This cotton results in heavy mill waste and added cleaning costs. But the best demand—and biggest opportunity for profits—is for the higher grades.

Seven important steps are recommended to help the grower improve the quality of his cotton. As to the first two points, planting is already well under way over most of Texas but the other suggestions can still be put into effect.

These seven steps are:

1. Plant cotton on the best suited land. The ideal field is inherently fertile, free of soil borne disease, warms up early, is well drained and yet not droughty.

2. Use best seed available of a recommended variety. Good seed may be somewhat short this year but all of it should be treated with a good fungicide.

3. Fertilize to fit needs. Use your fertilizer at the rates time and manner recommended by Texas experiment stations in your area. Both excessive and under use of some fertilizers can have a bad effect on the grade of harvested cotton.

4. Manage the crop for quality. Control weeds, insects and diseases. Discontinue irrigation early

Ollie Jones Wheat, Rye Crops Are Typical of Much Small Grain In Area

Despite extensive hail damage to dryland crops in the south part of the county two weeks ago, the outlook for Bailey county's 8 to 9,000 acre wheat crop is the best in many years, with the dryland wheat a cinch to make a crop this year barring further natural catastrophes.

One of the prettiest small tracts of wheat around Muleshoe is owned by Ollie Jones, who farms at the south edge of Muleshoe.

Ollie has 15 acres of fine wheat just in the blooming stage, right next to a 35 acre field of shoulder high rye.

These two fields of grain, surrounded by alfalfa fields present an eye catching picture.

Ollie knocked down sandhills and leveled the land, finding lots of clay bottom to support the topsoil for planting. He irrigates the fields with sewerage water from the nearby city sanitation plant.

Irrigation is primarily through gravity flow in gated pipes but he also has an underground concrete pipe system and a well to supplement the gravity irrigation system.

The alfalfa is interseeded with oats, and when baled should provide an exceptional feeding supplement for Ollie's Brahma cattle which he keeps in a feed lot about two miles south of his home place.

Cotton Fertilizer Tests On Ed Little Farm West of Muleshoe

Ed Little, who farms about eight miles west of Muleshoe on FM road 1760, has 31 plots of cotton fertilization on 12 acres of cotton just west of his home. This test has been made possible through the cooperation of the Experiment Station at Lubbock, Western Fertilizer Co., of Muleshoe, and county agent J. K. Adams.

This test marks the first time that supervised experiments of both application and harvesting have been carried out in the county by the Experiment Station, Adams reports.

The test is a duplication of 15 combinations of fertilizer and is expected to help settle the question of whether or not potash should be used in cotton fertilizers. Also the test should show how much nitrogen a cotton crop needs when grown on land that produced a heavy crop of grain sorghum the previous year. Something is expected to be learned about desirable rates of phosphate and the benefits to be derived from the use of trace elements such as are in Sul-Po-Mag.

Studies will be made in the summer and fall as to boll and plant development. Portions will be harvested in the fall from each plot to determine yield and fiber growth.

Combinations in the fifteen duplicated plots are as follows: 0-9-0, 0-30-0, 0-60-0, 0-120-0, 0-30-15, 0-120-60, 0-60-30, 30-60-30, nitrogen applied as anhydrous ammonia; 30-60-30, nitrogen as sulphate of ammonia; 30-60-0, 30-60-0, 0-60-30-27, Sul-Po-Mag; 0-77-38, 60-60-30, 60-60-30. In the latter two nitrogen in the form of anhydrous ammonia and sulphate of ammonia were used.

In all, 2880 pounds of 0-20-0; 400 pounds of 0-16-8; 96 pounds of anhydrous ammonia and 960 pounds of sulphate of ammonia were used on the 12 acre test area.

Church Supper

May 22 a supper for the Lariat Church of Christ was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wiley R. Baker and family in honor of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Curtis, who are leaving to make their home in Phoenix, Ariz.

The Lariat congregation presented the Curtis' with a farewell gift.
